Published Weekly at 154 West 46th Street, New York 19, N. Y., by-Variety, Inc. Annual subscription, $10. Single Entered as second class matter December 22, 1905, at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of COPYMIGHT, 1999, BT VARIETY, INC. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

VOL. 175 No. 8

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1949

PRICE 25 CENTS

VIDEO'S HOT STARS ON ICE

St. Louis Cops, FBI Guard Caray, Cardinals Gabber, After Threats

St. Louis, Aug. 2.

Harry Caray, play-by-play gabber of all Cardinal b.b. games for the Griesedieck Bros. Brewery Co., a client of Ruthrauff & Ryan, is under the protection of local cops and the FBI following the receipt of an anonymous threatening letter that the FBI obtained the day before the important series with the Brooklyn Dodgers began at Sportsman's Park here.

The letter that threatened to blow up the ball park and Caray with it was written in longhand and bore a St. Louis postmark. Caray denied having received the letter and said if his employer or bankroller did he knows nothing about it. The FBI would not comment.

Caray did read a letter from a

ment.

Caray did read a letter from a fan in Peoria, Ill., who said if the gabber wanted to root for the Cardinals he should do so from a seat in the grandstand or bleachers but not over the mike. The writer said he was sending a copy of the letter to Baseball Commissioner Chandler requesting that Caray be barred from broadcasting the Cardinal-Dodger series.

Caray's flaming admiration for the success of the Cardinals with (Continued on page 55)

Saratoga's Wide Open, Prices Down This Year But No Turnaways Seen

Saratoga, Aug. 2.
Saratoga has apparently seen the light and this watering spot is beginning to reform. Prices are considerably lower in an effort to attract a wider clientele and the gyp is definitely on the decline. Within a few years, it's expected that Saratoga will be geared for a mass trade.

But despite the increased num-But despite the increased number of spenders expected because of lower prices, a general aura of pessimism pervades among those who made a killing during the war. All the luxury resorts are off, which indicates which way the trade winds are blowing.

New Jersey racetracks are giving Saratoga a stiff run for the New York City horsey set. Jersey (Continued on page 46)

(Continued on page 46)

TV's 52,000% Impact

TV's 52,000% Impact
Philadelphia, Aug. 2.
Cameo Curtains, which made an astonishing click with a television campaign last year, is back for a repeat with a 13-week series of one-minute spot film announcements slated for WFIL-TV, starting Aug. 25. They will be inserted Thursday at 7.28 p.m.
Last year firm blocked up one of TV's biggest success stories using WFIL-TV exclusively to advertise "Shir-Back" Curtains in the Philadelphia area. In a period of eight months, Cameo's wholesale sales showed a 52,000% increase over the previous eight-month period.

ABC's Golden Jubilee Ethel Barrymore Show

Ethel Barrymore Show
Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Ethel Barrymore draws a radio tribute from the Academy Aug. 15, which date marks her 50th year in show business and 70th birthday.
Show folks in Hollywood, New York, Parls and London will pay their respects to the veteran actress on a half-hour show to be broadcast over ABC.
Dwight Hauser directs the Hollywood segment.

Pix Biz United On Theatre TV

Entire film industry, after weeks of intensive huddles, has decided to band together to present a unified petition to the Federai Communications Commission for exclusive theatre television channels. Fact that such hitherto TV-recalcitrant companies as Metro agreed to go along with the plan, as adopted by the Motion Picture Assnof America directorate, indicates the entire industry's belief of a potentially lush future for theatre TV.

MPAA board, meeting vesterday

tentially lush future for theatre TV.

MPAA board, meeting yesterday (Tues.) In New York, instructed its organization to petition the FCC to hold hearings for the purpose of reserving and allocating high-frequency channels for large-screen video service. Special subcommittee of the MPAA's video committee was appointed to prepare the application for filing and to formulate whatever briefs are necessary for presentation at the FCC hearings.

It was indicated at the meeting that member-companies will also make similar petitions individually or, at least, be heard at the hear-(Continued on page 55)

BRIT. PIX PRODUCERS EDICT 10-20% PAY CUTS

London, Aug. 2.

London, Aug. 2.

British Film Producers Assn. is expected to announce tomorrow (Wed.) a. sweeping 10%-20% slash on all salaries in British production except for those covered by union pacts. Stars under individual contract may have to be renegotiated. The 20% slash will be on the bigger salaries. This plan is effective Oct. 1.

Axing of pavehecks is another renegotiated. The 20% slash will be on the bigger salaries. This plan is effective Oct. 1.

Axing of paychecks is another desperate effort by the British film industry to down negative costs to the point where production can again operate at a profit. It follows a recent speech by J. Arthur Rank, country's top producer, about one month ago which declared that salaries were too high and demanded some action.

Godfrey-WB Talking Deal Arthur Godfrey and Warners are laking a picture deal, with the possibility that the CBS star would take time off from his radio and take time off from his rad

'READY TO AIR' KINE PACKAGES

A new pattern in television programming has been devised, aimed

A new pattern in television programming has been devised, aimed at taking the networks off the financial hook and setting up a bargain counter for sponsors to shop for "ready to air" packages that can fit any taste and purse.

ABC-TV has taken the initiative in developing the brand new technique—building a backlog of some 20 new shows, cutting kinescopes and keeping them on ice until a sponsor picks up the tab. Talent involved includes Joe E/ Brown, Edward Everett Horton, Kate Smith, Fannie Brice, Cab Calloway, Wendy Barrie, Boris Karloff, Arthur Shields and Fred Robbins. "Putting on a Series as a sustainer can pour a lot of dough down the drain." explained Charles "Bud" Barry, ABC's tele veepee. "On a single sustainer we could spend $4,000 per broadcast for 13 weeks. Which makes it pretty expensive to compete with other webs' commercials, show for show. Instead, we'd rather pay $6,000 for a good kine audition and keep the film making the rounds until we get a backer. Between now and Sept. 1 we expect to spend only $50,000, but we'll have prints on some 20 stanzas."

ABC-TV. like its AM operation, (Continued on page 53)

N. Y. Cops Ain't So Easy on 'Arthur'

While the networks have approved "Take It Easy, Arthur," the vice squad of the New York Police Dept. has contrary views on the song's acceptability. Acting on a complaint filed by the Society for the Suppression of Vice, the cops recently staged a raid at the Whirling Disc, midtown N. Y. record shop, and confiscated some 75 platters of "Arthur" on the Regent label.

ters of "Arthur" on the Regent label.
Following purchase of a Regent disk, waxed by Johnny Dee with Randl Richards vocaling, the officers handed store manager Ben Rubenstein a summons, returnable in magistrate's court Aug. 18, and removed the store's stock of the allegedly offending record. According to Giadys Shelley, "Arthur's" writer, the Regent version uses the standard lyrics with the exception of a riff on the trombone in lieu of the punch line at the end of the first chorus.

Godfrey-WB Talking Deal

Singers', Bands' Yen for Disk Rep Cues Buyer's Market for Major Cos.

Hope Trying to Get Bing To Tour Parks With Him

To Tour Parks With Him

Minneapolis, Aug. 2

When here for the Aquatennial last week, Bob Hope said he was trying to get Bing Crosby to join him in a two-man tour of the bali parks and arenas which he (Hope) had found singularly successful when doing a single. Comic last season grossed $500,000 which goes Into Hope Enterprises as a revolving fund to finance his independept pictures for Paramount under the "outside" pic-per-year deal he enjoys.

the moustage pic-per-year deal he enjoys.

Crosby has a similar privilege and Hope feels that the Groaner could likewise realize self-financ-ing for film reinvestment although Crosby Enterprises, of course, has several other ventures doing nicely

Variety' vs. SWG Must Go to Trial

Los Angeles, Aug. 2.

Suit brought by VARIETY and DAILY VARIETY against the Screen Writers Guild for conspiracy and restraint of trade will proceed to trlal within the next two or three months as result of rulings made against the SWG by Federai Judge Pierson Hall here last Wednesday (27). Judge Hall denied the SWG's motion to dismiss the action, which was launched by the trade papers under provisions of the Sherman and Clayton antitrust acts.

VARIETY and DAILY VARIETY complaint, filed originally in local Federai Court on April 12, alleged that a conspiracy began in 1940 when the SWG put into effect a resolution barring its members from advertising in any and ali trade papers. Attorneys for the Guild had sought to have the
(Continued on page 55)

ALLEN AIN'T KIDDIN' ON RADIO LAYOFF

Apparently Fred Allen wasn't kidding when he proclaimed that he was laying off radio next season, at least on a regular weekly die basis. For Allen's rest cure plans take him far into the fall, without so much as a guest shot in sight.

The comedian is due to return to N. Y. from Cape Cod next week. He then goes to Spring Lake, N. J., for a month and then on to the Coast with his wife. Portland Hoffa, to spend some time with the James Masons.

Allen is under contract to NBC.

Three major recording companies—RCA-Victor, Columbia and Decca—which in recent weeks debuted low-priced disk lines (48c) separate and apart from the higher-priced series, are finding themseives in an enviable position insofar as the purchase of talent for the new disks is concerned.

All three companies have been bombarded by agencies and individuals with offers to supply singers and orchestras of ali types at 'ridiculous' prices. In return they seek any sort of term contract that will give an artist a crack at the tremendously valuable personal exploitation it's possible to achieve from a hit recording.

There haven't been such opportunities in the recording field for new talent in the history of the disk industry, with all three companies going to work almost at once on new labels. All of the manufacturers involved are reisuing recordings by top names on the new labels, to stabilize and aid their effect on the market. A least one, Columbia, is transferring some names of varying b.o. degrees from higher-priced disks to the lower ones, but each will use some names of varying b.o. de-grees from higher-priced disks to the lower ones, but each wiil use a fair amount of new talent. They must, since the low pricing of the disks precludes the possibility of using expensive names, who de-

(Continued on page 55)

Berle's $10,000, $11,500 And $13,000 for Next 3 Xears on TV from Texaco

Milton Berle and Texaco have repacted for three more years via the Kudner ad agency for his "Texaco Star Theatre." Figure 1s substantially higher than his last year's take from both TV and AM. New contract, calling for 39 weeks a year on NBC-TV for the Texas Co., gives the comedian $10,000 for the 1949-50 season, $11,500 for the succeeding year and $13,000 in 1951-52. There will be no radio show on Wednesday as last year, just the Tuesday night video show. Kudner, now one of the top agen-

just the Tuesday night video show. Kudner, now one of the top agencies in TV, plans an immediate expansion of its radio-TV activities and has moved N.Y. homeoffice headquarters from Radio City to an entire floor in an office building on 5th avenue. In addition, Ai Rebling, who has been business manager of the NBC video department, moves over to Kudner in the same capacity. He'li be accompanied by his assistant from NBC, John Marsich.

so much as a guest shot in sight.

The comedian is due to return to N. Y. from Cape Cod next week. He then goes to Spring Lake, N. J.. for a month and then on to the Coast with his wife, Portland Hoffa. to spend some time with the James Masons.

Allen is under contract to NBC for both radio and video, but the '49-'50 season may find him only doing an occasional guest shot.

Last year Berle realized $4.000

Stratford Bard Season SRO for 24-Wk. Run No Matter What Play or Players

With Tyrone Guthrie's produc-on of "Henry VIII" premiering riday (15), Stratford's Shake-With Tyrone Cuttiries production of "Henry VIII" premiering Friday (15), Stratford's Shakespeare Memorial theatre now has its full repertory for the 1949 Festival and 90th season, which is running from April 16 to Oct. 1. A visitor now gets the full impact of this rear's nilgringer to Money. year's pilgrimage to Mecca-of this year's pilgrimage to anecca on-Avon.

Not a visitor in a trainload who doesn't try to land a couple of tickets. Seats are as scarce as hotel rooms. It gives the Stratford playhouse the unique distinction of being able to sell out for most of its 'six-month festival season re-gardless of merits either of plays or players. Judging by current gardiess of ments either of plays or players. Judging by current and advance sales, number of worshippers—sorry, customers—at the 1949 Festival should come close to last year's high of over 272,000, an average of about 10,000 weekly.

with top prices for orchestra seats being $2.10, mezzanine aver-aging $1.50, and all balcony seats 50c, daily gross comes to just over $1,545 (for total of 1,168 seats and 90 standees), weekly total, $12,000 (eight or nine performances), and possible season's intake—24 weeks—more than $300,000. Last week's gross for the 28-week season was $336,864, not counting concessions and food. Nothing exactly colosal by Broadway standards, but over here it isn't hay—especially not with lots of dollar bills in the pile. Besides sporting the air of a national event and drawing on Shakespeare fans the whole world over, the annual Festival—18th since the new theatre opened in 1932—packs 90 standees); weekly total, $12,000 speare fans the whole world over, the annual Festival—18th since the new theatre opened in 1932—packs couple of other b.o. punches. Location in heart of picturesque and historic Warwickshire on banks of Shakespeare's Avon is ideal. Theatre building is large, modern, comparatively well-equipped. There's a comfortable restaurant, three bars, and variety of light refreshments—in a country where food and drink are considered as necessary to theatregoing as programs. Plus ticket prices that, especially for American visitors, are more than reasonable. No wonder Stratford audiences seem as cosmopolitan as any in the Strand or 45th Street, as festive as a summer theatre crowd at Westport or New Hope. And as crowded with Americans as Saturday morning at the American port or New Hope. And as a saturday morning at the American Express in Paris.

This year's repertory, six plays instead of the usual seven or eight consists of "Macbeth," "Othello," "Much Ado About Nothing," "Cymbeline," "A Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Henry VIII." With each production pretty well selling out, it's difficult to tell which is most popular. On basis of advance requests, "Macbeth" and "Much Ado" rank even as top draws, with "Henry" expected to be a strong competitor from now on.

Part of credit must go to 35-year-old actor-director Anthony Quayle, now in his first year as head man. A former Old Vic stalwart, Quayle directed "Macheth" head man. A former Old Vic stalwart, Quayle directed "Mac-beth," and plays Benedick in "Much Ado" as well as the title role in "Henry VIII." With his new general manager, George Hume, he is responsible for artistic policy, administration, and finances to a 17-man Executive Council and Board of Governors made up of nearly 100 local and national figures. (Such prominent Americans as Myron C. Taylor and, until and hotel accommodations.

154 West 46th Street

his death, Charles Evans Hughes, have been Board members.) Board meets annually for account-ing of previous year: Friday's meeting of previous year; Friday's meeting (15) was the 74th annual session without break.

Tearle-Wynyard Leads

Tearle-Wynyard Leads
Almost every leading player and director in the English theatre, with a few notable exceptions like Laurence Olivier and Ralph Richardson, has taken his turn at Stratford. Present company of 44 is headed by Godfrey Tearle and Diana Wynyard. Also starred is Leon Quartermaine, one of this country's leading featured players. Remainder of company is youthful, varied, fairly experienced in Shakespeare but barren of strong personalities or star potential.

speare but barren of strong personalities or star potential.

Directors in clude, besides Guthrie and Quayle, a muchheralded newcomer, Michael Benthall, and two oldtimers, John Gleigud and Tearle, who directed himself in "Othello."

"Macbeth," as staged by theatre director Quayle, is definitely the most interesting as well as the most popular offering. Production is chockfull of barbaric pageantry. Miss Wynyard, miscast in most of the other productions, hits her stride as Lady Macbeth here. In "Much Ado About Nothing." John Gielgud's delicate treatment as a bit of Shakespearean fluff still manages to be amusing enough for the most part. "Cymbelfne" gets a combination of melodramatic and romantic treatment that succeeds in pulling it off as kind of Fliza.

combination of melodramatic and romantic treatment that succeeds in pulling it off as a kind of Elizabethan soap opera.

In "Othello," Tearle plays the name role with much ranting and raving, and the lago role is completely subordinated to it. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is an overliteral picture version.

Individual designers and com-posers are hired for each produc-tion, all scenery and costumes com-ing directly from theatre's own workshops. Permanent staff inworkshops. Permanent staff in-cludes company manager, produc-tion manager, three stage mana-gers and three assistants, three electricians, and stage crew of 10. There is no orchestra, musical ef-fects (with which each production abounds), being recorded and abounds) being recorded and played through an elaborate loudplayed through an elaborate loud-speaker system. Stage crew is evi-dently well-paid—though strictly non-union—and works whenever and at whatever is necessary, most-ly striking set and lights im-

(Continued on page 53)

Palladium's Int'l Bill

London, Aug. 2.
Frances Langford and Jon Hali carned another familiar rave reception at their Palladium opening while Carl Brisson, in a nostalgic while Carl Brisson, in a nostalgic mood, made London welcome his return. First rate international bili with comedienne Cass Daley and fire-eater Chaz Chase also scored strongly.

PARIS STRIKE'S SNAFU

Paris, Aug. 2.

Week's postponement of some couturiers' fashion shows, because of seamstresses' strike, has wreaked hardships on visiting buy-

New York 19, N. Y.

Subscription Order Form Enclosed find check for $......

Please Send VARIETY for One Year
Two Years Street City State..... State..... Regular Subscription Rates One Year-$10.00 Two Years-$18.00 Canada and Foreign-$1 Additional per Year

373rd WEEK!

3,802 Performances
All-time long run record in the legitimate theatre.

KEN MURRAY'S "BLACKOUTS OF 1949" El Capitan Theatre, Hollywood, Cal.

And now in world-wide release
"BILL AND COO"
Ken Murray's
Academy Award Film

No Prospect Of 20% Repeal

Washington, Aug. 2.

Rep. John McCormack, of Massa chusetts, majority leader of the House, emerged from a session with President Truman, vice-president Barkley and others yesterday (1) to declare he saw no yesterday 'II to declare ne saw no prospect of repealing any wartime excises this year. This would seem to answer the question of whether the 20% admissions tax will be cut back to 10%.

Despite numerous efforts in Congress to obtain a reduction, it is clear that the Administration will not approve such a reduction

Korda Already Owns Pix Rights to Novel Being Musicalized for B'way

Sir Alexander Korda's refusal to relinquish screen rights to "Cry, the Beloved Country" in return for a piece of the forthcoming Broadway legit production has resulted in a hassle with Maxwell Anderson and Kurt Weill. Anderson and Well, who made the musical adaptation for Broadway of the Alan Paton novel have threatened to Paton novel, have threatened to change the title to "Lost in the Stars" to deprive Korda of any benefits the original label might give to his picture in its American release. Korda acquired screen rights to Korda acquired screen rights to the novel before Anderson and Weill got the legit privileges. He has readled a script and will have his brother. Zoltan, produce it in South Africa, where the yarn is localed, next spring. Zoltan left New York Saturday '30' for the assignment and for another in England. Anderson and Weill reportedly found added difficulty in getting backers for the musical without owning the film rights. They wanted Korda to toss them in the pot for a piece of the legiter. He'd then profit if an American company decided to buy them.

British producer nixed the idea, however. He offered to delay filming for one year to avoid possible however. He offered to delay filming for one year to avoid possible screen competition with the live version, but no agreement was reached. It was then that Anderson and Weili and Harold Freedman, of the Brandt & Brandt agency, in negotiations with Morris Heiprin. American v.p. of Korda's London Film Productions, threatened the title switch so that the film wouldn't benefit from the Broadway buildup. Rouben Mamoulian will stage the musical.

Another Actress Into

Shaw Nixes Home Plate

Dublin, Aug. 2.

George Bernard Shaw, who was 93 last week, nixed the plan to unveil a plaque on the house where he was born—33 Synge Street, Dublin—by a last-minute letter to the project's sponsor, Patrick O'Reiliy, chairman of the GBS branch, Irish Labor Party.

Plaque is already up and cov-ered with a veil, but Shaw wrote that he had everything that money could buy and wanted no cerecould buy and w mony to honor him.

mony to honor him. All he wanted was the prayers of his Irish friends. O'Reilly says, "The unveiling ceremony is not cancelled, only postponed."

Lawrence, Anderson May Do Plays Down Under Next Summer for Williamsons

Possibility of both Gertrude Lawrence and Judith Anderson playing Australia next summer looms strongly, both doing plays under banner of 3. C. Williamson Theatres. Harald A. Bowden, a director of the Aussie firm, arrived in N. Y. last week from London, where he talked with Miss Lawrence. Latter is due in the U. S. shortly for a rest, after a busy London season. A British election may snarl her plans for doing a Noel Coward play in London next winter.

Bowden will talk with Miss Law-

don next winter.

Bowden will talk with Miss Lawrence on the Aussie matter when she arrives here. He's been in touch with Miss Anderson about doing a repertoire of two plays in Aussie next summer on a limited 16-week tour, one play to be "Medea." Bowden will be on the Coast end of August and confer with Miss Anderson in person.

Meantime he lined up a series with Miss Anderson in person.

Meantime, he lined up a series of attractions in London for Down Under. He completed arrangements with Dan O'Connor to present the Stratford-on-Avon Players in Melbourne, starting Oct. 17.

Troupe, headed by Diana Wynyard and Anthony Quayle, will do 15 and Anthony Quayle, will do 15 weeks in Aussie and New Zealand.

weeks in Aussie and New Zealand.
A Gilbert & Sullivan troupe will follow the Bard group, consisting of Savoy theatre principals such as Ivan Menzies, Helen Roberts, Marjorie Eyre, Richard Walker, Leslie Rand and John Deane. They've sung with D'Oyly Carte in the U. S.

The famous Black Watch Regiment Band is going to Africa next Easter and will visit Australia thereafter. Lesiie Henson and Vera Pearce are practically set for an Aussie tour.

an Aussie tour.

Bowden will be in N. Y. for about four weeks, and will be negotiating for several theatrical properties for Down Under. One is "A Streetcar Named Desire." "Harvey" has already been pacted, but with no lead set. There's possibility a U. S. pix star will do it for Williamson. "Harvey" is scheduled for Melbourne next February, to foliow "Edward, My Son."

Wilde's Indie Based On Sicilian Robin Hood

Cornel Wilde, now rehearsing for a summer theatre appearance at Westport, Conn., disclosed last week that he recently reached an agreement to appear in a film to be shot in Sicily next spring. It's the blog of Juliano, the "Sicilian Robin Hood" bandit who was recently storied in Life mag. Wilde made the deal in Paris with French producer Raui Levy, Anthony De Sica, Italian director, and Mike Stern, who wrote the Life piece.

Stern, who wrote the Life piece.

De Sica and Stern are now prepping the screenplay. Wilde has signed no pact as yet, waiting to see the script, but thinks it will turn out okay. He has a new deal at 20th-Fox now for one pic a year and so anticipates no difficulty in finding time to make the Sicilian film.

Aga Kahn's Family?

Paris, Aug. 2.

Ethery Pagava. 16-year-old solosis with the Marquis de Cuevas' Grand Ballet de Monte Carlo, is reported engaged to 17-year-old also in it and will be in the Sicilian Sadruddin Khan, second son of Aga Khan, with marriage due the shortly. Rita Hayworth recently married Sadruddin's older brother, Aly.

The Aga Khan is a noted balletomane and ballet angel.

film. Wilde is now rehearsing in Westport next Monday (8). It may come into New York later in the year under Theatre Guild sponsor-ship. His wife, Patricia Knight, is returned a commitment to apsorted in a film. Miss Knight has also tentatively made a commitment to apsorted in Sadruddin's older brother, Aly.

The Aga Khan is a noted balletomane and ballet angel.

$872,000,000 In '48 Pic Salaries

Washington, Aug. 2.
Film industry last year contributed $872,000,000 to the overall national income, according to a survey just released by the U.S. Department of Commerce. The pix income was $245,000,000 short of the record-breaker made in 1946, and was, in fact, the lowest since 1944. In 1944 the figure was $871.000,000.

and was, 13 fact, the lowest since 1944. In 1944 the figure was $871,000,000.

Commerce also set up a classification of "amusement and recreation, except motion pictures" which did not, however, include television and radio. Income of this "other recreation" was $835,000,000, a new record $115,000 above the previous peak in 1946.

Radio and television broadcasting, listed as "communications" rather than amusement, had an income of $251,000,000, a $22,000,000 gain over the 1947 record. In 1948, the film industry paid out $664,000,000 in wages and salaries, contrasted with $574,000.

In 1948, the film industry paid out $664,000,000 in wages and salaries, contrasted with $574,000,000 for all other amusements and recreations, and $183,000,000 for radio and television.

radio and television.

Corporate net before taxes of pictures in 1948 was $124,000,000, out of which $49,000 000 was paid in Federal taxes. The dividend distribution was a fat $74,000.000. This left only $1,000,000 to go into the reserves

This left only $1,000,000 to go into the reserves.

The other amusements paid $48,000,000 taxes on a corporate net of $112,000,000 and distributed $23,000,000 in dividends.

Radio-television netted $62,000,000 before taxes. It paid out $25,000,000 taxes and $12,000,000 in dividends.

The motion picture industry had 248,000 employees last year. Their earhings averaged $2,964, a slight decline from the record of $3,031 made in 1947.

Although other amusements had 302,000 full and part-time workers, their salaries and wages averaged $2,343, an alltime peak for this group. Radio and television made a new record with $1,000 employees. They earned an average of $3,195, highest in the amusement field and the highest ever recorded in radio.

Murphy's Death Seen As Ending Hopes Of H'wood 'Unfriendly 10'

Washington, Aug. 2.
Death of Supreme Court Justice
Frank Murphy and the selection of Attorney General Tom C. Clark to succeed him may end hopes of hollywood's "unfriendly 10" to beat the rap on their contempt-ofCongress conviction

Hollywood's "unfriendly 10" to beat the rap on their contempt-of-Congress conviction.

Two of the 10, Dalton Trumbo and John Howard Lawson, were convicted and their convictions have been upheld by the U.S. court of appeals here. The other eight earlier agreed to abide by the results of these two cases.

Recently, in the Cristophel case, the Supreme Court ruled that he was not guilty in a similar situation, because there was no quorum present of the Congressional Committee which questioned him. It was generally admitted here that the Supreme Court would probably rule the same way when the Trumbo and Lawson appeals reached the High Court.

But it was a 5 to 4 ruling in the Cristophel case—and one of the majority 5 was Justice Murphy. So this is the way it looks now to Washington observers:

So this is the way it looks now washington observers:
Clark will doubtless disqualify himself in the case since he was the Attorney General under whom the conviction was obtained. The other justices will probably take the same positions they took last time—resulting in a 4 to 4 division sion.

And a 4 to 4 split does not reverse a lower court decision!

4t was last Thursday (28) that President Truman announced he had offered the Supreme Court vacancy to Clark and the Attorney Generalship to Senator J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

man of the Democratic Natural Committee.

Clark would-doubtless also disqualify himself from any further appeals in the big motion picture anti-trust case and in the Crescent case. The Attorney General argued the Big Five case successfully before the Supreme Court last year.

DIVORCE TO BREED BETTER PIX?

May Delay Film Fest Until 1950; Also Switch to Area Preem Idea

All-industry film festival, if and when it takes place, may not come off before some time in 1950. That was generally agreed by industryites this week following decision at Monday's (1) meeting of film execs in New York to withhold further consideration of Gael Sullivan's festival plan until the over-ther consideration of Gael Sullivan's festival plan until the overall industry public relations sessions take place in Chicago at the end of this month.

Rather than a concentrated national splurge of 20 top plx during the month of October, as proposed by the Theatre Owners of America executive director, the festival is seen taking the shape of regional saturation premieres of groups of films. And instead of the festival lasting one month, it will probably run for at least two months.

The doubling of the length of the event may dampen some of the excitement that would be engendered by a flock of top product being concentrated into one 30-day binge, but well may be the big sturdy factor in the whole festival Idea inasmuch as it goes a long way toward solving the clearance problem. Since a great many theatres already play product less than way toward solving the clearance problem. Since a great many the-atres already play product less than 60 days after first run, it removes the necessity for curtailing clear-ances—a principal factor in damp-ing enthusiasm for the original scheme.

May Delay '49

Making the festival 60 days may also mean its elimination as a possibility for 1949. Since it won't even be discussed until the Chicago sessions Aug. 30-31, it appears impossible that adequate planning and promotion can be done to get satred Oct. 1, the original date. Most execs feel that even two (Continued on page 18)

Raibourn to England On Mission to Invest Par's Frozen £500.000

Par's Frozen £500,000

Paul Raibourn, Paramount veepee and fiscal expert, is heading for Britain the latter part of August. Reportedly, Raibourn's present in England is required to supervise current Paramount maneuvers to invest its frozen pounds. Par is one of the few majors which has yet to put its iced British coin to work either in the form of production in England or otherwise. Problem is growing pressing, it is said, because Par has now accumulated some 500,000 pounds ($2,000,000) which cannot be remitted because of the Anglo-American pact limitations. Hence, the company recently has been eyeing the possibilities of investing the money in Britain in properties other than theatres or films. Par will not embark in a British production program to use the frozen cash; it is understood. Barney Balaban, company prez, is opposed to any such program because he is convinced that the problems of foreign filmmaking and the added expenditure of dollars makes the solution impracticable.

City Investing's Dowling Calls It 'Tolerance Sq.

Calls It "Tolerance Sq.'
Robert W. Dowling. prez of City Investing, company which operates the Astor and Victoria theatres, is pointing to the fact that the two Broadway deluxers are each playing a film on the Negro question.
Dowling has sent a letter to City stockholders noting that the 45th to 46th Street blockfront is being dubbed "Tolerance Square" because of the co-booking of "Home of the Brave" and "Lost Boundaries," ries." And "Lost Bounda"Your company." Dowling writes, is primarily concerned with the profitable operations of all its properties, including its theatres. I am certain, however, that its stockholders like its officers, get a special sense of gratification when such profitable operations also can be made to serve a constructive social purpose."

I rouucing Personnel

Holiywood, Aug. 2.

Coiumbia's producer roster has been strengthened in recent weeks by five term contracts and one single-picture deal.
Five contractees include Hunt Stromberg, Jerry Bresier, Marshall Perrin. Lionel Houser checked in a one-picture agreement and is reported negotiating to remain longer.

Agency Biz Up

Hollywood, Aug. 2.

Motion picture talent agents reported an increase of about 10% in business during the month of July, largely the result of increased shooting and prepping of films on the lots.

General opinion is that business will increase another 10% during the next three months, but one prominent agent reported that profits for the next year at least would be 50% off war years.

See John C. Woolf Exiting Rank Org

London, Aug. 2.

John C. Woolf will resign within the next few weeks from his top spot as co-managing director of J. Arthur Rank's General Film Distributors, according to reports here. Following his ankling of the company and ail other Rank connections, it is said that E. T. (Teddy) Carr, who shares supervision of GFD with Woolf, will take over as sole managing director.

Woolf is reported about to enter a syndicate of American, British and French investors into film production on the Continent. Woolf's resignation, it is said, will result from differences with other Rank officials, particularly John Davis, Rank's chief alde.

Woolf recently sold his interest in GFD to Rank, it has been learned. He acquired a substantial silce of the company through his father, the late C. M. Woolf who was cofounder of the outfit. GFD is Rank's chief distribution outlet, handling all the British producer's product in England.

Woolf was not available for confirmation. Understood his contract with Rank has four years to run and that a settlement will be arrived at to pay him for half that period.

W. C. FIELDS REISSUES BOOMED BY SEP BIOG

RUUMED BY SEP BIOG

Public's rediscovery of the comic talents of the late W. C. Fields, now waxing into a new Fields fad, is dumping unexpected coln into Universal and Realart Pictures, reissue outfit which owns releasing rights to four Fields pix.

Films languished on Realart's shelves for the past few years before a series of eight articles on the comedian by Robert Lewis Taylor, titled "W. C. Fields, Rowdy King of Comedy," hit the Saturday Evening Post, May 1, and started the ball roiling. Same material is being used by Doubleday in a biog which comes out Oct. 1. Reader's Digest has bought the reprint rights.

Subject of Fields has also been

Subject of Fields has also been plugged in reams of free articles appearing in a number of newspapers and other mags.

Indicating the fast climb in the pull of these pix, Realart reissued Fields' "My Littie Chickadee" with "Crazy House" (Olsen & Johnson), one year ago but the package prov(Continued on page 55)

Columbia Increases

BIG STORY BUYS

Rather than the loss to major producers of their theatre circults Rather than the loss to major producers of their theatre circults meaning a reduction in picture budgets or quality, indications are that strenuous efforts are being made to hypo the earning power of product, if possible. New situation created by divorcement removes the cushion of a guaranteed minimum income for any picture from a company's own theatres. Thus the studios feel it is necessary to boost quality to best meet the new competitive circumstances, at least in this stage of the game. While circuit operator Ted Gamble, board chairman of Theatre Owners of America, stated before a group of pub-ad execs in New York under 20th-Fox auspices last week, that a great danger exists of divorcement, meaning a lowering of quality, early indications at the studios do not hint that. It's not possible, of course, to tell yet on any large scale what the production pattern will be under divorcement.

New thinking is most clearly re-

New thinking is most clearly re-New thinking is most clearly reflected at Paramount, which, along with RKO, is closest to the actuality of divorcement. It is understood to have figured largely in Par's decision of a few weeks ago to buy the costly screen rights to "Detective Story." Sidney Kingsley's smash Broadway legiter, after having sworn off these ex(Continued on page 20)

D.C. House Books 'Brave' But Nixes Negro Fans; Binford Okays Pic, Too

Washington, Aug. 2.

Translux theatre, which has booked "Home of the Brave" for an indefinite run, may have stuck its neck in a buzzsaw.

Although the film condemns discrimination against Negroes, Translux follows the town's policy of refusing to sell tickets to Negroes—and will not sell them even for the run of "Home of the Brave." The anomaly has been pointed out in "letters to the editor" in local newspapers. In addition, the Translux has been picketed by an organization handing out throwaways commending the theatre for screening the film, but calling upon it to practice what its calling upon it to practice what its screen preaches. Thus far, there (Continued on page 22)

PAR, RKO SETTING Odlum's 'How Come' Queries Confront Hughes in Fight vs. Meyer's RKO Bid

How It Sets Up

How It Sets Up

If the Matty Fox-Stanley Meyer-Cliff Work offer of $6 for share for Howard Hughes holdings in the RKO circuit goes through, Fox will become the board chairman of the new RKO theatre company formed after the purchase. Meyer, it is reported, is slated as president of the chain while Work will hold an exec veepee slot with offices on the Coast to supervise the RKO theatres in the west.

Fox is Universal prexy Nate Blumberg's brother-inlaw; Meyer Is his son-in-law, but there Is no U connection in this dicker. Work, who was executive head of U production until the Leo Spitz-Biil Goetz (International Pictures) merger, has always been intimate with his former associates. Fox was executive veepee of U until the UI merger.

Exhibs Irked By 'Cycles' Wave

One of the biggest squawks now being volced by circuit ops is that their theatres are being deluged by an unbroken string of "cycle" pix. The sudden bunching of the same type of films in successive series, it is claimed, is snarling booking problems in a large number of towns throughout the country. Bookers are finding the going tough in an effort to space out films so that a healthy change of pace is maintained.

Wave of cycles, it is said, is hitting business in many out-of-town situations. While the first, second and even third film of the same genre can rack up respectable grosses, the law of diminishing returns starts working with the fourth and fitth.

Present prime instance of the cycle epidemic is the fact that six musicals, released by majors, are being made available to the circuits within the next four-five weeks. These offerings are "Look for the Silver Lining" and "It's A Great Feeling" (Warner Bros.); "You're My Everything" (20th-(Continued on page 20)

Giales of $5,574,120 for Howard Hughes' controlling interest in the RKO circuit of about 100 theatres, has become the storm center of a series of recriminations and countercharges by interested parties. As a result, the controversy may be heading for the courts for ultimate decision as to who gets the big affiliated chain. With the smoke of promised legal battle still obscuring some of the details, three main combatants are emerging while other interests gal battle still obscuring some of the details, three main combatants are emerging while other interests continue active in seeking to take over the Hughes stock. Trio are the Meyer-Matty Fox-Cliff Work combine: Floyd B. Odlum, head of Atias Corp., who holds an option to meet any rival offer; and Malcolm Kingsberg, RKO circuit chief and an active bidder on his own. Meyer's offer, which would have expired early this week, is said to be extended with Hughes inclined to accept. Participants, however, are playing cozy on the exact date that the proffer must be accepted or nixed by Hughes. In the meanime, Kingsberg reportedly made a slightly better offer which has expired without being picked up by Hughes.

On the heels of the Meyer offer, Odlum has despatched a letter to Hughes demanding answers on a (Continued on page 22)

Damages 'Excessive,' Judge Orders New Trial In 'Expendable' Pic Suit

In Expendable Fic Suit

St. Louis, Aug. 2.

In ordering a new trial in which damages totaling $290,000 were assessed against Loew's, Inc., for actual and punitive damages to Mrs. Beulah Greenwalt Walcher, the army nurse who became famous as "Peggy" in the book "They Were Expendable" and from which Metro pic was made, Federal Judge George H. Moore last week sald the verdict was excessive.
In granting a motion for a new
(Continued on page 22)

Trade Mark Registered
FOUNDED BY SIME SILVERMAN
Published Weekly by VANIETY, Inc.
Sid Silverman, President
154 West 44 Hollywood 28 k ls, N, Y, 6311 Yucca Street
Washington 4
1292 National Press Building
Chicago 1
360 No. Michigan Ave.
London WC2
8 St. Martin's Pl., Trafalgar Sq.

SUBSCRIPTION
...$10 Foreign.....$11
ples.........25 Cents

120 Vol. 175

INDEX

Rills

Ho

natte	r	54
lm R	leviews	. 16
ouse	Reviews	. 47
side	Legit	. 50
side	Pictures	. 18
slde	Radio	. 35
side	Television	. 33
ternational

In Inte Legitlmate Literati Muslc 37 Night Club Reviews Obltuarles Pictures Radio Reviews Records
Frank Scully
Television
Television Reviews

DAILY VARIETY (Published in Hollywood by Daily Variety, Ltd.) $15 a Year—$20 Foreign

Vaudeville

National Boxoffice Survey Weather Break Sees Musicals Pacing Field With 'Lining' Big Topper—'Everything' Second

Break in prolonged heat wave during the last seven days is speiling better business in many key citles covered by VARIETY this week. Entire area from middlewest to Atlantic Seaboard shared in this favorable weather break although it dld not hit such cities as N. Y. and Phlladelphia until too late to boister last weekend grosses much.

much.
Public currently is going for these pix, Realart reissued "My Little Chickadee" with House" (Olsen & Johnson), ar ago but the package provocintinued on page 55)

Third best is "Great Gatsby"

much.
Public currently is going for wishcass, and lighter fare, with "Watch for Silver Lining" (WB) way out in front with nearly $370,000 in some 14 key citles. Exhibitors report trade ranging from good to big or stout. Also in the same veln is "You're My Everything" (20th), second place winner, but the Dan Daliey-Anne Baxter musical is suffering this frame from dearth of bookings.

Third best is "Great Gatsby"

while "Not Wanted" (FC) is ln eighth. "Home of Brave" (UA) and "Red Menace" (Rep) are finishing ninth and 10th, respectively

Best runner-up films are "Foun-tainhead" (WB), "Lost Bounda-ries" (FC), "Stratton Story" (M-G) and "Dan Patch" (UA).

and "Dan Patch" (UA).

Standout among the newcomers are "Come to Stable" (20th), "Yellow Ribbon" (RKO) and "Love Happy" (UA), "Stable," opening in face of record N. Y. heat, is soaring to smash total, which is rated sensational in view of conditions. "Ribbon," also given an elaborate preem in K. C., to reopen a new RKO operation there, too, will hit a terrific total. "Happy" is doing very strong trade after a big bally in Detroit.

Other new entries are not so big bally in Detroit.

Other new entries are not so good although "Mr. Soft Touch" (Coi.) is okay L. A. jumpoff. "Too Late for Tears" (UA) continues on disappointing side.

"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) is repeating its New England success with a glant session in N.Y. despite torrid weather. Where given circus bally, this meller has rung up terrific biz. "Bank Dick"-"Little Chickadee," indie relssue package, is going great guns currently, mostly in smaller spots.

(Complete Boxoffice Reports on from dearth of bookings.

Third best is "Great Gatsby"
(Par), Alan Ladd's popularity attesting to some nice sessions. "Any Number Can Play" (M-G) is taking fourth place coin while "Sorrowful Jones" (Par) again is showing sustained strength by copping fifth position.

"House of Strangers" (20th) is winding up in sixth slot. "Summertime" (M-G) will display enough to take over seventh place

In one week of speculation on the effect of the complete divorcement ordered as an anti-trust measure by the N. Y. federal court, a big segment of the film industry has reached the conclusion that the court mandate spells higher picture rentals and bigger distributor profits. Although the decision is hailed as a sweeping Government victory, there is more foreboding than jubilation on the part of indie exhibs—supposed beneficiaries of the suit. Distrib exees, for their part, are voicing quiet if private satisfaction with the decision.

In all, the reaction bears out the initial forecast of Louis (Schwartz

In all, the reaction bears out the initial forecast of Louis (Schwartz &) Frohlich, attorney for Columbia, that "the old customer is getting it in the neck." The indiesees a strong influx of outside, competing capital. At the same time, he is far from convinced that his ancient enemy, the big circuits, will find their buying power curtailed by the string of anti-trust ukases. ukases.

Highlights

Charting the predictions to date, they can be broken down as fol-lows:

A further, substantial spread of competitive selling of product.

2. Invasion of the exhibition field by new capital enabled to buy product on the basis of terms and scating alone regardless of who has had the inside track in the past.

the past.
3. Restoration of distribution to

3. restoration in distribution its former driver's seat as the big profit-making field in the industry.

4. Growth in the threat of the television bugaboo since that offers a new market to producers who no longer have theatre investments to The folderoo of a lot of mar-

5. The folderoo of a lot of marjinal, oldtime theatres that have been getting by on the basis "I'm an old customer and you have to protect me."
6. Hypo to Little Three distribution biz since brand new circuits, once affiliated, are opening to their product.

once animated, are opening to their product.

7. Shot-in-the-arm for indie production for the same reason that the Little Three is getting a push.

8. Greater volume of production and more money spent on pix.

Indies Worried

Many of these results are pre-dicted by Herman Levy, general counsel for the Theatre Owners of (Continued on page 23)

Johnston Office Ducks 'Stromboli' Tag Dispute

"Stromboli' Tag Dispute

Motion Picture Assn. of America has refused the demand of Charles L. Casanave, exec v.p. of Motion Picture Sales Corp., that the arbitrate MPSC's claim to the title "Stromboli." MPAA maintains that there is nothing arbitrable, inasmuch as RKO filed the first registration of the label and so was awarded it.

Casanave charged unfairness last week in MPAA's granting priority to RKO, inasmuch as the outfit's title registration bureau was informed in a phone conversation of MPSC's interest in it. At the time of the conversation, however, MPSC was not a signatory to MPAA's registration service. By the time it filed the papers Joining up and then submitted the title, RKO had put in its registration.

RKO plans to use the handle on refurbished ship were the Pandro ferurbished ship were the Pandro title, RKO plans to use the handle on the Ingrid Bergman-Roberto Rossellini film it is making on Stromboli. Mediterranean island off the coast of Italy. MPSC also has a pic shooting in the locale and wanted the moniker for that. Casanave pointed out in his squawk to the MPAA that his outsit squawk to the MPAA that his outsit squawk to the MPAA that his outsit had been using the "Stromboli" label right along for a William Dieterle-Anna Mamani film it is financing, while RKO, until it registrations, while RKO, until it registrations, it had no choice hut of grant priority to RKO, which had the first application at the organizations. The most office. MPAA operates an elaborate arbitration setup to settle fille disputes, but in this case there is said to be no issue.

MPSC's only alternative would be the MPSC's only alternative would be also and solve the MPSC's only alternative would be the MPSC's only alternative would be also and the MPSC's only alternative would be also and the monitorial properties of the Pardro and Sculari in the MPSC's only alternative would be also and the monitorial properties of the Pardro and Sculari in the MPSC's only alternative would be also would be also and the monitorial properties of the Pardro and Sculari in the MPSC's only alternative would be also would be

4-Wall Deals Possible

4-Wall Deals Possible

With the subject of roadshowing pix considerably on the minds of major distribs, one peculiarity of the RKO and Paramount consent decrees is being studied carefully. Legally interpreted, that proviso; strangely enough, would permit four-wall deals next year but not this. Four-wall deal is so worded that a distrib rents the theatre from an exhib, fixes its own admission price and pays the exhibs a percentage of the take as rental on the lease.

Both RKO and Par, once they become pure production-distribution outfits have no ban against their acquisition of new houses, either permanently or temporarily. However, there is a freeze on expansion of the circuits and that ban applies to the parent org before the splitup. The separation into two companies does not take place until the end of the year.

does not take place until the end of the year.

Danzigers' End 100G Gets Them U.S. Rights To Italian-Made 'Capri'

Edward J. and Harry Lee Dan-ziger. New York producers and sound studio operators, have acsound studio operators, have acquired American rights to "Pirates of Capri," English language film made in Capri recently, as result of a last-minute investment in it. Producers Victor Pahlen, Rudy Monter and Gregor Rabinovitch had run out of coin when about half way finished and the Danzigers came to their rescue with something around $100,000. Final budget ran up to about something around $100,000.

Final budget ran up to about $800,000, far beyond expectations, as result of the producers' decision at the last moment to add Louis Hayward to the cast and to make other changes. Alan Curtis, who was to have had the principal lead, took a subordinate role.

First prints were received by the took a subordinate role.

First prints were received by the Danzigers from a New York lab this week and are being shown distribs to make a releasing deal. When the coin comes in, arrangement is for Danzigers to get out first, then Monter, Pahlen and Rabinovitch and then an Italian nobleman who made a small investment.

Danzigers now have "Runaway," starring Paul Henreid, in production at the Fox-Movietone studios in New York. Aside from deferments, the two brothers are advancing all the production coin, with no bank participating. Pic will be for United Artists release, as was "Jigsaw," which they now have in distribution. Danzigers now have "Runaway, have in distribution.

lle's Maiden Voyage Has Many Showfolk Aboard

Regal in her new decor, the French Line's rebuilt lie de France sailed for Europe Saturday (30) with a heavy list of show biz passengers. Among those making the initial eastern crossing on the refurbished ship were the Pandro S. Bermans. The Mctro producer, who recently completed "Bodies and Souls," will return in about seven or eight weeks.

Strictly on a vection Berman.

MPAA's Pitch On Hollywood

Motion Picture Assn. of America, in a hypoing of its public relations activities, is sending out a series of stories to sell "the constructive angle" on Hollywood. Yarns are going to writers, critics and exhibitors throughout the country and may be compiled in pamphlet form for schools in the fall. Exhibs are being encouraged to make whatever local use they can of the stories, including employing them as material for speeches.

Initialer was an erudite 11-page speeches.

Initialer was an erudite 11-page article on "Music in Films." It will be followed by others on "Literature in Films." "Education in Films," "How Films Teach History" and similar themes to give Hollywood its due as a legitimate source of culture. Interspersed with the series and issued as the second article was an interview with Joseph I. Breen, MPAA vp. in charge of the Production Code Administration, listing 43 films "which compare favorably with the best Hollywood has produced in years."

Breen was quoted as an author-

Breen was quoted as an authority since he is "the man who for the past 15 years has seen practically all the pictures produced in Hollywood, from early script to finished product." Breen noted "that the accent is on farce or farce-comedy. There seems to be a larger percentage of this type of picture than has been the case since the termination of the war."

MPAA flacks have little hope of

MPAA flacks have little hope of seeing the yarns used in toto, but feel that they will have a cumulative effect in planting an aura of class for Hollywood in minds of writers and critics who are prone to let the crasser and more glamorous side of the film capital shut out its more valuable assets.

While the preparation of the Breen list of top films preceded the announcement by Gael Sulli-

(Continued on page 23)

JAMES MASON'S 2D WIN OVER DAVID ROSE

Previously victorious in having a N. Y. federal court set aside a 1946 contract with David E. Rose as not valid, actor James Mason again triumphed last week when the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals sustained the ruling of the lower court. In an opinion written by Justice Thomas W. Swan, the higher tribunal held that the so-called agreement was "too incomplete to constitute a binding conplete to constitute a binding con-tract."

tract."

Originally Mason sued Rose in an effort to break the deal while the defendant counterclaimed to prevent the actor from violating the provisions incorporated in a letter signed by both individuals. In finding for Mason, Federal Judge John C. Knox opined that the "letter-agreement" was too "vague and indefinite" to be considered valid.

Suits grew out of a plan of both sidered valid.

Suits grew out of a plan of both parties to enter American independent production on a joint basis. As noted in the letter, Rose was to manage the venture while Mason was to have contributed his services. Later, however, Mason moved to cancel the deal on the green of the mean register.

services. Later, however, Mason moved to cancel the deal on the grounds the memorandum wasn't intended to be a formal pact.

Case was marked by a legal puzzler as to what law should apply. The letter was signed in England but its provisions were to have been carried out in California. Nevertheless Justice Jerome N. Frank, in a concurring opinion, ruled that regardless of what "law" should prevail "this agreement is too indefinite." Repping Mason was Schwartz & Frohlich, while Rose's legal battery was Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett. Rose was formerly g.m. for Paramount in Great Britain, and Mason argued that before he even started production Rose had him "farmed out" to Par for distribution.

Ozoners' Big Negro Draw

Among the "new" audiences which drive-ins are said to be creating, one large segment is represented by Negroes. In many sections of the south where segregation in regular houses is strictly enforced, the rule is not applied to the ozoners. Because of this, Negroes flock to the open-air theatres which are attractive de-luxe affairs as compared to the second-rate flickeries generally available to them. This holds true particularly in Texas.

At the same time, pixites studying drive-ins believe much of the ozoner patronage is rather a recaptured old audience than one which is strictly new. These audiences formerly went to conventional theatres but dropped the habit because of inconvenience or other reasons. For instance, big part of ozoner patrons are young married couples with infant children who cannot afford baby-sitting services. On checkups with drive-in patrons, number of them said they stopped going to flickeries because they were "embarrassed by their children crying in the theatre."

Those surveying the field agree with the estimate of Robert 'Rob) Wilby, Wilby-Kincey circuit head, that 70% of the audience would not go to a regular theatre.

Stalling Via an Appeal May Lessen Theatre Values, Impair TV Tie-Ins

150G Plagiarism vs. U

Los Angeles, Aug. 2.

Thomas Burtis, screenwriter, filed suit for $150,000 against Universal Pictures in L.A. superior court, charging plagiarism.

Plaintiff declares Universal agreed to buy his screenplay, "Manhattan Masquerade," in 1938, and later incorporated the story into its film, "She Wrote the Book," produced in 1945.

More on 'Dirty Linen' Washing in That 'Life' Seminar; Exhib's Peeve

Production side of the film business is roundly rapped for its airing soiled linen to public view, via the recent Life magazine roundtable discussions by Trueman T. Rembusch, National Allied treas-urer. In a letter circularized among Allied members, Rembusch declares that "production needs to take a leaf from the book of ex-hibition and there would not be such great need for a public rela-tions campaign for the industry."

tions campaign for the industry."

As one of the participants in the exhib section of the round-table, Rembusch asserts, "it was my observation that the exhibitors attending that session had one idea in mind: to protect the industry from unfavorable comments appearing in the finished article. The exhibitors were successful in doing just that."

Continuing on that took Allied

Continuing on that tack, Allied official states: "Sure, within the industry exhibition will battle production and distribution but let an interloper attempt to assail our industry and exhibition has sense enough to keep its mouth shut and protect it and the industry's interests."

sets."

Rembusch specifically slammed at Joseph Mankiewicz' "rantings at the Life magazine roundtable." His ire, like other Allied members, was roused by the Mankiewicz tag of an exhib as a "real estate operator whose chief concern should be taking gum off carpets and checking adolescent love-making in the balcony."

N. Y. to Europe

Gracie Allen George Burns George Burns
Glenn Ford
David D. Horne
Grace (Mrs. Gus) Kahn
Dorothy Kilgallen
Richard Kollmar
Pat O'Brien Fred Schang, Jr Irene M. Selznick Dorothy Stewart Alida Valli John Wildberg

Europe to N. Y.

Europe to Lucia Chase
Everett Crosby
Susan Douglas
Mrs. Henry Fonda
Florence George
Harry Kalcheim
Elia Kazan
Jules Levey Jules Levey
Burgess Meredith
Arthur Miller
Lew Parker

Continued study of the New York federal court's divorcement decision during the past week has clarified thinking somewhat regarding the advisability of an appeal, but the question is still in the air as whether the three majors affected will take such action. Many long sessions between the companies' staff counsels and outside attorneys will undoubtedly be held before a decision is reached.

the companies staff counsels and outside attorneys will undoubtedly be held before a decision is reached.

There is quite a group of legalites who favor continuing the fight against the total divorcement order. Their stand is that Warner Bros., Loew's and 20th-Fox are much in the position of a man in the death chamber. He may know he has very little chance of getting a stay of execution, but he has nothing to lose and all to gain, so it is worthwhile resorting to every possible avenue of clemency.

Those who oppose the appeal claim that that is not the position of the three companies at all. It is by no means a case, they say, of all to gain and nothing to lose by an appeal. There are two important considerations in carrying the fight on any longer. First is the diminishing value of theater real tate and the second is the companies' desire to get into video.

Realty Past Its Peak
On the first point there is pretty much agreement that with the passing of years, theatre properties are bound to become less valuable—along with other real estate and a gradual decline in (Continued on page 23)

L. A. to N. Y.

L. A. to !!
Lloyd Bacon
Vera Caldwell
Pat Di Cicco
Paul Douglas
Connie Haines
Sessue Hayakawa
Horace Heidt
Al Horwits
Rene Hubert
Robert Keith
Zottan Korda
Gilbert Kurland
Charles Lamont
Virginia Payne
Cole Porter
Bernard Schubert
Zachary Scott
Joseph Szigeti
Edwin Van Pelt
Barbara Whiting

N. Y. to L. A.

Irving Berlin Rebecca Brownstein Clayton Collyer Walter Craig Walter Craig
Paul Dullzell
Hy Faine
Eunice Healey
George Heller
Henry Klinger
Philip Loeb
Florence Marston
Edith Meiser
Howard Reinheimer
Arthur Schwartz
Louis Simon
Edward Small Edward Small Clarence Taylor Edgar Van Blohm Marek Windhheim

> CAN'T LEAVE Henry Morgan

FABIAN'S 11-THEATRE TV CIRCUIT

Bob Hope-'Jones' Wins B.O. Stakes For July; 'Neptune,' 'Steal' Follow

After displaying enough strength in the final week of June to finish fourth that month, "Sorrowful Jones" (Par) rushed ahead to win the national boxoffice derby in July. The latest Bob Hope opus easily outdistanced the field, winding up first the first three weeks in July and never dropping below third all month, according to reports from VARIETY correspondents in about 22 representative key cities.

in about 22 representative key cities.
"Neptune's Daughter" (M-G), which did almost as well as "Jones" the first two weeks of July but failed to show as much sustained strength, took second money, being well ahead of its third-place rival, "Big Steal" (RKO), which was especially sturdy two weeks of the month. Solid to great weeks were far in the majority for this Robert Mitchum epic.

jority for this Robert Milchum epic.
Fourth place was won by "House of Strangers" (20th) although pressed for a time by "Fountainhead" (WB) in fifth position for July, "Strangers" started out rather indifferently but came along briskly later while the Gary Cooper-Warner picture piled up considerable coin but was inclined to be spotty.

considerable coin but was inclined to be spotty.

"Silver Lining," another from Warners, climbed into sixth, mainly wai its terrific drive in final stanza of the month. Aside and apart from the smash totals rung up in the first four weeks at the Radio City Music Hall, the Ray Bolger-June Haver Technicolor musical opened big to socko or great in final week of July, Picture ap(Continued on page 20).

(Continued on page 20)

Eddie Small-EL Down To a Waltz. Producer May Set Col Distrib

May Set Col Distrib

No progress has been made on his deal to take over Eagle Lion, Edward Small said this week, and he'll go back to the Coast from New York today (Wednesday: Small has completed negotiations with Robert R. Young and Serge Semenenko for EL and it is up to them now to come up with the production financing coin which would cement the deal.

Small said he had no word on progress toward getting the money, reportedly credits totalling around $3,500,000, and was going ahead with other negotiations. These are for a series of pix to be distributed by another company, possibly Columbia.

Young, controlling stockholder in EL, has turned the task of getting the funds together to Robert R. Purcell, chairman of the board of Pathe Industries, EL's parent company. Semenenko, vp. of the First National Bank of Buston, (Continued on page 23)

(Continued on page 23)

MPEA STAYS IN JAPAN ON UPPED COIN OFFER

ON UPPED COIN OFFER

Motion Picture Export Assn. will probably drop its threat of pulling out of Japan as a result of the U. S. Army's agreement to boost from $200,000 to $1,600,000 the amount of coin which the majors can extract from Japan
during the year ending June 30, 1950. In an MPEA meet yesterday (Tues.), Irving Maas, MPEA, exec veepee and managing director, confirmed the Army move in a report to members.

Same meet resulted in agreement by United Artists to continue distribution in Germany through the MPEA of all its pix released to date. That agreement holds until the end of the year. It does not apply to product released to date. UA, which is not a signatory to the MPEA distribution agreement, thereby reversed a Previous stand.

Operational personnel and physical problems includents!

previous stand.
Operational personnel and physical problems incidental to the takeover of individual selling in Germany on Jan. 1 were discussed.

July's Big 10

- 'Sorrowful Jones" (Par).
 'Neptune's Daughter" (M-G).
 'Big Steal" (RKO).

- "Big Steal" (RKO).
 "House of Strangers" (20th).
 "Fountalnhead" (WB).
 "Silver Lining" (WB).
 "Any Number Play" (M-G).
 "Stratton Story" (M-G).
 "Glrl Jones Beach" (WB).
 "Africa Screams" (UA).

See All-Industry Conference Next On Theatre Video

alt-industry conference to draft a program for presentation to the Federal Communications Commission. Theatre Owners of America is now mulling the project as the best way of winning favorable action by the FCC. That body recently propounded six questions to the film industry as to its plans as a way of determining whether specific video channels should be allocated to exhibition.

TOA's top officials, after quietly all-industry conference to draft a located to exhibition.

TOA's top officials, after quietly quizzing the FCC, are convinced that any action taken by Individual companies or separate branches of the industry will throw cold water on the chances of channel-allocation. They believe that the present approach based more on enterprise the converse than the converse the sequence of the converse of the ent approach, based more on en-gineering briefs as to what differ-ent companies car accomplish in theatre TV, is strictly a wrongway theatre TV, is strictly lack.

All-industry confab, if cailed by the theatre group, would be to draft a complete agenda of civic service programs. It would be shaped to show the FCC what contribution the industry could make to the public in the form of theatre video programs rather than a technical exposition of engineering possibilities.

possibilities.

TOA would ask for a two-three month preparation of programs by a committee repping all companies and branches. Chief backer of the proposal is Gael Sullivan, exec director of the group.

CLAIM QUICK METHOD FOR 3-DIMENSION PIX

Chief bugaboo in the development of three-dimension films—the use of complicated viewing lenses and attachments—may be overcome by a new method devised by Scientific Research, Coast outfit. New technique, according to Irving Yergin, firm partner, is based on a simple gadget attached to projectors which obviates necessity for viewing tenses.

Device will be demonstrated on the Coast Aug. 27 when its commercial feasibility for films and video will be tested. Jack Moss, film producer, and Jacques Fresco, developer of the process, are other partners of the firm.

Small-Seaters' Pitch To Majors on Reissues

Pressure is being exerted on a number of majors to induce them to embark on a new policy for resisuing oldies. The plea, pushed by Telenews, Translux and a number of other chains operating art houses, is for the companies to get out a substantial number of resisues on a limited rather than general release policy. Plan would keep down the costs on prints and at the same time insure a supply of product to the converted houses.

Telenews, Translux and (Continued on page 20)

PENCILS IN BUY FOR RCA UNITS

New York indie circuit operator Si H. Fabian, having bought the first RCA-produced theatre televislon unit, has pencilled in another for 10 more, to be installed in others of his theatres. Fabian's interest in the new venture indicates he'll have the first theatre TV circuit in the east and also opens the possibility of RCA's having found a highly-lucrative new business. It was also revealed this week

It was also revealed this week that the problem of TV program-ming for his theatres, which looms as one of Fabian's biggest obstacles, may be partially solved by NBC, subsidiary company of RCA. Net-work's even moreone.

may be partially solved by NBC, subsidiary company of RCA. Network's exec veepee Charles R. Denny, Jr., has been huddling with Fabian and his theatre TV consultant, Nathan L. Halpern, on the possibility of NBC's building special video shows for the Fabian Brooklyn theatre, were the first unit is to be installed. In addition, the house may also be able to carry some of NBC's regularly-scheduled programs, such as Milton Berle's "Texaco Star Theatre."

General belief now is that theatre TV can be beneficial to all concerned. Theatres, of course, hope to gain through bigger b.o. Manufacturers of the equipment will have a new and ready market and manufacturers of the equipment will have a new and ready market and manufacturers of home receivers should also benefit. It is expected that many people, who see such shows as "Texaco" for the first time in a theatre, may want to buy a set to have the programs at their homes. If the deal for such shows goes through, the advertisers will have a greatly-expanded audience. goes through, the advertisers will have a greatly-expanded audience. This, in turn, will prove helpful to the networks by luring more advertisers into their fold.

Disclosure that Fablan is interested in 10 more of RCA's large-screen projection units indicates he ested in 10 more of RCA's largescreen projection units indicates he may also be considering the possibility of originating his own programming; similar to what 20th-Fox plans to do on the Cuast. With enough theatres linked together by theatre TV, it is believed, it might pay Fabian to stage programs live at one central point and then feed them to the inter-connected houses.

Combined gross from such a circuit would enable him to get some of the best talent available.

Interest of RCA and NBC in the success of Fabian's experimentation with theatre TV is evident in what if will mean to the parent company. Sets will cost Fabian about $25,000 each. Total purchase price hell pay-to RCA for 11 of them. consequently, is $275,000.
Thus, if Fabian can boost his boxoffice gross with the help of the new medium, other theatres throughout the country might follow suit. RCA consequently will have Iound a lush new market for its product.

Theatre TV Dominates 20th-NT Coast Powwow

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Twentieth-Fox's plans for theatre television held the center of neterest at the two-day meet of National Theatres division presidents, being held at the homeoffice with NT prez Charles P. Skouras presiding.
Circuit's TV chief R. H. McCulough disclosed NT is readying an Circuit's TV chief R. H. McCullough disclosed NT is readying an application with the Federal Communications Commission for a theatre TV channel, which it plans to file in September so that it can launch its 23-theatre Coast TV hookup. It is estimated that the venture will cost 20th and NT about $1,200,000 for the theatre equipment which it helped develop with RCA. This includes the projectors, studio and field equipment and seven-relay stations to beam shows originating at Grauman's Chinese theatre here to NT houses

Hollywood Thawing $30,000,000 In Faraway Places; 26 Pix This Year

Foreign 'Menace'

Hollywood, Aus. 2.
"Beware of foreign producers" is the gist of a warning issued to its members by mg issued to its members by the Screen Actors Guild. Thesps are cantioned to look before they leap into any film project in alien territory and to sign only a standard free-lance contract designed by SAG.

Some of the boys and gals have been stung overseas.

Goldwyn, RKO Will Go Steady Another Year

Samuel Goldwyn this week of-ficially notified RKO that he is picking up his option to renew his distribution contract with the com-pany for another year. Thus ends picking up his option to renew his distribution contract with the company for another year. Thus ends a months-long but cordial hassle during which Goldwyn attempted to have the pact amended to permit him to release through RKO at his very favorable 20% terms the films of other producers whom he might finance.

RKO topper Howard Hughes consistently refused to permit the amendment and Goldwyn finally accepted the decision. He was obligated to officially notify RKO of his intention to pick up his option by Monday (1), which was 30 days before the one-year renewal becomes effective on Sept. 1. RKO had already given him a 60-day extension of the pact from its original expiration date of July 1 while Goldwyn's demands were argued out.

As the contract stands the pro-

Goldwyn's demands were argueu out.

As the contract stands, the producer can still release the pix of other filmmakers through RKO under his deal, but the product must bear the legend "A Samuel Goldwyn Production" or "Samuel Goldwyn Presents." He wanted to get away from that, since other (Continued on page 18)

PARKS, BETTY GARRETT. MANDEL SET OWN CO.

HANDEL SET UM1 U.
Hollywood, Ang. 2.
Larry Parks and Betty Garrett are joining their manager, Louis Mandel, as equal partners in the newly formed Louis Mandel Productions, Inc. They are planning to make indie films and to produce and finance a Broadway play.
Company has acquired three scripts and hopes to get its initial film into production by December, Mandel said. Efforts will be made to get clearances from Columbia for Parks and from Metro for Miss Gerrett so that they can appear in for Parks and from Metro for Miss Carrett so that they can appear in the pix.

Couple, who are married, are now on a vaude tour. It is also being sponsored by the new com-pany which they are setting up.

Ricordi Suing Par Over 'Mme. Butterfly' Title

Mme. Butterfly litte
Legal question as to who owns the title rights to Purcini's opera.
"Madame Butterfly," came into N. Y. federal court last week when
G. Ricordi & Co. brought an infringement suit against Paramount.
Claiming ownership to the title, plaintiff asks a declaratory judgment determining its rights and also seeks an injunction restraining Par from using the label.
Ricordi contends that under an April 27, 1901, agreement, the late David Belasco and novelist John' Luther Long granted it exclusive worldwide rights to the title. Par, on the other hand, claims Belasco and Long gave them a license to and seven relay stations to beam shows originating at Grauman's ing Par from using the labet.

Clinese theatre here to NT houses in southern California.

Circuit also decided to install Divid Belasco and novelist John-Luther Long granted it exclusive rationally and kids, ranging from the top 25c price for moppets up to near the adult scale. Bracket has proved a healthy trade stimulant.

Hollywood producers will thaw seess of $30,000,000 in frozen excess of $30,000,000 in frozen funds this year in overseas production. Figure reps over 26 productions and is greatest overall foreign production program within a single year in history of Hollywood.

single year in history of Hollywood.
Offshore project is in direct opposition to Eric Johnston's recent statement that fewer pictures would be made abroad by American producers. Total of 21 either are currently shooting or being actively prepped to go within next 120 days. Several already have been finished.

been finished.

England alone will be shooting site of at least 13 films, with strong possibility this number may be stretched to as many as 20. Italy also will be a popular lensing ground. Other countries which will see at least one, and in most cases several picture companies, are Germany, France, Kenya Colony in Africa, Argentine, Tahiti.

Six Shooting Now

Six films currently are shooting abroad, with more to go within next few weeks, next few weeks.

Now active in England are Alfred Hitchcock's "Stage Fright," for Warners; 20th-Fox's "The Black Rose"; Walt Disney's "Treasurestland," for RKO release. "Stromboli" is lensing on island of Stromboli for RKO; George Breakston and Yorke Coplen are doing a wild animal feature in Kenya Colony, still untitled, for Republic. 20th-Fox has "Two Corridors East" in production in Germany.

Stated to start within next 10

Stated to start within next 10 days to two weeks are RKO's "The White Tower," in French Alps; (Continued on page 20)

UA Doesn't Appear Likely to Get Out On Cagney's 'Life'

United Artists, which about 18 months ago almost went to court against Warner Bros, and put up $250,000 of its own coin for production financing in its anxiety to get "Time of Your Life" for release, looks certain to get nicked for its entire investment in the Cagney brothers' film. It is one of the few pix in recent years which UA has dug into its slim treasury to finance. finance.

has dug into its slim treasury to finance.

It appears practically positive now that the company will not come out on the James Cagney-starrer. Negative cost $1,400,000 and the pic must get back about $2,300,000 to cover prints, advertising, distribution cost and incidentals. In 15 months of release It has grossed about $1,300,000.

UA, in return for its $250,000 investment in "Life," got a second mortgage on the film." That puts it second to the Bankers Trust Co. of New York in the payoff line. Bank probably will not get its coin out of the picture either, but it has no worry, since its loan was to Cagney Productions, Inc., and is thus collaterized by other assets and residuals. UA loan, on the other hand, was specifically on the picturization of the William Saroyan play. UA made the loan after producer William Cagney had made a deal with Warner Bros. for release by it of the film. Grad Sears, UA prez, threatened to take WB to court if it took the film. Negotiations followed in which UA agreed to put up the financing and thus was assured of "Life."

Schlaifer's Gamble Acct.

Charles Schlaifer & Co. has been named ad agency and public relations consultant for all Ted Gamble enterprises. Latter in cludes Gamble's theatre chain operating from Portland, Ore, headquarters and the Greater Indianapolis Amusement Co., operators of firstrun and nabe houses in the Indiana canital.

MIDWEST KEYS DISAGREE ON B.O.; ST. LOO SINGS BLUES, MPLS. SEZ IT'S GOOD AS EVER

With biz off from 20%-35%, depending on the size and location of the house, from last year, Fanchon & Marco will try to hypo turnstile & Marco will try to hypo turnstile activity at its 5,000-seater Fox. in midtown, with old time vaude and Loew's State, downtown, also is giving stage presentation a whiri to bolster lagging wicket activity. At the Fox a policy of seven or eight acts is being inaugurated while at Loew's Larry Parks-Betty Garrett headed a four-act stage Garrett headed a four-act stage show, the second time in almost 20 years that Loew's presented a combo policy in this burg.

bo policy in this burg.

A slight tilt was made at Loew's, top for pictures at both Loew's and F. & M.'s deluxers remains at 75c to which it was hiked several years ago. The rest of the first runners here also have a 50-75c scale and the nabes have made no change in their admish scale. There appears to be no likelihood that prices will be siashed as the exhibs contend the high price of films, together with other hiked expenses, make it impossible for them to reduce the scale without incurring losses. incurring losses.

With more than 30,000 tele sets in St. Louis it cannot be deter-mined what effect this form of en-Hinded what effect this form of en-tertainment has on the picture b.o. Baseball games are televised over KSD-TV, the town's only video station but has not affected the atlendance. As a matter of fact, the Cardinals, in the thick of the fight for the National League pennant are enjoying a greater attendance than last year.

In this town, if the screen fare offered is what the natives like tel and radio cut no ice whatsoever. "Stratton Story." "Neptune's Daughter" "Mether" "Stratton Story," "Neptune's Daughter," "Mother is a Fresh-man" and "Sorrowful Jones" not only copped nods from the crix but also enjoyed such fine biz that they were h.o. "Mother" and "Stratton" ram for three weeks which is un-usually long in this burg.

Drive-Ins Hurt Here

Drive-Ins Hurt Here

There is no question but that the drive-ins have hurt the big houses even though they show only lesser pix. Last year there was only one in adjacent St. Louis Connty. This year four are flourishing and across the Mississippi in St. Clair County half a dozen are operating and the construction of more continues within a 100-mile radius of St. Louis. As b.o. bait the owners of the drive-ins, following in the footsteps of the late Fred Wehrenberg whose estate owns three In St. Louis County, have adopted a policy of cuffo pony rides, Icecream cones, playgrounds. rides, leceream cones, playgrounds, etc., for the kiddies. A miniature Coney Island for kids has sprung up in St. Louis County near a heavily populated residential area and parents are patronizing the spot to the determent of the pic-ture houses in that section of the

The Municipal Theatre Assn.'s fresco playhouse in Forest Park is another strong opposish for the picture theatres during the summer months. The outdoor enterprise has been drawing an average of 70,000 payees a week and the season of 12 weeks winds up on Labor Day.

Except for drive-ins, theatre construction has lagged badly. High labor and material costs are responsible for the slowing down of construction of new houses. In St. Louis there have been several strikes of construction laborers and investors never know when a and investors never know when a strike will occur that will delay ike will occur that will delay completion of a theatre proj-

The popcorn and candy conces-The popcorn and candy concessions are in virtually every house in the city, Loew's and the Orpheum having been the last to capitulate to this means of revenue. For several years popcorn was barred at these two houses although the candy bar prospered Signs banning popcorn were placed on the ticket booth windows and customers were compelled to

Neighborly Indeed

Justin Herman, who writes,

Justin Herman, who writes, produces and directs the Pacemaker series of 12 shorts a year for Paramount, is a guy who believes in taking fuli advantage of his neighbors. He lives in New Hope, Pa., and is now doing his third short in six months in that area.

First one was "Lambertville Story" (Lambertville, N. J., adjoins New Hope) in which estarred one of the local residents, Paul Whiteman. Then he did "Neighbors in the Night," about the New Hope volunteer firefighters. And now he's doing "Strawhat Cinderella," which is about summer theatres and is being shot at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, Featured will be line Statenburger. summer theatres and is using shot at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope. Featured will be Jinx Falkenburg and such local celebs as George S. Kaufman and wife. Leueen McGrath, and Ernest Truex, as well as Theron and Phyllis Bamberger, who operate the strawhat.

cartoon tossed in for good meas-

In addition to the Fox, the Shubert, a 1,500-seater, also in midtown, shuttered for the summer

Other Opposition

Further opposish is seen in hotrod and migget races, each once weekly, a long harness race meeting near Collinsville, Ill., both at night, two amusement parks and the showboat "Goldernod" moored at the St. Louis river port. The run last at the St. Louis liver port. The midget auto races were run last season but the hot-rods is a new form of entertainment iocally that has drawn heavily. The Golden-rod has been at the local port for a decade presenting mellers and is dolored to trope, his the literature. doing strong biz throughout the Nabes have not returned to give-Nabes have not returned to give-aways as a b.o. hypo although one small indie house in South St. Louis occasionally stages a "Mer-chandise Night" at which grochandise Night" at which gro-ceries, etc., are dished out to the holders of lucky numbers. Many attempts have been made in the past few years not only in St. Louis but throughout the state by Louis but throughout the state by picture theatre owners to have Bank Nights but each time the bally has been banned by an opinion rendered by the State's Attorney General who has consistently ruled that such forms of awards out-and-out lotteries

Loew's is the only one of the big houses that has been consistent in outdoor ballys. Lots of outent in outdoor barrys. Low is tanding gags for people in the downtown area have been dished out on connection with Loew's downtown area nave been disned out on connection with Loew's 25th anniversary campaign. Efforts to enlist co-op with de-partment stores and other retail shops in newspaper ads in which screen attractions would be screen attractions would be stressed has met with little or no success, even though theatre man-agers point out such co-op would be of benefit all around.

Good Shows Always Do Big in Twin Cities

Minneapolis, Aug. 2. Such representative members of the industry's exhibiting end as an affiliated theatre circuit's president and an Independent exhibitors' body's head disagree over the extent that grosses are off from their core are nearly and the second of the tent that grosses are off from their cescape the fact that outstanding attractions still are capable of chalking up tremendous figures.

For example, the 4,000-seat Radio City theatre here during the blistering July heat grossed one of the biggest weeks in its history with a vaudfim show that included Frankie Carle's orchestra and the Mills Bros, with a Grable picture. "Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend," getting just under $42,000. a staggering sum that indi-impressive. The very next week the same house grossed approxi-mately $20,000 with "Sorrowful Jones"—a gross that isn't far un-der the top take for any straight der the top take for any straight film.

All in all, it's agreed in local film circles, that pix b.o. is still plenty healthy and in better shape than most other industrial lines. A number of trends and trains of thought regarding the film industry's present and probable future are in evidence, as pointed out to VARIETY by llarry B. French, president of the Minnesota Amusement Co. (Paramount theatres' circuit), and Bennie Berger, president of dent of the Minnesota Amusement Co. Paramount theatres' circuit, and Bennie Berger, president of North Central Allied, independent exhibitors' organization, and owner of a large theatre circuit, plus events that have been taking place. They are: 1. French says that the circuit's theatre business is off about 11%

1. French says that the circuit's theatre business is off about 11% now and has been down to that extent the past six months from a year ago. Berger asserts the decrease runs about 15%. Both feet that inferior product on the average might be a factor, as well as less amusement purchasing power, pursestring tightening and increased opposition from other amusement lines. French is particularly optimistic about product coming up.

TV No B.O. Factor

2. Both French and Berger agree that television hasn't hurt the the-atres yet for the reason that only a comparatively small number of sets are in use and the TV shows sets are in use and the TV shows and programs haven't been calculated to keep the public at home. There are now two Twin City TV stations, but until last month there was only one. There's even little was only one. There's even little worry or concern among exhibitors over TV as an important future source of opposition.

3. French and Berger agree, and the reports reaching here confirm their opinions, that while drive-ins the larger responsibility.

in the larger-communities like Minneapolis are operating profitably, tough going is being experienced by the smail-town ozoners for the most part. They feel that the peak of drive-in theatre construction has been passed, as far as this territory is concerned, and not only that there'll be few more built in and around the less populated spots, but also that a number of these ozoners so located will have to shutter permanently.

Drive-ins larger - communities

Drive-Ins

In the Twin Cities and most other situations, the drive-ins play behind all of the conventional the-atres. Several in the territory have been granted earlier clear-ance, however, and a few are start-(Continued on page 22)

'Yellow Ribbon' Preem At RKO's New Missouri In K.C. Attracts 25.000

Kansas City, Aug. 2.
Opening of RKO's new Missouri
here last Tuesday (26) brought out one of largest crowds ever drawn to a theatrical event. Estimated to a theatrical event. Estimated that 25,000 were on hand for the night parade and street appearance of film players, civic officials and RKO execs. Jam about the theatre front reached near riot proprilons, and Lawrence Lehman, manager, was forced to open the doors 45 minutes ahead of schedule. House was sold out several days before opening. days before opening.

Heavy program of ballyhoo brought peak interest in the event, and drew the massive turnout to witness an 8-block long parade preceding the opening and appearpreceding the opening and appear-ance of the players on a platform in front of the theatre. Personals included Jane Rissell, Gordon MacRae. Alan Hale. George O'Brien, Harry Carey, Jr., and Ben though the candy bar prospered Signs banning popoorn were sure. "Beautiful Blonde From Bashplaced on the ticket booth windows full Bend." getting just under $42. don. a staggering sum that indicates anything but a tightening of a house. About six weeks agn the sale of popoorn was resumed and so done a flourishing biz.

Event at infrequent intervals was the town's first in more than half of the theatre's 2. done as well as the than a year and that an expectation of the big houses, as well as the than a year and that an expectation of the programs with a newsreel and a done, the pull still rated as highly the ford's production glorifying the done, the pull still rated as highly the ford's production glorifying the done. The programs with a newsreel and a size of sure of Kickapoo Indians, Mayor William Kemp and RKO's Sol Schwartz, Parade was scheduled to end at the theatre at 7:30 o'clock, but long before that more than half of the theatre's 2. done sats were filled. The horse-men and Indians sied in with the pre-release world preem of "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon." John nabes, still stick to double feature ceptionally bang-up selling job was ford's production glorifying the continuous continuous and provided as the programs with a newsreel and a since the program of the tight program is the program of the prog Parade included aiso a troop of

20th's All-Industry Trailer

New era of cooperation among competing producers-distributors which should aid immeasurably in promoting better business and better public relations, was graphically demonstrated by 20th-Fox veepee Charles Einfeld at the final session of the company's home-office convention of theatre exploitation chiefs Friday (29). To hypo office convention of theatre exploitation chiefs Friday (29). To hypo-enthusiasm of the delegates, who came from theatres and circuits throughout the country. Einfeld read a list of promising product forthcoming from all studios, not 20th alone. He emphasized that the entire industry is responding to customers' demands for better quality.

List of future releases from all companies was compiled specifically for the 20th conclave by production code administrator Joseph I. Breen, whose job gives him a chance to view product of all studios while it is still in the rough-cut stage. Declaring that the industry is looking far ahead and is entering into a "fruitful era." Einfeld told the assembled ad-publicity delegates: "Now it is up to you exploiteers and the exhibitors to continue encouraging Holly-wood to turn out such pictures by helping them to do top business." Breen's list of what looks like the "best" in new pictures nat-urally included some from the 20th iot. In reading them, Einfeld admitted that his studio doesn't produce "all the good pictures." but declared that "we hope we can turn out more than the others."

If Duals K.O.'d That Means No More Poor B's and Must Help All—Lichtman

$750,000 Pact Suit On Nivel Picture

Un Nivel Picture

Los Angeles, Aug. 2.

Nivel Pictures, Inc., filed suit for $250,000 against Screen Guild Productions and Lippert Productions, with an added demand for $500,000 exemplary damages against Robert Lippert, charging breach of contract.

Case involves the distribution of the feature, "Killer Dili," which Nivel produced for distribution through Screen Guild. Nivel declares Lippert induced Screen Guild to negate its distribution agreement.

agreement.

Andy Smith Decries Exhibs' Constant Wail Of 'Poor' Pix: Hurts All

Nation's film exhibitors, who should be most interested in generating better industry public relations, are doing the film business considerable damage by airing publicly the view that "poor pictures" are responsible for the current boxoffice dip, according to 20th-Fox sales veepee Andy W. Smith, Jr. In addition, he said, exhibs must cooperate when they have any complaints on thair run. exhibs must cooperate when they have any complaints on their run or clearance by agreeing to conciliation. That, he declared, is the only way to "remove the necessity of washing our dirty legal linen in the courts and, therefore, before the public."

the public."

In a talk at the 20th homeoffice conclave of theatre ad-publicity conclave of theatre ad-publicity chlefs last Thursday (28), Smith also pitched for exhib cooperation to protect the newsreels against the threatened inroads of televithe threatened inroads of television, revealing that 20th is now studying a change in format to eliminate "so sharp a conflict" between TV news coverage and our newsreels. He noted 20th's release schedule calls for two A films a month but said the present market demands may boost that figure. More releases may be necessary via the greater competition developed by the Government's anti-trust decree and because "sustaining by the Government's anti-trust decree and because "sustaining power even for the best pictures is not what It was in years past." In chiding exhibs, Smith referred to the recent nationwide survey of film boxoffice conditions conducted by the N. Y. Times, which quoted most exhibs as blaming poor product for the attendance slump. "I would be the last one to deny that there are poor pictures," he said. "Ours is an extremely hazardous business, depending as it must on changing public tastes and the inevitable une certainties that surround any creapublic tastes and the inevitable un-certainties that surround any crea-tive undertaking, particularly in the field of entertainment. "But, for exhibitors to subscribe in effect to the charge that the vast majority of pictures are bad is un-believable and self-destructive. It is as fantastic as though a Ford dealer were to announce 'Ford's 1949 model is not satisfactory; you will not enjoy riding in it."

Ward Heads U-I Personnel

Ward Heads U-1 Personnel Hollywood, Ang. 2. Emmett P. Ward replaces A. II. McCausland, resigned, as head of U-1 personnel department. Ward also retains his labor relations director post.

* Twentieth-Fox veenee Al Lightman, having labeled double feat-"one of the worst evils in our business," argues that combined efforts of exh rid the indust combined efforts of exhibitors can rid the industry of them." Elim-ination of B pictures necessary to double bills might injure severly the smaller production firms, he said, but their elimination is necessary if the industry is to continue to progress.

Lichtman introduced the subject at 20th's homeoffice conclave of theatre ad-publicity chiefs last Thursday (28) and Friday in a general discussion of the present state of the industry. He also took the occasion to relterate his contention that exhibitors must pay higher film rentals to insure production of top-quality films and to emphasize his belief that divorceemphasize his belief that divorcement, if it is finally made mandatory, may ultimately help' the industry in forcing better merchandising methods. The majors he pointed out, will no longer be able to depend on their own theatres for bookings.

"Double bill is bad," Lichtman said. "for the simple reason that it encourages the making of a lot of bad pictures, which must drive a great many people out of the or bad pictures, which must drive a great many people out of the theatres of this country." These people, he averred, "cannot stand for the repetitious trash that is thrown upon the screen merely in the interests of quantity and never in the interests of quality. Con-tinuing his attack, he declared: "We hear from all sides, the gen-eral public as well as people of our business—"too many bad pictures." I maintain that the Class A pic-

(Continued on page 23)

ALL EXHIBS BACKING DISABLED VETS SHORT

Exhib organizations are swing-ing behind mass bookings of "How Exilib organizations are swinging behind mass bookings of "How Much Do You Owe?," short sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans which the industry both made and is distributing. Theational Allied are urging their members through letters and bulletins to play the briefie.

Special bulletin by Gael Snilivan, TOA exec director, asks all members to book the short. Letter from William L. Ainsworth.
Allied prez, after making the same pitch, declares "It is not a morbid subject, but "a very entertaining, interesting and instructive short,
which causes you to stop and think of those boys, whom many have forgotten, the Disabled American Veterans."

Reps U.S. at Meets

Reps U.S. at Meets
Washington, Aug. 2
Chester A. Lindstrom, motion picture chief for the U.S. Department as the U.S. rep to two international film meetings this year.
Lindstrom will attend the 10th International Exhibition of Cine matographic Art at Venice. Aug.
11 to Sept. 1. Immediately afterward he will leave for Cannes for the French International Film Festival, scheduled Sept. 2-17.
Lindstrom will present the pictures made by various Federal agencies.
Approximately 20 nations will have entries at the festivals.

BRITISH QUOTA SYSTEM ON ROCKS

U. S. CAN'T GAIN S REMITTANCES

Reports from London that the entire British exhibition industry—including the three major circuits—is failing to meet the quota and that herculean behind-the-scenes efforts are now under way to sharply reduce the present 45% figure brought little joy to American distribs this week. Their attitude was a glum "We told you so." They saw it of ittle practical help to them. With J. Arthur Rank, Sir Alexander Korda and assorted indies producing nothing like the quantity of films needed to meet the quota, it appeared likely that Harold Wilson, prez of the Board of Trade, would be forced to introduce an amendment reducing the figure when Parliament convenes Oct. 18. In the meantime it will take a dip to 40% on Oct. 1 as a result of an earlier amendment. Yank filmites found satisfaction in the London reports to the extent that failure of the quota has proved their contention that a native picture industry cannot be artificially built and supported by government their contention that a native pic-ture industry cannot be artificially built and supported by government decree. Beyond that there's not much joy, because the general eco-nomic situation in Britain appears so grim that there's little chance of getting a tilt in the $17,000,000 in remittances which are permitted un-der the Anglo-U, S. agreement of March, 1948.

March, 1948.
Preliminary negotiations are slated to start toward the end of this year on revision of the pact for the second two-year period.

(Continued on page 20)

Earl St. John to Edit Rank Pix After O.O.ing Them at N.Y. Previews

Editing of pix on a wholesale scale will be personally handled by Earl St. John, head of J. Ar-thur Rank's Denham studios, when thur Mank's Dennam studios, when the production exec arrives in the U. S. on Aug. 15. St. John will sit in on a series of sneak previews held in American theatres to catch Yank audience reaction to the British offerings before he starts snipping. Most of the previews will be staged in New York houses.

houses.

Among the films waiting in the U. S. for his surgery are "History of Mr. Polly," filmization of the H. G. Wells novel; "Cardboard Cavalier." "The Perfect Woman" and "Passport to Pimlico." Last was produced by Sir Michael Balcon, others by St. John. Studio chief is bringing with him "The Gay Lady." played in England up.

chief is bringing with him "The Gay Lady." played in England un-der the label "Trottle True," which is also slated for his editing. Importation of a British film exec for previewing and editing chores represents something of a switch for the Rank office. For-merly, U. S. execs handled the job.

293-SEATER AS PART OF ST. LOO ROADHOUSE

St. Louis, Aug. 2.
Probably a film business first is taking place in this city. William Medart is installing a 293-seat flickery in his king-size roadside tavern located near Forest Park. With construction under way, Medart expects to have the art theater running in the fall.

are running in the fall.

Restarauteur is converting a glant toom originally intended as a rathskeller. Aside from that foom, he has a series of four other separate restaurants in the building which will continue as dineries. Medart expects to play British and foreign-lingo pix in the main. running in the fall.

Hughes' Crime Yarn

Hollywood, Aug. 2.

Howard Hughes bought "Eye Witness to a Murder," yarn based on an actual crime in San Diego, written by Tom Gwynne.

Picture will be made as a documentary, with Alfred Werker directing, at RKO.

RD's Film Reviews?

RD's Film Reviews?
Reader's Digest may shortly incept a film review department. Such an addition is seen in the picture industry as of vast importance, since the Digest, with its 8,000,000 circulation in this country and abroad has great influence.

The mag's editor saw Metro's "Battleground" last week and RD was impressed with the improved quality of film product, Digest does not regularly review books or other forms of entertainment.

N.Y. Lab Union Piqued at IA's Stall on Strike

A feeling of resentment to-wards their national union leader-ship flared up among eastern lab workers this week in the wake of a last-minute request from Richard F. Walsh, prexy of the Internation-ai Alliance of Theatrical Stage Em-ployees, to call off their strike set for Monday (1). Organized into lab teclinicians Local 702, 1,900 employees in 19 labs were on the verge of a walkout to pressure the companies into writing a new union pact with additional bene-fits.

fits.

Industry was laken off the strike hook after company execs pleaded with Walsh to persuade Local 702 to continue the negotiations which to continue the negotiations which were deadlocked for over a month. Attending an 1A meeting in Denver, Walsh phoned Local 702 prexy John L. Francavilla to postpone the walkout only a few hours before the anion's deadline on Friday afternoon (29). Rush orders were sent to the lab workers in New York and New Jersey to report to work Monday instead of the picket lines which had been planned.

Local 702 members were sur-

(Continued on page 23)

AB-PATHE, WB IN FILM DISTRIBS RESHUFFLE

London. Aug. 2.

Distribution reshuffle has been effected between Associated British-Pathe and Warner Bros. following talks between Sam Schneider and William Moffat.

As result, "The Hasty Heart," recently completed under the direction of Vincent Sherman, with Ronald Reagan and Patricia Neal as stars is to have British distribu-

Ronaid Reagan and Patricia Neal as stars, is to have Brilish distribution through AB-Pathe and will be handled in America and other parts of the world through WB. Originally it was to have had world distribution through WB. Further rearrangement will make "Stage Fright," now being completed by Alfred Hitchcock at Elstree, a Warner production with world release through that organization. Originally it was to have regarding release inrough that organization. Originally it was to have been a WB release of an AB-Pathe production.

Walsh in L. A. On New IA Pact

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Richard F. Walsh, prexy of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, has landed in Hollywood to take part in negotiatiess feet.

cal Stage Employees, has landed in Hollywood to take part in negotiations for a new basic contract for the studio unions. Current three-year pact, covering approximately 15,000 employees in a dozen IA locais, expires Aug. 10.

Since early January, Roy Brewer, IATSE Coast rep, has been bargaining with studio exces for salary boosts under an annual wage-reopening clause. It was decided recently, however, to merge these talks in negotiations for a new general agreement. With studio production considerably revived over six months ago, IATSE leaders are expected to press hard for wage hikes plus the institution of a pension plan.

Walsh arrived in Hollywood from Denver where the IATSE exce board held its regular summer meeting last week. Board reviewed the effect of the foreign coin freezo on studio unemployment and moved to step up its organizational drive in the video field.

U. S. 'Lion's Share Grab,' Brit. Secrecy in Film Talks, Rapped by ACAT

Talks, Rapped by ACAT

London, July 26.

Outspoken comment on the first stage of the Anglo-American talks in Washington last April is made by George H. Elvin, general secretary of the Assn. of Cinematograph and Allied Technicians, in an editorial article in their official journal. The Cine-Technician.

"The meeting." he writes, "degenerated into discussions on the well-known pattern of big business carving up the territories of the world between them with no regard at all to native interests, and with the dominant partners, the Americans, reserving for themseives the lion's share."

Elvin says it's no wonder that the British reps placed the seal of secrecy on the proceedings and only through the American press has he been able to find out the exact nature of the proposals discussed.

The one welcomed feature is that exact nature of the proposals dis-cussed.

The one welcomed feature is that the Board of Trade has apparently refused to bless the discussions. Of the meeting due next month, Elvin comments: "Only the regis-tering of a complete failure to agree at this meeting will preserve the remnants we still have of our own industry."

Bendix Will Ump

Hollywood, Aug. 2. Columbia will film "Kiii The Columbia will nim "Kill fine Umpire," basebail comedy starring William Bendix as the impire. Picture will be based on a slory by Harry Clork and James Hill. Studio is talking a one-picture deal with John Beck as producer.

Only Dillinger

Changes were ordered by the U. S. Secret Service in Eagle Lion's "Trapped," a Bryan Foy production. One of the scenes showed a Treasury Department operative using a criminal as a shield in a gun battle.

Flock of deals negotiated by Neil Agnew, prexy of the Motion Picture Sales Corp., on his recent Continental trip will stock the new distrib outfit with 13 foreignmade pix for release during 1949-50. Several of the pix, according to Agnew, will be produced by top European filminakers, including Roberto Rossellini and Marcel Pagnol, with American cests being used in some cases. MPSC, which, Agnew says, is currently opening branches in about eight major keys, pians to release the pix at the rate of one a month starting in September.

Rossellini, who previously entered several deals with U. S. interests which were not finalized, has agreed to make a picture in English starring the Italian actress. Anna Magnani, and an American name actress, as yet undetermined, under an old commitment to MPSC's Italian partner in the deal. Agnew also disclosed that Pagnol had agreed to make two or three pix for worldwide MPSC release. French producer will remake his "The Baker's Wife" (Continued on page 20)

R.&H. VEHEMENT ON NO 'BALI HA'I' FILM

Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, 2d, say they will "cut anyone's throat" who tries to make a picture titled "Ball Hai." Aithough they recognize that title can't be copyrighted, they'il immediately bring legal action on the grounds of "unfair competition" to prevent anyone using the name of the song from their legit smash. "South Pacific." Hammerstein explains, "Our smash, "South Pacific."

Hammerstein explains, "Ourpolicy of not selling the film rights to our shows applies equally to our songs. No one has approached us for permission to use 'Bali Ha'i,' but if anyone is planning a picture of that name we want to stop it at once, before they make any preparations or spend any money on the project."

It was reported last week that roject.

It was reported last week that reposition the Alfred Hitch-It was reported last week that Transatiantic, the Alfred Hitch-cock-Sidney Bernstein indie unit releasing through Warner Bros., had registered the "Bali Ha'!" title with the Motion Picture Assn. of America.

ENGLISH PIX BIZ

FAVORS SLICE

criminal as a shield in a gun battle.

Department declared its operatives never use humans as shields.

Agnew Picks Up 13

Foreign-Made Pix

For MPSC Distrib

Flock of deals negotiated by Neil Agnew, prexy of the Motion Picture Sales Corp., on his recent Continental trip will stock the new distrib outfit will 13 foreign-made pix for release during 1949-50. Several of the pix, according to Agnew, will be produced by top furopean filmmakers, including Roberto Rossellini and Marcet Pagnol, with American cests being

London, July 26.

Important behind - the - scenes moves are taking place in the Fittens that a top figure of 331;76 is the utmost that can be supported either by studios or eshibs and there is strong feeling among some sections, notably theatre owners, in favor of cutting the figure to 25%.

Apart—from the fact that the heavy quota defaults which are taking place in the current year will be followed befaults which are taking place in the private in favor of cutting among some sections, notably theatre owners, in favor of cutting at five figure to 25%.

Apart—from the fact that the heavy quota defaults which are taking place in the current year will be followed by even more substantial defaults under the 40% quota, exhibitors have come to the conclusion that they can no longer alford to show poor British product merely to satisfy a legal obligation. It's the accepted view here that may be a strong feeling the followed by even more substantial defaults under the 40% quota, exhibitors have come to the conclusion that they can no longer alford to show poor British product merely to satisfy a legal obligation. It's the accepted view here that may be a strong feeling the followed by even more substantial defaults under the 40% quota, exhibitors have come to the conclusion that they can no longer alford to show poor British product merely to satisfy a legal obligation. It's the accepted view here that may be a strong from the fact that a top figure of 331,276 is the utmost that top figure of 331,376 is the ut pinch.

Among the larger groups the drastic change in the situation during the past 12 months has led to a completely new attitude. In the latter part of last year there were a number of high-grade British films which were unquestionably outgrossing most American product, but the situation has now

Drive-Ins Get Tax Dept. Edge; 20% Payable On Per-Car, Not Per-Person

Per-Car, Not Per-Person
U. S. Treasury Dept. handed drive-in operators an unexpected break this week when the Government wing ruled that admission taxes can be based on a per-car rather than per-person basis. The ukase was aired in the form of a letter to Gael Sullivan, exec director of Theatre Owners of America, from R. J. Bopp. Acting Deputy Commissioner. It was made in response to an inquiry by Sullivan.
"If on a particular occasion," Bopp's letter said, "a drive-in the atre does not have an established price for a single admission, but does have a set charge for the admission of a group of persons occupying one car, regardless of the number of persons in the group, the set price made for the admission of the group is the established price of admission to the theatre on that occasion. Under such cirsion of the group is the established price of admission to the theatre on that occasion. Under such circumstances, the admission of a group of persons in a car constitutes one admission regardless of the number of persons in the group, and the tax is based on the established price of admission for the group.

established price of admission for the group.

"Where a drive-in theatre does not have an established price for a single admission on a certain night of each week and it charges $1, inof each week and it charges $1, including tax, for each car admitted regardiess of the number of occupants, the established price of admission to the theatre is 83c, and the total Federal admissions tax due thereon is 17c. The group of persons in each car may be admitted on one ticket."

Sullivan's quiz was sparked by considerable confusion on the subject. Practice of charging per-car rather than per-person is widespread among the ozoners.

ACTORS' UNION CANCELS FILM FLACK CONTRACT

FILM FLACK CUNTRACL

Moltywood, Aug. 2.

Screen Actors Guild cancelled its contract with the Screen Publicists Guild covering the employment of flacks by the thesp group. SPG recently notified SAG that its public relations director. Buck Harris, had been suspended for non-payment of dues.

SAG declared the original contract, signed in 1945, had been made when SPG was a member of the AFL and that the publicists violated the agreement when they went independent.

20th's 50% Buy-In on Odeon (Canada) May Presage Other Foreign Deals

Spyros P. Skonras will open nego-Spyros P. Skonras will open negotiations this week to buy a half-interest in J. Arthur Rank's Odeon Theatres of Canada is believed to presage a drive by American companies to pick up theatre holdings abroad, in the wake of the U. S. Government's divorce decree last week. Drive would be centered, of course, in hard currency areas such as Canada, in which there are no restrictions on remittance of profits.

Disclosure that 20th-Fox prez chain, Skouras also hopes to buy

Theatres of Canada is believed to presage a drive by American companies to pick up theatre holdings abroad, in the wake of the U. S. Government's divorce decree last week. Drive would be centered of course, in hard currency areas such as Canada, in which there are no restrictions on remittance of profits.

Huddles between Rank and Skouras will tee off Thursday (4), when 20th general counsel Otto E. Koegel arrives in London from New York. In addition to bidding for a partnership in the Canadian chain, Skouras also hopes to buy from Rank a showcase house in London's West End. Theatre will probably be the Odeon Leicester Square.

What 20th has offered for the theatres has not been revealed. It is believed certain, though, that if the deal goes through, 20th will undoubtedly use its frozen pounds in England to finance the purchase.

Odeon houses.

Sitting in on the negotiations with Rank will be John Davis, the British magnate's chief aide, and G. I. Woodham-Smith, his legal counsel. Huddles are expected to constitute the last business for Skouras abroad. He will return to the homeoffice as soon as they are completed.

Great! And The Industry Is W GROW-AND GROW-AN

Released just this week—but already it holds the record for more signed contracts than any Ladd hit in history. That's proof showmen know the right picture for a top star when they see it. Strong results all the way down the line in first engagements—spearheaded by a tremendous N. Y. Paramount run. Yes, the boxoffice jackpot will grow—and grow—and grow because, as the N. Y. Herald Tribune says:

"Its savage pace is irresistible!"

Alan Ladd · Betty Field · Macdonald Carey · Ruth Hussey · Barry Sullivan · Howard Da Silva in "THE GREAT GATSBY" with Shelley Winters · Produced by Richard Maibaum · Directed by Elliott Nugent · Screenplay by Cyril Hume and Richard Maibaum · From the Novel by F. Scott Fitzgerald and the play by Owen Davis ching It ROW!

Great Batsby

GREAT PARAMOUNT GOLD RUSH HIT!

On Every Screen In The Land, During Paramount Week SEPT, 4-10

L.A. Spotty; 'Lining' Smart $54,000, 'Touch' Soft 33G, 'Gatsby' Good 34G, 'Wanted' Nice 37G, 'Tears' Low 20G

Los Angeles, Aug. 2.

Overall firstrun pace here this week is pot too forte, biz ranging from hearty to very slim. Topping new bills is "Silver Lining," with smart $54,000 or near in three theatres. "Mr. Soft Touch" looks okay $33,000 or under in two houses while "Great Gatsby" is heading for good $34,000 in two Paramount theatres.
"Not Wanted" looks to do neat $37,000 in six spots but "Blue Lagoon" is reaching only medium $24,000 in four sites. "Too Late For Tears" is scraping bottom at $20,000 or less in four locations. Reissue package of "Never Give Sucker a Break" and "Bank Dick" is fancy $5,500 at Esquire. Holdovers are sliding off sharply with "Any Number Play" only $24,500 in second round, three sites, and "My Everything" off to $29,000 in four houses, second frame.

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for 1nis week
Beverly Hills, Downtown, Hawaii,
Hollywood Music Halls (Prin-Cor)
(834; 902; 1,106; 512; 55-$1)—"Too Late for Tears" (UA). Slight $20,000 or under. Last week, "Africa Screams" (UA) (3d wk-5 days), fancy $13,300.

Iancy $13,300.
Chinese, Loew's State, Loyola, Uptown (FWC) (2,048; 2,404; 1,248; 1,719; 60-$1)—"You're My Everything" (20th) and "Templation Harbor" (Mono) (2d wk). Down sharply to $29,000. Last week, good $52,500.

good $52,500.

Downtown, Hollywood, Wiltern (WB) (1,757; 2,756; 2,344; 60-$1)—
"Look For Silver Lining" (WB). Hearty $54,000 or near. Last week, "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) (2d wk), better than hoped at fine 22d wk), better than hoped at fine $23.300.

Egyptian. Los Angeles, Wilshire (FWC) (1,538; 2,097; 2,296; 60-$1)

"Any Number Play" (MG) (2d wk). Off to $24.500. Last week, good $49,000.

Orpheum (D'town) (2,210; 60-$1)

"Not Wanted" (FC) and "Loveable Cheat" (FC). Good $19,000 here, with $37,000 in 6 day-daters. Last week, "Reign Terror" (EL) and "Sleeping Car Trieste" (EL) (2d wk-4 days)-33,100 here with $8,800 in 5 sites.

Pantages, Hillstreet (RKO) (2,812; 2,890; 50-$1)—"Mr. Soft Touch" (Col) and "Barbary Pirate" (Col). Okay $33,000. Last week, "Doolins Oklahoma" (Col) and "Devil's Henchman" (Col-, mild $29,000.

Los Angeles, Hollywood Parameter (EMM) (2,900.)

Sey000.

Los Angeles, Hollywood Paramounts (F&M) (3,398; 1,451; 60-51) — "Great Gatsby" (Par) and "Ringside" (SG) (LA only). Good $34,000. Last week, "Manhandled" (Par) and "Special Agent" (Par), slim $21,700.

United Artists, Ritz, Studio City, Vogue (UA-FWC) (2,100; 1,370; 880; 885; 60-$4))—"Blue Lagoon" (U) and "Hold That Baby" (Mono). Medium $24,000. East week, "Calamity Jane" (U) and "Mississippl Rhythm" (Mono) (2d wk), only $9-900.

1900 | Esquire (Rosener) (685; 84-$1.20) | —"Newer Give Sucker Break" (U) and "Bank Dick" (U) (reissues). Strong $5,500. Last week, Canterbury Tale" (EL) and "Woman in Hall" (EL) (2d wk), $2,300. Fine Arts—(FWC) (679; $1.20.40)—"Red Shoes" (EL) (31st wk). Nice $5,500. Last week, $6,300. Four Star (UA-WC) (900; 74-$1) | —"Edward, My Son" (M-G) (5th wk), Mild $3,000. Last week, $3,800.

$3.800. Laurel (Rosener) (890; 85) — "Quartet" (EL) (10th wk). Good $5,500. Last week, $6.000.

'Lining' Only Big New Pic In Denver, Lofty $11,000

Denver, Aug. 2.
Dog races and ball games are blamed for slow theatre trade here this week. Big exception is "Silver Lining," big at Broadway "Calamity Jane" shapes slight in three houses.

fly Jane" shapes slight in houses.

Estimates for This Weel Broadway (Wolfberg) (1.50 Al—"Silver Lining" (WB $11.000, Holds, Last week, "(EL) (44t wk-5 days), $3.000 Denham (Cockrill) (1.750; —"Manhandled" (Par) and cial Agent" (Par). Thin Last week, "Sorrowful (Par) (4th wk), $6.509.

Denver (Fox) (2.52f. "Calamity Jane" (U) and San Francisco" (Rep), with Esquire, Webber, Sli

San Francisco" (Rep). with Esquire, Webber. Sl 000. Last week, "Champi (Continued on page

Key City Grosses

Estimated Total Gross
This Week ... $2.567,000
(Based on 24 cities, 199 theatres, chiefty prist runs, including N. Y.).
Total Gross Same Week
Last Year ... $2.776,000
(Based on 23 and 214
theatres).

Day Ups 'Quietly' Great 36G, Cleve.

Cleveland, Aug. 2.
With Dennis Day's stage show providing the jet propulsion behind "Follow Me Quietly," the Palace's combo is soaring to the b.o. heights. Weekend biz was whammo. "Sorrowful Jones" at State and "Silver Lining" at Hipp are doing well doing well.

State and "Silver Lining" at Hipp are doing well.

Estimates for This Week
Allen (Warners) (3.000; 55-70)—
Little Chickadee" (U) and "Bank
Dick" (U) (reissues). Big $11.000.
Last week, "Tarzan's Magic Fountain" (RKO), $9,500.

Esquire (Community) (704; 50-70)—
"Lost Boundaries" (FC) (2d wk).
Still great at $13,000. following sock first week at $15,000.
Hipp (Warners) (3,700; 55-70)—
"Look for Silver Lining" (WB).
Extra good $23,000. Last week, "We Were Strangers" (Col), anemic $14,500.
Ohio (Loew's) (1,200: 55-70)—
"Sleeping Car Trieste" (EL). Ordinary $5,000. Last week, "Secret Garden" (M-G) (2d wk), fine $5,-200.
Palace (RKO) (3,300: 55-85)—
"Sellem MacColine (10,00)

200.
Palace (RKO) (3,300; 55-85)—
"Follow Me Quietly" (RKO) with Dennis Day topping stageshow. Smash $36,000, purely as result of radio star's pull. Last week, "Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col), oke $14,000.

"Doolins of Calmina" $14,000. State (Loew's) (2,700; 55-70)— "Sorrowful Jones" (Par). Big $23.-000. Last week, "Forbidden Street" (20th) plus Larry Parks and Betty Garrett onstage, very bullish $37,-

500.
Stillman (Loew's) (2,700; 55-70)
—"One False Step" (U), Average
$6,500. Last week, "Late for Tears"
(UA), fairly good $8,000.

Soaring Mercury Tilts D.C.; 'Summertime'-Vaude Sock $32,000, 'Lining' 18G

Sock $32,000, 'Lining' 186

Washingtori'. Aug. 2.
Sizzling heat is proving a boon to mid town exhibs. Thousands of government workers, dismissed early each torrid day from non-cooled offices, have beat a path to the air-conditioned theatres. 'Good Old Summertime' at Capitol. looms as current champ, with ''Look for Silver Lining' at the Warner and ''Lady Gambles' at RKO Keith's next best.

Estimates for This Week Capitol (Loew's) (2,434; 44-85)—Good Old Summertime' (M-G) plus vaude. Sock $32,000. Last week, ''Calamity Jane' (U) plus vaude, thin $18,000.

Keith's (RKO) (1,939; 44-80)—Keith's (RKO) (1,939; 44-80)—Keith's (RKO) (1,939; 44-80)—Little (Lopert) (283; 50-74)—Bank Dick' (Indie) and ''My Little Chickadee' (Indie) (reissues). 50-74)—Bank Dick' (Indie) and ''My Little Chickadee' (Indie) (reissues). Terific $6,000 for this small-seater with interest centered on late W. Fields. Last week, subsequentrun operation.

metropolitan (WB) (1,163; 44-74)
—"Red Menace" (Rep). Fine $8,000. Last week "Not Wanted" (FC),

| 10. Last week "Not Wanted" (FC) | 12. So. 50. |
| 12. So. | 12.

'Menace' Nice $7,000 In

Montreal, Aug. 2.

Republic's "Red Menace," with plenty of advance promotion, looks one of best newcomers at Imperial. "House of Strangers" shapes good at Capitol.

Estimates for This Week

Loew's (C.T.) (2,855; 40-65) — "Edward, My Son" (M-G) (2d wk), Oke $8,000 following strong first at $14,500.

ORe $6,000 forlowing strong into at $14,500.

Capitol (C.T.) (2,412; 34-60) — House of Strangers" (20th). Good $13,000. Last week, "Pride of Yankees" (RKO) (reissue], $13,500. Any Number Play" (M-G). Okay $15,000. Last week, "Beautiful Blonde" (20th), $12,000.

Princess (C.T.) (2,131; 34-60) — Streets Laredo" (Par). Big $14,-000. Last week, "Undercover Man" (Col) 12d wk), $7,500.

Imperial (C.T.) (1,839; 26-45) — "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Home San Antone" (Rep) Nice $7,000. Last week, "Homicide" (WB) and "Night Unto Night" (WB), $6,500.

Orpheum (C.T.) (1,040; 34-60)—

Night Unto Night" (WB), $6,500.
Orpheum (C.T.) (1,040; 34-60)—
"Crooked Way" (UA) and "Crime Doctor's Diary" (UA). Fat $6,000.
Last week, "Africa Screams" (UA)
and "Gay Amigos" (UA), (3d wk), big $4,500.

'Splendor'-'Island' Smash 20G, Philly

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.
Musicals continue to get a heavy play from local patrons. Exception to this trend is the preem of "Savage Splendor"-"Seal Island," given smart campaign, this combo is doing smash week at the Stanton. Otherwise, firstruns are in the summer doldrums.
"Great Gatsby" is doing fine at Karlton in view of size of house. "Too Late for Tears" looms distinctly disappointing at the Stanley.

"Too Late for Tears" looms distinctly disappointing at the Stanley.

Estimates for This Week
Aldine (WB) (1,303; 50-99)—"Red Menace" (Rep). Modest $9.000 or near. Last week, "Gunga Din" (RKO) and "Lost Patrol" (RKO) reissues) (2d wk), fast $10,000.

Boyd (WB) (2,360; 50-99)—"Girl
Jones Beach" (WB) (2d wk). Down to $10.000 after fair $16.500 opener.
Earle (WB) (2,700; 50-99)—"Streets Laredo" (Par) (2d wk).
Sagging to mild $9.500 after moderate $15.000 opener.
Karlton (Goldman) (1,000; 50-99)—"Great Gatsby" (Par). Fine $16.000 or near. Last week, "Illegal Entry" (U), mild $9.000.

Mastbaum (WB) (4.360; 50-99)—"Silver Lining" (WB) (2d wk). Holding to good $19,000 after big $28.000 first week.

Stanley (WB) (2,950; 50-99)—"Too Late For Tears" (UA). Thin $14.500. Last week, "Sorrowful Jones" (Par) (4th wk), solid $12,000.

Stanton (WB) (1,475; 50-99)—"Savage Splendor" (RKO) and "Seal Island" (RKO). Sparkling promotion with excellent tie-ups in producing a giant $20,000, particularly strong in view of weather and size of house. Last week, "Big Cat" (EL) and "Special Agent" (Par), fair $10.000.

PARKS UPS 'OUTPOST' GIANT $40,000. ST. LOO

GIANT $40,000, ST. LOO

St. Louis, Aug. 2.

With Larry Parks and Betty Garrett heading a sock vaude show plus "Outpost in Morocco." second vaudfilm bill to play at Loew's in nearly two decades is crashing through to terrific total this week.
Combo is duing nearly twice as much as big straight-film weeks at house. "Girl From Jones Beach," only other newcomer, is doing nicely at the Missouri. Cool Canadian breezes have broken the long hot spell here.

Estimates for This Week
Ambassador (F&M) (3,000; 50-75)

—"The Fountainhead" (WB) and "Mother is a Freshman" (20th) (2d wk). Holding at $9,000, after mild $10,000 initial session.

Loew's (Loew) (6,172; 50-85)

"Outpost in Morocco" (UA) and Larry Parks, Betty Garrett topping stageshow. Wow $40,000. Last week, "Good Old Summerttime" (M-G) and "Daring Caballero"
(MA) huge $29,000.

Missourt (F&M) (3,500; 50-75)

"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and
"Green Promise" (RKO) Nice $15000. Last week, "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Bad Boy" (Mono), $9,000.

St. Louis (F&M) (4,000; 50-75)

St. Louis (F&M) (4,000; 50-75)

Menace' Nice $7,000 In Mont'l.; 'Strangers' 13G Bally Helps 'Happy' Socko $21,000, Det.; 'Brave' Big 25G, 'Lining' 28G, 2d

Broadway Grosses

Estimated Total Gross
This Week ... $536,700
(Based on 18 theatres)
Last Year ... $618,000
(Based on 15 theatres)

'Ribbon' Preem Wow $21,000, K.C.

Kansas City. Aug. 2.
RKO opened its refurbished Missouri theatre last week, adding another downtown firstrun house here. World preem of "She Wore Yellow Ribhon" added up to whopping $21,000. Other new films are lightweight. "Any Number Can Play" at Midland and "Silver Lining" at Paramount are turning in strong seeond weeks. Cooler weather for weekend is helping.

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week
Esquire (Fox Midwest) 3220; 4565)—"Bad Boy" (Mono) and "Incident" (Mono). Just over average at $4,000. Last week house was in combo with Apollo for "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Hide Out" (Rep), nice $7,000.

Kimo (Dickinson) (550; $1.20.

Extra week, bloss" (EL) (15thfinal wk). Winds up record run with pleasant $2.400. Last week, about same. Fifteen weeks hit close to $45.000, phenomenal figure for this arty house.

Midland (Loew's) (3,500; 45-64)
—"Any Number Play" (M-G) and
"Secret Saint Ives" (Col) (2d wk).
A winner at $11,000. Last week, $19,000.

Missourl (RKO) (2,650; 45-65)—

A winner at $11,000. Last week, $19,000.

Missouri (RKO) (2,650; 45-65)—
"Wore Yellow Ribbon" (RKO).
Opened the renewed house, formerly Mainstreet, with pa.'s by Jane Russell, Alan Hale, Gordon MacRae, George O'Brien, Ben Johnson and Harry Carey, Jr., on first two days. Terrific $21,000 looms and sure holdover. Last week, shuttered.
Paramount (Par) (1,900; 45-65)—
"Silver Lining" (WB) (2nd wk).
Handsome $10,000. Last week, strong $16,000.

Roxy (Durwood) (900; 45-65)—
"It Ain't Hay" (Indie) and "Behind the Eight Ball" (Indie) reissues).
Average $3,000. Last week, "Lonesome Pine" (Par) and "Geronimo" (Par) (reissues). $4,000.

Tower - Uplown - Fairway (Fox Midwest) (45-65; 2,100, 2,043, 700)—
"Calamity Jane" (U), Silm $12,000. Last week, "House of Strangers" (20th), $12,500.

New Films Boost Cincy: Everything' Hep $16,000. 'Summertime' Lush 14G

Cincinnati. Aug. 2.
All downtown houses are sharing in a midsummer jackpot induced by an extra splurge of new bills and a stageshow added to the Albee, city's biggest seater. Sharp biz bulge is in the face of sizzling heat. Current top grosser ls. "Follow Me Quietly" with Dick Continuit topping stageshow at Albee, where big. "You're My Everything" is hefty at Palace while "Good Old Summertime" shapes solid at Capitol.

Estimates for This Week

solid at Capitol.

Estimates for This Week
Albee (RKO) (3,100: 55-94)—
"Follow Me Quietly" (RKO) plus Dick Contino unit on stage. Excellent $25.000. Last week,
"Streets of Laredo" (Par) and "Blondie's Big Deal" (Col), solid $12,000 at 55-75c, scale.

Capitol (RKO) (2,000: 55-75)—
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G),
Rosy $14,000. Holds, Last week,
"Any Number Play" (M-G) (2d wk), $8,500.

Grand (RKO) (1400-85.75)

Detroit, Aug. 2
Aided by preem fanfare with pix stars and street dancing, "Love Happy" looks to hit smash total at the Palms this week. Holdover of "Home of Brave" and "Look for Silver Lining" still are getting a big play. Convention of Michigan State Legionnaires is figured a favorable factor.

Estimates for This Week
Fox (Fox-Mich) (5,000; 70-95)—
"House of Strangers" (20th) and "Lone Wolf Lady" (Col) (2d wk). Pair $22,000. Last week, $26,000. Michigan (United Detroit) (4,000; 70-95)—"Sliver Lining" (WB) and "Hellifre" (WB) (2d wk). Bright $28,000. Last week, $34,000. Palms (UD) (2,900; 70-95)—"Love Happy" (UA) and "Night Unto Night" (UA). Very big $21,000. Last week, "Never Give Sucker Break" (Indie) and "Bank Dick" (Indie) reissues) dull $8,000.

United Artists (UD) (2,000; 70-95)—"Lowe of Brave" (UA) and "Singing Dude" (UA) (2d wk). Solid $25,000. Last week, $33,000. Madison (UD) (1,800; 70-95)—"Desperadoes" (Col) and "Renegades" (Col) (reissues). Oke $14-000. Last week, "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Fighting Fools" Mono, 2000. Last week, "Red Menace" Rep) and "Fighting Fools" (Mono),

Balto Brisk After Heat Leaves; 'Lining' Topper, $16,000, 'Everything' 11G

Break in torrid temperatures lifted weekend biz into considerably better action than on downtown front of late, and figures are taking an upward spurt. In best position is the Stanley with "Look For Silver Lining" with enough to top town. "Too Late For Tears." at Century is fairish. "You're My Everything," at the New is going into second round after fast opening session.

ing session.

Estimates for This Week
Century (Loew's-UA) (3,000; 20-60)—"Too Late For Tears" (UA).
Fairish $12,000. Last week "Any Number Play" (M-G), good $23,000

Fairish $12,000. Last week. "Any Number Play" (M-G), good $23,000 in 12 days.

Hippodrome (Rappaport) (2,240; 20-70)—"Lucky Stiff" (RKO) plus vaude. Average $13,000. Last week. "Roughshod" (RKO) and vaude, $12,800.

Keith's (Schanberger) (2,460; 20-60)—"One False Step" (Ut. Just okay $9,000. Last week, "Calamity Jane" (U), only $6,800.

Mayfair (Hicks) (908; 20-65)—"Red Menace"; (Rep.) Strong selling but mild $4,500 looms. Last week, "Champion" (UA) (4th wk), okay $5,900.

Stanley (WB) (3,280: 25-75)—"Silver Lining" (WB). Rosy $16,000, to top town. Last week. "G-Men" (WB) (reissue) dim $6,400.

New (Mechanic) (1,800; 20-60)—"You're My Everything" (20th) (2d wk). Starting second round today (Tues.) after fast $11,000 opener.

Town (Rappaport) (1,500; 35-65)—"Happened One Night" (Col) and "Girl Friday" (Col) (reissues. Mild $7,000. Last week, "One Woman's Story" (RKO), fair $8,200.

"Savage'-Tsland' Tees Off

'Savage'-'Island' Tees Off With Record Philly Line

"Follow Me Quietly" (RKO) plus Dick Contino unit on stage. Excellent $25,000. Last week. "Streets of Laredo" (Par) and "Blondie's Big Deal" (Col), solid $12,000 at 55-75c. scale.

Capitol (RKO) (2,000: 55-75)—
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G). Rosy $14,000. Holds. Last week. "Any Number Play" (M-G) (2d wk), $8,500.

Grand (RKO) (1,400: 55-75)—
"Sand" (20th). Okay $7,500. Last week. "Red Menance" (Rep., $5,500. Keith's (City Inv.) (1,542: 55-75)—
"Massacre River" (Mono). Strong $12,500. Last week. "Take False Step" (U) and "Jassy" (U, $7,500. Last week. "Silver Lining" (WB) and "Special Agent" (Par) Hefty $16,000. Shubert (RKO) (2,100: 55-75)—
"You're My Everything" (20th) and "Homicide" (WB). Hefty $16,000. Shubert (RKO) (2,100: 55-75)—
"Silver Lining" (WB) and "Special Agent" (Par) Imo. Favorable $6,500. Last week. "House of Strangers" (20th) and "Lone Wolf Last" (Col) (m.o.), $4,000,

Humidity Hits Chi; 'Dan Patch' Trim $13,000, Hope, With Blair-Blackburn Twins Added, Sock 60G, 'Sinner' 17G

Chicago, Aug. 2.

The Chicago is still going great guns with "Sorrowful Jones," in second week, with new stage layout topped by Janet Blair and Blackburn Twins. Fancy $60,000 looms. Andrews Sisters dropped out of show because of Patti Andrews' illness after one week. Newcomers are being wilted by the humid weather which has blank-ted the town for over a week. Even the drive-ins are suffering. "Movie Crazy" at Garrick should hit bright $11,000. World brought in W. C. Field oldies, "Bank Dick" and "Little Chickadee" and nifty $4.500 looms. "Great Dan Patch" looks sturdy $13,000 at Roosevelt. "Great Sinner" is nice $17,000 at United Artists. Oriental, with "We Were Strangers" and Lassie, Stan Jones, and Penny Singleton, rates okay $35,000 for second frame. Third week of "Champion" at Woods shapes bright $20,000.

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week
Chicago (B&K) (3.900; 50-98)—
"Sorrowful Johes" (Par) (2d wk) with Janet Blair and Blackburn Twins on stage. Socko $60,000.
Last week, with Andrews Sisters heading stage bill, smash $73,000.
Garrick (B&K) (900; 50-98)—
"Movie Crazy" (Indie) (reissue).
"Movie Crazy" (Indie) (reissue).
Excellent $1,000. Last week, "Red Stallion Rockies" (EL) and "Big Jack" (M-G) (2d wk), $5,000.
Grand (RKO) (1,500; 50-98)—
"Cobra Woman" and "White Savage" (I) Weissues). Okay $10,000.
Last week, "House of Strangers"
(20th) (3d wk), nice $7,500.
Oriental (Essaness) (3,400; 50981—"We Were Strangers" (Col) with "Lassie," Penny Singleton, in person. Trim $35,000. Last week, $47,000.
Paleze (BKO) (7,500. 50.98).

History (17,000; 50-98)— Falace (RKO) (2,500; 50-98)— Sand" (20th) and "Forbidden Street" (20th) (2d wk-3 days) and My Gal Sal" and "House on 92d St." (20th) (reissues) (4 days). Light $9,000. Last week, "Sand" and

St. '20th) (reissues) (4 days). Light $9.000. Last week, "Sand" and "Street" mild $15,000.

Rialto (Indie) (1,700; 50-98)—"Wild Weeds" (Indie) (3d wk).
Passable $7,500. Last week, $8,000.
Rossevelt (B&K) (1,500; 50-98)—"Great Dan Patch" (UA). Sturdy 13,000. Last week. "Nick Beal" (Parl and "Crooked Way" (UA) (2d wk).

god $10,000.

Selwyn (Shabert) (1,000; $1.20-$2.40)—"Red Shoes" (EL) (31st wk). Down to $2,500. Last week, oke $3,300.

State-Lake (B&K) (2,700; 50-98)—"Fountainhead" (WB) (2d wk).
Drab $13,000. Last week, oke $18,-000.

000.

United Artists (B&K) (1,700; 50-98.—'Great Sinner' (M.-G). Pert $17,000. Last week, "Geronimo" (Par) and "Lonesome Pine" (Par) (reissues) (2d wk), $10,000.

Woods (Essaness) (1,073; 98)—"Champion" (UA) (3d wk). Should hold to $20,000. Last week, socko $28,000.

hold to $20,000. Last week, socko $28,000. World (Indie) (587; 80)—"Bank Dick" and "My "Little Chickadee" (U) 'freissues). Nifty $4,500. Last week, "La Traviata" and "Night of Love" (Col) (reissues) (3d wk), $3,-

'WINDOW' BEST BET IN SLOW INDPLS., 10G

Firstrun biz is drooping here again this week. Home stand of first place ball club opening over weekend and other outdoor competish are making it tough. "Window" is top grosser and okay at the Circle. "Lady Gambles" at Indiana and "We Were Strangers" at Loew's both are considerably below par.

Testimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week

Circle (Gamble-Dolle) (2,800; 44-65)—"Window" (RKO) and "Adventure Baltimore" (RKO). Okay

10,000. Last week, "Bride Vengeance" (Par) and "Nick Beal"

(Par). $8,000.

Indiana (G-D) (3,300; 44-65)—
"Lady Gambles" (U) and "Rusty Sayes Life" (Col). Very slow $8.-000.

Life week, "Streets Laredo"

$11,000.

Loew's (Lamich (2,48).

oaves Life" (Col), Very slow $8, (Par) and "Strong $12,000. Last week, "Streets Laredo" $11,000. Last week, "Streets Laredo" $10,000. Last week, "Col), Oke $10,000. Last week, "Lady Gambles" (U) and "One Woman's Crime Doctor's Diary" (Col). Teplatch" (UA) and "Lucky Stiff" Lyrie (G-D) (1,600; 44-65)—"Set (RKO), and "Arctic Rigal Ent), and "Arctic Manhunt" (U), ditto.

Estimates Are Net

Film gross estimates as reported herewith from the various key cities, are net, i.e., without the 20% tax. Distributors share on net take, when playing percentage, hence the estimated figures are net income.

estimated figures are net in-come.

The parenthetic admission prices, however, as indicated, include the U. S. amusement Ink Spots Boost 'Caught' 26G, Prov.

Providence, Aug. 2.
With the Ink Spots topping stage-show at upped scale, State's b.o. has been rising with the tempera-ture. "Caught" is the picture on bill. Tops hereabouts will be Ma-jestic's "House of Strangers," with strong session.

Estimates for This Week

Albee (RKO) (2,200; 44-65)—
"Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) and "Saludos Migos" (RKO) ressues). Healthy $12,000. Last week, "Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) and "Alimony" (RKO) (2d wk), solid $12,500.

Fay's (Fay) (1,400; 44-65)—"Barbary Coast" (Indie) and "Cowboy and Lady" (Indie) (reissues). So-so $5,500. Last week, "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Castaway" (Indie), fair $6,000.

$6,000.

Majestic (Fay) (2,200; 44-65)—
"House of Strangers" (WB) and
"Leave To Henry" (Mono). Strong $14,000. Last week, "Colorado Territory" (WB) and "Mississippi Rhythm" (Mono), $15,000.

State (Loew) (3,200; 60-85)—
"Caught" (M-G) and Ink Spots onstage. Hot $26,0000. Last week,
"Stratton Story" (M-G) (2d wk),
big $16,000.

Strand (Silverman) (2,000)

Dig $10,000.

Strand (Silverman) (2,200; 44-65)

"Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col) and Air Hostess" (Col). Fairly nice $9,000. Last week, "Lonesome
Pine" (Par) and "Geronimo" (Par) (reissues). good $7,500.

Frisco Cool, Biz Torrid; 'Beach' Rousing $24,000, Strangers' Fat 16G, 2d

San Francisco, Aug. 2. San Francisco, Aug. 2.

Biz looms brighter here as dull weather is putting a damper on outdoor activity and conventions brighten the local scene. "Girl From Jones Beach" is proving so solid at the Paramount it will be held over. "Johnny Stool Pigeon" is okay at the Orpheum. Elsewhere it is largely holdover but these are holding up strongly.

Estimates for This Week

noiding up strongly.

Estimates for This Week
Golden Gate (RKO) (2,844; 60-85)
—"Not Wanted" (FC) and "Missis-sippi Rhythm" (Mono) (2d wk), Down to $9,000. Last week, fine

$16,000. Fox (FWC) (4,651; 60-95) — "House of Strangers" (20th) and "Forbidden Street" (20th) (2d wk). Holding to solid $16,000. Last week, $22,500.

week, $22,500.

Warfield FWC) (2,656; 60-85)—

"Good Old Summertime" (M-G)
and "Temptation Harbor" (Mono) (2d wk). Nice $15,000. Last week, sock $21,500.

sock $21,500.

Paramount (Par) (2,646; 60-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "One Last Fling" (WB). Hefty $24,000.
Holds. Last week, "Stratton Story"
(M-G) and "Daughter of West"
(FC) (3d wk), still good at $12,000.

St. Francis (Par) (1,400; 60-85)—
"Wizard of Oz" (M-G) (reissue)
(2d wk). Strong $12,000. Last week, $17,000.

'Neptune' Nifty $16,000,

Toronto; 'Menace' 11G
Toronto, Aug. 2.
With current heat wave, "Neptune's Daughter" is leading on town's take with sock biz. Nothing startling here otherwise excepting 'Red Menace," sturdy in four spots. spots.
Estimates for This Week

Downtown, Glendale, Scarboro, State (20th (1.059, 955, 698, 694; 36-60)—"Red Menace" (Rep) and "Leave To Henry" (Mono), Neat $11,000, Last week, "Bad Boy" (Mono) and "Tuna Clipper" (Mono), $9,000.

(Mono) and "Tuna Clipper" (Mono), $9,000.

Imperial (FP) (3.373: 40-70) —

"Lust for Gold" NSH $9,500. Last week, "Sorrowful Jones" (Par) (4th wk), about same.

Loew's (Loew) (2.096: 40-70) —

"Neptune's Daughter" (M-G). Sock $16,000. Last week, "Champion" (M-G) (2d wk). good $8,500.

Odeon (Rank: (2.390: 35-$51.20) —

"Home Brave" (UA) (2d wk). Hefty $10,000 after last week's $13,000.

Shea's (PP) (2.386: 40-70) —

"Great Gatsby" (Par). Okay $9,500.

Last week, "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) (2d wk), $8,000.

Towne (Taylor) (690: 40-70) —

"Mr. Polly" (EL). Fine $4,000. Last week, "Paisan" (Indie) (9th wk), $2,500.

University (FP) (1,556; 40-60) —

$2.500.

University (FP) (1.556; 40-60)—

"Fountainhead" (WB), Good $6,-000. Last week, "Forbidden Street" (20th), $4,500.

Uptown (Loew) (2,743; 40-70)—
"Take False Step" (U). Modest $7,000. Last week, "Phantom of Opera" (U) and "Climax" (U) (resissues), $4,500.

Vaude Ups 'Judge' Wham 25G, Mpls.

Minneapolis, Aug. 2.
Vaudeville's debut is ringing the biz bell loudly for the Orpheum.
With "Judge Steps Out," house is way out ahead with smash session.
Among major film newcomers,
"Stratton Story" is standing up best at Radio City. "Outpost in Morocco" looms mildish at State.
Estimates for This Week
Century (Par' (1,600; 50-70)—
"Sorrowful Jones" (Par') (m.o.) Fine $7,000. Last week, "Wizard of Oz" (M-G) (reissue), very good $7,500.

$7,500.

Radio City (Par) (4,000; 50-70)—
"Stratton Story" (M-G), Good $15,000. Last week, "Sorrowful Jones" (Par) (2d wk), big $13,000.

RKO-Orpheum (RKO) (2,800; 5585)—"Judge Steps Out" (RKO) and vaude, The long heralded vaudeville is making everybody happy, with a giant $25,000 looming. Last week, "Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col), fair $9,000 at 50-70c scale.

noma (Col), fair $9,000 at 50-70c scale.

RKO-Pan (RKO) (1,600; 50-70)

—'Cover Girl' (Col) and "You Were Never Lovelier" (Col) (reissues). Fair $7,000. Last week, "Massacre River" (Mono) and "Leave To Henry" (Mono), light $5,000.

$5,000.

State (Parr 72,300; 50-70)—"Outpost Morocco" (UA). Solid $12,000 or near. Last week. "Great Dan Patch" (UA), below hopes but $12,000 is still plenty good.

World (Mann) (400; 50-70)—
"Dulcimer Street" (U). Good $3,000. Last week. "Red Menace" (Rep.) $2,800.

Hub Heat Hurts Biz; 'Number' Not Loud

$30,000, 'Lining' OK 20G, 'Beach' 17G

B'way Goes for 'Stable,' Terrif 47G; 'Joe Young' Mighty $40,000 Via Great Bally, 'Crime'-Morales-Small $65,000

into Broadway this session. Despite this, four successive days of above 90-degree heat, including last Saturday (30), took a heavy toll and are giving the Street a spotty appearance. Last Friday was the year's hottest at 98. Break in torrid weather came too late Saturday to do any good that day but sent business soaring Sunday (31), and kept it high for the next two days.

two days.

Biggest draws held well until Saturday but a mass exodus of New Yorkers cut grosses sharply, being 30-45% below Friday (29) when normally Saturday trade is far ahead of Friday. The fact that Saturday was so badly off cut into nearly every situation.

nearly every situation.

Both "Come to Stable" and "Mighty Joe Young" are socko.
"Stable," with today (Wed.) yet to be counted, looks to hit $47,000 or near at Rivoli.
"Joe Young" looks mighty $40,000 but it too was melted by Saturday's torrid temperatures at Criterion. However, this is huge money for this house at the current time, circus baily and extensive exploitation paying off.
"Scene of Crime" with Noro sive exploitation paying off.

"Scene of Crime" with Noro
Morales band, Mary Small, Hank Ladd, others, onstage, looks modset $65,000 at Capitol. "Girl From Jones Beach" shapes mild $20,000 at Strand. In contrast, the vaudeville policy with "Big Cat" is doing all right with $21,000 or better at the Palace.

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week

Astor (City Inv.) (1,300; 60-$1,50)

"Lost Boundaries" (FC) (5th wk).
Holding in remarkably fine fashion at about $14,000 after $16,000 last week. Stays on indef.

Bijou (City Inv.) (589; $1,20-$2,40) — "Red Shoes" (EL) (41st wk). Still steady at around $9,000 after $9,300 last week. Continues.

Capitol (Loew's) (4,820; 80-$1,50)
—"Seene of Crime" (M-G with Noro Morales orch, Mary Small.
Hank Ladd, others. onstage. Having to open in sweltering heat last Thursday not helping, with only $65,000 or near likely in first week, modest. Holds. Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G) with Bert Wheeler, Hal Leroy, Hal McIntyre orch (4th wk), $41,000. "Madame Bovary" (M-G) switched from State and likely to open here in three or four weeks but not right after "Crime."

Criterion (Moss) (1,700; 50-$1,75)
—"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) (2d

c four weeks but not right after "Crime."

Criterion (Moss) (1,700; 50-$1.75)

—"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) (2d wk). First stanza ended last night (Tues.) soared to mighty $40,000 or better, biggest here in many t months, with extra shows and tilted early a fler no on prices helping. Heat slashed biz badly Saturday but even with this dip, initial week is getting fantastic money and nearly twice as much as house has been doing recently.
Last week, "Calamity Jane" (U) (2d wk-4 days), $5,000.

Globe (Brandt) (1,500; 50-$1.20)

—"Not Wanted" (FC) (2d wk). Tor-

Mild $15,000 looms after okay $2.000 opener. Stays a third week.

Gotham (Brandt) (900; 44-99)—
"Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) (reissues) (2d wk). Doing fairly well on initial hold-over session at $8.500 after $15,000 first week. Stays a third.

Mayfair (Brandt) (1/736; 50-$1.20)
—"Big Steal" (RKO) (4th wk).
Holding r₂·cly in view of conditions at about $10,000 after $15,000 last round. Goes fifth round, with "Too Late For Tears" (UA) due in next.

Palace (RKO) (1,700; 55-$1.20)—
"Big Cat" (EL) with vaude. Despite heat climbing back near recent levels, with good $21,000 likely this frame. Last week, "Alimony" (EL) and vaude, $19,-500 over hones.

likely this frame. Last week, "Alimony" (EL) and vaude, $19.500, over hopes.

Paramount (Par) (3.664; 55-$15.00).

"Rope of Sand" (Par) with Tex Beneke orch, Vie Damone, Cy Reeves, Rudy Cardenas onstage. Opens today (Wed.). Last week, "Great Gatsby" (Par) plus Jimmy Dorsey orch, Peggy Lee topping stage bill (3d wk), held up fairly good at $59.000 after $70,000 for second frame.

second frame.

Park Avenue (U) (583; $1.20-$2.40)—"Hamlet" (U) (45th wk).
Keeping around recent levels, with $7,600 in 44th week ended last Monday (1) night after $7,500

last Monday (1) night after $7,500 last week.
Radio City Music Hall (Rocke-fellers) (5.945; 80-$2.40)—"Silver Lining" (WB) with Independence Day Pageant onstage (6th-final wk). Down to about $115,000, very good for final stanza after satisfactory $124,000 in fifth week.
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G) with new stageshow opens tomorrow (Thurs.).
Rialto (Mage) (594; 44-98)—
"White Savage" (FC) and "Cobra Woman" (FC) (reissues). Nice $10,500, and holding. Last week, "Iron Crown" (Indie) (8th wk), okay $6,500.
Rivoli (UAT-Par) (2,092; 60-

*$10,500, and holding. Last week, "Iron Crown" (Indie) (8th wk), okav $6,500.

Rivoil (UAT-Par) (2,092; 60-$1,251—"Come to Stable" (20th). Soaring to smask $47,000 in first week ending today (Wed.), after promising to go higher before heat cut in on normally big Saturday. This is the biggest done here opening week in months, and remarkable in view of record heat. Last week, "Take False Step" (U) (5th wk), $4,000.

Roxy (20th) (5,886; 80-$1.50)—"You're My Everything" (20th) plus Bob Crosby, Sid Stone, Johnny Mack, iceshow, topping stage bill (2d wk), Excessive heat spells story here too, with only about $68,000 in prospect; first round went to very good $84,500. Stays a third, with "Slattery's Hurricane" (20th) due in on Aug. 12. State (Loew's) (3,450; 50-$1.50) "Great Sinner" (M-G) (6th wk), Fifth week ended last night (Tues,) at about $12,000, mild, after $15,000 for fourth frame. "Jolson Sings Again" (CO) opens here Aug. 17 with "Sinner."

Strand (WB) (2,756; 50-$1.25)—"Girl Jones Beach" (WB), Mild $20,000. Last week, "Fountainhead" (WB) (3d wk), light $14,000 was all.

was all.

Sutton (R&B) (561; 70-$1.20)—
"Quariet" (FL) (19th wk). Holding steady at $8,600, big, same as last week. "Fallen Idol" (SRO) opening not set yet.

Victoria (City Inv.) (1,060; 95-$1.25)—"Home of Brave" (12th-nal wk). Final stanza looks okay $6,500 after $7.500 last week. "The Window" (RKO) opens Aug. 5.

Seattle Slips Albeit 'Lining' Strong $12,000

Boston, Aug. 2. Firstruns are no match for terrific heat wave which has sent the populace scurrying to resorts instead of the theatre. New product at major houses will have difficulty doing much more than average biz. "Dumbo" with "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) treissues). Opened week, "Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" at Memorial, "Any Number Can Play" at State and Orpheum, and "Silver, Lining" at Met all shape up okay considering temperatures. Estimates for This Week Astor (Jaycox (120); 40-85)—"Lost Boundaries" (FC) (3d wk). Neat $10,000 after nice $11,500 last week. Peteropolitan (NET) (4,376; 40-85)—"House of Strangers" (20th) and "One Last Fling" (WB). Good $20.-000 or over in view, Last week. "Hold That Baby" (Mono) (2d wk). $16,000. Orpheum (Loew) (3,000; 40-85)— (Phono Can Play" (M-Go) and "Gay Amigo" (UA). Fast $18.-000.

"Dumbo" with "Saludos Amigos" at Memorial. "Any Number Can Play" at Stete and Orpheum, and "Silver Lining" at Met all shape up okay considering temperatures.

Estimates for This Week Astor (Jaycoys (120); 40-85)—
"Lost Boundaries" (FC) (3d wk). Neat $10.000 after nice $11.500 last week. "Roston (RKO) (3,200, 40-85)—
"Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U) and "Stagecoach Kid" (RKO). Okay Billoon Last week, "Boston (RKO) (3,200, 40-85)—
"Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U) and "Stagecoach Kid" (RKO). Okay Effect and "Cobra Woman" (FC) (reissues), $12,000.

Fenway (NET) (1,373, 40-85)—
—"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Alimony" (EL). Fair $5,000. Last week, "Red Menace" (Reo) and "Milmony" (EL). Fair $5,000. Last week, "Red Menace" (Reo) and "Hellfire" (Rep. good $6,000.

"Hellfire" (Rep. good $6,000.
"Myflower (ATC) 700; 40-85)—
"Mot Wanted" (FC). Okay $8,000.
Last week, "Edward, My Son" (M-G) and "Arctic Manhunt" (U2 dw kk). Clast week, "Edward, My Son" (Gay Amigo" (UA). Fair $12,000.

State (Loew) (3,500; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Hellfire" (Rep. good $6,000.

Myflower (ATC) 700; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Hellfire" (Rep. good $6,000.

Myflower (ATC) 700; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Hellfire" (Rep. good $6,000.

Myflower (ATC) 700; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Hellfire" (Rep. good $6,000.

Myflower (ATC) 700; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Hellfire" (Rep. good $6,000.

Myflower (ATC) 700; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Arctic Manhunt" (U2 dw kk). Slow $7,000 after swell $12,300 pener, but below hopes.

"Gay Amigo" (UA). Fair $12,000.

State (Loew) (3,500; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Arctic Manhunt" (U2 dw kk). Slow $7,000 after swell $12,300 pener, but below hopes.

"Gay Amigo" (UA). Fair $12,000.

State (Loew) (3,500; 40-85)—
"Gread Manhunt" (U2 dw kk). Slow $7,000 after swell $12,300 pener, but below hopes.

"Gay Amigo" (UA). Fair $12,000.

State (Loew) (3,500; 40-85)—
"Gread Manhunt" (U2 dw kk). Slow $7,000 after swell $12,300 pener, but below hopes.

"Gread Manhunt" (U2 dw kk)

GREATNESS

IN A MOTION PICTURE

The Heiress'

Has...

of performance — shining in the title role — as OLIVIA de HAVILLAND climaxes her achievements in "The Snake Pit,"
"To Each His Own," and "Gone With The Wind."

GREATNESS of romantic appeal by MONTGOMERY CLIFT, fulfilling the promise of "The Search" and "Red River" which established him as the most sensational new box office performer in many years.

of direction by WILLIAM WYLER, reflecting his warmth of human understanding combined with the craftsmanship of his top grossers, "Wuthering Heights," "Mrs. Miniver" and "The Best Years Of Our Lives."

OF BRICHARDSON, supported by MIRIAM HOPKINS, MONA FREEMAN and many other important names.

Ruth and Augustus Goetz, adapted from a world famous novel by Henry James.

GREATNESS of all these magnificent box office ingredients is the hallmark of "THE HEIRESS"

PARAMOUNT PRESENTS WITH PRIDE ITS GREATEST OF '49

Oliv de Havilland · Montgomery Clift · Ralph Richardson in William Wyler's "TH RESS" with Miriam Hopkins · Mona Freeman · Vanessa Brown Sele a Produced and Directed by William Wyler · Screenplay by Ruth and Augustus Goetz · Based upon their stage-play

Paris Legit Ends Blah Season; Name Playwrights Disappoint Paris, July 26. 's all over, taking stoff erings stoff and trizonia are working out a new arrangement on film exchange, with ratio this time 12 to 50. Austria agrees to produce a maximum of 12 pix annually, with a stop the stoff against 50 tages, practically with very few exwere no noticeable with the stop to a tivities in Britain will come to a tivities in Britain will come to a halt during the last two weeks of August. Rank is shuttering his Denham studio during that period on give all his employees a two-week vacation. End-of-August shutders and Trizonia are working out a new arrangement on film exchange, with ratio this ime 12 to 50. Austria agrees to produce a maximum of 12 pix annually, with are to be swapped against 50 German makes. In view of the fact that indications point to a surplus of more than 3,000,000 marks for Austria. Austria and Trizonia are working out a new arrangement on film exchange, with ratio this time 12 to 50. Austria agrees to produce a maximum of 12 pix annually, with a reto be swapped against 50 German makes. In view of the fact that indications point to a surplus of more than 3,000,000 marks for Austria, this amount is intended to be used for a joint Austrian-German production, against which unions have week vacation. End-of-August shutders were a notice of the fact that indications point to a surplus of more than 3,000,000 marks for Austria.

Paris, July 26.

Now that it's all over, taking stock of the season's legit offerings shows that, though about 120 productions, including revivals, were put on about 55 stages, practically little emerged. With very few exceptions, there were no noticeable lits.

Comedie Franceica

Comedie Francaise on both its stages did fair business, with Pierre Alime Touchard giving a good account of his management. At Palais de Chaillot, Pierre Aldebert produced Fernand Gregh's "Petit Poucet" and Jean de Beer's "Guerrier Involontaire." As to revivals, Emmanuel Robles' "Montserrats, Emmanuel Robles' and Andre Roussin's extended run rier Involontaire." As to revivals, Emmanuel Robles' "Montserrat and Andre Roussin's extended, run of "Petite Hutte" have done well, Neither Louis Jouvet nor Eva Berkson at her Grand Guignol produced any new play.

Steve Passeur got fair reviews for his "107 Minutes" and Sacha Guitry produced three plays of his, one being his version of "Voice of the Turtle." "Toa" and "Quadrille," which was good theatre. Roger Ferdinand's "Mari ne Compte Pas" did well. Albert Camus" "Etat de Siege" was nafued anyway by poor direction, while Jules Supervielle's "Voleur d'Enfants" was more poetry than theatre. Jean Anouilh, one of the playwrights biggies, kept on his much discussed "Adele ou la Marguerite" discussed theatre. Jean Robani. The theatre. Jean Robani. The playwrights biggies, kept on his much discussed "Adele ou la Marguerlte."

Henri Bernstein produced his "La Soif," with actor Jean Gabin doing much for the draw. Rene Aubert wrote "Cirque aux Illusions" and "Fenetre de Stephanle." both more commendable than successful. Paul Claudel's following raved about "Pain Dur" while his "Soulier de Satin" was revived to good -business at the Francaise. Henry de Montherlant's "Demain if Pera Jour" at the Hebertot did no smash, despite his name.
Curzio Malaparte's "Das Kapital" created more talk than boxoffice. Jean de Letraz's "Nous Avons Tous Fait la Meme Chose" didn't stand 'em up. Jean Genet's "Haute Survelllance" was a question mark. Louis Ducreux missed with "Roi est Mort." Marcel Thiebaut did better with "Bonnes Cartes."
The real sensation of the season was Andre Roussin's "Petite Hutte." which in its second year's run is still doing capacity, with about 4650 take per performance. De Letraz revived his 20-year-old "Voyage a Trois," alleging that Roussin had lifted from his old comedy for "Hutte," but Roussin kept the business.

John Mills as Radio Star Of 'London Story' Series

London Story Series

London, July 26.

British screen star John Mills has been signed by Towers of London for a series of half-hour radio transcriptions titled "The London Story." These are adapted from short stories by outstanding British writers, including H. G. Wells, A. Conan Doyle, W. W. Jacobs, H. E. Bates and Rudyard Klpling.

Series has aiready been sold for Radio Luxembourg under the sponsorship of Cadbury's, chocolate

Maulo Luxembourg under the spon-sorship of Cadbury's, chocolate manufacturers, and the program will start airing Sunday nights, starting in September. Series will be offered for world use by Tow-fre

ers.
Program is being directed by Bernard Braden, Canadian radio actor and director, who is also under contract to Towers.

'Voice of America' Hypo On Viennese Network

Un Viennese Network
Vienna, July 26.
Dr. Walter Roberts, commentator on the "Voice of America" to Austria, is in Vienna at the RedWhite-Red studios on an inspection and orientation trip. Several changes in "Voice of America" program format have been made. Dr.
Harry Skornia, director of radio.
Indiana U., is also here, tempoparily attached to RWR network on a special assignment as adviser.
Current program of the property of the service of th

Current program highlights of RWR include the Salzburg Festi-vals. RWR will carry all festival performances and feed them to some 30 European outfits. Ted Masters Vienne program director.

London, Aug. 2.
J. Arthur Rank's production activities in Britain will come to a halt during the last two weeks of August. Rank is shuttering his Denham studio during that period to give all his employees a two-week vacation. End-of-August shutdown is traditional with the week vacation. Eng-oi-August shutdown is traditional with the shutdown is traditional with the British filmmaker.

Denham studio is the only lot now being used by Rank since he closed the others recently in a cost-saving consolidation move.

TV Films for U.S. Brit. Industry

London, Aug. 2.
Production of films in Britain for use almost exclusively on American TV looks like developing into a major British industry. News of the activities of Parthian Proof the activities of Parthian Productions, whose product is to be released through David Coplan's new organization, is followed by plans of a new company known as Vizio, Ltd., which is associated with the Ted Kavanaugh group. Two of the directors of this company, Edgar Blatt and Roy Plomley, are in the U. S. to arrange distribution for the first two series of TV films they are now producing.

the first two series of TV films they are now producing.

There will be 52 films to each series, one dealing with real life murders from a Scotland Yard angle, and the other being classified as psychological thrillers. But in effect they will be TV plays on celluloid. One film in each of the series has now been completed and the directors have taken negatives with them to show to possible distributors.

tributors. Each subject is carefully cut so as to run for 26½ minutes, allowing 3½ minutes for the normal commercial plug in a half-hour program. They are being directed by experienced TV men; one of the samples was directed by Erlc Fawcet!

cett.
Each of the subjects is skedded to cost around $7,000, and although the first was made at the Marylebone studios, future arrangements will not be determined finally until the two execs return from New York

New York.

Another entrant into the production field for TV in Britain is James Fitzpatrick, who plans to make a series of 27-minute shorts based on folk-music "landmarks." They're to have theatrical distribution in Britain through Metro but will be shown on American TV networks through ABC and NBC. It's hoped the first of the series will be available for American video by Christmas.

20th to Build 4 Cinemas In Israel, 1 in Alexandria

In Israel, 1 in Alexandria

Madrid, Aug. 2.

Twentieth-Fox prez Spyros P.
Skouras, who arrived here last week on his tour of Europe, disclosed his company plans to build four new theatres in the new state of Israel, as result of his belief that Israel will become one of the greatest industrial nations of the Middle East. In addition, 20th plans a new theatre in Alexandria.
Skouras emphasized he has found American films to be predominant throughout Europe, despite many countries now turning out—local product. In Spain, for example, the government has recently ruled that one American picture is to be permitted with a film of any other country on all double bills, which are run by all except first runs here. "This proves conclusively the tremendous popular demand for American motion pictures," he said.

Twentieth will build its theatres in Israel in Tel Aviv, Haifa, Jerusalem and Nathania. "We will be the first ones to creat the commercial interest-of every American industry in Israel," he said.

performances and feed them to some 30 European outfits. Ted Masters, Vienna program directorhas made several changes in program format on RWR's weaker shows along with a half a dozen new programs.

Film censorship in the British Zone in Germany has been turned over to a voluntary board of the German film industry by the British Control Commission. Latter reserves right to reverse board decisions.

Austria, Trizonia Pact

Joe Friedman Stresses His Amicable Parting From Columbia Picts

London, July 27. Editor, VARIETY

London, July 27.

Editor, Variety:

I note with considerable regret the publication both the weekly and your daily in Hollywood of an article bearing the London date-line of July 12 stating that my resignation from Columbia was due to disagreements with Home Office executives and that I was leaving for America on Aug. 13 to settle my contract. It is further stated that the rift became known six months ago after I visited America for conferences with president Harry Cohn and foreign distribution vice-president Joseph A. McConville, being at that time lifted out of my position as managing director in England and being replaced by Max Thorpe, my assistant.

Facts are that I have not been in the best of health for several years and requested Columbia to relieve me of my responsibilities about a year ago, when it was decided between us to groom Mr.

my responsibilities ago, when it was de-n us to groom Mr. able him to step in as soon as possible. This was accomplished on Feb. 1, of this year, thereby relieving me of the responsibility of the distributing organization, where I still remained in an advisory capacity and also agreed to supervise production for Columbia in this country. With the revolutionary change in the value of British films here, I felt for the time being that there was really nothing very much I could do in the way of supervising production and inasmuch as I had wished for a long time to retire completely from business, I requested Columbia to relieve me of my contract. This was done on the friendliest and most amicable basis. There was never any disagreements between me and any of the executives of the company and I am very proud to have left in a most cordial atmosphere, with friendship on all sides. able him to step in as soon as pos-sible. This was accomplished on

BIG SISTER ACT

BIG SISTER AUT
Buenos Aires, July 26.
Alicia Barrie broke off work for Lumiton Studios to fly back to the U. S. on personal business, leaving a picture half finished.
The studio got over this difficulty by having the actress' sisten, whom she resembles closely, stand in to make the few scenes yet to be ompleted.

Current London Shows

Current London Snows

(Figure shows weeks of run)
London, Aug. 2.

"Anna Veronica." Piccadilly (11).
"Annie Get Gun," Cols'm (113).
"Beau Strategem," Lyric (14).
"Brigadoon," Majestic (16).
"Bilack Chiffon," West (14).
"Daphne," Wyndham (19).
"Death of Salesman," Phnx (1).
"Edwina Black," Ambas. (3).
"French Without Tears," V. (7).
"Happiest Days," Apollo (71).
"Harvey," Prince of Wales (31).
"Heiress," Haymarket (27).
"Her Excellency" Hipp (6).
"Ice Cycles," Empress (6).
"Ice Cycles," Empress (6).
"Ice Vogues," Stoll (3).
"Lady's Burning," Globe (13).
"Lady's Burning," Globe (13).
"Lady's Burning," Globe (13).
"Lady's Burning," Globe (13).
"Love Albania," St. James (3).
"Male Animal," New (6).
"Oklahoma!", Drury Lane (118).
"On Monday Next." Comedy (9).
"One Wild Oat," Garrick (35).
"Sauce Tartare," Cambridge (11).
"September Tide," Aldwich (35).
"Song of Norway," Palace (4).
"Third Visitor," York's (8),
"Tozether Again," Vic. Pal. (121).
"Tough at Top," Adelphi (3).
"Traveller's Joy," Criterion (60).
"Walking Shadow," Playb'se (6).
"Young & Fair," St. Martins (6).
"Young Wives Tale," Savoy (3). (Figure shows weeks of run) London, Aug. 2.

ia, Trizonia Pact New Film Exchange Aussie Producers See Pic Stymie If Govt. Curbs Rawstock in $ Crisis

Simone in Rome Pic

Rome, July 26

Rome, July 26.

Simone Simon arrived from Paris this week to star In a film produced by Navona Films, titled "Donne Neil 'Ombra." Story, by Geza Radvanyi, Corrado Alvaro and Liana Ferrl, concerns women and girls who consorted with Fascist and Nazi bigwigs—when they were bigwigs. After the war, these women, who came from various parts of Europe, were placed in a concentration camp as undesimbles as well as displaced persimbles as well as displaced persimbles. in a concentration camp as unde-sirables as well as displaced per-

Radvanyi will direct, Robert Goelet, Jr., is associate producer; cameraman

U. S. Pix Big In Norse Countries

Scandinavian prospects are bright for American films, according to John G. McCarthy, international division chief of the Moton Picture Assn. of America, who recently returned here from a tour tion Picture Assn. of America, who recently returned here from a tour of the north countries. Accompanied by his wife, 'Lillian, the exec visited Finland, but failed to take in Russia on the junket. Soviet, however, is currently guesting the MPAA's Louis Kanturek, who is screening some 24 Hollywood pictures for the government there. Films are among the block which MPAA prez Eric Johnston sold Russia during his 1948 trip to Moscow.

Following his trek through most of the western European capitals, McCarthy emphasized the value of making personal contacts with key men in every country: He also visited Switzerland where MPAA continental topper Gerald Mayer is convalescing from a recent illness.

Meanwhile, Eugene Van Dee, who's been subbling for Mayer in convalescing from a recent illness. Meanwhile, Eugene Van Dee, who's been subbing for Mayer in handling the delicate Italian situation, has returned from Rome, bearing the unpleasant news that discriminatory U. S. film legislation recently passed is unlikely to be tored down by amendment. Apparent standoffish attitude of the U. S. State Dept. is believed to stem from the law's outwardly non-discriminatory aspect. discriminatory aspect.

discriminatory aspect.

The McCarthys are scheduled to sail for New York via London Friday (5) on the Queen Mary. He had been held in Paris for meetings of continental managers. Among those sitting in on the huddles were Universal's foreign chief Joseph Seidelman. Latter is also due back at the N. Y. homeoffice next week.

Mayer-Burstyn Has Prize Italo 'Bicycle Thieves'

Italo 'Bicycle Thieves' Mayer-Burstyn has acquired the U. S. rights to the Italian-made "The Bicycle Thieves," film that won the top prize at the Second International Festival In Belgium.
Pic was produced and directed by Vittorio De Sica. It will be released in the fall.
Joseph Burstyn. head of the outfit, embarked Thursday (28) aboard the Queen Mary for Venice where he will attend that city's film festival as a guest of honor.
His partner, Arthur L. Mayer, chief Film Coordinator with the American Military Govt. in Berlin, resigns his post Aug. 12 and hegiras to Israel. He may meet Burstyn in Venice, en route.

'Thieves' Cops Italian Oscar Rome, July 30.
"The Bicycle Thleves" was awarded Italy's Silver Ribbon too day for the best domestic film of the year. Anna Magnini was chosen the best actress and Massimo Girotti the best actor for their respective performances in "Amore" and "In the Name of the Law."

The Silver Ribbon is Italy's and "In the Name of the Law."

The Silver Ribbon is Italy's counterpart of Hollywood's Osear, the state of Hollywood's Osear, the state of Herbert Wilcox's next pic, which was to have been directed by John Paddy Carstairs, is off. Instead, Wilcox is starring his wife, Anna Neagle, minus her usual male lead, Wilcox is will only of the state of announcement b Prime Minister Ben J. Chifley that the government will cut dollar imports by 25%, following talks in London by his personal rep, J. J. Dedman, and Sir Stafford Cripps, fear is held here that there'll be a curb on the import of rawstock for home pic production, plus a cutdown of Imports of minor U.S. pix.

Right now the only major producer making pix here is Ealing, with "Bitter Springs." Unit has two more films lined up for here it's understood. The Charles Chauvel pic, "Sons of Matthew," financed by Universal - International and Greater Union Theatres, came off the production floor a maneed by Chiveesia - Interna-tional and Greater Union Theatres, came off the production floor a couple of weeks ago. Chauyel says he's got more pix lined up for 1950. It can be taken for granted that U.S. distribs won't make any pix here this or any year.

Most hit by a rawstock nix would be the major processing labora-tories, handling prints of U.S. and British pix taken from the mother print to save import cost. Local newsreel units would also be socked by a rawstock shutoff. Technicolor and Trucolor can't be processed here, hence colored pix would still have to come through from the U.S., or be completely nixed.

from the U. S., or he completely nixed.

Industry men close to the political scene can't see the government combletely shutting out rawstock from here, declaring that it would mean the shutdown of one of the big industries employing many hundreds of skilled workers, although they do admit that there may be some cutdown on minor pix from the U. S.

Meeting of the Australian Cabinet will be held shortly to fix the percentage cuts on imports from the U. S., in keeping with the British government's decision to cut dollar expenditure by a further 25%. Aussie film industry is awaiting anxiously the result of 25%. Aussie film industry is awaiting anxiously the result of this meeting to see just how deeply the pie biz fits into the government's new plays.

U's Seidelman, Schimel, Daff Due Back Next Week Besides talking the possibility

Arthur Rank, British producer, in England, Joseph H. Seidelman, Universal's foreign chief, is also Universal's foreign chief, is also re-examining U's reciprocal distribution pact with Rank on his current visit to Britain. Adolph Schimel, legalite who serves as U's secretary, accompanied Seidelman and is sitting in on huddles concerning the pact. Both Seidelman and Schimel return to the U. S. next week.
Universal-Rank distribution deal runs for 10 years. It provides for periodical readjustments of bugs that may crop up from time-to-time. No drastic change In the deal is coatemplated in the Seidel-time. No drastic change in the deal is coatemplated in the Seidelman-Schimel-Rank talks.

U's home office foreign wing is currently without its top two execs. Al Daff, top man under Seidelman, is slated to return to N. Y. at the end of the week after a month's visit to Australia. Daff and his wife are spending several days on the Coast looking over new product before trekking east.

While on his trip. Daff also did a quickie lookover of the situation in Singapore, India and Cairo.

French Up Radio-TV Set Taxes Sharply Paris, July 26, Yearly tay on receiving sets has Yearly tax on receiving sets has been upped by the French Parllament, from $2 to $3 a year per radio set for private owners. If installed in places open to the public, fee is $6; for jukes, $12. Old crystal sets will only set one back

IN RECORD-BRE COME TO THE S' SENSATIONAL "SN -AT THE RIVOLI SET IT NOW FOI LONG, LONG RUN

here's No Busines

IS PACING IT BUSINESS

HEATRE, N.

"TOP RATING!

Not since 'Going My Way' has the screen offered so beguiling a picture! High Comedy!"

"Humorous, lighthearted, good -N. Y. Daily News entertainment!"

-Time Magazine

"You can't afford to miss it!" — Hedda Hopper

"4 Bells for everybody every where!"

* - Jimmie Fidler

"Will make you roar with laughter!"

-N. Y. Daily Mirror

Madame Bovary

Madame Bovary
Hollywood, July 30.

Metro release of Pandro S. Berman woduction. Stars Jenniter Jones. Van Heffin. Louis Jourdani features James Mason. Christopher Keni. Gene Lockhart, and John March "Madame Bovary" is a woman's returns in class situations. Based on the French classic about an returns in class situations. Based on the French classic about an ambitious woman, the picture has unusually good exploitation values that can be touted to attract the femmes and bolster its boxoffice chances. Star lineup is another favorable factor.

As a character study, "Bovary" is interesting to watch, but hard to feel. It is a curiously unemotional account of some rather basic emotions and this failure to plumb beneath its characters lessens the broad, general appeal somewhat. However, the surface treatment of Vincente Minnelli's direction is slick and attractively presented. This fact, plus the ballyhoo aspects, shape it as an important entry for most situations. most situations.

most situations.

Jennifer Jones is the daring Madame Bovary, a femme whose story, as told by Gustave Flaubert, shocked the France of the 1850s. The character is short on sympathy, being a greedy woman so anxious to better her position in life that sin and crime do not shock her moral values. Miss Jones is a competent actress and answers to every demand of direction and script in her sketch of the early-day shocker.

Van Heflin portrays her docton usband, an essentially weak man

Van Heflin portrays her doctor husband, an essentially weak man whose evident flaws in abiding with a greedy wife are not too satisfac-torily explained away by his love for her. He gives it a good read-ing but it is another character lacking in sympathy because of the ill treatment he humbly takes from his wife lacking in sympathy because of the ill treatment he humbly takes from his wife.

Nearer to the essential aims of the story is the character played by Louis Jourdan. He is Madame Bovary's first rich lover, a vain man who lives a shallow life of futile amours. Christopher Kent, bearing a remarkable resemblance to Jourdan, is another who falls under the Bovary spell and serves her as a sideline romance.

The Bovary quest for something better than she has is brought to light at the trial of Gustave Flaubert, author of the realistically treated novel that brought about his arrest. James Mason is excellent as the author who takes the stand in his own defense to try to explain the urge that drove his doubtful heroine on and why he felt it necessary to chronicle her adventures. The Robert Ardrey script is glib enough in its presentation of the story and the doubtful neroine on and why ne felt it necessary to chronicle her adventures. The Robert Ardrey script is glib enough in its presentation of the story and the scenes develop logically.

Among the featured and supporting players who fit ably into the footage are Gene Lockhart, the village druggist; Frank Allenby, black-mailing dealer in fine linens and gossip; Gladys Cooper, John Abbott, Henry Morgan, Ellen Corby, Paul Cavanagh and others. Pandro S. Berman's production carries the gloss of a large budget, prodigiously spent. The physical setup of the picture reflects a generous hand but the expansive treatment tends to overwhelm in some scenes. One production treat is the eye-filling movement of the "Emma Bovary Waltz" as terped by a large cast and cleffed by Miklos Rozsa. Latter also gives the film a solid musical score. Robert Planck's photography is very good, as are the art direction, the settings and costumes. Picture could stand trimming from its present 114 minutes.

Slattery's Hurricane

Slattery's Hurricane

20th-Fox release of William Periberg production. Stars Richard Widmark. Linda Darnell. Veronica Lake; features John Russell Delivered by Andre desard Murphy from story by Wouk; camera. Charles G. Clarke; editor, Robert Simpson; camera effects, Fred Sersen, Ray, Scilogs. Tradeshown, N. X., July 25. Kellogs. Unida Darnell Dolores Linda Darnell Dolores Veronica Lake Hobson. Market Linda Darnell Dolores Veronica Lake Hobson. John Russell Dolores Walter Mayer Mussell Milne. Walter Kingsford Admiral Olienby. Raymond Greenelaf Frank Stanley Waxman Gregory. Joseph De Santia Gregory. Joseph De Santia Gregory. Joseph De Santia Gregory. Rush Clifford M.C. Kenny Williams Nurse Balley. Ruth Clifford M. C. Kenny Williams Nurse Collins. Maude Frickett Walter. Norman Leavitt Naviyator. Lee MaGergor Taxi Driver. Bick Wessel Maikre D. John Davidson "Slattery's Hurricane" has

"Slattery's Hurricane" has enough excitement to satisfy action fans and the Widmark audience will see him back as a tough, rather despicable character.

Picture is well produced, has some nice performances, but it never quite jells chiefly because of the monotony of the flashback technique. Director Andre de Toth seems to jump from one plot angle to another with confusing overall effect. Handling too many airplane sequences, these fail to come off.

Yarn takes Widmark away from his familiar gangster characterizations and plunks him down as almost a cad until the final payoff, when he becomes a hero. Triangle is enacted before the background of the U. S. Weather Bureau's untiring efforts to locate hurricanes off the Florida coast in time to give adequate warning to residents along the Atlantic seaboard. A for-or the O.S. weather bureau's unit ring efforts to locate hurricanes off the Florida coast in time to give adequate warning to residents along the Atlantic seaboard. A former daring Navy aviator, he turns up to steal his service buddy's wife simply because she happens to be one of his sweethearts of war days. This is done sketchily with a bow to the MPAA code.

Script outlines how crack pilots are sent on hurricane-hunting flights. The carefree Widmark (Slattery) is a chauffeur-pilot for a candy manufacturer in Miami and accidentally bumps into his former buddy. John Russell, employed as weather bureau pilot. Story would have one believe that Widmark does not catch on to the fact this membroyers are engaged in dope smuggling until he actually finds some narcotics tied to the body of one of the partners after he dies of heart attack. Also that the secretary, the girl who is madly. In love with him, is an addict.

Linda Darnell, as the wife, is particularly effective in the too few romantic clinches. Veronica Lake is a rather forlorn figure as the secretary in love with Widmark. Gary Merrill is the forthright commander while a strong supporting cast in topped by Walter Kingsford, Raymond Greenleaf, Staley Waxman and Joseph De Santis.

Herman Wouk's story has not been particularly improved in the Waxman and Joseph De Santis.

Herman Wouk's story has not been particularly improved in the scripting by Wouk and Richard Murphy. Charles G. Clarke has contributed some superb camera work, especially in the hurricane scenes. Robert Simpson's editing is passably okay but excellent sound is a highlight of the production. Fred Sersen and Ray Kellogg have done remarkably well with their special camera effects. Wear.

Conspirator (BRITISH)

(BRITISH)

London, July 27.

Metro release of Arthur Hornblow, Jr., production. Stars Robert Taylor, Elizabeth by Victor Saville. Screenplay by Sally Benson, from novel by Humphrey Slater; camera. Skeets Kelly, Bunny Francke; editor, Frank Clark. At Empire, London, July 26, 48, Running ime, 87 MITNAylor Meilinda Greyton ... Elizabeth Taylor Cap, Hugh Ladholme Robert Flemyng Col. Hammerbrook. Harold Wagrender Joyce ... Honor Birkman Aust Jessica. Marjorie Fielding Aust Jessica. Marjorie Fielding Aust Jessica. Marjorie Fielding Robert Fledings Wifted Hytel White White White White Willey William Processing Proce Joyce
Aunt Jessica
Broaders
Lord Pennistor
Lady Witherin Pennistone ... Wilfred Hyde-White Witheringham Helen Haye

For its second British production Metro has chosen a frankly politi-cal theme. It is a highly fanciful treatment of an obvious anti-Commie character, bearing little by a large cast and clefded by Miklos Rozsa. Latter also gives the film a solid musical score. Robert Planck's photography is very good, as are the art direction, the settings and costumes. Picture could stand trimming from its present 114 minutes.

Janis Paige Pacted For Frankovitch Rome Picture Rome, July 26.

Venus Productions, headed by Mike Frankovitch, has signed Janis Paige, Hollywood starlet, to play the leading role in "The Dark Road," by Philip Yordan.

Star arrived the middle of July for costume fittings; actual shooting of the pic starts Aug. 5. Miss Paige's husband, Frank Martinelli, a non-professional, will be here for the duration of the picture, which is scheduled for eight weeks.

Miniature Reviews

"Madame Bovary" (M-G).
Femme appeal and strong star names to attract trade.
"Slattery's Hurricane"
(20th). Richard Widmark and Linda Darnell should put over this thriller for big returns.
"Conspirator" (M-G)
British-made Commie meller, with Robert Taylor. Good U. S. possibilities.
"Abbott & Costello Meet Killer, Boris Karloff" (U).

with Robert Taylor, Good U. S. possibilities.

"Abbott & Costello Meet Killer, Boris Karloff" (U). First-rate escapist film fare for family trade.

"Barbary Pirate" (Col). Standard small-budget supporter for secondary slotting.

"Trail of the Yukon" (Mono). Dull, minor-league effort for fill-in bookings.

"Sky Liner" (SG). Okay action melodrama aboard transcontinental plane. For secondaries.

conflict, both emotional and men-tal, with his newly-acquired young wife fails to reach the heights, and throughout the development there is neither powerful drama nor lurid melodrama which the subject decenvises.

is neither powerful drama nor lurid melodrama which the subject deserves.

From the point of view of production qualities, there is very little fault to be found with "Conspirator." It is effectively mounted; there are some fine settings, and the atmosphere of the Guards regiments and a Welsh village is admirably captured.

Taylor gets to grips with the starring role but the script doesn't allow wide scope and restricts his performance within a limited frame. Elizabeth Taylor is given a big opportunity for an emotional and romantic lead and comes out with flying colors. Supporting east is carefully selected and top roles are in the efficient hands of Robert Flemyng, Harold Warrender and Honor Blackman.

It's unlikely that this will meet with the same boxoffice success as its predecessor, "Edward, My Son," and the chances are that it may run into some trouble, particularly in hot European centers from Communist and other leftwing factions.

Abbott & Costello Meet The Killer, Boris Karloff

The Killer, Boris Karl Universal release of Robert Arthur
duction. Stars Abbott & Costellor
Universal release of Robert Arthur
duction. Stars Abbott Directed by Charles.
John Grant from story by Wedlock, and Snyder: camera. Charles Van E editor, Edward Curtiss: music. M Schwarzwald. Tradeshown. N. Y. A.
49. Running time, 84 MINS.
Bud Al
Freddie Phillips.
Lou Co
Swami Talpur Boris K
Angela Gordon.
Lenore A.
Jeff Wilson Gar M Betty Crandall.
Donna M
Melton.
Alam Mow
Inspector Wellman.
James F Bud Abbott
Lou Costello
Borls Karloff
enore Aubert Gar Moore
Donna Martell
lan Mowhray Melton
Inspector Wellman.
T. Hanley Brooks.
Amos Strickland.
Sergeant Stone
Gregory Milford.
Mrs. Hargreave.
Abernathy.
Mrs. Grimsby.
Lawrence Crandall
Mike Relia.

Lawrence Crandall. Harry Hayden Mike Relia. Vincent Renno Well lubricated with double-takes, gags and familiar slapstick, "Abbott & Costello Meet the Killer, Boris Karloff" is an entry that qualifies easily as escapist film fare. Picture will be relished by the comics' following and is okay for the family trade. Long running time of 84 mlnutes, however, could be trimmed to give the film a swifter impact. Lengthy title, too, presents a problem to exhibs with short marquees.

But Abbott and Lou Costello romp through this opus broadly playing a hotel dick and bellboy, respectively. The plot is just one of those things. But the dialog is buttered so well with the bon mots and prat falls which have made the comedians an Américan institution that their fans will likely överlook the inanities of the "story."

A resort hotel is the locale for a flock of killings which starts when famed criminal Nicholas Joy is

The Blue Lagoon

"The Blue Lagon" (Rank)
Jean Simmons starrer being tradeshown in New York Thursday (28), was reviewed in Variety from London, March 9, 1949. Reviewer Myro noted 9. 1949. Reviewer Myro noted that "for British audiences the title and star are enough to insure healthy business, but the picture has few other attractions to interest Yank exhibs." Story deals with two calldren shipwrecked on a South Sea Island and it was cited in the review that the plot "is developed by a series of incidents rather than by a of incidents rather than by a woven theme."

Filmed in Technicolor, the picture is being released in the U. S. by Universal.

rubbed out. Suspected along with Costello are a number of the law-yer's former clients, all of whom were guests at the hostelry at the time of the murder. Before the case is solved, A. & C. shuffle corpses, are locked in steam cabinets and dash through a subterranean cayern.

corpses, are locked in steam cabinets and dash through a subterranean cavern.

It goes without saying that A. & C. carry on in their best tradition. Boris Karloff is amusing as a swami whose hypnotile powers are frequently ineffective. Le nor a frequently ineffective. Le nor a frequently ineffective. I can be some of the many suspects. Joy lends realism as the bombastic legalite who's knocked off while James Flavin is adequate as the inspector who cracks the case. Hotel manager Alan Mowbray is okay as the culprit.

Direction of Charles T. Barton is competent in this Robert Arthur production. Charles Van Enger's camerawork is good as is David Horsley's special lensing. Other technical credits measure up.

Gilb.

5, '49, Running time,
Donald Woods
Trudy Marshall
Lenore Aubert
11. Stefan Schnabel
Ross Ford
John Dehner
Malellon Leigh
Joe Mantell
Frank Reicher
Holmes Herbert
Frank Jaquet
Williams Hicks
Russell Hicks Bey of Tripoll... tidgeway... Reis Sharpe Tobias Sharpe... Rindeff Dexter Freeman. Cathcart Thomas Jefferson eart as Jefferson in Crawford Fleiding
nodore Preble

"Barbary Pirate" is a modestly budgeted supporting feature that gets by in its classification. Theme is an ambitious one for the minimum cost bracket in which "Pirate" falls but stock shots and similar production tricks are an adequate cloak for the cornercutting necessary to get it by.

Plot is laid just after the Revolutionary War when Barbary pirates are preying on American shipping in waters of Tripoli. A traitor in Washington tips the Bey of Tripoli on valuable cargo so an undercover Army officer is dispatched to the Mediterranean to smoke out the plotter. Donald Woods is the officer. He gets himself captured, befriends the Bey gets his information and after suitable amount of swordplay and other adventuring, things are wrapped up into a satisfactory conclusion. ped up into a satisfactory conclu-sion.

Director Lew Landers keeps the Director Lew Landers keeps the footage moving along acceptably and the cast does okay in putting over the more or less standard plotting in the Robert Libott-Frank Burt script. Trudy Marshall is the damsel in distress who's saved by Woods. Lenore Aubert is a native glrl. Stefan Schnabel portrays the Bey and there are minor assists from Ross Ford, John Dehner and Matthew Boulton.

Sam Katzman's supervision steers the picture around any budget pitfalls and Ira H. Morgan gave it okay lensing. Editing keeps footage to suitable 64 minutes.

Brog.

Trail of the Yukon

Trail of the Yukon

(SONG)

Hollywood, July 30.

Monogram release of Lindsley Parsons
(William F. Broidy) production. Stars
Kirby Grant: features Suzanne Dalbert, Bill Edwards, Dan Seymour, directed by Bill Edwards, Dan Seymour, directed by Drake; suggested by "The characteristic College Drake; suggested by "Running time, 67
Bob McDonald Kirby Grant
Marie Suzanne Dalbert
Jim Blaine Bill Edwards
Jim Blaine Bill Edwards
Dawson Washes
Buck Anthony Warde
Buck Maynard Holmes
Poleon Jay Silverheels
Poleon Jay Silverheels
Rogers Stanley Andrews
Rogers Stanley Andrews
Rogers Stanley Andrews
Rogers Stanley Andrews
Rogers Harrison Hearne
Rand Peter Mamakos

"Trail of the Yukon" is a

"Trail of the Yukon" is a laborlously-paced outdoor adventure yarn that rates only fill-in bookings. Generous use of stock footage from a previous Monogram film helps to pad out the minimum expenditure on this one but it still lacks production gloss and features amateurish direction. It is only just passable for the kiddies in the Saturday matinee trade. "Trail" introduces Monogram's new dog star. Chinook, and he comes off best of the cast as the pal of a mountie chasing a gang of bank robbers. The Oliver Drake script is an ovious, but okay basis for the action but William X. Crowley's direction fails to make the proper use of it.

Kirby Grant is the mountie who gets his man and suffers through the lootage most of the time on a cane which handicaps his heroics. Plot is full of doublecrosses. First the banker doublecrosses. First the banker doublecrosses. Guy Beach and Bill Edwards on a gold claim. They held up the bank, but their aides on the job have been hired by the banker to doublecross them and give the loot back. Before the confusion is sorted out, there is an unusual amount of aimless gun-play and sundry ten-twent-thirt staging that points up the stilted, inept handling.

Grant sings one tune, "A Shantyman's Life," expertly although it means little to the footage. Otherwise, he tries hard to get his assignment over. Suzanne Dalbert is an interesting northwoods' beauty and Dan Seymour is her Canuck father. Bill Edwards, and the heavies, William Forrest, Anthony Warde, Maynard Holmes and Peter Mamakos, run through stock performances.

William F. Broidy served as associate producer to Lindsley Parsons, but neither rate a good credit. Dullness of the directorial pace is further emphasized by the dirgelike musical direction of Edward J. Kay, Lensing and editing are only adequate. which handicaps his heroics. Plot is full of doublecrosses. First the

Sky Liner

Sky Liner

Hollywood, July 29.
Screen Guld release of William Stephens (Lippert Production) production. Features Richard Travis. Pamela Blake. Rochelle Hudson. Directed by William Berke. Screenplay. Maurice Tombragel, original story. John Wilste; camera. Carl Berger: editor, Edward Mann. Previewed July 26. 49. Running time. 61 MINS. Steve Blair. Richard Travis Carol Prends Blake Amy Winthrop. Rocketter (Edward) ily 26, 49, Runtane eve Blair. Pamela Blak
my Winthrop. Rochelle Hudso
okeljan. Steven Gera
S. Conningsby. Cres McClur
mith Gaylord Pendleto en Howard. Michael Whale
lary Ann. Anna May Slaught ee Kirk. Relb. Pete
ok Kirk. Baylord Be David Be ord ce Ward Harry Finneston. Jennings Jennings rs. Jennings.... other eorge Eakins.... Hanson . Jean Sore

"Sky Liner" plots all its action aboard a west-bound transcontinental plane and proves to be an okay lowercase subject for secondary bookings. Sky footage is new, being filmed with cooperation of TWA which gets in plenty of plugs for its big Constellations.

Plot is a spy thriller, with the FBI after a man who is selling Government secrets to a foreign power. A State Department courier is murdered at the opening and his sealed orders lifted. Principals then board a plane for the Coast and as the air miles tick off sundry characters are brought on. There's a precoclous moppet bothering passengers with her songs; a jewel thief trying a getaway; an eloping couple; the agent for the foreign power; the spy and his girl friend; an absconder; an attractive hostess and the Granan couple; the agent for the foreign power; the spy and his girl friend; an absconder; an attractive hostess and the G-man.

'The spy is bumped off high in the sky, and Richard Travis takes over in his official capacity as the FBI-er to sort out the varied suspects and get his man. Willam Berke's direction keeps the pot boiling at a good clip before bringing on the gun-blazing climax when justice is served. Travis does an expert, likeable chore as the G-man and Pamela Blake is the comely hostess. Rochelle Hudson and Gaylord Pendleton are the crooks while Steven Geray gets off the foreign power agent in okay fashion. Others rating mention include Greg McClure, the thief, Michael Whalen, the absconder; and Herburt Evans. Anna May Slaughter is the moppet on the lookout for a producer.

William Stephens works his way around a small budget to get the most value from the framework for the Maurice Tombragel script based on John Wilste's original. Photography is about average and editing contributes a fast 61 minutes.

Monaca Santa (The Holy Nun) (SONGS)

(SONGS)
Vela Film release of Romans Film (Fortunato Misiano) production. Star Eva Nova; features (Cesare Danowa. Tial Lattanzi, Bririco Glori. Directo di Palmetel, Figure (Sorten) (So

Of the soap-opera genre, "Monaca Santa" won't hit its stride until it reaches subsequent runs, especially in southern Italy-for which area it's principally intended and where it will earn back most of its coin. Elsewhere the going will be slow.

Naples is pic's locale, and there are plenty of songs of that city (sung by Eva Nova) to keep local audiences happy. Story, acting, and other credits are on a par with the film's very modest budget.

CLIMAXING 25 YEARS OF ACHIEVEMENT!

Last week the M-G-M Studios rushed a work print of "Battleground" to New York and within a few hours the picture was put on the screen for Preview without preliminary notice at Loew's 72nd Street Theatre, a typical neighborhood house.

Motion picture history is in the making! The audience response, identical with earlier Previews in California, set a new high. The Motion Picture Research Bureau in an audience survey recorded the top mark of enthusiasm of all the many Big M-G-M attractions previewed at this theatre.

It is a happy circumstance that in our Anniversary Year, a period when good product is sorely needed, M-G-M's remarkable succession of hits is now topped by "Battleground." This mighty attraction, aptly called "The Big Parade of World War II" will have its World Premiere in November. We wanted the industry to know the good news now, that the BIGGEST movie of many years is on the way!

M-G-M presents "BATTLEGROUND" starring VAN JOHNSON • JOHN HODIAK • RICARDO MONTALBAN GEORGE MURPHY with Marshall Thompson • Jerome Courtland • Don Taylor • Bruce Cowling • James Whitmore Douglas Fowley • Leon Ames • Guy Anderson • Thomas E. Breen • Denise Darcel • Richard Jaeckel • Jim Arness Scotty Beckett • Breet King • Story and Screenplay by Robert Pirosh, Associate Producer • Directed by WILLIAM A. WELLMAN • Produced by DORE SCHARY • A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture

18

Inside Stuff—Pictures

Negotiations between the major film producers and American Society of Composers, Authors & Publishers on performing rights to ASCAP music are in complete abeyance. Talks had been held during the spring on ASCAP's demand that the producers start to pay for performing rights, as well as for recording rights, for which they had always paid in the past. Performing rights had been paid for by theatres until Judge Vincent L. Leibell in New York federal court ruled against the practice last year.

Failure of ASCAP to push for further negotiations with the producers is believed to result from the fact it is attempting to work out a consent decree with the Government on the anti-trust charges against it. Once this is arrived at, Society apparently figures it will be in a better position to negotiate with the film companies. No meetings have been held for several months and none is scheduled.

better position to negotiate with the film companies. been held for several months and none is scheduled.

Tying in with the current venereal disease educational campaign being waged by cities and states in cooperation with the U. S. Public Health Service, is a 30-minute documentary turned out by the Southern Educational Film Production Service for the state of Mississippi. Tagged "Feeling All Right," the short is based upon Negro life in Mississippi's delta country. Cast'is composed of non-professionals. Picture is being distributed by the Communications Materials Center of the Columbia University Press. University Press.

Jerry Pickman, Paramount's assistant pub-ad chieftain, is in Chicago until the end of the week to set plans for Cecil B. DeMille's three weeks of travel with the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus. DeMille Joins the circus Friday (5) to get background for pic which he'll produce for Par. Pickman's assignment to the circus chore makes it something of a family affair, since his brother, Milton, Coast agent, sold the rights to Par.

Warner Bros.' eastern executives must get over 20 releases from places and personalities mentioned topically by Milton Berle in "Always Leave 'Em Laughing," his first at the studio. Almost daily he ad libs names and places like Rodgers & Hammerstein, "Oklahoma!", Lindy's, the Famous Door, Leon & Eddie's, etc.

One-pic-a-year deal for five years that Miriam Howell of the Paul Small agency recently set for Margaret Sullavan at Columbia calls for $60,000 for the initial film with an escalator that goes to $100,000 for the last. First pic may be "No Sad Songs" in the fall.

May Delay Film Fest

months of preparation is little time to get all the booking details set, exploitation and the thorough plugging job that is necessary to insure the festival's maximum effective-

Allowing two months to do this Allowing two months to do this chore would push the starting date back to Nov. 1. And if the festival ran 60 days from then, it would be carried into December and the pre-Christmas period. Distribs have a traditional and understandable retraditional and understandable reticence about releasing top product before the holidays. That pushes the whole deal off until next year, with a possible start at Christmas. It has been suggested that the festival might be put in the form of the industry's Yule present to America and it could be carried on through January and February. on the momentum generated during the holiday season. Post-holiday is usually slow and the festival night give it a hypo. give it a hypo.

Toppers see the plan taking the Toppers see the pian taking the form of territorial splash preems, which are easier to set up than nationwide openings and can be more effective through the concentration of publicity and exploitation. They also eliminate the expense of doubling the usual numeroes of doubling the usual numeroes. pense of doubling the usual number of prints, as suggested by Sullivan, although this didn't appear to be a particularly stiff problem at Monday's New York session.

While it went unmentioned at the meeting, decision to push off consideration of the plan until the Chicago conclave undoubtedly resulted from fears in the minds of some exces that cooperation of the Allied States Exhibitors Assn. some execs that cooperation of the Allied States Exhibitors Assn. might otherwise be sacrificed. While Sullivan and Ted Gamble, who called Monday's meeting and toastmastered it, were acting as private individuals, they are both TOA officials. Because of the Allied and TOA it was thought better to let the festival plan grow out of the industry-wide Chi meet and thus climinate the stigma, as far as Allied is concerned, of a TOA label on it. label on it. Interim Group Due

Sullivan has steadfastly main-tained that the scheme is a flexible one and subject to any changes the tained that the scheme is a nexible one and subject to any changes the industry wanted to make, so is accepting the revisions without resistance. He has promised to name an interim committee to work out details into tangible form for presentation at Chicago.

RKO prez Ned E. Depinet, who as chairman of the Motion Picture Assn. of America's exhibitor-community relations committee, is largely responsible for the Chiconclave, pointed out that the success of that meeting might be endangered by setting up a festival plan now. He said he didn't want the council that will be set up in Chi to be faced with a preconceived program. ceived program.

Austin Keough, Paramount counsel, suggested that the promotion campaign last longer than a month or two. About 50 industry execs attended the New York luncheon session. They included distribs, attended the New York luncheon session. They included distribs, exhibs, tradepaper editors and reps of the Motion Picture Assn. of America and the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers, as well as of TOA.

dependent Motion Picture Producers, as well as of TOA.

Among those present were Louis A. Novins, repping Paramount prexy Barney Balaban; Edward L. Hyman, Robert M. Weitman, Max Youngstein and Robert H. O'Brien, of Par; Abe Montague. Columbia; Charles M. Reagan, Si Seadler and Oscar Doob, Metro: William J. Heineman, Eagle Lion; Robert Mochrie, and S. Barret McCormick, RKO; Maurice A. Bergman and William Scully, Universal; Mort Blumenstock, Warner Bros; Edward L. Walton. Republic; Sidney G. Deneau, Selznick Releasing Organization; Al Lichtman and Ulric Bell, 20th-Fox; Arthur Sachson, Goldwyn; Robert J. Rubin, SIMPP; Sidney Schreiber and Taylor M. Mills. MPAA; Leo Brecher, Si Fabian, Edward L. Fabian and Harry Brandt, New York circuit operators and Herman M. Levy, general counsel for TOA.

Mark Stevens Subs For Johnson in Metro Film

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Metro borrowed Mark Stevens from 20th-Fox to take over the job originally assigned to Van Johnson in "Please Believe Me."
Johnson was switched to "The Johnson in "Please Believe Me." Johnson was switched to "The Big Hangover," in which he will co-star with Elizabeth Taylor. Metro is hurrying "Hangover" to permit Miss Taylor to go on loanout to Paramount Oct. 1 for the fenme lead in "An American Tragedy.

Team Audie, Frau

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Audie Murphy and his wife, Wanda Hendrix, will co-star for the first time in "Sierra" at Universal-International, with Michel Kraike as producer, starting

Aug. 14.
Miss Hendrix will play on loanout from Paramount. Murphy's contract is shared, 50-50, by Paul Short and U-1.

Jacobs Doing 10

Hollywood, Aug. 2. Busiest producer at Warners is Busiest producer at Warners is william Jacobs, who was handed his 10th assignment, "The Girl From Paris," Shortly Jacobs will have six pix working at the same time. They were "The Candy Kid Levels,"

"Ghost Mountain," "Betrayal," are "The Candy Kid Levels,"
"Ghost Mountain," "Betrayal,"
"The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady" and "Crashout," in addition to "The Girl From Paris."

Baylor U. Film Would Raise Stadium Funds

Waco, Aug. 2.

Waco, Aug. 2.

World premiere of a home-made film calculated to raise $1,000,000 for a - new football stadium was held here at Baylor U. Pic, titled "This is Baylor," was made on the school campus. It concerns a repentant father who visits the school following the death of his son; who attended Baylor when his school career was interrupted by who attended Baylor when his school career was interrupted by World War II. Film was made under the direc-tion of Paul Baker, head of Bay-lor's drama department. Idea is to show pic to Baptists throughout the state, thus stimulating the needed fund. Baylor is a Baptist university.

ARNALL AND LESSING TO REP SIMPP IN CHI

Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers has named Its prexy. Ellis Arnall, and its v.p. and chairman of its exec committee, Gunther Lessing, as its official reps at the industrywide public relations meeting to be held in Chicago Aug. 30-31. Lessing is v.p. and general counsel for Walt Disney Productions.

SIMPP members voted to accept a belated invitation to the affair from the Motion Picture Assn. of America, which is sponsoring it, after word got out that it was miffed at not being asked to attend. MPAA's stand was that SIMPP was represented in that it was a member of the Motion Picture Industry Council, all-Hollywood body which is sending a delegation.

Ibsen's 'Hedda' to Be Produced by Ben Hecht

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Ben Hecht will produce and Charles Lcderer will direct "Hedda Gabler," to be filmed by the aa Gabler," to be filmed by the new indie company organized by Geraldine Fitzgerald and her hus-band, Stuart Scheftel, Miss Fitzgerald will play the title role and Scheftel will handle the bankroll.

2 Foy Documentaries

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Bryan Foy will make two semi-documentaries as the first pair of his new assignments under ducer contract at Warners.

Subjects are "The Dennis Story," scripted by Borden Chase, and "The Gold Smugglers," by Milton

BLOCKI YARN FOR WB!

Hollywood. Aug. 2.
Warner Bros. is dickering for rights to "Out of the Darkness," a story which author Fritz Blocki is currently preparing for book publication.

Story is a biog of a blind man who regains his sight through sur-gery 21 years after losing his sight.

Goldwyn-RKO

Continued from page 5

producers he was interested in financing balked at it and he himself thought it unfair to tag his name on someone else's picture.

In any event, Goldwyn has no In any event, Goldwyn has no prospective financing deals at the moment. Thus the point became academic and Goldwyn decided there was no use in further arguing. What he originally intended—and still is holding open to certain producers—is offering them every service but the actual creative one of producing a picture. He'd provide, studio, distribution and distribution supervision facilities, in addition to financing their productions. Objective was not to productions. Objective was not to show a profit on the financing op-eration, but to relieve the burden of overhead of the studio and of the extensive New York sales su-pervision, publicity and account-ing organization which Goldwyn maintains.

llughes balked at the producer' efforts to include the product of other filmmakers under the pact since Goldwyn's 20% fee is the lowest in the industry for distribution service. RKO makes little or no profit on it, but considers Goldware states. wyn a valuable asset for prestige.
Thus it is willing to accept other producers' pix if they bear Goldwyn's name in order to take advantage of that factor,

Picture Grosses

SEATTLE

SEATTLE

(Continued from page 11)
big $10,100 and ahead of second frame.

Music Box (H-E) (850; 50-84)—
"Sorrowful Jones" (Par) and "Jigsaw" (UA) (5th wk). Big $4,000.
Last week, great $5,200.

Music Hall (H-E) (2,200; 50-84)—
"Home of Brave" (UA) and "Cover Up" (UA) (3d wk). Down to $4,000.
Last week, good $7,400.

Orpheum (H-E) (2,600; 50-84)—
"Silver Lining" (WB) and "Last Fling" (WB). Sturdy $12,000. Last week, "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and
"Daring Caballero" (UA) (2d wk), $5,500.

"Daring Caballero" (UA) (2d wk), $5,500.

Palomar (Sterling) (1,350; 40-65)

"Lady Gambles" (U) and
"Johnny Allegro" (Col) (2d runs) and stage unit, "Gay 90's Revue."
Oke $5,000. Last week, "Mutineers" (Col) and "Woman's Secret" (RKO), (2d runs) plus Hawaiian Revue onstage, big $7,800.

Paramount (H-E) (3,039; 50-84)—
"Not Wanted" (FC) and "Flaming Fury" (Rep). Okay $8,500. Last week, "House of Strangers" (20th)
and "Hold That Baby" (Mono), oke $7,200.

Roosevelt (Sterling) (800; 50-84)—
"Cover Girl" (Col) (3d wk). Good $3,-500. Last week, $5,000.

Laine Lifts 'Sand' Sock $32,000 in Mild Buff.

Buffalo, Aug. 2.
Biggest news this week is the way Frankie Laine is boosting "Sand" to sock week at the Buffalo.
"Tulsa" also looks hot at the

"Sand" to sock week at the Buffalo.
"Tulsa" also looks hot at the Century.

Estimates for This Week
Buffalo (Loew's) (3,500; 40-70)—
"Sand" (20th) and Frankie Laine, Kitty Kallen, onstage. Great $32,000 or over. Last week. "House of Strangers" (20th) and "Daring
Caballero" (UA), nice $14,000.

Paramount (Par) (3,400; 40-70)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) (2d wk).
Down to nice $7,000. Last week,
"Jones Beach" (WB) and "The Fan" (20th), fast $17,500 after Dennis Day unit on stage with "Alaska Patrol" (FC) hit sock $13,000 in 2 days.

Lafagette (Basil) (3,000; 40-70)—

2 days.

Lafayette (Basil) (3,000; 40-70)—
"One False Step" (U) and "Ride, Ryder, Ride" (EL). Mild $9,000 or near. Last week, "Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col) and "Lady at Midnite" (Col) nice $13,500

homa" (Col) and "Lady at Midnite" (Col), nice $13,500.

Century (20th Cent.) (3,000; 40-70)—"Tulsa" (EL) and "Alimony" (EL). Trim $14,000. Last week, "Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) and "Trouble Makers" (RKO) (2d wk), big $10,500 big $10,500

DENVER

(Continued from page 10) 1 "Crime Doctor's Diary" (C and

(Continued from page 10)
and "Crime Doctor's Diary" (Col), same.

Esquire (Fox) (742; 35-74) —
"Calamity Jane" (U) and "Streets
San Francisco" (Rep) also Denver,
Webber, Slow $2,000. Last week,
"Champion" (UA) and "Crime Doctor's Diary" (Col), $1,800.

Orpheum (RKO) (2,600; 35-74)—
"Edward, My Son, (M-G) and
"Valiant Hombre" (UA). Mild $11.
000. Last week, "Big Steal" (RKO) and "Rustlers" (RKO), $12,000.

Paramount (Fox) (2,200; 35-74)—
"Big Cat" (EL) and "Shamrock Hill" (EL). Dim $7,000. Last week,
"City Across River" (U) and
"Search for Danger" (FC), $8,000.

Webber (Fox) (750; 35-74)—
"Calamity Jane" (U) and "Streets
San Francisco" (Rep), also Denver,
Esquire. Slim $2,000. Last week,
"Champion" (UA) and "Crime Doctor's Diary" (Col), $1,800.

Blanke Producing Joan Crawford Pic

Henry Blanke was handed production reins on the forthcoming Joan Crawford starrer, "Man Without Friends," starting late this t Friends," starting late this onth at Warners.

Producer has four pictures coming up. Others on his program are "Bright Leaf," "Victoria Grandolet" and "Ethan Frome."

SAG Rolls Down

Hollywood Aug. 2.
Screen Actors Guild is down to 6,533 active members, the lowest number in four years. Membership was 7,898 in 1946, 7,756 in 1947 and 7,008 in 1948.

Guild spokesman declared the recent clamor for "new faces" on the screen has not resulted in a rush of new members.

Guild spokesman declared the recent clamor for "new faces" on the screen has not resulted in a rush of new members.

'Number' Paces L'ville At Bright $14,000; 'Lining' Lusty 8G, 'Gatsby' 12G

Lusty Oc, Louisville, Aug. 2.
Louisville, Aug. 2.
Top notch product is putting downtown houses back in the running this week despite temperatures in the 90's. Neat business in being turned in by "Look For atures in the 90's. Neat business is being turned in by "Look For Silver Lining" at Mary Anderson, State's "Any Number Can Play" is excellent and Rialto's "Great Gatsby" is okay. Week marks closing of three-week run of vaude shows at the National. Revue-type vaude, produced by W. H. King, was top notch, but healthy biz was not forthcoming.

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week

not forthcoming.

Estimates for This Week

Mary Anderson (People's) (1,400;
45-65)—"Silver Lining" (WB) Neat
$8,000, and possible h.o. Last week, "Johnny Allegro" (Col), $6,000.

National (Standard) (2,400; 5085)—"Time, Place, Girl" (WB) and "Crazy House" (Indie) (reissues) plus W. H. King vaude revue on stage. Modest $6,000. Last week,
"Last Wild Horses" (SG) and "Idol of Crowd" (FC) (reissue) plus vaude, $7,000.

Rialto (Fourth Avenue) (3,000;
45-65)—"Great Gatsby" (Par) and
"Strike It Rich" (Mono) Okay $12,000. Last week, "Sand" (20th) and "File 649" (FC), $11,000.

State (Loew's) (3,000; 45-65)—"Any Number Play" (M-G) and "Henry, Rainmaker" (Mono) Gable strong enough in "Number" for nice $14,000. Last week, "Wizard
Of Oz" (M-G) (reissue) and "Sccret Garden" (M-G); slow $10,000.

Strand (FA) (1,000; 45-65)—"
Illegal Entry" (20th) and "Arctic Manhunt" (20th) Medium $5,000.

Ats teach, "Red Menace" (Rep)
and "Flaming Fury" (Rep). $4,500.

'Fountainhead' Very Big 15G, Port.; 'Geronimo' 10G

Portland, Ore., Aug. 2.
Two Warner pix are in competition to each other, "Fountainhead" at Broadway being hot but "Girl From Jones Beach" at Paramount looks just passable. "Stratton Story" still is coining money in third week at United Artists.

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week
Broadway (Parker) (1,832: 50-85)
—"Fountainhead" (WB) and "One Last Fling" (WB). Torrid $15,000.
Last week, "Africa Screams" (UA)
and "Jigsaw" (UA), $11,000.
Oriental (H-E) (2,000; 50-85)—
'Geronimo" (Par) and "Lonesome
Pine" (Par) (reissucs), day-date with Orpheum Slow $3,500. Last week, "House of Strangers" (20th)
and "Forbidden Street" (20th), $3,800.

week, House of Strangers and "Forbidden Street" (20th), $3,800.

Orpheum (H-E) (1,750; 50-85)—
"Geronimo" (Par) and "Lonesome
Pine" (Par) (reissues), also a Oriental. Good $6,500. Last week, "House of Strangers" (20th) and "Forbidden Street" (20th) $7,500.

Paramount (H-E) (3,400; 50-85)—
Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and

"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Clay Pigeon" (RKO). Passable $10,000 or near. Last week, "Doolins Oklahoma" (Col) and "Arson, Inc." (EL), $7,700

United Artists (Parker) (895; 50-)—"Stratton Story" (M-G) (3d k). Still big $9,500. Last week. 85). wk). St

'Lining' 11G, 'Patch' 101/2G Spark Omaha's Upbeat

"Silver Lining" and "The Great Dan Patch" will wake up the box-offices at Paramount and Orpheum this round. "Colorado Territory" at Brandeis also looks solid. "Silver Lining" looks-standout with fancy session at Par session at Par.

Estimates for This Week

Paramount (Tristates) 12.800: 16-65)—"Silver Lining" (WB), Fancy $11,000. Last week "Canadian Parcific" (20th), $10,000.

Orpheum (Tristates) (3,000: 16-65)—"Great Dan Patch" (UA) and "High Fury" (UA), Okay $10,500. Last week, "Outpost in Morocco (UA) and "No Minor Vices" (M-G, $10,000. Brandels (RKO) (1,500: 16-65)—

After Radio City Music Hall's longest run of the year and biggest gross of the year Warner Bros. ring up the golden curtain nation-wide!

Pix Reeking With Nostalgia As

By MIKE CONNOLLY

Clara Bow, Gloria Swanson, Harold Lloyd, Mack Sennett, Buster Keaton, Erich Von Stroheim-the news from Hollywood these days reads like the good old days. Reareads like the good old days. Rea-son for it all is the sentimental kick upon which studios are cur-rently embarked, sparked by the success of Metro's 45-minute dose of nostalgia. "Some of the Best," with Jean Harlow, Marie Dressler, John Gilbert, Greta Garbo, Ramon Novarro, Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, John Barrymore, Wallace Beery, et al. Beery, et al.

Miss Bow is mapping her come back via a strawhat stint at Santa Fe, N. M., this month in "Personal Fe, N. M., this month in Appearance." Von Strohelm and Miss Swanson, along with Gertrude Astor and a string of other old-timers, are sharing costar billing with youngsters Nancy Olsen and William Holden in the Charles Brackett-Billy Wilder paean to Holdwood's diaper days. "Sunset lywood's diaper days. "S Boulevard" at Paramount.

Boulevard" at Paramount.

Lloyd and Sennett are hitting the comeback trail mostly via relissues, although Lloyd is also in Howard Hughes' backlog in "Mad Wednesday" on the RKO shelves. It's figured the actor's newly-dubbed "Movie Crazy," first release by the Charles Casanave-Neil Agnew Motion Picture Sales Corp. will pave the way for reception by the younger generation of filmgoers of Lloyd in "Wednesday."

Mack Sennett

Mack Sennett

Sennett's contribution is a film made up of clips from some of his old comedies, which Eagle Lion will release. Sennett, a thesp him-self before he turned producer-diself before he turned producer-di-rector, will appear in some new footage, and there'll be glimpses of a toupee-less Bing Crosby, Donald Novis, Phyllis Haver, Marie Pre-vost, Mabel Normand, the Misses Dressler and Swanson, Louise Fa-zenda, the Keystone Kops and other Sennett alumni.

Keaton will be seen in 20th-Fox's
"You're My Everything." a George Jessel original that reminisces fondly about the days of the silents. Big name star of yesteryear, Ruth Clifford, is also in this picture.

Clifford, is also in this picture.

Another big-budgeter about the days of 40-foot Rolls Royces, which haven't proved too popular a subject for film-makers recently, is 20th-Fox's "Dancing in the Dark," in which William Powell plays a broken-down silent star who makes somewhat of a comeback. Also in the film, which co-stars Betsy Drake and Mark Stevens with Powell, will be oldtimers Sid Grauman, Adolphe Menjou and Jean Hersholt. Hersholt.

Other vets who'll be seen in x are Polly Moran in Metro's Adam's Rib," Spencer Tracy-Kath-"Adam's Rib." Spencer Tracy-Katharine Hepbura starrer: Heine Conklin, Hank Mann and Betty Blythe, in Monogram's "Jiggs and Maggie in Jackpot Jitters;" Lewis Stone, only actor under contract at Metro who has been there for the entire 25 years of the studio's history, in "Key to the City."

tory, In "Key to the City."

Also Leatrice Joy in Columbia's "Air Hostess;" Julia Faye in Paramount's "Red. Hot and Blue," Betty Hutton-Victor Mature starrier, Mae Marsh in 20th-Fox's "Front and Center," football yarn co-starring Dan Dailey-Colleen Townsend, Corinne Calvet, William Demarest and Evelyn Varden; and William Bakewell, who'll play a featured role in Niven Busch's "Daybreak," for United Artists. Latter thereby will be reunited "Daybreak, for United Artists.
Latter thereby will be reunited with Lew Ayres, with whom he first appeared in "All Quiet on the Western Front" back in 1929.

And then there's "The Life of Rudolph Valentino," which Eddie Small swears up and down he'll put before the cameras sometime this year. Or next.

Par's Pro-Fabian Pitch

Paramount is producing a special short in hon-cuit's 35th honor of the Fabian cirsnort in nonor of the Fabian cir-cuit's 35th anniversary. Par's friendly overture is being made because the Fabian chain is label-led as the company's first cus-tomer. Group of theatres signed the first contract pic, Aug. 8, 1914. ract for a Paramount

Briefie is to be shown in every Fabian house during the month of Continuing its gain of the first quarter, Technicolor scored again for the six month period ended June 30 when the tinting com-pany's net take hit $1.147,720 against $880,832 for the equivalent period of 1948 Second-quarter period of 1948. Second-que profits amounted to $483,970. Second-quarter

Equivalent per-share earnings totalled $1.25 on outstanding common against 96c in the previous

Brit. Quota Slice

altered substantially. In the combines it is generally reckoned that an average British picture will take least 15% less at the boxoffice that an equivalent Hollywood production. Among the independents the difference is much greater and the figure is quoted at around 3315

Although J. Arthur Rank has maintained silence on the subject, prominent industry toppers believe that he now shares the general exthat he now shares the general exhibiting view that the present quota is completely uneconomic and that in consequence he is prepared to support the forthcoming agitation.

Sir Philip Warter, Associated British topper, recently hinted that his circuit was having quota difficulty in regard to the three-day situations. The ABC circuit has around 200 such theatres and at least 20° will be defaulting on their quota. They've maintained their quota, particularly for supporting programs, with a lot of resissues, but the cost involved would certainly not justify following the same procedure next year.

Small-Seaters

Continued from page 5

others are urging the proposal heothers are urging the proposal be-cause they are currently suffering from acute shortage of product. These small-seaters, some of which were formerly newsreel houses, have been depending on a dwin-dling supply of British and foreign-language pix. Operated as first-runs, these flickeries are without the economic strength to bid for new Hallywood-made by these. new Hollywood-made pix. Hence, their current dilemna,

As a result, pitch was made sev-As a result, pitch was made several weeks ago to several sales toppers. It is understood, the chains have been promised that consideration will be given to the plan which could spread to a number of situations throughout the country.

country.

In some Instances, it is said, the features could be pulled from the library without the need of making new prints. Art houses, in turn, would guarantee first-run bookings. If any of the pix caught on big, majors would be able to rush out a larger number of prints to take advantage of the boom.

'Cycles' Wave

Conlineed from page 3=

Fox); "Yes Sir. That's My Baby" (Universal); "In the Good Old Summertime" (Metro); and "Top o' the Morning" (Paramount).

Big beef is that spacing of these musicals is complicated by the insistance of distribs that their films be played as soon after availability as possible. Pressure by the distribs is currently helghtened because of drives to liquidate playdates at the earliest possible moment. Several large circuits have recently fended with the majors on this score. Big beef is that spacing of these

Circuit ops claim they have just merged from a prior cycle and re now being hit by the avalanche musicals. Last cycle was that westerns. Theatres, it is said. of westerns. Theatres, it is said, had to digest in a short period of time "Whispering Smith." "Yellow Sky." "Streets of Laredo." "Canadian Pacific." "El Paso." "Colorido Territory" "The Yonnear Brothers" "Red Canvon." "Tulsa" and "South of St. Lonis." B.O. Champs

Oldtimers Crowd Back on Screen

MIKE CONNOLLY

Hollywood. Aug. 2.

Bow. Gloria Swanson, Hard, Mack Sennett, Buster Erleh Von Stroheim—the om Hollywood these days are the good old days. Reapany's net take hit $1.147.720 against S880.832 for the equivalent money were widely split up among five pictures. These were topped five pictures.

money were widely split up among five pictures. These were topped by "Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) and followed by "Red Menace" (Rep). "Happens Every Spring" (20th), "Home of Brave" (UA) and "Edward. My Son" (M-G). Besides "Silver Lining," which got into the Big 10 during July brightest newcomers appear to be "In Good Old Summertime" (M-G) and "You're My Everything" (20th). Also showing possibilities, on the basis of its initial date at the N. Y. Paramount, is "Great Gatsby" (Par). To a lesser degree, "Lost Paramount, is "Great Gatsby' (Par). To a lesser degree, "Los Boundaries" (FC) and "Dan Patch" (IA) hip future potentiallies Boundaries" (FC) and "Dan Patch" (UA) hint future potentialities. "Great Sinner" (M-G) on its first playdate at N. Y. State did not show great strength but appears to have been badly spotted in this house, with the real test yet to come.

"Sand" (20th), which obtained several bookings early in July, hardly measured up to expecta-tions, with too many lukewarm hardly measured up to expectations, with too many lukewarm weeks to get it far in the running. The month saw a surge towards comedy vehicles and lighter fare. The former yen carried "Africa Screams" up to fourth place nation-wide for one week. The urge for lighter fare also was a big help to "Jones Beach."

"Not Wanted" (FC) brought in some nice grosses at the end of the month without creating too much excitement. Lack of boxoffice names, despite it being a sex pleture, probably hurt.

office names, despite it being a sex pleture, probably hurt.
"Red Shoes" (EL) continued its extended-runs in many keys, holding up remarkably well, despite the hot weather at the N. Y. Bijou, where it now is in its 41st week.
"Joe Young." which captured fifth position one week, looks like fifth position one week, looks like the exploitation picture of the month, doing sensational business in the few scattered spots where opened. Big trade is credited with coming from the extensive circus-ing of the production, "Home of Brave" (UA) and "Champion" (UA) both continued year well.

ng of the production. "Home of Brave" (UA) and "Champion" (UA) both continued very well.

The way in which reissues registered nice coin caused plenty of trade comment. Possibly the best showings were made by the RKO packages of "Gunga Din"."Lost Patrol" and "Dumbo"."Saludos Amigos" as well as by Metro's "Wizard of Oz." "Lonesome Pine" (Par) and "Geronimo" (Par). Amigos" as well as by Metro's
"Wizard of Oz." "Lonesome Pine" (Par) and "Geronimo" (Par),
"Tulsa" (EL) and "Streets of Laredo" (Par) both chalked up

Quota No Help

which starts next June 14. icans were hoping that the British situation in general would have improved sufficiently by the time contract was reopened to up take which the government permits.

The negotiations now appear likely to be nothing more than going through motions. The Americans will fight for the hest possible deal—including a reduction in or elimination of the quota—but the most important thing—remittances —seem unlikely to show improvement. There is objection to the quota as a matter of principle and bitterness because the British raised it after making the $17.000.000 agreement. Americans maintain that since the English already limited remittances, they negotiations now maintain that since the English al-ready limited remittances, they were putting the double whammy on by also instituting a high quota. That's all the more reason for re-strained glee that the quota has failed to prove effective. Final straw in forcing Wilson to seek a lower quota from Parliament is formal representations made by the Associated British Circuit—one of the three major chains—pointing out that it will not be able to meet the figure. Strong possibility is seen that the two Rank circuits—Otieon and Gaumont-British—may be faced with the same problem.

Only 69 British features were registered for the year ending last March 31 and many of those were of doubtful quality. seek a lower quota ment is formal r from Parlia

Jessel's Chi Time-Table Ballyhoo Sked; Giving His All for 'Everything'

Chicago, Aug. 2.
Pointing up the heavy exploitation campaigns show biz now uses to hypo the b.o. is the "you-can't-waste-a-minute" timetable worked out for Georgie Jessel for the three days prior to his opening at the Orlental here Thursday (4).
Arriving in Chi Monday morning, Jessel appeared with Leo Durocher and Fenetic

Arriving in Chl Monday morning, Jessel appeared with Leo Durocher and Frankie Frisch on the baseball telecast over WBKB. Following that was a quick trip to the racetrack to present a cup to the winner of the handicap, then a press conference at 5:30 p.m. plus a dinner tendered by Ernie Byfield, of the Sherman and Ambassador hotels.

Today (Tues.) the comic appeared on ABC's "Breakfast Club," attending the Railroad Fair which staged a Jessel Day, and was feled at a press cocktail partly with Anne Baxter, star of 20th-Fox's "You're at a press cocktail party with Anne Baxter, star of 20th-Fox's "You're My Everything." at the Sherman. Tomorrow (Wed.) he goes on ABC's "Welcome Traveler" and then plays three shows at Milwaukee's Palace. Thursday ayem will start with a parade sponsored by the Windy City. And then he'll start five-aday at the Oriental, he says, "if I'm still living."

DIVESTITURE DISMISSAL DENIED TO WB IN PHILLY

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.
An order denying Warner Bros.
plea to dismiss a divestiture motion of William Goldman Theatres. Inc., was issued Saturday (30) by Judee William H. Kirkpatrick in U. S. district court here.

The Goldman motion, filed Feb 25, asked the court to compel Warners to dispose of its first-run houses here or be prohibited from exhibiting films of other defendants. The motion claimed the plaintiff had no equal opportunity to negotiate for all films so long as Warners controls its own theatres to show new films.

to show new films.

The New York expediting court recently ordered divesture in the Government suit against the same defendants.

Overseas Prod.

- Continued from page 5 20th-Fox's "Night and the City," in London.

Others set to go within next five weeks are "21 Bow St.," which Sam Engel will put before cameras in London for 20th-fox; Hal Walls' "September," in Italy; Metro's "The Miniver Story," in London: Boris Morros' "Tale of Five Cities," in London: Boris Morros' "Tale of Five Cities," in London, for Federal Films.

London, for Federal Films.

Also belng activated are pair of Roy Rogers' starrers, which Republic will make in early fall in Britain; Metro's "King Solomon's Mines," to go in Kenya Colony and Belglan Congo, in mid-October; two untitled Allied Artists films, to roll in England, and very likely several Charlie Chans which Monogram is planning for English production. Universal - International expects to launch a couple at least in England during next few months. months.

Walter Wanger is another indie producer with foreign plans. He will do "The Duchess of Langeais" "The Ballad and the Source either France or Italy, with and calling for former's start

Far Away Places

On other side of the world. Metro will do "Tahlti" on that island, and Mikel Conrad will do an untitled adventure film on same island. Both will be made with frozen francs.

Still another overseas Metro undertaking will be "An American in Parls," produced in Paris, Casey Robinson recently compfeted exteriors for "The Big Fall" in Paris for 20th-Fox. Edgar Ulmer directed "Pirates of Capri" in Italy, winding up several months ago.

Additional American films shot and completed abroad are Warners' "The Hasty Heart," made in Britain; 20th-Fox's "I Was a Male War Bride," shot in France, Germany and England. Lewis Allen and Franchot Tone co-produced "The Man on the Eiffel Tower," in Parls, with RKO slated to release. John Auer made "The Avengers" in Argentina.

Better Pix

Continued from page 3

pensive properties durin economy era that began a of years ago. during

Par is understood to have de-bated the expenditure, and like-wise that for rights to film the Ringling Bross, Barnum & Bailey circus, for some time. It was then decided that the outlays should be made in the Interest of having the best possible product during the early stages of divorcement.

Expenditure for "Detective Story" was $280,000 plus $17^12'c'_0$ of the gross after 1.9 of the negative cost has been recouped. Circus rights cost $150,000 plus a percentage. In both cases, the high cost of story rights means big, expensive budgets and pictures that will have to be heavy grossers to get the company off the nut.

Par Desires 'Street Car'

In addition to these two expensive properties already acquired, Par is known to be much interested in "A Street Car Named Desire." Tennessee Williams' Jongrunning Broadway legit hit. Failure to interest any studie in the running Broadway legit nit. Fail-ure to interest any studio in the property at the approximately half-million dollar price originally asked for it has served to reduce the price tag somewhat, but it will the price lag somewhat, but it will still be an expensive purchase. Par now has the "Street Car" buy under consideration. It will depend considerably on the sched-ule of director William Wyler, who wants to make it, whether Par will go into further negotiations with Williams' agent on price. Giving further indication of Par's intention of making histoir

Giving further indication of Par's intention of making biggies at any cost are reported negotiations by the company to get Spencer Tracy for the lead in "Detective Story." It was originally purchased for Alan Ledd or Ray Milland, but studio heads are now said to be attempting to make a deal for the Metro star.

RKO's policy on picture budgets following divorcement has not

RKO's policy on picture budgets following divorcement has not been clarified. However, a pattern may take shape now that Howard Hughes has officially taken over as production chief. 20th-Fox may certainly be expected to emulate Paramount in going in for heavy-budgeters to meet the competition when its hig National Theatres when its big National Theatres chain is separated from it. Veepee Al Lichtman made that clear only last week in a talk to visiting cir-cuit pub-ad chiefs when he told them "divorcement may be a blessing in disgulse."

Agnew's Pix

Continued from page 7 =

in English, while the others will be done with French casts with English dubbing. MPSC has also acquired distrib rights to all of Pagnol's old films for a three-year period, following expiration of contracts with Siritzky Interna-tional.

Agnew stated that American production abroad has had to buck production abroad has had to buck some difficulties but Hollywood methods are gradually making their impact in European production circles. Studio facilities and technical personnel on the Continent are firstrate, especially in Rome, and the influx of American producers, directors and stars in Europe today promises to result in a brand of realistic, yet entertaining films wanted by U. S. filmgocrs, Agnew asserted.

Other pix which MPSC will release include a Technicolor version of "Carmen," to be produced in Rome's Scalera studios by Baratello, who did the early version of "Ben Hur." Another operatic pic will be "Pagliacci," directed by Mario Costa and starring top Italian opera singers. Hollywood difficulties but Mario Costa and starring top ian opera singers.

Serles of pix to be made abroad in English will include a William Dieterle production now shooting in Italy with Miss Magnani, Ger-aldine Brooks and Rossano Brazi.

aldine Brooks and Rossano Brazi. Already completed. Agnew stated, is "The Street of Fallen Angels" with Maria Montez, Jean-Pierre Aumont and Lilli Palmer. A George Raff starrer, "Cairo." will also be made for MPSC release together with the "The Thief of Venice." "Paradise" and "Queen of Sheba." latter starring Maria Montez with shooting to roll in November. Another French pic. "Chartreuse de Parme." starring Michele Morgan and George Philippe, will be dubbed in English for U. S. release.

The most powerful screen excitement of the year!

A story of bold men... fiery women...played against a background of adventure...intrigue

...drama...in the World's hottest danger zone!

UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL presents

ANDREWS TOREN

Stephen McNALLY

word in the Desert

with JEFF CHANDLER . PHILIP FRIEND . HUGH FRENCH . LIAM REDMOND

Directed by GEORGE SHERMAN • Written and Produced by ROBERT BUCKNER

Clips from Film Row

R. N. Wilkinson upped to Universal branch manager in Memphis, replacing R. P. Dawson, who has gone into business on his own. Wilkinson has been with U since 1941.

BUFFALO

George A. Mason, former manager of Shea's Great Lake for 15 years, becomes house manager of Twentieth Century this week, succeeding Jerry Cavanaugh, Mason began in show business with the Shea organization in 1920, having been manager of the Hipp, North Park and Kenmore. He also managed the Century when Shea operated house.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO

Prez Steve Broidy heads a contingent of Monogram and Allied Artists execs due here for national meeting of franchise holders and branch manager at the Drake hotel Aug. 5-7. Others en route to the session are Harold Mirtsch. veepee; Harold Wirthwein, western sales manager; Howard Stubbins. Coast franchise holder; M. J. E. McCarthy, Los Angeles exchange manager, and L. E. Goldhammer, eastern sales manager. Latter held pre-conclave confabs with Broidy here. Three-day meet will be highlighted by an announcement of the companies' 1949-50 production slate. Sales policies will also be worked out. Those attending from the New York homeoffice will be Edward Morey, veepee; Morey Goldstein, general sales manager and Lloyd Lind, supervisor of exchanges. Aside from numerous franchise holders, managers of Monogram's 31 exchanges will also be on hand.

National Dealers annual convention opened here with 2,000 registered, increase of 25% over last year.

Allied theatres operating 98 theaters in over 50 towns is spending $25,000 in public relations campaign to encourage attendance.

Milford theatre, northside nabe, reopened July 30 after extensive. Cecil B. De Mille and Ben Hecht in town with Ringling Bros. cireus.

reopened July 30 after extensive remodeling.
Cecil B. De Mille and Ben Hecht. In town with Ringling Bros. circus, getting background material for film.
Woods, Essaness house, grabbed off "Jolson Sings Again" for midwest preem Aug. 19. Picture will have $1.25 top nights, first advance admission film here since "Joan of Arc." Preem will be preceded by $10 ticket benefit for Cancer Fund with Jolson Rying in for the occasion. George Jessel, who will be headlining at Oriental, nearby house, will m.c.

house, will m.c.

Balaban & Katz officials gave a Iuncheon for Abe Platt, who takes over the duties of northside super-

DALLAS

PALLAS

Recent formation of an "arty" film club in Port Arthur. Tex., has prompted the operator of a local theatre to adopt a new policy of occasional bookings of foreign and documentary films, heretofore not available in this area. Move resuited from an agreement between the newly organized Cinema Guild and Charles Brent, co-owner of the Village theatre, under which the Guild will guarantee the house's profits when the "off-beat" pix are shown.

Cinema Guild membership will attempt to sell these films to general filmgoers via its own publicity campaigns. Guild is a non-profit outfit which has taken its cue from several thousand other such art clubs existing in the U.S. Unusual feature of this club, however, its tieup with the local commercial exhibitor.

Passing of the hat among Texas

Passing of the hat among Texas Passing of the hat among lexas theatre patrons will be revived Aug. 11-17. It will be a relaxation of the no collection rule for benefit of Texas pollo sufferers.

Harry Cook, an usher at the Texas San Antonio suffered a be revived a relaxation of Texas pollo sufferers.

Harry Cook, an usher at the Fexas, San Antonio, suffered a proken leg when he fell 15 feet from baicony, lie was dusting the balcony railing when he lost his subance.

balance.
Paul Short, indie visiting here, arranged with Interstate Circuit for a hig world preem of his "Kid From Texas." it will have midnight shows in 25 local downtown and abe houses Oct. 8. He will have Audie Murphy, star of film; Gale Ftorm Albert Dakker and others

ing Mr. and Mrs. Biliy Mayes, have moved to a similar spo have moved to a similar spot at Tulla, Tex. Jefferson Amus. Co., shuttlered the Liberty at Beaumont for re-decoration and remodeling. Project is expected to take three months.

ST. LOUIS

R. E. Carney Theatres, headed by Rowe E. Carney, former Mayor of Rolla, Mo., lighted its new Rowe, 600-seater in Rolla.

500-seater in Kolla.
Elbert Butler, Hillsboro, Ill., and his brother, Homer S. Butler, Jr., Centralia, Ill., who own picture theatres in Southern Illinois towns, signed lease on a 10-acre site near Centralia for 500-car drive-in.

drive-in.

Construction of new 500-car drive-in near Carthage, Mo., is nearing completion. W. D. Bradfield and V. F. Haremore, both of Carthage, are co-owners.

Southern Enterprises, Inc., which has been operating the New Vernon, 551-seater, Mt. Vernon, Ill., for 17 years, purchased house from Lee L. Hurley, Evansville, Ind.

Bloomer Amus. Co., which owns the Rex—and Ritz. Belleville, Ill., opened its—new 750-car drive-in south of town.

Lack of cooling system shuttered the Rex, Freeburg, Ill., for the summer.

mer.
Second new drive-in theatre near Sikeston, Mo., lighted by a syndicate headed by Ö. D. Clayton, M.
Ralph and S. Potashnick.
Chains of theatres owned by Rowe E. Carney, former mayor of Rolla, Mo., and Mildred Rauth have been merged for booking and buying purposes, with Miss Rauth in charge of the new pact. Miss Rauth's holdings include the 600seat Ritz, in Rolla and a number of others in southern and southeastern Missouri. Carney, head of seat Ritz, in Rolla and a number of others in southern and southeastern Missouri. Carney, head of the R. E. Carney Theatres, Inc., owns two large houses in Rolla and others in St. James and Cuba, Mo. Miss Rauth succeeds "Buck" Lewis, general man manager for the Carne tion, who has been side lined by illness.

DETROIT

Wisper and Wetsman circuit en-tered drive-in field as construction of two ozoners got under way this veek.

Dave Idzal, manager of Detroit's
'ox, ill for week with kidney in-

Dave Idzal, manager of Detroit's Fox, ill for week with kidney infection.

William Graham, former manager of Affiliated Theatres' President, jbined Midwest Circuit as relief manager.

Alex Schreiber, owner of Grand River and Gratiot drive-ins, retained Attorney Seymour Simon to obtain improved clearances for his theatres which now are playing third-run. Paramount, Loews and Universal aiready granted Schreiber second-run.

Thanks to Arnold London, David T. Roberts, manager of London's Plaza Theatre, was on probation for six months after he admittedly stole $113 from house safe. Because only 22, London, who owns the theatre, would not prosecule Roberts for the theft. He also stays as manager and promises to repay the money.

CALGARY

Dawson Creek Theatres, Ltd., started work on a new theatre here to be ready in September. Will seat 600. Planning commission here rejected a request by J. R. Diamond, manager of Sunset Drive-In Thea-tres, Ltd., for permission to estab-lish a $50,000 drive-in theatre and lish a $50,000 drive-in theatre and cabaret. Felt site should be kept for residential purposes.

For better setting-up of new Saskatchewan drive-ins, directors of Saskatchewan Moving Picture Exhibitors meeting in Regina, formed a committee to help the provincial government draw up regulations to govern them.

H. B. Narfason building new theatre at Foam Lake, Sask.

Grand theatre, Regina, is having its interior facelifting, making it the third largest house there and room legit shows.

KANSAS CITY

Durwood circuit opened its first drive-in, The Skylark, in St. Joe July 25. It is one of three the circuit is building, the others be-ing in Jefferson City, Mo., and Joplin, Mo., drive-in, Vern Peterson will take over this Tri-State drive-in, including it with theatres he handles at Baxter Springs for Commonwealth.

Commonowealth takes over management of Oriole, Unionville, Mo. House is owned by G. W. Summers. Circuit will shift Harold Mc-Cracken from Strand Creston, Ia., to manage. to manage.

ATLANTA

Harvey Smith, partner and general manager of Tower here, joined SuperVend Corp. of Dallas as organization's national theatre sales rep. He previously was with Georgia Theatre Co. and also Wilbygia Theatre Co. and also Wilby-Kincey chain. E. B. Price, salesman for War-ner's branch here, named branch manager for company's new Jack-sonville exchange center.

BOSTON

Ben Bebchick promoted to assistant to branch manager Benn Rosenwald at Metro. He was sales

Rosenwald at manager last year.
While here on his way to New Yacation, James C. parinpsnire to vacation. James C. Petrillo announced that a war against the 20% amusement tax is being waged by the American Federation of Musicians. He blamed the tax for slump in show biz.

RKO Theatres

Continued from page 3=

number of questions. According to Odlum's information on the proposal, the Mellon Bank of Pittsburgh is loaning Meyer, et al., $4,000.000 of the $5.574.120 to help close the deal. Mellon bank is the same institution that Hughes used to bankroll his acquisition of RKO cot trol last year.

$250,000 Commission?

To add to that, Odlum was informed that Hughes has agreed to pay the Meyer associates a $250,000 commission if their offer is met by Odlum or bettered by others. In form, the Odlum letter quizzed Hughes. "How come the Mellon bank which backed you is now backing Meyer?" Details on the commission, which the Atlas toper contends is lnvalid against him, were also demanded. Odlum strongalso demanded. Odlum strong ly indicated that he had no inten-tion of meeting the Meyer proffer but would go to the courts if it was accepted.

accepted. While Merrill, Lynch, Pearce, While Merrill, Lynch, Pearce, Fenner & Beane, Hughes' financial reps in New York, continued to negotiate with other interested parties, the Meyer offer appeared to be a firm one. As a binder, Meyer, who is on the Coast, has posted $1,500,000 in escrow. Confusion, all the same, was apparent in N. Y. on whether the Coast negotiations were only talk and not gotiations were only talk and not a firm proposal.

Kingsberg Angle

Kingsberg Angle
On the Meyer side, recriminations appear to be directed mainly to Kingsberg, who has been allied with Odlum in previous dickering but is apparently operating sans Odlum with a syndicate at present. One of the big beefs is the claim that Kingsberg has been raising the necessary cash to bid for the circuit by seeking loans from machine vendors, concessionaires and others.

others.
On this side of the argument, it is said that the RKO theatre chief has been dickering to exchange future franchises on soda pop, candy and popcorn business for present cash backing. Kingsberg, it is asserted, is also seeking backing from Eisner & Lubin, accountants. While the beef is on, there is nothing in such actions which ants. While the beef is on, there is nothing in such actions which could be considered illegal.

Allied with Kingsberg in the present manouvers are a number of outside parties. Julius Joelson, head of the Joelson circuit in N. Y... a participant as well as Albert Greenfield, big Phlladelphia realtor.

Meyer reps, for their part, claim that their cash is derived completely from private sources. If so, the Odlum squawk would not be valid. Odlum is said to be aroused by size of the Mellon loan which he contends a bank ordinarily would not advance on such a deal as the RKO circuit purchase.

Under the terms of the Odlum option, Hughes agreed to give the Allas official eight days notice of bound to the problem of the Palace at Silverion, replac brown Lakes in will nave iniding in shows in 25 local downtown and make houses Oct. 8. He will have had be he will have had be had be option. Hughes agreed to give the Allas official eight days notice of outside offer "by disclosing tentatively its terms so that you may have opportunity to give adequate attention to such offer." Odlum from Lainer Richey.

J. H. Hotchkiss named manager of the Palace at Silverion, replac of the Palace at Silverion, replac
of the Palace at Silverion, replac-

Keys Disagree on B.O.

has been so little to go by, however has been so little to go by, nowever, exchange managers say the rentals have been "too low," based not on the pictures' drawing power in the particular situation, but on the run which is the last. There's now a tendency to boost rentals with the drive in operators, however, resisting the boosts.

No New Theatre Building

4. Aside from the drive ins. theatre construction in the territory has been slow since the war's end and only a small amount of it is has been slow since the war's end and only a small amount of it is currently in prospect. The consent decree has held back the Paramount circuit and high building costs have been a deterrent for independents. In some building lines these costs are hitting new highs. The Minneapolls city council is on record to refuse to issue licenses for new theatres because, according to North Centrai Allied contention, the city already is overseated. However, it let down the bars in two instances the past several years. One of the two new theatres allowed was to replace a shuttered house. In Twin City suburbs there have been three new atres allowed was to replace a shuttered house. In Twin City suburbs there have been three new theatres built since the war and several more are being readied for construction. Throughout the territory about 25 new, small theatres have been built. Minnesota Amusement Co. has rebuilt several theatres and spent a considerable sum on modernizations and improvements. The same goes for independents.

Both French and Berger agree that the candy concession business rises and falls with theatre attend-ance and the slump in patronage ance and the slump in patronage is correspondingly reflected in edible sales.

6. French and Berger feel that product has lagged behind that of a year ago in quality on the a year ago in quality on the average. In French's opinion, however the product coming up is strong and will boost the boxoffice. He's optimistic on the score product.

Status Quo on Prices

Status Quo on Prices
7. In this territory there's no move afoot to revise admission scales up or down. With business holding up comparatively well, nobody is talking reductions, although North Central Allied is taking an active part in the fight for elimination of the wartime exceedingsion tax. The status quo for elimination of the wartime ex-cise admission tax. The status quo-likely is to prevail for some time here. Agriculture, on which the territory's welfare is mainly based, continues comparatively prosper-ous. As a result, the Industry's ex-hibiting end probably is better off hereabouts than in many other sec-tions. A good crop outlook also A good crop outlook also tions. A good buoys optimism.

8. There has been no shuttering of the tres this summer except in a very few isolated instances. Practically all the conventional theatres tically all the conventional theatres along with numerous new drive-ins are running full blast.

9. Exploitation and advertising are on a continuously increasing scale and showmanship is the most in evidence of any time since before the war. French is a firm believer in salesmanship as a means of increasing grosses and he has the Minnesota Amusement Co. advertising and exploitation budgets at their highest level in recent years to combat the lowering boxoffice trend. office trend.

10. French says the toll taken by

10. French says the foll taken by outdoor sports and other competing attractions is about the same as in other years. These competing attractions vie with films for patronage and, of course, wean away a certain number of potential the-atre customers, he points out. Ber-ger declares the toll is greater than ever because throughout the terever because throughout the ter-ritory more small towns have had baseball park lighting plants stalled and there is more n baseball than ever before.

General Trend Has Been To Cut Film Clearances

At this time it appears that the At this time it appears that the most important industry develop-ments hereabouts are the agitation by neighborhood, suburban and other exhibitors for earlier avail-ability and the fight to obtain fil-rental reductions—a fight that's al-ways being waged, but that's now ing to make demands for prompter availability. Berger still feels that clearance isn't a problem as far as drive-ins are concerned.

As far as drive-in film rentals are concerned, Berger says, it's a case of "getting all that the traffic will bear, the same as with conventional theatres." Because there are the resulting to the problem of the problem mands for it and for still greater concessions along this line continue to pour in on distributors, Before the consent decree decision, there was only one 28-day availability house, the Minnesota Amusement Co.'s local Uptown. ne Minnesota local Use Now a half-dozen independents and another affillated circuit house has that early clearance.

The earlier runs are costing the

The earlier runs are costing the independent and suburban houses substantially higher rentals than they paid for, but that doesn't seem to faze the affected exhibitors. Some of them, bidding competitively against each other, have boosted their film costs 200 to 300% higher, but they're going right on doing it. Efforts of North Central Allied to get the exhibitors to agree on some plan of staggering runs so as to eliminate competitive bidding have been unavailing tive bidding have been unavailing. The reason for this, according to Berger, is that the exhibitor selfishly or competitively, wants to have an advantage over his fellowexhibitor and is unwilling to forego

The present fight for lower film rentals is based on the argument that grosses are in a permanent downward trend and are off from their peak and that Hollywood duction costs have been cut, so that exhibitors are entitled to a reduction. Instead, Berger asserts, the distributors are demanding higher distributors are demanding higher prices for their product. As a result, exhibitors in the territory "are up in arms" and squawks are pouring into the organization's headquarters here. A board of directors meeting has been called to decide on a gourse of extinct to decide on a course of action trial, Judge Moore said that the verdict, $65,000 actual damages and $225,000 punitive, was largest amount ever given in a Missouri and $225,000 punilve, was largest amount ever given in a Missouri court Involving personal injuries, invasion of privacy, libel or slander. The court also said, "the actual and punilive damage awards in an action of this sort are so excessive as to be necessarily the result of passion, prejudice and sympathy," aif of which moved him to grant the motion.

'Expendable' Suit Continued from page 1

The picture, testimony deyeloped, showed Mrs. Walcher having a romance with Navy Lt. Robert B. Kelly during the last days before the fall of Bataan. She said this was untrue. Her husband, Miss. Walcher testified, was on Balsan at the same time, and although both were imprisoned by the Japanese, they did not meet until panese, they did not meet until both were released and transferred oth were released and transferre

o an Army hospital in Denver.
Another charge made in the sui as Mrs. Walcher's "friendship
th Keily pictured in advet sements as "flaming romans tisements as "flaming romance as real and tender as flesh and blood can make it." In addition to charging that her privacy had been invaded, Mrs. Walcher testified that such notoriety made her wiffer interestly. suffer intensely.

'Brave' in D. C.

Continued from page

have been no disorders of any

A Miracle, Brother!

A Miracle, Brother:

Memphis, Aug. 2.
Lloyd Binford, Memphis, censor, has okayed "Home of the Brave" for showing here. It opens at the Malco theatre later this month.
Binford's action came as a surprise in this very-much Jim Crow territory. Nixed in the past have been even "Our Gang" comedies which showed Negra and white kids playing together.

Nixed in South Africa

Capetown, Aug 2.
"Home of the Brave" has been ren the red light by South Africa "Ilome of the Brave" has been given the red light by South African censors. Highly touchy on racial questions, the government has refused to allow the anti-Negru discrimination pic to play in this ahead for the indies. This de-cision. Levy says, "opens the door to competition and, theoretically, is a wonderful thing. It puts the film business on the same basis as all other industries."

Decree Means Upped Rentals

all other industries."

Then Levy inserts the big "but."
"From an independent exhibitor's view, and as a practical matter, this is a tough deai. Whether theatres will be able to live under this competition will be interesting to watch. I don't know whether they can stand the gaff from a rise of rentals caused by competitive bidding."

While the court dealers of th

While the court declared that theatre-by-theatre selling does not require competitive selling. Levy is convinced that the majors can only use that method as a safety only use that method as a safety measure against discrimination tharges. TOA expects to inter-decree hearings in an attempt to limit that form of prod-uct selling to situations where ex-hibs specifically ask for it.

hibs specifically ask for II. Exhibs are claiming that the entry of new coin into exhibition is already driving up the rentals past the profit point. Several examples are cited in which new theatre ops have boosted the price of film anywhere from 100%-300% to a drive to grab choire nix and in a drive to grab choice pix and drive their competitors out of

Distrib Tries to Protect

Distrib Tries to Protect
In the face of claims that competitive selling is threatening exhibition, distribs are maintaining that they are resisting any such development. One sales topper told Variety this week that "when we see two competitors murdering each other, we stop selling competitively and split our product." "When a circuit fights an indie for product, we know the possibiliproduct "When a circuit fights an indie for product, we know the possibili-ties," this sales exec continued. "The big chain wants to force the 'Bidie out of business—and then, where are we?"

Regardless of this sane approach, ndie exhibs declare that the general level of rentals is climbing steadily. The decree, they are convinced, can only speed that development to a disastrous point.

Entire situation is summed by Levy in his conclusion to the TOA bulletin: He says: "The major

PAT DONAHUE

LAUREL FILMS, INC.

JUDSON 6-0126

America, whose report this week beneficiary of this case was to be to TOA members sees dark days the independent exhibitor. That ahead for the indies. This de-was the motivating force behind exison. Levy says, "opens the door the action. Now that this 'industry case' is reaching out to the end of its long road, it is fitting to take inventory to determine how and whether the independent exhibitor has been benefited.

has been benefited.

"If competitive bidding: if the elimination of licensing an entire season's product at one time; if the licensing of pictures one at a time; if the loss of treasured runs and clearances: if the loss of status as an old good customer; if the taking away of theatres from distributors and placing them in the hands of others who have no market to producers and distributors, divorced from exhibition, to produce and to distribute directly for television, since again, they will have no theatres of their own to protect; if the constant threat of cutthroat competition and the resultthroat competition and the resultthroat competition and the resulting fantastic increases in film rentals; if all of these things, and many others, are good, then the independent exhibitor has been benefited. These are the facts stripped of all hollow and illusory generalization. ties.

Lichtman

Continued from page 6 :

tures being produced today are as good as they were in any given period. But the preponderance of 'cheap pictures' that are thrown on the market by the hundreds to sup-ply the double bill houses far outply the double bill houses far out-number the A pictures and are dragging our business down and is the main cause of the hue and cry of bad pictures. We in the produc-tion and distribution field have no-means of stopping this. This con-dition can only be corrected by the exhibitors by discontinuing the showing of double features." showing of double features.

showing of double features."
In his pitch for higher rentals, Lichtman repeated his statistics showing the Big 5 actually lost more than $16,000,000 in production and distribution in 1948, making their profits from their theatres. He pointed out shorts producers are now operating at a loss and most indie producers have disappeared from the scene. Thus, Lichtman said, producers actually are "the world's biggest gamblers." He conceded extravangances in production, but said "I do not know how to correct them." At present, he noted, there are 51 unions in the studios and, while star salaries are studios and, while star salaries are enormous, they cannot be reduced because of supply and demand.

because of supply and demand.
Thus, Lichtman said, "all of this summed up means two things. One, rewards in this industry should be divided equitably ... Next, all of us in production, distribution and exhibitionmust work harder than us in production, distribution and exhibitionmust work harder than ever before, and must work in full cooperation and sympathy to one another's problems in order to at-tain maximum results with every worthwhile picture."

THE LOUIS DE ROCHEMONT

"Lost Boundaries"

BEATRICE PEARSON
MEL FERRER
A FILM CLASSICS RELEASE AIr
nditioned ASTOR 45th St.

New York Theatres

IDA LUPINO PRESENTS

"NOT WANTED"

GLOBE, B'way & 46th St.

RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL GARLAND . Van JOHNSON

"IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME"
Color by TRCHNICOLOR
A Metro-Glodwyn-Mayer Picture spectacular stage presentation

BENEK

CY REEVES

DAN DAILEY - ANNE BAXTER YOU'RE MY EVERYTHING'

A 20th Century - Fox Picture in Technicolor Variety Slage—Bob CROSRY - Sid STONE Ice Slage—Carel LYNNE - Arneld SHODA

ROXY Th Ave 4

Exhibs Alone Can Influence Better Pix Flow: Gamble

Theatre Owners of America board chairman Ted Gamble, de-claring that "divorcement is now a certainty," believes exhibitors are certainty," believes exhibitors are mainly responsible now for insuring a flow of quality product. Since the major studios will no longer be concerned with feeding films to their own theatres, he averred, exhibs must promote that product by getting the maximum business out of each film.

of each film.

Listing the problems that will follow in the wake of divorcement. Camble also predicted a good duture for the industry in a talk at the 20th-Fox homeoffice meet of theatre ad-publicity chiefs, based on his belief that the nation's economy is in a healthy condition. While noting that supply has caught up with demand in most industries—which he said is not unusual—Gamble declared the film industry is unique in that supply usual—Gamble declared the film industry is unique in that supply has never caught up with demand. "We have never been able to meet more than 60% of public acceptance for our product," he said. "We have customers ready, willing and able to buy all the good pictures our industry can produce."

Divorcement, he pointed out, will inaugurate competition among the inaugurate competition among the-afres throughout the country and he expressed the hope it would not be cut-throat competition, since 'that would be disastrous.' Among other problems resulting from di-vorcement. Gamble said reduction a "complete re-evaluation of selling methods." Many theatres which heretofore could depend on a prefrential run for the majority of their business will now be forced to do a better selling job. These exhibs, he said, will no longer have that psychological advantage to back them up.

back them up.

Gamble paid particular attention to Industry public relations, declaring it is based on Hollywood conduct, picture content, exhibitor-distributor relations and Government relations. That projected all-industry campaign, he said, can be "an important milestone" but the final solution to the problem still lies at the exhib's door, at the community level.

Small-EL

Continued from page 5

which is a major investor in Pathe and thus was active in the nego-tiations, is in Europe until Sept. 7.

Small's 200G in Valentino

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Edward Small arrives here from N. Y. Friday (5) to put "Life of Rudolph Valentino" in work Aug. 15. He has completed senior Rudoiph Valentino in Work Aug.

15. He has completed script.

Walter Craig, a newcomer, will play the role. Small has over $200,000 invested in the production, including a tremendous amount for work on screenplay. research, tests.

research, tests.

No release for the pic is set, but it is likely it will be Columbia, unless Small's Eagle Lion deal jells Declaration, by 20th-fox and by Jan Grippo, indie, that they consider Valentino material fair game and would produce pix about late star is believed, responsible for Small's gudden speedup Small's sudden speedup sible of production plans.

MPAA's Pitch

Continued from page 4 =

van, Theatre Owners of America prexy, of plans for a festival of big pix in October, the roster of titles ties in with that effort to promote biz. 20th-Fox showed evidence of a similar idea this week in issuing a lineup of fall and winter pix for a inneup of fall and winter pix for the Roxy, its Broadway showcase. Roxy managing director A. J. Bala-ban, under whose name the list was issued, was quoted as calling it "the most impressive lineup of interested 20th Confure, Fox films it "the most Impressive lineup of important 20th Century-Fox films to play the house." Pix slated for the 20th flagship include "Slattery's Hurricane," "I Was a Male War Bride," "Thieves' Highway," "Father Was a Fullback." "Everybody Does It," "Prince of Foxes," and "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

Divorcement Appeal in Air

all prices. Therefore, it is felt, it evitable and try to sell at the highest figure-which means as soon as possible. Balanced against this, of course, are the profits made from the theatres during the period while the litigation continues.

As for the television angle, it is feared that the producing companies will not be given channels or other facilities by the Federal Communications Commission as long as they are involved in antiiong as they are involved in anti-trust proceedings. Feeling by some industryites is that the three defendants would be better off giving up on the theatre fight and turning as quickly as possible to video as a potential source of income.

All of the thinking on both sides is conditioned by the agreement that there is little chance of winning a reversal by the U. S. Supreme Court of the divorcement decision by the N. Y. special statutory court. All the attorneys agree that it is a simple matter to count moses on the high tribunal and, knowing the complexion of each man's thinking by his decisions in knowing the complexion of each man's thinking by his decisions in other cases, come up with the undeniable conclusion that the court will let the divorcement decision stand.

Court May Deny Appeal
Washington, Aug 2.
Belief in some indus, y quarters:
that the anti-trust suit against Loew's. Warner Bros. and 20thfox may drag on another two or three years in appeals is not generally held in Washington. Government sources generally feel that the Supreme Court would probably not take the case again. If the Supreme Court refused another appeal, then the ruling of the trial court would stand, and that would be the end of the matter.

Recent ruling of the New York court was hailed by the Allied States Association as a personal victory. A statement issued by victory. A statement issued by Abram F. Myers, Allied board chairman, declared in part:

"For Allied this is victory-total might be wisest to accept the in- and complete. Every legal argument Allied has advanced in favor of divorcement now has judicial sanction. Every benefit which Allied claimed would result from divorcement is in process of fulfillment fillment ... "It is a great loss to the government, to the independent exhibitors and to the public that Robert L. Wright, who prosecuted the case so tenaciously, should have resigned before it was wound up. To him should go the honor of presenting to the court the final decree of divorcement and divestiture." It would be reassuring if Wright could be induced to return to the Department long enough to clean up these odds and ends."

Lab Union

Continued from page 7 :

prised by Walsh's move in view of his previous pledge to give supprised by Walsh's move in view of his previous pledget to give support to the union's exec board "in any move deemed necessary to obtain a settlement." The union had already proceeded with the printing of picket signs, renting of strike headquarters in strategic areas and organization of mobile squads to supervise and enforce the walkout. Mailed orders to all union members were already sent out before the strike machinery was stalled by the IATSE national leadership. leadership.

New negotiations are scheduled to reopen later this week with Federal counciliator J. R. Mandelbaum sitting in. The union is bypassing wage hike demands in favor of a 34-hour week, a welfare fund and severance pay clauses. These demands, however, have been met by industry objections that they are in no position to "increase costs at this time by even one-tenth of 1%," Top company exces will replace the present employer group in negotiating a new pact with Walsh and the local's committee. The agreement will be retroactive to June 19. New negotiations are scheduled white spot.

Produces a steedy, sharp, uniformly illuminated snew-

Silvered glass reflector and two-element variable focal length lens system.

Draws only 10 amperes from any 110-volt A.C. convenience outlet. Adjustable, self-regulating transformer, an integral part of the base, makes the use of heavy rotating equipment unnecessary.

Easily operated. Automatic arc control maintains con-stant arc gap, free from hiss or flicker. A trim of carbons burns one hour and 20 minutes at 21 volts and 45 am-

Horizontal masking control. Can be angled at 45 degrees Color boomerang contains six slides in each direction. and ultraviolet filter holder.

Mounted on casters. Easily disassembled for shipping.

CITY & STATE

Please send free literature, prices and name of the nearest dealer in Strong Spottights,

NAME THEATRE STREET

Price-Slashing Finds Open-Enders Being Peddled for as Low as $3

Chicago. Aug. 2. Price - slashing in syndicated open-end transcriptions reached new depths today with the announcement by George Roesler, sales veepee of Ital Tate Productions, of programs being sold for $3 each. Most open-enders are priced with an eye to station's power, rate, and population served. Under Roesler's scheme, platters are sold for a flat fee, regardless of whether station is a peanut whistle or a 50-kilowatter.

Alexander McQueen's "Nothing But the Truth" is being peddled at $3 for five-minute episodes, and $4.50 for quarter hours. Smiley Burnette quarter hour open-enders are tagged at $100 for 79 episodes. Also under the Tate banner are Frann Weigel's "When Day Is Done," "Tom, Dick and Harry," and "Yellow Kid Weil."

Latter has Weil himself closing dramatization with a spiel on "crime didn't pay."

Tate and Roesler feel that their new price policy will be a boon to

Tate and Roesler feel that their Tate and Roesler feel that their new price policy will be a boon to stations whose local advertisers can't afford the usual syndicated tap of $25 or $50 per program. Several outlets reportedly have expressed the intention of absorbing the disk charge to steer announcement buyers into thinking in terms of programs.

'People' Tues. Airer Gets Sat. Repeats

Chicago, Aug. 2.
When "People Are Funny" comes back on NBC Sept. 20 for Raleigh cigarets, it will be bolstered with a.m. repeat broadcasts over 17 eastern NBC outlets. The Art Linkletter show will air live from its usual Tuesday 9:30 p.m. apot, and repeat transcribed the following Saturday in the 9:30 a.m. slot in an effort to catch an entirely new audience.

Russel M. Seeds agency handling the deal has no intentions of staging the repeat shows on a nationwide basis, and has sold Brown & Williamson Tobacco on the idea of playing it cozy with the 40% population figures on the east coast. Renewal, effective for 52 weeks, goes into effect Sept. 6.
Seeds radio director Jack Simpson said the Tuesday p.m. and Saturday a.m. periods would reach entirely different audiences, which would justify the additional expense of the ditto airings.
Week before "People" returns.
"A Life in Your Hands" bows out as the Raleigh summer replacement. Mystery show folds Sept. 13," with no immediate prospects of finding another spot under the B&W banner.

of finding another spot under the B&W banner.

AUTRY MAY GET CBS TO SWITCH IN PHOENIX

Chicago. Aug. 2.

CBS may have a new Phoenix affiliate in January when the web's contract with KOY comes up for renewal. Cowboy star Gene Autry wants CBS affiliation for his KOOL. Plenty of pressure is being put on CBS from both sides. Autry reportedly has the active backing of two longtime friends and advisors—P. K. Wrigley, bankroller of Autry's Saturday romp on CBS, and H. Leslie—Atlass, CBS Central Division veepee. Chicago, Aug. 2.

Central Division veepee.

KOY joined CBS in 1937. KOOL is presently a Mutual-Don Lee affiliate. Both stations are 5.000

Wm. Shriver Gets Radio Post on Catholic Airers

Washington, Aug. 2.
National Council of Catholic
Men, which produces three network Men, which produces three network religious programs, last week appointed William H. Shriver, Jr., of Baltimore as radio director. He succeeds William C. Smith, now managing editor of Benziger Bros., publishers, of New York.

NCCM produces "The Catholic Hour" (NBC), "Hour of Faith" (ABC), and "Faith in Our Time" (Mutual).

Murray Bolen to B&B

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Murray Bolen joins Benton & Bowles here Aug. 15 to handle Prudential Family Hour of Stars on radio and "Armchair Detective" on video.

He checks out of KTTV tele staff for job to which he was appointed by Walter Cralg, who is here confabbing with Ted Steele and Al Kaye, local agency veepees.

Up Chalmers To K & E Radio Boss

William A. Chalmers, who for the past year and a half has been Ford account exec for Kenyon & Eckhardt, has been elevated to the post of radio-TV director of the Eckhardt, has been elevated to the post of radio-TV director of the agency.

Chalmers succeeds Leonard Erickson, who has resigned. Latter, formerly with BBD&O, joined K&E two years ago, when Bill Lewis relinquished the post of radio-TV director to become supervisor of the Lincoln-Mercury account Erickson says he'll announce his new tieup in a few days.

Chalmers joined the agency in 1947, moving into the Ford account exec spot a year later. Ford radio plans, in the wake of its cancellation of the CBS hour dramatic stanza, are still indefinite, and thus far has only committed itself to the "Ford Television Theatre" program. Eugene Burr meanwhile has joined the agency as script editor of "Ford Ty Theatre."

Agency's only coast-to-coast radio airer is Borden's "County Fair."

Iowa Network Refuses To Carry School Games On Des Moines Fee Plan

Des Moines, Aug. 2.
Decision of the Des Moines school board to assess a fee for rights to broadcast play-by-plays of high school football and basket-balls games here, has been scored by the Iowa Tall Corn Network stations. The broadcasters, representing 13 stations in the state, declared that they would, not air any school sports events for which any school sports events for which any school sports events for which a fee is charged.

A resolution unanimously adopted by the stations said that their carrying of school sports contests gives the schools valuable publicity which increases boxoffice figures. They added that potential advertisers could not pay fees in addition to costs of program time, telephone lines, personnel and other expenses.

The regional wcb claimed that other high schools have provided other high schools have provided broadcast facilities for use by local and out-of-town stations without fees of any kind.

Transit Radio Pacts Southwest Station Reps

Chicago, Aug. 2.

Transit Radio has appointed Taylor-Borroff station reps to handle its business in the south and southwest out of the T-B offices in Atlanta and Dallas. Clyde Melville heads the Dallas branch, and Tony West tops the Atlanta office.

Move follows TR's decision to move its sales headquarters to New York Aug. 8. Sales veepee Frank Pellegrin will shift offices that date, leaving Carlin French here to head up western sales division.

Kupcinet Gossiper

Chicago, Aug. 2
Columnist Irv Kupcinet of the Chi Sun-Times has been inked for a 15 minute weekly gossip show via WMAQ, starting Sept. 11 for Turner Bros. Clothing through the Lawrence ad agency.
Kupcinet was signed on a 13week basis, in the Sunday 10:30 p.m. spot, and will feature guest celebs. Herb Lyons and Clay
Bergman produce.

Bergman produce.

BOB DAVIS

Rob Davis, a member of KLZ's topmotch aunomicing staff, has been doing mike work for a dozen years—another example of the experienced "know-how" that stamps KLZ as "The West's First Station." KLZ, Denver.

94.2% of Homes In U.S. Listen To Radio Now

A total of 39,281,230 families in the U. S .- or 94.2% of all homes have at least one radio in working order, according to "Radio Families-U.S.A., 1949" published by the Broadcast Measurement Bureau last week. The total is a hike of 1,658,230 homes over the 1948 re-

1,658,230 homes over the 1948 report.

BMB's new publication, priced at $5 but selling for $3.50 as an introductory offer, includes data on total families, percentage of families with radios in working order and total radio families for all counties and for almost 1,500 cities. Although it was originally planned to use BMB's '48 report for Study No. 2, a new report was made to get greater accuracy and completeness. The '49 opus covers an additional 65 cities whose populations have grown. All communities with stations are reported and where there is no station, communities with more than 10,000 population are reported. reported.

reported,
Dr. Kenneth H. Baker, acting BMB prexy, announced that the bureau now has 601 subscribers.
There were 700 subs for the previous study, but that figure included FM stations operated by AM subscribers. Explaining BMB policy on making available information on non-subscribers, Baker said that members can get data on non-members if the latters' signal shows a measurable audience in at shows a measurable audience in at least one county of formers' area. Agencies and sponsors can get info on non-subscribers through sub-scribing stations.

'Amazing Improvement' In BBC Programs Noted By Chi NBC Director

By Chi NBC Director

Chicago, Aug. 2.

"An amazing improvement" in British Broadcasting Corp. programming was noted by NBC education director Judith Waller, who has just returned from a UNESCO conference in Paris. Miss Waller had not observed BBC programs since her last trip abroad in 1936, and was surprised by what she termed an upsurge in program interest and preparation.

"Whereas BBC shows used to be pretty dull, and lacking in audience appeal, they are now extremely interesting and show a tremendous amount of thought and care that rivals our own American commercial shows," Miss Waller said.

During her visit to London, she noted the amazement expressed by British observers that U. S. commercial stations often beam shows at educational and cultural groups, such as public servicers stressing civies, social problems and projects, and straight news handling of special non-commercial events.

Miss Waller on her visit to Radio-diffusion in Paris, observed that while the entertainment seemed to be of top flight character, the technical reception nowhere near matched that offered by U. S. methods.

From the Production Centres

IN NEW YORK CITY . . .

Eddie Albert signed by NBC for cross-the-board audience participa tion morning show, starting in September. Will likely go TV, too WOR announcer Carlton Warren will spend his two-week vacation on navy duty with a destroyer... Peggy Lobbin doing "Grand Central Station" Saturday (6)... Peter M. Soutter has joined ABC as account exec....Sid Ascher and George Schreier have pooled their flackeriesWNBC has increased the "Johnny Bradford Show" to three times weekly... Sam Taylor to leave scripting staff of "My Good Wife" because of pressure of work on his forthcoming tele stanza and Rodgers & Hammerstein's "The Happy Time." Russell Beggs will take over on "Wife"... Blaney Harris, former casting and audition director of Dougherty, Clifford & Shenfield, has been upped to the post of supervisor of radio and television production... Patsy Campbell on "True Story" Thursday (4).

Dougnerty, Chinord & Shenneid, has been upped to the post of supervisor of radio and television production... Patsy Campbell on "True Story" Thursday (4).

Cyril Armbrister, in N. Y. from the Coast to sell "Chandu, the Magician" and a new comedy show, based on the Saturday Eve Post's "Tughoat Annie" series, has taken over direction of John Gibbs' Mutual "Against the Storm" serial, succeeding Ed Downes, resigned He is also doing Perry Lafferty's "Dorothy Dix" show during the latter's vacation and now expects to remain in New York indefinitely Mary Lou Forster doing the new Dentyne spot commercial for the fall campaign... Rosemary Rice, radio and TV, auditioned for the new George Abbott musicomedy... Bernard Lenrow and Charles Penman new to "Front Page Farrell" cast... Helen Claire joins "Young Widder Brown" players... Dorothy Francis added to "Lora Lawton" cast... Charlie Basch, of Basch Radio-TV Productions, taking his first vacation in 15 years, motoring in Maine and Canada... Johnny Thompson, bartone of WJZ and WJZ-TV, has an unusual assignment in "Miss Liberty." He does only one tune, "Paris Wakes Up and Sings," arriving at the Imperial theatre at 9:30 and leaving by 10 p.m.... George Petrie, star of CBS "Call the Police," completing a mystery-comedy which Martia Gilman is considering for Broadway production this fall... "Cisco Kid" series adding six new outlets... Martin Bush, former director of shows on WEVD and WGHF, added to WNYC announcing staff... NAB prexy Justin Miller leaving for California vacation Aug. 5... John Ryan, WQXR salesman, back at his desk after recuperating from major operation... Zel DeCyr, WEVD story teller, has taken over "World's Great Short Stories" on WGHF... Al Simon, WQXR's light music director, clefting several songs for a revue at the Peterboro, N. Y., Playhonse late this month... WNBC's Ken Banghart left Friday (29) for two weeks at Cape Cod... William R. Hesse of BBD&O has been named account exec for Swan Soap, which has moved over from Y. & R... Suzanne Johnstone, 21-yr-old back from a month in Europe. Latter stars in "Mr. and Mrs. North."

IN HOLLYWOOD . .

IN HOLLYWOOD . . .

Sam Hearn (Schlepperman) now helping himself to "Chicken Every Sunday" on NBC in a character created for him by Jack Rubin, who, incidentally is becoming one of the town's top scripters. Among other assignments he has been set to adapt "A Yankee From Olympus" for the fall teeoff of Hallmark Playhouse Sept. 8....CBS calling in its western division affiliates Aug. 8-9 for rundown of net's promotion plans for next season....Bud Berend shuttling between his Hollywood base and Frisco to line up new clients for NBC's western operation Bill Erwin, writer-turned-comic, essays "Shy Guy" in a half hour comedy written and directed by Jess Oppenheimer for CBS. It was put on wax last week and the platters are whirling in the commission houses ... Fran Allison (Kukla Fran and Ollie) seeing the town in tow of NBC's Bob Brown and Sid Strotz, ex-Chleagoans both... Tom Me-Cray, NBC's program topper, looking in on the net's originations and doing a bit of doctoring here and there with Homer Canfield, Coast program head ... CBS decided to convert studio A with its 900 seats to television after prowling the town for an audience plant. Radio shows using the site will be farmed out to rental auds if the traffic becomes too heavy at Columbia Square... Paramount's Marty Lewis made a tieup with Ralston Purina to plug the studio's stars on 366 stations via Mutual... Madeleine Denmead, assistant office manager of Young & Rublcam, passed away last week following brain surgery... William N. Schary, one of Hollywood's earliest agents, is packaging a mystery titled "The Black Widow," to star Lurene Tuttle, Robert Bruce directed from script by John Monsos and the platters are now making the rounds... Kathy Lewis will be back next season as Marie Wilson's sidekick in "My Friend Irma." She was out most of last semester because of prolonged illness ... Ken Dolan has hot interest in the Bob Burns quarter hour strip and the Bill Goodwin half hour situation

IN CHICAGO . .

IN CHICAGO

Tom Elvidge new asst, program director at WGN... WLS changes are Bernice Warner shifting to Barn Dance production, and John Drake taking over as flack ABC tossed a welcome party for singer Johnny Desmond, who moved into Breakfast Club in Jack Owens' place. WBBM news editor Frank Barton leaving Aug. 12 for two-week trip to Europe. WCFL airing a special show Aug. 4 in front o' Oriental theatre with Howie Roberts and Marty Hogan doing emcee chores. ABC's Shoppers Special-switching to new time of 8:30 a.m. on Aug. 6.

WBBM program director Al Morey to Thousand Islands for vacation... NBC salesman Bill Brewer on honeymoon. He married Virginia Sherman July 23. Jimmy Hutchinson, formerly of WWVA, Wheeling. W. Va., has joined WLS Sage Riders, replacing Red Blanchard. NBC singer Dennis Day in town for a week's personal appearance Mutual's Dorothy Reynolds to Estes Park, Colo. for vacation... Singer Patsy Lee back on Breakfast Club after vacation. ABC's 'Ladies Be Seated' airing from Illinois State Fair at Springfield Aug. 15-19. Tenor Lawrence White on Chi Theatre of the Air Aug. 6. WBBM engineer Bob Meyer talking about his new son WMAQ producer Ben Park playing host to three radio students from Germany Eugene (Dinr) Bell has joined WBBM music staff. Newscrafter's George Stone and Clint Youle subbling for WMAQ's Clifton Utley while he's on six-week European tour... Tom Moore of ABC got an injured leg while water sking at Railroad Fair... NBC summer radio institute winding up Aug. 5 with co-directors Judith Waller and Don Fedderson handing out diplomas. WILA of Woodstock, Ill., pfeking up Grant Park concerts. WBBM sales promotion manager Ralf Brent in New York for promotion clinic. NBC staffer Lillian Fertig wedding Richard Braun Aug. 27. Fahey Flynn and John Harrington announcing new WBBM sports program starting Sept. 24. NBC veceper Chiek Venables back from Michigan vacation Aug. 15.

TIME MARCHING OUT WITH NBC

Radio's 2,400 Murders a Year

Hollywood, Aug. 2.

Bittor, VARIETY:
During the height of the radio season I estimate that 50 murders are committed each week on the four networks. This does not include the local stations which kill off quite a few each week too. Television is excluded in my figures.

I break my figures down this way: According to Hooper pocket edition of last April (height of season) CBS leads with 15 nightime shows in the mystery classification. I'm not allowing for multiple murders that are committed on some of these programs—I allow one murder to a broadcast, which is fair, I think. CBS carried about 17 soap operas during the week—I allow one murder to every four daytime shows—which adds another four to CBS' total, so the Columbia Broadcasting System, according to my findings, kills an average of 19 people a week. This puts them on top of my list.

list.

Mutual kills about 10 people each night and practically none during the day—so that proves that MBS does all its killing at night and ranks second to CBS, which is very good for a lesser night and ranks second to CBS, which is very good for a lesser network.

ABC murders an average of eight citizens (or aliens) a week during the night hours and about one and a half during the day.

NBC is a bad fourth, killing only an average of three victims in the evening and about four during the day. I understand that NBC is mending its ways and during the summer has added more guns to its arsenal.

This makes a grand total of 45½ murders per week—but I say 50 just in case I have erred. So the four networks murder an average of 200 people a month or 2,400 a year. I know some of them cease fire during the summer but there are replacements that sometimes destroy more of the population than their parent shows. I defy Murder, Inc., or any other organized crime unit to match these figures. Will TV outmurder radio? I don't know at this time but they'll have to do better than the movies. If each movie showed one murder that would total a few hundred—the movies can't hold a candle to radio for murder. Please remember that all my findings are approximate and all figures are subject to change. Murder fluctuates quite a lot you know.

Mannie Manheim.

Johnson Warns of Trouble Ahead If Radio Accepts Liquor Com'ls

Washington, Aug. 2.

Washington, Aug. 2.

The networks which have accepted whiskey advertising from Schepley may be in for trouble from the government.

Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) of the Senate Committee on Interstate & Foreign Commerce served notice last week that if the FCC or the Treasury Dept. can't keep liquor copy off the air Congress will. His committee, he said, has a bill pending to ban interstate trensmission of such advertising. "If the liquor people go ahead with their plans to use the radio to peddle their wares," he warned, "they will assure passage of that bill." (Time was purchased two weeks ago on the full ABC web and owned and operated stations of NBC and CBS).

Johnson called on Secretary of the Treasury John Sender and and owned and operated stations of NBC and CBS).

Johnson called on Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder and Acting FCC Chairman Paul Walker to see what their agencies can do to stop the advertising. He said the Treasury's Alcohol Tax Unit has authority to guide and evento discipline the industry which it licenses. There can be no doubt that the Alcohol Unit supervises the content of advertising which is indulged in by the industry."

Chairman Johnson wrote Snyder that "while radio licensees are stupid to even consider broadcasting liquor advertising" the FCC has no authority to censor advertising copy. However, he added, he Commission, under its broad "public interest" powers, could make a policy determination when a station's licensee comes up for renewal.

Ile told Snyder he was of the a station's license comes up achewal.

He told Snyder he was of the opinion the Treasury has both the authority and the responsibility "to stop cold this reckless plan to invade the privacy of the home with liquor sales talk." There is a "vastly different principle" involved between newspaper and magazine advertising and that by (Continued on page 36)

Hall Marks

Washington, Aug. 2

Recent streamlining of the National Assn. of Broadcasters, voted at a meeting of the board in Portsmouth, N. H., left some casualties in the Washington headquarters. Here's how Gladys Hall, secretary to A. D. Willard, exec veepee, whose office was abolished, advised contacts of her

"SITUATION WANTED — MISCELLANEOUS. Available until further notice for sightseeing tours (car provided, luncheon, cocktail or dancing luncheon, cocktail or dancing companion, baby or puppy sitting. Reasonable rates provided on request. Qualifications: some. References: None. Distinguishing marks: Axe scar from recent Portsmouth massacre. Apply to Gladys Hall, 815 South Ode Street, Arlington, Va., Chestnut 6009."

Lion Roars At 'H'wood Calling'

Hollywood, Aug. 2.

As long as Metro is furnishing the stars for the new NBC Sunday night giveaway, "Hollywood Calling," the studio won't countenance the thought of the network plugging other studios' product.

Metro has told off NBC in no uncertain terms, refusing to permit use of the device "the prize that money can't buy," wherein contestants would be awarded props. costumes, etc., used in rival studio pix.

DUE FOR REVISE

Because it is currently in a dilemma about what to do with its flock of new summertime shows that merit a continued showcasing this fall, NBC may toss out radio's long-established time-table on program scheduling and experiment along brand new lines.

As result, NBC may come up this fall with time periods other than half-hour or quarter-hour. It's conceivable, according to the present thinking, that the network may divide an hour of programming time by installing a show best suited for a 20-minute format, followed perhaps by a capsule stanza of five minutes, and wind up with 35-minute dramatic program. The 60-minute breakdown would permit for a flexible three or four-way program spread to match the content of the show.

program spread to match the content of the show.

The radio "face lifting" pattern, should it materialize, stems from NBC's problem on retaining some good properties tested during the summer. On the basis of sale deals now in negotiations, it looks like NBC may wind up with about three unsold half-hour segments when the curtain goes up on the new broadcasting season. (Sales include two daytime strips. Elaine clude two daytime strips, Elaine Carrington's "Marriage for Two" going to Kraft, and Sealtest buying the adjacent segment, probably for "Thanks for Tomorrow," which currently occupies the time as a sustainer.)

currently occupies the time as a sustainer.

Potential Click Programs
Thus with only 75 minutes left for the sustainer whirl, NBC faces the poser of losing out on the right to such potential clicks as "Chicken Every Sunday." "Silent Partner." "Dragnet." "My Good Wife" and the Dick Powell show. NBC also wants to keep Henry Morgan when he comes off the summer commercial ride. (Problem of "Archie Andrews" has already been solved, since it will be returned to a Saturday morning slot.)

sol.)

By unshackling radio from the traditional 15. 30 and 60-minute bookings. NBC figures it could establish a formula to keep worthy stanzas on the air.

NBC is also mulling the idea of a so-called "perfect program schedule" experiment aimed at getting away from the block-booking idea. On either Sunday afternoon or late Saturday night, the network may routine shows along the same lines as a vaudeville bill. bracketing programs weekly for variety, pace and entertainment value.

CANOVA, COLGATE SIGN FOR '49-50 AIR SHOW

Judy Canova, through her agent, Arthur Lyons, and Colgate-Palmolive-Peet got together in New York last week for a fall radio series starting Oct. 1.

She follows Dennis Day on NBC Saturday night, giving Colgate and one of its ad agencies, Ted Bates, the full hour. Understood price tag on the package is $8,000 as against the $11,500 she received last season from the same sponsor.

So There, Now You Can't Sue Us, Say Cal. AM'ers

magazine advertising and that by (Continued on page 36)

'Claghorn' Set to Roll

It took five auditions to hit what BC thinks is the right format, but the Kenny Delmar "Senator Claghorn" situation comedy is now set to roll.

Situation comedy is how set to roll.

Situation comedy is how set to roll.

Situation comedy is how set to roll.

Situation comedy is now set to roll.

As result, NBC has been forced abandon the idea, at least during the duration of Metro's run on the giveaway, which continues until the jackpot is cracked.

REVERE RENEWS 'MOVIE'

Chicago. Aug. 2.

Revere Camera Co. has renewed "In side to whom the five has also out a Phil Foster sund moving in with his in-laws.

NBC has also out a Phil Foster audition, record called "Inside Brooklyn," record called "Inside Brooklyn," Record called "Inside Brooklyn," wherein that money can't buy," wherein to motestants would be awarded props, costumes, etc., used in rival studiopix.

As result, NBC has been forced abandon the idea, at least during the duration of Metro's run on the giveaway, which continues until the jackpot is cracked.

REVERE RENEWS 'MOVIE'

Chicago. Aug. 2.

Revere Camera Co. has renewed "Given protection under the measure are affiliate stations, which is 15 minute airer with Clark Dennis, Peggy Mann. Buddy Gilbert orch. Marvin Miller and guest stars.

Roche & Cleary agency handles.

PROGRAM SKEDS | NBC Grabbing Off Some Ex-CBS'ers In Slotting Ambitious UN Series

Wrong Script

Wrong Script
Louisville, Aug. 2.
Three-week contest over WKLO just ended, in interest of a local appliance dealer, had a surprise finish, when Mrs. Barry Bingham, wife of Courier-Journal and Times, WHAS owner, was declared the 'winnah.'
Entries numbered 580 from

WHAS owner, was declared the "winnah."
Entries numbered 580 from three counties in the Falls Cities, and odd twist is that with seven AM, two FM and one TV station in this market, the winner should be wife of owner of the largest competitor station, and a wealthy person in her own right.

Mutual Folds Branch Offices; Accent on N. Y.

Mutual is shuttering its sales offices in Philadeiphia, Atlanta and Detroit. Move is viewed as fitting into prexy Frank White's longrange blueprint for tightening up and integrating the entire operation.

Closing of the three offices is cued to the fact that there isn't much biz in those locales. MBS has no auto accounts from Detroit, billings aren't coming in from Coca-Cola and other southern firms for the Atlanta rep and the Philly outlet no longer needs to service Bayuk Cigars, which is leaving radio and MBS with its $1,200,000 annual gross billings. annual gross billings.

annual gross billings.
At the same time, it's reasoned,
White is concentrating his sales fire power where the money bags are, in New York. Evidence of the centralizing process is seen in recent staff changes, following the checkout of E. P. H. James as ad-promotion-research-planning yeepee.

George M. Benson, now eastern sales manager, has been appointed national sales topper, working under sales veepee Z. C. Barnes and covering the entire network selling staff, with the eastern and western sales managerships eliminated. Duncan R. Buekham has been named division sales manager, to headquarter in N. Y., and Carroll Marts has been named to a similar position, with offices in Chi.

James' duties are being taken over by program sales veepee Robert A. Schmid. Working under the latter will be Harold M. Coulter, handling ads and promotion, Richard J. Puff. in charge of research, and William Fairbanks, planning. George M. Benson, now ear

COMO TO TAPE 'EM; FLEXIBLE FORMAT

Hollywood, Aug. 2.

Perry Como will come west within the next few weeks with his entire staff, excepting studio orchestra, to tape six or eight of his first fall Chesterfield shows. Como, it's said, intends to incorporate comedy, dramatics and other types of entertainment into his half-hour show on NBC Thursdays, which starts Sept. 8 or 15, and his visit here is for the purpose of making available the vast list of possible guest stars among Hollywoodites.

Too, by taping the initial six or eight weeks of regular broadcasts. Como wili free himself and his staff for the task of getting his Chesterfield video show out of New York rolling. It will occupy the 8-8:30 p.m. spot on NBC Sunday evenings.

NBC is grabbing off one of th prize program packages of the year, tieing in with the United Nayear, tiening in with the United war-tions for an exclusive series of am-bitious shows which will be spread over a seven-week span starting Sept. 4. Unusual aspect of the deal is that, though the UN affili-ation, NBC is making office space for some ex-CBS personalities.

for some ex-CBS personalities.

Among the latter is Norman Corwin, CBS' onetime prize documentarian who now works for the UN.
He'll supervise the upcoming NBC scries working out of the NBC offices. (Corwin, a freelancer as far as the networks are concerned, closed up his desk at CBS a couple wecks back after his one-shot "Citizen of the World" documentary).

Also tied in with the NBCLIN weeks back after his one-shot "Citizen of the World" documentary).

Also tied in with the NBC-UN project is Allen Sloane, long associated with Columbia's "Man Behind the Gun" series, "Assignment Home," etc. He's just returned from Europe after 18 months' research for UN and will do two of the projected NBC series. His last trip abroad resulted in the prizewinning CBS documentary, "Between the Dark and the Daylight." Kickoff show on the NBC-UN series will be a dramatization of the anniversary of the war, written and directed by Corwin. The second show will be a dramatization of the NBC Symphony, with Serge Koussevitzky conducting, and featuring the premiere of Aaron Copland's "UN Concerto," which will be adopted by the UN organization as its official theme. Words of the UN Constitution will be worked into the thematic treatment, and the broadcast will originate from the UN Assembly Hall at Flushing, N.Y.

N.Y.

The third in the series will be The third in the series will be on national resources conservation work, to be written by Millard Lampell. Next is a program on Genocide, to be produced for NBC in Canada by Sinclair Allen. The brace of Allen Sloane shows will

(Continued on page 35)

CBS' Honeymoon At the Waldorf

CBS and its affiliates went through the throes of a lovefest at two-day meet of the Columbia Affiliates Advisory Board and the Program Promotion Clinic at the Waldorf Monday (1) and yesterday, Results of the confals make it clear that the web's outlets are pretty excited about the fall program lineup and are pledging full support for the promotional campaign set for '49-'50 season.

Reps of 178 independently-owned stations passed a resolution commending the Cahair's leadership. "The CAAB hereby extends to the CBS organization its heartiest congratulations for its brilliant 1949 program promotion campaign in support of the greatest schedule of programs ever to be carried by any radio network," the resolution reads. It also urged all affiliates to "expend all possible effort in support of the CBS fall promotion campaign so that the values of the program offerings may be brought fully to the American people."

people."
In addition to a joint meeting of the CAAB and the Program Promotion Clinic, the two groups joined at a luncheon Monday to hear speeches by CBS prexy
Frank Stanton, program veepee
Hubbell Robinson and sales manager John Karol.

Hubbell Robinson and sales manager John Karol.

Other CAAB events included a report on proposed FCC tele reallocations by veepee Adrian Murphy and general engineering veepee William B. Lodge: a report on CBS-TV progress, by Herbert V. Akerberg, station relations veepee; and a report on Washington activities by the web's D. C. veepee, Earl Gammons. Other reports were made by Robinson and Davidson Taylor, public affairs veepee.

THE ETHEL MERMAN SHOW
With Miss Merman, Leon Janney,
Allen Drake, Ethel Browning,
Charles Webster, Santos Ortega,
Arthur Q. Bryan
Producer-director: Ken MacGregor
Writers: Will Glickman, Joe Stein
30 Mins.; Sun., 9:30 p. m.
Sustaining

30 Mins; Sun., 9:30 p. m.
Sustaining
WNBC, from New York
Ethel Merman as a Broadway personality has achieved more than her share of attention with a musicomedy background of stardom going back almost 20 years. Thus it seemed a bright idea to star
her in a first-person situational comedy airer. The execution is something else again. Chalk this up as a missout.
Here is a show whose dramatic verbiage on its preem was nothing more than a scant framework for miss Merman's vocalisthenics. It is a script with a show business back-

more than a scant framework for Miss Merman's vocalisthenics. It is a script with a show business background, whose characters include a male pianist friend, a floor-mop tycoon who is a prospective angel for a show to star Miss Merman, plus sundry others. In between, on this first show, Miss Merman ang such numbers as "Some Enchanted Evening," "Big Wonderful World" and, in her finale, the inevitable "No Business Like Show Business," which she did in "Annie Get Your Gun." Ostensibly the program is supposed to parallel Miss Merman's career.

The idea, also, is to give Miss Merman a chance to be flip, brash and generally consistent with the character that she has created for herself in the theatre. But it isn's so much the failure of Miss Merman to get over personally—deman to get over personally—demice of the program is supposed to parallel Miss Merman to get over personally—deman to get over personally—demice of the program is supposed to parallel singing, which she even kids herself. The fault lies, simply, in that there just isn't any show. And the supporting people, consequently, suffer, too.

MEET CORLISS ARCHER
With Janet Waldo, Irene Tedrow,
Fred Shields, Sam Edwards,
Hans Conried; John Hiestand,

announcer
Script Supervisor: F. Hugh Herbert
Producer: Tom McAvity
30 Mins. Sun., 9 p.m.
ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COS. CBS, from Hollywood

COS.
CBS, from Hollywood
(N. W. Ayer)
Succeeding the "Earn Your Vacation" giveaway show as summer replacement for Helen Hayes'
"Electric Theatre," "Meet Corliss Archer" returns to the CBS net as a breezy comedy conocction for easy hot weather consumption. Of lightweight construction, this show skips brightly along its groove of amusing characterizations and comedy situations. Scripters occasionally err in trying to punch a snapper across too obviously, but show generally doesn't strain in getting at the funny bone.
Opening stanza (31) introduced the Archer family with Janet Waldo, as Corliss, standing out as the super-serious adolescent. Yarn revolved around the efforts of Corliss' father (Fred Shields) and boy friend (Dexter Franklin) to wean her away from her latest whim to be an artist. All hands played skillfully with Hans Conried turning in a firstrate bit as a highbrow art instructor. Sketch, unfortunately, wound up a bit limply after sustaining a crackling pace for most of the way.
Plugs for the URING William REMEMBER THE DAY were dignified. Herm.

REMEMBER THE DAY
With Martha Deane; Dick Willard.
45 Mins., Fri. (29), 10:15 a.m.
Participating
WOR, New York
As a once-a-week feature on her Monday-Friday transcribed airer, Martha Deane, WOR's women's commentator, is offering her listeners a nostalgic series of 45-minute flashbacks to the years immedlately following the end of World War I. The first of the programs following the memory
motif was broadcast—last—Friday.
(29). Titled "Remember the Day,"
the series has been broken into four segments with the remaining shows scheduled for Aung. 5 and 19.

With Miss Deane as narrator, the With Miss Deane as narrator, the initial shot faded back to the signing of the armistice in 1918 and was keynoted by recordings of tunes popuar at that time. Tail end of the broadcast was devoted to 1919 and also featured songs that were favorites then. On the whole, Miss Deane provided her listeners with some enjoyable oldies that throughout the years have retained their original flavor. Besides the platters she also offered somed reminiscent chatter which pointed up the changes that have taken place since the early have taken place since the early 20's.

20's.
Show is Miss Deane's creation and Dick Willard, in addition to his announcing, also lent a helpful hand in the proceedings. Remainder of the series will be devoted to the Roaring Twenties.

MAKE BELIEVE TOWN
With Virginia Bruce, Paul Dubov,
Colleen Collins, Rita Lynn, Ken
Christy, Sylvia Simms; announcer, Johnny Jacobs
Producer: Ralph Rose
Directors: Rose, Frank Woodruft Writers: Virginia Mulien, William
Alland
30 Mins.; Mon.-Fri., 3:30 p.m.
Sustaining
CBS, from Hollywood
This half-hour series should

This half-hour series should please the distaff listeners with a number of techniques proven to entice the femmes. There's a heavy emphasis on the glamor of Hollywood, with references to stars, noted niteries and the "lights, camera, actlon" scenes that film fans dote on. There's a potent dose of romance, with a good hardworking girl getting her man. And there's the draw of actress Virginia Bruce introing the yarns and narrating between the acts.

Each broadcast presents an individual drama, which should get the housewives in the listening habit without the drawback of missing any action in case they skip a day. On Monday's (1) preem, story was that of a high-pressure producer, supposedly resting in a hospital but actually tied up on a battery of phones as he preps a new pic. Name actress he wants for the production has walked out on him, but fortunately he falls a new pic. Name actress he wants for the production has walked out on him, but fortunately he falls in love with his Swedish-born nurse and inks her to a long-term contract both as his wife and star of his pix. Strictly from Cinderella, but the stuff that soapers are made of.

Scripting, while hokey, worked in some authentic details of the trade, such as banks not wanting to finance a comedy, temperamental talent complaining about roles, etc. Acting of Paul Dubov as the dynamic exec who succumbs to love and Colleen Collins as the Svensk nurse was good. Miss Bruce handled the hostess chore well, although her part was scripty and weighted with cliches.

Bril.

HOW'S BUSINESS? HOW'S BUSINESS?
With Commerce Secretary Charles
Sawyer, Senator Paul Douglas,
Theodore Yntema
30 Mins.; Sun., 1:30 p.m.
Sustaining
NBC, from Chicago

This special series of five "Uni-versity of Chicago Round Table" broadcasts is tackling some of the tough problems being discussed in Washington and by the nation generally. Produced by NBC in coop eration with Secretary of Com-merce Charles Sawyer, the airer

eration with Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer, the airer deals with questions such as: Are we facing a depression? What should be done to expand business activity? What's the future for the small businessman? What's behind the world trade crisis?

On the opener, in addition to Secretary Sawyer, the issues were mulled by Sen. Paul Douglas and Theodore Yntema, veepee of Ford Motors. Discussion was frequently confusing, as it covered some technical economic subjects and complex business cycle theories. Too often the participants were more interested in making their points with each other than in explaining them to listeners untutored in the intricacies of fiscal policies. However, there was enough agreement on several points to make it clear that the participants feel the U. S. is not headed for a depression, but is merely witnessing a recession. Also pointed up was the difference between the administration's pump priming approach and the curtailed federal expenditures policy advocated by the Ford topper.

Despite its shortcomings, series should help listeners clarify their views on a number of national is-the Ford topper.

Despite its shortcomings, series should help listeners clarify their views on a number of national issues, such as taxes, wage boosts and aid to farmers.

AL FOREST
15 Mins., Mon.-thru-Sat., 7 p.m.
TEN EYCK HOTEL
WPTR. Albany
Listenable, relaxing dinner music emanates from a Hammond organ in the Empire Room of the Ten Eyck hotel. Albany, on nightly broadcasts by Al Forest, who was at the console at the Ritz theatre
in Albany during the silent film days and who has played hotel
dates in recent years. He achieves neat effects in programs that are varied.
Unfortunately, Forest had to compete with clattering dishes. Effect would likewise be enhanced if the announcing were done from the Empire Room rather than by remote control. Room's fine food and be a ut if ul atmosphere are mote control. Room's nne 1000 and be a utiful atmosphere are plugged.

Jaco,

DAMON RUNYON THEATRE
("Blood Pressure")
With John Brown, Sheldon Le ard, Larry Dobkin, Luis Rooten, Sandra Gould
Producer: Vern Carstensen
Director: Richard Sanville
Writer: Russell Hughes
30 Mins., Sat., 2:30 p.m.

Director: Richard Sannie
Writer: Russell Hughes
30 Mins., Sat., 2:30 p.m.
Sustaining
WOR, N. Y.
Damon Runyon's colorful yarns about Broadway characters and hangers-on are the subject of this new series, which bowed with "Blood Pressure" Saturday (30).
The characters have been transformed to radio fairly reliably and entertainingly, with their colloquial, flavorsome speech and somewhat melodramatic, theatrical activities. Sometimes the scripting style and dialog are a little too colloquial and cute, but for the most part the stuff has schmaltz to make an engaging half-hour.
Opening show was well directed and performed, to augur well for the series. Open was interspersed with several public service pitches, for Savings Bonds, the police PAL league and Runyon's own pet, the cancer drive.

Opener was an amusing yarn about a bullying tough-guy, a dice cheat and strong-arm man, who scares the mob frantic, but who knuckles under to the frail femme who is his wife. John Brown, playing Broadway, the narrator-actor who will figure in all the episodes, was good in his role. Sheldon Leonard, as the big bruiser, Rusty Charlie, was excellent, and Sandra ard, as the big bruiser, Rusty Charlie, was excellent, and Sandra Gould made her brief bit as the wife tell.

QUORUM CALL
Rep. Barratt O'Hara, moderator
Producer-director: Paul Green
30 Mins., Sun., 4 p.m.
LABOR'S LEAGUE FOR POLITICAL EDUCATION
WCFL, Chicago

WCFL, Chicago

Chi's A. F. of L. station beams into the Democratic listening audience with this half-hour series transcribed in Washington and flown to WCFL each week, Dem. Congressmen talk of their bills and projects; exchange friendly pats on the back, and do some fence mending via the airwaves.

projects; exchange triendly paus outhe back, and do some fence mending via the airwaves.

Program opens and closes with the ringing of the Congressional summoning bell. Moderator Barratt O'Hara, likewise a U. S. Representative, then reads the roll call of Chicago Congressmen, and calls upon several to deliver reports on conding legislation.

upon several to deliver reports of pending legislation.

Program caught dealt with the Hoover Commission findings on federal expenditures. Cong. William Dawson argued earnestly that Republicans weren't the only ones who wanted to trim expenses. Cong. Sid Yates, one of Washington's better golfers, described a golf match with Sen. Robert Taft.

Tenor of show — to present labor's side in legislation—was adeq u at el y maintained. Speakers showed a minimum of bias against Republican opposition by stressing the affirmative aspects of their own case, rather than getting into personalities and name-calling.

"Quorum Call" could be improved by lifting the heavy atmosphere of mutual deference and bowing in favor of a lighter treatment. Likewise inserting some of the humorous side of Washington life would help to balance the forther the month of the sum of pending legislation.

Program caught dealt with the ment. Likewise inserting some the humorous side of Washingto life would help to balance the fo Mart.

MAN ON THE FARM
With Chuck Acree, emcee; Reggie
Cross, various guests; George
Menard, announcer
Writers: Acree, Georgene O'Donnell Producer-director: Miss O'Donnell 30 Mins.; Sat., 12 noon

Producer-director: Miss O'Donnell 30 Mins.; Sat., 12 noon Sustaining Mins.; Sat., 12 noon "Man on the Farm" is an audience participation show originating from an Illinois experimental farm. Previously heard only in the midwest area, the half-hour airer joined the Mutual net Saturday (30) as a sustainer, but Quaker Oats picks up the tab as of Aug. 27. Emece Chuck Acree frames his queries around such bucolic teasers as "Do Holsteins give more milk than Jerseys," name an agricultural state whose crops rank high in soybeans and wheat, and similar stumpers. Successful contestants carried off awards renging from $100 in cash to fishing reels and steak knives.

Format was a breezy one that featured an occasional nostalgic tune in the layout to bring about a change of pace. Besides their vicarious interest in the contestants' progress, listeners also have a chance to vie for a vacuum cleaner by mailing four-line jingles for Acree to toss at studio guests.

cleaner by mailing tour-line jungles for Acree to toss at studio guests. On the whole it's a meritorious program that packs a wide appeal to rural audlences, yet it is brisk enough to capture a slice of urban dwellers. dwellers.

CHANCE OF A LIFETIME
With Janle Ford, John Reed King;
Kenneth Roberts, announcer
Director: Charles Harreil
Producer: Bob Jennings
30 Mins;; Sun., 9:30 p.m.
Sustaining
ABC, from N. Y.

Measured in terms of its giveaways dimensions, "Chance of a Lifetlme" rates as one of the big-gest shows on the air. And there's hardly any other measuring rod applying to this type of airer. Show slugs hard with another stagger ing array of prizes ranging from a ing array of prizes ranging from a pittance of a couple of hundred dollars to a $25,000 completedly furnished home. Not much program finesse is present or needed with all this loot dangling before dialers who want their gambling instinct satisfied.

with all this loot dangling bettore dialers who want their gambling instinct satisfied.

Under this show's system of shoveling out the gifts, studio participants have to pick out from an electrical board three letters which ring either a bell or a buzzer. If lit's a bell, the prizes soar into heavy coin; if it's a buzzer, the prizes are more moderate, but still hefty. On the iinitial show, one out of the four participants was a home listener who was contacted via telephone. After selecting their first three letters, the participants are given a chance to gamble their previous winnings against a grand jackpot prize in a 10-second race to ring up another bell on the board.

Like other giveaways shows, it's virtually impossible for a participant to miss winning a good share of the giveaways. The initial brainteasers are geared to the I. Qu fthe average dialer. In order to win the jackpot, however, dialers would have to know for example, the technical name of a two-numped camel which, of course, narrowly cut down the chances of winning.

As entices, John Reed King con-

narrowly cut down the chances of winning.

As emcee, John Reed King conducts the quiz in an atmosphere of near-hysteria. He whips up audiences with shout, howls and a style of laughing that's usually heard on "Inner Sanctum." But virtually anything goes on the show and King's approach fits the clime. Vocalist Janie Ford delivers the show's theme song in a non-hysterical manner.
Currently, show is sustaining but Bruner-Ritter, jewelers, pick up the tab beginning Sept. 4. Herm.

EXPENSE ACCOUNT - FRANK FARRELL With Farrell; Herbert Hoover; Ted Malley, announcer 15 Mins.; Sat., 7 p.m. Sustaining WOR, N. Y. WOR, N. Y. has pacted Frank Farrell, N. Y. World - Telegram reporter, to give a weekly spiel on reporter, to give a weekly spiel on government spending. Idea is good, and the series shapes up as eminently worthwhile, even if the opening session Saturday (30) was more polemic than reporting. Farrell's first several programs will be based on the recent Herbert Hoover, report for streamlining

Farrell's first several programs will be based on the recent Herbert Hoover report for streamlining various government bureaus in the name of economy and efficiency. Opener was therefore largely expository. explaining what the Hoover Commission was, its members, its scope, the need of it, etc., before getting down to the business of discussing excesses in government organization.

Farrell speaks clearly, eagerly and simply, in appealing, manofiche-street fashion. Occasionally his enthusiasm for his cause makes him stutter or fluff, but otherwise he's definitely okay. He got off an occasional good phrase, as when insisting on "whittling down the Washington swindle sheet." He's strongly back of the Hoover Report, giving both it and the former President great praise for their aim in saving the taxpayer $3,000,000,000 a year In waste and inefficiency. Government organization is disordered, ineffectual, Farrell claims; a thorough reorganization is imperative.

Ex-President Hoover, in a tran-

tion is disordered, ineffectual, Farrell claims; a thorough reorganization is imperative.

Ex-President Hoover, in a transcribed special message, commended the series, to give it added stature. If Farrell sticks to reporting the facts, instead of his occasional preachment, it will be an excellent series.

THE FIRST HUNDRED YEARS
With Barbara Ellers, Sam Edwards,
Joseph Kearns, Myra Marsh, Bea
Benadaret, Earle Ross; announcer, Owen James
Producer: Dick Woollen
Writer: Jean Holloway
30 Mins.; Thurs., 8:30 p.m.
Sustaining

Sustaining ABC, from Hollywood

30 Mins.; Thurs, 8:30 p.m.
Sustaining
ABC, from Hollywood

This is another situation comedy based on the foibles of young married couples. While it doesn't reach the level of "Blondie" or "Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," it is somewhat better than "Me and Janie" and "My Good Wife," two shows in the same genre which NBC preemed this summer.

Humor reprised a lot of the old standbys of similar stanzas, but Jean Holloway worked up an effective script which cut back and forth from the bride's-home to the groom's abode on the morn of the wedding. Typically, the gal wondered whether her future hubby would snore while the latter worried that his spouse might sleep with her hair in lethal curlers. Typically, the garrulous fathers were sympathetic toward the young man "facing a life sentence" while the mothers were weepy over "losing my darling child." And typically, there was a young brat sister who thinks that ceremonies are "corny" and that sentiment "stinks."

Miss Holloway made good use of change of pace, inserting several flashbacks of tender romantic scenes. These gave the airer an added dimension of reality and wcre generally better scripted than the comic dialog. Acting of Barbara Eilers and Sam Edwards as the young couple was slick and the supporting roles, although caricatured, were capably handled.

Musical bridges displayed little originality, one obvious cue being a few bars of the "Wedding March played with a trombone wha-wha for comic effect. A minor technical flaw was that the level on the audience mike was too low, which made the spectators' laughter seem thin.

AND YET NOT FREE
With Arnold Moss, Everett Sloane
Writer: Alvin Boretz
Producer: Ted Hudes
Director: Mitchell Grayson
15 Mins; Wed. (27), 10:15 p.m.
CITIZENS COMMITTEE AN DISPLACED PERSONS
WMCA, N. Y.
Prepared by the Citings Com-

WMCA, N. Y.

Prepared by the Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons,
"And Yet Not Free" is another in a series of transcribed drama which urges Congress to reexamine its existing DP entry act. While most of the salient reasons why DP's should receive more consideration is contained in this airer, the stanza is not quite as forceful as the Committee's previous documentaries on this subject.

vious documentaries on this subject.

Deficiencies of the law are brought out in a discussion between a government DP camp worker and an inmate. Script is marked by frequent references to the 1620 Mayflower Pact, the Constitution's preamble as well as a Lincolnian quotation, in order to show America was founded on a policy of admitting free men. However, in citing historical precedents, the program tended to neglect more pressing contemporary issues.

ssues.

Recording of President Truman's voice, taken from one of his addresses to Congress, helped sum up the current situation. He branded the plight of DP's as a "world tragedy" and added that these people would bring "strength and energy to the nation" were proper legislation for their admittance passed. Arnold Moss and Everett Sloane topped the small cast while John Gart's original music formed effective bridges.

BREAKFAST GANG
With Mel Ventner, Polly Lawrence,
Lyle Bardo Orch, others
Producer-Director: Mel Ventner
30 Mins.; Mon.-thru-Fri.; 7:15 a.m. Participating. KFRC, San Francisco

scribed special message, commended the series, to give it added stature. If Farrell sticks to reporting the facts, instead of his occasional preachment, it will be an excellent series.

Bron.

MUSIC MEMORANDUM with Frederick Lloyd 9:00 a.m., 15 mins., Mon. -thru-Fri. Sustaining KOMO, Seattle This record-show strip with Frederick Lloyd (Lloyd Bloom) is a pleasant cntry in the morning swepstakes for hausfrau listening. If the will be the production of the prod

BASEBALL: RADIO FRANKENSTEIN

Hooper's Top 15 and the Opposition | | ND|E SPOT BIZ

		(,	July 30)
			Sponsored Network Competition		Network Comp tition
Progra		erating	NBC Symphony	3.8	10.6
Waiter	Winchell	15.5	(No Sponsored Progra	ams)	7.0
Horace	Heidt	10.5	Johns-Manville News	1.7	6.6
This Is	Your F.B.I	9.8	Sam Spade	8.0	12.9
Stop th	he usic	9.8	NBC Symphony Fish & Hunt	3.8	6.3
Mr. Ke	en	9.1	Johns-Manville	1.7
Louell	a Parsons	8.5	NBC Symphony	3.8	10.6
Our M	iss Brooks	8.4	Aibum Familiar Music	4.1	10.8
Take I	It or Leave It	8.1	Jimmie Fidler	6.4	10.0
Crime	Photographer	8.0	Name the Movie	2.3	8.7
Sam S	pade	8.0	Stop the Music Stop the Music	6.0	14.1
Mr. D	istrict Attorney.	8.0	Lawrence Welk	2.2	6.0
Drew	Pearson	7.9	Family Hour of Stars Roy Rogers	. 1.9	9.1
Mr. Cl	hameleon	7.8	Orig. Amateur Hour.	4.3	8.6
	an	7.6	Band of America	2.6	7.2
Curtai	n Time	7.5	(No Sponsored Progra	ms)	8.5

BAB Maps Split from NAB in Year; Miller Plugs for Autonomous BMP

Broadcast Advertising Bureau will be a self-sustaining body with-out financial support from the National Assn. of Broadcasters out financial support from the National Assn. of Broadcasters within a year, according to NAB prexy Justin Miller. Latter told a press conference last week that NAB will continue to aid BAB during the present reorganization period but that details of the separation are being worked out for BAB members to provide its financial backing. cial backing.

BAB chief Maurice Mitchell said

BAB chief Maurice Mitchell said that the bureau, which has established offices in New York, has been going ahead "at full steam" and is completing its personal roster quickly. Charles Batson is heading up its TV sector and Lee Hart will join its executive staff at the end of her vacation. Robert at the end of her vacation. Robert of WTOP, Washington, and WPAT. Paterson, N. J., has been added as an assistant director, assigned to the national spot field and spear-heading activities in the chain store field.

to the national spot field and spear-heading activities in the chain store field.

"There has been some discussion as to whether BAB should plug tele." Mitchell said. "buf we feel that as long as we're positive in pushing both AM and TV neither medium will suffer. However, we have met some skepticism on the part of newspaper-owned stations because of our selling the value of broadcasting over the dailles, radio's chief competition for the retailer's dollar."

Discussing the precarious situation of Broadcast Measurement Bureau, Judge Miller said that a solution to its problems should be found in establishing it along the ines proposed for BAB. Making it independent of NAB, two-thirds of whose members are not BMB (Continued on page 36)

(Continued on page 36)

'Travelers' Own Marshall Plan

Chicago, Aug. 2.

Marshall Plan, junior grade, leaves for Europe Aug. 12. A plane load of prizes, ranging from cigaret lighters to washing machines, will accompany Tommy Bartlett and his "Weicome' Travelers" troupe of 15 which will entertain Gl's for two weeks. A yet-to-be-signed femme singer and film star will be included in the group. Joe E. Brown is scheduled for a London appearance with the show.

"Travelers" will tape-record the show, using GI participants, which will be followed by a 45 minute variety show at each base. First stateside airing of the European-recorded programs will be on NBC Sept. 5.

To guard against machanich Chicago, Aug. 2 recorded programs will be c...

Sept. 5.
To guard against mechanical mishaps, ail necessary electrical and mechanical equipment is being carried in triplicate.
Ripley of the junket is that flue USAF refused to allow a pressure agent to accompany the party.

Writers Guild Sets Up Web Talks on New Pacts

Eastern region office of the Radio Writers Guild will hold parleys with its members at CBS, NBC and ABC in the next few weeks preparatory to entering into negotiations with the webs for new contracts. Present pacts expire Sept. 30.

Demands will be formulated by the 75 news and continuity writers who are covered by the staff con-tracts.

See D.C.'s WWDC Buying Cowles' WOL for 300G

WOLL for 3006

Washington, Aug. 2.
A deal will probably be signed this week for the sale of WOL, owned by the Cowles Broadcasting Co., to WDC for a flat $300.00.
The Mutual affiliation is taken over by WWDC but no agreement to extend the contract beyond its expiration next June is provided.

It is understood that principal interest of WWDC, owned by Joseph Katz of the New York and Baitimore advertising agency, in acquiring the Cowles station, is the increased coverage it can get from WOL's 5 kw operation on 1,260 kc. The highly prosperous 250 water, town's leading independent, is believed to be quite satisfied with its present format and not seeking to change it. The present news contract by which WOL originates Mutuai programs in Washington is not being assumed by WWDC.
Contract cails for acquisition of ail physical facilities, except television equipment with which Cowles was experimenting, WWDC.
will assume lease of WOL studios in Heurich bullding on K Street that hash't decided yet whether it will move in. Decision will likely hinge on disposition of WWDC facilities which must be soid under government duopby regulations. Following FCC approval, station will turn in WOL call letters and substitute its own. Same will go for WOL-FM.

In acquiring WOL's facilities.
WWDC is buying a plant for considerably less than it could unjuicate today. Cowles invested nearity $500.000 in AM and FM since it acquired WOL about four years ago. Some of the equipment would cost move today.

The Cowles firm has taken a licking in its Washington radio venture. To obtain WOL if swapped the 5 ke WMTI in Ccdar Rangel and what it is."

The Cowles firm has taken a licking in its Washington radio venture. To obtain WOL if swapped the 5 ke WMTI in Ccdar Rangel and which are the good commercial imeups to capitalize on that increase of rain, the station of regular justifier commercial incups to salvage a portion of the business, but this commercial incups to salvage a portion of the business, but this capital venture to capital venture to

TAKES A BEATING

The indie stations with major league baseball commitments, both in New York and around the country, have been making much of the fact that, for an approximate 30 weeks of the year, they've been copping ail the daytime audiences, as evidenced by the Hoopers in the respective cities.

For the first time, however, a great many of the stations are beginning to wonder whether it's been worth it. The skepticism, particularly among the Gotham outlets carrying the Yankees, Glants and Dodgers games, stems from an awareness that it's beginning to cost them money out of the station pocket. It was one thing to ride along with the regulation 2 to 5 p. m. warmup and playing time.

But with more and more games taking over the nighttime spectrum (with a record high established this season), the stations find they've been forced to cancel out regularbeen forced to cancel out regularly scheduled commercials, particularly the lucrative spot business. Similarly the long games, stretching into 14 and 15 innings, are proving costly to the stations, since they're committed to see them through. On the latter, WMGM, which carries the Dodger games, seems to have the advantage over the other stations, since it managed to bypass any such contractual obligation, signing off at 5 p. m., regardless, to make way for Ted Husing's "Bandstand." Those double-headers that run overtime, the stations cry, are nothing short of murder in wiping out spot biz.

On the other hand, it's the self-

of murder in wiping out spot biz.

On the other hand, it's the self-same WMGM that takes the worst nighttime beating among the Manhattan b.b, stations, in view of the 45-game Dodger nighttime schedule, including 21 home games alone. (St. Lonis stations take the major rap, with practically half of the season's games played under lights.)

WINS which carries the Value.

lights.)
WINS, which carries the Yankee games, is "stuck" with 36 nighttime games, and WMCA, with its Giants coverage, has 38 after-dark home and away contests, an increase of 10 over last season, meaning in all cases a cancellation of regular nighttime commercials and refund to clients, even though the latter benefit by a cuffo plug.

WCAU Fumbles Penn Game Political Football as 5 Other Outlets Recover

BEECHAM AS LONGHAIR

Sir Thomas Beecham, the British conductor, will be a classical disk jockey on a transcribed series to be heard over WQXR, N. Y., this fall. The weekly airer, "Sir Thomas Beecham Turns the Tables," was bought by the N. Y. Times station from Towers of London, Ltd., with Oliver W. Nicoli representing Harry Aian Towers in Gotham.

representing Harry Aian Towers in Gotham.
Elliott M. Sanger, WQXR's exec veepee, and Mrs. Sanger, program director, now are in London to confer with Towers on the series. Programs will be 55 minutes long and will feature music by orchestras. Sir Thomas has conducted well as interviewed ionghair celebs. Conductor expects to use a light approach in his commentary, feeling that "serious music need not necessarily be treated too seriousiy."

Italo Beer Yen, Femme Smokers. Show in Survey

Several hitherto unsuspected facts—such as that Italian housewives offer an excellent market for cigarets and that more Italian homes buy beer than wine—are revealed in a special study conducted for WOV, N. Y., by The Pulse.

ducted for WOV, N. Y., by The Pulse.

Survey differs from WOV's previous pantry inventory and similar studies in that it covers not only those products in the home on a given day but a careful record of purchases over a four-week period, Resuits are valuable to sponsors and agencies because they show the relative standing of various brands in the market and the frequency of purchase with greater accuracy than previous investigations. Data on 600 products in 65 ciassifications is included.

Figures show that Italian housewives in the New York area buy 15,000,000 packs of cigarets a month, exploding the misconception that this group of women doesn't smoke. They also show that although 61% of Italian homes in the area buy wine, 73% buy beer—11,000,000 bottles a week.

"The Italian-speaking people in N. Y. are a big, rich and important market," deciared Ralph Weil, WOV manager. "National magazines hardly reach them. The single Italian-language daily in the women and because not all are (Continued on page 36)

(Continued on page 36)

TWO-CITY HASSLE FOR OHIO STATION SETTLED

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 2.

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 2.
The two-city, two-state hassleover rights for a radio station in Portsmouth is over, with local interests apparently carrying the day. Greater Huntington Radio Corp. last week withdrew its application asking same facilities sought by Portsmouth Broadcasting Co., the FCC announced.

Both outfits had asked to operate on 1.260 kc, one kw. unlimited time. Huntington firm, which operates WHTN, asked that its application be dismissed without operates WHIN, asked that its application be dismissed without prejudice. This the Commission has done, and at the same time the Portsmouth application was removed from the hearing docket, thus clearing the way for FCC action.

No other applications competing with the Portsmouth proposal have theen filed, the Commission said.

Philadelphia, Aug. 2. U. of Pennsylvania grid games, for the past 14 years WOXR DISK JOCKEY clusively by WCAU, CBS affiliate, have been thrown open to all nine stations here. So far KWY, WFIL, WIBG, WHAT and WIP have ac-cepted the gridcasts, with WJMJ, WPEN and WDAS unavailable because of other commitments. WCAU has been granted an extension of time to make up its mind, because Donald W. Thornburgh took over as station manager only Monday

Games will be sponsored by Atlantic Refining, via N. W. Ayer, and the sponsor reportedly says it won't pay for stations other than WCAU or, if the latter decides against carrying the gridcasts, whatever station it buys. It is believed however, that the university itself will pay for time on other local outlets, using coin it receives from Atlantic for rights to the games. Stations would bill Ayer, with the agency deducting the charges from the payment to the university for broadcast rights.

Reason for Penn's decision to make the grid airers avallable to all Philly stations reportedly is that college prexy Haroac E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, is raising funds for a $32,000,000 exexpansion of the university and also has presidential ambitions. Several stations in the city have been after him to get the broadcasts, and rather than antagonize potential allies, it's said, he decided the easiest way is to give everybody a crack at them.

WPTZ has exclusive rights to televise the games this season, but Games will be sponsored by At-

wPTZ has exclusive rights to televise the games this season, but it's believed that next year the games will be opened to ail three video outlets here.

Hoover Stance OK'd by FCC

Washington, Aug. 2.

Recommendations of the Hoover Commission affecting the Federal Communications Commission were given general endorsement by the FCC last week. Replying to a request for its views from Chairman John J. McClellan (D., Ark.) of the Senate Committee on Expenditures, Acting FCC Chairman Rosel

- Hyde said his agency agrees that:
 1. Administrative responsibility be retained in the chairman.
- 2. Commissioners be removable only for cause.
- 3. Commissioners stay in office until a successor has been appointed.
- 4. Salaries should be raised for
- members and staff heads.

 5. The Commission should be permitted to delegate routine matters to the staff (authority already) provided.

provided.

Hyde commented that in considering salaries for the Commission, not enough emphasis is given the importance of its regulatory services. While FCC has only a personnel of 1.350, he said, it has responsibilities for such industries as radio and television which are vital to the welfare of the nation.

vital to the welfare of the nation.

Under the Hoover recommendations, Commissioners would receive $17,500 a year and the President would be empowered to pay the chairman $20,000. A bill has passed the House to pay members $16,000 and allow the chairman $18,000.

Sen. McFarland (D., Ariz.) is hopeful of action this week by the Senate on his bill which would pay Commissioners $15.000 a year in stead of the present $10,000. What congress will finally come throug with this session is anybody's guess.

THE ETHEL MERMAN SHOW
With Miss Merman, Leon Janney,
Allen Drake, Ethel Browning,
Charles Webster, Santos Ortega,
Arthur Q. Bryan
Producer-director: Ken MacGregor
Writers: Will Glickman, Joe Stein
30 Mins; Sum., 9:30 p. m.
Sustaining
WNBC, from New York
Ethel Merman as a Broadway
personality has achieved more than
her share of attention with a musicomedy background of stardom going back almost 20 years. Thus it seemed a bright idea to star
her in a first-person situational
comedy airer. The execution is something else again. Chalk this up as a missout.
Here is a show whose dramatic verbiage on its preem was nothing more than a scant framework for Miss Merman's vocalisthenics. It is a script with a show business background, whose characters include a male pianist friend, a floor-mop

more than a scant framework for Miss Merman's vocalisthenics. It is a script with a show business background, whose characters include a male planist friend, a floor-mop tycoon who is a prospective angel for a show to star Miss Merman, plus sundry others. In between, on this first show, Miss Merman ang such numbers as "Some Enchanted Evening," "Big Wonderful World" and, in her finale, the Inevitable "No Business Like Show Business," which she did in "Annie Get Your Gun." Ostensibly the program is supposed to parallel Miss Merman's career.

The idea, also, is to give Miss Merman a chance to be flip, brash and generally consistent with the character that she has created for herself in the theatre. But it isn't so much the failure of Miss Merman to get over personally—despite her invariable off-pitch singing, which she even kids herself. The fault lies, simply, in that there just isn't any show. And the supporting people, consequently, suffer, too.

MEEET CORLISS ARCHER

MEET CORLISS ARCHER
With Janet Waldo, Irene Tedrow,
Fred Shields, Sam Edwards,
Hans Conried; John Hiestand,

Hans Conried; John Hiestand, announcer
Script Supervisor: F. Hugh Herbert
Producer: Tom McAvity
30 Mins. Sun., 9 p.m.
ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER
COS.
CBS, from Hollywood
(N. W. Augr.)

COS.

CBS, from Hollywood

(N. W. Ayer)

Succeeding the "Earn Your Vacation" giveaway show as summer replacement for Heien Hayes' "Electric Theatre," "Meet Corliss Archer" returns to the CBS net as a breezy comedy concoction for easy hot weather consumption. Of lightweight construction, this show skips brightly along its groove of amusing characterizations and comedy situations. Scripters occasionally err in trying to punch a snapper across too obviously, but show generally doesn't strain in getting at the funny bone:

Opening stanza (31) introduced the Archer family with Janet Waldo, as Corliss, standing out as the super-serious adolescent. Yarn revolved around the efforts of Corliss' father (Fred Shields) and boy friend (Dexter Franklin) to wean her away from her latest whim to be an artist. All hands played skillfully with Hans Conried turning in a firstrate bit as a high-brow art instructor. Sketch, unfortunately, wound up a bit limply after sustaining a crackling pace brow art instructor. Sketch, unfortunately, wound up a bit limply after sustaining a crackling pace for most of the way. Pluss for the utility company were dignified.

REMEMBER THE DAY With Martha Deane; Dick Willard. 45 Mins., Fri. (29), 10:15 a.m. Participating WOR, New York

WOR, New York

As a opce-a-week feature on her

Monday-Briday transcribed airer,
Martha Deane, WOR's women's commentator, is offering her listeners a nostalgic series of 45-minute flashbacks to the years immediately following the end of World War I. The first of the programs following the memory
motif was broadcast last Friday
(29). Titled "Remember the Day,"
the series has been broken into four segments with the remaining
shows scheduled for Aung. 5 and 19.

19. With Miss Deane as narrator, the is shot faded back to the sign-of the armistice in 1918 and keynoted by recordings of by recording Tail that time. Tail was keynoted by recordings of tunes popuar at that time. Tail end of the broadcast was devoted to 1919 and also featured songs that were favorites then. On the whole, Miss Deane provided her listeners with some enjoyable oldies that throughout the years have retained their original flavor. Besides the platters she also of-fered somed reminiscent chatter which pointed up the changes that have taken place since the early 20's.

Show is Miss Deane's creation and Dick Wiliard, in addition to his announcing, also lent a helpful hand in the proceedings. Re-mainder of the series will be de-voted to the Roaring Twenties.

MAKE BELIEVE TOWN
With Virginia Bruce, Paul Dubov,
Colleen Collins, Rita Lynn, Ken
Christy, Sylvia Simms; announcer, Johnny Jacobs
Producer: Ralph Rose,
Directors: Rose, Frank Woodruff Writers: Virginia Mullen, William
Alland
30 Mins.; Mon.-Fri., 3:30 p.m.
Sustaining

Sustaining CBS, from Hollywood

This half-hour series should please the distaff listeners with a number of techniques proven to entice the femmes. There's a heavy emphasis on the giamor of Hollywood, with references to stars, noted niteries and the "lights, camera, action" that film fans dote on. There's a potent dose of romance, with a good hardworking girl getting her man. And there's the draw of actress Virginia Bruce introing the yarns and narrating between the acts.

Each broadcast presents an individual drama, which should get the housewives in the listening habit without the drawback of missing any action in case they skip a day. On Monday's (1) preemy, story was that of a high-pressure producer, supposedly resting in a hospital but actually tied up on a battery of phones as he preps a new pic. Name actress he wants for the production has walked out on him, but fortunately he falls in love with his Swedish-born nurse and inks her to a long-term contract both as his wife and star of his pix. Strictly from Cincerella, but the stuff that soapers are made of.

Scripting while hokey worked derella, but the stuff that soapers are made of.

Scripting, while hokey, worked in some authentic details of the trade, such as banks not wanting to finance a comedy, temperamental talent complaining about roles, etc. Acting of Paul Dubov as the dynamic exec who succumbs to love and Colleen Collins as the Svensk nurse was good. Miss Bruce handled the hostess chore well, although her part was scripty and weighted with cliches.

HOW'S BUSINESS?
With Commerce Secretary Charles
Sawyer, Senator Paul Douglas,
Theodore Yntema
30 Mins.; Sun., 1:30 p.m.
Sustaining
NBC, from Chicago

This special series of five "University of Chicago Round Table" broadcasts is tackling some of the tough problems being discussed in Washington and by the nation generally. Produced by NBC in cooperation with Secretary of Com-merce Charles Sawyer, the airer

eration with Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer, the airer deals with questions such as: Are we facing a depression? What should be done to expand business activity? What's the future for the small businessman? What's behind the world trade crisis?

On the opener, in addition to Secretary Sawyer, the issues were mulled by Sen. Paul Douglas and Theodore Yntema, veepee of Ford Motors. Discussion was frequently confusing, as it covered some technical economic subjects and complex business cycle theories. Too fiten the participants were more interested in making their points with each other than in explaining them to listeners untutored in the intricacies of fiscal policies.

However, there was enough agreement on several points to make it clear that the participants feel the U. S. is not headed for a depression, but is merely witnessing a recession. Also pointed up was the difference between the administration's pump priming approach and the curtailed federai expenditures policy advocated by the Ford topper.

Despite its shortcomings, series should help listeners clarify their views on a number of national issues, such as taxes, wage boosts and aid to farmers.

AL FOREST
15 Mins., Mon.-thru-Sat., 7 p.m.
TEN EYCK HOTEL
WPTR. Albany
Listenable, relaxing dinner
music emanates from a Hammond
organ in the Empire Room of the Ten Eyck hotel, Albany, on nightly broadcasts by Al Forest, who was at the console at the Ritz theatre
in Albany during the silent film
days and who has played hotel
dates in recent years. He achieves neal effects in programs that are varied.
Unfortunately, Forest had to

DAMON RUNYON THEATRE
("Blood Pressure")
With John Brown, Sheldon Leon ard, Larry Dobkin, Luis var
Rooten, Sandra Gould
Producer: Vern Carstensen
Director: Richard Sanville
Writer: Russell Hughes
20 Mines Set 2:30 n.m. 30 Mins., Sat., 2:30 p.m.

Director: Richard Sanville Writer: Russell Hughes 30 Mins., Sat., 2:30 p.m. Sustaining WOR, N. Y.

Damon Runyon's colorful yarns about Broadway characters and hangers-on are the subject of this new series, which bowed with "Blood Pressure" Saturday (30). The characters have been transformed to radio fairly reliably and entertainingly, with their coloquial., flavorsome speech and somewhat melodramatic, theatrical activities. Sometimes the scripting style and dialog are a little too colloquial and cute, but for the most part the stuff has schmaltz to make an engaging half-hour. Opening show was well directed and performed, to augur well for the series. Open was interspersed with several public service pitches, for Savings Bonds, the police PAL league and Runyon's own pet, the cancer drive.

Opener was an amusing yarn about a bullying tough-guy, a dice cheat and strong-arm man, who scares the mob frantic, but who knuckles under to the frail femme who is his wife. John Brown, playing Broadway, the narrator-actor who will figure in all the episodes, was good in his role. Sheldon Leonard, as the big bruiser, Rusty Charlie, was excellent, and Sandra Gould made her brief bit as the wifé-tell.

wife tell.

QUORUM CALL
Rep. Barratt O'Hara, moderator
Producer-director: Paul Green
30 Mins., Sun., 4 p.m.
LABOR'S LEAGUE FOR POLITICAL EDUCATION
WCFL, Chicago

CAL EDUCATION
WCFL. Chicago
Chi's A. F. of L. station beams into the Democratic listening audience with this half-hour series transcribed in Washington and flown to WCFL each week. Dem. Congressmen talk of their bills and projects; exchange friendly pats on the back, and do some fence mending via the airwaves.

Program opens and closes with the ringing of the Congressional summoning bell. Moderator Barratt O'Hara, likewise a U. S. Representative, then reads the roil call of Chicago Congressmen, and calls upon several to deliver reports on pending legislation.

Program caught dealt with the Hoover Commission findings on fiederal expenditures. Cong. William Dawson argued earnestly that Republicans weren't the only ones who wanted to trim expenses. Cong. Sid Yates, one of Washington's better golfers, described a golf match with Sen. Robert Taft. Tenor of show — to present iabor's side in legislation—was adequately maintained. Speakers showed a minimum of bias against Republican opposition by stressing the affirmative aspects of their own case, rather than getting into personalities and name-calling. "Quorum Call" could be Improved by lifting the heavy atmosphere of mutual deference and bowing in favor of a lighter treatment. Likewise inserting some of the humorous side of Washington life would help to balance the format.

MAN ON THE FARM
With Chuck Acree, emcee; Reggie
Cross, various guests; George
Menard, announcer
Writers: Acree, Georgene O'Donnell

Producer-director: Miss O'Donnell 30 Mins.; Sat., 12 noon

Producer-director: Miss O'Donnell 30 Mins.; Sat., 12 noon Sustaining Mins.; Sat., 12 noon Sustaining Miss, from Chicago "Man on the Farm" is an audience participation show originating from an Illinois experimental farm. Previously heard only in the midwest area, the half-hour airerjoined the Mutual net Saturday (30) as a sustainer, but Quaker Oats picks up the tab as of Aug. 27. Emcee Chuck Acree frames his queries around such bucolic teasers as "Do Holsteins give more milk than Jerseys," name an agricultural state whose crops rank high in soybeans and wheat, and similar stumpers. Successful contestants carried off awards ranging from $100 in cash to fishing reels and steak knives.

Format was a breezy one that featured an occasional nostalgic tune in the layout to bring about a change of pace. Besides their vicarious interest in the contestants' progress, listeners also have a chance to vie for a vacum cleaner by mailing four-line jingles for Acree to toss at studio guests. On the whole it's a meritorious varied.

Unfortunately, Forest had compete with clattering dishes. Effect would likewise be enhanced if the announcing were done from the Empire Room rather than by remote control. Room's fine food and be a u tiful atmosphere are plugged.

ant so a u tiful atmosphere are plugged.

ant so a u tiful atmosphere are plugged.

ant so a u tiful atmosphere are plugged.

Gib.

CHANCE OF A LIFETIME
With Janie Ford, John Reed King;
Kenneth Roberts, announcer
Director: Charles Harrell
Producer: Bob Jennings
30 Mins; Sun, 9:30 p.m.
Sustaining
ABC, from N. Y.

Measured in terms of its giveaways dimensions, "Chance of a Lifetime" rates as one of the big-gest shows on the air. And there's hardly any other measuring rod applying to this type of airer. Show slugs hard with another staggerapplying to this type of airer. Show slugs hard with another staggering array of prizes ranging from a pittance of a couple of hundred doilars to a $25,000 completedly furnished home. Not much program finesse is present or needed with ali this loot dangling before dialers who want their gambling instinct satisfied.

Under this show's system of shoveling out the gifts, studio participants have to pick out from an electrical board three letters which ring either a bell or a buzzer. If it's a bell, the prizes soar into heavy coin; if it's a buzzer, the prizes are more moderate, but slinefty. On the initial show, one out of the four participants was a home listener who was contacted via telephone. After selecting their first three letters, the participants are given a chance to gamble their previous winnings against a grand jackpot prize in a 10-second race to ring up another bell on the board.

Like other giveaways shows, it's virtually impossible for a participant to miss winning a good share of the giveaways. The initial brainteasers are geared to the L'Q of the average dialer. In order to win the jackpot, however, dialers would have to know for example, the technical name of a two-humped camel which, of course, narrowly cut down the chances of winning.

As engee, John Reed King conducts the quiz in an ammosphere of winning.

narrowly cut down the chances of winning.

As emeee, John Reed King conducts the quiz in an atmosphere of near-hysteria. He whips up audiences with shout, howls and a style of laughing that's usually heard on "Inner Sanctum." But virtually anything goes on the show and King's approach fits the clime. Vocalist Janie Ford delivers the show's theme song in a non-hysterical manner.

Currently, show is sustaining but Bruner-Ritter, jewelers. pick up the tab beginning Sept. 4. Herm.

EXPENSE ACCOUNT - FRANK FARRELL
With Farrell; Herbert Hoover; Ted
Malley, announcer
15 Mins.; Sat., 7 p.m.
Sustaining
WOR, N. Y.
WOR, N. Y., has pacted Frank Farrell, N. Y. World - Telegram reporter, to give a weekly spiel on government spending. Idea is Farrell, N. Y. World-Telegram reporter, to give a weekly spiel on government spending. Idea Is good, and the series shapes up as eminently worthwhile, even if the opening session Saturday (30) was more polemic than reporting.

Farrell's first several programs will be based on the recent Herbert Hoover report for streamlining various government bureaus in the name of economy and efficiency. Opener was therefore largely expository, explaining what the Hoover Commission was, its members, its scope, the need of it, etc., before getting down to the business of discussing excesses in government organization.

Farrell speaks clearly, eagerly and simply, in appealing, man-of-the-street fashion. Occasionally his enthusiasm for his cause makes him stutter or fluff, but otherwise he's definitely okay. He got off an occasional good phrase, as when insisting on 'whittling down the Washington swindle sheet.' He's strongly back of the Hoover Report, giving both it and the former President great praise for their aim in saving the taxpayer $3,000,000,000 a year in waste and inefficiency. Government organization is disordered, ineffectual, Farrell calims; a thorough reorganization is imperative.

Ex-President Hoover, in a transcribed special message, commended the series, to give it added stature. If Farrell sticks to reporting the facts, instead of his occasional preachment, it will be an excellent series.

THE FIRST HUNDRED YEARS
With Barbara Ellers, Sam Edwards,
Joseph Kearns, Myra Marsh, Bea
Benadaret, Earle Ross; announcer, Owen James
Producer: Dick Woollen
Writer: Jean Holloway
30 Mins.; Thurs., 8:30 p.m.
Sustaining

Sustaining ABC, from Hollywood

30 Mins; Thurs., 8:30 p.m.

Sustaining
ABC, from Hollywood

This is another situation comedy based on the foibles of young married couples. While it doesn't reach the level of "Blonde" or "Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," it is somewhat better than "Me and Janie" and "My Good Wife," two shows in the same genre which NBC preemed this summer.

Humor reprised a lot of the old standbys of similar stanzas, but Jean Holloway worked up an effective script which cut back and forth from the bride's-home to the groom's abode on the morn of the wedding. Typically, the gal wondered whether her future hubby would snore while the latter worried that his spouse might sleep with her hair in lettal curiers. Typically, the garrulous fathers were sympathetic toward the young man "facing a life sentence" while the mothers were weepy over "losing my darling child." And typically, there was a young brat sister who thinks that ceremonies are "corny" and that sentiment "stinks."

Miss Holloway made good use of change of pace, inserting several flashbacks of tender romantie scenes. These gave the airer and added dimension of reality and were generally better scripted than the comic dialog. Acting of Bara Eilers and Sam Edwards as the young couple was slick and the supporting roles, although caricatured, were capably handled. Musical bridges displayed little originality, one obvious cue being a few bars of the "Wedding March" played with a trombone wha-wha for comic effect. A minor technical flaw was that the level on the audience mike was too low, which made the spectators' laughter seem thin.

BYEN DATE NOT FREE

AND YET NOT FREE
With Arnold Moss, Everett Sloane
Writer: Alvin Boretz
Producer: Ted Hudes
Director: Mitchell. Grayson
15 Mins; Wed. (27), 10:15 p.m.
CITIZENS COMMITTEE AN DISPLACED PERSONS
WMCA, N. Y.
Prepared by the Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons,
"And Yet Not Free" is another in a series of transcribed drama which urges Congress to re-examine its existing DP entry act.
While most of the salient reasons why DP's should receive more consideration is contained in this ayirer, the stanza is not quite as forceful as the Committee's previous documentaries on this subject.
Deficiencies of the law are potential decementaries on this subject.

Deficiencies of the law are brought out in a discussion between a government DP camp worker and an inmate. Script is marked by frequent references to the 1620 Mayflower Pact, the Constitution's preamble as well as a Lincolnian quotation, in order to show America was founded on a policy of admitting free men. However, in citing historical precedents, the program tended to neglect more pressing contemporary issues.

lect more pressing contemposations.

Recording of President Truman's voice, taken from one of his addresses to Congress, helped sum up the current situation. He branded the plight of DP's as a "world tragedy" and added that these people would bring "strength and energy to the nation" were proper legislation for their admittance passed. Arnold Moss and Everett Sloane topped the small cast while John Gart's original music formed effective bridges.

BREAKFAST GANG
With Mel Ventner, Polly Lawrence,
Lyle Bardo Orch, others
Producer-Director: Mel Ventner
30 Mins.; Mon.-thru-Fri.; 7:15 a.m.
Participating.

ganization is imperative.

Ex-President Hoover, in a transcribed special message, commended the series, to give it added stature. If Farrell sticks to reporting the facts, instead of his occasional preachment, it will be an excellent series.

Bron.

MUSIC MEMORANDUM
With Frederick Lloyd
9:00 a.m., 15 mins., Mon. -thru-Fri.
Sustaining
KOMO, Seattle
This record-show strip with Frederick Lloyd (Lloyd Bloom) is a pleasant cntry in the morning sweepstakes for hausfrau listening.

KOMO, Seattle
This record-show strip with Frederick Lloyd (Lloyd Bloom) is a pleasant cntry in the morning sweepstakes for hausfrau listening.

Ilitted out of the routine with a judicious use of verse as tune introductions. Music is chiefly on the nostalgic and ballad side, and midway Bloom filis in with program notes on other KOMO programs. A nice Job all around.

BASEBALL: RADIO FRANKENSTEIN

Hooper's Top 15 and the Opposition | INDIE SPOT BIZ

	(3	uly 30)
		Sponsored Total Network Competition	Comp
	Wannanathan		tition
	Hooperating	NBC Symphony 3.8	10.6
Walter Winchell	15.5	(No Sponsored Programs)	7.0
Horace Heidt	10.5	Johns-Manville News . 1.7	6.6
This Is Your F.B.I	9.8	Sam Spade 8.0	12.9
Stop the usic	9.8	NBC Symphony 3.8
		Fish & Hunt 1.1	6.3
Mr. Keen	9.1	Johns-Manville 1.7
Louella Parsons	8.5	NBC Symphony 3.8	10.6
Our Miss Brooks	8.4	Album Familiar Music 4.1	10.8
Take It or Leave	It 8.1	Jimmie Fidler 6.4	10.0
Crime Photograph	er 8.0	Name the Movie 2.3	8.7
Sam Spade	8.0	Stop the Music 6.0	14.1
		Stop the Music 10.3
Mr. District Attor	ney. 8.0	Lawrence Welk 2.2
Drew Pearson	7.9	Family Hour of Stars. 1.9	9.1
		Roy Rogers 4.4
Mr. Chameleon	7.8	Orig. Amateur Hour. 4.3
Fat Man	7.6	Band of America 2.6	7.2
Curtain Time	7.5	(No Sponsored Programs)	8.5

BAB Maps Split from NAB in Year; Miller Plugs for Autonomous BMB

will be a self-sustaining body with-out financial support from the National Assn. of Broadcasters National Assn. of Broadcasters within a year, according to NAB prexy Justin Miller. Latter told a press conference last week that NAB will continue to aid BAB during the present reorganization period but that details of the separation are being worked out for BAB members to provide its financial backing.

BAB members to provide its financial backing.

BAB chief Maurice Mitchell said that the bureau, which has established offices in New York, has been going ahead "at full steam" and is completing its personal roster quickly. Charles Batson is heading up its TV sector and Lee Hart will join its executive staff at the end of her vacation. Robert
M. McGredy, former sales manager
M. McGredy, former sales manager of WTOP, Washington, and WPAT.
Paterson, N. J., has been added as an assistant director, assigned to the national spot field and spearheading activities in the chain store field.

field.

"There has been some discussion as to whether BAB should plug tele." Mitchell said, "buf we feel that as long as we're positive in pushing both AM and TV neither medium will suffer. However, we have met some skepticism on the part of newspaper-owned stations because of our selling the value of broadcasting over the dailies, radio's chief competition for the retailer's dollar."

Discussing the precarious situation of Broadcast Measurement Bureau, Judge Miller said that a

Discussing the precarious situation of Broadcast Measurement Bureau, Judge Miller said that a solution to its problems should be found in establishing it along the lines proposed for BAB. Making it independent of NAB, two-thirds of whose members are not BMB (Continued en page 28)

(Continued on page 36)

'Travelers' Own Marshall Plan

Chicago, Aug. 2.

Marshall Plan, junior grade, leaves for Europe Aug. 12. A plane load of prizes, ranging from cigaret lighters to washing machines, will accompany Tommy Bartlett and his "Welcome Travelers" troupe of 15 which will entertain GI's for two weeks. A yet-to-be-signed femme singer and film star will be included in the group. Joe E. Brown is scheduled for a London appearance with the show. "Travelers" will tape-record the show, using GI participants, which will be followed by a 45 minute variety show at each base. First stateside airing of the European-recorded programs will be on NBC Sept. 5.

To guard against mechanical mis-

Sept. 5.
To guard against mechanical mis-To guard against mechanical mishaps, all necessary electrical and mechanical equipment is being carried in triplicate.

Ripley of the junket is that the USAF refused to allow a press agent to accompany the party.

body with-from the Writers Guild Sets Up Web Talks on New Pacts

Eastern region office of the Ra-dio Writers Guild will hold par-leys with its members at CBS, NBC and ABC in the next few weeks preparatory to entering into nego-tiations with the webs for new con-tracts. Present pacts expire Sept.

Demands will be formulated by the 75 news and continuity writers who are covered by the staff con-tracts.

See D.C.'s WWDC Buying Cowles' WOL for 300G

Washington, Aug. 2.

A deal will probably be signed this week for the sale of WOL, owned by the Cowles Broadcasting Co., to WWDC for a flat $300,000. The Mutual affiliation is taken over by WWDC but no agreement to extend the contract beyond its expiration next June is provided. It is understood that principal interest of WWDC, owned by Joseph Katz of the New York and Baltimore advertising agency, in acquiring the Cowles station, is the increased coverage it can get from WOL's 5 kw operation on 1,260 kc. The highly prosperous 250 watter, town's leading independent, is believed to be quite satisfied with its present format and not seeking to change it. The present news contract by which WOL originates Mutual programs in Washington is not being assumed by WWDC. Contract calls for acquisition of all physical facilities, except television equipment with which Cowles was experimenting. WWDC will assume lease of WOL studios in Heurich building on K Street but hasn't decided yet whether it will move in. Decision will likely hinge on disposition of WWDC facilities which must be sold under government duopoly regulations. Following FCC approval, station will turn in WOL-call elters and substitute its own. Same will go for WOL-FM.

In acquiring WOL-S facilities, WWDC is buying a plant for considerably less than it could duplicate today. Cowles invested nearly $500,000 in AM and FM since it acquired WOL about four years ago. Some of the equipment would cost more today.

The Cowles firm has taken a licking in its Washington radio venture. To obtain WOL it swapped the 5 kw WMT in Codar Rapids, a CBS affiliate, which is one of the biggest moneymakers in Iowa Gardner Cowles, who was domestic (Continued on page 36)

TAKES A BEATING

The indie stations with major league basebali commitments, both in New York and around the country, have been making much of the fact that, for an approximate 30 weeks of the year, they've been copping all the daytime audiences, as evidenced by the Hoopers in the respective cities.

For the first time, however, a great many of the stations are beginning to wonder whether it's been great many of the stations are beginning to wonder whether it's been worth it. The skepticism, particularly among the Gotham outlets carrying the Yankees, Glants and Dodgers games, stems from an awareness that it's beginning to cost them money out of the station pocket. It was one thing to ride along with the regulation 2 to 5

p. m. warmup and playing time.

But with more and more games taking over the nighttime spectrum (with a record high established this season), the stations find they've been forced to cancel out regularly scheduled commercials, particularly the lucrative spot business.
Similarly the long games, stretching into 14 and 15 innings, are proving costly to the stations, since they're committed to see them through. On the latter, WMGM, which carries the Dodger games, seems to have the advantage over the other stations, since it managed to bypass any such contractual bolligation, signing off at 5 p. m., regardless, to make way for Ted Husing's "Bandstand." Those double-headers that run overtime, the stations cry, are nothing short
of murder in wiping out spot biz.

On the other hand, it's the selfsame WMGM that takes the worst nighttime beating among the Manhattan b.b, stations, in view of the 45-game Dodger nighttime schedule, including 21 home games alone.
(St. Lonis stations take the major rap, with practically half of the season's lights, which carries the Yankee "Gomes ic "stuck" with 36 nighttime rap, with practically hair of the season's games played under lights.)

WINS, which carries the Yankee games, is "stuck" with 36 nighttime games, and WMCA, with its Giants coverage, has 38 after-dark home and away contests, an increase of 10 over last season, meaning in all cases a cancellation of regular nighttime commercials and refund to clients, even though the latter benefit by a cuffo plug.

Usually, in case of rain, the stations manage to reschedule their commercial lineups to salvage a portion of the business, but this year, thus far, they haven't even been able to capitalize on that break.

U. ef Cal. Campus Radio Goes Com'l.

Washington, Aug. 2.

The campus-wired radio station at the U. of Southern California in Los Angeles, KTRO, which has an audience of 5,000 students, is planning to accept commercials next fall-to give experience and to develop "intelligent sensibilities" in broadcast personnel.

"We, with many others," KTRO told the FCC last week, "are frequently given to denouncing vulgar commercialism and offensive radio practices. Such tirades are only lovely generalities, however, until they can be backed with experience in good broadcasting and until we can prove to ourselves and others that good commercialism exists, and what it is."

The station, which is operated for and by students" under faculty supervision, requested that the Commission hold hearings on proposed regulations governing low-power campus stations.

WCAU Fumbles Penn Game Political Football as 5 Other Outlets Recover

BEECHAM AS LONGHAIR

WQXR DISK JOCKEY

Sir Thomas Beecham, the British conductor, will be a classical disk jockey on a transcribed series to be heard over WQXR, N. Y., this fall. The weekly airer, "Sir Thomas Beecham Turns the Tables," was bought by the N. Y.
Times station from Towers of London, Ltd., with Oliver W. Nicoli representing Harry Alan Towers in Gotham.

Elliott M. Sanger, WQXR's exec veepee, and Mrs. Sanger, program director, now are in London to confer with Towers on the serries. Programs will be 55 minutes long and will feature music by orchestras. Sir Thomas has conducted & well as interviewed longthair celebs. Conductor expects to use a light approach in his commentary, feeling that "serrious music need not necessarily be treated too seriously."

Italo Beer Yen, Femme Smokers. Show in Survey

Several hitherto unsuspected facts—such as that Italian housewives offer an excellent market for cigarets and that more Italian homes buy beer than wine—are revealed in a special study conducted for WOV, N. Y., by The Pulse

Pulse.

Survey differs from WOV's previous pantry inventory and similar studies in that it covers not only those products in the home on a given day but a careful record of purchases over a four-week period, Results are valuable to sponsors and agencies because they show the relative standing of various brands in the market and the frequency of purchase with greater accuracy than previous investigations. Data on 600 products in 65 classifications is included.

Figures show that Italian house-tions. Data on 500 products in obclassifications is included.

Figures show that Italian housewives in the New York area buy 15.000,000 packs of cigarets a month, exploding the misconception that this group of women doesn't smoke. They also show that although 61% of Italian homes in the area buy wine, 73% buy beer—11,000,000 bottles a week.
"The Italian-speaking people in N. Y. are a big, rich and important market," declared Ralph Weil, WOV manager. "National magazines hardly reach them. The single Italian-language daily in the city reaches only 20% of the women and because not all are
(Continued on page 36)

(Continued on page 36)

TWO-CITY HASSLE FOR OHIO STATION SETTLED

Portsmouth, O., Aug. 2. Portsmouth, O., Aug. 2.

The two-city, two-state hassle over rights for a radio station in Portsmouth is over, with local interests apparently carrying the day. Greater Huntington Radio Corp. last week withdrew its application asking same facilities sought by Portsmouth Broadcasting Co., the FCC announced.

Both outfits had asked to over.

ing Co., the FCC announced.

Both outfits had asked to operate on 1.260 kc, one kw, unlimited time. Huntington firm, which operates WHTN, asked that its application be dismissed without prejudice. This the Commission has done, and at the same time the Portsmouth application was removed from the hearing docket, thus clearing the way for FCC action.

No other applications competing

No other applications competing with the Portsmouth proposal have theen filed, the Commission said.

U. of Pennsylvania grid games, for the past 14 years carried ex-WOXR DISK JOCKEY clusively by WCAU, CBS affiliate, have been thrown open to all nine stations here. So far KWY, WFIL, WIBG, WILAT and WIP have accepted the gridcasts, with WJMJ, WPEN and WDAS unavailable because of other commitments. WCAU has been granted an extension of time to make up its mind, because Donald W. Thornburgh took over station manager only Monday

Games will be sponsored by At-Games will be sponsored by Atlantic Refining, via N. W. Ayer, and the sponsor reportedly says it won't pay for stations other than WCAU or, if the latter decides against carrying the grideasts, whatever station it buys. It is believed however, that the university itself will pay for time on other local outlets, using coin it receives from Atlantic for rights to the games. Stations would bill Ayer, with the agency deducting the charges from the payment to the university for broadcast rights.

Reason for Peun's decision to charges from the payment to the university for broadcast rights.

Reason for Penn's decision to make the grid airers available to all Philly stations reportedly is that college prexy Harota E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, is raising funds for a $32,000,000 expansion of the university and also has presidential ambitions. Several stations in the city have been after him to get the broadcasts, and rather than antagonize potential allies, it's said, he decided the easiest way is to give everybody a crack at them.

WPTZ has exclusive rights to televise the games this season, but it's believed that next year the games will be opened to all three video outlets here.

Hoover Stance OK'd by FCC

Washington, Aug. 2 Recommendations of the Hoover

Commission affecting the Federal Communications Commission were given general endorsement by the FCC last week. Replying to a request for its views from Chairman John J. McClellan (D., Ark.) of the Scnate Committee on Expenditures, Acting FCC Chairman Rosel Hyde said his agency agrees that: 1. Administrative responsibility be retained in the chairman.

Commissioners be removable only for cause.

3. Commissioners stay in office until a successor has been appointed.

4. Salaries should be raised for

a. Sataries should be raised for members and staff heads.
 5. The Commission should be permitted to delegate routine mat-ters to the staff (authority already provided).

provided.

Hyde commented that in considering salaries for the Commission, not enough emphasis is given the importance of its regulatory services. While FCC has only a personnel of 1,350, he said, it has responsibilities for such industries as radio and television which are vital to the welfare of the nation.

vital to the welfare of the nation.

Under the Hoover recommendations, Commissioners would receive $17,500 a year and the President would be empowered to pay the chairman $20,000. A bill has passed the House to pay members $16,000 and allow the chairman $18,000.

Sen. McFarland (D., Ariz.) Ishopeful of action this week by the Senate on his bill which would pay Commissioners $15,000 a year in stead of the present $10,000. What Congress will finally come throug with this session is anybody's guess.

On Sunday night, Luigi spent a half hour with some to temillion friends...He could have delivering the biggest values The inevitable squawks to the government's television allocation governments television allocation proposals reached crescendo proportions last week, with the result that it will take at least a month longer for the freeze to thaw out. Confronted with a swarm of industry requests for more time to stud try requests for more time to study the data and prepare comments the FCC postponed hearings scheduled for Aug. 29 to Sept. 26. Judging from some of the petitions filed last week with the agency, it won't be surprising if further extensions are sough. Analyzing the won't be surprising it further ex-tensions are sought. Analyzing the effect of the allocations, broad-casters say, is a big job and en-gineers need vacations too.

In view of the hearing postpone-ment, it is now considered ex-tremely doubtful if-the-video-freeze on he litted by the end of the tremely doubtful if the video-freeze-can be lifted by the end of the year—if then. This means it will-be at least six months before FCC can hand out a television permit either in the present channels or in the new ultra high frequency (CHF) band. Any possible action on color will be likewise delayed but the additional time provided for testing and demonstrating 6 mc bandwidth colorcasting might well turn out to be an advantage. turn out to be an advantage

One of the big gripes against the allocation proposals is the mixing of UHF and VHF stations in the same cities. The ABC network told the Commission the plan will same cities. The ABC network told the Commission the plan will cause too many complications and produce a "disjointed system." It believes more VHF channels can be assigned for cities which have been given UHF, making it unnecessary for set öwners to install adaptors to tune in the new stations which would be provided.

The web thinks its plan can be accomplished by squeezing more VHF stations from one channel through the use of directional transmitting antennas, by limiting a station's signal to the needs of its area, and by employing other engineering alds. So important does ABC regard the problem that it suggested the Commission devote the initial hearings to it before proceeding with specific allocations.

In postponing its hearings, the In postponing its hearings, the Commission also extended from Aug. 8 to Aug. 26 the deadline for filing comments on the allocations and from Aug. 19 to Sept. 12 for submitting counterproposals.

SHOWCASE SPONSOR FOR 'SURPRISE THEATRE

Hollywood, Aug. 2. NBC's KNBH will handle telenser of the William Morris agency ackage. "Surprise Theatre." for package. 13 weeks. 13 weeks. Program will be different each week. Agency is presenting show in order to get kinescope for sponsor presentation. Morris office will pay costs for kine while KNBH will stand all other injuries. First show, starring Pinky Lee, is slated for Aug. 10 telensing. Following layouts will fecture ZaSu Pitts. Billie Burke, Bela Lugos; Sterling Holloway, El Brendel. Moro and Yaconelli, Weaver Bros. and Elviry and Marcy McGuire. Program will be dif-

Oboler's New Show

Hollywood, Aug. 2.

Arch Oboler will do a 30-minute dramatic television show over KLAC-TV, starting this fall. Program will be Cinemascoped for presentation here as well as in other markets. MCA is handling Oboler show will be compared to the package.

Oboler show will be given eight hours in the studios where it hours in the studios where it will be Cinemascoped on a closed cir-cuit and edited to 30-minutes for telensing. Martha Scott has been set for the initialer which will be put on film this week. Different top role thesps will be used each week.

Hodges' WLW-T Show

Cincinnati, Aug. 2.
Paul Hodges, a rejoiner of tagosley staff after a two-year flight WEWS, Cleveland, this we win wews, Cleveland, this week Jaunched a series of evening 15-rimute shows on WLW-T with 'Paul's Place' tabbing for lunch-wagon locale.

"Paul's Place" tabbing for functionages locale.

On previous Crosley stints Hodges did man-on-the-street pick-tups for WLW at train and bus depois here and also for piping from New York's Pennsylvania Station.

FCC's Color List

Washington, Aug. 2. The extent of experimenta-tion on color television was revealed last week in a listing of companies called upon by the Federal Communications Commission to supply re-search reports for its forth-Commission to supply research reports for its forthcoming video allocation hearings. From 32 firms licensed to operate 46 experimental television stations, the Commission called on eight to submit color data. These were Capehart - Farnsworth Co.,
CES. Don Lee, DuMont Labs.,
Paramount Television Productions. Philoc. RCA and Sherron Metallic Corp.

In addition, FCC requested reports from these and other companies on their work in developing equipment for transmitting and receiving UHF television, for propagation measurements in UHF, and for results in UHF in various parts of the band.

Meanwhile, It was learned, members of the Senate Committee on Interstate & Foreign Commerce are planning to ob serve demonstrations to be serve demonstrations to be conducted here in two weeks of color-casts from WMAR-TV, Baltimore, to be rebroadcast by WMAI-TV, Washington. Authority for the tests was recently granted by the FCC along with permission to CBS and RCA to try their systems on commercial stations.

FCC Upheld On Par Tele Bids

Washington, Aug. 2.
The U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia yesterday (1) upheid FCC policy In holding up the application of Paramount Pictures for a television station in Detroit. Commission delay In processing Par's application, the court said. was "amply justified" by the problem before the agency when permits were being handed out, namely, how many stations Par should be allowed to own.
"We conclude." said the court.

should be allowed to own.

"We conclude," said the court,
"that the failure of the Commission to consider appellant's (Par's) application in its normal routine turn was not arbitrary or capricious but was within permissive administrative discretion."

Par's subsidiary, United Detroit Theatres Corp., claimed FCC failure to pass on its application finally resulted in all but one of the Detroit channels being assigned and UDTC being thrown into a competitive hearing for the remaining frequency, which is now frozen.

frozen.

The court opinion asserted that since 1945 the Commission has been trying to determine which of numerous TV applicants in Hollywood, San Francisco, Boston, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Dallas, Cincinnatiand Passaic were Par subsidiaries and which five the maximum permitted one licensee; the picture firm wished to profes.

permitted one licensee; the picture firm wished to prefer.

Under a proposed FCC decision which holds that Par's 28% interest in DuMont constitutes control, Paramount would be denied any additional station. It now has TV outlets in Los Angeles and Chicago. DuMont has stations in New York, Washington and Pittsburgh.

'Vanity Fair' Optioned By Weintraub Agency

Weintraub agency has optioned orothy Doan's "Vanity Fair" show on CBS television for the upcoming season. Agency expects to line up five separate clients to bankroll the half-hour distaff program each day of its cross-the-board spread.

Now on a summer hiatus, "Fair" expected to return about Sept. 5. Formerly aired from noon to 12:30 p.m., it will be moved into a late afternoon spot, probably from 4:15 to 4:45.

GARRY MOORE VICE TEX-JINX 'PREVIEW'?

Garry Moore may star in his own half-hour television show for Philip Morris cigarets, as a replacement for the Tex McCrary-Jinx Falkenburg "Preview" show. Latter is set to exit its Monday night spot on CBS-TV at the conclusion of the current laweak night spot on CBS-1v at the con-clusion of the current 13-week cycle and the Biow ad agency, hav-ing re-optioned the time for the ciggie firm, wants to put Moore in the period.

Moore reportedly is still on good terms with Biow, despite his hav-ing been replaced as quizmaster on Eversharp's "Take It Or Leave It" radio show this fall by Eddie Can-Eversharp's Lane 1.50 and 1.50 Eddie Cantor Moore guested twice on Lanny Ross' "Swift Show" via NBC-TV during his recent stay in N. Y. and Blow execs believe he can be built into a standout TV personality.

Zenith Giving Go-Ahead Sign

Zenith prexy, Commander Eu-ene F. McDonald, Jr., halled Phonevision as a ripe melon which will bring fat profits to tele stations, film producers, sports pro-moters and TV set manufacturers McDonald's "pay as you go" device was given the go-ahead last week with formal signing of a pact between Zenith and its new subsidiary TECO (Television Enter-tainment Corp.), which will handle promotion and licensing of Phone-vision.

Zenith will license other manufacturers to include Phonevision in their sets, and claimed that any TV set now in existence can be modified to receive Phonevision by adding $10 worth of tubes. TECO will be a clearinghouse for the phone companies, entertainment producers and the stations.

ducers and the stations.

Phonevision device is one that will carry entertainment over telephone wires into subscriber sets and block off non-subscribers by means of a coding arrangement. Phonevision subscribers pay only for what programs they order through the phone company, currently pegged at $1 per show, and are charged on their phone bills later.

later.

McDonald pointed out that Zenith wouldn't overlap its functions with the newly formed TECO. "Zenith is not in the entertainment business," he said. "Neither will TECO have any rights to manufacture or license Phonevision or TV sets. Zenith will do the licensing of Phonevision to other set manufacturers."

McDonald said that Zenith was already in contact with other set companies wanting licenses to in-clude Phonevision equipment in their sets.

Net snows at present are kine-scoped in New York, processed there and then shipped out to sub-scriber-stations. Because there's a reported log jam among the N. Y. film processors ABC-TV has asked for bids from Chi outfits. Test made Friday (29' on "Fun for the Money" hasn't been adjudged yet, and hence no starting date on a regular schedule of kine from here regular schedule of kine from here

WENR-TV, ABC-TV's owned and WENR-TV. ABC-TV's owned and operated outlet here, is planning on an additional four to five hours of programming daily as soon as the kine deal starts on a regular basis. Move will permit the station to take more New York originations, as well as build more local shows.

Educational B'casting Sees Threat In General Expansion of TV, FM & Fax

WLW-T Doubles Sponsors During First Half of '49

Cincinnati, Aug. 2.

Cincinnati, Aug. 2.
Crosley Broadcasting Corp. reports a doubling of advertisers on WLW-T during the first half of the year, when daily airings averaged five hours and 40 minutes. Biggest gain was in local advertisers, the number jumping from 16 in January to 50 in June for spot announcements, programs and participations. Excluding spots, commercial hours during the six months increased from 17 hours, 44 minutes per week, to 34 hours, 35 minutes. 35 minutes. Telecast hours increased from 65

Telecast hours increased from 65 hours and 34 minutes to 80 hours and three, minutes per week, including test patterns. The station's research department notes that kinescope and network show hours doubled, as did remote hours, with baseball bringing the total of local non-studio time to 13 hours and 55 minutes in June.

Coast Union Meet On TV Continues

Hollywood, Aug. 2.

Indications are that 80 reps of eight unions will continue meetings here late into this week in attempts to reach jurisdictional here late into this week in attempts to reach jurisdictional agreement on divvying TV power among organized talent unions. Conclave, being held here at invitation of Screen Actors Guild, started Saturday (30). SAG appears determined to maintain control over acting on film, with that stand apparently key to any agreement.

stand apparently key to any agree-ment.

Chief item of discussion has been the so-called "President's Plan," which calls for creation of television authority by all eastern taient unions, with SAG coming in on either partnership or joint venue basis that would continue its control over film acting. East-ern union reps spent almost all day Monday (1), mulling over this plan and others.

Jarrett, Lewis Snarled When AFM Puts Scripps' Stations on Unfair List

Clncinnati, Aug. 2.
Scripps-Howard stations here are on the American Federation of Musicians' unfair list. Ban was put into effect Saturday (30) after Mortimer C. Watters, general manager, failed to agree with union ruling that four musicians, at weekly 12-hour scale of $100, be engaged for WCPO-TV four days after its commercial video bow.

As a result of the dispute. Art their sets.

CHI ACTS TO EASE

LOGJAM ON KINE

Chicago, Aug. 2.

ABC-TY has set up kinescoping facilities in its central division studios here and net insiders believe that as much as four days' time will be saved from the current New York setup for tele outlets taking-the kine shows from the net.

Net shows at present are kinescoped in New York, processed there and then shipped out to subscriber-stations. Because there's a reported log jam among the N. Y. film processors ABC-TV has asked paying a weekly fee of $45.50 for several years to Gene Hoctor, pianist, without playing on the air. Watters said that his request for Hoctor to play on WCPO-TV was met by the union demand for a salary boost to $500 weekly, for which the station could use five men. Oscar Hild, local union head and an international officer of AFM, later changed to the offer of four men for $400, Watters said. The AFM action, Hild stated, is in line with the television station's power increase over WCPO.

This leaves Crosley stations the only ones in Cincy in good AFM graces, with a staff of more than 20 musicians for AM, FM and video.

Blanket Ohio Markets
DuMont network this week signed affiliation pacts with the signed affiliation pacts with three signed affiliati rear that the expansion of tele-vision, facsimile and frequency modulation will hurt educational broadcasting is expressed in the report of 22 radio toppers and lead-ing educators who attended the ining educators who attended the in-tensive seminar sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation and the U, of Illinois In June and this month, "There has been valuable activi-ty on the part of commercial sta-tions and networks to present Im-tions and networks to present im-portant local and national issues to the general public and to partici-pate with schools and universities in the development of planned edu-cational activities." the report de-clares. "Limited and sporadic becational activities. the report de-clares. "Limited and sporadic be-cause of economic considerations, these activities have been, never-theless, important and valuable in the total educational job. The ad-vent of the new media and in-creased competition indicate a probable decrease in this kind of service by commercial broadcast-ers. It is important that commer-cial broadcasting continue to serve the national de addience with educial broadcasting continue to serve the nationwide audience with educational materials, but the situation places an even greater responsibility on educational institutions to use broadcasting and use it as well as possible."

The educational broadcasters prepared their study after consultation with a number of experts, including Dr. Paul Lazarsfeld, of New York U.; Sterling Fisher, NBC; Robert Hudson, CBS; Justin Millier. National Assn. of Broad-

Miller, National Assn. of Broad-casters prexy: Mary Ahern, ABC; and Wilbur Schramm, director of the Institute of Communications Research, chairman of the seminar, 12-Point Program

The report outlines a 12-point program for educational broadcast-

ers:
(1) Assess community needs and resources (2) Develop new program tech-ments.

(5) Help train competent personnel for the entire industry, because major technological and social developments demand new cial developments demand new skills.

(6) Publicize the possibilities of educational broadcasting.

(7) Establish a central service for sharing program via tape and transcription.

(8) Establish regional FM educational networks.

(9) Set up a national educational transcription service for planning, producing and distributing pro
(Continued on page 36)

CON EDISON BUYS TELEPIX NEWSREEL

Consolidated Edison of N. Y. this week signed to bankroll TelePix, the daily five-minute newsreel of the N. Y. Daily News' WPIX. thus becoming the first public utility in the N. Y. metropolitan area to enter video advertising. Sponsorship begins Sept. 11, through BBD&O. Con Edison plans a heavy promotion and advertising campaign for the reel, utilizing bill inserts, billboard and truck posters and window displays. TelePix, which has concentrated on local news coverage since WPIX abandoned its national syndicated reel some time ago, works in close cooperatime ago, works in close coopera-tion with the News and has thus been able to score beats on most other video reels now on the air.

DuMont Web in Bid To Blanket Ohio Markets

WOR-TV'S 'OPERATION BANKROLL'

Fibber & Molly Going Slow on TV; [X-7|EGFELD ROOF Slash in Set Prices Seen Sparking Would Have to Give Up AM Airer LEASED AS STUDIO

Jim and Marian Jordan (FibberMcGee and Molly) are considering the possibility of going into televisin, but want to get their feet wet in the new medium slowly. The Jordans told VARIETY, before sailing last week for a European vacation, that they will do an experimental TV audition for kinescoping in Hollywood next October. "Fibber and Molly" is one of the few top comedy airers remaining on NBC after the CBS raids. "Like all advertisers," said Jordan, "our sponsor, Johnson's wax, would like to get into tele, because verybody's talking about it. But very wisely they're not pushing us into it. We think that Wistful Vista will go well on teevee. However, we're not certain that we old people can adapt successfully to video."

The Jordans have had experience

we're not certain that we old people can adapt successfully to video."

The Jordans have had experience in visual entertainment as a vaude team, having done a piano act and other turns, but they left the field for radio 24 years ago. "Now." Jordan commented, "we're not sure we even know how to make an entrance." They feel, however, that there may be a good carryover for TV from their film experience, which includes five pix. Their last effort, "Heavenly Days," was made in 1944.

"If we get into video in '50," Mrs. Jordan said, "we'd have to give up our AM program, because it's virtually impossible to do both. If we knew we were ready and could do a tele version, we wouldn't want to be on kinescopes at their present level of quality. However, NBC is constantly improving their kines and we think that those we're doing on the Coast are better than those we're getting from the east. Probably by the time we're ready, kine quality will have been perfected."

When "Fibber and Molly" returns to NBC Sept. 13 it will celebrate its 15th year for the same aponsor, Johnson's Wax. A special hour-long broadcast is being lined up, with guest starts and a revamped format.

CBS' Chi Poser On Audience Shift

faced with the problem of transposing its entire Chlcago audience from one station to another several weeks after the new season starts. Its success in getting the audience to switch is expected to offer evidence on how deeply-set are the dial-tuning habits of televiewers.

viewers.

Web is now affiliated with the Chi Tribune's WGN-TV. On Oct. 12, however, it starts an exclusive affiliation agreement with WBKB, the Balaban & Katz outlet. It was originally reported that, to forestall the necessity for the audience switch, CBS would attempt to convince snanears of its new fall shows. switch, CBS would attempt to con-vince sponsors of its new fall shows to sign a network pact minus a Chi outlet and then make an indie deaf with WBKB until CBS moved in on that station.

Web sales execs this week, how-ever, scotched those reports, de-claring all network shows would be carried on WGN-TV until the switchover time.

SCHWARTZ TO COAST ON 'INSIDE' TALENT HUNT

Arthur Schwartz flew to the Coast Monday (1) to line up talent for his new revue, "Inside U.S.A. with Chevrolet," which preems on OBS-TV Sept. 29. The producer-composer expects to pact several pic celebs to star in the various editions of the show and will confer with Hollywood scripters on sketch material.

Music for the video series will be cleffed by Schwartz, with most of the lyrics to be penned by Howard Dietz.

FCC: 'Quit Stalling'

Washington, Aug. 2.
The FCC cracked down on a television permittee last week for stalling on construction but eased up on another after a showing of intention to complete operations. On the basis of "apparent lack of diligence," the agency refused WJIM-TV in Lansing, Mich, an extension of completion date but gave the permittee opportunity to request hearings.

request hearings.

In the case of KTLX of Phoenix, the Commission set aside a previous denial of an extension and gave the permittee to Nov. 27, 1949, to complete the station.

Wynn's TV Series Seen 'Opening The Coast' to Others

Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Hal Kanter, radio writer just signed as head scripter for the upcoming Ed Wynn television show, believes the Wynn stanza has already started to "open up the Coast" for TV. Once Wynn, whose years of experience have made him an authority in show business, decided to gamble his career on video, those who had paid no attention to cided to gamble his career on video, those who had paid no attention to the new medium apparently decided the time had come to hop on the video bandwagon.

"What surprises me," Kanter says, "is that so many people who've been sluffing off TV in conservations the nate it would be have who've been sluffing off TV in conversations the past six months have been calling me to find out what chance they have of getting on the show in some way. Evidently, enthuslasm for TV is growing out here, not only among those who are involved in it now but among radio and picture people who are beginning to realize they'll have to get into it sooner or later or go into the auto washing business."

Wynn show, according to Kanter, will be like the legit revues that made the comedian a star. Scripter will drop his assignment on the

made the comedian a star. Scripter will drop his assignment on the "Beulah" radio show to take over the Wynn opus but will continue to double as co-scripter, with Bill Morrow, on the Bing Crosby airer. Working with him on TV will be Seaman Jacobs, his colleague on "Beulah," and Leo Solomon, formerly a writer on the Jack Carson radio series. Kanter reportedly is getting the best writing salary yet paid in video but it is still far below AM standards. Jacobs, estroadway p.a., formerly scripted for Wynn on radio.

Wynn program kicks off via kinescope from the Coast Oct. 4 vla CBS-TV. Speidel Watch Band will sponsor.

'Unrealistic Policy' Rap Tossed at DuMont As Ginnes Yanks Show

As Ginnes Yanks Show

Abram S. Ginnes, writer-owner of "Growing Paynes," has taken the situation comedy off DuMont, where it was aired for 42 weeks, and is turning it over to Musie' Corp. of America for saie elsewhere. Reason for the move, Ginnes said, is DuMont's "unrealistic policy: short on showmanship, tong on penny-pinching."

According to Ginnes, DuMont program director James L. Caddigan called him in recently and told him the net feit the show deserved better production values and an upped budget. However, Caddigan reportedly informed the packager, a "new economy wave had been instituted" and finted at a budget cut.

Meanwhile Ginnes is readving cut.

Meanwhile Ginnes is readying the audition script for the "Cafe Society" tele show, which the Ted Ashley office is handling.

"Anybody can spend money; the trick is to do it for nothing" is the theme for WOR-TV, due to preem in September. The tele adjunct of Mutual's N. Y. key will buy no programs, but instead will air packaged shows acceptable to the station, opening them for one-minute spots and giving the producing company a slice of the revenue.

the same time, VARIETY learned, WOR-TV has set a deal to lease the New Amsterdam Roof for a video theatre. The house, teatied, WOR-1V has set a geai to lease the New Amsterdam Roof for a video theatre. The house, once used by Florenz Ziegfeld for his famous summer shows, was one of the first theatres to be used by broadcasters, with NBC's Ed Wynn Texaco show originating there. Later it was taken over by WOR-Mutual, until the latter obtained the Guild and Longacre houses.

Extensive alterations will be required to convert the theatre, but these are expected to be completed by the time the station hits the air. Test pattern is skedded for Aug. 15, to be followed by a diet of sports remotes until regular programs are launched next month.

Agency reaction to "Operation Bankroll." the policy of getting maximum operation with minimum expense, is said to be favorable. Feeling of those agency toppers who know the WOR-TV blueprint is that it will open a large field to local sponsors who don't have the coin to pay for big shows. With the station getting stanzas cuffo and the advertisers having to pay merely for their spots, it's forecast that a large number of new backers will be attracted.

Thinking behind the plan of number of new backers will be attracted.

Thinking behind the plan of Theodore Streibert, WOR prexy, and Julius Seebach, program veepee, is that the lush days of TV are still a long way off. Video, they say, must be geared for a mass market and to be successful must become as inexpensive as radio now is, In addition, they believe that WOR's experience proves that a strong signal and a good position on the dial will always lure sponsors. Location of the WOR'TV tower high above the (Continued on page 36)

BENNY—AS OF TUES.-SAYS HE'LL GO KINE

Jack Benny's on-again, off-again decision for television this fall has hit the affirmative again, with the comedian reportedly set now to tee off on CBS-TV under American Tobacco sponsorship. Show would originate from Hollywood via kine-scoping on an every-other-week basis, alternating in the Thursday night at 8:30 spot with Arthur Schwartz's "Inside U. S. A. with Chevrolet."

Chevrolet."

Only last week Benny told Vincent Riggio, the tobacco firm's prez, that he would not enter TV this fall unless the quality of kinescoping is greatly improved. Riggio concurred with his decision. Then Ed Wynn, who had earlier signed for a kinescoped show this fall from the Coast, returned to Hollywood from N. Y. and told Bennyhow much he had been impressed by CBS-TV's kine process. Wynn and Benny, as old-timers in the business, are longtime friends and it was reportedly Wynn's persuasion that decided Benny to make the plunge this year.

Legion Turns Over Club To Kids for TV Viewing

Detroit, Aug. 2. The David M. Vincent American Legion post will open lts club from 4 to 6 p.m. each Sunday so

Joan Presley, former WAC in charge of the children's two hours, said the move was designed to keep youngsters from going to bars to watch programs. children can watch television.

1,500,000 Unit Sales in 6 Months

Oh, the Pain of It

Chicago, Aug. 2. Tele fans were warned here Tele fains were warned nere last week to assume an upright position while viewing sets, or else run the risks of "telesquat" and "telecrane." Dr. Martin Stone told the national convention of chiropractors that "telesquat." which comes from slumping in chairs, will from slumping in chairs, will from slumping in chairs, will produce low backaches, while "telecrane," which is cansed by straining forward, develops neck aches, headaches and eye strain.

Dr. Stone warned that the joys of TV may well be followed by pairs at both ends of the spine.

Esso to Bankroll 'Broadway' Legit Capsule Package

"Tonight on Broadway," television show featuring half-hour capsuled versions of legit productions directly from the theatre, has been set to tee off Oct. 2 via CBS-TV in the Sunday night at 7 spot. Program, which had an eight-week run on the same web last year, is to be sponsored by Esso, which has taken a 52-week ontion on the taken a 52-week option on the package through the Marschalk & taken a 52-week option on the package through the Marschalk & Pratt ad agency.

According to indie packager Martin Gosch, who will produce and direct, cooperation of all 16 talent and labor unions in legit has been obtained. They view the show as an Important method of trailerizing, and one that will create new fans for legit.

Program is to run the gamut of theatrical production. In addition to Broadway legiters, it is also planned from time to time to bring in play tryouts from Boston, Philadelphia or other cities where they delphia or other cities where they may be tested. Strawhats will also get their share of attention during the summer months and it is also planned to pick up important nitery shows when it is felt they (Continued on page 36)

Buddy Rogers Sponsor Nibbles Mount: May Cue Decision to Move East

Guest appearance television marathon has apparently paid off for Buddy Rogers, first Hollywood personality to showcase his talents on N, Y, stations for ad agency and network exces. On the strength and network execs. On the strength of 11 separate guest shots which he will have completed by Sunday (7), Rogers has received seven bids for his own show in N. Y. and he expects to sign for one of them before returning to the Coast.

Most of the offers would require Rogers to originate his show from N. Y. and both he and Mary Pickford, his wife, are reportedly ready to make the move. Indie Hollywood packager Mai Boyd, prez of the Television Producers Assn., lined up the guest shots as Rogers' personal manager and is now dickering with the interested agencies and networks.

ering with the interested agencies and networks.

Boyd co-produced "Punch with Buddy Rogers," which ran 10 weeks on the Coast. Star is slated for a guest appearance on KTTV's "Hollywood in Three Dimensions" when he returns, to discuss with Alan Mowbray, star of that show, their trips to N. Y. Mowbray returned to Hollywood last week after having appeared on "Chevrolet on Broadway" in N. Y.

Rogers' N. Y. dates covered the gamut of variety, dramatic and panel shows. They were lined up by Boyd in conjunction with Gainsborough Associates, N. Y. indie package outfit.

Drastically-reduced prices on 1950 television receivers, some of which are $200 lower than comparable sets now on the market, indicate the Industry might reach the anticipated 1.500,000 unit sales for the second half of this year. With sponsors clamoring to get into the medium and with a number of top-name stars expected to hit video for the first time this fall, manufacturers are confident the combination of quality programs and low-priced sets will induce the public to buy.

Many of the new sets are already in retail stores and, while there are no signs yet of an adequate $100 model, the new prices are believed well within the range of the average family pocketbook. Also on tap to needle sales are such innovations as Philco's electronic built-in aerial, claimed to climinate the necessity for an added installation charge in 80% of the locations, DuMont's new 19-inch, short-necked tube, etc.

Manufacturers attribute the new low prices mainly to improved mass production techniques. Also figuring in are lower prices for component parts. As one industry spokesman pointed out, 'the more sets we make, the more we (Continued on page 36)

Summer Airing In N.Y. Cut 20%

Summer programming has resulted in a 20% cut in the number of shows being aired by New York video stations. From a winter peak of 253 regularly skedded shows in May, at the end of the winter cycle, network and local stanzas on the five N. Y. tele outlets dropped to 207 in July. Number of quarter-hours stations on the air per week dropped from 1053 in May to 989 in July, according to Ross Reports on Television Programming.

The Ross study revealed that vorsing to ross reports on Television Programming.

The Ross study revealed that film offerings spurted to the forefront, accounting for 26 programs and 89 quarter-hours per week. Number of sports remotes fell off, but still provided 301 quarter-hours of programming per week. WPIX continues to sked the biggest number of athletic broadcasts, totaling 117 quarter-hours weekly. Quiz and game presentations are continuing to grow and the interview genre is holding its own, the Ross analysis shows. Dramatic and comedy-variety series are warm-weather casualties, but several of these have received short-term showcasting for possible fall spots.

While CBS-TV and NBC-TV

term showcasting to possess.

While CBS-TV and NBC-TV pared down their broadcast schedules, ABC-TV increased its programming by two shows and 34 quarter-hours weekly. This month, however, should see the first of the autumn stanzas returning to the air, with the remainder to come back in September and October.

PICKENS MAY ADD TV TO AM, LEGIT CHORES

Jane Pickens will be starred in a half-hour, once-weekly television show for NBC next season, if her show for NBC next season, if her radio and legit commitments per-mit. Singer, who is now on NBC-AM and is rehearsing for a musical version of "Littie Foxes" for Broad-way in the fall, will have Donald Richards as her singing partner in recentiv ran through Duo recentiy ran through a closed-circuit performance for NBC, with the kinescoped version reportedly emerging highly successful. Format would comprise a musical program with a continuous story line. Trial run had Misse Pickens as the favorite lady among neighborhood moppets, who become jeaious of Richards until he wins them over by singing for them. MEREDITH WILLSON SHOW With Talking People (5); A Pearce, guest Producer-director: Bill Brown Writer: Jay Franklin Jones 30 Mins.; Sun., 8:30 p.m. GENERAL FOODS NBC-TV, from N. Y.

(Young & Rubicam)

Meredith Wilison, iongtime radio musician, orch conductor and monologist (that's the way he's billed), made his TV bow Sunday night (31) on his own half-hour variety show. Program, as replacement for the Jell-o sponsored "Aument for the Jell-0 sponsored withor Meets the Critics," is set for four weeks, after which General Foods will move "Aldrich Family" into the time slot. If the Willson show proves successful, NBC will then have to find it another period, then have to find it another period.

thor Meets the Critics." is set for four weeks, after which General Foods will move "Aldrich Family" into the time slot. If the Willson show proves successful, NBC will then have to find it another period. Judging from the preem performance, it's an amiable half-hour suitable for summer viewing when there is not much competition on the dial. Willson played it for the maximum in intimacy, sitting on a doorstep and hudding with the audience as with over-the-fence neighbors. Idea is good, as witness the success of Arthur Godfrey and "Dave' Garroway at Large." But Willson had neither the script nor the production values to back up his work, leaving his attempts at inrimacy out on a limb.

Willson himself will be okay for video with a couple more weeks' work. There's no questioning his versatility and he established good rapport with the audience. But he still has to learn which camera is on the air so that he can talk to the home and not the studio. His piano skit on longhair music and the production routine on "Memories" were fair but lacked punch. His "Talking People," singing combo of three men and two girls, looked and sang well. Best part of the program was Alice Pearce, sock with her standard nitery routines. Jell-o commercials, done on film with Willson handling a live narration, were good. But how did NBC let him get away with those mentions of Jack Benny? Stal.

WISH YOU WERE HERE With Walter McGraw, Peg Mayer Director: McGraw Writers: McGraw and Mayer 15 Mins.; Sun.; 11:30 a.m. Sustaining WNBT, N. Y.

A looksee at Havana as a vaca-tion spot was offered over WNBT, Sunday (31) as the third in a series of celluloid travelogs titled "Wish You Were Here." Program pro-You Were Here." Program provided some exciting shots of a number of niteriés and gambling houses situated in the Cuban capital, in addition to the traditional spotlighting of landmarks. Since the film has no sound track, show's packagers Waiter McGraw and Peg Mayer lend an off the screen narration. This proves to be the weak spot of the program.

Script could use some punching up and lengthening to eliminate unnecessarily long lapses in the commentary. Idea of taking video audiences to a different playland every week is good and with some clever gab could make for an entertaining stanza.

Minneapolis—WTCN is installing the new Dr. Frank Back TV Zoomar lenses for its giant television cameras. Dr. Back is in Minneapolis supervising the in-

FOR YOUR PLEASURE With Kyle MacDonnell, Norman Paris trio, Earl Sheldon orch, Jackie Gleason, Mata and Hari, Hazel Shermet, Donald Rich-

Producer: Fred Coe Director: Richard Goode 30 Mins.; Sat., 8:30 p.m. Sustaining NBC-TV, from New York

After being off the air for five weeks following cancellation of her Sunday series with Earl Wrightson, videogenic Kyle Mac-Donnell is back on NBC-TV, this time with a show of her own. It's a smooth-flowing, easy-going haif-hour that nuakes an eye-pleasing, ear-caressing Saturday evening tuner.

Miss MacDonnell serves as a charming femeee in a nitery setup, warbling some pops, introlog guest acts and moving from table to table, all of which gives the production fluidity. It's also refreshing to have a change from tusual hyperthyroid master-of-ceremonies in the person of this relaxed chirper-hostess with her spontaneous, Ingenuous manner.

Acts on the preem (30) included Jackie Gleason's monolog on how, as a kid, he became a member of "Soft Drinks Anonymous" after getting the milk shakes. Turn was amusing, but was seen in a black-out, and more effective, version on the Hank Ladd show. Similarly, Mata and Harl's excellent ballet burlesque of the Hindu dance has been shown to better effect on other tele stanzas, where the back-drop was less cluttered than this club setting. Hazel Shermet did a neat job on a novelty number, "Television's Bad For Love," which worked gags on NBC-TV stars into the lyrics, Donald Richards was so-so vocalizing "Begin the Beguine," but was better dueting with Miss MacDonnell on "She Didn't Say Yes."

Musical accompaniment was soon although a shet on was Musical accompaniment was good, although a shot or two of the orch would have added to the nitery effect. With a careful selection of guests, a better area for terp acts and a few production changes, stanza can be assured of a click.

SPORTS REEL With Bob Bender, guests 15 Mins., Tues., 10 p.m. Sustaining WRGB-TV, Schenectady

WRGB-TV, Schenectady Program, Conducted by WRGB's sports director Bob Bender, unbinds a viewable quarter-hour. Top feature consists of interviews with area guests from various fields of athletics. Last telecast seen had Orie Arntzen, 40-year-old pitcher who won 15 games for the firstplace Albany Eastern league club this season, and 18-year-old John Counsel, 18-year-old Scotia boy, just signed by the Phillies.
Bender, consulting a paper for Bender, consulting a paper for occasional questions, handled the interview skillfuily. Possessed of a steady television personality, he interview skillfully. Possessed of a steady television personality, he demonstrated more alertness and awareness of area tastes than several broadcasters who play down baseball in favor of other sports. "Sport Reel" is a good local show.

Washington — Two applications for television stations were filed with the FCC last week. Scripps-Howard Radio, Inc., applied for Channel 6 in Knoxville. Max Lutz asked for Channel 12, not presently assigned, for McAllen, Tex.

LOST CHILD With Lulse Rainer, Vinton Hay-worth, Jackson Beck, Julian Noa Writer: Alfred Bester Director: Carl Eastman Producers: Gerald Law, Chick Vin-cent cent 30 Mins., Mon., 8 p.m.

Sustaining
WPIX. N. Y.
WPIX put its best foot forward into the video dramatic sweepstakes with a half-hour presentation
Monday (1) night starring Luise Rainer. "Lost Child," an original by Alfred Bester, was no great shakes as video dramatic literature, but as a showcase for Miss Rainer's histrionics (with the inevitable histrionics (with the inevitable telephonic sequence which comprised most of the action), it served its purpose well.

its purpose well.

WPIX is stiil undetermined whether to take a prolonged excursion into dramatic fare (this is its most ambitious venture to date along those lines), with the decision probably hinging on audience reaction invited during intermissions on Monday's presentation.

sions on Monday's presentation.

Despite the limitations of Bester's playwrighting capacities and a fairly obvious denouement, the half-hour stanza rates as superior WPIX programming. Its continuance warrants encouragement.

"Lost Child" was a natural for Miss Rainer. The role of the mother bordering on insanity, who still thinks her year-dead child alive but lost, permitted her to indulge in cerebral pyrotechnics at will. It's to her credit that she held herself in check for the most part and played with restraint. The supporting roles were well managed and the overall production, direction and camera treatment revealed lots of knowhow.

Rose.

KLAVAN'S DINER With Gene Klavan, Kitty Dierken, Ann Antrim, Mel Seebode, Barry Mansfield

With Gene Klavan, Kitty Dierken, Ann Antrim, Mel Seebode, Barry Mansfield

Nansfield Franchony Farrar

30 Mins., Mon. 7 p.m.
Participating

WAAM, Baltimore

A long-time fixture as a disk jockey on several of the AM stations here and still holding down such a stint on WBMD, Gene Klavan is essaying a half-hour video layout and promises to make a good job of it. Familiar to local daytime listeners as a clowning free-and-easy rider of platters and commercial salesman, his appearance on the TV screen should add to his stature as an entertainer as well. He clowns through a vocal and pitches in with dialects, mugging to good effect as well. Set in a diner with Kiavan as the boss, layout leans on food products for participating support and current pops are voiced legitimately by Ann Antrim and Mel Seebode. Barry Mansfield is a stooge who wanders in and out of the program for attempted laughs. With pruning of interpolated bits and limiting Klavan's major contributions to a few well placed highlights this could build into an entertaining and effective sales spot.

Fort Worth—"Davy Crockett's Amateur Night," a new studio amateur hour with Gene Reynolds as m.c. will make its debut over WBAP-TV. Competition will be open to anyone.

SEPIA
With Flo Garvin Trio, Mops Marshall, Dorothy Simmons, Billy Scott, Ronella Sanders, Vanice Smith, Jimmy Johnson.
Producer-Writer: Gene Starbecker 20 Minutes, Fri., 8:25 p.m.
Sustaining
WFBM-TV, Indianapolis
"Sepia," first live musical undertaken by WFBM-TV, preemed in promising fashion Friday night (29). Gene Starbecker, who wrote, produced and directed, designed program as rebuttal to Canada Lee's charge that not single TV show does anything for colored entertainers and show Negro iife in all its phases as it goes along. It's being offered to sponsors on basis of good first impression. Night club format was used in opener but that will change to depict Harlem, New Orieans, jungle, plantation scenes, etc., as plan develops.
Starbecker uses biack ebony idol with smoke effects to set up his symbolism at start of "Sepia"

gie, plantation scenes, etc., as plan develops.
Starbecker uses biack ebony idol with smoke effects to set up his symbolism at start of "Sepia" and again at finish. Show was especially strong on visual side, nothing elaborate in the way of sets but with smart camera work that resuited in clean, sharp, nicely varied pictures. Use of fadeins, fadeouts and dissolves was expert, giving program a feeling of continuity that was especially helpful since it's staged without talk. Titles and credits are announced only before and after. Sound was a bit wobbly, due to performers lack of experience in medium, but nothing that can't be corrected.
Flo Garvin Trio provides instrumental background well in keeping with "Sepia" pattern. Vovals make up bulk of program, but changing camera range keeps them interesting to eye as well as entertaining to ear. Most striking departure in first layout was a voodoo dance by Vanice Smith. Jimmy Johnson showed plenty of stuff in warbling "September Song" and a youngster, Ronella Sanders, came through exceptionally well in "Summertine." Gavin, Mops Marshali, Dorothy Simmons and Billy Scott also made vocai opportunities count.

With George F. Putnam; Kingsbury Smith, guest Director: Pat Fay Writer: Norman Baer 30 Mins.; Mon-thru-Fri., 12 noon, Wednesdays, 8:30 p.m. CO-OP WABD-DuMont. N. Y. "Headline Clues" presents an innovation in television news programs—a half-hour show with a telephone giveaway included. With the telephoned questions based on news reports as read by commenthe telephoned questions based on news reports as read by commentator George F. Putnam, there is every reason for home viewers to pay attention to what he says. And, since the daytime part of the show is slanted at housewives, those watching the program probably have a better line on current affairs than many of their non-TV neighbors. "Clues" thus serves a public contribe function although the place. bors. "Clues" thus serves a public service function, although the pings given manufacturers and others

bors. "Clues" thus serves a public service function, although the plugs given manufacturers and others who donate the prizes make it list as a co-op venture.

Format, as demonstrated on the show caught (28), was basically a simple one. Putnam read International News Service reports, intermixed with displays of some INP still photos. He then asked home viewers, via phone, specific questions based on his reports. If the answer was right, they got a chance at a moderate jackpot prize—a new gas range—if they could identify the picture of a city flashed on the screen with the aid of a verbai clue from Putnam. Jackpot question seemed somewhat unfair, since the multi-detailed picture showed hardiy anything on a 10 or 12-inch screen. For an added attraction, Putnam had a live interview with a guest celeb—in this case, INS European manager Kingsbury Smith, just returned from overseas.

Smith, just returned from overseas.

Putnam read the news and handled his phone interviews like a Clem McCarthy calling the races. His excited delivery is good in a way, since it certainly makes the headlines easy to absorb. It's also a considerable strain listening to the guy, since he virtually wears out his audience. Only time he slowed to a walk on the program caught was during his interview with Smith, when the seriousness of latter's talk about European affairs forced a more moderate delivery.

lairs forced a more moderate de-livery.

Production on the show was standout. INP news photos were flashed without a fluff between Put-nam and the director, and use of a split screen (half to Putnam and half to a still) while he was giving out with the questions on the phone was excellent. Final fade-out shot, in which the commen-tator's face was pinpointed on the centre of the screen with News re-ports rolling around his ears, had little value.

Stal.

TROUBLE, INC.
With Earl Hammond, Carol Hill,
Maurice Gosfield, Elaine Willlams, Eugene Stuckman Producer-Director-Writer: Elwood

liams, Eugene Stuckman Producer-Director-Writer: Elwood
Hoffman
30 Mins.; Wed., 9 p.m.
Sustaining
DuMont, from N. Y. (7 Stations)
"Program Piayhouse" DuMont's showcase for new stanzas, offered a moderately amusing whodunit on the July 27 broadcast. Private eyeer cast Earl Hammond and Carol Hill as an adventurous couple who team up in Trouble, Inc., an outfit that claims it will do "anything, anywhere, anytime." Case they were cailed in to handle on the show caught involved getting rid of $2,000,000 for an ex-con and a voluptuous nitery chirper who said they didn't want the long green around. Troubleshooters, however, found themselves in a jam when the dough disappeared and the beauty and the yegg decided they wanted it back the dough disappeared and the beauty and the yegg decided they wanted it back.

beauty and the yegg decided they wanted it back.

Situation of people trying to unload satcheis fuil of moola provided some obvious gags and the bulk of the story was played for laughs. Script included some gunplay and two killings, but the farcial handling made the elements of menace seem pretty ridiculous. Hammond was good as the anateur dick, aithough his fooling around with kids' toys and similar inanities lessened his appeal. Miss Hili provided a capable "Girl Friday" characterization and fact that it was her savvy which cracked the mystery added a pleasant twist, Maurice Gosfield was somewhat hesitant as the thug, while Elaine Williams turned in a neat performance as the seductive warbler.

Basic idea of "Trouble, Inc."

Basic idea of "Trouble, Inc." offers a good springboard for a mystery-comedy drama. However, a surer scripting job is needed to baiance the whodunit and humorous phases. As it was, the viewer couldn't be certain whether he was laughing at or with the actors.

Bril.

Tele Followup

Elliott Roosevelt and Faye Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. in real life, staged a highly-amusing spoof of radio's busband-and-wife breakfast chit-chats on NBC-TV's "Broadway chit-chats on NBC-TV's "Broadway Spotlight" Sunday night (31). Skit was slightly reminiscent of the almost classic satire done twice on AM by Fred Allen and Tailulah Bankhead. It lacked the acid script of that one but was standout in presenting Rooseveit's first attempt on any medium as a performer. He any medium as a performer. He demonstrated a neat flair for com demonstrated a neat nair for consedy, as well as an uninhibited atti-tude to do anything for a laugh. He and Miss Emerson worked so well together, in fact, that a legit husband-and-wife show for them might not be a bad idea.

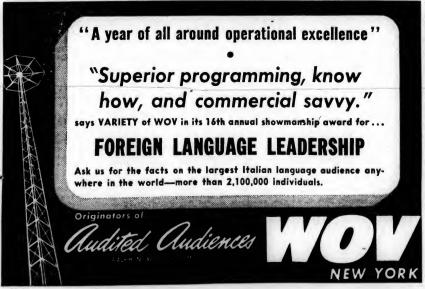

might not be a bad idea.

Joey Faye added to the fun as their breakfast guest, but the boy who played their son projected as too precocious. Show also had NBC Hollywood announcer Wendell Niles in an okay comedy skit with emcee Dick Kollmar. Other talent on the half-hour variety stanza, all good, included acroterper Lou Wills, Jr., and soprano Joan Sullivan. Herb Swope, Jr., replacing Douglas Rodgers as NBC director, showed good control over his cameras.

Television - Radio WRITER - IDEA MAN Top Network Shows Available

BOX V-50, VARIETY 154 W. 46th Street New York 19, N. Y.

Inside Television

Another device to prompt television actors before the camera and so reduce rehearsal time is being marketed by John Archer Carter, former N. Y. ad agency exec. in the form of a miniature walkie-talkie, pesigned by physicist Paul Rosenberg, the gadget consists of a tiny radio receiving set and a transmitter. Receiver, sans battery or wires, can be hidden on the actor, with the prompter stationed off-stage. Invention, according to Carter, will not only reduce studio rental expenses and rehearsal time through easing the necessity for complete memorization by actors but will also give many thesps a chance to work in video who might previously have been forced to bypass the medium through lack of rehearsal time.

Starrett Television Corp. this week came up with a plan for a Bureau of Television Optical Standards, designed to fight all adverse publicity about the alleged optical hazards to viewing TV. Bureau, to be established as a non-profit organization, would be open to all TV manufacturers, distributors and dealers and would furnish a commendation seal for sets meeting certain optical standards. Starrett also hopes the bureau could develop a continuing public relations program and function as a central agency to help dealers promote set sales.

Cinetel, new central vidpic buying agency for tele stations, has a "cooperative" feature which gives the 13 outlets now members annual febates based on a percentage of their purchases. Films are bought by Cinetel after screening by a board that includes toppers of some of the subscribing outfits. Stations pay for product on a percentage of their hourly card rates.

ourly card rates.

Ed Woodruff, who was formerly with DuMont and WPIX, N. Y., heads the organization and says he hopes to stimulate vidpic production by giving producers a good paying source. Stations which have used a film once can re-screen it as often as they like during a 12-month period, without payment of additional fees.

Glenn Turnbull will make his last television appearance on KTTV's "Hollywood Presents" this week. Turnbull's initial video appearance was on the same program last month. At that time, Turnbull was spotted by Warner Bros, and shortly after signed a studio contract. As in all film pacts, there is a teevee clause restricting thesp from doing video stints. At the contract signing Turnbull requested that he be allowed to make a final tele appearance on Ed Phillip's "Hollywood Presents" as the show gave him his film break. Studio okayed request.

Tele Chatter

New York

Charles Henderson and wife Mital Mayfair have been signed for Charles Henderson and wife Mital Mayfair have been signed for another 13-week cycle of producing-directing ABC-TV's "Stop the Music" for the Louis G. Cowan office... Jimmy Blaine takes over as emcee for the television of "Music" while Bert Parks takes at twoweek vacation starting Aug. 15.
Comedian Danny Shaw added to the permanent cast of DuMont's
"Front Row Center"... Wynn
Wright, producer of the NBC-AM
"My Good Wife," gave tips on video direction to the summer radio-TV workshop at Adelphi College Thursday (28)... Tony Laveill, Yale basketball star and composer-musician, is talking his own TV package with Nelson Productions, after having guested on several video shows during the last couple of weeks... Flaming o Films prez James B. Harris and treasurer David L. Wolper took off Monday (1) on a two-month tour of 85 TV cities, including those where stations will open soon. Roger Pryor, Director of TV. FC&B, off for a two week vacation on his boat, "The Whistler." Left Aug. I.

Chicago

Chicago

ABC "Television Players" now called "Penthouse Players" but no format changes... Bernie Howard new producer of WBKB softball series for KoolVent Awnings...

John Edgerton and Ed Greenebaum, Jr., Joined research dept of Television Shares Management ...

Dancer Eric Victor guested on WENR-TV Dessert Party Len O'Connor subbing for Clifton Utey newscast via WNBQ ... Nikki Kaye and Bill Ballinger added to Production faculty of American Television school ... Clown Emmet Kelly from Ringling Bros. circus made guest appearance on ABC-TV Starting series of public servicers in conjunction with the Milwale of the production of the Milwale of the Camera closeups of motorcycles competing in the Kent hill climb will be the highspot of the afternoon program Aug. 20. Grand Ballet de Monte Carlo, after its Covent Garden season, will be at the BBC Alexandra Palace studios for a show Aug. 8. Recent Saville theatre success. "Bob's Your Uncle," starring Leslie Henson, will be on the air Aug. 13 and 16 with original costumes designed for the theatrical production. Producer of "Cabaret Cruise" on Aug. 12 will be Harry Pringle, formerly with the BBC and now director of variety with the Australlan Broad-casting Commission, and the "passengers" will include Jack Train, Ronnie Boyer and Jeanne Ravel...

Richard Dimbledy will describe a visit to a factory where TV cathode ray tubes are manufactured. "The Perfect Alibi," A. A. Milne's detective comedy, will be telecast Aug. 6 with Arthur Young in the lead.

New Tele Biz

WGN-TV, Chi, reported Hyland Electrical Supply will renew "Women's Magazine of the Air," starting Sept. 7 for 17 weeks, produced by Herbert S. Laufman; and film announcements for Power Optical through Malcolm - Howard agency; Kroehler Furniture through Henri, Hurst & McDonald; and George S. May through M. M. Fisher agency.

WNBQ Chi reported station

WNBQ, Chi, reported station breaks for Salerno Megowen Bis-cuits through Schwimmer & Scott

wENR-TV, Chi, reported announcements for Stratford Motor Sales through Malcolm - Howard agency; Safety Motors through Kapps agency; and Nielsens Restaurant hrough Guenther-Kapps agency; and Nielsen's Restaurant through Guenther-Bradford agency.

Westgate Electric Co., Columbus, bought four minutes every Saturday for "Baseball Scoreboard" over WLW-C. Columbus, with Joe Hill doing commentary: runs through Oct. 15.
August Wagner Breweries, Columbus, switched sponsorship from "Telenews" to "Top Views of Sports" to run through balance of contract to Sept. 25 over WLW-C. WLW-C sold 26 weeks of "Curtain Time," weekly half-hour talent show microed from Cincinnati, to Oestreicher & Co., Dodge and Plymouth dealers in Columbus.
KSTP-TV. Minneapolis, has skedded eight film announcements weekly for Donaldson's and the Golden Rule dept, stores, featuring "Famous Brands" of merchandise. Cramer-Krassett agency, Milwaukee, handles.

TELEMOUNT TO PUBLISH MUSIC

Hollywood, Aug. 2

Telemount Productions has formed a music publishing company as an adjunct to its telepix firm. Telemount will publish children's tunes to accompany its juve film series "The Magic Lady and Boko."

Alice Hammerstein has cleffed 13

Alice Hammerstein has eleffed 13 tunes based on historical characters which will be wrapped in book form and titled "Lands of Long Ago." All songs will be used in future vidfilms.

Telemount is the second video firm to turn to publishing its own tunes. First-step was taken by Jerry Fairbanks Productions which had songs written especially for its "Paradise Island" series.

TV Making Iowa Inroads: Airing to Start Soon In Omaha, Davenport Areas

Des Moines, Aug. 2.

Television reception is slawly creeping into Iowa. Sets are being installed by numerous individuals. principally along the border areas of the state, and franchises are being granted dealers for the sale of

TV sets in areas where regular broadcasting is scheduled to start These include the Omaha-Council Bluffs and Tri-Cities dis-

WOW, Omaha, has started regular transmission tests and goes on the air officially with at least a 28-hour per week schedule as of Sept. 1. The station's test pattern now is being broadcast from 10 a. m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p. m. on weekdays. The anticipated nor-mal coverage is a 60-mile radius from the station. Station KMA, Omaha, has erected a TV broad-casting tower and is progressing with construction of remaining facilities.

In Davenport, WOC has completed its television tower and transmitter building and studio equipment is now being installed. The station expects to go on the air about Oct. 1, At Rock Island, Ill., WHBF was granted a revised construction 10 rmit about a month ago and final stages of engineering design are now in progress. Construction is expected to take about six months. In Davenport, WOC has completstruction is expected to take about six months.

The lowa State college station, WOI, Ames, has installed a TV antenna on its new 580-foot tower and transmitter and studio equipment is on order. No date has been set for the start of TV broadcasting, however. No other lowa stations have yet been granted construction permits by the FCC.

Cinemascope Process Arouses Some Enthusiasm in Coast Vid Circles

KLAC-TV and Television Re-corders unveiled their Cinemascope method of making television transcriptions last week. Better than 200 advertising agency execs attended the showing and all emerged with a good impression of the process. Process is responsible for the entry of Leroy Prinz and Louis Lewyn into television this fall with a 30-minute layout starring Jerry Colonna.

Cinemascope is the combined effort of KLAC and Television Recorders. Method employs, KLAC's motion picture type lighting to an adaption of an Eastman Kine camera supplied by Recorders.
Johnny Christ of J. Walter Thompson, stated that he felt the process son, stated that he felt the process showed a 40% improvement over the material coming out of New York. Foote, Cone & Belding's Bob Ballan said, 'perhaps Cinemascope is the answer to some of our problems." Balan feets that this tele-transcription may help move Hollywood into the video timelight. It's a big improvement, according to Floyd Holm of Compton. Holm, however, stated that he doesn't know if it will help the West Coast situation nationally.

the West Coast situation nationally.
Biggest boosters were Prinz and Lewyn who signed a contract, giving station exclusive rights to show, locally, for one year after viewing the Cinemascope. Lewyn said that the Cinemascope is the only high grade tele-transcription he has seen and inked the contract with Fedderson on the grounds of this high quality teletranscription.
Regular cast for the program.

Regular cast for the program

men and Floradora Girls in addition to Colonna. First of a series of weekly guest shots will be Virginia O'Brien. Program will be Cinemascoped this week so that it may be sent to agencies for sponsor looksee.

sponsor looksee.

Prinz will direct the vidshow which will be produced by Lewyn. Ben Perry will handle the scripting chores. Musical director's birth goes to Dean Elliott while Moe Jerome will do special music and Jack Scholl will write special lyrics and dialog. William Tuntke will set up, shop as, art director and S. B. Harrison as production manager. Mini-Films will handle national distribution of the Cinemascoped show. scoped show.

scoped show.

Jack Strauss, biz agent for Television Recorders, and Don Fedderson have inked a contract giving KLAC-TV exclusive rights to the Cinemascoped by station must appear over station locally but may be telensed by any other outlet in the country in 'addition.

BONAFIDE SEEKS GIVOT FOR NEW VARIETY SHOW

Bonafide Mills, which sponsored 'Stop Me' If You've Heard This" and the Benny Rubin show, both on NBC-TV, is prepping a variety show to start around Sept. 26 on CBS-TV or NBC-TV, depending on time avallabilities and number of stations the webs can line up. George Givot is reportedly being sought as emcee.

The agency is Gibraltar.

The Gotham

Happy Birthday BUDDY ROGERS!

Your L. A. to N. Y. hop "brought a new and welcome personality to eastern televiewing".....your "parlay of talents impressed as knowing shawmanship" you demonstrated your own talents "with a neat piono stint and socked ocross the final production number." *

It was generally agreed that you "turned in a top-notch job as guest emcee on Toost of the Town" And it was also said "He has the same charming manner and youthful appearance that made him the hit of the nation" Everybody seemed to agree that you represent "sock showmonship." **

So "Happy Birthday" seems to be in order, with a bow to Ed Sullivan for asking you to be his first guest emcee on Toast of the Town and grateful acknowledgement to the other top New York IV programs which likewise extended you an invitation.

Best personal regards.

Mal Boyd

* Variety

 Radio Daily

AFRA Seeks WATL License Nix On Charges of Labor Law Violations

A new strategy in labor relations was unfolded yesterday (1) when the American Federation of Radio Artists filed a petition with the FCC asking revocation of the license of WATL and WATL-FM. Atlanta. Stations are wholly owned by J. W. Woodruff, Georgia industrializations are stationary of the station of the statio trialist, who has been disputing with AFRA for several years. The with AFRA for several years. The union has been striking the two outlets since Jan. 1, with the In-ternational Brotherhood of Elec-trical Workers, another AFL affili-ate, respecting AFRA picket lines.

AFRA complaint charges that Woodruff has "manifested a flagrant disregard for government regulations designed for the public protection," has "continuously and chronically violated the labor. Telations, law" and has "demonrelations law and has "demonstrated the absence of a sense of public responsibility."

Petition cites the case of Lawrence Mellert, former employee recently awarded a decision against Woodruff by a U. S. appeals court, and an affidavit by G. C. Livingston, Jr., a former WATL topper, who states that Woodruff told him to profession from history with a special court. o refrain from hiring union mem-

Petition, signed by AFRA asant executive secretary A.

Link Reel, says that the union is trying to use the FCC to help the the strike and that it will settle the strike and that it will not withdraw its complaint even if the dispute is settled. Although its key charge is labor violations, the union also alleges that WATL violates technical regulations, has "improper programming" and that Woodruff "spends very little time in Atlanta."

of the applicants' violations, of the Food and Drug Act was upheld.

Columbus' WBNS-TV Adds Mrs. Zanes to Staff

Columbus, Aug. 2.
Edwina Atteridge Zanes, former assistant food editor of Good Housekeeping magazine, has been named home economist of WBNS-TV, Columbus Dispatch TV station are to how Oct. 1. Mrs. Zanes also TV, Columbus Dispatch TV station set to bow Oct. 1. Mrs. Zanes also supervised preparation of material for the American Weekly and was restaurant manager of Gimbel's N. Y. department store for two years. She will be in charge of the station's daily feature, "Mrs. Zanes' Kitchen."

WOAI's Spanish VD Wax

NOAL 3 Updatisal I U WAX
San Antonio, Aug. 2.
WOAI is recording an educational series in Spanish for the Texas State Health Dept, for broadcast over outlets with Spanish-speaking audiences. It will consist of eight-quarter-hour musical programs with WOAI singing star, Rosita: Melvin Winters, director of the WOAI staff orchestra, and a nine-piece band. Raoul Rodriguez will be enicee.

will be enicee.

The series is part of a state-wide educational project on venereal disease financed by the federal gov-

Nebraska Rural Group To Set Up $50,000 Co-op For First in That Area

Lincoln. Neb., Aug. 2. The Nebraska Rural Radio Assn. The Nebraska Ritral radio Assin.

has been organized and has filed an application with the FCC for an AM station here. NRRA is a cooperative group, and the radio station would be the first in this area operated by a co-op.

operated by a co-op.

The association was set up June 2, 1948, with the expressed intent of applying for an AM license when $50,000 has been raised by selling membership certificates at $10 each. June 1 the association announced that $52,610 has been paid in or pledged, and went ahead with the application. NRRA hopes to have the station on the air by Oct.
1.

1. The co-op is seeking further funds through a loan debenture plan already approved by the state banking board. Debenture certificates are offered at $1,000 each, payable in 10 years or less and bearing 5% non-cumulative interest from earned income. Money from this source cannot be used until a license is granted.

Outside capital has been offered to the group, but thus far has been Outside capital has been offered to the group, but thus far has been refused. A series of meetings in 45 counties has been set up to determine to what extent outside money will be allowed in the co-op. Station is to operate on a non-profit basis, and to be slanted primarily for farm listeners.

'Dream Time' in Ft. Worth

Fort Worth, Aug. 2.

"Dream Kitchen Time." studio-produced daytime show, has restaurant manager of Gimbel's studio-produced daytime show, has N. Y. department store for two made its debut here over WBAP-years. She will be in charge of TV and will be aired for a half-the station's daily feature, "Mrs. Zanes' Kitchen."

Building to house WBNS-TV is sundergoing finishing touches. Transmitter and equipment is already in the building, though craterials. Future plans call for a complete Thursday afternoon schedule of programs.

Should Warm It Up

Having completed the first 26 pictures in Procter & Gamble's 'Fireside Theatre' series for television, Brewster Morgan, overseeing for the Compton agency, returned east to supervise the filming of commercials.

Hollywood, Aug. 2.

He returns in 10 days for the next series being shot at the Hal Roach studios.

Chev Dealers To Air OSU Games

Columbus, Aug. 2.

Four Chevrolet dealers in the city signed last week (27) to sponsor the five home games of the Ohio State U. football team over WLW-C, Crosley TV outlet here. Signing was accomplished at Ohio State with Dick Larkins, OSU athletic director, James Leonard, WLW-C manager, and Lou Wilsch, representing the dealers, present.

representing the dealers, present. Arrangements have been completed for televising OSU games with Missouri, Sept. 24: Indiana, Oct. 1; Minnesota. Oct. 15: Northwestern, Oct. 2and Illinois. Nov. 12. Joe Hill. station's sports director, will announce the games. Dealers participating are Paul Davies. Rodenfels Chevrolet Co., and Bobb Chevrolet. Under the agreement with

Under the agreement with WLW-C, the sponsor must pay OSU $1,500 per game for the TV rights. Figure was on basis of 5,000 sets in operation. If number of sets climbs above 15,000 the signers agreed to work out a higher rate.

WLW-C officials are planning to use two Zoomars and possibly three cameras. At present only two cameras are available. They will be spotted at the north end of Ohio's stadium to catch lineof Ohio's stadium to catch line-opening plays and at the 40-yard line in the press box.

line in the press box.

WBNS-TV, the Columbus Dispatch station, which had planned to go on the air Oct. 1, also is expected to make arrangements to televise the games, as well as WTVN. Edward Lamb's station here scheduled for Labor Day inauguration. WBNS-TV will probably set its opening date forward when contracts are signed to carry the games.

Cincy's WCPO-TV Sets Inaugural Time Record In Commercial Kickoff

Cincinnati, Aug. 2,
Scripps - Howard's WCPO - TV kicked off commercially last week
(26) with a 77-hour weekly operating schedule, exceeding the total air time of Cincy's two other video stations; 40 hours for WLW-T and 28 hours for WKRC-T. It's helieved to be an inaugural time record in video. WCPO-TV has video linking with ABC and DuMont Salling right into the regular.

linking with ABC and DuMon's Sailing right into the regular daily noon to 11 p.m. schedule, the new station reserved its dedicatory fanfare for a 20-minute stretch preceding the Reds-Braves night baseball game at Crosley Field. Six Lincolns rolled Mortimer C. Watters, general manager, and officials of Cincy and nelghboring cities and towns onto the field for camera and mike pickups. and mike pickups.

and mike pickups.

Art Jarrett opens the day's live shows with an hour of piatter spinning and chatter on the music trade. Penny Pruden follows with an hour's cookery shop; then Malcolm Richards, disk jockey, for an hour, and Paul Dixon from 3 to 5 p.m. with recorded music. A show for juves, films and Dixon's evening half-hour "Dinner Winner" session, plus a news stanza by Jack Fogarty, round out the early night program.

program.

Harry LeBrun, formerly in the with Mutual, has joined Harry LeBrun, formerly in the east with Mutual, has joined WCPO-TV as television director, his chores including sports and special events. John Patrick Smith, assistant to Watters, is directing sales for the video station and continuing to look after AM WCPO. The station will divide time with Crosley's WLW-T on telecasts of the Reds' home games, with Walle Hoyt doing the announcing and Burger Brewing Co, the sole tagger.

CIRCLING THE KILOCYCLES

San Antonio — W. J. "Dick" Dickerson, former general manager of KAMQ, Amarillo, has returned to KABC here as a member of the sales staff. He was a former sales executive during 1946-1947 prior to going to Amarillo.

San Antonio — A new musical show titled "Stars Over Texas" sponsored by the Gulf Brewing Costarted Monday (1) and will be heard five times weekly over WOAI here and member stations of the Texas Quality Network. Show brings back to Texas airways the baritone. Lynn Cole. For the past two years he has been in Hollywood where he was on NBC and CBS and recording for Capitol Records.

Houston — Robert T. Chrystie has been named commercial man-ager here of KLEE. He was for-merly with WFAK, Charleston,

S. C.

Boston—Charles W. Curtin, Director of Promotion and Merchandising for Yankee Network in N. C., has been named station relations director, to succeed David F. Shurtleff. Shurtleff resigned recently to enter the banking field in New Hampshire.

Akron—For the first time in local history, a City Council session was broadcast Friday night (29) over WACD, Akron. Session featured a special open hearing on rent controls. A network commitment at 10 p.m. broke the program after two hours but the last half-hour's discussion was recorded and rebroadcast at 10:30 p.m.

Dallas—Roger Busfield, Texas fishing and hunting authority, is being heard in an exclusive WFAA sportsman's show each Friday eve-ning. The accent is on fishing dur-ing the current airings. Programs are titled "Texas Fish and Game."

San Antonio-With Henry How ell, news editor on vacation, Henry Guerra, newscaster at WOAL, wrote and broadcast a total of four news-casts daily starting at 7 a.m.

Corpus Christi-Richard L. Peck-Corpus Christi—Richard L. Peck-inpaugh has taken over duties as promotion manager of KSIX. He was formerly with the ABC record-ing department in New York. An-other newcomer is Clark Hudson, who takes over the duties in the sales department. Clark was a for-mer radio instructor in the Naval Reserve.

Dallas—Dick LaSalle, orch leader now current with his band at the Baker Hotel Mural Room will be heard in a series of 15-minute pro-grams each week over WFAA built around the works of a single com-poser. LaSalle was a former mem-ber of the NBC staff orchestra and was featured on several coast-to-coast airings as an accordian solo-ist.

Cincinnati—An off-the-air give-away inaugurated last week by WCKY has Rex Dale, conductor of its "Breakfast Time" series, visit-ing scheduled downtown spots and public buildings and giving $5 and $1 bills to persons who call his name and the station's letters. It's a mail coneon for requests to the station for photos of the miker.

Regina, Sask.—Ned Corrigall, of CFQC, Saskatoon, and formerly of CKRM, Regina, moves to Port au Spain, Trinidad, and a post with the Trinidad Broadcasting Com-

Chicago—WCFL. Chi. has sold a 15-minute weekly gossip show titled "News From Hollywood" with Dee Carlstrom reporting, to Patricia Stevens Models. Sale was made direct made direct.

Detroit—WWJ announced three new appointments last week. Donald DeGroot became public affairs manager of WWJ, WWJ-FM and WWJ-TV, John E. Hill was named program manager of WWJ and WWJ-FM. Mary Jo Peterson, formerly with NBC, Joined WWJ to handle public service programs.

San Francisco-Horsetrader Ed San Francisco—Horsetrader Ed, automobile merchant, has taken over sponsorship of the Tuesday-Thursday-Friday editions of Ira Blue's "Adventures in Sports," broadcast of KGO-ABC from 11:15 to 11:30 six nights a week. Purchase of the quarter-hour sports summary marks the automobile dealer's first venture into radio.

home, broadcasting an appeal which in three hours netted donations of 2,000 items of clothing gifts, cash, furniture and offers of

Warren, O .- Willard L. Dougherty has resigned as program man-ager of WHHII here to join WSRS, Cleveland, as account executive.

Seattle — Johnny Forrest, program director at KOL, indie station here, has sold a script to "Suspense," Title: "Mission Completed."

Memphis — Dick Watts has resigned his post here as WMPS account exec to become commercial manager of WKGN, Knoxville Mutual outlet. Prior to resigning from the Memphis ABC affiliate, Watts sold one of the top sport packages to Davis Motors Co, which will sponsor the entire football slate of Mississippi State. Harold F, Walker, w.k. Memphis radio execu. also relinquished his post as commercial manager at WMPS to assume a similar post with WDIA, local indie.

Center, Tex.—Request has been made to the FCC by the Center Broadcasting Vo., for the assignment of the license of KDET to the Center Broadcasting Co., Inc. The new group is composed of two of the original owners and one new-comer. Tom Potter has 49% interest and Tom E. Foster has 50% interest and are the former owners, Newcomer is William II. Smith.

Screen Directors May Use Cinemascope For Hollywood TV Show

Hollywood, Aug. 2. Screen Directors Guild is eyeing Hollywood, Aug. 2.
Screep Directors Guild is eyeing the local situation in preparation for its entry into television production. Al Rogell, second v-p of Directors Guild; J. P. MacGowan, exec secretary; David Butler and Tay Garnett, both on the board of directors of the Guild and Don Sharp, packager of Director's radio show. "Screen Director's radio show. "Screen Director's Playhouse," have viewed KLAC-TV's Cinemascope with an eye to using this method of tele-transcription for entering video. Top drawback would be Guild's tie with NBC for radio and video programs.

Guild airs "Playhouse" over NBC web and is verbally committed to use net's facilities if the "Playhouse" goes to teevee. Sharp said that show would not be taken to KLAC without the approval and cooperation of NBC, KLAC's Don Fedderson said that his station does not care where shows brought cooperation of NBC. KLAC's Don Fedderson said that his station does not care where shows brought to them are shown but they must be telensed over KLAC locally if Cinemascope is used.

WM. H. KING A. S. LYONS 177 S. Beverly Dr.

Beverly Hills, Calif.

PERSONAL:

Comedy writer with credits anxious to meet program producers with headaches. Object: Nedicks. Jack Houston, Box 531, G.C.P.O., New York, N. Y. SChuyler 4-0966.

Amsterdam, N. Y.—WCSS here came to the aid of a family of nine who were burned out of their

Inside Stuff—Radio

Station program, managers and the social service agency involved are bragging about a recent stunt to publicize the Boy Scouts in Seattle. Set up as "messengers" delivering a news item, the Boy Scouts walked in on 25 radio shows on July 26. In each case the person doing the program read the message; then discussed it briefly. Technique used made it possible to include a number of Seattle's top newscasts in the Scout's itinerary, thus reaching a larger audience than is usually available to public guests, and getting as near the "saturation" point as has ever been done there.

The stunt was planned by the Seattle-King County Communication.

ever been done there.

The stunt was planned by the Seattle-King County Community Chest
The stunt was planned by the Seattle-King County Community Chest
The stunt was planned by the Seattle-King County County
The Seattle-King County
The Seattle-K

Kate Smith's new disk jockey show, which preems on ABC Aug. 8, will require special handling by the telephone company. First six broadcasts of the new airer will originate from Miss Smith's summer home. Camp Sunshine, at Lake Placid, N. Y. Because the program will use one telephone call to a listener every quarter-hour and the local telephone department has limited facilities, the phone company is requesting vacationers in the area not to make calls during the broadcasts, Mondays from 9 to 11 p.m.

John Cleary will direct the series, with Doug Browning assigned to announce.

FM Broadcasters of Chicagoland, newly-organized with 10 stations, launched a monthly phone survey last week to determine the local extent of FM listening and the number of FM homes. Stations will use "a coincidental telephone survey" to get listener sampling.
FMBC prexy Raiph Wood, Jr., who sparked the new oulfit into existence, said the figures obtained from FM manufacturers with regard to listening and sets "varied too greatly to be scientific," and that the stations themselves were forced to do the job in order to be able to chalk up their gains against AM.

Series of 15-minute platters for the 1949 Community Chest drives has been completed and will be distributed to stations shortly. Stars who appear in the transcribed programs are Ralph Bellamy, Alfred Drake, William Eythe, Arlene Francis, Otto Kruger, William Gargan, Lon McAllister, Conrad Nagel, Lee Tracy, Leon Janney, Patricia Kirkland, Jessica Tandy and Aline MacMahon.

Series was produced and directed by Mitchell Grayson. Eloise Walton, radio director of the Community Chests, scripted several of the shows.

Spread of the Roy Rogers show through Canada has tacked another $327 to production cost of the Quaker Oats entry on Mutual because AFRA has ruled the extras for a delayed broadcast. Unable to clear simultaneous time with the airing in the U. S., the series was set over a week in the Dominion thereby calling for an additional $40.90 per head for eight scale actors. Art Rush for Rogers filed a protest but to no avail. Musicians union waived extras because show is paying the transcription rate. no avail. Musicia transcription rate.

Jean Holloway, the Hollywood scripter, is being tagged "Miss ABC." She is writing "The First Hundred Years," which bowed on the web last Thursday and the "Academy Quiz" and "Mr. and Mrs. Opera." both of which are in the audition stage. In addition, she is scripting ABC's "Mr. President" and "The Rallroad Hour." On other nets she does "The Prudential Hour," "Hailmark Playhouse" and "Theatre of Romance."

Radio Reviews

the stunty side, an important appeal.
Guided by the adept patter of Mel Ventner, who ad libs his way through the half-hour melange, which includes pop vocals of the "lish' It Romantie" type by Polly Lawrence, two or three orch items, weather reports given with music sound effects, setting up exercise, saeaball results, a "wishing well" noveity for listeners, reading and replying to mail, and other "country style" sunny-side-up copy, the 30 minutes passes quickly, pleasantly and highly suitable for the early morning bucolic trade.
Voices throughout are easy to take with orch lending good support.

BABY CORNER
With Mary Aileen Ranney, guests
15 Mins., Mon.-thru-Fri., 1:15 p.m.
Participating
WROW, Albany

WROW, Albany
A program nugget which could
A program nugget which could
A program nugget which could be polished, with a cut in advertising, is one in which Mary Alleen Ranney discusses baby care with members of Albany Visiting Nurse Assn, staff, for the benefit of new mothers in hospitais and homes. A mother is safuted on each broadcast: date of birth and sex of child are tabbed, and flowers—from an Albany or Troy florist—are sent.
Poem, short and usually spiritual in nature; is also read. Copies areoffered listeners.
Feature runs about 10 minutes before guest comes on—which is too long a wait. An e. t. musical selection and commercials for a furniture store and a children's shop precede the interview, while

M-G-M-"On an Island with You" Mgt.: LOU CLAYTON important a third plug, for milk concern, follows. Authentic, helpful, practical flows are melange, coals of the pe by Polly error in the pe by Polly with music with music with expensive practical in the period of the period o too hard and delivery too pressured. The spiels, too. Jaco.

FOY WILLING AND THE RIDERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE
15 Mins.: Tues-Thur.-Sat., 7:15 a.m.
WILLIAMSON-DICKEY MFG. CO.
KABC, San Antonio
In a special transcribed series, Foy Willing and his Riders of the Purple Sage are airing a real western type musical through the Texas State Network stations. Coming as it does at the early morning hour just before the man of the house takes off for work it should be a real goodwill builder for the sponsor who sells work clothes, pants and shirts, to both young and old, farmers, ranchers and the city worker in the factory.
The opus is well balanced as far as western is concerned and is played the way the Texans like.
There is also a goodly share of vocais done in the smooth style that the group is known for. Only distracting factor is the applause that greets each number.
There are several highlights on each program broken down to a
"Western Classic," a "Memory Song" and a "Heart Ballad." Outstanding tunes on the airing caught were "Pecos Bill." "Riding Down to Santa Fe" and "Rainbow's End." For Willing is heard as me, and also gives out with the commercials for Dickies Shirts and Pants with an assist every now and then by a member of the hand.
Shows move along at a smart pace and are well balanced

17th year via ABC, with no visible creakings because of age. Singer Johnny Desmond, recently signed to take the place of Jack Owens, added a fresh romantic note to the mostly-fenume audience with a rendition of "When Day Is Done" that might easily mob the studio with teenagers. More could be done script-wise with Desmond. As it is, he gets just another spot on the show.

Program fills up its 60 mignutes.

he gets just another spot on the show.

Program fills up its 60 minutes for three sponsors—Swift, Philco and General Mills — with emcee Don McNeill calling the turn on cast, studio visitors and members of his own family in a "cooks sing, waiters dance" sort of atmosphere that happily hasn't changed its basic format over the years.

Durable spoofer McNeill, folksy wit Cowling and 11-year-old singer Bernie Christiansen are in new company these days, with Desmond and caroler Miss Donovan, who's taking Peggy Lee's place on the vacation stint. The pace has slipped temporarily, as a result, but not enough to damage its show value.

Good participation note is the reading of ditties by members of the studio audience, usually in breathless, stammering fashion. Commercial piugs are heavily skedded throughout, but delivered lightly with enough ad tib humor to keep off the boring side.

Altogether, "Club" is a wholesome morning airer that hasn't let its impressive seniority hurt its junior freshness.

Barry Gray in Fla. Exit. To Rejoin WOR With After-Theatre Gab Show

Barry Gray is checking out of Florida climes and returning to the York scene. Ex-WOR allnight disk jockey is set to return to the station for a late evening after-theatre show similar to the stint he did from Miami's Copa and is now doing on WMIE, Miami. Stanza would have Gray originate from a Gotham resturant or nitery interviewing celebs, answering phone calls and spinning records. Show would be built into a seven-times-weekly strip, with possibility that it would also be simulcast over WOR-TV.

Gray was dropped by the MBS night disk jockey is set to return also be simulcast over WOR-TV.

Gray was dropped by the MBS outlet chiefly because he had gotten into scraps with several newspaper columnists, resulting in a difficult press relations Job for the station. WOR programmers, however, slways have felt that he was a strong draw as long as he could be controlled. Format chosen will probably be along the lines of WOR's "Spotlight On Broadway," which used Harry Hirshfield and Dan Healy as emcees before going off the air.

MARKHAM TO DIRECT NAB VIDEO DIVISION

Washington, Aug. 2.

Appointment of G. Emerson Appointment of G. Emerson:
Markham to direct the newly-created video division of the NAB was announced yesterday (1) by prexy Justin Miller, Markham will give up his post as manager of the General Electric television station, WRGB, in Schenectady. station, WRGB, in S. N. Y., to take the post.

The video division was voted last month by the NAB board during a meeting in Portsmouth, N.H., in which a pian of streamlining the organization was adopted. An audio division, to Include AM and FM sections, was also created.

Markham has been in radio for ver 20 years. He is a director of over 20 years. He is a director of Television Broadcasting Assn. and a member of the Methodist Film and Radio Commission.

NBC Grabbing

Continued from page 25 =

one on the International

For Willing is heard as m.c. and also gives out with the commercials for Dickies Shirts and Pants with an assist every now and then by a member of the band.

Shows move along at a smart pace and are well balanced throughout.

Radio Followup

"Breakfast Club," with Don Mc. 1949" for three broad-casts to make room for hour-long documentaries, and drop "Living—1949" for three balf-hour shots. A hig promotion will be tied in with the project and RCA board charrannel. It is still showing its slapdash mixture of corn and conedy in its

FM Sights Brighter Future; Set Sales, Audience Both Hit Upbeat

Around World Trips Set As Jackpot Prizes In New Giveaway Show

New television giveaway show, in which holiday trips around the world will be the jackpot prizes, is being whipped into shape for an early fall start on NBC-TV. Program, tentatively titled "Happy Holiday," will probably run a halfhour once a week, with prizes to be awarded via telephone calls to into the still-expanding giveaway fold. Web, until recently would have nothing to do with the jackpot shows. Only several weeks ago, it launched its mammoth jackpot, "Hollywood Calling," on AM in the Sunday night at 7 slot as a contender for ratings in that period against the Jack Benny show on CBS.

NBC is currently dickering with several name personalities to take over the emcee job on "Holiday," which is expected to follow the usual variety formal for such pro-grams. Time when it will be aired has not been set.

Things looked up for FM last week. The FM Assn. found some bright spots in the receiver outlook and the National Assn. of Broad-casters gave indications it's trying to do something for radio's step-child.

William E. Ware, FMA prexy, found comfort in Zenith's campaign to launch its new "Major" FM-only receiver and heavy promotion by Crosley of a moderately priced TV-FM combination set. He said orders for the "Major" are exceeding production and that popularity of the TV-FM combo is swelling the FM audience.

FM is exciting buyer interest.

home viewers.

NBC's interest in the program marks another move by that web into the still-expanding giveaway fold. Web, until recently would work and the still-expanding fold. Web into the still recently would work and the still recently would with the still recently would work and the still recently work and the still recently work and the still recently would work and the still recently work and the stil of 100.000,000 people."

The NAB passed on to its FM executive committee a report by Everett L. Dillard, a member of the board, of progress toward carrying out recommendations adopted June 7. Dillard reported that NAB is working with the Radio Manufacturers Assn. to improve fidelity of FM receivers, that surveys are under way on transit radio, storecasting and station success stories.

He also reported that an eco-

He also reported that an economic study of FM stations, parallelling one in the AM field, is under way by NAB.

Listen for the words Transcribed by AMPEX" after the great shows in radio

Top talent demands high fidelity equipment

Now! New series 300

MAGNETIC TAPE RECORDER

Console Model 380° $1,573.75 • Partable Model 300 $1,594.41 • Rack Mounted $1,491.75

Faris in 1948 the producers of the Bing Crosby show, officials of the American Broadcasting Company and Ampex engineers, recorded the Crosby show on an Ampex 200 magnetic tape recorder. The show has been reproduced on the air directly from the tape, and has been each week since that time.

The freedom and lack of pressure on the artists, combined with the quality, reliability, ease of editing and low cost of the Ampey recorded production, has started a steady parade of outstanding talent in the Ampex direction . . . all asking for their programs to be "Ampexed."

Manufactured by Ampex Electric Corp. - San Carles, Calif. distributed by

BING CROSBY ENTERPRISES . GRAYBAR ELECTRIC CO. Inc.

AUDIO & VIDEO PRODUCTS CORPORATION

Johnson Warns on Liquor Ads

radio and television, he said. There is no protection against children hearing or seeing liquor advertising on the air, he explained.

It's no answer to say that the liquor industry is legal, he said. "In some states, gambling and prostitution are legal," he declared. "but that does not mean that it is in the public interest to advertise gambling or prostitution. Fortunately, operators of these enterprises appear to have more respect for the American home and a greater sense of propriety than to force themselves on the privacy of our people through the radio."

"Stupid Move' Sez Johnson In a letter to Walker, Johnson said that while he knew that broadrasters "are all anxiously looking for new sources of revenue" he never believed they. "would be so stupid and so lacking in their sense of public responsibility" as to consider liquor commercials.

Beer and wine commercials "are bad and of very questionable taste and propriety," he said, "but hard liquor advertising is unthinkable and must not be permitted."

FCC policy on liquor copy, it was learned, will be determined, at least in part, on the basis of two previous actions. Following the repeal of the 18th amendment in 1933, the Federal Radio Commission (predecessor to FCC) called upon broadcasters and advertisers for "intelligent cooperation" and pointed out that millions of listeniers don't drink and that many for "intelligent cooperation" and pointed out that millions of listen-ers don't drink and that many children are part of the listening

The agency warned it would hold hearings on renewal applica-tions "of ali stations unmindful of the foregoing and they will be required to make a showing that their continued operation will serve the public interest, convenience and necessity."

More recently, in 1946, when the

SCHEMES

Compony heads and heads of de-portments who are stoying up nights warrying about sales, adver-tising and allied problems...in a morket that keeps dwindling from day to day . . . CAN STOP WORRY-ING!

SCHEMES

is a new, smort, broiny outfit headed by specialists who have the sovry and the guts to set things up and get things done. We discuss your problem and objectives with you, or anyone you delegate, and come up with Ideas, Plans, Programs, Gimmicks, for promoting, and the processing any line merchondising, morketing, ony line of business that is founded on ad-vertising, soles techniques, and public relations.

SCHEMES

does all this for a flot fee. Are you does all this for a flot fee. Are you o motion picture executive who wonts some new thinking on a motion picture coming up? We'll startle you with our thinking ond our ideas . . . and get you results you never dreamed of, with all due respect to your own odvertising and publicity deportment.

SCHEMES

operates not only in the motion picture field, but also in Television, Rodio, Theatre, Sports and with Inn supplement the thinking or planning of your own department, or—and this we prefer—supplant them on a major project.

SCHEMES

ALL CLIENTS KEPT CONFIDENTIAL

For Information

SCHEMES

(Unlimited)

Box V-287, Voriety 154 W. 46th St., New York 19, N.Y. mission to deny license renewal to KRLD in Dallas because he was refused time to reply to "propaganda" in beer and wine advertising, the agency ruled that the problem was too extensive in scope to single out one station.

But the commission observed in that decision that "advertising of alcoholic beverages over the radio can raise substantial issues of public importance"

Palisades and away from Gotham's raisaces and away from Gothali s skystraper area assures the outlet of a powerful signal and plenty-of-spot blz. Cut of this revenue, plus the opportunity for a showcase, will entice indie producers to put their packages on the station, ac-cording to the WOR theory.

To further cut costs, WOR-TV will operate five nights a week, from 7 to 11 p.m., integrating its AM and TV operations and siits AM and TV operations and si-nucleasting many of its audio shows. No vidpix will be used and all programs will be live, ac-cording to present plans. Audi-tions are also being done live, with "Life of the Party," starring Herb Polesie of "Twenty Ques-tions," skedded for an in-the-flesh tryout next week.

Streibert and Seebach feel that other video stations have pursued a "hurry up—and wait" policy. WORTV, by walting first, looks forward to a shorter period of losses and a quick transition into the black.

Educational

Continued from page 30

grams to educational stations on a

(10) Set up a permanent central administration office to give program and engineering advice, collect data and publish a journal for educational broadcasters.

(11) Cooperate with the rest of the industry

(12) Universities should take "bold steps" to get into broadcast-

Those participating in the semi-Those participating in the semi-nar Included M. S. Novik, radio-consultant. National Assn. of Edu-cational Broadcasters; Seymour Siegel. WNYC. N. Y., topper; I. Keith Tyler, Ohio State U.; George Jennings, prexy of American Assn. for Education by Radio; and 18 other radio directors of colleges and universities. Educational and universities. Educational broadcasters from Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Britain and Den-mark attended the seminar but did not work on the report.

Slashing Prices

Continued from page 31

learn about making them;" hence, greater savings for the public. Industry is confident, moreover, that the cost-cutting practices indulged in by retailers, which have snarled the market for the last snarted the market for the last several months, will cease when the new, low-priced sets hit the market. Retailers reportedly had anticipated the new prices and so were forced to slash the sales price on current models to clear their floors for the new inventory.

DuMont's $1,000,000 Floor Sales

Illustrating the general industry optimism is the record $1,000,000 in set orders challed try optimism is the record $1,000-000 in set orders chalked up by DuMont on the floor at the National Assn. of Music Merchants meet-last week in N. Y. According to sales chief Ernest A. Marx. DuMont originally had planned only to exhibit the new line but there was so much response from dealers present that company salesmen were forced to start writing orders. As a result, the factory inventory on the new line was completely exhausted.

New low prices are exemplified completely exhausted.

New low prices are exemplified in the 1950 models of RCA, Philico and DuMont. RCA is offering a 10-inch model at $199.95, first of its brand ever to be offered at $200 or less. Price on the 16-inch table model has been cut from $495 to $395 and the list for 12½-inch sets, which RCA is producing the first time this year, is $299.50. DuMont's new 19-inch set, with FM and a 45-rpm record-changer, sells at $795. Company also has a 12-inch table model with FM at $329.50, as compared with last year's price of $425, and a 15½-inch consolette (also with FM) at $545, as compared with $745 in 1949.

Philco's sets, incorporating the built-in aerial and wide-screen pictures, range from $259.95 for a 10-inch table model offering 61 square inches of viewing surface. Price cuts are exemplified in the 12½-inch consolette, selling for $349.95, as against $439.50 for last year's set, with the 1950 model offering seven more square inches of screen surface. Philco hits the under-$200 marker with a seveninch table model, only one in the line sans the built-in aerial, which will list at $199.95. Philco's sets, incorporating the merit promotion. To give legit the maximum results, a coordinated exploitation plan is being set up between Esso and the theatre in every city where the show

Esso

Continued from page 31 :

Program, which will cost Esso over $900,000 for the year, will have the same personnel that was featured in its original production. John Mason Brown, head of the N. Y. Drama Critics Circle, is to be the commentator, with Robert Sylvester, N. Y. Daily News' drama reporter, acting as coordinator of material. Fact-finding committee of the various certific and unlock with the various crafts and unions will work with Gosch in lining up the wiil shows to be trailerized.

Committee includes Sol Pernick, Committee includes Sol Pernick, of the stagehands' union, chairman; George Heller, head of the TV committee of the Associated Actors and Artistes of America: Angus Duncan, of Actors Equity; Rudy Karnolt, of the scenic designers union; Sam Suber of the American Federation of Musicians and till. union; Sam Super of the American Federation of Musicians, and Mil-ton Weintraub, of the Assn. of Theatrical Agents & Managers. Invitation is to be extended to the League of N. Y. Theatres to be represented also.

represented also.

First legiter to be capsuled has not been set but the show will follow the general format it carried last year. Cameras will be moved into each theatre, where the current cast, from stars to walk-on thesps, will perform. Brown will introduce the show and bridge the story with his commentary. Everybody connected with the production, from the star to the theatre doorman, will get pald for the TV performance, Gosch said.

Italo

Continued from page 27

literate the most effective medium

is radio."

Interpreting the results of the Pulse study, WOV promotion director Carroll Forbes said that Italo-American families are a good market not only for specialized products but also for nationally advertised items. Sterling Salt, an established national seller, was in established national seller, was in cording to WOV's 1947 inventory. The new pantry study, made after Sterling had been plugged on the indie for nine months, shows it in 21.2% of the homes, almost double the previous figure. the previous figure.

WOV estimates that there are 562,000 Italian-speaking families in its coverage area, of which 515,-00 are in radio homes Ite Italian biz is reported at an all-time peak branch director of OWI during the war, reportedly wanted to develop WOL into a quality public service operation and was willing to invest operation and was willing to invest heavily to expand its coverage. The change in policy, plus intense competition occasioned by a flood of new stations in the area, made the going tough. It has barely kept out of the red of late, it is said. At the time Cowles got it, it is understood, it could have brought $800,000 to $1,000,000.

WWDC

Continued from page 27

With the disposition of WOL, the Cowles station said, the publisher-broadcasting firm will concentrate its radio operations on Boston and the midwest. Cowles owns WCOP in Boston, KRNT in Des Moines and WNAX in Yank-ton, S. D. The company also pub-lishes morning and afternoon newspapers in both Minneapolis and Des Moines, Look and Quick newspapers in both withreapons and Des Moines, Look and Quick magazines.

WWDC has been operating on a 24-hour schedule and has a transit radio franchise for its FM auxiliary. The station, with a dial position at 1,450 kc, is near the top in Washington listenership. Ben Strouse, the outlet's general manager, said the 5 kw facilities of WOL will strengthen tee competitive position of WWDC in the capital area. "By this purchase." he added, "we reaffirm our faith in the Washington market and in the future of radio."

About 50 people on the staff of WOL will be affected by the sale. At least, they will have some time.

At least, they will have some time to look around while the FCC gets around to approving the deal. And whoever buys the facilities of WWDC will probably hire some subscribers, would allow it to be directed by those most interested in its successful operation. He said BMB should probably be set up as a separate corporation with broadcasters, agencies and advertisers as stockholders.

BAB = Continued from page 27 =

On the relations between NAB and the Television Broadcasters Assn., Miller said NAB proposes to operate as a service organization that will also aid TV stations. However, he added, "We won't go into promotion of tele as opposed to AM or FM, and therefore there is a need for a special organization such as TBA. And certainly there will not be any fight between the two groups."

South's All-Negro Radio Station to Bow Despite Damage by Hoodlums

Birmingham, Aug. 2. newly built all-Negro newly built all-negatill go on the air around WEDR, WEDR, newly built all-Negro station, will go on the air around Sept. I despite the wreckage of its transmitter tower by a gang of hoodlums last week. Tower, costing $5,000, was turned into a twisted mass of steel when its supporting cable was cut Friday (29). It had been completed only the night before.

J. Edward Reynolds, prez of the Magic City Broadcasting Co., operator of WEDR, said a new tower has been ordered and the station's opening would be delayed only two weeks. An armed guard will protect the outlet from now on. WEDR was planned as an all-Negro operation devoted to education, music and religious airers. tion, music and religious airers. Reynolds said that station did not aim to air programs of a contro-versial nature.

'Hiroshima: 4 Years Later' Set as ABC Documentary

Fourth anniversary of V-J Day ill be marked by ABC with an will be marked by will be marked by ABC with an hour-long documentary on "Hiro-shima: 4 Years Later." Special airer has been skedded by Robert Saudek, the web's public affairs veepee, for Sunday, Aug. 14, at 430 p.m. 4:30 p.m.

4:30 p.m. Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, will script. Cousins is flying to the Japanese city, razed by the first atom bomb to be used against adom bomb to be used against the enemy, to get first-hand facts ton Hiroshima's present condition. ABC, it will be recalled, two years ago aired a series in which John Hersey's New Yorker piece on the bombing was read in its entirety.

Farrell Show Gets Bounce

Chicago, Aug. 2. Morris B. Sachs Clothing, a m Morris B. Sachs Clothing, a major Chi user of radio and tele, is dropping the Skip Farrell show on WENR in favor of a new disk jockey stint, starting Aug. 8 on the same outlet. Sachs is reported dissatisfied with the sales impact of the Farrell show, despite its healthy ratings, and is reported switching its ad spotlight to an older audience graum. audience group. Sponsor figures the Farrell show a weekly quarter hour, is beamed at an audience in the 20-30-year bracket, which makes for a highly receptive group without any cash to put down for new clothes.

WINN-WLOU COMBO PLAN GETS FCC NIX

Louisville, Aug. 2.
Proposed combined operation for Louisville stations WINN and WLOU which was advanced by Kentucky Broadcasting Corp., owner of WINN, was disapproved last week by FCC. WINN operates unlimited time on 1,240 kilocycles, but power is limited to 250 watts. watts.

watts.

Corporation notified FCC it is considering purchase of the facolities of WLOU, which operates on 1,350 kilocycles, 1,000 watts, daylime only. Purchase plan would give WINN increased air range, as WINN could air over WLOU's 1,350 days and 1,240 at night until facilities for 5-kw, day airings and 1 kw, night time could be built. As soon as new facilities would be ready, 1,350 frequency would be used exclusively.

FCC, in turning down the plan, said the proposal involved inefficient use of the frequencies, Harry McTigue, prez and géneral manager of WINN said last week that FCC's announcement does not altogether kill the purchase plan, and he is to discuss next course of action.

WINN is an ABC affiliate and Corporation notified FCC it is altogether and the part course of action.

WINN is an ABC affiliate, and must maintain full time operation in order to retain its franchise.

KAYCEE'S FM OKAY

Kansas City, Aug. 2.
Permit for a new FM station in McPherson, Kan., was granted by the FCC last week. McPherson Broadcasting Co. will build the new station. FCC also new station.

FCC also recently received an application for a new AM station in Poplar Bluff, Mo. W. L. Brandon, O. A. Tedrick and E. K. Porter, doing business as the Butter County Broadcasting Co., are the Caroline Ellis, talented 15. year veteran radio personality, directs the KMBC-KFRM "Happy Home" women's commentary program. Gifted with a won-derful voice and a rich background, Caroline Ellis is one of the best known woman broadcasters. Repeatedly, her program has the highest rating of any woman's program in the Kansas City Primary Trade area.

Caroline is sponsored by the Celanese Corporation of America, and has just completed a successful campaign in behalf of a regional poultry advertiser, with season

Contact us, or any Free & Peters "Colonel" on her two availabilities!

*Available Tuesday and Thursday.

RADIO STATIONS!

dv Agency offers excellent "Per quiry" deats' Put your available ediately for details! Box V-659, Variety 131 W. 46th St., New York

'Famous' Classical Remarks

Ted Wallerstein, Columbia Records president, and Joe Elliott. RCA-Victor v.p., in charge of consumer products, made statements last Thursday (28) at the Music Industry Trade Show and Convention in New York about the sale of classical records which were curiously slanted to dovetail with their respective rpm developments.

were curiously slanted to dovetail with their respective rpm developments.
Columbia Microgroove Long-Playing disks, of course, are more applicable to classical music than RCA's 45 rpm platters and changers, which lend themselves more to pop disks. Ellifott, who spoke first, stated that this year's total sale of disks should be in the neighborhood of 200,000,000 units. He said that 80% would be in the pop category, another 14% in the kiddle, international, etc., fields, and only 6% of the total would be covered by classical sales. Wallerstein stated that, roughly, 20% of sales are classical, which represented between 35% and 40% of the dollar volume of business—and for some dealers of late classicals it may have reached 60% of the volume.

Wallerstein also made the slatement that the foundation of Victor was its current Red Seal catalog. He also said that the resurgence, in the mid-30s, of the recording business, was due entirely to classical recordings. Most record men violently disagree with that statement, pointing out that the disk industry was brought back from the saie depths of the early 30s, by the development of electronic recording and reproduction jukeboxes), and popular recordings. This type of recording and reproduction was developed in the 20's, but did not mean anything until 10 years or so later.

Test Case on 'Per Use' ASCAP Payoff Saves Sam Fox Over $40,000 Damages

In the case of Frank J. Palima, Jr., and Stanley Warner against the Sam Fox Publishing Co., Judge Henry W. Goddard in N. Y. Federal court sticed over $40,000 from the amount which a special master had awarded plaintiffs. The action arose under an agreement made in 1928 whereby Palima-Warner assigned to Fox Music ali rights in their publications, and Fox agreed to pay them royalties, including 50% of all moneys realized from licensing their compositions for public performance and synchronization. The principal dispute arose over the amount to be allocated to the Palima-Warner compositions under the bulk ASCAP and synchronization contracts made by Fox.

Fox contended for payments on Fox contended for payments on bridge and

Fox contended for payments on a per-use basis, while the plaintiffs Insisted on an availability basis, or, the relative value of the plaintiffs longs measured against the other tunes in Fox's catalog and a percentage of income paid on that basis. The matter was referred to a special master to determine the proper basis upon which payment should be computed and the master ruled that Fox must account for both ASCAP and synchronization revenues on an availability basis. He found that the amount due slima-Warner from 1928 was the sum of $42,149.41. Of this sum approximately $1,000 represented incidental items, and the balance the Pailma-Warner share of the bulk ASCAP and synchronization revenues.

bulk ASCAP and synchronization revenues.

For retained Julian T. Abeles as special counsel to argue the motion before-Judge Goddard in opposition to the Pallma-Warner application to confirm the special master's report. In his original decision of July 3, 1947, Judge Goddard agreed with Abeles that the master's method of allocation was improper and ordered a reharing. The master then filed a supplemental report reducing the recovery to $12,555.25. Upon the subsequent application before Judge Goddard to confirm the master's supplemental report, Judge Goddard again sustained Abeles' contention that there should he a further reduction in the amount (including linterest from 1928 to date) to the sum of $3,345.30. As the amount originally found due by the master, with interest would be $49,104.05. the difference saved fox is over $40,000. Judge Goddard likewise determined that Fox was entitled to a credit of $3,813.89. thereby further reducing the amount payable by Fox to $4,531.1. The court determined that Fox was entitled to a credit of $3.813.89. thereby further reducing the amount payable by Fox to $4.531.41. The court likewise agreed with Abeles' contention that, in view of the substantial reduction in the recovery. That Pallma-Warner would have to pay 50% of the master's fees and disbursements.

Important Precedent
The case is important to the music publishing industry because of the "per use" formula advanced by Abelsa and employed by Judge Goddard, to determine the amount of ASCAP revenue to be allocated to each composition in the reperioire of a publisher. This is the first time that this repeatedly dehated question has been determined by the Court. The basis of (Continued on page 43) (Continued on page 43)

CHAS. GOLDBERG STRICKEN
Charles Goidberg, professional manager of Chappell Music, is in Grace hospital. New Haven, with a heart condition.
Vacationing in New Haven last week. Goldberg was hospitalized Friday (29) when suddenly stricken.

Tops of the Tops

Retail Disk Best Seller Some Enchanted Evenin Retail Sheet Music Selle Some Enchanted Evenin Retail Sures. "Some Enchanted Evening "Most Requested" Disk "Some Enchanted Evening" Seller on Coin Machines "Some Enchanted Evening" Best British Seller "Wedding of Lilli Mariene"

TV's Disk Effect In Brushoff By Ted Wallerstein

In the discussion before a large group of dealers, which marked the close Thursday (28) of the Music industry Trade Show and Convention in New York. Ted Wallerstein, president and chairman of the board of Columbia Records made a statement which flatly pointed out that television isn't expected to have any effect on the record business. He said, "there is the fundamental fact that whether it be a motion picture, whether it be radio, whether it be television, none of them interferes with the fundamental thing that the record industry brings to the home—the whole world of music you want, when you want it, and by whom you want it... until some other thing comes along that can supply that, the record industry will be, as it is now, a great industry. So, it is something that we (record men) should have faith in." close Thursday (28) of the Music thing that we (record men) should have faith in."

Wallerstein's statement regard-Wallerstein's statement regard-ing the possible conflict between tele and recordings has a lot of merit, it's feit by music publishers, record men, etc. Many industry people generally agree there exists now a TV-disk conflict, particular-ly in taverns, where coinmachines and video screens vie for customer favor

Since the disk biz flourished in Since the disk biz flourished in the past decade, with radio growing during that period in leaps and hounds. Wallerstein's statement seems to have taken a lot of the edge off the spectre of video.

Dancery Ops-BMI Tiff Miffs Agcies.

Chicago, Aug. 2.
Insistence by members of the Midwestern Ballroom Operators Assn., that contracts covering bands they hire for their ballrooms contain clauses indemnifying operators from damages in the event a leader place as a song owned by ators from damages in the event a leader plays a song owned by Broadcast Music or one of its affiliated publishers, is bothering band agencies. Attorneys for leaders being bargained for by MBOA member operators are refusing in many cases to allow clients to sign pacts carrying the clauses, under the theory that the MBOA hattle with BMI is no concern of theirs and there's no reason why leaders should be put in jeopardy of an infringement suit.

BMI has insisted that the MBOA infringement suit.

BMI has insisted that the MBOA member operators, headed by Larry Geer, of Clear Lake, la., agree to BMI licenses or stop the use of its songs in their ballrooms, MBOA is resisting and figures that clauses in band contracts calling upon leaders not to play BMI music, or indemnify owners against BMI infringement suit damage, will do the trick. According No agency bookers, it isn't. will do the trick. Accagency bookers, it isn't.

RCA HIRES EXPLOITEER TO PLUG NEGRO ARTISTS

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.
Joseph V. Baker, Philadelphia
Inquirer newsman, has been hired by RCA-Victor for a special promotional job to plug the company's Negro artists, allegedly being played dawn by local disk jocks.

Philater spironers here, honted, at ed down by local disk jorks.

Platter-spinners here hooted at the idea of discrimination, pointing out that Billy Eckstine is out in front on virtually every jok's list, and that records are played by requests in a great number of cases.

Disk jocks blame RCA for failure of the company's Negro artists to get more plugs, claiming the colored stars are getting the lowest-rung material.

Well, It Happened!

The recording business was giving itself a needless hotfoot, and the slow burn had to happen. It did, at the Music Merchants Convention in New York.

The middlemen, knowing direct customer reactions, blew some steam. Maybe some of it was staged. It looked a little too pat to some, because there were too many of the top echelon in attendance from both the LP (Columbia) and 45 rpm (RCA Victor)

But regardless of the respective merits, if the debative points between RCA's Joe Elliott and Columbia's Ted Wallerstein are to be literally accepted, this looks like a needless drag-out fight. Each thinks theirs is the best. The dealers felt that LP, at least, had made some strides; but the sum total conclusions appear to be that the record-buying public was not properly sold on the idea that, regardless, the 78ers will continue to be fully manufactured and serviced. So much emphasis was placed by their proponents on the advent and conflict of the 33-1-3 and 45 rpm systems, that each forgot about being careful to convince the public that 78 was still the kingpin speed and would be for some time to come. time to come.

That wasn't very bright. There are still millions of players in millions of homes, and this "old customer" public found itself confused, confounded—and sales-resistive.

It's all been such a needless headache—this topsy-turvy whirl of the different disk speeds—and it's about time the recording companies got over the idea to the customers that they haven't forgotten their old 78 rpm market. And it wouldn't be a bad idea if they got over the fact that many new record players will carry if they got over the fact that many new record players who call three speeds, so that customer stops worrying about whirling himself dizzy about that phase of it and know that if he buys a favorite song or an artist it'll play without the necessity of an Abel.

Harried Dealers Plague Col., Victor With Anxious Queries on RPM

TRIO SET UP CO.

Cromwell Music, new firm jointly owned by Billy Whitlock, British songwriter; Gene Rayburn, WNEW, New York, disk jockey, and U. S. songwriter Carl Sigman, has been set up to publish a melody called "Scotch Hot," or "Hop Scotch Polka." Action followed an unusual set of circumstances.

Whitlock wrate the tune some Whitlock wrote the tune some time ago and recorded it for British Decca on bells. It made a unique recording, and Rayburn secured a copy. He pounded it day after day for months on his show, and, meantime, communicated with Whitlock and got Sigman to write a lyric. Title was then changed to "Hop Scotch Polka." and Guy Lombardo recorded it for Decca and Three Suns the for Victor with the added words.

See Extension As Last One In ASCAP-TV Snag

New extension of time granted the television industry last week (28) by the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, on the signing of a contract, may weil be the final one the Society will allow. Organization does not intend getting fough with the video men over the delay in signaturing an agreement, but individual members of the board of directors are becoming very impatient with the lack of action. Following last week's board meeting, at which the extension was granted, it's said it was generally agreed that this would be the final one.

one.

ASCAP exces insist that the delay on an agreement is the conclusion of a per-program contract, which individual televisors asked for in lieu of a hlanket deal. It's asserted that the terms of the blanket license arrived at by ASCAP execs and representatives of the five tele networks, and which later were submitted to the National Assn. of Broadcasters, is okay. But there also have been whispers that one or two objectors to that deal are contributing to the delay.

Tony Pastor's band is currently in Nova Scotia, first name band there since during war. Played 200th anni of city of Halifax and goes on to promotion dates in Glace Bay, Moncton, St. John and Frederickton, all this week.

RCA executives smarting somewhat over the enlarged accounts of what occurred during the final meeting between dealers and manufacturers at the Music Industry Trade Show and Convention in New York Thursday (28), have experiter; Gene Rayburn, WNEW, was "packed" with dealers favorated by Joseph Microgroove Long-writer Carl Sigman, has been up to publish a meiody called otch Itot," or "Hop Scotch tot," or "Hop Scotch ka." Action followed an unal set of circumstances.

Whitlock wrote the tune some RCA v.p. in charge of consumer RCA v.p. in charge of consumer and board chairman, and Joe Elliott, RCA v.p. in charge of consumer products, the music industry in N. Y. has buzzed about and expanded on a "blowup" between Wallerstein and Elliott over the rivalry of the two new recording developments. developments.

rivalry of the two new recording developments.

Actually, there wasn't much of a ruckus. What there was was caused by harried dealers wanting to know what the score might be in the near future, and they asked questions of both Elliott and Wallerstein. Some of the queries flung at Elliott were rather bluntly put. Midway in his speech, Elliott pointed out that out of 600 stores surveyed in 47 cities, around 500 dealers were favorable to and successful with RCA's 45 rpm machines and records, 14 unfavorable and 86 indifferent. Later, a dealer called these figures the partial result of "some anonymous surveys" and suggested that, since the meeting then in progress was being attended by the "finest cross-section of the entire retail record industry in the country". I propose ... a show of hands to find out which system has met with the best consumer acceptance to date—the 45 or 33's rpm. We might also have a show of hands for those that have nothing to say."

As a result, the Columbia LP

As a result, the Columbia LP system drew a large majority of the support of those dealers present.

present.

Another wanted to know why Victor and Columbia don't get together and each produce all three speeds of records, as Capitol is going to do. Both Wallerstein, first, and Elliott thereafter asserted that neither would take that course unless consumer demands made it mandatory upon them to do so, and that has not happened as yet with either one. Elliott, as a matter of fact, had previously stated in his address to the dealers that Victor fully intended to see the 45 rpm system through. system through.

system through.

Elliott did make one statement, however, which has record and music men curious. He said, "I can announce to you today that at least for the balance of this year RCA-Victor will not merchandise any other records except 45 and 78. That phrase, "for the balance of this year," is being taken by many as indication that if things do not go right RCA would be willing to begin making use of Columbia's 33'n system.

Disk Jock Polls Key to 'Action' Sought by BMI

WITH WASH. SYMPH Washington, Aug. 2.

Largest audience of the season turned out to hear Jane Pickens solo with the National Symphony in an all-Gershwin program past wednesday (27) night. An extra i.000 seats had to be added to the 10,000 capacity Watergate, out-door spot for the symph's summer series, with an additional estimated audience of 15,000 parked in assorted types of boats along the river edge, where the concert barge is anchored, and swarming the bridges and Government-owned parks on the fringe of the amphitheatre.

Moneywise, the Pickens concert ran about neck and neck with that of Gladys Swarthout, who preemed the Watergate season, with draw of both attributed mostly to their radio buildips. With bite of reduced-rate season tickets, and house scaled from $2.10, with thousands of seats at 50c, gross for each of these two concerts ran around $5.500. Capacity take of these two attractions is a large factor in giving Watergate Its most profitable season to date.

Because it feels that lists that measure live radio performances of plug songs, such as the Peatman and RH sheets, reflect forced and "synthetic" popularity ratings. Broadcast Music, Inc., is dropping its "payment by plug" systems of affiliation with music publishers.

Radio-backed performance so-ety is emphasizing to its affiliated ciety is emphasizing to its affinite publishers that hereafter it wants to see song "action" reflected only in disk jockey request tune polls. It feels these performances more clearly point out the true public reaction value of a metody.

reaction value of a melody.

BMI, incidentally, is currently going through the most successful period, with affiliated publishers, it has experienced since the organization was set up. Currently, there are four BMI-affiliated meloides that are moving up—"You're Breaking My Heart," "Room Full of Roses," "You're So Heart," They follow, "It's a Big Wide, Wonderful World."

CHAS. GOLDBERG STRICKEN

Top Record Talent and Tunes as polled via leading U. S. "REQUEST" DISK JOCKEYS

			_	_				_		_	_	_	_	_				_					_	_	_		_	_		_	_				_									=
101	43 FO-S	E o	991	104	92	99	29	36	53	53	93	19	18	18	1 8		. 9	15	15	7	12	13	=	= =	1,9	10	6		. 6		6	0 00	00	•	80 8	- -	-	9	10 H	ם יים	20	, O. 4	* 63	87
K. C.	ennedy—WIIB	Bob K		2	-	10	2	:	:	:		:		:		:	:	:	4	:	: 6	:			:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:	:		:	63	:			:	: :		9	: :
SA SA	Squires—WA	oznofA	-		2	:	: :	00	:	:	:	:	5		4	:		:		:	:	:				: :		:	:	:	:		:	3		:		:	:	: :	:		: :
Oleve Services	Rose-WHK	Yound	-	3			- 2	5	8		:	:	:	:	:		-	:	:	:	:	: :		6	:	: :		:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:	:	: :	:		:	: :			: :
±!	Deane—With	Buddy	2	4	-	:	- 60	:		2	:	:	10	:	:	:	:		:	8	:	: :	:	: 0	0	: :		:	: :		:	: :			:	: :	:		:	: :	9	:	: :
4	M'IXX-KYI'M	raf Ber	1	:	1-1	: 0		4	2		٥	: :		:	:	:	:	:	:	1	2	:	:	:		: :		:	: :		2	: :	:	:	:	: :	:	:	:	: :		:	: :	00
j z	eckson—MME	Fred Ja	2	-	3	: 0	0 -:	:	6	:	:	: :	:	:	:	:	:	:	:		:	150	:			:		:	: :	:	:	: :		:		: :	4	:	:	: :	:		: :
£ 2	lead-KOIL	Byron l	-	:	:	: 6	9		:		7	: :	:	1	-		-	:	:	:		: :	:	:	:	:	:	:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:	: 0	6	:	:	:	: :		:	: :	:
Gincy	rett-wcpo	1st 11A	:	8	:	-	:	:		:		-		2	:		:	5	:	:	:	: :	:	:		:		:	: :		:	: :	3	:	:	: :		:	:	: 9	:		: :
Air	rley—wqxı	Bob Co	-	2	3	. 0		4	:	:	:		7	:		:		:		8	:	: :	:	:	:	: :		:	: :		:	: :	:	:	:	:	:			: :			:	:
4	Murray—Kl.1	Johnny	-	:		-		3	-	-:	-	: :				4	:	:			:	. 2			0	:		:	: :	2	:	: :	:	:	:	: :			+	: :			: 00
	entile—WJBK	Larry G	9	:	:	:	:	:	:	:		-	:		:	:	10	:	:	:	:	: :	:		:	: :		:	:	:	:	: :	:	:	:	4		:		: :	:		: :
Ŧ	WSWW91	onA nat	-	1	:	2	: 00	:		:		: :	:	2	4	:	:	:	:	:	:	: :		:		: :		:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:	:	: :		:	:	: :			: :	:
 	Iloy—KYA	Les Mal	:	က	:	:	: :	:	:	1	0	:		:	:	:		2	:	:	: 0	: 0	:	:	:	: -	3	:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:	: 4	:	:	:	:	: :	:		: :	:
0-1	Como—KDAL	Hunter	1	2	:		2	:	:	3	:	:	4	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	:	: :		:	:	: :		:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:	:	: :		:	:	: :			:	:
Niom	MAQW-yarr	uM IsH	:	9	8	m	6	:	7				:	:	:	:	:	:	:		:	: :		:	-	:		:	:	:		: :	:	:	:	:		:	:	: :		:	: :
¥ 3 €	Boyles—KCO	Marvin	-	3	4	: 0	20	6	9	:	:	: :	:	:	:	:		:	:		2	: :		-	:	: :		:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:		:	:	:	:	: :			: :
ان م	Lowe-WWD	Jackson	-	:	:	2		:	:		2	: :	:	:	:	:	:	: :	3	:	:	: :	8	:		: :		:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:	:	: :		:	: 4	9 :		: 1	- :
ž ž	ibert—KTYL	Dick G	:	-	10	:	- 0	:		6	:	: :	:	:	:	:	:	: :	:		:	: :	:	:	:	: :			. 2	:		. 60	:	:	:	:	:	9	1	:	:	:	: :
, j	VO.IW-nells	Ray Sh	2	4	-	:	: 67	:	:	9	:	:	:	:	:	: 0	0	: :	:			2 :	:	: 1	-	: :		:	: :	:	:	: :	:	:	:	: :		1	:	: :	:	:	: :	:
Ī	Cauley-WiP	oM sol	4	2	;	-	0	:	2	9	:	: :	:			5	:	: :	:	10	:	: :	:	:	:	: :	:	:	: :		: 0	:	:	:	:	: :	:	:	:	: :	:	:	: :
4	NIS-KLAC	ast iA	-	10	2		4	:		:	:	-	:	:	:	:	-	: :	:	:	:	: :	3	8	:	: :		: c	1 :	:	:	: :	:	:	:	: :	:	:	:	:	:		: :	ghts R
ŧ	UNIW-noth	a anil	65	:		-	:			:		: :	:	:	:	:	-	:	:		:	: :		:	:	: :		67	: :	:		:		:	:	: :	1		9	:		:	: :	All Ri
York	MANM-P	Art For	-	2			: "	0	:	:		2 :	:	:	:	:		: :	:	4		:			1	: :	2	:	: :	:	:	:	:	:		: :						:	: :	Inc.
ž J	rv W—Young	Paul Br	:				-			:		9 0	:	:	1								:	:									:					10	:				: :	riety.
	0																																											cht V
×	30		CAP	CAP	ASCAP	- 1	ASCAP	ASCAP	CAP	CAP	ASCAP	BMI		CAP	CAP	ASCAP	AP	CAP	ASCAP	ASCAP	BMI	CAP	CAP	ASCAP	AP	CAP	ASCAP	ASCAP	ASCAP	CAP	ASCAP	CAP	CAP	ASCAP	AP	I CAP	CAP	CAP	I	CAP	ASCAP	LAD	CAP	CAP
WEEK	10 ×		AS	. AS	AS	BM	ASA		1 1		.	BM	BMI	AS	. AS	AS	A S.	AS	AS		BM	AS	AS	ASC	ASC	ASC	AS	AS	. 1 .	AS	ASC	AS	. AS	AS	On ASCAP	BMI	. AS	. AS	BMI	AS	. AS		ASCAF	ASCAP
3	ENDIN JULY 3		Williamson ASCAF	Morris ASCAP	ins	Algonquin . BMI	Melrose ASCAP	Williamson			Williamson	duin	Hill-Range	q	B.V.C. ASCAF		RVC ASCAP	Melrose ASCAP	Williamson	-	Pobbling Acc	ro-B		d	mson	Williamson ASCAP	ole	Idries ASCAP	Williamson	ns	Advanced . ASCAP	Leeds ASCAP			e	Inter		, V	Acuff-Rose	. P	ns · ·		air	Y
	ш ¬	Puh	Willia	Morr	Robbins	Algor	Melrose	Willia	United	Laurel	Willie	Algor	HIII-F	Unite	B.V.C	Dobbin	RVC	Melro	Willig	Berlin	Hill-Ran	Shapi	Mogu	Oxford	Willia	Willia	Maypole	Advanced	Willia	Robbi	Advar	Leeds	Mills	reeds	Choic	Peer-Inter	Feist	Masse	Molro	Unbu	Famous	Hill-Range	Mayf	Remi
1												Algonauin		United ASCAP			R V C ASCAR			Berlin		Merry-Go-Round Waltz Shapiro-B ASCAP	Columbia A Kiss and a Rose Mogull ASCAP	Williamson ASCAP	Some Enchanted Evening Williamson ASCAP					Robbins ASCAP					Williamson ASCAP		Decca Everytime I Meet You Feist ASCAF	Victor Circus ASCAP	Baby It's Cold Outside Molroco ASCAD	Unpub ASCAP				There's Yes, Yes in Your Eyes Remick ASCAP
	hy ners u as fo. 1		ning.			leart	Sea			ur Ey						alk.		9				tz			ing	ning						ne		ng								Con	1 364	our E
	k-spin bularit or a N will		Eve	A		Mv	Outsic	n.v		in You			ses .		use	w Da	100	Outsic	AT		oses	Wal	Se		Ever	Ever	Blue		I.V			Marle	aby.	Morni		Mind	t You		Outeio	ht	d You	seso	Seve	in Y
	"most requested" by 1 from disk-spinners is no in popularity as 10 points for a No. I nd fockeys will bary tors of the countru.		nanted	Riders in the Sky		You're Breaking My Heart	Cold	A Wonderful Guy	The Hucklebuck	I Don't See Me in Your Eyes			of Ro	panck	Reca	Sulon	Reca	Cold	A Wonderful Guy		of R	Round	a Ro	0	anted	anted	de of	weet	ul Gu		weet	E	of Ar	very		My	I Mee		art	t Rigi	Nee	of R	ound	s. Yes
	s mo ed fro ising 10 po and je	9	Enc	s in t		e Bre	It's	nder	Huck	T See	Hai	how	Full	Inckle	e It's	0	110	It's	nder	work	Full	-G0-	s and	S GO	Ench	Ench	w Sha	She	nderf		She	ing of	hiek	Up E	You	ia on	time		Is He	d. Bu	That	Full	ear F	s's Ye
	ather ords r sis of lifies	Sone	Some Enchanted Evening	Rider	Again	rou r	Baby, It's Cold Outside	A W	The	I Don	Ball Hall	Somehow	Room Full of Roses	The Hucklebuck	Maybe It's Recause	An Old Fashioned Walk	Maybe It's Because	Babv, It's Cold Outside	A We	Homework	Koom Full of Roses	Merry	A Kis	Rali Hali	Some	Some Enchanted Evening	A New Shade of Blues	Ain't She Sweet	A Wonderful Guy	Again	Ain't S	Wedd	The S	I Get Up Every Morning	Need	Georgia on My Mind	Every	Circus	Jealous Heart	Ragge	Now That I Need You	Room Full of Roses	All Year Round	Ther
1	progre tion g se rec the ba tht. (:					ia	:								:					ia						1:		9	A	te		Decca Need You		1
E	keys' i	Label	Victor	Victor.	Derca	Victor	Columbia	Capitol	Columbia	Decea	Victor .	M-G-M	Victor	Victor	Decca	Continuo	Coral	Capitol	Victor	Victor	Mercury	M-G-M	lumb	Decca	Columbia	Decca .	Capitol	Columbia	Columbia	M-G-M	Crystalii	rmon	ystalit	Decca	cca .	Mercury	cca	tor	London	Pearl	Columbia	Decca	Decca	Mercury
	k joc on in ndicat npute n to o		Ā	Š	٦	N A	Ö	2	1:1			M	Ň	×	ğ	3 8	0	Ca	Vi	× .	V.	M	ပိ	o o	ပိ	De	Ca	် ၂	ပိ	M	0 2	Ha	C	Ď	De	M	De	Vic	Lo	Pe	ပိ	De	Ď	. M
VARIETY	on dis							br		Isters					2			reer															p							L
11	Weekly chart of the records on disk jockeys programs, as mers. This complitation is based on information gatherec is the aution and is designed to indicate those records it as those on 10p. Ratings are computed on the basis of iton, 9 for a No. 2 and so on down to not potts. Cities as the invest to present a comprehensive picture of all set		0	nroe	kins		D. Shore-B. Clark	Margaret Whiting	E .	Jenkins-Stardusters		-		Sev	D. Havmes-Tattlers	ומנו מ	Jes	M. Whiting-J. Mercer		-	ard			ald			N.				G. Bones-Mr. Ford		G. Bones-Mr. Ford	Guy Lombardo	Bob Crosby		Haymes	Tony Martin	Al Morgan	W. T.			kins	rd.
	the re- ilation l is de Rati	t.	Perry Como .	Vaughn Monroe	Gordon Jenkins	Sammy Kaye	re-B.	ret H	Frank Sinatra	Dermi Com	Vic Damone	Billy Eckstine	Sammy Kaye	Tommy Dorsey	D. Havmes-Tattle	Mel Torme	Connie Haines	iting-	Fran Warren	Fran Warren	Perry Como	oney	eers	Frank Sinatra	Sinatra	Crosby	Anthony	aires	Mary Martin	onev	G. Bones-Mr. F	Steve Conway	es-Mr	mpar	Crosby	Frankie Laine	layme	fartin	gan	Dottie Barlow	Day	Dick Haymes	Gordon Jenkins	Eddie Howard.
	comp n and n top.	Artist	erry	anchi	ordor	ammy	Sho	largar	rank	Der Jen	ic Da	illy E	amma	ommo	Day	T e	onnie	Wh.	ran V	ran V	Perry		Charioteers	ank .	Frank	Bing C	Ray Anthe	Modernaires	ary N	Art Mooney	Bone	eve C	Bon	uy Le	nah Cr	ankie	Dick H	ony N	Al Morgan.	ottie	Doris	Dick H.	ordon	ddie
	This ratio ose or for a reek	Pks.								1				1	0 5		_									B			1		1						D			De			0	3
	Weekly chart of the records on disk fockeys programs, as "most requested" by asteners. This compilition is based on information against disk-spiners across the nation and is designed to indicate those records rising in popularity as usell as those on top. Retrings are computed on the basis of 10 points for a No. 1 mention, 9 for a No. 2 on do so on down to one nother. Cities and jockens will vary mack to usek to present a comprehensive picture of all sectors of the country.	Pos. No. last weeks			2 15		4 12			0 13		3 13				-		0 13			8 20		6	3		-	5		3		2 6	. 2		8	0	2 0		-	7			9 8
	acro well men	Pos. Pos. No. this last weeks wk. wk. in 100		2	2		9	1	8.4 8	06 0	1	i 1	13.A 49	15 42	16.4 30	1	18	19.A 10	19B	21.4 22 91D 95		23B 25	25A	250 14	28.4 18	28B	30.4	30C	300 17		77	36B 49	36C 33	9		2	C	44	45B	45C		45E 33	51.4	51B
		PER	1	1	1	1	1	-	,		-	-	-	- 1-		=	F	Ä	-	2 6	5 65	.63	65 6	6	61	20	36	300	30	36	36.4	36	36	3610	41.A	418	41C	4 4	45	4	+	50	10	0

Jocks, Jukes and Disks

By BERNIE WOODS

(Capitol). ossible hit from the 20th-Fox lm, "Come To The Stable," is fair under Peggy Lee's treatment. sne doesn't capture the full por-tent of the lyric, and the melody is somewhat less attractive than it is on Dinah Shore's (Columbia). "Neon Lights" makes one wonder how and why Miss Lee was assign-ed to do it. She doesn't capture the full por it is on Dinah Shore's (Columbia).

"Neon Lights" makes one wonder how and why Miss Lee was assigned to do it.

Bing Crosby "Ichabod" - "It's More Fun Than A Picnic"; "Katnina" - "The Headless Horseman" (Deca). Three tuses from the score of Walt Disney's "Ichabod and the Toad," and "Picnic," from And the Toad," and "Picnic," from "As The Girls Go," Broadway musical. None of the four shows real hit possibilities. "Headless Horseman" and "Katrina" are fair candidates for jock and juke spins. Crosby is backed by the Rhythmaires and John Scott Trotter's and Vic Schoen's orchestra.

Frank Sinatra "It All Depends On You"."I Only Have Eyes For You" (Columbia). Sinatra may not have a revival hit in either of these two standards, but there's plenty room for numerous jock spins, particularly of "It All Depends." Bouncing it off a rhythm beat by Axel Stordahl, Sinatra boots the oldie along a smooth kick groove, twisting the melody slightly to his own style. On the reverse he's not quite so sharp. Yet, the bailad is well handled, the Ken Lane Singers and Stordahl backing.

Bill Farrell "Through A Long and Sleepless Night" "Circus" (MG-M). For some reason, "Sicepless Night" just doesn't seem to be amale singer's song, Yet, Farrell does a nice job on it and he doesn't compete too directly with Dinah Shore (Columbia). Jocks figure to get some use out of it. Farrell does a better job on the reverse, a tune with distinct possibilities (Tony Martin-Victor were first out). It's a show-type melody that plays better every repeat. Earle Hagen's baton backs both sides.

King Cole And Trio "I Get Sentimental Over Nothing". "Your Voice" (Capitol). "Sentimental" is the type of tune that fits snugly into Cole's vocal groove. He does it well, aided by a vocal group, and the side impresses as one that Jocks will spin often though it may not hit hard. On the reverse, Cole imprinted a semi-novelty, on a rhythm beat, that's cute.

Russ Morgan has been knee-

Joeks will spin often though it may not hit hard. On the reverse, Cole imprinted a semi-novelty, on a rhythm beat, that's cute.

Russ Morgan a Strummin' on the Old Banjo". I Can't Believe I!" (Decca). Morgan has been kneedeep in hits in recent months. He could have another in "Strummin." A corn tune with a lot of appeal, Morgan and his aides cut it with a wide eye on the kernels they might get out of it, which means it's as commercial as a buck. And there's a lot more melody to it than usually found in such items. Flipover brings up a fair ballad, vocalled by Morgan and his group.

Blue Barron Orchestra "Luna Lu"—Lingering Down the Lane" (Mr-G-M). It's often difficult to understand why a recording artist will waste even one side of a record with a tune that doesn't belong on wax. That applies to "Luna Lu" vocalled by Bobby Beers and the Blue Notes. On the reverse, Barron sliced a corn tune that might have a chance to do something. Entire outfit gives tongue to the lyric, and it sells nicely. Ames Bros, has a good version of the melody (Coral), too.

Guy Lombardo "Scotch Hot"—Dangerous Dan McGrew" (Decca). Both these sides deserve wide jock and juke play, and they're likely to get it. Lombardo's "Scotch Hot"—Bongerous Dan McGrew" (Decca). Both these sides deserve mide jock and juke play, and they're likely to get it. Lombardo's "Scotch Hot"—sone recently. It's a polka-type thing brightly arranged and vocalled by the trio. It was launched here weeks back by a London disk. Flipo'er brings up Kenny Gardner and what might be termed a sequel to the bands "Frankie and Johnny," and almost on the same level of waxed entertainment. The unusual punchline is a rare touch.

Ames Bros. "Noah's Ark"—Tears of Happiness" (Coral). Ames group shows unusual flexibility on its "Ark" side, a spiritual that zips along a groove that will get them alot of plays. Jocks won't go wrong programming this piece. It's smart-yperformed on a rhythm beat and it sells itself. Backing is okay, too, a rhythm piece that forms an excellent companion Platter Pointers One of the most interesting hill-billy song ideas in weeks is "Matri-Peggy Lee "Through A Long mony Mama," cut by Bud Hobbsand Sleepless Night"-"Neon Signs" (M-G-M) . . . Milwaukee's beerCapitol). "Sleepless Night," a makers should be happy about the makers should be happy about the ads in Frankie Yankovic's "Milwaukee Polka" (Columbia) . . . Same city gets different melodic Same city gets different melodic attention from Kitty Kallen's "Milwaukee" (Mercury), a novelty ... Decca version of "Jealous Heart," by Jenny Lou Carson, will be followed soon by one by Jack Owens ... Jimmie Grisson's "Haunted" (M-G-M) is worth spinning by jocks ... Some of the best Latin music in weeks is aboard America label disks by Dacita and her orch, "Oye Negra," "Spanish Tomata," "Shua Shua," "Solido Joaquin." Standout western, blues, hillbilly.

Studa Shua, "Solido Joaquin."
Standout western, blues, hillbilly, polka, etc. Bob Camp, "Reading Blues" (Decca); Ray Smith, "Tennessee Polka" (Columbia); Esmereldy, "Please Don't Hurt Me If You Don't Love Me" (M-G-M); Kirby Walker, "High-Brow Blues" (Columbia).

Csida Explains New RCA 'Screening' Policy To Major Publishers

To Major Publishers

Joe Csida, head of RCA-Victor artists and repertoire division, called a meeting with all major publishers in New York last Thursday (28) to explain the policies to be put into effect under his regime.

Csida pointed out to the pubs that, due to the press of his public relations post and other Victor things he's involved in, it will be impossible to personally screen all new songs. There will not be a resumption of the company's "committee" idea, which prevailed earlier this year under Jack Hallstrom, but Charles Greean and Henri Rene, pop musical directors, will pre-screen all material for him. He will then go over all material they pass on for recording. Csida asked pubs for cooperation under such a system. He pointed out that it's impossible for one man to keep abreast of the increasingly heavy load of new songs without assistance.

PEGGY LEE, BARBOUR SUED ON 'MANANA'

Peggy Lee. Dave Barbour, Barbour-Lee Publishing Co., Capitol Records, Decca Records and RCA-Victor have been named defendants in an infringement suit filed in N. Y. supreme court by Walter C. McKay. Plaintiff charges Miss Lee's tune, "Manana," was pirated from his unpublished number, "Laughing Song," written about 1915.

McKay wants ar injunction.

McKay wants an injunction and McKay wants an injunction and an accounting of the profits. Defendants entered a general denial of all the allegations and argued that McKay's composition was not original since he assertedly used material gleaned from the public domain

Action came to light last week when the plaintiff moved to examine the defendants before trial.

LP Royalties Dip 30% as 78s Up 10%

Columbia Records paid secondquarter royalties to music publishers last week, and the total dis-bursement was low enough to create unusual fluctuation in per-centages in relation to the first quarter. For example, Columbia's statement on LP sales was 30% below the previous three months. despite the tremendous sales of "South Pacific," which, of course, is sold on shellac disks, too. For 78 disks, the statement was 10% above the previous quarter, and jumping the two together showed the entire amount distributed only 5% under the second quarter, a trick of figures.

trick of figures.

Even comparatively small amounts have a startling effect on statements these days. For example, RCA-Victor's recent statement ran 55% above the previous quarter, strictly because of the Yaughn Monroe hit, "Riders in the Sky." Victor has so far shipped over 1,250,000 copies of that disk to dealers (not necessarily sold) and it made the difference in Victor's statement. Without "Riders," the increase was slight.

Victor to Take Over Transcription Division from NBC; Davis as Head

Best British Sheet Sellers

(For Week Ending July 23)

Second 12

Col. Sticks With British Hit, 'Lili,' Rather Than Issue Re-Recording

Rather than re-record the tune, "Wedding of Lili Marlene," in this country with one of its own artists, Harmony label, Columbia Records' 49c line, will issue the Steve Conway disking of the song made in England for the British Columbia label. Col. has bought the U. S. rights to the Conway disking and as soon as the master arrives here, will begin pressing from it.

arrives here, will begin pressing from it.

"Wedding" is England's No. 1 best sheet music seller, and Con-way's platter helped make it so. Leeds Music, which is handling the song in the U. S. for Box & Cox of England, circulated the Conway disk among disk jockeys here to get the tune started, and it received such reaction Columbia decided to go along with it in the U. S. instead of making a new recording. recording.

RCA-Victor, recording division of the RCA family, will soon take over full operation of the NBC The-saurus, transcription division of over full operation of the NBC Thesaurus, transcription division of NBC, also an RCA subsidiary. No transfer date set.

Victor will "buy" the transcription library. In making the shift, a certain number of executives will go along to RCA as well as the entire sales staff, including Don Mercer, head of the latter. Bert Wood, program director, will move over, too, and the entire operation will come under the supervision of Victor's Jim Davis, head of the latter's "Custom Record" division.

RCA artists and repertoire men,

RCA artists and repertoire men, now topped by Joe Csida, will handle the chore of recording mu-sical transcription. Who will han-dle the other types of transcribed packages—dramatic shows, mys-teries, etc., is not certain.

Disk Jockey Review

COUSIN DAN
With Bob Kay
15 Mins., Mon. thru Fri. (11:30 a.m.)
Sustaining
WAVE. Louisville
WAVE has. heretotore shied away from disk jockey shows, stressing live taient local stuff of and when available. This morning disk sesh is a deviation from that policy, and gives Bob Kay, regular staff announcer, an opportunity to assume a character, that of "Cousin Dan." Projects a folksy, slow-paced type, obviously aiming at the oldsters and those of middle age, and the result makes for easy listening.

Kay shuns the latest pops, but

listening.

Kay shuns the latest pops, but spins a 15-minute stanza of old timers and requests. He reads letters, some of them quite lengthy, which have a friendly approach. At show caught he obliged his listeners with recorded versions of "Melancholy Baby," "If I Could Be With You," and "I Cried for You." Numbers of this type seem surefire for the 30-year-old-and-up listeners.

A neat touch were listeners.

A neat touch was worked in when Kay tuned in an adjoining studio where Carl Bonner was rehearsing his a.m. show, which immediately follows the Cousin Dan stanza. Bonner ran a few arpegios, and his brief rehearsai bit sounded like the McOy. So when Bonner's show was introed, lo and behold, Bob Kay was the anouncer, but this time straightling as himself. Bridge from one stanza to the next was a neat touch, and established a relaxed, palsy tie with the listeners. the listeners "Cousin Dan" disk sesh looks promising, and should catch on fast. Wied.

On the Upbeat

Guy Lombardo's Freeport. N. Y., restaurant maintaining big pace since opening, past three weeks reaching an average gross of $24,000. Eli Oberstein to California Monday (2) until the 15th. Ray Anthony band cutting first transcriptions for Langworth; Bill Conway, former Modernaires member, joined Anthony as soloist, writer and trainer of band's quartet, skyliners Georgie Auld opening restaurant and bar near music industry's Brill Bldg. Les Brown's orchestra proving how much a hit record can still mean to a band with string of successful one-nighters in East Rosemary Cluney, former Tony Pastor singer, doing single at Chubby's, Camden, N. J. Jack Bregman sails to Europe to morrow (Thursday) aboard Queen Elizabeth. Hans Welss, D. & H. Distributing, Baltimore, won RCA-Victor's promotion contest on "Riders In the Sky."

Hollywood

Hollywood

Anita Marteii opens a two-week stand at Chi's Chez Paree July 29
Elton Box, after being steered around these parts on his first gander at Coast music circles by llappy Goday, of Leeds Music Co., returned to N. Y., Wednesday (27), en route to London. Leeds handles most of the U. S. rights to the Box & Co. catalog. Marion Morgan set for six stanzas at the 265 Club, Frisco. starting Sept. 8. Chirp will get $300 weekly.

Eddie Gilmartin has been named

Eddie Gilmartin has been named western representative for the Na-tional Ballroom Operators Assn. Gilmartin is manager of the Casino Gardens, Santa Monica. Nellie

(Continued on page 43)

VARIETY 10 Best Sellers on Coin-Machines Week of July 30

2. AGAIN (20) (Robbins) Gordon Jenkins. Decca 3. RIDERS IN THE SKY (14) (Morris) Vic Damone. Mercury 4. HUCKLEBUCK (5) (United) Burl Ives. Columbia 5. ROOM FULL OF ROSES (2) (Hill & Range) JSammy Kaye. Victor 6. BALI HA'I (7) (Williamson) Perry Como. Victor 7. BABY IT'S COLD OUTSIDE (11) (Melrose) Whiting-Mercer. Capitor 8. I DON'T SEE ME (11) (Laurel) Gordon Jenkins. Decca 9. WONDERFUL GUY (7) (Williamson) Margaret Whiting. Capitor 10. FOREVER AND EVER (15) (Robbins) Perry Como. Victor 10. FOREVER AND EVER (15) (Robbins) Perry Como.	1.	SOME ENCHANTED EVENING (10) (Williamson)	Perry Como Victor Frank Sinatra Columbia
4. HUCKLEBUCK (5) (United) Frank Sinatra Columbia Tommy Dorsey Victor 5. ROOM FULL OF ROSES (2) (Hill & Range) Sammy Kaye Victor Dick Haymes Decce 6. BALI HA'I (7) (Williamson) Perry Como Victor Sing Crosby Decce 7. BABY IT'S COLD OUTSIDE (11) (Melrose) Whiting-Mercer Capitor Shore-Clark Columbia 8. I DON'T SEE ME (11) (Laurel) Gordon Jenkins Decce Perry Como Victor 9. WONDERFUL GUY (7) (Williamson) Amargaret Whiting Capitor C
5. ROOM FULL OF ROSES (2) (Hill & Range) Sammy Kaye Victor	3.	RIDERS IN THE SKY (14) (Morris)	Vaughn Monroe Victor Burl Ives Columbia
6. BALI HA'I (7) (Williamson) Perry Como Victor Bing Crosby Decct 7. BABY IT'S COLD OUTSIDE (11) (Melrose) Shore-Clark Columbia Shore-Clark Columbia Decct 8. I DON'T SEE ME (11) (Laurel) Gordon Jenkins Decct Perry Como Victo 9. WONDERFUL GUY (7) (Williamson) Margaret Whiting Capito Fran Warren Victo	4.	HUCKLEBUCK (5) (United)	Frank Sinatra Columbia Tommy Dorsey Victor
8. I DON'T SEE ME (11) (Laurel) J Whiting-Mercer Capito Shore-Clark Columbia Shore-Clark Columbia Columbia Capito Capi	5.	ROOM FULL OF ROSES (2) (Hill & Range)	Sammy Kaye Victor Dick Haymes Decca
8. I DON'T SEE ME (11) (Laurel) J Gordon Jenkins Decc. 9. WONDERFUL GUY (7) (Williamson) J Margaret Whiting Capito Fran Warren Victo	6.	BALI HA'I (7) (Williamson)	Perry Como Victor Bing Crosby Decca
8. I DON'T SEE ME (11) (Laurel) J Gordon Jenkins Decc. 9. WONDERFUL GUY (7) (Williamson) J Margaret Whiting Capito Fran Warren Victo	7.	BABY IT'S COLD OUTSIDE (11) (Melrose)	§ Whiting-Mercer Capitol § Shore-Clark Columbia
9. WONDERFUL GUY (7) (Williamson) $ Margaret Whiting. Capito Fran Warren. Victo 10. FOREVER AND EVER (15) (Robbins) $ Perry Como. Victo Russ Morgan. Decended	8.	I DON'T SEE ME (11) (Laurel)	Gordon Jenkins Decca
10. FOREVER AND EVER (15) (Robbins)		WONDERFUL GUY (7) (Williamson)	Margaret WhitingCapitol Fran WarrenVictor
	10.	FOREVER AND EVER (15) (Robbins)	\ Perry Como Victor \ Russ Morgan Decca

Second Group
YOU'RE BREAKING MY HEART (Algonquin) Vic Damone. Mercury FOUR WINDS, SEVEN SEAS (Lembardo) Sammy Kaye Victor Guy Lombardo Decca
EVERYWHERE YOU GO (Lombardo) $ Guy Lombardo Decca $ Doris Day Columbia $ Dick Hawnes Decca
MAYBE IT'S BECAUSE (Triangle)
LET'S TAKE OLD FASHIONED WALK (Berlin) Sinatra Day Columbia Perry Como Victor
"A" YOU'RE ADORABLE (15) (Laurel) Perry Como Victor Tony Pastor Columbia Perry Como Perry Como Bing Crosby Decca
CARELESS HANDS (10) (Melrose) Sammy Kaye Victor Mel Torme Capitol Capitol
Guy Lombardo Decca
CANDY KISSES (Hill & Range)
SOMEHOW (Algonquin) SOMEHOW (Algonquin) WHERE ARE YOU (Famous) WES YES IN YOUR EYES (Remick) Billy Eckstine M.G.M. Billy Eckstine M.G.M. Billy Eckstine M.G.M. Billy Eckstine M.G.M. Carmen Cavallaro Decca
YES YES IN YOUR EYES (Remited)

[Figures in parentheses indicate number of weeks song has been in the Top 10.]

Starr Protests to SPA on 'Unfair' Advantage of Non-Signatories

Herman Starr, head of the Warner Bros. music firms-Remick, Witmark, et al—last week protested to the Songwriter's Protective Assn. over what he felt to be an unfair advantage held by music firms that have not signatured the basic SPA contract arranged last year. Starr did not mention in his letter any specific publishers he felt to be holding an advantage, since they are not forced to abide by the more or less restrictive terms of the SPA pact, but the only major firms that so far have not signed the agreement are the Dreyfus organization, Paramount-Famous, subsids of Paramount pictures, and Leeds Music. by music firms that have not sig-

Dreyfus feels that the SPA pact isn't necessary to him since most of his negotiations are for show scores and the contract between his firms and the writers are written on Dramatists Guild blanks. Paramount and Famous feel it isn't necessary to subject themselves to SPA pact terms because all their material stems from Paramount pictures and the songs are written by songsmiths tied to the studios under separate contracts. Leeds has not signed the basic agreement because it believes the terms to be too restrictive on the type of relations it has with songwriters. Dreyfus feels that the SPA pact songwriters songwriters.

Starr's letter was placed before the SPA Council in meeting last week and, it's understood, a committee of SPA councillors will get together with him.

BALLARD BACKING UP TOM SCOTT WITH BAND

Pat Ballard, radio and television writer-producer, has signed folk singer Tom Scott to an exclusive management contract and plans to back up the guitarist-singer with a special instrumental combination management contract and pians to back up the guitarist-singer with a special instrumental combination which includes banjo, accordion, viola and bass, to add flavor to the Kentucky mountaineer's sagas of early America. Baliard has recently been assisting his old writing partner, Charles Henderson, produce the television version of "Stop the Music."

Baliard aiso has a modernized adaptation of Shakespeare's comedy "Two Gentlemen of Verona" in work, and the play is being muiled as a possible book musical or a straight comedy in modern GI dress, under the title, "Be Mine, Beloved!"

Band Reviews

FLORIAN ZABACH ORCH (9)
Muehlebach Hotel, Kansas City
First time the Zabach crew has stopped here is for a month-long stand at the Terrace Grill, supper club of the Muehlebach hotel.
Zabach-4s a vet of network radio, hotel and ciub orchestra circuit,
but he's new to Kansas City.

but he's new to Kansas City.

The Zabach cleffing brings a variation which hasn't been heard in this spot recently, a brand' of tempos which leans toward society styling. Much of the crew's work features the fiddling of the leader and the trumpeting of Mauro Bruno. Instrumentation is rounded out with trio of reeds which double on fiutes, guitar, string bass, pianoceleste and drums-vibes. It's a combo from which Zabach draws the maximum, giving strong play to show tunes, pops and Latin rhythms. In the vocal department Bruno and Mike Moran, guitarist, double.

Zabach works hard both on the Zabach works hard both on the stand, at the mike and in fancy fiddling. Adds a good bit to orch's output with a pleasing personality which registers both in m.c. work and in delivering his own featured string work.

DON BESTOR ORCH (10)
Cascades, Hotel Bitmore, N. Y.
Relatively inactive the past couple years, Don Bestor moved into the Cascades of the Hotel Bitmore, N. Y., last week to display the same verve and rhythmic style that has marked his bands for more than a quarter century in radio, theatres and hotels. His veteran crew, in the sweet idiom, fits nicely with the apparent desires of this room's mature clientele.

Bestor is no stranger to Gotham hostelries, for he has held down the podium at sundry N. Y. inns, starting with the Hotel New Yorker back in 1931. Bandleader is back with a combo of three brass four reed and three rhythm. Stressing melodic arrangements, outfit turns out a type of music that's equally danceable and listenable.

Aggregation mixes up standards

that's equally danceable and listenable.
Aggregation mixes up standards with current pops, but eschews the Latin stuff, at least at the session caught. Bestor is a personable maestro who alternates from batoning to the ivories, which he adroitly fingers. Band also backs the spot's half-hour floorshow.
House vocalist Suzanne Gilbert joins the combo for an occasional number.
Withal, this unit is a prime example of what experience and a showmaniy leader can do for an orch. Gilb.

Cavallaro Ordered To Play Disputed Date

Virginia Beach, Va., Aug. 2.
Surf Beach Club here will get Carmen Cavaliano's orchestra the week of Aug. 12, after a drawn-out battle between the spot's Jack Kane and Music Corp. of America.
American Federation of Musiclans' New York office last week ordered MCA to produce Cavallaro the week of Aug. 12. The ieader will have to cut short a California vacation, return east and reorganize his band and play
the date.
Dispute was based on Kane's

the date.

Dispute was based on Kane's claim that MCA offered him Cavallaro's orchestra for the week in question, that he signed a contract mailed by MCA and returned it. MCA never returned him a copy signed by Cavaliaro, and the next thing he knew, says Kane, the maestro had broken up his outfit and headed west for a rest. He complained to the union and, meantime, had been seeking a band of similar cailbre from another agency, without much luck.

'Jealous Heart' Sleeper For Chi Indie Finds Big Diskers on Bandwagon

Universal label, Chicago indie sk company, seems to be the Universal labei, Chicago indie disk company, seems to be the first small record company to plague the majors in a long time with a "sleeper" hit. Al Morgan's "Jealous Heart," released by Universal recently, has reached the point where the majors are being forced to get out their own versions. In the past, indies who broke such hits got a fairly long headstart before the majors got out their own copies; the big companies got hep to the Morgan record fairly quickly, and are losing no time. no time.

no time.

Written in 1944 by Jenny Lou Carson, the tune reached little or no success at all until Morgan's current disk. Ironically enough, Miss Carson's own Decca disk of it didn't make the sort of stir that Morgan's is reaping now. Decca reissued her platter last week and is following with another by Jack Owens. RCA Victor has cut the tune by Bill Lawrence, and the other majors are scheduling that une for recording as quickly as possible.

London Sets Morgan
Chicago, Aug. 2.
Ai Morgan, local pianist, has been pacted by London Records. Artist, who etched "Jealous Heart" for Universal Records, which has sold over 60,000 regionaily, wiii cut several sides here for London in Sept. Universal has made a leasing arrangement with London on "Heart" and seven other sides. London has also ordered 100,000 copies of "Heart" from Universal to meet major competition.
Morgan goes back into Heising's.

Morgan goes back into Heising's, Chi spot, for another 13 weeks after month hiatus, at $1,000 weekly, as against his first Heising date of $275. Morgan just finished a two-week appearance at Chicago theatre

'RIVER' BIG SURPRISE IN HOLDING HIT PACE

"Cruising Down the River."
"Cruising Down the River."
which many music people thought to be the type of semi-novelty that would be killed off fairiy quickly by juke and disk jock hammering, is setting some sort of a record for postwar sales iongevity.
Started back in mid-January by Henry Spitzer's then new publishing firm, the tune exploded into hit class before Spitzer had copies printed. And it's still going fairiy strong, holding down ninth position in Variety's bestseiler list of last week.
Unusual tenacity of the tune is Unusual tenacity of the tune is figured to be due to certain fortuitous circumstances. It became s tuitous circumstances. It became a hit during the winter and was stili rolling when spring and sumt mer came along. Since the lyric is distinctly summery, it drew impetus from the hot months and has kept going long after it was figured to drop off. Spitzer last week shipped 5.400 copies of it to jobbers and dealers, which actually was a boost over the previous week's dishursement of approximately 4.500.

Many pubs believe the tune will be a standard that will sell summer after summer.

BMI Setting Up Songwriter Pool Based on Performance Payoff Plan

Tyroleans Claim AKM
Brush; Arg.-French Deal

Vienna, July 26.

Tyrolean provincial government has protested against alleged discrimination of its composers and authors by AKM (Austrian Society of Authors, Composers and authors by AKM (Austrian Society of Authors, Composers and authors by AKM (Austrian Society of Authors, Composers and authors by AKM (Austrian Society of Authors, Composers and suits collected annually by AKM, of which only a small margin goes to Tyroleans.

Arg.-French Agreement Buenos Aires, July 26.

Argentina's Authors and Composers Society (Argentores) has reached—an—agreement with its French counterpart, the Society (Argentores) has reached—an—agreement with its French counterpart, the Societed Auteurs et Compositeurs Dramatiques (Sacd), for payment of all royalties in their respective countries on lines laid down by the Confederation of Pan American Authors and Composers Societies.

Jose Glacompol will continue as delegates in Argentina for the French authors.

Broadcast Music is bent on establishing a writer pool of its own, for the first time since the organization was established during the battle between radio and the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in plan batt will still still experimenting with a plan that will sign writers and pay them earnings annually, of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers in the American Society of Composers Society of

'RH' Logging System

Richard Himber's new development in logging broadcast performances lists tunes in the survey, based on four major network schedules. They are compiled on the basis of 1 point for sustaining instrumental, 2 points for sustaining vocals, 3 for commercial instrumental, 4 for commercial vocal, respectively, in each of the 3 major territories, New York, Chicago and Coast. For example, a commercial vocal in all three territories counts 12. Added to these totals is the listener ratings of commercial shows. The first group consists of the top 30 songs.

Week of July 22-July 28

Again-†"Road House"	Robbins
And It Still Goes	Shapiro
A Wonderful Guy-*"South Pacific"	iamson
Baby, It's Cold Outside—†"Neptune's Daughter"	Morris
Bali Ha'i-*"South Pacific"	iamson
Don't Call Me Sweetheart Anymore	ABC
Dreamy Old New England Moon	. Leeds
Everywhere You Go	nharda
Fiddle Dee Dee-+"It's a Great Feeling"	Harms
Forever and Ever	lobbins
4 Winds and 7 SeasLoi	nbardo
How It Lies	Morris
I Don't See Me In Your Eyes Anymore	Laurel
It's Summertime Again	enubiic
Just One Way To Say I Love You—*"Miss Liberty"	Beriin
Kiss Me Sweet	vanced
Let's Take Oid-Fashioned Walk—*"Miss Liberty"	Berlin
Lover's Goid	Oxford
Maybe It's Because	BVC
My One & Only Highland Fling-t"Barkleys of Broadway". H. Y	Warren
Out of Love	Spitzer
Riders In the Sky	Morris
Someday You'li Want Me	uchess
Some Enchanted Evening—*"South Pacific"	iamson
Song of Surrender—†"Song of Surrender"	mount
Swiss Luliaby Sc	uthern
There's Yes Yes In Your Eyes	itmark
wedding Day	Tamous
Who Do You Know In Heaven	lobbins
Younger Than Springtime-*"South Pacific"	iamson

The remaining 20 songs, based on Richard Himber's new development in logging broadcast performances.

Candy Kisses Hill & Range Every Night Is Saturday Night B.M.I. Everytime I Meet You—i"Beautiful Blonde Bashful Bend" Feist Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue Feist Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue Santy Huckiebuck Santy Huckiebuck United I Didn't Know the Gun Was Loaded Lewis Good Old Summertime—i"Good Old Summertime" Marks It's a Great Feeling—i"It's a Great Feeling" Remick Just For Me Peer Look For the Silver Lining—i"Look For Silver Lining" T. B. Harms Love Is a Beautiful Thing Porgis Merry Go Round Waltz Shapiro Now Now Now Is the Time Fremart Room Full of Roses Hill & Range So In Love—*"Kiss Me Kate" T. B. Harms Through Long and Sieepiess Night—i"Come To the Stable" Miller Twenty-Four Hours of Sunshine Advanced You're Breaking My Heart Algonquin I Filmusical. * Legit Musical.

Inside Orchestras—Music

Aibert Johnson, Jr., son of the Negro doctor whose experiences form the story for Film Classic's "Lost Boundaries," is the composer of "Tanganyika," an instrumental composition heard throughout the picture. Written in coilaboration with Tage Taylor, the theme will be published this fail by Mills Music as a piano solo.

Fran Warren, in a move to have her stuff more widely plugged by disk jockeys, wiii fly 44 of the local gentry over to Las Vegas from Hollywood tonight (3) for the opening of her two week stand at El Rancho. Total cost will be $900. Chirp is getting $300 from L. J. Meyberg, local RCA-Victor distributor; $300 from the nitery and she'll pay the other $300 herself.

Bands at Hotel B.O.'s

Band	,	Hotel	Weeks Played		Covers On Date
Guy Lombardo Waldorf	(400;	$2)	4	2.750	11.450
3 Suns-Paul Sparr. Roosevelt	(400;	$1.50-$2)	16	875	5.925
Ray Anthony Statler (4)	50; $1	.50-$2)	15	1.025	5.000
Biue Barron Astor (850	; $1.5	0-$2)	5	2,600	12,825

Chicago

Chicago

Johnny Brewer (Swiss Chalet, Bismarck, 200; $2 min.-$1 cover). Leni Lynn held over. Okay 1,800 tabs.
Frankle Masters (Boulevard Room, Stevens, 720; $3.50 min.-$1 cover).
Ice Show and Masters swinging uphill again; 4,400 covers.
Vaughn Monroe (Beachwalk, Edgewater; $2 adm.). Near SRO with Monroe. Smash 20,000 admissions.
Eddie O'Neal (Empire Room, Paimer House, 500; $2.50 min.-$1 cover).
Liberace and Modernaires. Slight drop to 3,100 covers.
Bill Snyder (College Inn, Sherman, 500; $3.50 min.). "Salute To Rodgers and Hammerstein" still big; 3,400 tabs.

Los Angeles

Los Angeles

Emil Coleman (Ambassador, 900; $1.50). With Jack Cole Dancers and the Merry Macs. Fourth week; 3.050 covers.

Chuck Foster (Blitmore, 900; $1.50). Ninth week; 3,000 covers.

Ted Flo Rito (Beverly Hills, 300; $4 min.). 620 covers.

Location Jobs, Not in Hotels

(Chicago)

Cee Davidson (Chez Paree, 500; $3.50 min.$1 cover). Jackie Miles vice Willie Shore and Billy Eckstine Friday (29); 4,000 tabs.

Dick Jurgens (Aragon; $1-$1.15 adm.). Holding at 11,000 admissions.

Al Trace (Blackhawk, 500; $2.50 min.). Amateur night helping boost covers to 2,300.

Orrin Tucker (Trianon; $1-$1.15 adm.). Final week for Tucker. Okay 9,000 admissions.

(Los Angeles)

Ray Robbins (Aragon, Santa Monica; 1st wk.). 3,100 admissions.

Frankie Carle (Palladium B, Holiywood; 1st wk.). Best opening week of season; 15,025 admissions.

Tommy Dorsey (Casino Gardens, Santa Monica; 1st wk.). Smash
13,000 admissions. Best in two years.

Phil Moore (Mocambo; $3-$4 min.; 2nd, wk.). With Juile Wilson; 3,100 covers.

THE BIG SONG HIT

Sung by Al Jolson in

"JOLSON SINGS AGAIN"

TOOT, TOOT, TOOTSIE!

(GOOD-BYE)

by Gus Kahn, Ernie Erdman and Dan Russo

Now Being Recorded by all record companies for immediate release.

Watch for AL JOLSON'S .

Decca Record

"JOLSON SINGS AGAIN"

a COLUMBIA
Technicolor PRODUCTION

Opening Loew's State, N. Y. August 17th

Leo Feist inc.

799 Seventh Avenue, N. Y. 19

HARRY LINK, Gen. Prof. Mgr. LESTER SIMS, Prof. Mgr.

8

ઉ

Schmidt

VARIETY SONG CAVALCADE

.......

 (Musical-Historical Review: 1800-1948) *******

Compiled for VARIETY

By JULIUS MATTFELD

(Copyright, Variety, Inc. All Rights Reserved)

Legends and other basic background information, attendant to the compilation and presentation, appeared in the Oct. 6, 1948, issue when the Variety Song Cavalcade started publication serially. It is suggested that these installments be clipped and filed for future reference.

Attention is hereby called to the fact that this material is copyrighted and may not be reproduced either wholly er in part.

1923—Continued

42

snapiro, Bernstein & Co., Inc., cop. 1923.

When You Walked Out Someone Else Walked Right In. w., m., Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1923.

Who'll Buy My Violets?—Spanish Title: La Violetera (Introduced In: Little Miss Bluebeard). English words by E. Ray Goetz. m., Jose Padlila. Harms, Inc., cop. 1923.

Wild Flower (The WildFlower).

W, Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd. m., Vincent Youmans and Herbert Stothart. Harms, Inc., cop. 1923.

Yes! We Have No Bananas. w., m., Frank Silver and Irving Cohn. Shapiro, Bernstein & Co., cop. 1923 by Skidmore Music Co.

You've Got To See Mamma Fv'ry Night—or You Can't See Mamma at All. w., m., Billy Rose and Con Conrad. Leo Feist, Inc., cop. 1923.

Mrs. F. I. Mallory lost the National U. S. Women Tennis championship to Helen Wills, who retained it through 1929, with the exception of one year—1926. Robert T. Jones, Jr., won the National Open golf championship (and again in 1926, 1929 and 1930). Jack Dempsey outpointed Tommy Gibbons in 15 rounds at Shelby, Mont.. and two months later bons in 15 rounds at Shelby, Mont., and two months later knocked out Luis Firpo in two rounds at the Polo Grounds, N. Y.,

FRANKIE LAINE

Shea's Theatre BUFFALO, N. Y.

FRANK WALKER

the Showman's triend

Westward Ho! — The Covered Wagon March. w., R. A. Barnet. m., Hugo Riesenfeld. Jerome H. Remick & Co., cop. 1923.

When It's Night-time In Italy, It's Wednesday Over Here. w., m., James Kendls and Lew Brown. Shapiro, Bernstein & Co., Inc., cop. 1923.

When You Walked Out Someone Else Walked Right In. w., m., Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1923.

Who'll Buy My Violets?—Spanish Title: La Violetera (Introduced In: Little Miss Bluebeard). English words by E. Ray Goetz. m., Jose Padilia. Harms, Inc., cop. 1923.

Wild Flower (The WildFlower). W., Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd. m., Vincent Youmans and Herbert Stothart. Harms, Film patrons now saw, as part of Film patrons now saw, as part of Film patrons now saw, as part or the program, an organ rising out of the orchestra pit on which Jesse Crawford, or some local contem-porary, played a solo. The little theatre movement was

The little theatre movement was getting stronger.
Warren Gamaliel Harding died, and Calvin Coolidge was inaugurated president.
Cigarette production was still Jumping enormously. In this year manufacturers produced 66,700,000,000 cigarettes, for which society leaders began to testimonialize in advertisements.
Charles P. Steinmetz, the famed experimenter in electricity and electrical apparatus, died.
The marathon dance was another, rage.

er rage.
Women now preferred the Cape line hat—a wide-brimmed affai

Women now preferred the Capeline hat—a wide-brimmed affair curving down on either side of the face.

Eleanora Duse paid her last visit to America, and the actress broke every stage box office record in existence.

Notable stage performances of the year, as calculated by Variety, were the following: Walter Hampden in "Cyrano de Bergerac," Helen Menken in "Seventh Heaven," W. C. Fields (with Madge Kennedy) In "Poppy," Raymond Hitchcock in "The Old Soak," Eva Le Gallienne in "The Swan" and the Duncan Sisters in "Topsy and Eva."

Burns and Allen made their first Burns and Allen made their first big-time vaudeville appearance, but the Variety review intimated that their act looked lukewarm. Edna Wallace Hopper was in vaudeville. Ben Bernie now had an orchestra. Edward Everett Horton was an actor in West Coast legit. Clark and McCullough were playing in a burlesque show called "Monkey Shines." Films of the year included "The "Monkey Shines." Films of the year included "The Covered Wagon" (Lois Wilson, Ernest Torrence and J. Warren Kernestan). "The Ten Commandments." "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" (Lon Chaney and Patsy Ruth Miller), "Safety Last" (Harold Lloyd and Mildred Davis).

1924

All Alone (Music Box Revue), w

All Aton.
Irving Berlin. Irving
Inc., cop. 1924.
Amapola—Pretty Little Poppy.
Amapola—One M. Lacalle. J. M.
Cuccessor Pub.,

Amapola—Pretty Little Poppy, w., m., Joseph M. Lacalle, J. M. Lacalle, cop. 1924 (Successor Pub., Bourne, Inc.)
Bagdad. w., Jack Yellen. m., Milton Ager. Ager, Yellen & Bornstein, Inc., cop. 1924. (Successor Pub., Advanced Music.)
California, Here I Come (Bombol, w., m., Al Jolson, Bud De Sylvand Joseph Meyer. M. Witnark & Sons, cop. 1924.
Charley, My Boy. w., m., Gus Kahn and Ted Florito. Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1924.

WANTED

Harmonica Groups or Soloists AMATEUR OR PROFESSIONAL

> Wire Box V-699 for Audition Variety, 154 W. 46th Street New York 19

RETAIL SHEET BEST SELLERS

ટ

Morse M.

VARIETY

Survey of retail sheet music sales, based on reports obtained from leading stores in 11 cities and showing comparative sales rating for this and last week.

Week Ending

Rating		July 30	ork,	70, C	gele	sis,	ranci	apo	, A	S	e p	log a	C.	o
This wk.	Last wk.		New Y	Chicag	Los Ar	St. Lo.	San Fi	Indian	Omah	Kansa	Philad	Minneapol	Seattle	N T S
1	1	"Enchanted Evening" (Williamson)	1	1	1	1	1	1	8	1	1	1	1	103
2	2	"Bali 'Ha'i (Williamson)		7	4	5	2	10	1	3	3	4	2	69
3	3	"Again" (Robbins)	8	2	3	2	3	9	10	4		5	10	54
4	٠ 4	"Forever and Ever" (Robbins)	4	3	5	4	8		9	10	8	6	3	50
5	5	"Riders in the Sky" (Morris)	10		2	6	4		6	9		3	6	42
6	6	"It's Cold Outside" (Melrose)				3	5	3	4	2				38
7	8	"I Don't See Me" (Laurel)		6		10	6	8	7	6	10	9	5	32
8A	10	"Room Full of Roses" (Hill-Range)	3	9	7	7				٠.		7	8	25
8B	7	"Wonderful Guy" (Williamson)			10	9	7			··.	6	2	7	25
9		"I Love You" (Berlin)		10	9		9	6		8			4	20
10	11	"Old Fashioned Walk" (Berlin)	6					4			4			19
11A		"Yes in Your Eyes" (Remick)		8	8	8	10			5			9	18
11B	9	"Breaking My Heart" (Algonquin)	2		, .			٠.			2			-18
12	10	"4 Winds and 7 Seas" (Lombardo)	5						2					15
13		"Highland Fling" (H. Warren)						2				8		12
14		"Maybe It's Because" (B.V.C.)	7						5					10

MDS.

Copenhagen. Fox-trot. m., Charlie Davis. Chicago: Melrose Bros. Music Co., cop. 1924. (Suc-cessor Pub., Mills Music.)

Deep in My Heart, Dear (The Student Prince). w., Dorothy Don-nelly. m., Sigmund Romberg. Harms, Inc., cop. 1924.

Drinking Song (The Student Prince). v., Dorothy Donnelly. m., Sigmund Romberg. Harms, Inc., cop. 1924.

Everybody Loves My Baby, but My Baby Don't Love Nobody But Me. w., m., Jack Palmer Spencer Williams. Clarence Wil-liams Music Co., Inc., cop. 1924. Fascinating Rhythm (Lady, Be Good!). w., Ira Gershwin, m., George Gershwin. Harms, Inc., cop. 1924.

George Cop. 1924.

Follow the Swallow. w., Billy Rose and Mort Dixon. m., Ray Henderson. Jerome H. Remick & Co., cop. 1924.

Henderson. Jerome H. Renuca & Co., cop. 1924.
Hinky Dinky Parlay Voo. w., m., Al Dubin, Irving Mills, Jimmy McHugh and Irwin Dash. Jack Mills, Inc., cop. 1924.
How Come You Do Me Like You Do. w., m., Gene Austin and Roy Bergere. Stark & Cowan, Inc., cop. 1924. (Successor Pub., Mills Music!)

cop. 1924. (Successor Pub., Mills Music.)

I Want to be Happy (No, No, No, Nanette). w., Irving Caesar. m., Vincent Youmans. Harms, Inc., cop. 1924.

I'll See You in My Dreams. w., Gus Kahn. m., Isham Jones. Leo Feist, Inc., cop. 1924.

I Wonder What's Become of Sally? w., Jack Yellen. m., Milton Ager. Ager. Yellen. & Bornstein, Inc., cop. 1924. (Successor Pub., Advanced Music.)

I Wonder Who's Dancing With You Tonight. w., Mort Dixon and Billy Rose. m., Ray Henderson. Jerome II. Remick & Co., cop. 1924.

In Shadowland. w., Sam M.

w., Sam M. 1924.
In Shadowland. w., Sam M.
Lewis and Joe Young. m., Ruth
Brooks and Fred E. Ahlert. Henry Waterson. Inc., cop. 1924. Successor Pub., Advanced Music.)
In the Garden of Tomorrow. w., George Graff, Jr. m., Jessie L.
beppen. London: Chappell & Co., Ltd., cop. 1924.
Indian Love Call (Rose Marie),
w., Otto liarbach and Oscar Hammerstein. 2nd. m., Rudolf Frintl.
Harms. Inc., cop. 1924. (Successor Pub., Mills Music.)
Jealous. w., Tommle Malie and Dick Finch. m., Jack Little. Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1924. (Successor Pub., Mills Music.)
June Brought the Roses. w.
Ralph Stanley. m., John Openshaw Harms, Inc., cop. 1924.
June Night. w., Cliff Friend. m., Abel Baer. Leo Feist, Inc., cop.
1924.
Keep Smillng at Trouble (Big.
Boy) w. Al Johen and Mc. Shadowland. In

m., George Gershwin. Harms, Inc., men" made their alma mater and rose cop. 1924.

Mandalay. w., m., Farl Burtnett, Abe Lyman and Gus Arnheim. Jerome H.. Remick & Co., cop. 1924.

Memory Lane. w., Buddy G. De Sylva. m., Larry Spier and Con Conrad. Harms, Inc., cop. 1924. My Best Girl. w., m., Walter Donaldson. Jerome H. Remick & Co., cop. 1924.

My Dream Girl (The Dream Girl). w., Rida Johnson Young, m., Victor Herbert. Harms, Inc., cop.

O, Katharina! (Chauve Souris). w., L. Wolfe Gilbert, m., Richard Fall. Leo Feist, Inc., cop. 1924 by Wiener Boheme Verlag, Vienna.

Wiener Boheme Verlag, Vienna.
The Prisoner's Song. w., m., Guy
Massey. Shapiro, Bernstein & Co.,
Inc., cop. 1924.
Put Away a Little Ray of Golden
Sunshine for a Rainy Day. w., Sam
M. Lewis and Joe Young. m., Fred
E. Ahlert. Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1924. (Successor Pub., Mills Music.)
Rose, Marie, (Rose, Marie.)

Music.)
Rose Marie (Rose Marie). w.,
Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd. m., Rudolf Friml.
Harms, Inc., cop., 1924.
Serenade (The Student Prince).

Serenade (The Student Prince). w., Dorothy Donnelly, m., Signund Romberg, Harms, Inc., cop. 1924. S-h-i-n-e. w., Cecil Mack and Lew Brown, m., Ford Dabney, Shapiro, Bernstein & Co., cop.

Somebody Loves Me (George White's Scandals). w., Ballard Mac-Donald and B. G. DeSylva. m., George Gershwin. Harms, Inc., cop. 1924.

cop. 1924.
Sometime You'll Wish Me Back
Again. w., m., E. Auslin Keith. F.
B. Haviland Pub. Co., Inc., cop.

1924.
Spain. w., Gus Kahn. m., Isham Jones, Chicago: Milton Weil Music Co., cop. 1924. (Successor Pub., Mills Music.)
Tea for Two (No, No, Nanette), w., Irving Caesar. m., Vincent Youmans. Harms, Inc., cop. 1924.
West of the Great Divide. w., George Whiting. m., Ernest R. Ball. M. Witmark & Sons, cop. 1924.

What'll I Do (Music Box Revue), w., m., Irving Berlin, Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1924, When You and I Were Seven-teen, w., Gus Kahn, m., Charles Rosoff, Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1924, (Successor Pub., Bourne, Inc.)

America's increasing appetite for dancing hit a new high with the Charleston.

The cross-word puzzle appeared, and took ihe nation by storm. Recognizing the cross-word puzzle's popular dimensions, the B. & O. Railroad put dictionaries on its mainline trains.

Every up-to-date college male wore flannel Oxford bags (trousers).

Abel Baer. Leo Feist, Inc., cop. 1924.

Keep Smillng at Trouble (Big Boy). w., Al Jolson and B. G. Desylva. m., Lewis Gensler, Harus, linc., cop. 1924.

Let Me Linger Longer in Your Arms, w, Cliff Friend. m., Abel Baer. Leo Feist, Inæ, cop. 1924.

Limehouse Blues (Charlot's Revue of 1924) w., Douglas Furber. m., Philip Braham. Harms, Inc., cop. 1922 by Ascherberg, Hopwood & Crew, Ltd., London.

The Man I Love (Sirike Up the Band: originally in: Lady, Be Good!), w., Ira Gershwin. m., At Notre Dame the "Four Horse-

Knute Rockne the giants of football, while at race tracks the total of purses and stakes for the first time crossed the $10,000,000 mark (five years before the figure had been a mere $4,600,000).

(Continued next week)

Program AGAIN CARMEN LOMBARDO'S

SAILBOAT IN THE MOONLIGHT

CRAWFORD

A NEW JIMMY McHUGH STANDARD

JT'S A MOST UNUSUAL DAY

Music by . . . JIMMY MeHUGH ROBBINS MUSIC CORPORATION

BLUE SKIRT WALTZ

> YOU'RE HEARTLESS

TING-A-LING (Waltz of the Bells)

MILLS MUSIC, INC. 1619 Broadway New York 19, N. Y.

RETAIL DISK BEST SELLERS

VARIETY

Survey of retail disk best sellers, based on reports ob-tained from leading stores in 12 cities and showing com-parative sales rating for this and last week.

National Rating

Week Ending July 30

	Last wk.	Artist, Label, Title
	1	PERRY COMO (Victo "Some Enchanted Ev
_	4	BING CROSBY (Dece "Some Enchanted Ev
	1	VAUGHN MONROE "Riders in the Sky"

	•	•	•	_
-
1
,

I OFK - Davega Senter	Chleage—(Hudson Ross	Los Angeles—(Denel's Mus	esten-(Boston Music Ce.	St. Louis-(S. S. Kresge Co.	Indianapolis-(Pearson)	San Francisco - (Sherman-	Omaha—(A. Hospe Co.)	Kansas City(Jenkins Musi	San Antonio—(Central Radi	Cinneapolis—(Don Leary)	Seattle-(Sherman-Clay)
New York	Chicago	Les Angel	Beston-	St. Louis	Indianapo	San Franc	Omaha—(Kansas Cit	San Anton	Minneapol	Seattle—(S

WK.	wk	Artist, Label. Title	Z	10	17	M	S	5	S	0	NA.	S	1	8	S
1	1	PERRY COMO (Victor) "Some Enchanted Evening"	1	1		2				1	3			1	57
2A	4	BING CROSBY (Decca) "Some Enchanted Evening"	4		1		1	1	3			9	2		56
2B	1	VAUGHN MONROE (Victor) "Riders in the Sky"	8	9	3	4			5	5	2	3	4	٠.	56
3	3	"Baby It's Cold Outside"	9	4	9	9		2	2		1				41
4.4	6	GORDON JENKINS (Decca) "Again"	5	5			10		6	3	4				33
4B	9	MARGARET WHITING (Cap) "A Wonderful Guy"	10			3	5	7	٠	9			10	9	33
5	7	VIC DAMONE (Mercury) "You're Breaking My Heart"	7	2		1		9				7			29
6	16	EVELYN KNIGHT (Decca) "You're So Understanding"	2	3			3								25
7A	8	MEL TORME (Capitol) "Again"			4			3						2	24
7B	16	D. SHORE-B. CLARK (Columbia) "Baby; It's Cold Outside"								2		4		3	24
8	11	FRANK SINATRA (Columbia) "The Hucklebuck"		7	6				1	7					23
9A	5	DICK HAYMES (Decca) "Room Full of Roses"	3				2			10		1			21
9B	17	MEL TORME (Capitol) "Four Winds and Seven Seas"					6	5	4			10	9		21
10A	14	PERRY COMO (Victor) "Ball Ha'l"		6						4	5				18
10B	13	TOMMY DORSEY (Victor) "The Hucklebuck"						4					5	6	18
11	12	SAMMY KAYE (Victor)						6			7		3		17
12	9	G. JENKINS-STARDUSTERS (D) "I Don't See Me in Your Eyes"				10	8	8	- :						15
13		HERB JEFFRIES (Columbia) "Four Winds and Seven Seas"												5	12
14	15	D. HAYMES-TATTLERS (Decca) "Maybe It's Because"						10				2			10
15	11	PEGGY LEE (Capitol) "Bali Ha'i"													-
16A		CARMEN CAVALLARO (Decca)					4								,
16B		PERRY COMO (Victor) "I Don't See Me in Your Eyes"				٠					10	5
_	_

TOD		I Don t S	ee Me in rour r	yes
16C	17		OMO (Victor) and Ever"
17			. SINATRA (Col Fashioned Walk'
			1
		TOP	SOUTH PACIFIC Broadway Cast	KISS N Broady
	_		C-lumbia	0.1

_
SOUTH PACIFIC Broadway Cast
Columbia

2
	KATE Cost
lum

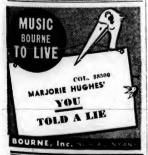

SONGS WITHOUT Selected Capitol

SUPPER CLUB Perry Come Victor

MANHATTAN TOWER don Jenkins Decca

Disk Best Sellers by Companies

Label	No. of	Points	Label	No. of	Points
Victor	Records	180	Columbia	Records	65
Decca Capitol		167 128	Mercury		29

THE EVER POPULAR STANDARD

LAUREL MUSIC CORP. 1619 Broadway, N. Y. 19

On the Upbeat

(Continued from page 39)

Lutcher goes into Chez Maurice, Montreal, for two-weeker starting Sept. 23... Los Angeles cops, involved in a full-scale vice scandal and graft payoff within the department, are making life tough for niteries in these parts. They barge In. stop floorshows and scrutinize hallowed in liquor spots. They've hit both the Casbah and the Oasis during past week... Joe Graydon cutting four sides for Coral. Two were duets with Connie Haines, two were solo etchings. Hal Winters has been re-optioned for four weeks at the Band Box.

Chicago

Esquire mag profiling Jazz. Ltd., near northside dixieland bistronsinger Anita O'Day pacted 23-weeker with Ili Note, near northside dixieland bistronsinger Anita O'Day pacted 23-weeker with Ili Note, near northside dixieland bistronsinger Anita O'Day pacted 23-weeker with Ili Note, near northside dixieland bistronsinger Anita O'Day pacted 23-weeker with Ili Note, near northside lazz spot, starting middle of September. Buddy Moreno opens at Blackhawk Restaurant Aug. 24 for eight weeks. Moreno's being considered for a TV show to originate from the spot... Irving Green, Mercury topper, and Art Talmadge, Mercury topper, and Art Talmadge, Mercury toppers and ad head, back from vous, Salt Lake City, Aug. 24.

Test Case

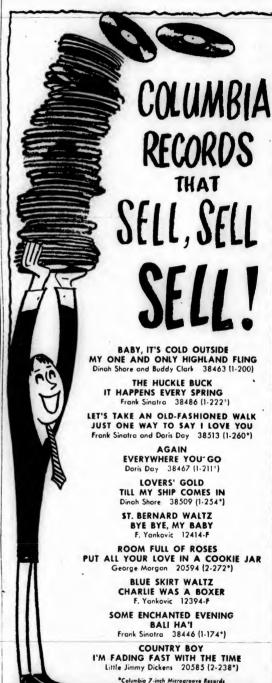

Continued from page 37

this formula is to determine the percentage of comparative uses as reflected by the ASCAP records of radio performances over the major networks. This percentage is then taken of the total amount rethen taken of the total amount received by the publisher from ASCAP, including for performances, availability and seniority.
Now known as the "Goddard formula," this dissipates the contention that had been repeatedly advanced that the allocation should be on an "availability" rather than on a "per use" basis. Zissu & Marcus appeared for Pallma-Warner, and Fitelson, Mayers & London were attorneys of record for Fox.

Decca Ups Till By 390G 1st 6 Mos.

carnings statement for the first six months of this year, which wasn't too far below the corresponding period of last year. Decca marked a net revenue of $390,650 for the half-year ended June 30 after setting aside $239,430 in taxes, the income equalling a payoff of 50c. share to 776,650 holders of capital stock

Revenue for the same months of '48 totalled $427,200 or 55c. a share on the same amount of stock.

HEAR THE GREAT ARTISTS AT THEIR BEST ON

Columbia Records

Tis an Ill Wind, Etc.—Heatwave, Dry Spell Prove Resort Windfall

The continued heatwave and lack of rain during July proved an unattracted from upper New York in an escape from the heat. precedented windfall for beaches. amusement parks and resorts throughout the country, and especially those in and near New York. The multiple millions that crowded these areas to capacity during that period may not have been the lush spenders of the war boom days, but the greater volume of the crowds spread plenty shekaround.

els around.

Operators are admitting that they're plenty in the black for the first time in many seasons. If Jupe Pluvius continues to play ball with them for the remaining six weeks of the summer season, and the visitors' entertainment budgets can stand further strain, their financial cup of joy will be bubbling over.

over.

Coney Island, the Rockaways and Palisades Park, atop the cliffs of Fort Lee, N. J., drew the boffest trade, with the former two, because of their greater area, getting the greater play.

Consistently throughout July, based upon Police Dept. reports. Coney and the Rockaways hosted millions on the weekends and also did consistently good business millions on the weekends and also did consistently good business through the week. In both instances the surf was the main lure. But those who came for the aquatic excursions stuck around to play the concessions, rides, restaurants, food and juice stands and other of the coln-snaring attractions.

Tilyou's Steeplechase at Concy, which traditionally gets the family groups via its 50c-$1 combination tickets which includes gate fee and five and 10 rides respectively, reports the best business in years. Ditto for the Rockaways, with its Playland amusement area also operating with a combination and additionally helped by a free gate. Palisades' main lure was the pool, which reportedly was a sellout at which reportedly was a sellout at all times. Rides and other attrac-

CARDINI

'Cardini, Easily the Best of the Sleight-of-Handers."

YOU MUST VISIT

then in LONDON for Bargains in

ABEL, VARIETY

WM. MORRIS AGENCY

MARCH 9th, 1949

an escape from the heat.
Playland, Rye Beach, also profited in hypoed biz through getting a good play from excursionists via boat ride. Bus line operating from Fordham enlisted extra crews in order to accommodate the thousands making the trip in that manner. Added to this was the myriad of customers via private cars, who cumulatively helped swell takes for happy returns.

Minsky Due to Reopen His Carnival, N.Y., in Late Sept., Then Resume in Florida

Despite having dropped nearly $100,000 via his semi-burlesque nitery show at the Carnival, N. Y., Harold Minsky is far from discouraged and will reopen the spot in late September. After setting couraged and will reopen the spot in late September. After setting the Carnival in running order, he'll trek to Florida, where he'll again operate the Colonial Inn, in Hallendale, with a similar policy, which paid off handsomely for him last year. There's also the possibility that he may shuttle shows between his N. Y. and Florida spots.

possibility that he may shuttle shows between his N. Y. and Florida spots.

Carnival operation got off to a poor start reportedly because of employing a $2-$3 admission fee at the outset, with no obligation to purchase food or drink. After several weeks' test showing such a scole was not paying off, spot was switched to a free gate with $2 minimum. With that format business improved, but when summer and attendant heatwave set in, Minsky decided to shutter.

Actual losses were about $20,000 despite the high figure set, since despite the high figure set, since the additional $80,000 was spent on renovating the Carnival to conform with his new policy.

LA ROSE WILL PEEL IN NEW LINDER PACKAGE

Rose La Rose, burlesque stripper, is planning to head up a new package, designed for cafe dates, and possibly vaude stands later, in conjunction with Jack Linder, indie vaude booker, who'll stage it for her. Dancer has four weeks already lined up and will open its cafe tour in Hartford, Conn.

Unit will have a Gay 90's format, with Bert Frohman emceeing and Miss La Rose doing her peel stint between the nostrigle numbers of the other acts, yet to be set.

KALCHEIM DUE IN N. Y.

London, July 26.

Harry Kalcheim, of the N. Y.
William Morris office, off to Paris for a week, then Belgium and Holland. after which he sails for for a week, then Belgium and Hol-land. after which he sails for America from Rotterdam on the Nieuw Amsterdam Aug. 6. The Lew Parkers also returning to America on same boat. Furs, Fur Coats, Luggage, Travel and Sports Goods:—Call at 1 Port-man Square (corner of Oxford Street), Marble Arch, London, W.1. BOOKING AGENCY GENERAL EXECUTIVE OFFICES LOEW BUILDING ANNEX H. LUBIN SIDNEY H. PIERMONT

Deep River Booked Solid

London, July 26.

The Deep River Boys, booked in England for four weeks, including two weeks at the London Palladium, have already been signed for a series of four broadcasts with Ambrose's band, and are now booked for tour with a Hyman Zahl vaudeville unit till end of year.

year.
After that, they will tour the

Omaha Going Hot For Stage Shows

Omaha, Aug. 2.
Rivalry for stageshows here is at its highest point in years. No sooner did Ak-Sar-Ben get through at its highest point in years. No sooner did Ak-Sar-Ben get through playing Alec Templeton to 11,000 people at their field, than Tri-States announced that they had set Spike Jones unit at the Orpheum theatre Aug. 31.

Ak-Sar-Ben then let it be known that they were angling for Eddie Cantor's show for a one-nighter in the Coliseum next fall. Tri-States signed "Streetcar Named Desire" for six performances at the Omaha in October. Ak-Sar-Ben closed with Spitalny and his "Hour of Charm" show for the Coliseum to follow the Ak-Sar-Ben grand ball which is, incidentally, top social event of the year.

Max Clayton, who handles wrestlers and boxers at the auditorium presented.

Max Clayton, who handles wresters and boxers at the auditorium, presented Rochester and his unit al fresco in the new Municipal Stadium last Monday night (1). More than 2,200 seats were sold in advance, scaled at $120.8240 $1 20-$2 40

$1.20-$2.40.

The World-Herald, not to be bypassed in attractions has closed with "Hasty Heart" for a one or two-nighter at Technical high school auditorium.

Keith's Syracuse In Earlier Teeoff Of 'Palace Type' Vaude

Syracuse, Aug. 2. "Palace vaude" policy originally scheduled for RKO Keith's Sept. 8 with the Pat Rooney, Sr., unit, will make its bow a month earlier,

The eight-act inaugural show Includes Gus Van, the Edwards Bros., Yvonne Moray .The Marvellos, Cook & Brown, Steve Evans, the Appletons, and Ross & La-

Pierre. Second Palace unit has been set

CHI RAILROAD FAIR MAY TOP LAST YEAR Chicago, Aug. 2.

Chicago, Aug. 2.

Chi Railroad Fair, with more than two months to go, looks as if it will pass the 2,500,813 attendance mark set in 1948. Fair has already drawn more than 800,000 visitors, averaging 25,000 daily. Lure of course, is the 25c gate admission, with at least 10 hours of entertainment and exhibits free, on the Inside. Only extra admission charges are for "Wheels a Rolling" pageant and the "Cyprus Gardens Water Show," with both doing hefty biz.

Fair has attracted attention of other midwestern cities and may

Fair has attracted attention of other midwestern cities and may serve as a model for similar industrial shows where exhibits and entertainment costs are paid by various industries represented, for advertising and good-will. Fair, meanwhile, attracts visitors to the city. increasing summer biz in most fields. Kansas City, Detroit, St. Louis and Birmingham, Ala., have sent delegations to the Chi Fair to study its method of presentation, with projects of similar types being considered in their towns.

Aussie Strike Shutters Tivoli Vauder 4th Week

Sydney, July 26.

Martin's Tivoli vauder here is still shuttered because of the coal strike (fourth week) and the lack of an emergency plant. Martin is hopeful of getting the house lit again within the new two weeks.

Most of his acts routed for here have been loaned out to night spots.

Julie Wilson Doubling 'Kate' Into Chi Hotel

'Kate' Into Chi Hotel
Chicago, Aug. 2.
When Julie Wilson, lead in the national company of "Kiss Me, Kate," starts doubling into the Empire Room of the Palmer House here on Sept. 22, it will be a first for the Merriel Abbott-Hilton Hotels policy. Songstress will do only one show, instead of the usual dinner and post-theatre shows. Her album of Columbia recordings will be released to coincide with the local booking.
Miss Wilson clicked at the Mocambo, Hollywood, doubling from the Los Angeles legit date, but ducked doubling into the Fairmont, San Francisco, because she only recently played at the Peacock Court of the Mark Hopkins there.

AGVA Rep Blasts Ind. Fair Bd. in Hassle Over Grandstand Talent

Indianapolls, Aug. 2.

American Guild of Variety Artists, through Bob Edwards, its Cincy rep. criticized Indiana State Fair Board for rejecting a low bid on its 1949 grandstand show "without requiring the winner to match it."

Low bid was submitted by Kay Keiser agency of Indianapolis but contract was given to Barnes-Car-ruthers, of Chlcago. Latter's bid would bring lt $39,000 on a $70,000 would bring it $39,000 on a $70,000 gate.

"There is no question about the ability of the Keiser agency to provide top-notch entertainment." Edwards complained. "The contract with Barnes-Carruthers is very general in nature. It specifies only two acts by name and neither is a headliner. It also specifies a band, but doesn't say what band. Nor is there any required minimum for the booking agency to spend on talent."

"We can't gamble on a $60,000."

on talent."
"We can't gamble on a $60,000 or $70,000 gate," sald Roger G. Wolcott, Fair Board member, in admitting the Keiser bid was low. Chicago agency, he said, has held the contract 22 years. Show will run six nights starting Sept. 4. It usually grosses more than $10,000 a night.

Blair-Blackburns Fill In for Andrews Sis

In for Andrews Sis

Chicago, Aug. 2.

Andrews Sisters cancelled out of the Chicago theatre, after one week of two-week engagement on Patti Andrews' plea that she needed a rest. Nate Platt, theatre producer, wired Janet Blair and the Blackburn Twins, who were playing at Virginia Beach at the Latin Quarter, and they're filling in while they have an open week. Andrews trio headed for the Coast and will rest before resuming their radio stint on Club 15,

Saranac Lake

By Happy Benway Saranac, N.Y., Aug. 2.

Murray Weiss, Variety Club exec in from Boston to supervise renovations at the Variety Clubs Will Rogers hospital. Ruby Gayles, hit the all-clear jackpot and left for N. Y. to join her husband, Juggy Gayles, music publisher her husband, Juggy Gayles, much publisher. Leandra Rinzler, former Roger-ite, in from N. Y. C. for a month's vacation.

Birthday salutations are in order to Forrest "Slim" Glenn, Victor (IATSE) Gamba and Charles Kauf-

Lawrence Shubert Lawrence, manager of the Shubert Philadel-phia theatres, shot in to visit Mark Wilson, who is making nifty

Mark Wilson, who is making nifty progress.

Helen Grupp was tendered a birthday party at the lodge. Among those attending were Jeanette Varani, Frances Grupp, Lee Klimick, Dr. William Stern, Marie and Marlene Southard and Esther Gamba. She was gifted with a gold fountain pen set.

pen set.

Betty Murray, Gil Hall and Dora
Weaver motored in for a weekend visit to Mary Lou Weaver (Warner Bros.), recuperating from recent Bros.), recuperating from recent operation.

Bob Cosgrave, Columbia Pix staffer, in for annual vacation at his Lake Flower camp.

Maurice Evans, Shakespearean actor, in for a summer vacation at his Upper Saranac Lake camp.

Bryce LaVigne, orch leader, in for two weeks fishing on Lake St. Regis.

Write to those who are ill.

Cafes Cited For Chiseling In Toronto Cleanup

Waning nitery and cafe biz in Toronto took another blasting when a newspaper survey revealed that customers are being cheated on drink measurements and that short-changing is prevalent. Estimated that some of the bistros have been making an extra profit of at least around $1,000 a week by holding back even 1/8 to 1/4 oz. per drink.

per drink.

Liquor Control Board went into action and confiscated sample measuring jiggers and "shot" glasses which are now being checked by the Federal bureau of weights and measures. Also revealed that several complaints have been made to police by bar customers claiming they're being short-changed. LCB inspectors, who make routine checks, supposedly at least once monthly, of drinking spots and eateries, were on the carpet, with Board taking a serious view of laxness.

Board also plans to have honest-

a serious view of laxness.

Board also plans to have honestmeasure jiggers and "shot" glasses compulsorily placed in all bars and the "cheater" measures destroyed.
Blowoff came when a double bylined survey by George Bain and Mary Fraser of The Globe & Mail showed customers were being gypped by deceptive measuring methods. The two reporters took along a surgical measuring glass for their tests. Over a score of prominent spots, with an individual report on each, were visited and named, plus four hotels that were given top rating for honesty.

MEMO:

"One of the better sleight-of-hand artists, Billy Bishop is working the Carrousel this week and if you are tired of the usual magicians' routines then Bishop is your boy ... he really shines ... keeps up a continual line to the control of the con

Billy Bishop is an artist you ould not miss."

DON D'AMICO, Montreal-Matin

"... if you are tired of the usual magicians' routines then Bishop is your boy."

MAX NEWTON, Standard. . . very good tricks . . . very

HAROLD WHITEHEAD, Gazette magicians' routines then Bishop is your boy." MAX NEWTON, Standard

"... unsuming and almost shy, a fellow with pleniv of what it takes ... fine for a guffaw."

BRUCE TAYLOR, Montreal Herald.

Thank you, PIERRE MAURER, MAR-TIN GOODMAN, MARK LEDDY, LEON NEWMAN, for two wonderful weeks at the CARROUSEL, Montreal.

Regards, BILLY BISHOP.

P. S.: "If you are tired of the usual magleians' routines then Bishop is your boy." MARK LEDDY-LEON NEWMAN Plaza 7-3760.

CLINTON HOTEL 10th attow

200 OUTSIDE ROOMS from $2 DAILY

SPECIAL WEEKLY RATES HOUSEKEEPING FACILITIES cautiful Air Conditioned Cocktail Louge WALKING DISTANCE OF ALL THEATHER

Warners Seen Restoring Stageshows At N.Y. Strand; Straight Pix No Dice

Conflict between Warner Bros.

theatre and distrib execs over stageshows in the Broadway Strand is currently swinging in favor of restoration of live entertainment at the company's N. Y. showcase. It will be the stage policy may take place in the stage policy may take place in the fall if no improvement in the the fall if no improvement in the theatre's grosses are shown under theatre's grosses are shown under theatre's grosses are shown under the stage feature policy. theatre's grosses are shown under the present single feature policy.

the present single results pointy.
Warner theatre execs were originally reluctant to pull out the stage attractions from the house because of the competitive factors among the Broadway firstruns. Distrib execs, however, were convinced that the elimination of the shows would save coin. shows would save coin.

Results of the first three weeks Results of the first three weeks sans stage shows, however, have been disappointing. With the straight picture policy opening with the Gary Cooper starrer, "The Fountainhead." the Strand grossed only $63,000 for the three frames. With a stage bill, the same picture figured to gross double or more than that figure. Taking into consideration the cost of the stage shows, which averaged around $15,000 weekly, the house would still have come out ahead. Warner proponents of the pic-still have come out ahead.

Warner proponents of the picture policy want a longer test with a variety of films and without the prolonged heat wave which has generally bopped Broadway in the last month. Another factor operating against the house's policy is that the Strand's patrons are still unaccustomed to it. Continued failure of the house to draw up to expectations will, however, strengthen the hand of the stage-show partisans among the Warner hierarchy.

HOLLOWAY FLOPS IN DOWN UNDER VAUDE

Melbourne, July 26.

Meloourne, July 26.
Stanley Holloway, British comic out here for the Dave Martin Tivoli vaude loop, failed to hit the popular fancy and wound up a poor run.

Comic will most likely give up balance of his Down Under tour and return to London.

Jaywalkers pacted for Vancouver

COMMENTATOR AT LIBERTY
For clabs, lounges, lottels, restaurants.
Something new! Fifty minute late show-news, general ad lib comment, quotes from magazine articles und sudience participation. A new show distry, Washington or New York gardy, Vashington or New York
Mallaum, for presentation in the Fail.
Mallaum, See See See See See See See See
With Cook V-564, Variety 184 W. 46th bit, New York 19, N. Y.

-SPACE FOR RENT

Excellent for

BOOKING OR GENERAL OFFICES

Present tenants include TV studion and TV casting and conching offices. Exceptional ceiling height. Fireproof building. EL. 5-0606.

Blue Blood Blues Singers

Blue Blood Blues Singers
New York's Coq Rouge will bring back its old policy of introducing new singing talent from the ranks of Gotham's debutantes. Frank Bonacchini, co-owner of the nitery, conceived the idea about 10 years ago and found the policy payed off as a good drawing card besides actting as a showcase for possible talent. Club is sending out invitations to the socialite chirpers who made their debuts in the past two years and to those who are scheduied to come out next season.

Among the debs who made their professional bow at the nitery are Anne Francine, Martha Burnett,
Beverly Paterno, Marcella Hendricks, Lady Margaret Strickland, Maggi MeNellis, Adelaide Moffett and Peggy and Eleanor French.

Hotel N. Y.er In Policy Stymie

New Yorker hotel, New York, has no idea of what sort of a policy will be installed in its Terrace Room come fall. Currently the room is open for luncheon and dinner without music and daneing.

Hostelry's exees have considered putting in the "Salute to Gershwin" show, which the Sherman hotel, Chicago, preemed last winter with good b.o. effect, but the idea is costly. It requires an outlay of approximately $5.000 to install the lights and control board necessary to handle that show, and three men are needed to operate the board. It's improbable that the New Yorker will go for the cost. And so far no other satisfactory policy idea has been advanced.

GLASS HAT PLANS TO RESUME FLOOR SHOWS

The Glass Hat of the Belmont-Plaza hotel, N. Y., which is operat-ing on a straight band policy for the summer, plans to resume floor-shows around Labor Day.

Management is still undecided on a format. In the past it has oc-casionally operated with a line of girls and two or three acts. How-ever, it's likely, according to those booking the spot, that it may fore-go the line and concentrate its budget on a couple of medium-priced names for its entertainment.

A.C. Hotel Workers Spark Pitch for Repeal of Tax

Washington, Aug. 2.
A resolution by the Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, Local 508, Atiantic City, calling upon the Government to reduce the 20% nitery bite to its prewar 5%, or to eliminate the levy completely, was introduced in the Congressional Record last week

week.

Resolution, put in by Rep. T.
Millet Hand, of Atlantic City, said in part: "This excessive levy has aiready exacted a heavy toll of unemployment among workers in the culinary, hotel service, and bartending trades by discouraging patronage of establishments offering entertainment with meals...

It ill becomes our government at a time when unemployment is rising, to continue in force a measure which can only swell the jobless total, thus undermining living standards and accelerating an economic collapse."

WANTED

FOR LARGE TRAVELING MAGICAL THEATRICAL COMPANY OPENING IN SEPTEMBER, CLOSING IN MAY, 1950 — SEASON OF 40 WORKING WEEKS

GIRLS: 100 to 130 lbs., 5'1" to 5'4". Shapely and Beautiful. No talent required. Send thoto. Stage attendants. Magic Mechanically Minded will help. Send photo.

ORGANIST-DIRECTOR

direct ershestra, assemble orchestrations, que chewe. Give full details. Must be union. Address: Box 123, Care VARIETY, 156 W. 46th St., New York, N. Y.

Cantor Made JTG Prexy For 18th Straight Term

Eddie Cantor was elected to the presidency of the Jewish Theatri-cal Guild for his 18th consecutive term at the annual meeting of the term at the annual meeting of the philanthropic organization in its quarters in the N. Y. Paiace theatre building, July 29. Cantor is due back from a European junket next week.

All other officers and council were returned to office, including George Jessel, Jack Benny and William Morris, Jr., as veepees, and Dr. George H. Solomon added to the council.

Talent Disregards Boss, Closing Law to Cavort For Hope, Godfrey in Mpls.

Minneapolis, Aug. 2.

Minneapolis, Aug. 2.
Performers and management clashed at Club Carnival when the former insisted or doing their stuff on the stage "after hours" for Bob Hope, Arthur Godfrey and their party, here for the Aquatennial, annual summer mardl gras, and visiting the spot late. Management objected because it wanted to empty the room at the 1 a.m. closing hour in conformity with the law.

The performers won out and the

The performers won out and the city authorities overlooked the technical law violation because of the famous guests and the circumstances.

Hope, Godfrey, et al., entered the bistro at 25-minutes to one, coming there from a party which CBS had tossed for them at the Hotel Radisson. Joan Edwards, the headliner, was just finishing her act for the last show when she spotted Hope.

"Why didn't you come earlier, Bob?" she ealled out to Hope. "I'm just finishing my act."

"Well, why not start over again?" queried the comedian.

"All right, I will," answered Miss.

queried the comedian.

"All right, I will," answered Miss Edwards and, forthwith proceeded to start from the beginning.

But with only 25 minutes to go to "closing time" that didn't set so well with Ted Cook, the nitery's manager, and he rushed to the stage to expostulate with Miss Edwards. Also, Buddy Lester, waiting to go on, was fearful he wouldn't get his chance if Miss Edwards continued. After she had finished Lester went on, just as he declared he'd do, and he did about 20 minutes more than usual.

It was an extra treat for the cus-

20 minutes more than usual.

It was an extra treat for the customers, who filled the room, enjoyed the thrill of being in the same crowd with Hope, etc., and got to see Miss Edwards and Lester virtually "working their heads off," performing overtime and embroidering their aets to the limit. It was well after 2 a.m. before the show was over.

snow was over.

Cook denies that he was influenced in his efforts to halt Miss Edwards and curb Lester by the fact that extra expense would be incurred, including overtime for the 12-piece orchestra, etc.

HIGH WAGES NICKING B. AIRES NITERIES

Buenos Aires, July 26.

Buenos Aires, July 26.
Goyescas nitery, which two years ago was grossing $4,000
(U. S.) nightly, has had to fold.
High wages for general help ran expenses far beyond grosses. Situation is gradually killing off nitery biz in Argentina altogether. The Embassy night club charges $5 for iocal whisky and the average cost of taking a date for a spot of dinner and dancing in Buenos Aires these days is $40 (U. S.), provided only a minimum of two drinks is consumed in the evening. consumed in the evening.

Josephine Baker nixed an offer from Buenos Aires impresarios to appear in the Principe nitery this season, although she promises to consider the bid for 1950.

Blackstone, Recovered, Sets 45 Wk. Vaude Tour

Colon, Mich., Aug. 2.

Harry Blackstone, vet magician, who has been a patient in Lella Post hospital at Battle Creek, Mich., was released and went to his home on Blackstone Island, in nis nome on Blackstone Island, in Sturgeon Lake, hear here. Blackstone has booked a 45-week coast-to-coast tour for the coming season, starting in Milwau-kee, Sept. 11.

Gus Van's Decision to Run Again Creates New Stew in AGVA Balloting

Menke Gets 51/2G For . Damages to Showboat

Damages to Showboat.

St. Louis, Aug. 2.

Capt. J. W. Menke, owner of the showboat "Golden Rod" that has been doing a flourishing biz here, last week won a $5.500 verdict against the Inland Waterways Corp., for damages done to the floating theatre on Aug. 15, 1946. The award was made by U. S. District Judge George H. Moore.

Menke testified that the corporation was guilty of negligence when

Menke testified that the corpora-tion was guilty of negligence when it failed to seeure its barges as the Mississippi was rising. Because of this negligence he ciaimed the barges broke loose and smashed into the showboat and damaging it. In the same case Judge Moore awarded $1,200 to a deckhand on a towboat for injuries suffered at the same time.

Mounds Club Files Appeal to Reopen

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.

The battle between Gov. Frank Lausehe, of Ohio, and the operators of the swank Mounds Ciub in Lake County near Painesville first in the Governor's announced drive to put the plush gambling casinos of the state out of business-entered its third week with the issue headed for Frankiin County Common Pleas Court in Columbus.

Columbus.

The club made a token appeal before Fire Marshai Harry J. Callan last week (27) for the lifting of a padlock order on charges that the club is a firetrap and violates building regulations. Callan took the appeal under advisement. Should the Mounds Club win its case against Cailan in Common Pleas Court, it would still have a fight to reopen. The State Liquor Department has brought charges against the club for alieged sales of liquor without a lieense. The trials of four employees on liquor violations will be held in Painesville, Aug. 15.

New Sunday Bop Concerts Set for Village Nitery

Set IOT VIIIage MITETY
Savannah Cafe, Greenwich Village, N. Y., will inaugurate a series of Sunday afternoon bop concerts, beginning next Sunday (7). Sessions will run from 4 p.m. to 9 p.m., after which nitery will swing into its regular colored fioor show. Manhattan Paul, who's producing the concerts, has set The Ravens, vocai quartet, and Dinah Washington as guesters on the initialer. A 90c minimum will prevail.

In addition to the concert there will be dancing, with milk and maiteds available for the younger set of bop fans.

et of bop fans.

election as president of American Guild of Variety Artists, after pre-viously stating "he did not choose viously stating "he did not choose to run," has bombsheiled the camps of the competing candidates, Georgie Price and Jackie Bright.

Georgie Price and Jackie Bright.

Bright, youngest of the candidates, is believed to have the backing of the N. Y. branch board, of which he is currently chairman.

Latter has reportedly lined up support in other quarters, principally Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Hoilywood for their *candidate, these areas having the largest membership groups within the union. Price is not making too vigorous a campaign but nevertheless he also has many supporters in the N. Y. and other branches of the guild.

Bright's campaigners character-the guild.

Bright's campaigners characterize Van's change of heart as being maneuvered by the present AGVA administration, primarily Dewey Barto, current executive secretary. Both Bright and Price have not been in aecord with many of Barto's administrative acts in the past and it's figured, according to Bright's supporters, that should he elected he would propose some drastic changes in the current AGVA setup.

In some quarters it's felt also

AGVA setup.

In some quarters it's felt also that Van, who made it elear at the AGVA convention that he didn't want to suceeed himself as prexy of the union, was drafted on a "for the good of the union" plea. The idea is that a three-way campaign would split the Price-Bright factions sufficiently to reelect Van.

CIRO'S STOCCO TAKING OVER LONDON EMBASSY

London, July 26.

Abe Aronsohn and Bob Barnett have disposed of their lease of the Embassy Club nitery to Fausto Stocco, former partner of Martinus Poulsen, killed in air-raid in last war, of the Cafe Anglais. Stocco now operates Ciro's Club, in which has a financial interest with a financial interest with he has a financial interest with Rubin Bros.

Embassy has had lean times since the government vetoed bottle parties. Stoeco has applied for a restaurant license, and intends to run the club on the same lines as Ciro's. Although it is kept very hush-hush, it's understood the price paid is around $140,000, with Stoeco taking possession early in August.

COMEDY MATERIAL FUN-MASTER

The ORIGINAL Show-Biz Gag File"
NOS. 1 to 30 @ $1.00 Ea.
(Order in Sequence Only)

-Special: First 13 Files for $10.00
All 30 Files for $25.00

All 30 Files for 235.00

3 Bis, PARODIES 510 Per Bt.

MINSTREL BUDGET......225.00

HUMOR-DOR for Emess. 225.00

8 Blackaut Booke....25 as.

or att 3 Diff. Vete. for 350

Send for FREE info. an other material.

C.O.D's—Open Daily Inel. Sundays

PAULA SMITH
200 W. 54th St., Dept. V, N. Y. 19
CIRCLE 7-1136

AFTER FOUR CONSECUTIVE YEARS AT THE EARL CARROLL THEATRE HOLLYWOOD

BILLY RAYES

JUGGLING SATIRIST

CURRENTLY

ROXY, New York

Thenks, SAMMY RAUCH, HARRY ROMM

NOTE: I DON'T DO IMPERSONATIONS!

Direction: MCA ARTISTS

Night Club Reviews

Chez Paree, Chi

Chicago, July 29.
Jackie Miles, Betty Bruce, Betty Reilly, Anita Martell, Chez
Adorables (10) with Inez Clavijo,
Al Wallis, Cee Davidson Orch
(12); $3.50 minimum.

Current layout is the best paced show here in several months and while some acts ran overlong open-ing night, it held pace.

ing night, it held pace.

Jackie Miles has refurbished his material and with the exception of his Gene Autry stint, now standard, has some new stories to fling to the ringsiders. Slight comedian details the neighborhood responsibili-ties of owning a television set; the racetrack habitue's talk with the racetrack habitue's talk with God; some patter between a few choruses of "Shine," and a hilarious bit about an ungrateful patient all add up to plenty laughs.

Betty Bruce gets the crowd in receptive mood with kidding intro before going into some terrific toe twirls. For change of pace she does impresh of Ray Bolger's "Tea for Two" embellishing the routine with rapid, whirling dervish spine does impresh of Ray Boiger's Lea for Two" embellishing the routine with rapid, whirling dervish spins, After reprise of her stint from "Up in Central Park," she does a shimmy for solid applause and shimmy bowoff.

Betty Reilly almost steals the show with her Spanish and Yiddish renditions. Blond thrush starts with starts salling of "Irish Eyes." straight selling of "Irish Eyes." She's added some Latin lyrics to "Rhumba Rhapsody" and while the majority of customers might not know what it's all about, spirited delivery garners good response. She dips a little in the blue for "Kinsey Report" before going into "Rancho Grande," which is inter-spersed with Pancho stories. En-cores "Want a Man" for additional cores pattycakes.

Anita Martell, opens some neat juggling. Line spaces proceedings with three new numbers, with solo dancer Inez Clavijo doing production neatly in the Javanese number. Al Wallis handles production vocals in good style. nese number.

production vocals in the Cee Davidson orch be expertly and handles dance tunes equally we nd handles custom equally well. Zabe

Astor Roof, N. Y.

(HOTEL ASTOR)
Xavier Cugat Orch, Bill McCune Orch; $1-$1.25 cover.

Returning from a smash tour through Latin America (minus Argentina), Xavier Cugat is giving this class hotel dine-and-dancery one of its strongest attractions in a long line of name band bookings. Cugat's rep, plus the Roof's refuge from the steam-heated sidewalks, will draw business and the well-filled tables opening night (1) was early proof of that.
Cugat's orch, which has had the benefit of a Metro glamorization treatment in several recent filmusicals, is a solid and versatile crew that's still tops in its genre of Latin music. But the maestro isn't going overboard on the tamale tunes in this spot, rightly figuring that the Astor clientele is not grooved for a straight rhumba diet.
Cugat is mixing up his items with a change of pace from the Viennese waltz to the Hawaiian hulaback from straight pops to the Latin rhythms where the orch is undeniably standout. Band's basic instrumentation has four on reeds, five on brass, three on strings and six on rhythm, including the usual complement of bongo drums.

five on brass, three on strings and six on rhythm, including the usual complement of bongo drums, maraccas and marimba. Versatile doubling by the sidemen give un-usual flexibility to the arrange-ments.

usual flexibility to the arrangements.

Except for flashily costumed gal fronting the orch during the Latin numbers Cugat essays little in the way of bandstand showmanship. Vocals are delivered by various sidemen while macetro alternates between quiet bat oning and fiddling. Here again, the style has been trimmed to this room's decor but plenty of the orch's vitality gets through. When the band swings into one of its hot Latin numbers, the patrons sit it out and take it as straight entertainment.

Bill McCune's combo alternates on the bandstand with an okay brand of dansapation.

Copacebana, N. Y.

Copacebana. N. Y.

(FOLLOWUP)

Comedian Romo Vincent and ballroom dancers Edwards & Diane are the major replacements on the current bill, sharing the headline billing with Mindy (songstress)
Carson, a holdover,
Vincent is an amiable comicsinger, one who invariably sells more on personality than material. There's hardly anything new to his stuff, but by the time he walks off he has the customers with hir on sheer seiling ability alone. He's still doing such stuff as the Pullman-porter number, has opening "Jericho," et al. And one of the amazing things about him is his grace, despite his 275 pounds.

Edwards & Diane go over nicely, especially clicking on the lifts, though his voicing of a love paean, as she glides about the floor, is a little too ethereal for a cafe floor.
Miss Carson continues to improve in selling as she goes through a routine of pops and ballads. She doesn't achieve the usual glamour that most cafe singers strive for, and that, maybe, is one reason why Miss Carson is doing so well here.

Production numbers are holdover.

Flame Room, Mpls. (HOTEL RADISSON)

Minneapolis, July 30.
Monica Lewis, Frakson, Danny
Ferguson Orch (8); $2.50 mini-

The combination of top-drawer song and magic makes for a pleasant entertainment interlude at this plush, intimate spot. Spotting Monica Lewis, songstress, and Frakson, magician, together to provide the floorshow was a choice. Customer enjoyment is very evident.

dent.

It's the first time here for the captivating Miss Lewis and, at dinner show caught, she had easy sailing throughout. Her loveliness, stunning wardrobe and sparkle, as well as her voice and song-selling ability, help to extract every ounce of value from her numbers. She skilfully dramatizes, as well as vocalizes, and gives each selection the sort of distinctive tourches that skilfully dramatizes, as well as vo-calizes, and gives each selection the sort of distinctive touches that spells artistry.

"A Wonderful Guy" and "Some Enchanted Evening," from "South Pacific," showed off Miss Lewis' charm and pipes nicely. A "Tele-phone Song" had its comedic mo-ments which she handles cleverly. Winds with "A Tree in the Mead-ow" and a swing arrangement of the lively "You Were Meant for Me" to heavy applause.

A hit here on previous appear-

Me" to heavy applause.

A hit here on previous appearance, Frakson mystifies with his tricks and amuses with his accompanying patter and comedy business. The manner in which he makes lighted cigarets vanish into thin air and reappear, his adroit business with the apparently sheared rope and the way he causes a radio to disappear produce customer interest and perplexity. These are all very familiar tricks, but they're good ones and he gives them original touches.

Danny Ferruson orchestra plays them original toucnes.

Danny Ferguson orchestra plays the show and tunes for customer dancing. Room filled for dinner.

Rees.

Babette's, A. C.

Atlantic City, July 27. Lou Seiler, Ronnie King, Doris art, Unabelle Howard line, Benny orris Orch, Frank Ramoni Rhum-Morris Orch, Frank Ramoni Rhum-ba Band; $1.50 minimum, $2 weekconds.

Lou Seiler, funny little guy, is tops for this spot. Coming on with a great big hello and table hopping to welcome payees warms things up for a hearty session. Impersonations are his forte, and he does a neat job on his carbons, not too blueish, yet packing a good deal of fun. His version of the lost weekend and his cowboy bit are toppers that send him off to sock applause. Ronnie King, nifty songstress, scores in her stanza. Opens with "I Feel a Song Coming On" and segues into "Mother Never Told Me." Winds with "Fat-Man's Polka" and encores with "S'Wonderful" for additional pattycakes.

Doris Hart gets nice returns on her top routines. Unabelle Howard girls (6) contrib three colorful numbers.

Babette (Stebbins) emcees show

mumbers.
Babette (Stebbins) emcees show in glib style to keep it moving at enjoyable pace. Benny Morris Orch backgrounds neatly and alternates with Frank Ramoni rhumbaists for customer dansapation.

Walk.

Bucharest, Montreal

Montreal, July 27. Vivian Allen, Bert Shelden, Lund Bros. & Patricia, Will Skin-ner Orch (3); minimum $2.$3.

Baby." Movements in some dances are too broad, and small floor seems a handicap. Their Apache garners neat plaudits.

Miss Allen, who played Ado Annie in "Oklahoma!" for three years, doesn't reprise any of the show's tunes until the finale, when she teams up with Shelden for a sock duet of "All or Nothin." Best of her previous numbers is "Primitive Man," with it's broad iyrics and burlesque routine from "Pal duet of the previous numbers is "Primitive Man," with it's broad lyrics and burlesque routine from "Pal Joey." Gal sells well and the impromptu teaming with Shelden is hit of the show.

Wiii Skinner orch handles show music with ease. Usual finale is sparked by vocals of Carol. Newt.

Village Vanguard, N. Y. Mary Lou Williams, J. C. Heard Trio; $1 minimum, $2 weekends.

Falling in line with the summer trend towards lower tabs, this Greenwich Village spot is offering a smart package for the jazz aftionados at reduced scales, also eliminating the 20% tax by cutting out vocalists. Nitery's operator Max Gordon is also, testing out an "in-the-round" type of show presentation, with performers playing near the center of the floor. But the Vanguard is framed so small that this innovation doesn't add much in the way of intimacy.

Top current attraction is Mary much in the way of intimacy.

Top current attraction is Mary Lou Williams' subtle pianistics.
Avoiding superficial flashiness, Miss Williams accents intricate but clean rhythms with superb keyboard artistry. Her repetrory is wide, spanning a range from the quasi-classic to boogle-woogle jumps. She's solid item for this type of nitery.

Along a similar vein of authenjumps. She's sond tem to the type of nitery.

Along a similar vein of authentic jazz, the J. C. Heard Trio is dishing up a snappy brand of music, alternating with Miss Williams in a continuous music policy. Combo, composed of drums, bass and piano, has a solid style, getting the most out of its narrow instrumental range. Heard, on drums, tends to err, however, in spotlighting his long and powerful skinbeating solos without tempering his efforts in this cubicle-sized nitery.

Herm.

NICKY BLAIR TAKES OVER CLICK, PHILLY

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.

Nicky Blair took over the management of the Click here last night. Associated with Blair in the deal is Arthur Ganger, N. Y. restaurant outfitter, and the new owners told the press at a cocktail reception yesterday they plan to continue the Click's present policy of name bands and also intend to bring in top name acts.

Opening bands are Louis Arm-

Opening bands are Louis Armstrong orch and the Kenmore Caravan, local combo. Peggy Lee is slated for Aug. 19, and Tommy Dorsey, Sept. 21.

Saratoga

Continued from page 1 =

tracks are more accessible and many bettors like the treatment received there. Saratoga Track also has considerable competition from the Saratoga Raceway which runs night time harness meets. Niteries are especially burned over night-racing because of the direct competition.

Additional evidence that toga will cater to more people with less money per capita is seen by the figures at the racetrack's open-ing day. Attendance was 1.100 the figures at the racetrack's open-ing day. Attendance was 1,100 more than last year's opener but the handle was less. There's some comfort for the-smart money boys in that the casinos have been given the green light.

Cafes received a bad break on the track's opening day Monday (1) with competition from the Monty Woolley dinner given by the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce at the Grand Union hotel, feteing the actor on his 30 years' residence in the spa. Instead of turnaway crowds for dinner, cafes were only comfortably filled, but with many reservations for the midnight shows.

In the cafe scene, the big show is at the Piping Rock with Hildegarde as the attraction. Riley's opens Thursday (4) with the Minsky Carnival unit. The Brook Club is featuring a three-piece band. The garde as the attraction. Riley's opens Thursday (4) with the Minky Carnival unit. The Brook Club is featuring a three-piece band. The Piping Rock has reverted back to Max Sellette of the Latin Quarter, N. Y. The food concession has been taken over by Bob Mentzer, Nat Lewis and Frank Zolta of the Casablanca, Miami Beach.

VARIETY BILLS

Numerals in connection with bills below indicate opening day of shew Letter in parentheses indicates circuit: (I) Independent; (L) Loew; (M) Moss (P) Paramount: (R) NKO: (S) Stell; (W) Warner; (WR) Walter Rende

NEW YORK CITY CHICAGO

Burns 2 &
Evelyn
Grace Drysdale
Anthony & Rogers
Fontaines Anthony
Fontaines
Coleman Clark Co
Rochelle & Beebe
Timmy Rogers
Proske's Tigers
Paramount (P) 3
Tex Beneke Orc Paramount (P)
Tex Beneke Or
Vic Damone
Cy Reeves
Rudy Cardenas
Roxy (i) 4
Bob Crosby
Sid Stone

3. Olympics
CHICAGO
Chicago (P) 3
Dennis Dav (Clark Bros
Acromaniacs
Marvas & Upstarts
Garden (P) 4
George Jessel
Dorothy Claire
Gene Sheldon
Can Bootic Bd
Hoy Brown
Mighly Men
Chubby Neusom Highly Men
CLEVELAND
Felace (R) 4
Dick Contino
Richard Melarl Pepperettes
Mystley 4
Jeannine Meister
Eddie Grieg
Tommy Check
Glenn Pigott

Ginny Lowry Leonardo & Anita George Dunn 3_Olympics

VAUDEVILLE BACK! AT FOX THEATRE, St. Louis F&M STAGESHOWS Inc.

Paramount DOC HOWE New Building Affiliates:—Chicage, Seattle, Les Angeles, Torente, Philadelphia, Lendon, Paris, Buenes Aires.

Virginia Maxey
Billy Raves
Johnny Mack
Battonors
Battonors
Ceorge Prentice
Penny Edwards
Burton & Janet
Ross Wyse Jr
Peggy Womack
Milton Douglas C
State (1) 44
Jean Lailotte
Harris 3

State (1) 4-6
Jean Laflotte
Harris 3
Dick & Dinah
Ardath & Russell
7-10
Russ Le Beau
Stewart Sis
Alan Carrier
3 Queens

3 Queens
BOSTON
Keith's (R) 4
Edwards Bros
Yvonne Moray
Cook & Brown
Marvellos
Steve Evans
Appletons
Ross & LaPierre
Gus Van

BUFFALO Hippodrome (P) 4 Hippodrome (P)
Peggy Lee
Dave Barbour 5
Billy Gilbert
Lewis & Van
Marshall Bros
CAMDEN
Towers (I) 5-7
Rice Sis

BRITAIN

ASTON
Hippodrome (1) 1
S & M Harrison
Pamela Austin
Bob Grey 3 Imps
Patricla & Colin
Sheila Daly
Vic Kerris
Charles Dickens
Ivo I Ingles
Ivo I Ingle

CAIN

Webster Booth
Aone Ziegler
Rudella
Albert Whelan
Johnson Clark
Frank Preston
Chas Ancaster
Machan
Chart
Machan
Empire (5) 1
Morris & Cowley
Is Wright & Marion
Jean Melville
A Kay & Gloria
Charles 'I ague
Charles 'I ague
Karloma Marie De Vere Co BIRMINCHAM Hippodrome (M) I & S Davis Vic Oliver June Manton Maureen O'Dell Jeanette Hughes Branbett Grey Lionel King Bunny Boyle Fred Lovelle Stevil Sis Boros & Brook Les Raymer & Betty

n wright & Marion lean Melville
A Kay & Gloria
Charles 'Iague
Karlson 3 WICK
Emplre ($)
Peter Lorre
Janet Brown
Silver & Dwn
Silver & Dwn
Les Alyxons
Godfrey & Kerby
A J Powers
Janite Brown
Grand ($)
A J Powers
Janite Silver
Frank Worth
Vadlo & Herts
Willie Clark
Freda Barver
Friesbury Park
Emplre (M)
1
2 Dancettes
Smith Bros
Smith Bros Pygram & Brandon
Zena Dell
Albert Murland
Opera Houser ()
Opera Houser ()
Opera Houser ()
Ondrea Dancers
Halama & KonarskiFrance Clery
Casswechson
Shiela Matthews
Tiller Girls
Regency Singers
Regency Singers
Regency Singers
Opera Lynn
Riley & Bernard
Palace ()
Vera Lynn
Riley & Bernard
Palace ()
Vera Lynn
Kiely & Bust
Georges & Dorina
Arthur Worsley
Anna Mac
Tommy Reilly
Irvin Riley Marily
Irvin Riley Maril

Empire (M) 1
2 Dancettes
5 Snith Bros
Les-Spanglers
Leslie Sarony
Maicia
Mooney & King
Latona & Sparks
Elray & Dorothy
Tanner Sis
Evers & Dolorez
Glascow

George Wood Co
Joc Black
Gaston Palmer
Raymond Smith
B Warren & Chic
GRIMSBY
Jimm

B Waferland Williams (Charles)
Jimmy Chartars
Beth O'Dare
Johnnie Carlton
David Cassity
G & D Beaty
Les Cygne 4
1 & I. Webb
Ta MacNab

MacNab MacNab

HACKNEY Empire (5) 1
Ray Ellington 4
Max Wall
Harold Barnes
Al Burnett
Johnny Lawson 3
Don Philippe &
Marta
Frank Marx &
Iris
LONDON

Marta
Frank Marx &
Iris
LONDON
Palladium (M) 1
Carl Brisson
Frances Lansford
Jon Hall
Carl Brisson
Frances Lansford
Jon Hall
Carl Brisson
France Marcus
7 Asshtons
2 Leconas
MANCHESTER
Hippedreme (S) 1
Frank Marlowe
Bubb Marlowe
Mary Bubb Marlowe
Marlowe
Mary Bubb Marlowe
Marlowe
Mary Bubb Marlowe
Marlowe
Mary Bubb Marlowe
Marlowe
Marlowe
Mary Bubb Mary Bubb Marlowe
Marlowe
Marlowe
Mary Bubb Marlowe
Mary Bubb Marlowe
Marlowe

MEWCASTLE
Empire (M) [2 Sophisticates
Allan Jones
Irene Hervey
Desile Strange
Val & Monty
Warren & Jean
Harry Benty
Hackford Hackford
Kizma & Karen
Sam Costa
Relville & Rekar
Jord & Lenner
Wilson Keppel &
Betty Louise &

Betty
Marie Louise &
Charles
Eddie Gordon & Nancy
David Poole
PORTSMOUTH
Royal (M) 1
Ed Vyne &

Lin.
Noberti
Mickey Ressell
Hamiltons
SHEPHERDS BUSH
Empire ($)] Empire ($) }
Hutch
Len Young
J Holst & Milady
Vic Ray 3
Peter White
2 Eddies
Harris & Christine
Anna Co

2. Eddies

Arris & Christine
Anna Co

WOLFHAMPTON

WOLFHAMPTON

MARCHAMPTON

MARCHA

Cabaret Bills

NEW YORK CITY Harlan Dixon Eddie Nelson Harry Forrest Perry Mayo Morris Lloyd Line Jack Palmer Ore Latin Quarter Adeleine Neice Billy Vine Albins Leis 210022

MIAMI
Olympia (P)
Duke Dorell
Duke Dorell
Duke Dorell
Duke Dorell
Duke Dorell
Duke Derell
Duke Derell
Duke Derell
Duke Derell
Duke Edwards
Jackle Green
PHILADELPHIA
Carman (I) 4
Ed. Mack &
Laman (I) 4
Ed. Mack &
Laman (I) 4
Ed. Mack &
Laman (I) 4
Ed. Mack &
Dennis & Thompson
Myles Bell
Stagg.McMaun 3
SIOUX CITY 4
Berk & Hallow
Chords
Hallow Chords
Hallow Chords
Hallow Chords
Hallow Chords
Hallow Chords
Hallow Chords
Hallow Chords
Mack, Russ &
Wally Brown
Dollinof & Raya Sis
Pat Rooney Sr
WASHINOTON
John Charles
Hallow Chords
Hal REW 3
Biue Angel
Roger Price
Josephine Premice
Stan Freeman
Irene Williams
Chittison 3

Bop City Dizzy Gillespie Orc Dinah Washington

Dizzy Gillespie Or Dinah Washington Ravens Billy Taylor Care Society Josh White Ruth Brown Calvin Jackson Tom Scott For Scott Scott Soans Romo Vincent Edwards & Diane Mindy Carson Ramona Lange Penny Carroll M Durse Orc Alvares Orc

Alvares Orc Diamond Horseshoe Jay Marshail W C Handy Jack Gansert Billy Banks Choral Sextet H Sandler Ore Alvarez Mera Juenger Ballet Line

El Chico Rosita Rios

Addeline rice
Addeline rice
Addeline rice
Addeline rice
Addeline rice
Addeline
Addel

NOW BOOKING ACTS FOR EUROPE ALSO AMERICA

EDDIE SMITH AGENCY

RKO Bidg., Suite 902-JUdsen 6-3345

Damfron & Chapuseaux Tina Ramirez Los Gudracheros Vizcaino Ore Vizcaino Orc
Havana-Madrid
Bob & Larry Leslie
Raquel & Rolando
Trinl Reyes
Sacasas Orc
Pancho Orc
Hotel Ambassador
Jules Lande Orc

Jules Lande Orc
Hotel Astor
Xavier Cugat Orc
Bill McCune Orc
Hotel Biltmore
Don Bestor Orc
K Duffy Dners
Harold Nagel Ore
Hotel Edison
Lee Crane Orc

Haron Hotel Edison
Lee Crane Orc
Hotel Plaza
Nicolas Matthey Or
Payson Re Orc
Hotel Roosevelt
N Brandwynne Orc
Hotel 31 Resis
Lazzlo & Pepito
M Shaw Orc
Hotel Statler
Henry Busse Orc

Kurt Maier
Riviera
Harry Richman
Martha Rave
Jack Carter
Judy Lynne
Jeff Clay
Walter Nye Or
Ralph Funt Or Savannah
Annabelle Hill
Arielgh Peterso

Johnny Nazzarl
No 1 Firth Ave
Louise Howard No
Dayne, Webster
Jack Casaldy
Old Knick
Cene Barry
Paul Kiliam
Cloris Leachman
Bohn Silver
Gloria Manning
Al Cooper Ore
Old Roumanias
Bob Fitzgeral
Al Cooper Ore
Old Roumanias
Bob Fitzgeral
Joanne Florio
Joe LaPorte Ore
D'Aquila Ore
Every Onna
Kurt Noble Salver
Every Onna
Kurt Noble Salver
Rivieral
Harry Richman

Mofet eHenry Busse Ore
Hotel Taff
Vincent Jope Ore
Danny Lewis
(Continued on page 55)

Capitol, N. Y.

Noro Morales Orch (20), Hank Ladd, Stan Fisher, Mary Small, PepLeg Bates: "Scene of the Crime," (M.G) reviewed in VAMETY June 22, '49.

Crime. (M.G) reviewed in Variety June 22, 49.

One of the neatest stage combinations the Capitol has had recently. On paper, this bill doesn't sound like much, but it works out to a really standout hour of entertainment. It's well-planned and played with plenty tunes and giggles. If there is a standout, it's Noro Morales. His five-by-five girth, his broken-syllable approach to English, his piano playing, which isn't much but sounds good to the customers, and his foiling for the others on the bill, sends a sort of shownanship over the footlights that's all in his favor. He's leading 20 slick-halred musicians, among them congas and bongos, fiddles and brass and the combination does real well, the spotlighted chore being, an arrangement of 'Malagueffa.'

And the other names follow down the line. Hank Ladd's deadpan comedy, as emcee and in own slot, never gets an explosive how! But it works those bellylaughs into a consistent string. Stan Fisher, an excellent harmonica tooter, serves pops and standards in crack fashlon. Whether it was the mike this showing, or whether the guy has a new trick is hard to tell, but sometimes he sounds as if he's adding an echo sound to that which he gets out of the instrument. His topper, "Roumanian Rhapsody" is a fine job.

Mary Small, though she slightly oversells her stuff, is in the groove.

Small, though she slightly Mary Small, though she slightly oversells her stuff, is in the groove, too, and the audience didn't refrain in letting her know. She curves "Wonderful Guy" for the first strike and then goes into "Tenement Symphony" and a samba-beat deal with Morales called "Enjoy Yourself," She could have done more.

Yourself." She could have uone more.

Peg-Leg Bates is the real topper, however. Having spent a lot of time on the Coast with Ken Muray's "Blackouts," Bates is new to a lot of patrons and the fast, rhythm and trick routines he pounds out with one gam and a wooden stump fractured a flock of this audience. The guy isn't doing anything different than he did years ago at the Apollo, but he does it with more polish and cockiness than before and it hits the bullseye. doing e did bullseye.

Finishing piece here is good. It uses Ladd, who complains to Morales he hasn't anything to get him off. Maestro hands him a new calyp-so tune and Ladd sings the lyrics as an uninitiated might do them, which means off-beat, off every-thing. It's funny and it turns into the introduction of some of the tunes Morales has written. Miss Small comes back to sing "Bim Bam Boom," a speedy getaway and tunes Morales has wisting Bim Small comes back to sing Bim Bom," a speedy getaway and the trio bow down in the elevator. Miss Small and Ladd good-nighting in Spanish, or what passes for it, and Morales likewise in English, or what passes for it, it's a cute touch.

Apollo, N. Y.

"Cootie" Williams Orch (8) with Willis Jackson, Bob Merrell: Ida Jackson, Bob Merrell: Ida Jackson, Bros. (2), The Striders (4) Jimmie Smith, "Celina," Ford & Harris, "Spider" Bruce & Co.; "The Spiritualist" (EL),

With "Cootie" Williams' band and songstress Ida James topping the Apollo's bill this week the layout adds up to firstrate hot weather vaude fare. Well balanced session is rounded out with several standard comedy and dancing turns. most of which are doing repeats. Fronting a smaller unit than in his previous stint at this house. Williams leads his crew through a brisk opener paving the way for "Celina," a Latino dancer who arriskes her work with ample withing, bumps and grinds. Accompanied by two male bongo players, the buxom gai's efforts earn good return.

Made up of three rhythm, three brass and two reed, the band spoilights trumpeter Bob Merrell for an energetic vocal of a blues number. Particularly solid is Willis Jackson's tenor saxing in a long solo bit. Williams, per usual, registers in his trumpeting and the outfit clicks on the overall.

Miss James, who's played some of the ters in his trumpeting and the outfit clicks on the overall.

Miss James, who's played some of the better east side N. Y. supper clubs, uses her "baby" voice to advantage on a trio of tunes. Pert and slim, she's plenty coy on such numbers as "Told You I Love You" and "Try a Little Tenderness." Her warbling rates salvos, but she needs a fast rhythm song in her present set to counteract all that coyness.

Mayo Bros., ofays, have a smartly executed terp turn. Work in tanmayo Bros., Olays, nave a summer executed terp turn. Work in tan-dem and singly on a small plat-form and close snappily with chal-lenge stuff plus an acro bit for neat reception. The Striders are a harmony quartet held over from last week's show. Boys net an okay response.

Jimmie Smith, garbed in top hat and tails, gets off three tunes on the vibes by banging the hammers with his feet. His is a unique turn that always scores. Ford & Harris are effective in their footwork, but their comedy is far too banal. House's standard comedy troupe, "Spider" Bruce & Co., wows 'em in a corny blackout.

Gib.

Miami, July 31.

Hi, Lo. Jack & the Dame, Fred
Lowery, Milt Ross, Barr & Estes.
Wayne Marlin Trio, Freddie Carlone House Orch.; "The Fountainhead" (WB).

There's a solid setup of vaude installed here this week. In top spot, Hi, Lo, Jack and the Dame, click in neat fashion with their specials on the old and new pops plus satires of radio commercials installed here this week. In top spot, Hi, Lo, Jack and the Dame, click in neat fashion with their specials on the old and new pops plus satires of radio commercials for neat returns.

Fred Lowery, an annual here, sets himself solldly with the audience via his whistling and showmanship. Mixes pops, standards and operetta tunes, all done in virtuoso style to garner applause. New partner, Leslie Roberts, local songstress, who looks nifty and handles her vocals well, spells for Lowery competently.

Tecoff spot is a sock, with the Wayne Marlin Trio warming them fast via controlled acro-adagio stunts done to musical background. Offed to plenty plaudits.

Comedy dance work of Barr and Estes blend in nicely with the bill's ingredients. Milt Ross, young comic who has been plaving this area, comes up with the most improved act any young laughmaker has purveyed here in months. Presentation is slick and biglimey, with the lad setting up a series of vocals, patter and for the topper, "grand opera" lampooning that had them howling. Most of his stuff is fresh and original. Also handles emee chores in easy manner.

Freddie Carlone house orch backgrounds capably.

Lary.

National, L'ville

Frank Payne, Wally Dean,
Helene & Howard, June Jackson
Line (6), Tiny Thomale Orch (7):
"Time, Place and Girl" (WB) and
"Crazy House" (Indie).

"Crazy House" (Indie).

Current bill a neat one-hour vaude package of a briskly moving assortment of specialties.

June Jackson line opens, and offers three production numbers to good effect. "Louisiana Swamp Shuffle" has a Deep South set, with gals decked in tight-fitting dresses and twirling red handbags. Movements are slow-paced, but the femmes, mostly blonds and good lookers, have plenty appeal.

Frank Payne, m.c., indicates nightclub background. He is the first specialty turn, offering vocal impressions of radio singers, and soap opera satires. Guy has a pleasing pair of pipes.

Wally Dean, suave magician catches interest with a few neat cigaret stunts, following with the silks, eard tricks, diminishing cards, fanning the deck, etc. for nice mitting.

Helene and Howard on for some cards, fanning the deck, etc. for nice mitting.

Helene and Howard on for some straight ballroom exhibition terps, promptly segue into comedy stuff. Femme is a petite miss, with a real dolled up in an exaggerated zot suit, and gal gets sock laughs with her skill at lossing him around. It's a sock turn that copped solid applaise.

a sock turn dat Coppelaise.
Closer, and third week at this house, is Doris King, songstress. Gives 'en some operatic stuff to open, an aria from 'La Traviata.' then back for nice piping of "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," closing with "Night and Day." Wied.

Midwest Dates

Chicago, Aug. 2.

Marvin Himmel taking time off from booking duties at the Dave O'Malley office for stint at Turin Club, Sioux City, Aug. 5. Erwin Rose joined the Al Borde office Kentucky Club has the Duplicators. Pat MacCaffrey and Betty Chappell in current show, to be followed by Phil D'Rey and Rusty Fields Aug. 16. Elkhart, Ind. Four-Il Fair, Aug. 10, bringing in Lanny Ross. Nip Nelson, Smith & Allen. Carroll Sisters, Hank, the Mule and Billy Bishop orch Harmonicats headline at the Sioux Falls, S. D. fair week of Aug. 21. Bobby Breen does a swing of midwest dates teeing off at Grand theatre. Evansville, Ind., Aug. 3.

Hal Rawyin, dancing violinist, hits the outdoor circuit with seven weeks of Wisconsin and Minnesota fairs Glenn's Rendezvous, Newport, Ky., has set Gil Lamb, Judy Manners, and Stan Kramer Co. for Aug. 12 with Henny Youngman following in on Sept. 9.

Palace. N. Y.

Al & Comie Fanton, Canfield Smith, Angie Bond Trio, Ross Wyse, Jr. with Peggy Wymack, John & Rene Arnaut, Snaan Mi-ler, Don Cummings, St. Leon Tronpe (6), Don Albert Honse Orch; "The Big Cat" (EL) re-viewed in Variety, April 27, 49.

Current Palace layout is solid in the laugh department with half of the eight acts falling into a comedy classification. Show, however, isn't overboard in this direction since the eight acts falling into a comedy classification. Show, however, isn't overboard in this direction since each of the four turns deliver with markedly distinct styles. Rest of the bill help round out another good vaude show, which is par for the Palace course.

Standout are Ross Wyse, Jr., in the number four spot, John & Rene Arnaut following, and Don Cummings, in next-to-closing, all socking home plenty of guffaws. Other comedy act, Canfield Smith, is reviewed under New Acts, along with Al and Connie Fanton, Angie Bond Trio and the St. Leon troupe.

Wyse, who formerly worked an acro-comedy routine with his parents, is, now aided by Peggy Womack, a brunet warbler and body whirler. Wyse mixes clever verbal byplay with firstrate knockabout, acrobaties for solid impact. Pair finishes strongly with execution of a difficult stunt, which previously is used for a series of hard falls. Vet team of John and Rene Arnaut work through their repertory with masterful timing. Starting out with their violin-dancing duct, they build rapidly with their refrige bird-whistling stint which is good for a cotinuous audience recovedy acts. Counting after the series of other councils acts.

rific bird-whistling stint which is good for a colinuous audience ripple.

Coming after the series of other comedy acts, Cunmings still garners plenty of yocks. He's doing an edited version of the full routine offered at the neighboring Strand in the latter's house's next-ol-ats stage show. Originally a rope-twirler, he is now getting top results with impression of a stewed radio announcer trying to fit into a girdle. It's a surefire low comedy howler.

a girdle. It's a surefire low comedy howler.

Susan Miller, statuesque blonde songstress, renders several current and old faves in okay style. Closing number, in which she uses a mirror to spotlight individuals in the audience, is an effective albeit familiar item which earns her nice applause.

Herm.

RKO-Orpheum, Mpls.

Minneapolis, June 30.
Berk & Hallon, The Chords (2).
Fanny & Kitty Watson, Bob Hammond Birds, Mack, Russ & Onen, Wally Brown, Dolinoff & Raya Sisters (4), Pat Ronney, Sr., Nick Francis House Orch (12); "Judge Steps Out" (RKO).

Vaudeville's return brought the Vaudeville's return brought the same hearty welcome here as else-where along the line. On a scorch-ing Thursday, a practically ca-pacity house was on hand for the 1 p.m. show, the first of the day's four. And every act evoked a tu-multuously enthusiastic reception from the 2,800-odd expectant and easer customers.

from the 2.800-odd expectant eager customers.

The way for the event had paved with tremendons pub paved with tremendons publicity and exploitation. Columnists and city editors had been most gener-ous in their cooperation to help put it over with the eclat and in a big way.

city editors had been most generous in their cooperation to help put it over with the eclat and in a big way.

While "old-timers," the middleaged and elderly for whom the occasion provided pleasant postalgia, predominated in the initial audience, the tecoff also brought out a considerable number of teenagers who, judging by the applause, whistling and laughter, found the entertainment dish very much to their liking. The younger generation joined their elders in acclaiming the talents of gray-haired Pat Rooney, Sr., and the veteran Watson Sisters.

The wisely assembled bill, providing diversified entertainment appealing to many tastes, gained in value through the work of Nick Francis orchestra conductor, in the pit, and the clock-like speed with which it was run off. The preliminaries, including the traller overture, "Strike Up the Band, lent appropriate impressiveness to the occasion, while the finish, which had Joan Edwards, of a famous vaudeville family, over from Club Carnival to bring on all the acts, also made for ceremony. It all added up to slick showmanship, From start to finish there was abundant evidence of audience appreciation. The difficult and unusual tap routines of the youthful Berk & Hallow were amply appleuded. Plenty of laughter was stirred up by the comic shenanigans of The Chords during their clever imitations of bands and instruments. The Walson Sisters had them in stitches with their conical-

The kiddles as well as their elders who had gone for The Chords in a big way, did likewise for Hammond's trained, cackatoos. The coincidy acrobatics of Mack,

New Acts

SUSAN WAYNE Songs 20 Mins.

Club Versailles, N. Y.
Miss Wayne is an attractive brunet out of Vienna by way of London "Oklahoma!" company. This

Club Versailles, N. Y.

Miss Wayne is an attractive brunet out of Vienna by way of London "Oklahoma!" company, This is her first time in America, and while a summer stopgap booking for Nick & Arnold at their class east 50th street bistro, it's a happy midriff choice.

For Miss Wayne it's an excellent showcase opportunity of which she should make much. On pertormance she does, She's a personable and fine-pitched soprano; what's more she doesn't use nor does she need the mike as a vocal crutch.

For a first-time-over she evidences her innate showmanship by running the gamut from the "Wien. Wien" entr'acte music to a Continental Cook's tour in song—Halian, French ("Place Pigalle") Hungarian, etc. Then the "Oklahoma!" medley, in light of her London seasoning, and the Cole Porter excerpt. "So in Love," from "Kiss Me Kate" among others.

On looks, the European flair and her basic vocal prowess Miss Wayne is a natural for the class on looks, the European Hair and her basic vocal prowess Miss Wayne is a natural for the class cafes, and she doesn't disappoint on performance. She's OK for any rostrum work from vanders to production and a cinch, too, for any of the video guest shots. Abel.

CANFIELD SMITH Ventriloouist

CANFIELD SMITH
Ventriloquist
9 Mins; One
Palace, N. Y.
Canfield Smith has enough on the ball to make his mark despite the highly worked-over field of ventriloquism. Although relying on many standard gags (such as the dummy's crack to the audience not to look a' Smith's lips', Smith also demonst, ates several out-of-theway vocal tricks, together with enough bright lines, for solid audieence impact.

enough bright thes, for soild sudi-ence impact.

Smith's top trick involves his sending of the dummy into a vio-lent crying spell with some highly skilfull voice projection. Puppet's personality is based on the stand-ard fresh-kid pattern, with the personality is based on the standard fresh-kid pattern, with the usual gags about women, dogs and being overworked. Dummy also is made to sing "On the Road to Mandalay" with surprising volume.

Herm.

THE MAXWELLS (2)
Acrobatic Comedians
10 Mins.
Stevens Hotel, Chicago
This is the first U. S. booking for this team of deadpan acromedians who deliver a sock balancing routine—on ice skates. Australian duo work in the current ice revue here. With youths mounting on each other's shoulders, the blades

Russ & Owen also generated much mirth. With Wally Brown following with his amusing monologue and songs, funny bones continued to be tickled. The novel dance act of the Dolinoff & Raya Sisters, with its macabre illusions, got heavy returns. The biggest ownion of all went to Pat Rooney. Sr. and old and young alike marvelled at the smooth adeptheses and agility of the 70-year old star during his soft shoe dances and Frisco imitation. His plea for vaudeville's support hit the bull's eye, too. All in all, a momentous and happy event.

Capitol, Wash.

Washington, July 28.
Dancing Duanus (2), Roy Dong-las, Yvette, 3 Nonchalants, Sam Jack Kaufman Honse Orch with Bob Knight; "In Good Old Sum-mertime" (M.G).

mertime" (M-G).

Capitol lineup follows the same smooth format which has been clicking here in recent weeks. Hot weather audiences go for it in a big way, cheering on every act, including the overture, which features a steel guitar solo by Bob Knight, popular maestro from the 2400 hotel.

Headliner on marquee and with payees, is blonde, beanteons Yvette, who garnered more enhusiasms than any chantoosey has rated here this season. Gal has class, style, and a way with a time that is strictly topdrawer. Opens with "Riders in the Sky" goes on to "Again," with marked blues effects, and then to "Highland Fling." Winds with "South Pacific" medley, tossed off with comply and enthusiasm. to almost slop the Roy Douglas has a ventro act.

enthusiasm. to almost stop the show.

Roy Donglas has a ventro act, highlighted by duet with the dummy, on "Old Gang of Mine." Effect displays good technique. Some of the gags are on the tired side, but voice projection and illusion is solid.

Dancing Duanos make effective curtain raisers in a sophisticated ballroom terp routine. Bringing make for unsure footing. Work on the ice also allows several unusual tricks.

Boff climax is the climbing of wicker baskets six high atop of understander with partner breaking from a 15-foot drop to ice and rolling off. Team should be a natural for television, stage, and better rooms—with or without the blades.

ANGIE BOND TRIO
Instrumental-Vocal
9 Mins.; Two
Palace, N. Y.
Angie Bond Trio, who have been around in New York cocktail lounges, have fair impact on the vaude stage. Comprising plano, bass and accordion, femme combo dish up a variety of instrumental and vocal numbers in okay, if not standout style. Their Instrumentation is far superior to the warbling, which is spotty in quality.

warbling, when is spess, quality.
Gals impress strongest with a hot chile number which should be reserved for their closing bit. Instead, they boy off with a piano solo on a Bach toccato which is okay, but too much on the high-brow side for a vaude house.

Herm.

AI. & CONNIE FANTON
Dancing
8 Mins; Two Palaee, N. Y.
Al & Connie Fanton are young goodlooking pair of hoofers with a nice change of pace. Opening number is an unusual attempt at mixing a juggling routine with their taps and it comes off successfully. Rest of their stints, however, while executed flashilly, are more conventionally grooved.
Pair race through a samba and itterbug number, topping off with a couple of intricate solo turns and some acro jumps. Juey are suit-some acro jumps. They are suitable for minor spotting in vaude bills.

Herm. bills.

ST. LEON TROUPE (6)

ST. LEON TROUPE (6)
Acrobatic
8 Mins.; Full
Palace, N. Y.
St. Leon Troupe (6) comprise an expert group of teeterboard specialists. It's a circus turn that'll serve as a good opener or closer to any vaude bill. Strong part of It's acree as a gooto any vaude I this act is the spins made betterby s act is the series of precar ns made by this sextet off terboard.

teeterboard.

Divided into jumpers and catchers, members of the team are catapulted off the boards, ending in risky handstands. One jumper does a triple spin across the stage landing upright in the chair resting on another man's shoulders. It's a snappy and spectacular Item.

Herm.

down the curtain are the Non-chalants, trio of comic-acros, who are welcomed back, after a four-year hiatus, with plenty of salvos. Accent is on gags and comedy, but there's a good share of hep acro stunts, too. Walk off to solid mitt action.

Hippodrome, Balto.

Baltimore, July 30.
Max & Gang, Ruth & Tommy Raf-Jerty, Kate Murtah, Dick Buckley, Jack Powell, Peggy Taylor & Co. (3). Eddie White, The Herrogs (3). Jo Lombardi House Orch (12); "The Lucky Stiff" (UA).

Mainly sparked by singles (there

Mainly sparked by singles (there are four in the eight-act lineup) this bill Is nevertheless heavy on versatility and coinedy.

Max and his gang provides a snappy getaway with the somersaulting dog, a standout among the assorted pooches. Pace holds with Ruth and Tommy Rafferty in the deuce providing practiced comedy hoofing and setting spot for Kate Murtah to follow with her comedy singing. Previously caught here in trio with her sisters, she makes her solo spot stand up on own with in trio with her sisters, she makes her solo spot stand up on own with broad clowning and grotesque gesturing to point vocal impressions. Dirk Buckley is next and has a field day with his assembled audience stooges who mouth the Amos 'n' Andy routine. Concluding hat switching business keeps the laff score up for a solid getaway.

Jack Powell in slick drumming all around the stage is anotherhighlight after which Peggy Taylor and her two male partners whack nighting after which Peggy Taylor and her two male partners whack out a flashy three-way adagio routine to good effect. Eddie White scores in comedy and songs routine. He's a practiced comic and whacks out a show-stopping interlude.

lude.
The Herzogs provide a flashy clincher. Femme trapeze workers are at home on the swinging bar and bit of inviting plant from audicince to have a go at the swing adds enty of laughs. Biz good.

See Spotty Road Biz This Fall; Farm Areas OK, Mill Towns NSG

Boxoffice prospects for the road this fall are a matter of more than usual speculation among managers. In general, it's figured that the spotty conditions prevalent last spring may be intensified. Various local and regional factors may alter the overall picture.

If recent trends continue, there may be ample business in the agricultural areas and the large cities dependent on them, where the dependent on them, where the seven-year boom shows no sign of tapering off. But conditions are expected to deteriorate further in the Industrial towns, particularly in New England. With the col-expected to deferiorate further in the Industrial towns, particularly in New England. With the collaspe of the warm-boom industries, economic conditions have been worsening, with unemployment becoming widespread.

Despite the mass impact of radio and, to a limited degree as yet, television, it still takes a comparatively long time for the road public to become—aware—of—legit—hits. Whereas on Broadway the newest clicks almost always have the greatest draw, out of town an established reputation, and if possible also a name heading the cast is essential for a large b.o. pull.

That was illustrated to a considerable extent recently, when the managements of six Broadway hits offered tickets for sale through a Trenton department store. Of the six plays, the two previous season holdovers far outdrew the four new clicks. In fact, one holdover outsold all four new entries combined.

holdovers to some holdover out-sold all four new entries combined. Since the four new shows offered nore and just as big marquee names as the holdovers, it was evi-dent that Trenton playgoers were not yet aware of the current-season successes.

Indications are that there will be a relatively strong lineup of louring productions this season. Besides those already playing out of town, the road prospects include "Anne of the Thousand Days." Goodbye, My Faney," "Madwoman of Chaillot," "Two Blind Mice." "Private Lives," second companies of "Death of a Salesman" and "Detective Story." possibly "Where's Charley?" and "Lend an Ear" by next spring, and such current layoffs as "High Button Shoes." "Finian's Rainbow" and the perennial "Oklahoma!" There will probably be tryout tours by most of the incoming Broadway productions, although except for some of the Theatre Guild entries, they will generally Indications are that there will except for some of the Theatre Guild entries, they will generally play only Boston, Philadelphia and New Haven.

CATHOLIC U. GRADS FORM ROAD TROUPE

New and unique legit touring outfit is about to be launched here by a group of recent graduates of Catholic U.'s Speech and Drama department. Incorporated into a non-profit outfit called University Players, group is raising its own nut by subscription and going out on its own.

on its own.

Walter Kerr, school's playwrightdirector, is skedded to take time out from production chores on his forthcoming George Abbott musical. "Thank You, Just Looking," to direct "Much Ado About Nothing" for the newly formed group.
Players plan a five-month tour in late September through the colleges, high schools and convenience.

leges, high schools and community theatres in the northeastern sec-tion of the country.

Lynn's Switcheroo In 'Philly Story' Strawhat

Boston, Aug. 2.

Jeffrey Lynn, film actor co-starring in summer stock with Sarah Churchill, daughter of the former Prime Minister, is convinced that legit thesping is valuable to Hollywood players only if they do considerable experimentation to broaden their experience. Putting the theory to the test, Lynn is alternating in the two chief male roles in "Philadelphia Story."

Previously playing the part of ternating in the two chief male roles in "Philadelphia Story."

Previously playing the part of Dexter in the legiter, Lynn took over the role of Mike both here and in Norwich, Conn. When the company reaches Wellesley, he will revert to Dexter. Blur version was played by Cary Grant while Jimmy Stewart had the part of Mike.

For 1949-50 Season

Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, which will open its fall season in N. Y. at the Metropolitan Opera N. Y. at the Metropolitan Opera House Sept. 16, playing till Oct. 2, has already booked its 1949-50 touring schedule with exception of dates. Tour will cover about cities.

Booker David Libidins reports outright sales to be twice that of last year. These outright sales, about 30 dates, are mostly one nighters, the Ballet Russe refusing to sell outright in big cities where they play a week or half-week, preferring to play preparate. ferring to play percentage. Troupe has several dates with symphony nas several dates with symphony orchestras, including Minneapolis, Cincinnati, New Orleans and National Washington, D. C.), and also has several dates on the Community and Civic series of Columbia Artists Mgt. and National Concert to lift its ban against Equity members appearing with experimental theatre groups not contracted by the union was discussed at Equity's the union was discussed at Equity's council meeting yesterday 'Tues.) and was reacted upon sympathetically. Council, however, referred the case to a factfinding committee comprised of reps of all theatrical craft unions. The committee will try to decide on "relaxed contracts" for negotiations with off-broadway enterprises. The league, recently formed by five local non-commercial companies, was noticommercial companies, was noti-fied of the ban last Thursday (28). Claiming that key roles in the present productions of all five groups were being undertaken by Equity actors, the League sent a letter to Angus Dungan association. Equity actors, the League sent a letter to Angus Duncan, associate executive secretary of Equity, stating that withdrawal of the union members would terminate all current off-Broadway activity. The letter also suggested that a joint board of representatives from the league and Equity be established to study the problem of creating a contract between the two organizations.

contract between the precipitating factor for the contract between th being the precipitating tactor to the Off-Broadway theatre move-

Groups included in the league are the Interplayers, Off Broad-way, Inc., Peoples Drama, Studio 7 and We Present.

Writers, Producers To N.Y. to Huddle 'Guys'

N.Y. to Huddle 'Guys'

Frank Loesser and Jo Swerling, who have been collaborating on who have been collaborating on the month with coproducer Ernest Martin. After several weeks in New York, during which they'll huddle with coproducer Cy Fener, and Swerling will familiarize himself with the background of Damon Runyon, whose characters will be the basis of the show, Loesser, Swerling and Martin will return to Hollywood to complete the writing. Feuer will remain east to handle business ends of the deal and do preliminary casting. Rehearsals are expected to start in October, when all four are in New York.

Feuer and Martin, in association with Gwen Rickard 'Mrs. Bolger, are producers of the current Broadway nuisical hit. 'Where's Charley?'', starring Ray Bolger and for which Loesser wrote the nuisic.

Kettering's Play

Chicago, Aug. 2.

William B. Davis, architect of California theatres and quondam pic producer, has taken an option on Ralph Kettering's play, "Maupassant," for New York production in Qctober. The play, which covers the last 11 months in the life of Guy de Maupassant is a romantically spiced biography. Davis is now in Hollywood looking for a name. He wants to cast the play there if possible.

for a name. He wants to cast the play there if possible.

He may give it some trial bookings on the Coast before heading

Off-B'way Groups Winning Wider

out of their nebulous existence and establishing themselves as an integral part of New York's theand establishing themselves as an and establishing themselves as an establishing themselves as and establishing themselves as an establishing themselves as an establishing themselves as an establishing themselves as an establishing themselves are and establishing themselves as an establishing themselves as an establishing themselves as an establishing themselves are and establishing themselves are activity. Daily newspaper coverage of these outfits is more extensive today than ever before, with either first or second stringers activity. Daily newspaper coverage of these outfits is more extensive today than every before, with either first or second stringers activity. Daily newspaper coverage of these outfits is more extensive today than every establishing themselves are activity. Daily newspaper coverage of these outfits is more extensive today than ear establishing themselves are ac review at all."

Five of the experimental groups recently banded together as the Off-Broadway Theatre League in an effort to strengthen their position and also to try to increase their audiences. These groups all began their current operation this summer. The five outfits are the most prominent of the off-Broadway theatres, including Studio 7, the Interplayers. Off-Broadway. the Interplayers, Off-Broadway, Inc., Peoples Drama and We Present. All the groups work on a weekly budget and on a cooperative weekly dividends, but any profits at the end of the season are equally divided. Initial financing for most of the groups was secured by subscriptions.

by subscriptions.

Average weekly budget for the groups runs from around $650 to $1,000. Off-Broadway. Inc.. operates on a weekly budget of $750, Its first production. 'Yes Is for a Very Young Man,'' ran seven weeks at a total expenditure of $4,900. The first week's take was $1,800 and the following week brought in $1200. Remaining five weeks. $1,200. Remaining five weeks averaged about $800, bringing the total close to $7,000.

total close to $7.000.

The Off - Broadway Theatre League held its second meeting last Thursday (28) and appointed committees that will endeavor to establish permanent membership, improve ticket distribution methods and find a permanent theatre or theatres for the organization. Al Ilurwitz, of Studio 7, Louis Criss, of the Interplayers, and Merle Debuskey, of Off-Broadway, Inc., were assigned to visit local schools to try to establish a cooperative system for offering tickets to students for all productions presented by groups in the league. Lee Nemetz, of Peoples Drama, and Mel Goldblatt, of the Interplayers, will look for available. Drains, and Mel Goldblatt, of the Interplayers, will look for avail-able theatres in the fall. Gene Wolsk, of Studio 7, and Bob Fuller, of We Present, comprise the or-ganizational committee.

The league, open to other off-Broadway theatre groups, marks the first concerted effort by ex-perimental theatre groups in New York to collaborate and campaign to acquaint the public with its achievements.

Woolley in 24-Week Tour With 'Dinner'

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 2.

Monly Woolley, who on Monday (1) was honored by Saratoga with a "Day," is set to begin a 24-week tour of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" in Buffalo latter part of October under management of Laughing Stock Co.
The Laughing Stock Co. Inc. has been chartered to produce the atrical, musical and other shows with offices in New York. Capital stock is 200 shares, no par value.
Directors are Robert A Bernstein, Vickie Kanner, Stewart Meyers:

Dinner in Buffalo lauter part of October under under unanagement of George S Kanfaman, Kaufman and Moss Hart wrote the comedy in which Woolley in the Woolley in which Woolley in the Woolley in the Woolley friend. Former Mayor Clarence H. Knapp.

Woolley has his home bere

Woolley has his home here.

Ann Harding's 10G, Kay Francis' 9G Spark Okay Grosses in Strawhats

in October. The play, whichers the last 11 months in the of Guy de Maupassant, is a santically spiced biography, is is now in Hollywood looking a name. He wants to cast the / there if possible. e may give it some trial books on the Coast before heading.

FB'way Groups

Winning Wider

Pro Recognition

G. Broadway groups are coving to Good and the Maurically spice of "Tide". The play will be put on a the Falmouth playhouse the following week. "Tide" completes its London engagement saturday (6).

Kay Francis-Gay'

Kay Francis-'Gay

Washington, Aug. 2.
Despite the terrific heat, Kay
Francis in "Let Us Be Gay"—clicked at Olney theatre to the tune of $9,000, out of a possible $11,000.
Solid take due almost completely to popularity of the star, since the dated opus was panned by local crix

Ruth Chatterton, current in Lovers and Friends," aroused little advance interest.

Basil Rathbone and Erin O'Brien
Moore check in tomorrow for a week's rehearsal of "The Heiress," which opens here Aug. 9

Heat Dents Bucks County

Heat Dents Bucks County
New Hope, Pa. Aug. 2.
Prolonged heat wave dented
Bucks County Playhouse slightly last week when Haila Stoddard and Mary Wickes costarred in "The Torch - Bearers." Week before Ernest Truex, in "Ah, Wilderness!" hit SRO every evening performance. Advance sale for current week, Walter Slezak in "Laburnum Grove," has been slowed by meteoric mercury readings.

"The Torch-Bearers," George Kelly's oldie, proved noonlag with

"The Torch-Bearers," George Kelly's oldie, proved popular with customers. Cast Included Jessie Busley, Henry Jones, John Harvey, Jared Reed and Ruth White. Robert Caldwell staged.

John Carradine and Marget Phillips, in "The Heiress," Aug. 8, and "Three Men on a Horse," with Henry Jones and Sara Seegar, Aug. 15, will follow.

Dowling's D. C. Spiel

Mashington. Aug. 2.

Eddie Dowling combined his week's stint in "Time of Your Life" at Meridian Hill theatre with a personal campaign for the return of legit to the nation's capital. Actor each night, in a curtain speech, dished out five minutes of human philosophy, a prayer for the future, a plca for retival of the living theatre in Washington.

in the nation's young, plus a plug for revival of the living theatre in Washington.

Final performance of show past Sunday (31) was hypoed by presence of Congressional celebs and Equity prexy Clarence Derwent, with later taking a bow. Preceding the show, a newly formed group tabbed Civic-Labor Committee in Support of the Living Theatre in Washington tossed a party at which Derwent, Elmer Rice and Betty Field made pitches for the cause. General theme was establishment of a national theatre.

Dowling in "Time" brought bo. Spurt to Meridian Hill with solid $7.500 at $3.60 top. Group operates under heavy nut, however, and anything short of capacity is tough to take. Top gross would be about $10.500.

to take. $10.500.

Chi's Chevy Chase $6,700

Chi's Chevy Chase $6.700

Chicago, Aug. 2.

Chevy Chase theatre did especially well last week with NinaFoch in Light Up the Sky." which grossed an estimated $6.700.

House had an extra matinee to accommodate the heavy business, and was completely sold out for four performances at $3 top. Marshall Migatz, producer, is bringing back the production as the ninth and final offering of the season.

Terrell's "Circus" Checking

Terrell's "Circus" Checking
Lambertville, N. J., Aug. 2.
Music Circus' arena-style operetlas under canvas has definitely clicked with the pewholders. St.
John Terrell has had to add extra chairs and bleachers the past fortnight bringing capacity over 750.
Biggest grosser to date has been second bill, "Naughty Marietta" cluly, 19-24; with an estimated $8,000. Last week's "Rosalinda" was slightly under that. "Vagabond King." opening tonight (2), has strong advance; $2.40 top weekdays, $3 weekend, $2.40 top weekdays, $3 weekend, $2.40 top 1.00 to 1

Falmouth's Big Tix Demand

Falmouth's Big Tix Demand
Boston, Aug. 2.
The terrif demand for tickets at the Falmouth, (Mass.) Playhouse for the remaining schedule of attractions has been so great that an extra matinee has been added to each week's schedule.
Capacity biz is being done for such stars as Joan Blondell, Paul Lukas, Helen Hayes, Gertrude and Sarah Churchill and Jeffrey Lynn.

Boston Troupe Solid
Boston Aug. 2.

Boston Summer Theatre currently enjoying its greatest season, with solid grosses reported for its first four productions.

Biz has grown progressively better each week with the fourth production. Biz has grown progressively better each week with the fourth production. "Philadelphia Story" co-starring Sarah Churchill and Jerfrey Lynn, smashing all existing house records with a sock $14000 during the week of July 25.

Teeing off the new scason July 4 with a new revue. "Pretty Penny" the house grossed a neat $10,500 and upped that figure the next week, with Ann Harding's appearance in "Yes, My Darling Dangiter" netting a solid $11,000. Third week, with Kay Francis in "Let Us Be Gay," $12,000.

Susan Peters, current in "Barretts of Wimpole St." is shaping solid.

Mady Christians 'Wife' $5,300 Stockbridge, Mass., Aug. 2. Berkshire playhouse here took in a capacity gross of $5,300 last week with Mady Christians in St. John Ervine's 'Robert's Wife.'' Current is the package bill, 'The Medium'' and ''The Telephone.''

Medium" and "The Telephone."

A. C.'s Ocean Theatre Flops Out Allantic City, Aug. 2.

After a hectic week, the Ocean theatre on Steel Pier closed following the final performance of "The Glass Menagerie" Sunday night (31). The fold is "pending reorganization," a spokesman for Robert S. Courtney, its producer, explained. George Hamid, Sr., who operates the pier, said Sunday that the future of the theatre would be decided this week.

It is no secret that Susan Peters, in "Menagerie," did poor biz.

At the opening performance last Tuesday night (26), an audience awaiting the 9 o'clock curtain was informed that the show would be delayed. It was, until midnight, Edwin Wyle. Courtney's general manager, announced the delay was due to the late arrival of scenery from New York. Payees had the choice of getting their money back, getting tickets for a later show, or seeing the Steel Picr's other attractions. Most of them got their noney back.

It was Hamid who finally signed seeing the Steel Pices outcomessions. Most of them got their noney back.

It was Hamid who finally signed the bond demanded by Equity.

To cap it all, matters came to such a head by Sunday night that Miss Peters stepped out of the show allogether and Terry Clemes, member of the Dramateurs, local little theatre group, played her last two shows.

Stepping out of the show also at the same time was Robert Queeny his place being taken by Harvey Mitchell, another Dramateur.

Calls Off Eastern 'Strings'
La Jolla, Cal., Aug. 2.
Sam Rosen Is not satisfied with "Arrangement for Strings" in its present form, and has called of scheduled pre-Broadway tour in east, "Arrangement," a mystery melodrama, was to have opened Aug. 8 for a week at John Drew theatre. Easthampton, L. I., then was to have gone on two-week tour before opening in N. Y. Rosen, coauthor with Michael Claxton Hutton, and director, will call in a play doctor.

ton, and director, will call in a prodoctor.

Anne Revere, "Arrangement" star (Rosen's wife), will go to Easthampton instead to do "Ladies In Retirement" J. M. Kerrigan will stay in La Jolla for "Arms and the Man." starring Richard Baschard week of Aug. 16. Others in "Arrangement" cast were Tom Ilelmore and Mary Drayton.

N. Y. LAW KEY TO 'BUYS' RETURN

Howard Awards to Dramatists Guild STRONG FACTOR To Bankroll Promising Playwrights IN 75-CENT LIMIT

Sidney Howard awards for this year and next, amounting to $3.000 in all, will be given to the Dramatist Guild to be used to "develop opportunities for young playwrights." The awards, in memory of the late Sidney Howard, are made annually by the Playwrights." Co., of which the late author was a charter member.

Guild committee, under the chairmanship of Howard Lindsay, will select not more than 30 "unexablished" playwrights (that is, ones who have had at least one professional production or had a script optioned for production.). Information would be supplied regarding opportunities for strawhat, college and little theatre production; group meetings and seminars would be agranged with name authors; admission would be arranged for previews, dress rehearsals and performances of Broadway shows, and craft lectures would be sponsored.

The Playwrights' Co. made no

shows, and craft rectures apponsored.

The Playwrights Co. made no award last season, but previous awards went to Robert Ardrey, the Authors League Fund for financial assistance of needy young dramatists, to the New School for the production of Dan James Winter Soldiers," to Tennessee Williams, and jointly to Garson Arthur Laurents. Williams, and jointly to C Kanin and Arthur Laurents.

Hildegarde's Fancy Chapeau (Strawhat) Takings and Bookings Princeton, N. J., Aug. 2.

Hildegarde is due here at the McCarter theatre for another one-McCarter theatre for another one-woman strawhat show on the strength of her click at the North-shore Playhouse, Marblehead, Mass., when, at 60-40, she came out with $6,000 for her end. The nitery chanteuse does a whole eve-ning's reue, backed by her own orchestra (Salvatore Gloe), repris-ling the entire format of her Per-sian Room routine, including roses to the audiences, etc., etc.

Songstress is at the Piping Rock.

Songstress is at the Piping Nock. Saratoga, this and next week before resuming her strawhat tour. Click in the summer stocks has caused her to cancel the projected tour she and her manager. Anna Sosenko, had in mind later this month. Besides, there are a number of TV bids pending.

'SALESMAN' SELLS SELF IN LONDON DEBUT

London, Aug. 2.

Hailed by both public and press.
"Death of a Salesman." which opened at the Phoenix Thursday (28), should repeat its Broadway aucress. Paul Muni in the title role dominates the proceedings with a magnificent performance. Notable support is rendered by Kevin McCarthy and Katharine Alexander, with remainder of the cast also turning in outstanding portrayals. Show stands out as the most powerful dramatic fare currently being offered in West End theatres.

Elia Kazan and Jo Mielziner who

Elia Razan and Jo Mielziner, who Elia Razan and Jo Mielziner, who respectively staged and designed the sets for the Broadway production, successfully repeated their chores for the London offering. Tennent Productions, by arrangement with Kermit Bloomgarden and Walter Fried, is presenting the play. Cast took 15 curtain calls opening night with Muni gracefully bowing out on the audience's clamor for a curtain speech.

Lambs' Wash Sunday

The Lambs Club holds its annual Wash this Sunday (7) at the Percy Williams Home, East Islip.

Collies for the event are Joe Laurie, Jr., Myron P. Kirk, Ken Kling and Mickey Alpert, Excavation and construction work on the widening of west 45th street, New York, be-tween Broadway and 8th ave-nue, was interrupted last Wednesday afternoon 127) only Wednesday afternoon (27) only after the managements of shows playing theatres in the block complained to municipal authorities. Until then, public officials and contractors apparently hadn't thought of how the poles and wheatten might be poles. parently hadn't thought of how the noice and vibration might disturb playgoers at "Death of a Salesman" and "Miss Lib-erty," as well as the film, "Red, Shoes."

Steam Shovel Trade

With vehicular traffic in the With venicular traffic in the block closed to the public, one legit manager notes that prac-tically the only way carriage trade can reach the theatre is in bulldozers and steam shovels.

'Detective' Personnel Get Week's Pay For Par's 1-Day Filming

All the legit unions have stepped in to insist on extra payment for Paramount's filming of a special performance next week of "Delec-tive Story," at the Hudson theatre, performance next week of "Detective Story," at the Hudson theatre, N. Y. Stagehands, managers, pressagent, wardrobe attendants, doormen, porters and the entire backstage crew will receive a full week's pay for the single day's shooting. This is in line with the standard Actors Equity regulation that the cast must be paid a week's salary for each day's shooting.

Demand for pay for the filming was made by the Theatrical Fact Finding Committee, representing all the legit craft unions, after a meeting Monday (1). Only box office men and ushers, who will not be required for the special performance, will fail to get the extra coin.

formance, will fail to get the extra coin.

Herman Bernstein, business manager for producers Howard Lindsay & Russel Crouse, presenters of the Sidney Kingsley melodrama, will arrange actual terms of the pay to the show personnel. Money will be paid by Paramount, which is making the film as a guide in preparing the screen version, the rights to which it bought last week.

"Detective Story" is the first Broadway show filmed for use by Hollywood in preparing a screen adaptation. Such a procedure was proposed by Columbia after it bought the rights to "Born Yesterday," but the project was dropped after the cast insisted on higher pay. Metro made a sound track of an actual "Philadelphia Story" performance, using it in readying the pay wat the pay. an actual Prinadelphia story per-formance, using it in readying the pic version of the play. And there were silent films made of several plays some years ago.

CAROL STONE AWARDED $750 IN 'SHOES' BILLING

Carol Stone, who played the femme lead in "High Button Shoes" for the last 13 weeks of the Broadway run, won an award of $750 from producer Joseph Kipness for contract violation. The ness for contract violation. The amount was a compromise reached at an informal hearing catted by Actors Equity, at which company manager lack Small, an employee of the Shuberts, represented the management and Miss Stone was represented by minion associate executive-secretary.

When the actress signed to go When the actress signed to go into the musical, succeeding Joan Roberts, she was guaranteed costar billing with Phil Silvers. However, she never received it, despite repeated protest by Equity. Her last previous Broadway appearance was earlier in the season, as featured femme load opnosite Paul Muni, in John Golden's revival of "They Knew What They Wanted."

Possible return to the old sys tem of broker "buys" of tickets for Broadway shows apparently hinges on the state business law. Also, there may be a factor of enforcement by the League of N. Y. Theatres, in cooperation with Actors Equity. Both rules would presumably apply to vaudeville presentations in legit theatres as well as regular legit shows.

The state law figures in the situ-The state law ngures in the student because it specifically limits broker-fees-to-75c per ticket, and it's inherent in the "buy" system that agencies be able to charge higher prices on tickets for hit shows in order to offset losses from their commitments for flops. from their commitments for flops. In other words, if a broker makes a "buy" on a show that subsequently turns out to be a flop he's stuck for the duration of the deal. The only way he stands to recoup the loss is by making an exceptional profit from his "buy" on a play that turns out to be a hit. But if he's limited to a 75c fee, he can't make the extra profit from the hit.

the hit.

Therefore, unless the state law were amended to lift the 75c limit, a return of the "buy" system would leave brokers holding the bag. That is why they have generally expressed opposition to a resumption of the old "buy" setup. As it is, they're able to get ticket allotments on assignment, with the return privilege, so they don't have to gamble. But under a "buy" system, with a 75c limit, they wouldn't even have a gamble. They could lose, but couldn't win.

Code Expires Aug. 31

Code Expires Aug. 31

The present code expires Aug. 31, but League officials believe they could enforce its terms thereafter, even if it isn't extended. They point out that although Michael Todd has announced he will make "buys." for his presentation of his "Two-a-Day" at the Winter Garden, he cannot do so because the theatre is operated by the Shuberts, who are members of the League. Billy Rose, who owns the Ziegfeld theatre, where the "Blackouts" vaude will open Sept. 6, might resign from the League and thus be entitled to take "buys" for that show, but League members believe the organization could prevent him from extending the system to legit the present the Perese. ganization could prevent nim from extending the system to legit shows at the house. Both Rose and Todd have announced their intention of having "buys" for their shows.

their shows.

New York City commissioner of investigations John M. Murtagh, who is conducting a probe of ticket speculating, said yesterday (Tues.) that he is not particularly interested in the question of broker 'buys." His primary concern, he indicated, is whether the law is being observed. That is, he intends continuing his efforts to check on broker observance of the 75c limit and other aspects of the law.

Others in the trade express

Others in the trade express doubt that, even if the state law could be changed to cover "buys," such a thing would improve the trade of the country of the point out that such a thing would improve the situation. They point out that "buys" would not increase the supply of tickets for top hits nor make brokers any less anxious to obtain more than their regular allotment of desirable seats. "Diggers" were active long before the code ontlawed "buys," and the payment of "ice" also was prevalent in the days of "buys."

391G to the Needy

A total of $391,323 in spot emergency relief to show people has been dishursed by the Stage Re-lief Fund in its 17 years of opera-

Of that sum, $22,210 has been reof that stin, $22210 has been re-funded by the onetime needy. The organization's largest revenue comes from benefit performances given by Broadway hits.

'Ice' Setup Practically Disappears But Murtagh Thinks It Temporary; Scalper Prices Reported Sky-High

R&H Concert Nite
As it did last summer, the Stadium concerts will close its season at Lewisolm Stadium, N. Y., Ang. dium concerts will close its season at Lewisolm Stadium, N. Y., Aug. 13, with a Bodgers-Hammerstein Night, Salvatore Dell 'Isola, who batons for "South Pacific" at the Majestic, N.Y., will make his Stadium debut as conductor, Soloists will be Annamary Dickey, Gladys Swarthout, Thomas Hayward and Robert Weede, There will also be a chorus of 40 under direction of Crane Calder.

Program will consist of about a half dozen songs or numbers each from "Allegro," (Carousel, "Oklahoma!," "South Pacific" and the film "State Fair."

Audience Escorts Cast to Subway To Crimp Hoodlums

Crimp Hoodlums

An aroused andience attending the off-Broadway presentation of John Wexley's "They Shall Not Die," stayed on after the Sunday (31) evening performance to escort the cast to the nearby 8th avenue subway, N.Y. In announcing replacements for certain members of the cast, the management informed the audience that they were unable to appear due to injuries suffered at the hands of a "gang of hood-lums" July 26. The management also made known that the members of the cast had been attacked once before and both times the gang voiced anti-Negro epithets.

The Wexley work, being offered by Peoples Drama at the Yugoslav-American Hall, on West 43rd street deals with the Scottsboro case and uses a mixed cast. Since last Wednesday (27) the group has been given police protection, though members of the gang still hang around the theatre irvimidating the cast. Two men, identified by members of the group as being involved in the beatings, were arrested and charged, with felonious aswolved in the beatings, were arrest-ed and charged with felonious as-sault. A third was arrested in a courtroom when he came to witness the arraignment of the two men. The accused, identified as Peter Piro, Clement Felligra and Salva-ters. Parieta arrest too hail large tore Daziano, are out on bail. Irv-ing Pakewitz, Lee Nemetz and Monroe Classon were the actors beaten.

In addition to members of Peoples Drama, a committee comprised of representatives of "Detective Story," 'Death of a Salesman" and "Mr. Roberts" protested to Acting Mayor Vincent Impellitteri Monday (1). Impellitteri promised to investigate the complaint and pledge decorption in preventing any vestigate the complaint and piedged cooperation in preventing any further atlacks.

Group was scheduled to end the run of "Die" Sunday (31), but in defiance decided to continue another week.

'MISTAKEN IDENTITY' DETAINED DERWENT

A case of mistaken identity is the latest excuse offered by Im-migration authorities in regard to the latest excuse offered by Immigration authorities in regard to the six-hour detention and questioning of Clarence Derwent. Actors Equity president, two weeks ago at LaGuardia airport, N. Y. Derwent, who attended a special reception in Washington Sunday (24) for the Meridian Hill Park theatre festival, visited the Immigration office there before returning home the following day.

Derwent was told by officials at the Immigration office that his detention at LaGuardia was due to the authorities at the field confusing him with somebody they had heen alerted to hold for questioning. Derwent, however, expects a letter from the himigration Dept. slater this week giving him a clean bill of health.

As a result of the continuing ticket probe by New York City Commissioner of Investigation City Commissioner of Investigation John M. Murtagh, payment of "ice" by brokers to boxoffice men appears to have all but disappeared. Ticket speculation has also decreased sharply, although scalper prices have reportedly risen.

Those developments were more or less expected if the investigation were vigorously carried out.

Those developments were more or less expected if the investigation were vigorously carried out. However, Murtagh himself believes that such manifestations are purely temporary and that, if his probe were to end now, the same old conditions would quickly reappear in as flagrant degree as before. Although practically no one ever admits first-hand knowledge of 'ice' payment, it's understood that the practice is at a virtual standstill. Murtagh plainly means to push his inquiry to the limit, and the city administration shows every sign of backing him up, even to the extent of recommending legislation to heense boxoffice men. So brokers are leary about paying 'ice' and treasurers aren't eager to take it.

As for the scalper trade, the and treasurers aren't eager to take it.

As for the scalper trade, the probe has put 16 smaller agencies out of business, including several admittedly guilty of oversharging. Some are obviously operating cautiously and others, generally the unilcensed "sidewalk" ones, have run to cover or are doing only a trickle of business. As a result, most of the tickets for top hits are being sold at legitimate prices. so there are few available for last-minute sale to clients who demand them regardless of price. With the supply thus strictly limited and the risks great, prices have rocketed. Bitterness Increases All those developments have increased bitterness in some legit circles against the commissioner. Not only are the brokers and (Continued on page 50)

'Philadelphia Story' Set For London November Bow by Henry Sherek

Bow by Henry Sherek
London, July 26.
Henry Sherek has acquired the English rights to Philip Barry's
"The Philadelphla Story" which he will stage in the West End end of November, with Margaret Leighton likely to star.

Meanwhile Sherek has set two plays to be staged, each for one week, at the Edinburgh Festival starting Aug. 21. First will be T.
S. Eliot's "The Cocktail Party," starring Alec Guinness, Robert Flemping, Cathleen Nesbitt, Ursula Jeans and Irene Worth, The second is a new play by actor-playwight Peter Ustinov titled "The Man in the Raincoat."

'SUGAR HILL' SET TO OPEN IN CHICAGO

Hollywood, Aug. 2

"Sugar Hill," all-colored revue at the Las Palmas theatre here, will open at the Great Northern theatre, Chicago, on Labor Day, Sept. 5. Show closes here Sept. 3.

Cast remains intact for the Chicago run. "Hill" clicked here at the 388-seat Las Palmas theatre, same house which played "Lend An Ear" before it went on to sock over in New York. "Hill" is by Flournoy Miller and James P. Johnson. Paul P. Schriebman and Alvin Baranov produced.

Musical 'Orpheus in Hades'

Musical 'Orpheus in Hades'
Anatole Chujoy, ballet authority and editor of Dance News, is working on an adaptation of Offenbach's operetta. 'Orpheus in Hades.' for a Broadway musical.
Modern version would be staged by George Balanchine, better known as a choreographer.

*18.200. "Death of a Salesman," Morosco (25th wk) (D-919; $4.80. With slightly reduced seating capacity, the regular weekly gross is now $24.100.

$24,100.

"Detective Story." Hudson (19th wk) (D-1,057; $4.80). Meller slipped with the field; almost $18,000.

"Goodby, My Faney." Fulton (36th wk) (CD-366; $4.80). Also tapered off a bit; under $10,000.

"Howdy, Mr. Ice of 1950." Centre (10th wk) (R-2,964; $2.88). Standard attraction for tourists, particularly familly trade; ebbed to $33,000.

"Kiss Me. Kate." ("cat.")

$33,000.

"Kiss Me, Kate," Century (31st wk) (M-1,654; $6). Another of the solid SRO draws; almost $47,200 as usual.

"Lend An Ear," Broadhurst (33d wk) (R-1,160; $6). Shrunk again to $19,300.
"Miss Liberty," Imperial (3d wk)

"Miss Liberty," Imperial (3d wk) (M-1,400; $6.60). New Irving Berlin-Robert E. Sherwood slowed from its maximum opening pace and the next few weeks should indicate its hit prospects better; almost $43,000.
"Mister Roberts," Alvin (76th wk) (CD-1,357; $4.80). Also felt the general down-draft; about $30,000.
"South Pacific," Majestic (17th

the general down-draft; about $30,000.

"South Pacific," Majestic (17th wk) (M-1,659; $6). If anything, the b.o. pressure is actually increasing on this wall-taxing smash; gets the standee limit every night, with lots of turnaways; $50,600 again.

"Streetcar Named Desire," Barrymore (87th wk) (D-920; $4.80). Tennessee Williams prize-winner still rolling along; $14,000.

"Where's Charley?" St. James (42d wk) (M-1,509; $6). Eased a bit with the field, but lots of margin at $34,500.

Strawhat Jottings

Strawhat Jottings

Raymond Massey makes his summer theatre bow at the North Shore playhouse, Marblehead. Mass., Aug. 15 in "The Winslow Boy" Theatre Guild production of Lynn Riggs" 'Out of the Dust, in rehearsal for the past three weeks under direction of Mary Hunter, will be offered at the Westport (Conn.) playhouse the week of Aug. 8 The South Shore playhouse, Cohasset, Mass., will try out "The Fundamental George," week of Aug. 15. Elliott Nugent will star-direct... Charles Ruggles will tour the Franklin Trask chaln of summer theatres in "Nothing But the Truth" Ken Welch's "Of All Things," new revue originally presented at the Pittsburgh playhouse in May, will be offered at the Ogunquit (Me.) playhouse the week of Aug. 8.
Ramsey Burch has been signed as director for the Dixfield (Me.) summer theatre.

Carl Allensworth's "Count Your Rossinge" finishes a three weeks

mer theatre.

Carl Allensworth's "Count Your Blessings" finishes a three-performance tryout at the Barter theatre, Abingdon, Va., tonight (Wed.) Margaret Perry directed. Irving Strouse's "Spring 1865" will be tried out for four performances beginning tonight (Wed.) at the Lake George (N. Y.) playhouse. The Lakewood theatre, Skowhegan, Me., will try out Parker Fenley's "Spring Breaks Through" the week of Aug. 8.

In 5 Shows, Pittsburgh

"Rose Marie," featuring Marie, Pittsburgh, Aug. 2.

"Rose Marie," featuring Marie, District Piazza, Edward Roecker, Jack Goode and Nina Olivette, grossed $43,100 in five performances at Pitt Stadium in Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera production last week. Friday night performance was cancelled because of rain, with $13,600 paid back in refunds.

"Wizard of Oz," current, is ninth and final production of the fourth season.

The seasonal decline continued last week on Broadway, with grosses sagging as much as $4,000 for some of the shows. Except for the three consistent sellouts. "South Pacific," "Kiss Me, Kate" and "Death of a Salesman," werry production felt the slump. With no openings or closing last week and none scheduled for the next few weeks, the list remains unchanged, with 13 entries. Estimates for Last Week Keys: C (Comedy), D (Drama), CD (Comedy-Drama), R (Recue), M (Musical), O (Operetta). Other parenthetic figures refer to seating capacity and top price, including 20% amusement tax. However, estimates are net; i.e., exclusive of tax. "Born Yesterday," Miller (182d Wk) (C-940; $2.40). Senior runner of the list was affected by the general droop, but will apparently continue indefinitely; $5,000. "Cabalgata," Broadway (4th wk) (R-1,900; $3.60). Spanish import also eased from its previous upward trend; $4.80 with (D-919; $4.80 with Chells $4.80 'Kate' Continues To Soar in L.A., 541/₃G; 'Hill' 7G

Los Angeles, Aug. 2.

"Kiss Me. Kate" continued to rack up the best business in these parts, with its third week slightly better than its first two stanzas at the Philharmonic auditorium. "Annie Get Your Gun," with Gertrude Niesen, also proved strong bait for customers of Gene Mann's outdoor Greek theatre, topping previous house record. "Sugar Hill," all-colored revue by Flournoy Miller and James P. Johnson, is enjoying capacity business at the small Las Palmas theatre after considerable rewriting and dance restaging. "Blackouts of 1949" walloped out another terrific week. "Accent On Youth," at the El Patio, took a rather sharp drop the beginning of Its third week.

Estimates for Last Week

at the El Patio, took a rather sharp drop the beginning of its third week.

Estimates for Last Week
"Accent On Youth," El Patio (3d wk). (790; $2.40). Sour $4,500.
"Annie Get Your Gun." Greck Theatre. (2d wk). (4.400; $3.60). Smash $54.000. This equals house record set in 1948 during second week of "Anything Goes."
"Blackouts of 1949," El Capitan (371st wk). (1.142; $2.40). Standard top biz of $17.100.
"Kiss Me, Kate." Philharmonic Aud. (3d wk). (2.670; $4.80). Even better than first two weeks, rousing $54.500,
"Sugar Hill." Las Palmas. (3d wk). (388; $3.60). Tops capacity of $7.200.

'IRENE' SOCKO $42,100 IN WEEK AT ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Aug. 2.

With the Friday (29) performance lost through a wind and rain storm, the second show of the current season, "Irene," wound up its seven-night stand in the Municipal Theatre Assn's al fresco playhouse in Forest Park Sunday (31) with a neat $42,100.

Mauren Cannon, who played the title role, and Jerome Thore the title role, and Jerome Thore the title role, and Jerome Thore chair-warmers. Helen Raymond, that-warmers. Helen Raymond, that-warmers, also scored solidly, and the ballroomology of Mary Raye and Naldi clicked.

"The Vagabond King," teed off a one-week stand last night (Monday). Walter Cassell and Marion Bell scored in the top warbling roles. Faves of former seasons making their first p.a.s of the season are Marthe Errolle, James McColl and William Lynn. Standouts in support are Jean Handzlik, making her bow here: Edwin Steffe, Leonard Ellott, Virginia Gorski, Gean Greenwell and Melton Moore.

'Streetcar' Boff $25,500. 'Brigadoon' $35,500, S. F.

Current Road Shows

"Blackouts of 1949"—El Capitan,
L. A. (Aug. 1-13).
"Brigadoon"—Curran, S. F. (1-6); Aud., Sacramento (8-9); Mayfair, Portland (11-13).
"High Button Shoes" — Upton,
Salt Lake City (11-13).
"John Loves Mary" — Bittmore.
L. A. (8-13).
"Kiss Me, Kate"—Philharmonic,
L. A. (1-6); Curran, Frisco (8-13).
"Mr. Roberts" — Erlanger, Chi (1-13).

(1-13). "Streetcar Named Desire" – Geary, Frisco (1-13).

'Roberts,' Alone In Lean Chicago, Up to Neat 18G

Chicago, Aug. 2.

Departure of "Inside USA" from Shubert theatre Sat. (30) leaves Chi with leanest summer in over 25 years. "Mr. Roberts" at Erlanger, now in 48th week, is only legiter in town and take has jumped accordingly. Relief to drama drought won't come until late September, when "Kiss Me, Kate" and "Death of a Salesman" open.

Biz has not increased as much as expected, with jewelry convention in town, but strawhatters in suburban areas have registered hiked grosses, Chevy Chase theatre had near-sellout during entire week of "Light Up the Sky" with Nina Foch.

Estimates for Last Week "Inside USA," Shubert (11th week) (2,100; $4,94). Up over last week, with fine $32,000 for final week.
"Mr. Roberts," Erlanger (47th week. "Mr. Roberts," Erlanger (47th week) (1,334; $4.33). Jumped up by near $2,000 to nice $18,000.

'Ice' Setup

Continued from page 49

b.o. men becoming increasingly aroused, but certain managerial and theatre employees, who presumably share in the "ice" under normal conditions, are complaining loudly. Also, a more cynical tone is beginning to be evident in the theatrical columns of some of the New York dailies, possibly reflecting the outcries of brokers and treasurers.

The general attitude among producers, however, has remained sympathetic to the probe. With authors, actors and directors in vehement agreement, shownen favor anything that will climinate or even seriously limit wholesale overcharges on tickets. Their attitude is that the revenue from a show should be fairly distributed among the creative talent, the managerial end, the theatre and the backers, without one particular group siphoning off an abnormal share.

Sharing Arrangement

For instance, It clearly makes no For instance, It clearly makes no sense for the producers of a musical to get $12 for a pair of seats while scalpers and their henchmen collect $48 or more on the deal. Showmen point out that the management has to share its $12 with the author, actor and director talent, with the theatre, stagehands, musicians, front-of-the-house employees, etc., and split the profits with the backers, besides taking the initial risk on the venture. On the other hand, the scalper's $48 to presumably cut up with three or four collaborators, none of whom four collaborators, none of whom has performed a real service for the show.

the show.

Producers appear inclined to agree that, if "ice" payments were eliminated or drastically reduced, boxoffice men would be entitled to higher salaries. With employment in the field spotty and uncertain, it's conceded that treasurers can't get by on the present salary of $110 a week. But it's figured that if the ticket mess were cleaned up there should be more than enough extra business to pay b.o. employees adequately.

theatre, Abingdon, Va., tonight (Wed.) Margaret Perry directed Irving Strouse's "Spring 1865" will be tried out for four performances beginning to the strongest (Wed.) at the Lake George (N. Y.) playhouse. The Lakewood theatre, Skowhegan, Me., will try out Parker Fenley's "Spring Breaks Through" the week of Aug. 8.

Shows in Rehearsal

"Good Housekeeping" (strawhat—Theatre Guild."
"Good Housekeeping" (strawhat—Theatre Guild."
"High Button Shoes" (road)—$35.500 for its fourth week at the Mante-Proser and Joseph Kipness.

Drigation $35,30U, $1. cextra business to pay b.o. employ eees adequately.

One suggestion, on which there's been considerable discussion pro and con, is that the lower floor should be rescaled for Broadway show during the past season. Stars Judith Evelyn and Anthony Quinn and center bringing a higher price and the rate ranging of black ties and formal gowins. Show, scaled to $4.20 at the 1,550 set Geary, showed a tremendous $25.500 on subscription.

Brigadoon" considerable discussion pro and con, is that the lower floor should be rescaled for Broadway show down front and center bringing a higher price and the rate ranging of black ties and formal gowins. Show, scaled to $4.20 at the 1,550 set Geary, showed a tremendous $25.500 on subscription.

Brigadoon" considerable discussion pro and con, is that the lower floor should be rescaled for Broadway show down front and center bringing a higher price and the rate ranging of black ties and formal gowins. Show, scaled to $4.20 at the 1,550 set Geary, showed a tremendous $25.500 on subscription.

Brigadoon" constitution of the strongest and con, is that the lower floor should be rescaled for Broadway show down front and center bringing a higher price and the rate ranging of the strongest and the rate ranging of the strongest and the rate ranging of the

Total Legit Grosses

The following are the comparative figures, based on Variety's boxoffice estimates, for last week (the ninth week of the scason) and the corresponding week of last season:

BROADWAY	This Season	Last Season
Number of shows current	· 13	17
Total weeks played so far by all shows	143	194
Total gross for all current shows last week	$346,900	$346,100
Total season's gross so far by all shows	$3,573,800	$4,010,400
Number of new productions so far	2	2
(Excluding Stock)
Number of current touring shows reported	8	14
Total weeks played so far by all shows	94	125
Total road gross reported last week	$194,300	$316,500
Season's total road gross so far		$2,889,100

Inside Stuff-Legit

Idea of British government restrictions on American performers and shows in London was editorially deplored last week by The Stage, English theatrical weekly. Commenting on a letter from a reader, the paper noted "the welcome given to British plays and players in America," remarked that U. S. shows are "employing large British staffs and many British actors and actresses," and added that considerable money is being paid at West End theatres by American tourists.

"Just now," the editorial continued, "British masterpieces are not presenting themselves as plentifully as we might wish—and they are not all being kept out of the West End by lack of available theatres, Meanwhile, good American melodramas, in the true musical sense, like "Oklahoma", "Annie Get Your Gun' and "Brigadoon", are doing much to keep up the popularity of the flesh-and-blood theatre. . . Granted that our dramatists will do their job efficiently, there should be nothing to fear. Good plays are equally acceptable on both sides of the Atlantic and from the entire Commonwealth. The idea that free intercourse in a beautiful, creative art should be affected by a paper-scratching financial formality seems a petty inhibition." cial formality seems a petty inhibition.

Management of "Miss Liberty" has begun mailing postcard acknowledgements of mail orders in cases where there may be any delay in sending the required tickets. Idea is to forestall any repetition of the situation that arose just before the musical's opening, when there were numerous squawks about the delay in filling or even acknowledging

Apparently as a result of N. Y. C. commissioner of investigation John M. Murtagh's public criticism of the situation, mail order patrons are becoming more exacting. Some of the orders received since the show's premiere have specified not only the date of performance and price ticket desired, but have actually demanded particular rows or, in some instances, even seat numbers. Such requirements are apt to mean delay or even impossibility in filling orders.

Failure of the Grace and Paul Hartman revue. "Up to Now." to play Failure of the Grace and Paul Hartman revue. "Up to Now," to play Wareham, Mass., last week as announced, was because the management had not posted an Equity bond or otherwise conformed to the unlon's regulations. So as to be able to go through with their verbal agreement for the engagement, in case the strawhat got its Equity rating in time, the Hartmans remained on hand until the scheduled opening day, July 25, even paying the hotel bills for some of the cast members.

The show, which had previously played several strawhats, is at Markheted Mace, this peeds of the cast members.

The show, which had previously played several strawhals, is at Marblehead, Mass., this week, and thereafter will play Newport, Saratoga, East Hampton, Ivoryton, Conn., and Mt. Klsco, N. Y. The show was not originally intended to be brought to Broadway in the fall, but if revisions are satisfactory the Hartmans will consider it.

Click of "Death of a Salesman" in London last week apparently leaves a number of British theatre "experts" with some fancy explaining to do. Number of English legiters in New York, some visiting and others permanent residents, had predicted that the Arthur Miller drama would be a quick flop with West End audiences. In fact, not in memory was a Broadway smash so discounted as a prospect for London. Among the exceptions who figured the play would register with English audiences were Basil Dean, London author-director-producer, and Philip Hope-Wallace, drama critic of the Manchester Guardian, both of whom said the show's reception would depend on how well it was done there.

What is happening on the Broadway stage "is usually worth looking at, even if it isn't always worth listening to." was the view expressed by London Sunday Times' drama critic, Harold Hobson, in a recent article on the state of the Broadway theatre. Back at his desk after a visit to N. Y., Hobson noted that "America takes symbolism in its stride; and its two leading playwrights, Tennessee Williams and Arthur Miller, practice this method with combined artistic and financial success."

Hobson went on to call "these young men . . . the only strikingly original playwriting talents that the English-speaking theatre has produced since the end of the war. . . ."

Capacity of the Morosco theatre, N. Y., has been cut 12 seats, amounting to $324 per week, for the run of "Death of a Salesman." Although there had been no requests for refunds for the locations, producer Kermit Bloomgarden discovered that there was imperfect vision from two of the seats in each of the six boxes, so he ordered them withdrawn from sale. Boxes sell for $6 evenings and $3 matinees. Capacity gross, including the limit of 30 standees per performance, is now about $24,100 per week.

Legit Bits

Eunice Healey, in Central City, Col., to attend Mae West's opening in "Diamond Lil," may go to the Coast to visit her-parents before returning to New York about Aug. 15... Clarence Taylor, manager for Brock Pemberton, leaves this weekend for a vacation on the Coast. Louis Lotito, prez of City Playhouses, Inc., and manager of the Martin Beek theatre, N. Y., laid up with a cold... Producer Michael Todd was the off-the-record speaker at Monday's (1) luncheon of the Drama Desk, New York legit reporters' group.

Irving Keyser, treasurer of the Alvin theatre, N. Y., is in grave condition in Neurological Institute, N. Y., with poliomyelitis and spinal meningitis. His parents have been called to his bedside from Philadelphia. Alan Hewitt, in the cast of "Death of a Salesman," is communiting from Compo Beach,

LYNN HEARTBEAT

"The Incomparable"

"Hildegarde will be available for all of Lynn to see in person at the Marblehead Summer Theatre all of next week beginning Monday, July 251. Once nightly she is going to present a two-hour concert, the first time she has ever attempted such a performance. performance.

"She is the only entertainer in the history of show business who could ever walk out on a cafe or supper goom floor, tell you how long she would stay, leave with thunderous applause and not return.

applause and not return.

"If you think it's easy, try it sometime yourself. Try to be amusing and entertaining for forty-five minutes; you'll have a new appreciation for Hildegarde.
"In ten years she has appeared only in the plushiest hotels in the country. She's commanded fabulous fees and accounted for even more fabulous business. The average person who has never seen Hildegarde wants to know: 'How come?'
"This is not an easy question to answer. Just when you are ready to decide that personality is the proper explanation, she'll wow you with a touching song that will have you fumbling in the dark for a hand-gerchief. And just when you've decided that she's a wonderful singer, she tears the house down with sheer charm and excitement.

To see Hildegarde is an experience. "To see Hildegarde is an experience. A fellow has only one honeymoon as a rule. He has various other 'once in a lifetime' experiences. This could easily be one of them. So, don't say we didn't offer a good suggestion. Incidentally, Blake Johnson, of the theatre, reports the advance sale on Hildegarde's engagement is the best in several seasons. Since the theatre's capacity is slightly less than 1,000 a sell out is a good possibility. Try to make the Wednesday matinee; it's the sleeper performance! In track lingo, that is."

—Tom McGovera.

-Tom McGovern, Lynn-Telegram News. (July 21, 1949)

"Down at the Marblehead Auditorium, the North Shore Players really ignited dysented the fabulous Hildegarde in her summer theatre premiere one-woman show. The audience went wild. Seldom has auch applause been heard this side of 'South Pa-cific'!" namite Monday evening, when they pre-

-Barbara Tibbets, Boston Traveler. (July 27, 1949)

Opening August 1, for Two Weeks, at the PIPING ROCK, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Opening McCarter Theatre, Princeton University, on Aug. 15th, for One Week of Concerts Booked by JACK BERTELL, Per. Rep.

All publicity for Hildegarde's Marblehead engagement done by FRANCIS P. L. CRONIN, 100 Boylston Street, Boston.

Publicity for New York: DAVID O. ALBER ASSOCIATES

Continued From Page 56

YOU PAY AND YOU GET INTO THE ACT

That's Chan-Toosy on the Style of Hildegarde Presently at Marble-head Theatre

"Making her first summer theatre appear-Making her first summer theatre appearances here, in a clamor of publicity suitable for the return to earth of Edwin Booth, the supper club singer, Hildegarde, has failed to keep the tides from coming into Marblehead on schedule. But she does give a good show, chan-toosy style."

Picks Stooges
"Miss Hildegarde, a slender, supple, blonde chan-toosy who works at a terrific tempo and holds her audience remarkably well, picks people out of the audience as stooges. If they don't want to stooge, they get it!

well, picks people out of the audience as stooges. If they don't want to stooge, they get it!

"An elderly fellow in the front row who didn't jump up and down with glee when he was singled out for comment—he was told he looked tike a Broadway angel—was not neglected through the rest of the evening. It was suggested to him by the smiling chan-toosy that he had better seem to be gay and have a good time, and that would be good for him! He was required to give his place of birth, required to stand and take a rose, required to hear from time to time throughout the evening that he looked tike an angel."

You Pays and You Acts
"It could be that the fellow had paid to be entertained and not to entertain. For a chan-toosy, however, that is apparently not enough. You pays your money and you winds up in the act! Willy nilly. Wily Hildy!

"The Hiidegarde show, supported by an Hildy!

"The Hildegarde show, supported by an orchestra of 10 men on the stage, consists of two parts, each an hour long. Between bouts with the angels of the audience, Miss Hildegarde sings a variety of songs, from the tender to the corny, plays her own accompaniment to many comments on herself, offers jokes, chatter and smiles. Millions of smiles.

"A novelty on the straw hat circuit, this chan-toosy knows her way around an audi-chan-toosy knows her way around an audi-

-Elliot Norton. Boston Post (July 29, 1949)

Throng Lauds Presentation By Hildegarde

"Hildegarde, the incomparable, lived up to her international reputation last night when she thrilled a capacity audience at Marblehead Auditorium, at the opening of her week's engagement marking her debut on the summer theatre circuit.

on the summer theatre circuit.

"The famous chanteuse, who for several years has captivated the hearts of patrons of the famed supper clubs on two occasions, scored a decided hit with last night's audience as she sang the selections for which she is noted.

"Salvatore Gioe, her accompanist who directed a nine-piece orchestra, had arranged the orchestration in such a manner that the full beauty of Hildegarde's melodious voice seemingly blended with the instruments.

"The only drawback to the performance was not the fault of the artist but of the amplification system which took an unscheduled holiday after the second act and refused to function for the remainder of Hildegarde's offerings.

fused to function for the remainder of Hildegarde's offerings.

"Notwithstanding this, Hildegarde held the audience seemingly entranced for the two hour production.

"Patrons, who had witnessed her performances at smart New York city hotels and supper clubs, were of the belief that her offerings last night topped her previous efforts.

efforts.
"Needless to say her efforts were loudly applauded.

"The North Shore players, sponsors of the Head Theatre, have provided a diversified series of attractions for their seventh season. So far they have offered the theatre-goers such stellar attractions as Tallulah Bankhead in a lovable comedy, Basil Rathbone in a tense, spell-binding drama, and now Hildegarde, singer extraordinary. The change of pace apparently pleases the Greater Salem audiences for each night there is a capacity house."

there is a capacity house."
—Salem Evening News.

My Boston

"Two of the most-talked about women in America arrived in Boston yesterday. At 3:35 p.m., one was leaving the Copley Plaza and the other was arriving, and they bumped. Then they hugged. One was HILDEGARDE and the other was PERLE MESTA.

bunped. Then they hugged. One was MILDEGARDE and the other was PERLE MESTA...

"On request of the comedian. Abe Burrows, Hildy abandoned her sophisticated style and went hill-billy recently on television. Bouncing in her chair and holding imaginary rems in her white-gloved hands, she sang a few bars of 'I'm Hop-along Hildy, a gal from the West'. She hasn't formulated her own TV future yet but said her picture was on the cover of 'Life' 10 years ago, as the 'First Lady of Television.' That was because she put on an experimental program in the NBC studios, in black and white, color projection on a screen... I was also the first American televised in London and Paris,' she added. "The famous chantoosey's switch from awank supper rooms to a summer theatre was Jack Bertell's idea. Jack is Hildy's booking manager. He said he picked Marblehead for her only summer theatre appearance because the Marblehead heatre has the finest management meaning Larry Washburn and Blake Johnson... Besides, it seats 1.00. Hildy doesn't work for peanuts.

"Last week, at Marblehead, 'The Heiress,'

"Last week, at Marblehead, 'The Heiress,' starring Basil Rathbone, took in $7.012 at the box office out of a possible $8,200. That was at a $2.40 top (tax included) . . . The previous week, at a $3 top, and with two matinees instead of one, Tallulah Bankhead grossed $14.300. At the same prices, but with only seven performances, Hildegarde's possible is about $12,500 . . The advance sale, prior to her opening last night, amounted to $4.200, a record.

"The idea of giving a two-hour, one woman show, seven days in succession, didn't alarm her. After Marblehead, Hildy will keep a date at the Piping Rock Club, Saratoga Springs."

—Alan Frazer.

-Alan Frazer, Boston Evening American. (July 26, 1949)

AT THE THEATRES

North Shore Players

(Continued from Page 56)
North Shore Players and offer their public a musical, a revue or even a 3-ring circus. Hidegarde has shown that it can be done, and with striking success." and with striking success."

Real Trouper

"This Milwaukee bombshell made good the hard way last night. She was facing a traditionally 'reserved' opening night audience in a large hall, making it difficult to get across her 'intimate' style. And at the eutset of the second act, the microphones went blooey. Yet, working without a 'mike,' she won over the audience even more completely than in the first half of the evening. There was nothing 'reserved' about the tremendous ovation she received at the final curtain.

evening. These evening the tremendous ovation she received according to the tremendous ovation she received according to the later audiences.

"She'll find that New England 'shyness' absent in the later audiences.

"She did so many numbers last night that it would be difficult to list them all here. Furthermore, there's no guarantee that she will do the same routine tonight or tomorrow; she's that unpredictable."

—ED E. JAFFEE.

Daily Evening Item,
Lynn, Mass.

(Tuesday, July 26, 1949)

To the Concord Hotel Management: Thanks for making it possible for me to enjoy the thrill of an exciting success in the famous "Borscht Belt in the Catskills."

Thanks to Blake Johnson, II, and John L. Washburn, General Managers and Producers of the North Shore Players.

Engagement Booked by JACK BERTELL, Per. Rep.

Lighting Installed by WILLIAM E. RICHARDSON Manager, Director, Producer—ANNA SOSENKO

Agents-MUSIC CORPORATION OF AMERICA

Show Biz Again Takes Over Central City "STREET SCENE" CLICKS Drama Fete Drawing 250,000 Visitors

LEGITIMATE

By BILL DOLL.
Central City, Col.. Aug. 2.
This mile-and-a-half ghost town.
with a permanent population of only 500, is probably the best example of how show business under intelligent civic sponsorship can be built into a formidable tourist lure.
The Central City Drama Festival,
now in its 14th year, attracts 250, 000 visitors to this mountain top every summer and as a result brings plenty of hotel and other business to nearby Denver. Whole thing started when the old Opera House, built in 1878, was presented to Denver U. and restored to the original condition it was in when Saivini, Bernhardt, Joe Jefferson and John L. Sullivan regaled the John L. Sullivan regaled the and John L. Sullivan regaled the miners.

Under the auspices of the Central City Opera House Assn., a nonprofit organization, it has grown until the operation has practically taken over the entire town. Association runs two hotels, including the famous Teller House, three saloons, a livery stable where square dancing is held, a group of houses where actors may be housed, and a gold mine. Property is now and a gold mine. Property is now valued at $1,000,000, and the overall gross during the six or eightweek summer season is over $300,000.

The whole town comprises show usiness and employees in division.

The whole town comprises show business, and employees, including hotel, bar, and restaurant help, dancers, stage crew, guides, etc., numbers over 200. Revenue, in addition to sale of theatre tickets, comes from such byproducts as hotel rooms, food, whiskey, the take from about 60 stot machines, guided tours through theatre, hotel and mine, postcards and souvenir books. books.
Year-Round Employee

Despite the size of the operation, the Assn. has only one year-round paid employees. This is Business Manager Don Stophlet, who super-intends all of the enterprises and makes an annual trip to New York to cast the opera. In the summer the Assn. retains a press agent, Adoiph (Bud) Mayer, former Rocky Mountain News reporter, and it's spearheaded by Frank H. Ricketson, Jr., president of Fox Intermountain Theatres the originated "Bank Night"), and Robert Seiig, another Fox exec and president of the board of trustees of Denver U. They are in charge of the voluntary committees who whoop up plenty of local excitement, in addition to arranging initial plans for each scason's activities.

or local excitement, in addition to arranging initial plans for each season's activities.

Season opens every summer with an opera which the Assn. produces itself (this year it was "Fledermaus"), spending as much as $140.000 and importing top talent and production people. Another feature is an afternoon critique to talk about drama. This year John Chapman, Hanya Hold, Day Tuttle, James Michenor and others were on the panel. Windup attraction sees a Broadway show specially transported for the occasion. This year it's Mae West in "Diamond Lii."

year its anae west in Diamonu Lii."

Naturally, papers in Denver, the Rocky Mountain News and the Post, go allout for the events, with the Post frequently doing different stories for each edition. State papers and radio stations give plenty of space and time, and a traveling boxoffice, with plenty of fanfare, visits neighboring towns. Trailers are shown in a couple of hundred Fox theatres.

Ticket sale is unusual inasmuch as the boxoffice is located in Denver, 50 miles away from the theatre, though a boxoffice is opened here in town one hour before each performance.

Advance sale for performance. Advance sale for Miss West on opening day was $72,000, $5,000 short of capacity for the scheduled three-week run. Expected sellout resulted in pro-ducers Al Rosen and Herb Freezer and ring bells in an effort to get the customers out of the saloons and into the theatre. The actors are having a heck of a time, breathing fresh air for a time, breathing fresh air for a change and feeding on buffalo steaks. And on Saturday (31) Steve Cochran and Billy Van were out panning for gold. They washed out about $9 worth.

Colleano, Jr., Looks Set For London 'Streetcar'

London, July 26.
After auditioning several English legit and film names for the top male role opposite Vivien Leigh in "Streetear Named Desire." Laurence Olivier, who is producing the show in October, has practically set on Bonar Coileano.

Jr. Coileano is an American and practically set on Bonar Coileano, Jr. Coileano is an American and son of Bonar Coileano, Sr., who has been appearing for many years in the Maurice Colieano standard vaudeville offering. Act is cur-rently playing Australia. Coileano is currently appearing in Jack Hylton's "Together Again" rein Jack Hylton's "Together Again" at the Victoria Palace, having replaced Bud Flanagan, who has been ordered to the south of France by his medico. "Streetcar" goes into rehearsal in September, with show due in October at Aldwych theatre.

Theatre Guild Protests Ala. Group's Name Use

Mobile, Ala., Aug. 2.

The Montgomery, Ala., Theatre Guild has received a protest from the Theatre Guild of New York against the use of the words "Theatre Guild." The New York organtation charged that "confusion does exist" resulting in Irreparable loss.

A representative of the Montgomery Guild called the charge flattering but ridiculous. "We are flattered that our organization of amateurs... would be confused with the professional ability of the Theatre Guild, Inc.," he stated.

Attorneys representing the New York organization have "been in-

Accorneys representing the New York organization have "been in-structed to take such legal steps as many be necessary to protect our client's valuable property right."

Off-B'way Show

Too Many Thumbs

Psychy	е.				 Sadle Long
Smith					 Dick Robbins
Johnson	3				 Eddle Frost
Mackle	bee				 Gene Saks
Jenny	Mac	kleb	99		 . Kim Stanley
Too Ma	ny '	Thu	mb	3	 Nehemia Persolf
Profess	or I	Bloc	k		 Ernest Sommers

The first of Robert Hivnor's plays to be staged. "Too Many Thumbs" might, with proper doring and a more professional production, make the grade on Broadway Inc., offering starts off weakly but builds into an amusing and fanciful comedy. Employing the theory that man is descendant from ape, Hivnor presents his audience with a chimpanzee who in the midst of scientific observation develops into a homo-sapian.

Hivnor's script also approaches

the observation across the homo-sapian.

Hivnor's script also approaches in a satircal vein the conflict between science and religion, with Gene Saks' portrayal of a religious fanatic the high-spot. A particularly funny bit involving two chimps of the opposite sex is notable at the tail end of act one. Nehemia Persoff as the male of the species has the title role and gives a restrained performance in a difficult part. His transformation from beast to man is both pathetic and humorous.

Expected sellout resulted in producers Al Rosen and Herb Freezer characters agreeing to extend the engagement an additional week. Gross will be $100,000 for the run.

For the star it is the first time she has played the role sincey last winter, when she broke her ankle and had to call off the New York showing. Show will go to Detroit from here and then into the Plymouth, N. Y., Sept. 7.

Operation here is very picturesque, with this old lown harging on the steep sides of the continental divide. All employees are dressed in frontier costumes, squares dance exhibitions go on before and after the show, and ushers parade through the streets rection.

For the star it is the first time beast to man is both pathetic and humorous.

As the struggling scientist conducting the observation, Dick Robands and Kim Stanley, as his fiancee, has suffered to the conducting the observation, Dick Robands with Rufins Smith contributing a motable bit as drawlingly eloquent Shore Patrol officer.

Largesian to make the preeze relation to the beat to man is both pathetic and humorous.

As the struggling scientist conducting the observation, Dick Robands and Kim Stanley, as his fiancee, has suffered to the proceedings. Sadie Long, as the forecedings. Sadie Long, as the forecedings. Sadie Long, as the forecedings. Sadie Long, as the forecedings on the steep sides of the continuous continuities of the proceedings. Sadie Long, as the forecedings of the conduction of the proceedings. Sadie Long, as the forecedings of the conduction of the proceedings of the conduction of the proceedings. Sadie Long, as the forecedings of the conduction of the proceedings of the conduction of the proceedings. Sadie Long, as the forecedings of the conduction of the proceedings. Sadie Long, as the proceedings of the conduction of the proceedings of the conduction of the proceedings. Sadie Long, as the proceedings of the conduction of the proceedings of the conduction of the proceedings. Sadie Long, as the proceedings of the conduction of the proceedings of the

IN CONCERT VERSION

The Elmer Rice-Kurt Weill music-drama. "Street Scene," seen on Broadway in 1947, holds up pretty weil in concert version—a severe test by all standards. Presented sans costume and sets, in abbreviated form, at Lewisohn Staudium, N. Y., Saturday (30), the work came off remarkably well, as a stirring combination of melodrama and music.

and music.

Performance itself was abbreviated when a thunderstorm broke up the second half of the al fresco session.

The N. Y. Philharmonic-Symphony, soloists and ensemble were led by Maurice Abravanel who phony, soloists and ensemble were led by Maurice Abravanel, who conducted for the Broadway production and who here seemed to be as much, or more, in his symphonic element. Several members of the original Broadway cast repeated their roles here, including two of the leads, Polyna Stoska and Brian Sullivan. Other repeaters were Marie Leidal, Peggy Turniey, Marcella Uhl, Kenneth Remo, Joseph James and David Thomas. Abravanel used 13 singers as principals, with an added choral ensemble of 12 more.

Miss Stoska, as Mrs. Maurrant, nel used 13 singers as principals, with an added choral ensemble of 12 more.

Miss Stoska, as Mrs. Maurrant, was in excellent voice, and did a superior job with her "Somehow I Never Could Believe" solo. Sullivan was particularly impressive with his "Lonely House" solo, and in the "Remember That I Care" duet with Dorothy Sarnoff. Miss Sarnoff, taking the Anne Jeffreys role of Rose Maurrant, was fine support in the duet, and registered admirably with her solo, "What Good Would the Moon Be." Norman Atkins had Norman Cordon's original role as Mr. Maurrant, doing a bangup job with his solo number, "Let Things Be Like They Always Was."

Support was in every instance first-rate. Joseph James, the original janitor, again repeated an excellent "I Got a Marble and a Star," and Kenneth Remo repeated the amusing "When a Woman Has a Baby." The ensemble scored strongly, especially in "Ain't It Awtul, the Heat" and "Ice Cream Sextet."

Legit Follow-Up

Mister Roberts

(ALVIN, N. Y.)

After 18 months of aimost solid capacity business, "Mister Roberts" remains one of the top straight-play hits of Broadway history. And depute agreedees the receive of the despite considerable recasting, it's lost little of the entertainment quality that made it an instantane-ous smash. In the comedy-drama category, there's been nothing newer to compare with it and, from present indications, there's liprospect of anything doing so.

newer to compare with it and, from present indications, there's little prospect of anything doing so.

To a repeal playgoer, several things stand out in the show. The play itself, combining Thomas Heggen's basic story and Joshua Logan's skillful stage craftsmanship, is an irresistible blend of humor, poignance and dramatic wallop. The casting, including the various changes since the preem, is brilliant, while the performances are excellent and the physical production superb.

The performance is remarkably clean tor such a long-run play. It has broadened here and there, particularly in the smaller parts, but not seriously cnough to mar the authenticity or vitality of the show. Henry Fonda is still ideal in the title part. His playing, seemingly a triffe more emphatic than originally, is perhaps even better for that reason. The other original lead, William Harrigan, is also skillfully loathisome as the pathologically tyrannical skipper.

Rusty Lane, subbing for Robert Keith, on leave for a Hollywood picture assignment, is good as the phillosophical ship's doctor. And Murray Hamillton, although lacking the style and personal impact David Wayne gave the part, is effective as the juvenile officer. Pulver, With the exception of mild overplaying in some cases, the smaller parts are all well handied, with Rufus Smith contributing a notable bit as drawlingly eloquent Slore Patrol officer.

Logan's staging is even more impressive when seen again, and John Mileiziner's scenery registers strongly on further inspection. The atmospheric lighting and expressive between-scenes sound effects are also helpful. Incidentally, too, the theatre is kept comfortably cool throughout the performance, which is the exception rather than the rule in legit.

Second play of the U. of Texas drama department summer season

Strawhat Reviews

A Month in the Country

Westport, Conn., Aug. 2. Westport, Conn., Aug. 2. Westport Country Playhouse presentation of Emish Williams' adaptation for Comedy by Ivan Turghenev. Slars Ruth Gordon: features Edmon Ryan, Howard Directed by Garson Kanin. David M. Pardoll, associate producer: coatumes, Main-bother Theatre Collection: settings and lighting. Elit von Kentzow. At Westport. Conn., Aug. 1, '49.

vera Hazet Dawn, Jr.
Shaaf llex Williams
Anna Yslaeva Frances Brandt
Lizaveta Bogdanova Diana Rivers
Natalia Rulh Gordon
Rakitin Edmon Ryan
Kolla Clifford Tatum, Jr.
Bellaev Scott McKay
Matvel Lew Eckels
Doctor E. G. Marshall
Yslaev Howard St. John Katia Peggy Cass
Bolshintsov Jesse White

Ruth Gordon and Garson Kanin hope to take this new Emlyn Williams' adaptation of the traditional Turghenev Russian comedy to Broadway, which has not had such a revival since Nazimova coiled through a Theatre Guild production two decades ago. Kanin has given this Westport performance far more than the attention usually lavished on a summer tryout and the management has given him a liberal hand.
Williams' yersion, recently sucliberal hand.

Williams' version, recently successful in London, is not as crisp nor as inventive as was expected, and the play's chief pleasures stem from Kanin's skill in conjuring occasional vignettes in which lesser characters, not caught up with Natalia's Impatient romance, brightly illustrate their own problems.

This new version of the Turghenev legend introduces some low comedy of the Kalzenjammer school and also a new ending. The unsuspecting intruder goes off to Moscow with a faithful and eloquent family friend rather than with the highborn heroine's pretty quent family friend rather than with the highborn heroine's pretty ward.

Miss Gordon, so successful in Guthrie McClintic's revival of "Three Sisters," is a disconcerting-ly mobile star this week. She has little time for patrician repose and the familiar and admired Gordon characteristics are abundantly catalogued. She looks youthful and winsome, however, as she whips around the stage in a succession of handsome Mainbochers that add much atmosphere to the proceedings. There's no Slavic lethargy here.

Outstanding in Miss Gordon's proceedings. There's no Stavic lethargy here.

Outstanding in Miss Gordon's company is Hazel Dawn, Jr., as the dependent who also loves the tutor. Lovely looking offspring of an unforgettably lovely mother. Miss Dawn brings new freshness, nice modesty and a singularly promising technique to the Westport stage. Diana Rivers is excellent too as a snuff-inhaling dienna, equal to every artful suggestion that is the index to me fine Kanin lalent. E. G. Marshall gets Into stride as the country doctor and Jesse White has a hilarious time with the role of an awkward suitor. Scott McKay is suitably handsome and obediently ill-at-ease as the tutor, and Howard St. John and Edmon Ryan are right in other assignments.

Saturday

Baltimore, July 26.

Don Swann production of musical comedy in two acts. Book by Doroth JenTina; lyrics and music by 6. Wood: staged by George Schaefer: dances by Ebba Von and George Sullivaniel, sets. Noel Taxior deering Joseph Sopher.
Britte Jewell,
Douglas Henderson, O. Tolbert-Hewilt,
Douglas Henderson, O. Tolbert-Hewilt,
Swann, Cluff, Bohtson, Stone, Elsine
Swann, Cluff, Stone, Ston

Anbitious attempt at a musical with choral ensembles and terp interludes to round out a rather in a year at the rather well. George Schaefer's in Mel Hall Thom musical accompaniment by composer Wood a real assist. But there's not enough for Broadway at moment.

Book is a killer-diller. It deals with a mythical town where every saturday is Christinias and everyone tells the truth. Added to this, as a racketeer who rides in a fant's sied pulled by his wife, who wouldn't mind engaging in more heetic pursuits given the optopy the sitting travelling men, sought by a mamma's boy and a bookish villain on the ruthless side. There are other charakers, too, but nothing jells mid the humorless lines and heavy-handed situations. Music and lyrics are something else. The composer has a score of the considerable merit. The rhythm is on the modern side with a good of nation of all right melody. Numbers are not in all citie pro-rata.

smartly spotted for best contrast and maximum selling.

Alice Ghostley, in the femma lead, dominates the show with a voice of considerable quality, and she holds up the acting end well enough. Best among the rest of the cast are O. Toibert-Hewitt and June Prud'homme, particularly in "Ice Cream Supper"; Elaine Swim and Robinson Stone, as Mr. and Rrs. Santa Claus; Douglas Henderson and Cliff Cothern. Solo dance spots by Ebba Von Saleski and Alice Sobel, who staged the numbers, are well handled, and settings are above barn average. With book given a complete rewrite and score refitted and shaped under practiced auspices, this one might provide potential material, particularly as an ail-Negro opus in the "Hot Mikado." "Carmen Jones" motif.

College Show

Small Beer in Springtime
(CATHOLIC U.)

Washington, July 27.

Catholic U spreduction of enmedy in three acts by Joe Coopan and the coopen of t

'im	K	11	t3	1																		Đ	0	n	٧	٧a	ter
kgne	8		ĸ	ш	y	۲.	٠		٠	٠		٠				٧	٧	e	n	и	11	a		M	at	th	40 14
ele				٠		٠.				٠	٠							ł	4	ð i	1	b		S	4.1	181	ne	÷
elle	gi	e.					٠	٠							١.	ŀ	٥	t	w	a	r	d	- (•	.1	118	the	•
ynn	e	I)(0	1	23	۲,	, ,				٠.									d	0	hi	1	R	od	ne	¥
lanı	ıal	h	٠.		٠		٠,													8	ч	ile	ı f		d	v	Val	ú
ditt	1											٠	٠					,				ŀ	a	1	(ac	ro	u
											_	_	_	_	_	_

to support his wife. And that is the story.

John Rodney, a former Catholic U. student, is starred as the philosophic Dooley, playing the pair complete with auld sod brogue. Rodney gives a lively reading to the role, a fat one decked out with long speeches. However, he never manages to lift the part over the barricade of incessant jabber, which interlards the thin plot. Play is reported to be in tryout with a view to Broadway production. However, in its present form it offers little which would coax customers into plunking down $4.80—or any fraction thereof—at the boxoffice.

Lonne.

'Peter' Sydney Interim; 'Rooms' for Melbourne

British comedy, "Fly - Away-Peter," with British players J. H. Roberts, Pameia Bygrave and Bearice Smith, will play a limited run at the Royal here, before Robert Morley, in "Edward, My Son," comes in In early September.

"Annie Get Your Gun" winds up a year at the Royal, and heads for New Zealand.
In Melbourne, June Clyde and Hal Thompson come into the Com-

In Melbourne, June Clyde and Hal Thompson come into the Com-edy theatre, for J. C. Williamson, Aug. 5, with "Separate Rooms, Show will do general Aussie run-around after the Melbourne run

Kamber's Program Service

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.
Bernard Kamber, who puts out programs for the four legit houses here, has launched a new association of program publishers for towns outside New York. Failure in recent seasons to latch on to the lig national accounts had to the big national accounts led to the big national accounts her innove.

So far, Kamber's group less lined up 15 theatres in four cities—Boston, San Francisco, Clevelsud and Philadelphia—and they will open a New York central office placement of new outfit cails for solicitation of national accounts for placement in all cities, proceeds to be divided pro-rata.

Literati

Busy (?) Literati

Busy (?) Elerasian Here's how it is in these summer of days in the publishing busiess. John O'Hara phones his pubess. John O'Hara phones his pubess. John O'Hara phones his pubess. John C'Harasian Here with Dick Rodgers (& Hamere with Dick Rodgers (& Hame gluogue (L.I.) home: "Bennett, I'm bere with Dick Rodgers (& Ham-merstein) and we have a $50 bet that the brother of the salesman in 'Death of a Salesman' made his fortune in Alaska, but I say it's Africa." The Random House prexy tells O'Hara he doesn't know but he'll phone Viking Press which publishes the Arthur Miller play and call him right back. Alaska is the right answer, O'Hara thanks him elaborately, expresses regrets him elaborately, expresses regrets over "taking up so much of your time, Bennett."

Cerf replies, "That's nothing, time, Bennett."

Cerf replies, "That's nothing, John, excepting you blankety-blank you just made me miss 1½ innings of a hot Yanks game on the television in my office."

the television in my office."

Earl Hines' Band Biz Expose Jazz planist Earl Hines has penned a byline piece for the September issue of Ebony mag titled "How Gangsters Ran the Band Business." Article exposes gangdom's rule of niteries and bands during the '20's and '30's bringing in such notorious characters as Al Capone, Owney Madden, George 'Big Frenchy' DeMange and Jack 'Legs' Diamond. Hines explains in his seven-page yearn how these exmobsters controlled such music personalities as Duke Ellington, Cab Calloway, Lena Horne, Billy Eckstine and himself. Finishing off his treatise, Hines notes that the end of prohibition did away with the mobsters, but in turn gave vent to what he feels is racketeering on the part of band bookers. Hines also expresses his feeling on what he believes to be dishonest band popularity polls.

feeling on what he believes to dishonest band popularity polls.

Jack Davies' Mission to H'wood Jack Davies, film critic for the London Sunday Graphic, pushed off for Hollywood over the weekend after a short stopover in New York. Davies, on film blz for the Kemsley Press, biggest newspaper chain in England, is engaging a Hollywood correspondent for the Kemsley papers.

Reportedly, Jonah Ruddy, English-born mag writer, has the inside spot for the job. Davies is the father of John Howard Davies, moppet who played the title role in J. Arthur Rank's "Oliver Twist."

Eire Censors Nix 14 More

The Irish Censorship of Publica-ons Board has hixed 14 more novels on the grounds that they are tions Board has hixed 14 more novels on the grounds that they are indecent or obscene.

They are: "The Loves of My Lord Admiral," by Philip Lindsay, "Into the Labyrinth," by Bentz. Plagemann, "The Girl on the Via Flamia," by Alfred Hayes; "Nineten Eighty-Four," by -George Orwell; "White Crocus," by Peter Packer; "Red Morning," by Ruby Frazier Frey: "Lovers Aren't Company," by Monica Stirling, "Roads From Mome," by Dan Davin; "The Other Passion," by Edith Simon; "Dragon in Chains," by George Lancing, "English Episode," by Charles Poulsen; "The Butterfly," by James Oulsen; "The Butterfly," by James M. Cain; "The Transient Hour," by Marcel Ayme; "She Came to Stay," by Simone de Beaut.

Ploneer Gazette Monthly
New publication, The Pioneer
Gazette, is being edited by C. V.
Fardig at Springfield, Mass. Fourpage monthly tab, which sells for 5c, reprints old engravings and articles from America's early press, such as the "New York Weekly Museum" of 1792, the "Columbian
Centennial" of 1814. "Massachutts Spy" of 1804 and the "New England Economical Advertiser" of 1844.

Emphasis is on Emphasis is on entertaining miscellany concerning family life of bygone years:

Also included is "Trading Post" advertising antiques and Items of Americana currently available.

Yale's Boswell Windfall
Yale University's recent purchase of the private papers of James Boswell was made possible by a gift to Yale from the Old Dominion Foundation, established by Paul Mellon, Class of 1929. Additional financing was acquired via an arrangement with McGraw-Hill, for the exclusive rights to publish through its subsid. Whittlesey House, the 40 to 50 volumes that will result for to 50 volumes that will result for to 50 volumes that would be collection. The manuscripts were bought from Lt. Col. Ralph H. Isham of New York, who spent nearly 25 years acquiring the papers. Isham graduated from Yale in 1914.

Editing and publication plans will be undertaken by an editorial board, which will include in addition to members of the Yale faculty, Edward C. Aanswell, Mc-Graw Hill veepee and editor-inchief of Whittlesey House. An advisory committee of distinguished British and American scholars will assist the editorial board. Purchase price, the amount of the gift and the funds advanced by the publishing firm were all undisclosed.

Included in the projected series will be all the material privately printed by Col. Isham in a set limited to 570 copies and sold at $900, which represents only a fraction of what is now available. The first announcement of actual publication will be made early this fall. McGraw-Hill has also acquired from Yale all rights of publication, and has arranged with William Heinemann, Ltd., of London, to issue the volumes in England.

CHATTER

Yarn on circus clowns, "It's Hard Work to Make You Laugh," penned by Cy La Tour, will be featured in the August issue of the Rotarian, Rotary International's official mag.

Movietonews comic Lew Lehi invades the gastronomic field with his new tome, "Lew Lehr's Cool Book for Men." Didier is publish

Joey Adams, who previously authored "From Gags to Riches," turns novelist in "The Curtain Falls" which Frederick Fell, Inc. is bringing out next Octob

18 Dringing out next October.

The 20th anniversary of impresario Serge Diaghileff's death is commemorated in Dance News for August with a three-page spread, including articles by Anton Dolin, George Balanchine, Anatole Chujoy and Lincoln Kirstein.

Nance Wilson Page whose "The

and Lincoln Kirstein.

Nancy Wilson Ross, whose "The Left Hand is a Dreamer" was a good seller for Sloane, will have her new novel, "I. My Ancestor," published by Random House. Her husband, Stanley Young, is a playwright and a director of Farrar Straus.

"Morning Faces," a collection of John Mason Brown's pieces from the Saturday Review of Literature on his experiences with his sons, will be a Whittlesey House publication Sept. 7. Book will also include two previously unpublished essays and will be illustrated by Susannes Suba.

Susannes Suba.

Bill Ornstein, of Metro, has three new stories coming up, the first, "Francis," in the July-August issue of Wildfire magazine, to be followed by "Happiness on a Hanger" in the Autumn issue of Seydell Quarterly, published in English in Brussels; and "Of Time and Place" in the October American Courier. Place" in the October American Courier, G. William Gahagan of Woodside, Courier.

G. William Gahagan of Woodside, Calif., formerly associated with the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. and the McGann-Erickson advertising agency, is one of nine new professors who will join one faculty of Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H. Sept. 21. Gahagan, will be one of the instructors in Dartmouth's "Great Issues" course.

Dorothy Williams, retiring president of the Women's National Press Club in Washington, has resigned as member of the United Press bureau in the capital to accompany Mrs. Perle Mesta, town's famed hostess, when latter assumes her new role of U. S. Ambassador to Luxembourg. Miss Williams will handle press chores at the Embassy.

Video's Stars

Continued from page 1 :

came on the scene later than the other chains and therefore has came on the scene later than the other chains and therefore has three ways of solving its problems, Barry said: (1) sit back and wait until the other fellows sell out their good time and advertisers come to ABC-TV for prime periods; (2) build its own shows and sustain them until enough circulation has been amassed for sponsors to shell out; (3) buying a number-of-choice-properties of all kinds and for a variety of budgets, number of enoise properties of all kinds and for a variety of budgets, with rights for at least five years, keeping them in the film transcrip-tion stage until a backer is signed. Third alternative is key to Barry's

Fischer flying over a cast of top European performers for each broadcast; "Papa Romani," a dramatic series featuring Carlos D'Angelo; situation comedies starring Edward Everett Horton and Joe E. Edward Everett Horton and Joe E. Brown (latter would also do an AM-daytimer): vehicles for Fanny Brice and Cab Calloway; "Pibby Houlihan," with Arthur Shields playing an Irish Janitor; a Kate Smith vaudeo; "Inat Wonderful Guy," a comedy-drama: "Some-body Knows," a mysterioso; "Li'l Abner," based on the cartoon strip; and "Jury Room," a Phil Berle courtroom package.

Beside these Barry has a number of offerings already set for the '49-

Beside these Barry has a number of offerings already set for the '49'50 season: "Conflict," starring Boris Karloff, "Photocrume," based on the Look mag feature; and "Inside Hollywood," a Photoplay mag series with Wendy Barrie.

Advantage of the kine audition over the sustaining tryout, Barry declares is that it reduces amount declares, is that it reduces amount declares, is that it reduces amount of coin risked if a format doesn't jell. "Li'l Abner," for example, will use live actors to portray the comic strip characters, and the idea, the web topper admits, will either hit Pike's Peak or bust. Kinescoping will cut possible embarrassment to talent if the show doesn't pan out.

Net is packaging the Horton and

Net is packaging the Horton and rown shows and is co-owner of Brown shows and "Abner," with i "Abner," with indie producers handling the other stanzas. If ABC-TV airs a series as a sustainer, web is cut in for a slice of the package, but if it is aired as a commercial, the entire nut goes to the package. to the packager.

Stratford

Continued from page 2

mediately after one performance and setting up the next day's show Program is normally changed Program is normally changed daily, so that the entire repertory is played each week. Since some productions involve several set-tings, including very heavy pieces, shifting job is not easy. changed plated him nouse left over from early 1930's.

Theatre building itself looks, from outside, like modernized factory; and, on inside, like chromium-plated film house left over from plated film early 1930's.

U. S. Contributions

Funds for the building, which cost $1,000,000 to construct, were gathered by public subscription—contributions from U. S. totaling more than half ($625,000). John D. Rockefeller was largest single donor, with gift of one-half million, investment has turned out okay in more ways than one. In addition to theatre's general prestige and specific artistic accomplishments over the years, the normal surplus on average season has been anywhere from $40,000 to $50,000; only two seasons that landed theatre in red were the first two war years, 1939 and 1940. Present surplus, as noted in July 15 balance years, 1939 and 1940. Present sur-plus, as noted in July 15 balance sheet covering up to March of this year, appears sizeable: including, as a sample, some $80,000 in cash and more than $200,000 in various in-vestments. This year's profits should add another chunk of cash to the kitty.

Contrary to general idea.

Contrary to general loca. The Festival is not the only activity of the Memorial Theatre; in fact, takes up only half the year or less. Rest of time, theatre is rented to London productions in tryout stage or touring, or kept busy with such non-Shakespearean projects as annual Christmas show for children.

non-shakespearean projects as ain-nual Christinas show for children. At conclusion of this year's Festival Oct. 1, a somewhat ab-breviated company and crew are off to Australia for a 14-week tour, playing three of the current six productions (prophaly) "Much playing three of the current sys-productions (probably "Much Ado," "Macbeth" and "Henry VIII"). Originally, the company had planned its first American visit this fall, and negotiations had been this fall, and negotiations had been progressing with the Theatre Guild and later with Theatre, Inc. At a late date, plans fell through. For next season, no definite arrangement has been set except a promise of John Gielgud and Peggy Ashrofit to appear together in play not yet selected. There are Peggy Ashcroft to appear togetherin play not yet selected. There are also hopes on part of the theatre management that in the not too distant future another building, more Elizabethan in appearance and facilities, can be added, leaving the present structure to house a repertory of more modern plays.

But, at the moment, that's just wishful thinking. The reality is still Shakespeare and more Shakespeare. And good, bad, or indifferent—in which latter category most of this season's oferings Third alternative is key to Barry's "backlog" policy.

Until the new packages are bought, the web will fill gaps in its sked with more modestly budgeted sustainers. Barry's feeling is that this won't hurt ratings and when "we get the good shows on the air we'll get the audiences."

Among the packages Barry is prepping are: "Easy Come, Easy Go," a talent show with Fred Robbins as emeee; "Continental Revue," with impressario Clifford the state of the state o

SCULLY'S SCRAPBOOK By Frank Scully Cape Hornblow, A finish for "The H

Cape Hornblow, Aug. 1.

Arthur Hornblow, Jr., 'is looking for a finish for "The Hornblow Story." He sort of feels that from being clinked for his part in the Broadway production of "The Captive" long, long ago, to being knighted today by the Knights of Columbus Avenue, or something, for his work on "Quo Vadis," would be a nice way to round out a career.

The Hornblow Story otherwise is going well. On "Quo Vadis," for instance, he's got more publicity so far than most producers get for a whole year's released product. It reminds him of the first year of the Goldwyn-Lasky productions, when they got an award for the best picture of the year and hadn't made a picture yet, while Harry Reichenbach kept asking the world, "Can they keep it up?"

But Arthur Hornblow, Jr., is sure that Loew's International will finally get around to making "Quo Vadis" in Rome next spring. This will give people plenty of time to read the book, "Quo Vadis," incl-dentally, heads the Hornblow list of books people are ashamed to admit they haven't read, but I'll be a Sienkiewicz if I'll admit that sort.

Most people, he says, believe "Quo Vadis" is about a chariot race, somehow confusing it with "Ben-Hur," "Intolerance" and everything back of "The Covered Wagon." Some think the title derives from an old Roman traffic centurion flagging one of the wildest charioters with, "Where do you think you're goin', bud?"

In fact the Hollywood droopearsons say some indie sharpshooters are already working on a sequel entitled, "Detrahe ad latus viae, frater!", which quite literally translates. "Pull over to the side of the road, brother!"

Actually, "Quo Vadis" dealt with traffic in Christians and the liquidation of same by throwing them to the West of the liquidation of same by throwing them to the West of the side of the road, brother!"

which quite literally translates, "Pull over to the side of the road, brother!"

Actually, "Quo Vadis" dealt with traffic in Christians and the liquidation of same by throwing them to the lions in Roman arenas. But in order not to disappoint those who think "Quo Vadis" is a horse of another color the producer has added a chariot race, and Gregory Peck will probably drive one of the chariots or get dragged behind one, orsomething, in order to point up the conflict between Christianity and paganism. And if Peck survives that Gregorian chant he ultimately will be thrown to the lions in the Roman coliseum. If this doesn't prove gory enough in Technicolor, the junior branch of Loew's International can always reshoot sadistic scenes like this in the Los Angeles coliseum, and use Leo, the MGM lion, to tear the remaining martyrs to pieces. So, like "Ben-Hur," "Trader Horn," "Eskimo," "White Shadows In the South Seas" and other epics of far-away places with strange sounding names, the bald spots on the landscape can always be covered with Hollywood toupees.

"The Hornblow Story," meanwhile, remains in status quo vadis. Arthur, Jr., is not worried about the delay because there is little danger of other Hornblow Story," meanwhile, remains in status quo vadis. Arthur, Jr., is not worried about the delay because there is little danger of other Hornblows jumping the gun. In fact as far as he knows his family is the only Hornblow in America. When his father was running Theatter Magazine and wrote "Mr. Hornblow Goes To the Play," he didn't have to warn the peasants against imitators because there were no other Hornblows and the Hornblow concedes, but one so perfectly suited to show business that many suspect it was coined. like Goldwyn, Jolson

Trader Hornblow Tells All

It's a strange name, Hornblow concedes, but one so perfectly suited to show business that many suspect it was coined, like Goldwyn, Jolson or Sliding Billy Watson.

Actually the name does not derive from Arthur blowing his own horn at all, but there is an old legend that in England one of his ancestors (actually named Horn) was a member of Shakespeare's original company that hung around the Mermaid Tavern after performances at the Globe. One night the beaker boys were quaffing quite late and began begging Horn to stay for just one more round. But Horn had his own mind about the art of drinking, "I don't know about the rest of you," he said, "but Horn blows at midnight."

After that they all called him "Hornblow," so as to distinguish him from another Horn who was a swoggler. In fact, the name became so identified with Arthur's family that when Jack Benny decided to star in "The Horn Blows At Midnight" he had to get not only Arthur's permission, but his father's.

identified with Arthur's family that when Jack Benny decided to star in "The Horn Blows At Midnight" he had to get not only Arthur's permission, but his father's.

Arthur, Jr., was a classmate of George E. Sokolsky, who still blows a milghty loud horn. M. Lincoln Schuster was in this class, too. This was at De Witt Clinton highschool, then on West 59th street, New York. Sok was an anarchist agitator then and just as plausible as he is now, when he has become a capitalist agitator.

After surviving the hot blasts which used to come down from the High School of Commerce and Hell's Kitchen, Arthur Hornblow, Jr., was deported to Dartmouth, where Walter Wanger was trying to get a cultural word in edgewise, too. Then Junlor joined his father on "Theatre," hoping his father one day would head his department, "Mr. Hornblow Was Too Tired To Go To the Play and Sent His Son."

Caught With "The Captive"

But before that happened he found himself a job in the Charles Frohman company with orders to get something for the Empire theatre, a refined old piece of velour which hadn't been out of the black since it went into mourning for Queen Victorla. He got "The Captive," a refined presentation of a subject then taboo in refined circles but by now as well aired as the Atlantic City boardwalk. For Americanizing the French play about unilateral love Hornblow got a percentage of the rights.

When the cops got around to calching what Hornblow the Frohmans

the French play about unhateral for the rights.

When the cops got around to catching what Hornblow, the Frohmans and Millers were pitching, they called it a four-bell production and gave everybody a ride to the Tombs in pie wagons. All started screaming and Millers were pitching, they called it a four-bell production and gave everybody a ride to the Tombs in pie wagons. All started screaming for Max Steuer.

Steuer got a settlement out of court. If the producers would change the name to "Old Homo Week" and take a chance on being raided without notice, the play could go on indefinitely. To Frohman, Miller, et al., "indefinitely" might mean one night, so they threw all the rights into the lap of Arthur Hornblow, Jr., and said, "It's all yours, Junior."

All this excited the admiration and envy of Sam Goldwyn, the winner of that trophy for not making a picture for a whole year. So he hired Arthur Hornblow, Jr., as his supervisor.

This went on for seven years and then one nippy November morning Mr. Goldwyn woke up only to find he had no horn to blow in. Then a few mornings later, while the frost was still on the pumpkin, he read where Arthur Hornblow, Jr., had become a producer over at Paramount. He was attracted to Par by the possibility of producing "The Pursuit of Happiness," a title that naturally would appeal to anybody after seven years under Sam. Francis Lederer was the star.

They were having trouble with the script, and J. P. McEvoy was called in to help. I remember I suggested there might be more boxoffice in the thing if the title were changed to "The Scarlet Lederer"

This was before air conditioning, but the resulting coolness lost methree friends in as many minutes. In fact, after making this suggestion I didn't see the producer again until the other day, and even then themeeting had to be arranged on neutral territory. Many people still believe I'm barred from the Par lot, though Hornblow, McEvoy and Lederer left there ages ago.

Hornblow blew, in fact, in 1942. We were at war, and there was a believe I'm barred from the Par lot, though Hornblow, McEvoy and Lederer left there ages ago.

Hornblow blew, in fact, in 1942. We were at war, and there was a shortage of man power. Metro didn't know where to turn to find some-body to handle Hedy Lamar in "Heavenly Body." Arthur Hornblow, Jr., offered to make the sacrifice. A real Spartan.

Since then he has produced "Cass Timberlane," "The Hucksters," "Weekend at the Waldorf," "Conspirator" for MGM and, coming up, "Quo Vadis."

"Quo Vadis."

If you still don't know what "Quo Vadis" is all about, let Peter Maurin, the peasant poet of The Catholic Worker, tell you:

"The world would be better off if people tried to become better.

"And people would become better if they stopped trying to be better off."

Or would you rather read about chariot races?

Broadway

Moe Gale to the Coast on busi-ess and a holiday.

ness and a holiday.

John Wildberg to Europe Saturday (30) on the De Grasse.

Jack Bertell to Saratoga for Hildegarde's Piping Rock preem.

Charles Einfeld files to Cape Cod or weekends at his brother-infor weekends

Louise (Mrs. Bugs) Baer resting at the New York Hospital after having been taken ill Friday (29) night.

Dick Weaver dolng special exploitation in N, Y, on UA's "John-ny One-Eye" during its current Kurt Unkelback has taken leave of absence from hls post of public-ity director of the Hotel New Yorker, N. Y.

Jonas Arnold tapped by Eagle Lion to succeed Harold Danson as ad manager. Danson has resigned; Arnold formerly Danson's aide.

Metro foreign exec Seymour Mayer married Mary Magee, of Scarsdale, N. Y. Bride is the sister of Mrs. Walter (June) Winchell.

of Mrs. Walter (June) Winchell.
Georgia Glbbs, who ended a oneweek engagement Friday night
(29) at the casino in Monte Carlo, due back Aug. 26 from Europe.
Constance Gordon, daughter of theatrical booker Jack Gordon, directing the arts and crafts classes at the Ross Country Club, Monroe, N. Y.

N. Y.
Perry Lieber, RKO's studio publicity head, in town for ho, confabs on new RKO films. Ditto Al Horwits, studio publicity chief for Universal.

wits, studio post-versal.

Buddy deSylva reported in good shape on the Coast and still work-ing on the Theda Bara biopic idea although not as intensively as was shape on the Coast and still working on the Theda Bara biopic idea although not as intensively as was his wont.

No. 1 Fifth Avenue's glmmicks to hyoo biz include "Door Prize" and "Balloon" nights. In addition, the nitery also shows silent pix on Sunday nights.

Mayor William O'Dwyer acting as installation official at the annual installation of officers of the Independent Theatre Owners Assn., Aug. 11, Hotel Astor.

Henry Stevens of "South Pacific" and Rusty Lane of "Mister Roberts" doubling into Benedict Bogeaus "Johnny One-Eye," currenly location shooting here.

Harold V. Cohen, Pittsburgh Post-Gazette columnist and Varietry mugg there, back from Cape Cod vacation looking smokier than his native Smoky City.

Vera-Ellen, who co-stars in Ua's "Love Happy" pa'd Monday (1) at Fablan's St. George and Palace theatres, Staten Island, to help the loop celebrate its 35th anniversary.

Rita Rubin, until recently with Motion Picture Assn. of America, has joined Screen Associates, commercial shorts and TV filmmakers, as aide to producer Morrie Reizman.

Inaugural dinner of the N. Y. Varjety Club (Tent No. 25s. 4th.

man.
Inaugural dinner of the N. Y.
Variety Club (Tent No. 35) at the Hotel Astor Oct. 27 will include a program journal, proceeds to the Will Rogers Hospital at Saranac

Will Rogers Appendix Lake.

Aileen Brenon on leave of absence from Selznick to handle press on "Guilty Bystander," to be produced in New York by Laurel Films in association with Edmund

Films in association with L. Dorfmann. Equitable Life has a paid-up policy on Lawrence Wilbur, formerly of the Castle Square Opera Co. (Henry W. Savage), and is seeking his whereabouts. He would be over 70 if living.

Ted Strong, Celebrities Service on Queen Eliza-

ing his whereabouts. He would be over 70 if living.

Ted Strong, Celebritles Service vice-prexy, sails on Queen Elizabeth tomorrow (Thurs.) to 0.0. the company's London offfice. He'll return in October after a vacation on the Continent.

Jewish Theatrical Gulld's memorial service for Sam H. Harris, legit producer, in its chapel in the Palace theatre bullding tonight (Wed.) at 6 p.m. Rabbi Abraham Burstein officiating.

After guesting at the Howard Cullmans' Westchester house (during their European vacation) for the entire month of July, the Benefit Cerfs are now Augusting at

Cerfs are now Augusting at Cod with the Quentin Reyn-

La Centra, staying east for radiotelevision commitments.
Playwright Robert E. Sherwood was awarded a Baneroft Prize for "distinguished writings in American history" by Columbia U.
Award was for Sherwood's "Rooseveit and Hopkins," which also won the 1949 Pulitzer history prize.
H. Allen Smith's opinion of Hollywood is best summed up by the Squire of Mt. Kisco's observation that "Westchester looks good to me after three weeks of Double Dubuque," Humorist going into a trance with his typewriter for the next 8-10 months on writing assignments. Grossinger's, best known of the Catskill Mt. resorts, has had a series of festivities to mark the 35th anni, and among those participating have been John Garfield, Jan Peerce, Robert Merrill, Pearl Bailey, Sid Caesar, cartoonist Ham Fisher and Robert M. Weitman, managing director of the Broadway Paramount theatre.

Westport, Conn.

By Humphrey Doulens

Mitzi Hajos visiting here. Ditto Lizbeth Scott.
Brock and Margaret Pemberton
here for rest of the summer.
Lawrence Langner may extend Country Playhouse season two weeks.

Raymond Massey moved into the Wilton house acquired from Lawrence Tibbett.
Edith Behrens now editing publications of National Federation of rence Tibbett.

Edith Behrens now editing publications of National Federation of Music Clubs.
Anita Loos here huddling with John C. Wilson on forthcoming musical "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."
Frederick C. Schang, president of Columbia Artists' Mgt., and Mrs. Schang sailed for Paris (30) on the Ile de France.
Charlotte Frances has arrived here from England to work on script of her "Western Wind" which Cornell Wilde will try out here late this month.
Fania Marinoff, Carl Van Vechten, James Melton, Theresa Helburn, Walter Hampden, John C. Wilson at opening of "A Month in the Country" at the Playhouse (1).

Rome

By Helen McGill Tubbs

Columnist Earl Wilson at the Ex-

Charles Feldman here from Hol-

wood. Countess Dorothy Dl Frasso left or Capri

Countess Dorothy DI Frasso left for Capri.

Ed Sullivan and wife due in Rome from Capri.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dix in Rome for a few days.

Elaine Shephard planed for Geneva on picture business.

Clifton Webb has left Rome for a few days vacation in Austria.

Merle Oberon is quietly visiting friends in the country near Venice.

Monte Banks here from Capri. Gracie Fields is expected in a few days.

ays. UA's George and Gwynn Pick-ord Ornstein are in Florence this OA's treme ford Ornstein are in Florence week.

American Negro pianist, Charlie Beale, engaged at the Club Tragard in Capri.
Film editor Lou Lindsay back to Rome from Moroccan location of "Othello." "Othello."
Rene Clair at the Hassler prior to starting work directing a film being made near Naples.
The Gene Markeys (Myrna Loy) are in Austria, but expect to return to Rome next month.

Lisbon

By Lewis Garvo

By Lewis Garyo

Evenida theatre will be closed all summer for renovations.
Beatriz Costa, a prewar revue star, back from Brazil. Intends to produce a show here.

Composer Frederico Valerio back from the States where he sold some of his Portuguese songs.
Piero Bernardon will present a summer revue at Teatro Variedades starring Irene Isidro, Antonio Silva. Alfredo Ruas and Joao Viliaret.

Muraro, Argentine pianist, back in Lisbon after a six-months' tour in Spain, gave a recital at the Politeama theatre before leaving for Brazil.

Lilly Moreno, Brazilian songstress, made her bow at a new revue at the Maria Vitoria theatre, first house to reopen for the sumer season. Joao Perry, leading legit actor, costarred in the same revue, which also has comic Eugenio Saivador and Santos Carvalho. Cape Cod with the Quentin Reynolds.

Air France came to the rescue of Ray Morgan's Sam Pierce ("This Is Paris"-MBS) by planing over some insulin capsules to Cannes where Pierce is producing the Maurice Chevalier series. Pierce urgently needed the capsules for somebody on the Riviera.

Walter Lowenthal Joined Transfilm, Lowenthal Joined Transfilm, Lowenthal was director and assistant production manager for RKO Pathe. He entered the film business in 1938 under guidance of Louis de Rochemont.

Paul Stewart planed to the Coast last week for a featured part in Paramount's "Postal Inspector," with Alan Ladd and Phyllis Caivert. His wife, actress-singer Peg

Sid Field taking a vacation from the starring role in "Harvey" end the starring role in "Harvey" end of August.

Emile Littler back from five days in Deauville for combined biz and pleasure jaunt.

Clifford Fischer here for one inght, them off to Paris for week, after which he returns to London.

British Broadcasting Corp. on look out for big West End theatre and eyeing Covent Garden Opera House.

House.

The Harry Fosters on three weeks' vacation to the south of France, covering Cannes, Monte Carlo, etc.

Hermione Baddeley leaving for eight weeks' vacation at Capf for "The Terrorist," Merle Oberon's latest starrer.

Hermione Baddeley leaving for eight weeks' vacation at Capri for "The Terrorist," Merie Oberon's latest starrer.

Alfred S. Kahn o.o.'ing show business here for the next couple of months and planning return to New York in September.

Lou Wilson, Prince Littler's aide, engaged to Fern Whitney, American currently appearing in "Oklahoma!" at Drury Lane theatre.

Bob Barnett, who recently acquired Snow's Chop House, has sold it to Younger's, wellknown brewers, at a profit of $140,000.

Valerie Hobson planning her first vacation in seven years as soon as she finishes her part in the film, "The Rocking-Horse Winner." Dougias Fairbanks, Jr., off to Paris, Athens and Rome and plans to join "The State Secret" unit at Trento, Italy, in time to start shooting Aug. 8.

Having completed his writing chore on "Treasure Island," Lawrence E. Watkin is staying over to script Walt Disney's Irlsh fantasy, "The Little People."

Val Parnell dickering for Count Le Roy, current hit in Morton Waise's "Skating Vanities" at Wembley, for London Palladium and Moss Empires tour.

Peter Graves quitting cast of "Private Lives," now on the road with Margaret Lockwood, because of U. S. commitments with Gertrude Lawrence at Cape Cod summer theatre. "Private Lives," now on the road with Margaret Lockwood, because of U. S. commitments with Gertrude Lawrence at Cape Cod summer theatre trude Lawrence at Cape Cod summer theatre.

Tom Arnold and Emlle Littler have booked Vic Oliver for a new show at London Casino, which will be a new edition of "Latin Quarter," to be staged next April after the pantomime season.

Miami Beach

By Lary Solloway

By Lary Solloway

Alfred McCosker, retired MBS prexy, building a home here.
DeCastro Sisters head new show at Five O'Clock Club with Freddie Bernard supporting.
Nunnally Johnsons and Jean
Negulescos taking in the tradewinds at the Saxony.
Barry Gray airer switched to Kitty Davis with biz hopping in the year 'round spot.
Hotels here filled with stateside visitors escaping the "northern heat wave." Town booming as a result.

heat wave. Town booking result.
"Slattery's Hurricane" filmed here last fall, preeming in three Wometco theatres (sans mid-season fanfare) this week.
Gambling clamp still on. New police chief has finally been appointed by town's "reform councilmen" and no easeup in sight.

Bucks County, Pa. By Sol Jacobson

Francis Robinson of Met Opera staff in for weekend. Arlene Francis, Martin Gabel and Herman Levin visiting Moss Harts. Ditto Max Gordon at George Kaufman?

Kaufman's.

Bob Zeller, musical director of Lambertville Music Circus, to Washington Fri. (22) to guest-conduct National Symph for night.

Mary Porter, acting manager of Empire theatre, down to visit spouse, Paul, guest directing Walter Siezak in "Laburnum Grove" at New Hope.

Walter Slezak commuting from Ottsville farm, ditto-Sara-Seeger from her Newtown home, for "Laburnum Grove" this stanza at Playhouse.

duct National Symph for night.

Mary Porter, acting manager of Empire theatre, down to visit Spouse, Paul, guest directing Walter Slezak in "Laburnum Grove" at New Hope.

Walter Slezak commuting from Ottsville farm, ditto-Sara-Seeger April 28-30.

Conley Lovelace new director of Jayhouse.

Lambertville, N. J. planning centaphone.

Low Gov. Driscoll lined up, ditto appearance here in Starilght's appearance here in Starilght's Peru's National Comedy Co. starting winter season here Aug.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Salor Nexico's Paco Miller opening at Teatro Segura in Mexican revue with Raul Iriarte's orchestra.

Wester's Vida B. Ross, handling Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Western Electric film distribution. Through Lima on way to Santiago.

Hammerstein II, Mr. and Mrs. George Kaufman, Theron and Phyllis Bamberger, Jinx Falken-burg and Shirley Booth guest-appeared. Henry Jones, of straw-hat acting contingent, featured in

Paris

By Maxime de Beix (33 Blvd. Montparnasse)

(33 Blvd. Montparnasse)
The Charies Millers to Rome.
Sylvie St. Clair off to the Riviera.
Eugene Van Dee back from Italy.
The Leonard Biscoes due back in Paris from Riviera.
Clifford L. Fischer back from trip with Mitty Goldin.
John McCarthy back after Copenhagen week's stay.
Lucette Caron back from Riviera for the fashion openings.
Alex Stein holding a Columbia territorial sales convention.
Irene Hilda back from Montreal and off to Belgium on a radio assignment.

signment.

John Ringling North to Scandinavia and Germany for 0.0. of possible talent.

Honolulu By Mabel Thomas

By Mabel Thomas
Herman Rosen, of Royal Theatres, was here for two weeks.
Dick Haymes and wife here for a three-week vacation at the Royal.
The Ralph Fitkins, owners of local KHON, to New York for two months.
Consolidated Amusement Coopening elaborate drive-in theatre, first in Hawail. Kenneth Means is manager.

manager.

James Stewart and bride will be at the Royal for a month, honey-at the Royal for a month, loney mooning.

Russell Collins will be featured in production of "Father Damien."
Production designer Tambi Larsen arrived from Hollywood last week.
Robert Morley, with his mother-in-law, Gladys Cooper, wife and children, resting here for three weeks before Clippering on to Australla.

South Africa By Joe Hanson

By Joe Hanson

Plc biz generally slack with "Fdward, My Son" (M-G) only film to be held over in recent weeks.

F. Schuurman arrived from Holland to take up appointment as conductor of Johannesburg Municipal Orchestra.

Broadcasting in South Africa celebrated its 21st anniversary last month. First broadcast was from Johannesburg July 1, 1924.

Mrs. Maria Lee, caretaker of Pagel's Circus training farm, died after mauling by tame lion. She was sister of owner Mrs. Pagel.

Metro to release seven London Film productions in South Africa, including "The Winslow Boy," "Bonnie Prince Charlie" and "The Fallen Idol."

Chicago

CINICAGO

Signe Hasso in town for Chevy Chase production of "Love From A Stranger."
George Jessel, opening at Oriental Theatre, Aug. 4, feted at a luncheon given in his honor by Ernie Byfield.
Flack Tom Flzdale returning to Chi from Coast to join wife, Pat Stevens, in promoting her charm school and model agency.
Virginia Mayo and Michael O'Shea, film players, hosted columnists at Pump Room, Ambassador Hotel, before heading for the Coast.

Coast.
Opening of Harold Lloyd's film,
"Movie Crazy" at Garrick theatre, Friday (29) hosted 100 children from Illinois Assn. for the from Illinois Assn. for the Crippled. Glen Ford, pic actor and Valll, actress, stopped over last week, on way to N. Y. and European junket for filming of "White Tower" in Switzerland.

Al Hall vacationing at La Jolla. James Barton in from N. Y. for film chores.

Judy Canova returned from an eastern tour.

Scotty Brown to Chicago for the 16m distributors' convention

Arthur Sheekmans celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary. Tom Drake easting for a strawat tour, starting in Fayetteville,

Max Youngstein in from N. Y. or Paramount publicity confer-

Dan Duryea to Vancouver for ne preem of "Johnny Stool he preem ngeon. Ann Sheridan hospitalized in anta Monica for her annual checkup.

Robert Mochrie in town with a home-office delegation for RKO sales confabs.

nome-ontice delegation for RKO sales confabs.

Ed. Don George in from Buffalo to round up rode and other acts for his arena.

Ronny Lubin shifted from Paramount to the Nat Goldstine-George Willney agency.

Jane Cowl to La Jolla to appear in "Art and Mrs. Bottle" with strawhat troupe.

June Haver awarded a sliver Oscar by the National Assn. of Dance and Affiliated Artists.

Charles P. Skouras will receive the 1949 Golden Bear award at the California State Fair. Sept. 8.

Susan Haywood will take a cross-country tour when she washes up her current chore in "My Foolish Heart."

Heart."
Adolph Zukor in from N. Y. for huddles with Cecil B. DeMille on releasing campaign for "Samson and Delilah."
Glorla McLean and Jimmy Stew-

Glorla McLean and Jimmy Stewart have announced Aug 6 as their wedding day at the Brentwood Presbyterian Church.
Cecil B. DeMille to Chicago to start a three-week tour with the Ringling circus. gathering background for "The Greatest Show on Earth."

Riviera

By Margaret Gardner

Richard Ney at the Martinez.
 Louis Jourdans back from a four-day weekend at St. Tropez.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Addams at the Carlton.
 Lou Walters eyeing the Riviera

Mr. and manufacture and mr. Lou Walters eyeing the Rivers attractions.

Leslie Charteris and wife at St. Jean Cap Ferrat.
Ciifton Webb guest of honor at another Elsa Maxwell soiree.
Richard Dix wandering alone and a little lost through the Carlton lobby.
Pierre Blanchar and his actressal daughter Dominique at St. Jean Werrat.

off to Switzerland.

daughter Dominique at St. Jean Cap Ferrat.
Earl Wilson off to Switzerland,
the only tourist to leave Cannes without a sun-tan.
Norma Shearer and husband,
Marty Arrouge, installed for a sixweek stay at Hotel du Cap.
Errol Flynn back from Italy in his old suite at Hotel du Cap. John Perona also at Cap d'Antibes.
Borrah Minevitch and his Harmonica Rascals readying for their Hollywood opening at Juan-LesPlns.

ins.

Eddie Gruskin down from Paris talk to Eddie Cantor about doing n hour long show for the Marshall an hour long show for the man hour long show for the plan radio series.

Eddie Cantor in Cannes for 10 days from Paris. His guest spot on Chevaller radio show broke up the audience when he did uncanny imitation of the the French singer.

Lima, Peru

By Bart McDowell

Bolivar Colosseum brought N. Y. Circus here Juiy 28. German planist Walter Gieseking to play here shortly on new South

Hollywood

London

The Val Parnells to Juan Les Pins for a month's holiday. Honor Blackman off to Switzer-land to recuperate after recent

OBITUARIES

GEORGE MORAN

GEORGE MURA:
George Moran, 67, vet performer, who for more than a quarter of a century tickled the risibilities of century tickled the risibilities of vaude and musicomedy audiences in the blackface act of Moran and Mack, died in Oakland, Cal., MonMack, died in Oakland, Cal., Monin the blacktace and the blacktace and the blacktace and add (1), five days after suffering a stroke. His partner, Charles Mack, was killed in an auto collision in

After the death of Mack, Moran had teamed with other partners but never achieved anywhere near the success that he and Mack had registered as "The Two Black Crows" and other similar skits.

and other similar skits.

After both had come up the hard way in minstrels and small time vaude, they hit the jackpot in 1927 in the "Black Crows" routine, which practically overnight cataputed them into four-figure sateries. These were to be later topped by their various excursions into let musicals and revues such as ries. These were to be later topped by their various excursions into legit musicals and revues such as "Ziegfeld Follies," Earl Carroll's "Vanities," George White's "Scandals" and several editions of the Shuberts "Passing Show." Earthy comedy of the team, which projected Moran as the wise-cracking straight man for the slow-and-easy Mack, was rated the top blackface comedy act of that era. Although their deliveries were in caricature vein, it never brought criticism and they presumably had as many Negro fans as white. Their material and comedy were tops—and that's all that mattered. In addition to their stage appearances, they made several films and multiple recordings that were best seliers.

Although stage partners, the me arrangement did not obtain nancially. Prior to their big click, tack incorporated the team name financially. Prior to their big click, Mack incorporated the team name and Moran worked on a salary rather than a 50-50 split of their earnings. This arrangement went along smoothly until they hit peak earnings, wherein Moran made an ultimatum to his partner that hereafter he wanted a 50-50 split. Mack, who wrote most of the material or bought it from other writers, refused to accede to the new terms, and Moran walked out of the act while they were starred in "Vanities" at the Earl Carroll theatre, N.Y. Mack enlisted a former partner, Bert Swor, also a wellknown minstrel, to bridge the gap, retaining the team name of Moran & Mack, and with few other than the show's management any the wiser. When the show went on tour, John Barton supplanted Swor.

In 1929, Moran brought suit faming the team and because it in from the start of the supplanted Swor.

Barton supplanted Swor.

In 1929, Moran brought suit against Mack to restrain him from continuing to use his name in the Moran & Mack act, since he was no longer with it. Subsequent litigation brought out that Moran and Mack had been registered as a trad-mark and that Mack could not be enjoined. Couple later buried the hatchet and reseamed for several pictures, including "Two Black Crows," "Why Bring That Up?" and "Hypnotized."

After his partner's death, Moran resumed the act with other partners and last appeared in it on a USO tour during the war.

NORBERT LUSK

Norbert Lusk, 66, motion picture publicist and magazine editor, died after a heart attack July 23 at Forest Hills, N. Y. Born in New Orleans, Lusk entered matter pictures in 1912 as

Born in New Orleans, Lusa tered motion pictures in 1912 as tered motion pictures in 1912 as scenario writer and assistant to Arthur Johnson at the Lubin studio in Philadelphia. At Lubin and later at World Pictures, he wrote vehicles for Johnson, Norma Tallicies for Johnson Marchael Mar

He joined the Goldwyn company

riod.

He joined the Goldwyn company in 1917 and was for two years its director of publicity, serving later in the same capacity with Thomas H. Ince, George Loane Tucker, and Higo and Mabel Ballin.

After two years as motion picture critic of the New York Morning Telegraph, he became editor and critic of Picture Play magazine, a post he held until 1938. He was N. Y. film correspondent for the Los Angeles Times for 20 years.

In 1941 he joined the film production staff of the Co-Ordinator of Inter-American Affairs under Kenneth Macgowan, and from 1942 to 1945 was associated with the Library of Congress motion picture research project conducted by Iris Barry at the Museum of Modern Art film Library. In 1947-48 he was associate editor of New Movies, The National Board of Review Magazine, in which he published his serialized autobiography, "I Love Actresses!"

During the past year, Lusk had worked as a feature writer for 20th-Fox. At the time of his death, he was about to join the publicity staff of Warner Bros.

MRS. LINDA GRIFFITH

MRS. LINDA GRIFFITH
Mrs. Linda Arvidson Griffith, former actress and first wife of the late David Wark Griffith, film producer, died in New York, July 26.
After her divorce from the producer in 1936, she had done film criticism for several magazines and also authored "When Movies Were Young," telling of the early work of her husband.

of her husband.

Mrs. Griffith was born in San

Mrs. Griffith was born in San

Mrs. Griffith was born in San while both were acting in stock companies there. They were married in 1906. She later appeared in a number of films made by the old Blograph Co.

Survived by a sister.

EMILE DE RECAT

Emile De Recat. 60, one-time ballet master of the Paris Grand Opera Co. and former supervising director on foreign films for Metro and Pathe, died July 26 in Holly-and Fathe, the work wood.

Moving to the U. S. in 1915, De Recat produced and directed musical shows in the midwest, among them "Smiles of 1920." He put on the American Festival at the dedication of the Los Angeles Coliseum in 1923 and remained in California for a career in the film industry.

DAVID A. BROUDY

DAVID A. BROUDY
David A. Broudy, 65, orchestra leader, died after a heart attack in Pittsburgh, July 31. He was the conductor for old Grand Theatre in Pittsburgh when it opened in 1919 and in 1928 was the leader of the Stanley theatre orchestra when Warner Bros. launched that house.
In 1940 Broudy retired as a musician to become a manager for Warners. He was at their Shadyside theatre in that capacity at the time of his death.

at the time of his death.

He leaves his wife, three sons and daughter.

HENRIK GALLEN

HENRIK GALLEN

Henrik Galeen, 57, a former motion-picture producer in Europe, died in Rochester, Vt., July 30.

Born in Berlin, he was a German Army officer in the first World War. After the war he went to Sweden where he wrote and directed several motion pictures including "The Golem" and "Student of Prague."

Survived by wife, son and a Survived by wife, son and a daughter.

ROBERT LAMBERT

ROBERT LAMBERT
Robert Lambert, 56, veteran showman of Penacook, N. H., died July 22 at Ticonderoga, N. Y.
A native of East Hartford, Conn., he served in World War I and operated amisement enterprises in Penacook for many years. He was associated with the Continental Shows, Inc., and formerly managed Contocook River Park and the Penacook Roll-A-Way.

JOSEPH F. MORROW

Joseph Francis Morrow, 52, a member of Metro's Philadelphia sales staff since 1924, died in Forty Fort, Pa., July 29. He was in the motion picture industry since 1913 and for many years represented Metro in northeastern resented Me Pennsylvania.

Survived by wife, son and two daughters.

EDWIN HODGE

Edwin HODGE
Edwin Hodge, 61, former actor, died in New York, July 27.
Originally in dramatic stock, he later appeared on Broadway in "Funny Face," "The Merry Widow," "Oh, Promise Me" and "Lost Horizons." He last appeared in 1948 in "Look, Ma, I'm Dancin'."

FRANK TALBOT
Frank Talbot, 85, vet theatre
owner and manager in Melbourne, Australia, died there recently.
Talbot was the first Aussie exhib to introduce regular weekly pix at the old Glaciarium. He also produced one of the early Aussie pix,
"The Sentimental Bloke."
Survived by son and daughter.

HAL PERCY

Hal Percy, 53, noted Aussie comedian, and later a hit on radio in programs of the Australian Broadcasting Commission in Meibourne, died last week.

He leaves wife and a son.

CHARLES F. ROESER

CHARLES F. ROESER
Charles F. Roeser, 61, died in Fort Worth, Texas, recently. He was one of the owners of KFJZ, key station of the Texas State net-of Boston and had been in show business for many years.

Mrs. Margaret Blaine Damrosch, 82, wife of Walter Damrosch, noted orrhestral conductor, died at Bar Harbor, Me;, July 27. In addition to husband, she leaves three daughters and a sister.

Mrs. James B. (Bessie Isabel) Allen, founder and owner-operator of the Icelandia arena, Toronto, died there July 29. Survived by husband, Frederick O. Hutchinson, 65, retired superintendent of the Paramount studio laboratory, died July 24 in Hollywood.

Robert Mollencott, 80, St. Louis' oldest stagehand, died July 27 at the home of a daughter whom he was visiting in San Francisco.

Ramon Montoya, 69, w.k. guitar-ist, died in Madrid July 22. He had accompanied leading Spanish dan-cers with his music. cers with his music

Mother, 73, of Lilian Altert, head booker for the District Theatres Corp., died in Brooklyn, N. Y. July

Otis Marion Sebring, 74, who operated theatres in Shelburn and Sullivan, Ind., died July 22 in Shelburn.

Fritz Hart, 75, London-born di-rector of the Honolulu Symphony, died in Honolulu July 10.

Will Owen Carter, 72, formerly with Republic pictures in Indi-anapolis, died there July 24.

Cortland Fitzsimmons, 56, screen writer, died July 27 in Hollywood.

Theatre TV Continued from page 1

ings in support of the channel allocations. Since the FCC has set Sept. 2 as the date for receipt of answers to questions on theatre tele submitted to the Society of Motion Picture Engineers, Parameter of the Society of the Society of Motion Picture Engineers, Parameter of the Society of the S Motion Picture Engineers, Para-mount and 20th-Fox it is exepcted that the MPAA petition to the FCC will be filed by that time.

will be filed by that time.

MPAA's video committee faced considerable difficulty in convincing some member-companies of the wisdom of the move. Some of the majors showed no interest in the project but were convinced that, even if they did not plan to launch theatre TV at this time, they might be interested in the future; hence, the need for all-industry support. Others feared possible anti-trust implications in banding together for the application but were persuaded that other industries have similarly joined forces to petition the FCC.

Designed to serve on the sub-forces to petition the FCC.

Designed to serve on the subcommittee to implement yesterday's decision were Edward T.
Cheyfitz, secretary of the MPAA's tele committee and chief aide to prez Eric Johnston; Frank Cahill of Warners, and Theodore Black of Republic. Jack Cohn of Columbia and Sidney Schreiber, MPAA general counsel, were designated as ex-officio members.
Vesterday's meet was attended

Yesterday's meet was attended by delegates of all member-com-panies, together with most MPAA execs excepting Johnston, who is now on the Coast. MPAA veepee now on the Coast. MPAA v Francis S. Harmon presided.

St. Loo Cops

Continued from page 1 =

whom he has made many friends has blunted his broadcasting in the opinion of many fans. Statistically has blunted his broadcasting in the opinion of many fans. Statistically minded, Caray keeps up an almost ceaseless chatter and many local dialers have noted in recent weeks how he has almost crowded Charles ("Gabby" Street, who does the analyzing of the games as they progress, out of the picture. Because of the closeness of the flag race the suds maker sent Caray and Street to Brooklyn for flag race the suds maker sent Caray and Street to Brooklyn for Caray and Street to Brooklyn for recent series that resuited in Cardinals capturing first place in the race. It was the first time the bankroiler sent the pair out of town this season, all such games previously having been aired via W.U. telegraph service. Last season Caray and Street made a swing around the circuit at the tail end of the season.

was one of the owners of KFJZ.
key station of the Texas State network.

NICHOLAS GLYNN
Nicholas Glynn, 85, former blackface comedian, died July 26 in Concord, N. H. He was a native midwest states.

MARRIAGES

Gail Russell to Guy Madison, Santa Barbara, July 31. Both are screen players.

Muriel Aiian to Robert Casey, Jr., New York, July 31. Bride is nitery dancer recently at the Copa-cabana, N. Y.

Mimi Benzell to Walter Gould.
Derby, Conn., July 29. Bride is operatic and concert singer; he's a concert manager and brother of Morton Gould, conductor-com-

Mildred June Chernoff to Irving Goldstein, New York, July 29. Bride is with WSA, Huntington, W. Va.

Rita Foran to Brian O'Higgins, ubbin, July 24. Both are with the bbey Theatre Co.

Margaret E. MacKenzie to Robert

Berry, Rochester, N. H., July Bride is a secretary at radio tion WMOU in Berlin, N. H.; 's an announcer at WWNH. station he's an announcer Rochester, N. Y.

Mildred Jocelyn to Dick Weaver. New York, July 4. Bride is a legit actress; he's a legit-pix pressagent. Trudy Marlon to Jerry Packer. New York, July 29. Bride is one of Marlon Sisters, vaude team; he's with the Jane Pickens airer.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Brinkley, son. Chicago, July 26. Father is assist-ant program director at WBBM, Chi.

Chi.
Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Bussey, son
New York, July 25. Mother is actress Irra Petina.
Mr. and Mrs. Mitton Charles, son, Burbank, Cal., July 27. Father is a screen writer.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Michelson, son, New York, July 28. Father is head of the transcription firm bearing his name.

son, New York, July 28. Father is head of the transcription firm bearing his name.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dmytryk.
son. London, July 25. Mother is film actress Jean Porter; father is a film producer.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Stirton. son. Oak Park, Ill., July 26. Father is general manager of ABC-TV Central Division in Chl.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lieberson, son, New York, July 29. Father is exec editor in charge of comics for Fawcett Publications.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Potter, son. Hollywood, July 31. Mother is songstress Beryl Davis; father is disk jockey with KFWB there.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Luden, daughter, July 31, Hartford, Conn. Father is continuity director for WTIC there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brooks. son, in New York, Aug. 2. Father is film buyer for Fabian circuit.

Yen for Disk Rep Continued from page 1

mand guarantees and royalties that cannot be paid under a 49c that cannot be paid under a 49c price tag.

It's quite possible that among the new talent bought by the three new labels will be a number of bands. Agencies are offering combos that are known as "territorial" orchestras and others that never had a crack at making recordings before. And it's felt among agencies, and among some recording men, that when and if these bands begin making recordings, the way will at least be open for new band names to click, which could set up a situation making it possible for the band business to stage a comeback.

back.
It's figured that the 49c labels will use bands that couldn't even secure contracts from indie labels.
If a non-name singer is secured by one of the cheaper disk lines, he or she must be be supplied with arrangements rangements and backgrounding, paid for by the disk company, but in buying a band, all these things come in the package, including a singer. Which is the reason the 49c labels will use bands.

Fields' Reissues

Continued from page 3

ed to be only miid. After the Fields boom started, Realart pulled the combo and replaced "Crazy House" with "Bank Dick" and that parley is currently racking big grosses. Realart has prepped another Fields package. "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break" and "You Can't Cheat an Honest Man" which will hit the theatres in the fail, timed with the Doubleday book.

the Doubleday book.

U figures in the take because it originally made the four films and still holds residuary rights. Under the terms of its sale of a block of pix, including the Fields features, to Realart, it collects royalties from the outfit.

'Variety' vs. SWG

Continued from page 1

suit dismissed for failure to state definite cause of action.

Edward C. Raftery, counsel for VARIETY, answered briefly the lengthy arguments of Morris Cohn, lawyer for the SWG, and Judge Hall ruled in favor of the N. Y. iawyer (of O'Brien, Driscoll, Raftery & Lawier, regular counsel to VARIETY), VARIETY and DAILY VARIETY "had a claim for relief," VARIETY "had a claim for relief," the judge ruled, "by alleging a combination to restrain the trade in the sale and purchase of advertising." He described the Guild's action in barring its members from advertising as "an absolute prohibition of trade."

Coherent of trade.

Colin argued that the Sherman Act was "designed to prevent detriment to the public" and claimed that the SWG members were "just like lawyers, dentists and doctors in refusing to advertise."

Judge Hall Sees Violations

Judge Hall Sees Violations
Judge Hall answered this by pointing out that "since the writer is not free to contract this is a violation of the Sherman Act."
He declared that any group of people could get together and agree not to do something, without any provision for enforcing that agree ment and they would be within the law. Since there was an enforcement provision, providing definite punishment, in the SWG's advertising boycott rule, he said this was "an effective means of an economic strangulation."
"Is it a violation for a group of

"Is it a violation for a group of people to agree among themselves not to use a particular commodity?" Cohn asked.

"The question 'has a man a right to earn a living?' is also involved here," Judge Hall replied. "The function of the Sherman Act is to permit commerce to be free and competitive."

Judge Hall also ruled that the public interest was at stake in the suit, rejecting Cohn's argument that it was not. The jurist stated that the "allegations in the suit go to the public interest."

to the public interest."

Cohn had sought to have a vital portion of the complaint stricken and Judge Hall also ruled against him on this point. Matter here dealt with an aliegation in the trade papers' complaint that the SWG, while exercising a general trade advertising boycott, solicited such advertising of writers in its own publication. The Screen Writer (now defunct).

Raftery successfully opposed.

Raftery successfully opposed Cohn's attempt to have that angle eliminated from the complaint. Judge Hall gave the SWG 60 days in which to file an answer to his rulings or to enter a plea to the suit.

VARIETY and DAILY nspiracy suit asks r variety and Dally Variety conspiracy suit asks no money damages, It simply requests that the Federal Court enjoin the SWG from enforcing a boycott on tradepers, not just Variety (weekly) and its Dally Variety (locally published) published).

Variety Bills

Jimmy Lewis
Manhattan Paul
The Blenders
Shotsie Davis
Andre & Dorthee
Tini Benson
Lucille Dixon Ore

Versaliles Susan Wayne Bob Grant Ore

Panchito Orc
Village Barn
Bob Scott
Mary Ellen 4
Abbey Albert Orc
Village Vanguare
Mary Lou Williams
J C Heard 3
Walderf-Asteria
Freddy Martin Orc
Mischa Borr Ore

CHICAGO

Blackhawk
Al Trace Ore
Jackie Van
Bob Vincent
Cher Paree
Jackie Miles
Betty Reilly
Adorables (10)
Cee Davidson Ore
Anita Martell
Entry
De-Betty Atkinson Charles Hain Wonder Wheelers Brinckmann Sis. Skating Blydears Charles & Lucille Jack Raffloer Jerry Mapes G & B Du Ray Gloria Bondy Buddy Rust of the state of th Palmer House Sid Caesar Maria Neglia Fosse & Niles

Hofel Bismark Leni Lynn Joe labell B & J Bradley Johnny Brewer O H Edgewater Beach Claude Thornhill O Marianne Fedele Paul Haakon D Hild Danegas Yed Mibassadors Morel Braden Braden William Company William C

Fosse & Niles
Ted Straeter Ore
Sherman Motel
flarry Hall
Bill Snyder Ore
"Salute to Rodgers & Hammerstein"
Honey Dreamers
Raiph Sterling
Kenneth Mackenzie
Dusty Worrall

A NEW CONCERT STAR! HILDEGARDE CREATES NEW STYLE IN STRAWHATS!

AROUND BOSTON

. . in the handsome auditorium of the Marblehead High School-the theatrehome of the North Shore Players-an elegant audience, gay in Summer finery, sat rapt and still while Hildegarde, always the incomparable, worked the magic of a superb performance."

Fantastic Hit

"This is a new kind of show business!

"And it certainly is, for never before has a star of such magnitude prepared such a concert recital to play, in of all places, a Summer theatre! And, curiously, everyone connected with it will make plenty of money. It's a cinch to be a fantastic hit.

money. It's a cinch to be a fantastic hit.
"To begin with, it is magnificently pro-

"'Hilda,' herself, is magnificent in two sensational gowns and with two changes for every performance!"

Sell-Out Assured

"The show runs for at least two hours, with an intermission, and the audience was truly as select as at an opera opening, with notables coming in from all along the North Shore. And every night will be the same, with a sell-out practically assured."

-George W. Clarke, Boston Evening American.

HILDEGARDE SCORES HIT

"Impressarios who look beyond present narrow summer theatre horizons in an effort to give a shot in the arm to summer theatre fare deserve some kind of an accolade, so here's to Blake Johnson, 2nd, and John L. Watson, of the North Shore Play-It takes courage for gentlemen who pay the bills to boldly depart from familiar paths and these two had it. They brought Hildegarde, popularly known night club entertainer, to the Marblehead this week and it's nice to report that Hildegarde and the audiences aren't letting them down.

"A full evening's entertainment in the theatre is an adventure along uncharted trails for Hildegarde, too. Her act has gone over 'big' in the more intimate confines of night clubs and hotel dinner shows, but these appearances are 30 minute stints at their longest and an evening in the theatre requires an undiminished tempo of entertainment of well over an hour for an audience whose demands are not lulled by good food and its fizzy accompaniment.

"Hildegarde met the challenge handsomely for a capacity first night audience in her initial repertoire and after intermis-sion she not only met this challenge but that of dead microphones and the chuffing of the 10:40 train .

"Hildegarde sets herself a breakneck tempo and keeps up with it; a song such as 'There's No Business Like Show Business,' a quiet bit of nostalgia like 'My Heart Sings,' a rolstering 'See That You're Born in Texas,' and sandwiching them, a few corny jokes, relished because of the mix-ture of corn and flashing Hildegarde per-

"She is equally effective at the piano in solos and duets with Director Gloe.
"The opening night audience liked it very much."

—A. E. Watts, Boston Travele (July 27, 1949)

THEATRE NORTH SHORE PLAYERS

HILDEGARDE

HILDEGARDE

"This is a summer season full of novelties and unexpected pleasures, not the least of which, when the records are finally in for 1949, will be the engagement of the celebrated Hildegarde this week under the auspices of the North Shore Players at Marbiehead. Hildegarde, as an entertainer par excellence in the more elegant supper clubs and hotels, has won fame and fortune on the radio and through her many recordings, but last night was the first occasion when she had played in this vicinity before an audience in a regular theatre. The size of the Marbiehead Auditorium, which certainly lacks the intimacy of a night club and is indeed formidable in its dimensions, provided a considerable challenge in itself, and since enterprise and courage are to be commended in the theatre as elsewhere it is pleasant to report that the evening went off extremely well.

"Hildegarde, wherever she appears, is a masterly entertainer, even when she is making the carefully rehearsed seem impromptu... Her appearance is engaging and attractive. Her costumes are striking, especially a lovely white satin gown sewn with sequins and she adapts her style adroitly from the softly sentimental to the lustily patriotic or cheerfully comic.

"The style of show that she presents is an enlarged version of her supper club act, running for close on two hours and consisting of a series of songs and piano selections. "Among Hildegarde's many assets are her generally good diction and power of projection which appeared to carry even her most intimate numbers to the back of the hall."

—Elinor Hughes,

The Boston Herald.

Elinor Hughes, The Boston Herald. (July 26, 1949)

HILDEGARDE PLEASANT SUMMER SEASON SURPRISE

"Hildegarde sans a hefty nightclub tab and a 'head' the next morning is one of the pleasantest surprises of the current 'straw-hat' season. Imagine her, she begs you to imagine, playing in a schoolhouse!

"For this very snazzy darling of the night-clubs and the smart hotel supper-rooms is doing just that ... playing to capacity in the Marblehead High School Auditorium under the sponsorship of her manager, the celebrated Anna Sosenko, in association with the North Shore Players.
"It is Hildegarde's first and only summer celebrated Anna Sosenko, in association with the North Shore Players.

"It is Hildegarde's first and only summer theatre appearance, Judged from this week's informal airing along the Mosquito Circuit, Hildegarde should be a hit on Broadway. The customers are extravagant-ly vocal about her and her highly-original-for-the-theatre show.

"It is doubtful if any other summer theatre production has assayed even a fraction of the intermission sidewalk debating chalked up by this hotter-than-hot 'straw-hat' novelty.

"... adds her pianistic skill to an act that delighted the seat-holders no end.
"Appearing in a series of her customarily low-hung, strapless, clinging-as-the-skin-ona-peach gowns, the begloved charmer of a chanteuse beguiled the evening away for possibly one of the most appreciative audiences her showmanship has ever assembled... Hildegarde's enormous capacity for bringing the utmost in showmanship to her performance has built this ambitious girl from Milwaukee into the world's highest paid woman entertainer."

—Peggy Doyle,

Boston Evening American.
(July 27, 1943)

Continued On Page 51

MY BOSTON

"Hildegarde (there's that gal again') proved to be even better on the stage at the Marblehead summer theatre, in her two-hour one woman show than she has been in the Oval and Terrace Rooms . . On opening night it was remarkable how she held the attention of the audience of 1,000 for an hour and 47 minutes, with one intermission. I have never heard so much favorable comment in a theatre lobby. Evidently most of those present were seeing Hildy for the first time . . The sound system failed after the first act but the lady from Milwaukee survived that ordeal with flying colors. It was nice seeing her up on a stage instead of on a supper room floor and I hope she continues in the theatre. Frankly, the Marblehead audience was spellbound."

-Alan Frazer, Boston Evening American. (July 27, 1949)

NEW FARE AT LOCAL SUMMER THEATRES

Hildegarde Gives Her One-Woman Show for North Shore Players

"Hildegarde, the one and only, is prob-ably the hardest working woman in show business, this week.

ably the hardest working woman in show business, this week.

"For this, her first Summer theatre appearance, the public is rallying loyally and in large numbers.

"Hildegarde has that energy, that drive and forceful personality which deposit an audience in the palm of her hand in somewhat less than no time at all.

"When she announces some of her old favorite numbers like "There's No Business Like Show Business,' 'It's a Great Big, Wonderfål World' or "The Last Time I Saw Parls,' a loud, anticipatory gasp goes 'round the house. When she tackles that conventional ingredient of supper club humor, the sexy Innuendo, she does it slyly and gaily. Which is pleasurably different from laying it on with a trowel.

"How Hildegarde can keep up her whirlwind pace for more than two hours beats me. But she does, running from patter to song to piano pleces."

—Cyrus Durgin,

The Boston Daily Globe.

-Cyrus Durgin, The Boston Daily Globe. (July 27, 1949)

AT THE THEATRES

North Shore Players

"In the history of the Summer theatre, July 25, 1949, is already a red letter day. It was then that the North Shore Players scored their greatest pioneering success with the premiere theatre presentation of Hilldegarde, truly one of the most scintillating and thoroughly delightful entertainers of our time. You have to see it to believe it!

ers of our time. You have to see it to believe it!
"Though she has been a star in radio for a long time, it was obvious after only five or 10 minutes last night that this girl's best entertaining medium is 'in person.' She leaves you a little breathless, not only with her vivacity and versatility, but also with her sparkling charm and natural beauty. "With Hildegarde, all the traditions of the Summer theatre go out the window. No longer will producers and managers have to be content with straight plays, new or old. From now on, they can point to the

(Continued on Page 51)

Published Weskly at 154 West 46th Street, New York 19, N. Y., by Variety, Inc. Annual subscription, $10. Single copies, 25 cents.

Entered as second class matter December 22, 1905, at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

COPYRIGHT, 1949, BY VARIETY, INC. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

VOL. 175 No. 9

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1949

PRICE 25 CENTS

R CHEESE

Goodson-Todman's Dept. Store

Translating into cold statistics the Mark Goodson-Bill Todman into character and current popularity of the shows.

The Goodson-Todman combo adds up to the biggest merchandising stunt in show business. They give away, via their multiple showcasings, $3,000,000 in merchandise a year—on "Hit the Jackpot," "Winner Take All," "Stop the Music" (in association with another big league giveaway operator, Lou Cowan), "Beat the Clock," "Time's a Wastin" and "Spin to Win."

That's enough merchandise to stock a good sized department store and keep it running for 10 years.

Continuous Action Filming, Via Video Technique, May Solve Kine Problem

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Revolutionary new method of fim lensing that may be the answer to television's kinescope problems and eventually be picked up for major film production has been developed by indie producer Jerry Fairbanks.

Combining the veloped by indie producer Jerry Fairbanks.

Combining the best advantages of both video and film shooting, the system permits a picture to be lensed in continuous action, even with cuts from one camera to another. In addition, the director can see, via a remote control monitor similar to that used by TV directors, what each camera is recording at all times. By equipping his cameramen with earphones, he can call the shots as he wants them. also as in a live TV show.
Finished product, being basically straight film, provides just as good quality as any motion picture. With Hollywood stars and their studios still complaining about the poor quality of kinescoping, Fairbanks believes his system may be the answer to luring them into TV. Test prints have shown the system can provide better lighting, sound and (Continued on page 63)

(Continued on page 63)

Cugat Paid Off in Coffee, Realty—Everything But Yanqui $ on S.A. Tour

Xavier Cugat is sitting on a pile of coffee beans.

Xavier Cugat is sitting on a pile of coffee beans.

As the payoff for his recent seven-months tour through Latin America, the rhumba maestro amassed enough java to fill every cup in the Automat chain for a solid month. Typifying the dollar famine by junketing American artists, Cugat collected coffee in Rio, real estate in Montevideo and frozen pesos everywhere south-of-the-border. But very little in hard coin of the realm.

Cugat, who's planning another swing through South America plus Europe next January, will probably find himself the owner of a chateau as a result. The chateau, or $25,000 per week in olive oii, has been proffered to the rhumbalst in lieu of dollars for a tour through Spain.

Summing up his recent circuit, Cugat said the Latin people "love Jazz but are about 10 years behind (Continued on page 63)

(Continued on page 63)

Decca's Q.T. 15th Anni In Deference to Jack Kapp Cincinnati, Aug. 9.

Decca Records quietly marked its 15th anniversary last Thursday (4). There was no celebration and no press promotion arranged. Company's executives and some of its other employees got together in one of the recording stu-dios, and that was all.

Lid placed on the occasion pre-sumably was due to the recent death of Jack Kapp, president and founder of the company.

CBS Has Edge On TV World Series

Cincinnati, Aug. 9. Possibility that the World Series this year will be carried by a single

this year will be carried by a single television network, instead of being open on a pooled basis to all comers as it was last year, is expected to give the honors to CBS.

Both radio and TV rights to the Series were sewed up for Mutual on a several-years' deal by Edgar Kobak a few years ago when he was Mutual prexy. Mutual thus still holds the rights and, with Frank White, former Columbia Records chief, now at the MBS helm, it's expected that CBS will get first crack, since Mutual will not have a video network in operation by Series time. CBS similarly carried the All-Star baseball game on an exclusive basis last month. While Gillette will sponsor the was Mutual prexy. Mutual this still holds the rights and, with Frank White, former Columbia Records chief, now at the MBS helm. it's expected that CBS willing first crack, since Mutual will not have a video network in operation by Series time. CBS similarly carried the All-Star baseball game on an exclusive basis last month. While Gillette will sponsor the Series on Mutual AM, assignment of the TV rights has not been made, but it is expected the safety razor firm will be in the bankroller's seat on both media. With the coaxial cable now extended to all major league baseball cities, all games of the Series will be available to every inter-connected city no matter which two teams play. Because there was no cable link between the east and west in 1948. games played in Boston were not seen by midwest viewers and those played in Cleveland were not available to setowners in the east.

RADIO ALSO SEEN NEEDING GLAMOR

The complaints are mounting in radio and television circles, par-ticularly in the reahn of TV, that the basic ingredient of show business-giamor-is being bypassed.

As a result, both media at a time when it's necessary to put their best show biz foot forward, are becoming hogtied with an over-abundance of "talk, talk, talk" shows that are driving the viewer and the listener away.

and the listener away.

Those whose interest in the perpetuation of a solid radio structure and the development of video programming with an eye toward boxoffice and ratings grounded in an appreciation of inherent show business values complain that both radio and television are taking the lazy and easy way out. They accuse the AM and TV programming impresarios of lacking the courage to step in and take over where once the Dillinghams and the Ziegfelds reigned.

As one complainant put it: "Let's

As one complainant put it: "Let's stop kidding ourselves; just as the stage was deeply rooted in glamor, girls, cheesceake, or whatever you want to call it, so it will go for video. That's always been the drawing card, and always will be. "But instead what are we getting, with but few minor exceptions. One forum show after another: one dramatic show after another. There's nothing but gab, gab. Dramatle shows and the so-called whodunits will and must "Continued on page 61).

(Continued on page 61)

'Big 3' Continue Hot Pace Despite B'way 'Dog Days'

Vaude Forces Burley to Dress Up; See Strippers Stripped of Action

Al Jolson Envisions 3d Biopic; Israeli Locale

Al Jolson, now in New York on a personal appearance buildup tour for the world preem Aug. 17 of "Jolson Sings Again" at Loew's State, N. Y., has an idea for a second sequel to the original "Jolson Story." Its locale would be in Israel.

Israel.

Having had his rather rich life immortalized in celluloid in the two pix, Jolson figures that his activities in the next two or three years on behalf of the youngest member of the United Nations, coupled with his still fertite show biz anthology, would be a sturdy story basis for a possible third pic for Columbia Pictures production.

NBC Shoots For Pinza and Martin

NBC has made overtures to Mary Martin and Ezlo Plnza, stars of the "South Pacific" musical smash, to do a half-hour weekly nighttime show.

Miss Martin says she's not anxious to do a regular air series, but will reconsider if a proper format can be worked out and a good Sunday spot found. Pinza's willing to go along, but up tili now he's held out for a $4.000 fee on any air commitments ("Telephone Hour," etc.).

NBC's idea would be to combine both light classical and pops, with the Martin and Pinza combo carrying on a light dialog line. If proposed program can be worked out, NBC will submit it to agencles for reaction on commercial nibbles and then decide whether or not to schedule it as a sustainer.

BEA LILLIE TALKING TO LOGAN ON TUNER

Beatrice Lillie has been taiking to Joshua Logan about a musical. possibly for this season. Comedi-enne, who sails Friday (12) for England aboard the Queen Mary, is tentatively set to resume her tour in "Inside U, S. A" in Octo-She'll be back in six weeks, but has not signed a contract to resume in "U. S. A."

sume in "U. S. A."

Miss Lillie knows nothing about a report that John van Druten is writing a musical comedy book for her. Van Druten, currently in Europe, will be represented on Broadway this fall by Alfred de-Liagre, Jr.'s production of his new play, "Bell, Book and Candle."

Chicago, Aug. 9.

Burlesque is due for a "new look" when the eastern wheel formerly the Izzy Hirst circuit) and its midwest counterpart teeff for the 1949-50 season around Aug.

for the 1949-50 season around Aug. 26.
Probably activated by vaude's comeback, the burley brass and its impresarios figure they'll have to dress up the format in forthcoming season. Just how they'll do it is still the $64 question, but as one of the toppers of the wheels put it, the girl-and-giggle shows will now have to really give them something what with vaude's mushrooming to the hinterlands, where in past seasons the burleys were the only flesh exhibits to hit those territories.

Showmen of the circuits are con-

the only flesh exhibits to hit those territories.

Showmen of the circuits are convinced that the plethora of strips has run its cycle and that In few spots the stag audlences are insufficient to keep wickets turning at profitable pace. Also, many of the circuit houses are of limited capacity that would practically render them useless for policies other than grind pix—and they don't want that to happen.

Some operators are plugging for a change nearer burley's original format of book shows spaced by a vaude olio, with more accent on comedy and less stripping. They solidify this argument through claiming that all the strippers have branched into other and more profitable fields and that the Jenny-come-latelys seemingly prefer the cafe dates to a Cook's tour with the wheel shows. If the thought holds, more attention will also be given to comedians with peelers not entirely limboed but (Continued on page 63)

(Continued on page 63)

TV Color Too Hot For Sarnoff, Sees Long Life for AM

Hollywood, Aug. 9. David Sarnoff, high man at RCA-David Sarnoff, high man at RCA-NHC, undoubtedly has some very definite ideas about color televi-sion and when it will break, but he is discreetly reticent about sharing lis thoughts with anyone else, Asked point-blank about tinting-the-vid, he replied, "No, that sub-ject is too controversial; I'd rather wait until the facts are developed at the FCC hearings."

al the FCC hearings."

Here for a week following his encampment with NBC's western division chief, sid Strotz, at Bohenian Grove up north, Sarnoff termed his visit "a general inspection trip." He looked over the NBC layout in Frisco and Hollywood and said he liked what he saw: KNBH's teevee signal in Hollywood is the best he saw, which concurs with the Hollywood consensus.

consensus.

As for radio, he thinks it has a good many years left and "will always be welcome and needed." He's due to return east this week.

Spa Biz Blah as Easy Money Scrams Saratoga; Resort Bids for Masses

Saratoga Springs. Aug. 9.
The disappointing take at Saratoga Springs follows the trend made evident in Miami Beach and made evident in Miami Beach and other luxury resorts, indicating that nearly all high-priced spanust get down to the price level of the masses or go dark. The tera of angling trade to the big spenders is virtually over, operators feel.

Saratoga is the Saratoga in the saratoga is the saratoga in the s

Saratoga is the latest instance of the evaporation of the free and easy coin. It's true that there are more vacationers this year than of the evaporation of the free and easy coin. Its true that there are more vacationers this year than in previous annums—but it's also evident that there's less money being spent. Track attendance is above last season, but the handle is somewhat lower. The attendants at the $50 windows have enough leisure to finish "Gone with the Wind" but the boys at the $2 windows are constantly on the go. The beaneries are doing the majority of business while swank restaurants are catering to a comparative few.

Indications that the fast money is on the wane is seen by the long line of taxicabs waiting to take customers to the track at $1.50 a head. The hackies are hawking for all they're worth in an effort to make the short Saratoga season pay off. The trade is slim, but the 10c busses make departures every few minutes.

Another indication of the declining opulence of the spa is seen in the sparse lobby crowds of the major hotels. The smaller inns and the rooming louses are doing comfortable business.

and the rooming houses are doing comfortable business.

Like Miami Beach, Saratoga businessmen are wondering whether

(Continued on page 63)

WANGER SET TO ROLL GARBO'S ITALO PIC

Walter Wanger returned to the Coast over the weekend after 10 days in New York endeavoring to set his financial arrangements for filming of the Greta Garbo-starrer. "Duchess of Langcaise," in Italy. He consummated no deals, but will be back east in about a week to set final details.

Producer has set a budget of $1.000,000 on the picture, of which he needs about $300.000 in dollars and the rest in lire, francs and pounds. He discussed a number of deals with outfits with frozen coin, but has not come to a decision on any yet.

coin, but has not come to a de-cision on any yet.

One of the factors involved is the distribution. Wanger may make a deal for release of the pic which will include supply of for-eign currencies by the distrib. Producer plans shooting in Italy and France with editing and lab work to be done in England.

Calleia's London Play

Calleia's London Play Principally active in films the past 15 years, Joseph Calleia returns to legit next month when he co-stars in Leon Gordon's new play, "Till the-Thaw," Piece will be presented at London's West End with Wanda Rotha handling the femme lead.
Long a freelancer, Calleia just completed a stint in Columbia's "Palomino," a western which Robert Cohn produced. The veteran actor plans to remain abroad at least a year regardless of the length of "Thaw's" run. Title, incidentally, is a tentative one.

length of "Thaw's" run. Tincidentally, is a tentative one.

Appeals Petitions On Trumbo, Lawson In Wash, This Week

- Washington, Aug. 9. Charles Houston, of counsel for Dalton Trumbo and John Howard Lawson, said he has heard from the Coast that the appeals petitions for Trumbo and Lawson should be in Washington by Thursday (11). The petitions and briefs will ask the Supreme Court to hear an appeal on the conviction of the Hollywood scripters from their contempt of Congress conviction.

viction.

Friday is the last day for filing the petitions with the high court. It is expected to rule some time in October whether it will take the case. Lawson and Trumbo were convicted in federal district court, here, and their convictions were upheld by the U. S. court of appeals. The other eight "unfriendly witnesses" have waived their trials and have agreed to abide by whatever is the outcome of these two cases.

'The 10' Retain Milton Diamond Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Milton Diamond, of N. Y. law firm of Poletti, Diamond, Freidin & Mackay, with whom Franklin D.
Roosevelt, Jr., and Bartley Crum are associated, has been retained by the "Unfriendly 10" to work out terms in any attempts at settlement of the $60,000,000 in suits they have against film companles growing out of contract suspensions and firings following their failure to answer $64 question before Un-American Activities Committee last year. mittee last year.

Diamond was here recently with Diamond was here recently with young Roosevelt, when latter, recently elected to Congress, spoke before United Jewish Welfare fund meeting in Beverly Hills. Diamond conferred with Robert W. Kenney, Charles Katz and Ben Margolis, local counsel for "the 10" at that time. Crum has been associated in the suits since the beginning. beginning.

If no settlement comes suits will continue, with hearings possibly

Burns & Allen's First London Date in 12 Yrs.

George Burns and Gracie Allen, who sailed for Britain last week on the Queen Elizabeth, will make their first vaude appearance in 12 years when they open a two-week stand at the London Palladium shortly after their arrival. Couple's last stint at the British house was in 1934.

in 1934.

Comedy team, of course, did numerous cuffo p.a.'s for camp shows during the war. With the windup of the Palladium booking the pair goes to Paris for vacationing, then returns to the U. S. via plane. They're set for a CBS airer which starts Sept. 21 bankrolled by Ammodeln.

Ben Blue and composer Rudolf Friml also sailed for Britain on the Elizabeth, former likewise to ap-pear at the Palladium.

VARIETY

374th WEEK!

3,812 Performances
All-time long run record in the legitimate theatre. KEN MURRAY'S

"BLACKOUTS OF 1949" El Capitan Theatre, Hollywood, Cal. And now in world-wide release
"BILL AND COO"
Ken Murray's
Academy Award Film

TV Test Case On Old 'Hopalongs

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.

Test suit to determine TV rights in old films, made under forms of contracts in vogue before video loomed importantly, is currently being fought here. It involves the tele rights in 13 "Hopalong Cassidy" westerns being reissued by Masterpiece Productions, N. Y.

Jules Weil, Masterpiece topper, has brought the action in California superior court against Toby Anguish, indie TV producer on the Coast. He seeks a declaratory judgment and damages in an amount to be determined later. Anguish claims to own the TV rights to the 13 oaters via a deal made with Clarence E. Mulford, who wrote the original yarns; Doubleday, which published them, and Bill Boyd, star of the pix, who owned a piece of them.

Interpretation of the old standard form of contract is Involved, with the result providing an important precedent. Anguish claims that Weil did not obtain videorights when he bought the reissues from United Artists, which in turn had acquired them from Paramount. Leonard E. Meyerberg, his counsel, maintains that Mulford, Doubleday and Boyd had reserved TV rights when they sold the films.

Irwin Margulies, attorney for Masternies in the reserved for the contract of the contract of the contract of the contract of the means of the films.

reserved TV rights when they sold the films.
Irwin Margulies, attorney for Masterpiece, interprets the contract to mean Mulford, et al., reserved rights only in the literary material, not in the finished pictures themselves. In other words, he contends, Anguish has the sole right to use of the "Hopalong" character and yarns for new TV films or live action shows, but Masterpiece got the TV rights in the 13 pictures when it bought them.

Personal Services, Such As U.S. Talent, Exempted From Britain's $ Curbs

London, Aug. 9.

London, Aug. 9.

Britain's latest dollar-saving campaign, which originally was reported to have clamped a threemonth ban on importation of Amercian artists, won't affect U. S. talent after all. Treasury points out that the step exempts personal services and therefore performers fail to come within its scope.

In disclosing the austerity measure early last week, the Treasury's first announcement through its official spokesmen gave an erroneous nrst announcement through its of-ficial spokesmen gave an erroneous picture of the situation. Later the government agency hastened to advise the press that the new re-striction won't hit American talent in any way.

Deanna Durbin, U End 13-Year Assn.

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Deanna Durbin ends 13-year association with Universal Sept. 1.
Deal to star her in coin-unfreezing film abroad has been abandoned.
She hasn't made a picture during past year, although she drew $300,000 in salary. No new deals set.

Malvern, England.

Understand on high authority that Luxembourg is going to become the GHQ for the Atlantic Pact, and that Perle Mesta, the newly appointed U. S. Minister there, will soon be named Ambassador. The joint High Command, now headquartered at Gen. Montered and the command of the comm sador. The joint High Command, now headquartered at Gen. Montagomery's Chateau de la Riviere at Fontainbleu, will be transferred to Luxembourg, and in time its affairs administered by a group of three: the French General Koenig. British Air Marshall Tedder and General Eisenhower. Gen. de Gaulle would have been chosen as Supreme Commander if he had not played politics so much.

played politics so much.

England's game now seems to be: If you don't continue to help us with our ERP deficits, we'll play neutral in the next war! My own survey of three weeks in England assures me Labor will win the next election—if no war comes about beforehand. Labor's win won't be as great as it was last time, but its majority will be comfortable. fortable.

fortable.

A week in London, two in the provinces, convinces us if you have to live in England, be sure you live in the provinces. This applies also to London. For although we had comfortable rooms with baths at Grosvenor House, the food situation is deplorable. And although the Labor Govt. has fixed the price of meals there are always means of circumventing them. For instance on all hotel bills of fare it is stated no more than five shillings can be paid for dinner; but at the same time a "cover charge" of six shillings per person is added; and at paid for dinner; but at the same time a "cover charge" of six shillings per person is added; and at the end of this meal a "surcharge" of two shillings six pence, bringing the $1 meal up to almost three bucks per head. This same fee is tacked onto each meal; and in addition to all of this a "service 'surcharge'" is added at the end of the stay. Our floor servants troom waiters, valet, maid, etc.) all assured us they received not one penny of this extra surcharge, so of course we must tip them lavishly too. But the infuriated management informs us, the floor servants were lying: "We cut them in on every surcharge."

every surcharge."

A week at the Grosvenor House—photographing London, buying clothes at Norman Hartnell's and Austin Reed and Selfridge's; then two weeks in the country, one of them at the rambling comfortable Abbey Hotel in Great Malvern, near the center of England, and the other at the spacious, well operated Moorelands at Hindhead, 45 minutes south of London, three miles from Chequers (the Prime Minister's summer home) and within easy radius of Ascot, Eton, Windsor, Henley as well as all the South Coast resorts.

Though food makes little difference to some, we find this difference to some.

Though food makes little difference to some, we find this difference very important in Europe today, especially important in England. The food at Malvern and Hindhead was as good as any on the Continent away from England. The rates, service and accommodations commensurate. Having stayed at hoth the Abbey and the Moses. The rates, service and accommodations commensurate. Having stayed at both the Abbey and the Mooreland pre-both-wars I felt certain their service would hold up. It has. From Malvern I have commuted daily to the southern and the northern coal mines and steel pits of Wales; to the textile towns (Manchester, Birmingham, Coventry, Rugby, Chester, Leicester, Nottingham, Worcester) of the Midlands; to the farming country of Stratford-on-Avon, Broadway, Upton - on - Severn, Shrewsbury, Tewksbury, Wolverhamton and Bridgnorth. From Hindhead we have been as far west as Torquay and Plymouth, Bath and Bristol; east to Folkeston, Chichester, Canterbury and Brighton. We have run the gamut of the elements, with rain every day save five, and only two days with the thermometer about 80.

Cantor to Huddle Todd on '2-a-Day'

Paris, Aug. 9.
When Eddie Cantor arrives on the Queen Mary tomorrow (Wed.) in New York he will huddle with Mike Todd on the George Jessel. Ethel Merman-Cantor setup for the producer's proposed "Two-A-Day" at the Winter Garden on Broadway, Cantor wants to do several personals—he has a number of repeat fair dates set—and will bear down on "Take It or Leave It" (Eversharp) which he is privileged to tape-record for NBC.
Cantor was in Cannes 10 days.

tape-record for NBC.

Cantor was in Cannes 10 days where he did a guester with Maurice Chevalier on the latter's MBS "So This Is Paris" series. The comedian's opinion of the Riviera "It's Grossinger's, Lindy's, Hollywood, Broadway and not French Chevalier works with a studio audience and Cantor observed that "it sounded like Loew's State."

Cantor felt out Chevalier on television and found that the French star—like so many in America—"wants the big boys to experiment for a year and then maybe I can benefit by what they find out."

NEXT SHAW-PASCAL PIC 'ANDROCLES' (KERR)

George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion." with Deborah Kerr starred, has been set by Gabriel Pascal as his next proboral Kerr's started, has been set production. He plans to film it in Italy early next year, taking advantage of natural settings provided by the old ruins for the yam localed in ancient Rome.

Pascal has picked up the one-picture option on Miss Kerr's services that he retained when he turned her contract over to Metro several years ago. Producer, who has an agreement with Shaw giving him sole rights to film the playwright's works, is currently at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. He underwent an operation there about two weeks ago and will be laid up for another couple weeks.

Florence George Back From European Tour

Concert singer Florence George trained to the Coast over the weekend after arriving in New York last Wednesday (3) from a three-month European tour. Accompanying her west was her husband. Everett Crosby, brother and manager of Bing, who also made the swing through Continental capitals.

A coloratura, Miss George sang at such overseas meccas as St. Andrews Hall, Glasgow, and the Drottningholm theatre, Stockholm. In regard to Bing's activities, Everett Crosby said there was little chance that his brother would make a film or appear in vaude abroad.

Nicholson to Head Up Army Info in Germany Washington, Aug. 9.

Army Info in Germany at Washington, Aug. 9.

Newspaper publisher Ralph Nicholson leaves for Germany at the end of the month to take charge of the Army information program including motion pictures. Announcement of his appointment is expected shortly.

Nicholson, who will be a top assistant to John J. McCloy, the U. S. High Commissioner, said that U. S. High Commissioner, said that changes in the picture program are under discussion in Army circles. Just what these shifts would be, be did not disclose, but he explained that the Army will be hampered by a shortage of budget. Nicholson recently spent two weeks in the U. S. zone of occupied Germany as an observer. He recently sold his New Orleans tem to David Stern 3d. However, he retains a half interest in the Tampa Dally Times and in radio station WDAE there.

with rain every day save five, and only two days with the thermometer about 80.

England's crops are three weeks arlier than ever; they appear excellent. It doesn't look as if as much land is under cultivation this year as last, but what is, is in topnotch shape. There appear to be more cattle, sheep and chickens than I saw a year ago, but less people working on the farms.

The English people still look dowdy, but there are lots of clothes in the shop - windows, though the prices seem to me to be very high. Mrs. Vanderbilt likes Norman Hartnell's things better than those of all the Paris showings including Jean Dessus. She likes "Utility" tweeds at Jaeger's in Stratford-on-Avon and Selfridge's in Stratford-on-Avon and Selfridge's in ready-to-wear.

Subscription Order Form

Enclosed find check for $......

Please Send VARIETY for Two Year

ity Zone.... State.....

Regular Subscription Rates One Year-$10.00 Two Years—$18.00 Canada and Foreign-$1 Additional per Year

VARIETY Inc.
New York 19, N. Y. 154 West 46th Street

YANKS MELT 80% OF ICED POUNDS

20th's Willingness to Double-Bill With Brit. Pix May Spark New Hassle

Looming as the next major controversy among member companies of the Motion Picture Assn. of America is a reported move by 20th-Fox to force abandonment of the unit rule in England. That rule, announced by MPAA prexy Eric Johnston in Britain last year, bans the mixed packaging of British and American features in double-bills booked among Anglo circuits.

Under the Johnston declaration, the rule expires next April unless the companies can agree upon its extension. Twentieth, it is said, has aiready served notice on other MPAA members that it will sell its product along with British film when the original time limit expires. Number of other Yank distribs want the same ban continued and a fight is believed brewing.

While the rule holds until April, question of an extension is already a pressing matter because Yank distribs customarily book their product in British circuits some six months ahead of actual playdates. Hence, spring bookings must be handled in the coming fall. Without a decision on the unit rule, majors would be stymied in dealing with the British chains. The Johnston declaration was predicated on a prior agreement by ail companies that they would abide by the announcement. If 20th refuses to go along and persuasion fails, other companies will be forced to drop the policy.

Ruie was first announced following a long hassle with Odeon and Gaumont-British chains. both operated by J. Arthur Rank. (Continued on page 27)

Bergman-Rossellini Idyll Seen as B.O. Boost For 'Stromboli,' NG for 'Joan'

Stromboli, Nu 101 Joan Ingrid Bergman's announcement from Italy over the weekend of plans to divorce her husband—with the implication that she would marry director Roberto Rosellini—is figured by most industry observers as still another blow at her aircady struggling "Joan of Arc." At the same time, it is thought it will be another publicity hypo to kick up business for "Stromboli." which Miss Bergman and Rossellini are now making in Italy.

Aura of scandal in the heavy press and radio treatment of Miss

Italy.

Aura of scandal in the heavy press and radio treatment of Miss Bergman's romantic entanglement with Rossellini is cause for the fears concerning the effect on "Joan" business. It is believed that this will offend religious groups on whom the pic must depend for much of its b.o.

On the other hand, "Stromboli" is strictly a romantic item and the large amount of publicity has created a great deal of public interest in the new Bergman, as seen in the pic, as well as the locale itself.

In the new Bergman, as seen in the pic, as well as the locale itself.

Both pix are being handled by RKO. "Jean," which so far has played about 2,000 engagements, ail at upped admissions, has approximately $2,500,000 in the till, let started out fairly well, but there has been a severe dwindling (Continued on page 63)

BALABAN MAY ENCORE EUROPE 0.0. THIS FALL

Barney Balaban, Paramount's Prez who is currently in Europe on Zanuck Meeting Skouras a three-week vacation with his famliy, may return to the Continent in the fall for an extended trip. Under discussion are plans for the Paramount topper to accompany George Weitner, Par's foreign thief, when the latter takes his reg-ular swing through Europe in Oc-tober.

Balaban has not seen the com-pany's European offices since the outbreak of war and is hankering to give them a thorough inspec-tion. Time does not permit on his present visit. He also expects to visit England in the fall as part of the same trek.

Freeman's Par Pinch-Hit

Y. Frank Freeman, Paramount studio veepee currently in New York, is pinch-hitting as a sort of acting president in the absence of Barney Balaban who is presently vacationing in Europe. In answer to inquiries as to his duties in N. Y., Freeman's response is: "I'm minding the store while Barney is away." Studio biggic is operating out of Baiaban's office.

Additionally, Freeman has participated in distribution meets and has been eyeing the corporate setup to determine whether further-economies are feasible.

Par-Butterfield Can't Agree, So Auction Ordered

After several months of fruitless After several months of fruitless negotiations to reach a deai on the Butterfield circuit, Paramount is preparing to advertise for public bids. It will be the first partnership chain held by the company in which a breakup is arranged by the public auction method. Under that system, Par will put its minority interest in the circuit on the block with the highest bidder getting the property.

the block with the highest bidder getting the property.

Major company holds a one-third slice in some 20 houses and one-fifth in the remaining 100. Clr-cuit blankets the state of Michigan. Purchaser of the Paramount share would be entitled to two directors on the board of seven would be entitled to two directors on the board of seven.

Par has refused an offer by the Butterfield interests at a price based on computations similar to those used with RKO. Latter company recently liquidated its cut in Butterfield through sale to the management. Par maintains that RKO took too low a figure.
Monte F. Gowthorpe, former Paramount theatre exec, is head of the chain. His entry into the circuit apparently has not smoothed the course of negotiations.

B'way Ads on Negro Pic Deemed Tinged With Bias, FC Revises Its Campaign

Foliowing squawks from individual patrons and organizations, Film Classics has partially revised its ad campaign for "Lost Boundaries," currently piaying at the Astor, N. Y. Paradoxically, ads and lobby displays for this film, which Louis de Rochemont produced to counter anti-Negro bias, were charged with fostering racial prejudice. FC execs, handling the pic's release, denied any such intent but have moved to tone down their promotion copy.

tent but have moved to tone down their promotion copy. FC has already expunged the word "coon" from one of the post-ers used in front of the Astor. Originaily, the Motion Picture Assn. of America advertising code execs queried FC on its usage of (Continued on page 63)

In Paris on 20th Biz

Paris, Aug. 9. Skouras, 20th-Fox Spyros P. Skouras, 20th-Fox prexy, will plane back to the U.S. next week after talks with production chief Darryi F. Zanuck who's coming up to Paris from the Riviera this weekend (13). Skouras and Murray Silverstone. 20th International prez. presided over a Continental staff convention yesterday (Mon.) which wound up with a luncheon on top of the Elffel tower. Silverstone is taking off for Tel Aviv to fetch his family and then will swing back to Paris with a stopover in Genoa.

U'S SEIDELMAN SETS PATTERN

American film companies have hit upon a successful pattern for the liquidation of frozen pounds in Britain. Already, the majors have retrieved in cash or otherwise used up more than 80% of their estimated earnings during the initial year of the Anglo-U. S. film agreement. A rush is currently agreement. A rush is currently on to take care of the remaining 20% and what is earned in the future before the curtain bangs down on further maneuvers on June 30, 1950.

Fruitful negotiations to take

June 30, 1950.
Fruitful negotiations to take care of Universal's leed currency in Britain were disclosed this week by Joseph H. Seidelman, U's foreign chief, on his return from abroad. U has worked out three methods which will absorb its entire 800,000 pounds ($3,200,000) reresenting what the company has and will earn in the two years which end in mid '50.
Paramount, the other major which has heretofore done little to thaw its pounds, is getting set for similar maneuvers. Paul Raibourn, Par's veepee and fiscal expert, goes to Britain this month to recommend specific investments.. Par has already piled up 500,000 pounds ($2,000,000) in frozen assets. Other majors have made a number of important investments or launched into film production.

Aside from Par's and U's operations, the companies have suc-

Aside from Par's and U's opera-tions, the companies have suc-(Continued on page 22)

Pix Divvys in '49 2d Qtr.: $10,241,000

Washington, Aug. 9. Washington, Aug. 9.
Total dividends declared by the motion picture industry during the second quarter of this year amounted to $10,241,000 as against $13.038,000 for the same period in 1948. Department of Commerce figures, however, reveal that during June, the pix industry sliced a $7,419,000 melon, exceeding the $7,280,000 dividend in June of iast year.

Chief reason for the fall of this year's second-quarter divvy was the failure of the Stanley Co., Warner Bros. theatre subsid, to declare its regular dividend. Commerce Department officiais point out that the announced figures represent only about 60% of all dividends distributed by the industry.

Hughes Has All Groups Bidding For RKO Theatres Vampin' Till He's Ready

Krim's Long Vacash

Arim's Long Yacash

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Arthur Krim, president of Eagle Lion, heads for New York next week on what is likely to be an extended vacation. Krim's resignation from the top EL spot takes effect Monday (15). He served notice on the company several months ago.

Krim is expected to go to Europe for several months following a short New York stay. He may be accompanied by Robert Benjamin, head of J. Arthur Rank's U. S.
org and a partner with Krim in the law firm of Philiips, Nizer, Benjamin & Krim.

Johnston's ECA Mission Causing SIMPP to Worry

Indication that the relationship between the Motion Picture Assn. of America and the Society of Independent Motion Picture Pro-Independent Motion Picture Producers is not all turtie-dovey despite two recent meetings to plot "cooperation"—is seen in reaction of SIMPP members this week to reports that Eric Johnston would go to Europe shortly on a mission for the Economic Cooperation Administration. SIMPPites fear that the MPAA topper will take the opportunity to discuss fiim deals with foreign governments, particularly the British.

Suspicion of the motives for the Johnston trip abroad goes back to Suspicion of the motives for the Johnston trip abroad goes back to the basic differences in approach to the industry's foreign difficulties (Continued on page 27)

Cohn Will Miss Preem

Columbia president Harry Cohn is due in New York about Aug. 19, following a six-week tour of Europe. He sails next Saturday (13) on the Ile de France from Paris.

Paris.

It is expected that he will remain east a few days for discussions regarding "Jolson Sings Again" openings at the State, N. Y..., next Wednesday (17) and at the Woods, Chicago, the following Wednesday, before continuing to the Coast.

National Boxoffice Survey Musicals Still Big, 'Summertime' Pacing Field-'Everything' Holds Strong in Second

Musicals again continue in the fore and are weathering a resumption of torrid weather with the most ease this session. Several key cities covered by VARIETY were helped by rain and a brief respite from the excessive heat, but even these reported still further heat waves starting over the weakend. "Anna Lu weakend "Anna Lu "An Amigos," RKO reissue package, which is doing okay to big trade.

Top runner-up pictures are "Girl From Jones Beach" (WB), "Dan Patch" (UA) and "Not Wanted" key cities covered by Variety were helped by rain and a brief respite from the excessive heat, but even these reported still further heat waves starting over the weekend.

"In Good Old Summertime" "Anna Lucasta" (Coli, which opens with fine to smash or great showings as well as nearly $300,000 in total coin. "You're My Everything" (20th), showing a decided spurt this round, is a strong second while "Silver Lining" (WB) is an okay third, Latter was bo. champ last week.

"Any Number Can Play" (M-G, displaying sustained strength, again is fourth. "Home of Brave" (UA) is pushing up into fifth position via a brace of new bookings, ranging from nice to terrific. "Great Gatsby" (Par) is winding up sixth best because of several just fair showings.

"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) is getting away in proving a delight to showmanly exhibitors, is copping seventh money while "Lost Boundaries" (PC) will take eighth place coin. Ninth slot goes to "Dumbo" "Saludos" (Par), and "Not Wanted" (FC). "Rope of Sand" (Par), on basis of snash showing at N. Y. Paramount, shapes as best newconner. "Anna Lucasta" (Col, which opens this week at N. Y. Capitol, also (wos promising, being nice in Providence and sturdy in Philadel-in "Yeiow Ribbon" (RKO) is obig solid trade in second K. C. week. "Great Sinner" (M-G) is obay in fifth N. Y. session. "Champion" (VA) is pushing up into fifth position via a brace of new bookings, ranging from nice to terrific. "Great Gatsby" (Par) is winding up sixth best because of several just fair showings.

"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) is getting away in Sock fashion on N. Y. Victoria (Par) is big in Toronto (Complete Boxoffice Reports on Pages 14-15.)

Howard Hughes has all bidders for the controlling stock in the RKO circuit dangling. That predicament apparently applies equally to the so-called favored bidding triumvirate of Staniey Meyer-Cliff Work-Matty Fox as well as Floyd Odium, Atlas Corp. prez; Maleoim Kingsberg, RKO theatre head, and at least one other undisclosed syndicated.

The Meyer, et al. offer ran out Friday (5) and the trio are still waiting word from Hughes on whether he will sell his 929,020 shares to the syndicate at $6 per share. Meyer & Co. expects to close a deal but any hopes which they may have entertained for a fast nod from the RKO biggie have not been realized. From all appearances, Hughes remains closeted with his advisors muiling the fate of the big circuit.

Meanwhile, as late as yesterday (Tues.), Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, Hughes' New York reps, received no word that a deal had been closed with Meyer interests. The N. Y. house is continuing to negotiate with at least two outside syndicates, one of which is probably that of Kingsberg.

two outside syndicates, one of which is probably that of Kings-

erg. Odium, who holds an option to (Continued on page 24)

Paramount Circuit Quizzing D.C. on OK To Add New Theatres

Washington, Aug. 9.
Officials of the new Paramount circuit which gets its birth Jan. 1 have been meeting with the Department of Justice in an attempt to determine how far the chain can go under the Paramount consent decree in building new houses. Attending D. C. confabs on that knotty question have been Leonard Goldenson, prez of the coming circuit; Robert O'Brien, future veepee; and Walter Gross, general counsel. The big point to be ironed out is the decree's provision which (Continued on page 27)

ARIETY

Trade Mark Registered
FOUNDED BY SIME SILVERMAN
Published Weekly by VANIETY, Inc.
Sid Silverman, President
154 West 46th St., New York 19, N. Y.
Rollywood Set
Washington 4
1229 National Press
Chienge 1
150 No. Michigan Avs.
150 No. Michigan Avs.
151 St. Martina Ph., Trafalgar Sq.

SUBSCRIPTION
Annual....$10 Foreign.....$11
Single Copies..........25 Cents

120

Bills 54

INDEX

Chatter	62
Film Reviews	8
House Reviews	55
Inside Legit	56
Inside Music	46
Inside Pictures	13
Inside Radio	38
Inside Television	39
International	18
Legitimate	56
	61
Literati	43
New Acts	54
Night Club Reviews	54
Obituaries	63
Pictures	3
Radio	28
Radio Reviews	34
Records	45
Frank Scuiiy	61

Vaudeville DAILY VARIETY
(Published in Hollywood by Daily Variety, Ltd.)
$15 a Year—$20 Foreign

Television Reviews

Faster Film Playoffs Create Seller's Market on B'way; Distribs Call Shots

In complete contrast to war and postwar boom days, the distribs are calling most of the shots currently in the booking of product in Broadway houses. Not only is it pretty much the seller's choice on where he'll spot his pic, but some exhibs are reportedly giving way considerably on "tough" deals.

Prime force behind this switch-over is, of course, that ancient economic factor: supply and demand. A couple of years back, when pix were regularly holding over for long runs, there were too many films for the number of houses. Now it's vice versa.

Reflecting the change is, the burn currently by City Investing Co. against Columbia over booking "Jolson Sings Again" in Loew's State, N. Y. Maurice Maurer, Cl's theatre operating head, thought he had a half-promise from Col to put "Jolson" into his Astor, but didn't count on the $250,000 film rental guarantee demanded by the distrib. He refused to give it.

Maurer thought the guarantee excessive, particularly after he had played along with Col, he felt, on two previous pix in the Astor which did not quite measure up to expectations. They were "Knoek On Any Door" and "We Were Strangers." He had hoped that this would soften up Col sales chief Abe Montague on giving "Jolson" to the house. He had given lesser (Continued on page 13)

'Shaking-Down' Process Has Put Hollywood On Even Keel—Joe Hazen

First shock of the economies that started to hit Hollywood two years ago have been fully absorbed years ago have neen tuily absorbed now and results are being seen in greater efficiency of production and improved quality. So says Jo-seph H. Hazen, president of Hal Wallis Productions, who fiys to Eu-rope on Friday (12). "It has taken this long for the industry to get completely shaken

"It has taken this long for the industry to get completely shaken down to the new conditions," Hazen declared, "but the people in Hollywood are now going about their work in a better frame of mind. Those who had to go are gone and those who have remained feel more secure. No longer works are the secure with the secur gone and those who have remained feel more secure. No longer wor-ried that they won't have a job tomorrow, they're showing much greater efficiency."

Hazen added that the resistance to economy which was felt on every side a couple years ago has now passed and there is general recog-nition that "extravagance and nition that "extravagance and showmanship are not necessarily synonymous, that you can exhibit plenty of showmanship but be sensible about costs."

Divorcement and the disintegrat-

Divorcement and the disintegrating British situation may make further curtailment necessary in a year or so, the former Warner Bros, exec warned. He admitted, however, that the effects of divorcement on production can't be ascertained with anything less than a crystal ball.

Hazen clippers to England to Join his partner, Wallis. Latter is now in Italy shooting exteriors and locations for "September." Hazen expects to return to the U. S. with Wallis early in September. On the way over to Italy, Hazen said he would stop in England for a week or so for a gander at the situation there. His family will go to Italy by ship and join him there.

JUDGE ORDERS SALE OF GOLDWYN STUDIOS

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.
Sale of the Samuel Goldwyn Studios was ordered by Judge Paul Nourse in L. A., superior court, winding up a long legal battle between Goldwyn and Mary Pickford. Coin derived from the sale will be split three ways among the owners: 41/80ths to Miss Pickford; 20,20ths to Goldwyn Productions owners: 41/80ths to Miss Pickford; 20/80ths to Goldwyn Productions, and 19/80ths to the Formosa Corp., owned by Goldwyn.

Property was ordered sold not later than Aug. 31, with the minimum bid set at $1.500.000, although estimates of its value run as high as $2.500,000. Sale will be handled by three referees. Charles Shattuck, Alexander MacDonald and Louis J. Pfau, Jr.

Welles Redubs Lines On 'Macbeth' in Rome

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Print of "Macbeth" is being sent to Orson Welles by Republic so star can redub his lines. Studio has completed full redubbing of all other players, cutting thickness out of Scotch burr.

Welles has no plans for returning to U. S. in near future, so Republic has asked him to do his end of job in Rome.

Film 'Festivals' Tied Too Closely With Ideologies

While Hollywood long has been cognizant that awards granted at overseas film festivals often are overseas him testivals onten are inspired by political considerations rather than the true merit of the entry, it continues to be relatively active in the pix competitions. U. S. film men feel that the publicity derived from the showings usually offsets the lack of prizes.

offsets the lack of prizes.

Pointing up the alleged favoritism at festivals is last week's action of the Italian delegation in withdrawing from Czechoslovakia's International Film Festival held at Marienske Lazne. The group from Italy left in a huff after both the Czechs and Russians disclosed that they had no intention of participations. they had no intention of participating at either the Venice or Cannes fests.

In refusing to enter the Italian and French meets, the Russians claimed the "capitalistic" rules could not be expected to give them a fair shake. On the other hand in the Czech conclave, which closed Saturday (7), the all-Czech jury handed practically all of the major awards to Russian entries. Brushed off were such American pictures as Warners' "Johnny Be-(Continued on page 27) pictures as Warners' "Jonna. (Continued on page 27)

MORE READJUSTMENT OF B'WAY B.O. SCALES

Several Broadway firstruns have trimmed their scales. The Roxy has eliminated its weekend top of $1.80, getting $1.50 which is in line with the other stage-film theatres' peak tale.

The Victoria has dropped

1.25 ton instead of $1.50. It ell $1.25 top, instead of $1.50. It eliminated its $1.80 several months ago.
The Astor is keeping its $1.50 peak price. The Criterion and several inated its $1.80 several months ago. The Astor is keeping its $1.50 peak price. The Criterion and several other houses announced several other houses announced several weeks ago a 50c admission for youngsters hoping to get patronage of kids out of school. The Rôxy also now has an afternoon scale of 95c on weekday afternoons up until 5 o'clock, being only a minor cut. It also has a $1.25 admittance fee on Saturday afternoon until 5 p.m., apparently to get juve attendance. Virtually all houses on Broadway now open up with a 50c or 55c admission. However, with "Mighty Joe Young." the Crit is pushing up its prices fast, getting a general admission of 80c weekdays last week before 1 o'clock.

Feeling among N. Y. showmen is that the realignment of seales, especially with straight-film theatres, is in line with the competition from stage-film houses. High scales for film-only spots hardly were justified, it was clalmed, in in the face of less than $1 top weekday nights at the Palace with vaudeville and films or as compared with the Music Hall or Paramount, for instance.

Col. Suspends Vidor

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Columbia has suspended Charles Vidor for refusing to direct "The Petty Girl," skedded for Aug. 29 start with Robert Cummings and Joan Caulfield starring. Nat Perrin produces

Official reason for suspension is Studio's statement that Vidor failed to "act in good faith." Vidor re-mains silent, but it's believed he objected to final script.

Glorifying Popcorn

Walter Wanger is apparently convinced of how much money there is for the picture industry in popcorn. So much so he's going to build the popcrackle-crunch rights into a nim.

He registered with the Mo-tion Picture Assn. of America last week two titles for feature pictures: "Popcorn" and "Pop-corn of 1950."

$30 Prices for American Pix at Czech Fete As Red Winners Brushed

Motion Picture Export Assn. vesterday (8) gleefully greeted reports that ticket speculators had gotten $30 apiece for seats to "Johnny Bellinda" and "Treasure of Sierra Madre" at the 4th International film festival, which closed yesterday in Marienbad, Czechoslovakia.

yesterday in Marienbad, Czecho-slovakia.

The Communist - dominated Czech officials awarded all top prizes to the Russian entries, with popular dissents being registered by the audlences. Commented MPEA, in part:

"Private advices from Czecho-slovakia reported that huge crowds had to be turned away from every showing of the American films. The prize-winning Russian films, on the showing of the American films. The prize-winning Russian films, on the contrary, aroused little popular enthusiasm, despite tub-thumping by the festival authorities and the Communist-controlled Czech press. According to United Press, blackmarket operators got $30 for a $1 ticket at the theatre showing American entries.

ticket at the theatre showing American entries.
"Further evidence of the over-whelming popularity of American pictures with the people is shown by the fact that two U. S. features—"Arabian Nights" and "Adventures of Robin Hood"—are now playing on long runs in theatres in Prague and other key Czech cities to overflow audiences. So great is the demand for tickets that persons in boxoffice lines are sellpersons in boxoffice lines are sell-ing their places for fancy prices."

AUTEN'S FRENCH B.R. FOR 'THE MONEYMAN'

New production unit headed by W. E. Auten, formerly Eagle Lion's special rep in Europe, has been special rep in Europe, has been formed with a filmization of Thomas Costain's best-seller of 1947. "The Moneyman," slated as the first venture. Understood that "Moneyman" will get RKO release. Company, under the label Benagoss Productions, plans six pix yearly, all to be turned out in Europe.

Auten is currently on the Coast Auten is currently on the Coast, seeking a top director and cast, He is due in Paris Monday (15) to arrange for an early lensing of the unit's first pic. All films will be produced in English and aimed for the world market.

Understood that Auten has both an English and French partner with the trio contributing neces-sary financing. Mrs. Carolyn with the trio contributing neces-sary financing. Mrs. Carolyn Stagg, formerly story editor of Samuel Goldwyn, is acting as both story editor and talent supervisor for Benagoss.

for Benagoss.
"Moneyman" will be produced in French locales because the story, a period piece in the 14th century, takes place in France. New outfit will have its chief offices in Paris but will produce films anywhere on the Continent.

Benagoss topper is a son of Capt. Harold Auten, formerly connected with both United Artists and J. Arthur Rank. Son served as an aide to Field Marshal Montgomery during the war.

A Ripley: This Newark Indie Sues for Last Run

Major company attorneys are puzzling over a novel complaint aired by the Empire theatre, Newtark, in an anti-trust action flue against the eight distribs. While most treble-damage suits charge refusal to sell at a certain run, Empire's beef is that it wanted lastrun product but the majors refused to sell it any films at all. Empire is an old burlesk house which was to sell it any films at all. Empire is an old burlesk house which was converted into a flickery.

Action demands damages of $1.692,000. Attorney repping the plaintiff is O. John Rogge; suit is brought in N. Y. Federal court.

'Finneran Plan' a Speckled Rainbow In the All-Industry Chicago Powwow

Lerner's 'Brig' Huddles With Rank on Pic Sale

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Alan Jay Lerner leaves for N. Y.
today (9) to meet with Cheryl Crawford and J. Arthur Rank representatives Aug. 15.

Rank reps will return from England on that date for further discussions on British producer acquiring film rights to Lerner's and Frederick Loew's "Brigadoon."

NBC Pledges Full Co-op to Fabian On Theatre Tele

The National Broadcasting Co. this week definitely committed itself to cooperate fully with Si H. Fabian in programming the indie Fabian in programming the indic circuit operator's theatre television outlets. Web's promise, made in a letter to Fabian by NBC exec veepee Charles R. Denny, Jr., helps to solve one of the thorniest problems confronting Fabian in his plan to build and operate the first theatre TV chain in the east.

theatre TV chain in the east.

Denny's assurances definitely open the possibilities of Fabian's getting both programs especially created for theatre TV by NBC and the web's regularly-scheduled commercial shows, such as Milton Berle's "Texaco Star Theatre." In regard to the latter, the web exec noted that it would bring up some "extremely complicated problems." "extremely complicated problems."
In a great number of instances, Denny said, "special clearances for theatre use would have to be obtained and in many cases it may be impossible or impracticable for us to obtain them.

"Nevertheless." Denny added,
"we will de what we reasonably can to obtain or assist you in obcan to obtain or assist you in obtaining appropriate rights in order that such of our programs as you may request us to clear for use in your Fox theatre, Brooklyn, may be made available to you for that purpose on a reasonable basis. We have given further thought to the suggestions you made concerning the creation of specially-built television programs for use in your theatres. However, we cannot proceed further in this respect until we know specifically what kind of programs you need and the time we know specifically what kind of programs you need and the time at which you would propose to use them. At such time as you are in a position to furnish us with such information, we will be pleased to give you quotations on the production of specific programs to meet your specific needs."

N. Y. to L. A.

Benedict Bogeaus
Jean Dalrymple
Cy Feuer
Leonard Goldstein
Cary Grant
Al Horwits
Howard Le Sieur
Chico Many Chico Marx
Dolores Moran
Wayne Morris
Bob Moss
Pat O'Brien Pat O'Brien Robert J. Rubin Norman Siegel Al Tamarin Michael Todd Walter Wanger L. Arnold Weissberger Martha Wright

N. Y. to Europe

Ben Blue Malka Farber Joan Foutaine Russell Ford Joseph H. Hazen Mrs. Gus Kahn

Europe to N. Y.

Europe to N.
Eddie Cantor
Otto Harbaeh
William B. Levy
William Perlberg
Arnold Picker
Adolph Schimel
Samuel Schneider
Lee Shubert
Joseph H. Seidelman
Molly Day Thatcher

Allied's acceptance of the invitation to attend the all-industry public relations conference in Chicago Aug. 30-31 is viewed as both Kood and bad by the execuranging the conclave. It's good in that it means every segment of the industry will be represented. It's bad, it is said, if Ailied inists, as indicated, on pushing the 'Finneran Plan' at the sessions.

"Finneran Plan"

sions.

"Finneran Plan" is a scheme long-discussed by Allied for boycotting by the studios of any Holywoodite whose actions reflect badly on the industry. It came up after Robert Mitchum was arrested on the Coast and a few other players got themselves in the public prints for drunkenness, battles with cops, etc.

Execs of the Motion Picture Assn. of America and other officials who are attempting to arrange an agenda for the Chimeetings are fearful that insistence by Allied on discussion of the Finneran scheme will turn the conclave into a wrangle instead of a peaceful session for a start toward a solution of the industry public relations problems. They are trying at all costs to avoid having the conference boomerang by resulting in publicity that the industry couldn't even agree on its own public relations.

naving the conference boomerang by resulting in publicity that the industry couldn't even agree on its own public relations.

Introductions of the Finneran Plan is said to be dangerous in that the major companies will be (Continued on page 22)

Seniority, 15% Hikes Demanded by IATSE At Early Producer Meets

At Early Producer Meets

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Preferential hiring on seniority basis and 15% wage hike, are being demanded by IATSE in preliminary meetings with producers on contract negotiations. Pact expires at midnight tonight 199.

IA assk three seniority grades be established, with industry workers since prior to 1939-40 period coming in first grade; those going into studios between that time and this year in second grade and newcomers in third.

Since Taft-Hartley Act outlaws closed shop, a union shop will be asked, with IA pressing for pade resembling old one as close as T-H will permit.

Other meetings are scheduled before Richard Walsh, IA head, leaves, probably late this week.

Seniority now appears to be agreed upon, with formula for apt (Continued on page 22)

L. A. to N. Y.

L. A. to N.
Berle Adams
Rieardo Amador
Don Ameche
Art Baker
Dewey Barto
Rebecca Brownstein
Jeff Chandler
Roy Disney
Paul Dullzell
Hy Faine
Nina Foch
Don Haynes
Edith Head
Ben Hecht Edith Head Ben Hecht George Heller David Hopkins Al Jolson Perey Kilbride Philip Loeb Don Loper Marjorie Main Florence Marston Edith Meiser Mary Pickford Georgie Price Ruth Richmond Thelma Ritter Thelma Ritter Charles Russhon Ruth St. Denis Sehuyler Sanford Arthur Schwartz Louis Simon Marta Toren Arthur H. Wehry Marie Wilson Marek Windheim Max Youngstein Adolph Zukor Charles Russhon

> READY Henry Morgan

TRUST LAW BARS BLANKET CUTS

UA in Much Better Shape Domestic But Foreign Is Still a Big Headache TIE WITH BRITISH

While United Artists has at least temporarily beaten its problems in the domestic field and is showing a tential profit each week in temporarily temporarily temporarily the domestic field and is showing a substantial profit each week in U. S. and Canadian operations it has yet to find a solution to its foreign headaches. International department, primarily as a result of UA's peculiar status as a distrib of indie product, is showing red each week to the extent that it is pulling the entire company below the break-even point.

Product situation, in the matter of quantity, at least, is the best it has been in some time, with enough pix at hand to maintain the domestic operation for about a year.

the domestic operation for about a year.

UA's domestic operating costs are now averaging between $70,000 and $75,000 weekly. That's about $3,750,000 yearly. Since UA's distribution fees average slightly over $25\% of the gross income of the pix it handles, it must do about $15,000,000. yearly to break even in this market.

It now has about 15 pix awaiting release, editing or in production. That means that if they averaged $1,000,000 gross each, they would keep UA in business for a year. Not all of them can be expected to get $1,000,000, of course, but others will undoubtedly bring in more than that. What the company needs is one or two particularly nore than that. What the compani-needs is one or two particularly strong grossers to bring up the average and perhaps compensate for the foreign losses.

UA usually manages to get at least one of these surprise b.o. (Continued on page 60)

'Girl from Jones Beach' Outrages Confederacy's 1st Vicepresident, Suh!

Atlanta, Aug. 9.

Southern blood is boiling over a cinema faux pas. This time Warner Bros. is the offender in its "The Girl From Jones Beach."

In film, Ronald Reagan, a night school enrollee, recites names of leaders of Confederacy in War Between States. Reagan erroneously lists Judah P. Benjamin as vice-president of Southern Confederation.

That did its Atlanta

That did it! Alexander H. Ste-phens, beloved and peppery Geor-glan, was really the Confederacy's Immediate correction.

In giving publicity to the incident, Atlanta papers, for the benefit of Yankee readers, have given correct lineup of Confederate Cabinet, viz: Jefferson Davis, president, Alex Stephens, viceprez, Judah Benjamin, first attorney general and later secretary of war.

Pic. as yet, has not been exhibled here.

FINALIZING DIVORCE

OF FC AND CINECOLOR Papers are expected to be signed this week officially divorcing Film Classics from Cinecolor. The move was agreed on by stockholders of the tint firm several months ago. Lawyers have been busy in the meantime preparing the necessary Papers.

papers.

Karl Herzog, exec v.p. and treasurer of Cinecolor, is in New York from the Coast to ink his firm's end of the deal. Joseph Bernhard, prexy of FC, represent that company.

prexy of FC, represent that company.

FC, a couple years ago, became a wholly-owned subsid of Cine via an exchange of stock. Return to independent status is being a complished by another stock shuffe, which will again give Bernhard control of FC as principal stockholder. Bernhard is expected shortly after consummation of the sdeal to make an extensive anaguncement of FC plans.

Hollywood, Aug. 5.

Eddie Small starts negotiations with Columbia today (9) for particular accomplished by anticipate in financing.

Number of pix is large one, and Number of pix is large one, and stockholder. Bernhard is expected shortly after consummation of the sdeal to make an extensive anaguncement of FC plans.

Surefire OK for Sound

Number of drive-in theatre ops have suggested that film companies make specially companies make specially soundtracked prints of come-dies for the ozoners. They want laughter dubbed into the tracks at the appropriate Complaint is that comedles don't do too well at the fresh-alr-filmeries because members of the audience, spread out in or the audience, spread out in cars, can't hear each other laugh. Guffaw spontaneity which a humorous pic needs for best results is lost and thus the exhibs would like to substitute for it a pre-laughed soundtrack.

Distribs Resist Drive-Ins' Bids For 1st Run Pix

Distribs are holding fast to a refluxal to permit first-run bookings of their product in drive-ins despite strong threats of court tests by circuit operators of the open-air houses. A concerted effort has been made in the past few weeks by the fastest growing branch of exhibition to force a change in stand. The big objection to first-run bookings is the distrib claim that they would affect the pic's earning possibilities in subsequent bookings in the area.

Threat of suit closely follows Distribs are holding fast to a re-

Threat of suit closely follows nixing by the majors of a number of drive-in bids for first-run which have topped conventional theatre offers in some important situations. In rejecting the ordinarily-winning offers, majors have flatly declared that a $10,000 or so better take through an ozoner booking would

(Continued on page 22)

SMALL TO DISTRIBUTE KORDA-RATOFF PICTURE

That did it! Alexander H. Stephens, beloved and peppery Georglan, was really the Confederacy's veepee.

Atlanta chapters of United Daughters of Confederacy have been bombarding Warners with mall in bitter protest over the "inexcusable error in your knowledge of Southern history" and urged limediate correction.

In giving publicity to the incident, Atlanta papers, for the benefit of Yankee readers, have given correct lineup of Confederate Cabinet, viz: Jefferson Davis, president, Alex Stephens, viceprez, Judah Benjamin, first attorney genera and later secretary of war.

Pic, as yet, has not been exhibled here.

KOKDA-KATOFF PICTURE

Edward Small has acquired American rights to the Sir Alexander

Korda-Gregory Ratoff film, "If This Be Sin", and has made a deal with United Artists to distribute it for him. Picture, made in England under the label, "Strange Case of Lady Brooke", stars Myrna Loy and features Peggy Cummins, Richard Greene and Roger Livesey. It is understood that the terms of the deal call for an advance by Small in pounds to Korda and in dollars to Ratoff. When this additional benjamin, first attorney genera and later secretary of war.

Pic, as yet, has not been exhibited the entire Western Hemisphere.

sphere.
Aside from the ready cash which will be realized by Korda and Ratoff, they see an advantage in the deal in that the British origin of the film will be completely submerged. Billings will be "Edward Small presents a Gregory Ratoff production". Since the star is an American and Small and Ratoff are both Hollywoodites, leaving Korda's name out, it is hoped, will give the pic an aura of U. S. production that will up income beyond what the usual British-made pic can earn in this country.

Small Dickers Columbia Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Any attempt by American

Any attempt by American film companies to meet the pressing economic problems by a sweeping revision of payrolls, such as that the British film Producers Assn. has unanimously adopted would be firmly barred by U. S. anti-trust vs. That sharp distinction between the two rival industries was noted this week by film excess who studied the joint movement to cut production costs, which was pushed through without dissent by the BEPA.

the BFPA.

A scheme for combined action cutting salaries would be an openand-shut case of conspiracy by Yank companies under the Sherman anti-trust laws, it was pointed out. No two companies could take the step together since, in theory, wage payments are determined by competitive conditions and not by agreement of purported competitors. Distinction in possible actions by the two industries again points up the big part played by anti-trust laws in determining the tactics of Yank film-makers.

British reductions apply to all employees except those under contract either through union pacts or otherwise. Even so far as artists under contract are concerned, the British agreement provides that every effort should be made henceforth to either reduce payments by not less than percentages provided against other (Continued on page 8) scheme for combined action

Sir Duff Cooper Named To Help Export Drive Brit. Pix on Continent

Intensive export drive of British films on the Continent has been launched with the naming of Sir Duff Cooper, former British ambassador to France, as special European envoy. Duff's appointment was made by the British Film Producers Assn. which is renewing attempts to dent the world market. Cooper will headquarter in Parfs.

Cooper will be concerned with improving playing time for British pix and solving revenue problems. He'll act through British emhas-sies in various European capitals.

SEE NIX TO YANKS' EL Gets a Breather from Bank; Must Dig New Product; Small Deal Cold

No Theatre Gravy

Employment contracts of a number of top execs in the in-dustry may undergo consider-able revamping as result of the Federal court's decision in fav-or of complete divorcement. These particular salary tickets or of complete divorcement. These particular salary tlekets provide for percentage-sharing on company profits. Such high officers as Darryl F. Zanuck. 20th-Fox's studio chief; Spyros Skouras, company prez; Nicholas M. Schenck, Metro's topper; and Louis B. Mayer. M-G studio head, are all-affected. When the percentages were fixed, they were aimed at profits from both distribution and exhibition. Once divorcement goes through, exhibition take will be lost. It means a considerable decrease in bonuses unless revisions are made.

No Early Decision On Decree Appeal Seen by Majors

No early decision will be made No early decision will be made by any of the major company de-fendants on the big anti-trust question confronting them—whethi-er to appeal from the Federal court's complete divorcement mancourt's complete divorcement man-date or seek a settlement with the Dept. of Justice. On the ultimate answer, top excess and legalites re-main strongly divided after sev-eral weeks of multing the poser. With the division in strategy slow-ing any action, companies are like-ly to take the full time permitted by law. by law by law.

To file the important appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, companies have 60 days after a final decree is signed by the lower court. With hearings slated to start in September, a final document cannot be linked before tate in October at the earliest. Companies, therefore, have at least a January deadline before voting (Continued on page 27)

(Continued on page 27)

Binford's Surprise OK on 'Brave' May Jeopardize UA's Test Suit

Motion Picture Assn. of America and United Artists attorneys are fearful that approval of "Home of the Brave" last week by Memphis sensor Lloyd T. Binford is a move preliminary to cutting the ground out from under them in their effort to establish a principal regarding local blue-pencillers in all parts of the U. S. It is thought that the "Brave" approval may next mean okay of "Curly", the UA-Hal Roach film on which the MPAA and UA now have a suit pending against Binford's mix.

Charge is that Binford's action on "Curly" was arbitrary and unconstitutional. MPAA and UA with the applause of the American Civil Libertles Union and other anti-censorship groups. brought sult in the hope of eventually gelting a Supreme Court decision that would greet legal hedges area. "Curly" was nixed because it showed white and Negro kids in the degree area.

Charge is that Binford's action on "Curly" was arbitrary and unconstitutional. MPAA and UA, with the applause of the American Civil Liberties Union and other anti-censorship groups, brought suit in the hope of eventually getting a Supreme Court decision that would erect legal hedges against such alleged arbitrary bans.

on "Curly" was arbitrary and unconstitutional. MPAA and UA. "Bave" was that it was either the prelude to killing the "Curly" suit of political changes in anti-censorship groups, brought suit in the hope of eventually gelting a Supreme Court decision that would erect legal hedges against such alleged arbitrary bans. Suit is now on appeal before the Tennessee supreme court. It has been postponed a number of times over objections of Edward C. Raftery, of O'Brien, Driscoll, Raftery err, of O'Brien, Driscoll, Raftery & Lawler, UA's counsel, who is waging the fight with the aid of Sidney Schreiber, MPAA's general counsel, and other lawyers. It is now scheduled for hearing in October.

Since there is very little practical difference to UA now whether Serge Semenenko, exec veepee of the First National Bank of Boston, has balled out Eagle Lion by a one-year extension of loans to a one-year extension of loans to the film company approximating $6.500,000. Semencnko, it has been learned, granted the added time in course of negotiations which Rob-ert R. Young and the banker re-cently pushed with Edward Small for the producer's entry into the company. Young is controlling stockholder of Pathe Industries, EL's parent outfit.

EL's parent outfit.

As a consequence, Young's hands have been freed in his quest for additional financing. From all indications, the railroad-magnate-has abandoned all consideration of the possible Small tieup and is aiming to bring in more cash without ald of the indie producer. Young is seeking releasing deals with big Hollywood producers as part of his program to get urgently needed product for his company.

It is believed that without out-program to get urgently needed product for his company.

It is believed that without outside product. EL cannot operate on the profit side of the ledger. Company has taken on some more British product and is dickering for a number of foreign-language films. Aside from these, it has several Hollywood-made plx from Bryan Foy, plus a feature which uses Mack Semett shorts. Volume is not considered sufficient on its own to meet EL's overhead.

However, Semenenko's extension of credit permits the company to operate, with some small losses, while searching for that big outside product. As for the Small deal, it felt through because the filmmaker was left free to negotiate with other companies despite a provision which give Young and his associates 90 days to dig up outside coin.

Reissue Firm in Suits And Countersuits With Two 42d St. Cinemas

Two 42d St. Cinemas

Whether a licensing contract gave them exclusive or non-exclusive rights to screen certain product is the crux of two sults brought in N. Y. supreme court by operators of two 42d St. theatres against Principal Film Exchanges, Inc. Plaintiffs in the actions are the Rialto and the Laffmovie, N. Y. Principal, according to the complaint, allegedly violated two 1948 pacts with the Laffmovie by selling the same pictures to competing exhibitors within a 14-day period. Laffmovie admits that its asserted exclusivity rights were not incorporated in the contract, but adds this was omitted through mutual error. It's charged that the defendant took advantage of the error to violate the ticket by fraud. In its legal squawk, Laffmovie wants the contract reformed to express the "true agreement" and in addition asks $50,000 damages. Principal, through its attorney, Everett Froblich, made a general denial and counterclaimed for $2,500. Sum is allegedly due the defendant (Continued on page 27)

Sum is allegedly due the defend-(Continued on page 27)

PAR HAS 2 BIDS FOR ITS N.Y. OFFICE BLDG.

Leonard Goldenson, Paramount's

BASEBALL BEANS BOSTON, BUT EXHIBS HOPEFUL; DETROIT CLIMBS, CANADA OFF

Boston, Aug. 9.

Bopped by inroads from television and drive-ins, regular business is generally lower than last aummer as much as 25%. Despite the slump, however, exhibs feel that Hollywood product is improving and that biz should swing back to a more normal level on or before Labor Day.

Additional factors adversely hitting the b.o. recently have been unusually hot summer weather and the heavy night game schedules of the heavy night game schedules of the Boston baseball clubs. There have been some weeks when the Braves played all their home games at night and with the games telecast in this strong baseball town, the wickets have suffered ac-

While in-town firstruns and nabe house are wilting, the drive-ins are booming. Mushrooming of the ozoners has resulted in keen comozoners has resulted in keen com-petition, but clearances are stiff in most cases and many spots are playing the low rental reissues. Currently, distribs are making more of a play for this type busi-ness and better product is expected to be available soon. to be available soon.

to be available soon.

Notable exception was the opening of Metro's "Barkleys of Breadway" at Louis Segrini's East Denis ozoner which pulied hefty grosses. This drive-in has a cock-tell ber obliderie, playeround bottle-warming service and juke-box dancing. Construction of addibottle-warming service and juke-box dancing. Construction of addi-tional drive-ins is, now going on throughout the New England area but regular theatre construction isn't showing much activity. Among the smaller nabes, rev-enues from the candy and soda concessions sometimes has topped admission take, especially during matinees.

matinees.

Lack of business has caused the shuttering of five ATC circult nabes for the summer. Some of the indies would also like to shut down but fear of losing patrons perm-anently to other towns has fore-stalled the move. As a result, many houses are operating in the red.

Detroit's 10% Dip Keys Steady Upward Climb Detroit, Aug. 9.

Although theatre business is climbing back to normal, the b.o. is still 10% off in firstruns and 20% off in nabes, compared to last year. Three months ago, however, the number of admissions at the firstruns was off 20%, indicating a slow but steedy alies but the compared to the compare the firstruns was off 20%, indicating a slow but steady climb out of the doldrums for the big houses.

Greatest inroads into theatre big currently are being made by outdoor sports and other competing forms of amusement. Bowling clubs, instead of disbanding as usual for the summer, have been welded together into permanent recreation groups offering counterattractions with social, swimming, hiking, etc. Practice of lighting up the city's recreation centers for hiking, etc. Practice of lighting up the city's recreation centers for night ball is also keeping 'em away from the wickets. Big unions in this area have also organized competitive forms of nighttime entertainment.

Television isn't cuttling perceptibly into biz now, although it did about three to six months ago when it was more of a novelty, affecting the nabes mostly. Dave Idzal, Fox manager, says video's poor summer programs are driving people back to theatres for entertainment.

Drive-ins have picked up mark-

tainment.
Drive-ins have picked up markedly recently after being hadly bopped during the first part of the summer because of unusually hot and humid weather. Ozoners have taken some biz away from the nabes but the firstruns have been unaffected.

nabes but the firstruns have been inaffected.

Drive-in construction at present limited to two projects in the Ecorse-Wyandotte suburban area. Most drive-ins are getting third-runs with a few getting second-runs. Ozoners get their pix on a percentage basis with costs now double and triple over last year.

Only 'one new regular theatre, only 'one new regular theatre, in Royal Oak, is now under construction, although costs are down from last year. Several other new houses are being planned for the indefinite future as evidenced by signs in vacant lots in newly developed housing areas. But no one knows when building will get under way. signs in vacant lots in newly developed housing areas. But no one knows when building will get under way.

One of the most popular topics of exhib conversation is admission of exhibit conversation is admission of exhibit conversation in the exhibit conversation is admission of exhibit conversation in the exhibit conversation is admission of exhibit conversation in the exhibit conversation is admission of exhibit conversation in the exhibit conversation is admission of exhibit conversation in the exhibit conversation is admission.

8 More to Go

Hakim brothers apparently aren't sure which of the 10 Commandments they most fa-Commandments they most la-vor for picture material, so they've staked a claim to two of them. They've registered the titles. "The Seventh Com-mandment" and "The Ninth mandment and Commandment."

Commandment."

Thou shalt not shalt not shalt not shalt

Seventh is "Thou shait not steal" and ninth, "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife."

prices, but the unanimous opinion is "leave 'em alone." Prices were prices, but the unanimous opinion is "leave 'em alone." Prices were decreased in a few nabes as a test several months ago but failed to increase patronage.

Despite downward grosses, there's no move afoot to increase exploitation. Flackerles, ra d to plugs, billboard space are on the downgrade, reflecting more limited budgets. Only evidence of bally tactics was used recently in conjunction with the preem of "Love Happy" and a "Bing Sing" to promote Crosby's "Connecticut

Yankee."
Exhibs are generally agreed that there is a greater variety of pix now than a year ago, with better quality. But what constitutes a good pic at the b.o. varies from one theatre owner to another. Exhibs flatly stated that there was no such thing as a definite type or works of pix getting a play at this such thing as a definite type or cycle of pix getting a play at this time.

Western Canada's Biz Off 20% From 1948

Vancouver, Aug. 9.
Business in Canada's most western province has slumped some 20'r in last year, with about 50% of that slump coming within the

of that slump coming within the last six months.

Television has had no effect on theatre business. There are only a tew television receivers here picking up videocasts from Seattle, 150 miles to the south.

Biggest segment of entertainment business has been grabbed off by the drive-ins. With the advent of hot-weather, patrons hightail It out to ozoners on the city's edge.

Two ozoners are pianned for the Two ozoners are-pianned for the immediate vicinity, with three In the province having been erected in the last year. Al present the ozoners are still getting the left-over product. They are paying same as small suburban houses and getting as much business as the first-run downtown houses.

first-run downtown houses.
When drive-ins first got underway, they played only oldies, that being the only product available to them. Patrons liked the old stuff, but the source dried up. Now they get what product is left over after being picked clean by the other runs.
Standard in drive-in construction are the in-car speakers, but one has installed a merry-go-round for the convenience of the kids.

has installed a merry-go-round for the convenience of the kids. Another tried dancing without success. Big source of revenue is food. Carhops are kept on their toes all evening. Theatre construction has passed its peak. There are some four or five on the drawing-boards in the province, none of any major con-sequence. Locally, a couple sub-urbans are undergoing the hammer treatment at present, with only treatment at present, with only one forecast to be erected in the one forecast to be erected in the near future.

Only construction of consequence for the future is remodeling of the older houses. Famous Players has finished its new building program and is now embarking on a remodelling program all across the country. Costs have gone up 12% in the last year with no immediate hiking forecast.
Candy and concession business has increased ratio-wise to the admish take. Theatre operators are finding that it is not wise to lease out concessions, but rather are operating same themselves.

are operating same then seives.

Biggest grossers are musicals, though dramas, with accent on crime, are good dollar-fetchers.

Good foreign films with proper Good foreign films with proper exploitation garner heavy coin, too. Pix doing worse business are those which are obvious propaoutdoors have received much attention in this natural resort country.

tion in this natural resort country.
One aspect of the entertainment business which has garnered much summer patronage is the Theatre Under the Stars. This project is under sponsorship of the Civic Parks board and provides live entertainment with large casts at minimum admish.

Richmond Exhibitors Weather State of Apathy

Richmond, Va., Aug. 9.
Exhibitors here appear to be weathering the current state of flux with some apathy but little hysteria. General business slumped 10% to 15% early in the year but has picked up since July 4 and is reported to be only slightly less than for the first six-month period of 1948. Exhibitors attribute this

(Continued on page 24)

Buying 'Flats' At Peak % Averages Annoys Exhibs

Growing willingness of distribs trowing willingness or distribu-to sell many situations at flat rentals histead of percentages is no unmixed blessing, according to exhibs. Experience with the flats in houses where important pictures exhibs. Experience with the flats in houses where important pictures have been played that way in a number of years proves that percentage dates are frequently better, according to indie circuit buyers in the New York area.

Trouble is, it's said, is that the distribs have a tendency to base their flat rental prices on the percentage biz they have for a house on their records. They'll look through their files, pick out the highest film rental paid by the exhib during the wartime heyday, and then try to base the flat deal on that, the circuit buyers squawk. Exhibs say that if they ever go for a price arrived at on anything like that basis they get stung.

Another problem they have with the flat deals, the buyers declare, arises every time a distrib comes along with a picture that's above the average. If an exhib is willing to recognize that fact and pay a bit more than usual on a flat rental deal, he's dead after that. Distrib, on succeeding pix, always wants the highest price he's gotten before and it's a big battle to wear him down to the level he was getting before the good one came along, the circuit men aswas getting before the good one came along, the circuit men as-

All in ali, they declare, they'd rather do business on percentage except in the most minor spots. It's fairer, requires less haggling and ends up with neither party so likely to be gypped.

AMUS, SHARES CLIMB WITH REST OF MARKET

Rally of amusement stocks on e N. Y. Stock exchange, along the N. Y. Stock exchange, along with all other industries, has sent price quotes on entertainment shares on an upward climb for the first time in many months. As a result, overall value of amusement shares during July hounced back to $450.004.861 propresenting a gain $450.004.861 propresenting a gain. $627,094.661, representing a gain of $19,.883,568 for the 30-day peor $13,,685,568 for the 30-day period. Recovery continues during the current month with major film company, and in a second seco company, radio network and disk-ing outfit stocks listed on the big board at a high point since the early spring. Average per-share price of these stocks were at $14.38 on July 31 against a figure of $14.04 at the end against a ngure of $14.04 at the end of June. Indicating the steady decline before the July upbeat are previous exchange totals. Value at the end of June was $607.211,093; that of May. $630.392.929; April. $644.833.437; and March. $660.947, 930.

That's What Man Says

Bing Crosby may be the top marquee star for the popula-tion as a whole, but Bob Hope is the bo. fave of boys be-tween 12 and 17, according to tween 12 and 17, according to Dr. George Gallup's Audience Research pollsters. Abbott & Costello rank second with the juves while Crosby places third.

Crosby, Hope and A&C have interchanged first place among this age bracket for the past four years.

KETTLE,' 'RILEY' KEY U'S BREAD-AND-BUTTER B.O.

Universal's bread - and - butter ix, framed strictly for exploitability, are now proving to be the company most profitable ventures. Indicating the turn of events at U, one of the company's biggest black-ink operations at the present time is "Ma and Pa Kettle," which time is "Ma and Pa Kettle, which U produced at a negative cost of $500,000. In its first 17 weeks, "Kettle" has been good for $1,250,000 in rentals with its ultimate domestic gross figured at $1,-750.000.

Another big earner in the exploitable class is "Life of Riley." starring William Bendix. That pic has already earned $1.500.000 with a number of bookings still to be liquidated in the U. S. market.

U first swung into making a series of bread-and-butter pix last year after a series of costly weakies knocked the company into the loss column. Its present production costs are less than one-half the ievel hit in the first two postwar

Warner Bros.' 9-Month Net Profit, $7,363,000

Net profits of Warner Bros. for fiscal 1949, which ends for that company Sept. 2, will show a continued retreat from the firm's peak 1947 take of $22.094.000. Further decline i nearnings now appears certain as result of the company's certain as result of the company's nine-month report which fixes its net for that period at $7.363,000 after provision of $4,900,000 for Federal taxes. It compares with $10,321,000 for the corresponding stretch of last year.

Nine-month period ended May 28 leaving the usually dull summer season to be absorbed. The drop, however, will no-wise be as great on a percentage basis as the decline between the 1947 peak and the $11,837,000 racked up last

After a fast starting six months which WB grabbed $5,624,000, in which WB grabbed $5,624,000. third quarter proved a disappointing $1,739,000. In the same period of '48, Warners took in $3,-010,000 while the company's first ix months was only slightly better than the figure announced this year. Fourth quarter take last year, however, was a slow $1,506,-000 and the company may make up some of the lost ground i three months ending Sept. 2.

Gross rentals and theatre admissions for the nine months amount-ed to $101,242,000. This figure ed to $101,242.000. This figure compares with $112.415.000 in '48 and $125.078,000 in '47. Equiva-lent earnings on outstanding com-mon equalled $1 per share for the current nine months against $1.41 in the same period of '48.

In the same period of '48.

Accounting for part of the decline is the fact that Warners, like other majors, no longer credit profits with rentals accumulated in foreign markets. Only that part of the overseas revenues which are remittable in dollars are now scored up. Change was first effected Sept. 1, 1948, beginning of the present fiscal year.

Breakdown of operating as Breakdown of operating ex-penses shows an outlay of $30,007,-090 during the nine months for amortization of film costs. Operatamortization of film costs. Operating and general expenses totalled $54,243,365; royalties and participations, $6.416.604; and amortization and depreciation of properties, $2,865,114.

tes, $2,865,114.

Cash hoidings as of May 28 were $17,092,605 and U. S. Government bonds, $3,067,102. Film inventory consists of pix in release, $11,308,252; completed but unreleased productions. $12,586,838; and pix in production, $10,871,289.

Warners has declared a common stock dividend of 25c per share, payable Oct. 5, to stockholders of record. Sept. 9:

M-G's QT Tests On How Extra Ads Can Boost B.O.

Metro is engaged in extensive tests on its own to determine the exact relationship between a boost in newspaper advertising and re-sults at the boxoffice. While the sults at the boxoffice. While the industry has been pondering a raft of suggestions on how to build up theatre revenues. Metro has been quietly conducting a 16-city, controlled test of the effect of boosted ad expenditures with a cross-check against comparable cities where only normal expenditures are made.

The M-G fiver in hypoed add by

The M-G flyer in hypored ads has The M-G flyer in hypoed ads has been going on since March, it has now been learned, and will be completed by Sept. 1. The 16 cities were chosen because they each represented a typical American locale. Against each city, its closest counterpart has been held to normal ad budgets so that grosses in each test area have a reference noin!

oint.
Under the scientifically mapped Under the scientifically mapped venture, expenditures in the 16 cities are carefully scaled from a trifle above normal to a peak which represents approximately double what the company would ordinarily layout in that situation, By this method, Metro hopes to plot out a graph which would demonstrate the relationship of additional tendance, and determine to attendance and determine whether the company should boost whether the company should boost its outlay on newspapers. Saturation point, if there be any on ad, is also being sought.

Tests have been launched without publicity because Metrout publicity because Metroutes fear that airing of the particular cities might adversely affect the accuracy of results or start other majors on the same course. In choosing the 16 locales, company has weighed climes. population, economic conditions and availability of comparative towns. company has weighed conditions

JULY TRADING WAY OFF ON PIX, RADIO

Washington, Aug. 9.
Daniel M. Sheaffer, of Philadelphia, a director of Universal Pictures, purchased 1,000 shares of U common last month, increasing his holding to 2,007, according to the report of insider stock transaction filed by the Securities & Exchange Commission. It was a action filed by the Securities & Ex-change Commission. It was one of the thinnest months on record for the purchase and saie of amuse-ment stocks by officers and direc-tors of film and radio corporations.

tors of film and radio corporations.
Loew's, Inc., continued buying up ail ioose shares of the Loew's Boston Theatres' $25 par, common. It added 200 more shares last month; and the parent company now has 124,935 shares. Robert E. Hannegan, a director of 20th-Fox, reported to SEC that he had acquired 426 shares of the no par common. Jack Cohn purchased 100 shares of Columbia common for a trust account. He now has 49.068 shares in his own name, plus an additional 19,157 in the trust account.

On the radio side, Samuel Paley, a CBS director, reported making a gift of 5,000 shares of the $2,50 Class B, common stock. He still owns 16,000 shares of the $2,50 Class B, common. Joseph A. W. Iglehart, also a CBS director, purchased 200 shares of the Class A, common. Joseph A. W. Iglehart, also a CBS director, purchased 200 shares of the Class B, common in the past two months. Glen Me Daniel, of RCA, reported acquiring his first 100 shares of common stock in the company of which he has become an officer. Loew's. Inc., continued

Educ'l Mkt.'s Growth

Educ I mkt. s Growth

Hollywood. Aug. 9

Fastest growing market in the picture industry is the educational pic. according to Stuart Scheffel, head of Young America Films, Inc., producer of 16m short subjects for use in schools, factories and other institutions. Between $10.000.000 and $150.000.000 was spent iast year by educational groups for audio-visual tools, including approximately $5,000.000 for the purchase of 7.717 educational films.

Training by film during the late war demonstrated that suddients.

war demonstrated that soldiers learned subjects 38 per cent faster by the visual medlum than by the conventional book method.

NO MARKDOWN ON TOP STARS

King Bros.' Film Admish Charge Acct. [[CONOMY HITS Idea Nixed by 'Cash Biz' Advocates

accounts for admissions, which was advanced by the King brothers, Coast producers, last week, has intrigued many industryites, although they are wondering about the practicality of it. Kings are planning to present the proposal, the practicality of it. Kings are planning to present the proposal, which they claim will give a great hypo to the boxoffice, at the Theatre Owners of America convention in Los Angeles Sept. 12.

King plan would work pretty with the property of the prope patron and theatre. Charge account customers comprise a mailing list with a very direct interest in the shows coming to a house and attendance could be promoted on that basis.

King brothers see their scheme as primarily an idea designed to appeal to the family man. They are of the belief that workers who get pald once or twice a month may have enough money to provide (Continued on page 22)

(Continued on page 22)

Other Unions' Demands For 'Story' Filming Policies Is Hotfoot to Equityites

Cast of "Detective Story" was in a tizzy last week when members of unions other than Equity demanded pay for Paramount's special screening of the play. Actors apparently reacted to a rumor that, rather than pay the extra labor cost, the studio might drop its plan to film the show, for use as a guide in the production of the picture version.

version.

Actors wrote a letter to Equity protesting the fact that the union's representative had not attended the Fact Finding Committee meeting at which it was decided that stagehands, doormen, manager, wardrobe mistress and others were to be paid for the filmed performance. Theory seemed to be that the Equity spokesman might have persuaded the other unions not to make demands.

ance. Theory seemed to be that the Equity spokesman might have persuaded the other unions not to make demands.

It's pointed out, however, that the Equity delegate is not expected to attend Fact Finding Committee tessions unless a matter concerning the actors' union is on the agenda. In this instance, the regular Equity rules require that cast members be paid a full week's salary for every day's shooting for such a picture, so the "Detective Story" actors were already covered. Only demands that are in question are that the scenic designer. Soil are for every day's shooting for such a picture, so the "Detective Story" actors were already covered. Only demands that are in question are that the scenic designer. Soil are for every day's shooting for such a picture, so the "Detective Story" actors were already covered. Only demands that are in question are that the scenic designer. Millie Sutherland, should get $100. for the show. Herman Bernstein, business manger for producers Howard on the Republic iot this year, which a goal of 50 pictures before the end of December, the highest mark on the lot since 1944. The Roy Rogers starrer, "The Bells of Cronado," is the 33rd film on the Company's east-rot studio representative, and Borls Kaplan, the company's east-rot studio representative, and Borls Kaplan. The Company's east-rot s

Siritzky Eyes Theatres In West for Arty Pix

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Leon Siritzky is here seeking three local houses and others in 11 western states for art type product. Says he'll open office here for exhibition of "Man to Man," French film on Red Cross, which he's bringing to U.S.

Siritzky also is looking for Hollywood producer to make pix in France with his frozen coin.

WB to Produce 6 Pix in England

Reviving plans for largescale production in Britain, Warner Bros. is mapping a program of six pix on Angio terrain for the coming year. Company will turn out the half-dozen at the Elstree studios in collaboration with the Associated British Pictures Corp., in which WB itas a substantial interest.

Original program of six pix in Britain was announced by Jack L. Warner last year as part of the U. S. majors' strategy to stem the imposition of a stiff quota through demonstrations of copper at ion with Britain's Industry. Ensuing internal crisis within the British industry and general uncertainty prevailing in American film circles caused Warners to delay putting the program into effect.

Six pix to be produced at Elstree.

caused Warners to delay putting the program into effect.

Six pix to be produced at Elstree will currently be aimed at thawing out Warners' frozen earnings in England while, at the same time, substantially boosting the company's releasing roster. While it's understood that the pix will be produced under the ABPC banner, Warners will provide the major part of the coin, American stars and some other personnel.

Initial pic under the program. "Stage Fright." is now rolling at Elstree with Alfred Hitchcock directing and Jane Wyman and Marlene Dietrich starring. Hitchcock who also has a distrib pact with Warners as co-partner, with Sidney Bernstein in Transatlantic Pictures, is piloting "Stage Fright" under a straight deal as a Warner director. Yarus and titles for the remaining productions are still to be fixed.

Hitchcock and Fred Ahearn, his be fixed.

Hitchcock and Fred Ahearn, his production manager, are due back in the U.S. in mid-September. Miss Dietrich and Miss Wyman will return to the Coast immediately following completion of "Stage lowing completion of Fright" in about 10 days.

LESSER PLAYERS

Continued war on high costs in hollywood for the past two years has as yet failed to dent top star salaries. Players who drew $125,000 per picture and over during the period of the studios' most spendthrift heyday in 1945 and 1946 are still finding their earnings in those brackets, a survey discloses.

in those brackets, a survey discloses.

The middle- and lower-salaried actors were the hardest hit when the word came in from New York homeoffices that every possible cost must be sliced. Price tags on these players have dropped anywhere from 25% to 75%. They've pretty-much hit bottom and leveled off now, although that is only half the story so far as actors in this category are concerned.

They have been hit not only by salary cuts, but in studio casting practices. Whereas it was previously habit to go into the market for secondary leads and character people and pay them a relatively fancy sum during the lush days, casting directors are now much more prone to stick to contract lists.

A secondary phenomenon in the

A secondary phenomenon in the talent situation is that prices for newcomers—particularly the young Broadway players who are being picked up with increasing frequentials of the process of picked up with increasing frequency—are gradually climbing. All the lots are well cognizant of their need for new faces as future star material and they're willing to pay a relatively generous fee to experienced thespers who have the talent and personality desired.

There has been almost a complete move away from the pretty-face type of contract player. There is no inclination any more to spend either the time or the money to train a tyro and hope he or she will catch on. That's the reason for the heavy draw on young Broad-(Continued on page 22)

(Continued on page 22)

1st Time in Metro History the Entire Year's Pix Set Up

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Spotlighting the new order of things at Metro, all films planned by the company for release in the 1949-50 season are either in the can, in production or in preparation. It is the first time in the history of the Culver City lot that a complete program for the season has been laid out far in advance and carried through without hitch. In all, 59 pix of the 64 originally announced early in the year by Dore Schary, production veepee, are completed, before the cameras or being readied for production. Intensive production activity or being readied for production.

Intensive production activity conforms with the earlier decision by Schary, Louis B. Mayer, studio head: Nicholas M. Schenck, prez.
and William F. Rodgers, distribution v.p., to speed up both filmmaking and releases. Schary's main by has been to map a longrange job has been to map a longrange program and to pile up a considerable backlog to help the Metro pace along.

Metro now has 21 films completed but unreleased and six being pleted but infreleased and six being lensed. This represents the largest backlog for the company in many years. In the past, its inventory never exceeded six or seven fea-tures. Accumulation of films on the shelves insures the outfit's

(Continued on page 27)

Dietz Back Sept. 19 Howard Dietz, Metro's ad-pub

veepee, returns from an extensive European vacation Sept. 19. Dietz visited a number of the company's overseas offices in the course of his three-month stay.

His trip took in Italy, France and Britain.

National Exhibitors Film Co. Sets $2,000,000 Floor Before Teeoff

Film Paychecks Up;

Sacramento, Aug. 9.
Weekly earnings of film workers averaged $98.85 in June, according to the California State Employ-has been closed. Transaction is said to involve approximately $500,000 although breakup of purchase price between U and King Features has not been disclosed. Under terms of the pact, Filmcraft has acquired all rights to seven of U's oldtime cliffhangers. These include "Don Winslow in the Navy." "Don Winslow in the Navy." "Don Winslow in the Coast Guard." "Ace Drumnond." "Red Barry." "Flash Gordon" and "Flash Gordon Strip to Mars."

Two Universal features. "Mars Attacks the World" and "Rocket Ship" also pass hands. King, on Attacks the World" and "Rocket Ship" also pass hands. King, on its part, has granted Filmeraft production rights to serials Involv-ing the cartoon characters. Sam-uel S. Krellberg is prez of Film-

Underwriters Reclaim Bronston's 'Walk in Sun'

Waiter E. Helier & Co. of Chi-cago and Ideal Factoring Co. of New York, which jointly financed Samuel Bronston's production of New York, which jointy inflanced a Samuel Bronston's production of "A Walk in the Sun" in 1944, acquired title to the picture last week in foreclosure proceedings in New York. This is one of the few instances in recent film history which the progression have been which moneymen have forced to bring court action to take over a picture which failed to pay off.

off.

Last week's proceedings in N. Y. supreme court were a mere technicality, there being no bidders and Heller and Ideal taking overwalk' for the sum of their judgment against it. Film cost about $1,250,000, of which the two financing outfits put up almost $1,000,000. About $400,000 remained due them in principal and Interest.

Pic, distributed by United Artists, was in a series of difficulties from its very inception. Bronston's Comstock Productions ran out of coin before finishing it and Heller and Martin Hersh, head of Ideal, set up a new company, Superior Productions, to complete it.

Heller and Hersh are looking toward setting a new distribution deal by which they hope to regain some of their coin via a reissue.

000 in the National Exhibitors Film Co, in the form of stock subscrip-Employment 10% Less tions by circuit ops must be made Weekly earnings of film workers averaged $98.83 in June, according to the California State Employment bulletin.

Average paychecks were slightly higher than those of June, 1948, but the number of jobs on the motion picture lots was about 10% less.

Largest' Prod.

Largest' Prod.

Sked for Mono

Chicago, Aug. 9.

Although Steve Broidy announced the largest production schedule by Monogram for 1949-50 here at the annual sales convention, announcement was tempered with words that "budgets would be in line with economic conditions."

Mono prexy told 50 exchange managers and franchise-holders that 40 pix would be made under the Monogram emblem and eight for Allied Artists, two of which will be filmed in England for blocked funds.

3-WAY RESIDUAL DEAL INVOLVES 7 U SERIALS. Three-way dcal under which Universal and King Features have assigned both serials and filmmaking has been reached in recent meetings of bigtime exhibits, amount from those committed to the conflict on the subject of bigtime exhibits. Sponsors, however, have no fears that the $2,000,000 support in stock buys will be withheld. Backers are shooting for $4,000,000 sare probable startoff capitalization. Commitments for $4,000,000 were made by exhibs who attended the confabs which or conditions."

Besides fixing the minimum figure for successful actives as a new bankroller of indight making has been reached in recent meetings of bigtime exhibits, amount from those committed to the outfit is not of tendenting to doubt the cash-on-the-line in that amount from those committed to unfail the cash-on-the-line in that amount from those committed to unfail the cash-on-the-line in that amount from those committed to unfail the cash-on-the-line in that the $2,000,000 support in stock buys will be withheld. Backers are shooting for $4,000,000 sare probable startoff capitalization. Commitments for $2,000,000 support in stock buys will be withheld. Backers are shooting for $4,000,000 sare poseed the venture.

Besides fixing the cash-on-the-line in that the before the company starts official operations. Agreement fixing the

(Continued on page 27)

Norman Siegel's Pitch To Cut Out Lost Bally On Changing Pix Titles

Granging Pix Titles

Because Paramount, along with other studios, is having its perennial difficulties over film titles, Norman Siegel, Par's studio adpub chief, wants the companies to hire experts whose fulltime job would be labelling pix. Siegel has been urging his own studio for the past few months to take that step.
He points to the fact that ad agencies hire specialists to write slogans rather than depend on a hit-andmiss method with everyone from the office steno up joining in the naming game.

naming game.
Siegel has asked his studio to put Siegel has asked his studio to put the tagging of pix on a scientific basis. It is his idea that these specialists could probe the effect on boxoffice of particular types of titles; clock grosses on particular labels; and generally make a thor-ough study of the subject so that certain principles could be formu-lated lated.

On that score, Paramounter notes On that score, Paramounter notes that plenty of publicity on individual pix has gone down the drain because of title changes after a studio flackery has plugged the film for a number of months. This waste of publicity which has proven a frequent source of harassment to the studio can be eliminated by specialized and scientific proven a frequent source of harassment to the studio can be eliminated by specialized and scientific labelling before the pic goes before the cameras. Siegel maintains.

Citing one instance of lost publicity. Siegei said that his lot received a number of letters from patrons asking what had become of a projected filmization of "The Big Haircut." These letters came In long after the film had been released under the changed title of "Random Harvest." Patrons were unaware of the switch after penetration on the original name had been accomplished.

Siegel. currently in New York for huddles with Max E. Youngstein, Par's national ad-pub topper, returns to the Coast Friday (12).

I Was a Male War Bride

FILM REVIEWS

Twentieth Fox release of Sol C. Siegel production. Stars Cary Grant. Ann Shericam: features Marion Marshall. Randy Stuart, William Neft. Directed by Howard Hawks. Screenplas, Charles Leedere Leonard Spikelgass. He declared Spikelgass. He declared time. 105 MINS.

Henri Rochard
Lt. Catherine Gates
Lt. Catherine Gates
Capt. Jack Rumsev
Tony Jowitt
Tony Jowitt
Trumble
Seaman
Rockerine
Trumble
Seaman
Rockerine
Lieutenar
Chaplain
David Merkine
John Whitney
John Whitney
Lieutenar
Affeed Lander
Chaplain
David Mewlahon Shore Patrol
Die Haworth

"I Was a Male War Bride" is 20th-Fox's latest entry in the sophisticated comedy sweepstakes. Basically a bedroom farce in military dress, the picture is wellstocked with mature dialog and situations which are bound to get it not only laughs but also tremendous word-of-mouth. That, coupled with Cary Grant and Ann Sheridan for the marquee, makes it a cinch Scripting trio of Charles Lederer, Leonard Spigelgass and Hagar Wilde translated Henri Rochard's ofttimes risque yarn almost literally to the screen. Result is a smash combo of saucy humor and slapstick.

Title describes the story perfect-

Title describes the story perfectly. Grant is a French army officer who, atter the war, marries Miss Sheridan, playing a WAC officer. From then on it's a tale of Grant's attempts to get back to the U. S. with his wife by joining a contingent of war brides. Plot forms a neat background for the comedic talents of the two stars and they sock across both the situations and the dialog. Film was caught at a sneak preview in-we New York nabe house, where the laughs came so hard and fast that many of the lines sock across both the situations and the dialog. Film was caught at a sneak preview in New York nabe house, where the laughs came so hard and fast that many of the lines were lost.

Picture's chief failing, if it can be called that in view of the frothy components, is that the entire production crew, from scripters to director Howard Hawks and the cast, were apparently so intent on getting the maximum in yocks that they overlooked the necessary characterizations. Despite his French nationality, for example, Grant is completely familiar with American slang; yet later in the story he stumbles over "Massachusetts." Fuller detailing of his background somewhere along the line might have explained that. Film's impact, as a result, remains on the surface; the deeper emotions are hardly scratched, and never penetrated.

Story, in addition, seems to have trouble finding a point at which to end. Although it seldom drags, the script halts several times and then resumes for a fresh start on a slightly modified tack. Film picks up the two stars on a postwar mission inside Germany. Despite a previous antagonism, their forced proximity naturally leads to romance and they marry. When Miss Sheridan gets her sailing orders, they find all the immigration quotas filled, leaving Grant's only chance to accompany her home the "war bride' twist. Army regulations prevent them from consummating their marriage night after night until finally, after considerable skirmishing with Army brass and red tape and the accepted diplomatic amenities, they finally get together on the boat.

Story was filmed for the most porting players forced their return to Hollywood, where the remaining interiors were lensed. Illness, however, did not hamper the cast's cavortings. Grant and Miss Sheridan, carrying most of the film, dis-interiors were lensed. Illness, how-ever, did not hamper the cast's cavortings. Grant and Miss Sheri-dan, carrying most of the film, dis-play some of their best comedic thesping yet. Supporting players get little chance to shine, although Marion Marshall, as Miss Sheri-dan's sidekick, and Randy Stuart, as a naive WAC from the south, manage to score.

Marion Marshall, as Miss Sheridan's sidekick, and Randy Stnart, as a naive WAC from the south, manage to score. Hawks' directorial finesse is evident throughout, as are the fine production techniques of Sol C. Siegel. Most notable, of course, are the authentic German backgrounds—those bombed-out citles could never have been duplicated in Hollywood. Film is tightly-knit and well-paced but might have been trimmed from its. 105-minute running time with little loss. Stal.

'Summer Stock' Next Pic for Judy Garland

Judy Garland Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Summer Stock." which Metro has now scheduled shead of "Show Boat."

Gene Kelly originally was pen-eilled in as co-star, but may be supplanter by Van Johnson,

Easy Living (SONG)

(SONG)

RKO release of Robert Sparks production. Stars Victor Mature, Lucille Ball, izabeth Scott, Sonny Tulis, Lloyd Nolan: eatures Paul Stewart, Jack Paar, Jeff Donkfagetes Rams. Directed by Jacques Rouncier. Screenjay. Charles Schnestard of Story by Irwin Shaw: camera. Aarry J. Wild; music, Roy Webb; editor, rederic Knudson. Tradeshown Aug. 4, 49. Running time, 77 MINS. Victor Mature

Anne	. Lucille Ball
Liza Wilson	Lizabeth Scott
Tim McCarr	Sunny Tutts
Lenahan	Lloyd Nolan
Argus	Paul Stewart
Scoop Spooner	lack Paar
Penny McCarr	Jeff Donnell
Howard Vollmer	Act Baker
Howard vollmer	Candon lones
Bill Holloran	Gordon Jones
Jaegar	Don Beddoe
Buddy Morgan	Dick Erdman
Buddy Morgan Ozzie William	"Bill" Phillips
Whitev	Charles Lang
Kenny Ken	ny Washington
Virgil Ryan	Everett Glass
Urchin Gilbert Volimer	Robert Ellis
Cilbert Volimer	Steven Flagg
D	Alex Sharp
Don Hink Edwards	Barre Thousan
HINK PAWARDS	lune Bright
Billy Duane	. June bright
Curly	Eddie Kotai
Singer	Audrey Young
Curly Singer Los Angeles Ra	ms

"Easy Living" is only mildly successful in putting over its story. Spotty grosses, at best, can be expected. Its pro football back-ground offers some exploitation possibilities if released during the possibilities if released during the gridiron season and the cast names are good, but, on the whole, it's disappointing film fare that lacks the common touch needed to put it over.

Despite the action promised by the pigskin premise, the mowement is static and the script by Charles Schnee is a character study rather than a fast-moving plot. Dialog listens okay but does little to snap up the pace and Jacques Tourneur's direction has arty inflections that make the yarn difficult to follow.

up the pace and Jacques Tourneur's direction has arty inflections that make the yarn difficult to follow.

Victor Mature is the plot hero, a pro footballer who discovers he has a bad heart but still keeps in the game in an effort to hold an ambitious wife who's inclined to stray when her busband is no longer a hero. The story development is obvious, except for the ending, but the twist is not enough to save what has gone before. Finale is a face-slapping, sex-laden sequence which brings Mature and the wife, Lizabeth Scott, back together after he smacked her into the proper wifely pose.

Lucille Ball's starring role, while expertly done, doesn't realize on the possibilities of her name and talent. As a disillusioned girl who carries a torch for Mature with little chance of getting him, the role develops the sympathy totally lacking in Miss Scot's character and the audience will pull for her to get her man.

Mature is up to his usual good standard and his personality helps the character rand the audience will pull for her to get her man.

Mature is up to his usual good standard and his personality helps the character proting hard time making a cryptic character come to life. Art Bake, an elderly amourist: Paul Stewart, news lensman; Jeff Donnell, Tuft's wife; Gordon Jones, footballer; Kenny Washing-ton, Julia Dean, Everett Glass are among the others who try hard to spark the synthetically realistic character probing in the Irwin among the others who try hard to spark the synthetically realistic character probing in the Irwin Shaw original. Physical feet.

Physical framework supplied by Physical framework supplied by Robert Sparks' production guidance keeps a good part of the footage in the locker room and on the field and, otherwise, is adequately glossed for the story to told. Good lensing by Harry J. Wild projects the arty influence of the Tourneur direction. Score has one song, the title tune, used during a party scene.

Brog.

Yes Sir, That's My Baby

Yes Sir, That's My Baby

(COLOR-SONGS)

Universal release of Leonard Goldstein production. Stare Donald O'Connor. Streenplay. Oscar Brodney: comera (Treh Incolor). Irving Glassberg: edito. Ted J. Kenti dances, Louis Da Pron: songs. Walter Schart, Jack Brooks, Walter Onalders Schart, Jack Brooks, Walter Onalders Schart, Jack Brooks, Walter Onalders, S. 49. Running time. 12 MINS.

William Waldo Winfield Donald O'Connor Professor Jason Haite! Charles Coburn Brand Jane Winfield Arnold Schultze. Joshus Shelley Barbara Brown Dawis Brooks, Control of Connor Conn

"Yes Sir, That's My Baby," from le Walter Donaldson-Gus Kahn "Yes Sir, That's My Baby," from the Waltar Donaldson-Gus Kahn pop tune, has been made into an innocuous though pleasant comedy that should satisfy most tastes. Starring the extremely talented bonald O'Connor, it Is hokey, yet with a rather disarming quality bubbling with youth. It has a cute story and apparently wasn't too expensively budgeted.

"Baby," with its title tune as part of the musical background, deals with ex-GIs who have returned to college postwar. Some of them have, in the were year, quired wives and children, and it's

Miniature Reviews

"I Was a Male War Bride" (201h). Saucy comedy starring Cary Grant, Ann Sheridan; cinch boxoffice winner.

(Easy Living" (Song) (RKO).
Drama with pro football background; only moderate and spotty grossing possibilities.

"Yes Sir, That's My Baby"
(U-1) (Color-Songs). Uppretentious but entertaining b.o. comedy with Donald O'Connor.

"Make Mine Laughs" (Songs) (RKO). Entertaining vaude show on film with musical ex-cerpts from RKO pictures.

"South of Rio" (Song) (Rep), Good Monte Hale western for the oater market.

a question of adjusting their academics with their family life. For instance, there's a quintet of football stars who have to fit their gridironing in with their babyminding, at the dictation of the wives.

Also complicating matters are a frustrated femme psychology prof who is all for having the wives—her students—not allow their husbands to play ball. But a male biology prof, who is also the football coach, seeks to pit his charges against the distaff uprising, with the solution reached only when the two profs get together romantically. It seems that 30 years before they had broken off their romance, and that was a contributing factor in her frustration.

O'Connor is excellent as the gootball star singing densing and

and that was a contributing factor in her frustration.

O'Connor is excellent as the football star, singing, dancing and generally cavorting himself with an ingratiating personality. Gloria de Haven is cute as his wife, while Charles Coburn is fine as the coach, though he's probably the only monocled grid mentor in the business. Joshua Shelley, from the Broadway stage, gets laughs as a frustrated gridder, and Barbara Brown does okay as the psych prof.

There is one dance routine done by O'Connor that shows him off especially well. Direction and scripting are nifty, with several incidental songs serving okay for cidental songs serving okay for background additionally to the sock title tune. And the Technicolor is an orbful. Kahn.

Make Mine Laughs (SONGS)

RKO has concocted another vaude show on film that lives up to the title of "Make Mine Laughs." A fast 63 minutes of fun and songs are unreeled, highlighting new footage and clips from previous RKO releases. It is excellent underpinning for dual bills.

Emeceing the setup is Gil Lamb He gives the intros a glib sendoff and also collects a few laughs on his own. Musical talent is strong, having Ray Bolger's standout terping; Dennis Day's tenoring; and

Little League Baseball

Designed to provide American youths 8-12, with planned Designed to provide American youths 8-12, with planned outdoor recreation. Little League Baseball is an amateur, non-profit community undertaking, which to date is located in 22 states and consists of over 900 teams with 13,000 kids participating. Produced by the Little League Baseball Assn., with the cooperation of the U.S. Rubber Co., this 20-minute short provides an interesting and entertaining presentation of the league's development.

In addition to an informative background commentary by Joseph Hasel, the film is highlighted by a play-by-play description of the 1948 Little League championship game.

description of the 1948 Little League championship game. Professional sportscasting by Ted Husing, excellent camera work by Burgi Conter and Russell Carrier, and creditable direction by Emerson Yorke fill this lengthy sequence with-all the color and excitement fermented at a major league lussle.

tussle.

Though pic may run too long for some exhibitors purposes, it nevertheless is good film fare with appeal for buseball fans and other who enjoy watching children in action. Film is available in both 35m and 16m prints.

Frances Langford's torching. Day and Anne Shirley work together on "If You Happen to Find My Heart." Miss Langford sings "Send Back My Love to Me."

on "If You Happen to Find My Heart." Miss Langford sings "Send Back My Love to Me."
For comedy, picture teams Joan Davis and Jack Haley and the sequence is topped by Miss Davis' initiation of an outboard motor. A Leon Errol domestic comedy is included for sturdy chuckles. Assisting him are Myrna Dell and Dorothy Granger. A high spot of the film is Robert Lamouret and his dummy duck in a hilarious ventriloquist routine. Manuel and Marita Viera with their monkey orchestra; Freddie Fisher and his Schnickelfritzers; Rosario & Antonio in a Latin dance routine; the Titans, muscle act; and Frankie Carlo's keyboarding are among the easy-to-take moments. Added fun comes from clips out of a 1920 Pathe newsreel showing bathing fun comes from clips out of a 1920 Pathe newstreel showing bathing beauties of the period, and an early-day silent sob drama. Production by George Bilson sets the picture up in showmanly revue style and Richard O. Fleischer's direction gives it fast pacing. Lensing and editing are good. Brog.

South of Rio (SONG)

Hollywood, Ang. 5.

Republic release of Melville Tucker production. Slars Monte Itale: returners Kay Christopher, Paul Hurst. Roy Earcroft. Douglas Kennedy. Don Hargerty. Rory Screenplay. Norman S. Itali; camera. John MacBurnie: editor. Harold Minter. Previewed Aug. 2, '49. Running time. 40 Mil85.

Mins.

Jeff Lanning
Carol Waterman
Carol Waterman
Lon Bryson
Bob Mitchell
Dob Mitchell
Dob Mitchell
Don Brenon
Roy Barcroft
Don Haggerty
Dan Brenon
Roy Malinson
Tearly
Waterman
Lane Bradford
Lenty Waterman
Waterman
Weston
Tom London

"South of Rio" will serve the galloper market very well. Film measures up to the best of the Monte Hale series at Republic, combining plenty of action with an okay, plot to entertain the kiddies.

okay plot to entertain the kiddies. Hale is out to break up a gang operating the protection racket in the western territory. The hero's brother is in with the buddies and is responsible for Hale being kicked out of the Rangers. On his own, Hale tackles the crooks and aids the territory in its move to gain statchood.

gain statehood.

Dealing out of western justice has Hale riding hard and handy with sixgun and fists, although as a marksman his aim is bad. Same is true of others in the cast, all of whom waste a lot or tead before the final foolage sees the gang done in. Hale reinstated in the Rangers and a romance blooming between the hero and the femme publisher of the territory newspaper.

publisher of the territory newspaper.
Alding Hale's heroics are Paul Hurst, printer-reporter who does a good job; lawman Myron Healey and Tom London. Roy Barcroft heads up the crooks and Douglas Kenedy is excellent as the wayward brother. Kay Christopher is adequate in the heroine spot.
Philip Ford's direction of the Norman S. Hall script is punchy, keeping things on -> move for a fast 60 minutes. Melville Tucker supplied suitable production backing for the action and John Mac-ing for the action and John Mac-Burnie did the good lensing. Brog.

Maid of Formosa (CHINESE)

China Film Agency release of Northwest Film production. Directed by 10 Fei-Kwong. Screenplay, Tong Shoo-Ilua: camera. Chow Ta-Ming: English titles. Charles Clement. At Stanley, N. V. Aug. 6, 48. Running time, 98 Mins.

 6, 48. Running time, 78 MINS.

 Minna
 Shen Min

 Dr. Huai-Han Lin
 Tsung Yao

 Namo Haka
 Wong Yoeh

 Young Lin
 Lin Tse-Hou

 Chief Haka
 Chow Yin-Yun

 Drunkard
 Sou Hu

Concavard Sou live Chinese English Titles)

As the first Chinese-made pic to be released in the foreign language circuit, 'Maid of Formosa' has no other claim to distinction. Reportedly produced for about $10,000, the film proves that more coin is needed to make an acceptable product even with cheap Chinese labor costs. This item has no possibility in the U. S. market aside from small curiosity appeal.

Pic indicates that Chinese producers are aping the worst aspects of low budget U. S. films of about 20 years ago. Mixing a pseudomodern approach with crude techniques, the producers even failed to make use of China's exotle backgrounds.

to make use of China's exotlc backgrounds except for a couple of travelog shots that are inserted. Bulk of the film was shot on transparently rickety sets.

Yarn revolves around a Formosan princess who commits suicide after tribal customs prevent her from marrying a Chinese doctor. In the lead, actress Shen Min plays the primitive princess with pencilled eyebrows and heavy lipstick. The cast's thesping style has nothing to recommend.

Pueblerina (Town Tale) (MEXICAN)

(MEXICAN)

Peliculas Nacionales release of Producciones Reforma production. Stars Roberto Canedo, Columba Dominguez: festure Canedo, Columba Dominguez: festure Lamael Perez. Directed by Emilio Fernandez. Screenplay and administration Magdaleno: camera. Gabe Magdaleno: City. Running time, 18 MINS.

Combo of top work by new. comers and vets makes this simple story excellent entertainment any. where. "Pueblerina" is a grand start for a new producer. Productiones Reforma. It wins kudos for director Emilio Fernandez. and cameraman Gabriel Figueros. Setting is a typical hamlet in Mexico Valley, with the grandeur of the backdrop of Popocatepeil and Iztaccihuatl, towering twin volanic mountains. Mood music provided by Diaz Conde. Atmosphere characteristic of the scene is perfectly captured.

Cast has the Gallic gift for naturalness of acting. Roberto Canedo hitch-hikes home from jail where he was railroaded on a murder rapatter serving half of a 12-year stretch, to find his aged mother dead and himself unwanted. Luis Aceves Castaneda, as the hamlet political-economic boss comer is Aceves Castaneda, as the hamlet political-economic boss comes in with Canedo. Latter falls for former's sweetheart, Columba Dominquez, who reciprocates his affection on. Triangle involves cock fighting scenes, horse racing, gambling, village fiesta, gun fighting, etc., until drama has a happy ending. Grah.

Guglielmo Tell

(ITALIAN)

(ITALIAN)

Genoa, July 18.

Atlantis Film release of ICET (Gergis Venturin) production. Stars Gino Cert. Monique Orban, Paul Muller: feedure Aldo Micodemi, Raf Pindi, Directed by Aldo Micodemi, Raf Pindi, Directed by Ternando Perevitalia, Gluseppe Zucca: adapted from about the Communication of the Comm

Weak costumer has little except its title to help sell it. Pic is being billed here as "Story of the Swiss Hood." but even the moppet trade will find the going heavy in spite of the comeon. Slow pace and lack of action, plus unimaginative direction by Giorgio Pastina, keep this from rising to even average costume pic level. Based on F. Schiller's play, story bears little resemblance to the original. the whole emphasis being switched from William Tell to a romance between Rudens and Berta with interferences by the villaionis Gessler.

Even the apple-shooting scene Rudens and Berta with interferences by the villaionis Gessler.

Even the apple-shooting scene fails to pack the expected punch, due in part to the poor adaptation of G. Rossini's famed score, inepl handling of which often makes supposedly dramatic scenes seem ridiculous.

Acting by Gino Cervi lends athority to the navi of the Swiss.

ridiculous.

Acting by Gino Cervl lends authority to the part of the Swiss, hero, and Paul Muller is properly villainous as Gessler. French actress Monique Oroan has little to do as Berta. Location photography with Italian Alp backgrounds is good.

Trust Law

Continued from page 5

employees; or to make contracts based on discussion had by the based on discussion had by the BFPA with the Personal Managers

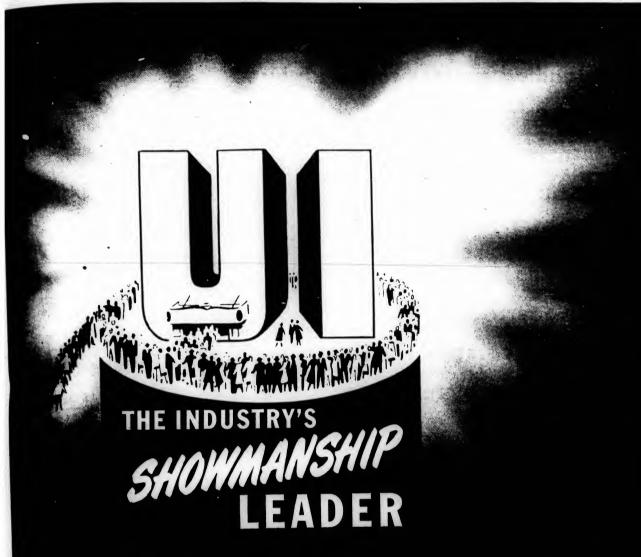

Plan calls for slashing of salaries Pian calls for siasning of salarion a graduated scale varying from 10% for persons receiving 26 pounds ($1.044) yearly to a maximum of 20%. All clerical workers employed in London offices are exempt. Each case of an employed under contract will be dealt with separately.

separately.
Scheme is to be binding on all Scheme is to be binding on an BFPA nembers. It comes into operation Oct. 1. It applies equally to distributing outfits associated with the J. Arthur Rank. Sir Alexander. Korda and Associated British Picture interests.

In the event of a salary fixed by contract which is to expire within six months or so, no attempt to the salary fixed by contract which is to expire within six months or so, no attempt to the salary fixed by the salary fix within six months or so, no alternythe need be made to cut pay for the balance of the period. Proper percentage slash, however, is to be put through when the pact is renewed. On the other hand, existing contracts with more than a half-year to go would be subject to an attempt to cut through negotiation.

Agreement provides that if the industry's economic position is still bad in 12 months time. BFPA may decide to apply a further graduated

Here's LEADERSHIP won at the box-office at a time when the whole industry was calling for the return of solid showmanship...
Here's LEADERSHIP harnessed to top-notch product with "BUILT-IN" box-office values...
Here's the kind of LEADERSHIP that makes the industry say...

NOW more than ever . The Showman's Buy

PICTURE of PICTURES!

Dana ANDREWS

ad MIKE...hardboiled American skipper of the blockade-running refugee ship.

He'd do anything for a fast buck.

Marta TOREN

SABRA...woman in a man's world and worth 20 men in any fight. Worth $10,000 to the enemy dead or alive

Stephen McNALLY

 DAVID... fighter in the secret Desert Legion. He had everything to win and nothing to lose—but his life. Timely, Exciting, Dramatic,
Absorbing...
The greatest adventure the screen has had in years!

""SWORD IN THE DESERT' has caused much excitement, and it isn't even released yet." lnez Wallace, Cleveland Plain Dealer

SWORD IN THE DESERT

Inside Stuff—Pictures

Power of a picture's title to push up its boxoffice varies directly with the marquee value of the cast, Dr. George Gallup's Audience Research the marques exist in a report to its clients. If the cast is strong, the Institute asserts in a report to its clients. If the cast is strong, the report states, the title doesn't make too much difference. But if the cast is weak, a good handle on a pic can push up appreciably its "want-to-is weak, a good namie on a pit can push up appreciately its want-to-see."

"Cast is the most important factor in a picture's want-to-see." ARI declares. "Casts with low marquee value tend to produce low want-to-see and casts with high marquee value tend to produce high want-to-see are casts. With low marquee value tend to produce high want-to-see. In the latter case, a change in title will not make great changes in the want-to-see every time. With low marquee value casts, however, in the becomes a more important part of the picture's label and a strong title becomes a must if the picture is to do its best. It is, of course, necessary to strengthen every other element in the picture so far as possible, but the title is the one element about which something can be done most readily."

ARI uses as illustrations of its point the pictures "Best Years of Our Lives" and "Back to Bataan." Former was originally labeled "Glory for Me." Change resulted in pushing up the w-t-s only three points, from 64 to 67. "Back to Bataan" was originally monikered "The Invisible Army." Switch in its title pushed up the w-t-s nine points.

RKO theatre execs would like it better if the dailies reviewed the stage bills instead of the picture at the N. Y. Palace. Since the house opened two months ago, there has been a paucity of favorable Palace film reviews by New York's screen-appraisers.

In the case of this particular theatre, execs feel that an exception should be made. Pictures are booked into the house virtually as fillers, and are bought primarily on a price-basis. The major lure at the Palace is its eight-act vaude bill as is evidenced by the fact that so many patrons exit immediately after the stageshow.

Lone N. Y. daily paying attention to vaude aspect is the Post which has a Saturday column covering the various stage shows in town. Those concerned with the Palace operation would like to see all papers discuss the live talent at length. They wouldn't complain if the picture was given the brush—the opposite of current practice.

Gloria Safter has acquired the rights to agent any deal involving the filmization of a story about 14-year-old Johnny Spear, the deaf mute who was found last week living in the wilderness known as the Big Thicket in Splendora, Texas. The boy, one of seven children, was turned loose in the Texas jungle by his family because there was no room for him in the two tents they occupied on the edge of the thicket varn about the youth, who lived on raw meat and fish, broke as a United Press release last Wednesday (7).

Miss Safter contacted her Texas representative. Harriet Bath, who negotiated a deal with naturalist Larry Dean. Dean was responsible for taking the boy out of the thicket and was given authorization by the youth's parents. Lillie Messinger, Miss Safter's associate on the Coast, will handle further negotiations.

United Artists is taking no chances on complicating the trouble it is la already with the Federal Trade Commission on "Colonel Blimp." J. Arthur Rank pic is currently playing the Madison avenue Translux in New York. Ads, in type almost as big as the title, announce "Original uncut version." And that's just what is being presented—all two hours of it.

UA was cited by the FTC a couple years ago and is still involved in a long series of hearings and appeals on charges that the pic was cut without notice being given in the advertising to patrons that they weren't getting the original, untrimmed version.

First survey of picture performances at the boxoffice by the Theatre Owners of America has been sent out to its members by the exhib group. Intended as a weekly report, somewhat along the lines of National Allied's Caravan, the TOA bulletin classifies pix as big, very good, good, fair, poor and suitable for second features only. In the report, country is divided into four sectors—east, south, midwest and west—with three population brackets provided, towns of 2,000-10,000; 10,000-25,000; and over 25,000. Teeoff survey covers 29 pix. Sampling is obtained through TOA members who are asked to file reports weekly.

With the opening of UA's "Too Late for Tears" at the Mayfair, N. Y., Saturday (13), Arthur Kennedy will be spotlighted in three films playing the metropolitan N. Y. area. The two other Kennedy pictures are UA's "Champion" and RKO's "The Window." The former is now making the rounds of nabe houses, while the latter opened at the Victoria Saturday (6). In addition to the films. Kennedy is also featured in the Broadway production of "Death of a Salesman."

Twentieth-Fox, in line with its recently-announced policy of aiding small town exhibitors, has launched a special campaign supplement to be prepared for them on all important 20th product. Containing publicity copy and art, ads and exploitation ideas slanted especially towards the smalltowners, the supplement will be inserted in the regular press book. First of these will go out with the press sheets on "House of Strangers."

COLUMBIA PICTURES 'COUNTER-SPY' SERIES

Columbia Pictures has virtually closed a deal with Phillips H. Lord, lac. for the film rights to the latter's radio adventure show. 'David Harding, Counter-Spy." Picture company already has filed the label with the Motion Picture Asn, of America's Title Registration Bureau and in addition has aubmitted the tag. 'Counterspy.' Originated by Lord, the ether melodrama is built around a Federal undercover agent and started on the air in 1942. It's understood that Columbia may use the property for an action series similar to its "Crime Doctor" films. Price is undisclosed in the transaction undisclosed in the transaction which is said to be all wrapped up except for some minor details.

Settle Alger % Suit

Chicago, Aug. 9

Majors' percentage suit against the Alger theatre circuit, LaSalle, Ill., in Cook county superior court before Judge Frank Padden last week reached an out-of-court settlement.

Federal action was dropped with the agreement of payment of court and lawyers' fees by the majors, which amounted to over $10,000. Case was the largest percentage action in the midwest in recent years, involving over a dozen houses.

SIMPP Committees

Bogeaus Troupe Back
United Artists producer Benedict Bogeaus and his cast and crew returned to the Coast from New York over the weekend after two weeks of shooting on "Johnny One-Eye." Rest of the pic will be lensed in Hollywood.

Pat O'Brien and Wayne Morrisheaded the cast for scenes on a Staten Island ferry be in Washington square, Bre ay, Sutton place and Third avenue.

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Cecil B. DeMille, chairman of the Motion Picture Industry Council, appointed five members of the industry group.

Gunther Lessing will serve on the executive committee. Bagnall on the program and agreements committees, James Nasser on the financial committee, Roy place and Third avenue.

Jolson's Split-Second

Trailerizing the preem of "Jol-son Sings Again" at the Loew's State, N. Y. ...ex! Wednesday (17.1 Al Jolson tonight (Wed) opens a whirlwind personal appearance tour throughout the Loew's metro-politan circuit. Pic, in which Jol-son bases pointain circuit. Pic. in which Joi-son has a substantial interest, will be plugged by Jolson via capsulc 10-minute stage shows to be played at six theatre nightly for three nights ending Friday +12°.

nights ending Friday (12).
Jolson will be accompanied by Coast bandleader Matty Malnick, his personal pianist Harry Akst and a Local 802 orch. Jack Lacy, WINS disk jockey, will ennee the shows which will offer two numbers by the mammy singer and one band number. In order to cover the heavy p.a. schednle, arrangements have been set up to instantly interrupt the films shows at the various theatres when the caravan arrives.

Itinerary opens tonight at Loew's Itinerary opens tonight at Loew's Yonkers and will close at the Victoria in Harlem. Tomorrow (Thurs.) Jolson will start from the Coney Island theatre and will wind up at the Manhattan Orpheum, and on Friday, he'll open at the Triboro in Astoria with the Pitkin in Brooklyn getting the final show. In 45 other houses, film trailers will be shown announcing the Jolson announc announcing the Jolson appearances at the other 18 houses.

Faster Playoffs

Continued from page 4 =

guarantees to "Door" and "Stranger" and on the latter, par-ficularly, either lost money or came mighty close.

With all of Broadway open to him, Montague switched from the 1,300-seat long-run Astor to the 3,450-seat State. While an Astor booking over a protracted period is strong prestige for a pic in other territories, Montague apparently figured he didn't need such a buildup for "Jolson." Advantage at the State is that Col can get its money out much faster, since the run will be shorter in the bigger house and the film can begin playing the Loew's circuit much sooner.

"Battleground' Into Astor? 'Battleground' Into Astor?

"Battleground" Into Astor?
CI is now hoping to get Metro's "Battleground" for the Astor. That would be a switch, with a Col pic going into a Metro house ("Jolson" is the first outsider to play the State since it went into the present policy) and a Metro pic going into the Astor. policy) and the Astor.

the Astor.

Metro has made no commitment on "Battleground," a Dore Schary personal production and company's top pic of the year. Company is waiting to see how "Jolson" opens at the State next Wednesday (17). If it is tremendous, indicating a lengthy stay, M-G will consider the Astor and other houses for "Battleground." Otherwise, the company will hold it for its own longrum flagship.

"Battleground." Otherwise, the company will hold it for its own longrun flagship.

With a stzable list of houses now competing for any pic heralded as being slightly better than average, distribs report something of a breakdown in the hard front on terms that the Broadway theatre operators had been putting up. Houses are still demanding that they be guaranteed their operating nut—which distribs feel is generally inflated—and toss in such items as $400 "booking fees." but terms otherwise offered are a little better than they've been in the past. Among houses which a producer can turn to with any moderately acceptable picture are the Capitol. Astor. Criterion, Globe, Palace, Mayfair, Gotham, Rialto, Rivoli and Victoria.

Par's Controllers Now Make With the Figures

Make With the Figures were summoned to New York early this week for a series of confabs at the Hotel Astor preparatory to the theatre chain's launching into independent operation. The twoday meet, which ended yesterday (Tues), was chairmanned by Si
Siegel, Par's top theatre controller More than a dozen controllers from various Paramount chains attended the huddles.
Leonard Goldenson, Par's the tare chief, opened the meet. Also on hand from the h.o. were Walter Gross, general counsel, and Robert O'Brien, future veepee of the Gross, general counsel, and Rob-ert O'Brien, future veepee of the chain. Number of accounting changes which must be made be-fore Jan. I when the circuit sep-arates from the parent org were discussed.

Swing of Loew Theatres Film Rental and Payroll Take 50% Out of Each Boxoffice Dollar Take

SOPEG Wins at Col

Prepping for resumption of new contract talks with the majors Aug. 30. Screen Office & Professional Employees Guild racked up a union shop election victory at Columbia Pictures by a vote of Columbia Pictures by a vote of 193 to 54. Conducted by National Labor Relations Board, election was first in a series of company-by-company contests to determine whether SOPEG is entitled to union shop.

Talks between the whitecollarites and the majors will reopen at the end of the month after a long break. Meeting was arranged by the U. S. Conciliation Service, whose previous efforts to bring about a settlement failed. SOPEG is acking for enhancing the service of the service is asking for substantial wage hikes, retroactivity to September 1948, and an arbitration setup.

STAG FILM DISTRIBS NABBED IN N.Y. RAID

The accidental arrest of two men by Detectives Daggett and Phe-lan of the Safe and Loft Squad, on Tuesday (2), has led the police to believe they have cracked the ring that has been flooding New York with French postcards, porno-graphic literature and indecent films calculated for stag showings.

.The detectives, who were following an anonymous tip on a supposed loft robbery, noticed two men acting suspiciously. Figuring they were contemplating the loft haul, they tailed them to the buildhaul, they tailed them to the building at 24th street and Madison ave. After satisfying the dicks they were tenants, the cops decided to look around and their curiosity revealed the place was loaded with obscene films, literature, etc. When confronted the men claimed ignorance of who owned the stuff. After further questioning they were placed under arrest. They gave their names as Kenneth Dads, 37, salesman, and Gastano Sessa, 45, also a salesman. Upon arraignsalesman, and Gastano Sessa, 45, also a salesman. Upon arraignment in Essex Market Court Friday (5), the pair waived examination and are held in $2,500 bail for Special Sessions.

Wilcoxon Trailerizing Par-DeMille's 'Samson'

Armed with color slides of Paramount's "Samson and Delilah," blowup prints, color art and fashion designs, thesper Henry Wilcoxon is getting set for a swing through 24 U. S. cities and two in Canada. In seeking to parlay exploitation on the Cecil B. DeMille oppus with civic activities, Wilcoxon plans to meet with women's clubs, religious orgs, schools, manufacturers and press, radio and film outlets.

Actor shoves off from the Coast

Actor shoves off from the Coast Saturday (13) on a three-month itinerary. His first port-of-call is San Francisco.

U's 'Baby' Bally
Al Horwits, Universal's studio publicity head; Charles Simonelli, exploitation chief; producer Leonard Goldstein and actor Charles Coburn shoved off for Chicago yesterday (Tues.) to join forces in ballying the world preem of U's 'Yes Sir, That's My Baby.' Picopens today (Wed) at the Roosevelt. Horwitz and Goldstein continue to the Coast Friday (12) while Simonelli and Coburn return to New York. Horwitz was east for a week of confabs with h.o. execs.

Blank's 70th Birthday

Des Moines, Aug. 9.
More than 290 Iowans paid tribute to A. H. Blank, president of Tri-States and Central States Theatre Corps. at a testimonial dinner honoring his 70th birthday at the Standard Club here.

A bronze plaque was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Blank as tribute to their generosity and Interest, not only in civic, but in state and world affairs, and especially for their gift of the Raymond Blank Memorial Hospital for children established in memory of their son. It's said to be one of the finest children's hospitals in the entire country.

heaviest bite out of each boxoffice dollar received by the average in-die theatre circuit, a sample bud-get made up for the instruction of its managers by a New York loop discloses. The two top items each take 25c out of every buck received after taxes, while profits are take 25c out of every buck received after taxes, while profits are figured at about 6\(^12\)°c.

Jack Hattem, film buyer for the Interboro Circuit, which operates some 36 houses in the metropolitan N. Y. area, has dissected an average circuit's income in a pamphlet made up for the enlightenment of the chain's employes. Hattem bases his figures on a loop of 20 houses with capacitles from 500 to 2.500 seats and taking in, exclusive of taxes, about $2.000,000 a year.

Here is the breakdown; film taxes, about $2,000,000 a year. Here is the breakdown: film rental, 25%; payroll, 25%; rent, 18%; administration, 7%; light and power, 3%; advertising, 4%; taxes and insurance, 5%; depreciation, 3%c; other charges out of which come the 6% or 6½% profity, 10%; Boggarding film santal which come the 6% or 6½% profit, 10%. Regarding film rental, which is even more of a controversial subject than usual these day, Hattem declares that 25% of the gross receipts over a period of a year "is accepted by exhibitors as film rental for both features and shorts. The showman whose average film bill runs beyond that is destroying his profit possibilities or he is on his way out of business. On the other hand, if the exhibitor's total film cost runs below 15%, he is other hand, if the exhibitor's total film cost runs below 15%, he is unfairly taking advantage of a situation. This just as dangerous to exhibition as the showman who permits costs to run away with him and pays excessive film rentals."

Other Breakdowns

Other Breakdowns
The 7% charge of "admlnistration," Hattem explains, includes
"general home office overhead, such as rent, light, help, telephone, stationery, booking and buying, offeers' salaries and other items of expense which are contributing factors in homeoffice operations."

Regarding advertising: the 4° between expenditure should include "newspapers, theatre front display, programs, billboards, accessories, trailers, heralds, advertising salaries to billposters, valances, mailing list and other items of publicity."

The "other charges" category, in addition to profit. Hattem explains, includes "group insurance, repairs, sound service, film delivery, telephones, cleaning supplies, carbons, electric bulbs, tickets, licenses, legal expenses, fuel ofl, water, bonuses, charities, dues, royalties, fire alarm and uniforms for help."

Rotating Officerships For TOA on Conv. Agenda

Likelihood is that Arthur Lockwood, prez of Theatre Owners of America, and Ted Gamble, board chairman, will step down as the two top TOA officers when that national theatre group meets in Los Angeles Sept. 12-15. Understood that both high officials base best. Angeles Sept. 12-15. Understood that both high officials have Indicated a desire to turn over their jobs to other TOAers in an effort to rotate offices among active members as much as possible.

TOA officials are seeking to establish the rotating principle as traditional in the org. Exec committee meetings have been discussing possible new officers although the committee is not expected to come up with an official slate. After some durit counding of potential some quiet sounding of potential candidates, it is said that the last word on selections will be left to the body at the convention.

Among those attending exec committee meetings have been Lockwood, Gamble, Si Fabian, Leonard Goldenson, Samuel Pinan-ski, Robert Coyne, Gael Sullivan and Herman Levy. Details of the convention are also being dis-cussed.

Texas Boosts P. E. Smith

Lubbock, Texas, Aug. 9.
Political observers throughout the state agree that Preston E.
Smith. local exhibitor and a member of the Texas legislature is a definite and strong dark horse possibility in the Texas gubernatorial

He is currently serving his third term and is the only member at present in show biz among the state law-bodies membership.

L.A. in Sharp Seasonal Downbeat But 'Boundaries' Big $10,000 in One Spot; 'Patch' Okay 28G in 4, 'Lining' 38G, 2d

Los Angeles. Aug. 9.

Firstruns are experiencing a sharp downbeat this frame with oversupply of holdovers, only two new bills and beach weather hurting biz. Best of newcomers is "Lost Boundaries," in 900-seat Four Star, where it will hit sharp $10.000 or close. "Dan Patch," only other new entry, is sighting an okay $28.000 in four small-seaters.

Pacing holdovers is "Silver Ling," with pleasing $38.000 in three theatres, second week. "Mr. Soft Touch" looks oke $25,000 in second stanza, two houses.

Touch" looks oke $25,000 in second stanza, two houses.

"Great Gatshy" is mild $23,000 in second round, two Par houses.
"Not Wanted" looms pleasant $24,-000, second frame, six spots. "Blue Lagoon" is down to $16,500 for four sites, second session.

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week
Beverly Hills, Downtown,
Hawali, Hollywood Music Halls
(Prin-Cor) (834; 902; 1,106; 512; 55-$1) — "Great Dan Patch" (UA) and "Silent Conflict" (UA). Okay $29,000. Last week, "Too Late For Tears" (UA) (10 days), $26,500.
Chinese, Loew's State, Loyola,
Uptown (FWC) (2,048; 2,404; 1,248;
1,719; 60-$1)—"You're My Everything" (20th) and "Temptation Harbor" (Mono) (3d wk-4 days).
Slim $17,000. Last week, down to $27,200.

$23.900. Last week, $23.905. Last week, $23.900. Esquire (Rosener) ($685; 84.1.20)—"Never Give Sucker Even Break" (Indie) 2d wk). Near $3.500. Last week, good $4.500. Fine Arts (FWC) (679; $1.20-$2.40)—"Red Shoes" (EL) (32d wk). Good $5.000. Last week, $5.500. Four Star (UA-WC) (900; 74-$1)—"Lost Horizon" (FC) (reissue). Sharp $10.000. Last week, "Ed-Sharp $10.000

—"Lost Horizon" (FC) (reissue). Sharp $10.000. Last week, "Edward, My Son" (M-G) (5th wk), $2,900.

$2,900.
Laurel (Rosener) (890; 85)"Quartet" (EL) (11th wk). Net
$5,000. Last week, $5,500.

'Number' Racks Up Nice 11G, Omaha; 'Bride' 10G

Metro Is hogging the spotlight this week with "Any Number Can Play" at Paramount and "Barkleys of Broadway" at State, Former is nice while "Barkleys" shapes very big at small-seater State. "Bride of Vengeance" is mild at Orpheum. "Dumbo" and "Saludos Amigos" looks fancy at Brandeis.

Estimates for This Week Paramount (Tristates) (2.800; 16-65)—"Any Number Play" (M-G), Nice $11.000. Last week. "Silver Lining," (WB), $11.500 which built to last day and then moved to the Omaha.

Lining," (WB), $11.500 which built to last day and then moved to the Omaha.

State (Goldberg) (865; 16-65)—
"Barkleys of Broadway" (M-G).
Great $5,000. Last week. "One False Step" (U) and "Beware Spooks" (Col), fair $4,000.

Brandeis (RKO) (1,500; 16-65)—
Disney revue of "Dumbo," "Saludos Amigos" and "Seal Island" (all RKO). Tremendous afternoon business, and big $8,000 on week.
Last week. "Colorado Territory" (WB) and "State Department" (FC), $7,000.

(WB) and State ST. (WB) and State ST. (WB) and State ST. (WB) and (Tristates) (3,000; 16-65)—"Bride of Vengeance" (Par) and "Daughter of West" (FC). Light $10,000. Last week. "Great Dan Patch" (UA) and "High Fury" (UA), $10,800.

Broadway Grosses

Estimated Total Gross
This Week ... $716.900
(Based on 18 theatres)
Last Year $571,000
(Based on 14 theatres),

Gable Standout In Det., Big $16,000

Detroit, Aug. 9.
Clark Gable's "Any Number Can Play" (M-G) is giving the AdamsIts biggest audience in months and is taking biz laurels this stanza.
"You're My Everything" at the Fox and "Great Gatsby" at the Michi gan look okay. Holdovers of "Love Happy" (UA) and "Silver Lining"
(WB) are standing up well.

Estimates for This Week
Fox (Eox-Mich) (5 000: 70-95).

Estimates for Inis week

Fox "Fox-Mich) (5,000; 70-95)—
"You're My Everything" (20th) and
"Ringside" (SG). Good $27.000.
Last week, "House of Strangers"
(20th) and "Lone Wolf Lady" (Col)
(2d wk), $22,000.

(2d wk), $22,000.

Michigan (United Detroit) (4,000;
70-95)—"Great Gatsby" (Par) and
"Special Agent" (Par). Nice $24.
000. Last week, "Silver Lining"
(WB) and "Hellfire" (Rep) (2d wk), $20,000.

Palms (UD) (2,900; 70-95)—
"Love Happy" (UA) and "Night Unto Night" (WB) (2d wk). Good $15,000 or near. Last week, great

Unto Night" (WB) (2d wk). Good $15,000 or near. Last week, great $21,000.

United Artists (UD) (2,000; 70-95)—"Home of Brave" (UA) and "Singing Dude" (UA) (3d wk). Swell $18,000. Last week, $25,000. Adams (Balaban) (1,700; 70-95)—"Any Number Play" (M-G). Big $16,000. Last week, "One False $16,000. Last week, "One Jowntown (Balaban) (2,900; 70-95)—"Illegal Entry" (U) and "One Woman's $10,000. Last week, "Neptune's Daughter" (M-G) and "Lovable Cheat" (FC) (4th wk), $9,000.

L'ville Lags; 'Strangers' Low $9,000, 'Summertime' Fine 14G, 'Bride' NG 5G

Fine 14G, Bride' NG 5G

Louisville, Aug. 9.

Biz is spotty this week, State with "In Good Old Summertime' catching nice trade, but the other new entry, "House of Strangers' looms sluggish at Rialto. Vaude bill at the National topped by Toni Harper, plus "Hit Parade" and "Lovable Cheat" shapes stronger than previous vaude-film bills.

Estimates for This Week
Mary Anderson (People's) (1,400; 45-65)—"Silver Lining" (WB) (2d wk). Holding up okay at $7.000.

National (Standard) (2,400; 65)—"Lovable Cheat" (FC) and "Hit Parade" (Rep) (relssue) plus vaude topped by Toni Harper. Excellent $8.000. Last week, "Time, Place (Girl" (WB) and "Crazy House" (Indie) (reissues), plus "Night in Paris," vaude-revue, modest $6.500.

Rialto (Fourth Avenue) (3,000; 45-65)—"House of Strangers" (John Mild $9,000. Last week, "Great Gatsby" (Par) and "Strike It Rich" (AA), solid $13,000.

State (Loew's) (3,000; 45-65)—"Good Old Summertime" (M-G) and "Slightly French" (Col), Healthy $14,000. Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G) and "Henry, Raimmaker" (Mono), medium $17.000.

Strand (FA) (1,000; 45-65)—"Bride of Vengeance" (Par) and

Strand (FA) (1.000; 45-65)—
"Bride of Vengeance" (Par) and
"Strange Case Mrs. Crane" (EL).
Modest $5.000. Last week, "Illegal Entry" (U) and "Arctic Manhunt"
(U) about same.

Small's 'Valentino' From Ullman Book

Hollywood, Aug. 9
Edward Small's biopic on Rudolph Valentino will be fitled "Valentino as 1 Knew Him." taken from a book written by George Ullman .who was the actor's agent.
Walter Craig, a newcomer to the screen, has been mentioned for the title role.

Tountainhead' 14G, Mont's

Montreal, Aug. 9.

Holdovers in most deluxers plus teriffic heat is resulting in a boxoffice slump here this week. "The Fountainhead," good at Loew's, will get top money.

Estimates for This Week

Loew's (C.T.) (2.855; 40-65)—
"Fountainhead" (WB). Good $14.
000. Last week, "Edward, My Son"
(M-G) (2d wk), $9,000.
"House of Strangers" (20th) (2d wk). Down to mild $8,000 after strong $13,000 opener.

Palace (C.T.) (2,625; 34-60)—
"Any Number Play" (M-G) (2d wk). Off to modest $9,000 after sock first week at $16,500.

Princess (C.T.) (2,131; 34-60)—

Princess (C.T.) (2,131; 34-60)—
"Streets Laredo" (Par) (2d wk).
Off to fair $8,000 after nice $14,000

first.

Imperial (C.T.) (1.839; 26-45)—
"Criss Cross" (U) and Blondie Hits Jackpot" (Col) (2d wk). Solid $9,000. Last week, "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Home San Antone" (Col), $6,000.

Orpheum (C.T.) (1,040; 34-60)—
"Lady of Burlesque" (UA) (reissue) and "Guest in House" (UA). Okay $5,000. Last week, "Crooked Way" (UA) and "Crime Doctor's Diary" (UA), same.

'Brave' Terrif $35,000 in Philly

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.
Strong pictures continue to do healthy business, with others succumbing to the heat. Weekends here still are tragic because of seashore exodus. Outstander currently is "Home of Brave" huge at the Earle. "Anna Lucasta," at Stanley, and "Great Sinner." at Boyd, shape as the strong entries.

Estimates for This Week
Aldine (WB) (1,303; 50-99)—
"Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) (reissues). Good $10,000 Last week, "Red Menace"
(Rep.), $8,500.

Boyd (WB) $2,360; 50-99)—
"Great Sinner" (M-G). Hefty
$25,000. Last week, "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) (2d wk), mlld $10,000.

Beach" (WB) (2d wk), mild $10,000.

Earle (WB) (2,700; 50-99)—
"Home of Brave" (UA). Biggest thing in town, terrific $35,000. Last week. "Streets of Laredo" (Par) (2d wk), dim $9,500.

Fox (20th) (2,250; 50-99)— You're My Everything' (20th) (2d vk). Great $18,000 after $26,000 wk). Great $18,000 after $26,000 opener.

Goldman (Goldman) (1,200; 50-99)—"Any Number Play" (M-G) (3d wk). Slipping to $10,000. Last week, big $15,000.

Karlton (Goldman) (1,000; 50-99)—"Great Gatsby" (Par) (2d wk). Holding near initial week at fine $12,000. Last week, $16,000.

Mastbaum (WB) (4,360; 50-99)—"Silver Lining" (WB) (3d wk). Still doing biz at $15,000. Last week, $19,000.

Stanley (WB) (2,950; 50-99)—"Sanley (WB) (2,950; 50-99)—"Sturdy S24,000. Last week, "Too Late for Tears" (UA), $14,000.

Stanton (WB) (1,475; 50-99)—"Svange Splendor" (RKO) and "Sval Island" (RKO) (2d wk). Down to about $13,000 after terrific $17,000 last week.

Prov. Muggy But 'Lining' Very Fat $18,000; 'Anna' Sound 12G, 'Screams' 161G

Providence, Aug. 9.

Majestic is riding high with "Look for the Silver Lining" to lead a hot muggy town. Close behind is RKO Albee with "Not Wanted" and Strand's "Anna Lucasta."

Estimates for This Week

Fountainhead' 14G, Mont'l Hub's Vaude Return With 'Roughshod' Rousing $30,000; 'Doolins' Trim 23G

Key City Grosses

Estimated Total Gross
This Week $2,667,000
(Based on 24 cities, 194 theatres, chiefly mrst runs, including N. Y.)
Total Gross Same Week
Last Year $2,379,000
(Based on 19 and 176

Summertime Hot $20,000 Tops Pitt

Pittsburgh, Aug. 9.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 9.

"In Good Old Summertime" is heading for Golden Triangle's top gross this week, with plenty-of room to spare. It holds. Nothing much else to crow about here, although second stanza of "Silver Lining" isn't so bad at Stanley. Both "Calamity Jane" at Fulton and "Johnny Stool Pigeon" at Harris are mild while "Nick Beal" and "Red Stallion of the Rockies" is staggering along at the Warner. Estimates for This Week Fulton (Shea) "1.700: 45-80 —

Estimates for This Week
Fulton (Shea) (1.700; 45-80) —
"Calamity Jane" (U). Western staggering along and will be lucky to hit $7.000. Last week, "You're My Everything" (20th) (3d wk-4 days), $3.800, to give musical sock $25,000 for 18-day run.
Harris (Harris) (2.200; 45-80) —
"Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U). Slow $10,000. Last week, "Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col), $11.000.

Oklahoma" (Col), $11,000.

Penn (Loew's-UA) (3,300; 45-80)

"Good Old Summertime" (M-G).
Big $20,000. Holds over, natch!
Last week, "Any Number Play"
(M-G) (2d wk), okay $12,500.

(M-G) (2d wk), okay $12,500.

Stanley (WB) (3,800; 45-80) —

"Silver Lining" (WB) (2d wk).

Ought to do at least $10,000, very good. Last week, stout $19,000.

Warner (WB) (2,000; 45-80) —

"Nick Beal" (Par) and "Red Stallion Rockies" (EL). Lazy $3,000.

Last week, "Not Wanted" (FC) (m.o.), walloping $9,500.

Musicals Leading Way. K.C., 'Everything' Sweet 18G; 'Summertime' 21G

Kansas City, Aug. 9. Kansas City, Aug. 9.

Musicals are leading the way currently, with "You're My Everything" fine at Uptown-Tower-Fairway combo. and "In Good Old Summertime" getting great coin at Midland. Paramount with "Great Gatsby" looks relatively good. Missouri which RKO reopened last week shapes stout with "Wore Yellow Ribbon" in second week. Weather was cool most of week, but warmed up over weekend.

Estimates for This Week

Esquire (Fox Midwest) (820, 45

Estimates for This Week
Esquire Fox Midwest) (820: 45-65)—"Last Bandit" (Rep) and "In Old California" (Rep) (reissue).
Old and new combo bettering average at $3.500. Last week, "Bad Boy" (Mono) and "Incident"
(Mono) $3.000.

(Mono), $3.000.

Kimo (Dickinson) (550; $1.20$2.40)—"Red Shoes" (EL) (16th wk). Was scheduled to move out last week, but steady biz forced it to stay for $2.400. Last week

Midland (Loew's) (3,500; 45-65)
—"Good Old Summertime" (M-G)
and "Leave to Henry" (Mono).
Sweet $21,000, and holdover. Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G) and "Secret St. Ives" (Col) (2d wk), nifty $11,000.

Estimates for This Week
Albee (RKO) (2,200; 44-65)—
Not Wanted: (FC) and "Amazon Quest" (Indie). Very sturdy $17.500. Last week, "Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) (2,650; 45-65)— Wore a Yellow Ribbon" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) (reissues), good $12,000.
Majestic (Fay) (2,200; 44-65)—
"Silver Lining" (WB). Quick turnover helping to sock $18,000.
Last week, "House of Stranger"
(WB) and "Leave to Henry"
(Mono), $14,000.
State (Loew) (3,200; 44-65)—
"Africa Screams" (IJA) and "Se"Africa Screams" (IJA) and "Se"ret Garden" (M-G). Good $16.
500. Last week, "Caught" (M-G) and lnk Spots onstage kept building to terrific $30,000, over hopes, Strand (Silverman) (2,200; 44-65)—
"Anna Lücasta" (Col) and
"Devil's Henchman" (Indie).
"Sound $12,000. Last week,
"Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col) and
"Devil's Henchman" (Indie).
"Anna Lücasta" (Col) and
"Devil's Henchman" (Indie).
"You're My Everytlinig" (20th).
"Fower-Uptown-Fairway (Fox Midwest) (2,100, 2,043, 700; 45-65)—
"Tower-Uptown-Fairway (Fox

Boston, Aug. 9.
Preem of Palace type vaude at RKO Boston with "Roughshod" is big noise here this stanza. Biz holding up after terrific opening, with rousing week on tap. H.o.'s at most other spots are faring about average. Lone newcomer, "Doolins of Oklahoma" at Memorial is shaping fairly strong. fairly strong.

Estimates for This Week
Astor (Jaycox) (1,200; 40-85)—
"Lost Boundaries" (FC) (4th wk), Still doing okay at $9,000. Last week, $10,500.

week, $10,500.

Boston (RKO) (3,200; 55-85)—
"Roughshod" (RKO) with preem of vaude policy in Boston. Vaude is really dragging them in here with hefty $30,000 in view. Last week, "Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U) and "Stagecoach Kid" (RKO), not bad $18,500.

Fenway (NET) (1,373; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Alimony" (EL) (2d wk). Fair $5.000.
Last week, $6,500.

Mayflower (ATC) (700; 40-85)— "Not Wanted" (FC) (2d wk). llolding up to big $7,000 after wow $8,000 first.

Memorial (RKO) (3,500; 40-85)— "Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col). Neat $23,000. Last week. "Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Anigos" (RKO) (reissues), $18,000.

Metropolitan (NET) (4.376; 40-5)—"Silver Lining" (WB) and One Last Fling" (WB) (2d wk), kke $17,000 after good $21,000 first,

Oke $17,000 after good $21,000 first,
Orpheum (Loew) (3,000; 40-85)—
"Any Number Play" (M-G) and
"Gay Amigo" (UA) (2d wk). Nice $17,000. Last week, solid $22,000, Paramount (NET) (1,700; 40-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and
"Alimony" (EL) (2d wk). Fair $11,000 after neat $14,500 first,
State (Loew) (3,500; 40-85)—
"Any Number Play" (M-G) and
"Gay Amigo" (UA) (2d wk). Fair $10,000 after $14,000 first.

H.O.'s HOBBLE FRISCO: 'EVERYTHING' HEP 22G

San Francisco. Aug. 9.
Biz is generally dullish here this week, with plethora of holdovers cutting into the total. Best new-comer is "You're My Everything" which is fine if not smash at the Fox. "Calamity Jane" is doing okay at Orpheum. most holdovers are down sharply from first weeks.

are down sharply from first weeks.

Estimates for This Week

Golden Gate (RKO) (2.844; 6085)—"China Sky", (RKO) and "Valley of Sun" (SRO) (reissues). Mild $12.000. Last week, "Not Wanted"
(FC) and "Mississippi Rhythm"
(Mono) (2d wk), fair $9.000.

Fox (FWC) (4.651; 60-95)—
"You're My Everything" (201h) and
"Hold That Baby" (Mono). Fine $22.000. Last week, "House of Strangers" (20th) and "Forbidden Street" (20th) (2d wk), $15.000.

Warfield (FWC) (2.656; 60-85)—
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G)
and "Temptation Harbor" (Mono) (3d wk). Off to $11,000, good. Last week, big $14.500.

Paramount (Par) (2.646; 60-85)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and
"One Last Fling" (WB) (2d wk),
St. Francis (Par) (1.400; 60-85)—
"Wizard of Oz" (M-G) treissue) (3rd wk). Nice $8,000. Last week, sock $12.000.

Orpheum (No, Coast) (2.448; 5585)—"Calamity Jane" (U) and Estimates for This Week

\(\text{WE}\), Nice \(\) \(\

Houston's 'Brave' H.O.

"Home of the Brave" was held

Houston. Aug. 9.

"Home of the Brave" was held over here at Interstate's Majestic for a second week. For the first time in five years, the Negro balcony was opened to accommodate the crowds during the second week's run.

Eddie Brenner, manager of the Majestic, estimates that business is "better than 25% above average" on the run of the film. Ordinarily holdovers are shifted to the Kirby here but film was kept at the Majestic, where greater seating capacity was available.

Special midnight shows have been held for Negroes.

Cool Wave Helps Chi; 'Everything' Up Via Jessel $55,000, Dennis Day Lifts 'Step' Fat 69G, 'Joe Young' Tall 25G

Chicago, Aug. 9.

With the advent of cool weather and Illinois American Legion deleglates. Loop is heading for best overall for the summer thus far.
"Take One Faise Step" with Denins Day unit on stage at the Chicago is heading for grand $69,000.
Area of the Chicago is heading for grand $69,000.
Area of the Chicago is heading for grand $69,000.
George Jessel in person is building to very blg $55,000.

"Mighty Joe Young" at Grand is moving toward best gross house has had in months with mighty $25,000 shaping. The larger Palace is getting the same total with "Calamity Jane. "Good Old Summertime" at State-Lake is shaping trim $23,000.

Estimates for This Week
Chicago (B&K) (3,990; 50-98)—

Estimates for Inis Week Chicago (B&K) (3,900; 50-98) — Jone False Step" (U) plus Dennis ay unit onstage. Excellent $69,-00. Last week, "Sorrowful Jones" ary (2d wk) with Janet Blair and lackburn Twins topping stage, Garrick (B&K) (900; 50-98) Movie Crazy" (Indie) (reissue) (2d k). Holding well at $7,500. Last /eek, $11,000.

Grand (RKO) (1,500; 50-98)— Might Joe Young" (RKO). Huge 5,000. Last week, "Cobra Wom-" and "White Savage" (U) (re-an" and "White Savage" (U) (ne-issues), $9,000.

"You're My Everything" (20th) with George Jessel and Kitty Kal-len personals. Fancy $55,000. Last week, "We Were Strangers" (Col) with "Lassle," Penny Singleton, and Stan Jones in person (2d wk), 232,000.

nd Stan Jones in person (2d wk), 33,000.

Palace (RKO) (2,500; 50-98)—
Calamity Jañe" (U) and "I Cheated aw" (20th). Blg $20,000. Last eek, "House on 92d St." (20th) and W Gal Sal" (20th) (reissues) t days) with "Sand" (20th) cand Forbidden St." (20th) (2d wk-3 ays), $10,000.

Riaito (Indie) (1,700; 50-98)—
Miracle of Life" (Indie). Blg $11,-00. Last week, "Wild Weeds" (Inie) (3d wk), $8,000.

Rosevelt (B&K) (1,500; 50-98)—
Great Dan Patch" (UA) (2d wk). ight $7,500. Last week, $11,500.

State-Lake (B&K) (2,700; 50-98)
Good Old Summertime" (M-G).
ert $23,000. Last week, $10,000.
Woods (Essaness) (1,073; 98)—
Champion" (UA) (4th wk). Fast $20,000. Last week, $24,000.

Woods (Essaness) (1,073; 98)—
Dick" (Indie) and "My Little Chickadee" (Indie) (reissues) (2d wk). Excellent $4,000. Last week, $4,000.

Vaude Boosts 'Fling' To Torrid $16,000 in Balto

Battimore, Aug. 9.

Business here remains rather uneveniful with top entries garmering nice coin and balance of downown list limping along at summertime average. "In Good Old Summertime is current leader. Combo of "One Last Fling" tied to continuation of vaude at Hippodrome is reaching out for one of best figures since policy was instituted.

Estimates for This Week
Century (Loew's-UA) (3,000; 20-60)—"Good Old Summertime" (MG). Leader at hot $17,000. Last week. "Late for Tears" (UA), falr $10,400. Baltimore, Aug. 9.

Leader at hot $11,000.

de, "Late for Tears" (UA), fair of the "Late for the "Late for

New (Mechanic) (1,800; 20160)-

Estimates Are Net

Film gross estimates as reported nerewith from the various key cities, are net, i.e., without the 20% tax. Distributors share on net take, when playing percentage, hence the estimated figures are net in-

The parenthetic admission prices, however, as indicated, include the U. S. amusement tax

'Number' Winner In St. Loo, $21,000

St. Louis, Aug. 9.
Trade is as spotty currently as the weather. Standout is "Any Number Can Play," galloping to a socko stanza at Loew's. "Lust for Gold" shapes good at the St. Louis.
"Silver Lining" is still doing well on moveover to Ambassador, for fourth downtown week.

Estimates for This Week

Ambassador (FEM) (3,000; 50-

Ambassador (F&M) (3.000; 50-5)—"Silver Lining" (WB) and Adventure Baltimore" (R K O) m.o.). Nice $9.000 for fourth week owntown. Last week, "The ountainhead" (WB) and "Mother (reshman" (20th) (2d wk), $10.000.

Loew's (Loew) (3.172; 50-75)—
"Any Number Play" (M-G) and
"Blackie's Chinese Adventure"
(Col). Sock $21,000. Last week,
"Outpost in Morocco" (UA) and
stageshow, great $37,500.

stageshow, great $37,500.

Missouri (F&M) (3,500; 50-75)—
"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and
"Green Promise" (RKO) (2d wk).
Down to $9,000 after big $12,500
initial stanza.
St. Louis (F&M) (4,000; 50-75)—
"Lust for Gold" (Col) and "Massacre River" (Mono). Good $14,000.
Last weck. "Silver Lining" (WB) and "Adventure Baltimore" (RKO) (3d wk). solid $9,000.

Lee-Gilbert Up 'Arson' Smash $20,000 in Buff; 'Number' Lucky at 14G

Buffalo, Aug. 9.

The way Peggy Lee and Billy Gilbert are boosting "Arson, Inc.," to sock total is big news this week. "Any Number Can Play" also is nice at the Buffalo.

Estimates for This Week:

Estimates for This Week:
Buffalo (Loow's) (3,500; 40-70)—
"Any Number Play" (M-G). Nice $14,000. Last week, "Sand" (20th)
and Frankie Laine, Kitty Kallen on stage, smash $35,000.
Peramount (Par) (3,400; 40-70)—
"Great Gatsby" (Par). Fine $12,000 or over. Last week, "Glrl
(Continued on page 24)

'Gatsby' Not Big 11G, Port.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 9.
Holdovers and reissues are doing the real bix this week in firstrun spots. "Great Gatsby" is only passably good in two houses, but best of newcomers.

Estimates for This Week

of newcomers.

Estimates for This Week

Broadway (Parker) (1,832; 50-85)

"Fountainhead." (WB) and "One Last Fling" (WB) (2d wk). Okay
$6,500. Last week, torrid $15,000.

Mayfair (Parker) (1,500; 50-85)

"Manhandled" (Par) and "Special Agent" (Par) Mild $4,000. Last week, "Africa Screams" (UA) and "Jigsaw" (UA) (m.o.) okay $5,200.

Oriental (H-E) (2,000; 50-85)

"Great Gatsby" (Par) and "Daughter of West" (Rep.) day-date with Orpheum. So-so $3,500. Last week,
"Geronimo" (Par) and "Lonesome
Pine" (Par) (reissues), $3,600.

Orpheum (H-E) (1,750; 50-85)

"Great Gatsby" (Par) and "Daughter of West" (Rep., also Orienta, Good $7,500. Last week, "Geronimo"
(Par) and "Lonesome Pine" (Par) areissues) mild $6,000.

Paramount (H-E) (3,400; 50-85)

"Gunga Din" (RKO) and "Lost Patrol" (RKO) (reissues), Fair $7,500.

Last week, "Girl Jones Beach"
(WB) and "Clay Pigeon" (RKO),

New (Mechanic) (1,800; 20160)—
You're My Everything" (20th) Gad wk). Started third round to alter sock opener to $11,600.
Stanley (WB) (320) (25-75)—
Slanley (WB) (230) (25-75)—
Holding Rood pace of $9,000 after Tewn (Rapapaport) (1,500; 35-65)—
"Reign of Terror" (EL). Nicc One Night" and "Clary Pigeon" (RKO).
One Night" and "Gill Friday" (Col) (reissues), $6,200.

United Artists (Parker) (895; 50-65)— Stratton Story" (M-G) (44h) wk). Holding well at $6,700. Last week, fancy $9,800.

Brave' Lusty at $23,500, Denver; 'Lining' $24,000

"Great Gatsby" are doing okay and will hold.

Estimates for This Week
Broadway (Wolfberg) (1.500; 35-74)—"Silver Lining" (WB) (2d wk).
Day-date with North and South drive-ins. Nice $7.500. Holds again.
Last week, big $11,000.

Denham (Cockrill) (1.750; 35-70)
"Great Gatsby" (Par). Good $10-000. and stays over. Last week.
"Manhandled" (Par) and "Special Agent" (Par), small $7.000.

Denver (Fox) (2.525; 35-74)—"Home of Brave" (UA) and "C-Whan" (FC). day-date with Esquire, Webber. Big $18.000. Last week.
"Calamity Jane" (U) and "Streets San Francisco" (Rep). $11,000.

Esquire (Fox) (742; 35-74)—"Home of Brave" (UA) and "C-Wan" (FC), also Denver, Webber.
Good $3.000. Last week, "Calamity Jane" (U) and "Streets San Francisco" (Rep). $12.000.

North Drive-In (Wolfberg) (1.000 cars; 74)—"Silver Lining" (WB). also Broadway. South Drive-In.
Fine $8,000. Last week, subsequent run.
Orpheum (RKO) (2,600; 35-74)—

run.
Orpheum (RKO) (2,600; 35-74)—
"Neptune's Daughter" (M-G). Big $19,000. Holdover. Last week, "Edward, My Son" and "Valiant

$19,000. Holdover, Last week, "Edward, My Son" and "Valiant Hombre" (UA), $11,000.

Paramount (Fox) (2,200; 35-74)—
"Red Menace" (Rep) and "Hellfire" (Rep). Thin $6,000. Last week "Big Cat" (EL) and "Shamrock Hill" (EL), $7,000.

(EL), $7,000.

South Drive-In (Wolfberg) (1,000 cars; 75).—"Silver Lining" (WB), Also Broadway, North Drive-in. Fine $8,500. Last week, second-run.

Webber (Fox) (750; 35-74).—"Home of Brave" (UA) and "C-Man" (FC), also Denver, Esquire, Good $2,500. Last week, "Calamity Jane" (U) and "Streets San Francisco" (Rep., $2,000.

'Gatsby' Okay 15G, Best Bet in Cincy

"Great Gatsby" is the only lively grosser this round but just okay wo other new bills are contributing to dip down to dog days level. "Lost Boundaries" is in moderate tempo and "Manhandled" Is fair-ish. Disney reissue package of Dumbo" "Saludos Amigos" shapes

Estimates for This Week
Albee (RKO) (3.100; 55-75)—
"Great Gatsby" (Par) and "One Last Fling" (WB), Satisfactory
$15,000, Last week, "Follow Me Quietly" (RKO) plus Dick Contino unit onstage, terrific $30,000 at 5594 seale unit onstage, terrific $30,000 at 55-94c scale.

Capitol (RKO) (2,000; 55-75)—
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G) (24 Mey). Merry $10,000 on heels of hotsy $15,000 preem.
Grand (RKO) (1,400; 55-75)—
"Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) (reissues) plus "Sca Island" (RKO). Disney package encoring to all right $8,500.
Last week. "Sand" (20th, $7,500.
Last week. "Massacre River" (Mono), pleasing $10,000.
Palace (RKO) (2,600; 55-75)—
"Lost Boundaries" (FC) and "Own True Love" (Par). Moderate $10,000. Last week. "You're My Everything" (20th) and "Homicide" (WB), hefty $15,500.

'Rope of Sand' Ties Up Wilting B'way, Aided by Damone-Beneke Stager, 103G; 'Summertime' Wow 154G, 'Window' 30G

Return of hot, sultry weather starting Sunday (7), after business was hypoed by rain and lower temperatures, will give Broadway first-runs very spotty results this stanza. Continuing publicity on polio in New York seemingly is having no adverse effect on the boxoffice. A couple of managers said the fewer people at some beaches and the closing of one Long Island beach appeared to help their trade. Several rainy days, after a brief midweek warm spell, brought cooler weather and stimulated theatre business. This upbeat was counterbalanced by the soaring mercury Sunday - Monday and yesterday Tues.)

balanced by the soaring mercury Sunday - Monday and yesterday (Tues.).

Both the Music Hall and Paramount have sock business-getters. Par flagship, with "Rope of Sand," coupled with Tex Beneke band and Vic Damone at head of stageshow, is soaring to terrific $103.000, one of the best non-holiday weeks the house has had in nearly two years. "In Good Old Summertime," with new stageshow, is roaring ahead to a smash $154.000, one of bigger non-holiday weeks for the Hall. Tr. Music Hall continues to lure out-of-towners, and there are many vacationers currently in N. Y. Backed by novel teaser ad campaign. "The Window" got off big at the Victoria and looks to hit socko $30.000 in initial week. New vaude at Palace, with just plain "Sand." as distinct from "Rope of Sand." is giving this spot a bright $23.500 currently.

Top second weeks are being turned in by "Mighty Joe Young" and "Come to Stable." Latter looks grent $31.000 in second Rivoli week, and is set for a run. "Joe Young" is surprising the Street by holding up in initial holdover session at rousing $30.000 at Criterion.

"Lost Boundaries" is running contrary to usual downtrend by pushing up ahead of previous week for sock $23.000 or near it, in sixth Astor stanza. Unusual, extensive newspaper ads apparently are creating added interest to film.

Most holdovers and extendedruns are sagging this round.

Estimates for This Week

Astor (City Inv.) (1,300: 60-$1.50)

Estimates for This Week

Astor (City Inv.) (1,300; 60-$1.50)
—"Lost Boundaries" (FC) (6th wk).
Big ad campaign paying off, with biz soaring ahead of last few weeks' totals, winding up at shaash $23,000 or near. Rain, cooler weather for a time also helped. Last week, $16,000, with break in heat boosting. Stays on indef.
Bitan (City Inv.) (589: $1.20-

stays on indet.

Bidou (City Inv.) (589; $1.20-$2.40:—"Red Shoes" (FL) (42d wk).
This one goes on and on, going to $10.000 or better this round after steady $9.000 last frame.

Continues.

tinues.

Capitol (Loew's) (4.820; 80-$1.50)

"Scene of Crime" (M-G with Noro Morales orch, Mary Small, Hank Ladd, others, onstage (2d-final wk). Down to light $42,000 this frame after mild $61,000 open-cp, below expectancy. "Anna Lucasta" (Col), with Tommy Tucker orch, Golden Gate Quartet, Nancy Donovan, Paul Winchell heading stage bill, opens tomorrow (Thurs.)

Criterion (Moss) (1,700; 50-$1.75)

—"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) (2d wk). Holding very well at $30,000 in initial holdover stanza after terrific $39,000 opener.

Globe (Brandt) (1,500; 50-$1.20)

rific $39,000 opener.

Globe (Brandti (1,500; 50-$1.20)

"Not Wanted" (FC) (3d-final wk).
Doing barely okay $12,000 after good $15,000 second.

Gotham (Brandti (900; 44-99)—
"Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) tesissues) (3d-final wk). Down to $7,000 with publicity

Still profitable at $10,000 after nice $12,000 fourth round. "Too Late For Tears" (UA) opens Saturday

Palace (RKO) (1.700; 55-$1.20)—
"Sand" and vaude. Perking up a bit, with fine $23,500 likely this round. Last week. "Big Cat" (EL), with vaude, $22,000, a bit over house.

Paramount (Par) (3.664; 55-$1.50)

"Rope of Sand" (Par) with Tex Beneke orch, Vic Damone, others onstage (2d wk). First session ended last night (Tues.) roared ahead to giant $103,000, one of best opening weeks in months. In ahead, "Great Gatshy" (Par) with Jimmy Dorsey orch, Peggy Lee topping stage bill (3d wk). $57,000.

"Park Avenue (U) (532, $1.20.

$2.40!—"Hamlet" (U) (46th wk).

boing a bit better at $3,000 in 45th week ended last Monday (8) night after $7,600 for previous round.

Continues.

Radio City Music Hall (Rocke-fellers! (5,945; 80-$2.40)—"Good Old Summertime" (M-G) with new stageshow. First week looks to hit smash $154.000, and naturally is holding. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) and Independence Day Pagenat onstage (6th wk), very good $114,000.

Pagena good $114,000. Rialto (Mage) (594; 44-98). "White Savage" (FC) and "Cob-Woman" (FC) (refs) as 12 d wk Holding up fine at $8,000 but like won't hold another frame. Five week was nice $10,000. Rivoli (UAT-Par) (2,092; 6 won't hold another frame. First week was nice $10.000.

Rivoll (UAT-Par) (2.092: 60-$1.251—"Come to Stable" (20th) (2d wk). Staying up in the big brackets at great $31,000 or better, First week hit smash $42,000, a bit below hopes but teriffic for this time of year and heat. Makes it one of greatest opening weeks here in many months.

Roxy (20th) (5.886; 80-$1.50)—"You're My Everything" (20th) with Bob Crosby, iceshow, others onstage (3d-final wk). Holding in okay fashion at $60,000 after $68,000 for second stanza. "Slattery's Hurricanc" (20th) plus Sid Caesar, Evelyn Knight, Pitchmen, new iceshow open Friday (12)—"Great Sinner" (M-G) (7th-final wk). Sixth week ended last night (Tues.), drifted a bit more to $10.00, not far from fifth session's $12,000. Holds until Aug 17, when "Jolson Sings Again" (Col. comes in.

in.

Strand (WB) (2.756: 50-$1.25)—
"Girl From Jones Beach" (WB) (2dfinal wk). Down to $13,000 or less, very slow, after light $18,000 opening week, below hopes. Current takings tip, yen to bring back stagefilm policy or launch vaudfilm here. "It's Great Feeling" (WB) opens Friday (12).

Sutton (R&B) (561: 70-$1.20)—
"Quartet" (EL) (201h wk). Slipped a bit this past week ending Monday
(8) to $7.400 after strong $5,600 for 18th week. Continues.

(8) to $7.400 after strong $8,600 for 18th week. Continues.
Victoria (City Inv.) (1,060; 95-81,50)—"The Window" (RKO). Soaring to socko $30,000 or thereabouts, great reviews and word-of-mouth following teaser ad campaign putting it over. In ahead, "Home of Brave" (UA) (12th wk), finished highly successful run at $7,000

'HELLFIRE' PACES NEW

One. Last week. "You're My Everything" (20th) and "Homicide" (WB), arigos" (RKO) reissues) (3d-final wk). Down to $7,000 with publicity Indipls. Finally Perks; 'Number' Dandy $14,000, 'Lining' Fine 13G, 'Steal' 9G Indianapolis. Aug. 9. Break finally came this week in the doldrums gripping firstrumber all summer. Biz is still undered in the doldrums gripping firstrumber all summer. Biz is still undered in the doldrum is gripping firstrumber. Though the doldrum is gripping firstrumber. The doldrum is gripping firstrumber.

A BOX OFFICE BLASI

led to vengeance... treasure and intrigue...

PAUL

... as the Commandant... with a taste for beauty . . . and a talent for brutality . . .

CLAUDE

.. as the crafty intriguer ... with an uncut diamond for a heart!

... as the informer ... a fountain of extraordinary information . . . carrupt . . . eager to be of service . . . for a price.

and introducing

... about whom LIFE MAGAZINE says: "Corinne Calvet will occupy the throne of the love goddess of Hollywood!"

... as the adventurer ... whose flaming past

Off to a sizzling start at World Premiere Engagement, as New York Paramount winds up one of the biggest first weeks in recent years!

> On Every Screen In The Land, During Paramount Week SEPT. 4-10

with SAM JAFFE · Directed by WILLIAM DIETERLE

Story and Screenplay by Walter Doniger Additional Dialogue by John Paxton

HERE FROM PARAMOUNT!

Paris Firstruns Way Ahead of '48 In First Part of Year But Industry Woes Mount; Producers Hardest Hit

Paris, Aug. 2.

Judging from the way film grosses have soared in the first four months this year, the French pix industry should be in a happy frame of mind. Total grosses for Paris rose to $63,50.000 in the initial four-month period of 1949 which is better than $2,000.000 own hear and nearly $3,000.000 over amee period in 1947. Part of this increase stems from hiked admission scales, which are government-controlled.

Fay Compton, Rattigan,
Portman Legit Winne
London, Aug. 2
Presentation of Ellen Termaneal for the best acting power and eat an informal eption at Savoy hotel today (2) the Duke of Edinburgh. Winnerson scales, which are government-controlled. controlled sion scales, which are government-controlled.

Although other segments of the film business obviously have a tough road ahead, the exhibitors should be pleased with the soaring biz. Even if the exhib has nothing to complain about the take (much of it comes from American product despite the quota rules against it), the theatre operator has plenty to beef about. There is such a scarcity of firstrun French product he is constantly asking for exemption or getting around the rules governing showing of foreign fare.

Then, too, exhibs are kept in a constant turmoil by the administration about programs, scales and taxes. Out of the super-tax, which sets up a Cinema Aid fund they had hoped to reclaim and improve theatres, the administration now wants to create a fund to set up a government-operated export agency. Many feel that this would turn out a pork barrel for the politicos since costing $300,000 annually when $20,000 is considered ample.

ered ample.

The unhapplest in the industry, however, are the French producers.
One of the loudest squawks is that

The unhapplest in the industry, however, are the French producers. Onc of the loudest squawks is that while laws were passed to restrict the business to a selected few, the number of registered producers has increased from 100 in 1944 to 200 last year.

Studios' Dilemma

The studios also are finding it tough going. The Epinay Eclair plant has been ordered closed and must move elsewhere. The state wants to widen a road that will use studio ground. Shuttering will mean that 600 will be out of jobs. Studio is the only one in France equipped for color processes.

While the Voctorine Studios in Nice are dark and studio business in general is bad, official support is given to a $200,000 producing setup, considered by many as a real estate promotion intended to sway producers into using this Riviera tract for location work.

There are numerous complaints about the way the administration is functioning on film matters. Michael Fourre-Cormeray appartly is doing the best he can in a job made difficult because being something of a politico football. Since seemingly the government can't change him and still be happy, matters have been complicated by naming M. Moury as his executive assistant. Result is that the two are working at cross purposes.

Virtually a government branch, the Union Generale Cinematographique, made up of seized enemy properties, is attempting to keep its head above water by raising another $1,000,000 out of government appropriations even after its experience with "Alice in Wonderland." This was financed ernment appropriations even after its experience with "Alice in Wonderland." This was financed by UGC despite apparent public opinion against it.

Delfont's 'Roundabout' Flops, 'Folies' Being Rushed In to Replace

London, Aug. 9. Bernard Delfont's "Folies Ber-Dee No Mex Film Walkout

Mexico City, Aug. 9.

Mexico City, Aug. 9.

Fears are disappearing over possible strike against the eight mani, Rosanno Brazzi and in Brooks. Director William Delfont's new musical comedy, which opened to a mixed reception at the Saville, Aug. 4. Show lacked snappy song numbers and bright comedy.

Bobby Howes and Pat Kirkwood were the stars, but the highspot of the show was the magnificent eccentric dancing of American redhead. Marilyn Hightower, who resided a big ovacion.

Dee No Mex Film Walkout

Mexico City, Aug. 9.

Fears are disappearing over possible strike against the eight mani, Rosanno Brazzi and ine Brooks. Director William the Progress on talks for renewal nitil 1951 of the two-year work pact that expires this month beat expires this month beat that expires this month beat the eight mani, Rosanno Brazzi and in Brooks. Director William there is a studios. Cast includes Any S gere" Revue, originally scheduled

Portman Legit Winners

Portman Legit Winners

London, Aug. 2.

Presentation of Ellen Terry Awards for the best acting performances in 1948 and for the best play were made at an informal reception at Savoy hotel today (2) by the Duke of Edinburgh. Winners were Fay Compton for her performance in "Family Portrait," Eric Portman for his work in
"Browning Version," and Terence
Rattigan for writing the latter play.
This is the second time since the awards were instituted three years ago that Rattigan has won the playwrights prize, the other being for "The Winslow Boy."

Winners are picked by panel of six which includes Eric Bloom, chairman Gallery First Nighters committee. Beverly Baxter and Sir Louis Sterling.

British See Sponsored Television as Answer To Program Problems

To Program Problems

London, Aug. 2.

Developments to cover the entire country with TV transmitting stations are taking place in England. The second British station at Sutton Colfield, to cover Birmingham and the Midlands, is due to open in the early fall, a site has been selected outside Manchester to cover the northern sector and preliminary tests are taking place to pick the best possible situations to feed Scotland.

Manufacturers of TV sets and equipment are, nonetheless, critical of the government for the casual way in which the developments are taking place and insist that if the service had expanded rapidly the British system would have been accepted in the greater part of Europe.

Speaking at the annual meeting of Pye. Ltd., large set manufacturer, chairman C. O. Stanley appealed for the introduction of sponsored TV as the solution to the program problem. "It is understandable," he said, "that a large number of people may not like American sponsored programs, but there is no reason to suppose that all sponsored programs have to be to the American pattern, any more than it is reasonable to give up wearing neckties because one dislikes the American variety."

He claimed the type of program the public would demand couldn't be financed from revenue drawn from state-owned radio.

BRIT. PRODUCERS SCRAP OLD STUDIO UNION PACTS

London, Aug. 9.

All existing agreements between the British Film Producers Assn. and the three studio unions are to be scrapped forthwith. In their place a single comprehensive pact embracing every studio grade is to be negotiated. BFPA executive meeting last Wednesday (3) took this action. Inviting the unions to consider a new comprehensive pact.

pact.
View among studio workers is that the voluntary cuts imposed on studio execs are going to be fol-lowed through in the new agreement, with an attempt made to reduce the existing minimum

See No Mex Film Walkout

VARIETY

London Exhibs Quota Flop
London, Aug. 2.
Spot check by the Board of Trade carried out in 152 picture theatres covering two London nabe districts and a number of coastal and provincial centres revealed that exhibitors generally are falling down on their quota commitments in the first six months of this Act.

Act.
Analysis shows that so far the houses checked have met their 45% quota by an average of 35.7% for British first features.

MPAA Seeks End To Ban on Yank Pix in Argent.

of the MPAA office, is back nere trying to obtain an okay from Ar-gentine economic officials so that U. S. film distributors can continue operations in Argentina. It is es-sential that Yank distribs obtain operations in Argentina. It is essential that Yank distribs obtain exchange permits, not forthcoming for months because of the shortage of dollar exchange, if they are to get new pictures in for distribution.

Decision is expected within the next 10 days after several months of confabs. Understood that some progress has been made in obtaining the goodwill of economic bosses in this country, and Claudie Martinez Paiva, Entertainment Board director, has displayed a more amicable attitude. The impasse, however, continues. American firms have been told that there will be no imports from the U. S. of any materials included in the Anglo-Argentine Trade Treaty—and this takes in films.

Local exhibitors are inclined to pooh-pooh any suggestion that distributor negotiations will fall through. They think Argentine (Continued on page 61)

British Disney Goods Setup Now Hitting Take Of $2,000,000 Yearly

London, Aug. 2.

In the 16 years since the organization was first launched in London, the Walt Disney setup for merchandising, has developed to its present peak level where its annual turnover exceeds $2,000,000. Bulk of the earnings is convertible into dollars and is transferred to its opposite number in the U. S.

Biggest individual.

ne U. S.

Biggest individual items are jig-Biggest individual items are jigsaw puzzles, which for the current year are being produced at the rate of 3.000.000 and books, the sales of which are expected to top 1.000.000. Altogether, there is a wide range of merchandise, extending from knitting wools to table lamps and including complete series of greeting cards, toys and various novelties. A special feature of the activities is the publication of a fortnightly comic strip magazine which has a circulation of 500,000 and which will be transformed into a weekly by the end of the year.

Although it is Impossible to cal-and of the year.

Although it is impossible to calculate the effect of this method of exploitation on the success of Disney films, there is little doubt that it has played an important part in maintaining the high popularity level, particularly among youngsters.

Dieterle Winds Italo Pic

Rome, Aug. 2.

All location shots were finished on "Vulcano" the last of July, the company returning to Rome for cutting and editing at Scalera Studios. Cast includes Anna Magnani, Rosanno Brazzi and Geraldine Brooks. Director William Dieterle heads the production unit. All others in "Vulcano" are amateurs picked up for small pay in Southern Italy.

Reported here that Lana Turner

Reported here that Lana Turner may make a film on this same bleak volcanic island soon.

Other Foreign News on

London Exhibs' Quota Flop Germany's Pix Biz Off 40% in 6 Mos.; U.S. Fare, Except Message Films, Click

German Film Producers

Frankfurt, July 30.

German film production is in the red with producers laming the situation on the "invasion" of foreign film. About 35 new German films have been put before the cameras since the war ended. Producers claim that foreign product by a ratio of nine-to-one is providing the major portion of the 150 to 200 pix annually consumed in Germany. (Marian F. Jordan, MPEA rep claims 60% of films now running are German-made.)

Only out seen in German film circles is a boost in local production which is hampered by money troubles. The producer suffering from lack of capital and the severe credit restrictions. Export of local film product has decreased to practically nothing from a prewar level of $9,000.000 yearly. The import of pix, which before the war ran about $1,500,000 annually, is now in the millions.

Last year's production output fell 10 pictures below the mark set. Producers credit this to financing difficulty. They claim banks in addition to the regular interest are also asking for a percentage of the gross. Star salaries and studio rentals are also exceptionally high.

German producers currently are attempting to get a credit of $9,000,000 from the European Recovery Plan. Producers claim the funds would be enough for production of at least 20 pix.

UPPED AUSSIE EXHIB COSTS STIR DISTRIBS

Sydney, Aug. 2.

Looks like a real storm is loom ing between some U. S. distribs and exhibs here over upped overhead costs caused by current coal strike. One distrib is reported nixing any attempt by a local circuit to add on theatre operational costs the oil used to operate emergency power plants in keeping theatres open. Exhibs say operational costs have zoomed because of the strike and that distribs should be prepared to meet them half way on such costs.

such costs.

'Uniform' Due for Spanish Pix Version in Mexico

Mexico City, Aug. 2. Rodolfo Loewenthal, European pic producer, is readying produc-tion in Spanish here of "Girls in Uniform," the German film classic in which he was a bit player in Germany 20 years ago. Dolores del Rio and Isabel Corona are penciled for the leads. Alfredo Crevenna will direct.

Loewenthal intends to start 'Girls' immediately after comple-"Girls" immediately after comple-tion of his "Rencor de la Tierra" ("Rancor of the Soil"), now in production here. Loewenthal ob-tained by cable Spanish pic rights to "Girls" from George Marton, who acquired them from authoress Chrispa Winsloe.

Big German Musical Yen
Frankfurt, July 30
Though musicals mostly are greeted warmly in Germany, Marian F. Jordan, MPEA rephere, cited that warner's "Rhapsody in Blue" went overbig in Frankfurt but flopped in Bavaria. Attributing his to Bavaria still partly feeling its Nazism. Jordan pointed out that, while carried out delicately, there was considerable resistance against "Rhapsody" because of Gershwin's Jewish background.

Also significant of current public opinion in Germany is that the success achieved here by "Song of Bernadette" has had an adverse effect on other Jennifer Jones starrers. Jordan explained. "they regard her as a saint there, not as an actress."

Flood of Foreign Pix
Blamed for Troubles Of German Film Producers the red with producers blaming the situation on the "invasion" of foreign film. About 35 new German film shave been put before the cameras since the war ended. Producers claim that foreign product by a ratio of nine-to-one is providing the major portion of the 150 to 200 pix annually consumed in Germany. (Marian F. Jordan, MPEA rep claims 60% of films now running are German-made.)

Only out seen in German film circles is a boost in local producers on the light of the Hollywood production standard, but some British films like Rank's "German films are leaved the Hollywood production standard, but some British films like Rank's "German Films local producers and "Seventh Veil" do good business.

Some 42 films were released in Some 42 films were released in

"Red Shoes," "Black Narcissus" and "Seventh Veil" do good busi-and "Seventh Veil" do good business.

Some 42 films were released in Germany since last August, with plans calling for the MPEA to distribute about 30 more before the end of 1949.

New Irish Film Unit Starts Rolling; Will Show in N.Y. End of Year

Show in N.Y. End of Year

Dublin, Aug. 2.

Leinster Films, new Irish pix setup, starts rolling this week on an original story, "Iron Staircase," by Desmond Lesfie, who will direct the production. Cameraman is Brenedan J. Stafford, formerly with Gaumont-British. Leslie is son of Sir Shane Leslie, cousin of Winston Churchill. Unit plans to work on the European continental system making use of locations rather than studio sets. Dubbing will be done in London. Agnes Bernell has been named for the lead, with Joseph O'Connor (formerly with Donald Wolfit's Shakespearean Co.) as an ex-Commando pearean Co.) as an ex-Commando who knows one job—how to crack safes.

Leslie plans to have pic on the Christmas, with Leslie plans to have pic on the screens around Christmas, with concurrent openings in New York and Dublin. Arrangements for distribution in U. S. are reportedly complete, but distribs have not been announced. It is understood that pic will not rate as foreign in England and will therefore be bookable by houses there as a British quota pic.

Non-Union British Prod. Workers Get 10-20% Cut

London, Aug. 20.
British Film Producers Assnunanimously adopted a scheme for reducing salaries of execs and for reducing salaries of execs and others not covered by union agreements. Official pronouncements made this week is that all persons earning $1.044 annually are to get a 10% cut, with the axe making a minimum cut of 20% for higher salaried execs.

Those under contract will have their cases dealt with individually by studio managements.

The Cost Came High

Mexico City, Aug. 9.

Cine Rialto, chema in Merida, capital of Yucatan state, was destroyed by fire during a night show when skyrockets, featuring a civic celebration, hit it. No one was hurt.

Water

Water shortage hampered the firemen.

WESTERN

AM 11 02

L.LLD129 NL PD=WD LOSANGELES CALIF 3 VIA LOSANGELES CALIF 4=

AL JOLSON,=

118 SOUTH BEVERLY DR BEVERLY HILLS CALIF (BH)= THROUGH THE COURTESY OF MR HARRY COHN AND

HIS DIVISION MANAGER JERRY SAFRON I HAD THE OPPORTUNITY OF VIEWING "JOLSON SINGS AGAIN" LAST EVENING WITH MY DIVISION PRESIDENTS AND I HASTEN TO TELL YOU THAT IN MY OPINION THIS IS ONE OF THE GREATEST PIECES OF ENTERTAINMENT EVER PRODUCED IN HOLLYWOOD. THE ENTIRE MOTION PICTURE IS SO SKILLFULLY HANDLED THAT WATCHING IT ON THE SCREEN I FELT AS IF THE LIVING PERSONS WERE DIRECTLY BEFORE ME AS IN A LEGITIMATE STAGE PRODUCTION. THE PERFORMANCE IS HIGHLIGHTED BY MANY INSPIRING MOMENTS AND I AM CONFIDENT THAT THIS OUTSTANDING PICTURE WILL DO TREMENDOUS BOX OFFICE. MY CONGRATULATIONS TO YOU FOR YOUR PARTICIPATION IN THE PICTURE AND FOR THE INSPIRATIONAL MANNER IN WHICH THIS PART OF YOUR LIFE STORY IS TOLD. REGARDS=

CHARLES P SKOURAS=

British Govt. Pix Loan Unit Nearly Out of Cash; Use $20,000,000 in Year

Reliable sources claim the National Film Finance Corp., which came into existence a year ago to help independent British production with $20,000,000 of government money, is now running out of cash. If it is to carry on with its function of providing money for British pix, Harold Wilson will have to ask Parliament to authorize additional capital.

Madras Bans 'Stiff,' 'Siren'

Madras, July 30.

United Artistss "Lucky Stiff" has been banned throughout madras Province as unfit for exhibition. "Siren of Atlantis" also is on the ban list. Reasons are crime and immorality respectively. Both the films however played.

function of providing money for British pix, Harold Wilson will have to ask Parliament to authorize additional capital.

Almost half of the corporation's total resources have been ploughed into Alexander Korda's British Lion Film Corp. It is frankly admitted that the State Bank was set up in a hurry to help the company out of its difficulties.

Although originally intended to finance only programs through distributors, Parliamentary pressure led to a change in tactics, and individual loans have been made to indies. Apart from advances to British Lion, the loans all have been of a modest character. But it was recently computed that a large proportion of British production, other than what is made by the Rank outfit, is being aided by the government's film bank.

When details of the latest loans are announced in the next two weeks the fund will have almost dried up and will cease to be a force for production until either some of the advances are repaid or more moncy is put into the pool.

Arg. Pix Deals With Italy, France Cuing Similar Plans for U.S. Distribs

Plans ter U.S. Distribs

Buenos Aires, July 26.

Bad flying weather has lield up the return to Buenos Aires of Joaquin Rickard, Latin representative of the Eric Johnston office, who had to interrupt his negotiations with Argentine economic officials on future imports of U. S. pix. to settle argent problems in some of the other Latin-American countries he covers.

Meanwhile, U. S. Embassy reecptions attended by both President and Mrs. Peron are leading representatives of U. S. corporations in Argentina to loop for some switch in exchange relations representatives of U. S. corpora-tions in Argentina to hope for some switch in exchange relations between the U. S. and Argentina in the more or less near future, which could herald a return to a in the more or less near future, which could herald a return to a more liberal government policy in the matter of film imports.

However, all the straws are pointing towards a much tougher situation than existed before. World War II, with the Argentine pix industry increasing its demands for favored treatment.

Atilio Mentasti, of Argentina Sono Film, is now back from the European junket he had started some months ago in company with Jose J. Guthmann, of Interamericana. The first stage of that tripled to an agreement with Italian producers, forcing them to accept distribution and exhibition in Italy of 10 Argentine pictures per annum. The second stage of the trip found Atilio Mentasti negotiating a similar deal in France, which has now been concluded. France is to take 10 Argentine pictures, and make dubbed versions. French film interests also agreed to supply 2,000,000 metres of raw stock to the Argentine pix industry, to overcome the current shortage (reply 2,000,000 metres of raw stock to the Argentine pix industry, to overcome the current shortage (re-sulting from the dollar famine), which has kept many Argentine studios folded for many weeks

There is no doubt but that the Argentine negotiators are angling for some similar type of deal with the U. S. Motion Picture Assn.

Stan Holloway to Tour Canada After Anzac P.A.

Melbourne, Aug. 9.
After his run at the Tivoli for Dave Martin, Stanley Holloway, British comedian, will do a vaude tour of Canada on way home to London and film work.
Holloway was not as surefire here as had been expected.

20TH'S 2 MEXICO CHAINS Mexico City, Aug. 9.

20th-Fox has signed up product areats with two big circuits here.

Luis Castro, headed by the firstrin Palacio Chino, and the secondruin chain of Oscar and Samuel Granat,

Madras, July 30.

United Artistss "Lucky Stiff" has been banned throughout Madras Province as unfit for exhibition. "Siren of Atlantis" also is on the ban list. Reasons are crime and immorality respectively. Both the films however played at the local Casino a month, doing average business.

11 Madrid Legits Sloughed by Heat

Madrid, July 30.
The 11 legit theatres now open are doing little business bethe fit legit theatres now open here are doing little business because of the intensely hot weather. Heat has been so bad that all have abandoned matinees, doing performances at 7 o'clock and again formances at 7 o'clock and again at 11 p.m.

Along with the slow boxoffices, unemployment has soared in show business despite small subsidies given by the government for touring companies. However, trade in the provinces is not good because patrons in these areas want to see shows only with the original casts.

Carlos Garriga, star comedian who has done well with his company, is starting a provincial tour this week in Zaragozza. Arturo Serrano has built up a company around Isabel Garcez and will tour northern Spain summer resorts until this fall. Sturdy biz is being recorded at Gibraltar by the operetta and Marco Redondo. Latter is playing to full houses with his company in open air theatres.

Gala performance at Circus with his company in open air theatres.

Gala performance at Circus Price this week drew capacity houses with impresario Juan Carcelle staging a benefit for Mons. Rambeau. French wild animal trainer, who lost his stock of animals in a blaze at Toledo.

Another show expected to make money will be a corrida in which Edith Lauries Entrin, U. S. writer, will participate.

S. Africa Spends 100G On Lourenco First-Half '49

Johannesburg, July 26.
South African advertisers spent £24,800 ($100,070) during the first six months of 1949 on buying advertising time on Lourenco Marques (Portuguese East Africa) radio. Meanwhile, arrangements for introduction of commercial radio in South Africa are going ahead ahead.

shead.

Sweeping changes that have been made by the new Nationalist government in the South Africa Broadcasting Corp. board of governors is causing concern here. The Board consists of seven members and of the five members whose term of office has expired since the new government came into power, only one has been reappointed. The others, including the chairman, have been replaced by government nominees.

It's pointed out that even if the

by government nominees.

It's pointed out that even if the government is not replacing members of the board for political reasons (although this is suspected in some quarters), the lack of continuity of policy which must result will be a threat to the efficiency of the SABC.

'Hamlet' Cuba's Hottest

'Hamlet' Cuba's Hottest
Washington, Aug. 9.
British production of "Hamlet" was the hottest b.o. for Cuban film houses in April, reports U. S. Dept. of Commerce. Running day and date for a full week in seven Havana theatres, it racked up $19,299.
During the month, 32 films were released in Havana, their boxoffice gross aggregating $238,270. Of this, 23 American pix earned $193,855, or 81,4%.

'PARADISE' SET FOR AUSSIE

Melbourne, Aug. 2. Priestley's "Ever Since

Current London Shows

Current London Shows

(Figures shows weeks of run)
London, Aug. 9.

"Anna Veronica." Piccadilly (12).

"Annie Get Gun," Co'ls'm (114).

"Beau Strategem," Lyric (15).

"Brigadoon," Majestic (17).

"Black Chiffon," West (15).

"Chiltern Hundreds," Strand.

"Daphne," Wyndham (20).

"Death of Salesinan," Phnx (2).

"Eddfina Black," Ambas. (4).

"Eddfina Black," Anbals. (4).

"French Without Tears," V. (8).

"Harvey," Prince of Wales (32).

"Hieriess," Haymarket (28).

"Her Excelleney," Hipp (7).

"Ice Cycles," Empress (7).

"Ice Cycles," Empress (7).

"Ice Vogues," Stoll (4).

"Lady's Burning," Globe (14).

"Latin Qt, Revue." Casino (21).

"Love Albania," St. James (4).

"Male Animal," New (7).

"Oklahoma!", Drury Lane (114).

"On Monday Next," Comedy (10).

"One Wild Oat," Garrick (36).

"Sauce Tartare," Cambridge (12).

"Song of Norway," Palace (5).

"Third Visitior," York's (9).

"Together Again," Vic. Pal. (122).

"Tough at Top," Adelphi (4).

"Traveller's Joy," Criterion (61).

"Worm's View," Whitehall (120).

"Young & Fair," St. Martins (7).

"Young Wives Tale," Savoy (4).

Lisbon Legit Hard Hit By Hot Weather; Delay Teeof of 2 New Shows

Lisbon, July 30. Show biz is so bad in Portugal that Piero Bernardon has given up control of the Avenida and Apolo theatres and is operating only the Variedades. A new company, star-ring Mirita Casimiro and Teresa Gomez, which was to have produced the translation of a new Spanish play at the Apolo late this month has postponed opening un-month has postponed opening until August, hoping for cooler weather. For the same reason a new revue scheduled for the Teatro Variedades is being held back. A real surprise to show business here is the announcement that the Teatro Ginasio is up for sale. This house, a 600-seater, is said to have been profitable on firstrun showings of good European films, but the compulsory legit season of four months a year annually takes away any profits available and results in heavy losses. Hence, the owners heavy losses. Hence, the owners want to sell.

heavy losses. Hence, the owners want to sell.

The Avenida also is for sale. This house needs plenty of alterations and improvements. It is also expected that this old-fashioned spot will do little biz this fall when it will have real competition from the new St. George film theatre that Rank is building.

Actors are asking that theatre owners here follow the example of the Tentro Serrador operators in Rio de Janeiro who are renting the house to the Eva Tudor Company for a small monthly rental and without the issual percentage deal. This reputedly is because of the crisis in Brazil's legit field. Business there is so bad that Portuguese legit actors Francisco Ribeiro and Joao Villaret, who had a contract to produce and play "King Lear." had their contracts cancelled.

BRITAIN'S FILM PROD. LAGS BEHIND OUOTA

Washington, Aug. 9.

British film studios continue to turn out considerably fewer films than are needed to keep up with share of playing time allocated them in Great Britain theatres according to statistics reported by U. S. Department of Commerce film branch. During first six months of year, the English studios turned out 28 first features and 16 "B" pix, thanks in part to money from the British National Film Finance Corp., which made loans to 15 companies, and to that by Hollywood companies spent by Hollywood companies from their iced coin.

On June 18, report says, there were 13 studios active in Britain, with 45 stages. Another 14 studios, having 38 stages, were dark, While production for the first half of year fell behind the comparative period in 1948. Commerce report states the studios would probably equal last year's total of 63 first features by end of 1949.

Swiss Yodelers, Corny 'Wm. Tell' Outdraw Zurich Longhair Names

Gieseking's Latin-Am. Tour

Santiago, July 31.
Banned in the U. S., German lanist Walter Gieseking, is curently touring South America. planist Walter Gieseking, is cur-rently touring South America. Arriving here from Buenos Aires after a successful engagement, Gieseking began the first of three concerts last night (30). Vienna Boys' Choir is scheduled to appear here next week.

U.S. Pix Releases Flood B. Aires

Buenos Aires, July 26.
The past week saw an unusually large number of U. S. pix releases in Buenos Aires—in a season which has been remarkable for the slowness at which Hollywood material is being screened.
"Sorry, Wrong Number" finally got its release (19), after Paramount had been announcing it since March. The picture has created a sensation, with nervous femmes in the audion.

since March. The picture has created a sensation, with nervous femmes in the audience requiring first-aid treatment, and exceptional grosses are predicted.

grosses are predicted.

"The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" at the Broadway is in its second week, with long queues stretching for several blocks. After a bare two weeks of exhibition of a national production ("De Hombre a Hombre"), the Gran Rex teed off with "The Smugglers" (EL) July 21, one of the scant number of British pix seen in Buenos Aires this year. Now that an Anglo-Argentine agreement has been accomplished. British Eagle-Lion hopes for a change for the better.

Paramount has reissued "Foreign Affair" at the Gran Palace, which had grossed close on $30,000 (US)

Affair" at the Gran Palace, which had grossed close on $30,000 (US) previously in two weeks at the Gran Rex. "Caccia Tragica," a Lux-Mar Italian release at the Premier and Ideal, is in its second week, and having as sensational an effect as "Open City," or any of the other Italian postwar pix which so stirred local audiences. "One Touch of Venus" (U) and "State of the Union" (M-G) are two other American releases of the week, at the Metropolitian and Opera theatres respectively. "Kiss the Blood Off My Hands" (20th) at the Opera grossed $40.800 (US) at the Opera and Roca simultaneously in two weeks from June 16 to 30, "Abbott and Costello Meet Frankenstein" at the Normandie is in its third week, having grossed around $32.000.

For the first time in Argentine film history, a Spanish production.

around $32,000.

For the first time in Argentine film history, a Spanish production.

"Joan the Mad." has established record grosses, in a nine-week run at the Broadway first and Gran Palace later. The picture drew $45,800. The Argentine musical "Vidalita" (Emelco), a 1.000,000 peso production, stayed only two weeks at the Broadway, netting only $15,600.

Of the many Argentine releases of the season, only "Historia del 900," which was directed and starred in by Hugo del Carril, netted $62,200 in a seven-week firstrun, the only local production to go over the $60,000 mark.

Finish Renown-Lux Pic In Italy Ahead of Sked

Renown Pictures of London, and Lux of Italy, who have been making a film called "Her Favorite Ilusband," finished the pic five days ahead of scheduled 60 days set for production. This is unusual for a picture made in Italy because of the electrical shortage and general nuisance delays.

John Sutro produced with an all-British cast including Robert Beatty, Jean Kent, Gordon Harker and Margaret Rutherford. Small roles and extras were picked up and Margaret Rutherford. Small roles and extras were picked up from the American and English Colony here. Mario Soldati was director. This Italian director was angry with one of his crew and after much screaming and gesticulation, there was a reconciliation. Despite this he finished shead of schedule.

While Swiss cities like Geneva and Zurich are bursting at the seams with tourists, resort innkeepers are crying for more customers. The season is just begin-ning in the mountains, and the penny-minded tourist of 1949 can have a gay time in any Swiss resort for very little. By U. S. standards Switzerland is cheap-$3-$5 a day for room and three meals if you for room and three meals if you have them in the same place. Meals outside run from a dollar to $2 in the best spots.

This reporter spent a week in Zermatt, typical tourist town but with atmosphere. The natives' wooden huts push up right along-side the hotels, and dining al fresco is usually enlivened by a herd of mountain goats which goes trooping down the main street, bells tinkling around their necks, every evening at 7:30.

The Zermatterhof, with the best dance music in town, was doing evening at 7:30.

The Zermatterhof, with the best dance music in town, was doing poorest business, possibly because what tourists there were, were out for bargains. The local people go to less formal spots, like the bar of the Mount Cervin or the Walliserhof. The last two are decorated in Swiss country style and go in for occasional yodelling acts tall caught were female), but most music heard is American. The Austrian musicians, definitely preferred to Swisshere, haven't caught up to current song hits, but manage pleasantly with old ones. Tourists would take a lot more native music than is offered, judging from inquiries overheard at the Tourist Office. Acts are booked into above-named spots for two or three nights a week, and are generally pretty comy. Dance teams, magic and comedy predominate.

and are generally pretty corny. Dance teams, magic and comedy predominate.

Outdoor events and music festivals are drawing trade in the rest of Switzerland. Schiller's "William Tell," 13th century horse opera, and national legend, plays at Interlaken every Saturday and twice on Sundays. The spectacle also is given at Altdorf every weekend during August. High point arrives when Tell actually shoots apple off son's head.

Music Festivals are now taking place at Braunwald (works of Bach, with lieder recital by Heinrich Schlusnus) and in the St. Moritz area (mostly quartets, with Solomon, English, pianist, featured). International Lucerne Festival runs from Aug. 10-28. Wilhelm Furtwangler will conduct "The Creation" of Haydn. Zino Francescatti and Robert Casadesus will give a sonata evening. Other soloists are Nathan Milstein, Marcel Dupree, organist; Edwin Fischer. pianist; M. Mainardi, Italian cellist; Franz Vroons, tenor. Conductors Bruno Walter and Herbert Karajan also are participants. Festival reports it is expecting big business. Atmosphere of the town, one of the most picturesque in the country, should delight U. S. music lovers.

B.A. Studio Woos Magnani For Pix; More Dickering For Arg.-Venezuela Swaps

Buenos Aires, July 26.
Argentina Sono Film is reportedly dickering with Anna Magnani to make pix in Buenos Aires in 1950. The Italian actress would be teamed with Arturo de Cordova, and would have to learn Spanish to make pix in Buenos Affect in 1950. The Italian actress would be teamed with Arturo de Cordova, and would have to learn Spanish before coming out to Iulfill the contract, which is being negotiated by a Spanish agent with Atilio Mentasti, guiding mentor of Sono. Argentina's crack jockey, Peneo Leguisamo, has been offered $8,000 (U. S.) to appear in a motion picture about horse racing. Independent Studio Sica made the bid. Bolivar Films, of Venezuela, is dickering with another three Argentine stars, who will be signed to make pix in Caracas as soon as the first combined Argentine-Venezuelan production is completed. The three are Mecha Ortiz, Roberto Escalda and Entique Serrano, who would travel to Venezuela once the present team working there — Juan Carlos Thorry, Susana Freyre and directurn.

AND HOW THESE BIG ONES KEEP GOING!

YOU'RE MY EVERYTHING · HOUSE OF STRANGERS · IT HAPPENS EVERY SPRING · THE BEAUTIFUL BLONDE · FORBIDDEN STREET MR. BELVEDERE GOES TO COLLEGE · MOTHER IS A FRESHMAN A LETTER TO THREE WIVES · CANADIAN PACIFIC · THE FAN THE SNAKE PIT · YELLOW SKY · CHICKEN EVERY SUNDAY THAT WONDERFUL URGE · DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS

"We return to our homes with a new spirit, a renewed faith in the motion picture business and the firm conviction that

—From a resolution unanimously adopted by the 52 Theatre Ad Execs at the conclusion of the Industry Merchandising Conference, July 28-29, N. Y. C.

Short Season, Bad Weather Place Hamper On Drive-Ins in Mpls. Area result in $100,000 ultimate loss in the area. Once the pic is established through a regular first-run, distribs are no objections to giving a

Minneapolis, Aug. 9.
Drive-in theatre business in this territory continues on the skids in the smaller communities with consequent curtailment of operations and abandonment of plans for further construction of the ozoners.
Unfavorable weather on several weekengls when the drive-in das been opened on hillside

Unfavorable weather on several weekends, when the drive-ins do the bulk of their business, has been an unfavorable factor in both the smaller and larger situatious. The comparative shortness of the drive-in season in the territory is a furin season in the territory is a fur-her handicap on ozoner operation. In Albert Lea, Minn., population 5.500, the Friedman Bros., owners of the town's only two conventional theatres, have cut down their shows to one a night at their recently opened drive-in. They say that during the first two weeks of the ozoner's operation there were only ozoner's operation there were only four to seven cars a night for the second shows, although the ad-mission is 50c for adults and 12c for children and fairly late releases are being shown.

The Friedmans say they're re-The Friedmans say they re re-ducing the drive-in's capacity from 420 to 300 cars and returning 120 In-car speakers to the distributors for credit. They point out certain ozoner operating costs just can't be reduced with diminishing returns, such as bulldozer use after closing. They also assert that since the drive-in's opening, business has been off 40% at their conventional "B" house. with diminishing returns.

With the unfavorable drive-in with the uniavorable drive-in developments, the Jules Edlestein group have called off plans "for the present" to build drive-ins at Hibbing and Virginia, Minn. Also, previously announced plans to build drive-ins are being deferred. build drive-ins are being deferred by Eddie Ruben at Grand Forks, N. D., and Aberdeen, S. D.; Ted Karatz's group at Virginia and Hib-bing, Minn.; Home Theatres cir-cuit at International Falls and Park Rapids, Minn.; Will Glaser at Fairbault, Minn.; Rubenstein & Mann a second drive-in at Duluth; Clar-ence Kash groun at Duluth; Clar-Benidi). Minn.; Rubenstein & Main a second drive-in at Duluth; Clarence Kaake group at Duluth; Roy McMinn group at Superior, Wis.; W. R. Frank group at Wilmar. Minn , and Elson & Nathanson at Detroit, Minn.

In the more populated centers, however, the drive-ins, for the most part, are thriving, according to reports reaching Film Row here. Operations of the four Twin City drive-ins, owned by a group of leading Minneapolis and St. Paul independents, continues highly profitable, although under last season's level for the only two in existence then. A fifth Twin City suburban ozoner, the Hilltop, owned outside the group, has just been opened and still another is in the construction stage. A 420-car'drive-in is and still another is in the construc-tion stage. A 420-car'drive-in is also being built by V. Gould and A. Kuhlman at Williston, N. D. Fargo, N. D., and Sious Falls, S. D., drive-ins are reported pros-pering far beyond initial hopes, while a number of other towns are bad, revealing the spotty nature of husiness. business.

of business.

Members of North Central Allied are cautioned in a bulletin regarding small-town drive-in theatre operations. "Every report received by this office is that drive-in theattres in or near small towns are ln erious trouble and are folding up, the bulletin advises.

the bulletin advises.
"Apparently to be successful, a drive-in must be located near a larger town where there is some concentration of population, particularly laboring people. Bankers ularly laboring people. Bankers are interested in this development and consider drive-ins not in or near a larger town to be had fin-ancial risks."

Mull Philly Drive-In Philadelphia.
Philadelphia's first drive - in within the city limits loomed as a possibility with city council's zonang committee debating the project and assorted exhibitor groups holding emergency meetings. Plant ect and assorted exhibitor groups holding emergency meetings. Plan was disclosed when the Zoning Board was asked to authorize a drive-in in an eight-block area near Stadium in South Municipal the Municipal Stadium in South Philly. The applicants, Harry Bolhover and Charles Goldfine, local exhibs, said the project would cost $225,-000 and accommodate 1,000 cars.

Ozoner for Dallas Suburt

Dallas.
Newest local ozoner, The Hi-Vue drive-in opened here in suhurban Oak Cliff. M. J. Komenann is operator.

Washington, Aug. 9.
The drive-in has invaded South America. Under the tag of "auto-cine," first drive-in has been opened on hillside overlooking a suburb of Caracas, capital of Venezuela.
Despite bad weather, it drew capacity crowds at outset.
First "auto-cine" parks 250 cars and includes a terrace be-

First "auto-cine" parks 250 cars and includes a terrace becars and includes a terrace be-low the parking spaces which has tables and chairs for 600 spectators and diners. Food and refreshments are served to autos and the terrace.

Finneran Plan

Continued from page 4 :

forced to oppose it. They claim that it is completely illegal, that they cannot join together in refusing to give a player a job. They point out that they tried that very thing in the case of the "Holly-wood 10," the alleged left-wingers who were cited for contempt by the House Un-American Activities Committee a couple years ago. and wound up with millions of dollars of lawsuits against them. The suits are still pending.

It is expected that a rep of the It is expected that a rep of the MPAA or some other industryite may attempt to prevail on Allied between now and the Chicago huddles to forget the Finneran Plan there. It will be pointed out to board chairman Abram F. Myèrs that adoption would be an illegal action by the studios and that introduction of the subject would only be a discordant note at Chicago.

Allied's insistence on discussion.

Allied's insistence on discussion Allied's insistence on discussion on the plan grows out of a policy announced by prez William L. Alnsworth back in June. He said at that time that "while the producer-distributor idea of public relations were the producer-distributor idea of public relations were the producer-distributor idea of public relations was to publiclize only those things that are right in Hollywood, Allied's approach is to put equal effort on cleaning up the things that are the basis of public criticism." Thus the Finneran Plan.

Agenda for the Chicago meetings is being prepared by Francis S. Harmon, vp. of the MPAA and head of its exhibitor-community relations department. He has been consulting antinuously with vertical consulting antinuously with vertical consulting antinuously with vertical consulting antinuously with vertical consulting continuously with vertical consulting continuously with vertical consulting continuously with vertical contin consulting continuously with our other industry factions i ous other industry factions in an effort to put on it every subject that they want to discuss, but yet hold it down to the maximum number of points that can reasonably be taken up in two days. Likewise, effort is belng made to hold it to those subjects on which there is reasonable assurance of getting agreement and least chance of recriminatory argument upsetting the good will aura.

Allied's Five Reps

Allied's Five Reps
Washington, Aug. 9.
By mail referendum, the directors of Allied States have authorized William L. Ainsworth, Abram F. Myers, Charles Niles, Trueman T. Rembusch and Martin G. Smith to attend the all-industry public relations huddles in Chicago at the send of this month. end of this month end of this month.

Exhibs' delegation will have to report their findings to the October session of the board before Allied can be committed to any definite plan. The Indie exhibitor group will urge that the Chicago meeting be confined to public relations for the time being, with trade practices being shelved as an issue.

They intend to insist expende

They intend to insist strongly tat the proposed public relations ogram should include "a reprogram program should include "a re-affirmation of organized respon-sibility to the public, and the adoption of new machinery and strengthening of old machinery for the correction of those matters that have given rise to criticism."

have given rise to criticism."

Metropolitan Motion Picture
Theatres Assn., group repping 90% of exhibs in the New York area, has named Leo Brecher.
Oscar A. Doob and D. John Phillips as a committee to attend the industry public relations meet in Chicago Aug. 30-31. Brecher is prez of MMPTA: Doob, a Loew's official, chalrman of the exec committee, and Phillips, exec director.

Distribs Resist

have no objections to giving a drive-in the opportunity of bidding drive-in the opportunity of blading for second or subsequent playings, It is said. But an initial slotting of a pic to a drive-in, "cheapens" the film and causes a general tumbling of terms, it is asserted.

of terms, it is asserted.

No legal precedent on the current feud has yet been set. Hence, the question is considered wide-open although company legalites this week expressed confidence that their reason for denying drive-ins equal competitive status would not be tagged discrimination by the courts. One action, brought by exhib E. Adelman in Houston currently action of the courts of the cour be tagged discrimination by the courts. One action, brought by exhib E. Adelman in Houston currently poses the question.

It is argued by sales staffers that booking in an ozoner does not give a film the best chances of exploitain the best chances or exploita-tion which a de luxe downtown house can supply. With the loss of exploitability, film is not ac-cepted by either the public or other theatre ops. Legalites view the sit-uation as being parallel to that of an expensive suburban house which seeks to take a film away from an established theatre in the center of town.

In smaller areas, however, exceptions have already been made to the rule. RKO, for instance, grants first-run in Jacksonville, Fla., to an ozoner. Case is extreme since the open-airer operates all year round; is tremendous in size; and there are only houses of limited capacity in downtown Jacksonville. in downtown Jacksonville.

in downlown Jacksonville.

In Chicago where a large number of big drive-ins have opened, there is some relenting. These drive-ins get product immediately behind the Loop first-runs without any clearance delay. In Detroit, one drive-in takes second run which it has been consistently winning in the past few months.

FCC Grants Film Cos. Delay on Theatre TV

Washington, Aug. 9.
The motion picture industry was given a breathing spell yesterday to get in its frequency requirements for theatre video. The Fed-Communications Commission eral Communications Commission extended to Oct. 3 the time for TV broadcasters to file comments to proposed micro-wave allocations for remote pickups, intercity relays and other auxiliary services. 20th-Fox recently asked the Commission to hold up allocations for the TV auxiliary services until it has submitted its requirements for theatre video. Its purpose was to prevent foreclosing a part of the micro-wave band from future theatre needs.

necus, e Commission's order main-the allocation status quo untains the allocation status quo un-til the picture industry makes known its requirements and gives the agency opportunity to deter-mine its needs before allocating frequencies to television broad-

Disney Readying Sales Campaign on 'Cinderella'

Major contab on releasing and advertising plans for Walt Disney's "Cinderella" is being held in New

"Cinderella" is being held in New York this week by Disney, RKO and advertising agency execs.
Roy Disney came into New York from the Coast over the weekend for the sessions, while William B. Levy, general salesmanager, re-turned from a two-month sales trip to Europe. Just back from a trip to the Coast to see the ple and sitting in on the meetings will be Levy's aides. Leo Samuels and Irving Ludwig. and pub-ad chief Charles Levy.

Irving Ludwig, and pub-ad chlef Charles Levy.

Next on the Disney slate is "Ichabod and Mr. Toad." which goes into release in October. Out-fit is planning distribution next year sometime of "Treasure Is-land", now in production in Eng-land in all live-action.

ABPC Told Drive-Ins Would Help Its Gate

London, Aug. 9.

Introduction of drive-ins as in-surance against boxoffice losses in Judge Matthew Levy is sitting in with Walsh on the falks. the summer was advocated at Associated British Picture Corp. annual meeting last Thursday (4) by a London insurance broker, Ashley Edwards, who has just re-turned from U. S. and Canada.

turned from U. S. and Canada.
Sir Philip Warter, company chairman, however, thought that gas rationing in Britain would be a serious obstacle. He also told Edwards that since the annual statement had been prepared the weather had hurt business but that there had been an immediate improvement during the recent break over the August holidays.

Yanks Melt

Continued from page 3

ceeded in reducing balances in one way or another a total of slightly way or another a total of slightly under 9,000,000 pounds ($35,000,-000) and left there only 1,800,000 pounds ($7,200,000) for the 12month period ending last June 14. month period ending last June 19.
Pressure is on to clean up the frozen pounds before next June 30 because part of any accumulation over 2.000,000 pounds held by the industry must go to British char-

Seidelman's operations in Eng-land in the past 10 days sets the pattern for other companies. He pacted with J. Arthur Rank for the acquisition of Western Hemisphere acquisition of western Hemisphere rights to a group of pix including "Hamlet"; for joint production of up to four films in Britain with the Rank Interests: for participation jointly with Rank in number of productions now being planned.

While the industry's percentage figures have proved amazingly high to the companies themselves, as well as to the British govern-ment, there are a number of catches involved. First is that the 45% quota, which was imposed shortly before the agreement be-came effective, held down American earnings substantially, so that there was considerably less coin to there was considerably less coin to be remitted from England than anticipated when the deal was made in March. 1948. by Eric Johnston, prez of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, and James A. Mulvey, representing the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers, with Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade.

Second factor involved in mak Second factor involved in making the 80% figure actually a lot less favorable than it appears on the surface is that the £9,000,000 taken out of their balances by the Yank firms does not represent the equivalent in dollars at the standard rate of $4 to the pound—or $36,000,000. Much of the sterling was used up or sold at discount rates. Exactly how much was retrieved is almost impossible to tell.

How It Figures

How it Figures
Of the £9,000,000 of balances removed, the equivalent of $17, 000,000 was in cash, as agreed on in the March, 1948, pact. In addition there was to have been some cash from the "B Pool." made up of the arminel. cash from the "B Pool," made up of the equivalent of earnings of British pix in the U. S. However, this money is involved in a hassle between the companies and its fu-ture is uncertain at the moment.

Actual earnings of American companies in Britain for the 12-month period aren't known as yet, but are merely estimates by foreign department execs based on the previous year's business. Income for the year prior test have vious year's business. Income for the year prior to the agreement was about $50,000,000. The quota was only about half as stiff at that time and business in general was much better. Based on those factors, it is thought that the Income for the year ending last June 14, couldn't have heen much more than $40,000,000.

Heavy portion of their frozen balances were used up by the heavy portion of their frozen balances were used up by the Americans in a variety of ways. One, of courses, was production of films in England. Second was the outright buying of American rights to British pictures. Companies also had a great many of their prints made in England for the entire foreign market used with the course of the c

IA Demands

Continued from page 4

Eastern Execs in Move To Settle Lab Workers' Pact

Settle Lab Workers' Pact
Top execs of the major film companies will enter directly into the eastern labor picture this week when negotiations for a new pact to cover eastern lab technicians are slated to resume. In a move to avert another strike theat, the execs are reportedly aiming for a swift agreement with the technicians Local 702, International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, whose pact with the 19 eastern labs expired in June. IATSE prexy Richard F. Walsh, returning from Coast labor confabs, will take a leading hand in the talks.
Local 702 prexy John J. France.

leading hand in the talks.

Local 702 prexy John J. Francavilla stated last week that his union swung solidly behind Walsh's postponement of a scheduled strike after a plea to continue bargaining was-entered-by-several major company prexies. Intervention of the company toppers, according to Francavilla, indicated a change from the former "uncompromising position" taken by the employer group headed by Joseph E. Mc Mahon, Republic treasurer. Union leaders, however, declared they were keeping their strike machinery olded in exercise. Mahon, Republic treasurer. Union leaders, however, declared they were keeping their strike machinery oiled in case no settlement could be reached on their demands for a 32-hour week, severance pay and increased vacations. Union is asking for reduced hours to combat asking for reduced hours to combat asking for reduced hours le unemployment incurred by technological improvements.

logical improvements.

Importance of the lab workers' negotiations is highlighted by the fact that a half-dozen other IATSE film locals in the east have also begun pressing for new pacts with the majors. Operating without a contract for over a year in some cases, IA cameramen, cutters, editors and scenic workers, are expected to follow Local 702's negotiating pattern if latter union is successful.

No Markdown

Continued from page 7

way players in the past year. They are being chosen because (a) they are trained actors, and (b) they have a projectible personality that goes far beyond mere good looks.

goes far beyond mere good looks.
While these players may start at $200 or $300 per week, as against the $75 that used to he handed to the pure tyro, there's plenty of economy involved. First thing is that a minimum of training is required for them and, secondly, there's less waste in bad choices, since these actors have already at least partially proved themselves in their Broadway engagements.
High price tags that continue to hang on the top star names are simple to explain in ordinary terms of supply and demand. There are of supply and demand. There are only a score or so of players in this category and if a lot wants their services it must meet the competitive price demand. The group has proved its value in pushing up income on the pix in which they appear. While it has been shown repeatedly that few star names will help a poor film at the b.o., the well recognized marquee monikers are valuable to distribs in getting bookings. Producers well know that their exhibitor-customers have never overcome the habit of asknever overcome the habit of ask-ing, "Who's in it?", and booking the plcture and paying rental accordingly.

King Bros.

Continued from page 7

for amusements, but that they run short of cash in between pay peri-ods and that the charge account short of cash in between pay periods and that the charge account would solve their problem.

Theatre execs in New York point out that the idea has been broached before but never got any place because of the feeling of most ex-Freedom New Indie

Sacramento, Aug. 9.

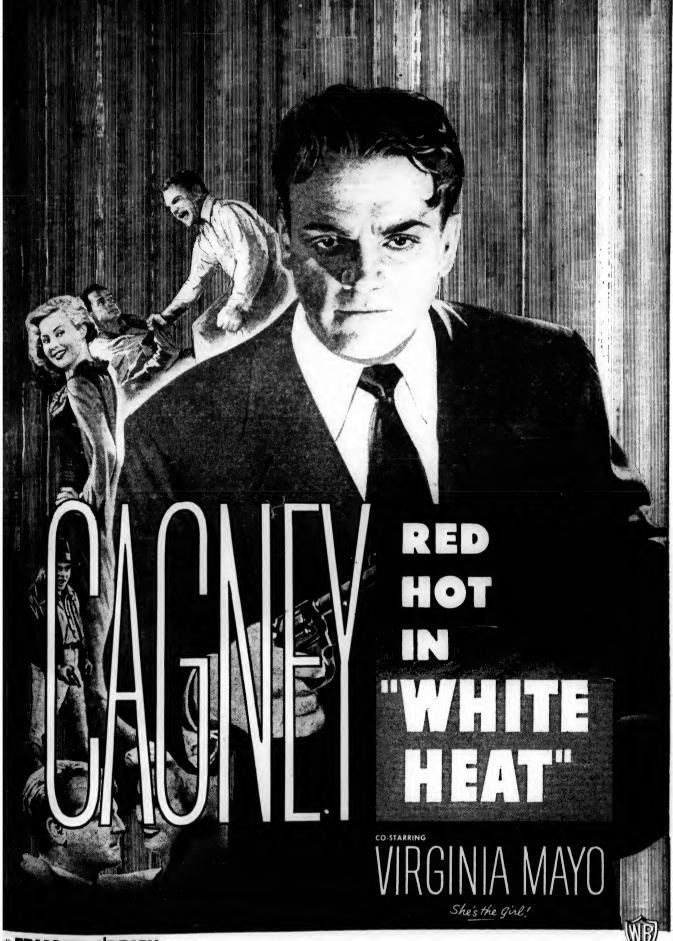

Freedom Productions filed incorporation papers here with Jack Wrather. Edward Golden and Monte E. Livingstone named as directors.

Company's first picture will be "Guilty of Treason." to be produced independently for United Artists release.

Sacramento, Aug. 9.

Freedom Productions filed incorporation papers here with Jack wrather. Edward Golden and Monte E. Livingstone named as directors.

Company's first picture will be "Guilty of Treason." to be produced independently for United Artists release.

DIRECTED BY

Screen Play by Ivan Goff and Ben Roberts

ted by a Story by Virginia Kellogg • Music by Max Steiner LOUIS F. EDELMAN

PRODUCED BY

ARNER TRADE SHOW AUG.24.

Baseball Beans B.O.

to the fact that Richmond is so diversified industrially that it seldom present, the decline is nothing to reacts violently to the peaks and be excited about.

to the fact that Richmond is so di-versified industrially that it seldom reacts violently to the peaks and vaileys of economic conditions. Television is not considered a menace at the moment. There is but one television station in opera-tion and approximately 5.000 sets have been sold. Two other stations are scheduled to begin operations eventually. Based on past experi-ence, film houses expect a tempo-rary decline in attendance as long rary decline in attendance as long as television is a novelty, but they do not view the situation with undue alarm.

Drive-ins have been booming.

There are several small independent houses, one de luxe independent, one other big drive-in operated jointly by Fablan-Wilmer & Vincent and the Neighborhood Theatre chain. Near-capacity is reported nightly. Rather than cut in on regular urban attendance, the drive-ins appear to be creating a new picture audience. The two big houses particularity are attracting houses particularly are attracting older people and familles with nouses particularly are attracting older people and families with young children, thus solving the sitter problem, and bringing in patrons who either will not bother to dress for a downtown theatre or cannot get out unless they bring the children.

the children. Bookings for the two big drive-lns run usually to pictures playing immediately after subsequent run, with a sprinkling of reissues. The smaller outfits take anything they can get, with westerns and action films predominating.

can get, with westerns and action films predominating.
"Extra added attractions" have increased patronage. At the Broadway (independent). Frank Porter, locai radio "country store" singer and comedian, appears weekly. At the Bellwood (Fabian-Neighborhood), Harvey Hudson, disk jockey from WLEE, puts on his platter show from 6:30 to 8 p.m., prior to the showing of the first picture program on Mondays and Tuesdays. Here also on Thursdays and Fridays the program is augmented by five cartoons and a serial, while five cartoons and a serial, while there is a regular Saturday night thrili show at midnight with no there is a regular Saturday night thrill show at midnight with no extra charge. Mobile concession units with icecream, cold drinks and hotdogs have proven profitable, and a playground is opened at 6:30 each night for youngsters who pre-fer the swings and sandboyes to each night for youngsters who pre-fer the swings and sandboxes to the confines of their parents' care. Concession stands within the theatres are more firmly estab-lished than ever, but business varies according to the type of the-atre. Suburban houses report that the concession business has not re the concession business has not re-flected the drop in attendance. In action houses there is a per capita increase in candy counter sales. On the other hand, Loew's, a class house, fluctuates according to the attraction. An abbott and Costello picture will sell 1.100 boxes of poppicture will sell 1.100 boxes of pop-corn per day; a Gable film will sell not more than 200 boxes. Loew's, however, plans the construction of a complete concession stand to in-clude soft drinks and icecream as well as the packaged confections they now handle.

No Pix Gripes

Exhibitors here have not joined the general hue and cry about "bad pictures." In general they state that they think pictures are about as good as they were a year ago.

that they think pictures are about as good as they were a year ago. They deplore the "similarity" of many of the releases that have appeared recently but are quietly optimistic about the immediate future. Musicals, comedies and pictures with name players still are considered the best bets for good business; psychological themes are poison, crime pictures are not popular; an excellent picture with a little-known cast is an uncertain gamble. The consensus is "There is no substitute for a well-made picture with star value."

No new theatres are being built,

No new theatres are being built, but none has shuttered for the summer. Balconies usually are roped off during the day but are open for night shows, despite the fact that prolonged good weather has taken crowds to night baseball and miniature golf courses. Outand miniature golf courses. Out-door sports have cut into the at-tendance on certain nights but regular film patrons usually attend at other times during the week. One exhibitor states, "Baseball must other times during the week. One exhibitor states, "Basebal must have hurt us because they ofter us competition." while another says, "Outdoor attractions can't have much effect on theatre grosses because the basebal officials are the baseball officials cause the baseball officials are complaining about the falling off of their own attendance." Still other exhibitors conclude that there is a general and not-to-be-un-expected attendance slump at all

Be excited about.

Richmond never has gone in for extravagant bailyhoo or circus stunts. The town never Indulges in double features, bingo, give-aways or other such methods of selling its entertainment. At the moment Loew's is cooperating in MGM's Silver Anniversary Year by using special trailers, extra art in the iobby, additional radio spots. The Fablan-Wilmer & Vincent houses, celebrating Fablan's 35th anniversary, have placed hillbilly singers on the stage of one suburban house, (Lee theatre) and also have organized a students quiz program for the same theatre, during which students or prospective students at the Richmond Professional Institute compete for prizes of cash Richmond never has gone in for Institute compete for prizes of cash to be applied to their tuition. Other events of like nature are to be spot-lighted at their other houses throughout the anniversary month of August. Special exploitation, although on the dignified side, is atthough on the dignilled side, is said to have increased grosses.

The overail picture of the film business in Richmond is neither frantically pessimistic nor blindly optimistic. The general feeling is optimistic. The that of "busines that of "business as usual," as op-posed to the lush and inflated war years.

Skouras Predicts Good Theatre Biz Ahead

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.
With at least 57 "good" productions ready for screening, theatre business is due for a strong upswing between now and the end of the year. That was the opinion expressed by Charles P. Skouras, National Theatres prexy, after personal inspection of numerous top pictures and reports of others with strong audience appeal. Skouras said:
"I am not worried about the state of our business even though state of our business even though state of our business even though the boxoffice has gone down 20% since April. Already the trend is upward and will continue in that direction with plenty of fine films coming up. Drive-in theatres have tapped the tills of the regular film houses by as much as $125,000 a week during the summer in California, but this business will return to the established theatre with cooler weather."

Syracuse Slips 25% Under a Year Ago

Syracuse, Aug. 9. Film business in Syracuse is 23%

Film business in Syracuse is 23% off a year ago, except for Loew's State. Compared with six months ago, trade is only slightly under, a city-wide survey indicates.

Credited with boosting Loew's boxoffice receipts, in addition to a lineup of strong pictures, was a Loew stage unit headed by the lnk Spots, which grossed a reported $24.000 the week of July 21, and whetted Syracusans' appetites for the return of stage entertainment.

tainment.
Vaudeville's local revival was Vaudeville's local revival was originally slated for Sept. 8, at RKO-Keith's, with Pat Rooney and the "Palace policy" unit. Since then, Keith's scheduled another Palace eight-act show headed by Gus Van for the week of Aug. 11. And Loew's expects to have an August stage attraction, possibly the Betty Garrett-Larry Parks unit. Television has had little to no effect on theatre business here. Station WHEN, only Syracuse video outlet at present, does not operate Station WHEN, only Syracuse video outlet at present, does not operate on direct TV network wavelength and will not be linked with coaxial cable until the fall.

Drive-ins in the Syracuse area haven't sliced into city film business as much as they have into themselves it is indicated. New North drive-in at North Syracuse is estimated to have nicked Kallet's Fairmount outdoor house. Until this drive-in at North Syracuse is estimated to have nicked Kaliet's Fairmount outdoor house. Until this year, Kallet's was the only drive-in near Syracuse. There's talk of building two more drive-ins, one east of town and the other south for next year. Neither Syracuse drive-in has asked for clearance. No other theatre construction is announced for Syracuse. Candy and concession business is on the upgrade in Syracuse houses, with increases 8-10°C, ratio-wise, to admission take.

Syracuse's current run of pictures is not as strong as a year ago, with the exception of Loew's new season string. There have been no changes in admission scales.

Outdoor sports, chiefly baseball atter looking over the Paramount theatres in Charlotte, Newport (Charlotte, Newport (Nauke Hall I-E) (2,200; 50-84)—

Wou're My Everything' (20th) and "Fogotten Women." (Mono). Okay at $9,000. Last week, "Home of Brave" (UA) and "Gover Up" (UA) (3d vk), $4,000.

O'rpheum (H-E) (2,600; 50-84)—

BEREIRA BACK TO L. A.

Hai Pereira, Paramount theatres in Charlotte, Newport (Nauke Hall I-E) (2,200; 50-84)—

Willie Hall (H-E) (2,200; 50-84)—

Wou're My Everything' (20th) and "Fogotten Women." (Mono). Okay at $9,000. Last week, "Home of Brave" (UA) and "Gover Up" (UA) (3d vk), $4,000.

O'rpheum (H-E) (2,600; 50-84)—

BEREIRA BACK TO L. A.

Hai Pereira, Paramount theatre houses while the three show cases or struction plans for the circuit, is being transferred to the studio. Pereira will life originally comes from the corporation of the studio where he supervised art work on a number of productions.

Syracuse's current run of pictures is not as strong as a year ago, with the exception of Loew's new season string. There have been no changes in admission scales.

Outdoor sports, chiefly baseball and fights, have taken a greater boxoffice toll this summer than last. Since Syracuse is a solid baseball-minded town, Sunday afternoon doubleheaders often rol the film houses of much business

Wilmington Complains Of Overtalky Films

Wilmington, Aug. 9.
Theatre business is off here up to 25%. Exhibs complain that outdoor sports and other amusements are among the prime causes for the drop, but managers in those fields also are crying the blues. Another reason for the slump is marked down to alleged slipping pix standards. Many stars seem to be losing their hold on the public and customers are beginning to squawk

Television is another headache for exhibs since it's known that it keeps many potential patrons home

Only one drive-in is operating in this area, playing oldies to big at-tendance. No other building is projected for other drive-ins or regular theatres in view of declining grosses.

Theatre operators are turning a deaf ear to suggestions for lower prices. However, policies for the circuit houses are set by execs in other cities and nabes are content other cities and nabes are content to follow past practices.

Declining grosses have failed to bring any changes in exploitation or improve showmanship. Both Warner theatres and the nabes favor small ad space and only Metro goes for extra spreads on special

Lower Philly Take
Philadelphia, Aug. 9.
Decreased attendance at films was reflected in monthly financial report issued by Receiver of Taxes
W. Frank Marshall and City
Treasurer Ralph W. Pitman.
Amusement tax collections for July were $35,000 lower than the corresponding month last year. For the seven months ending Sunday,
July 31, they totalled $2,427,568.
This was a drop of $122,932, or 5,25% lower than the comparable 1948 figure.
The report showed that lower pic boxoffice returns accounted for most of the decline, although taxes

boxoffice returns accounted for most of the decline, although taxes from sports events and nightciubs are included in the city's amusement levy.

Norma Shearer Sues On Thalberg Taxes

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.
Suit for $34,542 was filed here by Norma Shearer against the State of California, claiming that amount was overpaid in taxes on the estate of her late husband, Irving Thalberg.

Through representatives in L.A. superior court, actress declares the sum was paid twice, in inheritance and income taxes.

Burtis Awarded 25G In U-I Plagiarism Suit

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.
Thomas Burtis, screen writer, won a $25,000 piracy verdict against Universal-International after an eight-day trial in L. A. superior court

Scripter charged his original ory, "Manhattan Masquerade." story story, "Manhattan Masquerade," was incorporated by the studio into its Joan Davis starrer, "She Wrote the Book," The jury decided that Burtis wrote it, or at least a substantial part of same.

Bob Weitman's O.O.

Bob Weitman's O.O.

Robert M. Weitman, Paramount theatre veepee, entrains today (Wed.) for Virginia to make his first inspection of the three theatres retained by Par following the liquidation of the company's partnership with Hunter Perry. Weitman returns at the end of the week after looking over the Paramount theatres in Charlotte, Newport News and Lynchburg.
Under the breakup, Perry took 11 houses while the three showcases remained in Paramount

Picture Grosses

BUFFALO

BUFFALO

(Continued from page 15)

Jones Beach" (WB) (2d wk), down to $5,000.

Hipp (Par) (3,400; 40-70)—"Arson, inc." (SG) plus Peggy Lee and Billy Gilbert onstage. Socko $20,000. Last week, subsequent-run. Teck (Loew's) (1,400; 40-70)—"Wizard of Oz" (M-G) (reissue) and "Sons of Adventure" (Rep) (2d wk). Down to trim $4,000. Last week, big $7,000.

Lafayette (Basil) (3,000; 40-70)—"Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U) and "Law Barbary Caast" (Coil, Nice $12,000. Last week, "One False Step" (U) and "Ride, Ryder, Ride" (EL), $7,500.

Century (20th Cent.) (3,000; 40-70)—"Late for Tears" (UA). Dim $10,000 or near. Last week, "Tulsa" (EL) and "Alimony" (EL), $1,500.

'Brave' Sets New Mark In D.C., Wham $16,000; 'Gatsby' Sturdy $21,000

Washington, Aug. 9.
Holdovers are pulling down the general average here this week, but newcomers look strong. Of these, "Home of Brave" at Translux is terrific, breaking all records at this small house. Demonstrations over segregated policy friezled, with pic doing capacity at the Republic, Negro nabe, where it is day-dating. Next best bet is "Great Gatsby" solid at Loew's Palace.
Estimates for This Week

Gatsby solid at Loew's Falace.

Estimates for This Week
Capitol (Loew's) (2,434; 44-85)—
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G)
plus vaude (2d wk). Satisfactory $20,000 after smash $31,000 last

week.
Keith's (RKO) (1,939; 44-80)—
"Lady Gambles" (U) (2d wk). Fair $7.500 after fine $13,000 last week.
Metropolitan (WB) (1,163; 44-74)
—"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) (2,000, 1,000).
Last week,
"Red Menace" (Rep), disappointing

"Red Menace" (Rep), disappointing $7,000.

Palace (Loew's) (2,370; 44-74)—
"Great Gatsby" (Par). Stout $21,000 but-not up to level hoped for Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G) (2d wk), nice $16,000.

Playhouse (Lopert) (432; 50-85)
"One Woman's Story" (U). Solid $6,500. and holds. Last week, "Fam" (20th) (3d wk), $3,500.

Warner (WB) (2,164; 44-74)—
"Silver Lining" (WB) (2d wk). Steady $14,500 after better than expected $19,000. fine last week. "Trans-Lux (T-L). (654; 44-80)—"Home of Brave" (UA). Boff $16,000. fine last week. "Trans-lux (T-L). (654; 44-80)—"Home of Brave" (UA). Boff $16,000. for his small-seater and new house record. Last week. "Forbid-house record. Last week, "Forbid-den Street" (20th) (4th wk-5 days),

'Summertime' Hottest Thing in Seattle, 14G

Thing in Seattle, 14G
Seattle, Aug. 9.
Cooling plants are helping biz this week but not enough to compete with the warm outdoors. Best bet currently is "Good Old Summertime" great at Fifth Avenue. "You're My Everything" shapes okay at Music Hall.
Estimates for This Week
Collseum (H-E) (1.877; 50-84)—
"Reign of Terror" (EL) and "Sleeping Car Trieste" (EL). Fancy $10,000. Last week, "Crooked Way" (UA) and "Temptation" (Mono), 80-80, $7,000.

(UA) and "Temptation intolio", so $7,000.

Fifth Avenue (H-E) (2,349; 50-84).—"Good Old Summertime" (M-G) and "Skyliner" (SG. Great $14,000. Last week "Any Number Play" (M-G) and "Arctic Manhuit" (U) (2d wki, $7,400 in 10 days.
Liberty (Theaties, Inc.) (1.650; 50-84).—"Stration Story" (M-G) (5th wk). Good $7,500 after sweet $8,800 last week.

Music Box (H-E) (850; 50-84).—"Sorrowful Jones" (Par) and "Jig-saw" (UA) (6th wk). Good $3,500. Last week, big $4,000.

Music Box (H=E) (old), 50-647—
"Sorrowful Jones" (Par) and "Jigsaw" (UA) (6th wk), Good $3,500.
Last week, big $4,000.
Music Hall (H-E) (2,200; 50-84)—

0; 50-(20th) and Okay of

'EVERYTHING' MODEST $14,000 LEADS MPLS

Minneapolis, Aug. 9.
Another heat wave, third this summer is taking boxoffice toll this week. Lightweight fare is also being planned by exhibitors. Pair of musicals, "Silver Lining" and "You're My Everything." top the fresh entries. "Not Wanted" loom big. Estimates for This Week.

Century (Par) (1,600: 56-70)—
"Sorrowful Jones" (Par) (4th wk)
Přobably will take its place among year's boxoffice leaders in this town. Still respectable at $5,000 after hefty $7,000 last stanza.

Radio City (Par) 14,000; 50-70...
"You're My Everything" (20th), Well-liked musical but only moderate $14,000 in prospect. Last week. "Stratton Story" (M-G), good $16,000.

good $16,000.

RKO-Orpheum (RKO) (2,800, 50-70) — "Siiver Lining" (WB). Meeting with approval, but Ray Bolger's name doesn'i mean so much here. Fine $12,000. Last week, "Judge Steps Out" (RKO) and vaudeville (55-85), with latter entirely responsible for smaah $24,500.

$24,500.

RKO-Pan (RKO) (1.600; 50-70)

"Not Wanted" (FC). Big $10,000 or near. Last week, "Cover Girl" (Coi) and "Meant for Me" (Coi)

(reissues), $6,500.

State (Par) 12,300; 50-70)—"Colorado Territory" (WB), Good $12,000; looks about all Last week, "Outpost in Morocco" (UA), fine $12,000.

TORONTO

(Continued from page 15) Very big $12,000 after last week's $14,000.

Shea's (FP) (2,386; 40-70)—
"Great Gatsby" (Par) (2d wk).
Light $5,000 after nice $8,000 opener.

Towne (Taylor) (690: 40-70)— "Mr. Poily" (EL) (2d wk). Near capacity $4,000 after last week's

University (FP) (1,556; 40-60)—
"Fountainhead" (WB) (2d wk), Light $5,000 after last week's £6.

Uptown (Loew) (2,743; 40-70)—
"Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U). Dim
$6,000. Last week. "Take False Step" (U), about same.

Hughes-RKO Continued from page 3

meet any bid on the circuit, does not intend to match the Meyer of-fer, it has been learned. After forwarding a letter to Hughes defer, it has been learned. After forwarding a letter to Hughes demanding an explanation of certain claimed details in the Meyer bid. Odlum has indicated that he will sue if the bid is accepted. He has attacked the offer on the ground that it is not bona fide.

Odlum and his aides take the view that if the bid is proper, the price would prohibit Atlas from meeting it. If it is considered merely a device for bringing up the price, the Odlum forces will attack by suit. However, there are industry insiders who are convinced that all parties will yet reach some agreement because "people of their stature do not go to court too readily.

On that score, it is said that Odlum never was interested in acquiring the RKO chain out obtained the option with the idea of selling it for a profit. If he can still grab a good sum, a suit would be unlikely. Odlum has asked $500,000 for the option and has been offered $100,000 for it.

- Kingsberg

As for Kingsberg, his efforts are said to be unremitting. Odlum favors the RKO exec and reportedly would surrender his option.

to him for some reasonable price.
Meyer still remains on the Coast awaiting word from Hughes. Laiter does not have to accept the offer even if it is the highest made.
It is believed that Hughes is weighing the possibility of a successful

It is believed that Hughes is weighing the possibility of a sucressful attack by Odium before giving his final word.

Odlum claims that the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh is backing Meyer, et al., with a $4.-000.000 loan. This bank, he says, financed Hughes when the latter 000.000 loan. This bank, ne saystifinanced Hughes when the latter bought RKO control. Moreover, he charges that the Meyer trio would receive a $250.000 commission if their offer is not accepted.

WE'LL TELL YOU IN TWO SHAKES OF A LAMB'S TAIL!

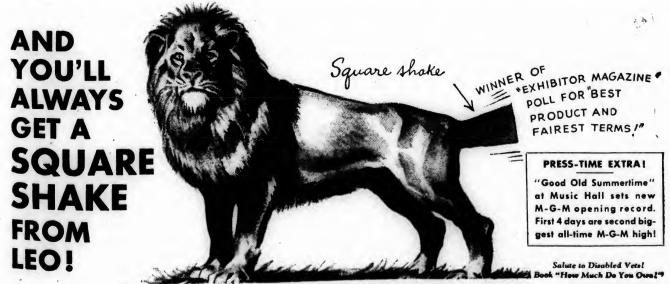

M-G-M has won the Blue Ribbon Award of Boxoffice magazine four months in a row! Another M-G-M First, it's the all-time record in 17 years of Blue Ribbon Awards! The winners! April: "Take Me Out To The Ball Game."

May: "Little Women." June: "The Barkleys of Broadway."

July: "The Stratton Story." We predict the August winner will be M-G-M's new hit "In The Good Old Summertime"—

Big at Radio City Music Hall and across the nation!

Also Big: "Neptune's Daughter," "Any Number Can Play." Watch for "Madame Bovary"

Clips from Film Row

Robert L. Montgomery tapped by Paramount for special exploitation on "Samson and Delliah." Montgomery was with J. Arthur Rank office.

Managerial personnel changes in Loew's New York theatres, announced by g.m. Eugene Picker: Daniel Cohen, assistant manager Loew's Metropolitan, Brooklyn, appointed acting manager of Loew's Metropolitan, Brooklyn, appointed acting manager of Loew's Palace, Brooklyn, succeeding Lawrence Stark, who moves to Boro Park theatre. Martin Gallagher, acting manager of Willard, Woodhaven, L. I., moves to the Melba, replacing Edward Burke, who takes over at Gates, Brooklyn. Jim Bruno. many years manager of Loew's Gates, shifts to Loew's Paradise, Loew's key Bronx house, succeding Gilbert Marbe, no longer with company. Morris Tanney moves from Boro Park to Loew's 46th St., replacing Paul Swater, who will fill the Willard vacancy.

Loh. "Turner head sim when the serious illness." North Central Allied continues to distance and trieval the arthur the serious trouble and are folding up," bulletin says.

Barney Benfield, vet Morris, Minn., exhibitor, recovering from serious illness.

North Central Allied continues to distance paramount in its bulle-serious distance and trieval the serious distance and trieval the seriou who takes over at Gates, Diousing.

Jim Bruno, many years manager of Loew's Gates, shifts to Loew's Paradise, Loew's key Bronx houses succeding Gilbert Marbe, no longer with company. Morris Tanney moves from Boro Park to Loew's 46th St., replacing Paul Swater, who will fill the Willard vacancy.

The Tunner head film buyer

John Turner, head film buyer for Warner theatres in the Philadelphia circuit, resigned to take over as United Artists branch manager in Philly. Turner, with Warners for 19 years, will move to UA as soon as he winds up pending WB hir.

MINNEAPOLIS

"Home of Brave" set for territory premiere at State here Aug. 25.

One U. S. Senator and five Congressmen of Minnesota delegation in Congress have advised North Central Allied in reply to its request for support for repeal or modification of wartime excise admission tax that they'll work for such a change.

Recurrence of torrid weather denting boxoffice in territory.
Bill Elson and Gilbert Nathanson, circuit owners, have bought site for $100,000 drive-in at Detroit, Minn., where they own two corrections are constant of the property of the correction of the correction will operate on own as circuit serious illness.

North Central Allied continues to attack Paramount in its bulletin, charging unfair treatment of exhibitors and claiming it's selling to smaller number of theatres in Minneapolis territory than any other major company. It disputes claim of Ben Blotcky, Par branch manager, that company has 436 theatres booked with features in this territory for week of Sept. 4.

James Nederlander, manager of Lyce um, legitimate roadshow house, making inquiries regarding 28-day films availability with idea of playing pictures in between legit shows.

M. A. Levy, 20th-Fox branch

probably illegal" and those distributors who claim calling for bids is mandatory are taken to task. Attention is called to the recent opinion of the federal court in its decision in the case of the remaining anti-trust defendants which opinion, it is asserted, upholds North Central Allied views regarding competitive bidding.

Harold Field and Harold Kaplan.

Harold Field and Harold Kaplan, owners of the suburban St. Louis Park theatre, plan second deluxe house in the same area to be called

INDIANAPOLIS

Terry Turnet and Hugh McKen-zie set up "Koseanna McCoy" preem at Circle for Aug. 18 as benefit for Marion County Cancer Fund.

Hoagy Carmichael here to shoot scenes for Alcorn production, "Johnny Holiday," being filmed at Indiana Boys' School. Bill Bendix, here for last three weeks on pic. making plenty of friends.

Theatres in Muncie, Winchester, Albany, Portland, Redkey and Dunkirk now closed by polio epidemic in northeast Indiana. Exhibitors in towns on fringe of area, particularly Anderson, report more than usual amount of business because of situation.

John Roach, who recently resigned as booker and buyer for Settos chain and manager of its Ohio here, back on old job.

Variety Club's annual golf tour-namount slated for Aug. 29 at Broadmoor Country Club.

Drive-in at Tell City, built by Wille Spears, opened July 25.

"Home of Brave" set for territory premiere at State here Aug. 25.

One U. S. Senator and five Congressmen of Minnesota delegation in Congress have advised North Central Allied in reply to its request for support for repeal or modification of wartime excise admission tax that they'll work for such a change.

Recurrence of torrid weather denting boxoffice in territory.

Bill Elson and Gibert Nathanson, circuit owners, have bought site for $100,000 drive in at teriot, where they own two conventional theatres.

E. J. Baehr sold his stock in Home, Theatres circuit to others of group for reported $150,000 and set to the company has ever released."

Lyc eu m., legitimate roadshow house, making inquiries regarding 28-day films availability with idea of playing pictures in between legit shows.

M. A. Levy. 20th-Fox branch manager testimonial for the company's annual sales drive. This way war on his daughter.

Mrs. Elaine Lund.

North Central Allied continues to wage war on Paramount. In its current bulletin it again trains its current bulletin it again trains its policy is "unfair treatment" of independent exhibitors.

E. J. Baehr sold his stock in Home, Theatres circuit to others of group for reported $150,000 and state of the company has ever released."

Carl Kemp, formerly Eagle Llon branch manager, joined Realart as salesman in this territory. Meanson while, Joseph W. Goldberg takes over for firm as salesman in Kentucky and W. Va. territory.

DALLAS

DALLAS

In addition to all the other draws used by the Underwood and Ezell drive-ins, the latest innovation is cageful of monkeys.

The Sunset drive-in at Amarillo sold by Johnnie Blocker to W. O. Bearden, who operates the Trial drive-in here and the Arcadia and Chief at Lubbock.

Texas theatre at Brady formerly owned by Muck Morgan purchased by J. C. Durham, who has taken over active management of house.

The Grand at Happy, Texas, operated by Tulia Theatre Co., leased to Hiram Parks, who operates a group of houses in Amarillo, Lubbock and Brownfield. Wake Luke named manager of Grand.

Charles McGlothlin, treasurer of the Telenews, named acting manager of Interstate's Colonial, with William Gehring, formerly of the Majestic, taking at the Telenews.

"Home of Brave" drew audience of 2,000 at special midnight show for Negroes only at the Majestic in San Antonio. That is about 25% higher than the average attendance for a midnight show.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sparks are observing their 34th anni as exhibitors at Cooper. Sparks opened the Grand here with Mrs. Sparks selling tickets, job, she still does. Shi snow selling tickets to grandchildren of her first patrons of early days. Pair operate the Sparks theatre here now.

CHICAGO

Mort Green, rellef manager of Schoenstadt circuit, leaves to take over as manager of the Webster. "Lost Boundarles" set for open-ing at RKO Grand, Aug. 31.

Robert Keiffer elected president of Film Council of America with Edward Stevens as secretary.

Edward Stevens as secretary.

Depositions on anti-trust million dollar action of the Towne, Milwaukee, against majors distribs start this week with Tom McConnell, plaintiff attorney, examing district managers.

Variety Club, Tent 26, holds annual golf fournament Aug. 26.
Chi censor board had a light month in July with 79 pies reviewed. Only one was banned, "Children of Loneliness" (Indie). Tagged adults only are, "Wild Weed," "Tania," "Wild Belle," "Dedee," adults only are, "Wild Weed," "Tania," "Wild Belle," "Dedee,"

"Miracle of Life," and "My Life," Although Paramount is still feeding its releases through Balaban & Katz, wholly-owned the alto substitute of the still be still be

ST. LOUIS

Skyway drive-in theatre, near Mattoon, Ill., lighted. Owned by Outdoor Amus. Corp., headed by Rou O'Keefe, H. R. Rissman and M. A. Osborne. It cost $120,000.

m. A. OSBOTHE. It cost $120,000.
Turner-Farrar Theatres, Inc., Harrisburg, Ill., cut ribbon on new $100,000 Wabash, Grayville. Ill.
Several houses in southeast Missourt, owned by Lead Bell Amus, Co., temporarily shuttered be-

Rialto, Cape Girardeau, Mo, owned by Edward J. Rosecan, Han-nibal, Mo., reopened after face-lifting.

Lee Bunch, former owner of ee, New London, Mo., purchased the Home in Oblong, Ill., from T.

J. Price.
State Senator Edward V. Long, Bowling Green, Mo., obtained possession of Trojan, Troy, Mo., from Charles B. Rudolph, who will develop summer resorts in Canada.
Long is new to exhibition.

PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH

Shea circuit affiliate formed a new corporation to take over the Penn. House now is known as Shea's-Penn theatre.

Stan Dudleson resigned from RKO sales force to join Republic in Detroit, his home town.

George Josack, until recently a WB manager, joined Columbia as north area sales rep; succeeds Herb Berman who recently transferred to company's Buffalo ferred to company's Buffalo branch.

Jim Levine, Par exploitation man, resigned after more than 22 years with that organization; was stationed here for long time but recently was sent to the Cleveland area.

Joe Vandegrift and 20th-Fox parted company after nearly quarter of century; he was a booker.
Bill Zeilor, city manager for Harris circuit, elected commander of Varlety (Club) American Legion Post.

Ben Stahl, until recently associated with Theatrical Enterprises, established his own business as distributor of theatre games and

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY

Griffith Circuit opened its new drive-ln in Manhattan. Kans. July 20. It's fourth situation in town for this chain.

L. O. Gill resigned as manager of the Beloit, Beloit, Kans. Ted Huntsman moved from Lawrence, Kans., to fill spot.

Monty Wright, house manager for Griffith Circuits' Varsity at Lawrence, Kans. in hospital as result of a car-truck crash near Wamego.

Albert Dezel, head of Albert Dezel Productions, Inc., solid his interest in company's exchanges here and In St. Louis. Walter Lambader, who formerly managed local nere and in St. Louis. Walter Lambader, who formerly managed local Dezel outlet, acquired setup and renamed it United Film Exchange, John Walsh, former manager, and Nick O'Brien, booker, took over in St. Loo.

DES MOINES

Tri-States Theatre Corp. pointed Bruce Shelton manager clrcult's new drive-in at Duhuque, Ia. Company also appointed summer Redmond, seven years city manager for Tri-States in Falls City. Neb., as advertising manager of circuit. Russ Fraser will handle public relations and newspaper ads.

A. H. Blank, head of Tri-States
Theatre Corp. and Central States Theatre Corp. here, bonored at testimonial dinner July 31 athe Standard Club. Event was in honor of his 70th birthday.

BALTIMORE

Exhibitors here are not going to walt for national meetings and nation-wide promotions to stepaul theatre attendance. Almost 100% representation of local nabe and downtown operators have joined together in an ambitious strictly local campaign set to break September taking in an over-all media coverage including newspapers, posters, car cards, trailers, ballyhoo, radio and video. An adagency has been engaged and typical ad copy and promotion plan already approved.

Johnston-ECA

Continued from page 3;

SIMPP and the MPAA. SIMPP is against any negotiations by individuals. It wants all dealings individuals. It wants all dealings with foreign governments carried on by the State Dept.

While there was no indication from either Johnston or the ECA as to exactly what the MPAA prexy's assignment would be, SIMPP members became immediately apprehensive over the very SIMPP members became immediately apprehensive over the very fact of his presence abroad. They were quick to state that in whatever action he takes overseas, he cannot claim in any way to represent the U. S. industry, since SIMPP will go along on no agreements unless it is consulted every crean of the way.

ments unless it is consuited every step of the way.

In recent sessions with SIMPP prez Ellis Arnall in Washington, Johnston has agreed on the need to enlist the State Dept. in fighting the industry's battles abroad and, as a matter of fact, joined with SIMPP in a protest to the Depart-ment on the British quota, indies ment on the British quota. Indies nevertheless remain highly apprehensive that Johnston will not limit himself to the State Dept. formula and will take any opportunity he can to discuss the situation with foreign biggies. SIMpp feels that by thus taking the problems out of the realm of government-to-government megoliations the Yank industry's case is weakened.

Johnston To Europe In Fall

Johnston To Europe In Fall
Washington, Aug. 9.
Eric Johnston and other members of an ECA advisory board are going to Europe this fall to check public reaction to the way the relief and assistance agency has been operating. ECA Administrator Paul C. Hoffman urged the trip and Johnston said he would be willing to make it any time after Sept. 11, so that the party will probably leave about the middle of next month. of next month

The tentative plans include an initial stopoff at Paris headquarters of the agency with London and Rome also likely to be included.

NEFC Continued from page 7

because it would lessen the chances of anti-trust probing by the Gov-ernment. Move is opposed by many company's sponsors on the

"lacks boxoffice.

"lacks boxoffice."
Flock of top Indie producers have already approached either Si Fabian, NEFC prez, or Samuel Pinanski, board chairman, for backing from the exhib outfit. One top-bracket producer offered to drop his own filmmaking projects and take over Coast supervision of operations. No deals can be made until the company is officially birthed.

birthed.

Another month of preliminary work is likely before the charter is filed. Report will be prepared and filed with the Security & Exchanges Commission as a precaution although the action is not required by law. SEC has 20 days to pass on the charter which should slow filing of papers by that stretch.

M-G's 1st Time Continued from page 7

ability to step up the releasing schedule

schedule. Fourteen films will be released from Aug. 1 to Dec. 31 including two of Metro's top entries for the year, "Battleground" and "Intruder in the Dust." Of the 40 films definitely slated for production during the coming year, 20 are dramatic productions, nine musicals and 11 comedies. Some 30% of these will be in Technicolor. comedies. Some 3 be in Technicolor.

ne in Technicolor. In addition to the 40 scheduled to start Sept. 1, four will tee off during the present month. They are "The Big Hangover." "The Yellow Cab Man." "Devil's Doorway" and "Outriders." "Quo Vadis," epic-proportioned pic planned for Italy, will definitely start during next spring.

JOHNSTON'S EXTENSIVE TRIPS IN NEXT 2 MOS.

Washington, Aug. 9.

Eric Johnston has switched his earlier plans to be in Los Angeles today (9), following a meeting of the directors of Bank of America in San Francisco

Johnston's office said, after the Johnston's office said, after the Frisco session, he would return to Spokane. He will be back in Washington either Aug. 20 or 21, remaining here until he leaves for Chicago for the all-industry public relations meeting Aug. 30-31.

The Motion Picture Assn. of America prexy plans to leave for Hollywood Sept. 8, remaining there until the end of the Theatre Owners of America convention.

Owners of America convention, which he will address Sept. 14. He will return to Washington, leaving here a few days afterward on an ECA mission to Europe.

Film 'Festivals'

Continued from page 4 :

linda" and "Treasure of Sierra Madre." Former, however, won actor Walter Huston a prize for a fine portrayal and sold out at pri-vate showings.

Venice meet opening a With the Venice meet opening a 20-day session tomorrow (Thursday), some seven U. S. films will be shown there. They include 'Snake Pit' (20th, "Three Cabaleros" (Disney), "Belinda" (WB), "Look for Silver Lining" (WB), "Portrait of Jennie" (Selznick), "The Quiet One" (Mayer-Burstyn) and a Metro documentary "The (Mayer-Burstyn) and a Metro documentary, "The Secret Land." Britain is submitting five pictures while some 15 other countries are also participating.

Italy's Prizes

Vittorio De Sica's "Bicycle Thieves" copped a majority of the traditional "Silver Ribbons." Italy's highest film awards, distributed here last week at the Casino delle Rose, Prizes are awarded yearly by a jury of critics designated by the Italian Union of Motion Picture Writers for best activements in Italian pictures. De Sica was adjudged 'best' director. Other encomiums were handed

Other encomiums were nanoeu Anna Magnani for her performance in "Amore;" Massimo Girotti, for his stint in "Il Nome Delle Legge" (Name of the Law), and Giuletta Masina, best supporting perform-ance in "Sensa Pieta" (Without ance in "Sensa Picta" (Without Pity). All these films have been sold to American distribs. Prize for the best foreign film went to "Le Diable Au Corps" (Devil in the

British Set Cannes Pix

London, Aug. 9. Five British features have been rive British reatures have been selected by the British Film Producers Assn. for the Cannes Film Festival which opens Sept. 2. Only four, however, are eligible for the competition and the fifth is submitted under the auspices of the festival.

The four competing films are "The Passionate Friends," starring Trevor Howard, Ann Todd and Claude Rains; "Obsession," di-Claude Rains: "Obsession." di-rected by Edward Dmytryk; "The Third Man." starring Joseph Cot-ten, Valli and Orson Welles; and "The Queen of Spades." directed by Thorold Dickinson and starring Anton Walbrook and Edith Evans.

The non-competing film is Eal-g's "Passport to Pimlico." pro-The non-competing film is Ealing's "Passport to Pimilico", produced by Sir Michael Balcon. In addition, there will be four shorts, including a David Hand eartoon and one of "This Modern Age" series. Anthony Downing has been loaned by the Rank Organization to represent the BFPA at the Cannes Festival.

Edinburgh's Festival
Edinburgh, Aug. 9.
Third Edinburgh Film Festival gets under way here Aug. 21 with some 25 countries due to participate in the event. Among the 20 full-length features entered are Hungary's "Somewhere in Europe,"
The Mirzele," an Anna full-length features entered are Hungary's "Somewhere in Europe," Italy's "The Miracle," an Anna Magnani starrer directed by Ro-berto Rossellini, and "Jour de Fete," which France is submitting. More than a 100 shorts will also be judged during the meet which closes Sept. 11.

Bette Checks Out

Bette Davis checks out of Warners after 18 years on the lot and the completion of "Beyond and the completion of "Beyond the Forest," her 73d picture there. Her contract, which had three years to run, was torn up by mutual agreement.

Decree Appeal

Continued from page 5 one way or the other on the appeal

question.

Two at least of the major theatre-owning defendants are expected to open preliminary negotiations for a settlement with the Government while the appeal problem remains unanswered. Those two are 20th-Fox, already well in preparation for dickering with the D of J, and Metro. Understood the latter company intends sounding operations in the near future. Possible action of Warner Bros. is still unknown.

Warner Bros. is still unknown.
Division of opinion among ali companies is spotlighted by the situation at 20th. Understood, that one of the reasons for the hurried trip of Otto E. Koegel, 20th's general counsel, to England
last week was to convince Spyros Skouras, company prez, that an appeal should be pushed. Koegel's early confab with Skouras was pressured by imminent negotiations on settlement with the Government. ernment.

Metro 'Exploring

As for Metro, confabs among Nicholas M. Schenck, company president; Charles C. Moskowitz, v.p. and treasurer: J. Robert Rubin, veepee and general counsel, and Leopoid Friedman, secretary and Leopoid Friedman, secretary will be held on the subject of future action. Meanwhile, Metro's top brass sees no harm in exploratory talks with the Government to discover what can be gained by settlement.

Understood that ultimate Cision by Metro would depend on how much the Loew's circuit could salvage by independent operations. Savage by independent operations. That's important, of course, because of the repercussions on the stock of the company. It the chain would be forced by the D of J to divest itself of a large number of houses, settlement efforts would be dropped.

be dropped.

Metroites are convinced, so far as divestiture is concerned, that the Loew's web is immune from attack outside of New York. In the metropolitan area, circuit would be willing to surrender certain subsequent-run houses but would insist on retaining the important first-run nabe theatres such as the Paradise (Bronx) and Valencia (Jamaica). The claim is that these houses do not throttle competition but are entitled to prior run because of their de-luxe nature.

There is only one possibility of

There is only one possibility of appeal by the Little Three—Universal, United Artists and Columbia—attorneys for these companies bia—attorneys for these companies indicated. An appeal may be taken if the trio are banned from acquiring theatres in the final decree. This ban is feared because both the Paramount and RKO consent decrees bar those two companies from selling houses to all defendants including the Little Three. Latter made an unsuccessful effort to knock out this clause during hearings on these decrees.

Three companies want to pre-

Three companies want to erve their future freedom to ter exhibition via showcases right is deemed important enough to warrant an appeal. Otherwise, to warrant an appeal. Otherwise, Little Three lawyers have no big squawk against the court decision.

Par Circuit -Continued from page 3:

bans building new houses if they "unreasonably restrain competi-tion." Question has aiready Question has aiready cropped up because Par has under construction a new theatre in Salt Lake City, it is believed that the D of J is challenging the new circuit's right to the house.

Since the other majors will un-Since the other majors will un-doubtedly be ruled by the same restriction when their divorcement goes through, the D of J is pro-ceeding cautiously. Any ruling in reference to Paramount would be precedental, one way or the other, so far as Warner Bros., 20th-Fox or Metro are concerned. RKO, an-other consent decree signatory, would be affected forthwith.

Problem is considered tough by legalites because the decree does not define unreasonable restraint of competition. Par would like to see a ruling which would permit building of houses in situations where there is a fair proportion of outside competition. It has a number of theatres planned, depending on how the D of J rules. Problem is considered tough by

6,000 Miles Apart, Skourases in L.A. And London Weigh Appealing Decree

Officials of 20th-Fox are studying the Paramount consent decree here with the idea of proposing a similar consent document to the Dept. of Justice as a way of ending the Government's anti-trust action against the company. Fred Pride, of the law frm of Dwight Harde. the Government's anti-trust action against the company. Fred Pride, of the law firm of Dwight, Harris, Koegel & Caskey, 20th's attorneys, is on the Coast in close huddles with Charles P. Skouras. National Theatres head, and other top of ficials in 20th's theatre empire.

Twentieth is expected to open negotiations with the D of J as soon as Surges Skouras company.

soon as Spyros Skouras, company prez, and Otto Koegel, general prez. and Otto Roeget, general counsel, return from England. Any settlement, of course, would necessarily involve separation of the NT chain from the parent com-pany since the Federal court has ordered complete divorcement. Whether a deal goes through ordered complete divorcement. Whether a deal goes through will reportedly depend on how many theatres the new NT chain would be forced to divest. If an advantageous deal cannot be won from the Government. Charles Skouras is said to be insisting on battling the divestiture question before the court.

Twentieth's attorneys have little hope of upsetting the decision on Twentieth's attorneys have little hope of upsetting the decision on an appeal to the U. S. Suprene Court. For that reason, the negotiations will undoubtedly be pushed with considerable vigor. NT topper, herétofore, opposed previous settlement dickerings unless they insured that his circuit would emerge fairly intact.

20th's Appeal Depends on Skouras

Despite conflicting reports that 20th-Fox might or might not appeal the Government's order to divest its theatres, the company

peal the Government's order to divest its theatres, the company will make no decision one way or another until prez Spyros P. Skouras returns from his current European visit. He is expected back at the homeoffice Monday (15).

Skouras has been in Europe more than eight weeks and the decree was handed down two weeks ago. As a result, he has had no chance to study its legal ramifications with 20th attorneys or with exces of National Theatres, the company's wholly-owned subsidiary circuit. Otto E. Koegel, 20th general counsel, who joined him in London last week to huddle with J. Arthur Rank on a possible 50% buy-in of Rank's Odeon chreuit in Canada, is understood to have taken a copy of the Government's decree with him for Skouras' perusal.

Exces of both 20th and the Execs of both 20th and the Rank organization in the U. S. re-fuse to discuss the circuit buy-in. fuse to discuss the circuit buy-in. Koegel's report on domestic divorcement will play a leading part in the discussions, since if 20th is forced to give up its theatre holdings in the U. S. a half-interest in the Canadian circuit would insure the company of at least some profits from exhibition. Any money 20th might earn in Canada is resultable. mittable

Skouras, who has covered most of Europe and the Near East on his Thursday (4) from Stockholm, the same day that Koegel landed in England. Latter is expected to accompany the 20th prez back to the U. S.

Not 'Finalized'

London, Aug. 9.

Twentieth-Fox prez Spyros P. Skouras, here for huddles with J. Arthur Rank on a possible buy-in of Rank's Odeon circuit in Canada, declared the deal will not be finalized before his return to New York. He said negotiations have revolved around 20th's acquiring a minority interest only and are still inconclusive.

inconclusive.

Deal for 20th to buy a West End showcase theatre from Rank is also mastilled but any arrangement would leave control of the house with Rank. Skouras said. Three theatres mentioned as probables are the Odeon Leicester Square, Leicester Square theatre and the Gaumont Haymarket.

Reissue Firm Continued from page 5

ant for the Laffmovie's failure to four features on designated

Under an October, 1948 deal the Under an October, 1948 deal the Rialto asserts it had exclusive rights from Principal to exhibit double feature reissues. This pact allegedly violated, the complaint states, when the defendant turned over "I Cover the Waterfront" and "Saboteur" to the Loew circuit despite the Rialto's efforts to play the films prior to April 1, 1949.

despite the Rialto's efforts to play the films prior to April 1, 1999. Plaintiff also wants $7,500 damages. Answering the Rialto action, Principal made a general denial and asks dismissal of the suit. For the theatre's failure to play "Waterfront" and "Saboteur" in accordance with an aliegedly modi-fied, agreement Principal, wants agreement, Principal wants 00 damages. Baim of $10,874 $10,000 $10,000 damages. Baim of $10,874 is additionally sought for the house's failure to screen four other films on designated dates.

Both suits came to light this week when motions were made to examine Principal's president before this.

fore trial.

20th's Willingness

Continued from page 3 Yank distribs then charged that

Yank distribs then charged that Rank's lesser product was riding the coattails of strong American features in double-bills. These British pix, it was then charged, were collecting the bigger rental slice although the American pix packaged with them were the chief patronage-pullers.

Twentieth, which owns a slice of British-Gaumont, has always been on close terms with Rank. Reportedly. Spyros Skouras, 20th's prez, talked abandonment of the rule during his huddles with Rank last week.

New York Theatres

Rope of Sand EX BENEK PARAMOUNT

RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL Reckefeller Center
GARLAND • Ven JOHNSON "IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME"

THE LOUIS DE ROCHEMONT "Lost Boundaries" BEATRICE PEARSON
MEL FERRER
FILM CLASSICS RELEASE inned ASTOR B'way &

IDA LUPINO PRESENTS "NOT WANTED" GLOBE, B'way & 46th St.

DAN DAILEY - ANNE BAXTER YOU'RE MY EVERYTHING'

A 20th Century - Fox

Technicolor On Variety Stage-Bob CROSBY - Sid STONE

-ROXY 7th Ave. 4 -

(Fifth in a series dealing with the Schwerin System's findings on each of 17 leading types of pro-grams and commercials in what is prams and commercials in what is probably the most comprehensive effort yet made in qualitative radio research.)

When the Schwerin System first When the Schwerin System first began testing sponsored programs, many people in the broadcasting trade were sure there were some types of shows that qualitative re-search wasn't equipped to study. News programs were high on the list.

list.

Now, three years later, these doubters are proved wrong by the number of top news programs that have been tested to the complete satisfaction of those concerned with putting them together. Some leading ones have sought repeated checkups after viewing initial results—one major news show has had about 25 editions tested to date.

Research naturally doesn't in-vade the newscaster's province of choosing what storics to broadcast. Where it does help is in determin-ing the best format, methods of presentation, degree of emphasis in terms of time, and the like.

terms of time, and the like.

In other words, research recognizes it has no right to suggest how much "good" or "bad" news should be presented; if it did make such suggestlons, it would and should be thrown out on its ear. But the Schwerin System has demonstarted again and again that depressing items can gain either high or low interest, depending on program format and presentation method. In orienting test audiences, Schwerin's Test Director Bill Back and his assistants carefully under-

In orienting test audiences, Schwerin's Test Director Bill Back and his assistants carefully underline that it is interest in the item rather than liking for what took place that's being probed for. The consistency of results from test to test reveals that listeners make this distinction accurately.

Further proof is found in the fact that items bringing bad tidings are often among the highest-scoring ones tested. An example was the effective handling of the Effingham hospital fire story earlier this year by "News of the World." It contained harrowing accounts of eye-witnesses recorded on tape and reached the very high score of 90 (100 would be a perfect score, meaning everyone in the audience was interested by the items though naturally no one "liked" to hear of this disaster.

Think Twice About Tape

of this disaster.

Think Twice About Tape
Though there have been standout exceptions like the one just noted, Schwerin concludes from a mass of evidence that one major fault of news programs today is their procecupation with recorded interviews, accounts, speech fragments and miscellaneous sounds.
Poor recordings early in a newscast have many times greatly lessened interest in the rest of the show. In most cases, far more
(Continued on page 42)

ABC Adds an Addenda To 'Come on In' Policy In Bid for Small Clients

A further development of ABC's "make way for smaller advertisers" formula is a new policy of permitting local outlets to sell spot announcements in its cooperative programs, starting Monday (15). Murray Grabhorn, vecpee in charge of owned-and-operated stations and co-op shows, feels the strategy will get its affiliates more national spot revenue.

According to the new policy, the Martin Agronsky newscast will be opened to 18 spots per week, while several other cross-the-board shows will have room for 15-per week Included are two Sunday shows, Edward Arnold's "Mr. President" and "Piano Playhouse," each of which will be able to take two announcements per broadcast.

Grabhorn's strategy is to appeal to the sponsors who are unwilling or unable to commit themselves to costly programs and heavy national network schedules, but who find it A further development of ABC's or unable to commit themselves to costly programs and heavy national network schedules, but who find it desirable to use more selective radio advertising. The new setup it's felt, will permit these backers to pinpoint their expenditures in the markets they want.

Radio's Wiley Memorial

Chicago, Aug. 9.
Chi Radio Management Club last week (3) presented a plaque marking the formal dedication of the Margaret Wiley dormitory of the Off-the-Street Club here.
Funds for the building were donated by the radio industry at large in memory of the late J. Walter Thompson agency time buyer.

Spalding Scrams WNEW Tennis As No 'Love Match'

A. G. Spalding has torn up its contract with WNEW, N.Y. to sponsor the national professional tennis matches over the indie Aug. 26, 27 and 28. Reason for the move is reportedly that the station refused to delete a surcharge clause from its contract, which protects the outlet against losses from spots which have to be nixed. Situation points up anew the complaint of several stations which take-sports that they're losing revenue from cancelling commercials to make way for the play-by-plays.

that they're losing revenue from cancelling commercials to make way for the play-by-plays.

WNEW, which takes very few athictic shows, has aired the court games from Forest Hills for the last three years, always including a clause requiring the sponsor to pay for spots it couldn't move into other periods. Sponsor signed the pact earlier this year, according to trade sources, but last week asked the station to strike out the surcharge clause. The station refused to do this, saying that the contract had already been signed and its losses might run up into a sizable figure. The sporting goods firm each year builds a tennis network for the Davis Cup and professional for the Davis Cup and professional championship games, and uses WQXR and WNEW in N. Y. This year only WQXR will be used in Gotham. Six other cities are also

DAYTIME 'CINDERELLA'

"Cinderella Show," originally skedded for broadcast on WMCA, N. Y., from midnight to 2 a.m., has been shifted to the noon to 2 p.m. slot. Starting date has been postponed from Aug. 15 to Oct. 3, carliest date on which the indie can clear time. clear time.

Program gives prizes to women hose feet fit a glass slipper in ach sponsor's store.

KLZ News Editor CARL AKERS

News writer and announcer, Carl Akers is one of the reasons why KLZ's popular "Voice of the News" broadcasts are a must for Rocky Mountain listeners.

KLZ. Denver.

McFarland Bill Revamping FCC Passes Senate

The Senate today (Tues.) passed the McFarland bill to speed up Federal Communications Commlsslon work raise salaries of members and top staffers and give the Commission "cease and desist" authority. The measure now goes to the House. It is the first plece of legislation affecting the FCC which has gotten through either house in 10 years.

The bill raises salaries of com-missioners from $10,000 to $15,-000 and provides for a reorganization of the federal agency along the lines of a panel system. This permits minor actions to be handled by staff members, freeing the commissioners for more Important policy decisions.

Each commissioner would be permitted to hire a legal assistant at $10,000 per year, which would help speed up FCC procedures. The bill also prevents the commission from instituting anti-trust procedures on its our

Boycott Seen Likely on Chi Dailies' New Policy on Paid Radio Listings

Chicago, Aug. 9.
Radio and tele stations here are taking a "wait and see" attitude towards the decision of Chi newspapers to bill them for sponsored listings on the radio pages. According to some of the station spokesmen, the lag might well turn into a boycott.

The Trib is starting the parade towards greater ad revenue Sept. 6, when they are "accepting" sponsored listings on a three-line minimum and 14-line maximum basis, with the longest paid listings getting the top spot in each time period. The Daily News starts its drive Sept. 12 on the same technique, and the Sun-Times figures its starting date about the same time.

Bute cards have already been is.

inique, and the Sun-Times figures it starting date about the same time.

Rate cards have already been issued by the Trib ad dept. to stations, agencies and radio-tele adtions, besides what they term "a greedy attitude" on the part of the papers, is that their isitings have to be submitted so far is in advance of date of publication. Thursday listings have to be submitted the preceding Friday, a deing of six days, while there's a inhe-day deadline on Sunday listings.

One station spokesman pointed out that if the stations can hang together on the "not one cent for tribute" policy. Host one ten papers to backtrack on their administration in the papers is the appress to backtrack on their administration of a station insider to "watch the Herald-American." That paper is the only Chi newsheet that doesn't carry a regular adio-TV column in line with a Hearst policy here to "tolerate radio-TV column in line with a Hearst policy here to "tolerate radio-TV column in line with a mine-day deadline on Sunday listings.

One station spokesman pointed out that if the stations can hang together on the "not one cent for tribute" policy. Host one radio to the red out that if the station scan hang together on the "not one cent for tribute" policy. Host one radio to the redio-ward to the papers to backtrack on their administration to the papers to do the papers to shard tradio-ward tradio-

erate on a maximum of 48 hours between placing and publication, get greater courtesy than the ra-dio listings. "What happens to last minute kills and inserts?" he last minute kills and inserts?" he asked.

Smaller Chi statlons, such as the FM's and indie AM's, figure they're going to be the victims of the "squeeze play." The main bulk of their accounts are medium and small advertisers who will kick at any stretching of the ad budget to include paid listings, and the stations themselves figure they're operating on such small margins now that any added financial strain will kick them over to the red column.

Several vet radio observers have pointed out that if the stations can

The New Fashion in Prices

NBC has drawn up a price list for its flock of newly-developed sustainers and it reveals the "new thinking" on what the traffic will bear today for network programming. With such singular exceptions as Dean Martin-Jerry Lewis ($10,000), Eddie Cantor ($9,000) and James and Pamela Mason ($8,000), most of the shows on the NBC availability list come within the $2,000 to $4,000 bracket. Here's the list:

	Price
Archie Andrews (currently sponsored by Kraft)	$2,500
Chicken Every Sunday (Billie Burke & Harry Von Zell)	4,500
Richard Diamond (Dick Powell)	 5,000
Dragnet	4.000
Dr. Paul (daytime 5 per week)	 2.400
Four Star Playhouse	8,000
*Halls of Ivy (written by Don Quinn)	5.800
Hollywood Calling (one-half-hour)	7.500
Martin and Lewis Show	 10,000
James and Pamela Mason Show	8.500
Ethel Merman Show	7.500
Frank Merriweli	1,900
My Good Wife (Arlene Francis & John Conte)	5.000
*Post Office Box 33 (Eddie Cantor)	9.000
Silent Partner (Faye Emerson)	5.000
One Man's Family	4.000
Radio City Playhouse	3.500
Thanks for Tomorrow (daytime 5 per week)	2.500
Tree Grows in Brooklyn	4.500
Voices and Events	1.900
Who Said That?	 3.000
4 N. 4

* Not on vet.

Barry Gray's 8-Wk. Stint

Barry Gray has been signed by WOR, N.Y., for an eight-week run on the station he left two years ago. Gray will start on Scpt. 4 during his two-month vacation from WMIE, Miami.

Irom WMIE, Miami.

Gray is under contract to WMIE until April 15, 1950, with WOR having an option on his services after that date. He'll return to the Miami station around Nov. 1 to complete his obligations there. Gray would join WOR upon expiration of his WMIE pact. Gray. who Is represented by Jaffe & Jaffe, also has a WOR-TV tiein deal.

Johnson & Johnson Taped Out as WNYC Airs Com'l 'Life' Series

Unusual situation of a non-commercial station taking a sponsored program develops when WNYC, New York's municipal outlet, alrs transcriptions of the Johnson & Johnson airer, "It's Your Life." However, WNYC will deiete all plugs and mention of J&J.

plugs and mention of J&J.

"Life." which is heard only on WMAQ. Chicago, has an impressive list of awards in the educational field to its credit and the Gotham station is airing it as a public service. Series is a documentary using tape recordings and subjects include "Birth of a Baby," featuring interviews with a mother in labor, as well as broadcasts on juvenile delinquency, sex education, blue babics and industrial accidents.

WNYC will carry the program on Sundays at 9 p.m. starting Sept.

WNYC will carry the program on Sundays at 9 p.m., starting Sept. 4. Deal was arranged with J&J prexy George F. Smith and Ben Park, of the Chicago Industrial Health Division, producer-director of "Life."

of "Life."
Station is developing a policy of picking up worthy stanzas not available to Gotham. It is now skedding MBS' "Northwestern U. Reviewing Stand," which WOR is unable to take because of commercial commitments. Deal may also be set for WNYC to take NBC's "Chicago Round Table," which WNBT airs by transcription on Saturday afternoons or late Sun-Saturday afternoons or late Sun-day nights.

'LUX' RETURN CUES CBS SHOW SHIFTS

With "Lux Radio Theatre" reestablishing itself in its Monday night 9 to 10 CBS berth, starting Scpt. 9, the two summer half-hour
Monday occupants move to Friday night. Joan Davis, currently in the 9 to 9:30 Monday period, takes over the Friday, 9-9:30 time, under Roi Tan Cigar sponsorship, while the Abe Burrows sustainer shifts from Monday, 9:30, to Friday, 9:30. Thus the Burrows-Davis bracketing will continue.

Shifts pose a problem on where to slot the hour-long "This Is Broadway," now occupying the Friday, 9 to 10 slot. It's likely that it will be moved to a late Sunday night period. With "Lux Radio Theatre" re-

NBC Coast Lament: Oh, for the Good Old Summer Days'

Hollywood, Aug. 9. Now that NBC is up to its proverbial neck in production, with the major accent on Coast originations. the network boys are yearning for the good old days. As, for example, last summer, when but one web sustainer emanated from Sunset and Vine, premitting for the golf course, swimming pool breathers to which the radio fraternity have become accustomed.

become accustomed.

In contrast, however, this summer finds no less than 10 NBC packages riding the coast-to-coast kilocycles from the NBC Hollywood studios. And, on the basis of program boss Tom McCrav's plans, there are a flock of others in the offing.

What the picture will be like in the fall, with the end of the commercial hiatus, is anybody's guess. NBC wants to keep on the good ones, even if it means paring them down to three, 20-minute stanzas to fill each hour of time. And the emphasis is on Interesting clients in switching to NBC-produced shows. Which sounds like the golf course honeymoon is over—for keeps.

Yankee Stubbornness Yields to FCC on Sale Of WAAB and WMTW

Of WAAB and WMTW

Washington, Aug. 9.

Yankee Network last week gave up the Idea of trying to persuade the FCC to okay the sale of two of its stations under a rental deal based on gross billings. The web requested permission to file a new application to sell WAAB in Worcester, Mass., and WTMW in Portland, Me., to Radio Enterprises, Inc., on a fixed rental basis.

A previous arrangement to transfer the stations to Enterprises under a five-year rental agreement plus 25% of the gross in excess of $12,000 a month was rejected by the Commission on grounds it would give Yankee a stranglehold on the lessee. The agency had ruled it could not approve a transfer which required the stations to operate at a profit if Yankee were not to take a loss on the transaction.

Yankee is now prepared to as-Yankee is now prepared to assign the outiets on a three-year lease at a flat rental of $40,000 per annum, with an option for two successive three-year terms. Enterprises would have the privilege of purchasing the equipment, after six years, for $50,000.

Doubleday's 'Top Tunes'

Doubleday & Co. will sponsor "Top Tunes" when the cross-the-board record strip returns to WOR. N.Y., Aug. 15. Sidney Waiton spins the disks.

Huber Hoge & Sons is the

NBC'S 'SPLIT PERSONALITIES'

CBS' 6.9 Plus; NBC's 5.5 Minus

First six months' gross time sales for the four major networks finds CBS leading the pack, with a 6.9% gain in estimated billings over the corresponding period last year, while NBC is 5.4% under the first half of '48. ABC just about holds its own with 0.3 plus for the six-month stretch (flock of cancellations won't show on the books until the fall), while Mutual, also hard hit, is 11.7% below the '48 figure.

Columbia's June billings ($5,409.150) are 12% higher than June of '48, while NBC's $5,268,179 is 7% under the June mark of last

June Gross Time Sales

								(1	Εs	st	i	m	a	te	ec	l)
Columbia		 				 														$5,409,150	+12
NBC		 																		5,268,179	- 7
ABC																					- 3
Mutuai .		 				 														1.403,880	-12
				,	-							^

For First Six Months

(Estimated)

Cojumbia	$33,605,205	+6.9
NBC		- 5.4
ABC	22,465,161	+ 0.3
Mutual	10.279,274	-11.7

Sarnoff's Credo: 'Forget About Me And Grab the Coin,' So Comm'l Sticks

NBC found itself in a dilemma last week and it took no less a personage than the Boss Man him-self. RCA board chairman Davis Sarnoff, to ease the network out of an awkward situation.

of an awkward situation.

NBC had scheduled Herbert Hoover's 75th anniversary address for airing tonight (Wed.), but as a delayed show, since otherwise it would have meant cancelling out the Henry Morgan Bristol-Meyers commercial. ABC then came through with open time and scheduled the Hoover talk live. Ditto CBS, where it meant only cancelling out the sustaining pickup of the Lewisohn Stadium concert. Mutual then got into the act, with a 60-minute delayed pickup. That put NBC in fourth position, with a late night rebroadcast.

The irony of the situation is that Gen. Sarnoff was booked in to introduce Hoover. When Sarnoff Gen. Sainoff was booked in to in-troduce Hoover. When Sarnoff agreed to the intro honor, NBC took matters into its own hands and cancelled out the Bristol-Meyers show in order to carry the Sarnoff-Hoover teamup on a live Dasis.

The clincher came, however, when Sarnoff, apprised of the situation, recinded the cancellation.
"We'd rather have the dough; don't cancel any commercials, no matter how many speeches I make", he reportedly told the network brass.

Drass,
Result is that Sarnoff gets the delayed broadcast treatment on his own web, while the rival CBS and ABC carry him live.

Standard Oil (N.J.) Eyes Kostelanetz

Standard Oil of New Jersey, which cancelled out of sponsorship of the Sunday afternoon New York Philliarmonic concerts on CBS as an economy move, which represented a budgetary item in excess of $1,000,000 a season, has apparently reconsidered, and wants "in" again on a musical program again on a musical program.

Stoki's Dilemma

NYC, N. Y., got a letter last week from a North Greenwich (Conn.) listener, asking the name of the conductor and orch on a recording of Debussy's "Soirees en Granada" which the city-owned station had aired.

Request came from Leopold Stokowski

Sealtest to Slot Dorothy Dix As NBC Soap Opera

Kraft and Sealtest will again show up on NBC back-to-back but daytime instead of night. Sealtest is taking over the 10:15-10:30 a.m. strip (Kraft has 10 o'clock), and plan is to install Dorothy Dix in the time segement, but reconverting the present format into a daytime serial.

Sealtest presently sponsors Dorothy Dix on ABC in the 1:45-2 p.m.

othy Dix on ABC in the 1:45-2 p.m. period and present thinking is to showcase the readapted show on both networks until the ABC contractual commitment runs out. Originally there was talk of Sealtest picking up the NBC "Thanks for Tomorrow" sustaining serial for the 10:15 time, but the company has rejected this idea in favor of the new Dorothy Dix format and switchover.

NBC LIKES PM'S SMOKE RING BRAND

NBC is pitching up the 11 to 11:15 a.m. segment to Philip Moragain on a musical program.

However, if SO of N. J. does embrace network programming again, it will probably be on a split network a morning sellout, now it will probably be on a split network basis covering the eastern states, with an approximate $600.000 celling on time and talent. Company is eyeing the Sundavafternoon 5-5:30 period on CBS and at the moment is seriously considering a musical show built around Andre Kostelanetz. An audition record is expected to be cut within the next few days.

NBC pitched up Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony Orch, but Standard Oil wasn't interested in that cut kind of coin outlay. (Symph summer series is sponsored by U. S. Steei, but without Toscanini).

Kostelanetz has been missing as a network presenting of a plum.

Erwin-Wasey is the agency. ris for cross-the-board sponsorship.

TWO SETS OF TOP ECHELON?

The possibilities stemming from the NBC administrative reap-praisal being mastermind by the firm of Booz, Allen & Hamilton has stirred new conjecture within the NBC organization during the past week

As the deadline approaches for final action based on the wholesale siftings being undertaken, major interest centers on the far-reaching consequences of the projected "NBC split personality" blueprint consequences of the projected "NBC split personality" blueprint and how seriously the complete divorcement of AM from TV will affect the top administrative brass.

For example, the question has been raised in some quarters, in the event of a National Television Co. as a distinct entity from the

Divorce vs. Taxes

Divorce vs. Taxes

The Booz, Allen & Hamilton survey of the NBC administration now in its closing stages, which is expected to result in a divorcement of radio from television, poses a tax problem for the network, should it fall in with the proposal for split operations. If, as some believe, NBC finally rejects divorcement and runs AM-TV as a single corporate setup, it's the tax factor that would probably be the clincher. It's no secret that the current video losses (and that goes not only for NBC, but right down the line where, basically, one company is involved), are being written off from radio profits. But once NBC television and NBC radio are on their own, those AM taxes will still be around—but those TV losses will be strictly National Broadcasting Co. (which now looms as a foregone conclusion), will the split down the middle be so drastic as to leave Niles Trammell presiding over the AM dynasty, with another personality moved in as the video prexy?

By the same token, some of the network officials are asking, will the B A & H "Operations: NBC" blueprint split up the press, promotion and sales divisions so as to invite TV execs on a parralel level with Syd Eiges, veepee of NBC press; Charles Hammond, veepee promotional braintruster, and veepee Harry C. Kopf, the web's No. 1 sales administrator. pee Harry C. Kopf, sales administrator.

ales administrator.

Sentiment appears to be that if the Trammell presidency is ex-(Continued on page 42)

R. R. HOUR STILL RUNS, BUT WITH 200G LESS

The Assn. of American Railroads, which sponsors the "Railroad Hour" Mouday nights on ABC, has decided in favor of continuing in the fail, half-hour, rather than 45-minute program. Gordon MacRae will continue in the top singing role. Change in format is scheduled to take effect in the fail.

Association is cutting back to the uled to take effect in the Ian.

Association is cutting back to the tune of about $200,000, with ABC taking the major rap on loss of 15-minute billings.

Benton & Bowles is the agency.

Why Be Halff Safe!

NBC's $5,000,000 Show Packet to Be Unveiled at Greenbriar Convention; Bids Clients to 'Discard the Old'

The New Treatment

In line with NBC's new policy of concentrating on individual personalities for a big-time building a dovetalling ong-time building a dovertaining of program, press, promotion and recording activity, the network is getting ready to "spring" Mindy Carson, singer currently at the Copacabana, N. Y. nitery.

Similar to the treatment recently accorded Dennis Day

cently accorded Dennis Day thought in his case it involved trinoignt in his case it involved an establish personality. NBC will give Miss Carson lots of hoopla in prepping a half-hour radio show for her, with a dayand-date RCA-Victor release, and all-out publicity and promotion.

Looks Like Pot Of Old Gold Coin On NBC Horizon

The Old Gold-sponsored "Original Amateur Hour" (both the AM and TV versions) is still going through the throes of multiple checkerboard maneuvers. When the smoke clears away, it's likely that NBC will cop both the radio and television billings away from ABC and DuMont, respectively.

The hour-long radio version, heard Wednesday nights on ABC during the past season, has just been shifted to Thursday nights on the same network (pitting Old on the same network (pitting Old Gold in competition with its ABC-TV "Stop the Music.") Now NBC has stepped into the picture and has offered OG the Friday night 8 to 9 hour for the AM editlon. Negotiations are still going on. Switchover would mean a hefty billings loss for ABC.

There's still some uncertainty as to how the TV "Original Amateur Hour" situation will resolve itself. At the moment it's scheduled to switch from DuMont to Tuesday night 9 to 10 on NBC in November. Originally, OG dickered for Monday night on CBS, but the latter web was unable to clear all the stations. Same situation now applies to NBC, with DuMont stepping in and grabbing off Erie, Buffalo and Rochester TV outlets for the Tuesday hour, blocking a through cable to Chicago. Gold in competition with its ABC-

DE SOTO MAY BECKON TO 'H'WOOD CALLING

Plymouth - DeSoto dealers, who sponsor the CBS "Hit the Jackpot" show, apparently are sold on giveaways. Auto dealers association ls now mulling picking up the tab on a half-hour of the 60-minute new NBC "Hollywood Calling" show. Other half of "Hollywood Call-ing" has already been sold to Gruen Watch Co.

San Antonio.

Editor, VARIETY:
You're slipping!
In the good old days, the heading for the letter written by Manny Manheim and printed on page 25 of the Aug. 3 issue would have read. "Manheim Measures Maynerad. "Maxon Day" celebrated with a "Maxon Day" cele

NBC promises a "hot agenda" for its upcoming convention (Sept. 7-11) at Greenbriar, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., with the No. 1 spotlight grabber the revelation that it is ready to spend $5,000,000 within the span of a single year to carry out prexy Niles Trammeil's promise of "bigger, better and fresher shows."

Trammell will fell how, since he initially set forth before the NBC affiliates at the Chicago powwow six months ago the ambitlous programming plans for 1949, NBC has already splurged to the tune of nearly $1,250,000 in a new bld for dominance.

Trammeil will also set before the convention the impressive list NBC promises a "hot agenda nearly $1,250,000 in a new bld for dominance.

Trammeil will also set before the convention the impressive list of projected airers and those aiready "packaged and ready to go," including Eddie Cantors "Post Office Box 33;" the Mary Martin-Erio Pinza vehicle: Don Quinn's "Halls of Ivy:" the "Senator Claghorn Show;" the Hank Ladd show: Phil Foster's "Inside Brooklyn;" Frances Langford's "Just Bridget;" Douglas Fairbanks in "The Silent Men" (based on State Dept. stories), a new Claudette Coibert show, and the upcoming Eddle Albert cross-the-board morning program.

The convention will also be apprised of the web's contemplated time-table "face lift" designed to break away from traditional half-hour and quarter-hour slotting to permit for 20-minute formats and other flexible program ming schemes.

The $5,000,000 program blue-print, inspired by NBC's "do-some-print, inspired by NBC'

Agencies' Toughie: Pleasing Everyone

Figured among the most head-ache producing, toughest-to-handle accounts in radio programming are those involving combined sponsorship of utility operations, such as the Assn. of American Railroads, Electric Power Cos., etc. Sometimes the agencies wonder if it's worth all the trouble.

Handling the railroad combine, for example, presents more than its share of woes for Benton & Bowles. On a recent stanza of the musical show, one of the lyrics made mention of the Santa Fe. The other railroads involved in the sponsorship let out a squawk that Figured among the most head-sponsorship let out a squawk that could be heard in Atcheson and could be heard in Atcheson and Topeka as well.

Similar "sensitivities" have periodically cropped up with the same client, and N. W. Ayer, which handles the Electric Cos., is reportedly alerted to the same watchfulness on script continuity.

The Phila. Story

Philad. Stury

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.

The city is telling its role in American history to the nation this week, via WCAU and the CBS network. A series of five afternoon broadcasts, beginning today (Tues.) and continuing through Saturday, will present through interviews a group of prominent locals and authorities on Philadelphia matters.

ters.

The series was conceived by WCAU and the interviewers are Norris West and Dwight Cooke, of the station's public affairs department. The programs go on daily from 4:45 to 5 p.m.

Top of the Dial' Woes Pile Up For N. Y. Times' WQXR; New Protests Washington, Aug. 9. Liquor? Yes & No! Liquor? Yes & No! Local stations are about stations began corrections to the fort wayne and eagle eye to protect its

New York Times' WQXR is keep ing an eagle eye to protect its 1560 kc signal from interference by new stations near the top of The Times is not only the dial. worried about losing listeners to the dial. The Times is not only worried about losing listeners to its present 10 kw operation but also to its proposed 50 kw facility which is pending before the FCC. Last week, WQXR protested to the Commission against its recent grant without a hearing of a 1 kw daytimer in Fitchburg, Mass., which will use the 1580 kc frequency. The Times claims its listeners in this part of the country will be unable to tune in WQXR because of the Fitchburg outlet and that it is entitled to protection against interference under its status as a Class I-B station. It submitted engineering evidence that the Fitchburg station would cause interference in a rural area having 15,700 people. With its proposed 50 kw power, an area of 21,000 people would be affected. The Times petition to the FCC said the authorization to Fitchburg is "contrary to law" in that it results in "real, destructive and ruinous interference" to a substantial portion of WQXR's service area now free of interference. The FCC action was further characterized as resulting in "an arbitrary curtailment and reduction" of the service areas which WQXR proposes and expects to serve, thus depriving it of proper consideration under the Communications.

Therefore, WQXR requested the Commission to reconsider the Therefore, WQXR requested the Commission to reconsider the authorization to Fitchburg and hold a hearing in which it is made a parly.

Recently, The Times attempted to prevent the Commission from allowing WPTR in Albany, N. Y., to commence operations with 50 kw on 1540 kc. The U. S, Court of Appeals of the District of Columbla refused to grant a stay order on WQXR's contention that it should be protected from interference. Previously, the Commission held that only a small number of WQXR listeners would be affected.

Arbiters to Rule On Tape for Hope

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.
Arbitration on the issue of taping the Bob Hope show next season comes up for hearing tomorrow (10) at offices of American Arbitration Assn. Charles Luckman, prexy of Lever Bros., sponsor of the Hope session, has contested the right of Hope to tape record his shows and efforts at a compromise failed. Hope insists on taping so he can travel the show.

Both sides had made concessions, Luckman giving in on five tapes in each 13-week cycle but Hope held out for more.

GARRY MOORE SIGNS FOR DAYTIME STRIP

Garry Moore has been signed by CBS for a five-a-week hour day-time strip starting in late September. It marks his return to the type of show which first brought him to the attention of Coast producers and resulted in his long association with Jimmy Durante and later as successor to Phil Baker on "Take It Or Leave It" and "Breakfast in Hollywood."

Show will be sold in segments to participating sponsors.

ALLIS-CHALMERS STICKS

ALLIS-CHALMERS STICKS
Chicago, Aug. 9.
Allis-Chalmers has renewed National Farm and Home Hour on NBC for the fifth year, starting Sept. 10 for 52 weeks. Vet agriculture show has been aired over the net since 1928.
Account was sold here by NBC central division through Bert. S. Glittins agency. Milwaukee. No change in time—farm show stays at 12 (noon) Saturdays.

Local stations are about equally divided on the ques-tion of accepting liquor adver-tising, with slightly more than tising, with slightly more than 50% against taking the spirit biz at present. Hesitancy was reported by the National Assn. of Radio Station Representa-tives, which polled its mem-bers on the attitude of the out-bers on the attitude of the outlets they service.

Most stations declared that they were finding it difficult to make up their minds, wanting further talks with other broadcasters in their cities and states. A large number of those saying that they wouldn't accept the alcoholic accounts say they wouldn't want to be the first to break the lee, but might later go along with the tide if hard liquor advertising became a widespread radio practice.

Almost all stations said that Almost all stations said that Almost all stations said that if Ilquor commercials were accepted, they would be aired only after 10 p.m. and that copy would have to pass a critical test.

Free Gasoline Offer On WJBK Throws 100,000 Det. Phones Out of Order

Detroit, Aug. 9.

The greatest instantaneous response by a Detroit radio audience in recent years occurred Friday (5) following an announcement by WJBK disk jockey Ed McKenzie, known as Jack the Bellboy.

Announcement threw 100,000 phones out of order, according to the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. The station complied with a Michigan Bell request that it urge its listeners to stop calling.

This is what happened:

At about 4:30 p.m., Jack the Bellboy played, in succession, five types of singing commercials used to advertise Speedway gasoline. He asked his radio audience which type they liked best.

As an inducement to get audi-ence reaction, he said the first 100 persons calling and giving their opinions would be given five gal-lons of gasoline free.

lons of gasoline free.

The Bellboy gave the telephone number just once and announced the offer of free gasoline just once.

Within minutes, Michigan Bell phoned WJBK demanding to know "what the heck you are trying to pull." A telephone spokesman explained that 10 exchanges each serving 10,000 telephones were out of order. He said whenever 200 or more calls are received simultaneously by any one exchange, it just blows a fuse or something.

Right after talking to telephone

Right after talking to telephone officials, manager Richard Jones got a call from a paint and glass firm wanting to know whether "WJBK was trying to ruin our business."

business."

Many of the Bellboy's listeners transposed the first two digits of the number he gave them and flooded the paint firm with calls.

The Bellboy stopped a record he was spinning and asked his listeners to stop calling, explaining that the first 100 calls had been received and that Michigan Bell had requested the whole thing be called off.

TEXAS WEB TO REPORT STATE OF THE STATE

Austin, Tex, Aug. 9. Gov. Allan Shivers has accepted an invitation of WFAA, Dallas, to make his first report on the status make his first report on the status of the State government through its facilities and that of the Texas Quality Network. Other outlet to carry the airing include WOAI, San Antonio; KPRC, Houston; KRIS, Corpus Christl and KVAL, Brownsville.

Airing is scheduled for Wedner.

Brownsville.
Airing is scheduled for Wednesday (10) for a quarter-hour but arrangements have been made to allow the Governor to finish if not through at the Quarter hour.

Seek Fort Wayne Merger

stations began operations in the fall of 1947.

fall of 1947.

Sale of all outstanding stock of WKJG was completed July 30, at undisclosed terms. Plans for future operations, subject to FCC approval, provide for a merger of the two stations, broadcasting from the WKJG transmitter.

Spot Biz Wilts In Summer, But Fall Prospects Bright

slump in summer spot business for the first time, but fall prospects are good and by next year the broadcasters will have found ways of counteracting the warm-weather seasonal dip. According to T. F. Flanagan, head of the National Assn. of Radio Station Representatives, the current mid-year drop in spot billings is due to the fact that the American economy is getting back to normal with resulting seasonal swings in business activity. "Before the War," Flanagan said. "there was a seasonal June-August decline, but radio advertising was growing so rapidly that the volume of sales in one summer usually exceeded the previous summer's. During the war many factors eliminated the seasonal variations and in the three summers following broadcasters will have found ways in the three summers following 4945 the sellers' market also tended to flatten out the seasonal business curve."

Now, however, with a more nor-Now, nowever, with a more nor-mal demand situation and lower warm-weather sales in many lines of business, radio will also be af-fected by seasonal trends, Flana-gan feels.

"But that doesn't mean that the dips can't be counterbalanced," the NARSR topper told VARIETY. "There are many fields which can be tapped for good summer spot business, notably resorts, travel agencies, ice cream, beverages, sun tan lotions and the like. Recognizing that there's a midyear tendency for spot business to decline, stations and their representatives will make special efforts to bring in this additional income. Besides, there are many advertisers who are learning the advantages of summer advertising and the enormous audience for automobile, portable and summer colony radios."

NARSR conducted a study on summer colony radios."

NARSR conducted a study on summer listening which reports that the only important drop in ratings occurs on the "spectacular big shows." Programs which remain on the air around the calendar are not affected by the drop, NARSR found. NARSR found.

Fall spot prospects are very favorable. Flanagan says, with inquiries for accounts such as cold remedles reported very large. He estimates that spot billings for the last four years of '49 will be from seven to 10% ahead of the same period last year. period last year.

CBS, IBEW PACT COVER SEVEN CITIES

CBS and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers inked a one-year pact last week covering the network outlets in New York, Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, Minneapolls, St. Louis and San Francisco. Terms applying to N. Y. and L. A. employees gave a $3.50 weekly wage boost to technicians with five-year or over employment record and $2.50 hikes to the rest. Slight changes in salary natures.

hikes to the rest. Slight changes in salary patterns were made in other cities, retroactive to May 28.

IBEW agreed to establishment of an assistant technicians category for TV work, permitting the net to hire new employees below the full scale. Other changes in the pattern of working conditions and distribution of hours will permit CBS to substantially balance the cost of the wage increases.

From the Production Centres

IN NEW YORK CITY . . .

Hubbell Robinson, Jr., CBS program veepee, left for Coast Saturday (6) for two weeks ... Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will tete-a-tete with Norman Corwin on radio and the UN on her ABC stanza Friday (12) ... Gerald Mauisby, CBS manager of broadcasts, Nantucket-ing (12)... Gerald Maulsby, CBS manager of broadcasts, Nantucket-ing for three weeks ... Mona Fisher, ex-WWRL femme commentator, back to H'wood after two weeks' pitching video shows at N. Y, agencies Scripter Sidney Reznick joins Will Glickman and Joe Stein on scripting Ethel Merman airer... Bob Hoffman, WOR research chief, is passing out cigars for his new daughter, Steffi Wyn, born Thursday (4)... WWRL to air "Spanish Amateur Hour" and stage show from Bronx's Puerto Rico theatrg, starting tonight (Wed.)... ABC's film director, Nat Fowler, lectured at Fordham U. Friday (5).

director, Nat Fowler, lectured at Fordham U. Friday (5).

Jimsey Somers, 11-year-old actress, convalescing in East Hampton,
L. I., hospital. Youngster was hit by a truck while bicycling Saturday (30), two days before she was to star on NBC-TV's "Academy Theatre."
Seven-year-old Norma Marlowe stepped into the role... Doug Browning pinchhitting for vacationing Don Gardiner on the latter's ABC newscasts. Richard Keith added to "Lora Lawton"... Humphrey Davis, James Monks and Grace Coppin new to "Backstage Wife"
John Stanley joins "Lorenzo Jones" regulars ... Tom Holer and William Zukcert join "Young Widder Brown."

John Stanley joins "Lorenzo Jones" regulars... 10m Holer and William Zukcert join "Young Widder Brown."

Beverly Hope, White Plains high school student, has been given a one-month job at WINS' newsroom and promotion department as part of her prize in a WINS-Westchester Herald contest... Actress Hester Sondergaard, recently married to former Congressman Hugh De Lacey (Wash.), will set up home in Cleveland but commute to Radio City for her shows. Les Abramson, WMGM music librarian, became the father of a son Tuesday (2)... With Bert Parks vacationing in Berumda Bud Collyer is subbing on "Break the Bank" and Jimmy Blaine pinch-hitting on "Stop the Music," AM and TV... ABC's "Piano Playhouse" team, Cy Walter and Stan Freeman, are cutting two albums, one pop and one longhair, for MGM release... Tex and Jimx McCrary will take on another chore, a six-times-weekly column on personalities, for the N. Y. Herald Tribune, starting Sept. 11... WOR's "Luncheon at Sardi's" using guests from other stations this week, including WJZ's Tony Lane and Johnny Thompson and CBS' George Petric. CBS is also playing host to competing talent when "Second Mrs. Burton" airs an interview with ABC's Pauline Frederick today (Wed.). Edgar Kobak, ex-MBS prexy, in Chicago this week for All-Star football game. Meanwhile his Park avenue offices are being readied for his consultant biz... Fred Thrower, ABC sales veepee, left Friday (5) for two weeks' cruise of New England waters. cruise of New England waters.

Al Ward, formerly of CBS production, replaces Ann Bastow at BBD&O as "Armstrong Theatre" director. Ira Avery is producer ... Mrs. Asya Zucker is newest addition at WFDR.... Scripter Margos Gayle to Atlanta for the funeral of her father.

IN HOLLYWOOD . . .

Al Capstaff, who goes where Bob Hope goes as his producer, has now moved into his third agency. Starting at Foote, Cone & Belding, he trailed the comic into Young & Rubicam and last week berthed up at BBD&O.... An unknown writer, name of Sam Schultz, dropped off a sample script for Carroll Carroll at Ward Wheelock. Next day he was hired for Club 15, which proves, according to Carroll, that writing for radio is not a closed corporation... Brewster Morgan back from N. Y. to ride herd for Compton on the next series of 26 teevee pictures for Procter & Gamble... Larry Gelbart and Larry Marks will be back next fall pounding out gags for Bob Hope... Del Sharbutt, moving spirit of the Century Players (legit) has installed remote equipment in the theatre for weekly broadcasts... Alan Courtney, NBC's assistant manager of guest and station relations, walked the plank last week with a gal-from Bevhills... Alan Rich's quizzer, "Managing Editor," is being submitted to sponsors by three networks. He's radio ed of Valley Times, hard by Hollywood, and format of show has participants moving up through the newsroom ranks from copy boy to me. Horace Heldt likes the idea for television... Campbell Soup picked up Walter O'Keefe's "Double or Nothing" for another season. Metro also took up the tab for another year of Lynn Castile's "Looking at Hollywood' on KHJ... Lou Cowan and NBC's Tom McCray hustled back to New York after working over "Hollywood Calling"... Larry Berns will produce the Jack Carson audition for CBS, with Frank Galen embroidering the script... Sponsor Interested in Don Quinn's "The Halls of Ivy" asked for a second platter, which was cut last week by Ivy Productions (Quinn and Nat Wolff). Probably wanted to know if the first one was a flash-in-the-pan. NBC will put it on in the fall, sponsored or otherwise... It's Howard Meighan's turn at the helm of CBS and J. Kelly Smith returns to N. Y. but not until he gets his vacation out of the way... Frank Samuels got a hurry call from N. Y. to talk over television costs with

IN CHICAGO . . .

Fahey Flynn taking over .or WBBM news ed Julian Bentley during latter's vacation ... Mayor Martin Kennelly commended producer Ben Park for "It's Your Life" show on WMAQ ... Two radio fathers here having bad time with ailing youngsters. NBC chief flack Jack Ryan's son is bedded with severe eye injury, and singer Bob Lee's tyke is recovering from narrow polio escape ... Writer Ann Coyle getting leave of absence from Schwimmer & Scott agency for European tour ... Mutual artist Jean Carson to New Mexico for vacation. ... WBBM continuity director and wife to northern Michigan for rest. ... Hal Totten covering Tam O' Shanter golf tourney for WGN... Lawrence Welk show airing from ABC Chi studio Wed. (10) ... Emece Hank Grant of WGN's "Let's Have Fun" program hosting film stars Gloria De Haven, Donaid O'Connor and Charles Coburn. ... WBBM musician Jack Fulton out with another song, "Great Day in the Morning" ... Don Herbert to describe a caesarian birth on "It's Your Life" Aug. 14 ... Don McNeill emceeing Breakfast Club vla phone wire from New York this wcck ... WGN news director Bob Hurleigh elected treasurer of Chi Press Club... Oak Park, Ill., celebrating "Cliff Johnson Week" starting Aug. 11, honoring WBBM family show... Pair of Chi stations got congressional mention when Sen. Paul Douglas commended WGN, and Repsiet Dutton back from Coast trip... WGN announcer Marshall Kent passing eigars for son born July 24 ... Jim Roxburgh new Mutual trafficker.

FCC MAY DOOM CAMPUS RADIO

Johnson Slates Hearing on Radio Liquor Ban; Tiffs With Fla. B'caster

Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) of the Senate Commerce Committee followed up his recent blast against projected radio liquor commercials by announcing hearings next Jan, 20 on a bill to prohibit all advertising of alcoholic beverages. Johnson made the announcement in a letter to a Florida broadcaster who had taken issue with his attack on networks

Florida broadcaster who had taken issue with his attack on networks for considering Schenley copy.

The Senator sharply disputed contentions made by Tom Watson, manager of WSWN in Belle Glade, to members of the Florida delegation in Congress that acceptance of liquor advertising is for the individual station to decide and that the broadcaster has the same right to the ads as the newspapers and magazines. He reminded Watson that both radio and liquor are licensed industries, with the licensees under well-defined standards of conduct.

"Of course," said Johnson, "there is freedom of choice in radio, the choice of the listener to turn off the receiver, which you, and others like you, constantly hammer on as an excuse for programming anything, no matter how objectionable. But that is a choice that is premised on the theory that radio broadcasting is not a licensed industry, and that its standards of conduct are the standards set by the individual licensee. That premise does not square with the facts.

"The people in their wisdom established certain minimum standards for radio licensees and you and every other licensee is required as a condition of your franchise to observe those standards. It is not an effective control to tune out a station. Long before it is turned off much damage may have been done to alcoholics and others who are fighting to leave whiskey alone.

It is turned off much damage may have been done to alcoholics and others who are fighting to leave whiskey alone. "The truth of the matter is, and you apparently don't see it, that radio could do itself inestimable damage by following the vicious policy you advocate of compelling

(Continued on page 42)

Shriner in Exit After Alka Tiff

Alka-Seltzer and Herb Shriner Alka-Scitzer and Herb Shriner are calling it quits, with result that the 15-minute cross-the-board stanza won't return in the fall. Shriner has been taking a 13-week summer layoff and was scheduled to acturn carly in September.

Alka-Scitzer is retaining the 5:45-6 p.n. CBS time (show has been heard 6:30-6:45 in the central time zone; and pending a further decision, Alka Scitzer's summer replacement stanza, featuring Curt uccision, Alka Seltzer's summer re-placement stanza, featuring Curt Massey and Martha Tilton, will continue in the spot. Shriner and the sponsor were re-portedly tifting over the comedian's desire to cut down to three times a week, with differences also existing over whether the program should be taped or be continued live.

Erikson Named Gen. Exec. For McCann-Erickson

Leonard Erikson, who checked out of Kenyon & Eckhardt agency last week as director of radio and TV. Is moving into McCann-Erickson agency with the title of veepee and general executive. However, he will not be assigned to the radio or video end of the business. Lloyd Coulter is McC-E radio-TV director. Latter returned to his desk yesterday (Tues.) after a three-week absence.

Bill Chalmers, former account exec on the Ford show at K & E, is that agency's new radio-TV director.

Coffin Corner

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
There's too much statistical baloney being fed radio and television advertisers, Joe Coffin, head of Television Research Assn., last week told Hollywood Ad Clubbers, who sat out a rundown of what the survey outfits are doing in town. He further charged measuring techniques are bad and poor logic used to give the time buyer a true sample of his audience.
Other survey monarchs de-his audience.

Other survey monarchs de-fended their systems with a reddish hue on their kissers after Coffin put them in their embarrassed places.

FM, Claiming Maturity, Bids For Fulltime

Washington, Aug. 9,

Washington, Aug. 9.
Activity on two fronts gave more encouragement last week to the FM situation. The broadcasters, through the FM Assn., said they were now grown up enough for fulltime operations and urged the FCC to raise the minimum schedules. The FCC took steps to make the series for FM receivers to time it easier for FM receivers to tune in stations.

it easier for FM receivers to tune in stations.

FMA's general counsel, Leonard Marks, told the Commission that FM has now reached the point where it can give and is giving service to practically the entire country but that some stations are still operating on the six-hour per day minimum. He filed a petition recommending that broadcasters with both AM and FM be required to keep the latter on the air at least as long as the AM.

Where the AM station is a day-timer, it was recommended that the FM affiliate operate a minimum of three hours after 6 p.m., in addition to the same schedule of the AM outlet.

In the case of FM stations without AM, the Commission was asked to set a six-hour per day minimum for the first year, eight hours the second year. 12 hours the third year and fulltime thereafter.

Special dispensation would be

ter. Special dispensation would be ven "individually proved hardcases ship cases."

FMA emphasized it doesn't want duplication of programs on AM-FM stations. An FV licensee, it told the Commission, "should decide for himself which programs

Continued on page 42

People Will Still Go For 'Dignifed B'casting,' Sez WHAS, L'ville, Director

Editor, VARIETY

As a broadcaster. I was somewhat embarrassed that the lead article in the July 27 issue should proclaim that broadcasters are pitching their standards out of the window. I don't take issue with the facts in your story because, basically, they are true. The networks certainly are giving the heave-ho to a lot of policies which not only were sound when originally initiated, but, in my book, continue so be sound even though business might be a little tougher to get.

to get.

I think you will find that there is still a sizeable group of stations adhering to the principles on which they were built. I think, in many respects, we are going through the same agonies the newspapers suffered in their shaking-down period. I believe, however, you will find

(Continued on page 42,

'COLLEGIATES' PUT UP SOUAWK

Washington, Aug. 9.
Campus radio sations, sometimes called "gas-pipe" radio and technically known as carrier-current broadcasting, put up a big how last week against the possibility of their being outlawed or curtailed. The little college outlets, of which there are about a hundred, have been 'operating for years without regulation by the FCC.

The Government agency is won-regulation by the FCC.

The Government agency is wondering whether they cause too much interference with licensed radio services and is considering new rules governing their operation. The student stations broadcast on the standard band but use very low power. They are, in effect, 'radiation' devices, since they use the electric wire or other metal connections to carry the signal from the transmitter.

But to the schools and colleges connections to carry the signal from the transmitter.

But to the schools and colleges which have them, the Commission learned from a batch of protests, the stations are important to the students and faculty. They help in teaching a variety of subjects, inscluding speech, physics, music, and radio production. They are also useful in keeping students abreast of campus activities. Particularly in institutions where enrollment has greatly increased, they take the place of convocations and student assemblies. According to the National Education Assn., the broadcasting by "on-campus systems" furnish "the basis of the unity in the student body which is becoming increasingly difficult to achieve." Such stations did important work in basis of the unity in the student body which is becoming increasingly difficult to achieve." Such stations did important work in Europe during the bombing, says NEA, and would perform a vital service in a national emergency.

Some of the colleges feel strongly the outlets can make a real contribution toward improving professional radio operations. Southern Methodist University in Dallas boasts it was able to broadcast programs "dealing with some rather hot race issues" without having to suit the "weak-kneed ideas" of a commercial broadcaster. But the stations are not unaware of the realities of the commercials operation. Quite a few of them sell time and are proud of their commercials.

One of them, in Williamstown. Mass., seat of Willlams College, points out that the campus station situated in a relatively isolated community offers both national and local advertisers a medium for reaching students which can't be duplicated by commercial stations. (Continued on page 42)

(Continued on page 42)

WDSU Parlays Its 'Tenant Wanted'

Stations in Organized Gangup On Baseball B'cast Restrictions; Chandler Compromise Gets Rebuff

NBC Mobilizes

NBC's army reserve outfit, 406th Mobile Radio Broadcasting Co., which was activated at the web's New York head-quarters as an organized reserve company last January, is assigning additional officers and enlisted men.

The present authorized table toggetiethe authorized table of organization calls for adding of organization calls for adding six lieutenants and approxi-mately 100 enlisted men. Training activities of the unit are devoted to the study of propaganda and psychological

Chi Labor Station In Top-Coin Bid For Local Shows

Chicago, Aug. 9.

WCFL, the Chi Federation of Labor station, is embarking on a big program expansion following the appointment of Bob Platt as program director. "The Voice of Labor" station recently completed a $700.000 plus physical expansion including studio remodeling and modernizing, a new transmitter and four antennas at Downers Grove, Ill., and stepped-up intrastation activity.

While WCFL brass is keeping the lid on new program developments until they are ready for airing, it's known that Platt wants to hypo the Chi angle with a heavy intusion of local talent shows, hestdes dropping some ABC programs which the station has been carrying.

grams wh carrying.

Prime reason for the new "bold look" on the part of WCFL is the fed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed outlet for network shows originating elsewhere. Under present arrangements, WCFL takes ABC shows that WLS, which also has a tie-in with ABC, refuses to carry in deference to its own programs or policies.

Washington, Aug. 9.

Washington, Aug. 9.

Broadcasting stations throttled by strong-arm tactics of organized baseball are resisting efforts of the Dept. of Justice to compromise restrictions imposed against broadcasters by local teams to safequard attendance, VARIETY learned yesterday. Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler, it is understood, is willing to make concessions to avoid anti-trust actions but department is being pressed to break practices which stations have complained against.

ment is being pressed to break practices which stations have complained against.

A recent decision of the Federal Court of Appeals of the Second Circuit in New York, holding that baseball is subject to the Sherman Act, is spurring the broadcasters to fight. About 28 years ago the Supreme Court had ruled that the sport was not compuerce bit that was before radio and the interstate implications involved.

Specifically, broadcasters a refighting a rule which requires clearance from the local team for the broadcasting of any game within a 50-mile radius. It makes no difference whether the local team is playing away from home. It can and does restrict broadcasting of nearby games at its discretion. Among the stations which have complained to the Department against this practice are WISR, in Butler, Pa., which could not broadcast games of the Pittale beurgh Pirates because of refusal (Continued on page 41)

(Continued on page 41)

CBC Won't Lift Canada Spot Ban

The request of privately-owned stations in Canada for a lifting of the regulation prohibiting spot announcements between 7:30 p.m.-1 a.m. was bluntly refused by the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. when of them, in Williamstown, seat of Williamstown, seat of Williamstown, seat of Williamstown, or limit of in a relatively isolated inity offers both national real advertisers a medium for students which can't be steed by commercial stations.

Continued on page 42)

SU Parlays Its Tenant Wanted

Project Into Humanitarian Payoff

New Orleans, Aug. 9.

An unexpected turn of events with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed-up attitude of station toppers with being considered partially a feed outlet for network shows originaling elsewhere. Under present attention of the Canadian Assn. of Broadcasters woulht greater revenue outlets. It was the view of the CBC that the independent should be a feed outlet for network shows originaling elsewhere. Under partially a feed outlet for network shows originaling elsewhere. Under partially a feed outlet for network shows originaling elsewhere. Under partially a feed outlet for network shows originaling elsewhere. Under partially a feed outlet for network shows originaling elsewhere. Under partially a feed outlet for network shows originaling elsewhere. Under partially a feed outlet for network shows originality as could factor the CBC beautiful the CBC pool spot announcements as a feed outlet for network shows originality as could factor be a feed outlet for network shows outlets. It was the view with commercial announcements. The independents also asked that the CBC permit spot announcements during network broadcasts but this was also refused as not being in the general interest, such requests referring to food and drug products. On the recommendation of the Department of Health, the CBC judgment was that such commercials were not of a character that should be heard by a mixed radio-listening group of adults and children, particularly when the products applied to personal hygiene or the workings of the digestive system.

New Orleans, Aug. 9.

WDSU garnered plenty of Page One space here as well as national publicity as the result of a smooth promotion idea, good showmanship and a sineere interest in helping a needy family.

About six weeks ago the station, in co-operation with a leading furniture merchant and apartment house, launched its "Tenant Wanted" project. Designed as a mai pull, it offered a rent-free "dream" apartment and $1,800 worth of new furniture to a worthy family.

The project was conducted by Dick Bruce on his mid-afternoon platter show. Hundreds of letters poured into WDSU's mail room, and after screening and investigation, the associate editor of The New Orleans Item and two prominent social and clyic workers selected the young parents of a "blue baby who needed an operation by a Johns Hopkins specialist within six months to live.

The father is employed in Gi on-the-job training. After paxing their rent, the family had less than $90 a month for all living expenses including medical care for the infant.

An unexpected turn of events arose when the child had to be rushed to a hospital the night before the presentation. On the morning the award of the apartment was to be made. Bruce journexed with reporters to the hospital, set up a wire recorder in a closet, and summoned the young mother, Mrs. Warren Boudzeaux.

Noung mother, Mrs. Walter reaux.

As Bruce told her the good news, she sobbed "God has been good to us" into the WDSU mike. In the following five minutes, Bruce garnered one of the most heart-rending, spontaneous interviews ever recorded on wire.

The New Orleans Item splashed the picture and story on Page One. The press services and Acme Photos sent the story and picture out nationally.

tionally.

Robert D. Swezey, WDSU exec vepec, said the amount of solid relations, good will and listener interest precipitated by the promotion was immeasurable.

"I am confident that promotions similar to our "Tenant Wanted could be utilized by other stations with the same excellent results," he stated.

Jas. Knox as Manager Of Lyle Van's Station

Of Lyle Van's Station
De Land Fla. Aug. 9.
James H Knox, former radio director of the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, has been named general manager of WDLF here. Station is owned by Lyle Van, WOR, N. Y., newscaster.
Knox, veteran of 14 years in radio, has served with Young & Rubleam, Kenyon & Eckhardt, and Blow. In '47 he was appointed of fleer in charge of radio recruiting for the U. S. Marine Corps.

FCC's 'Stop Sitting on Frequencies' Poses Problems for Permittees

Washington, Aug. 9.
Video permittees stalling on construction are being hard put these days to keep their licenses, what with the FCC calling them to account and saying, in effect: "No sitting on frequencies." A few years back, when channels were going begging in many cities it was considered a good idea to grab a permit and worry about building later, when the medium developed more. Some permit holders have been content to wait until the other fellow starts his station and the nucleus of an audience has been built, always, of course, FCC permitting.

In a number of cases, however.

permitting.

In a number of cases, however, other would-be television broadcasters have been watchdogging the permittees even closer than the Commission, advising the agency that if Mr. X doesn't go ahead with his station they will be glad to take the permit off his hands. Not that the Commission would transfer the permit that easily, but there's no harm trying and maybe the license would be made available to the next in line after the lifting of the freeze.

FCC policy on the whole has

FCC policy on the whole has been quite lenient in granting extensions—up to a point. But as soon as it becomes evident, either from "progress" reports required soon as it becomes evident, either from "progress" reports received from the permittees or from information from "watchdogs," that stalling is deliberate the agency begins cracking down. First, the permittee is advised that if he does not intend to get started soon he might as well surrender the license, which some do. But if the permit holder won't surrender and fails to show "dilligence" in pursuing construction, the agency denies his next request for an extension of time.

For the permit holder, it's tough sometimes to have to decide whether to turn in the permit, try to hang on longer, or go ahead with the full commitments toward building the station. If he sur(Continued on page 42)

Lucky Strike Buys U. of P. Grid Games For NBC-TV Pickup

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.
The Univ. of Pennsylvania foot-ball games will be telecast over the NBC network this fall for a ciga-ret sponsor—Lucky Strikes.

ret sponsor-Lucky Strikes.

Harold E. Stassen, president of the university, okayed the deal, although Penn reputedly was one of the moving spirits at the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Assn. early this year in the drive to ban cigaret, liquor and beer sponsors from collegiate athletics.

collegiate athletics.

Nobody in authority is around the university at the moment, for comment but it is known that a dozen cities will see the Penn network telecasts and the University will pickup between $10,000 and $12,000 from each game, which isn't hay even though it may be edged with nicotine.

WPTZ local video outlet for the WPTZ, local video outlet for the WPTZ, local video outlet for the Penn grid spectacles, has Franklin Field again under contract this year and will telecast under the sponsorship of Atlantic Refining.

The network telecast will cover from Richmond to Boston and stafrom Hermond to Boston and star-tions as far west as Pittsburgh and Cleveland. The games to be yideoed are Penn vs. Cornell, Army, Navy, Columbia and Dart-mouth. President Stassen, we hear, will make a freside talk be-tween the halves at each game.

NBC-TV 'Clock' Shift

NBC television has decided to move "The Clock," half-hour who-dunit, from its current Monday night at 8:30 time to Wednesday night at 8:30 time to Wednesday nights at 8:30 starting tomorrow (10). Lever Bros. has optioned the show for the Wednesday night pe-riod starting in the fall and the early move will thus build the bankroller an audience before its

Motorola's Peak Jobs In Bullish TV Outlook

Bullish TV Uutlook
Chicago, Aug. 9.
Motorola is giving the lie to depression talk in the radio-tele industry by taking on an additional 1,000 employees to handle all-out production of its 1950 line of sets coming out this fall. Increase swells the total number of Motorola workers to record high of 4,500. Prez Paul Galvin, happy about a six-month record sales of $33,822,368, nearly $7,000,000 greater than the corresponding 1948 period, said "prospects for business throughout the latter part of this year and into 1950 seem very favorable." Motorola opened a new plant July 11, in a move to achieve peak production before the end of the year.

Phonevision Bids For Chi Test Run

Phonevision, by which a tele-ision set owner orders extra spevision set owner orders extra spe-cial programs by telephone, may soon be tried out to prove its prac-ticability. Special authority was requested of the FCC last week by Zenith Radio Corp. to test the system with 300 subscribers in Chi-system with 300 subscribers in Chicago during a three-month period beginning in late December or early January. Firm is waiting on completion of a new transmitter and necessary phone connections. Zenith told the Commission the basic theory of Phonevision is that TV set owners are willing to pay an extra charge to view programs of outstanding interest or entertainment value which are not otherwise available. "Such programs," the firm said, "would include first-run motion pictures, current stage productions running on Broadway or in other parts of the country, outstanding sporting events, etc."

events, etc."

The company said a recent poll on the West Coast showed that a majority of video owners would welcome the opportunity to pay extra for outstanding programs. It expressed the belief that "Phone-vision may afford the public substantially greater use of television, as well as affording to the broadcasters, and in particular those located in small communities, additional revenue which will increase the feasibility of a television operation."

Gate on TV-Banned Bout to Guide Future

With boxers and their managers having banded together to outlaw television from all outdoor fights for the time being, TV broadcasters regard the Ezzard Charles-Gus Lesnevich bout tonight (Wed.) at Yankee Stadium, N. Y., as a uprenie test. There will be no TV cameras on hand for that one and, if the gate does not come up to expectations, the broadcasters feel they will have a clincher in their argument that TV is not the culprit the boxing managers believe it to be.

Managers have banned video on lieve it to be.

Managers have banned video on the results of the recent Ray Robinson-Kid Gavilan fight at Philadelphia. Bout was not televised and pulled one of the biggest crowds in recent years. Broadcasters claim, however, that the good gate resulted from the fans' interest in the bout, averring receipts would have been satisfactory even if TV had been allowed. They point to the fine biz being hung up this year by such major league baseball teams as the N. Y. Yankees, Brooklyn Dodgers, etc. Yankees, Brooklyn Dodgers, etc., as proof that fans will attend in person an event, they want to see, regardless of whether they can view the same event via TV in their living rooms.

bankroller an audience before its sponsorship begins.

"Black Robe," another NBC-TV sustainer now occupying the Wednesday night slot, will probably be moved to another night. New time period has not yet been determined.

"Their living rooms. If the TV ban on outdoor fights continues, meanwhile, it is expected to throw a sever crimp in plans for theatre television. Indie cricuit operator SI H. Fablan, who plans to have the first theatre TV mined. (Continued on page 42)

The McCoy

The McCoy
Chicago, Aug. 9.
WGN-TV went the current flock of tele chillers one better last week (4) by filmcasting an actual gun battle between a fleeing bandit and 29 squads of Chi police, less than fourhours after the fracas occurred. (Four cops were shot and the bandit killed by machine gun fire.) Lenser Felix Kubik was sent to the Northwestern R. R. station here at 2:30 p.m., and filmed the free-for-ail involving tear gas, riot guns and tommy guns fired into the station washroom where the extion washroom where the ex-con was trapped. WGN-TV carried the film on its 6:45 p.m. telecast the same day.

ITV to Pattern 'Tailored' Shows

New television package firm, designed to build shows tailored specifically to the needs of an ad agency or client, has been set up by Paul White, former Continental sales manager for David O. Selznick, under the name of International Trans-Video. Other officers include Lawrence L. Wynn, vet radio-TV producer, as program veepee; T. Newman Lawler, member of the O'Brien, Driscoil, Raftery & Lawler law firm, as secretary, and Walter Keane, as comptroller. Dolores Pallet, music consultant of the Radio City Music Hall, N.Y., production staff, will be exec consultant on music and choreography. Seeking to utilize the show biz

Seeking to utilize the show biz background and know-how of the ITV staff, White said the outfit will not attempt to line up a group

(Continued on page 40)

Kalcheim's Europe 0.0. For New TV Talent: U. S. Barrel Scraped

With television variety shows already scraping the talent barrel, Harry Kalcheim of the William Morris office is now on a swing through Europe to dig up new vaude acts for Milton Berle's "Texaco Star Theatre" and other vaudeo programs which the agency books deo programs which the agency books.

Similar junket was taken by William Morris reps prior to the Berle show's preem last season. Acts pacted then, however, have appeared on many vaudeo programs during the year and the agency feels that new faces are now a definite necessity. With such programs as the Olsen & Johnson weekly stanza also swinging over to a vaudeo format and with vaude itself making a comeback in theatres throughout the country, the Morris office feels it can guarantee any European acts practically solid seasonal bookings.

AMER. TOBACCO COIN FOR CBS 'BLACKOUTS'?

FOR CBS 'BLACKOUTS'?

Deal is understood near the inking stage this week for American Tobacco to sponsor Ken Murray's "Blackouts," when the show preems on CBS-TV this fall in the Saturday night 9 to 10 slot. With Jack Benny reportedly set for a twice-monthly video show on the same web for the tobacco firm, the same web for the s

NBC-TV Biz Switches

In a personnel realignment of NBC-TV's business department, Leslie C. Vaughn has been named cost and billing manager under department chief J. Robert Myers. Other new appointments include Joseph Berhalter, in charge of budgets; Neil Knox, coordinator of personnel and office management matters; J. M. Milroy, pricing supervisor, and Robert A. Anderson, cost analyst. cost analyst cost analyst.

Joseph Fuller was named production facilities cost and billing manager, and Harrison Weed, film cost and billing chief.

BBC's Light Entertainment Gets 50% Hike as Pix Oldies Get Brusheroo

'Hollywood Presents' Is Dropped by KTTV

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Motion picture studios' nixing of its contract producers and directors from appearing on television is responsible for the lopping of "Hollywood Presents" from the KTTV schedule.

Original format of "Hollywood, packaged by Ed Phillips, called for producers and directors to appear on the show as judges with an eye to casting talent in studio's pictures.

Phillips had to reverse format when studios clamped down on its contract personnel. Program switched to the use of freelance writers and directors. Station found this effective insofar as 'placing program talent in films and dropped the program.

Channel Slicing Stirs Philly Beef

Philadelphia's beef over being sliced a channel in the present very high frequency band, which would give it three, instead of four word give it three, instead of four VHF television stations, was carried to Congress last week. Sen. Francis J. Myers (D-Pa.) took the matter up with other members of the Committee on Interstate & Foreign Commerce and filed a protest with Acting Chairman Paul Walker of the FCC.

Myers told Walker that Chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) and Sen. Ernest W. McFarland (D-Ariz.) of the Committee agreed with him that "an obvious error" was committed in the proposed allocation. "It is no answer to suggest." he said, "that Philadelphia would receive additional ultra high channels in view of the fact that until such time as ultra high television transmission is fully developed the people of the Philadelphia area would be deprived of adequate competitive television service."

He said he felt that Philly and Parameteris

He said he felt that Philly and He said he felt that Philly and Pennsylvania generally are being seriously discriminated against by the proposed allocations. He pointed out that citles like Syracuse and Buffalo get as many VHF stations as Philly and that Washington, with a third of the population of Philly, gets four. He asked that the Commission "make every effort to remedy this patently unfair and discriminatory allocation."

The Senator said he realized

rriminatory allocation."

The Senator sald he realized that the Commission is planning to open up the UHF band so that every community can have a television station. But "what puzzles me," he declared, "is why the Commission proposes to delete one channel from a city the size of Philadelphia while New York, Chicago and Los Angeles would retain seven VHF channels."

Myers also wread Belok Keller

Myers also urged Ralph Kelly, prexy of the Philadelphia chamber of Commerce, to have his and other of Commerce, to have his and other civic organizations protest the allocation at hearings to be held Sepl. 26 before the Commission. If it is sufficiently shown that Philadelphia "does not intend to take this unfair discrimination against it without protest," he wrote Kelly, FCC will revise its proposal.

DuMont Labs 120% Hike

DuMont Labs 120% Hike

DuMont Labs, for the 24-week period ending June 19, reported net income after taxes of $1.779,587, an increase of 120% over the same period last year. Earnings represent 83c a share on common stock after preferred dividends, as compared to 40c per share in 1948, when the net income was $807,246.

DuMont sales increased 87%, with $18.486,856 this year, as against $9,827,192 in 1948. Statement did not break down the operating income between equipment and receiver sales and the broadcasting network. It is believed, however, that the DuMont web is still operating at a loss.

London, Aug. 2.

A 50% increase in program time for light entertainment on the British Broadcasting Corp.'s London TV service is to be introduced shortly as a result of reorientation of schedules.

Change has been brought about mainly because of the inability of the BBC to come to terms with the film industry for a supply of suitable product and many of the oldies that have been used in recent months have not had a good reception. In future their use will be severely restricted and will be kept mainly for standby purposes. With this object more use is to be made of the recently enlarged BBC film unit which, apart from concentrating on newsreels, is also going into the documentary field and producing interest shorts.

Despite reports to the contrary, the BBC is maintaining its Sun and producing interest shorts.

Despite reports to the contrary, the BBC is maintaining its Sunday night drama program which still remains the highspot of the service and attracts almost a 100% viewing public. Up to the present time light entertainment has been allocated around two evenings per week with programs usually lasting upwards of one hour. Present intention is to increase these to a minimum of three and possibly from time to time beyond that figure. minimum of three and possibly from time to time beyond that figure. This means of course that apart from afternoon transmissions half the program time will be allocated to vaude and similar forms of entertainment.

tertainment.
With the opening of the Birmingham station to serve the Midlands in November, the existing programs will reach a potential audience of millions. In the London area alone there are now around 175,000 TV receivers and production rate is increasing every week. It is confidently believed that there will be an equal demand among the public in the Midmand among the public in the Midland area.

Programs from London will be received in Birmingham either by coaxial cable or by radio link and, whenever the occasion demands, the reverse method will operate and programs transmitted from Birmingham will be received in London

Important aspect of this development is the extension of the BBC range for covering topical events and sporting fixtures, in-cluding football, cricket and rac-

Libby's 'Auction-Aire' For TV Seen Sparking Raft of Premium Shows

Kall of Fremum Jnows
Chicago, Aug. 9.
Libby's signing with ABC-TV for a 30 min. lottery-type show titled "Auction-Aire," to start early next month is expected to kick off a raft of premium shows based on the same format. The John Masterson package will give away expensive prizes on a "fustest with the mostest" basis, using Libby labels collected by customers.
Talent hasn't yet been set for the New York-screened production,

Talent hasn't yet been set for the New York-screened production. but it's expected a top notch emere of the Ralph Edwards type will be picked soon. Show will go on Fri-day nights in the 9 p.m. (EST) pe-

J. Walter Thompson agency. Chl., which handled the deal, is al-ready rubbing its hands over the anticipated "visual impact plus merchandising" appeal of the show Walter Thompson merchandising" appeal of the show format. Agency spokesmen said that "it might very well start a whole new trend in giveaways," because of the neat tie-in with sponsor promotion.

Some trouble getting a government okay was a factor in holding up the three-week old negotiations, but producer Masterson secured a post office opinion in the affirmative. As an agency man put it, "premiums are nothing new in business, and neither are giveaways new in television. We just combined the two."

109G TEX. TV BID

McAllen, Tex., Aug. 9.

Max Lutz. local buyer, shipper and seller of fresh fruits and vegetables and operating as the McAllen Television Co., has applied to the FCC for a license to operate a video outlet here Outlet would be built at a cost of $109,000.

TV TO PIX: 'HURRY, HURRY, HURRY'

East-West Bickering

Breakup of the talent unions' negotiations on the Coast last weekend, resulting in a stalemate on TV jurisdiction, is one more evidence of the continuing petty, intra-union bickering stemming from east-west jealousy and executive jockeying for power, installed topical samphile should be the continuing for power. ming from the property of the property of the jurisdictional squabble should have been fromed out at least a year ago. Meanwhile, actors are left holding the bag as difficult conditions in tele tend to crystallize into standard practice.

As a result, television remains in a state of uncertainty and hundreds from within the creative ranks of show biz can only sit and sweat it out.

TV Creating New Sports Fans Daily; Boxing Only Game Adversely Hit

Although television is creating new sports fans each day, boxing may be the only sport that won't prosper by it. That is the opinion of Les Arries, DuMont sports and special events chief, who this week blasted sports promoters who pin all their troubles on video.

all their troubles on video.

Even boxing's current troubles can't be biamed entirely on 'TV.

Arries thinks, although it may have a point in thinking video is not good for its gate. "TV." Arries said, "gives the home viewer too good a seat. You couldn't see the fight any better if you became the fourth in the ring. That factor, combined with the reluctance of some promoters to give the ticketcommone with the reluctance of some promoters to give the ticket-buying fans a break on good pro-motions and popular prices, is going to keep the folks away from the ring."

going to keep the folias away from the ring."

As for other sports, Arries thinks TV is the best thing that has happened to them in years. He cited DuMont's telecasts of N. Y. wresting bouts, which has unquestlonably turned the grunt-and-groan sport into a profitable setup; the Roller Derby in N. Y. and pro basketbaii in Washington. As for pro football, in which several teams have already banned video for the upcoming season, Arries cited (Continued on page 42)

(Continued on page 42)

Mary Pickford East For Buddy Rogers Pacting Of '49-50 TV-Radio Deal

Mary Pickford is slated to arrive in N. Y. from the Coast today (Wed.) to sit in on final huddles with Buddy Rogers, her husband, and his personal manager. Mal Boyd, on Rogers' radio-TV plans. Possibility exists that the latter may sign for a show that would require him and Miss Pickford to move to N. Y. If so, she wants to be present for the final negoliations.

Rogers, who starred in his own wants to be present for the final negotiations.

Rogers, who starred in his own video show on the Coast, has guested on a number of radio and TV programs during his current stay in N. Y. As a result of the guest shots, he has received bids from all the major networks and several agencies and indie package producers for permanent shows. Deal is expected to be set by tomorrow (Thursday).

It has been learned, meanwhile, that "Hollywood in Three Dimensions," packaged by Boyd and Robert Joseph and now aired over KTTV. Los Angeles, may be the next Coast-originated show kinescoped for national distribution Initial test kine was made under wraps Monday night (8) for agency and eastern CBS-TV viewing. Show, enceed by Alan Mowbray, has been on the air 12 weeks. It uses behind-the-scenes films of stars as a regular feature and also dramatized interviews with picture personalities.

D.C.'s TV Set Spurt

Mashington, Aug. 9.

Although the summer months were expected to be slow for video set sales here. July turned out to be the top month so far this year. with 4,700 receivers sold. Desire of buyers to get in under the new local sales tax, which went into effect Aug. 1, undoubtedly contributed to the July business which brought number of receivers in the metropolitan area to 55,700.

Prayer—TV Style

NBC-TV's "Swift Show" was forced to take the air Thursday night '4' with two hours ics than the customary studio rehearsal time because of a last-minute switch in studios, Cast and crew as a result Cast and crew, as a result, went on with no chance for the went on with no chance for the necessary dress rehearsal, with all concerned worried about the outcome. Director Ted Huston, alert-ing the cast before the show started from his studio control started from his studio control panel, was calling the time. "Gct ready," he said. "We have a minute-and-haif—a minute—45 seconds—30 sec-onds—Our Father who art in Heaven."

Talent Unions Stalemated On TV Jurisdiction

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Meetings of the various talent unions on television jurisdiction going on here the last eight days have recessed with plans to resume at a later date in N. Y. Confabhere apparently winds up in a stalemate on how to divide union control over TV films.

Paul Dullzell, prez of the Associated Actors and Artistes of America, announced the conference would be resumed after delegates have talked over problems with their respective exec boards (Continued on page 42)

Rockingham Races Nixed For Hub TV on Claim

Boston, Aug. 9.
Lou Smith, executive director of Rockingham Racetrack, in nearby Salem, N. II., has nixed the televising of races at the track in the forthcoming meet.

Smith declared, "I have no desire to help bookmakers in Boston. New York, Chicago and every area reached by television. The new medium has been a boon for illegal bookmakers, and, it doesn't seem to me that this was the original purpose of video."

ROMANCE H'WOOD

"You can't beat us so you'd better join us now." That's the approach that television is pitching to the film industry in an attempt to lure what it thinks may be a lucrative new group of advertisers into TV—and for the best interests of the nieture histings. of the picture business

Pitch is being based on three primary factors:

primary factors:

1. If it's true that television might hurt the film boxoffice, then the best way for the film industry to overcome that is by hitting home with its advertising at the roots—via TV trailers, spot campaigns, etc. In that way, according to the broadcasters, the film companies can reach directly the customers it should be most interested in reachshould be most interested in reach broadcasters. the film companies can reach directly the customers it should be most interested in reaching.

2 With all the talk now going on in the film industry about public relations, the companies are missing out on a good bet by not utilizing TV as a prime medium in its "we're not so bad" campaign. Video can help promote the film industry in a way that radio, newspapers, magazines, etc., have never been able to accomplish by presenting interesting behind-the-scenes programs about floillywood and its stars, in action.

3. TV offers also a major exploitation and ballyhoo medium for the film industry, one that has hardly been touched so far. By arranging for star interviews and letting personalities guest on TV shows in return for the standard letting personalities guest on TV shows in return for the standard cuffor plugs, the film companies would get a new and highly efficient exploitation medium.

"—But Nothing Happens"

According to the broadcasters, film toppers to date have been paying only lip service to video. They've been talking about making special TV trailers and about probling video's ballyhoo possibilities but to date it has been only talk. When the chips are down, film exces retreat behind their office doors with a mess of year-old statistics in an effort to show that video is still too young for their industry to honor with its cooperation. This attitude, according to TV spokesmen, is only another example of the "cutting off your nose" routine.

Backing up the "hurry, hurry, hurry, rurry, rurry pitch, broadcasters point out that the film companies may ample of the "cutting on your nose" routine.

Paul Dullzell, prez of the Assoiated Actors and Artistes of innerica, announced the conferince would be resumed after deletates have talked over problems (Continued on page 42)

Rockingham Races Nixed

For Hub TV on Claim

It's Boon for Bookmakers

Boston, Aug. 9.

You Smith executive director of the "cutting on your nose" routine.

Backing up the "hurry, hurry, hurry, hurry, purch, broadcasters point out that the film companies may already have missed the boat as far as spot campaigns are concerned. Other major advertisers have converted the available spot market into a hot hidding ground, with the result that the best spot times are already sold out. It is impossible at this time, for example, to buy spots adjacent to any of the big TV shows, such as Millon Berle's "Texaco Star Theatre," (Continued on page 40)

WOR SETS CLIENTS FOR TV PACKAGES

smith declared. "I have no desire to help bookmakers in Boston, New York, Chicago and every area reached by television. The new medium has been a boon for illegal bookmakers, and, it doesn't seem to me that this was the original purpose of video."

TV's '1,001 Nights'

New half-hour television program that would incorporate original words and music into book musicals each week is being packaged by indie publicist Don Giesy. Titled "1,001 Nights." the show will be written by Edmond and Alexander Cadoux, who have already finished six complete programs in the series.

Giesy is now dickering with Bambi Lynn for the femme lead, Chorcography may be staged by Pauline Koner. Show would be the second to present original music and lyrics each week, with Arthur Schwartz planning the same technique for his upcoming "Inside U.S.A. with Chevrolet" show on CBS-TV.

NEW STRATEGY TO ABC-TV's 'Non-Expendable' Layout Seen Establishing Low-Cost Pattern

Wynn vs. Berle

wynn vs. Berle
Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Continued rivalry between comédlans Ed Wynn and Milton Berle is being carried over into television.
Questioned here last week on the format of his upcoming CBS-TV program, Wynn declared, "Something old, something new, nothing harrawed clared, "Something old, some-thing new, nothing borrowed, nothing blue." As a persistent critic of Berle's alleged litting of gags, Wynn is believed on the "nothing borrowed" to have referred specifically to the Texaco emcee.

Canada Sets Sept. Parley to Thrash Out TV Hurdles

Toronto, Ang. 9.
In an effort to clarify the previously dormant and wait-and-see policy of television in Canada and get the new medium more quickly functioning in this country, the newly-appointed Royal Commission on Culture has set four days, commencing Sept. 6, when meetings will be held in Toronto to permit the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. and the Canadian Assn. of Broadcasters to present their respective cases.

with television here a hot political potato inasmuch as the CBC is the Federal-appointed body handling nationalized radio in Canada against the opposition of some 90 privately-owned stations, the Canadian government has passed on the solution of the gigantic task to the Royal Commission headed by Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian ambassador to Washington. (He is the brother of Raymond Massey, stage and screen star). Vincent Massey's chief henchman in the four-man Royal Commission is Father Levesque, who has just returned to Canada after studying television developments in Britain. France, Switzerland and Denmark. France, Switzerland and Denmark. The complaint of the indepen-

(Continued on page 34)

Swift's $1,000,000 TV Plunge to Be Analyzed As Guide for Future

After almost three years of experimenting with various television formats, which ranged through practically the entire program lineup, Swift & Co. bowed off the air last Thursday night (4) to assimilate the knowledge gained to assimilate the knowledge gained during that time. McCann-Erickson tele chief Lee Cooley, who produced most of the shows, left for Detroit and Chicago Monday (8) to take complete reports on most of the shows to the Swift homeoffice. Meat packing outfit is not expected to return to the air until after the next fiscal year.

next fiscal year.

According to Cooley, Swift budgeted $1,000,000 to be spent for TV experimentation during the three-year period and the agency stayed well within that." Noting that the various Swift programs that the various Swift programs had pioneered on many techniques which have since been picked up by other broadcasters, Cooley said that results of the experiments have not yet been collated. While the programs have paid off in Increased products ales for various Swift products, he said it would take at least 90 days for the agency and client to discuss the reports thoroughly.

After several test programs on NBC-TV. Swift took the air in May, 1947, with the daytime "Swift Home Service Club" on that web, (Continued on page 40)

(Continued on page 40)

Unveiling of the ABC Television Centre in N. Y., due to bow with official fanfare in the next few weeks, shows the reduced-cost advantages of large site designed specifically for video. The west 66th Street building, a former riding academy, is resulting in streamlined operations and mass-production techniques that are cutting many costs below those of other webs, ABC toppers claim, Its layout will serve as a model for ABC's Coast tele piant and may become a blueprint for other video operations.

for ABC's Coast tere plant and may become a blueprint for other video operations.

ABC-TV can handle its shows with 35 stagehands, compared to double that number required by another network, according to Charles Holden, production manager. The reason, he says, is that tele requires horizontal space, while NBC-TV is in a vertical sky-scraper and consequently needs to paint some sets in hallways, break them down into pieces to fit small elevators and reassemble them in the studios.

Unlike a Radio City operation, the TV centre has high cellings, big load limits on floors, 16-foot elevators and better fire regulations.

lations.

Biggest Pairt Rig

Typical of ways in which space and planning can axe costs is a $13.000 mechanical rig, the biggest in N. Y., which covers a wall 30 by 50. feet. A 50-foot elevator, controlled by push button, enables painters to finish a large backdrop in one-eighth the time of men

Refusal of Film Experts To Move East for TV Poses Producer Problem

Reluctance of Hellywood talent to leave their swlmming pools for television work in New York is also being felt by indie TV film producers working in the east. According to Lars Calonius, prez of the recently formed Archer Productions, the best film cameramen, technicians, animators, etc., are on the Coast but all the top ad agencies, and thus TV business, is in the east. And, because the film experts cannot be lured east by even top salary offers, the producers have run up against quite a problem. a problem.

Archer recently finished a set of animated cartoons spots for Chevrolet dealers and a series of live commercials for Chevys's central office, which are to be integrated into all TV shows sponsored by Chevy through the Campbell-Ewald agency. Animation staffers have all had considerable experience with Walt Disney studios, with Calonius himself having worked for Disney since 1935, along with Hai Ambro, also an Archer staffer. Others on the staff include writer Carl Failberg and Tom Craven, formerly an executible world. Archer recently finished a set of Films.

Outfit is now conducting color tests on animated characters and backgrounds over TV monitors to determine color values best suited for transmission, pending the arrival of color video. In addition to contracts for a series of filmed commercials for top clients next season, Archer will also work on dramatic films.

HARLAN THOMPSON TO PRODUCE WYNN SHOW

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Harlan Thompson, onetime
Broadway musical figure and late head of IMPPRO, television packagers, has been taken on the CBSTV staff by Harry Ackerman and will be associate producer of the Ed Wynn show for Speidel.
Seriés kicks off live here Sept.
20, with the kine being run off in N. Y. Oct. 6 for the CBS skein. It marks the first big commercial show to go east from here on recorded film.

KATE SMITH CALLS With Ted Collins Producer: Collins Director: John Cleary 105 Mins., 9 p.m., Mon. Sustaining ABC, from Lake Placid, N. Y.

ABC, from Lake Placid, N. 1.
Kate Smith's new ABC show is short, or rather stunted, on entertainment values and long on its anxiety to build up an audience via the state of t anxiety to build up an audience via giveaways. It runs from 9 to 10 p.m. and from 10:15 to 11 Monday evenings and the chances are it will have a difficult time gathering a Hooper, even with the handouts. There's too many other shows handing out valuable bric-a-brac.

RADIO REVIEWS

handing out valuable bric-a-brac.

Miss Smith's Initial broadcast, assisted by her partner, manager and mentor. Ted Collins, was done from her Lake Placid home. That neans a minimum of production costs since it involves only the rather weak palaver the two generate, recordings, vocals by Miss Smith and a pianist-accompanist. Occasionally there's a vocal by the singer with full-band background. It's not explained by Collins that the source is one of Miss Smith's recordings. It's implied that the chore is live.

Contest angle is covered thusly:

Contest angle is covered thusly. Miss Smith sings a tune, usually an old one, and a few minutes later is on the phone with a listener, apparently forewarned, asking a question relative to the plot or the lines of the lyrie. If a correct answer is given, a prize such as a kitchen range is awarded plus a crack at a jackpot worth $15,000. This conundrum is to identify after a word description, an outstanding name. The description is rather vaguely given and so is the questions Miss Smith asks relative to the prejackpot query.

All in all, the new show contains Jackpot query.

All in all, the new show contains a minimum of idea and a minimum of entertainment that might keep anyone other than those forewarned that they're to be called, tuned to ABC.

Wood.

VIC BARNES NEWS
With Vic Barnes
15 Mins, Mon.-Fri., 7 p.m.
CHICAGO FEDERATION OF LABOR
WCFL, Chicago

Vie Barnes is another newscaster who reads press dispatches with a minimum of editorializing, thus leaving listeners with, a choice of opinions on the day's news. However, Barnes manages to weigh his dispatches with enough labor news so that his sponsor, the Chi Fed. of Labor, winds up happy with the effect.

Ontside of a busky, authoritative voice, there is not much distinction between his delivery and many other newscasters. Several oral slips were discernible, but Barnes caught then and recovered in time to keep the listeners on the beam.

to keep the listeners on the beam. While there's a lot to be said for his school of thought re newscasting, i.e. to present the facts and let the listener decide for himself, the complete lack of personal and group opinion presents a danger in liself. The diaders might well end up with no opinion at all, which situation doesn't lend itself to an Informed and alert citizenery.

Mart.

BILL & VAN With Bill Pope, Bill Van Steenberg 60 Mins.: Mon.-thru-Sat., 8 a.m. PARTICIPATING WOKO, Albany

WOKO. Albany

New team monitors a musical clock on a block long handled by singles. Their first joint venture holds promise of better things, when they polish rough spots, develop a tighter format, build up the public service phase and improve nike play. Program ran too slow and too talky the first week. Possibly Bill Pope and Bill Van Steenberg were trying to avoid the bongy approach familiar to show of the kind hereabouts: if so, they leaned too much in the opposite direction.

Start of several broadcasts dragged noticeably, as the boys verbally fenced in a light vein Stanzas gained speed when Pope—originally paired with George verbally fenced in a light vein. Stanzas gained speed when Pope—originally paired with George Miller on a WGY sports program and later his partner for WPTR sportseasts—swung Into the sports department. He could build up the baseball scores, tennis-golf news, etc., vila brief commentaries, spotlighting of area professional baseball and possibly Saratoga August racing, plus interviews.

Pope possesses a fair voice and easy air personality. Van Steenberg, who has one of the most pleasingly modulated set of pipes hereabouts, registers at three-quarter mark with a poem. His specialty at WPTR and WBCA, he reads poetry well.

Pope and Van Steenberg sell the commercials—four sponsors—persuasively.

Jaco.

MARTIN KANE, PRIVATE EYE With William Gargan; announcer With William Garage.
Fred Uttal
Writer-director: Ted Hediger
30 Mins.: Sun., 4:30 p.m.
U. S. TOBACCO CO.
MBS, from New York
(Kuducr)
Private Eye

(Kuduer)

"Martin Kane, Private Eye" is a routine whodunit thriller with William Gargan in the title role, Initial show Sunday (7) was fairly interesting although the situations were often telegraphed. This transcribed series is not spotted too advantageously on Mutual's time slate for two other half-hour mystery shows immediately precede it and another detective drama even follows it.

Presumably most dialers who follows it.

Presumably most dialers who have been anchored to their MBS station all afternoon will be well satiated with shootings, corpses and sundry sound effects by the time "Martin Kane" reaches the scene. However, dyed-in-the-wool crime yarn addicts will find adequate, though not outstanding entertainment. in Gargan's adventures.

Inaugural installment had the film actor gumshoeing through an international snuggling case which drew most of its suspense from a murder at a Long island house party. Gargan was forceful as the private investigator while the unbilled supporting cast was competent. Plugs for U. S. Tobacco's tour brands of smoking mixtures were relatively modest. Gilb.

STARS OVER TEXAS
With Lynn Cole, Buster Bryan,
K. Burt Sloan and Orch
Producer: Buster Bryan
15 Min. Mon.thru-1r., 6:15 p.m.
GULF BREWING CO.
WOAI, San Antonio

WOAI, San Antonio

For the past nine years 'Headliner Time' has been heard three times weekly from the studios of KPRC, Houston, and member stations of the Texas Quality Network under the sponsorship of the Gulf Brewing Co., bottlers of Grand Prize Beer. This opus is being heard nightly over the same web and varies from the old program in that it is a straight musical show teaturing favorite western and folk music. Airing is smartly paced in musical fare and coming at the dinmer hour should blend well with the musical taste of Texans and make them stock up on the brew.

Program marks the return of

make them stock up on the brew.

Program marks the return of Ixnn Cole, bartione soloist to Texas airways. He was at one time teatured on "Headliner Time" and for the past two years has been in Hollywood where he was featured on NBC and CBS and also recorded for Capitol Records. His voice shows the added polish of network and recording work. Can sell a ballad well and is at home on the lyrics of any type melody. Best on airing caught was "Don't See Me in You're Eyes." Good too was his rendition on "I Tipped My Hat" and "Lopin Side the Lazy Rio Grande" an original song written by Steve Wilhelm, former narrator on "Headliner Time."

ten by Steve Wilhelm, tormer narrator on "Headliner Time."

K. Burt Sloan and his orch lend good musical support to Colc.
Original theme melody "Stars over Texas" was written for the series by Sloan. A good old fashioned fiddle breakdown featured Hank and his fiddle was well played.

Bill Bryan doubles as producer and m.c. of the airings and turns in as usual a high calibre job. The musical background to the G-R-A-N-D P-R-1-Z-E spelling is novel and ear arresting. The informal chatting with Cole by Bryan is well handled and lends itself to a homey type of airings.
There are two commercials, well spaced apart and not too overlong.

Andy.

CANTOR'S ECA SHOW SET FOR U. S. RELEASE

Paris, Aug. 9. On the eye of sailing home on the Queen Mary. Eddie Cantor transcribed a broadcast to be re-leased in the U.S. on Sept. 1 on beleased in the U.S. on Sept. I on behalf of the European Cooperation Administration. Aim is to counteract the propaganda against spending heavy dough to help the Continent get back on its feet economically.

Comic, vitally interested in sup-porting the Marshall Plan as a means to preserve peace, refused to accept any money either for his work or expenses.

Script was written by William N. Script was written by William N. Robson. who came up from the Riviera for the waxing. Session was attended by Ed Gruskin, ECA radio head. Ben Smith and Allen Oakes. who acted as announcers, and Barbara Rurup, of ECA radio staff. Studio used was that of Paris Radio Productions, the new Pierre Grimblat organization.

EVANS SHOWCASE With Carl Moore, Gloria Carroll, Salvy Cavvichio, Evansaires and Frank Bell orch; Tom Russell, announcer Producer: Ray Giradin 30 mins., Sat. 8:30 p.m. EVANS LIGHTER CO. WEEL Boston

EVANS LIGHTER CO.

WEEI, Boston
Proof that the Hub can come up with a good listenable musical stanza is this half-hourer currently being broadcast from the stage of, RKO's Memorial and other houses on the circuit. Sparked by the Hub fave, gravel-voiced Carl Moore, show includes some of WEEI's best known talent and is rapidly shaping as a topflight airer.
Comic Moore, a master of the zany, and a trigger fast m.c., guides the show with solid competence and takes over a couple of spots to sing some of the ridiculous songs that are his trademark. At show caught he sang "A Farmer's Conversation by the visual audience, and followed with shule" with solid reaction by the visual audience, and followed with the oldie "Merry Oldsmobile" with an assist by Gloria Carroll, Others who grabbed solo spots were Salvy Cavvichio, a xylophone wiz, the singing trio, and Miss Carroll, who does a neat job on the pops.
Commercials are handled taste-

phone wiz, the singing trio, and Miss Carroll, who does a neat job on the pops.

Commercials are handled tastefully with the accent on a $2,500 contest to name a new Evans lighter, and the audience response to the package is pleuty sock. The show debuted at Memorial Theatre about six wecks ago and has done much to hypo biz at the various houses it has played. Heard throughout the New England area through an 11-station Columbia hookup, it's the first live audience production show to hit town since First National Bank dropped its Opera House shows with Arthur Fiedler. Stanza adds up to good entertainment and should do the job it was designed for, namely sell Evans lighters.

Elie.

ADVENTURES IN TRAVEL With Henry Milo Writer-Producer: Milo 15 Mins.; Wed., 10:45 p. m. Sustaining WINS, N. Y.

For vacationers looking for travel tips, this show will prove interesting. Henry Milo, program conductor, has a wide range of info about near and far-off places which is supplemented by guests from travel agencies, shipping companies and mag publications. The is suppremented by guests from travel agencies, shipping com-panies and mag publications. The data, however, is retailed in a rambling style with too much com-mercial enthusiasm and not enough critical discrimination.

On a recent show. Richard critical discrimination.

On a recent show. Richard Joseph, Esquire travel editor, and E. I'yron Bull, prexy of the Bull Line, plugged the Caribbean area in general and the Bull Line in particular as vacation possibilities. Much of the descriptive material unfortunately, was marred by a corny, travelog flavor. Herm.

Radio Followup

Ethel Merman's new NBC variety show (9:30 p.m.) Sunday evenings is still tied down by a thin scripting format that fails to make full use of the star's unusual talents. Past broadcast (7) was a hodge-podge of situations, gags and weakly-excused performances of standard tunes with which Miss Merman has been associated in her long string of Broadway musicals. All told, the 30 minutes amounted to good effort, no satisfaction.

But, long after the final minutes the impression persists that somewhere in the show is the germ of an idea which could be weeded and nursed to Miss Merman's benefit in radio. She's a clever comedienne and that metallic monotone in which se sings and talks offers a great deal of opportunity, It simply isn't being used. This show was brightly written, offering some sharp lines in spots, but sunk into a basic pattern that misses fire.

into a basic pattern that misses fire.

Perhaps the fault of the writer and producer lies in attempting to couple their efforts to Miss Merman's past in musical comedy, to use that as a springboard or an excuse to show her. That's not necessary. It could be that her talent could be employed in a dumb dame role, or by widening the idea behind the one or two of the sketches used on the past week's broadcast, which were broad slapstick. At any rate, while Miss Merman's new show has little beside the singer's stendard vocals, she has possibilities.

Hartford — Walter Johnson, WTIC assistant g.m. has been named first vice president of the Hartford Advertising Club. During the past year, Johnson served as the club's second veepee and chairman of its public service and public relations committee.

BETWEEN US GIRLS
With Louise King, Earl Nightingale, Harold Kartun orch Writer: Charles Romine Producer: Jerry Dee
15 Mins.; Mon.-Fri., 2:30 p.m.
MUNTZ TV
WBBM, Chicago

Louise King is the best thing about this musical mid-afternoon alrer, but only when she's singing. Program gives her a chance to uncork one of the better femme voices in Chi radio.

Show gets off to a shaky start in the title "Between Us Girls" followed by patter between Miss King and a male announcer, in this case Earl Nightingale, which must put him in a dubious situation.

On show caught, Miss King warbled nicely on "How It Lies," "The Man I Love," "Somebody Loves Me," and "There's Yes, Yes, in Your Eyes." Harold Kartun orch interspersed with a halting version of "Laura."

orch interspersed with a hairing version of "Laura."

Attempt at conversation between numbers consisted mainly of Miss King dishing out a fairly snide menu of advice to boys interested in girls.

If more thought went into keeping this show musical and less into being amusing, it would be a pleasant afternoon break in the soaper routine. Program sked calls for Marty Hogan to handle the Tues. & Thurs. shows for sponsor, Muntz TV, with a staff announcer taking the Mon.-Wed.-Fri. shows until Aug. 22, when "Girls" goes wholly commercial with Robert Hall Clothing taking the Mon.-Wed.-Fri. periods.

Mart.

Fri. periods.

Mart.

LET'S HAVE FUN
With Hank Grant, emcee; Holland
Engle, announcer
Director: Hunt Downs
30 Mins., Mon.-Fri., 12 (noon)
GOLDBLATT'S
WGN, Chicago
This is a giveaway staged in the sponsor's downtown store studio with audience participation, songs, and a phone quiz. Emcee Hank Grant, heartily echoed by announcer Holland Engle, merges the brassier features of Ralph Edwards and Bob Hawk in a big, fast, noisy show.

It's the type of program that will appeal to a horde of women shoppors, resting their aching feet between bargain grabs. Nevertheless, so much of the personal approach is lost on the radio sets that listeners get a maximum of noisy confusion and a minimum of active entertainment.

Grant is a capable emcee, and does a glib job of kidding the participants. But an unnecessary amount of belly-laughing by an nouncer Engle after every sally drowns out listener appreciation.
Commercial plugs are shouted in a barker style that get on a person's nerves.

Trouble with this program is that it's a direct takeoff on 'Truth

a barker style that get on a part of the son's nerves.

Trouble with this program is that it's a direct takeoff on "Truth Or Consequences," and not delivered half so well. It needs a fresh angle. Grant and "Fun" have something here that's a hybrid by Hawk out of Edwards, but in this case, it doesn't improve the species.

Mart.

Canada—TV

Continued from page 33

dent radio stations is that they are prepared to sink and gamble several million dollars of their own money in Canadian television but that the CBC wishes to extend their present monopoly in the radio field to the new entertainment medium. The CBC has refused television licenses to Famous Players (Canadian): CKEY, Toronto; CFRB, Toronto; and the Marconi interests in Montreal; though these groups insist that they are prepared to take a heavy investment-flier. Mcanwhile, the Federal-operated CBC is expected to get the green light on a $4,000,000 Federal government grant which will permit the CBC to establish a television station in Toronto and another in Montreal as the nucleus of a video setup to parallel the pregent CBC radio setup of a French-language network and two trans-Canada networks.

On those four-day meetings, to commence Sept. 6, with the CBC already has in the present nationalized radio monopoly and which, understandably, might be extended to television in Canada.

Lubbock, Tex. — Leroy Land program manager for KCBD here has been appointed commercial manager for the outllet replacing George Toale who has resigned to enter private industry.

Bond in this subdiction, and the big independents presenting their briefs, will devolve the decisions of the Royal Commission; plus the "in" that the CBC already has in the present nationalized radio monopoly and which, understandably, might be extended to television in Canada.

Lubbock, Tex. — Leroy Land program manager for KCBD here has been appointed commercial manager for the outlet replacing George Toale who has resigned to enter private industry.

CLEVELAND SUMMER SYM-PHONY
With Cleveland Orchestra, Director Rudolph Ringwall, Hal Morgan, announcer Producer: Wayne Mack
30 Mins., Wed., 10:30 p. m.
WGAR. Cleveland
WGAR follows the Lewisohn
Concerts with 30 minutes of transcribed music from the Cleveland
Summer Pops. The program, picked up earlier in the evening, is directed with expert finesse by giving just enough of the back-ground to spice the audience's attention.
The light music, following the heavier "longhair" network show, makes for a very pleasant summer night's listening. Hal Morgan at the announcer's mike and Wayne Mack at the producer's end tie in Mark.

DESIGN FOR LIVING

DESIGN FOR LIVING With Harriet Rabe, guests 15 Mins., Sun., 2:15 p.m. Sustaining WROW, Albany

15 Mins., Sun., 2:15 p.m.
Sustaining
WROW, Albany
Program incorporates a sound idea, but shaky radio technique mars its projection. Harriet Rabe, formerly associated with Columbia Univ. and an intelligent woman with definite ideas and opinions, gushes too much and laughs too shrilly for easy listening, whether it be in interviews with guests or in discussions of their "design for happy living."
Femme dialers may be particularly critical of her. Miss Rabe mist tone down, ease up and talk less. Trait of asking a question and giving her own opinion before the guest answers needs to be curbed,
too.

An interview with Jonathan Lueas, appearing at the Crandell theatre in nearby Chatham and scheduled to play in the new George Abbott show, unfolded a lively story — despite side excursions by Miss Rabe. Lucas, who competes with Jeffrey Lynn for the rating of the most persuasive male strawhatter heard on the air hereabouts this season, reported that as holder of a degree in psychology from Southern Methodist, he had worked on the secretarial end of the famed Kinsey Report.
Another exchange, with a woman member of an artists organization turning out Christmas cards, also had moments, but the gals overgabbed and over-laughed. The "design for happy living" segment could be expanded.

ABC-TV Continued from page 33

working on the floor. To hang the backdrops there is $19,000 worth working on the floor. To hang the backdrops there is $19,000 worth of counterbalanced lines in the blg main studio. This capital investment. Holden believes, will pay for itself within a year by allowing for assemblyline creation of scenery.

Scenery.

Because of the ample storage facilities, Holden has devised a "non-expendable" system of set production. All flats, platforms, backdrops, doors, windows, etc. are made in standardized units which

Tele Follow-Up Comment

"Enter Madame," a pleasant little farce, was given a good ride on "Philco Summer Playhouse" Sunday night (7) via NBC-TV. Story of a fiamboyant opera star and her attempts to save her marriage, the play was excellently acted by Carol Goodner as the diva and Philip Bourneuf as her husband. Comedy, penned by Gilda Varesi and Dolly Byrne and adapted for video by Fred Coe, who also produced, held little suspense, telegraphing its happy ending from the first scene. But the thesping, production and direction were good enough to maintain interest. Madame," interest.

tion were good enough to maintain interest.

Miss Goodner and Bourneuf were given a fine assist by the supporting cast. Beverly Payne was sufficiently domineering as the other woman and Henry Barnard shone as the diva's son. Beauteous Rita Colton showed promise as his fiancee and Miss Goodner's menage of servants, played by Lilli Valenty, Joseph Kallini and Jasom Johnson, were standout. Show was played against the usually lush Phileo mountings and well directed by Gordon Duff. Sponsor and the Hutchins ad agency displayed fine showmanship in their introduction of the new 1950 TV receivers for the first time on the program. on the program.

Last week's DuMont "Playhouse Last week's DuMont "Playhouse" presentation, a video adaptation of a Michael Sklar script, "Dead of Night," was strictly amateur programming. Both the acting and direction were of a quality not calculated to advance the cause of television. At times it was downright embarrassing to watch what was going on.

It's been established that there's a definite place in TV for dramatic fare and that, under proper auspices and with good casting, it can receive superlative treatment. At this stage of the game there's little place left for the low-quality programming as exemplified last week on this DuMont showcase. last week on this DuMont showcase.

Jack Carter is punching too hard as emcee of DuMont's "Cavalcade of Stars" but, as straight vaudeo, this show is steadily building in pace and quality. Saturday night's (6) layout ran off neatly with a noster of good, standard acts with Henny Youngman as headliner. Youngman's string of gags was uneven but, overall, his impact was okay in a straight comedic vein. Milton Berle, incidentally, received about a half-dozen plugs between Carter and Youngman who find that the mere mention of Berle's name is good for a laugh.

Rest of the bill included the standout acro-balancing of Vic & Adio and two neat hoofing teams in Three Business Men of Rhythm and Mary Raye & Naldi. Nitery and legit songstress Joan Merrili scored strongsty with a torch ballad while Ethel Smith, on the organ, rounded out the show with some farey instrumentation.

First full use of television's splitscreen for a dramatic show came off technically without a hitch on NBC-TV's "Lights Out" Tuesday night (2). Half-hour stanza, based on Harry Junkin's "Long Distance" radio script, Half-hour stanza, based in its story of a wife making a desperate last-minute_attempt to stay her busband's execution. But despite the fine technical work, story and generally good acting, the impression remained that the show would have had even more sock on radio. Those mental images than can be evoked by such a script First full use of television's split-

Cutain was rung down on three straight years of Swift-sponsored television shows Thursday night leevision shows the following the producer Lee Cooley's intricate TV producer Lee Cooley and project Leanny Ross, featured hongstress Martha Wright and the songstress Martha Wright and projected and projected neatly his amiable personality. Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality. Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality. Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality. Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality. Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality. Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personality. Same went for Miss personality Same went for Miss personal

Robert Q. Lewis, subbing for the star on "Arthur G od frey & Friends" Wednesday night (3) via CBS-TV, had a smash show for the first half of the hour-long stanza, introducing enough novelty and iliarity into the script to rate him his own TV spot when Godfrey returns. But the show's second half slumped via some poor scripting and Lewis' apparent tiredness, and it became just another vaudeo presentation with little punch. This was despite the efforts of Benny Fields in the closing spot, who showed nowhere near his usual top form because of too-heavy attempt at nostalgia.

That first 30 minutes, though, presented a mark for many established comedians to shoot at. The was loaded with yockful material, including a fade-in on a simulated Metro trademark, with Lewis in the lion's spot; a very funny satire on Milton Berle's Texaco show, replete with the Mariners' Quartet as the four Texaco men, and a well-managed monolog by Lewis a la Berle. Also smash was a recording of Godfrey's voice, cut in advance, which Lewis mouthed in synch with the tisk. But, that was it. Balance of the program, including the Mariners, Janette Davis and Bill Lawrence, all Godfrey regulars; Paul Remos and His Toy Boys; Cyril Smith, and Art Carney, was pleasant but average viewing.

Fields might have been okay if he'd done a couple of complete tunes but the "and-then-I sang" routine, based on Lewis' leafing through his book of clippings, did not make it.

"Mama," CBS-TV's situation comedy series picked up Maxwell

"Mama," CBS-TV's sit u at i on comedy series, picked up Maxwell House as a sponsor Friday night 15) while continuing the top-quality standards of production and acting set for the show as a sustainer. Series is based on Kathryn Forbes' novel, "Mama's Bank Account," from which the legit and film versions of "I Remember Mama" were adapted, and is unofficially referred to by CBS exes as the "Scandinavian Goldbergs." Title might be apt, since the show has the same warmth and intimacy that put "Goldbergs" among the top TV 10.

Title might be apt, since the show has the same warmth and intimacy that put "Goldbergs" among the Ty TV 10.

Friday night's program presented a well-scripted story of the near-catastrophe that almost hits the family when "Papa" decides to go into the contracting business on his own to give his children the advantages a nouveau-riche neighbor is bragging about. Cast, with Peggy Wood as "Mama" and Judson Laire as "Papa," was uniformly excellent. Production by Ralph Nelson and Carol Irwin and Nelson's direction were standout. Commercials were woven neatly into the script as part of the diary being penned by Rosemary Rice as the daughter. Maxwell House and Benton & Bowles ad agency on the account, wisely confined the plugs to the opening and closing spots, letting the story run its course.

with Bert Parks on a two-week vacation, Jimmy Blaine has moved into the emcee spot on ABC-TV's "Stop the Music." Blaine, a tall, young Kansan who is the regular male vocalist on the bonanza stanza, turned in a fair job. He kept strictly to the pattern Parks has set—maintaining a rapid-fire tempo in his telephonic chatter with contestants, injecting himself into the acts and warbling a couple of tunes. Although he started off a bit nervously, he warmed up to the multitudinous chores and carried them off well. He was glib and personable, particularly in a production number or "Schnitzelbank." And with Dennis James (Continued on page 40)

(Continued on page 40)

FAIR EXCHANGE Producer: Mary D. Chase Director: Lee Hall 30 Mins.; Fri., 6:30 p.m. Sustaining WNHC-TV, New Haven

This Connecticut hamlet, long recognized as an ace breakin spot for pre-Broadway legit, added another facet to its tryout setup when it premiered this new tele series as a warnup for eventual potential national sponsorship headquartering out of New York. Taking a leaffrom the current legit springboard plan that finds it an economic advantage to launch prospects via the strawhat circuit rather than the more expensive metropolitan layout, this newcomer which had been conceived and prepared in Gotham was transported here bag and baggage for its premiere at a saving of considerable shekels.

Preem Fri. (5) provided an exrecognized as an ace breakin spot

ing of considerable shekels.

Preem Fri. (5) provided an excellent showcase of program's possibilities, these being something well worth a sponsor's close scrutiny. Capable of production on a shoestring, aside from station charges, show involves no paid talent, participants being voluntary moments, and even giveaways are moppets, and even giveaways are promoted via the free plug system. Programs require practically no rehearsal and entries are procured at a minimum of expense simply by mail application.

and a minimum of expenses simply mail application.

Ilalf-hour show gets a surprising amount of action into a formula that requires no settings whatever—just two rows of kids semicircled around an m.c. Participants have brought with them various articles they want to swap with each other. Resulting banter and barter lends itself to a wide scope of audience reaction ranging from comedy involving one tot hawking her white mouse, to a case of sympathy for a lad who persistently tries to dispose of a book, with no takers. Idea presents tremendous appeal for youngsters seeking participation and provides enterparticipation and provides enter-taining viewing for adult, as well as kid, audience.

as kid, audience.
First show came over smoothly, with only minor technical short-comings. Camera and mike well handled, former having to buck an awkward floor-seating arrangement that sometimes hid the articles being swapped. Tom Romano turned in a capable job as m.c., with the kids taking kindly to his style of verbal exchange.

Tentative plans call for national carries are considered to the construction of the constructi rentail exchange.

Tentative plans call for national sponsorship tied in with approximately 13 local outlets on a basis whereby national sponsor would foot time charges and local sponsor would pick up tab for individual bood with the contraction of the contrac local production. Bone.

MIXED DOUBLES With Billy Idelson, Ada Friedman, Rhoda Williams, Eddy Fire-stone, Calvin Thomas Producer-director-writer: Carleton E. Morse 30 Mins.; Fri., 9 p. m.

E. Morse
30 Mins.; Fri., 9 p. m.
Sustaining
NBC-TV. from N. Y.

"Mixed Doubles," while not a yock-filled situation comedy, comes across as an entertaining light drama with good possibilities. Dealing with the trials of young married life, it avoids many of the clickes by locusing on characterization.-rather than time-honored brouides.

Story has two newlywed couples living side by side in one-room apartments. The men are both underpaid copywriters in the same ad agency and their wives are hard put to make ends meet on their seanty pay checks. Similarity of their situations requires imaginative scripting and direction differentiate between the pairs, and this Carleton Morse has been able to do. Billy Idelson plays a hypochondriac, unaggressive breadwinner with Ada Friedman cast as his serious homemaker. For contrast, Eddy Firestone is a healthy go-getter and Rhoda Williams the more glamorous, frivolous spouse.

On the preem '5) both males were competing for a promotion

On the preem (5) both

MaxBowles.

Wisely
pening series of the preem (5) both males were competing for a promotion on the job, with the result that estory on-week moved to move the job, with the result that on the job,

EVALYN TYNER SHOW
With Ted Alexander and Johnny
Smith; George Duffy, Drucle
Snyder
Producer: George Hill
30 Mins.; Fri., 10 p.m.
Sustaining
WMAL-TV, Washington, D. C.
Evalyn Tyner, local gai who has nade good on the hig fime, returns to home base to headfilm town's first regularly scheduled telecast from a local hotel. Show originates from the plush Embassy Room of the Statler Hotel, with both station and the Statler reaping benefits from the arrangement.
Miss Tyner is above criticism in

Miss Tyner is above criticism in her performance on the ivories. Fortunately for video, besides being a consummate artist, and a versatile one, she is also a visual one. There is constant interest in being a consummate artist, and a versatile one, she is also a visual one. There is constant interest in her playing for the cycs as well as the ears. Her hands, her face, and even her feet are part of it. It is to the credit of the cameramen who man the pair of camerasthat they manage to get it all in. The TV audience actually gets a better view of all the factors that go into this gal's hep piano playing than the live audience in the room. In addition, the video camera does better by Miss Tyner's lively personality than the still camera, which is generally unfattering to her. Some shots, of course, do not show pianist in hest light, but general effect is good.

Format of program, now in its fourth week, is still being juggled around by producer George Hill. Up to now, star has emceed her own numbers giving it a homey, informal touch. However, tripling as musician, emcee and interviewer is strenuous, and probably accounts for the occasional breathlessness.

is strenuous, and probably accounts for the occasional breathlessness

as musician, emcee and interviewer is strenuous, and probably accounts for the occasional breathlossness in Miss Tyner's voice. Plan to switch to announcer for straight announcing chores may help.

With la Tyner are her "regulars," Ted Alexander, who handles the vocals and the violin cello, and Johnny Smith, drummer. The trio have been working together here for years, and operate smoothly as a team. Alexander's vocals are pleasant, and he is photogenic to boot. Cameras switch from face to face and instrument to instrument to add variety. Interesting gimmick is that audience is assured it is never televised, an angle that has been kidded by local press as protection for two timers. There's no question, however, that telecast, with resultant excitement of the cameras, the truck parked outside for the remote pick up etc., has all hypoed biz on what is normally the dullest night of the week.

Sidelight of the program is the between-balves interview.

nypoed biz on what is normally the dullest night of the week.

Sidelight of the program is the between-halves interview. Plan is to accent show biz, rather than government personalities. Latter are taken care of in the informal Tyner chitchat, with the inevitable, "And over there is Sen. So-And-So." Guests at last telecast (5) were George Duffy, the Statler maestro, who normally does not appear on the program, and Drucie Snyder, daughter of the Secretary of Treasury, and emicee of a video program of her own on a rival station. Interview is completely off the cuff and informal.

WMAL-TV, the ABC outlet here, is shopping for a sponsor for this one. Prospects are good, with the Tyner name a big one in these parts. There's no talk yet of this going net, but, of course, nobody's saying "no."

MOVIE TOWN RSVP
With Carroll Carroll, Helen Ferguson, Jack Johnstone, Dick Lane, Bud Stephen
Producer: Phil Booth
30 Miñs., Sun., 7:30 p.m.
Sustaining
KTLA, Hollywood
Put to filling the time of the defecting Mike Stokey, who moved over to KTTV under sponsorship, KTLA's Klaus Landsberg reasoned that inasmuch as home viewers have come to expect charades at that Sunday night hour, that's what they would get. And what they're getting is pantominery, not quite up to the Stokey grade but entertainment of its kind.
Turn is worked a little different

up to the Stokey grade but entertainment of its kind.

Turn is worked a little different from the general run of charades.
Panel of three presides at the studio while at some remote spot, in this instance the Town House, class hostelry, Dick Lane puts a few volunteer plants and pickups through the motions conforming to the title of a song, quotation, saying, ctc. Panelists are Carroll Carroll, radio scripter and agency exec; Helen Ferguson, onetime stage star and now running a publicity office, and Jack Johnstone, radio producer. Bud Stephen, who replaced Keith Heatherington, has the appearance but not the voice for emce of the guessing end.

It might just as well been the double Carroll all by himself for all the help he got from the others.
He was on top of the charaders
(Continued on page 40)

RUTHIE ON THE TELEPHONE
With Ruth Gilbert, Philip Reed Writer-Producer: Goodman Ace
Director: Fred Rickey
5 Mins., 7:55: Daily Except Wed.
PHILIP MORRIS
CBS-TV, from New York (Bious)
"Buthis on the Telephone

CBS-TV, from New York

(Biow)

"Ruthie on the Telephone."
Goodman Ace's capsule package, represents the first serious attempt to inject a new programming element into television, somewhat paralleling the comic strip technique of the dailies. Idea is a video elaboration of the onetime comedy insert on the Robert Q. Lewis CBS radio show in the days when Ace was doing desk duty at the network and contributing a writing assist to the Lewis stanza.

As a TV novelty, the slotting of a five-minute casy-to-take coniedy format has considerable merit and may establish a pattern in breaking away from the traditional half-hour and quarter-hour program formula. Like the comic strip, too, it can provide an abbreviated fillip to daily viewing habits.

Ruth Gilbert (already familiar to TV vinowers as the Mer. Bruth but-provide an abbreviated fillip to daily viewing liabits.

Ruth Gilbert calready familiar to TV viewers as the Mrs. Ruth Duttern on the "Goldberg" show, is reprising her telephonic bit (with its inevitable "Let's not fight it—it's higger than the both of ns.") with Philip Reed doing TV duty in the ex-Robert Q. radio rule on, the receiving end of those Gilbertisms. There's a split-screen effect and it's natural for the two-way by-play—and in this case it's all done with the aid of mirrors.

As a daily dict, even as a four-minute showcase tallowing the other 60 seconds for the Philip Morris commercial), the onus falls on Ace as the writer. Idea behind the gal's relentiess pursuit by telephone of a guy who'd rather be left-alone is a good one, but only as good as Ace's scripting will allow, initial airing suggested that Acc's reputation for tossing off those pithy commentaries and barbs should make "Ruthle" an entertaining TV briefie, although the initial two installments erred in failing to establish the premise for the show.

Rose.

NEWSWEEK VIEWS THE NEWS
With Ernest K. Lindley, moderator: guests Director: Les Tomalin
30 Mins., Mon., 8 p.m.
Du Mont, from New York
Newsweek mag has come up with an interesting and workable format for a video digest of the news. Cut into a series of spots averaging about five minutes each, show ranges over a wide diversity of important material in the style of the mag publication. Show stems from a cooperative deal in which Du Mont supplies the time and gets a firstrate public affairs program, while Newsweek gets a big plus.
Show opens with a battery of the mag's top editors briefly summarizing latest developments in the news. The fact that newspapermen like Ernest K. Lindley, Kenneth Crawford and Chet Shaw lack the facile manner of regular air comentators doesn't burt too much.

facile manner of regular air com-mentators doesn't hurt too much facile manner of regular air commentators doesn't hurt too much. They compensate by deliverving the news authoritatively without reading from scripts.

Bulk of the show is devoted to interviews of leading figures in various fields. On show caught, Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, was queried on the current polio epidemic; William Kelley, manager of the New York division of the Atomic Energy Commission, explained aspects of atomic energy production while other guests discoursed on air air power and new advances in lighting and lamps. It was a well-rounded review with plenty of visual devices to sustain interest.

PRACTICE TEE
With William P. Barbour, guest; announcer. Tom Manaler Producer: Stuart Buchanan
Director: Charles Ranaler
IS Mins, Frl., 7:30 p. m.
NBC-TV. from Cleveland
WNBK's first regular network presentation is an effort to help the already exposed golfer to correct his game. On hand to do the teaching is William P. Barbour, golf pro at Sleepy Hollow Country Club, and a patient man with a difficult pupil.
This is not a show for the man just planning to take his first step on the links. He's able to pick up a suggestion or two, but the program is not geared in his direction. The man who has been on the course and who still slices, hooks, etc. will find many tips from Barbour's suggestions to the pupil of the week who presents a different problem.
In stanza caught (5) camera work lagged behind several of the key moments of explanations, but overall work made for nice, clear pictures. Background scenery was fine workmanship.

Seen Deterrent to More Price Cuts Mont's move last week in the franchise chief Ernest A. Marx after learning its receiver franchise chief Ernest A. Marx after learning that Macy's, N. Y.'s largest departistore, because of the store's established prices was trimming that been learned to the store of the store's established prices was trimming that have been learned to the store of the store's established prices was trimming that have been learned to the store of the store's established prices was trimming that have been learned to the store of the store's established prices was trimming that have been learned to the store of the store's established prices was trimming that have been learned to the store of the store of the store's established prices was trimming to the store of the store's established prices was trimming to the store of the store's established prices was trimming to the store of the st DuM's Cancel of Macy Franchise

Du Mont's move last week in cancelling its receiver franchise with Macy's, N. Y.'s largest department store, because of the store's price-cutting tactics is expected to help stabilize the price lines with all DuMont dealers. Move was all generally hailed in the trade, meanwhile, as being generally beneficial to the entire industry, since it might convince other retailers that it doesn't pay to cut prices.

Hassle started with the lifting of prices.

Hassle started with the lifting of new 1950 line of receivers. DuMont itself will not sell sets to the store, it is believed the re-tailer is getting them from some other source. But, in line with the pending court order, the new re-ceivers are being offered at straight list price.

Tele Chatter

New York

Jack Mangan, emcee of WJZ-TV's "Ship's Reporter," prepping prepping a book of the same title based on his celeb interviews. Chick Vincent Co. will publish this fall... Mark A. Forgette, former exec director for Harold E. Stassen and ex-aide to Gen. Mark Clark, has been appointed northwestern sales rep for United Videograms Brooklyn Union Gas Co. disputes Consolidated Edison's claim to being first public utility in N. Y. to enter video advertising, by virtue of buying "Telepix Newsreel" on WPIX. B'klyn outfit points out it has been participating in WJZ-TV's "Market Melodies" five days weekly, since early June... Doris Frankel, whose play, "What's To Love," has been sold to Brock Pemberton for Broadway production, is writing scripts for "Suspense" and "Actors Studio."

"Points of View," new series of discussion programs on current a book of the same title based on berton for Broadway production, is writing scripts for "Suspense" and "Actors Studio."

"Points of View," new series of discussion programs on current events, preems tomorrow night (Thurs.) on Newark's WATV at 8 o'clock . . Ed Nofgrer, w.k. cartoonist, subbing for Chuck Luchsinger on ABC-TV's "Cartoon Tele-Tales" Sunday (14) while the latter takes his first vacation since the show preemed 15 months ago . . Bonafide Mills preeming new fall TV package, "Bonny Maid Floor Show," Aug. 26 via NBC-TV. Starring George Givot, the program is packaged by Basch Radio and Television Productions . . . Film Equities Corp. moved to new and larger quarters. Company prez Irvin Shapiro is currently once-overing foreign production on a six-week European junket . . . Conrad Thibault guesting Sunday (14) on Jacques Fray's "Music Rooms" via ABC-TV . . "Mary Kay and Johnny" which has been aired as a 15-minute across-the-board sustainer via NBC-TV, returning to its original half-hour, once-weekly format tomorrow (Thurs.) on the same net . . . Eight members of the original "One Man's Faimly" radio, cast have been brought to N. Y. for the TV production by producer Carleton E. Morse. They include J. Anthony Smythe, Russell Thorsen, Bernice Berwin, Page Gilman, Thomas Collins, Laurette Fillbrandt, Billy Idelson and Mary Lou Harrington.

Hollywood

Hollywood

A&S Lyons is peddling Leo Guild's "Wizard of Odds" to television. According to Lyons office, deal for sponsorship ls near the linking stage for video with radio a possibility following teevee debut.
Phil Baker and Jay Stewart are being considered for encee roles . . .
Mini-Films has completed pilot reel in a proposed series on makeup for women. Pix are being offered to a national sponsor for $5,000 per 15-minute segment. Production cost on initialer in series ran $3,000. Film was produced and directed by Bennett Ross and features Ern Westmore . . Melvin Levy will rewrite "Ringside" telescript for Eclipse Productions.
Series has been set to star
James Gleason and feature Mickey Walker . . Apex Films has completed the first six "Lone Ranger" telepix for General Mills. Company will lay off until September when it will go out on location again to roll final seven in the 13-week series . . KTLA is telensing the midget auto races from Culver City
. "Bozo's Circus," Capitol Records' show produced by Al Simon, will be kinescoped by KTTV for sponsor presentation.

Chicago.

Chicago

Chicago

WNBQ promotion manager Hal
Smith took second prize in Benton & Bowles NBC station promotion for "Who Sald That?"... WGNTV operations director Vern Brooks on month tour of Europe checking TV operations... ABCTV sports announcer Wayne Griffin picked as top TV spieler by Wrestling As You Like It mag.
Griffin and Vince Garrity handle bouts from Rainbo arena...
WTMJ-TV's "Gordy's Guessing Game" scoring so strong on mail pull the Milwaukee station is planning to sked Gordon Thomas as a regular fall feature Bill Kusack appointed chief engineer at WBKB.
He joined B&K indie in 1940
Indie producer Tom O'Brien on vacation Golf champ Sammy Snead guested on WGN-TV's "Pars, Birdies and Eagles" ABC-TV
actor Mike Wallace to Marblehead, Mass., and New York for combined biz-pleasure Frie Simon of WBKB off to Hawaii and India after inking contract with sponsor RCA Victor dealers that will screen him five weekly instead of three on

"Curbstone Cut-Up"... Shirley Dinsdale and "Judy Splinters" moved back to Coast Fri. 63 after winding up NBC-TV series here solded in screening techniques... Sarra film producers launching "Clumsy Cuthbert" series as a goide in screening techniques... NBC-TV's Fourth Chi studio rushed to completion for return of "Kukla Fran and Ollie". WGN. TV's Bob Hibbard and Len Bactholomew on vacations in north woods. WBKB promotion manager Red Quinlan taking two weeks absence for work on tele novel.

London

London

Shortened version of "Tuppenee Coloured" with Joyce Grenfell, Max Adrian and Elizabeth Welch In their original roles will be featured Aug. 26... How to read history on the highway is the theme of a talk by John Read on inn signs, to be telecast with photographs and drawings Aug. 19... 150th anniversary of the birth of Pushkin will be marked by the presentation of "The Queen of Spades," adapted from his short story by Mervyn Mills with Albert Lleven in the lead ... Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Niggers" will be on the air Aug. 20 and leading roles will be played by John Bentley, Arthur Womtner and John Stuart ... Final test match between England and New Zealand from the London Oval will be broadcast on the afternoons of Aug. 13, 15 and 16, with Brias Johnston and E. W. Swanton as commentators.

Kaycee's Polio Series

Maycee s rollo deries

Kansas City, Aug. 9.

What was to have been a special events broadcast from the polio ward of St. Luke's Hospital here proved so beneficial to patients and their families that it has been put on a regular two-per-week hasis
by the hospital and Station KCKN.
George Stump, KCKN's chlef of production, set up the original broadcast with Melvin Dunn, as sistant superintendent at the hospital, in view of the current intense interest in polio.

The Texas Rangers, stars of stage, screen, radio and television, early this summer made a personal appearance tour in the Midwest. They are pictured here in Oklahoma City, when they were commissioned honorary Colonels of the State of Oklahoma by Governor Roy J. Turner.

The Texas Rangers transcriptions, used on scores of stations from coast to coast, have achieved Hooperatings as high as 27.4.

Advertisers and stations ask about our new sales plan!

Wire, write or phone

ARTHUR B. CHURCH Productions KANSAS CITY 6, MISSOURI

Thanks to:

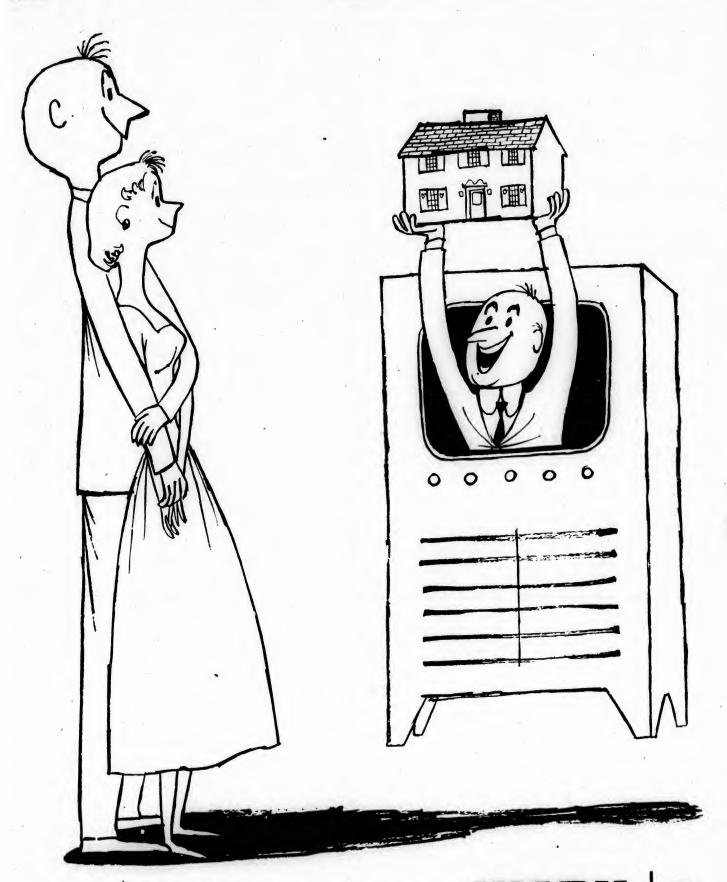

- Irene Dunne
- Florence Eldridge
- Geraldine Fitzgerald
- John Garfield
- Paul Henried
- John Larkin
- Fredric March
- Jan Miner
- Lizabeth Scott
- Marta Toren

for making "Eight By Request" (reprise of eight best programs from 'Radio City Playhouse') a most pleasant and successful series.

Harry W. Junkin

RADIO CITY PLAYHOUSE, NBC . . MONDAYS, 10:30 P.M. EIGHT BY REQUEST, NBC . . . TUESDAYS, 8:30 P.M.

Personal Representative: MARTIN GOODMAN, 38 East 57th, New York City

WCAU-TV is following in the footsteps of WCAU-AM, which built its phenomenal listener response from the start on local loyalty. Philadelphians began to say that WCAU-AM was their station . . . developed the listening habit. . . . It's working out that way for WCAU-TV, too. In an average week, we televise 28 local shows, with 325 people taking part. Their families, neighbors and friends are selling for you. And this suits us to a TV, because it's nice to see this history repeat itself. So use WCAU-TV to reach the local buyers who count.

WCAU

AM FM

The Philadelphia Bulletin Stations

Cincy's Daytime Video Rivalry Gives Impetus to Programming

Competing for early afternoon audiences with the new WCPO-TV's noontime kickoffs, Crosley's WLW-T last week added two hours WI.W-T last week added two hours of its daytime schedule, Monday through Friday. In advancing the opening of telecasts on those days, WI.W-T came up with four new live shows. Ten-hour salvo of talent block programming is aimed at femmes and juves at times when the Scripps-Howard video station is heavy with disk jockey routines. Cincy's third TVer, WKRC-TV has a 5.15 p.m. starting time.

a 5:15 p.m. starting time.
Women's segs top the new programs. First of these features Rita Hackett, who has already developed a high night rating with her weekly 'Club' '49' series. In her latest show, from 2 to 2:30, she is the editor of a magazine called "Now!" subtitled "For the Modern Woman." Miss Hackett is assisted by Honor Nicholas, who advanced from the WLW-T makeup ranks to show in front of the camera. "Tea Time." a second new series, from 2:30 to 3, is processed by Crosley's special broadcast services division, under supervision of tees division, under supervision of Katherine Fox. Central personality is Skippy Knoop, who ties in promotion of civic events with chatter and musical interludes. John Chester Smith, tenor, and Ann Ryan, soprano, are guests on alternate programs: ternate programs.

Tots are targeted from 3 to 3:30 years service, and in a combo of fairy-tale telling and of ulcer coddling.

NANCY

'Bit O' Heaven In Song'

Currently Appearing at the CAPITOL New York Thanks to Sidney Piermont and Harry Romm

charcoal drawing called "TV Wonderland." Rudy Prihoda is the artist and narration is by Jana Hoffman. Juves are invited to do Interpretations of figures described in stories and submit them for prizes. A general rustic entertainment stanza has the 3:30 to 4 p.m. slot. Titled "Haystack Hoedown," it merges with a similar show, "Curtain Time," which previously opened the daily airings at 3:45. There is a wide range of WLW rural talent for this giddap.

From 4 p.m. on the schedule re-

From 4 p.m. on the schedule remains as was, with "The Merrymans," Bob Merryman announcer, and his actress wife, Mary Lou, in a domestic set, followed by "Magic Telekitchen" at 4:45 and "Junior Jamboree" at 5.

Another added starter last week, Another added starter last week, separate from the revised afternoon schedule, is "Paul's Place," with Paul Hodges, comic. in a luncheon setup, 6:30 to 6:45 p.m., four times a week.

BURNETT'S CLUB FOR VETS

Chicago, Aug. 9.
Leo Burnett agency took a look over its shoulder at 14 years existence last week (5), and decided to induct 63 agency staffers into a "Five Years and Over" club. Those tapped got special neckties for men and lapel pins for women.

Breakdown includes six with 14 ears service, and 23 with 10 years

New Tele Biz

WGN-TV, Chl, reported White Eagle Brewing will sponsor first half of Madison A. C. boxing bouts for 22 weeks, once weekly, through Gerald Sheilds agency; Newart Co. will sponsor DuMont teletranscribed "Front Row Center" for 52 weeks, once weekly, through William Futterman agency; and announcements for Ruby Chevrolet through W. B. Doner agency. WBKB, Chi, reported announcements for Alliance Manufagturing through Foster & Davies agency. Cleveland; Canadian Ace Brewing through Louis Weitzman agency; Balaban Floor Covering through trying Rocklin agency; and Oldsmobile through D. P. Brother agency, Detroit.

WENR-TV, Chi, reported Stewart-Ashby Coffee has renewed the 15-min. 'Paul Harvey News' once weekly for 52 weeks through Roche, Williams & Cleary agency; and announcements for Ruby Chevrolet through W. B. Doner agency; Dad's Root Beer through Malcolm-Howard agency.

WNBQ, Chl, announced participations by Kaiser-Frazer Distributors through Malcolm-Howard agency, and Chicago Motor Club through Agency Service Corp., both in Herbie Mintz piano show "But Not Forgotten."

Catholic B'casters Name Fr. Peyton Prez At So. Bend Confab

South Bend, Aug. 9. The Rev. Patrick C. Peyton, director of "The Family Theatre" on Mutual, founder of The Family Rosary Crusade headquartered in Albany, N. Y., and the Catholic clergyman considered to have enjoyed the most spectacular success in radio, is the new president of the Catholic Broadcasters Assn. He was elected at the second annual convention held In South Bend, and attended by Catholic broadcasters from 20 states, as well as from Canada and the Philippine Islands.

Islands.

Father Peyton, who divides his time between Albany, Hollywood and the road, and who has just returned from a European tour, was named to succeed Msgr. Francis X. Sallaway, director of radio for the archdiocese of Boston. Only other change in the official board of CBA was the election of Rev. Louis Gales, founder of the Catholic Digest, of St. Paul, Minn., to serve for a year.

Father Peyton, who presents a cationic Digest, of 20, Faut, Milling to serve for a year.

Father Peyton, who presents a weekly dramatization over Mutual to foster family prayer, with film stars donating their services, and who offers three special shows via the same network for Christmas. Easter and Mother's Day, probably will essay television, too, the coming season. He started with a Rosary program over WABY, Albany, seven years ago. Bing Crosby broke the Hollywood ice for "Father Pat" by agreeing to appear with Cardinal Spellman and the parents of "the five Sullivans" on a Mother's Day program on Mutual in 1945.

Robby Lantz With Gibbs

Robert Lantz, formerly head of the Berg-Allenberg Coast agency's New York office, has joined the John E. Gibbs & Co. agency as an associate. Lantz will handle legit and film talent and story proper-tles for the Gibbs office, which has been dominantly in radio and tele-vision.

With Lantz's teamup, the Gibbs agency will take over representation of Berg-Allenberg clients in New York as well as repping the Christopher Mann London agency. Berg-Allenberg recently closed its N. Y. office in an economy move. With Lantz's teamup, the Gibbs Pittsburgh — After nearly 15 years on WWSW, Rev. Jack Munyon, the radio evangelist, has switched to WPIT While Billy Hinds is vacationing, Buzz Aston has his old femme sidekick, Jeanie Regal, on KDKA's Buzz and Bill show with him. They used to be the team of Buzz and Jean before he went into Army. Joe Mann has resigned from the KQV

Mann has resigned from the KQV announcing staff to freelance Roscoe Rider has joined the WWSW engineering department to work the all-night 1500 Club program.

Inside Stuff—Radio

Current issue of Harper's magazine includes an article on the Rev. J. Harold Smith. who broadcasts seven days a week on a southern Bible Belt network. Piece points up some of the dangers of pald religious broadcasts and relates the war of the reverend against WFBC, Greenville, S. C., WSPA, Spartanburg, S. C., and WNOX, Knox-ville. Reason for the boycott by the preacher, who says he learned much from the broadcasting technique of the late Huey Long, was that the three stations refused to take his paid religious airers. As a result, he and his wife became principal stockholders in a religious organization which operated WIBK. Knoxville, until the FCC decided not to validate its license. His daily serunons, however, are still aired by a network of southern stations and are also beamed across the border from XERF, a Mexican station.

The magazine errs, however, in saying that "the large city stations are banning paid religious broadcasts." Recent trend is for the nets to accept more of this kind of business.

Before leaving for Europe. Eddie Cantor confabbed with Millon Biow, whose agency is handling "Take It Or Leave It," on which Cantor will star, for Eversharp. When the talk turned to Hooper and Nielsen ratings, the comic expressed his considered opinion that cold statistics don't prove much. "Take 'Crime Photographer,' for Instance, which your agency picked up for Philip Morris," Cantor said. "I'll bet you 100-to-1 you can't tell me the name of the previous sponsor." Biow was stumped. The previous backer, incidentally, was Toni.

Biow was stumped. The previous backer, incidentally, was Toni.

First regular committee meeting of the Foreign Language Quality Network, held at the offices of WOV. N. Y.. Mohday (8), has decided to limit participation, at first, to Italian and Polish language stations. Reason is that the body will be set up as a non-profit corporation and to speed the legal process the number of outlets to take part has been pared. It's expected, however, that Spanish broadcasters will be the next group asked to join.

The FLQN will include stations in 19 markets: Boston, Chi, Philly, N. Y., Scranton-Wilkes Barre, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Buffalo, St. Louis, Washington, Milwaukee, Providence, New Haven, Toledo, Wilmington, San Francisco, Springfield, Los Angeles and Baltimore. One station in each market will be selected for membership, except where there is no conflict because one outlet broadcasts a foreign language during the day and another in the same city carries the language at night. Stations selected will provide full statisties on listenership, coverage, rate cards and similar information to Claude Barrere, who is serving as FLQN secretary. Taking part in the confab were Ralph Well, WOV topper, chairman; Frank Blair, WSCR, Scranton; George Lasker, WBMS, Boston; William Jory, WJLB, Detroit; and Samuel Sague, WSRS, Cleveland Heights.

IBEW Beats IA In L.A. Video Station Vote

Stagehards, traditionally JATSE, will be under the IBEW banner on KLAC-TV. In an election conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, station personnel voted to join the IBEW rather than the IA.

Covered under the IBEW ballot win will be all personnel but TV directors, not involved in the election. As a result of the voting, the IBEW gains as new members stage hands, scenic artists and makeup crews, totaling nine KLAC staff

IBEW gains as new members stage hands, scenic artists and makeup crews, totaling nine KLAC staff members.

Already with the electricians union at the station are cameramen, and their contract will be renewed although no date for negotiations on pact have not been set as yet.

IBEW will ask for increased wages for engineers and production staff with the exception of art directors who do not fall into IBEW jurisdiction. There has been no wage increase since KLAC-TV went on the air.

IATSE recently signed a precedental contract with KTLA, giving it jurisdiction over all technical workers. IBEW has pacts with KTSL and KTTV in addition to KLAC. NABET has KFI-TV, KNBH and KECA-TV under contract.

'Action Autographs' Due For Revival on ABC-TV

Chicago, Aug. 9.
Bell & Howell, encouraged by what it considers good viewer response, is reviving "Action Autographs" on ABC-TV, Sunday, Sept. 4. However, show will be moved out of the 9 p.m. spot it occupied before it was dropped at the end of June.

The camera account recently switched from Henri, Hurst & McDonald agency to McCann-Erlckson, which is handling the 15-minute Jack Brand production. New series will use more film and less live action, but will have few other format changes format changes.

Nashville — Marjorie — Cooney, WSM director of women's activities, left last week for a six-week tour of Ireland, England, France, Sw'zerland and Italy. She took along a 12-pound battery operated "Minitape" recorder with which she'll interview European celebs.

TOM MOORE SCRAMS 'LADIES' IN HASSLE

Chicago, Aug. 9.
Tom Moore resigns from "Ladies be Seated" on Aug. 19 as producer and emcee, with leaving caused by clash over projected New York economy move. ABC five-a-weeker has been sustaining for past half-year with Tom Moore
as associate producer.

as associate producer.
Moore has been emice on give-away for past two years. Partici-pater was sponsored by Toni and Quaker Oats this spring. Show amanating from Chicago. 2.00 to 2.30 (CDST) may move to New York or possibly be dropped.

MASON MEMORIAL FUND

San Antonio, Aug. 9.
A "Bill Mason Memorial Fund" is being raised by the San Antonio Chapter of the American Newspaper Guild.

Fund is to retain a special counsel during the trial of the deputy sheriff charged with the murder of the former program director of KBKI. Alice, following a broadcast.

"On an Island with You" Mgt.: LOU CLAYTON

WILLIAM SWEETS BLACKLIST IN RADIO

Thursday, Aug. 11, 8:30 P.M. HOTEL ABBEY, 149 W. 51 St. AIR CONDITIONED

Adm., 83c
Millard Lampell, Chairman
ther Prominent Radio Personalitle VOICE OF FREEDOM COMM.
Radio-TV, ASP

NOW featured on MUTUAL Network SUNDAYS 1:30 p. m. MONDAYS. thru

FRIDAYS

12:30 p. m.

RECENTLY COMPLETED RECORD BREAKING 13 WEEK "RETURN ENGAGEMENT" AT THE VERSAILLES, New York

(booked back for this engagement within 9 months)

Followed with a most pleasant chore with Don McNeil and his Famous Breakfast Club via ABC Network . . . (Thanks Don McNeil).

Per. Dir-MCA (Thanks Dick Rubin) Press Relations-Frances E. Kay & Co. DAVID BROEKMAN

Simplification of buying and selling video advertising is being launched today (Wed.) at the new Broadcast Advertising Bureau by a special committee on standardization of television rate cards and contract forms. Starting the ball rolling is a five-man nucleus from the Television Standardization Group, an adjunct of the NAB's sales managers executive committee.

Chairing the special committee is Eugene Thomas, manager of Chairing the special committee is Eugene Thomas, manager of WOIC, Washington, who also heads up the larger group. Meeting with him will be E. Y. Flanigan, WSPD-TY, Toledo; John E. Surrick, WFIL-TY, Philly: James V. McConnell, NBC, representing the webs; and William Weldon, Blair TV, for station representatives. Staff work on the project will be handled by Charles A. Batson, BAB's assistant director in charge of tele. Group will have the records of another subcommittee of the NAB which planned the recommended format for AM and FM rate cards and contracts.

New York City's Television Unit, muny non-profit operation, will start shooting on two 10-minute shorts next week, as it nears completion of its 30-minute vidpic on housing. The one-reelers will deal with the school health program and the home-care hospital program. Clifford Evans, head of the TV unit, will offer the pix cuffo to local Aversion of Chesterfields and Philip Morris to having their shows slotted back-to-back has forced CBS-TV to confine its five-minute "Ruthie on the Telephone" show to six nights a week, eliminating Wednesdays. Bankrolled by PM and packaged by Goodman Ace, "Ruthie" is aired nightly except Wednesday at 7:55, since the Chesterfield-sponsored "Arthur Godfrey & Friends" tees off that night at 8.

Around the Hollywood ad agencies they're asking with puzzled looks. "how'd he do it?" What stumps them is how Joe Rines could bring in a half-hour filmed teevee show with names for less than $6,000. But it's Rines' secret, developed after a year's intensive study of cutting corners to save a buck here and there. Series of 26 films made by General Television Enterprises for Procter & Gamble cost $10,000 for a similar length of celluloid. Rines not only turned out the pilot film of a series-to-come for less than $6,000 but he had it telecast on NBC's eastern network by Colgate. Soap sponsor is said to have liked it so well that option may be taken on/another 12. For his cast Rines rounded up Dick Foran, Rosemary De Camp, Joyce Compton and Hans Conried and will use them intermittently.

Nat Fowler, ABC-TV film director, has inked a contract with Encyclopedia Britannica Films for 39 pix on an exclusive basis. To handle the syndication problem, pix shown in N. Y. on Sept. 4 will be aired in Chi on Sept. 11, in Detroit on Sept. 18 and in 'Frisco on Sept. 25.

Films are divided into three series—"TV Tot Time," "Other Lands, Other People," and "Industries for America." One pic from each series will be screened each week for 13 weeks.

Amsterdam, N. Y.—Cecil Wood-land, general manager of WCSS, Amsterdam, has been elected pres-ident of the Community Service Broadcasting Corp., operator of the

A Double Poser

With Maiden Form bras-sieres signed as one of the sieres signed as one of the Weintraub agency's participating clients on Dorothy Doan's "Vanity Fair" show on CBS-TV. agency and CBS execs were in a quandary last week over how they could plug the product. They realized they would not be able to use live models and figured use of mannequins would have no sales impact.

impact.

Harrassed men finally called in Miss Doan to get the woman's viewpoint. She told them frankly that women see nothing risque in buying brassieres and declared she could plug them merely by holding them up and pointing out their finer features, as a salesgiri does in a store. Agency and web toppers immediately hailed her solution as "stupendous," so the bras will take the air when the show resumes next month.

Crosley's Fulltime TV Sales Rep in Biz Bid

Cincinnati, Aug. 9. Crosley Broadcasting Corp. initiated an intensified campaign for time sales on its three TV stations with assignment this week of Theodore Fremd as fulltime New York sales rep. He recently was merchandising manager for the G. M. Basford agency.

Fremd huddled here last week with Marshall Terry, veepee in charge of television, and visited charge of television, and visited the Crosley video installations in Dayton and Columbus, O., as well as the Cincy one. He reports to Henry Mason Smith, veepee in charge of sales and will have head-quarters at the WLW sales offices in New York.

'Blacklist' Talk Slated by Sweets As RTDG Probes Into Charges

William Sweets, former Radio- and actors have commented on the Television Directors prexy who allegedly was forced to resign as dispersion of the Deliving M. Lord new union contracts are coming up new union contracts are coming up rector of two Phillips H. Lord shows because of his political beliefs, will speak at a meeting on the "blacklist" issue tomorrow evening "blacklist" issue tomorrow evening at the Hotel Abbey, N. Y. The con-fab has been called by the Voice of Freedom Committee and the Radio-Television division of the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions Professions.

Professions.

Other speakers will include scripter Millard Lampell, chairman; actor Paul Mann; John T. McManus, former New York Newspaper Guild topper and now manager of The National Guardian, and Charles A. Collins, business agent of the Hotel & Club Employees Union.

Meanwhile "Counterattack Meanwhile Counterattack, anti-Communist newsletter which has been carrying charges about Communist infiltration in broad-casting, devoted the major part of its July 22 issue "Communist its July 22 issue "Communist causes that Sweets has openly supported." The paper pooh-poohs the existence of a blacklist, saying: "Just because one director is fired it's a blacklist! If it were a blacklist there would be mighty few party-liners in radio. Today there are many. And the 'situation isn't pretty. You can help to alleviate it by notifying the sponsor and the agency whenever you learn of a Commun'tt or fellowtraveler on the payroll of any sponsored program. And if you don't get results at first, keep pounding away."

Meanwhile the fact-finding com-charge of sales and will have head-quarters at the WLW sales offices in New York.

Houston—"The Queen for a Day" radio show, m.c.'d by Jack Bailey will originate a series of three broadcasts over Mutual coast-to-coast from the Shamrock Hotel on Sept. 4, 5 and 6. Air show will be part of a big Food Show to be staged here.

Meanwhile the fact-finding committee of the RTDG has been gathering material, after meeting with representatives of the Lord office, in preparation of an exhaustive report to determine why three broadcasts over Mutual coast-to-coast from the Shamrock Hotel on Sept. 4, 5 and 6. Air show will be part of a big Food Show to be staged here.

new union contracts are coming up in many fields of broadcasting and that the anti-Commie hullaballoo is directed at splitting the unions. The fact that some actors, supposed to have been on the "black-list," have been hired does not disprove the existence of such a list but shows the effectiveness of the expose and the stand which the unions have taken, these radioites declare. declare.

Utility Sponsor Beams From Own TV Studio

Cleveland, Aug. 9.
The East Ohio Gas Co. is believed to have made video history with its construction of a complete 20 by 50 foot telecasting studio inside its own building for a half-hour commercial show over NBC's WNBK.

NBC's WNBK.

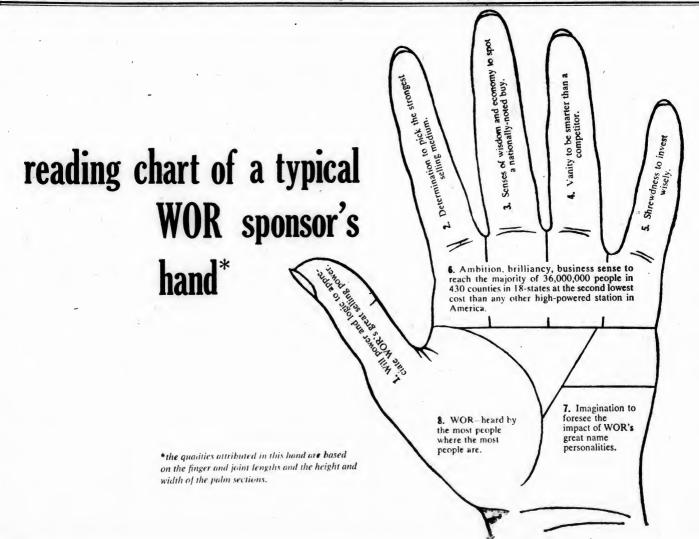

Called "Through the Kitchen Window," the show will be telecast Tuesday and Thursday for 30 minutes beginning at 2 p. m. East Ohio paid the compiete construction cost. Instead of microwave relays customarily used to transmit a program from outside the studio, a coaxial cable was laid the half-block distance from the Gas Building to NBC.

From more than 120 contestants, interviewed in nine cities, Miss interviewed in nine cities, Miss Louise Winslow, formerly with WJZ, was picked to conduct the show. Miss Lucille Ryan, former-ly of New York radio, is production supervisor.

The show will feature cooking demonstrations, but will subsequently include other home-making and home-economics subjects.

Seattle—Bill Shela, formerly at KXRN, Renton, now announcing at KXA here. Don Hansen is a new announcer at RKSC and Al Morris has joined the sales staff at KRSC.

Television Reviews

most of the way and called the turn on nearly all that was guessed. He was sharp as a tack and beamed like a cherub at the camera. It's not surprising that he knew the answers, having been a top writer and researcher for all the years that Bing Crosby was in Kraft Music Hall. But it's still charades and you take it or leave it. Helm.

WORDS AND MUSIC With Barbara Marshall, Jerry Jerome Trio Producer-director: Duane McKin-

Producer-director: Duane McKinney
15 Mins.; Tues., Thurs., 7:30 p.m.
Sustaining
NBC-TV, from N. Y.
This 15-minute musical stanza,
which preemed Tuesday night 12\(\text{12}\) is to be an eight-week replacement for Roberts Quinlan and her 'Mohawk Showroom' program.
Judging from the show caught 14\(\text{11}\) it's a pleasant, tuneful interlude, albeit similar in production technique and format to other such programs on the air.
Songstress Barbara Marshall.

programs on the air.

Songstress Barbara Marshall, who carried most of the show, impressed with her middle-register pipes. An attractive blonde, she handled ballads, novelty and show tunes with equal facility and also demonstrated a good TV personality. She did most of the show sevied at the piano but moved about the set from time to time for the requisite action. Jerry Jerome trio, comprising a clarinet, accordion and bass (doubling on guitar), backed her nicely and evidenced good instrumental ability in their solo work. Bass player, in addition, worked a neat, harmonious duel with Miss Marshall worked a neat. harmonious duet with Miss Marshall. Show was staged on an attrac-tive set, the small size of which was overcome by producer-direc-

JUDY CANOVA

AMERICA'S NO. 1

COMEDIENNE

WM. H. KING

Personal Management

A. S. LYONS

177 S. Beverly Dr.

Beverly Hills, Calif.

JUNIOR'S PET SHOW With Ed Kallay, guests Director-producer; Dick Jackson 15 Mins.; Fri., 6:15 p.m.

Director-producer: Dick Jackson
15 Mins; Frl, 6:15 p.m.
Sustaining
WAYE-TY, Louisville Modest 15-minute show which should prove appealing to the kids, and grownups too, opens with Ed Kallay, staff aniouncer, as prorietor of a pet shop, dozing during a tull in biz. Apparently the summer slump has hit she pet shop trade as well as other lines of business. In walks a couple kids with a dog and a parrot. Kallay quizzes em as to the performing talents of their charges, and they proceed to have the dog sit np, ride in a small wagon, and the like,
Pets were evidently struck with stage fright for the response was indifferent.
Next in with her pets was a indifferent.

Next in with her pets was a teen-age girl, accompanied by a pet crow and a baby skunk (deodorized for TV). Kallay, as the kindly proprietor carried on a q.&a. sesh with the gal, bringing out some facts anent the proper method of domesticating the pets. Gal was photogenic, and registered with nice personality. The pets responded acceptably, particularly the crow which caught pieces of food in its beak, sat on gal's shoulder, etc.

etc. Simple set provided the pet shop background, and one of the kids, as well as Kallay, told the viewers that an invitation was extended to other kids who had pets to bring 'en up, and show 'em off on the television.

on the television.

Neat production job by Dick Jackson, considering the unpredictability of animal pets, and camera kept participants well in focus throughout. Might have possibility for a dog food, or some such sponsor.

Wied.

ROWENA With Rowena Frehse; Joe Mulvi-hill, announcer Producer-director: Jack Berker 15 Mins., Thurs., 7:30 p. m. WNBK, Cleveland

The captivating personality of Rowena with her 12-cord autohars makes for a restful post-supper Rowena with her 12-cord autoharp makes for a restful post-supper period. Singing the better known folksongs, Rowena shows her complete understanding of the song's background and true meaning. In fact, she introduces each piece briefly with just enough comment to entice interest. briefly to entice interest.

Throughout the stanza, Rowena's personality and charm are major undertones that help highlight this easy-to-take stint. A simple background, subdued lighting, and nice transition by production and camera weave format into all-around fine quality.

Mark. fine quality Mark

Hartford — Robert E. Smith, longhair disk jockey at WTIC, has been appointed Hartford chairman of the Metropolitan Opera Guild.

NARND's Awards Panel

Minneapolis, Aug. 9.
Panel of four experts to judge entries for the National Assn. of Radio News Directors first annual Radio News Directors first annual awards has been set, it was announced by Sig Mickelson. NARND prexy. Judges are: E. R. Vadeboncoeur, general manager of WSYR, Syracuse: Prof. Mitchell V. Charnley, of the U. of Minnesota's School of Journalism; Wilton Cobb, general manager of WMAZ, Macon; and Robert K. Richards. National Assn. of Broadcasters press director.

Entries should be sent to Earle

Entries should be sent to Earle Smith, KMBC, Kansas City, Mo., before Aug. 31. Awards will be made during the NARND conven-tion in New York City, Nov. 11-13.

Tele Followup

Continued from page 35 =

also away, he took on the added task of handling the Chesterfield commercial, acquitting himself well. His forte, however, is more the relaxed type of assignment than the effervescent characterization of which Parks is a master.

Bronderst included assyrul good

Broadcast included several good roduction numbers, including a production numbers, including a sultry Latin - Americano dance. Betty Ann Grove niftily warbled Betty Ann Grove niftily warbled a couple of novelty lunes and Estelle Loring was so-so chirping some straight pops. Admiral com-mercials by the Tatlers were pleasant and the Chesterfield plug, using a leggy lass garbed as a pack of cigarets, was an eye-calching bit.

NBC's "Academy Theatre" presented Austin Strong's "The Drums of Oude" Monday (8) and the result was pretty academic. There was hardly a trace of real emotion or suspense in this drama of a British garrison in India in the mildst of a native revolt. Chiefly, it was the fault of an uninspiring script that never rose above the stale stereotypes of beating ritual drums, tight-lipped, stoical British Highlanders, massacre-mad Indians and icy English women "who take trouble like a thoroughbred."

The weaknesses of the play might have been overcome by a craftsmanlike production and sincere acting, but unfortunately the staging was inept and the cast phony and stiff.

Swift

Continued from page 33

starring Tex McCrary and Jinx Falkenburg. From then until April. 1948. Cooley and his staff produced an unbroken string of half-hour shows. exploring practically all conceivable daytime formats. It switched to nighttime programming In 1948 with the Lamny Ross series, which continued unbroken on NBC-TV until last Thursday.

During the three-year trial period the agency racked up a num-ber of TV "firsts." It had the first per of TV "hrists." It had the first stop-action film for a Swift com-mercial, was the first to adapt stylized scenery to video instead of using the literal theatrical ap-proach or vaudeville's backdrops and was the first to integrate film into a live show. In addition, Sinto and was the first to integrate film into a live show. In addition, Swlft staged the first remote water ballet from the Hotel Park Central, N.Y., pool) and the first indoor lee show. Through arrangements with NBC and BBC, Swlft had films of the British Royal wedding on the air in N. Y. 17½ hours after the event occurred, beating TV newsreels by a day and theatrical reels by half-a-week.

ITV to Pattern

Continued from page 32

of shows for submission to agencles of shows for submission to agencies and networks in the usual way. Instead, he said, "a thorough analysis is made on the specific product to be sold. This entails reviewing of the printed material, art work and radio programming, which has been employed in the product's best sales campaigns. Then, based on the plus and minus results of the product's case history. ITV prepares a full TV merchandizing and then exploitation campaign and then pares a full TV merchandising and exploitation campaign and then creates the type of entertainment which will lure the desired audi-

TTV will package both film and live programs and has atready completed several series of shows. But, White said, none will be sold to a network on a sustaining basis, in addition, to provide the best possible format for each individual ctient. ITV will work on only one show of a kind at a time. Outfit will incorporate in its work several motion picture innovations, such as lensing most of the film in Kodachrome from which a black-and-white reversal print will be made. White expressed conviction that the process provides a better TV picture than does straight black-and-white film. picture than d and-white film.

While ITV's basic function will as a backage outfit, the firm be as a package outfit, the firm will also set up a distribution servwill also set up a distribution service for outside indie producers on a percentage fee basis. Product will then be leased to local stations for a certain period of time, similar to the states rights system of selling. All such product will be turned out with open ends, permitting the station to insert local ad plugs.

Following his resignation from the Selznick outfit. White estab-lished his own vidfilm production firm, conducting tests at Movietone Studios, N. Y., to work out format ideas. He then joined the newly-formed Lion Television Pictures. formed Lion Television Pictures Corp. as veepee and board member. He'll continue as a member of Lion's directorate. ITV has five associate producers in Hollywood and three in N. Y. and will soon appoint a veepee in charge of Coast operations and a sales veepee. Also associated with ITV is Robert M. Savini, prez of Astor Pictures.

CHI AUTO DEALER SEES 25% SALES HYPO IN TV

Chicago, Aug. 9.

At least one Chi auto dealer swears by television. In fact, he's so hepped up over a 25% sales increase he attributes directly to TV, that while one show is 26

TV, that while one show is 26 weeks through a 52 week contract. he's already skedded for another. Jim Moran of Courtesy Motors Co., new car dealers, is so pleased with what a wrestling show via WENR-TV has done for his biz that he has lined up a 13-week series of feature pix over WGN-TV, the series to start Aug. 28, and bringing to local televiewers the outstanding not-so-old pix leased by WGN-TV through WPIX, New York.

Moran has 26 weeks' sponsorship

Moran has 26 weeks' sponsorship of WENR-TV's wrestling show each Wednesday night, and is signed for an additional 26 weeks. He believes that TV has accounted for at least a 25% increase in sales, as well as a heavy increase in "floor activity" which helps to create future sales. activity future sales

WTMJ-TV, WBEN-TV Get New Nat'l Sales Reps

New television station representation firm of Harrington, Righter & Parsons last week signed as exclusive national representatives for both WTMJ-TV, Milwaukee, and WBEN-TV, Buffalo, effective Aug.
22. Both stations were formerly repped by Edward Petry & Co., for which the three heads of the new firm formerly worked.

According to A. H. Kirchhofer of WBEN-TV and Walter J. Damm of WTMJ-TV, the "problems of television make it highly desirable to utilize the service and sales effort representative engaged exclusively in television promotion

WLS Sponsors National Square Dance Festival

Chlcago, Aug. 9.

WLS general manager Glenn Snyder, sparked by the whopping turnouts of square dance fans in a recent citywide contest, has announced a national square dance festival starting June. 1950, with state and regional prelims leading up to Chl-staged finals in August.
Station collaborated with the state and regional prelims leading up to Chi-staged finals in August.

Statlon collaborated with the Sun-Times in the local barn dance contest. Snyder was reportedly overwhelmed at the response from "city slickers" who turned out 20,-000 strong for the finals staged in outdoor Grant Park.

TV to Pix:

where they will naturally hit the largest audience. Those left are either daytime or late evening largest audience. Those left are either daytime or late evening availabilities.

Videomen have several other ideas for luring the film companies into the fold. For one, TV can create and build new stars, for ply slotting them on video programs. This does not mean bringing a few top stars into the medium but promoting those personalities who have not yet reached the top. As for exploitation, broadcasters think the average fan's interest in the film sludios and their technical workings is something that has never been exploited: TV would form a natural setting for such shows as a film industry public relations endeavor.

As an example of the type of shows that Hollywood might cooperate with, broadcasters cite specifically "Hollywood in Three Dimensions." now aired via KTTV on the Coast. That program's interviews with stars, behind-the-scenes film clips, etc., could form a good blueprint for the film companies' entry Into TV.

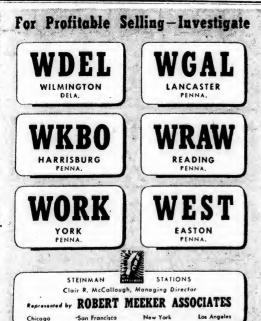

Returning August 29 Campbells sours CLUB 15

The odernaires C.B.S. Coast-to-Coast

COLUMBIA RECORDS

HHHH BERRAL

"He can't even begin to eat up in Wheaties what he saves them in coal and oil."

Walter Damm's Grid Jackpot

Damm's WTMJ and WTMJ-TV have lined up an ambi-

U. and U. of Wisconsin.

Five Wisconsin and three Marquette home games will be televised for the First Wisconsin National Bank. Milwaukee, through the Marvin Lemkuhl agency. Deal for Wisconsin tilts at Madison was completed when A. T. & T. agreed to erect three semi-portable towers between Milwaukee and Madison to carry the series. Coaxial cable will be installed between the Madison phone building and Camp Randall stadium.

Pro games of the Packers to be dail stadium.

Pro games of the Packers to be telecast are four Milwaukee contests, sponsored by Wadham's Division of Socony Vacuum Oil through Compton agency. This is the second year that WTMJ-TV has carried the Packer games. In addition, Socony is bankrolling all 24 radio broadcasts of WTMJ, Nine of these tilts are Wisconsin, home and away, and the remaining 15 tilts are Packer road and home games. Sports announcer Bob Heiss will cover all 24 radio contests.

contests.

Some sort of record was established when Socony signed for the radio series. Socony manager M.

G. Peeters said it will be the 21st consecutive season that Socony has picked up the tab on WTMJ airings of Wisconsin and Packer

Baseball

Continued from page 31 of the local Minor League club to

of the local Minor League club to grant permission.

Similar complaints have been lodged by WSAY in Rochester.

N. Y.; WBNY in Buffalo, and WARL in Arlington, Va.

As a result of the complaints, it was learned, conferences were held in the Department with John Lord O'Brian, former assistant attorney general, and W. G. Claytor, Jr., both of the Washington law firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee & Shorb, counsel for Commissioner Chandier. They reportedly agreed that the restrictions by home teams against broadcasting of other games should be revised so as to avoid anti-trust problems.

The Department the reupon sounded out complaining stations for comment on a proposal to limit the power of a major or minor league club to veto major league broadcasts or telecasts except when the local club is playing at home or broadcasting or televising its out-of-town games.

At least one station refused to accept this compromise and advised the Department in no uncertain terms it considered the proposition a violation of the Sherman Act. The only reason it could find for giving a local club power to prevent major league broadcasts at any time, it contended, would be to suppress competition. If this could be done with tradio and television, it argued, it could be done with theatres and other entertainment enterprises.

The only solution to the problem, the station said, is to remove entirely the power of a local club to prevent broadcasts of contests in the solution cannot be obtained by a consent decree it urged that the Justice Dept, institute anti-trust proceedings to outlaw the restrictions.

Dick Gilbert in N.Y.

Dick Gilbert in N.Y.
Dick Gilbert, Phoenix (KTYL) disk jockey planed in Sunday (7) for week's stay at Waldorf to transcribe interviews with Xavier Cugat, Perry Como, Freeddy Martin, Jerry Como, Freeddy Martin,
Jerry Wayne, Tex Beneke, Fontane Sisters and other platter personalities for use on hk Arizona pancake parade.
Flies to Washington tomorrow (11) to invite President Truman to attend Phoenix Jayree's (Junior Chamber of Commerce) 18th annual world's championship rodeo in April.

TEXAS BAPTISTS PREP FOR FM OPERATION

Dalias, Aug. 9.

Contracts for a 600-foot tower and other equipment for KYBS, an FM outlet to be built here by Walter Damm's WTMJ and WTMJ-TV have lined up an ambitious radio and tele coverage of football games this fall, skedding 12 telecasts and 24 radio broadcasts, all of them sponsored. Stations will handle the contests of the Green Bay Packers, Marquette U. and U. of Wisconsin.

Five Wisconsin and three Marquette bome games will be televised for the First Wisconsin National Bank. Milwaukee. through the Marvin Lemkuhl agency. Deal for Wisconsin tilts at Madison was completed when A. T. & T. agreed to erect three semi-portable towers between Milwaukee and Madison to carry the series. Coaxial cable will be installed between the Madison phone building and Camp Randall stadium. Texas Baptists have been let by

WLS Educ'l Director's Series on German Youth Centers for Midwest

Chicago, Aug. 9. Army authorities in the occupied zone are planning to tell of U. S. sponsored German Youth Activity on midwest radio in an effort to sponsored German Youth Activity on midwest radio in an effort to help German youngsters get back on their feet along democratic lines. Part of the scheme is a one-month tour of the U. S. zone by WLS educational director Josephine Wetzler.

Latter departs Westover Field, Mass. Sept. 2 for an inspection trip of German youth centers in the American section with Army brass hoping her unbiased, factual reports later to the large rural and semi-rural WLS listening audience will arouse an encouraging response in the U. S. middle regions towards the steps the Army is taking to rehabilitate the German teenagers.

Plan stemmed from the three-year program of Miss Wetzler via WLS, in which she featured German Youth Activity, and its struggle against Communist ideas and influence. The campaign reportedly aroused such military interest that the Army command at Heidelberg made a special request for her personal tour.

Enroute, Miss Wetzler will taperecord programs in England and Scotland, using domestic life interviews among various classes of people as a future series on the Prairie Farmer outlet.

BMI Reprises Clinic

Formula of last month's Broad-

Formula of last month's Broadcast Music, Inc.'s program directors' and librarians' clinic—which combined education with a country club atmosphere—was so successful that a repeat is being staged Aug. 15-16. The cuffo two-day school will include, beside lectures on programming and library operations, a cocktail party, lunches and a trip to the Cresthaven Country Club, L. I.

Speakers will include Tom McFadden and Clay Daniel, general manager and program manager, respectively, of WNBC, N, Y., Jack Poppele, engineering veepee of WOR, N, Y.; Arthur Rothafel, assistant program director of CBS-TV; Gordon Graham, WCBS,
N, Y., assistant program director; Ted Cott, program veepee of WNEW, N, Y., and BMJ officials Bob Burton, Carl Havelin, Roy Harlowe and James L. Cox, Latter is children.

Winnipeg — CKY. Winnipeg's new radio station, has been granted a power boost by the CBC board of governors. Station will up its power from 1,000 watts to 5,000 when it starts broadcasting in the fall. Station is owned by the Bergman-Moffat Broadcasting Co., which took over the call letters CKY when that station became CBW.

Firemen Buy 'City Hall'

United Firemen's Assn. of Greater N. Y. has bought "City Hall." 15-minute public service show aired Saturday nights by the N. Y. Daily News' WPIX. Welfare organization, which placed the order directly with the station, will bankroli the show for 13 weeks, starting Saturday (13).

Mayor William O'Dwyer will be interviewed by political reporter John Crosson on this week's program, discussing the forthcoming mayorally campaign and current problems confronting the city.

Seattle—Jack Kinzel again doing weekly "Speaking of Radio" on KIRO.

FCC Preps Giveaway Crackdown, Roused to Action by Their Increase

Commission is prepping rules to restrict giveaways, VARIETY learned mission has instructed the staff to draw up regulations which will soon be given final scrutiny. It's exepected that further oral argument will be allowed before rules are adopted.

Washington, Aug. 9.

The Federal Communications commission is prepping rules to estrict giveaways, Variety learned oday. It's understood the Comission has instructed the staff to liraw up regulations which will on be given final scrutiny. It's expected that further oral argument will be allowed before rules are adopted.

Growth in number of giveaways

BARRY GRAY

Beginning on

WOR

AM-TV*

SEPTEMBER 4TH

Midnite - 2 A.M. and Each Sunday for an 8 Weeks Series

Currently Appearing: COLUMBIA PICTURE SHORT SUBJECTS "THRILLS OF MUSIC" SERIES

* Schedule to be announced.

Schwerin

terest, and neither sounds."

short, the best rule in monitoring is the venerable editorlal maxim—"When in doubt, leave it torms maxim—"W The average listener isn't out." The average listener isn't aware that it may have been a tri-umph of ingenuity for you to get the recording; nor will he give you high marks just because of the trouble you went to.

Foreign and Domestic

In an earlier chapter on mystery shows, it was mentioned that audi snows, it was mentioned that audi-ences are no longer automatically impressed with foreign settings, but demand both authentic back-ground and a real reason for the story's being laid in a faraway impressed place.

There's a parallel to this situation in the case of news. Pickups of reports from overseas cannot nowadays depend on their novelty value. The wise editor asks himself whether a foreign pickup definitely will add something to the program, or whether the story cannot be related just as cogently from a U. S. newsroom.

One top program tested by

One top program tested by Schwerin, by exercising more se-lectivity and reducing the amount of time devoted to overseas pick-ups from about a third of the ups from about a third of the total news time to about one-tenth, raised the average score of the foreign pickups that remained by 10 points. Concurrently, the average interest in all the program's news rose 12 points.

In reporting foreign news, whether from abroad or by a news-caster in this country, the tests have brought out the great imcaster in this country bave brought out the great importance of relating the meaning of each item to the plain U. S. citizen. In studies of the longer items by a reporter especially noted for his foreign coverage, Schwerin found that every time the item concluded by telling what effect the event was likely to have on the average American, interest rose; whenever the event's tie-in to the listener was left cloudy, interest fell off.

As a final point on foreign pick-

Anterest fell off.

As a final point on foreign pickups. Schwerin brings up the reminder that there's a double hazard in using them. Not only must the story have intrinsic worth to get good interest; there is always the stronger danger that recention stronger danger that reception i't be good. On one show the stronger danger that reception won't be good. On one show tested, a special reporter had traveled 5,000 miles to cover an important on-the-spot event; his nickup was so static-ridden as to be unintelligible, with the result that it hit an average score of only 21, the lowest interest mark ever reached on a news program.

Problems of Approach
The principle of Approach, one of Schwerin's five basic "F-A-M-E-D" elements of sound programming, is one naturally of great concern to newscasters. Their reportorial training makes them recognize how important it is, a get their broadcasts started strongly. Therefore, the Schwerin System has put considerable study into this subject.

On one news program, it was found that the comparatively sim-

On one news program, it was found that the comparatively simple change of having the main reporter rather than the announcer reporter rather than the announcer deliver the headlines produced a 15-point gain in interest in the headlines themselves; not only that, but there was a carryover effect, with the rest of the news being markedly better received.

On another major show, the basic problem proved to be the organization of the lead stories.

When they were shortened and the

When they were shortened and the newscaster reorganized them newscaster reorganized them to cut down on the confusion caused by too much shuttling back and forth among "points of view," there was clear gain in interest both for the lead stories and for the rest of the news. New Program Appeal Schwerin's extensive data on audience group appeal reveal that, on the average, news programs on the average, news programs have a more even pattern of interest among both age and education groups than most other types of show. In the case of age groupings, news shows generally careful monitoring of tape record- appeal a little more to older peocareful monitoring of tape recordings would be desirable.

Tapings of ordinary people telling about their parts in some newsworthy event generally succeed best, being the only one that sometimes create high Interest even though their fidelity of reproduction quality may be poor. Excerpts from speeches seldom gain high interest, and neither do "authentic sounds."

appeal a little more to older peoples than to younger adults, but this is not as pronouncedly true as with most other programs-types. With high school or college ducations are, if anything, somewhat more interested in the average major news programs than are the grade school educated.

However, one veteran commentator tested by the Schwerin what more interested in the average major news programs than are the grade school educated.

However, one veteran commentator tested by the Schwerin System was a violent exception to the above rule. His whole audience average was quite low, because interest in the program was concentrated almost exclusively among older people and those with grade school educations. A spongrade school educations. A sponwide audience coverdesiring age would have been making a big mistake to buy this show; but if was an ideal outlet for a product aimed at older people.

NBC's Split

panded to embrace the overall panded to embrace the overall radio-television structure, despite the split up, Eiges, Hammond and Kopf will continue their reign in both spheres of operation. At the moment, the sales picture

At the moment, the sales picture is in need of clarification. With Sylvester (Pat) Weaver moving in as head of television, actually no one in sales reports to him. Under the present system of sales integration, George Frey, No. 2 man in the sales picture, reports to Kopf. Both Kopf and Weaver, in turn, report directly to exec veepee Charles R. Denny.

It was or ig in ally anticipated

It was originally anticipated It was originally anticipated that the decisions coming out of the BA & H report would be ready for submission and study at the annual NBC convention Sept. 7 to 11 at White Sulphur Springs. However, with prexy Niles Trammel and RCA prez Frank Folsom curly vacationing and not due k until Aug. 15 at the earliest, now a certainty that the final out won't emerge until after the renders the license he'll have to renders the license he'll have to gamble (if he's an AM broadcast-er) that radio will be good for a long time. If he hangs on, it means hearings before the FCC (and the expense of legal counsel) and convincing the agency it hasn't vincing the agency it hasn't been squatting on the channel. If he gues ahead with the station, he is really making the plunge which, who knows how much it will cost and how long it will take before he's out of the red.

FCC 'Stop Sitting'

Continued from page 32

he's out of the red.

Of course, delay in going ahead with construction doesn't necessarily mean stalling. Sometimes, it's a headache to acquire a satisfactory site for a television transmitter and antenna tower. There are problems involving zoning and approval of the aviation authorities, let alone finding a location which has the desired elevation. In a number of cases, getting the site has taken up to a year or more. And it would be foolbardy to order equipment until the site is assured.

Recently, the Commission in de-

Recently, the Commission in de-Recently, the Commission in denying extensions, has given permittees the opportunity of requesting hearings to offer evidence of diligence. Last week, the agency scheduled proceedings to hear testimony from KEYL in San Antonio and KTVU in Portland. Orc. The hearings will be held Sept. 1 and 29, respectively, in Washington.

Campus Radio

Continued from page 31

The revenue received by WAIS at Williams keeps the station going and Williams objects to a proposal by the FCC to forbid outlets from Minn. Station's Wide Appeal That the stations are popular with students is evident from information furnished by the coileges. The University of Minneformation furnished by the coi- this in leges. The University of Minnesota cites a survey among its dornulatories showing its campus outlet, zealor WMMR, as third in listening to the WCCO and KSTP in the Twin Cities, despite poor reception in some of its buildings.

According to the Intercollegiate tion."

Broadcasting System, the campus station is the largest extra-curricular activity at many schools. The college outlets, says IBS, develop a variety of professional radio people, including engineers, an-nouncers, station managers, and actors, in addition to personnel electronics manufacturers and groups-government and

The stations cooperate with commercial outlets in exchange of programs and joint use of facilities and, IBS asserts, are "complementary rather than competing."

Because of their low cost and the fact they can be tuned in by ordinary receivers, the stations are admirably suited to many col-leges. The suggestion that colleges substitute noncommercial educa-tional FM stations is opposed by tional FM stations is opposed by IBS on grounds that many schools cannot afford the more expensive FM cost and maintenance, that there is no opportunity to defray expenses by income from advertising, and that the majority of administrators do not de that unreviewed programs campus. "Otherwise," leave the campus. "Otherwise," says IBS, "such programs night adversely involve the institution in public relations."

People Will Continued from page 31

that many station operators are that many station operators are fighting this period through on the premise that quality of product will continue to pay off. I don't want to give you the im-pression that I am determined to go into bankruptcy with the purest of white flags unfurled. Actually, go into bankruptey with the purest of white flags unfurled. Actually, we haven't changed our feelings about double-spotting, laxatives, selling time for religious programs or accepting female remedies. Curiously, although we have held to that line, our time sales and earnings are running ahead of last year dearnite, unavoidable, increases in unavoidable increases despite unavoidable in the conservation costs. I think the net-works may very well find that some of their affiliates at least will not

We have accepted beer advertise for some years, and perhaps are fortunate in having three al breweries with a shrewd we are fortunate in having three local breweries with a shrewd sense of public relations as well as sound selling and business thinking. Their commercial copy and programming not only meet our standards, but apparently haven't offended our listeners because in the last wear I have received but one protest from listeners and that was a sterroglyped form letter. stereotyped form letter was a stereotyped form letter which upbraided me not only for beer copy but also for handling liquor, which we don't do.

I can't help but feel that the listeners will stay with the station that continues to try to maintain broadcasting on a dignified basis. I know there are many others who agree with me with me.

Victor A, Sholis,
Director, WHAS, Louisville.

Johnson Continued from page 31

the listener to screen your broad-the listener to screen your broad-casts. It indicates laziness, lack of pride and a total rejection of station responsibility."

Watson had sent Johnson a copy of the letter he wrote to the Florida delegation. He said he held no brief for the liquor interests and that his station does not accept their advertising. "We do, and that his station does not accept their advertising. "We do, however," he said, "leaim the right to make such policy decisions ourselves, basing our judgement on an appraisal of the needs of the area we serve and on our own best interests in a highly competitive radio market. I vigorously protest the invasion of free speech proposed by Sen. Johnson."

Watson said he was of the proposed by Sen. Johnson."

Watson said he was of the opinion that Johnson's "campaign to strengthen Federal control of radio" and all allied campaigns should be fought by those "faithful to truly American principles." He said he was unable to understand the reasoning prompting the Senator's "borderline prohibition" unless it was based on a political desire to satisfy both his drinking and non-drinking constituents.

Johnson apparently alluded to Johnson apparently alluded to this remark in a part of his letter which stated: "Let me emphasize that I am neither a crusader nor a zealor." zealot. I just happen to believe that the privacy of the home is more scared than the sales talk of the whiskey peddler aided and abetted by the family radio sta-tion." I just happen to believe

TV Creating

Continued from page 33 ;

George Marshall, prez of the Washington Redskins, who has refused to kick the TV cameras out "Television can't his arena. possibly hurt his house," Arries said. "His fans know they're going to see a fine squad in action and they'd go to see it regardless."

DuMont exec noted a slight slump in certain baseball attendfigures but claimed that couldn't be blamed on video. "People who go for that kind of thinking are fools," he said. "I think that of ait the sports played in this country, baseball has the best chance of stimulating interest among future supporters by sticking with TV—and they are apparently cognizant of that fact."

Arries thinks that TV networks will develop a well-rounded variety sports program which will be aided by the coast-to-coast coaxial hook He foresees the day vern viewers will watch eastern eastern viewers will watch the Rose Bowl game from Pasadena on their sets and Coast viewers will be able to watch the big eastern college games. And if sports like baseball, football and boxing are baseball, football and boxing are finally proven to be adversely affected by video, Arries thinks there may be a cure for that. It's in the increased use of films—giv-ing viewers just a fragment of some events, such as a few horse races each day, to whet their appetites enough to draw them out to the tracks.

FM

Continued from page 31 :

would be of benefit to the station's NEW TELE FILMING audience.'

The Commission would improve FM receiver selectivity by revising its standards affecting interference ratios for stations. These standards, said the agency, are based on present and probably future development of FM receivers.

The proposed changes, on which The proposed changes, on which the agency has asked for comments, were regarded by Everett Dillard, a director of FMA, as "a farsighted move" by the Commission. He said that in improving the standards to meet the realities of receiver design problems the Commission. receiver design problems, the Comreceiver design problems, the Com-mission is doing everything possi-ble to improve the efficiency of the sets. He pointed out that the agency has no jurisdiction over the receiver manufacturer.

Dillard was of the opinion the ommission's action would mean ewer Class A or community type fewer Class A or community specific FM stations in such metropolitan areas as New York, Los Angeles and Washington.

He expressed confidence that other problems having to do with FM receivers will be met by manu-facturers through the force of com-petition.

Chi Labor

Continued from page 31

distinctly detrimental to Its stige and position as a 50,000-ter that is Chi owned-and-op-ted. Platt formerly was assist-program director of WIND prestige here, and reportedly was brought into WCFL to correct a catch-as-catch-can operation.

One station spokesman was quoted as saying: "We're sick and tired of being considered a second class, second choice, second run outlet. We've got the power and the position to be a top dog in the midwest. Now that our physical plant is ready, watch our smoke in programming."

One technical difficulty in WCFL showcasing is the size limitation of its present quarters in the Furniture Mart. Although a special job has been done with acoustical ceilings in the studios, the height of the rooms still handicap sound effects, according to station engineers. There's also a space obstacle.

space obstacle.

There is no indication that WCFL will move to larger quarters in the near future, but the attitude is that such a step is a logical followup of the present drive to capture bigger audiences and influence,

CBS' 35G Rap in Stanley Suit Cues Wariness On Part of Webs, Agencies

Part of Webs, Agencies

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Networks and ad agencies are exercising greater caution in the handling of program idea submissions as a result of a recent high court decision in a damage suit against CBS. There's even been some 'talk of refusing to consider freelance program ideas, but that's regarded as an unlikely prospect.

The court case that has been the talk of radio and television circles resulted in a $35,000 damage verdict against CBS for appropriating a program formula submitted by scripter Jack Stanley. The network appealed a lower court decision, but the plea was dismissed in a $-2 decision by the supreme court, highest tribunal in the state.

Interesting aspect of the case was that the upper court upheld the previous judgement that 'although no single element in Stanley's program format was original, the combination of all the elements.

though no single element in Stanley's program format was original, the combination of all the elements constituted an original creation,
Also, it affirmed the original jury verdict that the overall similarity in the plaintiff's show and that used by the network was sufficient to support the charge of copying, Stanley alleged that his program,
"Walter Wanger Presents," with a format called "Preview Parade" and "Hollywood Preview," were used by CBS in its "Hollywood Prevlew" series for Mohilgas and Mobiloil. In asking for a reversal of the $35,000 award, the network argued that the jury verdict was "so excessive that it appeared to have been given under the Influence of prejudice and passion," have been given under the in-fluence of prejudice and passion," that it had discovered new evi-dence, and that the evidence was insufficient to support the verdict.

PROCESS CUTS COST

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Hollywood. Aug. 9.
Filmtone. Inc., under the direction of Dr. Ferenz II. Fodor, has developed a process for filming television programs at a cost level to that of kinescope.
Dr. Fodor stated that process enables the filming of 30-minute shows with specially built cameras with a magazine capable of holding 1,200 feet of film. Film, also, is specially packaged as usual load is 900 feet.
Cameras are operated mechani-

Cameras are operated mechanically from a control panel. Each camera has three lenses which are also automatically switched. System, which has been dubbed Videofilms, makes use of double system sound recorded separately.

Talent Unions

Continued from page 33 and memberships. Greater part of live TV work is handled in the east, with Coast unions fearing any permanent authority might be east, with Coast unions fearing any permanent authority might be dominated by eastern talent. Another tough problem is the fact that the Screen Actors Guild and Screen Extras Guild now control film talent, with no desire to relinquish that control unless the lines between telefilms and notion pictures are clearly drawn. This could not be done during the eighted we debate. Unions represented could not be done during the eight-day debate. Unions represented were members of the AFL interna-tional of the 4A's, namely Equity, American Federation of Radio Art-ists, American Guild of Musical Artists, American Guild of Variety Artists, Chorus Equity, SAG and CEG.

TV-Bouts

Continued from page 32 chain in the east, has announced his intentions to concentrate on sports events pickups at the start. With less than 10 major events available throughout the year, the available throughout the year, the elimination of even two or three of them might seriously curtail his plans managers' han on Fight Fight managers han on meanwhile, settles the squabble between NBC and CBS over which would have rights to the outdoor bouts staged by the International Boxing Corp. and the Madison Sq. Boxing Corp. and the Madison Sd-Garden Corp. As plans now line up, CBS will alr Wednesday night indoor fights from St. Nick's Arena, N. Y., under Ballantine's sponsorship and NBC will televise Friday night bouts from the Garden under sponsorship of Gillette Safety Razor.

SHOWDOWN ON DISK RELEASES

Decca Holds to LP Denial, But Columbia Pressers Say 'Tain't True BREAKING IT OPEN

Columbia Records Corp.'s main pressing factory—now its sole plant since the closing of the Hollywood site-is said to be turning out Misite—is said to be turning out Mi-crogroove Long-Playing disks for Deca Records. According to plant workers, CRC presses were put to work within the past few weeks on LP versions of many of Decca's heaviest selling albums. and a fair-sized inventory has aiready been stacked up.

Columbia execs here, however, won't admit they're making LP platters for Decca.

Decca's Denial

Decca executives in New York, who several weeks ago denied having made any decision to use Columbia Record's 33½ rpm system for its album product only, also deny that Columbia is now pressing LP's for them. Decca's Dave Kapp, head of artists and repertoire, stated iate last week that when and if Decca decides to go LP it will press the platters itself.

However, it's felt that Decca.

However, it's feit that Decca, while refusing to admit it has decided to go LP, has done so and is allowing Columbia to press an initial batch of platters that will hit the market at the same time an announcement is made.

AFM Releases Spivak from WM

After months of waiting for a decision from the American Federation of Musicians executive board, Charlie Spivak was given a forced release from the William Morris agency band department last week. That leaves the Morris outfit with only Duke Ellington as a name outfit and could result in the finalizing of a decision by booker Cress Courtney to strike out for er Cress Courtney to strike out for himseif. He had intended doing that months ago when the Morris agency band division began break-ing up.

Spivak filed a plea for release with the AFM sometime ago, on various grounds, all of which charged Morris with not living up to their contract. While awaiting to their contract. While a waiting a decision, Morris, however, continued to book him. He is talking with Music Corp. of America, and General Artists Corp. about a new deal with either one, but nothing is definite.

CHI RETAIL DISKERS SEEK NAT'L GROUP

Chicago, Aug. 9.

Chicago. Aug. 9.
Chi Retaii Record Assn., formed recently to combat price-slashing of the disk manufacturers, met at the Congress hotel last week for a report on the NAMM convention recently held in New York, plus the launching of a proposed nationwide Retail Record Assn.

The Chicago group will join wide Retail Record Assn.

The Chicago group will join hands with a similar setup in New York, to stimulate organization in other cities. A national convention is being planned for Chicago. Organization, on a national scale, will altempt to have some control over prices of disks, instead of being subject to moves by the waxeries.

Ricordi's New Officers

Foliowing action of the Alien Property Custodian in returning G. Ricordi & Co. to its former management, stockholders and directors recently elected a new officer siate.

Camilio Ricordi was voted prez while Franco Colombo was named tressurer. Renato Tasselli be-comes secretary and managing di-rector.

Company's catalog is principally composed of grand opera scores.

Mystery Unraveled!

Mystery Unraveled!
Percy Faith made a fishing trip into the wilds of Canada a week ago. He had an Indian guide along and during the course of the trip Faith taught the guy to sing "A—You're Adorable," It went fine, except that the guide would sing-the alphabet letters in English and the rest of the lyric in his native language.

age. th says the result sounded

Hucklebuck' Disk May Team Bailey, Page on 1-Niters

Pearl Bailey and trumpeter Hot ips Page, who combined on the farmony label (Columbia's 49c Lips Page, who combined on the Harmony iabel (Columbia's 49c dlsk) to work up a hit platter of "Hucklebuck," may be booked together. Joe Glaser. Associated Booking head, who handles Miss Bailey, is working out a deal under which Page and a small band would be aligned with the singer to work one-nighters they've been offered.

offered.

Harmony disk cut by Miss Bailey and Page was unusual in that it was done solely to deliver an established hit on a low-priced disk. "Hucklebuck" had been made a hit by Frank Sinatra (Columbia), Tommy Dorsey (Victor) and others, but when the Bailey-Page platter was released it took a lot of the play away from rival platters. And created the situation under which it would be advantageous to book them as a team.

Sinatra's Disking Of Marsala Tune Stirs Interest After Nixes

Record companies are buzzing currently about a new ballad titled "Let Her Go. Let Her Go. Let Her Go." recorded first by Frank Sinatra for Columbia Records. Joe Go." recorded first by Frank Sinatra for Columbia Records. Joe Marsala, jazz clarinetist, who hasn't had too much luck recently, is the writer of both lyrie and music of the tune and its publication involves an unusual story.

Marsala took the song to various publishers, only to be turned down. He finally went to the Warner Bross firms, and the latter, explaining that they were well stocked with WB film pops, agreed to have copies printed for Marsala with a Music Publishers Holding Corp. note Indicating the publisher (MPHC Is parent company of various WB firms). After that Marsala with the tune. If anything happened they'd publish. But it was all up to Marsala himself.

Musician got Sinatra Interested, and the latter's disking, not yet released, has stirred all the interest. And so WB will work on the tune.

LANZA PLUGGED VIA M-G PUSH OF PIC TUNE Sammy Kaye Cracks

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Loew's-owned Big 3 music publishing affiliate has been given orders by homeoffice execs in New York to push heavily on the exploitation of the musical score of 'Midnight Kiss' as a means of helping introduce and put over a film new comer, Mario Lanza, plays opposite Kathryn Grayson in the film, along with Jose Iturbi and Ethel Barrymore.

Initial tume from the score to be plugged will be "I Know, I Know, I Know."

almost constant bickering The almost constant bickering between recording companies and music publishers over violated release dates on pressings of rew tunes may be broken wide open as a result of the clash last week by Decca Records and Lon Levy, head of Leeds Music, over Decca's claimed jumping of restrictions. of Leeds Music, over Docca's claimed jumping of restrictions on Bing Crosby's "The Last Mile Home," Levy's blast at Docca and Decca's answers, which are echoed by other recording execs, could have the effect of breaking up the

by other recording execs, could have the effect of breaking up the practice of stamping release dates on new tunes and the removal of what many diskers feel is a practice that has been hampering "free enterprise" in the disk business.

Victor, for one, is mulling, the advisability of telling publishers from whom it accepts tunes that it will observe no release dates on anything but show and film scores, that it will release a new tune when it sees fit. If those terms aren't acceptable it will not take a melody for disking. Decca's Dave Kapp agrees fairly closely, excepting that in the event a publisher insists on a release date. Decca doesn't want to see the song until just before the date the publishers will work on it.

Diskurs are ali of the pronounced.

will work on it.

Diskers are all of the pronounced opinion that the habit of using release dates on pops is hurting the (Continued on page 60)

Carl Fischer Plans to Exit N. Y. Jobbing

Carl Fischer is planning to drop out of music jobbing in New York only. Frank Conners, head of the organization's eastern distributing division, has been discussing with two personalities in N. Y. the possibility of either huving out or taking over the Fischer accounts in the east. Music Dealers Service, which recently took over the inventory and customers of Ashley, another jobber, is talking over the same idea with Fischer, but there's no indication of whether a deal will be made.

same idea with Fischer, but there's no indication of whether a deal will be made.

Fischer, the largest jobber in the midwest, headquartering in Chicago, will continue that outlet. It is said to be drawing out of the eastern market because of the demands of employees, who recently elected to organize and join the United Office and Professional Workers of America, CIO white-collar union. Fischer apparently feels that the added expense of shipping and billing sales in the east doesn't justify the comparatively small amount of business the outfit does out of N.Y.

UOPWA, incidentally, caused Ashley to get out of jobbing in N.Y.—that plus hiked demands for the rental of office space. A new lease had to be signed by Ashley at the same time its personnel demanded salary boosts, and the outfit couldn't see its way clear to underwriting both increases. It sold its inventory to MDS and the latter took over most of its accounts, a move, incidentally, which strengthened MDS' hold on the greater portion of the jobbing business in the U. S.

Sammy Kaye Cracks

Pa, Admish Record

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 9.

Sammy Kaye's orchestra cracked the ho. mark at the American Legion Park ballroom. Ephreta, Pa., near here, Sunday (7) evening. Kaye played to 4,440 admissions at $1.25 on a promotion date handled by Dave Helman for the local Legion chapter.

Park uses names consistently, Kaye's mark topped a 3,400 admission mark set this year by Louis Prima and an all-time bo, level of 3,800 by the Mills Bros.

DECCA, LEEDS ROW ASCAP Consent Decree Seen Taking Precedence to Society-Tele Deal

Now, There

San Francisco. Aug. 9.
Columbia Records Corp. has an answer to RCA-Victor's stream of communiques which point out that RCA's 45 rpm point out that text 8 45 pm record changers are being spotted in automobiles, air-planes, as part of apartment iouse equipment, etc. CRC's 33½ rpm LP system has just been installed in Al-catraz prison.

Decca Finds Sale Moves Disks That Didn't Go Before

Decca execs are being pleasantly surprised by one aspect of the 50%-off sale still being conducted by dealers. It's pointed out that quite a bit of the album material that heretofore did not sell is being moved off dealers' shelves. Such-items as the "Songs of Our Times" series, which hasn't shown sales health since first released; the more recent "Telephone Songs," "Automobile Songs," etc., all are claimed to be selling at the reduced tab, whereas they didn't go before.

go before.

That's unusual in view of the experience of RCA-Victor, which ran a similar sale previously. Victor people found that sale or no sale, items that were not in demand at full price were hard to move at reduced price. It was found that buyers sought out the top material in pop and classicals and left most of the other to continue gathering dust.

Goodman Solos At Monte Carlo Club, Underwrites Vacash

Benny Goodman played his clarinet in Europe after all, following his two-week run at the Palladium theatre, London. Work consisted of a one-night, solo appearance at the Sporting Club, Monte Carlo, where B. G. had gone for a vacation. He drew 500,000 francs for working alone tabout $2,000, and it paid his expenses for the run to Monte Carlo.

to Monte Carlo.

Goodman originally intended working a series of concert one-nighters in England, and on the Continent with his own band thereafter. Band would have met him in Paris, since it was barred from working with him in England by British Musicians Union rules; Goodman used English men at the Paliadium. But during the run at Paliadium. But during the run at the London theatre he cancelled all further bookings. He may go to Europe next April, however.

ARMSTRONG MAY TOUR EUROPE AGAIN IN FALL

Louis Armstrong may go to Europe again in the fall for another string of concert dates with his small jazz combination. Armstrong has been offered a number of bookings on the Continent, but Joe Glaser, head of Associated Booking, won't let him take off until he has signed agreements for a minimum of 60 dates.

So far, tentalitye agreements between the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers and television has taken a new tack along iines never pointedly mentioned before by either side. It's the opinion of the video men mentioned before by either side. It's the opinion of the video men that a deal will be made before the new Sept. I deadline, but they say they do not expect-to finalize an agreement before ASCAP works out its new consent decree with the U.S. Department of Justice, now being negotiated.

Video angle on the necessary priority of the decree is that its terms are exepected to have some bearing on ASCAP's collection of fees for the exhibition of motion pictures. Last year N. Y. Federal Judge Vincent L. Leibell decided in suit brought against the Society by New York film theatre operators that ASCAP must divest itself of the right to collect exhibition fees in theatres; later he amended that to read that ASCAP could retain the rights, but could not self such.

Tele people expect in the future to be using quite a bit of musical films on the air and they will want to know how the situation stands before an ASCAP-tele deal is completed. They'll want to know whether ASCAP can, under a blanket license agreement with tele, include the right to teievise music in motion pictures without extra cost. Or whether such rights must be bought separately from copyright owners. To them it's an important angle since dickering separately for an okay to exhibit musical film on tele screens, which is basically the same as exhibiting them in theatres, will cost extra cover.

It has been mentioned that 'he Government's new consent decree with ASCAP will give ASCAP the right to collect exhibition fees again. If that's so, Judge Leibell will, of course, have to be consulted and his decision amended. Telepeople have been aware of the implications of the exhibition fee angle in relation to the use of films on the air, but the situation has not until this time been spotlighted.

Lay Groundwork For Tape AM Fee

Meeting last week between Harry Fox, music publishers agent and trustee, and Robert P. Myers, NBC v.p. and general counsel, laid the groundwork for the separate payment to pubs for the use of music on commercial AM broadcasts recorded on tape. And it's probable that ad agencies and sponsors will ask the stars of such shows to pay such costs themselves, at least in those instances where taping is done to make things easier for the performers involved. If such shows were to be done live, there would be no extra cost music would be free under radio's music would be free under radio's music would be free under radio's live, there would be no extra cost; music would be free under radio's blanket licenses.

When Fox and Myers first met over the problem of paying extra for taping, a type of recording not covered under existing contracts, a figure of $15 per song was advanced. That's granted to be too high for a one-time use, particularly since transcription companies using music in various kinds of show-recording pay less.

Future meetings between Fox and Myers will establish a rate.

Hopping 'Blues' Wagon

Hopping 'Blues' Wagon
New arrangement of the oldie,
"Lovesick Blues," by Hank Williams and His Drifting Cowboys on the M-G-M labei, has clicked so solldiy that other disk firms are rushing out their own versions.
Williams' piatter has been leading the hiiibilly field in point of tukebox plays as well as re d sales. Song was written by living Mills and Cliff Friend in 1922.

op Record Talent and Tunes

)

AS POLLED VIA LEADING U. S. "REQUEST" DISK JOCKEYS

onvew	7 Faul B
10 6	1 1 2 3
10 6	7
9 4 1	7
10 7 3 3 1
	a s
4
5 10 5
2 6 3
	2 8
	4
1 9 6	6
3 8
10 6 4
	c
0 2
	. 3
	:
	4
5	01
	1
	6
2
9	: 8
	:
4
5

Jocks, Jukes and Disks

By BERNIE WOODS

Perry Como "Give Me Your Hand"—'I Wish I Had a Record" (Victor). One of the finest recordings Como ever made, "Give Me ings Co vocal. Damone's work on it is fair.

Doris Day "The Last Mile Home"—"Land of Love" (Columbia). Miss Day's "Last Mile" is every bit as good as Bing Crosby's (Decca). A fine tune with everything required for hit classification, it's given a smart run by Miss Day and a chorus, backed by John Rarig's orchestra. Jocks will be spinning it aplenty. Backing is most interesting melody hard to describe. It may or may not catch attention, but it's worth any jock's time. Singer performs it beautifully. tifully.

Art Mooney "Wouldn't It Be Fun" — "Hop Scotch Polka" (M-G-M-). First tune is a fair novelty-type tune chorused by Mooney's entire band in staccatorythm style. It's playable. On the reverse he planted an arrangement of "Scotch Hop," which is getting a lot of attention; it's close musically to Billy Whitlock's (London) version, but an addedingredient is the band's chorusing again. It's good and could click.

elick.

Anne Shelton "Wedding of Litit Marlene"—"Hold Me Just a Little Closer, Dear" (London). A good version of "Lili." Miss Shelton's try is not the equal of the Andrews trio disk, but in itself proves a very worthwhile face. Wardour Singers and Paul Fenoulhet's orchestra back the English singer who by now has established herself to some extent in the U. S. Backing is a fair tune unlikely to mean much.

Backing is a fair tune unlikely to mean much.

Irving Fields "Scalawag"—"That Wonderful Girl of Mine" (Victor). Neither of these sides may be hits, but they're worthy of lock attention because they're off the beaten arrangement path, yet commercial. Fields' piano, a sort of shuffle rhythm and chorusing by the small band make the "Scalawag" side listenable over and over. "Girl" hasn't the same amount of appeal, but is good nevertheless.

Dick Haymes "Song of Surrender"—"Circus" (Decca). Haymes does a much better job on "Surrender" than any prior recordings of the title tune of a new Paramount film. But it still isn't impressive as a possible hit. A chorus and Victor Young's orchestra back him. "Circus" is something else. A good tune, it's smartly done by Haymes and a chorus, almost matching Tony Martin's face (Victor).

Mr. Ford and Mr. Goon-Bones.

tor).

Mr. Ford and Mr. Goon-Bones "Ain't She Sweet'." Shick of Araby". Crystalite). These Crystalite sides suggest where Milt Herth fot the idea for his "Ain't She Sweet" (Coral), which VARETY pointed out weeks ago as a possible sleeper hit. These disks were then starting in the midwest. Paired arrangements involving two standards worked over by organ and bones, they're clicky and should spread nationally. They bounce and they're different.

Russ Case "I Know, I Know, I

Russ Case "I Know. I Know. I Know. I Know." All Year Round" (M-G-M). Case is turning out exceptional disks, This, his second, carried two excellent string-full arrangements

Platter Pointers

Bill Darnell presents an unsual and attractive style on his first Coral pairing, "So Much" - "Hot Cake, Hominy and Sassafras Tea", for a singer who delivered ballads for name bands, the two sides exhibit a vocal groove far from that path. They're different, and good.

Dennis Day delved into hilbilly in good style with "Hand Holdin' Music" (Victor) . Carmen Cavallaro's pianistics flare brightly on "Miami Beach Rhumba". "Cancion Del Mar" (Decca), latin-beat tunes . M-G-M doubled Leeds' plug tune, "Someday," into hilbilly, with Arthur Smith, backed by the best version of "Dime A Dozen" so far.

Tommy Tucker also cut a saleable version of "Someday" (Harmony) . One of the liveliest polka outfits to hit wax is batoned by Mickey and Mary Carton (Decca); their "County Fair" zooms.

Jump fans and locks will go for Zigsy Elman's "Carolina In The Morning" - "Boppin' With Zig," (M-G-M) two solid sides . Varsity reissued three Majestic items by Percy Faith's large band; they're all powerfully played standards, "Dancing In The Dark" - "Temptation"; "That Old Black Magic" - "All Through the Night"; "Begin the Beguine" : "Touch of Your Hand" . Harmony reissued Jump kids will click with Cootie his "For Mari-Yootch" (Victor).

Williams', "Slidin' and Glidin" (Mercury) . . . Louis Prima is trying the spaghetti circuit again with his "For Mari-Yootch" (Victor).

Standout western, race, polka, illbilly, spiritual, etc.: Spade Cooley, "Don't Call Me Sweetheart Anymore" (Victor); Johnson Family Singers, "God Is My Landlord" (Columbia); Tennessee Ernie, "Smokey Mountain Boogle" (Capitol); Ray Smith, "I'm Throwing Rice" (Columbia); Jackie Paris Trio, "Lonesome Lover Blues"-"Tormented" (M - G - M); Dude Martin, "I Always Had A Way With Women" (Victor); Skeets Yaney, "I'm Sealing This Letter With Tears" (Columbia); Joe Turner, "Boogie Woogie Baby" (M-G-M).

Ballplayers On A Waxing Ball

Columbia Records aims to take advantage of the many new recordings made for major labels by baseball stars, plus the great comeback by Joe DiMaggio, by reissuing a disking of the pop tune, "Joltin' Joe DiMaggio." Song, by disk jockey Alan Courtney and a collaborator, was released originally in 1941, cut by Lee Brown's orchestra. It was backed then by "Nickel "Serenade," which will again become the companion piece. DiMaggio himself recently fin-Columbia Records aims to take again become the companion piece. DiMaggio himself recently finished recording a kiddie album for Capitol Records, which will be released soon. Prior to that, Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodger players, had cut a kiddie set for Columbia Records. A while back, Decca Records issued a tune, written and recorded by Buddy Johnson, titled, "Did You Sce Jackie Robinson Hit That Ball?" And there's a disk by Dodgers Ralph Branca, Carl Furillo and Erv Palica, on the Apollo label titled "Brooklyn Dodger Jump."

Tops of the Tops

Retail Disk Best Seller
"Some Enchanted Evening"
Retail Sheet Music Seller
"Some Enchanted Evening"
"Most Requested" Disk
"Some Enchanted Evening"
Seller on Coin Machines
"Some Enchanted Evening"

Key Mid-Manhattan Music Merchant Views All 3 Speeds as Inevitable

Dinah's Tenn. Benefits

Dinan S 1enn. Deneills

Nashville, Aug. 9.

Dinah Shore is due here Aug.

19 for her first personal appearance in her home area in a couple of years. Singer has agreed to do a series of benefit appearances for the Nashville Youth Fund, under the auspices of the Nashville Baner, afternoon daily.

Miss Shore will also make an appearance in her home town,
Winchester, 90 miles from here.
Hubby George Montgomery won't come along since he's due to start a new film in Hollywood Aug. 10.

PIANO TEAM'S FASHION DATE AND DECCA DISKS

Eadie and Rack, piano team, will play at the Nieman-Marcus annual fashion show in Dallas over the Labor Day weekend. Rack is composing a special score for the event. Jacques Fath, fashion designer, will also be on hand-to receive this year's citation. Duo recently inked a recording pact with Decca. their first platters from the "South Pacific" score to be released Aug. 22.

Pacific" score to be received at the Blue Angel, N. Y. Instead of shuttering during the summer months, the nitery is remaining open with only the keyboard couple playing in the outer room.

Spitzer Maps Longer Stays in Hollywood

Stays in Hollywood Henry Spitzer, who set up his music publishing firm last fall after leaving as general manager of the Edwin H. (Buddy) Morris organization, has leased, with an option to buy, a home outside Hollywood. Hereafter, he will divide his time between New York and the Coast. Spitzer made the move mainly because of his family, but also because he expects to spend a considerable time in Hollywood strengthening business connections that couldn't be made while he was with Morris, since the Hollywood end was handled by Morris himself.

end was handled by Morris himself.

Meyer Rabson, who is a key music-radio merchant in mid-Manhattan, and is often an important barometer on public tastes to the music and radio business on Broadway, is of the opinion that the new phonograph record speeds must eventually catch on. "All these are additions to the better living. Who would have thought of television 20 years ago? Even with radio we had sales resistance problems but eventually prices were brought down, radios were combined with phonograph record players; and so, in time, the manifacturers will combine the standard 78 rpm with the LP and the 45s, and all the present confusion will be eliminated."

He admits, of course, as with other dealers that for the moment the public is sales resistive but there are other factors. Besides the uncertainty of which speed, the weather is naturally not conducive to playing records at home, and then too the economic picture is even more uncertain than such relatively minor thing as which of the three disk speeds will survive. As a practical retailer, in direct touch with his customers, Rabson knows that the basic elements of space-saving and cost can't be ignored. The average record collector has from $100 to $1,000 worth of records, and when Rabson points up how much less space these disks take in the new sizes, not to mention their unbreakability since they're all in vinylite, all argument cases. It must follow that, even though the 78 rpm customers will remain important for years to come, the retooling of new phonograph players to include all three speeds must eventually work to the remain important for years to come, the retooling of new phono-graph players to include all three speeds must eventually work to the merchandising upbeat of the new records.

Disk Jockey Review

DIXELAND JAZZ With Roger Wolfe 60 Mins., Sat.

60 Mins., Sat.
Sustaining.
WDSU, New Orleons
"Dixicland Jazz' is 60 minutes of good jazz—the real, mellow stuff and Roger Wolfe really sells it.
One of those credited with the renaissance of jazz in the old Crescent City, Wolfe is a lover of Dixieland, knows and tells why it is good. His enthusiasm and knowledge come warmly over the airlanes.

is good. His enthusiasm and knowledge come warmly over the airlanes.

Style is on informal, easy-going side, with Wolfe interpolating facts and information on disks, tunes and sidemen, as well as interviews with jazz notables to hold audience. His approach to the business of platter-spinning is considerably more adult than that of the standard needleworker. Among other things, bebop and such decadence is scorned by Wolfe, but performers like Sharkey Bonano, Wingy Manone, Kid Ory, Bunk Johnson and Papa Celestin are among those who give out.

Wolfe's manner is friendly without slopping över, and his chatter between tunes rates much higher than filler.

Band Review

Band Review

HENRY BUSSE ORCH (16)
With Phil Gray, Moose Prager
Statler Hotel, N. Y.
Henry Busse's initial location date in a long time brings him into the Statler with a surprisingly good commercial type band, one that works cleanly and with good musicianship, all based on a comparatively brief hearing opening night (Monday). It's composed of five brass, four sax, three violins and three rhythm, plus the rotund personality of the leader and his sugary, b.o-aimed trumpet.
Busse still employs the commercial touches that have for years marked his bands—the shuffle rhythm, trumpeting style, etc., but it's all coupled to a more varied arranging style. The band will often work through arrangements that are more or less modern in approach to pops and novelties, then turn and deliver one of older arrangements geared more closely to the shuffle rhythm idea.

Briefly, Busse turns in extremely pleasant music that is neither fish nor fowl, that is, it's neither strictly modern nor old timey, but a combination of both. And its good to listen to. Whether he will do business in this room, however, is another question. In recent months it has been a toughie for any combination of values.

Wood.

[Figures in parentheses indicate number of weeks song has been in the Top 10.1

MARIETY 10 Best Sellers on Coin-Machines Week of Aug. 6

1.	SOME ENCHANTED EVENING (11) (Williamson)	Perry Como Victor Frank Sinatra Columbia
2.	ROOM FULL OF ROSES (3) (Hill & Range)	Sammy Kaye Victor Dick Haymes Decca
3.	AGAIN (21) (Robbins)	Gordon Jenkins Decca Vic Damone Mercury
4.	HUCKLEBUCK (6) (United)	Frank Sinatra Columbia Tommy Dorsey Victor
5.	RIDERS IN THE SKY (15) (Morris)	Vaughn Monroe Victor Burl Ives Columbia
6.	BALI HA'I (8) (Williamson)	Perry Como Victor Bing Crosby Decca
7.	WONDERFUL GUY (8) (Williamson)	Margaret WhitingCapitol
8.	I DON'T SEE ME (12) (Laurel)	Gordon Jenkins Decca
9.	BABY IT'S COLD OUTSIDE (12) (Melrose)	Whiting-Mercer Capitol Shore-Clark Columbia
10.	FOREVER AND EVER (16) (Robbins)	Perry Como Victor Russ Morgan Decca

Second Group

FOUR WINDS, SEVEN SEAS (Lombardo) YOU'RE BREAKING MY HEART (Algonquin) MAYBE IT'S BECAUSE (Triangle)	Vic Damone Mercuri
EVERYWHERE YOU GO (Lombardo) LET'S TAKE OLD FASHIONED WALK (Berlin)	Guy Lombardo Decci
YES YES IN YOUR EYES (Remick) WHERE ARE YOU (Famous)	Blue Barron M.G.M. (Carmen Cavallaro Deced
MERRY GO ROUND WALTZ (Shapiro-B)	Guy Lombardo Decce Art Mooney M.G.N
HOW IT LIES (Morris) SOMEHOW (Algonquin)	SBing Crosby Dece Kay Starr Capito Billy Eckstine M.G.M.
SOMEDAY (Duchess)	Vaughn Monroe Victo
YOU'RE SO UNDERSTANDING (Barron-Pemora)
HOMEWORK (Berlin)	Victo Victo Dinah Shore Columbia

Songs With Largest Radio Audience

The top 31 songs of the week (more in case of ties), based on the copyrighted Audience Coverage Index Survey of Popular Mu-sic Broadcast over Radio Networks. Published by the Office of Research, Inc., Dr. John G. Peatman, Director.

Survey Week of July 29-August 4, 1949)
A Room Full of Roses
A Wonderful Guy-*"South Pacific"	Chappell
Again—†"Road House"	Robbins
And It Still Goes	Shapiro-B
Baby It's Cold Outside—"Neptune's Daughter"	Morris
Bali Ha'i-*"South Pacific" Every Time I Meet You-+"Beautiful Blonde"	Chappell
Every Time I Meet You-+"Beautiful Blonde"	Feist
Ev'ry Night Is Saturday Night	BMI
Fiddle Dee Dee-†"It's a Great Feeling"	Harms
Four Winds and the Seven Seas
Hucklebuck
I Don't See Me In Your Eyes Anymore	Laurel
It's a Great Feeling-f"It's a Great Feeling"
Just One Way To Say I Love You-*"Miss Liberty"	Berlin
Let's Take An Old-Fashioned Walk-* 'Miss Liberty'	'Berlin
Lora Belle Lee	Santly-Joy
Lover's Gold Maybe It's Because—*"Along Fifth Avenue"	Oxford
Maybe It's Because-*"Along Fifth Avenue"	BVC.
One & Only Highland Fling-t"Barkleys of B'way".	Warren
Now That I Need You	Famous
Riders In the Sky	Morris
Riders In the Sky Similau So in Love—*"Kiss Me, Kate"	Campbell
So in Love-*"Kiss Me, Kate"	. T. B. Harms
Some Enchanted Evening-*"South Pacific"	Chappell
Someday You'll Want Me to Want You	Duchess
Swiss Lullahy There's Yes Yes In Your Eyes Twenty-Four, Hours of Supplies	Southern
There's Yes Yes In Your Eyes	, Witmark
Twenty-rout flours of Sunsinie	. Hurancea
Two Little New Little Blue Little Eyes	. Morris
Weddin' Day Who Do You Know In Heaven	Famous
Who Do You Know In Heaven	Robbins

The remaining 21 songs of the week (more in case of ties).
based on the copyright Audience Coverage Index Survey of Popu lar Music Broadcast over Radio Networks. Published by the Office of Research, Inc , Dr. John G. Peatman, Director.
"A"-You're Adorable Laurel Always True in My Fashion-*"Kiss Me, Kate" T. B. Harms
Don't Call Me Sweetheart Anymore ABC
Dreamy Old New England Moon Leeds
Everywhere You Go Lombardo
Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue Feist
Hollywood Square Dance Santly-Joy
Homework-*"Miss Liberty" Berlin
How It Lies, How It Lies, How It Lies Morris
In Good Old Summertime-†"In Good Summertime" Marks
Just For Me Melody Lane
Look At Me Jewel
Love Is a Beautiful Thing Porgie
Powder Your Face With Sunshine Lombardo
Someone To Love Warren Pub
Through Sleepless Night—+"Come to the Stable" Miller
Why Fall in Love With a Stranger Campbell Younger Than Springtime-*"South Pacific" Chappell
You're Breaking My Heart Mellin
You're My Everything Harms
You're So Understanding Barron-Pem.

i Filmusical. * Legit musical.

On the Upbeat

New York

New York

Bob Poole, Mutual net disk jock (500 stations), marks his first anni on the current show Aug. 23... RCA-Victor promotion department sent out boxes of Lifesavers last week, each roll of candy wrapped with a tab that heralds RCA's 45 rpm disks as the "Lifesaver of the Record Business". Dick Bruce, WDSU, New Orleans, disk spinner, doing a weekly Saturday matinee on television, spinning platters from a mobile unit at the curb... Jack Hunter leaving Elliot Lawrence orchestra to do a vocal single. M-G-M Records added four new distributors, M & N Co., Buffalo: Lou Sowa Record, Pittsburgh; A D. Hewitt Co., Seattle, and arranged an outlet in Cuba through Gonzalez, Novo Y Cla, Havana. Leeds Music last week issued "invitations" to the "Wedding of Lili Marlene" and "Mr. Joe Citizen," listing as "guests of honor" all artists who recorded the top English hit for U. S. companies.

Chicago

Chicago

RCA-Victory hosted singer
Dennis Day at party Thurs. (4).
Day is personaling at the Chicago theatre... Tim Morrow appointed as ad agency to handle wire recordings of Magnetic Corp. of America.
... Kitty Kallen replaced singer Dorothy Claire at Oriental theatre, with George Jessel... George Olsen set for Claridge hotel, Memphis, Aug. 12, for two weeks.
... Nate Hale, former disk promotion Chi-head for Columbia Records, now one of toppers of Harmony Records... Singer Patty McGuire opens Aug. 10 at Casper Club, Casper, Wyo. .. Kirby
Stone held over again at Snack Bar of Forest Park hotel, St. Louis, with Sept. 8 as exit date because of theatre bookings... Si Stern, former assistant to advertising head at Mercury Records, now doing freelance promotions, with Leeds' tune, "Wedding of Lilly Marlene" as first exploitation setup ... Chuck Suber, biz manager of General Artists' Corp. in Chi,

Dallas

Dallas

Lou Bovis, owner and operator of Louann's, Dallas nitery, has booked name band one-niters, including Ray McKinley, Aug. 16; Lionel Hampton, Sept. 6; Tommy Dorsey, Oct. 19, and Tex Beneke, Nov. 28, with Jan Garber a later possibility... Glen Gray and Casa Lomans due in at Pappy's Showland Sept. 1. Band opens Thursday for three weeks at Shamrock hotel, Houston... Louis Jordon band also due in the state for a series of one nighters in Sept.

Hollywood

Hollywood
Leighton Noble band inked to wax for Vocalion label Freddie Fisher orch in two-week stand at Georgian room Freddie Slack band playing one-nighter at Pacific Square, San Diego Down in the same region the Woody Herman-King Cole concert at Russ auditorium last week grossed over $3.800 Dick LaSalle's band opens Sept. 8 at the Manes hotel, Reno, at flat $1.550 weekly.
Mal Hogan into Oasis for another stand Aug. 16, at $200 weekly.
Mal Hogan into Oasis for another stand Aug. 16, at $200 weekly.
Seldie Robertson, who tronts trio at Club Waikiki, Catalina, is working with his leg in a cast. Singer-bassist broke it in a fall.
Jeanne Taylor is at Club Bingo, Las Vegas, at $250 a week Betty Hall Jones sliced four sides for Capitol last week.
(Continued on page 48)

(Continued on page 48)

$2,500,000 to Chi Orch

Chicago, Aug. 9.
Chi Orchestral Assn. will get half of the $5,043,925 left by the late Charles H. Swift, former chairman of Swift & Co.
U. of Chicago granted the other half.

In Other Words, Disker Billy Whitlock Must Be A Pretty Old Boy by Now

A Pretty Old Boy by Now Roanoke, Va., Aug. 6.

Editor, Variety:
Because I have specialized for many years in collecting antique dises and cylinders, your story of Aug. 3 telling of a new firm, Cromwell Music, being set up to publish the novelty tune, "Scotch Hot," was of great interest to me. As your story mentioned, the number has attracted considerable attention since London Records issued it several weeks ago as a bells solo by its composer, Billy Whitlock, and has since been recorded by a good many combinations under the name of "Hop Scotch Polka."

It probably will come as a surprise to most Variety readers that Billy Whitlock is a veteran of the British recording studios and is the only still active recordmaker whose experience goes back to the wax cyclinders of the turn of the century. I believe he even made records in the "90%. His closest rival seems to be the basso, Peter Dawson, who "commutes" nowadays between his native Australia and England, and has been singing regularly for phonographs since 1903. In this country, Billy Murray began making records in 1896, but has not been active since 1942.

I have a 1904 issue of the Talk-ite Mexica Mexica was a surprise to the talk-ite Mexica was a surprise to the passon of the turn of the passon of the same talked to the same talked tal 1942.

In Aneva 1904 issue of the Talk-ing Machine News, a trade paper formerly published in London, which contains an interview with Whitlock, who was even then considered a veteran of minstrelsy and variety. He had also been a circus contortionist and had traveled widely as a sailor. Whitlock was an unusually versatile entertainer. He was a freelance, working for all widely as a sailor. Whitlock was an unusually versatile entertainer. He was a freelance, working for all English record companies, and made thousands of records of his own compositions, played as bell and xylophone solos, in addition to specializing in recording laughing songs. Some of his records were imported into the U. S. by companies, such as Columbia and Vocalion, which had English affiliates. He was one of the few recording artists whose productions had a worldwide sale. The pioneer, but now defunct Edison Bell Coproduced a long list of six-inch records, issued under the Bell and Crown labels, which were made for export to countries where the natives wanted recorded music but couldn't pay the price of standard sized records. They sold in India. Africa and throughout the Orient, and the repertoire consisted large-ly of Whitlock's instrumental solos couldn't pay the price of standard sized records. They sold in India. Africa and throughout the Orient, and the repertoire consisted largely of Whitlock's instrumental solos and langhing speciatities.

By the way, did it ever occur to you that a laughing song is the one type of rocal record which can be sold in any quarter of the globe? Travelers have told of visiting Arabian bazaars and seeing the natives convulsed with merriment as they listened to laughing specialties by such mimics as Whitlock. Burt Shepard and Harry Lauder. Missionaries in the heart of the African jungle used to play laughing records for the natives to get them In good humor before beginning the serious work of trying to make Christians of them. And I might added that in the old days of acoustic, or horn, recording, bells and xylophone solos were among the most popular types of records.

Your reviewer predicted when the London record of "Scotch Hot" was issued that it might start a hit and it looks as if he's right. But the composition itself is nothing new. Whitlock tapped it out on cyclinders 45 years ago. It appears in the 1919 catalog of Pathe dises (maybe you remember them—they were played with a round sapphire ball) and was issued by many other companies at one time or other. I'm glad to see that the composer-player is likely to make some money from this attractive old age.

Just how old Billy Whitlock may be is. Incidentally, a matter that old age.

Just how old Billy Whitlock m Just how old Billy Whitlock may be is, Incidentally, a matter that baffles me. In the 1904 interview he was quoted as saying that his father was a popular entertainer in the U. S. in the 1850s, but it wasn't made present-day Whitlock was of

Bands at Hotel B.O's

Band	Hotel	Weeks Played	Covers	Total Covers On Date
Freddie Martin Waldorf	(400; $2)	()	1900	900
Nat Brandwynne Roosevelt	(400; $1.50-$2)	1	600	600
Henry Busse Statler (4	150; $1.50-$2)	1	1,400	1.400
Kavier Cugat Astor (85	U; $1.5U-$2)	1	4,225	4.225

† 3 days.

Chicago

Chicago
Frankie Masters (Boulevard Room, Stevens, 720; $3.50 min.-$1 cover).
Ice Show and Masters holding at healthy 3,970 covers.
Eddy Howard (Beachwalk, Edgewater; $2 adm.). Howard followed Vaughn Monroe Friday (5). Combination sock 20,000 admissions.
Eddie O'Neal (Empire Room, Palmer House, 500; $2.50 min.-$1 cover).
Liberace and Modernaires. Drop to 2,900 covers.
Bill Snyder (College Inn, Sherman, 500; $3.50 min.). "Salute" series still strong; 3,300 tabs.

Los Angeles

Eddie Fitzpatrick (Ambassador, 900; $1.50). With Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy. First wk. great 3,325 covers.

Chuck Foster (Biltmore, 900; $1.50). Tenth wk. 2,800 covers, Ted Fio Rito (Beverly Hills, 300; $4 min.). Slow 650 covers.

Location Jobs, Not in Hotels

(Chicago)
Cee Davidson (Chez Paree, 500; $3.50 min.-$1 cover). Jackie Miles and Davidson (Chez Paree, 300; $3.50 min.-$1 cover). Jackie Miles and Davidson; 3,600 covers.

Dick Jurgens (Aragon, $1-$1.15 adm.). Final week for local fave; fine 12,000 admissions.

Art Mooney (Trianon, $1-$1.15 adm.). In for three nights only (5-6-7) with Lawrence Welk coming for two-week stay. Nice 8,000 admissions.

Al Trace (Blackhawk, 500; $2.50 min.). Cornpiper doing a steady 2,200 covers.

(Los Angeles)
Ray Robbins (Aragon, Santa Monica; 2nd wk). Fair 4,000 admissions, Frankle Carle (Palladium B., Hollywood; 2nd wk). Okay 12,000 ad-

Tommy Dorsey (Casino Gardens, Santa Monica; 2nd wk), Huge

Inside Orchestras—Music

Spike Jones had a banner sent onto the field at Gilmore stadium, Hollywood, last week at a filmtown benefit ballgame. Banner proclaimed "Vaughn Monroe and his orchestra" and then Jones filed out with his 30-man aggregation in long underwear. It certainly didn't do anything to patch up his differences with Monroe. First blood was drawn two months ago when Jones waxed a satire of Monroe's RCA "Riders in the Sky." Baritone and his manager, Willard Alexander, beefed and record won't be released. On CBS, however, Jones sharply lampooned Monroe's "Riders," breaking into it once to sing: "I'm glad I don't sing like Vaughn Monroe, but I wish I had his dough."

Both Horace Heidt and the Lions Club deny reports that he refused to appear at a Lions benefit in San Francisco last month until he was guaranteed a cut of the program sales. Frisco Lions' execs aver that they are "entirely satisfied with the results of the sponsorship of the Horace Heidt Youth Opportunity Program." There were no squawks, moreover, over the bandleader's allegedly stiff terms and the Lions Club states that if they get a cliance to sponsor a Heidt show again, "it would be willing and happy to do so on the same terms as prevailed in the past."

Meredith Willson, an infrequent visitor to New York, but now east on his television series over NBC, repaid a visit to the Stork Club and reminded boniface Sherman Billingsley about a pre-war episode when the composer-conductor had "You and I" as the No. 1 song. Asked about the absence o fthe tune from the band's books, Billingsley told Willson that the difference between playing ballads and fast temped dansapation could mean up to $1,000 a night on the bar bills, since lively music inspires more elbow-bending. Billingsley reiterated that he still figures it that way.

The "Jolson Sings Again" music package came mostly from the Warner Bros. group of publishing holdings, and Columbia Pictures bought the oldies for around $80,000. This compares with the $130,000 sync bill for the first, "Jolson Story."

It almost compares with the 50% ratio of the second pic's production cost, which Harry Cohn brought in (in Technicolor) for $1,400,000, as against $2,900,000 for the first.

The father of Marion Stein, Austrian-born pianist who weds the Earl of Harewood Sept. 29, like his daughter is strictly in the longhair groove. Stein is with Boosey & Hawkes, English publishers of classical works. He was at one time a noted conductor in Vienna and an active composer. Benjamin Britten, the British composer, introduced Miss Stein to Harewood, who is also a longhair disciple.

American or English citizenship. There was a minstrel singer named Billy Whitlock in those days, who I believe was associated with Dan Emmett, and I assume that he was the father of the composer of "Scotch Hot." I think it would be reasonable to guess that in 1855 the elder Whitlock may have been around 35. That would give 1820 as the approximate year of his birth, which means that he would be 129 or so if he were still alive. If he were 30 when his son was born, the still-flourishing Whitlock must be around the century mark today. Conceding that the father was 40, the son would be 89. That still seems to be too high. He looked to be about 35 in the photo reproduced with the T. M. N. article. Add 45 and he'd be 80 today.

This problem of Whitlock's likely article. Add 45 and he'd be 80 to-day.

This problem of Whitlock's likely age is more baffling than "How old is Ann?" But I'm glad to see that this old-timer, who has been mak-ing records a half century or more, is still going strong, with a hit on his hands.

Jim Walsh Walsh's Wax Works, WSLS

E. B. Marks Sues In 'Summertime' Infringing

Written by the late George Wright Recording Corp. infringed its mechanical reproduction rights to "In the Good Old Summertime," Edward B. Marks charged in a N. Y. federal court suit filed last week. Publisher claims that the defendant never made any payments for use of the tune despite notification. An injunction and accounting of profits are sought.

Written by the late George

are sought.

Written by the late George Evans and Ren Shields in 1902, the tune originally was published by Howley, Haviland & Dresser. Marks acquired the song's renewal rights, the complaint states, upon assignment from the writers widows, and filed "notice of user" with the register of copyrights in 1937

Sydney Kornheiser left New York yesterday (Tuesday) for Hol-lywood, where he'll stay perma-nently for Edwin H. Morris Music as liaison between the firm and songwriters.

Lyric by MACK GORDON . Music by ALFRED NEWMAN

THROUGH A LONG AND SLEEPLESS NIGHT

Copyright 1949: Iwentieth Century Music Corporation, New York, N.Y.
Rights throughout the world controlled by Miller Music Corporation, New York 19, N. 1

With These Outstanding Recordings

ALAN DALE Hi-Tone PEGGY LEE Capitol VIC DAMONE . . . Mercury VERA LYNN . . . London EDDY DUCHIN . . . Harmony DINAH SHORE . . . Columbia BILL FARRELL . . . M-G-M CLAUDE THORNHILL RCA Victor EILEEN WILSON and GORDON JENKINS with Chorus and Orch. . Decca

CUGAT IN N.Y., T.D. ON COAST DO WOW BIZ

Business Xavier Cugat's orchestra is drawing onto the Astor Roof, New York, has completely surprised eastern bandsmere, which booked the date. Cugat, in his first week at the hostelry, has racked up wartime cover figures—over 5,000, far surpassing the turnout for any band at the spot during the past three years.

There's no show accompanying the Latin-beat maestro. Bill McCune's small combination, doubling from downstairs, spells Cugat's outfit.

T. D.'s Phenom Coast Biz

Hollywood, Aug. 9.

Band circles are buzzing here over the heavy b.o. response to Tommy Dorsey's orchestra, back at the leader's own Caslno Gardens, Santa Monlca. In the two weeks since he opened, Dorsey has worked close to 28,000 admissions, a completely unexpected turnout.
Band drew over 6,000 dancers on each of the past two successive Saturday evening sessions and overall is doing by far the best business the spot has lured in over two years.

business the spot has lured in over two years.

Dorsey did well in some spots and badly in others on his cross-country, one-night route into the Casino, and bandsmen are at a loss to explain the bo. figures he's turning in at his place. Harry James, who preceded Dorsey on weekends only, didn't do nearly as well. Only conclusion is that Dorsey hasn't played in this area in about 18 months.

Filbert Named ASCAP Super for Pitt Area

Pittsburgh, Aug. 9.
Joe Filbert, out of Cleveland, has been named district supervisor for ASCAP in Pittsburgh territory. He succeeds the late Walter Tuning, who was killed in an automobile accident near Wilkes-Barre in June.

bile accident near Wilkes-Barre in June.
Joe Sikora, Tunning's assistant, who was critically injured in the same crash, has since been removed to the Ligonler, Pa., hospital and will recover, but doctors have told him he won't be able to return to work for at least six nionths.

ABC-Eagle Puts 39c Platter on Market

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Gearing its operations to chain store distribution, ABC-Eagle Records has put a 39c record on the market here. Firm will make only 1c on each platter, according to Gordon Burdge, manager of the local operation.

Gordon Burdge, manager of the local operation.

Artists work on a flat coin-perside basis plus a minute bonus royalty. Curt Massey, Jack Rivers, Tex Wallace, Don Steele and Eddie Robertson are under the label. Company also put out four Gus Arnheim masters two years ago.

COLUMBIA RECORDS

RETAIL DISK BEST SELLERS

-(Denel's Mus.

Ce.)

oston Music S. Kresge

Stores

-(Davega

co-(Sherman-Clay)

Co.)

VARIETY Survey of retail disk best sellers, based on reports ob-tained from leading stores in 1 cities and showing com-parative sales rating for this and last week.

Week Ending

Natio Rati		Aug. 6	York-	Chicago—(H	Angeles	Boston-(Bo	Louis-	Indianapolis	Francis	Omaha—(A.	as City.	Antonio	Minneapolis	Seattle—(S)	OIN
This	Last wk.	Artist, Label. Title	New	Chic	Los	Bost	St. L	India	San	Oma	Kansas	San	Min	Seat	T
1	1	PERRY COMO (Victor) "Some Enchanted Evening"	4	2		2	1	1		1	2	6		1	79
2	3	M. WHITING-J. MERCER (Cap) "Baby It's Cold Outside"	7				9	3	2	2	1				42
3	5	VIC DAMONE (Mercury) "You're Breaking My Heart"	6	1		1		2	10	5					41
4	2	"Riders in the Sky"	8	10	4	3			٠	4	4	10			34
5	2	"Some Enchanted Evening"	9		1				3				1		30
6	4	GORDON JENKINS (Decca) "Again".	2				5		4		5				28
7	11	SAMMY KAYE (Victor) "Room Full of Roses"									6	8	4	3	23
8	9	"Room Fuli of Roses"	3		٠.		2		8						20
9A	6	EVELYN KNIGHT (Decca) "You're So Understanding"	1	5							8				19
9B	12	G. JENKINS-STARDUSTERS (D) "I Don't See Me in Your Eyes"	5	4								5			19
10	14	D. HAYMES-TATLERS (Decca) "Maybe It's Because"					8	7				4	8		17
11A	8	FRANK SINATRA (Columbia) "The Hucklebuck"			5				1						16
11B	7	MEL TORME (Capitol) "Again"			10			4					3		16
11C		BING CROSBY (Decca) "Bali Ha'i"							7	6				4	16
11D		ART MOONEY (M-G-M) "Twenty-four Hrs. of Sunshine"			٠.							1	5		16
12		INK SPOTS (Decca) "You're Breaking My Heart"				•						2			14
13A	7	D. SHORE-B. CLARK (Col) "Baby, It's Cold Outside"		7										2	13
13B	15	PEGGY LEE (Capitol) "Bali Ha'i"			2	7									13
13C	9	MEL TORME (Capitol) "Four Winds and Seven Seas"						5	6			9			13
14A	4	MARGARET WHITING (Cap) "A Wonderful Guy"	10							3			9		11

FIVE TOP ALBUMS

14B 10

15B

SOUTH PACIFIC Broadway Cast

TOMMY DORSEY (Victor)
"The Huckiebuck"

HERB JEFFRIES (Columbia)
"Four Winds and Seven Seas".
FRANK YANKOVIC (Columbia)
"Blue Skirt Waitz".

SONGS WITHOUT WORDS Selected Columbia Capitol

KISS ME, KATE Broadway Cast Columbia

SUPPER CLUB FAVORITES Perry Come Victor

CONTINO ALBUM Dick Contino Magnolia

Disk Best Sellers by Companies (Based on Points Earned)

Label	No. of Records	Points	Labei	No. of Records	Points
Decca	8	163	Columbia		47
Victor	4	147	Mercury		41
Capitoi	5 =	95	M-G-M	i	16

Upbeat

Hollywood

Hollywood

Tommy Dorsey orch carved four sides for RCA-Victor last week, including "Keep A-Knockin'" and 'Only Have Eyes for You'.

Henry King band start at the Biltmore Bowl Sept. 15. Private and public toasting of Phil Ohman orch was the order of the day Thursday (4) when he checked out of Ciro's after a long stand. He's been playing on the strip off and on for 15 years . Spade Cooley crew jumped down to March Field Thursday (4) for non-commissioned officers' dance.

Barney McDevitt replaces Charles (Mousie) Warren as Coast rep for Harry Warren Music Co. . Page Cavanaugh Trio goes to Germany middle of this month to play for occupation forces . . Albert Glasser doing score on Lippert Productions "Apache Chief" . . Jay Livingston and Ray Evans splitting up for month's vacash apiece. Livingston and Ray Evans splitting up for month's vacash apiece. Livingston off to Guatemala, Evans relaxing in New England . . Trenier Twins booked for four frames at Blue Note, Chi. starting Sept. 19, at $1,250 weekly.

Les Gillette, Capitol Record's western and folk repertoire direc-

Barney McDevitt replaces Charles 'Mousie' Warren as Coast rep for flarry Warren Music Co. Page Cavanaugh Trio goes to Germany middle of this month to play for occupation forces . Albert Glasser doing score on Lippert Productions "Apache Chief" . Jay Livingston and Ray Evans splitting up for month's vacash apiece. Livingston off to Guatemala, Evans relaxing in New England . Tenier Twins booked for four frames at Blue Note, Chi, starting Sept. 19, at $1,250 weekly.

Les Gillette. Capitol Record's western and folk repertoire director, confined to his bed with pneumonia. Jimmy Wakely waxing six for Capitol. Nicky Campbell, publisher, and his wite, Mabel Wayne, songwriter, in for look-around from N. Y. . . Tom Rockweil, president of GAC, in town to run agency's operations until late Sept. Milt Krasny, coast chief, returns from Gotham at that time... Connie Haines and Page Cavanaugh combo into the Casbah for two weeks starting Oct. 11 as a package, at $2,500 per week.

Kansas City

ling as headliner on bill at Playhouse, with Johnny Hauser crew on the stand ... Bob Wilson orch holding forth at Wildwood Lakes Clubhouse ... Pla-Moor ballroon holding judging Aug. 10-11 of "Miss Kansas" and "Miss Missouri" entrants for "Miss America" title at Atlantic City.

Pittsburgh

Skippy Strahi's Bop Cats into the Carnival Lounge while Deuces Wild vacation...Tommy Carlyn's band back into Bill Green's Aug. band back into Bill Green's Aug.

19 for four weeks following current engagement at Kennywood Park... Hy Edwards new maestro at Copa, replacing Johnny Marino.

Ite has Wilbur Hildebrand, formerly with Billy Catizone, on piano
... Baron Elliott's orch into Vogue Tarrage for two weeks. Herman

... Baron Elliott's orch into Vogue Terrace for two weeks. Herman Middleman resumed as leader at Jackle Heller's Carousel. Outfif for some time has been under baton of Ralph DeStephano, who stays as trumpet. Return of Middleman resulted in pianist Joe Lescak leaving. only music at new Monte Carlo provided by Bruce Carlton, who used to have a band at the Penn-McKee hotel, McKeesport. Milt Herth Trio opened at Bill Green's Monday (8) for a week.

5 TOP NAME BANDS SET FOR CANADA EXPO

Toronto, Aug. 9.
Contracts have been inked for five top bands at the Canadian National Exhibition, according to Elwood Hughes, CNE g.m. They are Benny Goodman, Aug. 26-27, Tommy Dorsey, Aug. 29-31; Vaughn Munroe, Sept. 1-3; Duke Ellington, Sept. 5-7; Guy Lombardo, Sept. 8-10.

Admission will be $1 per, with bands apperaing in a prefabricated ballroom, with canvas top, to ac-commodate some 1,000 couples

TOTAL

Par Guarding New Tune For Montgomery Clift Hollywood, Aug. 9.

"My Love Loves Me," ditty writ-ten by Jay Livingston and Ray Evans for Montgomery Clift to sing in Paramount's "The Heiress," will be kept under wraps until the film is released in November, if studio can have its way. Clift sings the song himself, without the usual dubbed vocalizing. First warbling he's ever done in a picture. RCA has latched onto the time ne's ever done in a picture.

RCA has latched onto the tune and assigned Fran Warren to record it, but Par's music subsid, Famous, is holding plattery to a stipulated release date. Song appears to have been taken from an old (circa 1600) French melody,
"Plaisir D'Amour."

St. Paul Pop Concerts Hold Up in 13th Season

St. Paul, Aug. 9.

Now in its 13th season, St. Paul's pop concerts are holding their own despite slipping entertainment business clsewhere. Reason for this is pop prices and because of its semi-clvic nature.

its semi-civic nature.

Last year over 125,000 attended 22 concerts out of a possible 175,000, and although there are 24 concerts during this summer, attendance is expected to remain the same, or slightly higher. Other events, like films and fairs, show nearly 30 to 40% losses hereabouts over last summer.

abouts over last summer.

Profits and overhead are split three ways in the cooperative venture among the local musicians association, the city of St. Paul and the Civic Opera and Figure Skating Club.

ing Club.

Programs are given each Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights, and include an orchestra of 60 directed by Clifford Reckow. Vocalists are leading local stars who perform free of charge, except for a few out-of-towners now and then who accept minimum fees. All performances are given in the St. Paul Municipal Auditorium, seating about 8,000.

CONVENTION HALL ASBURY PARK, N. J. MUSIC

His Crowning Achievement!

Give Me Your Hand

All Rights beard and timbed of Tablic Preferences for Provide

 VARIETY SONG CAVALCADE

* (Musical-Historical Review: 1800-1948) *******

Compiled for VARIETY

By JULIUS MATTFELT

(Copyright Variety Inc. All Rights Reserved)

Legends and after basic background information, attendant to the compilation and presentation, appeared in the Oct 6, 1948, issue when the Variety Sang Cavalcade started publication serially (t is suggested that these installments be

Attention is hereby called ta the fact that this material is copyrighted and may not be repraduced either whally ar in part

1924—Continued

When the Democrats and the leen Moore, Patsy Ruth Miller and Republicans held their national conventions, the radio broadcasters were there to air the proceedings. Through loudspeakers came that Republicans held their national conventions, the radio broadcasters were there to air the proceedings. Through loudspeakers came that persistent refrain from the Democratic conclave: "Alabama, 24 votes for Underwood." Davis was the eventual Democratic candidate, but Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes (vice-president) won the election, whereupon "Coolidge prosperity" went into high gear.

Radio sets spread through the nation like wildfire. In this year some $350,000,000 worth were re-tailed as against $135,000,000 the year before—a percentage increase in sales that established an alltime radio record.

time radio record.

In Chicago, little Robert (Bobby)
Franks disappeared, leading to kidnapping and murder charges against N. F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb (both 19). Clarence Darrow, their attorney, saved them from the gallows, and the verdict was life imprisonment plus 99 years. (Loeb was killed by a fellow convict in 1936).

The U. S. practically had a mo-convict in 1936.

The U. S. practically had a monopoly on Olympic victories. In 1924 they carried off first honors for the eighth straight time.

The dingible ZR-3 flew from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, N. J., where the U. S. Navy took it over under the name "Los Angeles."

"Los Angeles."
Once more women went back to the poke bonnet as a headgear.
"What Price Glory?" (by Max-well Anderson and Laurence Stall-ings) was the smash hit of the state. Eddie Cantor appeared in "Kid Boots" and Lady Diana Man-ners and the late Rosamond Pin-chot in "The Miracle." "Rose Maric" was off on a run of 680 some performances. . ad . aof in Marie'' v som some performances.

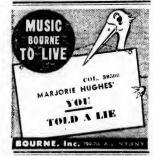

n both picture houses and deville the jazz orchestra was solid htt. Successful pictures of the year cluded: "The Sea Hawk" (Milton the and Enid Bennett), "Girl Shy" inclined: "The Sea Hawk" (Millon Sills and Enid Bennett), "Girl Shy" (Harold Lloyd), and "The Thief of Bagdad" (Douglas Fairbanks). Col-

A NEW JIMMY McHUGH STANDARD

IT'S A MOST UNUSUAL DAY

Music by . . . JIMMY McHUGH ROBBINS MUSIC CORPORATION

LOVESICK BLUES

BLUE SKIRT WALTZ

TING-A-LING

MILLS MUSIC, INC. 1619 Broadway New York 19, N. Y.

VARIETY Survey of retail sheet muste sales, based on reports obtained from leading stores in 12 cities and showing comparative sales rating for this and last week.

> Week Ending Aug. 6

Francisco. National Rating Boston, This Last New Title and Publisher "Enchanted Evening" (Williamson) 2 "Bali Ha'i' (Williamson) "Forever and Ever" (Robbins) 2 "Room Full of Roses" (Hill-R). "Again" (Robbins) "It's Cold Outside" (Melrose) "Yes in Your Eyes" (Remick) "Riders in the Sky" (Morris) "Old Fashioned Walk" (Berlin)... 10 "Wonderful Guy" (Williamson) "Breaking My Heart" (Algonquin). "I Don't See Me" (Laurel)....
"Highland Fling" (H. Warren) 10 10

RETAIL SHEET BEST SELLERS

"I Love You" (Berlin) "Cruising Down River" (Spitzer) . .

1925

Alabamy Bound. w., Bud De-Sylva and Bud Green. m., Ray Henderson. Shapiro, Bernstein & Co., cop. 1925.

Always. w., m., Irving Berlin. Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1925.

nrying nerrin, inc., cop. 1925.

Baim, Bamy Shore, w., Mort
Dixon, m., Ray Henderson, Jerome
H. Remick & Co., cop. 1925.

Brown Eyes — Why Are You
Blue? w., Alfred Bryan, m., George W. Meyer, Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1925.

w. Meyer. Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1925.

Bye and Bye (Dearest Enemy), w. Lorenz Hart. m., Richard Rodgers, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.

Collegiate, w., m., Moe Jaffe and, Nat Bonx. Shapiro, Bernstein & Co., nc., cop. 1925.

A Cup of Coffee, a Sandwich and Yon (Charlot's Revue of 1926), w., Billy Rose and Al Dubin, m., Joseph Meyer. Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.

Dinah, w., Sam M. Lewis and Joe Young, m., Harry Asts. Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1925.

Do I Love You (Naughty Cinderella), w., E. Ray Goetz, m., H., Christine and E. Ray Goetz, Erancis Salabert, Inc., cop. 1923 by Francis Salabert, Inc., cop. 1923 by Francis Salabert, Inc., cop. 1925 by Francis Salabert, Inc., cop. 1925 by Francis Salabert, Inc., cop. 1925 by Prancis Salabert, Inc., cop. 1925.

Don't Wake Me Up, w., L. Wolfer, Inc., Mahel Wayne, 2nd Gilbert, Inc., Mahel Wayn

Don't Wake Me Up. w., L. Wolfe Gilbert, n., Mabel Wayne and Abel Baer, Leo Feist, Inc., cop. 1925.

1925.

Down by the Winegar Wolks, w. mr. Don Bestor, Roger Lewis and Walter Donovan, Shapiro, Bernstein & Co., Inc. cop. 1925.

Drifting and Dreaming, w., Ilastyne, Erwin R. Schmidt and Loyal Curtis. L. B. Curtis, cop. 1925.

D'ye Love Me (Sunny), w., Otto

Dye Love Me (Sunny), w. Otto Harbach and Oscar Hommerstein 2nd. m., Jerome Kern. T. B. Harms Co., cop. 1925. Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue, w. Sam M. Lewis and Joe Young, m., Ray Henderson, Leo Feist, Inc.,

. w.. Jesse Greer and Berg. m.. Jesse Greer. Bernstein & Co., cop. arold Berg. papiro. P Harold 1925,

Headin' for Louisville, w., Bud
G. DeSylva, m. Joseph Meyer
Shapiro Bernstein & Co., cop. 1925,
Here In My Arms (Dearest Fnemy), w. Lorinz Harl, m., Richard, Rodgers. Harms, Inc., cop.
1925

925.
The Hills of Home. w., Floride Shoun. m., Oscar J. Fox. Carlischer. Inc., cop. 1925.
Tm Goma Charleston Back to harleston, w., m., Roy Turk and ou Handman. Jerome H. Remick Co., cop. 1925.
Tm Sitting On Top of The World.
L. Sant M. Lewis and Joe Young.
1. Ray Henderson. Lea Faist, Joe.

w., Sam M. Lewis and Joe Young. m., Ray Henderson. Leo Feist, Inc., cop. 1925.

w., Sant at the Social Control of the Control of Contro Vagabond Lover, 1929), w. Clifford Grey, m., Nat D. Ayer, Chappell-Harms, Inc., cop. 1925 by B. Feldman & Co., London.

In the Luxembourg Gardens, w., m., Kathleen Lockhart Manning, G. Schirmer, Inc., cop. 1925.

In the Middle of the Night, w. Billy Rose, m., Walter Donaldson, Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1925.

Isn't She the Sweetest Thing, w. Gus Kahn, m., Walter Donaldson, Jerome H. Remick & Co., cop. 1925.

Just a Cottage Small — By a Waterfall, w., Bud G. DeSylva, m.,

James F. Hanley. Harms. Inc., cop.

Keep Your Skirts Down, Mary Ann. w., Andrew B. Sterling m., Robert A. King and Ray Hender-son. Shapiro, Bernstein & Co., Inc., cop. 1925.

Let it Rain! Let it Pour!—I'll be in Virginia in the Morning., w., Cliff Friend. m., Walter Donaldson. Leo Felst, Inc., cop. 1925.

Looking for a Boy (Tip-Toes), w., Ira Gershwin, m., George Gershwin, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925. Manhattan (Garrick Gaieties), W., Lorenz Hart m., Richard Rodgers, Edward B. Marks Music Co.,

cop.

Milenberg Joys. Fox-trot. m.. Leon Rappolo, Paul Marcs and "Jelly Roll" Morton. Chicago: Mel-rose Bros. Music Co., Inc., cop.

Moonlight and Roses, w., m., Edwin H. Lemare, Ben Black and Neil Moret. San Francisco: Villa Moret. Inc., cop. 1925.

My Sweetle-Turned Me Down, w., Gus Kahn, m., Walter Donaldson, Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1925.

Neapolitan Nights, w., Harry D. Kerr, m., J. S. Zameenik. Cleveland: Sam Fox Pub. Co., cop. 1925.

Oh! Boy, What a Girl (Gay Paree), w., Bud Green, m., Wright and Bessinger. Shapiro, Bernstein & Co., Inc., cop. 1925.

Only a Rose (The Vagabond

Only a Rose (The Vagabond King), w., Brian Hooker, m., Ru-dolf Friml, Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1925. Rhapsody in Blue. Orch. composition. m., George Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.

Remember, w., m., Irving Berlin. Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1925

Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1975
Save Your Sorrow—for To-morrow. w., Bud G. DeSylva, m., Al
Sherman. Shapiro, Bernstein &
Co., Inc., cop. 1925,
Sentimental Me (Garrick Gaieties), w., Lorenz Hart, m., Richard Rodgers, Edward B. Marks Music
Co., cop. 1925,
Show Me the Way to Go Home.

cop. 1925.

how Me the Way to Go Home.
m., Irving King. Harms, Inc., 1925.

Waltz Huguette (The Vagabond ing). w., Brian Hooker. m., Ru-op. 1925.

Waters of Perkiomen. w., Al Dubin. m., F. Henri Klickmann. Jack Mills, Inc., cop. 1925.

Who (Sunny). w., Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd. m., Jerome Keern. T. B. Harms Co.,

Jerome Keern. T. B. Harus Co., cop. 1925.
Why do I Love You (My Fair Lady). w., Bud G. DeSylva and Ira Gershwin. m., George Gershwin. Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
Yearning—Just for You. w., m., Benny Davis and Joe Burke. Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1925.
Yes Sir, That's My Baby. w., Gus Kalın. m., Walter Doraldson. Irving Berlin. Inc., cop. 1925.

Women's skirts flapped around

Women's skirts happed around their knees, disclosing legs encased in flesh-colored silk stockings. Hats were close-fitting.

A million and a half copies of True Story made the house of Macfadden one of the most remarkably successful publishing figure.

firms.

Red Grange (Illinois) was the idol of football fandom. In the fall of this year he turned professional.

To the list of fashionable dogs now was added the pollce dog.

In Washington, D. C., the last horse-drawn fire engine, powered with a span of three horses, made its ultimate public appearance.

The last thing in radio sets was the ell-electric set, elliminating a cabinet full of batteries or the earlier crystal sets rigged up with headphones.

carrier crystal sets rigged up with headphones. Florida was enjoying a land boom which sent real estate prices sky-high. Coral Gables and Miami were now important places on the Show Me the Way to Go Home, M., m., Irving King. Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.

Show Me the Way to Go Home, M., m., Irving King. Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
Some Joy (The Vagabond King), w., Brian Hooker. M., Rudolf Friml. Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1925.
Song of the Flame (Song of the Flame), w., Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd. M., George Gershwin and Herbert Stothart. Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
Song of the Vagabonds (The Vagabond King), w., Brian Hooker. M., Rudolf Friml. Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1925.
Sung of the Vagabonds (The Vagabond King), w., Brian Hooker. M., Rudolf Friml. Henry Waterson, Inc., cop. 1925.
Sung Gershwin, M., M., Guorge Gershwin, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
Sweet and Low-Down (Tip-Toes), w., Ira Gershwin, M., George Gershwin, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
That Certain Feeling (Tip-Toes), w., Ira Gershwin, M., George Gershwin, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
That Certain Feeling (Tip-Toes), w., Ira Gershwin, M., George Gershwin, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
That Certain Feeling (Tip-Toes), w., Ira Gershwin, M., George Gershwin, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
That Certain Feeling (Tip-Toes), w., Ira Gershwin, M., George Gershwin, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
That Certain Feeling (Tip-Toes), w., Ira Gershwin, M., George Gershwin, Harms, Inc., cop. 1925.
That Certain Party, w., Gus

Kahn. m., Walter Donaldson. Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1925.

Two Guitars. Orch. composition. m., arranged by Harry Horlick. Carl Fischer, Inc., cop. 1925.

Ukulele Lady. w., Gus Kahn. m., Richard A. Whiting. Irving Berlin, Inc., cop. 1925.

Walts Hayestet (The Verberd Market Was a Charleston George Raft w

119

55

45

38

37 dancer.

Prosperous films of the year included "The Big Parade" (John Gilbert and Renee Adoree), "The Gold Rush" (Charlic Chaplin), "The Merry Widow" (Mae Murray and John Gilbert, "Stella Dallas" (Belie Bennett and Ronald Colman), "The Fresliman" (Harold Lloyd).

After 'I Say I'm Sorry, w. m., Walter Donaldson and Abe Lyman. Leo Feist, Inc., cap. 1926. All Alone Monday (The Ramblers), w., Bert Kalmar, m., Harry Ruby, Harms, Inc., cop. 1926.

Animal Crackers (see below) I'm ist Wild About Animal Crackers. (Continued next week)

THE PUBLIC CHOICE CARMEN LOMBARDO'S

SAILBOAT IN THE MOONLIGHT

CRAWFORD

GENUINE HIGH L Made from your negative or phot Unsurpassed in quality at any pric

NO NEGATIVE CHARGE - NO EXTRAS 24 HOUR SERVICE ON REQUEST 24-MOUR SERVICE ON NEUDES1 8x10: $7.99 per 100. $55 per 1000 hotos (5 x 7) $36 per 1000 - Postcards $1
Mounted Enlargements ,30x40: $3.85
(No Megativa Charge on 2 or more)

(No Negative Charge on 2 or more)
Made by J. Kriegsman, The Man Wose Photographs Grace Biliboard's Covers
Plan 7/33
Plan 7/33
Plan 7/33
Photographer
New York 19, N.Y.
WE DELIVER WHAT WE ADVERTISE

THE EVER POPULAR STANDARD

EED

LAUREL MUSIC CORP. 1619 Broadway, N. Y. 19

Mountain Resorts Doing Sock Biz; AGVA vs. Legit Tangle Continues

years.

Top spots such as Grossinger's, the Concord, Nevele Country Club and others have catered to capacity biz and turnaways so far and still have heavy advance reservations, most of them even beyond Labor Day. Smaller spots also are doing well. Some shaved tariffs 10-20% early in the season, but when the bonanza came they restored former top scales and are still packing 'em in.

Aside from scarcity of reserva-sioned former top scales and are still packing 'em In.

Aside from scarcity of reservations in early July, operators were experiencing an additional headache via the new, hiked scale invoked by the American Guild of Variety Artists for performers. Since practically all of the spots, large and small, play either top or intermediate talent on weckends, the proposed hike, at a time when things looked far from optimistic, but the smaller spots of singles, doubles and triosi, since most paid much above that figure for talent. It was the smaller spots of 50 and 100-room capacity that were mostly annoyed. These generally operated on a ingure for talent. It was the smaller spots of 50 and 100-room capacity that were mostly annoyed. These generally operated on a budget of $100-$125 for a Saturday night show of four acts. They intended to meet the difference by cutting down on number of entertainers to maintain former budgets despite the hike. Consequently there were many cancellations of alent on the Decoration Day and July 4 weekends. Finally the N.Y. agent groups swung into action, notified the talent union they would not go along with the hike and after much persuasion got the union to okay a more modified scale of $21.50 for singles, $37.50 for doubles and $52.50 for trios for the smaller spots. This was acceptable all around and agents began channeling acts again to the mountains. Higher tariffs remained for the class spots. However, by the time the truce was effected it was somewhat of a holiow triumph for AGVA and its members, since during the controversial period over the new scale Stanley Woolf, who had eight touring legit stocks skirting that area, made a deal with Equity to unionize his companies on the regular $50 weekly strawhat minimum with provision that half that sum would be paid in salary and the other half for board. Since this arrangement was reportedly satisfactory to Equity he jumped in and contracted 60 hotels, which formerly played variety layouts, for his shows. Latter are booked at $125 a performance and, from ac-

ATTENTION

Theatre Managers · Owners

NOW

BOOKING

* PA

★MD

*VA

* TENN

Early season fears of the N. Y.
State mountain resort belt, that its stay train would be derailed this gray train would be drailed this gray train would be a stieffed with them.
AGVA has since attempted to oust woolf from the territory, claiming it's their exclusive dous min, but Woolf just takes it in unit, but Woolf jus

Tax Returns Point to Peak Season for A. C.

Atiantic City, Aug. 9.
Indications point to a boff season here, based on collection of June luxury taxes, most of which are paid by visitors.
June tax receipts were up $8,-397 according to a report released by Administrator Allen Wiesenthal. He disclosed that $145,600 was collected this June from hotei rooms, amusements, liquor and tobacco as against $137,203 from the same sources last year.

Hot and clear weather through-the same sources last year.

Hot and clear weather throughout July is expected to boost the tax collections to another high when July report is released. The reports are not filed in City Hall until two weeks after the end of the month and it usually takes another two weeks before they are audited. audited.

Figures on luxury tax payments for the first six months of the year are behind such figures of a year ago, however. Last year $571,383 ago, however. Last year $571,383 was collected against $538,758 this Loss can be attributed to lack of conventions from the first of the year on. Hotelmen, too, blame the American Bowling Congress, which took over Convention Hall for its long meet early in the year, costing the resort a great ioss of convention business.

costing the resort a great loss of convention business.

On top of the figures comes the prediction of the Chamber of Commerce that an eight to 10% decline in the resort's overall seasonal business, is to be expected. The Chamber, in a letter to its members, said the drop would be due principally to a marked decline in retail stores and a failing off in cocktail lounge and night club patronage. Hotels and restaurants, the letter said, are even or running ahead of last year.

Commenting on the lack of support for the legitimate shows, the Chamber said:

"Whatever the reason back of these periodic failures, the answer is definitely not to be found in building an expensive municipal theatre until it has been definitely ascertained that local citizens and vacation visitors will support legitimate shows in available theatres. It is the audience that makes for a successful show, not the building it is staged in."

Terrell May Reclaim Cole Circus by Default

Cole Circus by Default
Louisville, Aug. 9.
Zack Terreli, former owner of Cole Bros. Circus, now living in Owensboro, Ky., may be forced to foreclose the mortgage on the circus he sold to eastern interests last spring. According to Terrell, its new owners have steadily lost money due mostly to heavy operating costs including the hefty stipend for film star Burt Lancaster, who has been a disappointment as a draw. Buyers of the circus still owe Terrell 50% of the purchase price. Stockholder decision on whether Stockholder decision on whether to let Terrell repossess the show was due in Saratoga Springs Saturday (6). New owners had secured some 200 acres of land in Miami, for winter quarters and a year-round zoo, but Terrell said he would return to the State Fair winter quarters in Louisville, should he be forced to repossess the Cole show.

Dunninger Slated For Vaude, Cafes

Dunninger, the mentalist, is being set for a string of cafe and vaude dates by William Morrls Agency, his first since his tele

He'll tee off with two weeks at the Last Frontier, Las Vegas.

N. Y. Strand Back To Acts in Sept.

With restoration of stage shows at the N. Y. Strand clinched by continuing poor b.o. under the straight picture policy. Warner Bros. execs are shopping around for a new format to be used at the Broadway showcase. It's understood that WB toppers want to switch away from the house's former expensive name band policy while avoiding a vaude pattern that would be too much akin to the one used the closely neighboring Palace.

Final decision on format has not yet been reached but Warners is pressing for an early reversion to live talent, most likely in September. Company exces have already made inquiries concerning the Palace's deals with the stagehands and musicians unions with an eye to cutting costs. House bookers have also been talking with various acts and bands about terms for future dates at the Strand but no deals have been linked.

TONY MARTIN PREEMS 2-A-DAY IN SEATTLE

Hollywood, Aug. 9.
Tony Martin headlines vaude show at Metropolitan theatre, Seattle, Aug. 29, when house launches two-a-day vaude. Joe Daniels' eastern circuit vaudeville office is handling booking.
If Seattle showcasing clicks, Danieis will book Portland and Vancouver, offering acts three weeks' time between towns.

Alan Young's P.A.'s

Chicago, Aug. 9.
Aian Young, film and radio star, will tee off his theatre tour at Chicago theatre, Aug. 26. Comedian is eager to line up several months of vaude.
Celeste Holm and Liberace have been set for the same bill, in con-junction with Par's midwest preem of Bing Crosby starrer, "Top of the Morning"

N.O. Judge Cites French Quarter Cafes For Lewd Shows, Sexy Ballyhoos

Grant Exiting Versailles For Plaza's Persian Room

After three-and-a-half years at the Versailies, N. Y., the Bob Grant orch is exiting to take up new headquarters at the Persian Room of the Hotel Piaza, N. Y., Sept. 24.

No successor to Grant has been decided upon for the Versailles.

U. S. Acts Held Up In Prop Clearance On London Dates

London, Aug. 9.
American acts arriving here with their props have found it difficult to land lately, with Customs officers badgering them over the tax question of the essential part of their act.

question of the essential part of their act.
Latest act to encounter trouble, which nearly delayed their open-ing date at Bristol was The Ru-dells when they were not allowed to land with their specially built trampoline, an integral part of the act.

act.

After a lot of trouble, the Charles Tucker's agency, who booked act, was finally compelled to put up a bond of $1.600 before' act was permitted to go through. This was on top of trouble the act encountered when arriving at Southampton and finding their baggage, insured for $2,000, missing.

baggage, insured for $2,000, missing.

Another act encountering same difficulty, with same result, were Tom and Jerry, comedy-bar act. Agency again deposited bond in this case. This despite explanations that props were tools of trade, and that acts had Ministry of Labour permit to work here.

Upshot of the hassle is that matter has been taken up by the Variety Artistes Federation, who have made suggestion that acts booked in future for England should notify them and their agents of the essential props they are bringing over so that the matter could be taken up with the Customs authorities to avoid further delays in future.

New Orleans, Aug. 9.
Judge Leo Blessing of the Juvenile Court last week lambasted French Quarter night club operators who hire entertainers "because of their criminal records." He also attacked New Orleans newspapers for publishing advertisements of such attractions. Judge Blessing said that certain nitery operators "attempts to capitalize on participation in crime is revolting to decency and insulting to the Intelligence."
The judge was commenting as chairman of a citizens' advisory committee. He said:
"Newspaper advertisements relative to theatre and night club entertainment, have, in the past been decidedly objectionable, according to the criteria which the committee employs in judging comic books.
"The committee understands that advertisements must necessarily attract the custoner's attention and interest, but this committee feels that the newspapers should exercise more restraint in presenting their material as a further safeguard to the morals of this community."

On the subject of night clubs and their use of former criminals as entertainers, he said his committee "has no right to complain officially since prostituting of the community's moral decency is not within the scope" of the group's purpose.

"In calling attention to these objectionable conditions. the community commendations and their conditions.

within the scope" of the group's purpose.

"In calling attention to these objectionable conditions, the committee hopes that the organizations whose representatives compose this committee, will be able to alleviate such conditions by whatever concerted action may be advisable."

visable."
Targets of Judge Biessing's attack were Satira (Patricia Schmidt), pardoned by the president of Cuba in the Lester Mee murder case, and Vickl Evans, a principal in the Robert Mitchum marijuana case, who appeared recently at two French Quarter spots. Their appearances were widely advertised.

Chez for Thomas

William Morris Agency has set Danny Thomas for a six-week run at the Chez Paree, Chicago, open-ing Aug. 26.

Agency is currently negotiating other cafe and vaude dates for the

PENNY EDWA

Motion Picture Credits "TWO GUYS FROM TEXAS" Opposite Jack Carson

"FEUDIN", FUSSIN' AND FIGHTIN'" Opposite Donald O'Connor

> "THAT HAGEN GIRL" Opposite Rory Calhoun

"MY WILD IRISH ROSE"

And soon to be seen as star in "TUCSON" 20th Century-Fox

Personal Appearances

HIPPODROME Baltimore

Weeks August 12, and 19-CHICAGO, CHI. Week August 26-RADIO CITY, MINN. Week September 2-RIVERSIDE, MIL.

THEN

Returning to Coast for Further Picture Commitments

Thanks, Harry Romm and Danny Welkes

Management-MCA

The BLUE ANGEL

NEW and UNUSUAL ACTS for its Fall Show 152 E. 55th St. PL 3-5998

Exclusively Mngd. by NDEPENDENT

Theatrical Enterprises

113 WEST 42 STREET, N. Y. C.

Suite 200

Blackpool, Britain's Atlantic City, Still Boff Show Town; U.S. Acts Score

By HARRY REGENSBERG Blackpool, Eng., Aug. 2. Blackpool, Lancashire, with a steady population of 151,600, and a floating population of 260,000 during summer months (late June to end October), mostly from Midlands and North of England, has the biggest show biz in the world for the size of the town. It's the English Atlantic City.

Boasting 14 theatres, all running

Engush Atlantic City.
Boasting 14 theatres, all running live shows, it provides a flow of entertainment comprising revue, vaudeville, ice and water spectacles and circus to millions of visitors and locals, with the season absorbing some of the biggest radio and vaude names. These shows pay out around $120,000 in salaries per week, with their intake exceeding $240,000 per week.
Although the weekly revenue of $240,000 per week.

Although the weekly revenue of 34 London West End shows exceeds $400,000, Blackpool's weekly return is really fantastic, considering that admission prices are much lower than in London. But that is not all Blackpool subscribes to. Besides the 14 live shows, it also has 18 picture theatres, which garner around $85,000 per week.
Two oddities stand out in Black-

around $85,000 per week.

Two oddities stand out in Blackpool's entertainment. First, all the stars featured here are males, with not one femme name; and (2), not one theatre stages a straight play.
Only time town had straight play for the season was in 1942, when George Black produced "No Orchids for Miss Blandish" prior to its lengthy run at the Prince of Wales, London. This freezing out of straight plays has caused plenty of tongue-wagging among the town's intelligentsia.
Biggest entertainment purveyors town's intelligentsia. Biggest entertainment purveyors are the Blackpool Tower Co. and Blackpool Winter Gardens & Pavillon Co. Joint ventures have a share capital of $5,000,000, with current market price of shares around $40,000,000, all held privately. vately.

Topper among their spots is the

COMEDY MATERIAL

For AH Branches of Theatricals

FUN-MASTER The ORIGINAL Show-Biz Gag File"
NOS. 1 to 30 @ $1.00 Ea.
(Order in Section 20 Only)

-Special: First 13 Files for $10.00
All 30 Files for $25.00

All 30 c-les for 725.00

Bks. PARODIES 310 Per Bk.
INSTREL BUDGET.....$25.00 •

UMOR-DOR for Emeres. 25.00 •

Blackout Books $25 ea.
er all 3 Diff. Vols. for $50

for FREE lafe, on other material,
C.O.D 3—Open Daily Incl. Sundays

PAULA SMITH
200 W. 54th St., Dept. V, N. Y. 19
CIRCLE 7-1130

CLINTON HOTEL 10th BELOW

200 OUTSIDE ROOMS

from 12 DAILY

autiful Air Conditioned Cochtail Lounge ALKING DISTANCE OF ALL THEATRESM

Tower Circus, a 3,000-seater, playing 15 shows per week to average gross of $40,000.

gross of $40.000.

The Opera House is next with 3.080 seats. Show staged for second year by George and Alfred Black is "Mid-Summer Madness," with cast headed by Charlie Chester and his Radio Gang, one of the top features on BBC. It's an elaborate entertainment costing $120,000 to produce. Chester's main supports are George and Bert Bernard (Americans), whose salary is $2,400 per and Andrea Dancers, who played America last season, and were originally known as the Mexicanos. The Blacks' show did capacity last year, averaging $28,000, but this year it's likely to be nearer $26,000 for 12 performances.

The Palace, also a Tower con-

The Palace, also a Tower con-ern, plays regular vaudeville cern. plays regular vaudeville policy all year round, mostly English stars, such as George Formby, Steve Conway, et al., supported by American and Continental stars, and does a steady $16,000 to $20,000 per week according to the star's pulling power.

000 per week according to the star's pulling power.

The Grand theatre, leased for second year by bandleader Henry Hall, stages "Buttons and Bows" revue headed by Donald Peers, a vaudevillian who has made meteoric strides in the last few years. Unrecognized for many years with salary ranging around $100 per, he has jumped to the fore, due to his many broadcasts, and is considered one of the top singles today. Although booked by Hall for $1.000 per, his contract was doubled by mutual arrangements, and he is now drawing $2.000 per. Important support given to Peers is by Robert Lamounet, wellknown in America. Billy Russell, old vaude standard, and Ernest Arnley and Gloria Day. Former is a clever all-round performer who should be grabbed for a West End revue, for which he is idealty suited. Show is doing 12 capacity performances, with gross around $20.000.

Winter Garden, another of around $20,000.

Winter Garden's 'Annie'
The Winter Garden, another of the BTC properties, was formerly a picture house and has undergone extensive structural alterations for the staging of Emile Littler's
"Annie Get Your Gun." It's doing capacity nights, with 90% capacity on its three matiness, garnering $17,000 per, which is plenty profitable.

BTC's action in leasing the Winter Garden to Littler is being contested by the Black brothers who claim that the Littler deal was closed after they signed contract for the Opera House, and manage-ment has thereby misled them. They are claiming damages, alleg-ing this opposition is hurting their bit. Claim involves big money and protracted legal difficulties, with protracted legal difficulties, with likelihood that case will be settled out of court.

BTC's Tower Ballroom is another revenue-getter. It's the only known spot in England that stages ballets for kids. It holds 5,000 and jams 'em in at 40c each daily, yielding around $12,000 per.

Most formidable opposition to BTC are Jack Taylor and Tom Arnold. These formerly played their shows for the Tower management, but there's a big rift which has developed into a feud. T. and A. are gradually getting their teeth in and have now three big shows here and already scouting the field for more spots for next year.

Biggest of their ventures is Solomon Schneider's "Water Follies" at Derby Baths, newly constructed Blackpool Corp.'s building. It's Stonges and Penny Edwards.

Biggest of their ventures is Solomon Schneider's "Water Follies" at Derby Baths, newly constructed Blackpool Corp.'s building. It's staged by Jean Le Seyeux, and stars Johnny Weissmuller, assisted by Dutch Smith, at joint salary of $5,000 per week. T, and A, are paying a $48,000 rental for a 12 weeks' season, plus around the $60,000 cost of production, not counting overhead of rest of big cast. Spot is away from the entertainment center. With all the difficulties, show is doing near capacity, with advance bookings well ahead. Weissmuller, due to a pic commitment, quits Aug. 20, with rest of show staying on till October, with Peter Fick and Eddie Rose taking the head spot. Show then tours Europe, covering Paris, Geneva, Brussels, Copenhagen and Stockholm.
T, and A.'s second venture is at Geneva, Brussels, Copenhagen and Stockholm.

T. and A.'s second venture is at the Hippodrome, a picture theatre owned by Associated British Picture Corp. which they leased last year. Show is Robert Nesbitt's new edition of "Coconut Grove" revue, with last year's stars, Jewel and Warriss, ace radio names. Show is built on lines of Littler and Arnold's London Casino "Latin Quarter," including the reception orchestra in the fover and and Arnold's London Casino "Latin Quarter," including the reception orchestra in the foyer and the nudes. But revue suffers from too much Jewel and Warriss, who barely give others a chance. They certainly try to earn their $4,000 per. Support has Josef Locke, radio and disk name. Formerly an Irish cop, he crashed show biz getting around $120 per a couple seasons ago. Now he is in the $1,250 bracket. Has a pleasing enough voice. Of American contingent, Gil Maison and his pets and Wally Boag score, while Julie Andrews, a kid protegee, whams 'em. Intake averages around $25,000 which is still a moneymaker.

000 against last year's $28,000, which is still a moneymaker.
Orchid Room, on the Central Pier, is T. and A.'s other venture. Revue type of entertainment, credited to Robert Nesbitt, it stars Frankie Howerd, who, despite his radio rep, is plenty blue and often resented by the customers. But he manages to pack 'em in with able support by Carl and Faith Simpson (Americans), and 'Freddy 'Schweitzer', of Teutonic origin. Simpson (Americans), and 'Freddy (Schweitzer), of Teutonic origin, brought over to England by Jack Hylton in the days when he was maestroing. Act is antiquated, having changed little in years, and is more suitable for a circus arena. Music publisher Lawrence (Continued on page 60)

Big Competish Looms For Bunched Talent in Omaha

Omaha, Aug. 9.
Fevered competish for audience coin looms here the latter part of the month. Max Clayton is bringing in the Judy Canova show at the Auditorium Aug. 29. The following night, Spike Jones plays a one-nighter at Tristates' Orpheum theatre.

Heatre.

Plenty of ballyhoo is already being used for both attractions. Jones gets a strong draw from the rural sections, from which several hundred mall orders have already come in. Ak-Sar-Ben has Mimi Benzell, Ted Drake and Carla Marche at the Coliseum Aug. 10.

Parnell Holds Palladium Vaude Season to Oct.

Vaude Season to Oct.

London, Aug. 9.

Val Parnell will continue vaude at the Palladium until the end of October. Parnell is bringing in Alfred Blacks' Blackpool show, "Midsumnier Madness," which will remain until the pantomime season begins around Xmas time. House was originally scheduled to bring in Bernard Delfon's "Folies Bergere Revue," but show is going into the Saville instead. Change in plans was due to the flop of "Roundabout," Delfont's new nuisical, which bowed at the Saville last Thursday (4).

lausteal, which bowed at the Saville last Thursday (4), Henry Hall's current Blackpool show, being staged by Jack Hylton, replaces "Together Again" at the Victoria Palace late in October. Revue will remain for four months exiting when the new Crazy Gang show is ready.

Vaude Bill for Aug. 26

Minneapolis, Aug. 9.
Tremendous business done by the two stage shows at Radio City and RKO-Orpheum last month has and RKO-Orpheum last month has prompted Minnesota Anusement Co. (Paramount theatre circuit) to make a hurried booking of more flesh for its 4,000-seat Radio City during State Fair week. Aug. 26.
Show will include Ted Weems orchestra. Bob Crosby. Three Stooges and Penny Edwards. Next Orpheum vaudeville show isn't due until Sept. 15.
The July stage shows were the first vaudfilm offerings locally in more than a year. With Frankie Carle and the Mills Bros. Radio City did just under $42,000, while the vaude unit chalked up almost $25,000 for the Orpheum.

AGVA BENEFIT PULLS 4G-5G IN MOUNTAINS

4G-5G IN MOUNTAINS

The first of a series of benefits to aid the Death Benefit Fund of American Guild of Variety Artists was held Sunday (7) night at the Concord hotel. Lake Kiamesha, N.Y. It drew large attendance in the mountain area and while returns have not as yet been computed, it is believed a sum between $4,000 and $5,000 will accrue to the fund which will provide $500 insurance for its members.

Benefit was the collaborative efforts of Jimmy Lyons, eastern regional director of AGVA and Jackle Bright, chairman of AGVA's N. Y. branch board. Duo plan to stage several similar events in the mountain area before end of the season.

Myron Cohen emceed the affair, with some 30 acts comprising the entertainment, which lasted almost until dawn.

Kentucky Fair Shakeup

Kentucky Fair Shakeup

Major shakeup was given the Kentucky State Fair administration last week when Manager George E.
Lambert requested resignations of General Superintendent John C.
Wehrley and Ann B. McCrocklin, secretary to the Fair Board. Wehrley had been an employee of the State Fair for 3 years, and Miss McCrocklin for an almost equal period.

riod.

An assistant manager has been appointed, to serve only through the State Fair period, while Ed Brooks, former grounds engineer, has been appointed to the Superintendent post.

Saranac Lake

By Happy Benway

By Happy Benway
Saranac, N. Y., Aug. 9.
Deerwood Adirondack Music Center held its fifth concert at the local Town Hall. Orch under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi, with Madame Agi Jambor, pianist, featured. It was highly successful and sellout. Seventeen patients of Variety Clubs hospital attended as guests of Mrs. Ernest Wood, see'y of Saranac Lake Tuberculosis Society.
Lew Deag. blackface comedian, curing at Mattapan, Mass., expects an all-clear in September.
John (HATSE) Nolan and Eugenie (legit) Reed mastered the phrenic merver' operation and doing nicely.

"nerve" operation and doing nicely.

Larry Doyle, yesteryear second-baseman of the N. Y. Glants was saluted on his recent birthday by radio station WNBZ, the Pontiactheatre and Durgans nitery. He's doing nicely at the Trudeau sanatorium here.

Robert Louis Stevenson Society held its 35th annual meeting at the Stevenson Memorial Cottage here. Dr. David McKee was the principal speaker. Many of the actors colony attended.

Dr. Sam Harben and the Si Hemmelrechs in from Philadelphia to chat with Bob Pasquale, who is doing O.K.

Write to those who are ill.

JACK LINDER RESUMES BOOKING FOR VAUDE

Jack Linder, indie vaude booker and quondam legit producer, who shoved off to Hollywood years ago when the vaude market collapsed, is back in New York to establish another vaude booking agency due to renaissance variety bills are enjoying.

Linder claims to have lined up 15 houses, independents, which he formerly booked in the heyday, as the nucleus for a new circuit hell organize to get under way around Labor Day. Reticent to name houses until pacts are actually signed, he did state that they were in the New Jersey. Pennsylvania and upper New York areas. Associated with him in the new booking setup will be Edward Hanna, who will scout additional houses and talent. Hanna will leave on a field tour later this week.

Although Linder's concentration

Although Linder's concentration will be on vaude bookings, hell still retain his legit and television department under Harry Flelds, with Danny Fagan assisting him on the bookings.

Will Mahoney Plans Revival Of Old Act for U. S. Tour Will Mahoney, comedian and headliner when vaudeville was at its peak, has returned to the U.S. after some 15 years in Australia and reportedly will revive his old turn for U. S. dates. Now vacationing in the Adirondacks, he was famed for a routine in which he played the xylophone with feet.

played the xylophone with feet.
While in Australia, Mahoney became one of Down Under's top showman with interests in a flock of theatrical enterprises. As operator of the Cremorne theatre, Brisbane, he has presented revivals of George M. Cohan's "Little Nellie Kelly" and "Sunny." His wife, Evie Hayes, is co-director of the Cremorne and currently is appearing as "Annie" in "Annie Get Your Gun" for Williamson-Tait in Aussie. ing as "Annie" in "Annie Get You Gun" for Williamson-Tait in Aussie

BEVERLY HILLS COUNTRY CLUB COVINGTON, KY.

"Cardini, Easily the Best of the Sleight-of-Handers.

ABEL, VARIETY MARCH 9th, 1949

WM. MORRIS AGENCY

YOU MUST VISIT when in LONDON for Bargains in Furs, Fur Coats, Luggage, Travel and Sports Goods:—Call at 1 Fort-man Square (corner of Oxford Street), Marble Arck, London, W.1.

GEORGE-ANDRE

The Man With the Dancing Finger

Returning from 6 Months Tivoli Circuit, Australia

8 Months, Ken Murray's Blackouts Thanks to Hershey Martin M.C.A.

Rochester's Unit Wows Even The Memphis Censors

Despite a steady rain during the day, the Eddie (Rochester) Anderday, the Eddie (Rochester) Anderson all-Negro Hollywood variety revue was a sock hit with the combined white and Negro audience Thursday (4) at Martin Stadium, the local Negro baseball park. And the payoff was that the all-Negro show also caught the fancy of the hard-boiled Memphis Censor Board.
Avery Blakeney, who was assigned by censor "czar" Lloyd T.
Binford, told promoter Maty Brescia and the press that "it was a good, clean show—very entertain ing—hope Memphis gets more shows of this kind." The local censor board heretofore Has usually uit the clampers on shows where Negro talent was involved.
Rochester was practically a showstopper in every scene, and tied the audience in knots with his clever patter about his "boss," Jack Benny.
The Jubalaisies featured on the Amos 'n' Andy radio stanza clicked with their smooth-sailing gon all-Negro Holiywood variety

The Jubalaisies featured on the Amos 'n' Andy radio stanza clicked with their smooth-salling spirituals and terrif blues. They won salvos on all. Mabei Scott, torcher, also scored with topfight rendition of "Elevator Boogie Girl." Scat Man Carrouthers working with Rochester was also solid in the laugh department. Edwards Sisters, dancers, and Naomi, piantist also contributed to overallists also contributed to overall Sisters, dancers, and Naomi, pianists, also contributed to overall impact of show. Joe Lutcher's band was tops in the backgrounding. The unit played to 4,100 white and Negro patrons. Federal Artists Corp. of Hollywood, is directing the Rochester tour which has included Houston, Denver, Joplin, Topeka, Kansas City, Salt Lake City, Atlanta and Oklahoma City.

Record Crowd Expected At Stamford Expo

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 9. More than 50,000 people are expected to visit the nine-day Exposition of Progress being held here Sept. 10-18. The first trade show and fair to be held here in 23 years, the Exposition has practically sold out its 70,000 sq. ft. exhibition area. A special bill put through the Connecticut legislature and signed by Governor Bowles will allow the exposition to operate afternoons and evenings of both Sundays during its run.

Stamford Chamber of Commerce and their affiliated organizations, the Stamford-Greenwich Manufacturers' Council and the Stamford Retail Merchants Councils are sponsoring the project. 23 years, the Exposition has prac-

soring the project

JAY MARSHALL Is Still at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe

ECKSTINE PACTED FOR 3 LOEW'S DELUXER DATES

Billy Eckstine, who's currently riging the crest of a popularity wave, has been set for a threeweek tour of Loew's deluxers by the William Morris agency. Colored songster will head his own package, which is being currently assembled and will be booked in for a flat sum, undisclosed. He will pay off the other acts.

pay off the other acts.
Sidney Piermont, Loew's booker, has set the unit to tee off at Loew's, Syracuse, Sept. 30. It then plays Loew's, Rochester, Oct. 7, and Loew's, Buffalo, Oct. 14.
Eckstine is currently playing a nitery stint at the Bowery, Detroit, where he is establishing new records for the spot, according to Frank Barbara, nitery's op.

Hypnotist Slater, Back From European Tour, Blasts Brit. Tooters

Peeved with the British musicians union, hypnotist Ralph Slater declared upon his arrival in New York last week on the Queen Elizabeth that he's quit British theatre dates for a "long time" to come. Slater's dissatisfaction stems from a bill for $44 handed him by tooters at Manchester's Hippodrome theatre for 25 minutes overtime incurred during a performance at the house last month.

Time runover came about when Slater "cured" a paralysis victim who had been afflicted since birth. Both audience and musicians agreed to remain while he attempted the cure, the hypnotist explained. In view of the circumstances he felt it was unfair for the band to bill him. He noted that the sum itself was of no consequence, but the principle of the thing was disturbing.

Slater originally went to Britain for a four-week stand that later blossomed into a nine-month tour of the country. In a week's stint at London's Empress Hall last May, he grossed $24,000. Currently he has deals pending for vaude, films and television. However, none has reached the inking stage as yet. Time runover came about when later "cured" a paralysis victim

SPIKE JONES UNIT TO SPARK TEXAS FAIR

Dallas, Aug. 9.

Spike Jones and his City Slickers will give 30 shows at the State Fair of Texas this year, the most performances ever given during the State Fair run at the Auditorium.
The show opens Saturday, Oct. 8 and will give three performances daily. Ticket prices will range daily. Ticket prices will range from $1.30 and $3.10, tax included

Among new performers signed for the Spike Jones show are Au-drey Hoss, acrobat; Evelyn and Betty, dance duo, and Bill King,

While here, Jones will make several personal appearances in Dallas stores as well as lead the downtown parade on the opening day of the State Fair.

Future of Miami's Copa City To Be Threshed in Court

Miami Beach, Aug. 9.
Future of the fabulous Copa City here remained in doubt after further meetings of creditors and re-ther meetings of creditors and receiver last week.

Bid to take over on a $12,500 payment and assumption of debts by a local realtor was nixed when attorneys for a group of creditors moved for bankruptcy instead.

Unnamed group also was said to have offered to take over at a yearly rental of $80,000. Hearings on the bid and the bankruptcy action will continue, but any possible reopening of the spot in time for the big pre-season conventions became dim, with some observers pointing out that even takeover before 1950 might be stymied by the court fight.

might be stynned of the fight.

Murray Weinger, who built the Norman Bel Geddes designed place, is now in Massachusetts Memorial Hospital (Boston), awaiting a second operation for a blood pressure condition. Before going Firemen had only water enough to north he said he may retire from cafe business.

Vaude Stops Traffic

Minneapolis, Aug. 9.
During the week of vaudeville at the RKO-Orpheum, the long lines at the box-office created a traffic problem, Cedric Adams reported in his Star column.

The sight of a huge throng in front of a local theatre, he pointed out, apparently is so unusual now that it has become a traffic jammer. Persons driving by stopped to gape and then came the clogging, he said.

'SALUTE' SERIES BOFF IN CHI, FRISCO, L. A.

"Salute" series, originated by Ernie Byfield in the College Inn, Hotel Sherman, last Nov., has apparently been the answer to nitery blues both for the Inn and other spots in the country where the format has been tried. Current "Salute to Rodgers and Hammerstein," the third in the series at the Sherman, is still packing them in its 14th week. Original production, "Salute to Gershwin," had a successful run at the Ambassador, Los Angeles, with producer Sherman Marks planing to the Coast to produce it. It's currently playing produce it. It's currently playing to near SRO at the Mark Hopkins, to near SRO at the Mark Hopkins, San Francisco.

"Salute to Gershwin" and all other salute units are booked by MCA, with the Gershwin show playing Sacramento, Aug. 8-10-11, following with two-week runs at Cal-Neva Lodge, Lake Tahoe and The Flamingo, Las Vegas. The second of the series, "Salute to Cole Porter," is being whipped into shape by Marks for the Coconut Grove of the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles. Coast hotel will probably book the Rodgers and Hammerstein unit when it concludes its current run at the College Inn.

Seattle Clubs Stymied In License Hassle

Seattle, Aug. 9. clubs, including Ten Seattle Clubs, including some of the town's best known, have been refused Class H club liquor licenses and will either have liquor licenses and will either have to close or apply for regular res-taurant liquor licenses. Club's re-fused include the Athens Club, Ma-gicians. West Seattle A.C., Blue Button, and Seattle Business Men. Many had feature bands and floor

Some clubs have already gotten

Some clubs have already gotten regular licenses and are now operating on an "open-house" basis. The Cirque Club currently has Cralg, Stevens and Ames, with Paul McRae's band and other clubs are now emphasizing food service.

A number of other clubs that have dancing and/or entertainment are now operating on temporary liquor licenses. These include the Town and Country, Aero-Marine, Colored Waiters, Porters and Cooks, and Sourdough Club.

Durante Postpones Copa (N.Y.) Booking Till Nov.

Jimmy Durante was compelled to cancel out his N. Y. Copa date next month due to pix and other commitments that will keep him on the Coast. Comic notified management to that effect this week, but said he would play the date possibly in late November or December.

possibly in late November or De-cember.

Copa has since juggled its sched-ule and will bring in Joe E. Lewis and Kay Starr, songstress, to fill the former Durante date starting

Borge's Toronto Encore

Toronto. Encore

Toronto. Aug. 9.

Victor Borge, playing a repeat date at the Elmwood hotel within the space of a couple of weeks, is pulling teriffic biz. Hotel room, with a capacity of 700, has been turning away customers nightly.
Danish comic was rebooked into the Elmwood after playing a week at Jack Heller's Carousel in Pitts-burgh, where he broke the spot's opening night record.

LIMA (0.) NITERY RAZED

Ringling Circus Switches Dates To Avoid Conflict With Minn. Fair

'Vanities' Back for 1950 Run After London Click

Cast and other personnel of "Skating Vanities," which closed a nine-week, run at the Wembley Pool, London, Saturday (6) arrived in N. Y. via two chartered planes Monday (8) and will immediately go into rehearsals for the 1950 tees off in Montreal, Sept. 14. In addition to London, show also played engagements in Zurich and Paris. edition of the roller production. It

Producer Harold Steinman stated the show could have extended the London date had it not been for prior commitments for the new

Contino, Hypoed By Heidt Vaude Tour, Becomes B.O. Lure

Cincinnati, Aug. 9.

Dick Contino, accordionist who jumped into prominence via Horace Heidt's vaude unit, has become a powerful b.o. draw in theatres and one-nighters. Contino completed a week at the RKO Albee last Thursday (4) and drew a neat $8,700 as his share of a gross that approximated $28,100. He went into the Palace theatre, Cleveland, the next day and is reported to have run up a $4,400 opening day gross.

up a $4,400 opening day gross.
When Contino finishes in Cleveland, he'll begin a series of six
N. Y. state one-nighters, in Niagara Falls, Batavia, Lockport, Utica, etc., for which he has guarantees of $11,000. He's heading his own unit of seven acts and a small band.
Joe Glaser's Associated Booking handles his dates.

Minneapolis, Aug. 9.
Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey circus, which played three days in the Twin Cities last season (two in Minneapolis and one in St. Paul), Minneapolis and one in St. Pauli, is passing up Minneapolis and St. Paul this year, but will show in three other Minnesota towns, Winneapolis and St. paulith, Aug. 16, and Bemidji, population, 13,000, Aug.

It's because of a state law pro-hibiting appearance of a circus in Minnesota during the 18 days pre-ceding the State Fair which opens in the Twin Cities Aug. 27 this in the Twin Cities Aug. 27 this year.

Through some strange process of reasoning, the circus, unable to hit the state at any other time, figures it's all right to disregard the law as long as it keeps away from the Twin Cities. Therefore, the aforementioned bookings.

C. E. Houston, assistant state attorney, says there's little chance anybody will try to prevent the circus from showing at the three Minnesota towns or prosecute it for law violation.

iaw violation.
"Somebody would have to file a

"Somebody would have to file a criminal complaint in court or a police officer would have to arrest circus officials for gross misdemeanors in order to stop or hinder the showings," said llouston. "I doubt if anybody, including the State Fair officials, cares that much."

much."
The circus last year played the Twin Cities July 29-31, well ahead of the 18-day period. The longer Chicago run this season pushed back the Minnesota visit and made it impossible to reach Minneapolis and St. Paul in time.

CAFE'S NO-TAX POLICY

Dallas, Aug. 9.
A new policy is being put into effect here at the Mural Room of the Baker Hotel, with no luncheon floorshows and no tax except on the Baker Hotel, which is a second on tax except on Wednesday.

Current on the band stand is Dick LaSalle and band. Floorshow features the Cooper Sisters.

"GODDESS OF SONG"

CURRENTLY LEON & EDDIE'S New York

HELD OVER FOR TWO MONTHS

Personal Direction: BOBBY BERNARD MAX RICHARD AGENCY, 1776 Broadway, New York

PLaza 7-6414

Night Club Reviews

Riviera
(FORT LEE, N. J.)
Martha Raye, Harry Richman,
Ben Yost's Guardsmen (5), Donn
Arden Girls (17), Walter Nye
Orch (9), Catalino Rhumba Band
(9); minimum $3.50, and $5.

Orch (9), Catalino Rhumba Band (9); minimum $3.50, and $5.

While the August heat is proving a tough hurdle for most Broadway niteries. Bill Miller's Riviera at suburban Fort Lee, N. J., has an effective antidote for a skyrocketing mercury. For in Martha Raye and Harry Richman, who bowed here last Wednesday (3), this deluxe roadhouse atop Jersey's Palisades boasts a potent iure that should pay off in hefty covers in the duo's four-week stand.

Nostalgla is the keynote of the new layout. In making her intro. Miss Raye recalls that it's her first Riviera stint since 1932, while Richman was part of the cafe's sock 1941 combo whose other members included Joe E. Lewis and Sophic'Tucker.

A comedienne whose style often borders on the blue, Miss Raye occasionally lapses into a too earthly lidom. However, her overall demeanor emerges so patently frank and disaming. From her initial errance where she appears garbed in strapless gown, plume hat, ermine stole and leading a brace of Afghan hounds, Miss Raye goes on to essay some seven tunes amid much mugging, ad libbing and general insouclance.

In her 42 minutes on stage, Miss Raye works dilivernity and scores.

niuch mugging, ad libbing and general insouciance.

In her 42 minutes on stage, Miss Raye works diligently and scores, among others, with her standard "Mr. Paganini," a sexed up version of Gershwin's "Summertime." "Sunny Side of the Street," and a risque calypso, "Feets Too Big for the Bed." The comedienne's proficiency is such that she doesn't need to remark on her underarm shaving nor are her Minskyish references to other anatomical areas necessary.

erences to other anatomical areas necessary.

Once America's No. 1 cafe song salesmen, Richman is still debonair and in good voice despite the more apparent inroads of time. He handles "Your Broadway" and "I C'n't Give You Anything But Love" as a warmup, then a few bars of "Old Gang of Mine" to pave the way for a medley of Jolson's "April Showers," Brice's "My Man," Cantor's "If You Knew Susie" and Tucker's "Some of "My Man," Cantor's "If You knew Susie" and Tucker's "Some of These Days." It's a strong sequence that registers neatly. Richman reprises his famed "Puttin" on the Ritz" and bows off with "Birth of the Blues." Although the veteran warbler was announced as suffering from a cold on opening night, his piping gave little indication of his ailment.

Ben Yost's Guardsmen, vocal quintet who are package. Ben Yost's Guardsmen, vocal quintet who are packaged with Miss Raye, click with such harmonies as the standard "Stout Hearted Men" and "O! Man River." Dressed in smart military attire, they're a crack crew of choristers. However, their impact is somewhat dulled by a return stint near the finale. For the show is already topheavy with singers and the Guardsmen's re-River." Dressed in smart military attire, they're a crack crew of choristers. However, their impact is somewhat dulled by a return stint near the finale. For the show is already topheavy with singers and the Guardsmen's reappearance tends to accent the pletitora of vocalisthenics.

Sandwiched between the turns are several of Donn Arden's production numbers. Dozen ponies and five showgirds are an eyefilling unit. Group's dancing sequences help bring about a change of pace, but an added terp act would give the entire session a better balance. Waiter Nye's crew cuts the show creditably while Catalino's Rhumbas provide competent Latino rhythms.

Roosevelt Griii. N. Y.
(HOTEL ROOSEVELT)
Nat Brandwynne Orch. (12) with Virginia Allen, Cutun Rhumba
Orch. (4); cover $1 weekdays;
$1.50 weekends.

and Brandwynne's pianoing is also a decided asset.

Virginia Allen Creditably vocals such tunes as "True to You in My Fashion" and "There's a Change in the Weather." While her voice leaves little to be desired, the brunette Miss Allen could achieve greater visual impact with a white dress instead of the black gown she wore when caught.

Relief orch is Cutun and his rhumbas. Small crew adequately handles the Latino rhythms. Withal the Grill makes a pleasant divertissement for midtown cafegoers.

Gilb.

Piping Rock (SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.)

Hildegarde with Salvatore Gioe Orch, Sammy Watkins Orch; no cover or minimum.

Although the Saratoga Spa doesn't expect prosperity business this year, it can be safely assumed that the Piping Rock will get its share with the engagement of Hildegarde. This spot and Riley's are the only cafes that are going in for sizeable entertainment budgets. The others apparently feel that the big-monied spender is an extinct species which will not return until a major economic upturn hits the upper brackets.

Hildegarde, in this spot for the

is an extinct species which will not return until a major economic upturn hits the upper brackets.

Hildegarde, in this spot for the first two weeks, shows appeal for the horsy set and captivates with the same charm and showmanship that has made her the all-time draw at the swank Persian Room of the Plaza hotel, N. Y. The Rock's audience is somewhat different from the chi-chi spots in which the Milwaukee mamselle is accustomed to working, yet her brand of entertainment boffs with a high degree of potency. Her small talk and intime chansons generally hit their mark. Knack of charming the ringsiders is evident.

Chantoosey works under a tremendous handicap in this spot. The general run of her work is geared to intimeries and in this large-seater some of the personal contact is inevitably tost. There are times when Iliidegarde must make an uphill fight to get the far reaches of the room, but the net return after an hour's stay is always gratifying even from those far removed from front and centre.

Hildegarde's material measures up to usually high standards. There's always the accent on charm with copious doses of showmanship always evident. It's a parlay that has made her a staple in the upper brackets of entertainers and one which, as far as entertainment values are concerned, justifies the $11,500 weekly paycheck.

ues are concerned, justifies the $11,500 weekly paycheck.

ues are concerned, Justifies the $11,500 weekly paycheck.

Again the dressing given her act accentuates the songstress' particular talents. Her maestro of longstanding. Salvatore Gioe, has dressed up the musical backing superbly. The backgrounding superbly. The backgrounding pared by Gioe's sapient planopounding adds materially to Hildegarde's effectiveness.

The Rock is probably one of the most expertly decorated rooms in the country. The shocking pink and chartreuse decor is exhilarating without being flamboyant. The spot was re-done two years ago.

Max Sellette, of the Latin Quarter. N. Y., is again at the helm of this room, with Nat Levin, Bob Mentzer and Frank Zolta, operators of the Casabianca, Palm Beach, in charge of food and service. Eddie Elkort is listed as entertainment director. Under this setup, it's been decided to lower tariffs from last season. Instead of the stiff a la carte tap, dinners start at $5, which, according to Saratoga standards, makes the Piping Rock a top entertainment buy for the area. Joe E. Lewis and Connee Bosweil will round out the season starting Monday (15).

Liberty." Costuming and routine continue to impress.

Ambassadors score with selections from "Student Prince" and "Vagabond King." Blair & Jean click with fresh, novel dance routines. Fast opener to "I Love Louisa" and "Dancing in the Dark" showcase duo's versatility.

Howard's rendition of his disclicks, "My Last Goodby," "If I Knew Then" and "Careless" hold aud's rapt attention and rate kudos. Show's finale a weird and fascinating production scene, "Baitet le Mer," has excellent lighting and musical effects, with under-water lifts and garnering hefty plaudits.

Betty Gray Trio is satisfactory in relief assignment. Greg.

New Acts

CRAIG, COLLINS & AMES Comedy, Songs 25 Mins. Cirque Club, Seattle

Cirque Club, Seattle Fast-paced "comedy impressions" and song bits that spark make this male trio excellent floor show material, currently lielping the town's first night club, under the new liquor law, get off to a good start. The routine is varied, tower at the test towns make at the the new liquor law, get on to a good start. The routine is varied, moves at fast tempo, makes the customers happy and is getting plenty of laughs so the bits are a "natural" for this type of attrac-plenty of laughs so the bits are a "naturai" for this type of attraction.

"Impressions" lampoon politco and theatre greats and near-greats in a way designed for fun and run true to the pattern. John L. Lewis, Pres. Truman, Churchill, Eleanor Roosevelt, Sinatra, Boyer, etc., are the impersonations, all excelently done. All three are equally clever and accent the comical manerisms and styles of the subjects. Collins paces the act nicely. Trio opens with a ridiculous "Sabre Dance" version. Hollywood is satirized with a nifty number showing physique and facial bulld up in making a star out of a new, arrival. Designed for fun. there is plenty of it all of the 25 minutes with no lagging.

with no lagging. Trep.

ANTHONY, ALLYN & HODGES
Comedy aero-ballet
9 Mins.

Music Hall, N. Y.

Anthony, Allyn & Hodges, two men and a gal, are a classy aerohoofing team with a comedy flair.

Trio makes an initial impression as a highbrow ballet unit at the Music Hall but soon cuts away into a series of trip-ups, pratfalls and complex tangles of arms and iegs.

This is familiar stuff but this combo executes it with firstrate timing and appealingly graceful form.

Closing bit comprises some fast tossing of the gal between the two guys. While preserving a comedy approach, trio socks across a series of precarious body twirls with the gal taking all the chances.

They make a handsome grouping that's okay for niteries and vaude houses. Herm.

BILL NORVAS & THE UPSTARTS (5)
Song and Dance
10 Mins.
Chicago Theatre, Chi.
While still in the unwrapping process. group being only formed this whiter, youthful quintet gives every indication of being top drawer fare in all fields. Sparked by Bill Norvas, former arranger and special material writer, three lads and two gals, give out with beat tempo on original compositions. "Booted," and "Some Folks Have It." Along with the singing the five give out with some fancy winging.
For a closer, the group gangs up

For a closer, the group gangs up the leader as he attempts to croon soulfully, "Night and Day," while resisting playful mayhem. Zabe.

Midwest Dates

Iterating Monday (15). Jose.

Iterat

VARIETY BILLS

Numerals in connection with bills below indicate opening day of show Letter in parenthesea indicates circuit; (i) Independent; (i.) Loew; (M) Meas (P) Paramount; (R) RKO; (S) Stoll; (W) Warner; (WR) Walter Reads

Lefter la parentheses indicales circui
(P) Faramount; (R) KKO; (S) 816

NEW YORK CITY
Capitol (L) 11
Tommy Tucker Orc
Golden Gate 4
Nancy Donovan
Paul Winchell
Jerry Mahoney
Music Hall (L) 11
Bettina Dearborn
Clincas Lasky
Glenn Burring
Gene Sheldon
Carl Sand Orc CINCINNATI
Albee (R) 11
Rabee (R) 11
R

Rockettes Sym Orc Palace (R) 11 Fred Lowery Briants Rockets Boris Patts & Mrs. Waterfall Texas Tommie (two to fill) Paramount (P) 18 Tex Beneke Orc Vic Damone Rudy Cardenas Roxy (I) 12 Sid Caesas Bot Caesas Pitter (P) 12 Carol Lynne Arnold Shoda

VAUDEVILLE BACK! AT FOX THEATRE, St. Louis

F&M STAGESHOWS Inc. Paramount Building DOC HOWE New York Building York Affiliates:—Chicago, Seattle, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Boston, Toronto, Philadelphia, London, Paris, Buenes Aires.

Wally Brown Dollnoff & Rava

Sis 11 Pat Rooney, Sr MIAMI

MIAMI
JOYMPIA (P) 18
JOHN A GREAT
JOHN MORGAN
J. & S. Taylor
J. & R. Rafferly
PHILADELPHIA
Carman (H) 11
A. & M. Havel
Dav Dreamers
one to fill
SYRACUSE
Edwards Bros
Yvonne Moray
Marvellos
Cook & Brow
Yvonne Moray
Marvellos
Cook & Brow
Sieve Evans
Marvellos
Cook & Brow
Sieve Evans
WASHINGTON
Caphiol (L) 11
Vacaphiol (L) 12
Vacaphiol (L) 11
Vacaphiol (L) 12
Vacaphiol (L

GLASGOW Empire (M) 8 Battlett & Dukes Deep River Boys B & R Rema Jean Jack & Judy Olga Varona Scott Sauders Sirdanl Boros & Brook Arthur Worsley

LEEDS Empire (M) &

Dancers
State (I) 11-13
Valentine & Ruth
Astor & Rennee
Reiss Bros
Delmars
14-17
Ed. Mack &
Lorraine

Ed. Mack & Lorraine Lorraine Stewart & Barbour Denny Crystal Flaure State Stat

Farrar
CAMDEN
Towers (1) 12-14
Jordan & Parvis
Minda Lang
Corri & Elsa

BIRMINGHAM
Hippodrome (M)
R & M Lamar
S mith Bros
Leon Cortez
Val & Monty
Lesile Sarony
Count LeRoy
W Latona &
Sparks
Malcia

BLACKPOOL
Grand (1) B
Donald Peers
Billy Russel
Robert Lamourel P
Nobert Lamourel P
Norman Widom
Norman Widom
Pykram & Brandon
Zena Dell
Albert Marland
Opera House (1) C Andrie Chester (a Charlie Chester (a

Palace (I) 8
Harry Lester Co
Chris Sands
Bijou & Carol
B & M Konyot
P O'Farrell Co

BRIGHTON Hippodrome (N Kizma & Karen Sam Cosla Flying Rubins Jon Pertwee

Eddie Gordon

BRISTOL

Empire (S) 4
G H Elliott
Gertie Gitnan
Ella Shields
Lily Morris
Randolph Sutton
Talbot O'Farrell
Billy Danvers
Wayne & Barbara

BRITAIN

Les Ritchie & Wendy Eddie Proy Eddie Proy Hopporome (i) & Primo Scala Bd Collins & Brett Jimmy Lyons & Primo Scala Bd Collins & Brett Jimmy Lyons Riches Pros & Morting Hollan & Polins Morting Hollan & Borrah Minevitch Harmonica Rascala Tony Walsh

Ladd Lyon
Billington
Iris Sadler
Dorothy Grav Co.
Archie Eiro Yo.
Dorothy Bayer's Dogs
SHEPHERDS BUSH
Empire (8) 8
JOHN Boles
Bill Rose
Bill Rose
A & V Farrell
Lope & Ray
A J Powers
Doreen & Victor

Cabaret Bills

NEW YORK CITY

Blue Angel Roger Price Josephine Premice Stan Freeman Irene Williams Chittison 3 Bop City
C Ventura Ore
Count Basic Ore
Bunng Briggs

Care Society
Dorothy Donegan
Coleman Hawkins
Lewis & White

Culeman Hawkins
Lewis & White
Copacabans
Romo Vincent
Edwards & Diane
Ramona Lange
Penny Carroll
M Durso Ore
Alvares Orc
Alvares Mera
Juck Gannert
Billy Banks
t
H Sandler Ore
Alvarez Mera
Juenger Ballet Line
Rosita Echice
Rosita Echice
Rosita Chica
Tina Ramires
Los Guaracheros
Viavana-Madrid
Bob & Larry Lesile
Raquel & Rolando
Trini Reves
Station Orc

A J Powers
Doreen & Victor
Harvards
Marie DeVere 3

DRK CITY

Leta Moore
Don Saxon
On Saxon
On Hartow Ore
Le Cog Rouse
Oacar Calvet Ore
Let Cog Rouse
Oacar Calvet Ore
Macombo
Jerry Macombo
Jer

Gene Rarry
Paul Killiam
Clorls Leachman
Bob McMenimen
John Silver
Gloria Manning
Al Cooper Orc
Old Roumanias
Sadie Banks
Bob Fitzerald
Carmen Monloya
Mickey Freeman
Joanne Florio

EDDIE SMITH AGENCY BOOKED THE MAXELLOS

at the Chicago Theatre, Chi Weeks of Aug. 12 and 19 RKO Bldg., Suite 902—JUdson 6-3345

Morris Moyal
Line
Jack Palmer Ore
Latin Quarter
Adeleine Neice
Billy Vine
Albins

Jacques
LEICESTER
Palace (5) 8
Peter Lorre
1 Holst & Milady
8 Wright & Marion
Janel Brown
Chas Ancaster
Craig & Voyle
Dameties
Valee

Valee
LIVERPOOL
Empire (M) 8
Johnny Lawson 3
Charlies Kunz
Charles Hagne
Ben Yost (O
Jimmle Fliot
Max Wall
Valmar 3
LONDON

LONDON
Palladium (M) 8
Carl Brisson
Frances Langford Frances Lan
Jon Hall
Cass Daly
Ted Ray
Chas Chase
Doc Marcus
7 Ashtons
2 Kemmys
2 Laconas
Balcombes

MANCHESTER
Hippodrome (S) 8
Webster Boolh
Anne Ziegler
Harold Berens
3 Rudells
Albert Whelan
Biff Waddington
Sid Plummer

CHICAGO

Blackhawk
At Trace Orc
Jackie Wen
Bob Wen
Bob Chex Pare
Jackie Miles
Betty Reilly
Adorables (10)
Cee Davidson
Betty Bruce
Lino Rhunba Orc
Lino Rhunba Orc
Heisings
At Morgan
Adrianne Laraine
Leon Miller
Billy Chandler Orc
Hobel Bimarek
Betty Jane Watson
Jerry Austen
Johnny Brewer O
H Edgewarer Beach

Joinny Brewer OH Edgewater Beach Eddy Howard Ore Marianne Fedele Blair & Jean D Hild Dancers Yosi Ambassadors Betty Gray 3 Hotel Stevens "Skating Circus"

Betly Alkinson
Charles Hain
Wonder Wanelers
Brinckmann Sis.
Skaling Blydears
Charles & Lucilie
Jack Raffloer
Jerry Mapes
G & B Du Ray
Gloria Bondy
Buddy Rust Palmer House
Sid Caesar
Maria Neglia
Fosse & Niles
Ted Straeter Ore
Sherman Hotel

Maria Neglia
Fosse & Neire Ore

1 Sherman Hotel
Hill Snyder Ore
"Salute to Redgera

4 Hammerstein"
Honey Dreamers

5 Honey Dreamers

6 Enneth Mackensle
Dusty Worrall

Vine Gardens
Lind Bros Gi
Mickey Sharp

Mol Cole Ore
Pancho Ore

Berenice Kazounov, N. Y. con-cert manager, has set Rosario & Antonio. Alec Templeton and James Melton for State Fair aud, Dallas, this season.

Paramount, N. Y. Tez Beneke Orch. (18) with also Douglas. Bu dd y Yeager, footlight Serenaders, Rudy Caneras. Cy Reeves, Vic Damoneras. Cy Reeves, Vic Damone, Rope of Sand" (Par), reviewed in Anist, June 29, '49.

A generally satisfactory stage show which maintains a good entertainment pace throughout. Ironically enough, though Vic Damone, who's plenty hot at the moment due to a series of click records, and tex Beneke are the stars of the layout, it's a juggler who runs off with the top kudos. An applause meter would clearly have showed him standout, when caught.

Rudy Canderas is the guy. A young, slightly built personality who plugs hard from start to finish, the works with a handful of shaved down Indian clubs, three large unber balls, a batch of small wooden ones, and three top hats. And what he does with them, especially the three large spheres, is for laughs as well. It's a slick act of its type. On for about 10 minutes, Canderas got tremendous applause from a packed house.

Damone, fresh from a run at Bill ther's Riviera. Fort Lee, N. J.

minutes, Canderas got tremendous applause from a packed house. Damone, fresh from a run at Bill Miller's Riviera. Fort Lee, N. J., and running hot on the strength of his "You're Breaking My Heart' disk, is also a solid turn, though on the basis of performance caught he could stand a bit of polish on handling of himself. A nive-looking guy in dianer jacket, he turns it on via "Again." then a rhythmic "Little Giri," "My Bolero," an excellent new melody, "Heart" and "Sorrento," the last of which fractured the audience. In his work Damone imparts an impression of syness, a sort of "little boy" demeanor that's distinctly in his favor. On the other hand, that retieence is carried to an extreme. If he could strike a happy medium, he'd have something.

Tex Beneke's crew, made up of stankers including two French.

If he could strike a happy medium, hed have something.

Tex Beneke's crew, made up of nine brass, including two French horns, five sax, three rhythm, plus Beneke, is a good band. It plays cleanly and with enthusiasm and good rhythm. But, the pacing of its tunes here could be improved upon. Maestro recently has desired to get back into the Glenn Miller style. Yet, be doesn't use it here. He opens with "Blues In the Night March," a new RCA-Victor recording, then does "Lover's Gold," with Glen Douglas, in a spot that, for example, "Kiss and a Rose," a recent disk following the Miller ballad style could be used. Later, he does "Lavender Coffin," also a disked arrangement, using the Moonlight Serenaders. It's okay.

Beneke sings. too, of corsee, in addition.

Beneke sings, too, of course, in addition to the group and Douglas. He also uses Buddy Yeager, a trumpeter, for a comedy vocal of "I May Be Wrong." It's neatly done, but a finishing punch is lacking. Cy Reeves, comic completes the Cy Reeves, comic, completes the layout. A deadpan type of funster, he garners belly-laughs with quickly driven squibs and every so often slips in a stronger one that goes for an explosive hit. None of his stuff is outstanding, but it does a job. His finish is a parody lyric of "O!" Man River."

Biz big when caught

Biz big when caught.

Chicago, Chi

Dennis Day, Chicago, Ang. 5., ale Robbins, Bill Normas & Uparts (5), Acromaniacs (3), harles Dant House Orch.; "Take the False Step" (11). Starte

If more Coast celebs would build If more Coast celebs would build a package around themselves such as Dennis Day has, vaude theatre box-office would enjoy a sudden spurt. Day opens the show, singing "Forever and Ever" and then brings on the Clark Bros. Negro tap team, who hold attention with rapid tapstering and fancy splits to win nifty response.

Fesponse.

Gale Robbins, lush thrush, starts off slowly with "Everywhere You Gales" but gains momentum with "Again," more fitting to her husky delivery. Follows with "I'm in a Jam With Baby" which also sells well, Teams with Day in sock duel of "Baby, It's Cold Outside" for soild returns.

Boom." Follows with impreshes of Harry Lauder, Jean Sablon and Sophie Tucker for additional plau-dits and winds with "Ave Maria" to rock the house. Solid all the way.

Charles Dant conducts excel-lently.
Zabe.

RKO, Boston

Boston, Aug. 6.
Edwards Bros. (3), Yvonne Moray, The Marvellos, Cook & Brown, Steve Evans, The Appletons, Frank
Ross & Anita LaPierre, Gus Van;
"Roughshod" (RKO).

If the reaction of the first show

If the reaction of the first show audience at the preem of 'Palace vaude' is any indication, there is no doubt that the Hub welcomes the revival and will support it. Literally hanging from the rafters, the payees, well springled with oldsters, rewarded each act with plenty of mitt action and an enthusiasm seldom seen here. Layout was plenty fast with no 'letup down the line, acts apparently aware of the importance of this teeoff presentation and giving out with solid stints.

Opening with the Edwards Bros. the lads got the bill off to a fast start with a solid sesh of acro and balancing in chairs on top of four bottles and atop a grand piano. Yvonne Moray, billed as 'Dynamite' is just that and her clowning, singing and wrestling with the mike registers solidly. The European importations, The Marvellos in third spot, although billed as a musical act, baffled the stubholders by making musicai instruents appear and disappear into thin air. Cook & Brown, colored steppers, foliow with a fast session of terpsing.

Steve Evans, no stranger here, scores with his comedy impreshes, sion of terpsing.

Steve Evans, no stranger here, scores with his comedy impreshes, the drunk bit good for plenty of yocks. His new bit, impressions of an audience, could stand some tightening but was well received. The Appletons, two gals and a boy, in the sixth spot, have a fast Apache routine that is plenty knockabout and includes a knife-throwing bit. Sock ciimax has one of the girls belng thrown through a window.

Billed as a "One Man Juke Box,"

through a window.

Billed as a "One Man Juke Box,"
Frank Ross & Anita La Pierre, breeze through a comedy routine and throw in a few impressions of w.k. bandleaders for okay returns.
Gus Van with his collection of old songs and gags, closes the bill solidly, winding with a pitch for the support of vaude and urging payees to write their Congressmen for repeal of wartime ticket tax.
Added touch of bringing all the acts together for finale brought heavy response from audience.
Biz terrif.

Oriental, Chi

Chicago, Aug. 4.
George Jessel, Chocolateers (3), Kitty Kallen, Gene Sheldon with Loretta Fisher, Carl Sand's Orch.;
"You're My Everything" (20th).

Amidst the hub-bub, fanfare and ballyhoo connected with George Jessel's farewell thut positively) appearance tour, a well-paced highly entertaining layout emerges on the stage of the Oriental. Current iayout, hypoed by Ann Baxter's pa, had payees queueing up a block long. Filmster clowns with ter's p.a. had payees queueing up a block long. Filmster clowns with Jessel and gives out with a "Holly-wood isn't such a bad place after all" spiel that garners plaudits. Hour-long show adds up to click family stuff with Jessel's emeecing and stories scoring heavily for yocks.

yocks.

After fast band salute to Jessel, he brings on the Chocolateers, who click with fast hoofing, knee slides and conle stuff for a begoff. Jessel's knack of clowning with the acts and warming aud holds attention and keeps audience in high spirits.

Kitty kellen tees off with how

Kitty Kallen tees off with lier disclick "Happy Talk," then goes into a special, "Please Take Me Home This Moment," and impres-sions of Ethel Merman, Lena Horne and Ella Logan singing "No Business Like Show Business." She or soid returns.

Bill Norvas and Upstarts are a fresh looking group of youngsters, a bit on the Kay Thompson side, but original in their song and dance offerings which win hefty applause. Reviewed under New Acts. Acromaniacs, who have reorganted after layoff due to injury to one member, seem just as speedy and vigorous as before. Three-high breakway and the fast tumbling garner neat reception.

While Day gets plenty yocks with his routine about Jack Benny's aleged stinginess, sharp dialect apings of Bert Gordon, Jerry Comna; and hilarious satire of German Summarine commander, it's upday to the songstering customers come to hear. Begins with "Some Enchanted Evening" and rings the bell with "Clancy Lowers the Music Hall, N. Y.

"Sea Breeze," with Peiro Bros.
12) Clifford Guest, Anthony, Allyn & Hodges, choral ensemble, corps de ballet, Rockettes, Music Hall Symphony Orch. with Raymond Paige, guest conductor; produced by Leon Leonidoff; settings, Bruno Maine; choreography, Russell Markert, Florence Rogge; "In the Good Old Summertime" (Metro), reviewed in Variety, June 29, '49.

Counterbalancing the high fahrenheit suggested by the title of the current Music Hall pic, Leon Leonidoff is serving up a coolly garnished and trickliy staged revue under the heading of "Sea Breeze," Integrated via its marine and submarine motif, this show is paced a trifle too slowly, but there are predacular production trifle thou; this show is paced a trifle too slowly, but there are enough spectacular production trappings and technical wizardry the patrons at this tourist trappings and technical wizardry to stun the patrons at this tourist mecca.

The trick staging, as frequently is the case in the Music Hall shows, cops top honors in this layout. Virtually overshadowing the performers, the lighting crew has rigged up a series of oceanic effects through the projection of film on a gossamer screen. It's an effective bit of steropticon to underscore the ballet numbers.

Too much accent, however, is placed on the corps de ballet, resulting in a slow runoff. For the finale, there's an over-lengthy ballet piece that loses it grip despite the glittering garb, lavish underwater setting and the ornate choreography with Bettina Dearborn and Charles Laskey as the dancing stars. Midway, the Rockettes execute a snappy number with 'their usual sock precision technique.

with their usual sock precision technique.

Among the visiting acts, the south-of-the-border Peiro Bros. are standout with an unusual juggling routine. Teeing off with some in-tricate Indian club tossing, due ex-routine. Teeing off with some intricate Indian club tossing, duo execute some astonishing stunts with some blackboard pointers, manipulating a stick in mud-air in defiance of the laws of gravity. Top trick in their repertory is their twirling of hats in the air by means of the pointers while engaging in some horseplay. They are a surefire item.

Back in a return booking at the M.H. Clifford Guest, an Australian ventriloquist, delivers a cleverturn. Guest's best results stem from his dummy's recalcitrance towards being packed away in a traveling kit. Guest's encore bit, in which he reproduces echoes and the far-off sound of a drill ground, is okay, but is much weaker than his puppet's back talk. Comedy acro-ballet team of Anthony, Allyn & Hodges under New Acts.

Following through the watery main background ror the revue, the glee club and choral ensemble also deliver a brace of sea chanties in good style. Raymond Palge, guest conducting in place of vacationing Alexander Smallens, brisk-in good style. Raymond Paige, guest conducting in place of vacationing Alexander Smallens, briskly paces the symph orch through a stirring overture of Tschaikowsky

Steel Pier. A. C.

Atlantic City, Aug. 3.
Three Suns, Whitaker Bros., Star
Spangled Dancers (16), Sam Linfield & Co., Johnny O'Connell Honse Orch.; "The Fighting Fools" (Mono).

Three Suns live up to the reputa incre suns live up to the reputa-tion made via their disks and over the airwaves. Artie Dunn and Al and Morty Nevins with their accordion, organ and guitar combo, are solid with the vacation crowds which are packing this big

"Twilight Time," their radio theme song, and "Lover's Gold" register best with the payees. Tops. too. is the "Alphabet Song" and ther novelties, wherein bits of register best with the payees. Tops, too, is the "Alphabet Song" and other novelties, wherein bits of pop numbers are woven together to tell a story. Comedy repartee between Dunn and Morty Nevins gives offering an added fillip.

Whitaker Bros. score in carbonings of Fred Allen, Jack Benny, Dennis Day, et al.

Sam Linfield and Co. (6), in "Krazy Scouts" please grownups and youngsters alike with their comic actrobatics. Dressed as scouts, the five men (two midgets) and a girl, offer a fast routine of slapstick and tumbling for nice returns.

star Spangled Dancers get over neatly, with minstrel number with strobolite effect getting top returns.

Walk.

Olympia, Miami

Page Miami Miami, Aug. 6. Pengu Ruan & Ruy McDonald, Juckie Green, Lee Orlando, Duke Darril, June Edwards, Freddie Carlone House Orch.; "Sorrowful Jones" (Par).

youngsters belt from walk-on, with a smart assortment of vocals, terps and clowning. Miss Ryan garners healthy laughs via her muggling and comedics, and in the terp slot with McDonald adds to overall impact. McDonald's hoofing top-drawer. Offed to solid applause. In the emcee slot and in own spot, Jackle Green socks. Personable mimle-comedian is an ingratiating introer; then in own spot scores with impreshes, toppers being Cantor, Jolson and Durante. June Edwards is another clicker. Lass works her acro-terps while balancing on head, topping with the kerchief pick up for neat reception.

tion
Comedy-violining of Duke Dorell goes over. Works the range from concert to broad stunts on the strings for full returns. Juggling work of Lee Orlando is okay.
Freddie Carlone backgrounds in usual capable fashion. Lary.

Apollo, N. Y.

Andy Kirk Orch. (12), Mills Bros. (5), Dunhills (3), Cortez & Jence, Connie Carroll, "Pigmeat" Markham & Co.: "The Incident" (Mono).

Mills Bros. lend sparkle to what otherwise would be only an average bill for the Apollo. In closing niche, the veteran harmony group tackles some six numbers for solid response. Besides the more contemporary tunes, the boys shine with an instrumental Interpretation of "Basin St. Blues" and wow temporary tunes, the boys shine that an instrumental interpretation of "Basin St. Blues" and wow 'em with the classic "Paper Doll." Following their brisk opening, Andy Kirk's band dresses up "Portrait of Jenny" in concert style. Lanky Jimmy Anderson croons the vocal in a dreamy fashion and wraps up his stint with another slow ballad, "Close Your Eyes," With three rhythm, five reed and four brass, the orch also registers with the payees on several other pieces.

with the payees on several other pieces.

Buxom Connie Carroli warbies an okay "It's Cold Outside," but tunes in the blues idiom are more in her forte. Essaying one of the latter, she gets across nicely. Cortez & Jenee are a boy-girl adagio team whose work is quite similar to the terping of Jack Cole's troupe. Working in bare feet, pair contribs lifts and spins followed by somewhat suggestive gyrations. Gal is especially vigorous in making with the bumps and grinds. Duo, however, scores handily. "Dunhills, three ofays garbed in tuxes, have a potentially strong terp turn once the uneven edges are smoothed. Stepping in unison, their precision routines are rather lustreless. Trio shifts into châlienge stuff near the finale and wind with a smart acrobatic climay. "Pignael." Markham ner wind with a smart acrobatic cli-max. "Pigmeat" Markham, per max. "Pigineat" Markhain, per usual, elicits his always enthusiastic reception in the house comactive hit Gilb. edy bit.

Palladium, London

London, Aug. 2.
Frances Langford, with Jon Hall,

Carl Brisson, Ted Ray, Cass Daley, Chaz Chase, Doc Marcus, 7 Ash-tons, John & Eva Kenny, 2 La-couas, The Balcombes (2), Woolf Phillip's Skyrocket Orch.

For the holiday attraction Palladium lined up a good in national bill.

national bill.

Frances Langford on for 25 minutes goes through her repertoire of songs for solid returns. She is joined by hubby—filmster Jon Hall for cov crossfire. Songsters stint includes such pops as "Night and Day." "Black Magic" and "I Don't Know Why I Love You Like I Do." which she whams over for happy returns.

Rival for top billing is Carl

Rival for top billing is Carl Brisson, who opens act with a med-ley of songs be introduced to Lonley of songs be introduced to Lon-don audiences many years ago. Reception given him left no doubt that he is still a hig fave with Lon-doners who admire his talent, per-sonality and his vigorous songster-ing to win and hold the audience.

ing to win and hold the audience.

Another visitor from across the pond is Hollywood's Cass Daley, who walked off to almost the top applause of the evening. High-spot of her rep is "Laundry Girl's Lament." This and her other numbers coupled with her comedic interpretable her in the specific production. terps made her an easy winner. Chaz Chase is another clicker who keeps 'em amused via munching of lighted cigarets, matches, etc.

Britain's own Ted Ray, now almost a resident comedian at this house, and doubling from "Ice Vogues," is In top form.

Miaml, Aug. 6.
Peagy Ryan & Ray McDonald,
Juckie Green, Lee Orlando, Duke
Darell, June Edwards, Freddie Jones" (Par).

One of the better bills to have played this house in recent weeks, with reaction solid all the way.
Teaming of Peggy Ryan and Ray McDonald is a happy one. The Palace, N. Y.

Burns Twins & Evelyn, Grace Drysdale, Jack Anthony & Harry Rogers, The Fontaines (3), Coleman Clark (3), Ben Rochelle & Jane Beebe, Timmy Rogers, Proskee's Tigers, Don Albert house band; "Sand" (20th), reviewed in Variety, May 4, '49.

Returned vaude policy at the Palace continues to click for happy returns. That it is far beyond the experimental stage was attested to by continuous long lines and experimental stage was attested to by continuous long lines and standees at all performances open-ing day (4). While grosses have fluctuated, some better than others, the fact remains that every week has turned a neat profit.

To consistently book standout layouts at this erstwhile American flagship of vaudeville is a tough road to hoe. Some bills have been better than others, but overall they have all been entertaining and a bargain buy at the 95c top.

better than others, but overail they have all been entertaining and a bargain buy at the 95c top.

Current layout is a compact package, speedily paced for general satisfactory results. Burns Twins & Evelyn, two fellows and gal, set the tempo with fast neat apstering to set things nicely for Grace Drysdale's hand-puppetry, which registers both on noveity and performance. After manipulating her dance team doils on miniature stage, Miss Drysdale steps out for a dance number while manipulating the doils. It gets nice sendoff. Anthony & Rogers, comedy team, get over nicely in their Italian dialecties, crossfire and songs. Most of their material would be familiar to yesterycar vaude fans, but it strikes a responsive note with this audience. The Fontaines, mixed trio, exude talent and class in their ballroom balancing, Coleman Clark, table tennis champ, flanked by an announcer and another player, sustains novelty motif with trick shots and a playoff match.

Rochelle & Beebe are sock, as usual, with their dance sattlers, with femme's comedy posturing grabbing laughs although incorporating standard ballroomology twists to add to potency of their turn. Timmy Rogers, Negro funster, starts off slowly but gets em midway with his barbs and clowing and holds them for neat returns.

Proskee's Tigers, circus act which has been alternating in vaude stands for years, is plenty standout on novelty and thrills. Capt. Proskee enters a cage of Capt. Proskee enters a ca five tigers, torments and puts through paces of posing and five tigers, torments and puts them through paces of posing and other stints with an ease as if they were kittens. Two attendants—with drawn revolvers—provide suspense to turn. Punch is where trainer feeds his charges with hunks of beef and then takes if away from them. Of course, there's an uprising but he manages to caim them to bewilderment of audience. A real sock act.

Edba.

National, L'ville

Louisville, Aug. 5.
Toni Harper, LaBlauca & Garcia,
Christine & Moll, Billy Bishop, Dou
Cummings, Manhattan Maids (6); Tiny Thomale Orch. (9); "Lovable Cheat" (FC) and "Hit Paradle"
(Rep.).

Toni Harper, 11-year old Negro moppet, w.k. through her disclicks, is bringling 'em in this week, backed by a solid lineup of supporting acts. Gal has a winsome personality and a well-modulated voice, which she uses to full advantage in giving out with "Goldilocks and Three Bcars." "Lady Be Good." "Candy Store Blues." and a dignified, reverent piping of "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." Solid hit.

Supporting turns are all ofay, with Don Cummings warming my the customers. He does satires on the other turns, and spoofs the patrons with a fast line of chatter, etc., all registering for laughs. In own spot, garners howls with his zany rope twirling.

LaBlanca & Garcia go in for authenic Spanish dances. Pair are graceful, and male does some warbling whilst femme partner exhibits some contortions and heel clicking which lends color to the turn.

Billy Bishop tees off with some clicking which lends color to the turn.

Billy Bishop tees off with some standard magic tricks, relying on an apologetic line of chatter to get laughs. Brings couple of lads from the audience to assist in a rope trick, which builds to a big finish. Guy has himself tied with the rope, and while his names are covered, he removed rope and in split seconds, shows that his hands are again tied. Had the audience mystified, as well as the volunteers, and built to a sock finish.

Excelling in heel and toe stuff.

Excelling in heel and toe stuff. Christine and Moll. Imported French dancing turn, are a swell act. Guy has a gift for snapping his fingers to simulate taps, and

(Continued on page 61)

Ruth Gordon Cracks Westport Record With $11,100; Other Strawhat Notes

Westport, Conn. Aug. 9.
Ruth Gordon in "A Month in the financially. Spot is operated by Country" broke all records of Charles and Harriet Quigley, said week, grossing $11,100. Two bullish matinees made the difference between the house record of "Death Takes a Holiday." the ex-ence between the house record of $10,800. established earlier by "Pretty Penny."

In past seasons, seventh week of Westport season has been a bugaboo as it marked ending of first six-week subscription period. Martha Knill, treasurer, reports 70'e re-subscription for final six weeks, best since theatre opened in 1931.

Lawrence Langner, who owns Westport plant with his wife, Armina Marshall, is now pondering additional two weeks in September. Langner also reports first substantial operating profit in theatre's history thanks to an additional 250 seats provided when building was remodeled this year. Limited capacity had usually found theatre breaking even, often losing despite steady patronage. The Langners profited only by using playhouse as a showcase.

Chatterton OK. But Loews' Nixed

Chatterton OK. But Loews' Nixed
Olney. Md., Aug. 9.
It was a dull week for Ruth Chatterton in "Lovers and Friends" at Olney theatre. This brisk strawhatter, which is definitely well in the black for the first half of the season, suddenly found itself affeeted by the general vacation stump, with a bare $7,000 in the till. At that, take was so slow only in comparison with highs of recent weeks, and counted up to about 65% of possible capacity.
Cricks rapped the dated vehicle, but kudoed Miss Chatterton and gave rave notices to support of Margaret Bannerman, recruited at 11th hour. Also brought into spotlight this week was work of June Da; ton, who played Broadway past season in "tvy Green." Miss Dayton, took over resident ingenue chores at Olney when Mary MaeArthur left to go into rehearsal for "Good Housekeeping." Basil Rathbone in "The Heiress," supported by Erin O'Brien Moore, is current and very big.

Hasso-'Love' $6,700

Hasso-Love' $6,700
Chicago, Aug. 9.
Chevy Chase summer theatre did capacity last week with Signe Hasso and John Newland in "Love From A Stranger." *Despite lack of an advance sale, house sold out every night except Tues. with 50 extra chairs installed Wed. (3) to carry the overload. Gross was estimated $6,700 for six performances.
Mady Christians opened Tues. (9) in "The Vinegar Tree."

Bueks County Playhouse
New Hope, Pa., Aug. 9.
Bucks County Playhouse, one of most consistent stands on the strawhat circuit, bounced back to normal SRO last week with cooler breezes and Walter Slezak in "Laburnum Grove." Other than few empty seats on first two nights.
J. B. Priestley play went clean, with standees, including matinees.
Advance for John Cerradine and Margaret Phillips in "The Heiress," current week, was exceptionally strong Supporting are Oliver Thorndike, Ruth White, Sara See gar, Margaret Mullen and Nancy Franklin. Bills for remainder of season include "Three Men On a Horse," Aug. 15; Viola Roache in
"The Swan." Aug. 22; Ian Keith in "The Winslow Boy." Aug. 29; Eva LeGallienne in "The Corn Is Green." Sept. 5, and Ann Harding in "Yes, My Darling Daughter."
Sept. 12.

Dantine-Atwater $6,500

Dantine-Atwater $6,500
Washington, Aug. 9
Helmut Dantine and Edith Atwater, in "No Time for Coured," racked up a satisfactory $6,500 tor six performances at Meridian Hiltheatre last week. Rain washed out one night, and threat of rain hurt on several other nights. Both stars rated praise for their work, and added to rep and prestige of this new venture.

"On the Town," with the original Bernstein score, and many of

"On the Town," with the origi-nal Bernstein score, and many of the original Broadway cast. in-cluding terper Beverlee Bozeman and comedienne Jane Dulo, who succeeded Nancy Walker in the lead, is current.

Conn. Theatre Colony Does OK Clinton, Conn., Aug. 9. The Connecticut Theatre Colony. Conn. Theatre Colony Does OK
Clinton, Conn., Aug. 9.
The Connecticut Theatre Colony, local strawhat with a no-name troupe, has shown gradual biz improvement, in its first season, with indications that the initial term

Hollywood.

Current is fortnight run of "Death Takes a Holiday." the extra stanza being a bit unusual

'Show Bus' for Chapel

'Show Bus' for Chapel
Guilford, Conn., Aug. 9.
Patterned after the New Haven
Road "Show Train." the Chapel
Playhouse here offered a "Show Bus" with enough success to warrant spreading the idea to several communities. Nearby towns are alloted various nights when show and bus tickets may be used in confunction with each other.
Idea is being carried out currently with Helmul Dantine in "No Time For Comedy."

ly with Helmut I Time For Comedy.

Terrell Circus Keeps It Up

Terrell Circus Keeps It Up
Lambertville, N. J., Aug. 9.
St. John Terrell's Music Circus continues to amaze Shubert Altey expatriates thereabouts with its continued turnaway trade. Last week / The Vagabond King." with Wilbur Evans and Susanna Foster co-starring, turned them away. Even two nights of downpours failed to dent crowds.

Johnny Call was featured, in cast, including Earl James, Jack Emden, Anne McCaffrey, Audrey Guard and Phyllis Wilcox. Thomas Cannon was featured dancer. Charles Evans did sets. "Bitter Sweet," opening tonight (9), has large advance to date.

Terrell, in effort to shear his overhead, laid off 10 technical assistants including production manager Morty Halpern, who has been replaced by George Charles, formerly stage manager. Front-ofte house change has Cornclius P. Cotter as assistant to Terrell, replacing James Hopkinson.

Fletcher-Equity Wrangling

replacing James Hopkinson.

Fletcher-Equity Wrangling
Toronto, Aug. 9.

Rebuked by Equity for proposing to guest-star with the Peterborough summer theatre group. Bramwell Fletcher has been restrained by the union from appearing in three announced pleterborough plays. "Rebecca." "Angel Street" and "John Loves Mary." For the first-named, Fletcher was replaced on opening night by John Primm. The two English producers of the Peterborough venture. Michael Sadlier and Graham Ferguson, will lodge an official protest with Equity.

Fletcher claims that he was unable to communicate with Clarage Devent and west shoot with Fletcher claims that he was unable to communicate with Clarence Derwent and went ahead with rehearsals. He was then informed by Equity that he must not appear with the non-Equity group and that this was in contravention to the Equity franchise granted the Red Barn Players, playing nearby, Sadlier stated that Fletcher was on holiday during the actor's preposed appearances, but Equity remained obdurate. Meanwhile, Fletcher is now assisting in direction of the Peterborough group, pending decision of Equity on the Sadlier-Ferguson official protest.

Crandell Theatre a Casualty
Chatham, N. Y., Aug. 9.
The first strawhat casualty of the season in the capital district—the first in several years, as a matter of fact—is the Crandell theatre in Chatham, which discontinued tre in Chanham, which discontinued stage performances after Sunday's (7) finale of "George Washington Slept Here," starring Ernest Trues and Sylvia Field. House returned to a film policy today (9), "Lovers and Friends," with Ruth Chatter-ton, had been scheduled for this week

week
Owner C. Dayton LaPointe said stage presentations would be resumed next year, with Broadway and Hollywood names. The Crandell switched to summer stock the last week in June, Dean Goodman, of the National Repertory Theatre, being the producer.

A. C. Playhouse Still in Trouble

A. C. Playhouse Still in Trouble Atlantic City, Aug. 9.
"Arsenic and Old Lace," with Bela Lugosif billed to reopen Steel Pier's Playhouse after it had been closed a week, was suddenly called off yesterday. (8). Robert S. Courtney, who has a five-year lease on the Playhouse, deelared that certain obstacles, including transportation of scenery from New York, had made it impossible to reopen as scheduled. He said he hopes to reopen soon.

announcing reopening of the play-house.

Besides scenery troubles, Court-ney continues to have trouble financing the Playhouse. Edwin Wyle, general manager, is no longer annected with the outit.

Incidentally, last week's reference to Terry Clemes and Harvey Mitchell as members of the Dramateurs, local little theatre outfit, was inaccurate. Both Equity members, they have been members of the Playhouse's Stock Company.

Playhouse's Stock Company.

Dallas Operettas Doing Big
Dallas, Aug. 9.

Charles Meeker, casino manager of the Starlight operetta season here, has won support of business leaders in getting block ticket sales for all performances' for certain slow days, thus assuring a fair audience for each show and also getting an otherwise uninterested group and making them devotees of the open-air light operas. Result has been good biz this year.
The local outdoor incidentally, has been bringing thousands of visitors to Dallas for weekends.

has been bringing thousands of visitors to Dallas for weekends.

Newsmen in 'Front Page'
Minneapolis, Aug. 9.
Sheriff Ed. Ryan of Hennepin county again will play the role of his prototype, and local newspaper people, Including John K. Sherman, Star drama editor, and Bob Murphy, Tribune film editor, will once more act as members of the press when the Old Log, strawhatter, offers "The Front Page" for the second successive season.

The offering, similarly cast, did the biggest business in Old Log history and was held over for a second week last summer.

In addition to Sherman and Murphy, the "Front Page" actors will include George Guise, Tribune news editor; Brad Morison, Tribune reditorial writer; columnists Will Jones and Brenda Ueland, and Star and Tribune staff members George Rice, Ed. Schaefer, Charles McFadden, Helen Dreher, Joe Seeger, Bernadine Rowe and Margaret Foley.

Old Log regulars in the cast will be Don Stolz, director; Guy Arbury, Warner Lahtinen, Ken Senn, Kelly Flint and John Salisbury.

Flint and John Salisbury.

Strawhat Tryonts

Jack Bostick's "Companion Piece" will be tried out at the Plainfield, N. J., snimmer theatre first week in September.

Tryouts on the simmer circuit this week include "Spring 1865" at Lake George (N. Y.) Playhouse; "Once More Peer Gynt." Maverick theatre, Woodstock, N. Y.; "Out of the Dust," Westport (Conn.) County playhouse; "Mary Lou and the Beasts," Bryn Mawr (Pa.) college theatre; "Western Winds," Dennis (Mass.) playhouse; "Mf. Arcularis," Provincetown (Mass.) playhouse; "Spring Breaks Through," Lakewood theatre, Skowhegan, Me; "The Night and the Star," St. Michaels College Playhouse, Winosski Park, Vt.

Added Strawhats

The following summer theatres not previously listed will operate this season. Equity-franchised spots are designated (E) and non-Equity (N), plus the name of the operator. This brings the total number of strawhats to 249 so far.

Lake Ontario: Shelton Amos Players; Hall Shelton (E), CONNECTICUT

Putnam: Lakeside; Robert W. Stringer (E),

ILLINOIS ake Zurieh: Playhouse; Bella

MAINE
Old Orchard: Beach summer theatre; Franklin Trask (E).

MASSACHUSETTS
Hyannis: Cape Cod theatre;
Franklin Trask (E).
Nantasket: Actor's Theatre;
Jeanne Tufts (N).

MICHIGAN
Grosse He: Summer theatre;
ew York Actors Guild.
NEW HAMPSHIRE
Pike: No Name Theatre.
NEW JERSEY
Orange: summer theate.
Plainfield.

Orange; summer theatre (E). Plainfield: Summit Playhouse

оню

OHIO
Granville: Denison Summer
neatre: William Brasoner.
Madison: Rabbit Run theatre, PENNSYLVANIA
Cannonsburg: Little Lake theare: Will Disney.
VERMONT

Dorset: Playhouse

Inside Stuff—Legit

Long speculation in the trade as to status of unpublished manuscripts left by the late Vincent Youmans was partially set at rest last week when A. L. Berman. executor of the composers estate, informed Pat Ballard that the possibility of incorporating some of Youmans' dusty tunes in his modern G. I. version of Shakespeare's "Two Gentlemen of Verona" was remote, due to the unsatisfactory commercial condition of the manuscripts. Berman told Ballard that some day it was hoped the tunes could be put in shape. Plan was to have lyricist Mort Dixon, an old friend of Youmans', do the new lyrices. John Golden is reading Ballard's script, titled "Be Mine. Beloved!", which the author is now offering as a straight comedy. Robert Keith, of "Mr. Roberts." also is mulling the play as a possibility when his long-termer winds up.

"Touch and Go," the revue being produced by George Abbott, is understood to have its genesis in "Lend an Ear," the Charles Gaynor sketch musical at the Broadhurst, N. Y. During the Boston tryout last fall of "Jennie Kissed Me," authoress Jean Kerr attended virtually every performance of "Ear," which was also playing a tuneup engagement there. At that time she expressed a desire to write a revue and wanted to meet Gaynor.

Back in Washington, after the Broadway flop of "Jennie," Mrs. Kerr reportedly persuaded her husband, Walter Kerr, to author a revue, with Jay Gorney writing the music. The result, titled "Thank You, Just Looking." was tried out last spring at Catholic Univ., where George Abbott saw it and acquired the Broadway rights, subsequently giving it the present "Touch and Go" tag.

A hope that "many more such productions" will be taken to Germany for the entertainment of U. S. occupation troops was expressed in a letter from Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon, commanding officer of the Army Air Forces in Germany, to Blevins Davis, producer of the recent "Hamlet" that toured Germany, "Over and above" the enthusiastic reception given by the service audience, "and very important indeed, is the effect on the German civil population," the officer wrote. "The Germans begin to understand that America is not devoted solely to better plumbing and more chewing gum, but that it also has artistic vitality and creativeness. We Americans have been all too reticent about our own cultural accomplishments, bowing before those of the European continent."

The plot of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" is understood to parallel the life of a Brooklyn family known to the playwright. Counterparts for the two sons in the play can be found in the Brooklyn household, where one of the boys played football for a local high school and, when last heard from, was off somewhere picking citrus fruits for a living. The life of the other son, it's reported, is similar to that of the younger boy in the play. He is understood to have become a successful garment manufacturer. Completing the analogy, the head of the Brooklyn household, like the central figure in Miller's drama, committed suicide.

Fact that Jack Warner, Jr., son of the Warner Bros, vicepresident in charge of production, is an investor in "Lend an Ear," reportedly does not involve any studio interest in the revue as potential screen material. Explanation is that young Warner is a cousin of Franklin Gilbert, co-producer of the show.

Lambs Think They're Athletes: How It All Comes Out in the Wash!

By NAT KAHN There's hardly a Lambs Clubber

these days without a sore arm, leg kinks or the ailments of once-a year athletes. The story lies in that the New York Lambs held their annual Wash Sunday (7) at the Percy Williams Home, East Islip, L. I.

Baseball, golf, foot races for fat men, races for lean men, horseshoe pitching-all these, and morewere the order of the day in one of the most successful events of its kind.

Over 300 members and guests showed up, and there was hardly anybody who didn't snare a prize. And, as usual, there were prizes for even the most sedentary athletes. Tariff for members was $5; guests, $7.50.

Following the athletic events came a buffet dinner, after which the Lambs presented a show for the Williams Home's guests. There are now 20 guests of the home, all retired performers.

Cólies for the event were Mickey Alpert, Myron P. Kirk, Joe Laurie, Jr., and Ken Kling. Among others prominently identified with arrangements were S. Jay Kaufman and Lep Soloman, with Eddie Weber, as usual, in charge of the missic.

The Lambs will hold their "Drying" tomorrow night at their New York Clubhouse, at which a buffet dinner and the Wash prizes will be awarded.

E., Pompton Lakes: Playhouse;
Peter Xantho (E),
Princeton: University Players;
Murray Brown theatre (N),
NEW YORK
Bayshore: Playhouse; J. Gordon
Kitchton, Leslie McCloud (E),
Lake George: Playhouse: Irving
Strouse,

Show of the Month Club, with a membership of 2,500, is now figured to be in the black. ... Walter Fried. co-producer of "Death of a Salesman" with Kermit Bloomgarden. will also be associated with Lars Norgenson in the presentation of "Breach of Marriage."

Pitt Opera Assn. In Civic Trouble On Theatre Site

Pittsburgh, Aug. 9 Civic Light Opera Assn, here is running into a peck of trouble on the site for its own $1,000,000 amphitheatre for 1950. City, which will supply $500,000, other half coming from Edgar Kaufmann Foundation, picked a location in Highland Park district which necessitated condemnation of some necessitated condemnation of some private property "in community's best interests."

Not only did W. G. King, the owner, raise the roof and take the matter to court but protests were signed by thousands of other residents in neighborhood of proposed bowl. Mayor Lawrence charged that real issue has been obscured by political considerations and puts most of the blame for the fuss at door of his enemies at City Hall.

tuss at door of his enemies at City Hall.

Meantime, court has ordered city to stop preliminary streys for at least couple of weeks while project is gone into more thoroughly on the legal aspects. Papers have been full of letters from citizens taking sides, and majority seem to be siding with the property-holders. General feeling locally is that if final ruling does favor city, and amphitheatre does go up in Highland Park neighborhood, al fresco venture will have a couple of strikes against it as a result of not only the opposition but also the public support it has enlisted. For past four years, summer operettas have been presented at Pitt stadium but sponsors want their own spot because it will enable them to have a longer season and likewise permit them to lick the weather by placing seats under a collapsible top in case of rain. Stadium must be vacaled early every year to prepare it for football.

every year to prepare it for foot-ball.

The Center Players, Dallas, wildo Children's Hour," "Post Road and "Stage Door" in 1949-50.

YEN GROUP TOURIST PATRONAGE

'Hamlet' Audiences Warmed to Them, B.O.LIFT WITHOUT B'way Theatreowners Can Police But Not Elsinore Weather, Sez Breen

Anyone who's acted at Elsinore should never again complain of the cold. After the chilly, windswept courtyard of Kronborg Castle, supposedly the locale of the Hamlet story, even the coldest theatre and rehearsals halls should seem comfortable.

seem comfortable.

That is the reaction of Robert Breen, who had the title part in the American production of "Hamlet" that recently played a guest engagement at the historic Danish site. Although the visit took place in June, the actors rehearsed in long underwear, sweaters, topcoats, nutflers, gloves and, in some cases, earmuffs, he says. Even for the actual performances, longies and sweaters were necessary under the heavy costumes. "No such makeshift was enough

"No such makeshift was enough "No such makeshift was enough for Clarence Derwent, however," according to Breen. "Under his voluminous Polonius robes, Clarence wore all his street clothes—complete with vest and pearl stick-pin—ready to become the president of Equity again at the puil of a zipper. What's more, he was just as severe about makeup—during the entire trip, he used only a single sheet of kleenex.
"The cold in the Kronbory court."

"The cold in the Kronborg court-yard, just off the narrow sound be-tween Denmark and Sweden, was almost unbearable. Early in the almost unbearable. Early in the opening performance I noticed smoke issuing from Walter Abel's nose and mouth. For an instant it occurred to me that our King Claudius must have sneaked a puff on a cigaret. But then I realized we all had frosty breaths.

"Aline MacMahon, who played the queen, and Ruth Ford, Ophelia, had maids posted offstage ready to throw blankets over their shivering shoulders as they made exits. The Continued on page 58)

ATPAM Considers TV-Band-Concert Drive as Job Aid

Organizational drive in the tele-vision, band and concert fields may be undertaken by the Assn. of Theatrical Press Agents & Mana-Theatrical Press Agents & Managers. The union affiliation of managers in those fields is incidental, and employment of ATAM members there is negligible. It's hoped to remedy the situation, mainly by education and negotiation, so as to alleviate unemployment in the union.

Thus far the negotiation of the present the situation.

ment in the union.

Thus far, the only active steps in that direction have been in the field of television, where ATPAM has tried to arrange for the employment of its members as house managers of legit theatres taken over by video companies for use as studios. Confabs have been held with NBC, but no agreement has been reached as yet.

Meanwhile. ATMA secretarybeen reached as yet.

Meanwhile, ATMA secretary-treasurer Milton Weintraub is discussing organizing drives on a national scale in the course of his visits with the union's chapters in various cities. During his confabs with the Los Angeles local, for instance, the ouestion of employment of ATPAM members as managers of local legit outfits was considered.

Excuse It, Please

Excuse It, Please

Westport, Conn., Aug. 9.
Edmon Ryan and Scott McKay. appearing at the Country playhouse here last week in support of Ruth Gordon in "A Month in the Country." were both asked to take over the male lead in "Goodbye. My Fancy" for the tour, starting this fall. The bids were in the form of almost identical letters, each implying that the actor was the only one sought for the assignment. Both letters were from legit agent Toni Ward, of the William Morris office.

Ryan and McKay posted the letters side-by-side on the backstage bulletin board, with a pencilled comment, "Notice to apprentices: How hollow is fame."

Todd Sets Up New Partnership Deal

Michael Todd will hereafter pro-Michael Todd will hereafter produce his shows on a partnership-basis, but with himself getting solo billing as producer. His partner, who will raise the money and have charge of financial matters, will be William L. Richardson, an attorney-financial advisor who was one of the principal backers of Todd's production of "As the Girls Go." The partnership corporation is in process of formation.

The new setup will be used in

The partnership corporation is in process of formation.

The new setup will be used in the presentation of the proposed "Michael Todd's Two-a-Day" vaudeville show, tentatively slated to open early in September at the Winter Garden, N. Y. In that case little fund-raising will be involved as the presentation is expected to require little production expense. However, Todd's production of "My Darlin' Aida," based on the Verdi opera, is likely to be a major financial venture.

Al Strelsin and his brother-in-law, Morris Fromkin, who were large investors in "As the Girls Go," probably won't participate financially in "Two-a-Day" or "My Darlin' Aida."

Registers "Two-a-Day"

Mike Todd, who is planning a revival of two-a-day vaude with top names at the Winter Garden, N. Y., in September, may carry (Continued on page 58)

'Goodbye' 2d Troupe For B'way Dropped As Original Tours

Management of "Goodbye, My Fancy" has dropped its tentative idea of forming a second company of the Fay Kanin comedy to continue on Broadway when the current production goes on the road this fall. Members of the cast at the Fulton, N. Y., have been notified that the show will end its run Sept. 17, and have been asked to continue for the tour, starting Sept. 19 In Boston.

Madeleine Carroll, vacationing

MARGO JONES NEEDS
TWO MORE FOR DALLAS

Margo Jones still needs two more new plays to complete the schedule for the forthcoming season at her Theatre '49 in Dallas.
She also must select two classics for revival, with one likely to be "Romeo and Juliet." Directormanager has optioned ihree new scripts for production. She'll pick the others during her current stay la New York, ending about Labor Day.

The Dallas season, opening in October, will run 30 weeks, the first 24 of which will be stock and the final six repertory.

PARTY BIZ EVILS

town, particularly from organizations holding conventions in New York, will be sought next season by Broadway managements. However, only half-houses or less will be booked, so as to avoid the possi-ever, only half-houses or less will be booked, so as to avoid the possibility of having a specialized and unreceptive audignce, which is regarded as one of the drawbacks of single-group audiences.

Program, discussed at the last meeting of the Committee of Theatrical Producers, would probably involve the employment of an agent to handle such bookings for all members of the organization, on a cooperative basis. Idea would be to contact all organizations with conventions and meetings scheduled for New York, and to take orders for seats to legit shows. Such bookings have been solicited by a few managements in the past, but on a sporadic and limited basis. Limit of $15 per day expenses for production personnel on out-of-town tryouts of Broadway shows was also adopted at the CTP session. This is in line with the group's basic policy of reducing production and operating costs. It was again agreed by CTP members that all house seats, including those held by management, performers and theatre owners, should be stamped accordingly. Step is almed to help prevent house seats from getting into the hands of brokers. CTP now has its own offices with Ellen Slegel as fulltime secretary. She's the daughter of Max Siegel, company manager of "Streetcar Named Desire."

State Dept. Wants B'way Advice On German Theatre

Washington, Aug. 9. The State Department is seeking established Broadway directors and technicians to serve as "visiting experts" for the reorganization of the legit theatre in the U. S. zone of Germany. The ganization of the legit theatre in the U. S. zone of Germany. The project is being carried out by the theatre and cultural affairs division of the office of military government.

Thus far, the only one known to have been invited is Nat Karson. New York producer-designer, who created the physical production and lighting for the American company that played "Hamlet" at Elsinore and for the occupation troops in Germany. He may alternate believe trips to Germany and liming up other "experts" from the Broadway stage.

Besides trying to put over the idea of democratic philosophy among German legiters, the American reps will be expected to work out a system of standardized technical facilities for the German theatre, to simplify the louring setup. As it is, backstage equipment and electrical systems vary widely in different areas and even in adiacent towns, which Involves endless complications for traveling productions.

That, plus the problem of obtaining qualified American tenhicians and enough suitable plays, were the principal subjects discussed at recent meetings of the International Theatre Institute, a branch of UNESCO, in Zurich and Paris. Karson and Rosamond Gilder were the U. S. representatives at the confabs.

Shows in Rehearsal

"Death of a Salesman" road)—Kermit Bloongarden.

"Good Housekeeping" (strawbatt—Theatre Guild.

Own Treasurers Under Licensing Setup of Houses, Murtagh Figures

Agencies Profit

Agencies Profit
Although ticket brokers have thus far been the chief ones on the hot spot in the theatre ticket probe in New York, they are also figured to be profiting from it. Explanation is that with payments of "ice" to boxoffice men wiped out for the time being, the agencies are saved a major item of expense.
So while they re not getting fancy prices for top-demand seats, they're actually netting more than under ordinary conditions. ditions.

Even so the brokers are unanimously against the probe. They are convinced that nothing can change the basic ticket ing can change the basic ticket distribution setup and that the payment of "ice" is an inevitable cvil. And while they're temporarily profiting by the situation, they figure that the present probe can have only harmful effect on them in the long run. Even the ones who retain their licenses will be subject to public ill-will.

35 Brokers To Lose Licenses

John M. Murtagh, New York City commissioner of investigation, now estimates that about 35 ticket brokers will lose their licenses before his scalping probe is completed. Last May, shortly after the investigation started, the commissioner predicted that perhaps 10 agencles would be disenfranchised. Nineteen have already been put out of business and action is pending against about a dozen more.

1f. as Murtagh predicts, 35 brokers go under, about 30 will remain in operation. So far, only (Continued on page 58)

Managers' League Mulls Own Bureau For Theatre Parties

to license legit boxoffice mcn, New York City commissioner of investigation John M. Murtagh now believes it will be possible to force theatreowners to police the treasurers of their own houses. fact that the theatres themselves are licensed gives the city power to carry out such a policy, the commissioner figures.

missioner figures.

During the course of his scalping probe, Murtagh has stated that he thinks all evils of the ticket distribution setup "originate in the boxoffice." At his suggestion the city administration is drafting legislation to license b.o. men, by means of which it's hoped to regulate the distribution of tickets to brokers and wipe out the age-old payment of "ice."

The commissioner is a second or the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissioner is a second or the commissioner in the commissione payment of "ice."

The commissioner is confident such legislation can be pushed through at Albany, despite the indicated opposition of the boxoffice men's union and possible other groups. However, he thinks that even without such a law, the present theatre licensing system gives the city sufficient power to handle the situation.

As he sees it the commissioner.

the city sufficient power to handle the situation.

As he sees it, the commissioner of licenses, Edward T. McCaffery, could require theatres to supply complete records of all ticket distribution. If necessary, in case there were suspicion a b.o. man was taking "ice," it might require the theatre to produce the treasurer's personal accounts. Since b.o. men are employed by the theatre, Murtagh thinks such steps would be effective.

Although he did not carry out his threat, Murtagh's gesture some weeks ago toward revoking the license of the Majestic theatre, where "South Pacific" is playing, is an example of the city's power. In that case, the principal victims of revocation would have been the show and its management and company, rather than the theatre management and the treasurer.

However, Murtagh believes that the the vice ordered all theatre was pany, rather than the threatverHowever, Murtagh believes that if the city ordered all theatre managements to submit complete ticket distribution records regularly as of a certain date, the onus of possible revocation would be on the show and house managements, rather than the city. Thus, he thinks the city would be able to deal with the situation, even under existing conditions.

Murtagh has apparently about given up the idea of having the producers take over control of tickets from the theatre owners.
The Committee of Theatrical Producers and, to some extent, other managements, enthusiastically endorsed the suggestion when it was first made, but have done nothing to carry it out and, in some cases, have more recently expressed mishave more recently expressed mis-givings about the idea.

'BRIG' HEADING EAST AFTER NORTHWEST

AFTER NORTHWEST

San Francisco, Aug. 9.

"Brigadoon," just closed at the Curran here, will head back east after several weeks in the north-west. It may wind up its tour with a pop-price return date next spring at City Center, N. Y. The Kurt Welll-Alan Jay Lerner musical is still drawing hefty grosses here, but must close in order to fill other bookings.

In addition to a three-week repeat run in Chicago, opening Oct. 3, the show will play several repeat run in Chicago, opening Oct. 4, the show will play several return dates on its trek eastward. However, producer Cheryl Crawford reportedly figures there's still ample unplayed territory, and is tentatively planning to send the musical out again in the fall of 1950 to play split-week towns. With its no-name cast, the production can tour on a relatively modest operating budget.

Strawhat Reviews

Out of Dust

Westport, Conn., Aug. 8.
Theatre Guild (Armina Marshall, associate producer) production of drama by Lynn Riggs. Directed by Mary Hunter; settings and lighting, Robert Edmond Jones. Featuring Helen Craig.
Maudie Helen Craig

Maudie			Helen Craig
Teece			Hugh Reilly
Jeff .			Billy Redfield
Bud			Robert Foster
Old M.	n	Grant .	Edwin Jerome
King .			Barry Kroeger
Snake			Everett Gammon
Luke			Crahan Denton
Shorty			Carleton Carpenter
Rose			Joan Lorring

Lynn Riggs is in a somber mood "Out of Dust." It hasn't much for the commercial theatre.

Three sons of a tyrannical father plot his death as they move across the western prairies in the 1880's. Each has a passionate motive, for the old man has ensnared the wife of one, financially ignored another and denied even his favorite any parental feeling.

parental feeling.

An ambitious outsider goads the trio into ambushing the old ranger and helps them carry out their intentions—to little avail. For brother turns against brother until the youngest rides off to Federal authorities to confess their crime.

This is pretty heavy theatregoing, with only occasional reminders that Riggs can enchantingly recapture the prairle tongue of the period. Robert Edmond Jones, in a series of prairie views that are quite breathtaking, provides the evening with its best flavor and emphasizes that even in a country theatre's simple paintshop he is one of the theatre's keen craftsmen.

keen craftsmen.

Helen Craig's assignment as the wife is not an overly attractive one but she gives it expert projection. Barry Kroeger is also highly effective as the shifty outsider, and Joan Lorring is nicely spunky as the traditional prairie ingenue well remembered from Belasco's western sorties. Though she has galloped 75 miles across the sunbaked plains to catch-up with her man, she is as fresh as a daisy as she trots out on the Westport stage.

Most successful of all is Billy trots out on the Westport stage.

Most successful of all is Billy Redfield, grown up to dramatic stature as the favorite son who tries to make up for his misdeeds. He plays with spirit and conviction, and gives true depth to Riggs most satisfactory characterization.

Doul.

Count Your Blessings

Abingdon, Va., Aug. 3.

Barter Theatre production of comedy in three acts five scenes) by Carl Allens worth. Staged by Margaret Perry: set tings. J. D. Fitz-Hugh, lighting, J. C.
Hodgin, At Barter theatre, Abingdon

Annie KudelkaJoan Deweese
Leo Grabowski Syl Lamont
Emma Diefendorf Carolyn Gary
Bessie Diefendorf Elizabeth Wilson
Fred Diefendorf Herbert Nelson
Nancy Diefendorf (Sis). Charlotte Nolan
Jimmie Diefendorf Pat Hare
Kitty Diefendorf Nancy Watts
John Gates Mac Shaw
Eimer Price Walt Whitcover
Newton Gates Laurence Hugo
George Caldwell Frederic Warriner
Hattie Edwards Edna Dooley
Mr. Fiddler Jamie Heron
Homer Mell Turner
Telephone Lineman Ernest Borgnine
Audy Bowen John Garner

This turns up as promising playwriting, although missing the bigitime. As potential for Broadway it will depend on further character development and top-flight casting.

flight casting.

Nostalgic comedy of 1912 has a light imaginative quality that carries the play along in its spirit of yesterycar America, when the woman suffrage movement was in full swing. "Blessings" is basically a character play. The thread yesteryear woman suffrage movement was woman suffrage movement was woman suffrage movement was woman suffrage movement. The thread that ties it together is the story of Fred Diefendorf, a paint salesman who buys a small Ohio farm. He decides to settle down there but has to have all the modern conveniences. The play is chiefly concerned with the difficulties and near-disasters he encounters in getting running water.

Author Carl Allensworth starts off with a homey family scene but his central character soon plunges into the humorous consequences wants for trying new things.

off with a homey family scene but his central character soon plunges into the humorous consequences of his manla for trying new things. There are times when the acting scems to lack inspiration, but for the most part the cast maintains its nostalgic flavor.

As staged by Margaret Perry, the scenes move along easily, sometimes almost wistfully. Show is paced neatly by Herbert Nelson, as the fanatic Fred. Elizabeth Wilson does neatly as his wife, particularly in her rebellion against the "glory train" of progress, and Charlotte Nolan wins some laughs as the bobbysoxer of 1912.

Single setting of the combination dining-sitting room of the Diefendorf farmhouse shows J. D. Fitz-Hugh's ingenuity in stage furnishings.

Lock, Stock and Barrel

Brookfield Centre, Aug. 6.

Nutmeg Playhouse production of farce in three acts (five scenes) by Margaret Hill and Ted Ritter. Stars Robert Allen: features June Morgan. Hank Clark. Paul A. Lilly, Maurice Fitzgerald and Kate Byron. Staged by Leon Michel; setting, Richard Hughes Opened at Nutmeg Playhouse, Brookfield Centre. Conn.. Aug. 2, 49.

Emily Pearson (Mother) Kate Byron
"Honest Ed" Hurley Paul A Lilly Elmer Toddwinter, Richard Hughes	l
Elmer Toddwinter Richard Ilughes	V
Howard Hurley Bill Rowe	Ю
Mrs. Poltis Elizabeth Brew
Mrs. Gurney Lucille Fenton Cousin Lorene Betty Morrissey
Mr. Hope Richard Martin

"Lock, Stock and Barrel" should "Lock, Stock and Barrel" should keep the authors in cigaret money for the next few years with royal-ties from little theatre groups, etc. It's that kind of small town farce— funny but not funny enough for Proclume.

ties from little theatre groups, etc. It's that kind of small town farce—funny but not funny enough for Broadway.

Built as a vehicle for two moppets (a boy and a girl), it deals with a teen-age David Harum and a distaff Boss Tweed (aged 12) who is managing his campaign for student mayor at their school at the same time that his stuffed-shirt father is trying to get elected to the city council. Through stupidity by city officials on his father's ticket, the kid buys the city firehouse for $11.37 at a tax sale, instead of the fruit stand next door. The rest of the play is concerned with untangling the mess so the kid's father and the mayor won't lose the election.

father and the mayor won't lose the election.

A typical rural Connecticut strawhat audience was anused but not agog the night this play was caught. The best jobs were done by 12-year-old June Morgan, as the juvenile political boss; Maurice Fifzgerald as the grandfather, and Kate Byron, who, as the mother, gave the piece its only semblance of restraint.

Play Abroad

Roundabout

Bernard house to the state of t

Rusty Marilyn Hightower
Angelina Pat Kirkwood
Billy Warren Bobby Howe
Philip Burton Vic Marlowe
Customs Officer Kenneth Henry
Judy Blythe Marie Sellar
Monty Blythe Jerry Desmonde
Molly Blythe Gabrielle Brune
The state of the s

Bernard Delfont's new musical, "Roundabout," recently tried out on the road and completely rewritten before this presentation, has the flimsiest of improbable plots. and lacks tuneful numbers and bright comedy needed to carry it along. Mixed reception on London preem emphasized need for drastic revision, and possibly new song numbers.

numbers.

Story concerns a pair of divorcees who are accidentally brought together to share the same flat when the ex-husband's flancee ls visiting London. This allows for near-faree construction in which the ex-wife hides in chests and cupboards before the final reconciliation.

boards before the final reconciliation.

With one exception the tunes are average. This is "A Little Bit of Leve" which is sung by Pat Kirkwood, and has vivacity. Staging is colorful and elegantly dressed, but in the main the script by Austin Melford and Ken Attiwill does not match the production.

Melford and Ken Attiwill does not match the production.

Undisputed highspot of show is the magnificent dancing of Marilyn Hightower, an American redhead, who performed with unusual skill and won the biggest hand. Bobby Howes and Miss Kirkwood, the two stars, are handicapped by the material, rarely beling given an opportunity to display their skill. Myro.

U. of Wash.'s Hefty Sked

Seattle, Aug. 9.

Not only do local legit theatres flourish in the Pacific Northwest, but the region also has its own touring legit show. The U. of Washington's touring the atre, which has ploneered in the road-show line, taking legit to cities and towns throughout the Pacific towns throughout the Pacific Northwest, already has bookings Northwest, already has bookings set until next February for its third season, and more requests than can be filled are coming in according to Betty Dimitt, manager of the troupe.

The coming 1949-1950 season will be the third for the U's troupe, which will do three different plays,

St. Paul Bookings Up

Coming bookings up.

St. Paul, Aug. 9.

Coming bookings for the Auditorium here look bright. Last season was different. There were few events in the fall of 1948, nothing from November to March, 1949, then several legits, followed by another hiatus until the pop concerts opened July 12. Coming are: Aug. 28, U. S. Army Ground Forces Band; Mae West's "Dlamond Lil."

Aug. 30-31; rodeo, Sept. 16-25 (arena), which departs here for Band; Mae West's "Dlamond Lit." Aug. 30-31; rodeo, Sept. 16-25 (arena), which departs here for Madison Square Garden; "Briga-doon," Sept. 25-26; "Oklahona." Oct. 28-29; Minneapolis Symph children's concert Nov. 3; Civic Opera's "The Great Waltz." Nov. 17-19; Dec. 26-28, "Finian's Rain-how"

bow."
Pencil-dates for balance of the year include Ballet Theatre. "Mr. Roberts," "Alda" (local, "Student Prince," "Silver Whistle." "Merry Widow" and "Blossom Time."

Dullzell Asked To Explain Plan For Equity Dues Hike

Proposed increase in Actors Eq-Proposed increase in Actors Eq-ulty dues from the present $18 to $24 per year is being considered by the union's council. Paul Duli-zell, the union's treasurer, who recommended the boost, has been recommended the boost, has been asked by the council to give explicit reasons for such a move. He previously suggested it in his annual report to the membership, on the ground that increased union expenses necessitate it.

expenses necessitate it.
It's expected that among the reasons Dullzell will cite are the fact that Equity will undertake sizable expenditures as its share in organizing television, that the various new services the union provides for its members have involved extra costs, and that the treasury should not be depleted in case of a strike or Inter-union strife.

Although the council is aware of the added drain on the union's income, it's felt that with wide-spread unemployment and shrinkspread unemployment and shrink-ing actor salarles, a dues increase now would be untimely. If a boost is absolutely essential, council members will accept it, but they prefer to try to get along on the present rate, possibly even opera-ing at a small deficit and, for the ing at a small deficit and, for the time beling, using some of the union's huge cash surplus.

Since the collapse of the proposed merger with other performer unions, nothing further has been heard of the suggestion that Equity should adopt a graduated divergence. heard of the suggestion that Equity should adopt a graduated dues structure based on individual earn-ings. That system, similar to the setup in the American Federation of Radio Artists and Screen Actors Guild, would substantially raise the dues of high-income players.

Michael Todd Continued from page 57 =

the idea a step farther and make a film built around the variety shows. If the producer gets to it, pic will be released by United Artists. Indication of Todd's plan is seen in his registration with the Motion Picture Assn. of America last week of the label, "Two-a-Day." Not being a subscriber to the service, the registration was put in for him by UA.

Todd's idea is to film the picture in New York using some of the names he'd have in his vaude revival and possibly shooting part of it in the Winter Garden. Fictionalized story would be built around vaude. Todd had some previous experience in the picture tionalized story would be built around vaude. Todd had some previous experience in the picture field during a session as a producer on the Universal lot. He got into a battle with studio heads, however, after a long period of script preparation, and never made his film, "Up In Central Park," which was completed by others on the lot.

lot.

The legit producer does not hold

MDAA rules, on The legit producer does not hold priority, under MPAA rules, on the "Two-A-Day" tag for a plc. In primary position is Jack Goldberg's Herald Pletures, which registered it Nov. 5, 1947. In line after Goldberg are Stanley Kramer's Screen Plays, Inc. (Dec. 2, 1948) and Walter Batchellor's Manhattan Productions (July 15, 1949). Todd can lay claim to the title, however, if he goes ahead with filming, while the others give no evidence of actual production work.

'Hamlet' Audiences

Dressed as for Football

Dressed as for Football

"Audiences were dressed as if for a late-season football game in Minnesota—with overcoats, hats, myfflers, mittens and blankets.
There was even a blanket concession on the premises.

"The wind off the sea was so

The wind off the sea was so strong that anyone wearing a cape, heavy robe or dress, practically had to be anchored down. Hair had to be lacquered and covered with a net, and wigs securely spirit-had to be lacquered and covered with a net, and wigs securely spiritgummed. Banners used as masking pieces were nailed on frames to keep them from flapping and ripping—and then the standards holding the banners had to be reinforced so they wouldn't snap.

"We couldn't rehearse onstage during the day, because tourists swarmed 'the castle then. Every night of rehearsal was rained out.
Our only complete run-through onstage was the night before the opening. But the weather was beautiful (except for the cold) for all but one performance. That night it started pouring during intermission. The audience stayed in place and the last act started with Walter gulping the Claudius soliloquy, 'is there not rain enough in the sweet heavens, etc.'
"Although the management an-

"Although the management announced that the performance was cancelled, the audience refused to leave and demanded we continue. So, rather than ruin our costumes, we resumed in various versions of we resumed in various versions of street clothes. But no changing for Clarence. He kept on his Polonius suit to protect his Equity president costume.

A Union Delegate

A Union Detegate
"During rehearsals a strange man appeared on the scene. He followed me about, nodding, smilling, bowing, tipping his hat and placing a chair for me whenever he thought I might want to sit. I nodded and smiled back and tried to thank him in nidgin English, but nodded and smiled back and tried to thank him in pidgin-English, but it was all pretty mysterious. Later, I learned he was the president and business agent of the Danish Ex-tras Union, Elsinore local. I wished business agent of the Danish Extras Union, Elsinore local. I wished some people on Broadway might have seen him.

"The castle guards fascinated us. The captain was our favorite, this name was 'O'—just 'O.' He would regale us with imitations of all the Hamlets in the 'Kronborg festivals for the last 13 years. Besides being an acting performance, it was quite a linguistic feat. 'O' swears he saw the ghost of Hamlet's father stalking the courtyard in 1945, and he believes the spectre helped in the Allled victory that freed Denmark from the Nazis. "When we crossed the triple moat to enter the castle for rehearsals, we sometimes had to take stones and pound on the huge gatedoors leading to the courtyard to attract attention. There is another, smaller door, but 'O' invariably started the machinery and the great gates crunched and ground open. He would top all this by bellowing. 'Your Majesty! Your Royal Highness!"

A Relic Key
"'O' gave us what he said was bellowing. 'Your Majesty! Your Royal Highness!'

A Relic Key

"O gave us what he said was a key to the castle—a large heavy rusty chunk of iron. We thought little of it, but several days later when a taxi took me around to the seaward wall, where no guard was posted to admit me, I took the key from my topcoat pocket and was amazed when the old lock clanked and the gates squeaked open. "Most of the company, including Clarence, followed local custom by riding bicycles. Clarence apparently got a wild bronco model, for it continually threw him. Everytime a taxi horn tooted, Clarence took a header. We expected him to be all done up in splints before we left Denmark. But presently he mastered the 'beast' and reduced his number of tumbles to an average of two on his daily Marienlyst hotel-Kronborg castle "Never were actors so 'well be-run.

"Never were actors so 'well bestowed. Our quarters at the hotel had balconles overlooking the sound facing Sweden—over which the sun rose at 2 a.m. We were royally entertained. There were parties, drinking and speech making, morning, noon and very late into the night.

One party started at midnight

One party started at midnight with a formal dinner—everyone in full dress with medals and ribbons. There was much akvivit, when and beer. At 3 a.m., another, snack dressing rooms in the castle were ice-cold, and there was only one tiny electric heater at which we all thawed out our hands between om.

"Every morning, after coffee,
Walter held his head and groaned in a rough bass, 'Never again,' Clarence,' in a tired tenor, wailed,
'No more functions, please,'"

Murtagh Continued from page 57

smaller agencies have been knocked off. It's expected that most, if not all, of the larger outlits will be among the 30 survivors.

According to the commissioner, 30 is about the proper number of brokers to handle tickets for the Broadway theatre. He figures that there isn't enough business for more than 30 or so to operate profitably by legitimate methods. But with only 30 in business there should be enough trade to go around on the basis of the 75c. fee per ticket.

Murtagh opposes the suggestion that the 75c. legal limit should be lifted. On the basis of his study of agency books thus far, he is convinced that there is ample margin of profit at $1.50 service charge for a pair of tickets, provided there is enough volume of business.

The commissioner regards anything higher than $6.90 for a mustical or $5.70 for a straight play (including tax) as against the public interest. "The theatre is not, or shouldn't be, a luxury," he says, "but is an invaluable factor in the cultural life of New York. A majority of the people, not just a few, should be able to share in it.

"Boxoffice prices are already too high for many people to pay, Any increase would keep still more away from the theatre. Ticket brokers undoubtedly perform a service to the theatre and the public. But $1.50 per transaction should be adequate compensation."

Murtagh expects the scalping probe to continue several more months, at least. At its conclusion he is understood to be planning a comprehensive report to Mayor William O'Dwyer, not only summarizing his findings but also sion he is understood to be plan-ning a comprehensive report to Mayor William O'Dwyer, not only summarizing his findings but also recommending drastic reforms in the ticket distribution setup in New York. Some of his proposals may involve new legislation and or wider application statutes. of

Kansas City May See Legit Shows Playing Against Each Other

Kansas City, Aug. 9.

Prospect of major legits playing

Kansas City, Aug. 9.

Prospect of major legits playing against each other here next season became a likelihood when the Playgoers League, legit subscription organization. announced Its bookings will play the Music Hall. Legits of past few seasons from all sponsors have played the Music Hall under banner of A & N Presentations, partnership of John Antonello and Jimmy Nixon.

Holder of the United Booking Office franchise, Nixon has switched to Fox Midwest and will manage the Orpheum theatre, which came to the circuit in a property switch which gave RKO the former Mainstreet theatre, now the RKO Missouri. Antonello will continue to operate the office formerly known as A & N, and set shows for the Music Hall.

In a letter which Playgoers League sent out last week for initial subscriptions, it was announced the League (with more than 3.000 members) workd cooperate with Antonello. Opener is to be "Pinlan's Rainhow" early in September. League also announced the lineup likely will play "Mr. Roberts." "Goodbye, My Fancy," "Oklahoma!," "High But ton Shoes," and "A Streetear Named Desire" "Skating Vanities," Veloz and Yolanda dance revue, Sigmund Romberg concert, Ballet Theatre, Krem Kurtz with Houston Philharmonic Orch, and Boston Grand Opera are also listed.

Fox Midwest and Nixon tentatively have set mid-September for topening the Orpheum, which sets.

listed.
Fox Midwest and Nixon tentatively have set mid-September for opening the Orpheum, which seats 1,900 against the Music Hall's 2,562. Orpheum is expected to run shows a full week, white MH runs will generally, be, shorter.

B'way Up a Bit, But Still Light; Liberty' $40,500, Bolger $35,800, 'Ear' $20,600, 'Fancy'-Hussey $10,000

STREETCAR' FAST 27G

playing to a $4.20 top. Final still fine $28,000.

"Kiss Me Kate," with Anne Jeffreys and Keith Andes, opened Monday '8) at the Curran and before the curtain went up showed an advance of $135,000 for its scheduled six weeks.

"Streetcar Named Desire," with Judith Evelyn and Anthony, Quinn, hit a boff $27,000 for its second week at the 1.500-seat Geary, where it's scaled to a $4.20 top. Gross should increase with the end of subscriptions. Booking, originally for six weeks, will probably be extended to seven or eight.

'Roberts' Solos

To $22,200, Chi

Chicago. Aug. 9.
Legit spotlight remains on "Mr. Roberts" as solo fare here, and grosses have jumped accordingly. Play vacates Erlanger Sept. 17. making way for "Death of a Salesman" on the 19th. There's talk of the Coast production, "Sugar Hill," debuting Sept. 5 at Great Northern. "Anna Lucasta" may also show here. "Kiss Me, Kate" nestles into the Shubert Sept. 22.
Strawhatters have been getting

Strawhatters have been getting hefty play, with Chevy Chase Summer theatre presenting Mady Christians in "The Vinegar Tree" through Aug. 14.

Estimate for Last Week "Mr. Roberts," Erlanger (48th week) (1,334; $4,33). Into last six weeks with upped grosses. Healthy $22,200.

Oz' Healthy $49,000 To End Pitt Opera Season Pittsburgh, Aug. 9.
"Wizard of Oz" ended summer opera season at Pitt Stadium last week with healthy $49,000, second week with healthy $49,000, second best gross of the series, being topped only by "Naughty Marietta," which got about $3,000 more. "Rose Marie" would have been No. I in the standings but it got rained out closing night.

Take for the nine productions was $33,000 for 50 performances, four having been rained out. That was slightly better than a year ago in 51, six having been washed off the boards then. Extra shows in 1949 were accounted for via added half week's run for the opener, "Show Boat."

Legit business on Broadway continues to follow the seasonal patern. Attendance last week was a tern. Attendance last week was a time better than the preceding trifle better the most instances, the week's gross was slightly up.

BRIG' FINE 28G, FRISCO;

"STREETCAR' FAST 27G

San Francisco, Aug. 9.

"Brigadoon" shuttered Sat. (6) following its fifth week at the Lagrange of the corresponding performances of the corresponding performance of the c was slightly up.

Estimates for Last Week

Estimates for Last Week
Keps: C (Comedy), D (Drama), CD (Comedy)-rama), R (Revue),
M (Musical), O (Operetta).
Other parenthetic figures refer to seating capacity and top price, including 20% amusement tax.
However, estimates are net; i.e., erclusive of tax.

"Born Yesterday," Miller (183d wk) (C-940; $2.40). Run leader rose a bit to $5,500.

rose a bit to $5.500.

"Cabalgata." Broadway (5th wk)
(R-1900; $8.60). Another profitable week for the Soanish song-anddance show; $18,600.
"Death of a Salesman." Morosco (26th wk) (D-919; $4.80). Gets all the house will hold at all performance; $24,100 again.
"Desective Story." Hudson (20th wk) (D-1087; $4.80). Rose slightly to top $18,000.
"Goodby. My Faney." Fullon.

to top $18,000.
"Goodby, My Fancy," Fullon (37th wk) (CD-366; $4.80). Also got a welcome boost; nearly $10,000.
"Howdy, Mr. Ice of 1956." (Center
(11th wk) (R-2,964; $2.88). The fine

(11th wk) (R-2,964; $2.88). The fine weekend weather apparently stimulated tourist trade; $35,500.

"Kiss Me, Kate," Century (32d wk) (M-1,654; 36). Same as usual; the absolute limit; $47,200.

"Lend an Ear," Broadhurst (34th wk) (R-1,160; $6). Also got a nice break from the general upturn; $20,600.

"Miss Liberty," Imperial (4th wk) (M-1.400; $6.60). Eased again to about $40,500.

to about $40,500.

"Mister Roberts." Alvin (77th wk) (CD-1357; $4.80). Climbed a trifle to $30,500.

"South Pacific." Majestic (18th wk) (M-1,659; $6). Always the ame: the absolute limit at $50,600.

"Streetear Named Desire." Barrymore (88th wk) (D-920; $4.80). Edged up a couple of notches to $15,000.

"Where's Charlev?" St. Lunes.

"Where's Charley?" St. James (43d wk) (M-1,509; $6). Ray Bolger show joined the general rise;

Boston Opera Co. Huddles With AGMA

Boston Grand Opera Co., on the "unfair" list of the American Guild of Musical Artists, is negotiating with the union in an effort to regain okay status. Meanwhile, the outfit has signed a contract with the American Federation of Musicians and is readying its fall tour. starting Sept. 27 and slated to include 120 performances.

The repertory will include "Carmen." "La Traviata," "Rigoletto" and "Faust."

Strawhat Jottings

Current Road Shows

(Aug. 8-20)
"Blackouts of 1949"—El Capitan,
A. (8-20).

"Blackouts of 1989 — En Capanal.
L. A. (8-20).

"Brigadoon"—Aud., Sacramento (8-9); Mayfair, Portland (11-13).
Temple, Tacoma (10-19); Met., Seattle (17-20).

"High Button Shoes"—Upton. Salt Lake City (11-13); Philharmonic, L. A. (15-20).

"John Loves Mary"—Biltmore, L. A. (8-13).
"Kiss Me, Kate"—Curran, Frisco (8-20).

"Mr. Roberts" - Erlanger, Chi

"Streetcar Named Desire" -Geary, Frisco (8-20).

'Kate' $56,000, 'Annie' Ditto In Whammo L.A.

Los Angeles, Aug. 9.

"Kiss Me. Kale." in its fourth and closing week at the Philharmonic auditorium, wo und up stronger than when it started with a smashing $56.000 take, giving the four-frame engagement a total of $218.500.

four-frame engagement a total of $218,500.
Heavy biz was also registered by Gertrude Niesen's last week in "Annie Get Your Gun" at the Greek theatre. Show did $56,000, setting a new record for the amphitheatre. "Sugar Hill" kept on at capacity, as did "Blackouts of 1949." "Accent On Youth" took another mid dip in its final week.

Estimates for Last Week
"Accent On Youth." El Patio (4th wk) (790; $2.40). Poor $4,200.
"Annie Get Your Gun," Greek (3d wk) (4,400; $3.60). New record for the house of $56,000.
"Blackouts of 1949," El Capitan (372nd wk) (1,142; $2.40). Just short of capacity, $17,000.
"Kiss Me. Kate." Philharmonic Aud. (4th wk) (2,670; $4.80). Smash $56,000 for its final stanza.
"Sugar Hill," Las Palmas (4th wk) (388; $3.60). Close to sellout.

VAGABOND KING' NEAT $54,000 IN ST. L. WEEK

St. Louis. Aug. 9.

Twice escaping washouts by rain and wind storms by narrow margins. Rudolph Frimi's musical, "The Vagabond King." wound up a one week stand Sunday (7) in the Municipal Theatre Assn.'s al fresco playhouse in Forest Park with a neat estimated $54,000.

Walter Cassell and Marion Bell, a native, scored solidly in the top warbling roles. Others who clicked are William Lynn. Edwin Steffe, Marthe Errolle, Melton Moore and Jean Jandzlik.

"Roberta." one of the best coin grabbers of the Muny Opera repertory in its four previous outdoor presentations, teed off a sevenight run last night (Monday) before a mob of 11,000 for a new season's opening-night high for a gross of approximately $4.500. Marion Bell is repeating opposite George Britton, who is making his sole p.a. here this season. Standouts in support are Jack Goode, Sybil Bowan, Helen Raymond, Ray Malone, Davis Cunningham, Edwin Steffe and Leroy Busch.

London Bits

half weck's run for the opener, "Show Boot."
Kathy Barr, Tim Herbert, Johnny Downs, George Lipton, A. J. Herbert, Lulu Bates and Bettina Rosay headed the cast of "Oz." Miss Rosay having been added at last minute as premier ballerina when Patricia Bowman injured her knee during rehearsals and couldn't go on. William Wymetal, head of al fresco venture for third straight season. left immediately for New York to sail on Friday (12) with his family for Sweden, where he will direct Stockholm's 1949 opera season, returning to this country in January. Jack Buchanan to play lead in "Castle in the Air," written by Alan Melville revue author, whose first straight play attempt, "Jonathan," failed after 10 days last year. Melville has also authored another play, "Top Secret," which is soon going Into rehearsal with Hugh Wakefield as star Donald Wolfit called off his fall season of classical drama at the nabe house, Bedford, Camden Town, "fler having lost $8,000 on his Shakespeare and Shaw seasons For the first time in his career John Gielgud has agreed to act at the Shakespeare Memorial theatre, Stratfordon-Avon, and next year will be seen in "Julius Caesar," "Measure for Measure," and "Much Ado about Nothing." His recent production of the last named play at Stratford marked his first association with the theatre Laurence Olivier is presenting "The Fading Mansion" at the Duchess on Aug. 31. It will be his third managerial venture, the others being "Born Yesterday" and "Daphne Laurenda which has now passed its go on. William wymeta, near than, "alled after 10 days last fresco centure for third straight season. left immediately for New York to sail on Friday (12) with his failing for Sweden, where he will fired. Stockholm's 1949 opera season, returning to this country in January.

"A Pocketful of Love," new one-act dance opera by Julian Triedman and Eden Vale, will preem at the Nyack (N, Y,) high-school Saturday (13) and Sunday (14) on a double bill with Kurt Frank Hobi, Beatrice Tompkins. Lary Blek, Carly Carney, Breno, all members of the corps de ballet of the Ballet Russe de Monte of the Ballet Russe de Monte of Pocketful" Chroeography for the Ballet Russe de Monte of Pocketful" Chroeography for the Ballet Russe de Monte of Pocketful" Chroeography for the Row offering was done by Ruthanna Borts, week of Aug. 16 and sing fole Charlie Ruggles will appear in "Nothing But the Truth" if follow into the Windsor, Toron Willias ohave the leading fole Charlie Ruggles will appear in "Nothing But the Truth" if the Brattle Hall theatre, Cambridge, Mass., the week of Aug. 14. circuit close in Lakewood Sept. 9. 150th performance.

Total Legit Grosses

The following are the comparative figures, based on VARIETY'S boxoffice estimates, for last week (the 10th week of the season) and the corresponding week of last season:

BROADWAY	This Season	Last Season
Number of shows current	13	14
Total weeks played so far by all shows	156	208
Total gross for all current shows last week	$351,900	$336,000
Total season's gross so far by all shows	$3,925,700	$4,346,400
Number of new productions so far	2	2
ROAD
(Excluding Stock)
Number of current touring shows reported	7	13
Total weeks played so far by all shows .	101	138
Total road gross reported last week	$161,400	$312,500
Season's total road gross so far	$2,688,900	$3,201,600

Legit Bits

Talent agent Maynard Morris, rubbernecking in Paris last week, bumped into actor-director Sam Wanamaker at the top of the Eif-fel tower . Basil Rathbone, currently strawhat-touring in "The Heiress," being sought by the Play-wrights' Co. to star in Elmer Rice's "Not for Children" Warren O'Hara appointed chairman of the membership committee of the Assn. of Theatrical Press Agents & Managers Leo Rose, on leave as company manager of "Where's Charley?" has been moved from Polyclinic hospital, N. Y., to the Convalescent home, N. Y Joe Phillips is pressagenting "Anna Lucasta."

Phillips is pressagenting "Anna Lucasta."
Eleanor Pinkham is manager and Hal Weiner p.a. of the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera, with William Zwissig and Tony Buttitta in similar capacities with the San Francisco end of the operation Russell Ford, director last season at the Henry Street playhouse. N. Y., and his actress-wife. Malka Farber, salled last week for Paristo study French film production methods. Louis M. Simon, executive-secretary of Equity, returned east over the weekend with other representatives of the eastern talent unions, after television jurisdiction confabs on with Coast with Screen Actors Guild and Screen Extras Guild heads.

Max Slegel, company manager

Screen Actors Guild and Screen Extras Guild heads.

Max Siegel, company manager of "Strætcar Named Desire," vacationing this week at Hamilton. Me., goes next week at Hamilton. Me., goes next week to Martha's Vineyard . Joe Magee. on leave of absence from the William Morris legit department, is at Salzburg, having spent several weeks in Venice . Tom Kilpatrick, pressagent for Brock Pemberton, is at Provincetown . Actress Trescott Ripley due back east next week after playing leads in "The Helress" and "The Importance of Being Earnest" at the Tustin (Cal.) strawhat . . "Lost in the Stars" is the new title of the Maxwell Anderson-Kurt Welli adaptation of Alan Paton's "Cry, the Beloved Country" . . and George Abbott's production of the Walter Kerr-Jay Gorney revue, formerly titled "Thank You, Just Looking," will be called "Touch and Go."

be called "Toucn and vo.

Arthur Schwartz returns this week from Hollywood, where he sought writers for his Chevrolet television series and the book of a legit musical comedy... Cy Feuer leaves for the Coast tomorrow son with the Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera.

Charles Gaynor, composer-author of "Lend an Ear," preparing a musical version of "Dulcy," the George S, Kaufman-Marc Connelly comedy, "Double Bill" will be the title of Maurice Evans' production of the Terence Ratigan plays.
"The Browning Version" and "Harlequinade". Danlel Melnick and Bernard Carson will present the Burnett Hershey Lyon Mearson adaptation of Franz Werfel's "Class Reunion" on Broadway this season. Carol Channing, one of the principals in "Lend an Ear," is set for the lead in the musical version of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

5 for Vancouver

Vancouver, Aug. 9

A series of five roadshows has been announced for this city by Hilker Attractions. Included are 'Brigadoon,' "A Streetear Named Desire," "High Button Shoes," "Oklahoma!" and "Finlan's Rainbow," Only "Oklahoma!" has played here before.

Up to $8,000 Wkly. Spent By Broadway Theatres For Ice Cooling Systems

Bill for ice for the cooling systems of Broadway legit theatres currently runs about $6,000-88,000 per week. Although the chemical cooling system is much more efficient and economical than the antiquated ice setup, and pays for itself in a few years, only eight of the 33 available legit houses are equipped with it.

of the 33 available legit houses are equipped with it.

During the hot spell, the ice bill at the larger musical houses runs $1.000 or more apiece. At the smaller, straight-play theatres the outlay is about $500 or so. In contrast, the cost of operation of the Freon equipment, the modern chemical system, amounts to a maximum of $100 a week. Moreover, the chemical system is much more effective and saltsfactory.

Virtually the only drawback to the chemical system is the initial investment it involves. That in the Coronet theatre, the latest and most efficient type, is understood to have cost $69,000. The one in the Hudson, installed several years ago during peak prices, came to about $45,000. The equipment in the Mark Hellinger, to which a barkstage unit has just been added, is regarded as the best in town. Other houses having the Freon system are Martin Beck, Henry Miller. Music Box and Center. Also a chemical system.

Ice cooling equipment is in the Alvin, Biltmore, Booth, Broadhurst, chemical system.

Ice cooling equipment is in the Alvin, Biltmore, Booth, Broadhurst, Broadway, Century, Cort, Empire, Ethel Barrymore, 48th Street, 46th Street, Fulton, Golden, Imperial, Lyceum, Majestic, Mansfield, Morosco, National, Plymouth, Royale, St. James, Shubert and Winter Garden. The system in the Fulton, installed during the Howard Lindsay-Russel Crouse ownership of the house, is one of the best examples of the ice method. the bes

On the basis of an average num On the basis of an average number of hit shows in the theatre, a Freon system can be figured to earn back its initial cost in about 10 years, because of its lower operating expense. After that, it effects a positive saving. Meanwhile, it provides much more satisfactory cooling, simplicity and convenience for the management, and comfort and health for audiences.

comfort and health for audiences.

For example, the chemical system can be regulated to provide steadily any desired temperature. In case of a sudden jump in the outside heat, which might catch the old-fashioned system short of ice, the temperature control is automatically adjusted to compensate. Also, ice cooling creates a humid atmosphere in the theatre, which some people with respiratory complications find objectionable and which becomes uncompleted and which becomes uncompleted in the performance, when the house begins to grow warm.

The customary deal for cooling, gins to grow warm.

The customary deal for cooling, the theatre and show share the cost according to the same terms as the rental. For example, at "Death of a Salesman," the house pays 30% and the producers 70% of the less bill. They share the weekly gross on the same percentages. An exception is the "Mister Roberts" deal at the Alvin, where the theatre pays for the entire amount.

Longhair Shorts

Nora Kaye, lead dancer of Ballet Theatre, invited to appear as guest ballerina with Ballets de Paris in ballerina with Ballets de Paris in the French capital. Kurt Joess, founder of the Jooss Ballet, will rebuild his old school in Essepi, Germany . Nathalle Krassovska on leave of absence this fall from Bal-let Russe de Monte Carlo.

More Memorabilia

By Ralph T. Kettering.

Ai Woods did a play (1923), "Light Wines and Beer," with Joe Cawthorne, George Bickel, Ma-thilde Cottrelly and Marcia Byron.

"Hitchy Koo of 1923" had Ray-mond Hitchcock, Marion Green, Irene Delroy, and Busby Berkeley.

"Spring Cleaning" was opening attraction at Woods' new Adelphi, Chicago, played by Violet Heming, Arthur Byron and Estelle Winwood (1923).

(1923).

"Music Box Revue" (2d Edition), had Charlotte Greenwood. Bobby Clark, Paul McCullough, Wm. Gaxton, Helen Rich and Ruth Page

"Topsy & Eva," with the Duncan Sisters, ran 47 weeks at the Sel-wyn, Chicago, and Basil Ruysdael played Uncle Tom (1924).

Taylor Holmes became a popular star in "The Nervous Wreck." with June Walker and Jim Marlowe in the cast (1924).

Robert B. Mantell played Shakespearian rep, supported by Genevieve Hamper, Edward Lewers and Anthony Kemble-Cooper (1923).

Anthony Kemble-Cooper (1923).

Walker Whiteside was nearing the end of his Chinese roles in "Mr. Wu." supported by Sydney Shields, Harold Vosburgh and Eunice Hunt (1924).

"Sancho Panza," with Otis Skinner as the star, was the closing attraction at the Powers theatre, Chicago (May 4, 1924).

"No No Nanette" broke the Dun-can Sisters' record by playing the Harris, Chicago, 49 weeks, with Louise Groody, Charles Winninger, Bunny Granville and Edna Whist-ler in the cast (1925), Mary Newcome played "Easy Street, a Kettering opus, for 17 Weeks (1924), with Nan Susder-land (Mrs. Walter Huston), Ralph Kellard, Harry Minturn and Dwight Meade in the cast at Woods theatre.

"Greenwich Village Follies" had Galiagher & Shean, Carl Randall and Marie Clifton in cast (1924). Geo. Hobart, Geo. Kaufinan and Billy K. Wells wrote it.

Gladys Wallis (Mrs. Samuel In-sull) played "The School for Scan-dal" with Richie Ling, Frederick Lewis and Dorothy Oversend 925).

Ann Harding sat through three minutes in "Trial s to act three minutes in "Trial Mary Dugan" (1927), with Rex of Mary Dugan" (1927), with Rex Cherryman as Jimmy. Ed Wynn played "Manhattan Mary" (1928) and for the first time George Cohan's name was off the Grand Opera House ,Chicago. Phil Baker, Ted Healy and Ai-leen Stanley were featured in "A Night in Spain" (1928).

"The Front Page" made Hecht and MacArthur (1928), with Roger Pryor, Fulier Mellish, Jr. Olive Reeves-Smith, Wilva Davis and James Kearney in the second com-

"Blossom Time" still had J. Charles Gilbert as Franz (5th year, 1929) and the end was not yet in sight.

George Arliss played Shylock in

SAMUEL FRENCH

Play, Brokers and Authors' Representatives 35 West 45th Street, New York 7623 Sunnet Blvd., Hollywood 46, Cal.

FOR SALE

At Cragsmoor, Ulster Co., N.Y. Well equipped Restaurant: Summer Theatre; Three Cottages. Situated on nine acres of land.

or further information enquire P. O. Box 23, Cragsmoor, or telephone Ellenville 443W.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN—?
George White's "Scandals of 1922" had Paul Whiteman's orch, W. C. Fields, George White, Lester Allen, Pearl Regay and-Richard Bold.
Al Woods did a play (1923), "Light Wines and Beer," with Joe Last Visited and Margaret Dale in the cast (1929).

Jack Kirkland was John H. Kirk-and and wrote "Frankie and Johnland and wrote "Frankle and John-nie," which the police closed (1929) in Chicago, with Grace Kern as Frankle and Louis Heydt as John-nie and with an unknown actor named Preston Sturges in the cast.

Joe Cook was a terrific star in "Rain or Shine" (1929) with Tom Howard, Dave Chasen, Wini Shaw, and Charlie Straight's band.

Irene Dunne first came to Chi-cago (1929) as Magnolla in "Show Boat" with Edna Mae Oliver, Charlie Winninger, Sammy White, Eva Puck but with Margaret Carl-isle as Julie.

Shakespeare opened the Civic theatre, Chicago, Nov. 11, 1929, with Fritz Leiber as "Hamlet" supported by Helen Freeman, Louis Leon Hall, Tyrone Power (the first) and Hart Jenks

Lew Leslie was a great producer (1930) with "Blackbirds" with Bill Robinson, Adelaide Hall, Aida Robinson, Adelaide Hall, Aida Ward. Snake Hips Tucker and Mid-

Earl Carroli's "Vanities" Fields. 1930) had W. C. Fields, e. Grace Wells, Dorothy Edition, 1930) had W. C. Fields, Ben Blue, Grace Wells, Dorothy Brilton and Joey Ray. Ruth Draper (sketches) played two weeks (Dec., 1929), followed by Cornella Otis Şkinner (sketches)

Cornelia the same Selwyn, Chicago (Jan., 1930).

Fritzi Scheff sang "Mlle. Modiste" in 1939 in the same good voice she sang in 1905, and Chicago "kissed her again."

cago "kissed her again."
William Gillette played his final performances in "Sherlock Holmes" (1930).

mes" (1930).

Joe Howard tried to bring back his "Time, Place and Girl" (1930) with Fred Santley, Toby Wilson, Anita Case, but failed.

Eugenie Leontovich and Gregory Ratoff acted together in "Candle Light" (1930) with Reginald Owen, Alan Mobray and Mildred Quigley in the cast.

"The Last Mila"

The Last Mile" made a star of Spencer Tracy (1930) and put Her-man Shumlin on his feet as a protenore Ulric starred in "The Denore Ulric starred in "The Denorating albert Bruning, Arion Abbott, Nick Long and Son-Daughter" cast including Albert Bruning.

Marion Abbott, Nick Long and Clark Silvernail (1921).
Mitzi (Hajos) starred in "PomPom" (1916), and in the cast were Tom McNaughton, Bessie De Voie

Tom McNaughton, Bessie De Voie and Detmar Poppen. Nance O'Neill played "The Pas-sion Flower" (1920) and her lead-ing man was Alfred (Little Billie in "Trilby") Hickman. John Golden's start with "Turn to the Right" (1917), and the cast had Ralph Morgan. Joe Byron had Ralph Morgan, Joe Byron Totten, Mabel (Ben-Hur) Bert and Robert Taber. Billie Burke starred in "The Intimate Strangers" and in the sup-porting cast with small mention were Alfred Lunt, Frances How-ard, Glenn Hunter and Elizabeth were Alfred Lunt, Frances now-ard, Glenn Hunter and Elizabeth Patierson (1922), Frank Bacon in "Lightnin" and in the cast were Mildred Booth Mrs. Pat Campbell), E. J. Blunk-all, Jessie Pringle, Jane Oaker and all, Jossie Pringle, Jane Oaker and Minnie Palmer (1921). Julian Eltinge, Walter Kelly, Dainty Marie, Sam Mann all on one Orpheum Circuit bill (1916). Rod La Rocque played with Francine Larrimore in "Nice Peo-ple" (1921) (1021)

ple" (1921).
Jefferson De Angelis played
"Madame Mosell" and in the cast were Josie Intropidi, Diane d'Aubrey, Jack Henderson, Ernest Henderson, Ernest Lambert and Fay Bainter played Ming Toy in East is West" (1921) with George Nash, Robert Ober, Harry Mait-land and Clarence Handyside in support.

(and I can keep this thing up for years)

Scramble for St. Loo Post of Kiel and Mgr.

St. Louis, Aug. 9.

A wild scramble is in progress for the post as manager of the Henry W. Kiel (municipal) auditorium. following the resignation last week of John J. Rakliff, after serving for 10 days. Job pays a starting salary of $6,372 per annum. When the Democratic party captured the city election last spring the managership of the auditorium was one of the prize plums dished out by the mayor. The position is not subject to wild scramble is in progres plums dished out by the mayor.

The position is not subject to the local civil service setup, and several weeks ago Harry Bouer, who held the post for six years, handed in his resignation. Then Rakliff was appointed. He said he was leaving city service to enter the contracting biz. Edward N. Golterman. one of Mayor Joseph Darst's administrative assistants, has been made acting manager until the job is filled.

Blackpool

Continued from page 52

Wright, associated with Blackpool since his song-plugging days, has been here for 25 years, and is considered one of the town's characters. His current show, at the Pavillon, North Pier, titled "On With the Show," is one of the best he has staged. It's headed by local fave, Albert Modley, but the hit of the bill are Buster Shaver, Olive, George and Richard, with Betty Jumel, grotesque comedy femme, one of the high spots. Shaver and his troupe, American standard act, are already being dickered for by Wright for his next year's show. Spot is doing around $16,000 per, which is top intake of all the three piers here.

Spot is doing around $16,000 per, which is top intake of all the three piers here.

Strong Pler Shows

The South Pier has two shows. One is headed by Dave Morris, top Lancashire comic, who has played everything here. But his present solo venture is proving nowhere as successful as his previous efforts. Weekly intake barely exceeds $4,000. which is about an even break. Other show is being operated by Peter Webster, who has been running shows here for four seasons. Gets overflow from the Morris show but, as there's no overflow, is playing to peanuts, and is one of the town's flops.

Feldmans' theatre, which is the only house still plugging songs, mostly its own publications, runs a mixture of second-rate revues and small-time vaude. It has a steady family clientele, doing good average trade of around $8,000 per week, which is very profitable.

Ice-Drome, facing the South Pier, is the only ice show in town, and is operated by Donald Thompson. local indie theatre owner. It week, which is very profitable.

Ice-Drome, facing the South
Pier, is the only ice show in town, and is operated by Donald Thompson, local indie theatre owner. It did a good trade, averaging around $12,000 per, but is now temporarily closed due to a fire. It's expected to reopen in about five weeks.
Blackpool is far from duli on Blackpool is far from duli on Blackpool is far from dull on Sunday, as most theatres run spe-cial Sunday entertainments, far ahead of the type of shows in other resort towns. Blggest attraction is the Opera House, which always has star attractions presented by arrangement with Harold Fielding. Some of the names that have arrangement with fiaroid rigiding. Some of the names that have played or are engaged to appear are Vera Lynn, Allan Jones, Tes-sie O'Shea, Rawicz and Landauer, Patricia Burke and Sophie Tucker, who was a sensation when she appeared here last year.

Blackpool is the only town in the provinces running midnight dances twice and sometimes three times per week. Some of the bands times per week. Some of the bands engaged to play for these dances are Geraldo, Billy Ternent, Ted Heath, Vic Lewis, the Blue Rockets, Ray Ellington, Leslle Douglas, and Fellx Mendelsolin.

The Empress Ball Room is one of the biggest in Europe, comfortably holding 3.000 dancers, with another 4.000 onlookers. Loyalty to artists is one of Blackpool's virtues. Instance is Reginald Dixon and his BBC Wurltzer. He plays for some of these dances, and has been here for the last 20 years, and is still one of the biggest favorites in town.

Insiders maintain that biz this vorites in town.

Insiders maintain that biz this year is at least 10% down from previous years. This is attributed to diverse causes, such as the dolar crises; threat of further austerity; local propaganda pursuading people to spend their savings in their own cities; removal of clothing and other rations, which means more for clothes and domestic requirements which others.

wise would have gone on enter-tainment, and consistent spell of sunny weather, which is best the town has experienced in years. However, show folk are not un-

However, show folk are not unduly perturbed, as they are anticipating the usual bad weather conditions for month of August, already predicted by some of the prophets. And they still have their ace-in-the-hole. That is the resumption by the local Council of Biackpool's famed illuminations, which is being resumed after 10 years and lasts from Sept. 16 to Oct. 24.

Oct. 24.

Most of the hoteis are aiready fully booked for these five weeks, which should more than compensate them for any slack patch.

Disk Releases

music and record biz. Kapp points out that in his opinion the publishers, who by insisting on a release date as a means of securing maximum concentration of disk jockey exploitation by a maximum number of disks issued at the same time, are laying down a pattern that hurts a song's chances. So many different disks of the same song are dunped on the market at the same time that buyers are apt to become confused if any single one of them is not outstandapt to become confused if any single one of them is not outstanding

Kapp feels that today's disk in-Kapp feels that today's disk in-dustry is such that no record man can plan too far ahead. Anticipated hits too often collapse. A disker has got to be free to do a new tune a day or so after receiving it from a day or so after receiving it from a pub, and have it on the market as quickly as possible, if he feels the tune has unusual merit. It's agreed that having new songs submitted months in advance of release dates months in advance of release dates often helps by giving the recorder plenty of time to assign them to artists felt to be fitted for various types of tunes, but Kapp feels that the advantage to be gained thereby is lost because all other rival companies have had the same time to

'Publishers Abuse Release Date'

Most of the recording men are convinced that the release date, which was unknown before the war which was unknown before the war in so far as pop songs are con-cerned, is abused by the publishers anyway. They feel that too often a restriction is placed on a tune as a means of protecting an artist and company believed to have the best record of a song and which cannot get it on the market in time. Or to be assured of getting other records by using the first as a wedge. Pubs often use that tack.

wedge. Pubs often use that tack. For example, some weeks back Joe Marsala submitted a tune he wrote ("Let Her Go, Let Her Go") to Frank Sinatra, who recorded it for Columbia. Warner Bros. music firms have the song, but had no hand in securing the recordings (see separate story). When it became known that Sinatra had recame known that Sinatra had re-hand in securing the recordings (see separate story). When it become known that Sinatra had recorded the melody the WB firms placed a restriction on it—to enable the information to be relayed to other companies that Sinatra had cut it and to convince them that they should also.

Under those circumstances Perry Como was about to do the tune for Victor, but Columbia, plqued at WB for placing a restriction on a song they had nothing to do with getting recorded, proceeded with preparations to release the song this week under the theory that It accepted the tune without a date. Como heard that Sinatra's was to be released immediately and, since be released immediately and, since tember or October, he cancelled his disk wouldn't be out until Sepplans to cut an arrangement al-ready made.

are unending complica-There are unending complica-tions in the restriction Idea, which work against both the publisher and the recording company. Weigh-ing all the factors, the disk men are all definite in their opinions that the restrictions accomplish nothing. The Leeds-Decca story ap-parently is bringing it to a head, and they feel a better disk biz will

'Streetcar' Mex Standout

Mexico City, Aug. 9.
Summer season's outstanding

Cincy Studies L'ville On Al Fresco Theatre

Louisville, Aug. 9. Three Cincinnati park board of. ficials visited Louisville last week to gander Iroquois amphitheatre and to study feasibility of starting a similar summer operetta project for Cincinnati. After visiting the local ai fresco site, Max J. Paim, local at fresco site, Max J. Palm, Jr., Cincinnati board president, George F. Zachritz, secretary, and l. L. Camp, engineer and assistant park superintendent, returned to Cincinnati with blueprints of the Louisville amphitheatre.

Louisville amphitheatre.

Paim estimated a seating capacity of 2,500 would be about right for Cincinnati. However, George E. Gans, president of the Louisville Park Theatrical Assn., noted that Louisville had a capacity of 3,402 and has only half the drawing population that Cincinnati has, He suggested a minimum capacity of 5,000 for Cincinnati.

Proposed amphitheatre for Cinclimati would supplement and not replace the summer grand operas at the Zoo, according to Palm.

UA's Shane

Continued from page 5

hits a year. Last year it was "Red River" that gave it whomely hits a year. Last year it was "Red River" that gave it whopping grosses. Currently, Stanley Kramer's "Home of the Brave" is turning in surprisingly strong figures that will give UA $600,000 or better as its share of the income. While foreign currency restrictions are hurting all Yank distribs, UA is believed to be the only one that's actually losing money on its international operation. That's because of its character as solely a international operation. In at soc-cause of its character as solely a distrib of other people's pictures. Since it doesn't own the films it releases, it is not in a position to do the maneuvering that enables other companies to get out much of their frozen funds. Indie proof their frozen funds. Indie producers who distrib through UA are able to recoup considerable of this coin for themselves, but UA's profit is only minor as a result.

Pressure Off Owners

The improved situation domestically and the respectable backlog that has been built up has stabilized the outlook for the company somewhât and relieved a bit of the pressure on owners Mary Pickford and Charles Chaplin to find a solution to UA's losses. However, it somewhat and televated and Charles Chaplin to find a solution to UA's losses. However, it is well agreed that since there's little chance of a real improvement in the foreign field for years to come. UA can only achieve reasonable stability by building up its domestic grosses to take it out of the red and put some cushioning coin in its treasury. For that it must find a source of financing for its indie producers—a problem still far from solved.

This financing will always remain a prime problem because it is only by a ready fount of coin for producers that the company can gain control of its own destiny and insure a supply of pictures that will provide stability by permitting it to plan sufficiently far ahead.

On the release slate now are Edward Small's "Black Magic," Lester Cowan's "Love Happy" (Marx Bros.) Edward Small's "Indian Scout." Hakim Bros. "Wilhout Honor" and Roy Del Ruth's "Red Light." The Big Wheel."

Ruth's "Red Light."
Editing are Rooney - Stiefel's
"Quicksand" and "The Big Wheel."
the King Bros. "Gun Crazy." Sam Bischoff's "Mrs. Mike," and Colin Miller-David Loew's "A Kiss for Corlise" Corliss.

In production are the Danziger brothers' "Runaway," Ronald Al-corn's "Johnny Holiday" and Benedict Bogeaus' "Johnny One-

A good book in a field where there re many bad ones . . . bosed on ound principles and selective approition. It will open many doors for beginner," —MARGARET WEBSTER

32 Pages of Photographs $4.50 at All Bookstores or from

HARPER & BROTHERS
49 E. 33rd St. • New York 16

STORE YOUR TRUNKS AT "LIBERTY"

Safe from Dust, Fire, Vermin, Mildew, Theft. You may open your trunk Pick up or delivers in New York City-$1.50

Storage per month-$1.00 each

Liberty Moving and Storage Corp.
43 West 64th Street, New York (11) TRafalgar 7-6051

Literati

Immortalizing the Crix

Immortaining the Constitution of the Indiana. The Indiana was a marked the New York John Carlines by name and simulates their styles in pseudo-reviews of the principal's Braadway views of the principal's Braadway views of the principal's Broadway premiere.

Another of Mrs. Winslow's novels, "Chorus Girl" (originally "Show Business," and bought by Metro under that title but never fimed), is being reissued by Avon. Unlike that firm's usual 25c reprints, this is being issued as Avon's Love Book Monthly, in simulated magazine style (a la Cosmopolitan), a departure in format for a reprint house.

David Stern 2d Buys N.O. Item

David Stern II, of Philadelphia, irchased The New Orleans Item om Ralph Nichoison for $1,-Davispurchased The from Ralph Nicholson. 700,000 last week.
Stern will be president will be president will be greatent will publish engin

Stern will be president and stockholder of a new company, lem, Inc., which will publish the newspaper. The deal, engineered through Smith-Davis Corp., was called the biggest since Stern bought the Philadelphia Record. through Smith-Davis Corp., called the biggest since St bought the Philadelphia Reco Nicholson bought The Item fr James M. Thomson eight ye ago.

Nicholson will return to Tampa to supervise the Tampa Times, which he owns with David E. Smiley.

Stern said he does not plan to make any changes in Item's staff.

Authors Guild Cards

Authors Guild Cards
Authors Guild has issued membership cards, to be used as identification, credential and reminder." Reverse side carries the seven-paragraph Section, 1, Article 2 of the Authors League constitution, outlining the organization's objectives. The card, plus a booklet titled "You Too Can Own a Fur Collared Overcoat." are the ideas of Robert J. Landry, chairman of the Guild's membership committee.

SRL's 25th Anni as Book

Longmans, Green & Co, has acquired book rights to the editorial content of the Saturday Review of Literature's 25th anniversary issue. Publishing firm expects to bring out a deliver of the publishing form expects to bring out a deliver of the same of the sam sue. Publishing firm expects to bring out a deluxe edition early in October to be priced at $3. Saturday Review, whose Aug. 6 anniversary press run was 150,000 copies, reportedly sold out within 72 hours. Runoff tops the mag's 20th anni print order by 100,000 conies

Prentice's Glam Authors

Maggl McNellis and Anita Colby are on Prentice-Hall's upcoming roster of authors. The fashion commentator and radio-TV personality has done a book on "Party Games" with Hubert Boscowitz, and Miss Colby's tome is an "Almanac of Beauty."

the more serious side, P-H Operation Survival," by Wil-lessler, chief editorial writer has "Operation Survival, by milam Hessler, chief editorial wrion the Cincinnati Equirer due October. It's the anti-atom bo october. It's the anti-atom bomb exposition and a pitch for the aircraft carriers. Another serious work, with a pure religious connotation, is the "Pilgrim's Guide to Rome," by Harry Wedon, of the Yatican radio station, primed for Xmas when the 1950 Holy Ycar commences.

N. C. Mugg's Folk Book

N. C. Mugg's Folk Book

A field that needs continued mining—the rich vein of American folklore—is explored in John Harden's "The Devil's Tramping Ground." published by the U. of North Carolina Press ($3). Harden. VARIETY mugg. In Raleigh, has Bathered a score of intriguing mystery stories of North Carolina. from the days of the Lost Colony up to World War II. Most were used on the author's weekly aircr, "Tales of Tar Heelia," heard over WPTF, Raleigh, a couple of years back. Tome takes its title from one of the legends, which explains a mysterious circular path in a grove of the legends, which expiains a mysterious circular path in a grove near Siler City as the place "whore the devil walks in circles as he thinks up new means of causing trouble for humanity." It's a highly readable little collection of Americana sen reports on life and work of men and women in various occupa-

Two novels banned by Irish Censorship Board in June, "Randie in Springtime" by Geoffrey Cotterell and "Mirror, Mirror" by Elinor Rice, have been given green light after submission to Censorship Appeals Board.

Gilbert Gabriel takes over ue mag's drama critic r

John Wilstach sold "Wi uilty for Delays At Law

Maestro-author Meredith Will-son's "There I Stood With My Pic-colo" (Doubleday) has gone into its 8th printing or around 25,000 copies. He'll update it eventually.

Prof. Robert Gessner, head of N. Y. U.'s film department, penning a novel on Israel while vacationing at Escanaba, Mich.

Edward K. Thompson has been promoted to managing editor of Life mag, succeeding Joseph L. Thorndike, Jr., who resigned re-cently. Thompson was formerly assistant managing editor.

House Reviews

Continued from page 55

National, L'ville

the rhythmic effect is really something. Customers ate it up, and they bowed off to solid hand. Manhattan Maidens, six-giri June Jackson line, on for two numbers, one their own specialty, and the other as an intro for the Spanish dance team. They give eye appeal to the bill. 1my Thomale's orch back acts neatly. Wied.

Hippodrome, Balto.

Baltimore, Aug. 6.
Vince & Gloria Haydock, George
Prentice, Penny Edwards, Burton
& Janet, Ross Wyse, Jr., & Pengy
Womack, Milton Douglas & Co.,
(2), DeMarco Sisters (5), Jo Lombardi House Orch. (12); "One Last Fling" (WB).

This is a nicely combined layout which plays well in rising climax to closing niche allotted to the De-

This is a nicely combined layout which plays well in rising climax to closing niche allotted to the De-Marco Sisters, quintet of harmony singers with a fullsome radio background to lend marquee stature and a knowing audience response upon their entrance. Comedy is supplied by the knockabout of Ross Wyse, Jr., and Peggy Womack, and there is ample novelty in the contribution of George Prentice and his slapstick Punch and Judy show. It all adds up nicely.

Smart getaway is provided by Vince & Gloria Haydock, pleasing dance duo, after which Prentice garners a bundle full of laughs with his puppets. Penny Edwards provides nice vocal treatments of "Wonderful Guy," "Sheboygan" and a special wrapped around "Il Bacio." Winds up sesh with a dance and sets good spot for Burton & Janet to follow with impressions of all the familiars but sold solidly and a decided improvement since last caught here.

Wyse and Miss Womack get plenty of laughs with their comedy attempt at an adagio and knock themselves out to please and are amply rewarded. Milton Douglas gets the most out of his patter and closing crossfire with a femme aide after which the DeMarcos take hold for a rousing clincher with a kwingy work in g of "I Love Jimmie." in a calypso rhythm; an a cappella arrangement of "Sweet Sixteen," and "Take Me Out to the Ball Came" standquis. Closing bit a cappelia arrangement of "Sweet Sixteen." and "Take Me Out to the Sixteen," and Ball Game" st of "thank you of "thank vou" in music is groovey and just right to get them off to inaximum returns. Biz very good.

Capitol. Wash.

Washington, Aug. 4.
Martin & Florent, Ada Lynne
Tommy Wonder, Smith & Dal
(4): "Good Old Summertime Dale near Siler City as the place "where the devil walks in circles as he hinks up new means of causing trouble for humanity."

It's a highly readable little collection of Americana. Brill.

Hidegarde Fillmore in Hoily wood rounding up story material for McCail's mag.

Lee Mishkin gandering the Hollywood studios on vacation from the N. Y. Telegraph.

Olga Burke, 12 years with the Radio City Music Hall Rockettes, profiled in Aug. 13 Saturday Evening Post in an article titled "Dancer." This is one of a series of articles which Richard, Thruel-falls flat here, so act registered little. No doubt later audiences, older and with longer memories. gave the team more of the appreciation they deserve.

little.
older and with according ave the team more of the extraction they deserve.
Ada Lynne fares okay in a zany act that combines the most raucous features of Betty Hutton and Martha Raye. Sets pace for her inanities with a tune. "Be a Clown," then proceeds to live up to it. It's all slapstick, some of it good, other parts of questioned in the control of the con tionable taste and little entertainment.

Tommy Wonder, terper, late of "Annie Get Your Gun." does best job of getting customers off their hands with a combo of ballroom and tap, accenting noveity. Does ballroom sequence with a dummy tied to his feet, gagging much of it, but giving the illusion of straight adagio routine.

Martin & Florenz raise the curtain with some rather hundrum puppeteering. There's variety and novelty in the act, with puppets rieged out in costume, but it never quite makes the grade.

MPAA Seeks End

Continued from page 18

economic officials are too alert to economic officials are too alert to the dire results for exhibitors box-office-wise if American product is not made available as well as to employment in distribution offices and all down the line. In fact, it has been apparent for some time that film theatres cannot operate profitably on local product alone, with even nabe houses showing declines in biz with strictly homemade nix. made pix.

made pix.

Despite all this, Argentine producers still are bringing pressure for further protection for the local film producing industry. Though Argentine pix have had short runs, the local film-makers want it made obligatory that film houses have some local fare at least two weeks in every month, instead of one some local fare at least two weeks in every month instead of one week as current. This would reduce, of course, the playing time available for foreign pictures, mostly U. S. product.

mostly U. S. product.

The Draft Law, presented to Congress last week, would place 3% tax on all film grosses to be paid by exhibitors supposedly to aid film script writers. This has incensed exhibs who feel that producers would be sole beneficiaries because they would make private deals with scenario writers.

deals with scenario writers.

There were no firstrun U. S. pix during the past week but principal deluxe theatres were showing American top features in most cases. RKO's "Waiter Mitty" is past its fourth week at the Broadway with opening of Par's "Own True Love" delayed as a result. "Sorry, Wrong Number" (Par) is in its third week at the Ambassador while "Touch of Venus" (U) is in its second stanza at the Metrosian is the second stanza at the Metrosian in the second stanza in the second dor while "Touch of Venus" (U) is in its second stanza at the Metropolitan. "State of Union" (M-G) also is playing its second week at the Opera. "The Smugglers" (Rank) is the main British film around, being in second frame at Gran Rex.

"Best Years" (RKO) has over from "Gone With Wind" at bandbox Radar, but it may not reach the record 43 weeks and $98,000 gross of latter.

$98,000 gross of latter.

Italian pictures have received some bookings of late as a result of the trade pact with Italy. "Cactia Tragica" Is in third week at both the Premier and Ideal on day-date run. "Basta de Milleni," released by LuxMar Film, is starting out at Luxor, with Anna Magnanl plugged since she is a draw with Argentine fans.

TV Starved

= Continued from page 1;

have their place in video, just as they do in radio, but not to the degree that they're the 'be ali and the end all' in programming.

Cited as evidence is the fact that video has yet to develop a Dinah Shore, a Perry Como or a Dennis Day that can be called that video has yet to develop a Dinah Shore, a Perry Como or a Dennis Day that can be called TV's own. They go a step further and argue that even within the sphere of radio, the same holds true today—the glamor side and accent on musical shows are getting less attention than in the past dozen years or so with over-concentration on scripts.

The existing yen for script shows rather than "cheesecake" is laid by many to the cost factor—that it's much simpler in these days of coin-watching to wrap up rights to a dramatic stanza and produce it, than to develop musical shows and song-and-dance personalities.

SCULLY'S SCRAPBOOK

..... By Frank Scully

Romance, Ark., Aug. 6.

Every now and then Hollywood tells the literary world that "think" pictures are (a) out or (b) in, that there's nothing about a sick biz that entertaining pictures won't cure, and that remakes are merely further proof of how far Hollywood will go in meeting a new idea.

Impressed by these monographs from the top brass, I've been reading all the class magazines to see how much editors are being affected by what Hollywood will ultimately buy. Inspired by these extensive readings I have worked up a sample case of teasers of my own, which can be easily expanded into full-length novels at the drop of a well-filled hat.

filled hat.

I can answer "The King's General" with "The King's Buck Private."
"Eisenhower Was My Boss" with "Nobody Was My Boss," "This Side of Innocence" with "This Side of the Other Side," "Chicken Every Sunday" with "Hash Every Monday," and even such unanswerable originals as "The Running of the Tied," "Behind the Ion Curtain," "Sun of the Moon," and "The Television Murder in Tel Aviv."

The Pilgrim's In

The Pilgrim's In

Sprayed by the Atlantic hitting the seawall of Martha's Vineyard and buffeted by its gales, Knude Mann fights for fame and fortune as captain of a pirate frigatine called the Land Lover.

He isn't altogether happy because a titled lady is beating him to the plunder of several well-laden ships. Each spends fury with lash and pistol on all who cross their paths.

Then one day in the chase of a Spanish grandee's bark, bogged down with gold bars from Brazil, the ships of the brigands clash and soon are sinking off Nantucket, which seeningly lacked a lighthouse in the 17th century. Both, however, manage to save themselves by boarding the grandee's bark. In gratitude Knude heaves the grandee into the angry sea and is about to heave his Donna Dolores in after her Don when he feels the flashing scorn of her green eyes and finds himself irresistibly drawn to her exotic charm.

The titled lady who strides through the pages of this novel now finds herself in auguished love with her rival sea rover. Finding that fury

The filled lady who strides through the pages of this novel now into herself in auguished love with her rival sea rover. Finding that fury with lash and pistol does not succeed when both parties are equally armed and equally angered. Knude and the lady sit down in the captain's quarters to drink to a solution. They find they are both related to the original Horace Mann and decide to settle their differences Mann to Mann.

ferences Mann to Mann.

Donna Dolores, who looks on this trading in the role of a captive, reveals she owns an old broken-down inn on Martha's Vineyard and has an "in" through the governor-general on Cape Cod as well. A wild desire to settle down surges over Knude, so he agrees to give up the dead Don's ship to the Countess and embark in a two-oared lifeboat with Dolores for the Vineyard. When last seen the beautiful Donna is rowing into the setting sun toward the Vineyard and Knude is waving goodbye to the Countess, who with lash and pistol, is ordering the crew to head for the open sea and the lush isless that dot the waters of the Caribbean.

Westward Ho-Hum

A young clergyman fights for his ideals, and experiences the same triumphs and defeats which fall to worldly men. Reverend Longden Hart and his beautiful bride are scarcely settled in Tombstone, Ariz., when they discover that some of their vestrymen are resentful of the Reverend Hart's progressive approach toward the social obligations of the church. Cattlemen particularly resent the installation of a of the church. Cattlemen particularly resent the installation of a watering trough for sheep passing through the valley. Mincrs join the cowhands in this hostility. Rev. llart's wife, Shallow, adores her minister husband but she finds the duties of a minister's wife in a western town too confining for her gay eastern nature. She takes to bridge and spiked teas.

One of Rev. Hart's most beautiful and least principled communicants

One of Rev. Hart's most beautiful and least principled communicants succeeds by subterfuge in placing him in a dangerously compromising position by sending him word that the water to the trough has been cut off and sheep are stampeding. When he reaches the trough all he finds is the girl bathing in the nude.

Before he can extricate himself from this damning situation there's a flash of a photographer's bulb and in the ensuing struggle the Rev. Hart smashes the camera. The cattlemen and miners join in the fight but the sheepherders for once stand up for one of their own and wrap the treacherous female in sheepskins, just as Rev. Hart's beautiful wife hears the commotion and breaks up a bridge game in time to rescue her husband from this Jezebel. After that they solve their problems sensibly. He gives up social reform and becomes a bishop.

He da an Annian Way With Him

He Had an Appian Way With Him

He Had an Appian Way With Him

He was just an extraordinary American soldier, highspirited and happy to be away from home, and she was an equally highspirited Italian girl, happy to be home so that she could relleve her GI hero of the chocolate bars which were giving him shoulder blisters. They fell in love, but every time she put her arms around his shoulders he yelled, "Look out for that blister, sister!"

When their love had to struggle against this bitterness she knew it couldn't last. Just as the flowers had to die in the debris of the one-time imperial city, so their love was destined to end when he ran out of chocolate bars. So she put her arms around his waist instead of his shoulders and surrendered to him completely.

That night he left for Stromboli to straighten out a title fight. He never saw her again.

never saw her again

Molehill Mountain Memories

Molehill Mountain Memories

Dull legends of one of America's least romantle regions are retold with practically no enthusiasm in these tales of the Molehill Mountains. When the author goes after mountain stories he can be relied on to come back with bags under his eyes but otherwise empty-handed.

Our readers who remember the author's saga of the rice fields, "The Easiest Whey," and his African adventures entitled "Bring Me Back Alive" are sure to be lulled into a false security by his thrice-told tales of "Molehili Mountain Memories."

Futuratole

In this new novel the author produces a major work towards which all his previous writing was heading. Though the story takes place 46 years hence it is in every sense as timely and as literary as today's tabloid newspaper. The scene is Hollywood. In the life of Windstone Churcheel, young man in the Ministry of Pictures (Minipix for short), come ty proletarians (called "proles" by the Prole Board). Equipped with jet-propelled transformer they transform his life completely. That say, they vaporize him.

One prolé is Julia, who slips him a mickey (short for Cohen) which when deciphered spells out "I love you." The other prole is an orange named O'Brlen whose mother was once a child-star called Moregrit. These two betray Windstone in most unexpected ways, and he in turn These two betray Windstone in most unexpected ways, and he in tubetrays them.

In Room 101, named after a ranch of the same name, they sing

"Under a spreading chestnut tree I sold you and you sold me."

Among them they break the spirit of every living man till all believe that black is white, two plus two equals three (a switch), and evil is good for eight reels. They invent a language called Newspeak only to find VARIETY had a prior claim going back to 1905.

This distinguished novel is distinguished by the fact that it runs 300 pages to the dot and in doing so becomes one of the most Important books of a generation.

Broadway

William Tracy in from Coast for radio and TV shots.

Grace LeBoy (Mrs. Gus) Kahn to urope on a holiday. Europe Kurt Frings arrived here from the Coast early this week en route to Paris. Stanley Melba orch returns to otel Pierre's Cotillion Room Hotel P Sept. 20.

Sept. 20.

The Harry Cohns and Arnold Grants return on the Ile de France sailing Aug. 13 from Paris.
Helene (Mrs. O. M.) Samuel in Boston on a commission to do a portrait of Mrs. John King.
Adolf Lantz, father of N. Y. agent Robert Lantz, undergoing an operation in London tomorrow (Thurs.).
Mrs. Al Jolson due in next Monday or Tuesday for preem of "Joison Sings Again" at the State Wednesday (17).
Librettist Otto Harbach and Bob

nesday (17).
Librettist Otto Harbach and Bob

Librettist Otto Harbach and Bob Kriendler, of 21, returned from European vacation Monday (8) on the Caronia.
Clifford C. Fischer's longtime Franco-American secretary, Odette, back from Paris, her first return to her homeland in 10 years.
Mike Kaplan, Dailly Variety mugg, leaves today (Wed.) for Palestine to settle family affairs and to survey the scene there for mag articles.

Borden Mace, prez of the RD-DR Borden Mace, prez of the RD-DR articles.

Borden Mace, prez of the RD-DR
Corp. and associate producer of "Lost Boundaries," off to Bermuda Saturday (6), in quest of material for a new film.

The Norman Readers (he's flack chief of- the French National Tourist office and European Travel Commission ad topper) off to Cape Cod until Labor Day.

Metro producer Gottfried Reinhardt shoves off from the Coast Friday (12) for a European vacation wich includes a visit to the Salzburg music festival.

Marie Wilson due to arrive from Coast Friday (12)), remaining here for two weeks in connection with publicity for the forthcoming Paramount release of "My Friend Irma."

Irma."
Chico Marx, back from six months in the British variety houses, later joined by his brother Harpo, flew back to Hollywood yesterday (Tues.), preceded by the latter.
Thyra Samter Winslow calls her new East 61st street manse "14th Heaven" since it's the 14th apart-ment she's occupied since moving to Gotham from her native Ar-

to Gotham from her native Arkansas.

Norman Siegel, Paramount's studio ad-pub director, in New York for confabs with Max E. Youngstein, national ad-pub topper, on Par's "Samson and Delllah" and "The Heiress."

Ed Sargoy's daughter, Janice Ellin, engaged to Richard Harvey Rosenberg. Father of bride-to-be is member of Sargoy & Stein, lawfirm repping major film companies in copyright matters.

Screen actress Thelma Ritter, due back tomorrow (Thurs.), after completing "Perfect Strangers" at Warners, goes immediately to Fire Island with her husband, radio-aexecutive Joseph A. Moran, for extended vacation.

executive Joseph A. Moran, for extended vacation.
Screen thesps Marta Toren and Jeff Chandler arrived in Gotham Monday (8) to throw their weight behind advance publicity on Universal's "Sword in the Desert." Pic has its world preem before an invited audlence at the Criterion theatre. Broadway flickery, Aug. 23.

23.

Majorie Main and Percy Kilbride In New York along with producer Leonard Goldstein and director Charles Lamont on eastern production of "Ma and Pa Kettle Go to Town" which Universal has before the cameras here.

Pittsburgh

By Hal Cohen
Karen Tedder and Jay Lawrence heading new floor show at Copa.
White Barn Theatre will do Clifford Odets' "Big Knife" next week.
Jimmy Featherstone's drummer,
Al Carter, doubles as band's press-

"Wizard of Oz" in favor of Bettina

Rosay.
Harold Lund, who manages Dick Powell's Enterprises in Hollywood, back to Coast after visiting his mother.
Lou Sowa new distributor here for M-G-M Records. They were

Lou Sowa new distributor near for M-G-M Records. They were previously handled by J. A. Williams Co.

Carl Ackerman, brother of Mary Ackerman. "Ice-Capades"

p.a., to Rome for clerkship in U. S. Embassy.

Tim Herbert took off, after clos-

Tim Herbert took off, after closing summer operetta at Stadium, for St. Louis to do "Red Mill" at Muny Opera.
Mrs. Joe Blowitz, wife of late Manor theatre manager, will make her home with son, Bill Blowitz, the Hollywood p.a.

Westport, Conn.

By Humphrey Doulens
Lachary Scott in from the Coast.
Charlie Strakosch property hunting. Laura Pierpont visiting Christie

MacDonald

MacDonald.
Helen Hokinson back from a stay at Nantucket.
Palace theatre at South Norwalk being renovated.
Geraldine Farrar off to the Thousand Islands.
Johnnie Evans vacationing with the Marks Levines.
Mrs. William Anthony McGuire at the Arthur Levys.
John Patrick here to catch Ruth Gordon in "A Month in the Country."

Gordon in "A Month in the Country."

Martin Manulis due back from Cope Cod where he directed "Western Wind" with Cornel Wilde.

Herman Levin and Oliver Smith huddling with John C. Wilson on forthcoming musical "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

Agnes De Mille, John Tyers, Helena Bliss, Shirlee Weingarten, Anita Loos, Robert Edmond Jones, Theresa Helburn, William Gaxton, Jerome Whyte, Christie MacDonald, at Monday (8) premiere here of Theatre Guild's "Out of Dust."

Minneapolis

Minneapolis

By Les Rees

Annual Roller Derby under way at Auditorium.
Edyth Bush Little Theatre offering "The Women."
"Brigadoon" set to open season of Lyceum, Sept. 5.
Lena Horne inked for Club Carnival Sept. 1-14.
Old Log strawhatter holding over "I Remember Mama."
Dick Jurgens into Prom Ballroom for one-nighter.
Jessica Dragonette into Hotel Radisson Flame Room.
Four Blazes into St. Paul Drum Room with Hy-Lo held over.
Jessica Dragonette into Hotel Radisson Flame Room with Danny

The rain for weekend but are recommended for weekend but are recommended for the recommendation of the recommendation in Leghorn.

Janis Paige and husband, Frank for the recommendation of the recomm

London

Joe E. Brown to step into the starring role in "Harvey" while Sid Field goes on vacation Aug. 29.

Sid Field goes on vacation Aug. 29.
Among the American acts booked by Emile Littler for his various Christmas pantomimes are Gaudsmith Bros. and The Briants.
Success of Harold Steinman's
"Skating Vanitles" at Wembley
Pool has resulted in company returning next year with a new edition.

Cilli Wang, having finished short season at Arts Theatre Club, re-turns to Parls but comes back for six months at Bal Tabarin, open-ing Dec. 15.

six months at Bal Tabarin, opening Dec. 15.

Lew and Leslie Grade have set Peggy Ryan's English dates. She opens at Bournemouth Aug. 15, with following week at Birmingham, and to be followed by three weeks at the London Palladium. Chaz Chase accepted two weeks booking at London Palladium on advice of Fosters' agency. After opening was immediately booked for 26 weeks including pantomime, After playing in North Africa, returns to take up his vaudeville date in England.

Cass Daley's opening at London Palladium Aug. 1, has resulted in flood of vaudeville offers which she has had to turn down because of prior holiday arrangements in Paris and Rome. But she is definitely slated to return early next initely slated to return early next year.

Dolores Gray in Italy on vacation but due to return to lead in Emile Littler's "Annie Get Your Gun" at Culiseum late in August. Incidentally, Littler has just closed new library deal involving $120.000 advance, which assures "Annie's" run to the end of February, 1950.

"Annie's" run to the end of February, 1950.

New acts set by Tom Arnold and Emile Littler for new Latin Quarter show due at London Casino March 16 are Professor Lamberti, with Roger Ray likely. Robert Nesbitt again will stage. In current show, Herman Hyde, who has been booked for six weeks, is being held over until show ends late in December.

Las Vegas

Spike Jones a smash at Flamingo with several new features added to the act.
Seymour Korman, Coast correspondent for Chi Trib in town to do feature story.
Leo Mishkin of the N. Y. Telegraph at Hotel Thunderbird on writing assignment.
Neil Regan, bureau manager of Steve Hannagan Associates publicity office here, to Sun Valley for vacation.

vacation.

Jlmmy Dugan, publicity man for Radisson Flame Room.

Four Blazes into St. Paul Drum
Room with Hy-Lo held over.
Jessica Dragonette into Hotel
Radisson Flame Room with Danny Ferguson orch.
Jack Thoma flew in from Chicago to set Dick Jurgens for onenighter at Prom Bellroom.

"The Silver Whistle" and "Madwoman of Chaillot" definitely set as Theatre Guild-A.T.S. subscription series attractions at Lyceum.
Aquatennial ball and queen coronation ceremonies featured Art
Mooney's orchestra, Roland Twins, Belmont Bros. and the Nissens.
Dorothy Lewis Ice Show and 'Jewel Box Revue' continue to draw big biz to Hotel Nicollet Minnesota Terrace and Curly's, respectively.

Rome

By Helen McGill Tubbs Concert pianist Amos Allen at the Excelsior.
George Raft left for Paris buw ill return here later.
ABC's commentator Nancy Cralg
in Rome for a few days.
Comedian Jimmy Dugan, publicity man for Last Frontier, back from two-week tour of duty with the Marines.
Ted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing to doscko business at Last Frontier afted Lewis continuing

By Eric Gorrick Paul Regan booked for Celebrity Club in Sydney this month. Shell Oil Co. is giving demon-strations of video here in ace hotels. Margaret Lockwood, British film

Nick Pery, local Columbia topper, on biz lookseeing in Singapore and Siam.

Charles and Elsa Chauvel will stay in Hollywood for several weeks at U-I studio having their "Sons of Matthew" readied for screening. Pic was sponsored by Universal and Greater Union.

Chicago

Mady Christians arrived Friday (5) for rehearsals of "Vinegar Tree" at Chevy Chase Summer Theatre.

Producer Dave Sebastian, Car-men Miranda's hubby, in town vis-iting friends, on way to Washing-ton, D. C.

Al Jolson slated for a personal appearance for midwest preem of "Jolson Sings Again" at Woods theatre, Aug. 19.

theatre, Aug. 19.

Illinois American Legion convensh got under way Thurs. (4) with 400 extra police on hand to confiscate water pistols, electric shockers and other trick gadgets designed to molest pedestrians.

designed to molest pedestrians.

Al Horwits, Universal-International studio's press chief, in town setting up world preem of "Yes Sir, That's My Baby" at Roosevelt theatre, Aug. 10, which will include a parade and p.as of Donald O'Connor and Gloria De-Haven.

Haven.

George Jessel, here for threeweeker at Oriental theatre, hosted the press at a cocktail party in Ann Baxter's honor at Sherman Hotel, Wed. (3). Miss Baxter, featured in the plc, did a one day p.a. with "You're My Everything" which opened with Jessel Thurs. (4).

Dublin

By Maxwell Sweeney Siobhan McKenna to London.

Fibber McGee and Molly giving the o.o. to Ireland. John Corfield, prexy John Corfield Productions, in on vacation.

Charlie Kuns in for Royal Dublin Horse Show Week date at Olympia.

Father Urban Nagle's "The City of Kings" currently being mulled for production here.

F. E. Pardoe, British Film Institute, set to gab to Irish Film Society on film appreciation.

ciety on film appreciation.

Robert Dawson inked for lead in London production of Abbey winner "King of Friday's Men."
Tenor Hubert Valentine, on vacation, returns to U. S. for concerts in N. Y. Town Hall in the fall.
Countess of Longford has written new comedy, yet untitled, skedded for fall production at Gate theatre

ded for fall production at Gate theatre. Cyril Cusack set for Michael Powell-Emeric Pressburger cur-rent filming of Mary Webb's "Gone to Earth."

Ambrosine Phillips in from London for lead in Roland and Michael Pertwee's "The Unknown Man" at the Gaiety don for lead in Roland and Michael Pertwee's "The Unknown Man" at the Gaiety.

"Belvedere Goes to College" (20th) cleaning up on extended playing time at 3,500-seater Savoy, now in third week.

The Abbey Theatre's School of Acting, directed by Ria Mooney, is being closed, only a few outstanding pupils being retained as apprentice players and understudies to regular company.

San Francisco By Ted Friend

Dante at Press Club dinner.

Woody Herman orch to Oakland. Lionel Hampton at the Edge-ater dancery.

Judith Evelyn guested at Frisco Critics Council.

Critics Council.

Dorothy Shay and Eddie O'Neal orch at Mark Hopkins.

Arthur Fiedler in to direct Standard Symph orch.

Variety Club, Tent 32, pienicked at Adobe Creek Lodge.

Jerry Devine, ABC writer-director, doing the seven hills.

Al Dalzell in from New York to replace Gertrude Bromberg, press agent for "Streetcar," who left for L. A. vacation.

L. A. vacation.
Arizona Daily Star publisher, William R. Mathews, visiting; he's one of two survivors of Dutch plane crash which killed 13 correspondents.

Hollywood

Anne Baxter to Chicago. Vince Barnetts divorcing.
Bob Stack to Laguna for summer

Virginia Van Upp returned after four months in Spain.

Jeff Donnell to Laguna Beach

Lizabeth Scott in town after eastern strawhat appearances.

Jesse L. Lasky in town after business huddles in N. Y.

Prince Moezzl, of Iran, gandering film production at Warners. ·Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall readying a five-week stage tour.

readying a five-week stage tour.

David Buttolph returned to Warners after a long siege of illness.

Joseph I. Breen bought the Will Hays ranch near Lake Sherwood.

Paulette Goddard to Mexico City start her picture, "Inamorata"

Mervyn LeRoy's daughter, Linda, hospitalized after a fall from a horse.

Zachary Scott and family to their Virginia farm for the rest of the summer.

Murray Alper celebrated his 25th year in show business on the Paramount lot. Edwin L. Marin returned from a location scouting tour of Brit-ish Columbia.

W. H. (Bud) Lollier took his family to Alaska to duck the Call-fornia heat wave.

Howard leSieur and Al Tamarin from N. Y. for ad-publicity huddles at United Artists.

Joan Fontaine and Bill Dozier announced a marital separation with divorce in the offing.

Paramount Shriners tossed a luncheon for Harold Lloyd, with Henry Ginsberg as toastmaster.

Cary Grant on his way back to Hollywood after an eight-day checkup at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Judy Garland in town for two weeks of Metro huddles before re-turning to Boston for further hos-pital treatment.

Bucks County, Pa.

By Sol Jacobson

Don Walker's daughter Anne terping with Cannon Ballet at Mu-terping with Cannon Ballet at Music Circus.

St. John Terrell tossed birthday party for Wilbur Evans at his canvas theatre Fri. (5).
Brock Pemberton, Robert Breen, Richard Beckhart in to gander Playhouse last week.
Teddy Hart, Joe Downing, John Marriott in for "Three Men" rehearsals Tues. (9) at Playhouse.
Theron Bamberger to Allentown Sat. (6) as judge for Atlantic City beauty contestants at Lyric theatre. Walter Slezak checking out of his Ottsville farm this week for Hollywood to play in Red Skelton film.

Film.

Ezra Stone commuting to N. Y. to direct Olsen & Johnson video show from hls Newtown dairy farm.

show from his Newtown dairy farm.

Phil Cohan, producer of Jimmy Durante air show, in from the Coast for visit with Don Walkers and Paul Whitemans.

Bob Sensenderfer, Eve. Bulletin critic, busman's-holidaying from Ivyland home to matinee at Lambertville and evening perf. at New Hope.

Margo Jones, Manning Gurlan and Tad Adoue in from N. Y. to see how Lambertville Music Circus compares with their Dallas Theatre '49 operation. Miss Jones was persuaded to appear as super in "Vagabond King." Other notables' suping were Kenyon Nicholson, the Harry Haenigsens, Jon Gnagys, and Frank Godwins.

Barcelona

By Joaquin C. Vidal-Gomls Annabella in from Paris to spend a vacation in Spain.
Babla nitery now offering Baldo and Karina, Beatriz, de Lenclos and "The Flying Trio."
Composer Agustin Borguno arrived from New York after an absence of several years.
Argentine actor Enrique Muino feted in Madrid at the Zarzuela theatre. Spanish cinema bigwiss attended. besides representation of the Argentine Embassy and colony.
Author Salvador Bonavia and composer Jaime Mestres presented new show at the Arnau theatre.
"Canela. Sal y Pimienta" ("Cinnamon. Salt and Pepper"), a folk play with music.
Rafael Escrinas, manager of Rop-

Jimmy Featherstone's drumer, and the state of the state o

'Big 3' Continue Continued from page 1

"Kate" and "Salesman." Standing room for each night's performance of all three shows is always sold out soon after the boxoffice opens each morning. Also, there is usually a line of a couple of dozen people in the lobby of each theatre every night, waiting to buy possible last-minute returns.

tre every night, watering to buy possible last-minute returns. All three productions are rapidly (at least by contemporary standards) piling up profits for their respective producers and backers. For instance, the final 30% installment of the $225,000 investment of "Pacific" was repaid this week. The show has a cash advance of around $300,000. The usual reserve fund has been accumulated. The show is continuing to net about $11,000 a week, which will henceforth be split between producers and backers. The production actually cost $163,000 to open on Broadway.

The principal running expense

000 to open on Broadway.

The principal running expense for "Pacific" is the rental of the Majestic theatre, which comes to $10,150 a week. Mary Martin and Ecio Pinza each get 7% of the gross, or approximately $3,542 apiece. The authors, Richard Rodgers. Oscar Hammerstein, 2d; nougers. Oscar fraumerstein, 2d; Joshua Logan and James Michener, share a royalty of 10%, and Logan gets 2% as director.

gets 2% as director.

As indicated, the profits will be split 50-50 between the producers and backers. Of the producers' share, Rodgers and Hammerstein get 30% each, Logan gets 26-3% and Leland Hayward 131-3%. Same division will be made of the proceeds of the second company, to be sent on tour in the fall of 1950, and from foreign and other rights. There won't be a film sale, in line with the Rodgers-Hammerstein policy of never permitting film, of never policy of never permitting film, television or radio versions of their television or radio versions of their creations.

"Kate" last week paid another $7,000 dividend to its backers, bringing the profit thus far to $150,000 on the $180,000 investment. The rate of return should henceforth increase, moreover, as the recently-opened second company is playing to smash business on the Coast. The original edition, grossing a regular $47,200 at the Century, N. Y., is netting about $11,000 a week and has an estimated cash advance of about $200,000.

$200,000.

"Salesman," grossing $24,100 at the Morosco, N. Y., is netting about $4,300, has a cash advance of approximately $170,000, and has repaid $90,000 of its $100,000 investpaid $90,000 of its $100,000 invest-ment. In addition, it has accumu-lated a reserve and part of the cost of a second company. The latter and the London production are expected to increase the rate of return to producers and back-ers.

Continuous Action

Continued from page 1 =

focussing than even the best kine-scope work to date. Thus, if a star is unwilling to move to New York for a live video show, he could do a series under this system, at TV's cost and methods, without leaving Hollywood. Use of the system would add only about $1,000 to the average $6,000-$7,000 program. Since the system would permit an entire series of 13 shows to be lensed on a mass production be lensed on a mass production sis, the cost per unit could be rked out at less than a live pro-worked out at less than a live production.

Can Film Show In 30 Minutes
Fairbanks claims the system is better than shooting straight film for video since the actors can work straight through a script and thus catch TV's necessary spontancity. And, as in standard film production, it is still possible to go back for retakes if necessary. In addition, since it permits the lensing of continuous action, it cuts drastically into the time usually required for film production. Following the usual rehearsal, a 30-minute program can be completely filmed in 30 minutes.

The wipes, dissolves, and other trick cames effects worked electronically on live TV shows, of course, must be done optically in the lab under the Fairbanks system. But the money saved by the faster shooting process will permit the producer to afford such work if he wants it. Final accombler in the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler in the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler in the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler in the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler in the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cutter or editor, who splices tongether the film free the different cameras in the cut sequence, the job done instantane, uncertainty of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the wants it. Final accombler is the cuts of the want ously on live TV shows by the technical director.

Fairbanks so far is concentrating on selling the system to TV broadcasters. His contract with NBC gives that web first refusal on it. Those who have seen the system in work and the finished product believe it can be of prime importance eventually to the major film studios by providing them with a time-saving method of production. To date, though, no major studio representative has been shown the equipment.

In developing the process on a hush-hush basis for the last several years, Fairbanks has come up with many techniques heretofore thought impossible. Standard 16m Mitchell cameras, which generally carry 400 feet of film, have been converted to carrying 1,200 feet. In addition, Fairbanks has worked out a way of maintaining constant focus from one camera to another, of standard overall lighting, of true framing for cameras mounted on dollies and of a continuous sound track so In developing the process on a continuous sound camera can be cut on and off the line.

Burley Wheel

Continued 'rom page 1 =

relegated as features rather than main attractions. They figure on a not-too-risque setup they can angle plenty femme trade and also circumvent further costly controversies with local authorities of theatres played.

Interest Better Talent "If we clean up our shows," one spokesman continued," we'll be able to interest better talent. With vaude on the upbeat, there's no reason why rejuvenated burlesque should not again become a proving ground for new talent, as it had been traditionally for years before the switch to the 'dirt' formula. To this end each show, in addition to regular principals, will carry two or three vaude acts."

Combined circuits will start out with 22 weeks, compared to last season's 15. It will still be minus a N. Y. showcase, with shows' nearest approach to N. Y. being the Hudson, Union City, N. J., and the Empire, Newark. There will also be about 15 stock burlesques operating, spotted in towns where the wheel shows are not played.

Spa Biz Blah

Continued from page 2 :

to angle the lure to an all-year basis instead of waiting for the short August racing season. There's a terrific attraction in the health giving waters of the spa. Saratoga can be counted upon for a steady amount of trade throughout the year from those who patronize the Saratoga drinking water and bath

Saratoga drinking water and bath spots.

Conditions are ripe for this type of change. The property owners pay little or no taxes because of the 5% track tax which remains in the county. This has been sufficient to pay all municipal and county needs. With little or no tax assessment, overhead is considerably cheaper and the visitor can be given a break which property owners in other resorts cannot give.

At the same time, this 5% tax is resented by the mass of horse-players-that hit the track. Winnings could be greater were it not for this additional levy. Thus many in the New York City area prefer to take their patronage to Monmouth, N. J., where this tax is non-existent. The Monmouth track is also more convenient. If the impost were reflected in Saratoga living costs, bettor-resentment wouldn't be as high.

Gambing Off

Gaming is also off from last year. The major casinos are doing comparatively well even though betting is considerably smaller. One of the major spots didn't have enough to pay opening costs, but came in on

off. The male spenders on the loose frequently seek companionship of a line filly they knew in New York or elsewhere and often place a few chips on the tables for them. It's likely that the line will be back next year. In fact the Rock is trying to recruit a line in time for Monday's (15) change of show.

of show.

The casinos, incidentally, have no connection with the adjamental connection with t The casinos, incidentally, have no physical connection with the adjacent night clubs. The gaming rooms are separated by a few feet and constitute a separate building. This is to conform with local law forbidding casino adjuncts to cafes and also in case of a gambling raid. Thus the liquor license is not jeopardized by connection with gaming.

raid. Thus the liquor license is not jeopardized by connection with gaming.

It's felt that this season will tell the story. If too much in the red, then it's likely that reforms will be more evident next year. The slight drop in prices this season isn't regarded as sufficient for the mass trade. Slashes will be deep next year if revenues aren't enough to pay all bills. The businessmen just refuse to be philanthropists any longer.

Pacing the reforms likely to come next season, is a warmer and more personal treatment of track patrons. They'll have to get at least as good a break as obtained in Jersey. By this year, the track will have discovered that there are more $2 bettors than any other type. That's where most of the money is likely to be.

Bergman Idyll

Continued from page 3=

of interest. It is hoped that a of interest. It is hoped that a new publicity campaign will hypo it to bigger grosses when it goes into general release at regular prices in six months to a year. Unless this happens, producer Walter Wanger, Miss Bergman and the estate of director Victor Fleming, as well as the investors, will take a heavy shellacking. Pic must do about $9,000,000 gross to break even.

'Joan's' Socko Foreign B.O.

'Joan's' Socko Foreign B.O.
RKO's "Joan of Arc" is showing hefty strength in the few overseas engagements the film has had to date. Picture drew amazingly well during a three-month London run and last week started off auspiciously in bookings at Port-au-Prince, Trinidad, and Georgetown, British Guiana.

Praviously the Bergman specitish Guiana. Previously the Bergman spec ole had racked up an "ail-time" Previously the Bergman spec-tacle had racked up an "ail-time" record at the Kuhio theatre, Hono-lulu, where it opened May 27. Fol-lowing a 14-day run there, the pic moved into the island's sub-sequents to mop up.

B'way Ads

Continued from rage 3

the objectionable term. But after FC explained that it was a direct quote from the pic, MPAA okayed it. All other advertising material has also been taken directly from the film. Critics, however, contend that the quotes, when wrenched from their context, have distorted the film's viewpoint.

Attack against the pic's advertising broke into the open last weekend when the Screen Office & Professional Employees Guild addressed a protest letter to FC and de Rochemont, saying: "Your picture purports to fight an evil and yet your method of selling it does just the opposite." While modifying the ads, FC execs stated that their ad campaign was approved by the MPAA and several leading Negro citizens.

MARRIAGES

Maureen Stapleton to Max Allentuck, New York, July 22. Bride is an actress in "Detective Story"; he's company manager of "Death of a Salesman."

Gloria Hatrick McLean to James tewart, West Los Angeles, Aug. 9. Stewart, West L He's a film star.

Fern Katz to David Cooper, Chi-cago, Aug. 7. Bride is film booker for Si Griever office. Martha Knight to Billy Catizone, Pittsburgh, Aug. 6. He's a bandleader.

Stacey Hunter to Philip Carlyle, Greensburg, Pa., July 30. They're both legit players.

Joanne Dru to John Ireland, La Jolla, Cal., Aug. 7. Bride is an actress and former wife of Dick Haymes, singer; he's stage and serreen player. screen player

Cecile Roy to John Beni. New York, Aug. 6. Bride is a radio act-.... 1 .. 11 -11.1 . 50.

OBITUARIES

HARRY M. LOWENSTEIN

Harry M. Lowenstein, vice president of Griffith Pictures, which operates a chain of 144 motion-picture houses in Oklahoma and Texas, and a founder, director and member of the executive committee of the Theatre Owners of America, Inc., died Aug. 5 in Las Vegas.

Born Theatre Owners of America, Inc., died Aug. 5 in Las Vegas.

Las vegas.

Born in Dallas, Lowenstein went to Okiahoma when it was the Indian Territory. Entered the exhibition field in 1912, when three reels constituted a program and the admission prices were five and 10c.

He became associated with Grif-th theatres in 1927. Had been the became associated with the fifth theatres in 1927. Had been their vice president for the past few years. Was a director of America at the time of the merger with America. Progress Associated with American Progress. Progress Associated with Chapterian Progress. with American Theatres Associa-tion and played a prominent par-in forming Theatre Owners of

WALTER OLITZKI

Walter Olitzki, 50, Wagnerian baritone who sang with the Metro-politan and San Francisco Opera companies, died Aug. 2 in Los An-getes.

He was born in Hamburg, Germany, and was an American citizen. He sang leading roles for 10 years at the Municipal Opera House, Koenigsberg, Germany. He was a nephew of the operatic contraito, Rosa Olitzka.

Other operas in which Olitzki.

traito, Rosa Olitzka.

Other operas in which Olitzki was heard at the Metropolitan included Wagner's "Die Meistersinger," "Siegfried," "Goetterdaemmerung" and "Parsifal" and Richard Strauss "Der Rosenkavalier." In 1944, he was assisting artist with the Branscombe Choral for its annual spring concert in Town Hall.

DR. PERLEY G. NUTTING

Dr. Perley G. Nutting, 76, noted optical physicist who aided in the scientific development of motion pictures, died in Washington Aug. 8. He retired from the Interior Department several years ago.

partment several years ago.
A graduate of Leland Stanford University, he went to Washington to work with the National Bureau of Standards as a physicist, later going to the Eastman Kodak Co., as assistant director of research.
After the first World War he served as a consulting engineer in optics, his work including motion picture engineering.

SAVERIO COSTA

Saverio Costa, 76, musiclan, died at his home in New Orleans, July 21. Organizer and conductor of the Roma Band of the 1930's, he had also helped to form Houston Philharmonic Orchestra.

Born in Sicily, Costa, a prize winning trumpeter, landed in the U. S. in 1908 and went to New Orleans in 1932.

DON LOGAN

DON LOGAN

Don Logan, 36, former Oakland,
Cal., radio editor and theatre manager, died Aug. 5 in Hollywood.
Prior to the war he was radio ed of Oakland Post-Inquirer and later manager of Golden State theatres there. After war service he joined ABC in Hollywood as photo editor.
Surviving are his wife, a son and his mother.

EUGENE PLATZMAN

EUGENE PLATZMAN

Eugene Platzman, 71, for 30 years one of the outstanding arrangers of piano orchestrations for major music companies, died at Saranac Läke, N. Y., Aug. 4. He had been active up to 10 years ago.
Cause of his death is undisclosed.
Wife and two married daughters survive. Burial was in New York.

HENRY J. RAYMOND

HENRY J. RAYMOND

Henry J. Raymond, 46, bandleader, died in New Orleans, July 31. A native of New Orleans, he played saxophone and clarinet in theatres there during the vaudeville era and in night clubs.

Survived by wife, son and a sister.

SIMON SHEFFLER

Simon Sheffler, 53, general manager of the Edward B. Marks Music Corp., died of a heart ailment in his office in New York, Aug. 3. He had been with the music firm for a number of years.

Survived by wife, two sons and a en actor. had been

William T. Springfield, 53 known professionally as Billy Starr, died Aug. 5 in Philadelphia. He had done a singing act in vaude and niteries until several years ago.

Survived by wife, three sons and five daughters.

JOHN P. CARROLL

John P. Carroll, publicity man for Fay's theatres in Providence, R. I., for 30 years, died while vaca-tioning at Chatham, Mass., Aug. 3. Survived by wife, two sons, a daughter, two sisters and a brother.

William Price, 48, jutter on the Paramount lot for 22 years, died July 29 in North Hollywood.

John Olin Nicholas, 46, gardener at Paramount, died Aug. 4 in Hollywood.

Mother, 75, of Lillian Hellman, playwright, died in New York, Aug. 4.

Cugat Paid Off

Continued from page 1

in their musical tastes." South-ofthe border, Paul Whiteman is still king of jazz while the current top American bands are hardly known, he said. His own smash results rode on the crest of a Hollywood pix buildup through which the Cugat band attained a wide South American following. Many of the Cugat pix were released coincidentally with his tour which added to his band's glamorization.

to his band's glamorization.

Cugat pald his touring band members out of a $4.500 weekly fund guaranteed by the South American promoters in dollars, while the bandleader received the bulk of his payment in fixed property. For next year, Cugat has been booked to stay over in Montevideo for six weeks for the citv's annual carnival season. He'll omit Argentina because of the musleins union regulations there but will take in the rest of South America plus a swing through Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Holland and Scandinavia. dlnavia.

dinavia.

Currently at the Hotel Astor Roof, N. Y., Cugat is plattering a series of 60 quarter-hour shows for commercial beaming to Latin America. Sans his band, he will conduct an air chatter column in Spanish under the program title of "Cugat Speaks From Hollywood."

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Archer, daughter, Hollywood, July 27. Mother is Billie Rogers, trumpeter; father is a band booker.
Mr. and Mrs. William Free, son, Burbank, Cal., Aug. 4. Mother is the former Baby Jeannie of films; Father is actor.

Mr. and Mrs. Georgie Claire, son, Pittsburgh, Aug. 3. Father's a booking agent.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wells, son, Pittsburgh, July 28. Father's a bandleader.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kahn, daughter, Pittsburgh, July 23. Father's asst. publicity direc'r for WB in Plttsburgh zone.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Cortez, daughter, Pittsburgh, July 27. Father's a band leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gage, son, santa Monica, Aug. 6. Mother is sther Williams, Metro star; father s a radio actor.

Mr. and Mrs. Georgie Hale, daughter, N. Y., Aug. 7. Father is producer-director.

Mr. and Mrs. Alien Ludden, daughter, Hartford, July 31, Father is a continuity writer at WTIC there.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Ettlinger, daughter, New York, Aug. 6. Father's a film and radio scripter.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Abrahamson, son, Chicago, Aug. 6. Father is a booker with Essaness theatres. Chi. Mr. and Mrs. Clark "Doc"

3. general manB. Marks Music eart aliment in whipple, son, New York, Aug. 9.
which is radio organist.

Mr. and Mrs. John Carradine, son, in San Mateo, Cal., Aug. 8.
Mother is Sonia Sorel, actress;
father is a legit and pix actors.

Published Weekly at 154 West 46th Street, New York 19, N. Y., by Variety, Inc. Annual subscription, $10. Single copies, 25 cents, Entered as second class matter December 22, 1905, at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879 COPYRIGHT, 1919, BY VARIETY, INC. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

VOL. 175 No. 10

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1949

PRICE 25 CENTS

ARN BIZ AND BEEFS BOTH BO

Bebop Finds Its Small But Solid Beat Paying Off in Limited Way

Bebop—the hottest potato in the music business since the swing-orsweet schism back in early '30s—the grooving out a definite corner for itself in the jazz world. That corner is admittedly small, according to the flatted fifth factionalists, but its permanent and influential, and most importantly, it's paying off in a limited way as a commercial item.

Belles cut a summer and influence and the summer and the sum in a limited way as a commercial item.

Riding out five years of critical controversy, bop is now anchored safely against the shifting winds of faddism. Like swing, it has not only developed a solid following in its wown restricted jazz circles, but is slowly permeating into the prevaling idlom of popular music. This, for the partisans of "progressive music," is proof enough that bop is no flop, but is here to stay in one form or another.

That bop, however, hasn't clear sailing from now on in is conceded by its adherents. Bop is still battling against the odds of its own queer monicker and the sensationalized publicity incurred by the thoughts, in many cases can't tell work of the collisis in the early years. Band bookers who, it's alleged by the boppists, in many cases can't tell etween a keyboard and a smorg-shord, shy strictly away from datag bop or semi-bop bands on grounds that have nothing to do with music. They've been scared by bop's connotation with beards, berets, bowtielsm and bandstand butfoonery. bowtieism and bandstand berets, bowticism and buffoonery.

Reactionaries

Unsympathetic critics (called reactionaries" in bop's politiconusical jargon) have played up the tany aspects of the music's practitioners to hide their hostility to (Continued on page 63)

I'm Just Starting,' Says

Ethel Barrymore said yesterday (15) on her 70th birthday, "today I think that is a very silly remark.

think that is a very silly remark. I am just starting. At 70 years I feel younger today than I did, shall we say, 30 years ago. I hope to confinue my career, and can't think of a time that I don't hope to be active—not only in the theatre but in all fields, at least in Interest. I may be 70, but I don't feel it. I feel young."

Yesterday (15) 50 Metro exects and old friends gathered at the studio to help the actress celebrate. The cake had 70 cardices. Louis B. Mayer hosted, with Mayer, Billie Burke and Lionel Barrymore speaking. The studio gave her a fape recorder and silver tray. Mayer kudosed her as "one of the most forceful personalities in the acting world," expressing the opinion that "films would make her (Continued on page 63)

Strauss Nixes U. S. Visit

But Wants His Royalties

Garmisch, Germany, Aug. 16.

Richard Strauss, 85, famed of strauss, 185.

In National Arts Foundation, represented by director Carleton Smith, issued the invite. The composer recently returned from Stockholm. Zurich, and Salzburg, because so many opera theatres in Europe have been destroyed.

Composer is now trying, through legal action, to obtain release of royalties amounting to $1,000,000 et his figure) which have piled up in the U. S. since 1939.

78 Plans TV Comeback

78 Plans TV Comeback
Giuseppe Creatore, one of Amerlca's top bandmasters, is planning a comeback to the podium at the age of 78 with an eye towards working in television. He was among the great names of a generation ago as head of Creatore's Band which ranked with Sousa, Conway and Pryor. Creatore's name slipped out of the public eye in the 1920s during the eclipse of amusement parks and vaude by films and radio.
Creatore came out of retirement

films and radio.

Creatore came out of retirement two years ago when he guest-conducted a concert at Randall's Island. N. Y. Recently returned from Italy, where he toured with his own opera company, Creatore plans to revive his band organization this winter which, he believes, will fit into the new sight values created by video.

Stars on Ayem Programs Now

The trend next season, on the basis of deals already set, will be toward development of network morning programming using major personalities. Inked for stanzas thus far, for example, are Eddie Albert. Buddy Rogers, Joe DiMaggio and Garry Moore.

The a.m. star fever has been inspired by the sock audience reaction to Arthur Godfrey, whose last Hooper (6.6.) for Chesterfield far outstrips any of the four webs' before-noon competition.

Tm Just Starting,' Says
Ethel Barrymore, Young At 70; M-G Helps Celebrate
Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Big Barrymore said vesterday
Hollywood and vesterday
Hollywood and vesterday
Hollywood Aug. 16.
Continued on page 56)

Strauss Nixes U.S. Visit

MANAGERS RAISE STORM-SIGNALS

By ARTHUR BRONSON

Strawhat trade this summer is marked by two things—strong biz and strong beefs. Coupled with good receipts are complaints about agents' greed, higher royalties, the bad effect of one or two stars' high pay on other salaries, rehearsal problems and name stars in general. Biz and beefs show a healthy condition, but the storm signals are raised.

raised.

Results of Variety's second an-Results of VARIETY's second annual survey of the summer scene, via a questionnaire sent to about 20 representative strawhat producers, shows business generally up over last summer, in some spots as much as 30%. Richard Skinner's Olney, Md., theatre claims biz up 30%; Westport (Conn.) Country Playhouse reports a 20% increase.

increase.

Richard Aldrich advises that b.o. at his Cape theatre, Dennis, Mass., is running 10% ahead of last season. At his new theatre at Falmouth, only 40 minutes from Dennis, Aldrich says he's discovered a new audience of approximately 5,000 persons a week and hasn't affected his Dennis following in any way.

anected his Dennis following in any way.

One or two managers admit trade is not quite so good this summer as last, attributing this to July's very hot weather. Several found conditions about the same as last season, with a strong June offset by a spotty July. Operating (Continued on page 58)

August Pickup

Record business has shown signs of picking up during the past week or 10 days. Sales executives have felt a slight surge which they point out is spotty, not yet general, but which they feel is indicative that the usual seasonal pattern is stirring. Prewar, the disk business was good through the winter, sloped off in spring, dipped in summer and began rising again about Aug. 15. Sales excess who have recently been out on the road assert that through conversations with dealers and distributors they are convinced that the fall and winter biz will come back strongly. This despite the continuing clash of vari-speed platters. Some teel that the cheaper recordings being put out by Victor, Decca and Columbia are going to take up a goodly portion of the sales slack.

D.C. Current

Radio's giveaway show impresarios have been doing a burn the past week.
They don't like the competition coming out of Washington on the deep-freeze giveaways.

See Pattern Set for Joint Anglo-U.S. Division of World's Film Markets

Florida Yens to Emulate

Riviera for Summer Biz
Miami Beach, Aug. 16.
Local hoteliers are fooking askance at the socko business being done on the French Riviera and are wondering why Miami can't emulate the French idea and convert into a year-round operation.
Like Miami, the Cote d'Azur was essentially a winter resort and to this day many smart Parisians go to Deauville on the Channel coast rather than south to Nice, Cannes etc. It has been the Americans who have dominated into converting the Riviera into a turnaway summer Riviera into a turnaway summer

This is sparking ideas among the Florida hotels to campaign for a parallel idea and keep the Yank dollars on these shores, particularily if they can get away with casino operations.

World's Fair in D.C.

Washington. Aug. 16.
Nation's capital may get a World's Fair next year to celebrate the 150th anni of its founding, similar to the New York extravaganza held in 1939-40.

travaganza held in 1939-40.

House Appropriations Committee today (Tues.) reported out a bill devoting $3,000,000 towards financing of the Sesqui-Centennial celebration. Plans for the fair have been in work for some time but have been held up by the reluctance of the Senate to okay the House's vote. President Truman stepped in last week to push the measure and it is expected now that the Senate will go along with the House bill.

Celebratlop, provided the bill

the Hovse bill.

Celebratlon, provided the bill passes, will open April 15, but it is believed that all the buildings and concessions, which together will be named "Freedom Fair," may not be ready by that time. Historic pageant to be scripted by Paul Green for an amphitheatre on the fairgrounds will not be ready until June 15, however, so it is expected that the amusements and recreation centre on the grounds will be open for business by that date.

Legion's Anti-Commie Resolution for H'wood

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
American Legion, at its 31st annual convention at Long Beach Monday (15), drafted a resolution urging studios to "fire all known or proven Communists, or members of fellow travelers' groups."

Veterans' organization pledged lts assistance in upholding "Amer-ican ideals" on the screen.

DIVISION OF WORLD'S Film Markets

Norida Yens to Emulate
Riviera for Summer Biz
Miami Beach, Aug. 16.
Local hoteliers are looking kance at the socko bushness beging done on the French Riviera and the wondering why Miaml can't mulate the French idea and concert into a year-round operation. Rike Miami, the Cote d'Azur was issentially a winter resort and this day many smart Parisians go Deauville on the Channel coast after than south to Nice, Cannes to. It has been the Americans who are dominated into converting the liviera into a turnaway summer keep the Yank collars on these shores, particularly if they can get away with casino perations.

World's Fair in D.C.

On Its 150th Anni

Washington, Aug. 16.
Nuction's capital may get a lord's Fair next year to celerate the 150th anni of its founding, similar to the New York exavaganza held in 1939-40.

Biggest Anglo-American joint production program in the history of the 1949-50 season as the answer to currency barriers raised because of Britain's continuing crisis.

Momentum for numerous film-making ventures in England, both with the J. Arthur Rank forces and indie producers, has built up during the current week. Both the British producers and American making ventures in England, both with the J. Arthur Rank forces and inge the current week. Both the with the J. Arthur Rank forces and annerican making ventures in England, both with the J. Arthur Rank forces and inge the current week. Both the making ventures in England, both with the J. Arthur Rank forces and American making ventures in England, both with the J. Arthur Rank forces and inge the current week. Both the British producers, has built up during the current week. Both the with the J. Arthur Rank forces and American making ventures in England, both with the J. Arthur Rank forces and inge the current week. Both the J. Arthur Rank forces and inge the current week. Both the With the J. Arthur Rank forces and inge the current week. Both the J. Arthur Rank forces and inge the current week. Both the With the J. Arthu

Mary Pickford Seen In Active Video Role (But Not Acting) in Move East

Not Acting) in Move East

With Buddy Rogers set to sign a combined radio-television contract this week with ABC for shows that would originate in N. Y., it is believed certain that he and Mary Pickford his wife, will move from Hollywood to Manhattan permanently. That would require their closing their Pickfair home on the Coast, one of Hollywood's show-places, for the first time since it was built by Miss Pickford and her late husband, Douglas Fairbanks, 29 years ago.

If the couple moves east, it's expected that Miss Pickford, besides taking a much more active interest in United Artists, of which she is co-owner with Charles Chaplin, will also take an active role in video. (She has an application jending for three Carolina stations.) While she will not do any TV acting, it is possible that (Continued on page 61)

Channel Swimmer's P.A.'s

Channel Swimmer 3 F.A. s Shirley May France, currently in England waiting for the right weather in which to attempt her swim of the English Channel, will make a personal appearance to when she returns to the U. S.
Robbins Bros., New York agents, are handling the booking arrangements for the 17-year-old girl.

Iron-Man Jolson Whams New York In 'Live-Trailer' Swing of Loew's Circuit

Al Jolson, whose impact with "The Jazz Singer," pioneered the transition from silents to talkers, Own Idea of "The Company" transition from silents to talkers, appropriately enough trailblazed a new kind of "living trailer" with a series of six-in-one-nighters he did in the Locw's mctropolitan New York theatres last week. In playing six houses per night, for three nights (Wednesday, Thursday and Friday), starting at 8 p.m., and traveling with a police convoy to make timetable connections, Jolson literally proved himself the iron literally proved himself the iron man of show business.

One by each, Loew's and Columbia executives fell by the wayside, but Jolson came up the following night to do his two to three, and occasion, four songs in each cneatre. Seasoned showmen and newspapermen, making the rounds with Jolson, to a man observed, "You couldn't picture this until you actually made this tour as we did."

did."

The physical drain in battling teeming thousands at each theatre staggered many a younger man. For Joison it served as a tonic. Picture company people, tradepress, the lay press, the Life photographers, et al., found themselves dragging after the second or third show, but with Joison, for his topper-offer at Loew's Pittin, in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, it worked in inverse ratio—there he threw in a couple of extras, including a traditional Yiddish doggerel, ad libbed with the customers, etc.

Here was the "route" as this reporter played it Friday (12) night: Triboro, Astoria, 8 p.m., and then in half-hour intervals, almost on the nose, followed the Prospect, Flushing; Valencia, Jamaica; Gates, Premier and Pitkin, all Brooklyn. Flanked by squad cars front and aft, utilizing both a Grand Central Parkway convoy car and one from the N, Y, Police Dept., so as to The physical drain in battling aft, utilizing both a Grand Central Parkway convoy car and one from the N. Y. Police Dept., so as to insure familiarity with the maze of Queens-to-Brooklyn streets, the crackerjack Loew's Theatres publicity department ran things like a well-oiled machine. Just to make sure. Loew Theatres execs Oscar A. Doob, and Eugene Picker were (Continued on page 61)

TODD DICKERING SCHNOZ COMBO FOR N.Y. VAUDER

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Mike Todd left for New York Monday (15) following incompleted negotiations for the appearance of Clayton, Jackson and Durante for Clayton, Jackson and Durante for four weeks in Todd's contemplated "Two a Day" at the Winter Gardena N. Y., this fall. Todd, who has been in Hollywood for the past week, plans getting Ethel Merman with Cole Porter at the piano, Jack Cole Dancers, and some imported yaude acts to fill.

with Cole Porter at the piano, Jack Cole Dancers, and some imported vaude acts to fill.

Durante is also waiting before final acceptance to absorb part of the expense of the Stransporting radio troupe with him while in the east.

Withstanding the sudden neatwave. Cole Manners and the fact that comic would have to transcribe his proposed new radio show with a story instead of a gag basis. Another hurdle is whether the Esty Agency will allow Durante to stay east He'll immediately go Into re-hearsal in Lillian Hellman's play, order to play the Copacabana nitery in November.

Durante is also waiting before final acceptance to see if Todd can arrange with the Esty Agency with Dame Edith Evans, opens in the World Aug. 29.

154 West 46th Street

Own Idea of 'The Chase'

Own Idea of "The Chase'
Rome, Aug. 9.
Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini, returned from Stromboli where they completed scenes for "God's Earth," are giving newspapermen a dizzy runaround in Rome. Miss Bergman, who was whisked into the city in Rossellini's new speedcar, is in strict hiding shifting around various apartments belonging to the director's family. Joseph Steele, handling public relations for the actress, has been handling all queries concerning her picture plans, divorce, marriage, etc.
Hedda Hopper, who planed to Rome last week, has been the only
U. S. reporter to get near Miss Bergman. The Hollywood columnist, however, Is leaving for a swing around Italy and may wind up in Morocco to visit Orson Welles. Rossellini, is preparing to complete "God's Earth" for RKO at the Cine-Citta studios here.

Burns & Allen Click At Palladium; Benny's Surprise Personal

Durprise Personal

London, Aug. 16.

Despite a 15-year absence, comedians Burns & Allen scored heavily before a nostalgic-minded audience at the Palladium Monday (15). Whetting the customers' memorics by their funmaking, the couple climaxed their comic routines with a minuet dance from the 13-year-old Paramount film "College Holiday." On the latter sequence they were supported by zany Ben Blue.

Highlighting Burns & Allen's Palladium return was the surprise appearance of Jack Benny at the opening day's performance. Motivated by sentiment, the star flew some 6,000 miles to sit in at the preem. He made an impromute some 6,000 miles to sit in at the preem. He made an impromtu speech and was only allowed off-stage after promising he'll return next year with Mary Livingstone and Phil Harris. Now in the CBS fold, Benny huddled in Paris with the net's board chairman William S. Paley before planing back to the Coast.

Coast.

Balance of the Palladium show was a brisk potpourri with Blue standing out via his comedy and dancing. Count Leroy, from Harnold Steinman's "Skating Vanities" at Wembley, wowed 'em with his roller routines while the Three Rudells were appreciated in their comedy offering. Withal, the headiners look a cinch to pack in trade in their fortnight's stay notwithstanding the sudden heatwave.

Subscription Order Form Enclosed find check for $ Please Send VARIETY for Two Years Co (Please Plint Name) City State..... State..... Regular Subscription Rates One Year-$10.00 Two Years-$18.00 Canada and Foreign-$1 Additional per Year VARIETY Inc.
New York 19, N. Y.

375th WEEK!
3,822 Performances
All-time long run record in the legitimate theatre.

KEN MURRAY'S

"BLACKOUTS OF 1949"
Completes 7-year run El Capitan Theatre, Hollywood, August 27.
OPENS Ziegfeld Theatre, N. Y.,

EDDIE CANTOR OKAYS PALLADIUM FOR 1950

Eddie Cantor gave Val Parnell and Harry Foster an OK for next summer at the Palladium, London. The managing director of the and Harry Foster an OK for next summer at the Palladium, London. The managing director of the British vaudeville flagship and the Foster's agency head met the comedian in Cannes, on a flying trip two weeks ago, to get his tentative acquiescence, depending on radio, TV or other committments. Cantor will bring to London a departure for American comedians—a kneaded show, which he'll break in first in America. Working with and into the other acts is a novelty for Londoners who haven't seen the emcee style of integrated performance.

Incidentally, Cantor turned down a percentage bid from Bill Miller for the Riviera, Jersey roadhouse, which could have netted the comedian "almost 355,000 if you do the same amount of business Tony Martin did." This was over $70,000 gross.

Brisson Proving Terrif B.O. Draw in 1st Concerts In Denmark in 20 Years

In Denmark in 20 Years
Copenhagen, Aug. 9.
Carl Brisson hasn't performed in Denmark since he left 20 years ago. But his popularity here is so strong, that it was impossible for him to refuse when Skandinavisk Koncertdirektion asked him to give two concerts at the big K. B. Hallen (4,500 seats), sponsored by Denmark's two biggest newspapers, Politken and Berlingske Tidende. The success of Brisson's one-hour autobiographical program over the Statsradiofonien had shown the singer, than even if he sang mostly American hit songs, the Danes loved him anyway.

The sum offered to Brisson is said to be the biggest ever paid in Denmark to a solo performer. In two hours all seats were sold to the first two concerts, (Aug. 24-25) and therefore there will be two more, Aug. 26 and 29.

Brisson will sing all his old and new song hits, both from England and Annerica, as well as some Danish numbers. Teddy Petersen, Statsradiofonien's dance band director, will lead a big orchestra at the concerts. When Brisson concludes his Palladium engagement in London, he'll return to Copenhagen.

Before he goes to New York in September, Brisson will sing "Song of Copenhagen" for the Danes from the balcony of the old city hall on Copenhagen's for the Danes from the balcony of the old city hall on Copenhagen's for the Danes from the balcony of the old city hall on Copenhagen's largest square, Raadhuspladsen. Never in the history of Danish show business has any performer been feted as Brisson has this summer. He and Cleo Brisson will probably the history of Danish show business has any performer been feted as Brisson has this summer. He and Cleo Brisson will probably take a holiday in Denmark next year, too—and this time together with their son, film producer Fred Brisson and his wife, Rosalind Russell.

Brisson's '50 Brlt. Tour
London, Aug. 10.
Despite Val Parnell and Cissie Williams wanting Carl Brisson to start a tour for Moss Empires immediately after his two weeks' topping the bill at London Palladium, Brisson was compelled to turn down the offer as he is due to open at the Coconut Grove, Los Angeles, Nov. 1.

Ambassador's Daughter

Set for Berlin Play
Salzburg, Aug. 9.
Rosemary Murphy, daughter of U. S. Ambassador to Germany
Robert D. Murphy, starts rehearsing in Berlin for local debut Aug.
16 at Schloss Park theatre. Play is "Wir Armen Erden Burger," translation of French play by Jacques Duval. Miss Murphy plays part of an English governess.
She received tremendous publicity in Germany recently in connection with her first film, "Der Ruf" ("The Challenge"), written and directed by Fritz Kortner.
Russian magazine, Soviet Art, criticized her for making it.

H'wood Can Rest Easily: New Paris Fashions Seen No Threat to Pic Backlog

By LUCETTE CARON

Paris, Aug. 9.
What has been seen so far of the fashion shows can permit
Hollywood to breathe easily.
Whatever changes so far are immaterial, so that completed prod-uct does not look dated. All back-logs can be considered as good as logs can be considered as good as new.

If Paris is to retain positive supremacy in fashions, however, the couturiers here will have to watch their step. Apart from American opposition (and American visitors are considerably influencing the designers here) there are other sources competing for Illuencing the designers here there are other sources competing for the trade of the smartly-dressed woman. Vienna is not yet making its influence felt, but London is now working hard. An English firm is even competing with firm is even competing with Parislans on their home ground by sending hls own models and hold-ing a fashion show at the Plaza-

Athenee.

The fact that Paris couturiers are hiring more and more American models to show their dresses is proof of their desire to have them shown to best advantage in the eyes of American buyers.'

No more buxom women eyes of American buyers."

No more buxom women, says Christian Dior. The 1950 "Middle-of-the-century" belle will be casual, daring and boylsh, like the heroines of the silent pictures. No hips, no breasts, a close-cropped hurricane haircut. She will wear a sheath slit up to the knees.
Both Dior's and Jacques Fath's premieres opened with their traditional glamour. The midinette strike had added a dramatic touch, but not one gown showed signs of tional glamour. The midinette strike had added a dramatic touch, but not one gown showed signs of it, and members of the staff hid traces of sleepless nights. Parislans on their holidays in Deauville or in Cannes week-ended back to town to applaud Dior and Fath—and, of course, all the international press and foreign buyers were there in greater number than ever. Fath's illuminated garden was like a stage setting and women—almost all sun-tanned — looked strangely beautiful in that light. The mannequins were at their best . . and knew it. Mrs. David Bruce, wife of U. S. Ambassador in (Continued on page 56)

Mussolini Biopic May Be Done By Arg. Group

Be Done By Arg. Group

Lisbon, Aug. 9.

Life of Benito Mussolini would be reprised on the screen by an Argentine producing organization, it's reported in local film circles. Dictator's widow, Rachele, is said to have been approached to write the script and supervise the production. Vittorio Mussolini, son of the onetime Italian dictator, and now an Argentine resident, assertedly is interested in the venture.

Presumably Signora Mussolini's screenplay would be based upon her memoirs which have been published in book form and also have been run by a number of Spanish dailies in serialization. Her personal narrative, incidently, served to dull the marketability of a book written by the mother of Mussolini's mistress. As told to a Spanish reporter, the tome was titled "Memoirs of Clara Petacel, the Girl Friend of Mussolini." Meanwhile, a report that Italy's former foreign minister, Count Dino Grandi, had written a script for a Mussolini biopic and would supervise its Hollywood production, was denied emphatically by the diplomat. In cabling his disavowal here from Sno Paulo, Brazil, Grandi declared "all news relating to my collaboration to a picture about Mussolini being made in Hollywood is pure invention."

Set for Berlin Play Trumbo, Lawson Reprise Reasons For Refusing Info

Washington, Aug. 16.

Dalton Trumbo and John Howard Lawson told the Supreme Court last week that they were on firm ground in refusing to disclose political and labor union affiliations to the House Un-American Activitles Committee.

Asking the tribunal to take jurisdiction and hear appeals from guilty verdicts for contempt of Congress, they contended further that a quorum of the Committee was not present when they testified and that the trial courts had been guilty of numerous errors.

Theirs, they contended, were the first cases of their kind ever to come up to the Supreme Court.
Both were convicted and are subject to a year's Imprisonment and $10,000 fines. Their convictions have been upheld by the U. S.
Court of Appeals herc.

The other eight "Unfriendly Witnesses" have agreed by stipulation to be bound by the final rullings in the Lawson and Trumbo cases, rather than to go to trial themselves on the same charges.

Lawson was found guilty on one count—refusal to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee whether he was, or ever had been, a member of the Communist Party.

His petition and brief, a 111-page document, covered this matter.
Trumbo was found guilty on two counts—refusal to state whether he was a Communist, and also refusal to say whether he was a member of the Screen Writers Guild.
Trumbo's 35-page brief adopted the arguments given In the Lawson brief and devoted Itself entirely to points dealing with membership is unions.

"The instant case and its com-

prier and devoted itself entirely to points dealing with membership in unions.

"The instant case and its com-panlon, Trumbo v. United States," said the Lawson brief, "are the first (Continued on page 61)

New Kind of 'Applause'; Audiences at Drive-Ins Give Acts the Klaxons

Give Acts the Klaxons

Nashville, Aug. 16.

Drive-in theatres may provide the next major vaude circuit. Idea has already been tested by Bradley Kincaid, hillbilly singer from WSM here, with an in-person draw at open-alrer in St. Mary's, Ohio, recently. Turnaway business resulted, but at the same time an entirely new set of audience more had been uncovered.

Kincaid and his country crew found no stage facilities. Consequently they did their show from the roof of a concession stand. The audience realized that, because of the vast distances in the drive-ins, applause wouldn't register to the performer, so they honked their horns to show appreciation for a number or a gag.

Kincaid played that stop on a guarantee and percentage basis. Because of the success of this initial venture in this field, he's lined up a series of drive-in dates in Ohio.

$80-PER-HEAD RIVIERA 'BENEFIT' A BIG BUSTO

By MARGARET GARDNER
Cannes, Aug. 16.
One of the most expensive and elaborate flops of the season took place Aug. 11 at the Palm Beach Casino in Cannes, on the occasion of the Bal Des Petits Lits Blancs (The Ball of the Little White Beds), the most heraided and publicized social event of the entire year in France.

the most related to the entire year in social event of the entire year in France.

This charity affair, which since 1921 has been a "must" for the moneyed and aristocratic Europeans, has yearly contributed its profits to the upkeep of hospital beds for the tubercular youth of France. Normally it is given in the fall in Paris, but this year it was decided to give it in Cannes during the height of the summer season. It was a great mistake.

The 700 in attendance who paid $80 each to enter will long remember the evening for its inefficient organization, badly directed entertainment, lack of "ambiance," and poor taste in extracting money.

For one month preceding the (Continued on page 46)

'49 NET DIPPING TO $50,000,000

20th's New Sales Policy Paying Off OFF $10,000,000 With $100,000 More Rentals Per Week

Twentieth-Fox's new sales policy is paying off handsomely for the company with just the results hoped for—increased film rentals.
Veepee Al Lichtman declared this week that 20th is now deriving an average of $100,000 more per week in rentals than it did at this time last year. As a result, the comany expects its current distribution earnings to be the best since the peak postwar years.
First intimation that the system was working successfully was made several weeks ago by sales veepee Andy W. Smith, Jr. Asserting the results proved that exhibitors favored the new policy, Smith said at the time that 20th had 11,455 more contracts on A features than during the same period in 1948 and 21,695 more bookings. Lichtman declared this week that the policy generally has proved successful, adding that "we don't contemplate any more changes at this time."

With the exception of the payoff in increased rentals, 20th has not yet completed its study of which of its suggestions the exhibs have taken. Plan called for theatre operators to have their choice of buying film on percentage or flat rental deals, but no statistics are yet available on how many made the switch. Plan also called for 20th to try convincing smalltown exhibs to book A pictures on weekends instead of the standard fare of westerns and Bs. Results of that phase of the campaign also have not yet been divulged.

Very fact that the number of playdates has been increased means that exhibs have accepted the policy, according to 20th spokesmen.

Hughes Feels Contracts Not Necessary Between RKO and Its Personnel

There will be no more contracts for execs at RKO. That's the word that has seeped down to company officials from controlling stock-holder Howard Hughes. Hughes himself recently entered into a pact with the studio as production chief, but assertedly has edicted there shall be no other contracts handed out because he doesn't believe in them.

them.

Those execs now holding tickets will have to work without them after they run out if they want to continue with the company. Sid Rogell, who has functioned as studio chief since Hughes took over more than a year ago, is among key officials who are now without pacts. His contract expired recently and Hughes refused to give him a new paper, although inviting him to stay on indefinitely.

Hughes' stand is that a contract sunnecessary. If there is a divergence of views or dissatisfaction with an exec, he doesn't want to have his hands tied in getting rid of him. On the other hand, if an employee is not pleased with the company, Hughes' belief is that he shouldn't be obligated by a contract to remain. Those execs now holding tickets

NICK SCHENCK'S LOEW PACT EXTENDED 5 YRS.

Nicholas M. Schenck's employment contract as president of s, Inc., has been extended for an added five-year period. Under recent action by the company's board. Schenck's new ticket willi expire Dec. 31, 1954. Prior to the board action, his old one would have ended at the close of the cur-

All terms and provisions of the present contract will apply for the additional five years. His salary is set at $13,714 yearly plus 2½% of net profits on a formula fixed by his present deal. Schenck's cut in profits during fiscal '48 amounted to $94,121.

Balaban Due Back 30th

Balaban Jue Back Juin

Barney Balaban, Paramount's president, is due back in New York Aug. 30 from his current European trip. Mrs. Balaban and their two youngest children are expected to sail from Italy next week.

Y. Frank Freeman, Paramount studio exec who has been pinchhitting at the ho. for Balaban in his absence, heads for the Coast this week. He will stay in Hollywood only a few days before planing for Chicago to attend the industry public relations meet at the end of the month.

20th's Bid to Buy Into Canadian Odeon Co. Cold

London, Aug. 16.
J. Arthur Rank has turned down the proposal made by Spyros Skouras, 20th-Fox prez, for the purchase of a half-interest by 20th in Rank's big Odeon circuit in Canada, it has been authoritatively learned. Rank nixed the deal before Skouras left England for France.

fore Skouras left Engiand for France.

A slight possibility remains for Skouras to obtain a minor interest in the 150-theatre chain in return for dollars and an assured supply of 20th's product. That interest, however, would not exceed 20% tops. Any deal of this nature would necessarily involve the payment of dollars since the Bank of England would not approve the sale of overseas assets for frozen currency.

sale of overseas assets for frozen currency.

In the wake of Skouras' huddles with Rank, it has been learned that the idea of buying a big slice of the Odeon chain was entirely that of the 20th prez. Rank made no overtures in the direction of a sale but agreed to listen to the

(Continued on page 24).

COHNS, GRANTS RETURN FRIDAY FROM EUROPE

Columbia prexy Harry Cohn and attorney Arnold Grant will arrive in New York from Europe Friday (19) on the Ile de France. They have been away on a combination business-vacation tour for the past Cohn will remain in New York until Monday (22) night, bringing himself up to dote on the com-pany's affairs, before returning to the Coast by air. Grant, who is a member of the Col board and the Coast by air. Grant, who is a member of the Col board and has many filmite clients, is expected to remain at his New York office for several weeks, then head for the Coast for business there. Al Jolson is remaining east to huddle with Cohn before heading west this weekend.

Pickford, Chaplin Both East—But Not on UA Biz

Both United Artists owners Mary Pickford and Charies Chaplin are currently in New York, but the twosome apparently are on domestic affairs and not UA business. Chaplin is in Gotham on his way to attend a peace conference in My E presence in N. Y. is because "Oona (Mrs. Chaplin) wanted to shop." Miss Pickford came in to join her husband, Buddy Rogers, east on a radio-TV contract. Neither attended the UA board meeting held yesterday (Tues.). Conclave was one of the longest sessions in months, iasting from early morning until late in the day.

FROM '48 TAKE

The big toll exacted by the spring boxoffice slump on the industry's profits is first becoming apparent in the shape of major company net and gross revenue reports released to the public or filed with the Securities & Exchanges Commission. While the returns are not uniformly bad, inroads scored against profits during the May and June record postwar slump proved heavy enough to affect the entire year's take of the industry.

slump proved heavy enough to affect the entire year's take of the industry.

Consequently, with the figures now becoming available, a revision in estimates of the industry's profits for fiscal '49 is under way. It is likely that the seven majors (United Artists excepted) will not equal the $60,000,000 take of '48 as previously predicted. Industry insiders are currently fixing their sights on a $50,000,000 total.

Downward revision is given impetus by the latest SEC report filed this week by RKO. Company discloses that its gross for the three months ended July 2 totalled $21,900,000 including $2,605,000 in income from non-consolidated foreign subsids. That figure represents a sharp tumble from the $27,100,000 garnered during the first three months. It is $5,000,000 (Continued on page 22)

(Continued on page 22)

Banks Help U Ease Some of the Load

Universal has won an agreement from the three banks backing it which permits a substantial reduction by U in the amount of readily convertible assets to be held by the company. Under the modification in the terms of the $8,500,000 loan made to U, the company need not hold more than $19,500,000 in net quick assets as against a previous $22,500,000 figure. Banks agreeing to the easing of terms are the First National Bank of Boston, the Manhattan Co. and Guaranty Trust Co. of N. Y.

Net quick assets are defined as hattan Co. and Guaranty Trust Co. of N. Y.

Net quick assets are defined as cash, Government bonds, unamortized films, scenarios and story rights. The $22,500,000 figure was

(Continued on page 24)

Meyer-Fox-Work Grant Hughes Week's Delay on RKO Stock Bid

Selznick Buys ½ Farrar

Deiznick Duys 7 Farrat

London, Aug. 16.

Michael Poweil and Emeric Pressburger (Archer Films), who have David Farrar under three years' personal contract, calling upon him to make two pictures per year, have sold 50% of their contract to David O. Selznick.

Deal calls for one ple per year, to be made in Hollywood, with first pic to start shooting in the fall. Contract involves Selznick in around $250,000.

around $250,000.

Ask Chi Confab To Sidestep Any 'Controversies'

Metropolitan Motion Picture Theatres Assn. yesterday (Tues.) made an open appeal to Ned E. made an open appeal to Ned E.
Depinet, RKO prez who chairmans the Motion Picture Assn. of America's public relations committee, to keep the forthcoming Chicago meet's agenda free of controversial subjects. The appeal throws the spotlight on the tug-of-war currently being staged over National Ailled's "Finneran plan" which seeks to bar stars from pictures once convicted of moral indiscretions.

MMPTA by its letter to Depinet
(Continued on page 6)

Brevity RKO Rule

Brevity ANU Rile

Brevity, once known as the soul of wit, is the slogan at RKO where the average running time of pictures, since Howard Hughes took over control of the studio, is 68 minutes, slightly more than the average western, which runs about an hour.

Longest picture under the Hughes regime is "It's Only Money," running 85 minutes. "The Bail Bond Story" was timed in 78 minutes, "I Married a Communist" in 75, "The Big Steal" in 71 and "Make Mine Laughs" in 63.

Stanley Meyer-Matty Fox-Cliff Stanley Meyer-Matty Fox-Cliff Work syndicate has granted Howard Hughes a week's extension from Monday (15) to accept their bid of $6 a share for his controlling stock in the RKO theatre circuit, it has been learned. This is the second extension they have given, previous one having been five days second extension they have given, previous one having been five days from last Wednesday (10).

Agreement for the latest delay was made in a session between Hughes and Meyer on the Coast over the weekend. While the RKO owner did not indicate why the extensions were desired, he said that he has no offers but the present one for purchase of his theatre interests.

ent one for purchase of his theatre interests.

Meyer-Fox-Work combo placed $1,500,000 in escrow about three weeks ago as an earnest of their bid in an agreement with Hughes. This was in the nature of a deposit against the total price of $5,575,000 for the approximately 920,000 shares Hughes holds.

Under an option agreement with Floyd Odlum's Atlas Corp., entered into when it soid its controlling interest in the RKO parent company to Hughes about 15 months (Continued on page 24)

Rank Trims Prod. Costs 45% Via Salary Savings, 333% Economies: St. John

J. Arthur Rank's filmmaking costs in the coming season will be down some 45% from the 1948 level when the British producer's organization went all-out to meet quota demands, according to the estimate of Earl St. John, one of Pank's top, productor were and estimate of Earl St. John, one of Rank's top production excess and joint managing director to Two Cities Films. His estimate is predicated on a 10% negative cost saving from the recent salary cuts imposed by the British Film Producers Assn. plus 33½% reduction already put through by economy measures.

St. John, currently in the U. S., sees no strong opposition from (Continued on page 24)

SUBSCRIPTION
Annual $10 Foreign $11
Single Copies $25 Cents

Vol. 175

INDEX

Bills Chatter 62 Film Reviews House Reviews 55 Inside Legit 60 Inside Music Inside Pictures Radio Television
tional Inside Radio 36 Inside International Legitimate Literati Music New Acts Night Club Reviews
Obituaries Pictures Radio Radio Reviews Records
Frank Scuily
Television
Television Reviews

DAILY VARIETY
(Published in Hollywood by Daily Variety, Ltd.)
$15 a Year—$20 Foreign

Vaudeville

National Boxoffice Survey

Cool Wave Lifts Biz — 'Lining' Moves Up to First Place; 'Summertime,' 'Joe Young' Next Best

Break in hot weather in numerous key cities covered by VARIETY, especially in important communiespecially in important communities of eastern section, is helping biz over the country this week.
New product launched in the last 10 days, however, is not proving as satisfactory as hoped for. Several cities had to weather heavy rains on three successive days but continued mild temperatures obviously are being felt favorably at garner teeoff.

seventh with "Lost Boundaries"

seventh with "Lost Boundaries" (FC) pushing up to eighth.
"Neptune's Daughter" (M.G) is winding up ninth while "Home of Brave" (UA) is taking 10th-place money.
Best runner-up pix are "Any Number Play" (M.G) and "Not

Number Play" Wanted" (FC).

www.product launched in the last 10 days, however, is not proving as satisfactory as hoped for. Several cities had to weather heavy rains on three successive days but to continued mild temperatures obviously are being felt favorably at boxoffice.

"Silver Lining" (WB) is pushing back on top after dropping down to third last stanza. It is mosing out "Good Old Summertime" (M-G) for top money, although the Metro opus, champ last session, is a strong second-place winner.

"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO), yetting much additional playing time this session, is crashing the through to third position. The King Kong sequel is nice to ters, rific, being standout or tops in two ykeys. Fourth spot goes to "You're n My Everything" (20th).

"Fifth place is being captured by "Great Sinner" (M-G), which did not measure up to hopes on initial playdate in N Y. Sixth slot is best mainly on sheer weight of extensive bookings, since highly is disappointing in numerous locations. "Great Gatsby" (Par), which also has failed to measure up to original hopes, is finishing

CHILLER-KILLERS AT HIS 'HOUSE OF HORROR' (N. Y. RIALTO) TAME COMPARED TO GERMANY

(Former Exhibitor, Chief of Motion Picture Branch, Information Services Division, Office of Military Govt. for Germany)

adult population at that time of at least 140,000,000.

Under these untoward conditions, the Mayer mission is coming

Munich, July 19,

Munich, July 19.

A few days ago, I asked a man in Berlin, if there were another war, who he thought would win it. "Why should I worry," he answered, "what I am trying to find out is who won the last one." That, indeed, is the burning question in Germany today. All over we see former Nazis creeping or, to be more accurate, leaping back into positions of power. In Bavaria alone 83% of the judges and 81% of the court prosecutors are said to be former party members. My chauffeur, who was a Communist when he was 17, and is a fighting liberal not only now when it is comparatively easy, but during the war when he went to a concentration camp rather than serve in the Nazi army, cannot drive a car for military Covernment, but an admitted former Nazi holds a good jcb with EUCOM 'European Command to you' in Heidelberg.

More and more nostalgic devotion to the "good old days" is mand to you) in Heidelberg.

More and more nostalgic devotion to the "good old days" is openly expressed. At a public gathering a well tanked German said: "They grudged us our wealth.
We have always been the ablest people on earth. For this reason, we have produced the most and the best goods, and then, when the others thought their prestige was endangered, they dragged us into war. Today, we can clearly see, that they are trying to destroy the German people." Not long ago, driving through a rural region I actually saw a vehicle with a rudely drawn Nazi emblem on the bumper! I was rather rude about it.

tt.

West German industrial production, as some Military Government apokesmen take great pride in announcing, after surviving the heaviest bombing of history, has now achieved 87% of its 1936 level. Spiritually and mentally, however, the Germans, after surviving the greatest barrage of democratic propaganda of all times, are exactly 100% where they were prior to the war.

Incredible People

Incredible People

Incredible People

Frankly, they are an Incredible people. They adore Bach, Beetheven and the beauties of nature and are nauseatingly obsequious to their supposed superiors and overbearing to their supposed inferiors. Thrift, diligence and cleanliness are prevalent, but so are brutality and sadism. They are intensely patriotic and resentful of Allied domination and at the same time singularly apathetic. Not a single member of the Occupation Forces has been assassinated for political reasons. They are boastful and full of self pity. Recently we completed a documentary entitled "Two Cities." It shows scenes, which had been smuggled out of the Russian zone, of the desolation and misery of Dresden and compares them to the material progress and improved housing conditions of Stuttgart protested. They did not want their city to be admired for its reconstruction but to be sympathized with for its destruction. They are kind to little children and old people, suspicious of all foreigners including Germans from thized with for its destruction. They are kind to little children and old people, suspicious of all foreigners including Germans from other sections, and yield implicit unquestioning obedience to whomever is in authority. Last week we had a severe fire at Geiselgasteig. When the firemen arrived we had trouble to persuade them to run the hoses straight from their engines across the lawn, on which were signs "keep off the grass." During the conflagration beer was freely served to fire fighters perched precariously on the roof and ladders. They love not only beer but potatoes, football, choral singing and lampshades made of human flesh.

Practically no Jews will remain in Germany by the end of this year, but the malady of anti-Senitism lingers on. Everyone, who comes to me for a license takes one good look at me and begins to tell how, during the Naziregime, he hid and fed a Jewish family. If there were 70,000,000 Germans prior to the war, my reports would indicate a Jewish

Under these untoward condi-tions, the Mayer mission is coming to an inglorious end. Between my bad German and the bad Germans, had definant and the bad definants, Army brass and motion picture industry brass, Mayer brashness has done a Durante nosedive. Within the next few weeks I will bid the fatherland a far from fatherly farewell and return to bid the fatherland a far from fatherly farewell and return to 42d Street and Broadway, which in my ignorance of foreign customs I used to refer to as the "double-crossroads of the world."

Actually I outlasted General Clay by a few months and have seen the first days of the McCloyment. as the new regime is called. For the time being, Germany is a no-man's land. I am not referring to the fact that there are four women to every three men, but to the impending discontinuance of Military Government and the assumption by the State Dept. of whatever authority has not been relegated to the Germans. We are now busily engaged in giving the country back to the Indians. I beg pardon, I mean the German who, clad in brown shirts, did a better job of scalping and burning than any redskins in history. I have a recurring nightmare that "Continued on page 20)

Arbitration Hearings On $11,700,000 French Film Coin Finally End

Testimony by Warner Bros. v.p. Sam Schneider yesterday (Tuesday) wound up arbitration hearings on the divvy among U. S. majors of $11,700.000 in French coin. Proceedings before arbitrator Will H. Hays concluded just one day short of a year from the date that company prexies voted to arbitrate the dispute. Thousands of pages of testimony, filling many volumes, have been taken, making the proceedings one of the longest on record in the industry.

Arbitration has found Warner Bros., Paramount and United Artists (known as the "overage" companies in the hearings) aligned against RKO, Metro, Universal and Columbia (the "underage" companies). Involved are $800,000 claimed by WB, $200,000 claimed by WB, $200,000 claimed by WB, $200,000 claimed the WB, $200,000 claimed the WB, $200,000 claimed the WB, $100,000 claimed by United Artists. 20th-Fox was originally aligned with the three overage companies, but has shifted its position somewhat during the hearings.

Dispute is over coin which France allowed the majors to remit for the period from the end of the German occupation until Jan. 30, 1947. When an attempt was made to divvy the lump sum, it was dis-for the period from the end of the German occupation until Jan. 30, 1947. When an attempt was made to divvy the lump sum, it was discovered that the underage companies did not have on hand a sufficient number of frozen francs to equal what they would be entitled to remit under the agreement. They had used the money, when they thought it was frozen, for filmmaking and real estate purchases.

In order not to leave the money in France while the argument on the divvy was going on, a tem-porary truce was reached and the coin transmitted to the U. S. and placed in escrow. Battle then coin transmitted to the U. S. and placed in escrow. Battle then started all over again, with the underage companies demanding that the money be divided strictly on the basis of each company's gross billings. Overage companies claimed that by such an arrangement the underage distribute. claimed that by such an arrange-ment the inderage distribs would be getting the same money twice, since they had already used part of what they were now claiming. Par, WB and UA wants a settle-ment on the basis of gross billings minus the equivalent of the frozen francs used by U, RKO, Col and

Levin Subs Vidor

Hollywood, Aug. 16.

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Columbia has assigned Henry Levin to direct "The Petty Girl," replacing Charles Vidor, who was originally assigned to the job.
It's getting to be a habit with Levin, who is pinch-hitting for Vidor for the third time. The other two occasions were "The Gluit of Janet Ames" and "The Man from Colorado."

Mayer's Israeli 0.0.

Israel is an exhibitor's paradise, according to New York theatreman and distributor Arthur L. Mayer, who has just finished a 10-day tour of the country. In surveying the nation's situation, he was particularly impressed with the fondness of Israelis for cinema entertainment.

ment.

However, in order for local operators to realize a maximum amount of business, Mayer pointed out that key houses should stress comfort and airconditioning. Mayer who is quitting his post as chief of Motion Picture Branch for the U.S. Military Government in Germany, is scheduled to return to N. Y. about Aug. 20.

Drive-Ins Talk Suing For Better Film Clearances

Drive-ins are counterattacking the picture distributors' refusal to grant them improved clearance on films with court action being the picture distributors' refusal to grant them improved clearance on films with court action being threatened if better playing time is not granted. Ozoners maintain their operation is major league and that if the discrimination in booking does not stop, legal steps will be taken. Owners insist with the rentals they must pay and admissions they charge, that their customers are entitled to first run pix. As one operator put it, "Drive-ins are no longer a novelty; they are an established part of the theatre business and the sooner the producers know this, the better." As to the charges that playing first subsequent product in their locations affect nabe second and third run showings, the outdoor men maintain they are not affecting the patronage of regular film houses, and their revenue would be lost to the distributor otherwise. While many claims have been made of the inroads of the open-airers, several authorities claim that drop in boxoffice in towns not having drive-ins nearby is almost the same of the inroads of the open-airers, several authorities claim that drop in boxoffice in towns not having drive-ins nearby is almost the same proportions as those having several. Also, much of the drop is seasonal in nature and attributed usually to other summer diversions.

Pointing out family groups and others with anto transportation are the mass users, several managers have commented that this audience is the one spokesmen of the industry are crying is "the lost segment" to the film industry. Much of their auto trade is those over 30 and 35 with children who can not attend other theatres. Car spots claim they are creating more potential customers for the business than any other source. Many of the summer attendees have started going regularly to nearby houses after the ware records. ing regularly to nearby houses after ing regularly to nearby houses after the warmer months. With the announcement last week that Seymour Simon, film attorney, has been retained by five (Continued on page 9)

COLUMBIA SETS NAT'L CONVENTION FOR CHI

Columbia Pictures is staging its first national convention in several years in Chicago's Ambassador East hotel beginning Monday (22). Five-day sessions will be attended by top homeoffice execs, branch and division managers and Cana-dian rens. dian reps.

dian reps.
Top point on the agenda will be formulation of the distrib policy on Columbia's biggest film for the coming year, "The Jolson Story," which will be screened for the sales force. Liquidation plans will be discussed on five other major Columbia releases including "All the King's Men." a Robert Rossen production: "Tell it to the Judge." Rosalind Russell-Robert Cummings starrer; "Tokyo Joe." Humphrey Bogart starrer; "The Blank Wall," Walter Wanger production starring Starrer; "Tokyo Joe," Humphrey Bogart starrer; "The Blank Wall," Walter Wanger production starring James Mason and Joan Bennett; and "Miss Grant Takes Rich-mond," Lucille Ball-William Hol-den starrer.

FRENCH'S NEW DEAL AS PAR'S MINN. OPERATOR Despite Stiff

Henry French, head of the Paramount-partnered Minnesota Amusement circuit, has won a new ticket boosting his pay and extending his employment. Under a new agreement just inked with Par. French gets $500 weekly plus a profit-sharing provision. His contract is extended to Jan. 2, 1954 from its original expiration date of Dec. 30, 1950.

French will be paid 3% of the chain's net on all profits over and above $866,666. Previous pact which was signed Jan. 1 of this year gave the Minnesota Amusement topper $400 weekly plus a cut in the profits.

No Liquor Selling In Canadian Odeon

Theatres As in Eng.

Toronto, Aug. 16.
Despite loosening of liquor selling regulations which might permit

Toronto, Aug. 16.

Despite loosening of liquor selling regulations which might permit a parallel of bar establishments at the rear of the house, or in upstairs lounges, as now is permissible in Britain, none of the 160 units across Canada of Odeon Theatres Ltd. (Rank) will serve alcoholic drinks, according to Leonard W. Brockington, vice-president of the chain. Statement followed a blast of the United Churches of Canada that the Odeon, Toronto, 2,390-seater flagship of the Odeon chain, scaled at $1.20 top, had applied for a liquor lounge license. Brockington's statement pointed out that the United Church protest was "based on a misunderstanding." On legal—and often obtuse—terminology, applications for restaurant renewal licenses apply to dining room and/or cocktail lounges under the present Liquor Control Board regulations. Through a reputed "misunderstanding." the restaurant-concessionaires had signed an application for something they didn't want.
Church blowoff was an indignant cable to J. Arthur Rank, who replied that his Odeon chain in Britain did not follow the policy of liquor selling as practiced by other theatres in the United Kingdom and that it was "abundantly clear" in his practice as a non-smoking, non-drinking, Methodist layman and Sunday School teacher, that the combination of liquor selling and entertainment in his 160-the-missible than in his U.K. cinemas. (Church authorities had referred in (Ch atre chain would no more be per-missible than in his U.K. cinemas. (Church authorities had referred in their cables to Rank as "a promi-nent Methodist Lumpa".

(Church authorities had referred in their cables to Rank as "a prominent Methodist layman.")

Vice-president Brockington said, "The principles and policies of Odeon Theatres in Canada, with reference to the sale of alcoholic beverages in theatre premises, are those of the parent British company."

N. Y. to Europe

Basil Dean Ketti Frings Kurt Frings Dr. George Gallup Greer Garson Mack Harrell H. E. Henderson Walter Pidgeon Gottfried Reinhardt

Europe to N. Y.

Milton Biow Harry Cohn Howard S. Cullman Walt Disney Frank M. Folsom Arnold Grant Radie Harris Rex Harrison Martita Hunt Gertrude Lawrence William S. Paley Lilli Palmer Oliver Rae Mollie Parnis Joyce Redman David Rose Earl St. John Oscar Serlin Spyros Skouras Lou Walters Clifton Webb Tennessee Williams

N. Y. to L. A.

Harry Akst Martin Block Martin Block
Steve Broidy
Mrs. Eddie Cantor
Al Jolson
Robert J. Landry
Annett MacQuarrie
Harold Mirisch Franklin Pulaskt Mrs. Ruby Schinasl L. Arnold Weissberger

Protests, UFA's Splitup Certain

Frankfurt, Aug. 16 On the eve of the new Reich government's formation the projected breakup of the giant UFA film monopoly is touching off one of stiffest rows between the Occupation forces and German politicos since the end of the war. But despite the bitter squawks, Anglo-U. S. authorities are showing every intention to carry through the splitup of the $13,000,000 corporation under the Allied decartelization program.

tion program.

The dispute broke wide open last week when Dr. Herman Puender, prexy of the present because dispute the present because dispute the Americans and English of wielding the antimonopoly axe solely "for the one-sided benefit of foreign movie interests." Puender's importance is highlighted by his virtually certain appointment as minister of economics under the newly-elected right-wing Christian Democrat federal government. right-wing Christia federal government.

Countering with equally stiff language, Anglo-U. S. officials said Puender's criticism was so "destructive" and "so little to the point" that it would be ignored. Puender was also tagged with supporting an industry setup that could be "prostituted" to the existing governmental power.

ing governmental power.

Following his party's Sunday

(15) election victory, Puender changed his tack slightly and said the decartelization was unconstitutional. With the new government in power, he asked in more polite terms that the film industry's centralization be continued in control of the central German control of the central German officialdom.

state-owned property via sale to private individuals are, meantime, being pressed with the actual law shortly to be posted. UFA, a monopoly which dominated the German film industry even before the Nazis took it over, has been in Allied hands since the Hitlerite capitulation.

Inevitable, Says Washington Washintgon, Aug. 16.

Washintgon, Aug. 16.
Unless there is a reversal of the U. S. decartelization policy. UFA's breakup is definitely in the works. Commenting on the German protests, one Government official declared that "there are indications that some action would be taken in the not too distant future."
U. S. State Department however, is passing full responsibility for the action onto the Military Government in Germany. "If and when action is decided upon." a Department spokesman said, "it will probably be announced in Germany."

L. A. to N. Y.

George Bilson Harry Blair Rogers Brackett John Bromfield Corinne Calvet Carmen Cavallaro Gary Cooper Fcfe Ferry Cy Feuer Ed Gardner Farley Granger Barbara Hale Russell Holman Michael Kanin Howard Le Sieur Warren Low Mitzi Mayfair Nancy Olson Robert Quarry Danny Scholl George Skouras Mike Todd Franchot Tone Richard Walsh Margaret Whiting

> GOING Henry Morgan

BRUSHOFF 'BRAINY' BESTSELLERS

EL Hungry for Product; Acquires 2 British Films But Needs Many More

With its product shortage likely to become acute again following renewed shuttering of its studio this week, Eagle Lion is on a new prowl for outside film to fatten its meagre supply. Furthering the campaign, EL this week purchased the Western Hemisphere rights to Herbert Wilcox's British-made "Spring in Park Lane" and engaged in negotiations for U. Srights to "The Glass Mountain," British production turned out by George Minter's Renown Pictures.

In the deal with Wilcox, Joseph In the deal with Wilcox, Joseph Blumenfeld, Coast exhib, is a partner. Reportedly, EL and Blumenfeld are paying in the neighborhood of 50,000 pounds ($200,000) as a guarantee figure, with Wilcox receiving a small percentage on any grosses exceeding an undisclosed figure.

closed figure.

In a search for added product, EL is pushing its negotiations with Minter. Deal would be along the lines of that made with Wilcox. There is also a possibility that EL will buy the U. S. rights to two other Wilcox productions, "Maytime in Mayfair" and "Courtneys of Curzon Street." Intermittent negotiations have also been carried on with Sir Alexander Korda on four of his films including "The Fallen Idol" and "The Winslow Boy."

$275,000 Break-Even Point

$275,000 Break-Even Point
Since the EL lot, with one break, has been closed for the past nine months, the company is leaning heavily on its British releases.
At that, revenues have now fallen below the break-even point of $275,000 weekly after the company
(Continued on page 24)

UA Claims Within Its Rights to Nix Harlem Indie's Bid for 'Brave'

United Artists will claim its po-United Artists will claim its position is both "morally and legally defensible" in the anti-trust proceedings brought against it and Loew's last week by Leo Brecher's Apollo theatre in the Harlem area of New York. Brecher claims that UA has sold "Home of the Brave" to Loew's Victoria, an opposition house, although he made a prior offer to negotiate.

UA maintains that it is under no house, although he made a prior offer to negotiate.

UA maintains that it is under no obligation under the U. S. vs. Paramount decision to license pix on anything but the individual merits of the case. It claims that it would be unfair to take the film away from Loew's, its regular customer in the area, and give it to Brecher because it happens to be a pic which by its pro-Negro nature is particularly strong in Harlem. Apollo ordinarily puts the emphasis on its stage shows, with the pic secondary. UA claims that the Victoria is in every respect a better theatre for the pic, particularly since it regularly plays first-run in the area.

Brecher is asking a temporary Injunction to prevent delivery of the film to Loew's. Hearing will be held in N. Y. federal court next Tuesday (23). No damages are being asked. "Brave" is tentatively booked into the Victoria for September.

Walter Howey Biopic Planned By Popkin

Hollywood, Aug. 16.

Harry Popkin, through his attorney, Herb Silverberg, is negotiating with Walter Howey, Hearst newspaper executive, for screen rights to the story of his career. Popkin will produce the biopic, either as "The Howey Story" or "The Fighting Editor," for United Artists release, if the editor is willing.

Artists release, in willing.
Howey's rugged journalistic career once served as a model for the role of Walter Burns, the managing editor in the Ben HechtCharles MacArthur play, "The Front Page,"

Gering's Cubano Feature

Veteran producer - director Marion Gering heads for the Coast within two weeks to set the cast for a film which he'll do as a Cuban locationer. Based upon a cast for a film which he il do as a cluban locationer. Based upon a play by Jay Victor, the yarn is scheduled to go before the cameras some time in January. Script deals with an American family that moves to Havana.

family that moves to Havana.
Gering said in New York last week that the balance of the upcoming feature would be shot as a locationer inasmuch as Cuban studio facilities are inadequate. He recently completed a series of onereal featurettes tagged "Cuban Cameos." Shorts present Latino entertainers against a Cuban backrecently as ret here." set a reground. As yet he hasn't set a re-lease deal for either "Cameos" or his projected full-length pic.

Majors' Reissues To Replenish Pix Famine in Arties

an all-industry innovation, Paramount and 20th-Fox are bringing out a number of their outstanding oldies in limited print volume to oldies in limited print volume to meet the famine in product faced by art theatres throughout the country. Move is being made after repeated urgings by sureseater op-erators, particularly the Lopert cir-cuit, as the answer to the terrific shortage on foreign product now crippling an estimated 300-400 art houses.

houses.

In the case of Paramount, according to Sam Baker, booker for the Lopert chain, arrangements have been made with his circuit and others for an ultimate reissuance by the company of 30-40 'outstanding films.' Twentieth is starting off more slowly with a test run of a double-bill package of two Will Rogers vehicles which will play the Lopert circuit of eight houses. If the test run stands up, Twentieth will swing into an exten-(Continued on page 20)

20TH SHUTTERED UNTIL SEPTEMBER

Hollywood, Aug. 16. Shooting on the home lot at 20th-Fox ceased until September with the completion of John Ford's "Front and Center," although the company is still making four pictures on distant locations.

Filming starts this week on "A Ticket to Tomahawk" in Colorado, while "The Black Rose," "Night and the City" and "Two Corridors" are in work overseas.

PIX DEPEND ON ORIGINALS, MAGS

Although there's been some up-turn in story buying by the ma-jor studios during the past few months, the best-seller list—once the prime source of literary mate-rial for transposition to the screen —is largely getting the go-by. Prin-cipal reason, according to story editors, is that the stuff is "too cerebral" and "too subjective."

There was a day, up to a half-

There was a day, up to a half-dozen years ago, when few books that even got close to the best-seller category didn't get snapped up for pictures. Check of the N.Y. Times' current list reveals only three items in the hands of film companies.

companies.

There are a number of reasons for the present hands-off policy, but looming larger than any of them, it's said, is a change in the style of modern writing. Used to be that plenty of authors could be counted on to sit down and write action and adventure and romance. Whether realistic or not, it made for easy transition to the screen.

Now the writer of fection who for easy transition to the screen.

Now the writer of fiction who wants to be called sophisticated, smart and modern—rather than corny—sets down more of how people think than what they do.
And it is mighty hard to transpose a "stream of consciousness" to the screen. As a result, studios are depending more on originals and magazine fiction.

Another important factor of

magazine fiction.

Another important factor, of course, in causing the shy-off from the best-seller preserve is that most of the action stuff that would make acceptable films are costume stories. The period pieces are expensive to make and in this era of at(Continued on page 56)

45% Dollar Payments In Montgomery British Film; Rose Due in N.Y. on 2d Pic

London, Aug. 16.

London, Aug. 16.

London, Aug. 16.

David E. Rose arrives in New York Thursday (18) on the Queen Elizabeth to line-up star, director and script for his second British production to be made under the aegis of his recently formed Coronado Productions. He'll be in New York for a week, is then going on to the Coast, and will plane back to be in London early September.

It's almost certain the

It's almost certain that Rose will sign Ronald Colman as his star, and it's planned to put the picture into active production by No-

Pantages, H'wood; Other Deals Pend

RKO Paid $2,500,000 in Cash For Metro the Key Co.

In the eyes of attorneys studying the question of an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court from complete divorcement ordered by the lower court, key to the entire situation now lies with Metro. Of the three companies hit by the decision, Metro is regarded as having the best case. In the words of one of the attorneys for another defendant: "If they (M-G) don't appeal, we can't possibly see how ant: "If they (M-G) don't appeal, we cant," Defection by Metro woulds os weaken the case of both Warner Bros. and 20th-Fox, this attorney said, that an appeal would be less than use-less. Hence, 20th and WB are eyeing Metro's future course of action. Latter company's position is strongest because most of its houses are show-cases in competitive locales.

Pix Bid for TV Channels Via Its Technical Skills

for a concerted pitch to the Federal Communications Commission for exclusive theatre television channels, will press the point that it will be able to give the public new technical advancements in TV much quicker and easier than regular video broadcasters. Filmites will argue from that that such problems as technical obsolescence and the advent of color, both of which have plagued regular broadcasters, may be solved via theatre TV and so redound to the general benefit of the public.

benefit of the public.

Argument will be based on the film industry's steady development, because of an innate showmand productions. He'll benefit of the public.

Argument will be based on the film industry's steady development, because of an innate showmand productions. He'll benefit of the public.

Argument will be based on the film industry's steady development, because of an innate showmand in the late steady development, because of an innate showmand learly production, from the early nicklode on days to its present high technical level. Spokesmen will point out to the FCC that producers and exhibitors did not hesitate to switch over to sound in the late 1920s, despite its cost, to advance the industry generally. In the same way, increased emphasis is currently being put on Technicolor and other (Continued on page 46)

$2,500,000 in cash in the recent deal closed by Malcolm Kingsberg, RKO theatre chief, for acquisition of the deluxe 3,000-seat Pantages theatre, Hollywood. Chain took title to the house free-and-clear of any mortgage or lien. In addition, it received an undeveloped lot at Fairfax and Wilshire boulevards.

Fairfax and Wilshire boulevards. Indicating the technique to be followed in other possible deals with the circuit's partners, entire $2,500,000 came from the theatre company coffers. Of that sum, approximately $1,500,000 was derived by RKO from the recent sale of its holdings in the Butterfield chain, 114-theatre outflet straddling Michigan. RKO took that figure, it is now disclosed, in selling a 20% interest in some 94 houses and a 331s% cut in the balance.

Payment of the $2,500,000 was

Payment of the $2,500,000 was made to Lloyd Alexander Pantages, R. A. Pantages and Mrs. Carmen P. Considine, a sister of the Pantages. In return, the chain took all outstanding stock of Hollywood Pantages Theatre Corp. consisting of 75 shares held by the trio.

trio.

Next likely deal to be made by RKO in its drive to wind up all partnerships would be on Metropolitan Playhouses, a Unite d Artists Theatre Corp. operating subsid in which 50% is owned by UATC, 30% by Spyros, Charles and George Skouras and 20% by RKO. Negotiations are currently under way but no price has yet been reached.

Other large RKO partnership been reached.

Other large RKO partnership tieup, that with Walter Reade in the Trenton-New Brunswick chain of 12 houses, still remains a bone of contention between RKO and Reade. Negotiators have been unable to reach a basis for talking price after months of effort. Entire tangle may land in the law courts.

Unable to Set Suitable Yank Deals, Korda Will Preem Own Pix in U. S.

Instead of seeking distribution deals for the quantity of films he has available for this country. Sir Alexander Korda will open them under his own sponsorship in art houses and semi-art houses in larger cities. After these initial dates the pix will be open for negotiation by any distrib who might want to handle them.

want to handle them.

Teeoff booking under the new policy finds "Dolwyn" going into the World theatre, N. Y., Aug. 29 under a deal set by Morris Helprin, v.p. and general manager of London Films, Korda's American company. Emlyn Williams wrote, directed and stars in "Dolwyn" along with Dame Edith Evans. Evans.

Evans.

Deals are now being set by Helprin on two others. They are "Saints and Sinners," with the Abbey Theatre Players, directed by Leslie Arliss and based on a story by Paul Vincent Carroll, and "The Winslow Boy," from the stage hit by Terence Ratiggan, with Pathert Dengt and Magnaret Leight. hit by Terence Ratiggan, with Robert Donat and Margaret Leighton. "S&S" opens at the Little Carnegie, N. Y., following the run of the current tenant.

of the current tenant.

Helprin had been negotiating for some months for a distribution deal for "Winslow" and an option had been taken on it by Joseph Curtis, son of Columbia v.p. Jack Cohn. However, Korda has insisted on receiving £100,000 for American rights and won't budge from that figure, so Helprin was never able to close a deal for numerous offers he had at lower amounts.

Erskine Exits U

Hollywood, Aug. 16. Chester Erskine has negotiated release from his Universal contract after three years.

Producer of "Egg and I" has no immediate plans.

Rank's Crisis-Bred Consolidation Stirs Host of Rumors-Mostly Phony

Lobbyist Expose May

Be Theme of Film

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
"Who's Who in California Government?" will be the theme of a picture to be produced by Tay Garnett if he can acquire film thinks, whose influence as a loby byist in Sacramento was recently aired in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the samish, whose influence as a loby byist in Sacramento was recently aired in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's consolidation moves have started conflicting reports that the physic in Collier's.

Rank's top difficult period.

The bald fact is that both the banks and the British government have too munch at stake to permit have too munch at stake to permit any temporary money difficulties started to move into GFD as continued to the production will be desired to move into GFD as continued to munch the production will be distributed oct. The bald fact is that both the banks and the British government have too munch at stake to permit have too munch at stake to permit know scoff the raft of rumors as

DRIVE-INS TAKE CUT OF B.O. IN CLEVE., ONTARIO; SAN ANTONIO BIZ BEATS '48

Drive-ins are doing far more damage than television to Cleve-land's downtown key houses in damage than trevision to Cleve-land's downtown key houses, in the opinion of exhibs here. There are nearly a dozen ozoners on the outskirts of this Lake Erie port, with a couple more in the blue-print stage.

print stage.

All of them get a heavy play from suburbanites with large families who find such roadside double-feature entertainment cheaper than running the gauntlet of traffic jams, parking tolls and stiffer gate fees on the Main Stem. Free supervised play-grounds, milk-heating and diaper service are also drawing factors that have given the progressive drive-ins a tremendous edge over the chain de-luxers in congested areas.

That's one reason why the latter's grosses are 25-30% lower than last year according to circuit brasshats. A decided drop in attendances in last six months is attributed to the terrific heat spell as well as Clevelanders' annual exodus to lakeside cottages and the scores of anyusement parks exodus to lakeside cottages and the scores of amusement parks that skirt northern Ohio.

Since there are less than 60.000 television sets in this territory, with not enough TV programs coming through regularly, video is not yet considered a very serious local that the state of the score of

it's not a gag here that candy concessions help some theatres wash off their daily overhead. By far the most menacing, unbeatable competition, all operators agree, are the night baseball games agree, are the night baseball games and broadcasts of Bill Veeck's Cleveland Indians who won the pennant last year. This burg is so baseball crazy that downtown theatres are almost deserted when a big game is held in the Civic Stadium, drawing at the minimum 75.000 spectators. 75.000 spectators

At these trying times, film im-At these trying times, film im-presarios sadly discovered, the rest of the local population apparently stays home to glue its collective ears to the aired sportcasts of the Indians' batt.c.

Drive-Ins, Popcorn Only Bright Spots in West. Ont.

London, Ont., Aug. 16.
Headlights from the long lines of drive-in patrons offer the brightest spots In the Western Ontario film blz picture which has managers still reporting low grosses and looking more and more to the help-ter bright hand which emptises the control of the managers. ing hand which candies and pop-

Two drive-ins are in this area Two drive-ins are in this area, One, constructed just recently between the Lake Erie resort area and St. Thomas, has been using extra help to guide the heavy highway traffic past its congested entrance. The other, in the outskirts of London, is reporting biggest business yet in its third year of operation.

Hardest hit in the industry here are the neighborhood houses and are the neighborhood houses and second-run trade. Few if any these houses here are making these houses here are making the quotas set by their front offices, and some are in the red. Even first-run houses are finding it dif-ficult to make their quotas. Eagle Lion and Odcon houses are crying for product. Both Rank affiliates, they are optimistic for the fall on the report that 20th-Century Fox has bought into Canadian Odeon and the Fox product will be available to them. Famous Players houses may suffer in the Fox deal. Fox deal.

Toxw's and Capitol, first-runs, sa" business is holding up with line-ups Saturday nights. Capitol reports candy and popcorn sales go as high as 75% of admissions.

go as high as '75'c of admissions. This is the highest figure here, ranging down to 30 per cent.

Advertising from the houses has not been cut appreciably and there is still much plugging of top pictures. Managers, however, say this is not a good ballyhoo town.

Assisting the support trade is More Respect Please!

Colosseum of Film Sales-men, repping the sales staffs of the major companies, will make an unusual denand in upcoming new contract nego-tiations. Colosseum will ask tiations. Colosseum will ask for a clause providing for dis-trib reprisals against exhibs who treat salesmen in an "in-sulting" manner. Many sales-men have entered complaints about being kicked around like about being kicked around like office boys without any pro-tection from the homeoffice. Colosseum also will demand an $8 to $10 weekly raise plus increased expense accounts. increased expense accounts. Talks are slated to open next but remains open, the work being done in off-hours.

done in off-hours.

The percentage of double bills at both first-run houses has been stable. No increase is expected. Despite the heavy summer sports fare in this city, a good film still does its share of business.

Is Bigger Than in 1948

San Antonio, Aug. 16. Local theatre men report that business in this section is far above business in this section is far above this same period last year. Biz has been at an even pace throughout the past six months for nabe and first-runs, with an added upturn noted in the outdoor theatre biz. With no television stations in operation in the San Antonio territory as yet, it is no threat to local biz. Several cafes are installing sets, however, and trying to bring in programs from Houston and San Antonio. They report good signals from the Houston outlet when weather conditions are right. signals from the Houston outlet when weather conditions are right. But there is nothing on a straight nightly basis. The curious go and see what's happening, then go on to other places of amusement.

to other places of amusement.

Drive-ins in the San Antonio area have mushroomed up until there is one in each section of the city, growing from four last year to seven this year. A new type of ozoner, the "walk-in," has made its appearance here too which is cutting in the regular houses. These are similar to the drive-in, only they cater to the pedestrian. They have no roof and close down during rainy weather. There are three or four operating with several others scheduled to open. At present, these cater only to Negro and Latin Americans.

The drive-in operators have no-

Latin Americans.

The drive-in operators have noticed an about face in clearance and if they are willing to pay the price can get second run films, and soon hope to get first. One of the ozoners has a disk jockey from one of the local outlets who spins disks and gives out with chatter prior to the start of the performance. Each of the drive-ins have made arrangements for walk-in patrons.

Theatre construction at present patrons.

Theatre construction at present is leveling off. Interstate Theatres Circuit future plans call for several nabe houses. A remodeling Circuit future plans call for several nabe houses. A remodeling program is underway at several of the Interstate houses with general renovating the key project. Under construction is one drive-in which is being built for Latin-American trade. There is no noticable drop in construction prices over last year although there is an easing up on the procurement of materials.

Theatre men agree that on the

on the procurement of materials. Theatre men agree that on the basis of returns, new films are of much better grade than last year, although in some cases it is a material of mane stars and not the film which pulls them in. This is true in the matter of reissues which are playing in some cases to capacity houses. Foreign imports have made their appearance here on a regular basis, and some have met with good response.

Double features are holding their

Is not a good ballyhoo town.

Assisting the summer trade is the big tourist season in Western Ontario. Shering largely in the American dollar intake in Canada, it is estimated nine cents in every greenback goes to the film industry. Capitol rines a tourist information booth to help draw this trade. For the first time in years, no new theatre construction is reported. Capitol in St. Thomas is the only house closed, and it is being renovated. Loews is undergoing an extensive redecorating in cities of its size in other sec-tions of the country. Several of the Latin-American houses have what they call "dos por uno" days, when one paid admission admits two adults.

two adults.

Theatre ops are of the opinion that extra showmanship on any sim will increase grosses. Howfilm will increase grosses. How-ever, they say the film must live up to its exploitation or word-of-mouth will tear down the entire campaign.

Oregon Digs for More B.O. With Stepped-Up Ballyhoo

Portland, Ore., Aug. 16.
Grosses have dropped somewhat In arst-run downtown houses in this area during the past six months even though operating expenses have remained on the same level. Suburban and small town houses have also noted a decline but not as great as the big spots. Managers and operators are knocking themselves out. Irving to knocking themselves out, trying to dream up fresh ideas for ballyhoo and exploitation. Both of these have greatly increased in scope. In short, picture exhibitors are going out after the coin using every possible incdia. Theatres are using radio, mailing lists and promotion deals more than ever in addition to their regular means of advertising.

their regular means of advertising.
Drive-ins have not cut as deeply into regular theatre biz as many operators believe. Biz is normally down in the summer time due to weather and the desire of people to get outdoors. Actually, outdoor theatrcs have created new business.
People that would not attend a regular house are pouring dough into these drive-ins. Portland has three outdoor theatres, with all dolng well. Each has good clearance and exhibits good product. They get pix on a flat rental fee with no weekend advance.

There is some theatre improve-

There is some theatre improve-ments being made but little actual construction. The improvements are going hand in hand with the increased ballyhoo.

Clever refreshment promotion or and off the screen is pouring added dough into the merchandise bar. Operators are increasing their concession biz in proportion to the admission take. Attractive trailors, well spaced and timed intermisspaced and timed intermis-sions, and real merchandising is attracting and tempting payees to stop and plunk down additional coin. Average is well over the na-tional estimate of 10c per person.

Major cause of the b.o. decline is the poor product. Whenever a slightly better than average pleture comes to town, coin pours into the boxoffice, proving that the public is starved for good entertalnment.

Light comedy and fast moving features seem to be the favorite here. Musicals or action pletures are also favored. There seems to be a severe shortage of these types of film. Ballyhood pictures with nothing to back it up is also a weak item. This sort of thing goes over well for the first couple of days of the showing, then the word of mouth campaign starts and the picture dies.

K.C.'s General Economy Firm But Film B.O. Slips

Kansas City, Aug. 16.

Picture biz has noticeably slid off at the box office in this area. Estimates vary from 10% to three or four times that amount, but a more realistic. nore realistic range probably is 10% to 15%. Most of this has come in the last six to eight come in the last six to eight months.

Just what's causing the edging off is hard to say. Because of its basically agricultural economy. K.C. and area are regarded as having a firm business outlook, only slightly off from the peaks of the past couple of years.

and town.

Exhibs of both circuits and indies claim there are never enough of those reliable films, and there is plenty of room for big pix. On the whole, opinion varies as to the quality of this year's product compared to that of the previous year. Most seem to think product is as good as ever, but there is that tendency of the patron to shop to work against.

In order to combat this standoff ishness, exploitation and promotion are coming back, but the pace is slow. The word is out from all circuit headquarters that the days circuit headquarters that the days of showmanship are back. But there are many in the biz today who never saw the tough days and the intensive exploitation of films. Indies also are catching on, but somewhat reluctantly. Although there's a long way to go in exploitation yet, it's definitely better than it was.

Metropolitan area is definitely double feature, with only two firstrun situations regularly single feature. In the territory it's about (Continued on page 18) circuit headquarters that the days

ture. In the territory it c. (Continued on page 18)

Pub Relations

= Continued from page 3 =

lines itself along with Theatre Owners of America, MPAA and other groups who want only con-genial matters discussed at the Aug. 30-31 confab. Some members of Allied, on their part, are insist-ing on discussion of the "Finneran lan" as their price for participaplan" as their price for participa-tlon in the meet.

tion in the meet.

MPAA may dispatch emissary to Washington to urge Abram F. Myers, Allled chairman, to agree to dropping the plan from the agenda. It is the MPAA's argument that the plan violates antitrust laws and that the companies have already had a hatful of trouble over their combined move against suspected Communists.

On the other hand, Allied mem-

On the other hand, Allied mem-bers insist that there is a distincpers insist that there is a distinc-tion between the Finneran project and the anti-Red action. The for-mer clearly refers to morals only, they say, while the Communist is-sue raised political questions which the U. S. Supreme Court may have to answer

MMPTA, TOA and others object MMP1A, IOA and others object to the Finneran proposal mainly because they want the success of the first meet insured. This can only be done, it is argued, if only matters generally congenial are discussed.

Wording of the MMPTA letter, Wording of the MMPTA letter, signed by prez Leo Brecher, puts it as follows: "Our suggested agenda would achieve the greatest unanimity within the industry and has been designed to take in problems common to all branches which can be most effectively handled on an organized hasis." dled on an organized basis

"It is the further opinion of our committee that by reason of the very nature of the prospective meeting, a good press is mandatory if the entire purpose of the meeting is not defeated. And the only way this can be achieved and a beginning made is by having the ginning made is by having the agenda for this first series of meet-ings confined to matters congenial to all interests represented."

Brecher Osear A Doob Loew's

Brecher, Oscar A. Doob, Loew's exec who heads the exec committee, and D. John Phillips, exec directors, will attend the meet for MMPTA.

MPAAers Meeting in Chi In Advance of Powwow

Just what's causing the edging off is hard to say. Because of its basically agricultural economy. K.C. and area are regarded as having a firm business outlook only slightly off from the peaks of the past couple of years.

One facet of the situation is that filmgoers are shopping before spending Hence, the better product inevitably gets the play, and therein is an important phase of product rating—there is only good or bad.

What it takes to get biz here are musicals, A-budget westerns and comedies, especially in the inctropolitan centers. In the outstate situations, westerns lead the pack, with comedies and musicals good magnets, Dramas and myspoints of discussion.

teries are second-bests in both city and town. Lamber of heih circuits and in-Film Fest Plan OKd By Majors

When the industry's public relations meet gets under way in Chicago, Aug. 30-31, Gael Sullivan, exee director of the Theatre Owners of America, and Ted Gamble, board chairman, are prepared to present a revised film festival plan to meet the objections raised against Sullivan's original proposul, Unanimous acceptance by the major distribs is regarded by the duo as an absolute pre-requisite to putting the plan into operation.

Because opposition has been ting the plan into operation.

Because opposition has been raised against doubling of prints proposed in the original plan, Sulivan will suggest that this proviso be ditched. Instead, he will ask that all first-runs in a particular sector be serviced day-and-date, followed by similar treatment to second-runs and so forth down the line. Proposal is a form of regional saturation employed by many distribs with one modification, that being the day-and-dating here continues through subsequent runs.

Chief hurdle raised to the fee-

Chief hurdle raised to the festival, that of clearances, is parly answered by the change. Clearances would have to be speeded up but not to the extent originally suggested. Fears expressed by distribexecs that once clearances are changed their continuance would be the subject of anti-trust litigation are proph-pooled by are pooh-poohed by TOAers.

It is their conviction that the flux in the industry caused by the anti-trust decisions have rendered the present system obsolete. On that score, one TOAer declared: "Two years from now, there will be no resemblance between the system in effect now and what will exist then."

PRESSURE TO CUT AMUS. TAXES CONTINUES IN D.C.

Washington, Aug. 16. Despite the blunt statement from President Truman and administra-tion leaders that there will be no tax cuts this year, pressure for such reductions continues.

Most recent statement on the subject came from Senator Wal-ter F. George (D., Ga.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, of the Senate Finance Committee, who called for an immediate reduction of taxes to stimulate business. Over a local radio station past Sunday (14), George urged elimination or reduction of the wartime excise rates and special reductions on earned Income, dividends and "creative talent" groups. Last would apparently include songwriters, playwrights, etc., the first time that reductions of taxes on their royalties has heen espective.

songwriters, playwrights, etc., the first time that reductions of taxes on their royalties has been especially recommended during the current flurry to cut taxes. Cuback of the excise rates, would include decreasing the 20% admissions tax to the pre-war 10%; and slashing the 20% tab on nitery checks to the pre-war 5%. In that connection, Rep. Philip J. Philbin (D., Mass.), placed in the Congressional Record last week a statement by the "20% Cabaret Tax Committee."

"In our own field," the statement said in part, "a number of well known dining and dance rooms in connection with the hotel industry have closed in the past 60 days, resulting in the additional unemployment of a great number of people." The committee sent along tax collection figures for the past focal year while tee sent along tax collection figtree sent along tax confections are the past fiscal year which showed that in the nitery field, Uncle Sam's 20%, share fell $4-670,000 behind the year before. This indicated that business was $23,350,000 below what it had been in the previous year.

Sunset Boulevard' Preem in Hellywood

f Hollywood Aug. 16.
Premicre of Paramount's "Surset Boulevard" will be held right where it belongs, on Sunset blyd, in the heart of Hollywood. Studio is cooking up a nationwide explotation campaign hooking the pieture with the film ind istry's prostress from 1925 to 1950.

Also tied up with the celebration will be Gloria Swanson's 25th anniversary in the motion picture pusiness.

106 RELEASES FOR REST OF '4

Comparative Periods

Following is a breakdown of the number of films being released y eight major distributors from now until the end of the year, s compared with the past five months and the same period last

yeu.	1949	1949	1948
	(Aug. 1-Jan. 1)	(March 1-Aug. 1)	(Aug. 1-Jan. 1)
Columbia	23	26	23
Metro	17	12	9
Universal	16	13	12
Warners	12	. 11	9
United Artists	11	11	15
20th-Fox	10	13	20
RKO	9	9	16
Paramount	8	10	10
Total	106	105	114

RKO Topping UA as Distributor Of Independently Produced Films

High number of indie-made pix on RKO's 1949-50 release slate definitely puts that company out in the lead as distributor of independent product. It will handie a total of 19 indie films—a good many of them already in the can—out of the total of 40 films on the release schedule issued by prexy Ned E. Deninet last week.

Depinet last week.
Play that RKO has been making Play that RKO has been making for the indies puts United Artists in even a tougher position than it has suffered through for most of the 30 years of its existence. UA's problem has almost always been a lack of product and RKO's heavy tapping of the few sources' still available leaves the company in a goot wantane leaves the company in a spot.

While RKO has made no concreted effort to ink indies since Howard Hughes took over as controlling stockholder a little more than a year ago, it has gradually added a number of them to a schedule which was already fattened by the product of Samuel Goldwyn and Walt Disney. It is widely believed that this is only a beginning and that if RKO really gets pushed for product with the studio now under the personal aegis of Hughes, he may take up the slack by signing a flock of additional indies. Hughes almost at the twist of a wrist could command vast resources to back them. With a vast personal fortune, he is loaded with collateral that would be welcomed anywhere.

Great majority of RKO's important films will come from the lonewolf piemakers, it is evident from the slate released by Depinet last week. Goldwyn, who has generally released only one or two pix a year, is giving RKO three and there's even a possibility of a fourth. The certain trio are "Roseanna McCoy," "Belowed Over All" and "My Foolish Heart."

Disney is also coming up with an extra heavy load, via "Cinder-(Continued on page 22) While RKO has made no con-

YOUNGSTEIN'S PRO-PIX TALK BEFORE D.C. ADMEN

Washington, Aug. 19.

Max Youngstein, Paramount national ad-publicity chief, defended the film industry against recent criticism in a speech before the Washington Advertising Club today (Tues.), declaring much of it is "neither honest, well-intentioned nor based on fact."

Public should give motion pictures the "same fair treatment" as it accords other important industries, Youngstein said. He referred to the industry's public service record, but pointed out that it is the only one among the country's big industries to get a blanket indictment because of "the failings of a few."

Industry is partially to blame, Youngstein said, because it doesn't do a good public relations job. "We recognize our responsibility in controlling such a powerful weapon," he added, "and intend to make it a weapon for good." He reminded his listeners that the industry has 90.000,000 paid admissions weekly, declaring the "picture business is everybody's business and influences everybody's life."

Not in the Script
Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Twentieth-Fox had a train wreck right on the lot and it wasn't in the script. A Pullman coach broke loose from its moorings, rolled down a grade and smacked a B-17 Army bomber. Casualties: one broken schnoz—sustained by the bomber.

Polio Scare No Chaser to B'way

Nationwide polio epidemic, paradoxically, appears to be benefiting Broadway firstrun houses. Contrary to expectations, juvenile trade has been about normal. Theatremen attribute this condition to a belief that teen-agers and moppets are hieing to airconditioned theatres rather than take risks of possible exposure at beaches and resorts.

resorts.

Meanwhile, the Associated Theatre Owners of Indiana in a recent builetin pointed out that the state's board of health agreed with opinions of scientists that the closing of schools, churches and theatres has little effect in halting the disease's spread. Exhibitors' organization urged that there not be a "wave of theatre closings without reasonable justification..."

Indiana Board of Health howreasonable justification..."

Indiana Board of Health, however, notes that local health officers have full authority to ban all public gatherings in the interest of public health. Whenever a great number of people petition for closing orders, the board's commissioner informed the ATOI, the local officer determines the temper of the public and acts accordingly. cordingly.

Indiana's Tabus
Portland, Ind., Aug. 16.
Restrictions which made Portland a "dead city" while the polio epidemic ranged, were loosened last week (11), to permit church services, but children under 18 still are prohibited from attending public gatherings, and the Jay County theatres have not been opened. Dr. George M. Morrison, health officer, said the spread of (Continued on page 20) (Continued on page 20)

Nassers Slap Suit On Rooney-Stiefel 'Wheel'

Los Angeles, Aug. 16.

Nasser Bros. (James. George, Henry and Ted) have filed an injunction suit against RooneyStiefel Productions and United Artists demanding that distribution of "The Big Wheei" be delayed
untii three months after "Quicksand" is delivered for screening.
Mickey Rooney stars in both pictures.

The Nassers own a piece of "Quicksand," which was made on their lot before Rooney and Stiefel moved over to General Service to make "The Big Wheel." They want their money out of it as soon as they can get it.

8 MAJORS' TOTAL PARS LAST YEAR

Theatregoers will have a choice of about the same number of pictures between now and the end of the year as they did during the same period of 1948. Lineup, however, is considerably stronger in b.o. potential than it was during the comparative five months of last year or the five months just past, survey by Variety will send.

survey by Variety discloses.

Eight major distribs will send 106 pictures into release between now and Dec. 31, with the prospect that this number may be expanded somewhat if grosses do not come up to expectations in providing holdovers. Figure compares with 114 released August-through-December last year and 105 during the five months just passed.

While total number of fims on the five months just passed.

While total number of films on which exhibs will be able to draw is less this year than last, 20th-Fox's abandonment of "B" production easily accounts for the drop. 20th sent into distribution 20 new pix in the 1948 period while it is releasing only 10 this year. Eleven of last year's 20 were minor budgeters, of which it has none coming up this season. According to Andy W. Smith, Jr., 20th sales veepee, meanwhile, company's current policy of distributing two pictures a month is not final, since the market may demand more by the year's end.

Included in the 106 films set the year's end.

Included in the 106 films set for release in the next five months are such strongly-touted entries as Metro's 'Battleground' and 'On the Town:" Paramount's ''Top O' the Morning' and 'My Friend Irma." Also 20th's 'I Was a Male War Bride' and 'Father Was a Fullback;' Warner's 'Task Force' and 'White Heat;' 'UA's 'Love Happy' and 'Black Magic;' Universal's ''Abbott & Costelio Meet the Killer;'' Columbia's ''Jolson Sings Again' and RKO's 'Roseanna McCoy' (Goldwyn).

Eagle Lion is not included in the Eagle Lion is not included in the survey because of its current un-settled condition. But, from all in-dications, that company's distribu-tion will consist mainly of British importations. It released 16 new importations. It released 16 new films in the August-January period last year.

Columbia leads all majors for the five months with a slate of 23 pix consisting of 18 features and five westerns. Outfit has scheduled five for release this month and four for the following two months. Another five will be distributed in November and the remainder in December. Metro has almost doubled its releases for the next five months, over the same period last year. It has set 17 pictures for release before Jan. 1. Breakup will be three this month and three each for the next two months. The other eight will be divided evenly between November and December. Columbia leads all majors for between November and December. RKO will have nine for the next five months, the same as during the five months just passed. Figure is seven pictures less than the number distributed by the company during the last five months of 1948. Besides 20th's drastic drop, releasing schedules of the other major companies have not varied much since last year.

Also set for release before the of 1948. Besides 20th's drastic drop, releasing schedules of the other major companies have not varied much since last year.

Also set for release before the end of the year, but not included in the total are revivals of Paramount's "Holiday Inn" and "Lady Eve." The world preem of 20th's "Pinky" is also scheduled before Jan 1. It will be a pre-release engagement.

EK's $21,368,830 Net Half year earnings of Eastman Kodak slid 24% to a total of $21.5368,830 compared with $28,017,724 for the corresponding period of 1948. Earnings for the 24-week period ended June 12 amounted to $1.63 per share of common against $2.24* per share last year. Total sales held to within 1% of 1948 with EK grossing $190,002,934.

In a report to stockholders, EK said that professional motion picture sales were off considerably for the period. Company gave no further explanation of that decline.

Studios Sign 5-Year Contract For 16,000 IATSE Studio Film Workers

Race to the Gaol

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Universal is putting on a sprint to the hoosegow. Studio has ordered all departments to rush finishing touches on "Molly X," the story of a women's prison.

Idea is to hit the screen ahead of "Locked In," another femme jail yarn produced by Warners.

AFM Asking No H'wood Pay Tilts

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
American Federation of Musicians, apparently aware of the tightening of economic conditions and the effect on Hollywood's picture-makers, has not asked Coast studios for a boost in scales for musicians. The AFM has quietly agreed to extend the terms of the current agreement another two years as of Aug. 31, when the old pact ends. pact ends.

current agreement another two years as of Aug. 31, when the old pact ends.

This was concluded as of Monday (15) and will be confirmed by the parties via an exchange of corerspondence to that effect. Neither the AFM nor studio executives who were involved in the negotiations will disclose anything more about the deal or single out the representatives of either party involved in its conclusion.

Old contract called for basic terms of $39.90 per man for three hours or less of studio recording. There are no changes of any kind. On the basis of the AFM's action, it would seem that all American Federation of Labor unions involved in the production of film, have agreed not to seek higher scales from Hollywood at the moment. Last week, all IATSE labor divisions renewed agreements with studios on the basis of contracts that have been in force.

What the AFM told studios heads about the formulation of a scale for musicians covering recording for films to be made for television exclusively, isn't known. AFM has been ducking the issue for some time, refusing to allow its men to become available for tele-films by the simple expedient of not establishing a scale. Union is wary and being very carefularial of the possibility of aiding in the making of something that will further reduce AFM employment, such as occurred with wax records. It feels that film shorts will further reduce AFM employ-ment, such as occurred with wax records. It feels that film shorts made for tele would be used over and over again, obviating the need for live tele-tooter staffs in many

Now Indie Producers Have Own Foreign Reps

Difficulties in the foreign market

Hollywood, Aug. 16.

New five-year basic labor agreement between the IATSE and the major film lots was announced by Charles Boren, representing the producers, and Richard F. Walsh, union chief. Contract. involving 16,000 film workers, calls for a continuation of the 11.17% cost of living bonus, granted temporarily in 1947, an industrywide seniority clause giving preference to experienced motion picture employees, and a stronger union shop.

The pension plan, mentioned in the early negotiations, was left undecided with the understanding that the question may be taken up later with company presidents. Several minor issues are still in abeyance and will be settled within the next 30 days.

In addition to Walsh, international prexy of IATSE, the union negotiators were: Roy Brewer, International representative; Carl Cooper, international ve e p c e; Cappy DuVal, Local 44; William Errett, Local 865; Ted Ellsworth, Local 705; Stanley Campbell, Local 706; Al Erickson, Local 763; Haroid Smith, Local 669; Ted Ellsworth, Local 705; Stanley Campbell, Local 706; Al Erickson, Local 767; A. T. Dennison and James Tante, Local 728; John Lehners, Local 767; John Ward, Local 767; Harry Shiffman, Local 789, and Mathew Levy, IATSE attorney.

Assisting Boren as producer representatives were: William Hopkins, Columbia; L. K. Sidney, William Walsh and Ed de Lavigne, Metro; Ted Leonard, Paramount; Leon Goldberg and Mark Bushner, RKO; Robert V. Newman and H. A. McDonnell, Republic; Fred S. Meyer, 20th-Fox; Edward Muhl, Emmett Ward and Morris Weiner, Universai; Carrol Sax, Warners; Morris Benjamin, chairman of the Association of Motion Picture Producers' law committee; and Ben Batchelder and Alfred Chamle, members of Boren's staff.

Both Boren and Walsh expressed satisfaction over the results of the negotiations.

PETITION TO EXTEND CHI RUN OF 'STABLE'

CHI RUN OF 'STABLE'

Chicago, Aug. 16.

Leroy Krein, attorney for the United Artists Theatre Corp., last week filed a motion in Federal Judge Michael Igoe's court asking that the Jackson Park decree be extended for the showing of "Come to the Stable" for at least eight weeks in United Artists theatre here. Tom McConnell, atterney for the Jackson Park theatre, opposed the breaching of the two-week decree playing time.

Krein, in enumerating reasons for granting of petition, quoted the great cost of pic, $2.250,000, and the moral aspect of the film. Peculiar aspect of the case is the filing by United Artists; theatre is booked and managed by Balaban & Katz, who are defendants in the JP case. UA theatres is the lessor of the location. As such, UA is not a party to the Jackson Park decree, but as a lessor to a defendant falls under the same limitations. B&K has won several extensions of films in its houses, but most of the actions previously have been filed by distributors. Hearing date on motion was set for Sept. 13.

If petition is granted it would leave only three B&K houses bound by the decree with subsequent backing up of product for release. Also on the agenda for extension is "Samson and Delilah" if "Stable" goes through.

Schneider's Col Gift

Washington, Aug. 16.
Abraham Schneider, veepee and treasurer of Columbia, has gifted 500 shares of Col common to the Schneider Foundation, a charity holding outfit. At the same time, Col exec has balanced off his holdings by purchasing 500 additional shares.

Schneider now holds 10,028 shares of Col common.

Joison Sings Again (MUSICAL-COLOR) Columbia release of Sidney Buch

FILM REVIEWS

(MUSICAL-COLOR)
Columbia release of Sidney Buchman production.
Production with the state of Sidney Buchman Stars and Barbara Hale; features william Demarest, Ludwig Donath, Bill Goodwin, Myron McCormick, Tamara Shayne, Directed by Henry Levin, Music, Morris Stoloff: score, George Duning, Musical Morris Stoloff: score, George Duning, Musical Circhincolor), State of Companies of Chestrations, Larry Russell, Traceshown Aug. 10, '49, Running time, Starbara Maria Starbara Hale Stew, Maria William Demarest Companies of Cark Maria Myron McCormick Maria Volcson Tamara Shayne Henry Charles Robert Emmert William Demarest Charles Robert Emmert William Demarest Cark Maria Volcson Tamara Shayne Henry Charles Robert Emmert William Demark William Demarks Charles Robert Emmert Robert Robert

Larry Parks
Barbiya Hale
William Demarest
Ludwig Donath
Bill Goodwin
Myron McCormick
Tamara Shayne
Eric Wilton
Robert Emmett Keane "Jolson Sings Agaln" bids fair to par "The Jolson Story" grosses and may even top them. In short, a smasheroo of unqualified proportions.

The appeal of the Jolson sequel is only a matter of degree. In many respects it even shades the sock boxoffice champ of 1946. It was almost exactly three years ago—September, '46 — that Columbia teed off the first biopic on the career of "the king," as vet troupers call Al Joison.

career of "the king," as vet trouper: call Al Joison.

It is only natural that the durability of Jolson, as the all-time
No. 1 performing personality in contemporancous show business, would be matched by an equally rich real-life story. "Jolson Sings Again" proves that. Where "The Jolson Story" was Horatio Alger with an Equity card, "Jolson Sings Again" is perhaps more emotional because Jolson's comeback Impact is played against a background of other young hopefuls supposedly having usurped him with the bobbysoxers. Producer-writer Sidney Buchman, has done a skillful job in keeping on high pitch the not easy premise of an oldster making a comeback. You can't get emotionally excited about a guy who has money back to back—in real and reel life—and who sits around his Encino home moping because he's relatively a hasbeen.
Buchman, however, has made emotionally appealing the ricture.

around his Encino home moping because he's relatively a hasbeen.
Buchman, however, has made emotionally appealing the picture of a great star who finds he can't even play a benefit because the Community Chest thinks today's Hopes, Gene Kellys, Judy Garlands et al. mean more than Jolson who finds himself relegated to "many others" in the benefit billing.
On a broad canvas is projected Jolson's wartime tours under Special Services, singing from the Aleutlans to the Caribbean bases until he finally contracts the serious fever which laid him low in North Africa. Barabara Hale reenacts the nurse technician from Little Rock (in real life, Erle Chennult Galbraith, related to General weeks. nault Galbraith, related to General Chennault, incidentally, who is now Mrs. Jolson).

meral Chennault, incidentally, who is now Mrs. Jolson!

Miss Hale emerges as a potent new face of importance, with her warm, brunet beauty projecting like a rocket bomb from the screen. Larry Parks, again playing Jolson, remains an uncannily faithful personator of the star. The technical skills that have so successfully captured flawless synchronization of Jolson's potent voice as mouthed by his more youthful counterpart are given added fillip with two very showmanly expositions of behind-the-camera techniques. One exposes to the supposedly amazed Jolson how a blackface alter ego (Parks) could be matched with his voice, and the end result appears flawless. The audience thus sees the sound stage and music mixing technique, but it's all well integrated into the story. The other is the device where the first picture's finale is utilized as a tecoff for the new picture, and then by a liberal scrambling of chronology "The Jolson Story," with a number of that former picture's socko songs reprised, is made to appear the capping climax for "Jolson Sings Again."

Good showmanship, in fact, is evidenced capping climax for "Joison Sings Again."

Good showmanship, in fact, is evidenced throughout in many ways. The heps will recognize such realistic bits as the Arkansas-drawling nurse, the Community Chest benefit factually it was at the Hill-crest Country Club benefit that Jolson came on last, after a dream benefit bill, and murdered an already satiated assemblage), the Hollywood producer who first saw Jolson in his home-town of Duluth (Buchman comes from there), and the like.

(Buchman comes from unere), and the like.

There are probably 20-30 song excerpts reeled off by Jolson, in greater or lesser degree, the musical montages being both brief and full as occasion warranted. Another skillful usage of the yesteryear pops has the titles symbolizing the action, such as "Baby Face" (when pitching at Miss Hale). "After You've Gone" 40n parting), etc.

"After You've cone on paring, etc.
Where "The Jolson Story" had its accent on nostalgia, the plus factor in "Jolson Sings Again" is that the nostalgia has been brought more up-to-date, blending the oldies with the background of World War II; Mama Yoelson's pondering "what kind of a name is that for a singer, Bing, Bing?", etc. Both the Yoelsons and Jolie have their ears constantly attuned to the more modern pop song idioms of the day, as they come through the loudspeaker, and it is in that vein that Jolson is about to surrender to the fact that his hard-driving, song interpretations are obsolete compared to the languorous crooning styles of the present.

languorous crossing comes in the casting with Ludwig Donath and Tamara Shayne again reenacting Cantor Yoeison and Jolie's mama. Donath is master of every scene that runs the gamut from his Cantor Yoelson and Jolie's mama. Donath is master of every scene that runs the gamut from his secular obligations at the altar, in mourning for Mama Yoelson, to straighting for his headstrong son and squiring the beauteous nurse. Bill Demarest and Bill Goodwin are again cast as Jolson's Broadway buddies as manager and producer. Myron McCormick makes the role of the Hollywood producer gone Special Services officer believable, and gives life to the role of a hero-worshipping youth (back in Duluth when he first saw the great Jolson in "Bombo," "Robinson Crusee," etc.), and who is successful in capturing the Jolson talents for a Hollywood soundfilm. Among the intra-trade niceties, it should be pointed out here that Columbia prexy Harry Cohn and producer Buchman will never be accused of claiming false credit because a throwaway line gives recognition to the fact that "a certain Hollywood columnist" first gave them the idea of making a picture with and about Jolson. Considering the wealth of song material, the full story, and everything else that goes with it. "Jolson Sings Again" is a standout example on compact production technique. It undoubtedly tells an important Hollywood economy story because, for all its Technicolorful splash, skillful use of montages—to project that long period when Jolson was running away from himself by burying himself in racing stables, owning prizefighters, playing the spas, traveling with the seasons, etc.—has furthered the story at relatively worth the potential transport of the title player is even suaver than the

ly minor expense.
Parks' personation of the title player is even suaver than the original. Henry Levin's direction original. Henry Levln's direction is well paeed save for the opening reel when it's lethargic in accelerating, but by contrast the ensuing reelage is that much a plus factor. The initial slow pace matches the mood of the bewildered Jolson as his wife walks out on him. The musical mixing is a tribute to all concerned, from maestro Morris Stoloff to orchestrators George Duning and Larry Russel, musical advisor Saul Chaplin, et al. The lensing is lush, the production ultra, the end result socko. Abel.

Roseanna McCoy

ROSCANNA Met Oy

RKO release of Samuel Goldwyn production. Stars Farley Granger. Joan Key, Richard Basehart, Glymono Markey, John Collier; from novel by Alberta Hannum; Loigh, Tradeshown Clymono, Frank Locser, Comera. Lee Garmes; Loigh, Tradeshown Clymono, Lind Running time, 100 MIX, Aug. 15, 49.

Running time, 100 MIX on Evans Bickford Rayme Bickford Rayme Bickford Rayme Bickford Rayme Bickford Rayme Bickford Raymer McCoy Marshall Thompson Phymer McCoy Phymer McCoy Marshall Thompson Phymer McCoy Phymer Mills Phymer Mills Phymer Mills Phymer Mills Phymer Mills Phymer Marshall Phymer Marsh

Out of that epic mountaineer saga of the Hatfields and the Mc-Coys. Samuel Goldwyn has fashioned a fresh and strikingly dramatic film in "Roseanna McCoy." This is tender love yarn unfolding to a smashing climax against a backwoods setting of love and vicelence. Despite the lack of high-powered marquee names, the film's moving counterpoint of romance and rousing action will corral hefty b.o. response.

Firstrate screenplay by John Col-

b.o. response.

Firstrate screenplay by John Coller has imaginatively tailored the historical facts for a tightly-knit cinematle framework. Literate, without being literal, script attempts to depict the hillfolk without recourse to the phony comicstrip image of the gulch-jumping hilbilly. The result is sombre and poetic, yet honestly human. Persuasive buckshot atmosphere of the pic is heightened by the superb scenic lensing and director Irving Reis' firm pacing of the action while never permitting the characterizations to tumble into caricature. ture

Attentiveness to the background details is matched by the sincerity of thesping. Cast standout is Gold-wyn's latest discovery, Joan Evans, who plays the lead. In her debut role before the cameras the young

Miniature Reviews

"Joison Sings Again" (Musical-Color) (Col). Socko!
"Roscanna McCoy" (RKO).
Moving drama based on the McCoy-Hatfield feud; surefire

Moving drama based on the McCoy-Hatfield feud; surefire b.o.

"My Friend Irma" (Song) (Par). Transition of radio's dumb blonde to celluioid exploitable for hypoed bookings. "Father Was a Fullback" (20th). Highly amusing trials and tribulations of a university football coach and father. "Smoky Mountain Melody" (Music) (Col). Roy Acuff in lightweight western; lesser dual support. "The House Across the Street" (WB). Medium budgeted comedy-drama for program bookings. "The Mysterious Desperado" (RKO). Exceptionally good Tim Holt oater. Strong fare for the market. "Brimstone" (Rep). Rod Cameron, Walter Brennan ride the Trucolored range; okay for the action situations. "Hollywood Burlesque" (Continental.) Filmization of show in a burly house; biz depends on degrees of exploitation. "Obsession" (GFD). Britishmade murder thriller okay for U. S. duals. "Trottie True" (Rank). Strong Interest bringe to her actual and the strong in the strong in the strong in the supplementation of show in a burly house; biz depends on degrees of exploitation. "Obsession" (GFD). Britishmade murder thriller okay for U. S. duals. "Trottie True" (Rank). Bright British costume musical, in Technicolor.

actress brings to her natural physical assets the charm of an unsophisticated, yet easy manner. In this pic, she has the benefit of a glove-fitting part as a moonstruck McCoy helplessly in love with one of the hated Hatfield clan. As the latter, Farley Granger contrasts well with a tense and muscular performance. formance.

Simple yarn develops its tension by crossing the romantic pair against the smoldering feud of the two families. Opening quietly as a study of rural manners, the pic's tension mounts rapidly following the couple's elopement and their settlement in the Hatfield household. The feud finally breaks wide open when a mad Hatfield shoots down a McCoy youngster, precipitating massed warfare between the two families. At the windup, however, Granger and Miss Evans ride into the center of the fray, forcing a cease-fire order. It's suggested the feud ended right there and then.

then.

Superb supporting cast is headed by Raymond Massey, as the righteous-minded head of the McCoys, and Charles Bickford, as the rough but square-shooting leader of the Hatfields. Standout performances are also turned in by Richard Basehart, as a bloodthirsty feudist, Aline McMahon, as the McCoy matriarch; and Marshall Thompson, as one of the McCoy bys. Two Juve thespers, Gig Perroau and Peter Mills, also register with appealing naturalness. pealing naturalness.

beating naturainess.
Used only to background credits, Frank Loesser's number, "Roseanna McCoy," is a solid tune. The overall background score lends to the impact while the pir's technical aspects of lensing and editing are handled flawlessly. Herm.

My Friend Irma

My Friend Irma
(SONGS)
Hollywood, Aug. 13.
Hol Richard Rhinelander Irma Peterson Steve Lairon Steve Lairon Seymour Prof. Kropotkin Mrs. Rhinelander Mr. Clyde Mr. Clyde Mrs. O'Reilly

Radio's "My Friend Irma" steps from the airwayes to celluloid in a not always graceful transition. The fun is piled on lavishly and the pace is furious, so the fact that ether producer Cy Howar-I and co-scripter Parke Levy forgot to take cognizance of the more tangible factors of the screen is glossed over considerably. While "Irma's" potentialities as film material are not fully realized upon, there's still fully realized upon, there's still enough frolleking and exploiting of the essentially funny character to rate a neat boxoffice payoff in those situations where pre-selling figures importantly. importantly.

Thanks to director George Marshall, the picture has a knowing sophistication of pre-adolescence, and the other in that exquisitely situation into yocks. He does it often in spanning the numerous story holes that spot the Howard-Levy script. Players answer well reen O'Hara who, incidentally, is problem enough, he has two young daughters, one with all the pseudo-House Across the Street" is okay. It has nothing particularly new or novel to recommend, was made on novel to recommend, was made on the treatment of the drama is light, the cast ment of the drama is light the cast (Continued on page 22) to his helming, pulling all stops to milk each contrived antic and keep to his helming, pulling all stops to milk each contrived antic and keep the pace going.

Most notable value of "Irma" is the introduction of two nitery comics who prove they have film possibilities if used properly and backed with the right kind of material. They are Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, and the emphasis is on the latter. He is a very funny man, a mugger of ability whose timing wailops over many a guffaw. Martin is a handsome straight man singer and there are no complaints on his ability in that range. His voice is pleasant and easy, but his nightclub posturing needs toning down for films.

Title role is in the exacting hands of Marie Wilson and she belts it over for a solid click. The camera could have been kinder but Miss Wilson's talents for portraying the very acme of dumb blondeness has no peer and needs no "gauze" treatment, even though better lensing of her pulchritude would have been an asset.

Howard and Levy came up with nothing original for their plot. Miss Wilson and Diana Lynn are seen as roommates in a walkup apartment. Miss Lynn is eyeing the future with a rich husband. Miss Wilson wants only to be worthy of her sharp-shooting boyfriend, John Lund, a Runyonesque character who fancies himself as a glib promoter smart enough to avoid steady work.

Troubles for all concerned start when Lund tries to promote a sing.

who fancies himself as a glib promoter smart enough to avoid steady work.

Troubles for all concerned start when Lund tries to promote a singing career for Martin. Latter goes for Miss Lund, taking her mind off of concentrating on her rich boss, Don DeFore. The conclusion is foregone, but in working up to it, script has a twist or two and does a good job of setting up the clowning of Martin and Lewis.

Former sings three tunes by Jay Livingston and Ray Evans, all listenable. They include "Here's to Love," "Just for Fun." and "My Own, My Only, My Ali." The comics team on a socko rendition of "The Donkey Serenade," and Lewis has several solo moments that rate belly laughs, including his scene before a mirror when he practices termatics.

Lund does a very apt job of portraying his manufactured character, displaying a comedy ability that sells. Miss Lynn is able in her role, and DeFore gets the most from his scenes. Minor credits, all handled excellently, fall to Hans Conried, Kathryn Givney, Percy Helton, Gloria Gordon and others.

Hal Wallis' production gives the picture a good backing for exploitation selling, but he has allowed the footage to run overlength at 102 minutes. Howard served as associate producer, and Lee Tover did the lensing. There is a good musical background score by Roy Webb to help the fun.

Father Was a Fullback

Father Was a Fullback

Pather Was a Fullback

20th Fox release of Fred Kohlmar production. Stars Fred MacKurray, Maureen. O'Harni Seas Fred MacKurray, Maureen. O'Harni Seas Fred MacKurray Maureen. O'Harni Seas Fred MacKurray Maureen. Thelma Ritter. Natalie Wood, James G. Backus. Directed by John M. Stahl. Screenplay, Aleen Lealie, Casey Robinson, Mary Loos, Richard Sale; suggested by a Mary Loos, Richard Sale; suggested by a Aherni music, Cyrill Mockridge; editor, J. Watson Webb, Jr. Tradeshown Aug. 12, '49. Running time, 84 MINN. George Cooper. Maureen O'Hara George Cooper. Maureen O'Hara Ellea Cooper. Maureen O'Hara Ellea Cooper. Natalie Wood Prof. Sullivan James G. Rackus Mr. Jessop R. Rudy Yallee Geraldine Thelma Ritter George Cooper. Maureen O'Hara Cooper. Natalie Wood Prof. Sullivan James G. Rackus Thelma Ritter Cooper. Maureen G. Sullivan Jones McKey McCardle John McKee Policeman Mike MacCardle John McKee Policeman Glibert Barnett Delivery Boy Tommy Bernard Sallor Sallor Mike Mahoney Boy Tommy Bernard Sallor Announcer. Tom Handon Beilho Collece President. Forbes Murray Cheer Leader Lee MacGregor Bill Don Ilicks

Good, wholesome, human-interest

Good, wholesome, human-interest cood, wholesome, numan-interest comedy, slanted from the coach's rather than gridiron hero's, viewpoint, makes "Father Was a Fullback" very pleasant film fare. Word-of-youth will be in its favor. glving returns a chance to build beyond normal expectations in general situations.

eral situations.

A choice scripting job keeps the comedy on a human level, hoked up just enough to play the laughs strongly without losing the feeling of genuine man, wife and family relationship. On such a solid foundation, director John M. Stahl has built an engrossing, always amusing, motion picture that snaps along for a fast 84 minutes of highly entertaining fun.

The cast is as choice as the script.

highly entertaining fun.

The cast is as choice as the script for the interpretation they put on the material. Fred MacMurray portrays the coach of a losing state university football team. That isn't problem enough, he has two young daughters, one with all the pseudosphistication of pre-adolescence, and the other in that exquisitely yainful period of approaching young womanhood.

An understanding wife is Maus-becoming one of the best exponents of helpmeet-mother on the screen today. She guides her troubled husband through his tribulations of of helpmeet-mother on the screen today. She guides her troubled husband through his tribulations of losing games, sparring with Sunday morning quarterbacks and outraged alumni. The dialog between MacMurray and Miss O'Hara smacks of the earthy yak-yak that is batted about by any normal, real-life couple, with the added realism that springs from having two children beset with growing pains. Chief problems posed by the plot concern MacMurray's efforts to win a game so he can placate the alumni. He doesn't, but comes out ahead in the end because of how the problem of getting a beau for bobbysoxer daughter Betty Lynn is resolved. It's free-wheeling fun and a good half of the quips supplied by writers Aleen Leslie, Cascy Robinson, Mary Loos and Richard Sale will be lost to most audiences because of the laughter. MacMurray and Miss O'Hara team delightfully, responding expertly to Stahl's understanding guidance. Miss Lynn comes through in socko fashion as the daughter who's growing up. Natalie Wood is a joy as the youngest member of the family. Rudy Vallee gets over another of his prissy, celluloid-coilar types as prexy—of the alumni association.

Thelm Ritter scores as the laconic, cynical maid-of-all-work for the MacMurray family. James G. Backus is good as the professor friend, and there are strong small parts contributed by Richard Tyler and others.

Producer Fred Kohlmar has given the picture strong supervision to make the entertainment values top grade. Physical mounting captures the idea of college towns and families and expert lensing by Lloyd Ahern gives it a good display. Editing is tight. Brog.

Smoky Merrotain Melody

Smoky Mer sain Melody
(MUSIC)
Columbia relete of Colbert Clark production. Stars Roy Acuff. Directed by Ray Nazarro. Story. Harry Shipman camera. Rex Wimpy; editor, Paul Borofay,
At New York. N. Y., week of Aug. 9, '89.
Roy Acuff Saddle Grease
Kid Giruce Corby. Russell Arms
Mary Files Sybii Merrit
Mid Giruce Corby. Roy Acuff
Dr. Moffett "Pappy" Cheshire
Mr. Crump "Pappy" Cheshire
Mr. Crump Terk Sybii Merrit
Mr. Crump Terk Sybii Merrit
Mr. Carolina Cotten
Tommy Darkin. Carolina Cotten
Tommy Darkin. Tommy Ivo

This differs from countless other oaters only in that it has Roy Acuff and his Smoky Mountain Boys to help over the slower passages. As such it will be passable as a supporting feature in certain localities. It runs too briefly to do as a single pic even where patrons crave westerns.

crave westerns.
"Smoky Mountain Melody" has Acuff as the music-loving tender-foot who makes good in the west by always doing the right thing at the right time. He manages to out-with the usual conniving lads even without resorting to a six-shooter. Story shows him inheriting the management of an extensive ranch on a three-month trial basis. This irks the late owner's two sons who bitterly resent being bossed around by their cousin.

bitterly resent being bossed around by their cousin. Per usual. Acuff succeeds despite some rather silly ideas he incorporates into the ranch management. The two sons try to frame him on a phoney stock deal but he is cleared in an easy way. In between, there is music, song and yodeling on an extensive scale. When such interpolations are inserted, the whole plot comes to a sudden halt. Acuff warbles nicely while his Smoky Mountain Boys group make well with the instrumental music and background sing. ing Acuff resembles the Acuff resembles the typical short-legged cowboy type now current on the screen. He is by far happiest when singing or playing the fiddle. Supporting cast is no great shakes although Guinn Williams, as customary, chips in with a kindly sheriff heavy. Ray Nazarro's direction is bairly passable while Harry Shipman's story is strictly one of those things. Wear.

The House Across the

The House Across the Street

Hollywood, Aug. 11.

Warner Bros. release of Sani Elkins production. Stars Wayne Morris, Init Paige, Bruce Bennett; ieatures Ar. Hale, James Mitchell Burger, Init Paige, Bruce Bennett; ieatures Ar. Hale, James Mitchell Bare. Screenplay. Hussell Hughes; from story by Roy Chauslet Hughes; from story by Roy Chauslet Gamera. William Snyder: musical work and the Armonic Market Milliam Snyder; musical work of the Market Hughes of Market Milliam Snyder Market Milliam Snyder Bruce Logical Greenel Bruce Logical Greenel Bruce Logical Greenel Barbara Bates Carl Schrader Barbara Bates Carl Schrader Ray Montgomery

Radio City Music Hall's Peak Biz Reaffirms It's a Tourist's Must

New York's Radio City Music Hall proved its right to its billing as an "American institution" this summer, aver industry observers. Despite the continued heat and generally slack business felt throughout the country, recap of MH. grosses shows that the sixweek run of "Look for the Silver Lining" (WB) and special July 4 stageshow garnered more income than the same length run of "Words and Music" and the special Christmas show during the holiday period last winter.

"Lining," during its six weeks.

period last winter.

"Lining." during its six weeks.
took in $845,000. "W&M" grossed just about $800,000. While the glant Rockfeeller showcase habitually does well during the summer be-just about $800,000. While the glant Rockefeller showcase habitually does well during the summer because it is a "must" on the lists of the swarms of tourists who pour into New York, strength of the traw was unusual in the face of weather and general business conditions. It was about equal to last summer and better than 1946, when both factors were more favorable for filmeries.

Special July 4 show, in which fireworks were simulated by electricity, is figured by Russell V. Downing, Hall's managing director, to have accounted for a good bit of the biz. Part of the spectacular quality of the show was reflected directly at the b.o., he said, and part will be felt over a long period as a result of the word-of-mouth and publicity on the unusual display. Explaining the background, Downing declared:

"Along with other theatres, we

Downing declared:
"Along with other theatres, we felt a sharp slump in business the week after Easter. Perhaps our drop wasn't as bad as some houses, but it hurt. We figured we could either pull in our horns and retrench to absorb the loss of income or we could try to beat the slump by aggressive showmanship. We decided on the latter and gambled $50,000 that the Fourth of July display cost that it would be worth that in getting added business. There's no need of saying that we're well pleased with the way the gamble turned out."

gamble turned out."

Independence Day special will be a regular summer fixture hereafter, Downing said, just as are the Easter and Christmas spectacles. Being considered is the addition of one more of these regular additions to the standard shows to give the Hall four specials a year. New the Hall four specials a year. New one would be an autumnal affair, marking the harvest season.

marking the harvest season.

World's largest theatre is not suffering the pangs of other Broadway houses in trying to line up product, Downing said. He disclosed that in next will be Alfred Hitchcock's "Under Capricorn" (WB), starring Ingrid Bergman and Joseph Cotten, to be followed by "That Forsyte Woman" (M-G) (formerly "The Forsyte Saga"), "The Heiress" (Par), and "On the Town" (M-G), "Town" will be the Christmas attraction, and it is hoped that (M-G). "Town" will be the Christ-mas attraction, and it is hoped that Metro's "In the Good Old Summer-time" and the next three pix will hold long enough so that no other films will have to be inserted.

films will have to be inserted.
Hall has made no change and expects to make none in its $1.40 weekday and $1.50 Saturday-Sunday top. Downing declared. "We don't think a reduction would bring about any improvement in business," he explained. "People just don't buy a ticket to a theatre. They buy a ticket to a theatre. They buy a ticket to a theatre they buy a ticket to a theatre they may be a ticket to a theatre. They buy a ticket to a theatre. They buy a ticket to a theatre they buy a ticket to a theatre they buy a ticket to a theatre. They buy a ticket to a theatre they buy a ticket to a more than the to see it was a more than the to see it was a more than the to be inserted.

N.Y. Giants Trailerizing Benefit Grid for N.Y. San.

Saranac Lake, N. Y., Aug. 16. Entire N. Y. Giants football team Entire N. Y. Giants football team put in an appearance at the Variety Clubs-Will Rogers hospital, preliminary to a benefit game which the pro team will stage during the fall for the hospital. Game, which will be played with another team in the National League, has been arranged by the N. Y. City Variety club. All proceeds will go to the Institute.

Gridders were headed by William Abbott, their publicity agent, and accompanied by a 20th-Fox camera man who shot the players in various poses with patients. Stills will be used as publicity for the forthcoming game.

N.Y. Film, Radio Setup Now Under Ed Van Kleeck

Albany, Aug. 16

Albany, Aug. 16
Streamlining of State Education Department, brought a number of changes, one being the transfer of supervision of the picture division and bureau of radio and visual aids to Dr. Edwin R. Van Kieeck. His new title is assistant commissioner for adult education and special activities.

Dr. Lloyd L. Cheney has this di-vision under his wing but Commis-sioner Francis T. Spauding de-cided his dutles as assistant commissioner for personnol and ad-mlnistration were so extensive that censorship work should go to Van

CLARK'S NFS TO SERVICE FC AND REP IN PHILLY

Philadelphia, Aug 16.

In a movement to eliminate sep-arate backroom operations in ex-changes by film companies, both Film Classics and Republic have closed deals with the National Film closed deals with the National Film Service to take over those activi-ties, it has been learned. NFS, leaded by William Clark, will serv-ice both companies in their 31 ex-changes. Action by FC and Hep follows a similar arrangement made some time back by Eagle Lion. Clark outfit takes care of inspec-tion of negatives, storage and ship-ping thereby permitting its cusping, thereby permitting its cus-tomers to close their backrooms. Payment is made on a per-reel basis.

In inking a deal, NFS assumes contractual obligations with exchange workers' unions and takes over the personnel.

Par Joins the Junketing Stars Ballyhoo Parade

Stars ballynoo rarade Star junkets on a wide scale in which Paramount's top players will tour the country in advance of release dates is henceforth the orderof-the-day, according to Max E.
Youngstein, Par's national ad-pub director. Par is swinging into a policy of personal appearances to hypo bally on future releases as "an operating principle," Youngstein declared. His decision broadens the postwar trend in which both 20th-Fox and Universal are currently launched.

which both 20th-Fox and Universal are currently launched.

Ad-pub topper is definitely opposed "to the type of personal appearance which begins in New York and ends there." "I'm against one-shot junkets," he said. "For the same amount of money, a star can go to numerous exchange cities with far better results."

suits."
Under Par's revamped operations, the studio is being notified months in advance of planned tours, Yo ungstein explained.
"We're giving the lot that much advance notice so that production officials can finish any picture advance notice so that production officials can finish any picture work in time for a clear schedule." he added. Marie Wilson, star in Par's "My Friend Irma." was freed for her present two-week trek on two-months' notice to the trek on two-months' notice to the studio.

Youngstein is already planning a junket for Bob Hope to help beat the drums for the comic's next film, "The Great Lover." Macdonald Carey, starred in "Song of Surrender," will come east to help Par in a big New England preem planned for the film. Current city-hopping by Corinne Calvet in advance of "Rope of Sand" is also an Instance of Par's new policy.

In another new project, Paramount is now engaged in an extensive mall campaign. Flackery sends literature to 17,500 exhibs weekly. Material describes Pareleases coming up and bally campaigns which have proved successful.

HOPE MAKES IT THIS TIME

'Death of a Salesman' To Be Filmed in N. Y.

Hollywood will get a brushoff in the filming of "Death of a Salesman." which Arthur Miller, author, and Elia Kazan, director, of the stage play, will shoot independently in N. Y.

Understood Lee J. Cobb, star of the legiter will play the same role the legiter, will play the same role in the film, stated to start late in autumn, with Kazan directing and Miller doing the screenplay.

E. M. Loew's Test Suit on Drive-Ins

Washington, Aug.

The drive-in theatre is not a pa-Interview in treatre is not a pa-tentable invention, Loew's Drive-In Theatres, Inc., declared last week in a reply filed with the U. S. Supreme Court. Loew's asked the high court to reject a petition by Park-In Theatres, Inc., that it hear arguments on a part that it hear arguments on an appeal in a test case over the refusal of Loew's to pay royalties.

E. M. Loew operates a chain of drive-ins running from Virginia up through New England. Originally he took out a license with up through New England. Originally he took out a license with Richard M. Hollingshead, Jr., who bullt the first drive-in in 1933 at Canden. N. J. Subsequently Loew decided it was not a bona fide invention and refused to pay further royalties.

fide Invention and refused to pay further royalties. Park-In (Hollingshead) won its suit in the trial court, but Loew obtained a reversal of this verdict in the 1st Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston. Several weeks ago Park-In asked the Supreme Court to decide once and for all whether the Hollingshead patents are valid and whether, in effect, all driveand whether, in enect, ail diversing theatres would be subject to royaltics. It pointed out that another Circuit Court has found in favor of Park-In in a somewhat similar case.

The Supreme Court will not detailed before October whether to similar case.

The Supreme Court will not decide before October whether to hear the case. In its reply brief, Loew asserted:

"Petitioner burdens the court with a confusing and interminable phantasmagoria of unwarranted alegations and unsound contentions.

"Hoilingshead had merely applied and utilized the most elementary and familiar principles and expedients of theatre arrangement, iong practiced and used in locating, terracing and alming ordinary theatre seats for good vision with relations to a stage or screen. The indoor theatre, long prior to Hoilingshead, commonly had the essential counterparts of everything along in the Hollingshead. essential counterparts of every-thing shown in the Hollingshead patent.

"An idea, such as the drive-in theatre, however new and useful, is not patentable and cannot impart patentability to means which are old or lacking in inventive genius."

Drive-Ins

Continued from page 4

eastern drive-ins to obtain better clearance, it is felt that the im-proved clearance problem will take proved clearance problem will take on national aspects with operators all through the country ready to take similar action for primary runs. Simon, who is handling the Moonlite and South Bend Auto Drive-in suits, now current in Chi federal district court, will seek first rederal district court, will seek rist run product for Rochester, N. Y., Ridge Pike, Pa., Philadelphia, and Buffalo drive-ins, all owned by Paul Wintneer, Cleveland. In addition, two other Buffalo outerles Delaware and Skyway, owned by Louis Drew and W. P. Rosenow, Louis Drew and W. P. Rosenow, will try to obtain better product.

Mpls. Drive-In Wins Early Pix Clearance

Minneapolis, Aug. 16.
One of this territory's drive-ins, the Duluth suburban Skyline, owned by Ted Mann and Charles Rubenstein, has finally crashed through the barriers imposed on early clearance for ozoners. Its demand for a 28-day run ahead of two nearby 56-day neighborhood houses and the Paramount circuit's downtown second-run Strand has been granted.

Throughout the territory until granted.

Throughout the territory until now, drive-ins have been playing far behind all conventional stands for the most part.

Small Pulling Out All the Stops On 'Black Magic'; Real Test of Ballyhoo

Another Motion in 290G M-G 'Expendable' Award

M-G 'Expendable' Award

St. Louis, Aug. 16.
Federal Judge George H. Moore is mulling over a motion filed by Mrs. Beulah Greenwalt Walcher, former Army nurse and the "Peggy" in "They Were Expendable," who recently won a $290,000 damage suit verdict from Loew's, Inc., to set aside his order for a new trial on the grounds the sum awarded was excessive.

A jury In Judge Moore's court fixed the amount of damages, based on Mrs. Walcher's contention that the film company invaded her privacy and falsely depicted her life without her permission. The picture was made from a book in which was also depicted Mrs. Walcher's career in the army and experiences during the fall of Batan. Defense counsel asked for a new trial on ground of the excessive verdict and, in granting it, Judge Moore said the sum probably was fixed as a result of "passion, prejudice and sympathy."

Mrs. Walcher, a former native, now resides in Denver.

Mrs. Walcher, a former native, now resides in Denver.

ROBSON AND WISE TEAM FOR OUTSIDE INDIE PIC

Hollywood, Aug. 16. Mark Robson, director of Scree plays' "Champion," and Robert Wise, who directed RKO's "Set-up," have joined in an Indie production unit. Each is slated to direct one film apiece.

Partnered in the venture are Phll Gersh, of the Jaffe agency, and Theron Warth, who will produce. Group is seeking financing.
Robson's pact with Samuel Goldwyn, as does Wise's 20th-Fox ticket, both permit outside deals.

Gardner Digs Down For Studio Equipment

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Ed Gardner is reported spending about $150,000 for film studio

ing about $150,000 for him studies equipment to be used on his motion picture production project in San Juan, Puerto Rico.
Equipment in that sector is scarce and antiquated. Producer must furnish his own sound, lighting and camera facilities.

Memph's Second Surprise For 'Brave'; Biz OK Too

For 'Brave'; Biz OK Too Memphis, Aug. 16.
Without any political repercussions, "Home of the Brave" wracked up a solid $14,000 in Its first week at the Malco theatre in Memphis. Pic's strong b.o. was further proof of Unlted Artists' contention that films with Negro themes can get good receptions in "doubtful territory."
Lloyd T. Binford, Memphis chief censor who formerly opposed the exhibition of pix with mixed casts, paved the way for "Home" by his surprise okay last week.

Plea for Non-Segregated Showing of 'Brave' Fails

Austin, Aug. 16. egated showing Austin, Aug. 16.

No non-segregated showing of "Home of the Brave" is in the offing here despite picketing of the Paramount by a small group of white men. This house does not have a separate section for ne-have a separate section for negroes.

The pickets who said they were representatives of the Austin Young Progressives, passed out handbills protesting the segregated showings of the film. The circular urged all "democratic citizens" to fill out an attached coupon addressed to Louis Novy, Austin manager for Interstate Circuit, urging him to arrange an cuit, urging him to arrange an unsegregated showing of the pic.

Rosenberg's Indie

Frank P. Rosenberg's indie unit, Colony Pictures, begins shooting in New York Oct. 4 on its initial pic, "Night Cry."

Howard Duff will play the principal role of a police lieutenant in the yarn about the Gotham police j

That old battiecry—"We've got to return to old-fashioned showmanship"—will get its prime test today (Wednesday) with the opening of Edward Small's "Black Magic" in a flock of keys. Producer has spent about $60,000 solely on exploitation and has pulled out the stops on every trick—no matter stops ... how corny — in the ... manual.

Small is counting on the wild bally to give the Orson Welles starrer good openings. Exploitation can't be expected to help much beyond that. After opening hive up to the picture itself and the start of the picture itself and the picture itse the word-of-mouth it gets, strong grosses on opening days add hundreds of thousands of lars to a /film's final potential.
Thus the trade will be watching carefully to see if 60G spent on real old-fashioned bally is a worth-white investment.

while investment.

Closest recent approach to the gaffs and gags on "Magic" was RKO exploiteer Terry Turner's wholesale efforts on Merlan Cooper's "Mighty Joe Young." Turner went all-out for an area-wide preem in New England, and was found to have hit the b.o. jackpot there when the returns were tallied. However, pic has done almost as well in other parts of the country, where there was much less exploitation effort.

That doesn't mean that the less exploitation effort.

That doesn't mean that the heavy plugging isn't considered worthwhile. A large portion of any exploitation must be considered aimed at exhibs rather than the filmgoing public. Thus reports of good business in premiere engagements—no matter how much was spent in filling the seats—has an important bearing in giving theatremen in other territories an urge to book the film and to pay higher rentals for it. This has much more to do with the final gross tally than the actual added patronage—no matter how large—at the ballied preems themselves. lled preems themselves.

2 Big Payoffs

Small has had two big stunts that have paid off with tremendous newspaper, radio and video space, the culmination coming last week the culmination coming last week with an eight-column banner head on page one of the New Orleans Item. Gags have received front page—and even editorial page—space in a couple dozen cities. There was also an 80-station Musullar and the state of the stat tual regional network show out of Cleveland and a 27-station Yankee tual regional network show out of Cleveland and a 27-station Yankee network airer out of Boston.

Most successful stunt has been the sending on tour of four hynotists. Each is covering seven or eight citles. Tieup is that Welles in the picture plays the famed hypnotist of history, Cagllostro. The mesmo workers have been hypnotizing newspapermen — literally and figuratively—to get the tons of space.

Business that got the New Orleans Item front page banner was a demonstration by one of the svengalis that he could make a confirmed smoker abhor tobacco. In Plitsburgh another of the beady-eyed guys drew space during the heat wave by causing a gal to walk out in the sun in a fur coat with her teeth chattering from cold.

Hynotists and Burled-Alives
In every city, of course, a United Artists field man has made

In every city, of course, a United Artists field man has made sure the tleup is clear between the hypnotists and the picture. The second stunt with which they have garnered space and time are two caravans each with a person buried alive under six feet of earth on a trailer-truck. This links with a buried allye sequence in the film allve under six feet of earth on a trailer-truck. This links with a buried allve sequence in the film.

Small has also received considerable publicity for "Magic" by contributing £1,000 ($4,000 of the currency he has frozen in England to maintenance of Shirley Mae France and her entourage. Sixteen-year-old gal is getting set for a try at swimming the English Channel. She's to enter and come out of the water in a bathing suit with "Black Magic" emblazoned across it. Plc appeared in Life mag last week showing her in the suit.

suit.
Four hypnotists Small has working for him are Howard Klein, James Grippo, Eugene Bernstein and John Gordon Spalding. Overall exploitation on the pic is being handled by William Danziger for Small and Mori Krushen, United Artists' exploitation chief. They have 25 field men working exclusively on the film.

L.A. Up Sharply; 'Neptune' Splashes Smart $56,000, 3 Spots, 'Young' Great 55G in 2, 'Hurricane' Good 43G in 4

Los Angeles, Aug. 16.

Firstrun biz this session is up sharply over last week, with four new bills teeing off. Best of these is "Mighty Joe Young." which is heading for great $55,000 in two theatres. "Neptune's Daughter' also is a smart entry with $56,000 looked for in three situations. "Slattery's Hurricane," playing in four houses, should hit good $43,000. "Once More, My Darling," in four spots also, shapes to reach pleasing $26,000. "Look for Silver Lining," third frame, should do $22,500, big, in three locations. "Great Dan Patch" is reaching for good $10,000 in final five days of second week, four spots.

four spots.

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This week
Beverly Hills, Downtown, Hawali,
Hollywood Music Halls (Prin-Cor)
(834; 902; 1,106; 512; 512; 55-$1)— (Great Dan Patch" (UA) and "Silent Conflict" (UA) (2d wk-5 days). Okay $10,000. Last week, nice $25,000.

nice $25,000.

Chinese. Loew's State, Loyola,
Uptown (FWC) (2,048; 2,404; 1,248;
1,719; 60-$1) — "Slattery's Hurricane" (20th) and "I Lived TroLong" (Indie). Good $43,000. Last week, "You're My Everything' (20th) and "Temptation Harbor"
(Mono) (3d wk-4 days), $17,500.

Downtown, Hollywood, Wiltern (WB) (1,757; 2,756; 2,344; 60-$1)—"Look for Silver Lining" (WB) (3d wk). Okay $22,500. Last week, good $36,300.

wKI. Okay $22,500. Last week, good $36,300.

Expytian, Los Angeles, Wilshire (FWC) (1,538; 2,097; 2,296; 60-$1)

— "Neptune's Daughter" (M-G). Strong $56,000. Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G) (3d wk-4 davs), $12,300.

Orpheum (D'town) (2,210; 60-$1)

— "Gangster" (Mono) and "Dil-linger" (Mono) reissues). Good $10,000 here with $17,000 in 4 day-daters. Last week, "Not Wanted" (FC) and "Loveable Cheat" (FC) (2d wk-8 days), good $12,500 here, with $24,000 in 6 situations.

Pantages, Hillstreet (RKO) (2,812; 2,890; 50-$1)—"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) and "Make Mine Laughs" (RKO). Great $55,000. Last week, "Mr. Soft Touch" (Col) and "Barbary Pirate" (Col) (2d wk), $21,900.

Los Angeles, Hollywood Paramounts (F&M) (3,399; 1,451; 68,81)

Last week, "Mr. Soft Touch" (Col) and "Barbary Pirate" (Col) (2d wk), $21.900.

Los Angeles, Hollywood Paramounts (F&M) (3,398; 1,451; 60-$1) — "Great Gatsby" (Par) and "Ringside" (SG) (3d wk). Fair $17,000.

Last week, $21.300.

United Artists, Ritz. Studio City, Vogue (UA-FWC) (2,100; 1,370; 880; 885; 60-$1)—"Once More, My Darling" (U) and "Sky Liner" (SG). Good $18.500. Last week, "Blue Lagoon" (U) and "Hold That Baby" (Mono) (2d wk-6 days), $16,300.

Esquire (Rosener) (685; 84-$1.20)—"Never Give Sucker Break" (Indie) and "Bank Dick" (Indie) (resusues) (3d wk). Good $3,700. Last week, $3.400.

Fine Arts (FWC) (679; $1.20-2.40) "Red Shoes" (EL) (33d wk). Oke $5.000. Last week, $5.400.

Four Star (UA-WC) (900; 74-$1) —"Lost Boundaries" (FC) (2d wk). Holding at $7,000. Last week, stout $9.500.

Laurel (Roesner) (890; 85)—

$9.500. Laurel (Roesner) (890; 85). "Quartet" (EL) (12th wk). Ne. et" (EL) (12th wk). Neat Last week, excellent $5,-

'Everything' Leads All In Omaha, Tall $11,000

Omaha, Aug. 16.
"You're My Everything" shapes fast $11,000 at Paramount. "Great Gatsby" looks only good at Orpheum. Second week of "Barkleys of Broadway" looms nearly as stout as first at State.

of Broadway" looms narly as stout as first at State.

Estimates for This Week
Paramount (Tristates) (2,800; 16-65) — "You're My Everything" (20th). Beating bad weather for fancy $10,000. Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G), $10,500.

Orpheum (Tristates) (3,000; 16-65)—"Great Gatsby" (Par) and "Tucson" (20th). Good $10,000. Last week, "Bride of Vengeance" (Par) and "Daughter of West" (FC, $9,500.

Brandels (RKO) (1,500; 16-65)—"Brandels (RKO) (1,500; 16-65)—"Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col) and "Air Hostess" (Col). Nice $16,000, better than average for past month. Last week, "Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) (reissues) and "Seal Island" (RKO), $8,000.

State (Goldberg) (865; 16-65)—"Barkleys of Broadway" (M-G) (2d wk). Big $4,500. Last week, $5,600.

Broadway Grosses

Estimated Total Gross
This Week$582,000
(Based on 18 theatres)
Last Year$590,000
(Based on 14 theatres.)

'Joe Young' Giant $29,000, Det. Ace

Detroit, Aug. 16.

Mighty bally for "Mighty Joe Young" is bringing terrific session to Palms. Otherwise biz is spotty with holdovers better than new entries. "Too Late for Tears" at United Artists, and "Scene of Crime" at Downtown, are both slim.

United Artists, and "Scene of Crime" at Downtown, are both slim.

Estimates for This Week
Fox (Fox-Mich) (5,000; 70-95)—
"You're My Everything" (20th) and "Ringside" (SG) (2d wk). Fair $20,000. Last week, $26,000.

Michigan (United Detroit) (4,000; 70-95)—"Great Gatsby" (Par) and "Special Agent" (Par) (2d wk). Oke $17,000. Last week, nice $24,000.

Palms (UD) (2,900; 70-95)—"Mighty Joe Voung" (RKO) and "Mighty Joe Voung" (RKO) and "Night Unto Night" (WB) (2d wk), trim $15,000.

Last week, "Love Happy" (UA) and "Night Unto Night" (WB) (2d wk), trim $15,000.

United Artists (UD) (2,000; 70-95)—"Late for Tears" (UA) and "Crime Doctor's Diary" (Col). Slim $11,000. Last week, "Home of Brave" (UA) and "Singing Dude" (UA) (3d wk), $15,000.

Madison (UD) (1,800; 70-95)—"Massacer River" (Mono) and "Bomba" (Mono). Fair $12,000.

Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) and "Hellfire" (WB) (3d wk), fancy $10,000.

Adams (Balaban) (1,700; 70-95)—
Adams (Balaban) (1,700; 70-95)—

$10,000.

Adams (Balaban) (1,700; 70-95)—
"Any Number Play" (M-G) and
"Pack Up Troubles" (M-G) (reissue) (2d wk). Good $12,000. Last week, big $16,000.

Downtown (Balaban) (2,900; 7095)—"Scene of Crime" (M-G) and "Unknown Guest" (Mono). Slow
$9,000. Last week, "Illegal Entry"
(U) and "Omoo" (SG), $7,000.

Entry' Mild $9,000 In Denver; 'Jennie' $18,000

Denver, Aug. 16.

"Look For Silver Lining" is topping the town this week, playing at the Broadway and two drive-ins. It will get a fourth stanza at the Broadway. "Portrait of Jennie" shapes good at Denver and Esquire. "Illegal Entry" is only fair in two spots.

shapes good at Denver and Esquire.
"Illegal Entry" is only fair in two spots.

Estimates for This Week
Broadway (Wolfberg) (1,500; 3574)—"Silver Lining" (WB) (3d wk), day-date with East, West drive-ins.
Fair $6,500. Holds again. Last week, nice $7,500.

Denham (Cockrill) (1,750; 35-70)
—"Great Gatsby" (Par) (2d wk).
Down to $8,500. Last week, good $10,500.

Denver (Fox) (2,525; 35-74)—
"Portrait of Jennie" (SRO) and
"Air Hostess" (Col), day-date with Esquire. Nice $15,000. Last week,
"Home of Brave" (UA) and "CMan" (FC), big $18,000.

East Drive-In (Wolfberg) (1,000 Cars; 74c)—"Silver Lining" (WB), also Broadway and West Drive-In.
Fine $9,000. Last week, subsequent-run.
Esquire (Fox) (742; 35-74)—
"Portrait of Jennie" (SRO) and
"Air Hostess" (Col), day-date with Denver. Good $3,000. Last week,
"Home of Brave" (UA) and "CMan" (FC), same.
Orpheum (RKO) (2,600; 35-74)—
"Neptune's Daughter" (M-G) (2d wk) Okay $11,000. Last week, big $19,000.

$19,000.

Paramount (Fox) (2,200; 35-74)—
"Illegal Entry" (U) and "Fighting Fools" (Mono), day-date with Weber. Mild $7,000. Last week, "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Hellfire" (Rep), $65,500.

ber. Mild $7,000. Last week, "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Hellfire" (Rep) $6,500.

Webber (Fox) (750; 35-74)—"Illegal Entry" (U) and "Fighting Fools" (Mono), also Paramount. Slim $2,000 or less. Last week, "Home of Brave" (UA) and "C-Man" (FC) $2,200.

West Drive-In (Wolfberg) (1,000 cars; 74c)—"Silver Lining" (WB). also Broadway and the East Drive-In. Nice $8,500. Last week, subsequent-run.

Mont'l; 'Beach' $15,000

Montreal, Aug. 16.
Biz shapes mildish here despite break in heat wave and new pix. Outstanding is "Stratton Story" at the Princess. "Girl From Johes Beach" looks okay at Palace.

Estimates for This Week
Loew's (C.T.) (2,855; 40-65)—
"Fountainhead" (WB) (2d wk). Down to $9,000 after big first at $14,500.

Capitol (C.T.) (2,412; 34-60)—
"Sand" (20th). Good $12,000. Last week, "House of Strangers" (20th) (2d wk), $8,000.

Palace (C.T.) (2,625; 34-60)—"Girl Jones Beach" (WB). Okay $15,000. Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G) (2d wk), $8,000.

Princess (C.T.) (2,131; 34-60)—
"Stratton Story" (M-G). Sock $13,000. Last week, "Any Number Play" (Par) (2d wk), $7,000.

Imperial (C.T.) (1,639; 26-45)—
"Flaxy Martin" (WB) and "Christopher Blake" (WB). Mild $5,000.

Last week, "Criss Cross" (U) and "Blondie Jackpot" (Col), $9,500.

Orpheum (C.T.) (1,040; 34-60)—
"Late for Tears" (UA) and "Leave It Henry" (UA). Nice $6,000. Last week, "Lady Burlesque" (UA) and "Guest in House" (UA) (reissues), $5,000.

Abbott-Costello Loud $12,000, D.C.

Washington, Aug. 16.

Sole standout in a very dull week here is "Great Sinner" at Loew's Palace, which looks good despite crix pannings. However, "Great Gatsby" opened equally well there last week, but fizzled out to sag well below expectations. "Abott-Costello Meet Killer" will be nice at Keith's.

Estimates for This Week
Capitol (Loew's) (2,434; 44-85)—
"One False Step" (U) plus vaude. Mild $19,000. Last week, "Good Old Summertime" (M-G) plus vaude (2d wk), $21,000.

Keith's (RKO) (1,939; 44-80)—
"Meet Killer Karloff" (U). Better than average $12,000 for this new Abbott-Costello here. Last week, "Lady Gambles" (U) (2d wk), fair $7,500.

Metropolitan (WB) (1,163; 44-

Metropolitan (WB) (1,163; 44-80)—"One Last Fling" (WB). Skimpy $5,000. Last week, "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) (2d run), okay

$6,000.

Palace (Loew's) (2,370; 44-74)—
"Great Sinner" (M-G). Leads the town at hefty $22,000. Last week, "Great Gatsby" (Par). disappointing $19,000, despite brisk start.

Playhouse (Lopert) (432; 50-85)
—"One Woman's Story" (U) (2d wk). Holding nicely with $4,800 after solid $6,000 last week. Stays on.

Warner (WR) (2,184, 44-74).

on.

Warner (WB) (2,164; 44-74)—
"Lust for Gold" (Col). Flimsy $13,000. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) (2d wk), fair $11,000.

Trans-Lux (T-L) (654; 44-80)—
"Home of Brave" (UA) (2d wk).
Fast $10,000 after record-breaking $15,000 for opener. Stays on indef.

'Edward' Solid $15,000 In L'ville; 'Steal' Big 12G, 'Gold' Slight 6G Louisville, Aug. 16.

Louisville, Aug. 16.

Brace of solid pix in town this week, and both are garnering nice biz. Number one is "Edward, My Son." at State, shaping plenty strong, while "Big Steal," at Rialto, also is healthy. National is perking, with lineup of seven standard vaude acts, and dual film bill.

Estimates for This Week
Mary Anderson (People's) (1,400; 45-65)—"Lust for Gold" (Col). Modest $6,000. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) (2d wk), okay $7,000.
National (Standard) (2,400; 50-65)—"Lost Tribe" (Col) and "Shut Big Mouth" (Col) (reissue) with 7-act vaude bill onstage. Likely good $7,500. Last week, "Lovable Cheat" (FC) and "Hit Parade" (Rep) (reissues) plus vaude topped by Toni Harper, $8,000.

Rialto (Fourth Avenue) (3,000; 45-65)—"Big Steal" (RKO) and "Bad Boys" (Mono). Nice $12,000.
Last week, "House of Strangers" (20th). mild $9,000.

State (Loew's) (3,000; 45-65)—"Edward, My Son" (M-G) and

State (Loew's) (3,000; 45-65)— "Edward, My Son" (M-G) and "Caught" (M-G). Rating top atten-tion this week at solid $15,000. Last week, "Good Old Summertime" (M-G) and "Slightly French" (Col), $14,000.

Strand (FA) (1,000; 45-65)—"Red Canyon" (U) and "Amazon Quest" (FC). Likely good $6,000. Last week, "Bride of Vengeance" (Par) and "Strange Case Mrs. Crane" (EL), $5,000.

'Stratton' Sturdy 13G, Mont'l; 'Beach' $15,000 Vaude Boosts 'Quietly' To Standout Biz in Hub, $26,000; 'Lucasta' Okay 32G

Key City Grosses

Estimated Total Gross
This Week.....$2,605,000
(Based on 24 cities, 194 theatres, chiefly first runs, including N. Y.).
Total Gross Same Week
Last Year....$2,764,000
(Based on 22 cities and 202 theatres.)

'Feeling' $30,000 In Hotcha Philly

Philadelphia, Aug. 16.
Break in the record heat is being reflected in firstrun biz here, with weekend trade generally kited. "It's Great Feeling" is pacing the town at Mastbaum, but not smash. "Not Wanted" looms smash at smaller Stanton. "Manhandled" is not so hot at Aldine.

Estimates for This Week
Aldine, WB) (1 303: 50-99)

Estimates for This Week
Aldine (WB) (1,303; 50-99) —
"Manhandled" (Par). Not so hot $8,500. Last week, "Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) (reissues), nice $10,000.
Boyd (WB) (2,360; 50-99)—"Great Sinner" (M-G) (2d wk). Okay $18,500 after big $25,000 opener.
Weeks (WB) (2,70), 50,00)

Earle (WB) (2,700; 50-99) — "Home of Brave" (UA) (2d wk). Hefty $24,000 after great $32,000 opener.

Hefty $24,000 after great $32,000 opener.

Fox (20th) (2,259; 50-99)—"You're My Everything" (20th) (3d wk). Snappy $13,000 in five days. Last week, $18,000.

Goldman (Goldman) (1,200; 50-99)—"Any Number Play" (M-G) (4th wk). Fair $8,500. Last week, $10,000.

Karlton (Goldman) (1,000; 50-99)—"Great Gatsby" (Par) (3d wk). Passable $9,000. Last week, $12,000. Mastbaum (WB) (4,360; 50-99)—"Great Feeling" (WB). Nice $30,-000. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) (3d wk). $14,500. Stanley (WB) (2,950; 50-99)—"Anna, Lucasta" (Col) (2d wk). Down to $16,000 after neat $24,000 take-off.

Stanton (WB) (1,475; 50-99)—"Not Wanted" (FC). Big $17,000. Last week, "Savage Splendor" (RKO) and "Seal Island" (RKO) (2d wk), $8,500.

Trans-Lux (T-L) (500; $2,40-$1,20) "Red Shoes" (EL) (34th wk). Record run getting $4,500. Last week, $4,700.

'Everything' Tops Port., Great $17,000, 'Oz' 14G

Portland, Ore., Aug. 16.

"You're My Everything" at Oriental and Paramount is doing great biz along with "Wizard of Oz" on reissue at the Broadway. This is the first time a reissue has played a J. J. Parker house. "Outpost in Morocco" looks okay at Mayfair.

Estimates for This Week

Broadway (Parker) (1,832; 50-85)
—"Wizard of Oz" (M-G) (reissue)
and "Castaway" (Rep). Terrific $14,000. Last week, "Fountainhead" (WB) and "One Last Fling" (WB) (2d wk), $6,600.

Mayfair (Parker) (1,500; 50-85)—
"Outpost in Morocco" (UA) and
"Gay Amigo" (UA). Okay $6,000.
Last week, "Manhandled" (Par) and "Special Agent" (Par), siim

$4,000.

Oriental (H-E) (2,000; 50-85)—

"You're My Everything" (20th) and

"The Fan" (20th), day-date with Paramount. Excellent $5,000. Last week, "Great Gatsby" (Par) and

"Daughter of West" (Rep.), $3,200.

Orpheum (H-E) (1,750; 50-85)—
"Not Wanted" (FC) and "Man About House" (20th). Good $9,000.
Last week, "Great Gatsby" (Par)
and "Daughter of West" (Rep), $7,-600.

Paramount (H-E) (3,400; 50-85)—
"You're My Everything" (20th) and
"The Fan" (20th), also Oriental.
Big $12,000 or near. "Gunga Din"
(IKO) and "Lost Patrol" (RKO) (reissues), nice $7,500.
United Artists (Parker) (895; 5085)—"Secret Garden" (M-G). Mild
$6,500. Last week. "Stratton Story"
(M-G) (4th wk), big $6,700.

Sisk Building Texas Houses
Lewisville, Texas.
Construction started here by M.
A. Sisk of a 650-seater including

Boston, Aug. 16.

Biz is shaping up a little better around town this stanza. Still leading the pack is the RKO Boston in the second week of new vaude policy with "Follow Me Quletly." Take One False Step." at Memorial; "You're My Everything," at Met, and "Anna Lucasta" at Orpheum and State should wind up fairly strong.

Estimates for ""."

Astor (Jaycox) (1,200; 40-85)—
"Lost Boundaries" (FC) (5th wk).
Not bad $8,000. Last week, nice $9,500.

Boston (RKO) (3,200; 55-85)—
"Follow Me Quietly" (RKO) plus vaude with Artie Dann. Sock $26, 000. Last week, "Roughshod" (RKO) and preem of Palace vaude, $30,000.

Fenway (NET) (1,373; 40-85)—
"Massacre River" (Mono) and "Spe-cial Agent" (Par). Mild $5,000. Last week, "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Alimony" (EL) (2d wk), $4,500.

(WB) and "Allmony" (EL) (2d wk), $4,500.

Mayflower (ATC) (700; 40-85)...
"Not Wanted" (FC) (3d wk). Fair $5,000 after $6,200 for second.
Memorial (RKO) (3,500; 40-85)...
"One False Step" (U) and "My Brother's Keeper" (EL). Nice $20,000. Last week, "Doolins of Oklahoma" (Col) and "Conspiracy in Teheran" (Indie), $23,000.
Metropolitan (RET) (4,376; 40-85)...
"You're My Everything" (20th) and "Flaming Fury" (Rep). Okay $20,000. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) and "One Last Fling" (WB) and "One Last Fling" (WB) and "One Last Fling" (WB). All (100) (

Heat Melts Mpls. B.O. But 'Summertime' Warm $17,000; 'Lady' Oke 10G

$17,000; 'Lady' Oke 10G

Minneapolis, Aug. 16.
Grosses continue to suffer from sizzling heat here. Trio of major newcomers boasts at least enough overall strength despite this to chalk up a respectable boxoffice showing. "In the Good Old Summertime" is topper while "Great Gatsby" also is nice. Holdovers are more in evidence again than recently.

Estimates for This Week
Lyrle (Par) (1,000; 50-70) —
"Colorado Territory" (WB) (m.o.).
Moved hère following brisk trade at State. Healthy $5,200. Last week, "Outpost in Morocco" (UA) (2d wk), neat $5,000.

Radio City (Par) (4,000; 50-70)—
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G).
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G).
"Bulling them in for good $16,000.

RKO-Orpheum (RKO) (2,800; 50-70)—
"Lady Gambles" (U). Okay $10,000 in prospect. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB), neat $12,500.

RKO-Pan (RKO) (1,600; 50-70)—
"Silver Lining" (RKO) (m.o.).
Rolling at nice $7,000. Last week, "Not Wanted" (PC), good $8,500.

State (Par) (2,300; 50-70)—
"Great Gatsby" (Par). Brisk $13.900 likely. Last week, "Colorado Territory" (WB), $12,000.

EVERYTHING' LOFTY $10,500 IN TORONTO

$10,500 IN TOKONIU

Toronto, Aug. 16.

"You're My Everything" is topping the town with big Shea week. Fourth week of "Home of Brave" still is strong. "Edward, My Son" is also passably good.

Estimates for This Week.

Downtown, Glendale, Scarboro, State (20th) (1,059, 955, 698, 694; 36-60)—"Tarzan's Magic Fountain (RKO) and "My Dog Rusty" (Col). Okay $10,000. Last week, "Hell-fre" (Rep) and "Hold That Baby" (Mono), good $12,000.

Imperial (FP) (3,373; 40-70)—"House of Strangers" (20th) (2d wk). Fine $8,000 after last week's husky $11,000.

Loew's (Loew) (2,096; 40-70)—"Neptune's Daughter" (M-G) (3d (Continued on page 24)

Despite Muggy Weather, Chi Stout; 'My Baby' Terrif $25,000, 'Lining' With Eckstine Socko 70G, 'Crime' 18G

Chicago, Aug. 16.

Despite muggy weather first part of the week and All-Star football game Friday (12). Loop film grosses are holding up well. World preem are holding up well. World preem are holding up well. World preem some the first part of "Yes Sir, That's My Baby" at Roosevelt attended by film celebs rocketed the Roosevelt to best take this year with glant $25,000 in sight. "Silver Lining" at the Chicago hypoed by Billy Eckstine p.a. is pushing up to sock $70,000. "Scene of Crime" at United Artists looks nity $18,000. "Doolins of Oklahoma" and "Lost Tribe" at the Garrick is shaping to pert $8,000. Holdovers appear the strongest in months, with "Mighty Joe Young" at Grand racking up lush $18,000 for second round. "Calamity Jane" at Palace looks trim $14,000. Second frame of "You're My Everything" boosted by George Jessel and Kitty Kallen topping stageshow is heading for crisp $45,000 at Oriental. "Good Old Summertime" at State-Lake is sturdy with $17,000.

Estimates for This Week Chicage (B&K) (3,900; $50-89) — "Silver Lining" (WB) with Billy Eckstine in person. Sock $70,000. Last week, "Take One False Step" (I) with Dennis Day unit onstage, $88,000.

Garrick (B&K) (900; $50-89) — "Pooline of Oklahoms" and "Pooline o

8,000.

Garriek (B&K) (900; 50-98) —

Boolins of Oklahoma" and "Lost

Tribe" (Col). Okay $8,000. Last teek, "Movie Crazy" (Indie) (re ssue) (2d wk), $6,000.

Grand (RKO) (1,500; 50-98) —

Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) (2d tk). Sensational $18,000. Last reek, $25,000.

reck. $25,000.
Oriental (Essaness) (3,400; 50-8) — "You're My Everything" 20th) with George Jessel and (itty Kallen heading vaude (2d (k). Smart $45,000. Last weck,

wix. Smart $45,000. Last week, $36,500. Palace (RKO) (2,500; 50-98) — "Calamity Jane" (U) and "Cheated the Law" (20th) (2d wk). Nifty $14,000. Last week, $20,000. Raito (indie) (1,700; 50-98) — "Miracle of Life" (indie) (2d wk). Strong $10,000. Last week, $11,900. Roosevelt (B&K) (1,500; 50-98)— "Yes Sir. That's My Baby" (U) World preem set this one off with flying colors for best gross this year here at $25,000 likely. Last week, "Great Dan Patch" (UA) (2d wk), $7,500. Selwyn (Shubert) (1,000; 1.20-240)—"Red Shoes" (EL) (34th wk). Holding well at $6,400 sighted. Last week, $6,800. State-Lake (B&K) (2,700; 50-98)—"Good Old Summertime" (M-G). 2d wk), Bright $17,000. Last week, $23,000. United Artists (B&K) (1,700; 50-98) — "Scene of Crime" (M-G). The service of Crime (M-

Woods (Essaness) (1,073; 98) —
"Champlon" (UA) (5th wk).
Staunch $13,000. Last week,

World (indie) (587; 80)—"Bank Dick" (Indie) and "My Little Chickadee" (Indie) (reissues) (3d wk), Excellent $4,500. Last week,

Lucasta' Dull $8,000 In Indpls.; 'Strangers' 9G

Indpls.; 'Strangers' 96

First Indianapolis, Aug. 16.
First run film biz, which has been getting better here, has stubbed its toe this week. Steaming heat and Sunday cloudburst are holding down all grosses to moderate levels, "Girl from Jones Beach," at Circle, is topper. "Anna Lucasta," at Loew's and "House of Strangers," at Indiana are pulling less than expected, both being slow.

Estimates for This Week Circle (Gamble-Dolle) (2,800; 4-65)—"Girl Jones Beach" (WB). Oke $11,500, Last week. "Blocke" (WB). Distall" (RKO) add "Blackie's Chinese Venture" (Col.), $9,000.
Indiana (G-D) (3,300; 44-65)—"House of Strangers" (20th) and "Bad Boy" (Mono). Slow $9,000. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) and "One Last Filng" (WB), nice $13,000.

$13,000. Last Fing" (WB), nice $15,000. Loew's (Loew's) (2,427; 44-65)—

"has Lucasta" (Ce)) and "Lone 'solo and His Lady" (Co). Dull $3,000. Last week. "Any Number (Co), dand "Secret St. ives" (Co), dandy $14,000. Lyrie (G-D) (1,600; 44-65)—

"Massacre River" (Mono) Fair 35,500. Last week, "Red Menace" (Rep) and "Flaming Fury" (Rep), $3,000.

Estimates Are Net

Film gross estimates as re-ported herewith from the variported nerewith from the vari-ous key cities, are net, i.e., without the 20% tax. Distribu-tors share on net take, when playing percentage, hence the estimated figures are net in-

The parenthetic admission prices, however, as indicated, include the U. S. amusement tax.

Heat Bops St. Loo; 'Gatsby' $16,000

St. Louis, Aug. 16.

Hot humid weather over weekend is sloughing trade at big firstruns here this round. "Great Gatsby" looks to grab biggest share of mild pickings at the midtown Missouri. "You're My Everything" is just okay at the St. Louis.

Estimates for This Week Ambassador (F&M) (3,000; 50-75)—"Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Lust for Gold" (C01) (m.o.). Okay $9,000. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) and "Adventure Baltimore" (RKO), same.

Loew's (Loew) (3,172; 50-75)—Any Number Play" (M-G) and "Boston Blackie's Chinese Adventure" (C01) (2d wk). Down to $14-000 following sock $21,000 first session.

Missouri (F&M) (3,500; 50-75)—("Great Gatsby" (Par) and "Bride of Vengeance" (Par). Good $16,000 or near. Last week, "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "Green Promise" (RKO) (2d wk), $9,500.

St. Louis (F&M) (4,000; 50-75)—"You're My Everything" (20th) and "One Last Fling" (WB). Okay $14,000. Last week, "Lust for Gold" (C01) and "Massacre River" (Mono), $13,000.

'Young' Wow $30,000 In Frisco; 'Lining' Rousing 25G, 'Sinner' Good 20G

San Francisco, Aug. 16.
Weekend Moose Lodge parade is not keeping tourists from spending, with the result that many spots are booming this stanza. Standout is "Mighty Joe Young" with terrific certion at Coldon Cate Also speech pooming this stanza. Standout is "Mighty Joe Young" with terrific session at Golden Gate. Also smash is "Silver Lining" at Paramount. "Great Sinner" looms lusty at Warfield. This strong, new product is hurting many holdovers, bulk of these showing sharp dips from first rounds.

Estimates for This Week
Golden Gate (RKO) (2,844; 60-85)—"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) and "Make Mine Laughs" (RKO). "And "Walley of Sun" (RKO) (relissues), $11,000.

Fox (FWC) (4,651; 60-95)—"You're My Everything" (20th) and "Hold Baby" (Mono) (2d wk). Off sharply to $10,000. Last week, good $22,000.

Warfield (FWC) (2,656; 60-85)—

2,000. Warfield (FWC) (2,656; 60-85)-Warneld (FWC) (2,050; 00-65)— "Great Sinner" (M-G) and "For-gotten Women" (Mono). Lofty $20,000. Last week, "Good Old Summertime" (M-G) and "Temp-tation Harbor" (Mono) (3d wk), fair

$10,500.

Paramount (Par) (2,646; 60-85)—
"Silver Lining" (WB) and "House Across Street" (WB). Sunsah $25,000. Last week, "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) and "One Last Fling" (WB)

(2d wk), okay $13,000. St. Francis (Par) (1,400; 60-85)— "Wizard of Oz" (M-G) (reissue) (4th wk). Off to $6,500. Last week,

"Wizard of to $6.500. Last week, sock $8.000.

Orphoum (No. Coast) (2.448; 55-85)—"Calamity Jane" (U) (2d wk). Down to thin $4.500 in 5 days. Last week, pleasing $15.000.

United Artists (No. Coast) (1.207; 55-85)—"Great Dan Patch" (UA) (2d wk). Sagging to slim $9.000 in 5 days. Last week, oke $6.500.

Esquire (No. Coast) (955; 55-85)—"Passionnelle" (Indie) and "Torment" (Indie). Big $8.000. Last week, "Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U) and "Rim of Canyon" (Col) (m.o.) good $4.800.

Clay (Roesner) (400; 65-85)—"Fanny" (Indie) (3d wk). Good $2.500. Last week, $2,700.

'Brimstone' Robust 10G, Seattle; 'Lucasta' 11G

Dismal takings loom this week in most spots, with plethora of holdovers being blamed. "Brim-stone" is best of newcomers at Coliseum. "Anna Lucasta" shapes disappointing at Orpheum.

Estimates for This Week

Blue Mouse (H-E) (800; 50-84)—
"Not Wanted" (FC) and "Flaming Fury" (Rep) (3d wk). Fair $2,500 in 6 days after sweet $4,200 last ses-

6 days after sweet $4,200 last session.

Coliseum (H-E) (1,877; 50-84)—
"Brinstone" (Rep) and "Trail Yukon" (Mono) Fine $10,000 or near. Last week, "Reign Terror" (EL) and "Sleeping Car" (EL), $9,300

(EL) and "Sleeping Car" (EL), $9,800.

Fifth Avenue (H-E) (2,349; 50-84)
"Summer Time" (M-G) and "Arctic Manhunt" (U) (2d wk). Great $9,000 after $13,700 last week.
Liberty (Theatres, Inc.) (1,650;
50-84)—"Stratton Story" (M-G)
(6th wk). Big $6,000 in 6 days. Last week, $7,600.

Music Hall (H-E) (2,200; 50-84)—"My Everything" (20th) and "Forgotten Women" (Mono) (2d wk).
Okay $6,000 after nice $9,100 last stanza.

Okay $6,000 after nice $9,100 last stanza.

Orpheum (H-E) (2,600; 50-84)—
"Anna Lucasta" (Col) and "Devil's Henchmen" (Col). NSH $11,000.
Last week, "Silver Llning" (WB) and "Last Fling" (WB) (2d wk), oke $7,700.

Palomar (Sterling) (1,350; 40-65)—"Lust for Gold" (Col) (2d run), plus dance school revue onstage. Nice $7,000. Last week, "Champion" (UA) (2d run), and stageshow, $5,500.

Paramount (H-E) (3,039; 50-84)—"Africa Screams" (UA) and "Hellfire" (Rep) (2d wk). Down to $5,000. Last week, good $11,300.

'Hurricane' Lusty $12,000 in Prov.

Old practice of blaming heat vaves for drop in biz on main stem was definitely discarded during past week hereabouts. The only way to get cool for a large segment of the pop was in the theatres, and they flocked in. Weekend drop in temp and threatening rain kept the usual beach crowd at home. "Any Number Can Play" at Loew's State shapes nice while Majestic looks sturdy with "Slattery's Hurricane." "Anna Lucasta"

looks weakest of holdovers.

looks weakest of holdovers.

Estimates for This Week

Albee (RKO) (2,200; 44-65)—
"Not Wanted" (PC) and "Amazon Quest" (Indie) (2d wk. Rich $12,00. First week $17,000.

Majestic (Fay) (2,200; 44-65)—
"Slattery's Hurricane" (201h) and
"Ringside" (SG). Nice $12,000.
Last week. "Silver Lining" (WB), great $18,000 and switch to Carlton for second downlown sesh.

great $18,000 and switch to Carlion for second downtown sesh.

State (Loew) (3,200: 44-65)—
"Any Number Play" (M-G) and 'Gay Amigo' (M-G). Gable always favorite hereabouts and so stout $21,000 is likely. Last week. "Africa Screams" (UA) and "Secret Garden" (M-G), good $16,000.

"Yanna (Silverman: (2,200: 44-65)—"Anna Lucasta" (Col) and 'Devil's Henchman" (Col) (2d wk). Oke $9,500. First week, $13,000.

B'way Still Spotty Despite Cool Wave; 'Hurricane'-Knight-Caesar OK $80,000, 'Lucasta'-Tucker-Gate Quartet Mild 61 G

Despite rain on three successive days and breaking of record heat wave last week, six new bills are failing to boost Broadway firstrun business as much as expected this session. The new entiries had jo contend with soaring temperatures as well as heavy downpours for three days, starting last Thursday (11). Much cooler weather over the weekend was being reflected by a boxoffice upbeat Sunday and Monday, but this seemingly, was not enough to overcome the soaring mercury last week, when it went over 95 degrees three days in a row, tapering to around 90 on Friday.

"Slattery's Hurricane" with the property of the surface of the surfa

In a row, tapering to around 90 on Friday.

"Slattery's Hurricane." with bright stage array topped by Evelyn Knight, Sid Caesar and the Pitchmen at the Roxy is the strongest newcomer. Combo looks to reach good $80,000 in first week. Elsewhere, biz for new bills is mostly lagging.

Definitely disappointing is "Anna Lucasta," with supporting stage bill headed by Golden Gate Quartet, Tommy Tucker band, Naucy Donovan. It is only reaching mild $61,000 or less at the Capitol. "Too Late For Tears" also is slow with $17,000 or under at Mayfair.

Strand continues Ilmping along

Late For Tears" also is slow with $17,000 or under at Mayfair.

Strand continues Ilmping along with its straight-film policy and looks only $26,000 for first week of "it's a Great Feeling." Bandbox Rialto is doing all right with horror combo of "Body Snatcher" and "Bride of Death" at $10,000.

Despite having one of its first big firstruns in "Ma, Pa Kettle." Palace vaudfilm array this session is suffering from too nuch heat It will be only $19,000. one of slower weeks at house.

"The Window" is holding very well with $20,000 in second Victoria week. "Rope of Sand" with Tex Beneke band and Vic Damone topping stageshow is off sharply at $83,000 but still big in second Paramount frame. "Good Old Summertime" also is down considerably, albeit continuing great with Hall.

Both "Mighty Joe Young" and mertime also is down considerably, albeit continuing great with $145.000 in second round at Music Hall.

Both "Mighty Joe Young" and "Come to Stable" are staying up nicely in third sessions. Former shapes to get $21.000 at Criterion while "Stable" is heading for $27,000 at Rivoli.

Estimates for This Week
Astor (City Inv.) (1,300; 60-$1.50)
—"Lost Boundaries" if C' (7th wk.) Holding up in remarkable style at $21,000 or near after smash $24,000 for sixth round. Stays on indefinitely.

Bijou (City Inv.) (589; $1.20-$2.400—"Red Shoes" (EL) (4340 wk.) Staying powers shown by this long-distancer, picking up to $9,700 via cooler weather after fine $9,200 last week. Continues.

Capitol (Loew's) (4,820; 80-$1.50)
—"Anna Lueasta" (Col) with Tommy Tucker orch, Golden Gate Quartet, Nancy Donovan, others, onstage. First week looks mild $61,000 or less. Holds. Last week, "Secne of Crime" (M-G) and Noro Morales orch, Mary Small, others, onstage (2d wk.) down to slim $44.000.

Criterion (Moss) (1,700; 50-$1.75)
—"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) (3d

000.

Criterion (Moss) (1,700; 50-$1.75)

"Mighty Joe Young" (RKO) (3d)

kt) Holding very nicely at $21,000 or close after big $27,000 for second session. Goes into fourth week, with "Sword in Desert" (U)

"Special Agent" (Par) opens Saturday (20).

"Too Late for Tears" (UA). Just doing passable $17,000 or less but holding. Last week, "Big Steal" (RKO) '55th wk), fine $10,000.

Palace (RKO) (1,700; 55-$1,20)—"Ma and Pa Kettle" (U) with vaude. Initial big firstrun here being walloped by torrid weather last Thursday-Friday as well as by heavy downpours three days. Likely drop down to $19,000. Last week, "Sand" (20th) and vaude, over hopes at $25,000. "Arctic Manhunt"

"Sand" 120th) and vaude, over hopes at $25,000. "Arctic Manhunt" (U) with new vaude layout opens tomorrow (Thurs).

Paramount (Par) (3,664; 55-$1.50) — "Rope of Sand" (Par) and Tex Beneke orch, Vic Damone topping stage bill (3d wk). Initial holdover session ended last night (Tues.) held up in fine fashion at $83,000 after smash $103,000 opener, albeit a bit below hopes largely due to terrific heat. Initial week was helped by five shows dally plus six on Saturday. Corinne Calvett, "Sand's" femme star, added to stage show starting today (Wcd.).

Park Avenue (U) (583: $1.20.

Wed.).

Park Avenue (U) (583; $1.20-2.40)—"Hamlet" (U) (47th wk).

Picking up a bit to strong $7,700 or 46th round ended last Monday (5) after $7.500 in preceding week.

Continues indef.

Radio City Music Hall (Rocke fellers) (5,945; 80-$2.40)—"Good Old Summertime" (Al-G) and stage Old Summertime" (M-G) and stage-show (2d wk). Heat having little effect here and better weekend weather did not hurt. Shapes to reach fine $145,000 after great $154,000 opener. Stays a third, $154,000 opener. | Stays a third, and possibly longer.

Rialto (Mago) (594; 44-98)—
"Body Snatcher" (RKO) (reissue) and "Bride of Death" (Indie), Doing very well for horror combo at $10,000. Holds. In ahead, "White Savage" (FC) and "Cobra Woman" (FC) (reissues) (2d wk), $7,500.

$7.500.

Rivoli (UAT-Par) (2,092; 60-$1.25)—"Come to Stable" (20th) (3d wk). Still doing sock trade at $27,000 or better after big $30,000 in second frame. States $27,000 or better after big $30,000 in second frame. Stays.

Roxy (20th) (5.886; 80-$1.50) —
"Stattery's Hurricane" (20th) with Evelyn Knight, Sid Caesar, The Pitchmen, new iceshow, onstage. Fairly good $80,000, not bad in view of opening in heat and rainstorm plus lukewarm reviews, Holds. Last week, "You're My Everything" (20th) plus Bob Crosby, others, onstage (3d wk), $55,000, below hopes.

Everything" (2011) plus Bob Crosby, others, onstage (3d wk), $55,000, below hopes. State (Loew's) (3,450; 50-$1.80)— "Jolson Sings Again" (Col). Opens today (Wed.) at upped scale. Last week, "Great Sinner" (M-G) (7th wk), fell to $10,000 after $11,000 week, "Great Sinner" (M-G) 'TM-G) wk), fell to $10,000 after $11,000 for sixth round.

Strand (WB) (2,756); 50-$1.25)—
"Great Feeling" (WB). Doing better than recent all-film bills here at around $26,000 or over but still spelling why house soon will resume stage-film policy. Holds over. Last week. "Girl Jones Beach" (WB) (2d wk), only $13,000.

Sutton (R&B) (561; 70-$1.20)—
"Quartet" (EL) (21st wk). Looks nice $7,500 in 20th week ended Monday (15) night after $7,400 for 19th week.

Victoria (City Inv.) (1,060; 95-$1.80)—"The Window" (RKO) (2d wk). Holding very stoutly at $20,- wk). Holding very stoutly at $20,-000 after big $24,000 opener, albeit a bit below hopes with tor-rid weather blamed. Stays on in-

'BOUNDARIES,' SOLID $22,000, PITT LEADER

Vaude Revival In K.C., With 'Judge,' Smash $25,000; 'Brave' Stalwart 16G of vaude is pacing the own as the first Palace-type bill plays the RKO Missouri to hey-hey plays the RKO Missouri to hey-hey biz. Coupled with "Judge Steps Out," it will hit smash total. Of straight-film entries. "Home of Brave" is strong at Tower-Uptown-Fairway combo, and likely will holdover. Most other firstruns are holdovers, and mostly satisfactory, week brought some of the sum-mer's hottest and stickiest heat. Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week
Esquire (Fox Midwest) (820: 45-65;—"Forever Amber" (20th), First booking at regular scale doing moderately well at $4,500. Last week, "Last Bandit" (Rep. $3,500. Kimo (Dickinson: 550; $1.20-$2.40)—"Red Shoes (EL) (17th

"Good Old Summertlme" (M-G)
"Good Old Summertlme" (M-G)
and "Leave It to Henry" (Mono) (2d wk). Fine $H,000. Last week,
big $20,000.

Missouri (RKO) (2,650; 55-75)—
"Judge Steps Out" (RKO) with eight vaude acts on stage. Smash $25,000 looms. Last week. "Yellow Ribbon" (RKO) (2d wk), nice
$10,000 at 45-65c scale.

Paramount (Par) (1,900; 45-65)—
"Great Gatsby" (Par) (2d wk).
Down to $9,000. Last week, nice $13,000.

Tower - Uptown - Fairway (Fox Midwest) (2,100, 2,043, 700; 45-65) —"Home of Brave" (UA). Sturdy $16,000. Last week, "You're My Everything" (20th), better than average at $14,000.

Meet the Bosses

"Each Branch Manager will conduct his business in his own territory as if he were the owner of that business."

- Spyros P. Skouras

There's No Business

Reading from L. to R.—seated—Daniel R. Houlihan, Albany; fred R. dodson, Atlanta; James M. Connolly, Boston; Charles B. Kosco, Buffalo; Vernon M. skorey, Calgary; John E. Holston, Charlotte; tom R. Gilliam, Chicago; Joseph B. Rosen, Cincinnati; izzy J. Schmertz, Cleveland; Philip Longdon, Dallas; Vincent J. dugan, Denver; 2nd row—Ralph Pielow, Jr., Des Moines; Joe J. Lee, Detroit; tom O. McCleaster, Indianapolis; Joe R. Neger, Kansas City; Clyde W. Eckhardt, Los Angeles; tom W. Young, Memphis; Jack H. Lorentz, Milwankee; Moe A. Levy, Minneapolis; Edward English, Montreal; Benjamin A. Simon, New Haven; Mark Sheridan, Jr., New Orleans; Sam E. Diamond, New York; Marion W. Osborne, Oklahoma City; Joe E. Scott, Omaha; 3rd row—Sieg Horowitz, Philadelphia; Welden Waters, Pittsburgh; Charles F. Powers, Portland; Charles L. Walker, Salt Lake City; Alex W. Harrison, San Francisco; Reginald G. March, St. John; Gordon F. Halloran, St. Louis; Chilton L. Robinett, Seattle; Peter Myers, Toronto; James E. Patterson, Vancouver; C. Glenn Norris, Washington; Joseph H. Huber, Winnipeg

Business!

Arg. Pix Studios Resume as Raw Stock Arrives; Shakeups Still Loom

Buenos Aires, Aug. 16.
Arrival of shipments of raw stock from Europe has buoyed Argentina's film industry and work has been resumed at several studios, although these much prefer Kodak celluloid from the U. S. Nevertheless there are currently six pix although these much prefer Kodak celluloid from the U. S. Nevertheless, there are currently six pix rolling at the different studios, and despite all the snags a record number of local productions turned out this year are awaiting release. The very poor quality of this year's releases, which is far below that summer at the record in the state of the stat year's releases, which is far below that even of other years, is begin-ning to disturb even the national-ist-minded government toppers, and there is an idea circulating in official quarters that if this sort of thing goes on changes will have made in the protectionist to be made in the protectionist policy.

The shake-up in production cir-cles is still under way, and it is probable that yet another of the major studios will shortly change probable that yet another of the major studios will shortly change hands. Cinematografica Interamericana—which, apart from production activities in Argentina, Chile and Mexico, has undertaken to distribute all of Emelco's product—has inked a deai with the owners of the large, up-to-date Mapoi Studios at San Isidro, to take over two of the large, up-to-date Mapoi Studios at San Isidro, to take over two of the largest sets in which it will make five pictures. Mapol will reopen Scpt. 12 to make a picture starring Luis Sandrini. Interamericana has a capital of $2,000.000 (U. S.) and works on a far more coordinated pian than most of the other local producers. The company's last picture. "Apenas un Delincuente" ("Hardly a Criminal"), which was tradeshown with English subtitles in the U. S. recently, is being submitted to the Film Festival at Venice, as a sample of the best Argentine film making.

Although the reorganization of San Miguel and Emelco studios is not yet through, the former are expected to reopen in September, but

Although the reorganization of San Miguel and Emeico studios is not yet through, the former are expected to reopen in September, but leasing the various sets to Inti Huasi, the production unit set up by actor Enrique Muino on his separation from AAA (Artistas Argentinos Asociados), and to Sincea. which makes government-inspired pix. Latter's first "Nace la Liberdud" ("Freedom is Born"), a historical opus, which took two vears to make and ran into millions of pesos, released in July, was the biggest local flop of the year.

Baires Studios have managed to secure enough raw stock to resume production of "Cinco Grandes y Una Chica" ("Five Great Ones and a Girl"), which is being made on a cooperative basis.

Ex-MPEA's Goldschmidt Emigrating to America

Dr. Rudolf F. Goidschmidt, general sales manager for the Motion Picture Export Assn. in Germany for the past two years, will arrive in the U. S. early in September on an immigration visa. With the windup of the MPEA sales organization at the end of this year, Goldschmidt has determined to become a U. S. eitzen U. S. citizen. He leaves Bremerhaven.

He leaves Bremerhaven Aug. 26 on an International Relief Organization transport under a displaced persons visa, being classified as a racial and political persecute. He has no definite plans as to what he'll do when he gets to New York.

as to what he is up when he see to New York.

Goldschmidt, 40, holds a doctor of iaws degree which he got after study at Cambridge and Heidelberg. He was with Metro from 1934 to 1940, part of that time as Berlin saiesmanager. From 1941 to 1944 he served as saiesmanager of Fritz Knevel's Filmverleig in Berlin, until kicked out by the Nazis. From 1945 until 1947 he headed the U. S. film exchange in Berlin under the U. S. Military Government.

Though Admish Lid Off

Inough Admish Lid Off
Tokyo, Aug. 9.
Price cellings on theatre admissions in Japan, in effect since the end of the war, have been lifted by the Nipponese government—but theatre owners are still far from happy. Still in effect is the 150% admission tax, highest in the world, which makes it virtually impossible to hike bo. prices now that the ceiling is removed.

Exhibs point out that faltering attendance figures prove that current prices are about as steep as the Japanese public can stand in these days of "tight money." Moreover, they moan, with a 150% tax, the government will get the bulk of any increased revenue from a price hike.

New Mex Pix High Likely For '49

Mexico City, Aug. 9.
Production of 51 pix during the first half of this year indicates ful-fillment of trade estimates that the 1949 output will total a new high of over 100. Output last year was 81. Production during the first half of this year was: Churubusco, 17; Clasa and Azteca, 13 each, and Tepevac, eight.

Clasa and Azteca, 13 each, and Tepeyac, eight.
Studio toppers, however, claim the plants must make 194 pix annually merely to break even. There's talk of scrapping the oider plants and merging the others. But that has labor and other complications. Hollywood indies are counted upon to save the situation by producing in Mexico with Mexican technicians.

Steve Miller Shifts From Rank to M-G (Eng.)

London, Aug. 16.

London, Aug. 16.
On the heels of rigid economy measures pushed through by the J. Arthur Rank organization. Stephen Miller has resigned his job as American publicity manager here. Miller ankles Sept. 1 in a switch to Metro's British organization where he will work under Ben Goetz, managing director of M-G's British studios, and Howard Strickling, Coast studio publicity head.

head.
Miller's chief chores will be to work on publicity in reference Metro's British productions of which a number are planned. Tom Knight, previously his assistant, climbs a notch in the Rank org to take Miller's place under Sydney Wynne p.r. head, and John C. Dennett, ad-pub director in London.

don.
Milier, who served as liaison to Jock Lawrence, exec veepee in the U.S. Rank office, has held down the post for the past three and onehalf years. He comes from Los Angeies where he was with the Los Angeies Times. During the war, he served under Lawrence as a iieutenant-coionel.

iieutenant-coionel.

Rank's £40 P.A. Ceiling
In line with the British Film Producers Assn.'s big economy cut in salaries which applies to most film personnel except union labor, John Davis, J. Arthur Rank's chief aide, has edicted a 40-pound ($160) weekly ceiling on the entire Rank flackery. As against some flacks, the ukase is even more stringent than the BFPA resolution which slices salaries on a 10%-20% scale.
Davis' edict does not apply to the top brass, such as Wynne and Dennett.

Script Credit

Script Credit
Vienna, Aug. 9.
"Everything is forgiven" was the wording of a telegram by G. W. Pabst producing company here to Paul May, young author of pic, "Duel with Death," starring Anneliese Reinhold (May's wife).
Ambitious author couldn't hold back his desire to see his first pic. So when preem was postponed from day to day, he took one print out of the Rosenhuegei studio and travelled to Munich. Pic ran there four weeks. Meanwhile the Vienna producers learned of the escapade and by diplomatic channels obtained an injunction.

injunction.

Official preem is expected here soon.

Fireworks, Flower Show, Formal Ball to Start Off

Cannes Film Festival

Cannes Filli Pestival

Cannes, Aug. 9.

Work proceeds feverishly to finish the new, luxurious building (which has already absorbed $75,000), in time for the beginning of the International Cannes Film Festival Sept. 2-17.

At this writing 22 countries have officially accepted the invitation to participate in the Festival, whose aim, says the Committee, is "to encourage cinematographic art in all its forms... and to create a spirit of cooperation graphic art in all its forms . . . and to create a spirit of cooperation between all countries which produce films." To encourage tourism during the beginning of the siump season would be more near the truth. By September the bulk of the vacationers will have left the Blue Coast, leaving pienty of hotei space for the hordes who will flock here in some official capacity or other.

Each participating country may present full-length and short films, excluding scientific or educational present run-length and soft films, excluding scientific or educational ones. These must have been produced or released within the 12-month period preceding the Festival opening, and must not have been shown at any other film competition been shown at any other film competition.

The choice of films from each country must include, in both categories (full length and short) a minimum of 50% of films made solely in that country. The maximum number of films which may be entered is fixed in relation to the number of films produced in that country during the preceding year. Thus, for a production of over 200 full length films, 12 may be shown, but for a production of less than 50, only one.

Short films are subject to the same rules but with a maximum of four films. The jury will consist of 12 Frenchmen nominated by the government.

The Festival will get off to a gaia start on Friday, Sept. 2 at the Grand Hotel gardens. A flower carnival procession along the Croisette will precede a formal ball at the Grand hotel. This will be followed by a fireworks displayout at sea.

The Committee is preparing to be foliowed by a fireworks display out at sea.

The Committee is preparing to show during the Festival a series of films which will trace the history of the cinema, employing the works of such men as Charlie Chaplin, Melies, Sjostrom, Fritz Lang and Eisenstein.

French letters and arts will be represented in the deluxe brochure which will be issued. It will contain articles on film technique by Andre Maurois and Alexandre Arnoux, of the French Academy,

'September' Shooting In Rome by Wallis

Berlin salesmanager of Fritz Knevel's Filmverleig in Berlin, until kicked out by the Nazis. From 1945 until 1947 he headed the U. S. film exchange in Berlin under the U. S. film exchange in Berlin under the U. S. Military Government.

Korda's 'La. Story'

London. Aug. 16.

Sir Alexander Korda's releasing company. British Lion, has taken over worldwide distrib rights, minus the Western hemisphere, of Robert Flaherty's documentary, "Louisiana Story." Deal was set in London between Korda and Flaherty, who is touring Europe.

Lopert Films retains the U. S. releasing rights to the film which is currently in its fifth week at the Rialto, Korda's London theatre.

Is a edicted a 40-pound (15160) weekly ceiling on the entire Rank flackery. As against on the lackers is even more stringent than the BFPA resolution which slices salaries on a Dovi's edict does not apply to the top brass, such as Wynne and bits assistant is Victor Stoloff, the ame combination which just completed "Vulcano," with Anna Magnani. Geraldine Brooks and Rosannani. Geraldine Brooks and Rosannani Geraldine Brooks and Brazzi in Italy. Only the two leading roles, taken by Joan Fondania and Joe Cotten, are from Hollywood. Life magnani Geraldine Brooks and Rosannani Geraldine Brooks and Rosanna

Show Biz, American Style, Is Good In Bermuda; Leans to U.S. for Films

By HERMAN A. LOWE

Hamiiton, Bermuda, Aug. 9.
Bermuda flies the British flag but, when it comes to entertainment, its natives look west to the States for its films and radio programs and, since the little collection of corai islands has pienty of cash in its pockets these days, business is good.

A survey from St. George's to Somerset discioses the Yankee trend spreading so much that "hot dog" and such Americanisms as "okay" are now standard equipment in this oldest of British crown ment in this oldest of British crown coionies. Prices are high and the tempo of living has stepped up here since the prewar days. Where once the horse and carriage were king, the islands are now jampacked with the junior-size British crows the Austin Hillman etc. cars—the Austin, Hillman, etc.—and many of the bikes of yester-year now come equipped with one-cylinder putt-putt engines.

Biow-by-blow, here is the entertainment story of Bermuda:

Motion Pictures

There's a siugging duel on be-tween Bermuda General Theatres, which operates its own chain of eight houses plus the five owned by Colony Theatres, and Island The-atres, a postwar development, which got into business only last basis. Percentage buying is out because of the British dollar short-age. They want to know in ad-vance here just what they are go-ing to pay.

Oddly enough, despite this short-

Ing to pay.

Oddly enough, despite this shortage, the Bermuda chains pay in dollars for their J. Arthur Rank product. Distribution of Rank pictures here is handled by Universal and Eagle-Lion, just as in the U.S.

The native Bermuda population strongly prefers American films and about 90% of all shown are the Hollywood product. The remainder is British except for an occasional foreign language job which almost invariably flops. Probably 10% or less of the audiences are tourist trade, and there is some play given by the U.S. Air Force and Naval bases in Bermuda, although they have their own post theatres.

although they nave their own theatres.

There is no formal censorship here now, although there is considerable talk of the government stepping in to censor films in order to determine whether they are fit for children. "Duel in the Sun," which they informally called "Lust in the Dust" down here, and "The Outlaw" have done the most toward stirring up the censorship issue, according to the local theatre people.

Biggest grosser the islands have ever had was "Going My Way" and Bing Crosby is a prime favorite. Current sex appeal boy for the local teenagers is Alan Ladd. Bermudians generally like color musicals and cowboy stuff. Among current and recent big grossers have been "Green Dolphin Strect." "Snake Pit." "The Champion." "Red River," "Paleface" and "Hamlet."

Worst flops have included 'Annother Part of the Forest," "Fantasia," "The Pirate," "Summer Holiday," "Isn't It Romantic." "Dream Girl," "Bel Ami" and "Wiison." Obviously these audiences don't go for sophistication and fantasy.

John Harding, a specialist on equipment and lighting with Paramount theatres, is currently in Bermuda to renovate the Bermuda General houses.

The exhibitors here have the same cry as those back home. It is aimed at Hollswood and the refrain goes, "Give us better pictures."

Radio
Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "Milled Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio monopoly is heid by statistic "The Part Handle Radio Mille Part Handle Radio Mille Part Handle "La

Current London Shows
(Figures show weeks of run)
London, Aug. 16.
"Anna Veronica," Piccadilly (13).
"Annie Get Gun," Co'ls'm (115).
"Beau Strategem," Lyric (16).
"Bligadoon," Majestic (18).
"Bliack Chiffon," West (16).
"Baick Chiffon," West (16).
"Daphne," Wyndham (21).
"Death of Salesman," Phnx (3).
"Edwina Black," Ambas. (5).
"French Without Tears," V. (9).
"Happiest Days," Apollo (73).
"Harvey," Prince of Wales (33).
"Heiress," Haymarket (29).
"Harvey," Prince of Wales (33).
"Heiress," Haymarket (29).
"Her Excellency," Hipp (8).
"Ice Cycles," Empress (8).
"Ice Cycles," Empress (8).
"Let Vogues," Stoil (5).
"Latin Qt. Revue," Casino (22).
"Latin Qt. Revue," Casino (22).
"Love Albania," St. James (5).
"Male Animal," New (8).
"Oklahoma!", Drury Lane (115).
"On Monday Next," Comedy (11).
"One Wild Oat," Garrick (37).
"Sauce Tartare," Cambridge (13).
"Song of Norway," Palace (6).
"Together Again," Vic. Pal. (123).
"Tough at Top," Adelphi (5).
"Traveller's Joy," Criterion (62).
"Worm's View," Whitehall (123).
"Young & Fair," St. Martins (8).
"Young Wives Tale," Savoy (5).

Tourists to Spend $250,000,000 in Mex In '49; 300,000 Guests Seen in Europe

Association reveals the following

bicks from tourists who answered kicks from tourists who answered its questionnaire: high prices; in-sufficient guide and safety signs on roads and towns; shortage of purified water; under-par food in some restaurants and hotels; lack some restaurants and hotels; lack of toilet facilities in many roadide filling stations; no fixed prices in many stores; stomach trouble provoked by bad food and contaminated water; not enough cops who speak English; grafting chaufeurs; swarms of urchins that hamper cars to beg in some towns; too much customs red tape; underar migration service; congestion par migration service; congestion of buses and insufficient accommodations in many restaurants.

Association reports progress in correcting those drawbacks.

Europe Tourism Strong

Figures for the first six months in 1949 point to from 250,000 to 300,000 American tourists visiting Europe during the year. Though most are coming by boat, 28% of those arrived came by plane. Special off-season fares by air are expected to boost traffic.

Bermuda Continued from page 14

Rexall drug show on wax, and Lever Bros. sends in a transcribed show from Canada. General Foods, Krafts and Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Krafts and Colgate-Palmolive-Peet all buy spots.

In a vague way, ZBM is affiliated with the ABC and Mutual webs. It takes in regularly platters of four Mutual shows—"Superman," "Passing Parade," "The Shadow." and "Captain Midnight." It is more irregular with ABC material. The only thing picked up live from the States for rebroadcast is an occasional major prize fight.

the States for rebroadcast is an oc-casional major prize fight.

One other item shouldn't be overlook. ZBM has a weekly "Alcoholics Anonymous" s ho w. Seems the A.A. boys are quite ac-tive in Bermuda; they advertise regularly for members in the classi-fied ads.

Music

Music

When its comes to dance bands. Bermuda hotels are tight with a buck and even a shilling, so that the big name band is virtually unknown down here. Hasn't been a top name orch since the Princess hotel had the Paul Spahr aggregation out of London last winter. The Princess now has Jack Wallace and his London orchestra. However, there is a liberal sprinkling of small-time, local units. These manage to keep busy, particularly at the large hotels.

There are also several four, five and six-piece native Calypso aggregations, of which the Tablot Bros. Is the best-known here. This group has made an album of Calypso platters which gives it a special prestige. It divides its time mostly between the Bermudiana and the Elbow Beach Surf Club.

There is one Negro choral group.

between the Bermudiana and the Elbow Beach Surf Club.
There is one Negro choral groupthe Hayward Ensemble, which sings Sunday nights at the outdoors cocktail and dance room of the Eagle's Nest hotel. While highly thought of here, the group would not rate in the same company of top U. S. units such as the Tuskeegee singers.
There is no legit in Bermuda, but there is an amateur Bermuda Muthere is an occasional solo artist, Finally, to go with the "hot dogs" mentioned above, there are Coca-Cola and other soft drinks, except that soda pop down here is called "a mineral."

Changes Irks B.A. Studios

Mexico City, Aug. 9.
Forecasting bigger and better tourist trade, the Mexican Tourist Assn. asserts that the government has greatly improved migration, customs, transportation and service conditions. Association declares this makes Mexico look better to U. S. trippers.

Only figures it cites in the upping in visitor biz this year is that 900 foreigners, mostly Americans, are attending the annual summer school of the National University, compared with 500 in 1948. But it gives the nod to estimates made in local tourist catering sources that visitors will spend of record of $250,000,000 this year. Last year tourists spent $190,0000,000 and in 1947, $170,000,000.

Association reveals the following tides from tourists who are record to the screen by Don the court ruled that under local laws an author in selling a story is entitled to assurance that it will be followed faithfully Changes Irks B.A. Studios

Buenos Aires, Aug. 9.

The local courts have granted compensation of $5,000 (U.S.) to author Enrique Gustavino, who had sued Pampa Films for $20,000 (U.S.) damages for having mutilated and modified the script of his screenplay. "La Importancia de Ser Ladron" ("The Importancia de Ser Ladron" ("The Importancia de Ser Ladron" ("The Judios and Thier"), which had been adapted to the screen by Don Napy. This case sets a dangerous precedent for local studios, as the court ruled that under local laws an author in selling a story is entitled to assurance that it will be followed faithfully.

Studios are apprehensive that a whole flock of lawsuits will soon be swirling around their heads.

Army Tape Snags Austria Tourism

Salzburg, Aug. 9.
U. S. Army regulations for American tourists in Austria are onerous and have been criticized as keeping many people away. In order to obtain dollars for Austria, Army requires Americans to buy, at the same time they obtain their military permit, meal tlekets for every day of their stay. These cost $1.69 and entitle you to three meal coupons (which no one ever asks for) and 15 schillings. (Usual rate of exchange is 20 to 25 schillings per dollar).

asks for) and 15 schillings. (Usual rate of exchange is 20 to 25 schillings per dollar).

Military permit and card entitling you to coupons is obtained outside of Austria, sometimes with plenty delay. When you arrive, you have to go one place to get the meal tickets and to another place to get the 15 schillings. If you wish to prolong your stay in Austria, you must go to another place to get an extension. As price of a decent meal is not less than 20 or 30 schillings, this is $2 or $3 at Army rate. Consequence is that some tourists stay away thinking it is too expensive, and others stay away because of the red tape.

Tourists going into Vienna must get a pass to go into the Russian zone. This is easily obtained, except that the U. S. army camp where it is given is 10 miles out of town.

Army has four hotels here for where it is given is 10 miles out of town.

Army has four hotels here for its personnel. One, the Bristol, is being used for journalists, distinguished performers and civilians with drag. Guests there are on a three-day limit, however. Hotel situation is additionally complicated by the fact that the large Europa hotel was completely destroyed by bombs. Saving factors of the situation are that the townspeople take in guests and that many visitors stay in the attractive countryside.

BOB HOPE TAKES LEAD AS NO. 1 DANISH COMIC

Copenhagen, Aug. 9.

Despite a slow start here, Bob Hope is now mopping up among Danish filmgoers as their. No. 1 comic. Star's "Princess and the Pirate" (Par) ran over two months at the Scala-Bio, and recent weeks saw three of his pictures screened simultaneously at local firstrum outlets.

smultaneously at local first in outlets.

Biggest hit of the trio is 'Paleface' ('Par), at the Paladsteatret. Metropole played ''Road to Utopia' ('Par') for five weeks while ''My Favorite Brunette' ('Par) is clicking at the Carlton. Comedian's ''Monsieur Beaucaire'', and y ''Where There's Life'' are upcoming.

'Pit' Opens Venice Fest

Snake Pit" (20th has been the 10th Venice Film Festival.
Pic will be

Pic will be snown after Hadguer ceremonies on the evening of Aug. 11, preceded by "Venezia Minore." by the late Francesco Pasinetti, Italian film historian and director who died recently in Rome, which will be dedicated to his memory.

Dogs-Across-the-Sea

Dog-breeding is another one of J. Arthur Rank's multiple enterprises. Specializing in pointers, setters and Labradors. Rank recently council of the prize is a council of the pointers, setters and Labradors. Rank recently copped all prizes in the English trials.

One of Rank's prize-winning dogs, Scotney Duke, came out of an English dog and one given him several years ago by J. Cheever Cowdin, Universal's chairman of the board. Rank called it "a triumph for Anglo-American cooperation."

Expect Okay to Up Jap Pix Take To $1,600,000 Yrly.

With approval of an upped take from Japan for the Yank film industry now figured just a matter of time. Motion Picture Export Assn. is planning to release six pix there in September. They will be the first new films distributed in Japan since June, when MPEA informed civilian affairs and military government exces it wouldn't play nalsy anymore on sending nix into formed civilian affairs and military government exces it wouldn't play patsy anymore on sending pix into Nippon at a loss.

Army headquarters in Washington has okayed and won approval from Congress of a plan to allow convertibility of $1,500,000 a year in frozen yen. in place of the $200,000 the industry has been getting in the past. Okay is now being awaited from General MacArthur's headquarters, but that's figured a sure thing, so MPEA has given the word to its Central Motion Picture Exchange in Tokyo to let six new pix go out next month.

Even if allowed to convert $1.-600,000 of yen yearly into American bucks, Yanks will still have a big backlog of Jap currency in cold storage and will continue to add more to it each week. The increased convertibility will mean nothing so far as the $3,000,000 in yen that had piled up since the war and was on ice as of last June 30. It is also insufficient to take care of the total income of the MPEA in Japan, so that the pile of unthawed coin will continue to grow

Int'l Broadcasting Now Okayed for Japanese Radio Stations by U. S. Tokyo, Aug. 9.

Tokyo, Aug. 9.

International broadcasting by Japanese radio stations, banned since the war, can now be resumed, according to an announcement from U. S. occupation headquarters here. Subject to Allied approval, the Broadcasting Corp. of Japan or any private stations licensed in the future may utilize "when practicable" certain frequencies registered before the war by the Japanese government with the International Telecommunications Union at Berne.

Occupation officials point out

International Telecommunications Union at Berne.

Occupation officials point out that iminediate resumption of international broadcasts on a large scale is unlikely because of lack of facilities. They add, however, that the authorization emphasizes the need for Japan to have a fair share of the international radio frequencies to be allocated to various nations at the Union's international high frequency conference in Italy next October.

Since the end of the war, BCJ broadcasts outside of Japan have been limited to China, Formosa and Northheast Asia for the benefit of displaced Japanese and unrepatriated POW's.

Lux Sets U.S. Branches

Aiming at nationwide distribu-tion for its foreign product, Lux Film Distributing Corp. expects to establish branches in six key cities within the near future. Towns in-tended as exchange centers include Boston. Pittsburgh. Chicago, New Orleans. Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Francisco.
Bernard Jacon, Lux veepee in charge of sales and distribution, leaves New York Friday (19) on a swing through the six keys to set up sales offices at those points. Lux pictures are principally Italian and Spanish in origin.

one-time producer for Information Films of India, is to produce Indian follower pix under government aegis.

Reported that Mir has already pictures are principally Italian and Spanish in origin.

Metro Divorcing Itself Completely From MPEA in Germany After Jan. 1

Eckman Denies Vaude-Pic Setup for London Empire

London, Aug. 16.
Contrary to persistent rumors,
Sam Eckman, Jr., Metro British managing director, told Variery that he has no intentions of turning* Metro's Empire, Leicester square, into a cine-variety *house.
Without stating any reasons, it's understood that obstacles are too many for adouting such a policy understood that obstacles are too many for adopting such a policy. Some of these are that CV means an extra expenditure of around $12,000 per week, which will include a 30-piece band; 24 ballet dancers, and a top English or American star.

On top of that, show must run at least 90 minutes, which is more than the time devoted to the film side; otherwise tax on $1.20 seats would still be around 50c, which is rake-off from film houses, whereas, in case of vaudeville houses, tax is only around 18c for $1.20 seats.

British Labor's 'One Way Street'

London, Aug. 16.
A movement to boycott British films made on foreign location without British workers is being launched by film trade. without British workers is being launched by film trade unionists to combat unemployment in British studios. Some eyebrows, however, are being raised at the campaign in view of Britain's invitation to U. S. producers to increase their filmmaking activities in this country. It's pointed out that the unionists are striving to set up a one-way street with all the traffic moving to Britain.

Exces of the British Film Producers Assn. have declared that the issue is "delicate," referring to the international angles. BFPA, the issue is "delicate," referring to the international angles. BFPA, however, states that most companies adhere to the principle of taking all the necessary techniclans with them with the number of exceptions very small. Survey of the 70-odd British films completed or in the works this year show that 18 have or will roll on foreign locations.

Boycott resolution originated among the Isleworth server.

locations.

Boycott resolution originated among the Isleworth studio technicians and will come before the All Studio Joint Works Committee shortly. Plans are being laid to enlist the support of all the film unlons in the boycott drive and lay it in the lap of Harold Wilson, prexy of the Board of Trade.

26 ITALIAN FILMS DUE FOR LENSING IN AUGUST

Rome Aug. 9

Twenty-six motion pictures will start here in August. All of these are from Italian companles, with money for the films to be furnished by Italian backers. These range are from Italian companies, with moncy for the films to be furnished by Italian backers. These range from slapstick comedies by such favorites as Toto and Macario to "Romeo and Juliet" and "La Forza del Destino" ("The Force of Destiny", an operatic film.

Most of the producers are carefully watching the scripting as they all have an eye towards the American market, even though all of those listed will be in the Italian language, and are in the small budget bracket.

Also, the summer season, with long days of good sunlight, and pleasant working conditions, is better for picture making than the rainy winters and half the personnel suffering from colds. Since all Italian pictures, new, old, good or bad, have been sold—mostly to Americans—the market needs replenishing.

Indian Folklore Pix Due

Madras, Aug. 9.

Indie film producer Ezra Mir, one-time producer for Information Films of India, is to produce Indian folklore pix under governmenet

Metro, which sparkplugged the end of joint selling by American companies in Germany, seeks to be so completely independent there that it won't even use the physical facilities of the Motion Picture Export Assn. after next Jan. 1. It will be the only major that will handle its own film all the way from sale to the exhib to delivery and inspection of the print.

rint.

Companies recently decided that they would discontinue their coperative selling in Germany via the MPEA after this year, but would retain the latter outfit to do the physical handling, billing, etc. Metro veteed that idea so far as it was concerned and is currently endeavoring to find office space. endeavoring to find office and personnel.

and personnel.

It was Metro's insistence on being on its own in selling that led to the dissolution of the co-op effort. Inasmuch as Metro insisted on doing its own film peddling, other companies felt that they must do the same to hold their competitive positions and so determined on abandonment of the joint operation.

operation.

Severe difficulty of getting space and personnel, however, led to the decision to retain MPEA for the physical work. The film handling and bookkeeping requires hundreds of employees and the MPEA had to scrape the bottom of the barrel in its quest for experienced help when it set up in 1946. Metro is experiencing some of the same difficulty now. difficulty now.

difficulty now.

Independent selling won't make any difference in income to the companies, since they are getting little more than print costs out of Germany and there's no prospect for years of being permitted full convertibility of the coin they're piling up in deep freeze. Metro's move for independence is dictated, however, by a desire to be fully ready when payoff day finally comes.

comes.

Four of the companies now have reps in Germany getting staffs together to begin independent selling operations after Jan. I. Universal has Al Szekler there, Metro has F. W. N. Beckett, 20th-Fox has Bob Kreier and Warner Bros. has Joe Westreich.

Virginia Davis Scores Solid Click in Vienna; To Help Brother Garry Vienna, Aug. 9.

Virginia Davis, first Yank act to Virginia Davis, first Vank act to hit the Austrian zone in over a year, met with a terrific reception last week at the local Clam-Gallas Service Club. She beged off after 45 minutes on the floor. Her act is a judicious blend of folksongs and current hits in special arrangements. Outstanding numbers were the French folksong 'Margotan va-t-a Llau,' "Brush Up Your Shakespeare' (from 'Kiss Me, Katc'), 'Turkey in the Straw" and a special arrangement of old Harry Lauder songs.

in the Straw" and a special arrangement of old Harry Laudersongs.

Singer was atractively dressed in a black sweater and skirt, over which she draped scarves and shawls for different numbers.

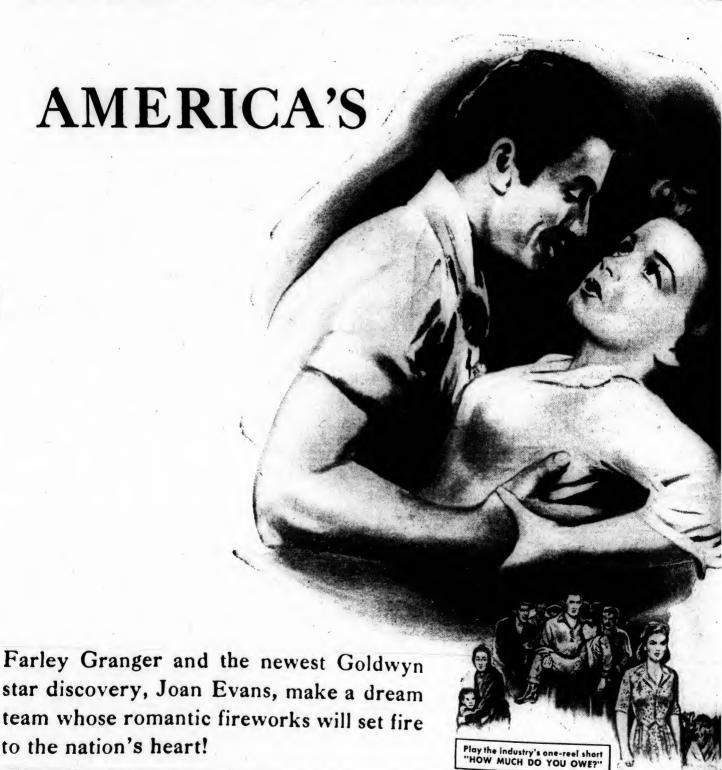

She will continue her American Army tour with three appearances in Munich, Aug. 19 and 20." She will then sing two concerts in Munich and Nuremburg for the benefit of refugees, Aug. 23 and 24. After that she planes to Berlin for more Army dates and then to Belgium for three concerts, at Ghent, Brussels and Antwerp. The last concerts are to help with fund raising for her brother Garry's "World Citizens Registry." She winds up European dates with a concert in Birmingham, England, and then flies to the states for the fall season.

Irish Pix Imports Up

Dublin, Aug. 16.
Half-yearly figures from the Central Statistics Office here show that in the first six months of 1949 the total film footage imported was 4.670.132, compared with 3,395.095 feet in the corresponding period of 1948.
Footage imported in June was 821,980; in June, 1948, the figure was 698.571.

SAMUEL GOLDWYN

STORY OF THE HATFIE

presents THE GRIPPING

LDS AND THE McCOYS-

MOST FAMOUS FEUD!...

On the screen and at your boxoffice-when they get together, they spell action!

Roseanna McCov

FARLEY GRANGER · CHARLES BICKFORD · RAYMOND MASSEY RICHARD BASEHART · GIGI PERREAU and Introducing JOAN EVANS

Directed by IRVING REIS . Scacenplay by John Collier . Director of Photography Lee Garmes., A.S.C.

Drive-Ins' B.O. Cut

even between singles and duals. Drive-ins are almost universally single bill.

The crop of drive-ins in the area is bumper for both this year and last. In 1946 the metropolitan area had a single drive-in; now there are four. The territory has literally sprouted drive-ins both this season and last. As an example, the Durwood circuit, which operates in St. Joseph, Mo.; Leavenworth, Kans., and Jefferson City, Mo., besides a downtown house in Kansas City, is opening drive-ins in each of its towns, and one is yet to come in Jefferson City. Most of the smaller outstate operators, who control two or three towns. I'kewise are putting in drive-ins, both as a measure of protection and for the added revenue. Beverly Miller, a newcomer to exhibition and former exchange exec, formed a new composition of the standard was a properly within already has a properly comer to exhibition and former exchange exec, formed a new company which already has opened two drive-ins outstate in moderate-size towns and has two more on order. Generally, drive-ins are playing subsequent run of 56 days in this area, but a few have firstrun contracts.

Firstrun situations report they see no cutting in from the drive-ins. Theatres close to drive-ins report they suffer, to which the drive-ins reply they are making customers for the indoor houses in the cooler months.

In the way of new theatres, customers for the indoor houses in the cooler months.

In the way of new theatres, drive-ins have the overwhelming odds. The area of Missouri, Kansas and southern Iowa, however, has seen its share of new regulation theatres this year. Almost every week has seen the opening of a new theatre or a remodeled job, and a number are under way now. Fox Midwest has opened at least three this year, and another is announced for Hayes, Kans. Theatre Enterprises (Griffiith) last week opened a drive-in at Manhattan, Kans., and has a new theatre to open later this month at Chillicothe, Mo. Probably the biggest project here has been the complete remodeling of the former Mainstreet theatre into the Missouri theatre by RKO, with an expenditure of about $500,000.

Extra services for drive-in patements is preceived.

penditure of about $500,000.

Extra services for drive-in patrons is a prominent part of that operation. Free pony rides, kiddles playgrounds, bottle warmers, prize giveaways, and others are included in the list. One of the most unusual constructions in drive-ins hereabouts is The Fort at Leavenworth, Kans., which is built like a western fort with stockade fence, blockhouse office and other accoutrements of ploneer days.

In the regular theatres, concessions

trements of pioneer days.

In the regular theatres, concessions have been on the increase in the past year or two. It's only within the last two or three years that the deluxe refreshment stand has come into the major K. C. houses, Loew's Midland being the biggest house and the last to capitulate, only now getting its complete stand. Some smaller houses report that the profit on concessions is greater than on picture operation and that the house is kept open for the benefit of the eat-drink grosses.

grosses.

Outdoor amusements are little different this year from any other with the possible exception of shuffleboard. Miniature golf courses are flourishing especially well in K. C., and the regular summer sports have their full quota of devotees. Any big outdoor doings are absent from the K. C. scene, however, with the exception of one date by the Cole Brothers Circus. Admission prices apparently are well set with no thought about any reductions. The general idea seems to be that the public is in no way price conscious now, so why stir them up by any changes.

The tightening of box office traffic has a number of circuits and independents searching for new means to hold up the gross. Commonwealth circuit, for example, has shifted product a bit in towns where it has two of more situations. Result has been to find that a big film does better in the second house for a longer run than it does in the deluxe house on a concentrated date.

Closings this summer are neg-ligible. A couple of houses have Outdoor amusements are little Closings this summer are neg-ligible. A couple of houses have been closed in industrial towns in the face of strikes or slowed production with consequent reduced income to the patrons. Some have fried out bargain nights and give-aways, but neither seem to be popular or profitable. As yet television is little more then a conjecture to theatre men even between singles and duals. In this area. K. C. will have no TV until late fall. A good many, of single bill.

The crop of drive-ins in the area is bumper for both this year and future action.

Interstate's Biz 25% Ahead of '48-O'Donnell

Interstate's Biz 25%
Ahead of '48—O'Donnell
Dallas, Aug. 16.
The picture business is altead of 1948, according to Interstate's Bob O'Donnell. The Interstate exec. states "we have experienced a 25% increase over last year." O'Donnell pointed out that this was contrary to the report that Dallas and Albuquerque were 20% under last year. Television in Fort Worth and San Antonio hasn't affected Dallas theatre attendance; however, the Dallas TV stations are due to flicker in early September. This plus the onslaught of gridiron broadcasts and televising of over 11 local games with the Saturday afternoon grass idol Doak Walker, the All-American of SMU, the boxoffice may be affected unless the smart theatre manager has an adequate number of sets in the lobbies and lounges to keep the pigskin addicts entertained.

Drive-ins' business is off 5-7%, according to Underwood & Ezell, largely due to over-development. Four have opened in the last four months and two more are under construction. They do not demand clearance and they book at both flat rate and percentage.

What about concessions?: the answer as usual, from the big operators is "none of your business." This means they are doing great.

There are no double features for Interstate, nor will there be any. Only four houses out of 36 feature duals. These are cheapies and indies. Prices will remain the same except for roadshows, legits and percentage deals. New vaud-film will hold the same scale, but matinees may move up on special days.

Theatre Biz Down In Maritime Provinces

St. John, N. B., Aug. 16. Theatre business is down con-

St. John, N. B., Aug. 16. Theatre business is down considerably in maritime provinces as compared to a year ago. However, two competitive influences, while potent elsewhere, have no effect whatever on maritime theatres. They are television and drive-ins. There are no tele and drive-ins in this territory. Chilly winds, overdose of fog and short summer season preclude drive-ins.

There is no theatre construction anywhere in the maritimes currently although a number of projects are planned: two for Halifax, N. S.; one in St. John, N. B.; two in Charlottetown, P.E.I.; one in Fredericton, N. B.; one in Moncton, N. B.; one in Moncton, N. B.; one in Sydney, N. S.; one in Glace Bay, N. S. All have been deferred because of high construction and materials costs. construction and materials costs

Springfield (Ill.) Drops In B. O. Over Year Ago

In B. O. Over Year Ago
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 16.
A check on theatre business in this locality indicates that business is not up to a year ago, although it varies greatly, depending on the type of picture shown.
Television offers no competition here, as the few shows brought in from St. Louis are somewhat less than satisfactory. Circuit owners do not believe that the drive-ins have cut into business too much, but are rather inclined to believe that their new and novel setup has served to educate some of the people to attend films. They feel that probably this group will show up more in the regular houses when outdoor plants close for the outdoor plants close as winter.

The drive-in here reports better business than a year ago. Prices were raised April 1, when it opened for the season. A few drive-ins are being constructed within a 50-mile radius of here. No new construction of any theatres contemniated.

plated, Concession business booms; runs about 20 to 35% of admission take.
Drive-in reports this average 25%.
Outside of drive-in, theatres are not raising admission prices. All are advertising about the same as in the past. Some few specials rate extra ballyhoo, but exploitation is about the same as before grosses declined. Outside of drive-in, theatres are seen the same as performed traising admission prices. All here in recent years, but over the past 12 months there has been a lot of money spent in renovations and modernizing of some of the bout the same as before grosses cellined.

No change in admissions is considered. Only theatre in the city of the same as the past 12 months there has been a lot of money spent in renovations and modernizing of some of the louses.

No change in admissions is considered. Only theatre in the city of the past 12 months there has been along the lines of inmost of August is the Dominion, independently owned by Mesho and modernizing of some of the louses.

Exhibitors have been doing more money plugging their pictures, but no more money plugging their pictures, but no more so than in past summers.

to other summer night activities. A further drop in business here is expected because of the large number of polio cases, and the quarantine of children under 16. This has cut severely into business will, probably, throughout and will, probably, througnout August.

Consensus: Business off over a year ago. Good stories with good casts, carefully produced and directed, still bring in patrons.
This city is served by Frisina Amus. Co., 5 theatres here; Kerasotes, three here; Orpheum (Great States-Balaban & Katz), 1; Lincoln (20th-Fox), 1; Drive-In, 1.

New Haven Looks To Big Pix to Stem Dip

New Haven, Aug. 16.
Night baseball, auto racing, Savin Rock amusement park, five nearby strawhats, three drive-ins, industrial layoffs, and the most extended heat wave in years have all had a hand in plummeting film grosses below the normal summer slump in this town. It's generally believed that overall dip, up to midAugust, has been approximately lieved that overall dip, up to mid-daugust, has been approximately 25% under a year ago. Product shown during this period was spot-ty and exploitation practically nil, with exception of a truck spectac-ular on "Mighty Joe Young" and an occasional beauty parlor tie-in ad. in ad.

Significant, though, is the optim-Signineant, though, is the optimism with which exhibs are facing the post-Labor Day era: They feel that standout product now on the threshold will have considerable bearing on loosening up filmgoers' pursestrings. Also, the prospect of part-time vaude adds a potential b.o. boost.

b.o. boost,

Despite presence here of Connecticut's only TV outlet, WNHC-TV, consensus is that tele has not been a major factor in this summer's dip. Station, although in operation for more than a year, has not yet hit a solid stride from local angle.

Protracted hot spell has added insult to injury by not only dent-ing biz but also by snowballing cooling system costs to almost as-tronomical figures via necessity for constant operation.

constant operation.

It's been some time since this locality saw any new theatre construction, last such regulation house being the downtown Crown which opened its portals a year ago. In the ozone field, one new drive-in, the Post in nearby East Haven, started operation this season. son.

Although drop in biz has war-

Although drop in biz has war-ranted shuttering certain smaller houses for the summer, they have maintained schedules at a loss in order to retain clientele for antici-pated fall upturn.

Winnipeg Boxoffices Holding Pace of 1948

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.
Business at Winnipeg's theatres is holding up well to that of a year ago. Theatres experienced a bad slump through March and April, when unusually late heavy snows blocked country roads for much longer than normal, bringing the inflow of rural people to the city practically to a stop and putting a bad dent in boxoffice takes.

bad dent in boxoffice takes.

Television is not a problem here, nor is it likely to be one for a few years to come, exhibitors believe. The Canadian Broadcasting Corp. recently announced that it will not do much about television until 1951. Since Winnipeg is some 1,500 miles from Toronto and about 500 miles from Minneapolis, likelihood of television competition from other than CBC sources seems remote. seems remote.

seems remote.

Winnipeg's first drive-in opened recently and has been doing turnaway business. However, because of daylight saving, the drive-in has been playing only one show a night, starting at 9:50, when the sun goes down. Harry Gray, Lyceum manager, who is also running the drive-in for Western Theatres, Ltd., denies that it has in any way cut into regular theatre business.

ness.

Although Western Theatres holds options on land in other sections surrounding the city, as possible sites for other drive-ins, there has been no indication to now of any more being built.

No new theatres have been built here in recent years, but over the past 12 months there has been a lot of money spent in renovations and modernizing of some of the houses,

Inside Stuff—Pictures

Traveling with the Ringling Bros. & Barnum & Bailey's Circus for a fortnight through western Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota in order to gain first-hand technical knowledge of its actual operations for his forthcoming picture, "The Greatest Show on Earth," to be built around it next year, Cecil B. DeMille, veteran Paramount producerdirector, is watching some of the performances from a bosun's chair perch high up almost atop the tent. DeMille told Will Jones, Minneapolis Tribune columnist, sent by his sheet to do a Sunday feature, the reason for taking the precarious perch was to enable him to look down on aerial acts and the audiences to determine how they'll photograph. graph.

Jones also learned from DeMille that the latter arises at noon each day, catches both performances and stays up until 3 or 4 a.m., interviewing performers and getting their stories. A box seat is reserved for him at each performance.

or him at each performance.

DeMille informed Jones that as yet he doesn't have any story or stars in mind for the circus picture and that one of the reasons he's with the show is to get ideas along those lines. Before he finishes his first-hand circus research, he told Jones, he plans to have a thick book filled with minute details "that have never been compiled before."

Among the changes he already has found he'll have to make, DeMille said, is to have the too dark canvas tent made over with lighter material, probably plastic. In one town next season, too, DeMille's own men will lay the track instead of the roustabouts. Riding in a "spec" float, he discovered the track was too rough for a camera car. He intends to swing around the track, letting the cameras capture the expressions on the crowd's faces as it goes.

expressions on the crowd's faces as it goes.

Accompanying DeMille are his 13-year-old granddaughter, Cecllia; his secretary, Gladys Rosson, who has been with him 36 years, and Fred Frank, screen writer. They live in the John Ringling North private car where DeMille has frequent confabs with Henry North, the circus's vice-president. While with the show DeMille celebrated his 68th birthday.

Screening of 20th-Fox's "Slattery's Hurricane" in a plane flying over New York last Thursday (11) paid off handsomely publicity-wise for the company. Because the plane used was the Navy's new double-decker "Hurricane," the screening was covered by 75 newspaper, radio and magazine writers, most of whom devoted plenty of space or airtime to it. In addition, the New Yorker mag will carry a special story on the stunt this week in its "Talk of the Town" columns, marking the second time in three weeks that 20th has cracked the publication. Similar story was carried on the Rivoli (N. Y.) preem of "Come to the Stable," held July 28.

Twentieth is following up its the in with the Navy to ballities the Twentieth is following up its tie-in with the Navy to ballyhoo the film, meanwhile, with an 8-city junket of a Navy PBY-4 Privateer. Plane launched the tour Monday (15) in Boston with appropriate ceremonies, which gave both the Navy and the picture considerable publicity and exploitation.

Noblesse oblige practiced in the film industry was recently demonstrated by Technicolor, Inc., and Metro when the two outfits okayed color experimentation by the DuPont interests on 700 feet of M-G's "Little Women." DuPont is working on a new tinting process and wanted that length of Technicolor positive to duplicate it with the DuPont method. Despite the fact that it would be a competitor to Technicolor once the process is marketed, Techni officials agreed, along with Metro, to the use of the "Women" strip which is in Technicolor. Duplicated strip was used by DuPont in recent demonstrations of the process to industry execs. Outfit is now working on the second, more difficult step—use of the DuPont method to make negatives.

Ruling by the U. S. Treasury Dept. that drive-ins cannot skirt admission tax obligations by collecting part of the price of tickets in the form of a parking charge has ended one distrib problem with a number of the ozoners. Distribs had been feuding with some drive-in operators because of the parking charge. Latter had refused to pay percentage rentals on the take from parking fees claiming that portion of the gross was not revenues derived from ticket admissions. Several majors were considering court action on the question. Now that the Treasury Dept. has ruled parking charges a subterfuge, distribs see no further difficulties on a practice which must end.

Approximately 95% of the 1948-49 graduates of motion picture operating courses at the YMCA Trade & Technical School in New York have landed jobs as television projectionists. Louis L. Credier, director of the school, credits this to an over-abundance of theatre projectionists and to a lack of specifically trained projection personnel to meet the current demands of video. According to figures released by the school, 70% of the recent graduates are employed in the metropolitan, N. Y., area with two large networks entirely staffed by YMCA alumni. The fundamentals required for TV and theatre projection are the same.

Big sendoff to the Fabian circuit's 35th anniversary drive was given by the Staten Island (N. Y.) Advance, daily newspaper which covers the borough. Promotion by Elias Schlenger, Fabian's Staten Island ad-pub head, and a number of theatre managers put across a 6½ page section devoted entirely to the Fabian chain. Section included blogs of Si Fabian, head of the circuit, and his partner, Sam Rosen; photos of the various theatres; thumbnail sketches of all manager of Fabian houses in S. I.; and co-op ads by merchants feteing the event.

"Canada Unlimited," two-reeler produced by RKO showing the contributions made by immigrants to Canada's development, will be fifth in the series of public affairs shorts being exhibited under the auspices of the Motion Picture Assn. of America. It is the first short in the educational program to deal with a subject not involving the U. S. A. A foreword by MPAA prexy Eric Johnston introduces the pic.

Understood RKO's "Jet Pilot," Howard Hughes' favorite story, is undergoing a rewrite job, on the insistence of John Wayne, who will star in the flying film when he winds up his current task in "Sands of Iwo Jima" at Republic. Start of "Jet" will probably be delayed until late September or early October. Wayne is due to finish "Iwo" in about two weeks.

RKO is rounding up a heavy exploitation budget to send out its 1949 biggie, "Christmas Gift," in time for the Yuletide trade. Picture, with Bob Mitchum and Janet Leigh co-starred, will wind up early in September and will be released late in December.

Universal talking with Danny Kaye for the Elmer P. Dowd role in "Harvey." In case the deal goes through, U will start the picture this fail.

WESTERN

NEW YORK AUG. 15

1:55PM

MR. AL JOLSON

HOTEL ST. REGIS

NEW YORK CITY

JUST SAW "JOLSON SINGS AGAIN" AND I CAN'T RECALL WHEN I'VE HAD SUCH AN ENJOYABLE-SUCH A THRILLING TWO HOURS. IF ANYTHING YOUR VOICE IS DEAR AL: BIGGER-RICHER THAN EVER. HOW DO YOU DO IT? THERE ARE SO MANY NEW TWISTS-NEW ANGLES ON SHOW BUSINESS IN "JOLSON SINGS AGAIN" THAT I'M GOING TO SEE IT AGAIN AND AGAIN. WHAT A MOTION PICTURE-WHAT A LIFE-WHAT A GUY! I' PREDICT THAT THERE WILL BE MORE SEQUELS TO YOUR LIFE THAN PAULINE HAD "PERILS." STAY WELL-LOVE AND KISSES. YOUR OLD FRIEND

EDDIE CANTOR

Chiller-Killers in Germany

I am working for a man with an eagle on one shoulder, a chip on have on the other, striped pants (drawing room tea style, not penitentiary), a red hot poker in one hand, a lish of lill house poker hand in the other, and a Nazi insignia provocatively when the rest. draped about his rear

General Clay Agrees

General Clay Agrees
When I first arrived in Germany, I was issued instructions from General Clay's office that controls over press and radio had been relaxed and that in the movie field we should also proceed to discontinue pre-production censorship of films as well as the licensing of exhibitors, distributors, and producers. Some months later, I received a call asking whether I ship of films as well as the licensing of exhibitors, distributors, and producers. Some months later, I received a call asking whether I had executed these orders. With some perturbation, I admitted that I have done nothing of the sort. "That is fine," said the Colonel on the phone, "the General feels that he made an error in granting freedom prematurely to German media of communication, and he will be tickled to hear that it hasn't been done in the films."

and he will be tickled to hear that it hasn't been done in the films."

Now, however, under the new Statute of Oceupation, controls are as unpopular as block booking with a Federal court. Veit Harlan, Leni Riefenstahl, and the rest of the infamous crew, whom we banished from film activity, will be free to produce, direct and write pletures to their heart's content. Emil Jannings and Wcrner Krauss can perform in them to the plaudits of their adoring public. No doubt, these hits of Hitter days will proceed temporarily with a considerable degree of caution, but it is a safe bet that in due course of time, their basis baseness will find expression on the new German screen.

The currently licensed producers themselves are well aware of the threat involved to their safety. At a recent meeting, after listening to the speeches of German representatives, the President of their association arose and said: "Thank God for the Americans. I pray nightly that they will stay here a long time to protect us Germans from ourselves."

The extent to which such protection is required was indicated

The extent to which such pro-ction is required was indicated tection is required was indicated by a statement from a gentleman named Hippler, who although he spells his name with two "p's" in-stead of one "t." sounds and speaks much like his late esteemed Fuehrer. Dr. Hippler was a power-ful factor in the Nazi-controlled film monopoly, and although he is now better employed as a railroad ticket salesman in Garmisch, his plans for the future, once the Americans with their foolish ideas of democracy and free speech aftection of democracy and free speech af-ford the opportunity, are fully ford the opportunity, are fully matured, and he makes no bones about whose bones he intends to break. In a recent interview he stated that all this "film nonsense" must stop and that just as soon as licenses disappear, he and his group, "you know whom I am referring to," he added, will take over the production end of the industry from the Quislings who now control it.

now control it.

Under the new dispensation will stop Under the new dispen ilitary Government will passing upon all pictures except those which affect the security or prestige of the Occupying Forces. It was planned that industry selfregulation. lation, a la our home-made, would take over this responshiftity to prevent its falling into the hands of the various German states. Many of these states are controlled by reactionary elements and all of them, regardless of their

The Germans, however, move with a slowness and imperturbability which is maddening to the American tempo and temper. Although the new production code was to have been in force by May 15, it is thus far not in operation. and there is every reason to lear that it will not go into effect for several more months. If Dr. Dr. Hundhammer, Kulturminister for Bavaria, does not step into the motion picture prior to then, it

I am working for a man with an MPEA in Germany as of Jan. MPEA in Germany as of Jan. 1, have been announced, thus far only one company, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is proceeding to establish offices, employ personnel and present pictures for censorship. Many inquiries have been made why MPEA is being maintained in Austria although it is being disbanded in Germany. Skepties barded that the only thing which saved the Austrian operation was my failure to specifically include it in my plea to the picture presidents for the continued existence of MPEA in Europe. of MPEA in Europe.

Publicity about the MPEA obsequies has been highly harmful. Stories appeared in most of the trade papers that each of the major companies would import at least 15 pictures annually, the independents 10 pictures, and it was supercedeble to executations. dependents 10 pictures, and it was rumored that an accumulation of some thousand old American pictures were about to be unloaded on the German market. As a consequence, JEIA (Joint Export & Import Agency) seriously proposed the establishment of film quotas. In a land of contradictions, this would of course constitute the supreme contradiction with an agency of which the United States is a part initiating restrictions is a part initiating restrictions upon the free exchange of media communication, which it is of communication, which it is re-sisting all over the rest of the world. But anything is possible in Germany.

Probably the most sensational success of our film activities in Germany has been the Documen-tary Unit under Stuart Schulberg, a chip off the old B.P. block. It has produced a series of remark-ably useful and well-made pictures ably useful and well-made pictures for consumption in German theatres, such as "The Air Bridge," "East and West," "Me and Mr. Marshall," "Made in Germany," not to mention the memorable feature length "Nuernberg," which is still playing to large audiences. still playing to large audiences l over Trizonia. For reasons, all over Trizonia. For reasons, hard to ascertain, although English hard to ascertain, although English versions of all these pictures were produced, none of them has yet been shown in the Z.I. (United States to you). Schulberg, however, is being lured away from Military Government by a generous offer from ECA which apparently, like every other Government badies competing for the same producer is the same as Metro and Loew's, Inc. bidding against each other for an employee.

The Government - produced "Welt im Film" has until now been the only newsreel circulating or Germany and in the absence of competition a very profitable activity. It is impressive to discover how many staunch believers in private enterprise can overcome their natural inclinations, when private enterprise can overcome their natural inclinations, when government propaganda produces a handsome weekly profit. Nonetheless, under the new auspices, the present military monopoly will come to an end and commercial newsreels will be permitted to enter into Germany. The British, who can always be expected to look at things differently from Americans, favor increasing 'Welt im Film'' expenses by establishing Hamburg and Berlin editions as well as the present Munich one. This is the equivalent of Paramount having a different newsreel for Boston, New York, Chicago, Dallas and Los Angeles. As a method of unifying Western Germany it has all the soothing qualities of an Al Lichtman speech to an Exhibitors convention.

controlled by reactionary elements and all of them, regardless of their conflicting credoes and institutions agree that they nust protect their citizenry from movie contamination by strict supervision of the acreen.

That Baden-Baden Influence

The Germans, however, move with a slowness and imperturbability which is maddening to the Anterican tempo and temper. Although the new production code was to have been in force by May by transferring all rights and titles to the German states with instructions for them to auction off such valuable properties as the Bavaria Film Studio in Munich, Tempelhof Studio in Berlin, and all of the UFA theatres within a year. To many of us it seems that no procedure worse feering to America. Bavaria, does not step into the many of us it seems that no promotion picture prior to then, it cedure more foreign to American will be a surprise to all concerned. Incidentally, he is known as Dr., band over a medium of communitor. because he has two degrees, cation to the tender ministrations. I have not yet ascertained whether of a German state, even if only for a limited period of time. To permit Bavaria to obtain control over Although the plans for interring the Geiselgasteig Studio, even only for the purposes of its ultimate disposal, is the equivalent of letting the State of New York ac Times. One local wit stated that he had never known before what Decartelization really meant, but now he knows that it signifies "putting the cart before the whores." quire rights and title to the N. Y.

Can't See the Logic

Can't See the Logic

The return of these enterprises and many others equally vital to public security, to German control, is predicated on the theory that democracy entails the operation by the Germans of their own affairs. This is very much like saying that little Johnny, although he is an ill-trained naughty boy, should be allowed to decide when to go to bed, whether to go to school, and what guns to play with. It assumes that the Germans are prepared for self-government—an assumption which no one in close touch with the situation is prepared to make. uation is prepared to make.

In large measure the present German policy is predicated less on democratic practices than on practical considerations. In case practical considerations. In case of future hostilities we hope that Germany will prove a bulwark for the western world, but it can also turn out to be a boomerang. The belief that the Germans would surelief that the Germans would sure-ly be on our side in any future en-counter, is wishful thinking, justi-fied neither by past history nor by a careful appraisal of what we or the Russians can offer them in the future. One of my employees is a singularly frank and realistic Ger-man. I say to him: "Fritz, if there should he a war between Russia singularly frank and realistic German. I say to him: "Fritz, if there should be a war between Russia and the United States, on what side would you fight?" He shrugs his shoulders dejectedly and says: "On the Russian side." "What!" I ask in mock amazement, "don't you prefer us Americans to the Russians?" "Of course I do," he answers, "but if I fight on the American side and the Russians win, they will take me out and shoot me. If, however, I fight on the Russian side and the Americans win, they will soon forgive me." Russian side and the Americans win, they will soon forgive me."

This soof-heartedness and capacity to quickly forgive and forget which the Germans rightfully diagnose as inherent in the American character does not arouse their admiration. What impresses them chiefly about the United States are our labor saving gadgets and our mass production techniques. We had to practically suspend all work in the Tempelhof studio, when the newest American lighting and sound equipment arrived for "Quartered City." the feature film about the blockade, which 20th Century-Fox is producing. They are, however, convinced that the average German is better trained and more skillful than his American counterpart. I soon discovered that no one was at all impressed when I said, "This is the way we do things in the United States," This soft-heartedness and cas is the way we United States," do things in the United States," but they were all ears, if I re-marked, "This is the last word in modern scientific methods."

As for our culture and our po-ical and economic institutions cy have found few converts. A litical and economic institutions they have found few converts. A fitting epitaph on the Occupation was uttered by a German politician the other day, when he sald of the Americans: "They came, they saw, they contributed." The contribution to which he referred was the cost of conquering and occupying Germany for a second time, now estimated to amount to the tidy little figure of $205,000,000,000. That's not hay even for Uncle Sam and he had better say "whoa" to any policies which might make a third invasion necessary.

Flock of WB Tunefilms

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Music hath three times as much charm at Warners this year as it did in 1948. Current program calls for nine tunefilms, compared with three last year.

three last year.

Currently in production are "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady," "Al-ways Leave Them Laughing" and "Young Man With a Horn." In preparation are "No. No. Namette," "The West Point Story" and "We're Working Our Way Through Col-"The West Point Story" and "We're Working Our Way Through Col-lege." In the backlog is "The In-spector General." In release are "Look for the Silver Liniug" and "It's a Great Feeling."

"Nanette" will have Doris Day of the Mists," an adventure-fanand Gordon MacRae co-starred and will include the two song hits, Troupe, headed by William Lasky, "Tea for Two" and "I Want to Be Happy," I will be produced by William Lasky, will spend six months in the jun-Happy," I will be produced by William Jacobs, making a total of six pictures on his program. Others are "The Girl from Paris," "The Candy Kid Levels," "Betrayal," "Crashout" and "Ghost Mountain." Kong" and "Mighty Joe Young."

= Continued from page 5

continued from page s
wive program of reviving oldies with a limited number of prints.
In effect, the two majors are using art houses, first-run, as a proving ground for the classics piled on their shelves. Baker declared that the companies estimate 300-400 houses scattered through the U. S. would book the reissues and that his estimate conforms with that figurge. Understood that both Translux and Telenews chains are also supporting the plan.
Majors will attempt the idea on supporting the plan.

Majors will attempt the idea on a conservative basis, Baker elaborated, to keep the operation from growing costly. Because the time element is not too important, number of prints can be kept down. Films would be circulated among the sureseaters without the need of cortestive simultaneous bookings of extensive simultaneous bookings of any particular pic.

Art flickeries are confronted with a dire shortage of foreign pix. Baker said. "There are now only a handful of good ones, maybe a half-dozen yearly. The rest are unimportant small flims which had no reason to come over in the first place." Ilya Lopert, head of the chain, is one of the leading U. S. distribe of foreignings niv. distribs of foreign-lingo pix.

ustrios of toreign-lingo pix.

Recent performance of the W. C.
Fields' pix at several of the Lopert houses is regarded by Baker as evidence that the public is ripe for large-scale reissuance of the classics. In eight weeks at the Avenue theatre, N. Y., with less than 300 seats, Fields' package averaged between $5,000-$6,000 weekly, Baker aid. Same-dualer paged at the said. Same dualer opened at the Little theatre, Washington, a 289-seater, to a sensational $4,600.

Baker said he originally approached Warner Bros. with the scheme, "but so far they haven't been receptive." He expects to go back to WB after the plan proves itself.

Polio Scare

Continued from page 7

the disease had slowed down, but all clubs, taverns, pool rooms, and cigar stores must close at 7 p.m.

Ohio Ditto

Greenville, O., Aug. 16, Both outdoor and indoor theatres were ordered to cease operations throughout Darke County, and all public gatherings there were banned last week because of the prevalence of polio. Dr. Maurice M. Kane, health commissioner, also banned church services, public funerals, club and lodge meetings, and the ropening of schools. The Darke County Fair has been cancelled. Swimming pools and some parks and play-grounds had been closed earlier.

A road block and a county-wide curfew were inaugurated in Greenville and Darke County last week (9), with officials stopping motorists on four main highways telling them of the country-wide 7 p.m. curfew, and urging that they return home unless their business was urgent Congregating any turn home unless their business was urgent. Congregating anywhere was banned, and all bars and ealing places were ordered to close at 7 p.m.

Polio Shutters Drive-Ins
St. Louis, Aug. 16.
The rapid spread of polio in southeast Missouri during recent weeks has resulted in a number of drive-ins and other houses being shuttered until the epidemic has been conquered. The Edwards & Plumlee Circuit, with headquarters in Farmington, Mo., shuttered its houses in Elvins, Bismarck and Longwood, Mo. However, its houses in Bonne Terre, Eldon and Ironton continue to operate but are subject to closing should the disease invade those areas.
W. S. Brawley, owner of Pap's

W. S. Brawley, owner of Pap's theatre, a 200-seater in Eminence, Mo., has closed because of the Mo., has closed because of the presence of polio.

Lasky's Yucatan Pic

Hollywood, Aug 16.

Jesse L. Lasky is sending a roupe to Yucaian to shoot "Valley

Majors' Reissues Divorcement Seen Yrs. Off

Washington, Aug. 16.
Contending that the recent New York anti-trust ruling means the end of the road legally for the majors, the Allied States Association admitted it will take several years to carry out divorcement and divestiture fully.

vestiture fully.

A supplemental membership bulletin by Abram F. Myers. Allied board chairman, said in part:

"While it would seem that the die is cast, the processes of divorcement and divestiture may conceivably consume a number of years. However, the decree scheduled for presentation on Sept. 20 will fix definitely the terms of the injunctions and specify the time injunctions and specify the time limits and procedure with respect to the loose ends and, to all intents and purposes, will be a final decree within the meaning of Sec. 5 of the Clayton Act.

"The trade papers continue to int at further consent decrees decree within the meaning of See. 5 of the Clayton Act.

"The trade papers continue to hint at further consent decrees and it is possible that the Government and the defendants may reach an accord as to the theatres to be divested as illegal fruits or parts of local monopolies. But testimony has been received as to all issues, including those left open by the Supreme Court, and findings and adjudications of guilt are in order.

"There is no possibility of a consent decree which could not be used as evidence in a private suit because entered before any testimony had been received.

"In view of all that has taken place the entry of the usual form of consent decree containing protestations of innocence and without adjudications would be contrary to law and would stultify the Government attorneys who consented to it and the court that approved it . . . "We are confident that all important industry leaders will soon be reconciled to the new order and that a harmonious industry will surge forward in harmony. The future can be faced with assurance that at last the industry is on firm legal ground. This optimistic prospect is not dimmed by the eroakings of a few chronic bad guessers. Their hyperacidity is induced by their inability to foreast the outcome of the Government suit and the proceedings involving ASCAP. They pretend te see no good in the reforms ordered by the courts under the laws of Congress.

"But rage based on disappointment will influence no one."

"But rage based on disappoint-ment will influence no one."

Rank Crisis

Continued from page 5 where the duo are said to have had their differences. This fact, in turn, is basis for a report that Carr is threatening to resign if Archibald switches to distribution.

Indicating how rumors start flying, resignation of Sir Brian Mountain as a director of the Bank group has stirred reports that Eagle Star Insurance. Rank's chief Eagle Star Insurance, Rank's chief bankroller, is cracking down. Mountain, however, stepped out of the Rank group because of his father's death, and is now chairman of the Eagle Star board, hence his duties have become too arduous. Another insurance execuil take his place while Rank and Davis continue as directors on the Eagle Lion board.

Those John Davis Rumors
Silly season has reached its

Silly season has reached height with a rumor that Davis height with a rumor that Davis is on his way out. Contrary to this, Davis is in more solid than ever. One bank executive, P. 11. Shirley, is alding Davis on financial matters. He is taking the place of Leslie Farrow, Rank's top fiscal expert, who is sick.

One other report has it that the banks have refused Rank any aid unless he puts up $2.000.000 of his own money. To this as to other reports, film Insiders answer that the Rank group is as strong as the

the Rank group is as strong as the British empire. No need for com-paratively small amounts of ready eash can upset the big British film

Reorganization will undoubtedly Reorganization will indoubtedly mean closer surveillance of sales by the production end of the Rank org. Much smaller number of films will be turned out by Rank producers next year, possibly no more than 20. Because of this, it is the avowed purpose of the filmmakers to inspect sales contracts and campaigns with care.

VARIETY

21

Breaking records at Radio City Music Hall in the hottest weather on record—and Big everywhere!

WINNER OF "EXHIBITOR MAGAZINE" POLL FOR "BEST PRODUCT AND FAIREST TERMS!"

LEO SHOWS
YOU HOW TO KEEP COOL, CALM AND...

COLLECT!

FAN FARE!

M-G-M again this summer is the company that delivers Big Ones when you need them. Just a few on this page.

More on the way!

Hot Tip!
THE GREATEST PICTURE SINCE SOUND IS M-G-M's BATTLEGROUND

Film Reviews

Continued from page 8;

The House Across the Street

familiar and for program bookings in the lesser situations it will prove adequate

Plot lines itself up to depict crusading managing editor who tackles a crime bigshot in an effort to put the racketeer behind bars to put the racketeer behind bars. The campaign waged by the newspaper gets too hot, the racketeer brings pressure and the publisher relegates the editor to conducting the paper's lovelorn department. The ed finds a clue to the answers he wants while doing the sob sister stuff, goes on the prowl with the aid of a fearless girl reporter, and the expected conclusion comes about satisfactorily to all but the bigshot mobster. bigshot mobster.

about satisfactorily to all but the bigshot mobster.

Richard Bare's direction of the Russell Hughes screenplay doesn't strain and plays the melodramatics lightly for comedy flavor. Cast treats the material the same way, doing nothing that will distinguish them but handling the assignments capably. Wayne Morris is the likeable editor and Janis Paige is easy on the eyes as the sob sister. Two also pair for romance. Bruce Bennett does nice work as the racketeer, underplaying the role. More flamboyant is James Mitchell as Bennett's chief henchman. Alan Hale walks through the publisher assignment, with an occasional spotting of chuckles. Barbara Bates gets some color into her bad girl part and James Holden pleases as a victim of gangster tactics.

Hughes based his script on a story by Roy Chanslor. It is an account.

as a victim of gangster tactics.

Hughes based his script on a story by Roy Chanslor. It is an average, workmanlike job of writing that sometimes has a dialog spark. Saul Elkins' production supervision makes the most of the moderate budget in framing the physical dressing and William Lava's score does an obvious job of backing the story's mood. Editing keeps the footage down to an acceptable 69 minutes.

Brog. minutes. Brog.

The Mysterious Desperado

Hollywood, Aug. 12.

RKO release of Herman Schlom produc-on. Stava Tim Holt: features Bichard lartin. Edward Norris. Movita Castaneda. obert Livingston, Frank Wilcox. Directed obert Livingston, Frank Wilcox. Directed ot Lesley Sclander. Written by Norman ouslon: camera, Nicholas Musuraca; usic, Paul Sawiell: editor, Les Mil-look. Tradeshown Aug. 12, 49. Running mc. 69 JIIN.

Chito Richard Martin
Ramon Edward Norris
Luisa Movlta Castaneda
Jordan Robert Livingslor
Stevens Frank Wilcon
Barton William Tanner
Whittaker Robert B. Williams
Sheriff Kenneth MacDonald
Pedro Frank Lackteer
Padre Leander DeCordova

Tim Holt has an unusually good western in "The Mysterious Desperado." Crammed with action, footage moves swiftly in telling its better than average story of mysterious doings in early California. Oater fans and Saturday matinee trade will find this one likeable.

trade will find this one likeable.
Plot is standard material for a western, but doesn't play like it.
Norman Houston dresses up his story neatly and Lesley Selander's direction pushes it along with good suspense values. When Holt's saddle buddy. Richard Martin, is announced as the heir to rich lands in California, the pair leave their Arizona ranch to see what it is all about.

about.

The shootin' concerns slick scheme of a land agent to control a Spanish land grant acreage by killing off heirs and selling property in parcels to new settlers. It takes Holt and Martin a little time to figure out the top heavy, ably played by Frank Wilcox, but hard riding, good shooting and fist-sling-make things come out right for ing make things come out right for those on the side of law and order.

those on the side of law and order. Edward Norris is one of the heirs being pushed around. He's framed for the murder of his father, but Holt and Martin fix that. They also fix things so Norris and his girl friend. Movita Castaneda. can get married after the shooting and scrapping is out of the way. Principals do well. Robert Livingston and William Tannen are a good team as Wilcox henchmen. Kenneth MacDonald is an honest sheriff and others are capable.

Herman Schlom's production gets the most value from story and scenic background, and the Paul Sawtell score contributes neatly to thriller-suspense mood developed by Schander's direction. Lensing by Nicholas Musuraca and editing by Les Milibrook are among other credits helping to make this a strong entry in the regular oater market.

Brimstone (COLOR)

Republic release of Joseph Kane pro-uction, directed by Kane. Stars Rod ameron, Adrian Foothe, Stars Rod ameron, Adrian Foothe, Lack Holt, Jim James Brown, Guinn (Big Boy Williams, Charlita. Screenplay, Thames Williamson, from story by Norman S. all; camera CTrucolori, Jack Marta; edi-ur, Arthur Roberts; music, Nathan Scott, Tadesshown N. Y., Aug. 11, 49. Running FortsDavis. JamWilliams, Charlita.
Williams, Charlita.
Williamson, from story
Williamson, Francisco, Walker
Williamson, Walter
Walter
Walter
Williamson, Walter
Walter
Walter
Williamson, Walter

"Brimstone" is a field day for Rod Cameron and Walter Brennan who gustlly romp through this Republic Trucolor sagebrush saga. As the U. S. Marshal and No. 1 outlaw, respectively, they deal out a welter of shooting and hard riding which should add up to above-average grosses in the action situations.

Producer Joseph Kane who also uations.

Producer Joseph Kane, who also directed, endowed this entry with firstrate production values. Tructoolor lensing of Jack Marta is good in daylight scenes, but the tint process is not nearly so effective for the night sequences. Devotees of oaters will relish "Brimstone," although its pace could be considerably speeded by slicing the 90 minutes running time.

Yarn revolves around the oft-

Yarn revolves around the oft-told fight of a cattleman and his sons to resist the Invasion of home-

told fight of a cattleman and his sons to resist the linvasion of homestcaders. Once a wealthy stockman. Brennan and a pair of his offspring turn to robbing the stage and local bank in an effort to break the newcomers financially.

Norman S. Hall story, as screen-played by Thames Williamson, is a rambling account of a frontler feud. However, the film gets a lift through Brennan's salty portrayal of the vindictive plains pioneer. Cameron is a capable and forthright minion of the law. Among other players Adrian Booth is credible as a femme homesteader who weds Brennan's son, James Brown. Forrest Tucker scores as a crooked sheriff. Jack Holt has little to do as a Federal marshal who's wounded in a stage holdup. Balance of the cast is competent under Kane's brisk direction.

Hollywood Burlesque

Ever since burlesque here since buriesque became a memory in many municipalities, there are many that hold some fond recollections of this form of entertainment. Those that want to hold onto those illusions had better skip "Hollywood Burlesque," no matter what the exploitation says. It's a film that can be exploited in towns where there are no burlesque nim that can be exploited in towns where there are no burlesque houses. Those that have this type entertainment still available will find it difficult to compete with the real item.

find it difficult to compete with the real item.

"Hollywood Burlesque" can be exploited into heavy grosses as is evidenced in the first N. Y. run of this picture where virtually an allimate audience is paying comparatively good prices to recall the entertainment now tabu in Gotham. However, the marquee promises more than is delivered on screen, even though picture is an actual run-through of a burly show as done in a Los Angeles house.

The major resemblance to hurly is in the paucity of production. The shricking exploitation promising girls—girls—girls dwindles down to a femme sextet, three showgirls and a retinue of neo-strips who make with a small amount of bumps and grinds and flash out when the innocuous parade of one chorus is sparse.

sparse.

much as a hairpin. There's only one number in which the gals dispense with some raiment, but when it looks like it might become interesting, they go off-stage and return in gowns. There's nothing in this picture that will bring trouble from bluenoses.

VARIETY

Obsession (BRITISH)

Lift release of J. Arthur Rank-Independent Souverign Films (N. A. Bronsten) production. Stars Robert Newton, Sally Gray. Directed by Edward Dmytryk. Screenplay by Alec Coppel, from his Premigron-Richards, Robert Day; editor, Lito Carruthers; music, Nino Rota, At Odeon, London, Aug. 3, 49. Running time, 98 MINS.

Storm Riordan. Robert Newton Storm Riordan. Robert Newton Storm Riordan. Supt. Finsbury. New Bill Kronin American Salle Marchard Robert Storm Riordan. Michael Balfou Betty Coope James Harcour American Sa Miss Stevens Aitkin

Powerful suspense is the Powerful suspense is the keynote of Edward Dimytryk's first British directional effort and a strong dramatic situation has been developed from Alec Coppel's ill-fated stage play "A Man About a Dog," which ran for only a few nights. Boxoffice value of the pic in Britain is enhanced by striking similarity of the theme to the recent sensational acid-bath murders, while in America it should score on dual bills.

A straightforward situation is presented in which a doctor plans the "perfect" murder of his wife's American lover. Firstly the victim is confined in chains in a vacant building and the intention is to keep him alive while the hue and cry is on. The doctor's assumption is that if suspicion should fall on him he could always produce the missing person. The intention is that once the murder takes place the body should be dissolved in acid and disposed of down the drain. The wife's suspicion leads Scotland Yard to the trail and the victim is rescued after he has been dosed with poison.

The whole accent is on suspense and the clearcut presentation, with the plot focused on the four central characters, extracts the best from the theme. In the early stages the pace could be quickened but the whole atmosphere becomes tense when the official Scotland Yard inquiries begin. Naunton Wayne as the Yard superintenden is an example of perfect casting and his nonchalant manner deserves particular praise.

Wayne as the Yard superintendent is an example of perfect casting and his nonchalant manner deserves particular praise.

Robert Newton is ruthlessly polished as the doctor and plays the character in typical vein. Phil Brown displays his usual compence as the American victim and Sally Gray is effectively cast as the erring wife. But the biggest scenestealer in the film is Monty, the wife's dog, who is the American's companion during his long confinement.

Trottie True (Color) (BRITISH)

(BRITISH)
London, Aug. 10.
J. Arthur Rank-Two Clties productle and release. Stars Jean Kent. Jam Donald: features Hugh Sinclair, Lan
Morris, Andrew Crawford, Bill Owen. D
rected by Brian Desmond Hurst. Scree play by C. Denis Frieman, from novel be Caryl Brahanas and S. J. Simon edito
Caryl Brahanas and S. J. Simon edito
Harry Waxman; music, Bendamin Franke
At Odeon, London, Aug. 9, '49. Runnin
time, 98 MINS.

At Odeon, Londor, Aug. 9, 49, kunning At Odeon, Londor, Aug. 9, 49, kunning At Odeon, Londor, Londor,

Within obvious Crottie True" is a b limitations Within obvious limitations, "Trottie True" is a bright, vivacious Technicolor backstage musical. But it has clearly been made on a restricted budget, which has resulted in the elimination of anything remotely resembling production numbers. Currently, it's an above-average quota attraction for British exhibs. For U. S. release, pic has been retitled "The Gay Lady."

pic has been retuted the Cast Lady."

For this type of entertainment, the story follows the usual pattern. Central and dominating character is Trottie True, who works her way up from the back streets of Camden Town through smalltime vaudeville as a Gaiety Girl in a George Edwardes musical, ending up as the wife of a Duke.

In the development of the main theme, there's almost 100% realiance on the main character, and Jean Kent's breezy, colorful personality comes across easily and sparse.

Film is meagre on comedy. There are several sketches which have served long and valiantly on the wheels and some bring good audience reactions. More humor would have relieved long stretches of production.

Cast comprises off and onners.

There's a heavy set double-chinned juvenile singing the production numbers. Eddle Ware and Wenn Hitt do well in the limited comedy roles, and the staff of peelers, including Hiiary Dawn, Jenne, Joy Damon and others fail to shed as the side of the personality that the staff of peelers, including Hiiary Dawn, Jenne, Joy Damon and others fail to shed as the wife of a Duke. In the development of the main that character, and whele where there, there's almost 100% reliance on the main character, and sent kent's here, there's almost 100% reliance on the main character, and sent would have been where the personality comes across easily and or convincing had she been where the personality to the gallery rether that the staff of the personality discussions.

fine picture of some outstanding London scenes, and also of the surrounding countryside. Where studio settings have been employed, they have faithfully kept to the period, with an effective contrast established between the modest Camden Town home and the magnificent mansion at which Trottie eventually presides. This also emphasizes the hokum aspect, with an effective scene in which Trottie the Duchess entertains the members of her own family, all dressed up and obviously ill at ease in the regal surroundings.

Apart from Miss Kent, the principal role is that played by James Donald as the member of the peerage who is intrigued by the Gaiety Girl while warning a fellow peer of the perils of hanging around the stagedoor. Hugh Sinclair has a comparatively small part as the sophisticated "bounder." Andrew Crawford effectively represents the sincere type who is squeezed out of romance, Bill Owen is unfailingly solid as the smalltime performer who watches Trottie grow to stardom, and Lana Morris is a perky Gaiety Girl who knows what she wants, and then elopes with a chauffeur. Myro.

ildemar Walter Biuhin Ili's Mother Magdalene von Nussbaum

German-made semi-documentary about family life adjustments in postwar Berlin offers a sympathetic story and some stirring moments, but lacks strong bould for the U. S. market. Principal weakness appears to lie in the script, with the production, and performances adding plausibility and appeal.

As with so many postwar foreign imports, "Somewhere in Berlin" is so realistic it seems almost factual. Locale of a bombed-out residential section of Berlin strendthens the authentic factor, and the story of the boys playing "army" with black-market fireworks amid the ruins, is consistently believable. Impressive and moving, too, is the situation of the ragged soldier, back after years of war and prison camp, trying to adapt himself to the changed life with his wife and son.

But various parts of the situation lack projection or clarity, and several plot threads are unrelated to the basic story. Thus, the activities of black-marketers and the sequences about kids stealing groceries suggest the prevailing shortage of food, but somehow the people don't give the impression of being underfed. Similarly, while the ruins and the almostempty streets show the actual physical condition of the wrecked capital, the atmosphere of stagnation and despair remains implicit, without being dramatized.

Also there are too many unexplained, but apparently symbolle touches, such as the mental-shock veteran who voices a cryptle requiem at the bedside of a dying boy, the pickpocket who opens the yain, the kindly old painter, etc. And the relationship of the returned soldler and his wife is more or less taken for granted, where better development might have given the pickpocket who opens the yain, the kindly old painter, etc. And the relationship of the returned soldler and his wife is more or less taken for granted, where better development might have given the pickpocket who opens the yain, the kindly old painter, etc. And the relationship of the returned soldler and his wife is more or less taken for granted, where better development might h

Best Set Nominees

Hollywood, Aug. 16, Institute of Decor

Hollywood, Aug. 16,
American Institute of Decorators picked "The Barkieys of Broadway" and "Allas Nick Beal" as second-quarter nonlinees for best set decoration awards in 1949.
Nominations were made by a committee consisting of Henry Grace. Metro; Walter Scott, 20thFox: Rov Moyer, Paramount; Ruby Levitt, UI, and Jacques, independent,

'49 Net

Continued from page sa lower than any quarter in the past

lower than any quarter in the past two years.

RKO took the full brunt of the May-June b.o. decline in its second quarter. The impact against the company was double-edged since it was hit in exhibition and distribution. The wide gap between its gross during those three months and that of any quarter previous demonstrates the direct effects of the bad domestic theatre biz.

Second-quarter report by Paramount suffered from the same impact. Par has showed up with $7,800,000 for the three month stretch ended July 2. Deducted from this total, however, is $4,735,000 in special income which the company derived from the break-up of the Malco, E. V. Richards and Perry Hunter circuits. Actually, Par's net from normal operations amounted to the abnormally low figure of $3,165,000.

Against this, Par netted $5,675,000 in the comparative second quarter of '48. Its total for the first six months, including the take on theatre sales, comes to $13,475,000 against $13,570,000 lat year, first six months, including the take on theatre sales, comes to $13,475,000 against $13,570,000 last year. Equivalent earnings for the quarter amounted to $1.19 per share on 6,555,457 shares outstanding and $2.06 for the half year. Against this, 1948's equivalent earnings were 84c and $1.96 resectively. Par has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 56c per, share on common, payable Sept. 23 to stockholders of record, Sept. 2. That the bite into grosses was share on common, payable Sept. 23 to stockholders of record, Sept. 2, That the bite into grosses was not uniform is indicated by an SEC report filed this week by Columbia. For the period ended June 30, straddling the spring b.o. slump, Col grossed $9,603,000 (exclusive of foreign revenues). This total represents a slight improvement over the past two quarters when the company's gross came to $8,924,000 (three months ended March 26) and $8,668,000 (three months ended Jan. 3).

Net returns on the other companies have proved mixed so far but none have yet to report on the bad May-June period. Warner Bros. net for the half year has been a disappointing $5,624,000. Universal, with a loss of $465,242 for the six months ended April 30 is expected to show more red ink when it comes up with its ninemonth returns.

month returns.

Twentieth-Fox's net for the first quarter has been $3,017,000, an advance over the $2,926,842 garnered in the equivalent period of '48. It remains to be seen whether 20th has been badly hit by the spring decline. Metro's nine-month report was a promising $5,160,773. That report absorbed the May end of the-business blues since it covers the period ended June 3.

RKO Topping UA

Continued from page 7

eila," "Ichabod and Mr. Toad" and eila," "Ichabod and Mr. Toad" and "Treasure Island."

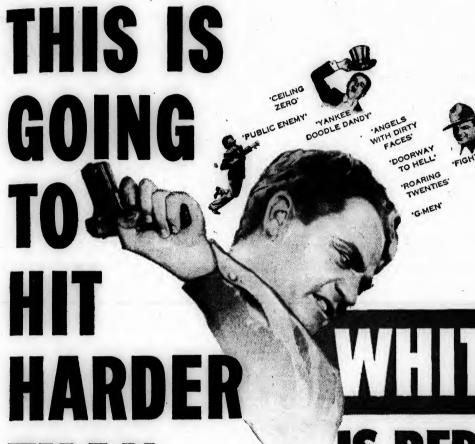

Merian C. Cooper has already delivered "Mighty Joe Young," which is doing exceedingly well in early engagements, while Cooper and John Ford will shortly lave their "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon" in fullscale release. Jack Skirball will provide two, "Love Is Big Business" and "Blind Spot." Irving Allen and Franchot Tone have already delivered "Eiffel Tower" and Allen will make "White Tower" in Switzerland.

Polan Banks is set to make "Carriage Entrance," Sol Lesser will provide another in the Tarran series, and Armand Denis and Lewis N. Cotlow have delivered their "Savage Splendor," documentary on an African expedition. "Arctic Fury," a revision of an earlier film on the northland, has already had some engagements.

Fury," a revision of an earlier him on the northland, has already had some engagements.

In addition to the other indie product, RKO will have three pix made by Hughes when he was in that category. Reacquired from UA, which was to release them, they are "The Outlaw," "Mad Wednesday" and "Vendetta." Of RKO's own product, one pic, "Montana Eelle," was bought in its completed state from Republic Latter studio made a fancy profit on it. Hughes apparently wanted it because his star, Jane Russell, appears in it. Hughes will also produce one pic personally. "Jet Pilot." He hopes to make of it, of course, another "Hell's Angels," which he produced with spectacuire bo, success in his éarly indie days.

THAN

TRADE SHOW AUGUST 24

Weener Screening Boom
7F R. Poerf.S. - 12:30 P.M.
ATLANTY F. S. Foerf.S. - 12:30 P.M.
ATLANTY F. S. Screening Boom
17F Wallen S. R.W. - 2:30 P.M.
100 STON
18D Screening Boom
100 StON
18D Screening Boom
14D Frenklin St. - 2:30 P.M.
12D Affington Stem
14D Frenklin St. - 2:30 P.M.
12D Affington Boom
14D Frenklin St. - 2:30 P.M.
12D F. S. S. 1000 P.M.
12D F. S. Welson Ave. - 1:30 P.M.
12D F. Welson Boom
13D St. Welson Ave. - 1:30 P.M.
12D F. Welson Boom
13D St. 100 P.M.
12D F. S. 100 P.M.
12D F. Welson Boom
13D St. 100 F.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
13D St. 100 F.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
13D St. 100 F.M.
12D St. 100 F.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
12D Step St. - 2:00 P.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
12D Step St. - 2:00 P.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
12D Step St. - 2:00 P.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
12D Step St. - 2:00 P.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
12D Step St. - 2:00 P.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
12D Step St. - 2:00 P.M.
12D St. Welson Boom
12D Step St. - 2:00 P.M.
12D

IS RED-HOT AND READY NOW AT WARNER BROS.

Geared to go-and go-and go!

EVER HIT BEFORE

CAGNEY

VIRGINIA MAYO EDMONI O BRIEN

she's the Lady Friend

FRED CLARK
DIRECTED BY RAOUL WALSH
PRODUCED BY LOUIS F. EDELMAN.

RANSAS CITA Screening Boom
1770 Wyworker Streening Boom
1770 William War 200 P.M.
MEAPHYS
2011 Carbory Fas Screening Boom
1781 Wincard Streening Boom
1781 William William William William Boom
1781 William William William Boom
1781 William William Boom
1781 William Streening Boom
1780 William William Boom
1780 William Boom
1781 Boom
1781

Screen Play by Ivan Goff and Ben Roberts Suggested by a Story by Virginia Kellogg • Music by Max Steiner

16m Biz OK But Yanks Figure Why Add to Stockpile of Frozen Coin?

on their 16m operations abroad are hitting between $3,500,000 and $5,-000,000 yearly, but expansion in the field, which started right after the war, has come to a halt. Companies figure there is no use burning up their product or expending energy merely to add to their already sizable stockpiles of frozen aiready sizable stockpiles of frozen coin abroad.

If and when the currency situation eases and the sale of films overseas again means receipt of dollars in the U. S., a great surge by the majors may be expected in the narrow-gauge field. Until then, most companies intend merely to sit tight and hold their lines on the 16m biz they have already built up. built up built up.

Quantity of coin that is now coming in with the minimum of effort and investment since the war's finish proves what a lucrative end of the industry the servicing of 16m prints can be. It is estimated that much of that 90% of the world's population which Eric Johnston states has never seen a motion picture are potential audiences for 16m. There can be no doubt that the American companies will go after them, too, when and if the simmering world calms down and the curbs are off.

Aside from many undeveloped areas of the earth where it is unfassible to build regular theatres for standard film, a big potential market for 16m is seen in the Soviet-orbit countries. If the Iron Curtain is ever lifted, the large segments of the population outside of the major cities will provide party of opportunity for 16m expansion.

England, France and Italy are Quantity of coin that is now com-

England, France and Italy are England, France and Italy are now the big sources of income in Errope from the pint-sized stock. All the majors except RKO are operating in England now and RKO may go in. David Coplan, former United Artists manager in London and now in the TV film production business there, has been in negotiation with RKO looking toward setting up a 16m distribution outfit for the company ir ingland.

Sance is providing 3,000,000 to yearly. Otherwise, there are a flock of other countries which earn small amounts, such as Venezuela, Citha, the Philippines and Siam. A highly-profitable sideline to the overseas 16m business is the graphy of the philippines and significant the state of the significant significan the overseas 16m business is the serving of ships with films. Income from this source is estimated at bottween $400,000 and $500,000 y arly, of which George Barnett's Movies En Route, Inc., takes 35%. Bornett's firm has exclusive tleups with both distribs and shipping lines to handle the business for thom.

them.

The America and He de France par $300 round trip per print, which permits them one showing ir each direction. Queen Mary and Coren Elizabeth are serviced out to London as a dollar conservation measure by the British. They pay £60 ($240) per round trip use.

Smaller ships pay less, of course.

The all get films prior to release in e U.S.

The and railroad exhibition

rline and railroad exhibition oix has never developed. Only ones now showing films are those the Avianea line between Baran-illa, Colombia, and New York. Trey have an exclusive tieup with RXO. Chesapeake & Ohlo remains the only railroad using pix, except for the Pennsylvania's Jeffersonina from New York to St. Louis, which has a children's theatre.

Plan 'Walk Sun' Reissue

Chicago, Aug. 16. Milton Gordon, Walter Heller & o. film advisor, states that nego-Co. film advisor, states that negotiations are underway to reissue "A Walk in the Sun" for which his outfit, along with Ideal Factoring Co. of New York, put un almost $1.000,000 of the $1.250,000 cost for the 1944 production.

About $400,000 was still due the two companies on their loan. Underwriters claimed the picture in foreclosure proceedings in New York supreme court last week.

TEXAS VARIETY BACKS CHARITY BOYS CLUB

Houston.

Houston Variety Club will sponsor a non-sectarian Variety Boy as its major charity project. A $25 a plate dinner will be held here at the Shamrock hotel, Sept 11 and 12 to help finance the project. Plans call for about 10 Hollywood starlets to come here to model special clothing creations. These will later be sold at auction.

Honor Ezell in Dallas

Dallas.

A life-size oll painting of Claude
C. Ezell, veteran Texas showman who is responsible for organization of local Variety Club Tent, was unveiled in the clubrooms here at a banguer held to honor. Frell vened in the clubrooms here at a banquet held to honor Ezell. Painting was given to the Variety Club by R. D. Bower, a life time friend of Ezell's. Ezell was chief barker of local tent in 1943.

20th-Odeon

Continued from page 3 :

Skouras proposal. He gave Skouras no encouragement that a deal could be worked.

One factor favoring an agree ment involving a smaller than half interest is the problem that a num-ber of Odeon houses face in ob-taining product. Most of the American films in Canada go to American nims in Canada go to Famous Players-Canadian chain, Paramount-owned web, which is Odeon's chief competitor. Which the Odeon gets all of Rank's films, it could use a bigger slice of U. S.

Rank Trims Costs

Continued from page 3

British film employees to the 10%-20% nick on salarles which the BFPA decreed. As for the top stars, while "they have not come out openly in favor of the slash, they are considering It behind-the scenes very favorably." British film people know, he added, "that the industry has its back to the wall" the industry has its back to the wall."

(From London, report comes that one of the reasons for the BFPA's fast action is to put the industry in a favorable position to ask for wage cuts from union labor. New in a favorable position to ask for wage cuts from union labor. New basic contracts come up for negotiation in the fall. Unions would naturally balk if top execs and clerical help did not also take cuts). Top stars, St. John said, were currently being paid between 15, 000-20.000 pounds ($60,000-$80,000) per picture. Income taxes are so high that the slash means very little difference in actual coin to these stars. "They know that high costs can kill the goose that laid the golden egg," St. John said.

On any pic that must depend on the old world market; St. John fixes the negative cost ceiling at 200,000 pounds ($800,000), with 175,000 pounds regarded as a safer figure. On a joint Anglo-American film venture where a U. S. outlet is guaranteed, the costs can jump to 325,000 pounds ($1,300,000 with each partner chipping in 175,000 pounds. Rank group is trying to hold the average to 175,000 pounds. Rank group is trying to hold the average to 175,000 pounds on pix intended primarily for the home market.

home market.

Pointing up the importance of the American outlet is the fact that "Hamlet" cost 550,000 pounds. "When that budget was fixed, it was swanded as madness," St. John

"When that budget was fixed, it was regarded as madness," St. John raid, "but the film will turn in a profit regardless of its big cost."

Development in Hollywood of the past few years is finally taking shape in Britain. There is an increasing tendency of indie producers and directors to take their cut in the form of deferments, British film exce noted. Movement is now spreading to stars who are currently considering the' type of compensation. compensation.

compensation.

St. John brought over with him prints of "The Gay Lady" and "Adam and Evalyn" for sneak previews here. He will also edit a number of Hark pix currently unreleased in the U.S.

SIDNEY TO DIRECT 'ANNIE' FOR METRO

Hollywood, Aug. 16.

George Sidney will take over direction of "Annle Get Your Gun," succeeding Chuek Walters who had charge of that Metro musical becnarge of that Metro musical be-fore Judy Garland was taken ill. Walters will direct "Summer Stock" when Miss Garland returns to work in October. The revamped "Annie," with Betty Hutton in the name role, will be Sidney's third director job this year. Others are "Key to the City" and "The Crossroads."

Hughes-RKO

Continued from page 3

ago, Hughes was required to give Odlum 10 days to meet any bld for the theatres. That period has long since passed and Odlum has made no effort to meet the price offered by the Meyer syndicate, offered by the Meyer syndicate.

Odlum has indicated a belief, however, that the Meyer bid is not bona fide, but the product of a deal between Hughes and the group. He sent a series of queries to Hughes—indicating that there might be a court battle if the answers were not satisfactory—and it is believed that is what is holding up Hughes' reply on the Meyer offer. It is understood that he doesn't want to accept the bid until his legal eagles assure him that he is on clear ground.

Meantime, Malcoln Kingsberg, operating head of the RKO circuit, is continuing his efforts to raise coin to beat the Meyer bid. He has indicated he'll continue trying until acceptance by Hughes of Meyers.

indicated ne'll continue trying un-til acceptance by Hughes of Mey-er's offer assures hlm he no longer has a chance of galning control through his own syndicate. He is understood still to be around $2,-000,000 short of the money required.

Odlum Standing Pat

Odlum Standing Pat

Odlum has made it clear that he has no intention of meeting the $5,575,000 price. It is generally believed that he never had any interest in owning the houses, in any case, but took the option for what he could make on it when he sold control of the RKO parent company to Hughes a little over a year ago. He is understood to have been offered $250,000 for the option, but refused it, demanding $500,000.

Kingsberg and Odlum reportedly had an agreement between them by which the former was to take the option if he could get the coin together to exercise it. Odlum was to have no financial interest in the Kingsberg syndicate beyond, perhaps, stock equal to a predetermined value set upon the option.

Odlum's option now is uscless. It may, however, provide the basis of a court fight on the basis of the Odlum attack on the Meyer bid as not bona fide. That's avidly denied by the Meyer outfit, of course, and whether Odlum would take it to court remains to be seen. There's a big gap between making a charge and proving it before judge and a big gap between making a charge and proving it before judge and

Nov. 8 Is the Deadline
While the industry has its eyes on Hughes, waiting for his decision on the fate of the highly valuable circuit of about 100 theatres, the RKO owner is under no com-pulsion to take any action before Nov. 8. On that date he has to have the houses divorced from the production-distribution company under terms of the consent decree he entered into with the Dept. of

However, he undoubtedly would want to let himself get into position of a forced sale as retof no standing bids when Nov. sult of no stand 8 rolls around.

Banks Help U. Continued from page 3=

set to insure the banks of U's liquid shape. Under the original loan's terms, if U's convertible assets fell below that total, the banks could demand additional collateral.

demand additional collateral.

Under the modification, original $22,500,000 figure may be reinstated Oct. 1. However, understood banks will not make that demand if the eompany's present operations hold up. It is expected that U will come close to breaking even for the fiscal year, ended Nov. 1, after a slow start in which the company showed a loss of $465,242 for the first six months.

Picture Grosses

TORONTO

(Continued from page 10)

wk). Lusty $9,000 after last week's smash $13,000.
Odeon (Fank) (2,390; 35-$1.20)
—"Home of Brave" (UA) (4th wk).
Still big at $10,000 after last week's $12,000.

$12.000.

Shea's (FP) (2,386; 40-70)—

"You're My Everything" (20th).

Big $10,500. Last week, "Great Gatsby" (Par) (2d wk), $7,000.

University (FP) (1,556; 40-60)—

"Casablanca" (WB) (relssue). Fine
$6,500. Last week, "Fountainhead"

(WB) (2d wk), okay $5,000.

Uptown (Loew) (2,743; 40-70)—

"Edward, My Son" (M-G). Good $9,500. Last week, "Johnny Stool Plgeon" (U), $6,000.

Preem of 8-Act Vaude Cues Unbeat in Cincy. Big $30,000 With 'Live'

Cincinnati, Aug. 16.
Addition of an 8-act vaude layout at the RKO flagship Albee and out at the RKO flagsnip Albee and four new bills, three of them hotsy, have downtown biz on the rebound this stanza. Vaude is paired with "Let's Live a Little" for sock total. "El Paso" shapes as top straight-

Estimates for This Week

Estimates for This Week
Albee (RKO) (3,100; 55-94)—
"Let's Live Little" (EL) plus Buck and Bubbles, Senator Murphy topping 8-act vaude lineup. Injection of variety fare pushing this to socko $30,000. Last week, "Great Gatsby" (Par) and "One Last Fling" (WB), at 55-75c scale, satis-

Fling" (WB), at 55-75c scale, satisfactory $15,000.
Capitol (RKO) (2,000; 55-75)—
"Great Sinner" (M-G), Swell $13,-000. Last week, "Good Old Summertime" (M-G) (2d wk), $10,000, Grand (RKO) (1,400; 55-75)—
"El Paso" (Par), Very good $11,-000. Last week, "Dumbo" (RKO) and "Saludos Amigos" (RKO) (resuses) plus "Sea Island" (RKO), okay $6,000.
Keith's (City Inv) (1,542: 55-75)

okay $6,000.

Keith's (City Inv.) (1,542; 55-75)

—"Illegal Entry" (U) and "Woman Hater" (U). Moderate $7,500. Last week, "Manhandled" (Par), $6,000.

Palace (RKO) (2,600; 55-75)

—"Anna Lucasta" (Col) and "Kazan"
(Col). Plumpish $15,000 or less.
Last week, "Lost Boundaries" (FC) and "Own True Love" (Par), $10,000.

EL Hungry Continued from page 5 :

had shoved into the black for sev-had shoved into the black for several months.

Along with Walter Wanger's "Tulsa," EL's two current mainstays are "The Red Shoes" and "Quartet," both J. Arthur Rank productions. In 54 bookings, "Quartet" has grossed $210,000. Of this figure, $100,000 has come from the Sutton, N. Y., In a sensational 20-week run.

"Shoes" has passed the $1,250,000 marker in advanced-admission roadshows. EL is booking the film at the same top scales in a number of repeats. Indicating the strong pull of the Technicolor treatise on ballet, in the first two repeat engagements, Cinema, Detroit, and Strand, Iowa City, film has bettered its first playoffs.

Playing up EL's heavy dependence on British films is the fact that 12 Rank pix are currently in release. Four other big Rank films are earmarked for fall release. They are "Passport to Pimileo." "Obsession," "History of Mr. Polly" and "Cardboard Cavalier." EL lot shuttered after completion of three pix. Two of these are Bryan Foy productions, "Port of New York" and "Trapped." Other is a compilation of Mack Sennett shorts with new bridging labelled "Down Memory Lane." Light output of Hollywood product, however, is not considered enough to keep the company operating at a profit level.

EL Shutters Again
Hollywood, Aug. 16.
With the conclusion of retakes
on the Bryan Foy production, Trapped," Eagle-Lion closed Its tates and went into hibernation to await new financing by Robert R. Young.

Except for department heads and maintenance crew, about 25 in all, the studio will be closed indefi-

Peggy Lee-Stager Tilt 'Roughshod' Rugged 30G. Cleve.; 'Feeling' Oke 16G

Cleveland, Aug. 16. Boxoffice bell at Palace is being Boxoffice bell at Palace is being rung by Peggy Lee with Dave Barbour quintet and Louis Jordan band, shoving "Roughshod" vaude combo to week's liveliest take. "In Good Old Summertime" is nice at State. "It's a Great Feeling" looks stronger than average figure at Hipp. "Lost Boundaries" continues socko in fourth Esquire week.

Estimates for This Week

Allen (Warners) (3,000; 55-70)— "Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U). Okay $12,000. Last week, "Massacre Rlver" (Mono), $10,000.

Esquire (Community) (704; 55-70)

"'Lost Boundaries" (FC) (4th wk), Swell $11,000 following $12,000
last week.

nast week.

Hipp (Warners) (3,700; 55-70)—
"It's Great Feeling" (WB) Satisfactory $16,000. Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB) (2d wk), tuneful $14,000.

Ohio (Loew's) (1,200; 55-70)...
"Cobra Woman" *FC) and "White Savage" (FC) (reissues). Unexpectedly neat $7,000, Last week,
"Lonesome Pine" (Par) and
"Geronimo" (Par) (reissues), solid $8,000.

$8,000.

Palace (RKO) (3,300; 55-85)—
"Roughshod" (RKO) with Peggy Lee, Dave Barbour, Louis Jordan orch onstage. Smart $30,000. Last week, "Green Promise" (RKO) plus Dick Contino unit onstage, great $35,000, matching record of Dennis Day's p.a. here.

State (Loew's) 12,700; 55-70)—
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G), Nice at $19,000. Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G), $18,000.

'Lining' Lively $20,000, Buff; 'Summertime' 14G

Buffalo, Aug. 16.
Pacing field here this week is "Silver Lining," with great session at Paramount. "Anna Lucasta" also looks fairly nice at Lafayette.
"Good Old Summertime" is okay
at the Buffalo.

Estimates for This Week

Buffalo (Loews) (3,500; 40-70) — "Good Old Summertlme" (M-G). Good $14,000. Last week, "Any Number Play" (M-G), big $16,500.

Number Play" (M-G), big $16,500.

Paramount (Par) (3,400; 40-70)—
"Silver Lining" (WB). Great $20,000. Last week, "Great Gatsby" (Par), oke $13,000.

Lafayette (Basil) (3,000; 40-70)—
"Anna Lucasta" (Col) and "Kazan"
(Col). Nice $15,000. Last week,
"Johnny Stool Pigeon" (U) and
"Law Barbary Coast" (Col), $13,000.

Century (20th Coast)

$13,000. Century (20th Cent.) (3,000; 40-70)—"Red Stalllon Rockies" (EL) and "Big Cat" (EL). Passable $10,-000. Last week, "Too Late for Tears" (UA), same.

PITTSBURGH

(Continued from page 11)

(Continued from page 11)
to do $5.000 in 6 days, modest. Last week, "Calamity Jane" (U), $6.500.
Harris (Harris) (2,200; 45-80)—
"Anna Lucasta" (Col). Getting by chiefly on strength of play's rep since Paulette Goddard hasn't been b.o. around here for some time Heading for $13,000, which may be enough to get it a m.o. to Senator.
Last week, "Johnny Stool Pigeon"
(U), okay $11,500.

Penn (Loew's-UA) (3,300; 45-80)—
"Good Old Summertime" (M-G)
(2d wk). Getting along very nicely at around $13,500. Last week, sock $21,000.
Stanley (WB) (3,800; 45-80)—
"Lost Boundaries" (FC). Town had plenty of chance to get steamed up over this one via strong campaign.
Terrific notices helping, too. and should be one of best weeks house has had in long time. Should hit big $22,000, and holds, of course.
Last week, "Silver Lining" (WB)
(2d wk), okay $12,000.

Warner (WB) (2,000; 45-80)—"Sil ver Lining" (WB) (m.o.). Satisfactory $7,000. Last week, "Nick Beal' (Par) and "Red Stallion Rockies" (EL), slim $4,500.

ARTHUR KNIGHT'S SHIFT

ARTHUR KNIGHT'S SHIFT

Arthur Knight, exec with RKO sales forces, has resigned to take over chairmanship of the Dramate Workshop's film and television dept.

gept.

Transitic Workshop recently severed connections with the New School of Social Research. Courses start in the fall.

DE . CXA256 DL PD=CX DETROIT MICH 2 556P= UNITED ARTISTS CORP 729 SEVENTH AVE NYK= GRADWELL SEARS=

THE PUBLIC HAS WAITED THREE YEARS (NIGHT IN CASABLANCA) FOR A NEW MARX BROTHERS PICTURE. IN DETROIT THEY SHOWED IT WAS SOMETHING WORTH WAITING FOR BY STORMING THE BOX OFFICE DESPITE TERRIFIC HEAT. HAPPY TO INFORM YOU "LOVE HAPPY" HAS

EARL J HUDSON PRESIDENT UNITED DETROIT THEATRES CORP BEEN HELD OVER FOR A SECOND WEEK=

Happy' Socko ove Happy hit smash total at the Palms this

> Get Variety and read all about it!

"All in all, the film is the best the brothers have had in too long a time!"

Get this from National Board of Review quote!

with RAYMOND BURR · MELVILLE COOPER · LEON BELASCO · PAUL VALENTINE · ERIC BLORE · BRUCE GORDON A LESTER COWAN Production · Directed by DAVID MILLER · Musical Score and Lyrics by Ann Ronell

Book HAPPY now for September thru

Clips from Film Row

NEW YORK

NEW YORK

Reshuffling of Paramount's flackery, under way since the advent of Max E. Youngstein, national ad-pub director, several months back has been completed with the formal naming of Jerry Pickman as asst. ad-pub. difef. Pickman, who served in a similar post under Youngstein when the duo were at Eagle Lion, will also continue functioning as head of the exhib relations dept.

According to Youngstein, there have been seven additions to his dept. since his entry but very few repacements. Head of depts. are now set with Sid Blumenstock as advertising manager; Mort Nathanson as publicity chief and now set with Sid Blumenstock as advertising manager; Mort Nathanson as publicity chief and Sid Mesibov, exploitation topper. John Tassos named Paramount's special publicity rep in Washington, Baltimore and Norfolk areas. He previously served as assistant to 20th-Fox's manager in Bogota, Columbia.

20th-Fox's manager in Bogota. Columbia.
Phil Isaacs named by Paramount as ass't to Hugh Owen, eastern and aouthern division manager. He replaces Lou Wechsler, transferred to N. Y. exchange as salesman. New aide to Owen joined Par in '46 as an apprentice booker and last served as a N. Y. salesman.
Twentieth -Fox sales veepee Andy W. Smith, Jr., has designated Nov. 20-26 as the company's "Anniversary Week," which is to be a feature of this year's 18-week personal branch managers' testimonial sales drive. Smith said the third week in November is to be marked annually as the company's anniversary. Original Fox Films was formed 35 years ago and that company merged with 20th Century Pictures in 1934.

CHICAGO

Mike Godshaw, vet UA salesman, joins Film Classics.
Booking of "Jolson Sings Again" at Woods moved back to the 24th instead of the 19th to prepare more exploitation material.
Harry Myers, WB vaud booker, here looking over talent.
Sherrill Corwin, L.A. Orpheum,

also in looking for acts for return of vaude to his theatre after three-year lapse. Theatre Equipment & Supply Manufacturers convention here Sept. 26-28 has past exhibitor registration of past years with over 90 booths signed for. Si Fabian will talk on "Television and The Theatre" booths signed for. Si Fabian will talk on "Television and The Theatre."

William Hollander, B&K ad chief, and Harris Siliverberg, Chimanager of National Screen, named co-chairmen of the Theatres & Entertainment Group of the 1949 Community Fund Campaign. Si Griever has taken over booking the Hilltopper drive-in, Joilet, for Rube Levine.
Paramount Chi exchange has requested 45 prints of "Top of the Morning," 15 more than "Sorrowful Jones."
RKO has set "Mighty Joe Young" into 20 class "A" house after Grand Loop run.
Moonlite Outdoor theatre, Hammond, Ind., retained Seymour Simon to gain first-run clearance and day-date showings with houses in Gary and Hammond.
Palace, Cicero, Ill., Lubliner and Booth house, reinstates week-end vaude this fall.

EASTON, PA.

Picture business is not as good as it was a year ago, owners and as it was a year ago, owners and managers of theatres in the Lehigh Valley agree. It is not so bad but nothing like the lush postwar years. Several reasons for drop in patronage they say, but insist television is not the main one. Long heat wave has hurt.

Another reason, is lack of good product.

PHILADELPHIA

Construction of a drive-in in South Philadelphia, first ever proposed within city limits here, ran into industry opposition. Head of Philadelphia Theatre Assn. voiced objections to Frederic D. Garman, president of City Council. Upped police protection and traffic hazards as result of ozoner were stressed.

9 out of 10 Screen Stars use it __ Lux Girls are Lovelier!

Russell Baker sold his El Capitan, 600 car drive-in near Metropolis, Ill., to Malco Theatres, Memphis, Tenn., headed by M. A. Lightman. Sales marks entry of Malco organization into St. Louis trade area.

Harry E. Miller, Tilden Dixon and William A. Collins, owners of picture theatres in southeastern Missouri, formed syndicate to erect a $100,000 drive-in between Fes-

Missouri, formed syndicate to erect a $100,000 drive-in between Festus and Crystal City, Mo.
The Gen, Odin, Ill., operated by J. D. Hawley shuttered because of intense hot weather.
John Walsh, for last 18 months manager of St. Louis exchange of Albert Dezel Productions, Inc., and Nick O'Brien, booker for the exchange, purchased the exchange from Albert Dezel, Detroit. New firm will be known as the Flo-Mar,
Inc., wild distribute Astor Pictures,
Favorite Films, Madison Pictures, Masterpiece Pictures and Supreme Pictures.

Pictures.

Bill and Irvin Dubinsky, St.
Joseph, Mo., are expanding their theatre holdings in St. Louis area.
Recently obtained possession of Altwood drive-in, near Alton, Ill., and two other drive-ins and a regular house in same area. Also purbased stack in Riverlane Amus. and two other drive-ins and a regu-lar house in same area. Also pur-chased stock in Riverlane Amus. Co.'s drive-in, Rockford, Ill., Star-view Amus. Co.'s drive-in, Lincoln, Neb., and a theatre in Madison, I.e.

Neb., and a theatre in state la.

1a.

C. Andrews, owner of drive-in near Orlando, Fla., in St. Louis hospital for treatment for infected foot.

Permanent quarters of the Mid-Central Allied Independent Theatre Owners, affiliated with National Allied, opened on Film Row here with David S. Nelson as general manager.

MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS

Pete Dawson, manager of Universal exchange here, resigned to take a fling in the Louisville, theater biz. Robert (Bobby) Wilkinson, U sales dispenser in this territory, upped to Dawson's post. Dawson, leased the Rodeo in Louisville for western pix.

Bill Kemp, who skippered Loew's State here for nearly five years, resigned to move into an exec spot with the Fred Weis chain in Macon and Savannah, Ga.

R. N. Wilkinson took over as Universal's branch manager in Memphis Aug. 1, replacing R. P. Dawson who resigned to enter his own business. Wilkinson started with Universal in 1941 as assistant booker in Memphis and later was made a salesman there, which position he held until upped to present post.

DES MOINES

Jimmy Redmond's appointment as ad director for Tri-States Theatre Corp. drawing big interest since many rocall when he had one of first big shot bands in the Midwest. Following an accident, he had to give up badd work and became doorman at Ennham, Fairbury, Nebr. Later he warked way up to Falls City, Nebr. city wanager for Tri-States. Russ Fraser, who had been doing double duty for several months, becomes director of public relations.

been doing upons.

been doing upons.

months, becomes director of public relations.

Harvey Kelly, former assistant manager at Paramount, Omaha, named city manager for Falls City, Nebr, succeeding Redmond.

Myron Blank outlined comprehensive, yet simple New Season Promotion for all Central States Theatre units, purpose being to bally the value of screen entertainment generally and new products specifically. Plan includes luncheons and dinners and previews of new season pictures, with tie-ups and cooperative tieups with newspapers, schools, mayors, Chambers of Commerce, churches and women's clubs.

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY

Planning committee for Motion Picture Day observance by Chamber of Commerce arranging program for Sept. 21.

Fox Midwest set Aug. 31-Sept. 1 as date for annual meeting of managers and officials.

City fathers of Kansas City are considering proposal to produce a half-hour film as a promotional and educational measure for the city. Film running 20 to 30 minutes, would cost $10,000 to $15,000.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

A. A. Sheplerd, Jr., manager of the Alamance, at Burlington, trans-ferred to Forsyth in Winston-Salem on temporary basis. Shepherd will be replaced by Jim Clement, for-merly house manager at Burling-ton's Paramount.

TOLEDO

Jack O'Connell, operator of the Loop in Toledo and theatres in several northwestern Ohio cities, has filed suit for $5,000 dame of the several northwestern Ohio cities, has filed suit for $5,000 dame of the several northwestern Ohio cities, has filed suit for $5,000 dame of the several northwestern Ohio cities, has filed suit for $5,000 dame of the several northwestern of the several northwestern of the several northwestern of the several northwestern of court litigation. O'Connell in October, 1947, leased the Madrid, Port Clinton, assuming nair of the cost of remodeling the building. A former lessee on Dec. 4 of that year took possession and the Ottawa County Common Pleas Court enjoined Mr. O'Connell from interfering. The defendant, Popular Theatres & Amusements, Inc., was required to put up through the bonding company $5,000 indemnity pending O'Connell's appeal. On June 18, 1948, the Court of Appeals reversed the lower court and held that Populaer Theatres and Amusements, Inc., was not entitled to possession.

Firemen at Marysville, O., while standing in front of the fire station near the Avalon, discovered that the roof of the theatre building was afire. Total of more than 500 patrons left the theatre in orderly fashion. Blaze was believed caused either by lightning or a short in sign wiring.

National Labor Relations Board hearing was held in Toledo laze, Motion Picture Operators, AFL, Worth has had a contract with the house for several years, and a new independent union, the Toledo Projectionists' Assn. Decision is expected shortly from Washington.

MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS

Arthur Groom, former Memphis theatre house manager, returns here to take over the Loew's State this week, being transferred from Loew's Victory, Evansville, Ind.
Elliott Johnson, former ad director and publicist for Malco circuit, upped to managing director of the Malco here, with Jack Tunstill staying as house manager.
Ollie Brownlee, who has skippered the Strand here for last two years made manager of Joie, Fort Smith, Ark, Switch is in line with the recent dissolvement of Malco theatre chain and Par. Change becomes effective Oct. I, with Brownlee working under Par banner. Johnny Graber, former art layout director at Malco, becames house manager of Strand.

Southern Par headquarters will soon be set up at Strand here under director of Jack Katz, circuit booker, and W. A. Thompson, district chief of Charlottsville, Va. Both Par execs will come here at end of month to formulate plans. Change will bring houses in Fort Smith, Ark., Jackson, Tenn., Hot Springs, Ark., Ownesboro, Ky., Fulton, 'Ky., and Memphis Strand under the Par tent.

PITTSBURGH

George Moore, salesmen for 27 years with 20th-Fox and the old Fox Co., and Jim Thorpe, who was with the company for 21 years have left. John Dinan, from Philadelphia exchange, is replacing Moore in Erie territory but no successor to Thorpe as city salesman named so far.

Thorpe as city salesman named so far.

Joe Vandergrift has gone to work for Exhibitors Service Co. as night film man. He was booker at 20th-Fox for 25 years, post filled by John Wilhelm, from Buffalo office. Shirley Brown, former local actress and ad agency account executive, and her husband, Alex Levin, now operate a second theatre, the Fayette, formerly the Paramount, in Connellsville besides the Soisson. Both houses are owned by her father, Ben Brown.

John A. Reilly returned as manager of Lou Kaufman's Metropolitan in Bloomfield district.

PORTLAND, ORE.

Joe Warren, of Metro exchange, just released from Portland Vets Hospital, guest of honor at Film Men's Golf Tourney.

Marty Foster, manager of J. J. Parker's Cinema Guild, in Canada for rest.

r rest.
Dick Fink back on job at Orpheum.

Annual two-day golf tournament of local film biz held last week at Oswego Golf and Country Club.

BOSTON

Following extensive alterations the E. M. Loew Publix here reopens Aug. 17. Joe Ehrlich named managing director.

Beacon Pictures Corp. bought by Maurice M. Green from Harry "Zippy" Goldman. Green formerly on Paramount sales staff and recently district manager of Film Classics here, will handle indies, reissues and foreign products.

'B Pool' a Mathematical Device

The "B pool," which has suddenly sprung to prominence in S.-British film relationships, is a source of much misconception the industry, even among top execs closely concerned with its

The "B pool," which has suddenly spring to prominence in the industry, even among top execs closely concerned with its operation. The pool comprises earnings of British pictures in America. But it is not a physical entity and no money actually ever goes into it. It is merely a mathematical computation. Under the Anglo-U. S. agreement, the sum calculated as earned by British pix here is labeled the "B pool." It is added to the "A pool." Latter comprises the $17,000,000 of American earnings in Britain that the U. S. distribs are allowed to take out in dollars annually. Thus, if the "B pool" amounts to $2,000,000, that's added to the $17,000,000 and the Yank companies may remit out of their earnings in Britain a total of $19,000,000. This $19,000,000 is then divvied among the American distribs in ratio to the amount of biz each of them dld in England during the year.

U.S. Distribs, in Hassle Over 'B' Pool, Also Fighting Stall by British Gov't

The "B pool" is not only the source currently of a bitter hassle between American distribs, but likewise of a battle between the U. S. industry and the British government, it has been learned. As a result of a dispute as to what constitutes the earnings of British pix in America—which makes up the pool—the Labor government has refused to compute exactly how much coin is in the kitty.

First year of operation by the American industry under the Anglo-U. S. agreement ended June 14—two months ago. Other statistics in regard to the pact were computed shortly after that time, but the amount of money the Americans were to share out of the "B pool" can't be figured until an agreement is reached.

The pool has been a cause of dispute among the American companies recently as a result of charges that most of them were using loopholes to prevent British pic income from going into the pool, and were grabbing the coin for themselves individually. Universal, the only company continuing to pour any quantity of money into the pool, made a new deal with J. Arthur Rank recently enabling it to stop such payments in the future. This is expected to touch off a blowup on the whole pool setup at the next meeting of the board of the Michael Michael Politaker Event Ares. This is expected to touch out a blowup on the whole pool setup at the next meeting of the board of the Motion Picture Export Assn., through which the British agree-ment operates.

British Earnings in U. S.

British Earnings in U. S."
Dispute with the United Kingdom government is over exactly what should be construed as "British earnings in the U. S." Basically, the Anglo-American pact has by practice and agreement been interpreted to state that into the pool practice and agreement been interpreted to state that into the pool should go carnings only of Britishmade pix "owned by British interests." In other words, British-made pix owned by American interests—as In the case of deals by Selznick. Goldwyn and 20th-Fox with Sir Alexander Korda—are not included. That's the cause of the battle within the Yank industry. Beyond that, however, disagreement starts with the U. K. The British government maintains that the only money computable as be-

British government maintains that the only money computable as belonging to the pool should be those dollars actually remitted from the U. S. Americans maintain that the figure should be actual earnings here, without taking out the cost of operations of the J. Arthur Rank. Sir Alexander Korda and other British organizations in the U. S. and their expenditures on institutional advertising, equipment, etc. Such charges, it is claimed, are not the business of the U. S. industry and it should not be penalized

ORTSERVICE COPP. JACOBS BROS. I MAIN ST. . BUFFALO, N. Y. . WA. 2506

British industries. There is a strong realization, it's said, that the English producers, with the aid strong realization, it's said, that the English producers, with the aid of their government, placed themselves in a position of wholesale competition with Hollywood long before they were ready and that this has got them into trouble. It is too early to say, the U. S. execs declare, whether this recognition of the facts will be helpful to the American industry in its future relationships with the British, Feeling is, though, that Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, and other United Kingdom officials, will certainly be in a less cocky mood when, in a few months, they face American negotiators for reappraisal of the Anglo-U. S. pact than they were when the agreement was drawn up in March, 1948.

If the British will shuck off their buildog attitude and determination to go through with a policy whether right or wrong, realization of the facts in top governmental and production quarters give promise of a sizable reduction in the 40% quota coming out of the negotiations, it is said. Above all, the high quota is said to be recognized as an obvious error that makes the British look a little silly nized as an obvious error that makes the British look a little silly makes the British look a little sing when they have to grant an exemp-tion to almost every theatre to keep it alight.

As for the $17,000,000 yearly ceiling on remittances by U. S.

As for the $17,000,000 yearly ceiling on remittances by U. S. companies from the U. K., there's uncertainty whether that can be raised. Britain's general economic condition is undoubtedly bad and it will play on that to a fare-thee-well in resisting an increase, it is said. However, final results may depend on how tough the Americans are in their dealings—and that may hinge on some concessions which a few companies are winning individually from the British.

Noticeable among U. S. industry execs, llowever, is a hardening in attitude toward Britain. A couple years ago there was a sympathetic years ago there was a sympathetic feeling and a "you-can't-get-blood-out-of-a-stone" viewpoint toward the British. Now, a combination of factors has changed that considerably. First is the continued economic crisis despite the huge amounts of Marshall Plan money and other help given by the U.S. There's a feeling that the British are doing a little crying of "Wolf" and that a few million dollars more the American industry isn't goto the American industry isn't go-ing to work any hardship in the chronic economic crisis.

Briefs From the Lots

Hollywood Aug. 16. Albert Kelley bought "On Dark-waters," Harris Dickson story in Colliers, for production as semi-documentary in the Louislana bayou district ... "Locked In" new tag on "The Big Cage" at Warners tag on "The Big Cage" at Warners

Dorothy Hart second femme lead in "Frame-Up" at UI. Metro picked "The Crossroad" as third title for "Case of Martha Buhlen."
formerly "The Red Danube"...
Metro sent the "Key to the City" troupe out on location at Clover Field while Loretta Young is in the hospital Benedict Bogeaus shifted his "Johnny One-Eye" company to Motion Picture Center, from General Service, where he maintains his offices. Sol Lesser's "Headhunters of the Amazon" unit sent a shipment of film out of Ecuador two days before the earthquake.

Ecuador two days before the earunquake.

Charles Barton will direct "Double Crossbones," formerly "Half a Buccaneer," co-starring Donald O'Connor and Helena Carter at U. Karl Tunberg will script next Clifton Webb starrer at 20th, "Mr. Belvedere Goes West," based on a short story by Ben Hecht, "Concerning a Woman of Sin".

Wanda Tuchock's writer option picked up by 20th for two years. Warners bought John Twist's "The Fires of Orinoco," and turned it over to Anthony Veiller for production.

over to Annual duction.

Next galloper for Roy Rogers and Dale Evans at Republic is "Sunset in the Sierras," starting Sept. 15, Edward J. White producing. Lois Chartrand signed term sept. 15, 163 Mart J. White plotters ing. Lois Chartrand signed term player deal at Paramount. "Twi-light." filmed by Hakim Bros. for UA, will be released as "Without Honor". Clips of oldtime comedies, featuring Charles Chaplin, Ritz Bros. and Laurel & Hardy, spliced together by Hoffberg Films under the title, "Funtasia". Warners rounding up newsreel shots from various racetracks for insertion into forthcoming "Story of Seabiscult". Aaron Stell directed and edited "The Soundman," one of the educational shorts sponsored by the Motion Picture Industry Film Project, this time at Columbia.

by the Motion Pittine Incomplete.

Gloria de Hav n femme lead opposite Red Skelton in "Yellow Cab Man" at Metro. Thomas Gomez plays Mexican general in "Eagle and the Hawk" for Pine-Thomas at Paramount "U. S. Mail" is the new tag on "Postal Inspector" at Par. 20th-Fox bought "The Man Who Sank the Navy." Satevepost story by William Fay, as starrer for Paul Douglas. Helen Deutsch taking leave absence from Metro to work on own story, "Love Is Not Enough" Ron Ormond and Ira Webb's new production unit to turn out action films for Screen Guild. Bill Williams' gunfighter role in Nat Holt's "The Cariboo Trail."

Republic's War Film With Frozen Money

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
George Waggner's next picture for Republic release will be a war story, "The Road to Anzio." to be filmed in Italy with frozen coin. Start of the picture awaits the return of Herbert J. Yates. Republic chief, who has been inspecting the frostbitten money situation in Europe.

Return of Yates may also mean the go sign on a pair of Roy Rogers westerns, to be made in England with impounded funds. Hollywood, Aug. 16.

McCarthy Cautions On Foreign Remittances

Cautious optimism on the remittance situation abroad for the U. S. industry was expressed by John G. McCarthy, director of the international division of the Motion international division of the Motion Picture Assn. of America on Monday (15). McCarthy reported at that time to the foreign managers of the major companies on the two-month trip through Europe from which he returned last week. MPAA exec's tour was strictly exploratory and to acquaint him with the on-the-ground situation. He engaged in no negotiations or deals, but told the foreign managers of his talks with U. S. embassy and legation execs as well as with government officials in the. Scandinavian countries and and legation execs as well-vith government officials in Scandinavian countries and France.

Meeting of foreign managers otherwise was largely taken up with discussion of plans for individual company selling in Germany after Dec. 21 of this year.

Britishers Find Avid H'wood Desire For Yank Coin Into Anglo-U. S. Prod.

Small Finds 'Valentino'

Hollywood, Aug. 16. Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Edward Small's long-sought unknown for the name role in "Valentino As I Knew Him" is Tony bexter, 29, a little theatre actor who looks remarkably like the late Rudolph. This will be his first film. His real name is Walter Craig

Picture will start Aug. 22 on the Goldwyn lot with a budget announced as "around $1,000,000."

U-Rank Formula For Converting £ Into Hard $

Universal's latest distributionproduction deal with the J. Arthur Rank's interests in Britain is of such sweeping nature that it may permit II to retrieve in hard dollars every shilling earned by the company's pix in the United Kingdom despite the current restrictions on remittances imposed by Anglo-American film agree-

If so. U with its highly favored If so, U with its highly favored position as Rank's closest ally would be the only major to reach that goal. Agreement pushed through by Joseph H. Seidelman, U's foreign chief while on visit to England, applies in broad fashion to not only currently blocked sterling but also that amassed in the future.

future.

One restricting factor—and still a question mark—is what Rank's pix which U will handle can earn in the U. S. If later imports, such as "Christopher Columbus," can rack up solid grosses similar to "Hamlet." all U's sterling problems should be answered. That is because much of the Yank distrib's frozen currency in England can be used to buy Western Hemisphere rights similar to the present five-cause much of the Yank distrib's frozen currency in England can be used to buy Western Hemisphere rights similar to the present five-picture deal.

Balance of the iced coin is to be devoted to either participating in productions which Rank now has under way or in joint co-production ventures in the future. In the latter category, present ceiling has been fixed at four features.

Eagle Llon Formula
Provision in pact which gives U the Western Hemisphere rights to five films is similar in nature to that recently made by Eagle Lion with the British filmmaker, it has been learned. U bought the rights here on the basis of a guarantee figure with Rank privileged to take any overage and, in turn, sold British rights to a group of U's pix to Rank on the same terms. In the case of EL, American outfit acquired U. S. rights to "Tulsa" and other EL product.

U is said to have paid $2.000.000 in sterling for the five pix. Quintet include "Hamlet," now well on the way to liquidation, and "Christopher Columbus" which remains a gamble until its U. S. premiere on Columbus Day. The $2.000.000 represents a sum of 500.000 frozen pounds which U thereby converts into likely dollars.

Films in which U participates in-

Includes 2 Coward Pix

Films in which U participates includes two pix which Noel Coward is currently producing. First of these, "The Astonished Heart" was viewed by Seidelman in rough print. Second is on the planning board. Both are figured to be particularly aimed at the American market because of Coward's knowledge of Yank tastes.

market because of Coward's knowledge of Yank tastes.
Foreign exces of other majors predict fireworks at future meetings of the Motion Picture Assn. of America because of the U-Rank deal. Umbrage is taken because the pact spells the last rites to the "B" pool provision of the Anglo-American agreement. Under that provision, earnings of British films in the U, S. were to be divided among the majors as added dollars to the $17,000,000 which could be remitted from Britain yearly. remitted from Britain yearly.

companies in anything that smacks of promising British production is attested to by Raymond Stross, partner with Anatole de Grunwald and playwright Terence Rattigan World Screenplays, an indle and playwright Terence Rattigan in World Screenplays, an indle British filmmaking unit. Stross, whose company owns several valuable Rattigan properties, was "amazed at the open-arms reception" he received on the Coasting facilities.

Indicating that the big companies are vitally interested in getting into British production at the present time, Stross declared that negotiations are now cooking with several majors for ambitious production projects. He planed for England this week where he expects to continue talks with British reps of Yank outlits.

Meanwhite, Stross has closed a U. S. distribution deal with United Artists on "O Mistress Mine," proposed filmization of the Rattigan play. Nasser Bros. are supplying first money for the production and James Nasser Will supervise the pic's American handling. In effect, Nassers are buying a share in the U. S. rights, Stross said. Pact has already been inked. Further negotiations are under way with UA on other joint pro-

a share in the U. S. rights, Stross said. Pact has already been inked. Further negotiations are under way with UA on other joint production ventures, according to Stross. That company's exees, he said, are convinced that joint Anglo-American production projects will prove profitable. Action by UA's board on future productions is expected shortly. Stross has also started negotiations with indie producer Walter Wanger, he disclosed. He expects a signed agreement for a joint film venture within a week or so. Britisher also declared that his outfit has been approached by an important major on a long range program but refused to disclose its identity.

World Screenplays, he said, plans a minimum of four films annually. It goes into production the end of this month with "World Premiere," starring Luise Rainer, Jean-Pierre Aumont and Eric Port-

Premiere," starring Luise Ralner, Jean-Pierre Aumont and Eric Port-man. Pic is being scripted by Rattigan and directed by Anthony

New York Theatres

RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL . Judy GARLAND . Van JOHNSON "IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME" Color by TECHNICOLOR
A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture
SPECTACULAR STAGE PRESENTATION

THE LOUIS DE ROCHEMONT "Lost Boundaries"

BEATRICE PEARSON
MEL FERRER
FILM CLASSICS RELEASE Conditioned ASTOR B'way &

RICHARD LINDA VERONICA WIDMARK DARNELL LAKE

SLATTERY'S HURRICANE'

A 20th Century-Fox Picture
On Veriety Stage—Sid Carsar, Evelyn Knight
On Ice Stage—"CARMEN"
Starring CAROL LYNNE, ARNOLD SHODA

ROXY 7th Ave. 4 -

LIFE CAN BE BEAUTIFUL FOR SERIAL WITH PROPER MOOD, SCHWERIN SAYS

(Sixth in a series dealing with the Schwerin System's findings on each of 17 leading types of pro-grams and commercials in what is probably the most comprehensive effort yet made in qualitative radio research.)

Serial dramas have probably been subjected to more investigation, unscientific, pseudo-scientific and truly scientific, than all other types of radio programs put together. From James Thurber to many a learned doctor of psychology, critics have studied the "soap opera" from many viewpoints and with various degrees of alarm or acceptance; and research men and organizations have contributed greatly to an understanding of serial dramas and the nature of women who do and don't listen to them.

The Schwerin System has tested

The Schwerin System has tested about 20 different serials to date, in some cases having studied as many as 10 to 15 episodes of a single show. This article makes public for the first time some of the System's main findings about this program type.

Soaps Tough to Test

Soaps Tough to Test
A dozen years of exploratory work before the war and in the Army had equipped the Schwerin tystem to test nearly all program types successfully. In 1946, though, it still had unanswered problems on the proper way of testing serial dramas, and it took another year of experimentation before these were solved.

For example, it was learned that

Pefore these were solved.

For example, it was learned that accurate samples couldn't be selected for this type of program using only the standard information about audience characteristics adequate for most other shows. A whole list of special questions on serial drama attitudes and listening patterns had to be asked before proper cross-sections could be chosen.

Also, it was learned the chosen.

Also, it was learned that results ahould be reported only after the reactions of women who never listen to serials were separated from those of women who do listen. In a few cases, such as "Light of the World," the former group evidence strong interest. But usually their reactions merely obscure the issue

(Continued on page 42)

Sweets States Side In 'Blacklist' Bouncing: Rally Voices Protest

A sharp protest against the blacklist" technique of hiring and "blacklist" technique of hiring and firing, alleged to be growing within the broadcast industry, was registered by about 200 writers, directors and actors at the Hotel Abbey, N. Y., meeting sponsored by the Voice of Freedom committee Thursday night (11). Initial victim of the so-called "blacklist" and focal character at the rally was william Sweets, who said he was forced to resign as director of two Phillips H. Lord shows because of his political beliefs.

Phillips H. Lord shows because of his political beliefs.

Detailing the inside info of his resignation, Sweets said that following a "Gangbusters" broadcast June 4, a Lord official informed him that was no longer wanted as a director on either of their shows. "I asked why," Sweets said. "I was told that pressure —a campaign of letter-writing complaining of my political views—had led the advertising agencies and sponsors to decide to renew their contracts only if there was someone clee directing the shows." After balking at handing in his resignation. (Continued on page 42) (Continued on page 42)

Same Show, Same Papers

Minneapolis, Aug. 16.
The St. Paul Dispatch-Pioneer Press newspapers on their WLOL radio program last Saturday night offered "High Button Shoes" album with description of show's action and story in between numbers, explaining in conclusion it was the score of "a great musical."
Irony of ether presentation was that when show appeared in Minneapolis last season, newspapers in mat when show appeared in Aim-meapolis last season, newspapers in question, angry because Twin City engagement was confined to this city, refused to accept its adver-tising or give it any publicity, ig-moring it entirely.

Sun Sets on KSET

El Paso, Aug. 16.
The Sunland Broadcasting Co.,
wners and operators of KSET, The Sunland Broadcasting Co., owners and operators of KSET, suspended operations because of alleged financial difficulties. It's the local Mutual outlet and Bob Carpenter of the Mutual New York staff was sent here for the purpose of clarifying the situation.

Edward D. Dodge is prez of the Sunland group and Vincent W. McCann is general manager of the Sunland group and Vincent W. Mc-Cann is general manager of the

Memphis Outlets' Sports Rhubarb In All-Star Crisis

Intense rivalry between WHDQ, Mutual outlet here, and WHHM, indie, flared up anew last week when Mutual turned over the All Stars footbail game, with a share of the Wilson Sporting

All Stars football game, with a share of the Wilson Sporting Goods sponsorship coin, to the indie station.

As it turned out, the MBS outlet also carried the game, which got a simultaneous Memphis pickup, but WHDQ still doesn't know whether it, too, will share in the sponsor spoils.

WHDQ, registering a strong protest with Mutual execs in New York, was notified that it pacted WHHM for the game after being informed that WHDQ had planned to do a delayed broadcast because of a commitment to carry the Memphis Chicks night ball games. WHDQ admitted that it had been the original plan, but after getting an okay from the baseball sponsor, Nat Buring Packing Co., to bypass the baseball game that night, the station decided to latch on to the live grid fray out of Chi. By that time, however, Mutual had negotiated for the WHHM pickup, claiming it wouldn't stand for a delayed broadcast.

The sports rhubarb between the two stations dates back to the time when WHDQ succeeded in snaring.

two stations dates back to the time when WHDQ succeeded in snaring away the Memphis Chicks games from the indie station.

McGILL EXITING 'TOWN' AFTER SIX-YEAR TIE

After a six-year association with the program, Jerry McGill is exit-ing as writer and director of the Lifebuoy-sponsored "Big Town" program on NBC. Sullivan, Stauffer, Colwell and Sultivan, Statier, Conservant and Bayles, agency on the program, is experimenting with a new idea in a bid to revitalize the program—assigning several writers to alternate on stanzas.

"Big Town" is produced by Phil Cohan, of the SSC&B agency.

D.C.'s Transit Radio, Like Duz, Does Everything

Washington, Aug. 16.

New use for transit radio, which has been installed in recent months in many D. C. buses and trolleys, in many D. C. buses and trotteys, developed last week when a gas main exploded at the corner of 7th and F Sts., N. W. This is one of the busiest midtown intersections with trolley tracks crossing at right with trolley tracks crossing at right angles.

Nearby at the time of the blow-up was Mrs. Denis Sartain, wife of the WWDC news editor. Mrs. Sartain ran to a telephone booth and called her husband who was preparing a transit radio newseast. Sartain immediately got on the air with a flash that:

"Just a few moments ago a gas main exploded at the corner of 7th and F Streets. Northwest, injuring 10 persons."

For blocks on either side, trolleys moving toward the intersection came to a halt, pending orders. Passengers in the nearest trolleys, fearing a further explosion, rushed to safer locations.

F. TOM BOISE

Boise keeps KLZ's heavy traffic schedule of network, national spot and local business moving smoothy along KLZ's 560 kc. His experience in sades and traffic with leading air lines qualifies him for his busy job

Ackerman Into Top Coast Spot?

pee, due back from Hollywood at the end of the month with a report detailing the new administrative pattern of Columbia's Coast tive pattern of Columbia's Coast operation, the network will act of ficially shortly after Labor Day in naming a successor to Donald Thornburgh. Latter resigned recently to head up the WCAU AMFM-TV operations in Philadelphia. CBS has held off on an appointment until establishing the revised Coast modus operandi, which has changed considerably in recent years in view of the video expansion.

As one alternative, it now looms

As one alternative, it now looms as a possibility that Harry Ackerman, veepee in charge of Coast AM-TV programming, will move into the No. 1 operational spot, with another program man brought in under him. CBS already has with another program man brought in under him. CBS already has in A. E. Jocelyn, a station manager for the Coast (KNX). If not Ackerman, it could be "any one of a number of people from within or outside the organization," as one CBS exec put it.

It's definite that Arthur Hull Hayes won't be moved down from San Francisco.

AM-TV SHOW BASED ON N.Y. ALGONQUIN HOTEL

Radio-television series based on and originating from the Algonquin hotel, N. Y., may be offered for sponsorship this fall. It would be aimed to project the colorful at-mosphere of the establishment and mosphere of the establishment and literary names, past and present, associated with it. At least a suggestion of the celebrated "Aigonquin Round Table" of the 20s would be attempted.

attempted.

Rogers Brackett, formerly producer of the "Vox Pop" program and recently associated with the strawhat operation at the Lobero theatre, Santa Barbara, is working with John Martin, manager of the hotel, on readying the series.

WIP's Pollen-By-Pollen

Philadelphia, Aug. 16.
Warning signals for hay fever victims and a gauge for the number of handkerchiefs they must stuff in pockets and handkerchiefs are being the state. handbags are being broadcast

A daily pollen count for the Philadelphia area will be aired each day on the WIP 12:30 p.m. news program. Broadcasts p.m.-news program. Broadcasts will be based on official reports of the City's Department of Public Health, which includes the total tabulation from the nine pollen-count stations sit-uated around Philly's peri-meter.

BMB's Troubles—An Old Refrain

Broadcast Measurement Bureau, already showing the scars of turbulent ups and downs, is reportedly going through some agonizing moments. It now looks like that $75,000 deficit, which the NAB guaranteed at the last convention in Chi, in order to assure completion of Study No. 2 on station coverage, was a short count by perhaps one-fourth of the figure. In some quarters it's estimated that it will require about $300,000 to finish the job.

Just where the coin will come from is anybody's guess, with likelihood that NAB, in face of its guaranteeing the money, will make a loan. (The Four A's, it's understood, has agreed to advance some dough.)

Some industry quarters look upon it as "pouring good money after bad" and attribute the BMB crisis to poor business management. Whether it survives beyond the second study is conjectural, though the industry as a whole recognizes that BMB-type operation, with a correct operational pattern, should be a "must."

Detroit Radio Bugs a-Buzzin' Over WJR-WJBK David-Goliath Rivalry

Detroit, Aug. 16.
When Detroit radio folks meet these days they look furtively around, pull each other to a corner and begin a prolonged conversation conducted entirely in RCA SANS SHOWCASE FOR 1ST TIME IN YRS.

For the first time in many years, Radio Corp. of America will be without a radio showcase. It's doubly significant in the case of RCA for it means passing up its own NBC network facilities.

RCA sponsored the Robert Merrill Sunday afternoon program until the latter part of last scason, but indications were that it would be back this fall. Instead, it's not only passing up radio, but cutting down on sponsorship of "Kukla, Fran & Ollie" on TV. (See television section.) It's all reportedly part of a budget retrenchment policy, tied in with the present uncertainties attending the marketing of RCA-Victor's new 45 rpm disks. FOR 1ST TIME IN YRS. versation whispers.

If a listener is as intent as the whisperers, he can catch these questions which are always asked sometime during the conversations:

questions which are always asked sometime during the conversations:
"Why is WJR accepting spots from WKMH?"
"Is WJR trying to pull down the Hoopers of WJBK by plugging WKMH?" This is what's cooking among WJR, WKMH and WJBK?"
This is what's cooking:
WJR, CBS outlet here, is a 50,000-watter. It has been leading in the Hooper Station Audience Index for several months. But the July Hooper shows WJR with a 23.1 average and WJBK with a 22.2.
WJBK is a 250-watt independent, its Hooper has been rising steadily for months and its 22.2 average in July has set the radio gang to gabbing, but plenty.
The gang at WXYZ, ABC owned and operated, and WWJ, NBC outlet, are asking themselves a startled "how come?"
WKMH, a 1,000-watt independent, is normally a Dearborn station. But it maintains a studio in Detroit's Music Hall and at certain times identifies itself with Detroit.
The certain times most always come in its spots on WJR. The spots urge basebail fans to listen (Continued on page 42)

(Continued on page 42)

Compare 5% Pikers To Ex-FCCers Taking Lush Radio Jobs-Sen. Butler

Washington, Aug. 16.
Former FCC chairmen who leave the agency to take lush jobs in radio or other communications are more to be criticized than the "five percenters," the Senate was told last week. In supporting a provision in the McFarland bill, passed by the upper house Tuesday (9), which prevents a member of the Commission from taking a job within a year after resignation with firms doing business with the agency, Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb.) blasted away at "this practice of permitting former New Deal officials to sell their influence."

Butler referred to three former

Butler referred to three former chairmen—Charles R. Denny, Paul Porter and James Lawrence Fly—as having profited from their FCC stewardship. He said Denny was appointed chief counsel of NBC within a very short time after resignation from FCC. The McFarland bill, he said, would have prohibited him from "trading on the influence he acquired as Chairman."

Porter, said Butler, has represented various radio companies and Western Union since leaving the Government. Fly left the Commission about six years ago and, Butler declared, "very shortly began to represent clients before the Commission."

Hanna Vice Markham

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 16.

R. B. Hanna, Jr., has been appointed by General Electric Co. to manage WGY, WRGB and WGFM in Schenectady, effective Sept. 1.

He will succeed G. Emerson Markham, who has resigned after serving GE for almost 25 years, to become television director of NAB.

Metro Show Huddles

Lebhar on Coast For

Army: A Plague

On Both Your

(Agency) Houses

Controversy between the Gardner and Ruthrauff & Ryan agencies over which commission house should be awarded the appropriation to promote Army and Air Force recruiting has resulted in the complete elimination of 15%-lers, with the Army to handle disbursement of its own funds.

pursement of its own funds.

R & R had protested the Gardner appointment and asked the Senate Appropriations Committee to investigate the eligibility of Gardner, one of the requirements being that an agency must have at the set $10.000.000.

being that an agency must have at least $10,000,000 in annual bill ing.

Gardner qualified as the Army agency but when recruiting funds were trimmed to around $2,000,000, as against a former high of $6,000,000 when N. W. Ayer handled the account, the Army decided.

handled the account, the Army decided to handle its own campaign. Nor was Gardner too put out as newspaper and magazine lineage has been eliminated and that leaves only radio with no time billing as stations carry the programs gratis as a public service.

Lt.Col. William G. Downs is due on the Coast soon to set up a musical show to originate in Hollywood. "Proudly We Hail" continues as an independent presentation of C. P. MacGregor.

Hollywood, Aug. 16.
Bertram Lebhar, Jr., WMGM, N. Y., general sales manager, and Raymond Katz, indie's program director, are currently huddling with Metro exces on the outlet's series of "M-G-M Radio Attractions," slated to open next month. Series, featuring top studio stars in plattered shows, will be open for syndication.

NBC'S 'PASS THE DRINKS AROUND'

Giveaway Storm Signal

With chairman Wayne Coy due back in Washington this week from Europe, the FCC is reported all set to crack down on network giveaways, in the face of mounting squawks that they're getting out of hand. One report has it that the Government agency will come out with a "cease and desist" ultimatum Friday (19). It's about a year now since the FCC originally took official cognizance of the telephonic giveaway whirls, but as time went on nothing came of the threats to crack down.

General consensus is that a wholesale wave of court actions will follow any drastic FCC curtailment. Originally ABC, with a big coin stake in "Stop the Music," put itself on record that it would take the issue to court. But now NBC and CBS, with their respective "Hollywood Calling" and "Sing It Again" stanzas, have almost equal stakes in the ultimate FCC decision.

With giveaways riding herd on all three webs, it's considered a cineh that they won't give up without a stiff fight.

Hope Loses at Chuck-a-Luck, Doomed To Life While Others Frolic on Tape

Hollywood, Aug. 16. Bob Hope of Hoilywood blew a decision to "Chuck" Luekman of Cambridge last week. Latest setto in their long serles of battles was fought in the clubhouse although it was a ringside verdict, Battling Bob being at the short end of a two to one count.

Rather than go to court for an interpretation of their contract to see if there are any hobbles or see if there are any hobbles or blessings on tape recording, the warring eamps agreed on arbitration. As was expected, the tie vote was broken by the third arbiter submitted by American Arbitration Assn. The award to Luekman came as a complete surprise to Ruby Robert and his handler, Jimmy Saphier, but back in Lever House at Cambridge "Chuck" must be chuckling, for this was one of his swectest victories in their many years of grimacing over back fences.

was deadly serious business (Continued on page 42)

Coy Now Likely To Stay At FCC

If the MacFarland bill, which would revamp the FCC and up the salarics of the Commissioners to $15,000, gets by the House (Senate has already okayed it), the chances are that chairman Wayne Coy will continue to throw in his lot with continue to throw in his lot with the Government agency, according to informed sources here.

The 50% hike in pay would probably be the clincher in Coy's determination to get the FCC over the hurdles in its multiple docketed problems, these sources say. The $10,000 ceiling has been the chief factor in Coy's willingness to listen to offers and he has been variously linked to a possible State Dept. post, heading up the Teievision Broadcasters Asen., and sundry other jobs.

KOBAK COPS NIFLSEN AS 1ST MAJOR CLIENT

Ed Kobak's first major industry client is the A. C. Nielsen Co. The ex-Mutual prexy (who has since become a consultant for the network) has opened plush Park avenue offices in N. Y., with Edna Opper rejoining him as his "gal Priday." (She's been with Kobak for 15 years at NBC, ABC and Mutual.)

Mutual.

The Nielsen-Kobak tieup is seen as the preduce to a major thrust on the part of the audience research organization to dominate the field. (Industry consensus has long been that one big service, tather than Hooper-Nielsen competitive stagfest, would serve the best interests of all.)

Kobak will sp. 3 considerable time with Nielsen nts and prospects to invite ideas.

He's Got Guts

Boston, Aug. 16.
Carl deSuze, WBZ and WBZTV announcer, has begun to wage a one-man war against the absurdness of men's garb worn during the recent hot spell. Clad in shorts and a Tshirt and carrying a placend spell. Clad in shorts and a T-shirt and carrying a placard, DeSuze picketed Hub's City Hall in an endeavor to win over converts to his "wear shorts to business" campaign. DeSuze admitted that it would take some time to break down the Hub's stuffness. Meanwhile he continued to be the most comfortably dressed man in town.

FCC 'Hands Off' Policy Hinted On Liquor Comm'ls

Washington, Aug. 16. Lacking specific authority, the FCC isn't likely to do anything about liquor advertising on radio or television. The agency indicated yesterday. (Mon.), in individual cases, where the commercials create a local issue or reflect on a ate a local issue or reflect on a station's public interest performance, FCC may slap a wrist but will take no general action.

In a ietter to chairman Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) of the Senate Committee on Interstate & Foreign Commerce, acting FCC chairman Paul A. Walker sald his agency's authority over advertising copy is limited to considering applications for renewal of license plications for renewal of license and weighing the relationship of such advertising to overall program such advertising to overall program service in the community.

Johnson had called upon Walker to advise him what the FCC could do to stop projected Schenley network advertising. The Senate had also written Secretary of the Treas-also written Sccretary of the Treas-ury John Snyder to sound out policy of the Aleohol tax unit. Walker told Johnson that the commission is limited in its au-thority to deal with the problem, but declared the agency is "fully cognizant of the seriousness of the matter and will exercise whatever

(Continued on page 40)

SMITH BROS. DUE BACK AS 'MUSIC' SPONSORS

Smith Bros., cough drop manufacturer, is returning to "Stop the Music" sponsorship on radio, starting in mid-September. Company is taking over the quarter-hour segment which Eversharp is

NETWORK TO PUT ON THE CHARM

By GEORGE ROSEN

The "new attitude" has set in at NBC. The word has gone out to all departments that the accent must be on the "informal." Pleasant relationships with all contacts. big and small, is the new password, and a "take-thc-boys-out-and-buy-'em-a-drink" atmosphere pervades the organization.

the organization.

Network announcers and directors have been among the first to be indoctrinated into the "new attitude." NBC feels that the trade and public concept in past years has been that the network has had a very superior, smug and take-it-or-leave-it attitude. (Some even blame the willingness of the web's top stars to join Bill Paley's rival Columbia camp on the heretofor NBC aloofness and snugness).

NBC is now out to erase the stigma and dispel the far-flung impression. Announcers are getting pression. Announcers are getting a thorough going over. They've been told to how to an easy, sin-cere, friendly approach. No more

Roll Them Banjo Eyes

NBC's new "there's-nothing-

NBC's new "there's-nothing-too-good-for-our-boys" policy translated itself into a wel-come that had Eddie Cantor rubbing his eyes in bewilderment when he arrived in N. Y. from Europe last week.

NBC contingent was out in full force to greet Cantor, despite the 6 a. m. arrival, and found that every little detail attending his Gotham stopover had been arranged for by network staffers.

over had been arranged for by network staffers. Similar glad-hand treatment was accorded Dennis Day on his recent N. Y. visit and per-sonal appearance tour of east-ern cities, when the threat of loss of the star to CBS loomed.

supercilious, pompous pitches. On dance remotes, local, affiliate and network announcers have been tipped off to eschew the comedy line, confine their remarks to the music, "but make it informal and friendly." There's to be no more preciousness or cutneness, either, is another new commandment.

Spreading the Message

Spreading the Message
Directors and assistant directors are also getting the message. From here on they are to extend themselves to be nice to the agency people. The word has gone out that there's to be no more wandering in just before air time. They

(Continued on page 40)

(Continued on page 40)

'Who Put the Eggs In Brit. Housewife's Basket?' Poses Int'l Radio Incident

London, Aug. 16. U. S. Congresswoman Frances P.

London, Aug. 16.

U. S. Congresswoman Frances P.
Bolton (O.) has created a whodunit among BBC and the American radio nctwork reps here that rivals for mystery some of the best ever staged by the webs. Whole question is who broadcast to America that British housewives have no problems—that they get all the eggs and meat they can use?

According to Mrs. Bolton, who landed here last week, someone aired such a broadcast and she is determined to get the facts to report back to the House Foreign no knowledge of any such broadcasts and the American webs likewise disclaim having done it. Their reaction was summed up by BBC's office chief, who declared: "We didn't do it. We report fair-shares-for-ail rationing as a fact."

Apprised of the denials, Mrs. Bolton still insists several such broadcasts were made. She expressed the possibility that it might have been a pirate station but BBC is certain no such outlets are operating.

Jockeying For Standard Oil 600G Gusher Tips NBC Strategy in Bid To Woo Back Talent Lost to CBS

Too Personal

Year's most novel sequencing of commercial plugs for N. Y. local stations was nipped in the bud last weck.
Personal Loan & Finance Co. sought to negotiate a deal with stations carrying the horse-race results sponsored by Armstrong Racing Form. Personal Loan wanted to spot the plugs immediately following the race results.

Thinhediately following the face results.

Idea was agreeable to the stations, but Armstrong people said no dice.

Morgan a Bad Boy Again on Comi's -Client's Wishes

Henry Morgan's resumption last week of his old kidding-the-product commercials was at the urging of Bristol-Myers and the Young & Rubicam agency. Not only was the sponsor in favor of the plugs making fun of Vitalis, but a sub-sequent listener panel test indi-cated the ribbing commercials are 50% more effective than the same program's straight announcements. When the idea of doing the kid-ding commercial was broached.

program's straight announcements. When the idea of doing the kidding commercial was broached, Morgan told agency execs that he was reluctant to go back to the practice, as sponsor reaction had been unfavorable in the past, even though audience comment had been enthusiastic. However, when B-M officials joined in urging it, the comedian agreed.

It was decided that Vitalis, rather than Sal Hepatica (the other product plugged on the program) should get the spoofing treatment. The studio audience at last Wednesday night's (10) broadcast liked the switch and listener eomment was also good. However, the clincher was the sample listener panel held the next day by Y & R. It showed that, whereas audience attention normaliv drops sharply during commercials, it held almost even during the kidding plug.

Morcover, a questionnaire indi-held almost even during the kidding plug.

Morcover, a questionnaire indicated that members of the panel remembered an average of La. And one-half sales points in the kidding commercial, in contrast to a single point in conventional announcements. On that basis, sponsor and agency are convinced that ribbing the product will increase sales, so they're determined to continue the policy.

It may be significant that Joseph A. Moran, agency veepee in charge

A. Moran, agency veepee in charge of the Bristol-Myers account, conceived the idea of and wrote the copy for the original kidding-the-product commercials Jack Benny did for General Foods. They were an innovation at the time.

K-F MAY PULL OUT OF WW, WEINTRAUB AGCY.

Continued sponsorship of Walter Winchell by Kaiser-Frazer appears to be in doubt. Reports are that K-F will not only drop the high-rated Winchell stanza, but also pull out of the Weintraub agency.

Winchell checked off the Jergens bankroll to move into the automotive columns last Jan. 1, after signing a contract with ABC network, His network pact has a concurrent run with the sponsor. Commentator was booked in for $600,000 for the first year, with upped coin in the event of a second semester.

Winchell is currently taking a summer hiatus and is due back early in September.

printing a campaign designed to woo back some of the top personalities who deserted the fold in favor of CBS. Prexy Niles Trammell and Harry Kopf, administrative sales veepee, are known to have sales veepee, are known to have not only discussed the matter at length, but have sifted the whole strategy basis. While initial overtures may not be made before the first of the year, it's a certainty that retaliatory measures will be taken in a bid to recapture some of the talent that made the shift to Bill Paley's CBS column.

While NBC entertains no hopes of winning back a Jack Benny or even attempting to compete on a strictly-money basis, there are "over and above services" encompassed within the "new thinking" at NBC which will be rendered to clients.

at NBC which will be rendered to elients.

The bringing of "Sam Spade" into the NBC columns is regarded as a preliminary to the contemplated moves, as well as the deal NBC cooked up to swing the "Theatre Guild of the Air" over from ABC, with the assurance to U. S. Steel of a super-promotional iob.

U. S. Steel of a super-promotional job.

However, the real straw-in-the-wind and tipoff on new strategy can be found in the current jockeying now going on in NBC's determined bid for Standard Oil's $600,000 gusher, which is recognized as a lot of billings these days.

When NBC got wind of Standard Oil's (New Jersey) overtives for

When NBC got wind of Standard Oil's (New Jersey) overtures for a half-hour of Sunday afternoon time, with possibility of Andre Kostelanetz going into the CBS at 4 period, NBC went into action. The Columbia sales boys, to make the offer attractive, came up with a program plan somewhat paralleling the "Weekend With Music" insert of last season, when SO sponsored the Philharmonic concerts.

sponsored the Philharmonic concerts.

But not to be outdone, NBC is offering the oil company the Sunday afternoon at 5 time, with either Percy Faith's or Al Goodman's orch. The network, in turn, will sponsor a musical talent hunt among universities and colleges throughout the country, with the winners to get an RCA-Vietor contract. Further, NBC will perpetuate the network series by bringing out an album of the broadcasts on a once-every-three-months basis.

Standard Oil has perked up interest and is thinking it over.

Joe DiMag At Bat for CBS

CBS has wrapped up another half-hour weekly sale, with M & M Candy Co. buying a Saturday morning series starring Joe DiMaggio (Latter is the first bigtime diamond personality to get a coast-to-coast showcase since Babe Ruth).

showcase since Babe Ruth).

New program has been developed by Jack Barry and Dan Ehrenreich, who are also identified with the ownership-production of the brace of Mutual airers, "Juvenile Jury" and "Life Begins at 80." Program will be along lines of a children's sports-slanted quiz, with DiMaggio tossing the questions. Program weekly will salute exemplary kids in various communities of the country who will be brought to N. Y.

Show will be transcribed in a state of the country who will be thought to N. Y.

Radio Evangelist Smith Ordered To Get WIBK Off the Air In 90 Days

Washington, Aug. 16. The Rev. J. Harold Smith, radio evangelist, was turned down on two counts last week by the FCC The agency refused to grant him a license for his daytime station (WIBK) in Knoxville, Tenn., and denied his application for an FM station in Knoxville. The Baptist preacher was given 90 days to wind up the affairs of WIBK, which has been on the air for two years under periodic authorizations of the Commission.

FCC found that the Rev. Smith lacks the proper qualifications of a broadcast licensee. It had its doubts as to whether his solicitation of funds over the radio and his concealed interest in station XERF in Villa Acuna, Mex., indicated the sense of responsibility it expects in a broadcaster.

Smith's reputation, the Commission license for his daytime station sense of responsibility it expects in a broadcaster.

Smith's reputation, the Commission said, "like that of most individuals, varies with the groups from whom information regarding his reputation is solicited. The Commission has been told that Smith is a 'religious racketeer' operating in the name of religion for purposes of personal gain, that he is fomenter of racial disturbances, that he prays on the prejudices of people and keeps the community in an uproar by appealing to their hatreds,' and that he has sown the seeds of 'mistrust and destruction among religious groups, denominations, and church related institutions, doing so by the use of descriptive language and epithets which are excessively vituperative, extremely vindictive of the second of the control of the contro and epithets which are excessively vituperative, extremely vindictive, unfair, unjust and abusive'".

On the other hand, said the Commission, it was told that Smith "tries to help all people," that he is not reckless in speech, and that he is a sincere person.

Particular objects of Smith's attacks, which "on occasion have been more than vigorous, the agency said, have been liquor, the Scripps-Howard newspaper which owns WNOX in Knoxville, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, and the Cath-Christ in America, and the Cath-Church.

Christ in America, and the Catholic Church."

The Commission declared that Smith concealed his interests in the "Radio Bible Hour," the Southern Bible Institute and its publication, The Carolina Watchman. It said he also raised nearly $100,000 to finance station XERF but falled to report his substantial ownership. Smith's rights in the station run for the full period of a 20-year concession or any renewal granted by the Mexican government. The station cannot be sold without his consent, FCC said, and in the event it is sold he is entitled to a third of the proceeds.

The Commission said Smith so-

ceeds.
The Commission said Smith solicited contributions through the Carolina Watchman on the ground of desperate need aithough his bank balances were substantial. He had also ciaimed he needed $1,000 a week for his XERF broadcasts when the actual cost was $80 per week.

FCC Nixes WOXR-FM Bid To Service Clients With Facsimile Maps, Charts

Washington, Aug. 16.
Pians of WQXR-FM, New York, to transmit weather maps or charts by multiplex facsimile were nixed last week by the FCC. The Times by multiplex facsimile were nixed last week by the FCC. The Times FM outlet had asked for authority to service airfields, institutions, business organizations and government agencies and to circumvent A.T.&T. charges which the enterprises considered prohibitive.

FCC said the WQXR-FM plans would violate standards for operation specified for facsimile. It also felt The Times plan was more in the nature of a common carrier than a broadcast service.

WQXR had planned to furnish clients special recorders to receive the maps and make a flat charge of $50 a month. A.T.&T. charges $25 per month plus $3.50 per mile per month for the additional wire circuit required.

cuit required.

The Commission feit that such use The Commission felt that such use of FM frequencies and facsimile stations would be undesirable, although it believed the proposed service might fulfill important military and civilian needs.

Lytell, Greaza Called In 100G Plagiarism Suit

Bert Lytell, shepherd of The Lambs, and Walter Greaza, of the same organization, are scheduled to appear in N. Y. supreme court next Monday (22) for examination before trial of a $100,000 plagfar-ism suit brought against the group by ex-member Edward Kay by ex-Downes.

Appearance of The Lambs' two Appearance of the Lamps two officers was ordered by Justice Ernest L. Hammer after the jurist granted an examination motion made by Downes' attorney. Court also ordered the organization's books and records produced. Plain-tiff claims the club appropriated his idea for a radio and television

Philly's WDAS Skedding Full Negro Hour to Aid Racial Relationships

Philadelphia, Aug. 16.

To meet the increasing demands of the Negro community for more facilities of expression on the radio, Lambert B. Beeukes, general manager of WDAS (fulltime indie) has prepared a full-hour daily program at a choice noon spot to be devoted to furthering the interests of the Negro race.

recent census revealed that the Negro population here is over the 300,000 mark, and leaders of the Negro community have charged that Philadelphia radio has either ignored their needs or assigned them public service time at undesirable late hours sirable late hours.

Beeukes announced that WDAS has engaged George Tunnell, better known as Bon Bon, recording artist and original Jan Savitt vocalist, to conduct the hour. Program, known as the "Bon Bon Show," teed yesterday (15) as a daily segment from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Program is slated to carry an hour of radio entertainment, but will also be used to mirror the daily cultural, educational and communal life of Philadelphia's Negro group. Overali purpose is to communal life of Philadelphia's Negro group. Overali purpose is to make a contribution in harmonious racial relationships.

The "Bon Bon Show" will include a news and sports roundup, fraternal notes, interviews and the selection of a "mother of the day." In addition, Bon Bon will take tape recorder around to various sections of the city for an "inquiring reporter" stint on topics of the day. Music bridges will be recorded. Production is handled by Dick Booth, WDAS program chief.

'Ladies' in Chi Exit

"Ladies Be Seated," ABC Chiaired five a weeker, which emcee Tom Moore departs Aug. 19 in an economy huff, will originate from ABC's New York studios, starting Aug. 22 with Johnny Olsen as host. Web-owned package, which Tom Moore Associates had been producing for past six months, will be parleyed by ABC staff producers.

Welk Show Budget Upped On ABC from 21G to 10G By Milwaukee Brewer board on Lawrence Welk's selling job for its High Life beer, that board on Lawrence Welk's selling job for its High Life beer, that the Milwaukee company has boosted its weekly bankroil on the ABC radio show from a reported $2.500 to $10,000. Show was renewed here for airing over the basic network on a 13-week basis starting Aug. 31, to originate out of KECA, Los Angeles.

Welk will use top film celebs as weekly guests on his 30 minute Wednesday p.m. spot in a "new elaborately staged" format worked out by ABC brass and the Klau-Van Pietersom-Dunlap agency of Milwaukee. Welk show staged from Chi last week (10), airs from St. Paul this week (17) and Kansas City Aug. 24.

Miller became interested in the selling angle of radio after Pabst Brewery of the same city reported terrific sales impact of its sponsored Eddie Cantor show. Welk program was Miller's first bigtime venture into radio, and prez Fred Miller became quickly sold after Miller distributors nationwide reported booming sales for High Life beer were caused by the Welk program.

In fact, it's reliably reported that

In fact, it's reliably reported that Miller distributors are so enthusi-astic that they are chipping in to fillout the Welk broadcasts to full network size.

Dot Kemble to Handle Elsie Dick's MBS Chores

Mutual, in line with its present streamlining activities, is not naming a successor to the late Elsie Dick as director of religious and educational broadcasts. Instead, it's consolidating the functions under supervision of Dorothy Kemble, the web's director of continuity acthe web's director of continuity ac-ceptance. Miss Dick was killed in ceptance. Miss Dick was killed in the recent Bombay air crash. Under the program department revamp, Joan Macgowan, Mutual script editor, becomes assistant di-rector of religious and educational programs, reporting to Miss Kemble.

Canada Bigwigs Urged to Erase Radio's 'Pseudo-Romantic Drivel'

Toronto, Aug. 16.
Wasteful competitive radio advertising, labeled as "drivel," is being paid for by the public consumer and radio-listener and is resulting in diminished sales returns to manufacturers and sponsors, according to A. H. Hazelgrove, president of the over 1,100 members of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada. This was the highlight of his blasting brief pre-Institute of Canada. This was the highlight of his blasting brief presented to the newly-appointed Royal Commission on Culture, headed by Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian ambassador to Washington, which is attempting to clarify radio and television problems in this country, at the request of the Canadian government.

The brief deplored "the rank

ment.

The brief deplored "the rank vulgarity and commercialism" of most radio programs; hoped that the greater expense of television might tend to raise program standards—"though this was not evident in the United States." Hazelgrove told the Federal-appointed umpire group that "present radio entertainment value caters to less than average intelligence and, with few exceptions, is merely sales propaganda tagged on to nonsense or pseudo-romantic drivel." The brief urged the abo-lition of radio programs "which im-pose standards based on appeal to the non-intelligent and uncon-trolled wasteful advertising." As trolled wasteful advertising." As spokesman for the 1,100 members of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada, Hazelgrove submitted to the Royal Commission on Culture that a firmer control on radio programs be exercised by Canada's cultural leaders "rather than the determination of program policy by contributory advertisers."

gram policy by contributory advertisers."

"The rank vulgarity and commercialism of the majority of commercial programs" was attacked, with the big sponsors blamed. Radio and television were pointed out as the "greatest and most universal instrument of education."

(Commencing Sept. 6, the Federal-appointed Royal Commission on Cuiture will hear here, for a four-day session the pro and con arguments of the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. and the 90 independent station membership of the Canadian Assn. of Broadcasters in an effort to end the "iet's-wait-and-see" policy that is currently annoying Canadian video fans.)

From the Production Centres

IN NEW YORK CITY . . .

Biil Paley due back from Europe this week, but doesn't check in at CBS until after Labor Day ... Niles Trammell back from Canada fishing and looking as healthy as last year's billings.

ing and looking as healthy as last years oillings.

Dick Seff added to ABC's "It's Your Business" Tuesday (23)

Eyeopener of the week: Sinister housemald on CBS' "Yours Truly Johnny Dollar" sustainer last Sunday carried the monicker of "Mrs. Trammeil". Robert I. Garver, ex-WJZ sales manager, has resigned from Alley & Richards, where he was an account exec, to join Lynn Baker, Inc., in the same capacity.

Dollar" sustainer last Sunday Carled the monitosed of Mrs. Prammeli"... Robert 1. Garver, ex-WJZ sales manager, has resigned from Alley & Richards, where he was an account exec, to join Lynn Baker, Inc., in the same capacity.

Mike Donovan, CBS doorman, back on the job last week and got a welcome comparable to that accorded the Paley-Stanton brass. Bureau of Vital Statistics Dept.: A girl, their second child, for the Mei Spiegels of CBS. Fourth child born to the Bill Leonards (WCBS). The Jo Dines (NBC) except their baby last week in August... Larry Lowman of CBS off to Nantucket for several weeks... Mitchell Grayson touring the strawhat circuit, with "Big Sister" recorded a couple weeks ahead... Ted Cott. (WNEW) squiring it at Northport. L. l., for month... CBS: "Life With Luigi" getting sponsor nibbles and it'll probably ride commercial by the time the fall season preems...

Franklin Pulaski has left for the Coast, to play the lead in a documentary film. He'il be gone about six weeks... Todd Russell will replace Clayton Collyer as emcee of the CBS quizzer, "Winner Take All," when Collyer takes his two weeks' vacation on Aug. 22. David Broekman, Raymond Palge, Robert Russell Bennett, Ray Bloch and Mark Warnow will conduct specially assembled 48-piece orchestra in a full-hour program featuring the composer-conductor's own compositions, on "Conductors' Showcase," series of five special broadcasts to be aired over CBS starting tonight (17)... Dick Moeller takes over production chores on WCBS' "Hits and Misses" show while Ned Cramer vacations for three weeks in Buffalo and Cape Cod.... Flora Campbell now narrating ABC's "Betty-Crocker" show while Zella Layne vacations, on "Conductors' porting replacing John Cleary. Program, incidentally, is to be taped from Wales from Aug. 29 to Sept. 1... Perry Lafferty returned from a Bermuda vacation Monday (15) to direct ABC's "Dorothy Dix" airer, on which Cyril Armbrister had filled in. Lafferty and his wife were in Bermuda vacation Monday (15) to do the commentary the last we

IN HOLLYWOOD . . .

